Win Triangular Track Meet

COACH COHEN'S BOYS WIN CONTEST; SCORE 66 1/2.

Friday, April 24th, the local High School Track team won a triangular meet at Mancelona. First place was taken by a score 66 1/2 for East Jordan, 31 1/4 for Alba, and 31 for Mancelona.

This was a surprising showing, in fact Coach Cohen was doubtful if he could win the meet at all.

The following men performed in almost mid-season form in spite of the very cold weather. Bill LaLonde especially distinguished himself, winning three first places and tied for first in another. The events he entered were the Javelin, 220 yard dash, 100 yard dash, and the broad jump—indicating that William LaLonde is just about as good an all-around athlete as we have seen in some time. Other men who starred were Bobbie Somerville, broad jump, Howard Somerville, pole vault; Addis, mile run; Brooks in the half mile; Dale Clark, Jason Snyder, Gilbert Joyn and Ruhling. The later four seem to be coming up fast. Some fine meets are expected and any track team tying conclusions with the local boys will know they have been in competition.

Upsets: Thompson of Alba being defeated in the Javelin. A disappointment was the Shot-put for LaLonde was not in the relay—only allowed to enter four events.

TO STRESS THE IMPORTANCE OF THE HOME

May is the month in which comes Mother's Day. This year the Presbyterian Church will stress the fact that the crowning glory of motherhood centers in the home. For the following three Sunday mornings the services will deal with phases of the home.

Next Sunday morning the sermon theme will be "The Only Four Children in the World." The following Sunday, May 10th, is Mother's Day. Instead of a distinctively Mothers' service, the Church will observe the occasion as "Family Day." The people are urged to come, in so far as it can be done, as families, and to sit together as families. The plan is for families, as families, to take some of the different parts of the service, and the Pastor will talk on the institution of the family. What can please a mother more than to be surrounded by her family on such a day? On the third Sunday morning of May the sermon theme will be "The Problem of the Present Day Home."

An old maid is nothing more nor less than an unemployed back seat driver.

SURVEY OF DAIRY INDUSTRY IN THIS COUNTY

A county wide survey is being made in Charlevoix County in anticipation of the Dairy Profits Conference at Boyne City on May 12. This survey is being made by eighth grade and high school boys. One boy from each school district will do the work under the official guidance of the delegates from the district.

The information will be used only at the Conference, in outlining a long time program of work that will fit the dairy needs of the County. It will include the number of dairy cows and heifers, the number of bulls over 12 months and under that age, and whether they are scrub or registered, and the breed of dairy animals owned. This will indicate the true status of dairying in every district, township and the County. This survey will have an important bearing on the effectiveness of the conference.

The roster of delegates to the 1931 Dairy Profits Conference for Charlevoix County has just been completed, with one delegate from each school district. The delegates were appointed by a committee consisting of School Commissioner, William C. Palmer; County Agent, B. C. Mellenkamp, and County Key Banker, W. G. Cornell of East Jordan. ## Winners In Cribbage Tournament

For the third successive time the local Knights of Pythias took Central Lake and Charlevoix into camp in a cribbage tournament at East Jordan Wednesday night. In this case East Jordan furnished twenty players and the other towns ten each. Frank Crowell and Al Rogers won the lion's share of the glory in this tournament. Crowell had 181 points and Rogers scored 177.

About seventy-five men enjoyed one of the finest dinners any Lodge ever put on. The dinner was carefully arranged. Roast beef, fruit salad, excellent coffee, good fried cakes, and pickles were some of theables consumed by the hungry Knights.

The above lodges have experienced most enjoyable associations the past winter. To top off the year, the local Knights of Pythias are arranging to go up the Jordan on a fishing expedition in the near future. Announcements later.

EDWARD B. DUNLOP DIES AT GRAND RAPIDS

Edward Bryce Dunlop was born in Eveline Township, Charlevoix County, October 23, 1889, the son of John and Sarah Dunlop.

He spent most of his life in Eveline, living there until 1923 when he went to Grand Rapids. He was employed at the Malloch Knitting Mills of that city until he was taken ill in April 1929 and went to the Sunshine Sanatorium for treatment. He was a patient there at the time he passed away April 23, 1931.

He was very patient and cheerful during his long illness, and leaves many friends to mourn his loss.

He was interested and active in the affairs of the community in which he lived, serving as school treasurer and secretary-treasurer of the Pine Lake Telephone Company. He was a member of the Eveline Arbor of Gleaners. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sarah Dunlop, and two sisters, Mary M. Dunlop of Grand Rapids and Mrs. J. L. Martin of Grayling, Mich.

Funeral services were held at the Sullivan Funeral Home in Grand Rapids, Friday, April 24th, conducted by Rev. A. A. Sylvester, and further services were held at the Brookside Chapel, conducted by Rev. George A. Weaver of Petoskey.

Interment at Brookside cemetery in Charlevoix.

4-H CLUBS END YEAR IN RECORD PERFORMANCE

Charlevoix and Boyne City were the scenes of the largest and most enthusiastic gathering of rural boys and girls ever held in the County, last Thursday and Friday, when the Achievement Days were held. At Charlevoix over 300 parents and children saw the exhibit consisting of 58 individual collections of Clothing Club displays and 39 Handicraft Club exhibits. It was most inspiring to see the dresses and other garments made by these rural girls, many of them only ten, eleven and twelve years of age. Then to see the numerous articles made by the boys, such as tie racks, bird houses, taborets, foot rests, and many others, just made a person realize the value and training of the huge 4-H Club program being carried on by over 200 boys and girls. A feature of both Achievement Days was the "Style Show," in which all the girls participated. It just made the heart beat faster to see over 75 girls appear on the stage wearing the dresses that were made with their own hands.

Each school also added spice and variety to the occasion by having short, snappy five minute programs. A. G. Kettunen and Miss Sylvia Wixson of the Michigan State College Club Department were present and occupied important roles on the program. In recognition of having satisfactorily completed the requirements, Achievement Certificates were awarded the boys and girls. Also local champions in each club were announced.

In Boyne City at the conclusion of the program the most important and most highly esteemed awards were announced, namely the County Championships.

Congratulations to the following County Champions in Charlevoix Co.: Clothing Champions:

1st year, Eleanor Behling, Boyne City, Knop School.

2nd year, Christina Withers, Charlevoix, Marion Center.

Style Champion:

Catherine Richardson, Charlevoix, Norwood School.

Accident With Shears Impairs Sight of Left Eye

Evelyn, 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Malpass, was the victim of a serious accident Tuesday afternoon in which the sight of her left eye was affected.

The young Miss was playing with a broken pair of shears, and, using the one blade for a knife, was endeavoring to cut a cloth-woven orange sack. The blade slipped, the point striking her left eye.

She was taken immediately to a Specialist at Traverse City who holds out the hope that she will retain a part of the sight of that eye.

Those Funny Monickers

The curious nicknames of the Marx Brothers, who will appear at the Temple Theatre this Friday and Saturday, May 1-2, in their second Paramount talking comedy, "Animal Crackers," are explained thus: Groucho Marx, who started life as Julius, got his name from the disposition he displayed when approached for a loan—or so his brothers explain it.

Harpo really is Asthur, but his performance on the harp won him his stage cognomen.

Chico once was Leonard—but he became fond of poultry.

Zeppo, or Herbert, received his name from his brothers who insist that in boyhood he resembled a circus freak of that name.

An Outstanding School Record

EAST JORDAN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS HAVE UNUSUAL FINANCIAL RECORD.

There are a number of district schools anxiously discussing the matter of consolidating with the East Jordan Consolidated District. The Board has been very slow in deciding whether or not it would be best to take in additional schools. At the last meeting of the Board it was decided to check up on the facts so that it could be decided in the near future in regard to additional schools coming into the system.

The record of the local district as a consolidated school the past two years, according to Mr. Ford, the University inspectors, and others has been outstanding. The fact that the busses were able to run for two straight years without a stop until the big storm in March, was practically unknown in any other consolidated district in Michigan. Only because five or six of the county trucks broke down, did we cancel the school bus schedule for one day in March.

The district has made a most unusual record financially. Notwithstanding the fact you might hear statements to the contrary. However any intelligent public citizen knows that it would be a pleasure for the school authorities to have any interested parties inquire for the facts at all times. The School Board books are open for inspection.

The fact that the City of East Jordan reduced its school taxes $5.50 per thousand valuation the first year at a time when the City lost 450 thousand dollars in valuation; and raised the taxes of the lowest taxed district but $4.50, and in one or two districts cut the school taxes almost in two, is a record that is quite unique.

The district took in two hundred twenty-four country children instead of what was shown on the books—one hundred seventy-five and within the past week seventeen new pupils entered, giving us a present enrollment of 754.

Perhaps it is not generally known that we receive a good deal more from the State and outside sources than was paid in taxes toward the support of our local schools. $16,049.20 Primary money, $9,643.96 Turner Aid; $3,200 bus aid; $1,000 consolidation aid; $888.06 Agricultural Aid, and $305.75 for Home Economics. Making a total of $31,084.97 from the State. If you would add to the above amount, $1382.60, another outside receipt—tuition, it would make a total of $32,476.57 before local taxes were even touched.

The above figures were all taken from the Auditor's report with the exception of $3200 bus aid and $1,000 for consolidation aid. These amounts were not received until a week or ten days following the Annual Meeting—which explanation, however was read by the chairman at the time of the meeting. Subtracting the $4200 from the statement of the district's indebtedness, leaves the total indebtedness $27,990.

This article is simply to call your attention to some most interesting facts. At a meeting of the Board some time ago it was found that the School Board added over ten thousand dollars worth of new equipment, including eight thousand dollars for busses, etc., in initiating the consolidation proposition, started in with a debt of twenty-five thousand dollars and at the end of last year owed $27,990. Such a record has been practically unknown in the history of consolidation in Michigan.

ALL QUOTAS FOR C. M. T. C. CAMPS FILLED THIS YEAR

All branches of C.M.T.C. training in all camps have been filled. Candidates submitting applications within the last few days and subsequently will be informed that their applications were received too late for C.M.T.C. enrollment this year.

In filling the quotas for the different branches and camps the pro-rata share in each case for each State in the corps area has been taken into consideration. Nearly 8,000 applications are now on hand. Any applications offered for enrollment should be forwarded to this headquarters for necessary reply and filing. This will put the name and address of eligible young men on the mailing list. In order that information may be available for the War Department, it is desirable that all applications be forwarded promptly.

Nothing hurts a man like pinning his faith in a mistaken idea, and then getting scratched by the pin.

THE DULL CHILD

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I have been put into circumstances at one time or another when I was forced to tell parents some very disagreeable, not to say tragic, things over a period of years. I have had to do with stealing and forgery and suicide and accidental drowning, and drunkenness and lesser and so more frequent irregularities, and I have had to be the first one to communicate these things to the parents of the young people concerned. I may have shrunk back from the unpleasant and difficult task, but if so it was but for a moment; I have braced up and broken the news in as frank, direct and sympathetic way as I could devise. The situation which I have disliked the most was when such a communication had to be made over the telephone. Telephones were never intended for the transmission of such personal messages.

The one thing which I have not yet found a satisfactory way of saying to a parent is that his child is stupid—in fact not mentally capable of doing the work which he has undertaken to do. I can announce frankly that the boy is lazy, indifferent, unwilling to work; I can say that he has bad habits and go into detail as to what these habits are: that he has done this or that which is contrary to law and good morals, but I have not yet developed the courage to say that the child is incapable.

Fortunately such cases are rare, but they do exist. In most instances the hopelessly dull child drops out of school before he finishes high school. He shows an inclination to do manual rather than intellectual work, and his parents yield to the pressure which he applies to give up school. But there are cases where pride and ambition blind the parents' eyes, where possibly influence keeps the child in school, and finally forces him into college, for the work of which he shows neither interest nor ability. It is very hard to convince parents under such circumstances that there is not something radically wrong with college else their son would be making more rapid advancement.

"DON'T touch that, you might break it."
"Don't try to pour the milk, you might spill it."
"No, I don't want you to help me make the cake. You would only upset things and make more work."
And so it goes and the little girl who would have been only too glad to help mother when she was five or six has outgrown her desire to do so by the time she is thirteen or fourteen.
Once of course mothers had to let their children help, even when there were servants. Now with improved, shortened methods of doing things they usually find it easier to do things themselves than to bother teaching their daughters to help. And the number of girls of high school age who know practically nothing about cooking is amazingly large.
This inability to do the countless and one things that girls all used to know how to do sometimes amounts to a real handicap.
The superintendent of a large nurses' training school related the other day that a surprisingly large number of girls who were perfectly well qualified to do the classroom work in training school started training handicapped because they didn't know how to do the most usual sorts of work about a house.
"Mothers really ought to teach their children how to use their hands," she said, "especially mothers whose daughters want to become trained nurses."

NOURISHING DISHES

EGGS are one of the best of foods and when reasonable in price, most economical.

Omelet With Cheese.

Mix one tablespoonful of flour with one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of pepper, then add four eggs beaten very light. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan and when hot turn in the mixture. Bake in a moderate oven until well puffed and a golden brown. Sprinkle with six tablespoonfuls of thinly sliced cheese and return to the oven until the cheese is melted. Fold the omelet and turn on a hot platter. Serve at once.

Cottage Cheese Pie.

Line a deep pie plate with pastry and fill with the following: Three well beaten eggs beaten with a half cupful of sugar, add one cupful each of cottage cheese and fresh grated coconut, one teaspoonful of nutmeg and two cupfuls of milk. Bake as you would a custard pie—very hot at first to bake the crust, then lower the heat.

Orange Sponge Cake.

Beat two egg yolks with four tablespoonfuls of orange and one-half tablespoonful of lemon juice, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful of grated orange rind, and then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and cut and fold in a cupful of flour that has been well sifted to mix with a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda. Pour into a cake pan and bake in a moderate oven forty minutes.

Coconut Apples.

Prepare red apples by stewing after coring, unpeeled, in very little water. When nearly done carefully remove the skin and scrape any red stain left on the skin and paint it back on the apple cheeks. Stuff with any chopped fruit such as raisins, prunes, figs and sprinkle the tops with freshly grated and sugared coconut. Bake until the coconut is brown and the apples well done.

Raising Pop Corn May Be Overdone

As a Result of Attractive Prices Interest Is Gaining Momentum.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)—WNU Service.
Indications now point to the possibility that pop corn growing may be overdone in 1933, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Pop corn prices, they point out, are very sensitive to supply, and price depressions due to overproduction have occurred in the past. After a few years of fairly normal production, if a short crop occurs as the result of unfavorable weather or other causes, the price rises to a figure attractive to growers. Immediately many new producers appear who flood the market with disastrous effects to the old growers as well as to themselves.
Relatively high current prices for pop corn and low prices for field corn have combined to make pop corn appear a desirable crop, says specialists of the bureau of plant industry. Judging from current correspondence, they say, many old growers are expanding their acreage and others, attracted by stories of their neighbors' profits, are planning to substitute pop corn for part of their field corn acreage.

Interest Gains Momentum.

The present interest in pop corn has been gaining momentum for more than a year as the result of attractive prices. Ordinarily the unbalanced situation would have corrected itself before now, but the weather of 1930 conspired to reduce the yields of pop corn as well as of field corn and so put off the day of price rectification. Stocks of old pop corn were pretty well cleaned up during the winter of 1929-30 and prices rose considerably. In response to this stimulus, acreage was expanded in 1930 but the effect was offset by the unfavorable weather. Prices of pop corn have declined somewhat lately, partly at least in sympathy with general price levels, but they are still relatively high as compared with field corn, the specialists point out.

What is happening may be illustrated by the situation in Iowa, they say, which is the leading state in the production of commercial pop corn. In 1930 Iowa increased her pop corn acreage to nearly twice that of 1929 and nearly three times that of 1927. If, instead of the heat and drought of last summer, the weather had been favorable for corn, enough pop corn would have been produced to glut the market, and overproduction such as that of 1925 would have occurred.

Pop Corn Acreage.

The pop corn acreage of the United States is only about one-tenth of 1 per cent of the total corn acreage, the department workers comment. Although the commercial growing of pop corn is concentrated in certain districts to a considerable extent, much of the best land in the heart of the corn belt is suitable for growing pop corn. It can be appreciated, therefore, they say, that the acreage of this crop can easily be overexpanded. The unusually high prices of a year ago, together with the relatively high prices at present, as compared to other grains, may easily lead to the production of too much pop corn in 1931 if the season is favorable. It may be well for those who are planning to increase uncontracted acreage, and especially for those planning to grow pop corn for the first time, to consider the situation carefully before plunging too deeply, the bureau warns.

Wind-Vane Insect Trap Aids Control Beet Pest

A new wind-vane insect trap devised by entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture is proving useful in determining the source of beet-leaf hopper migrations, the department reports. Once the source of infestation is known, it may be possible to apply direct control measures before the insects migrate to the sugar-beet fields, if the natural breeding area is small.

This new trap consists of a light wooden box housing a series of parallel upright screens, connected by a funnel with a jar containing cyanide. A weather vane attached to the box causes it to rotate so that it always faces the wind. The traps are mounted on high poles.

Insects flying with the prevailing winds are caught by the screens and carried by air currents down a tube, through the funnel, and into the jar of poison. By examining the jar at regular intervals entomologists can tell which winds bring the insects, at what height they are flying, and the extent of the flight.

Home Conveniences Are of Great Importance

Home conveniences such as light and water are assuming greater economic significance in connection with the production of poultry and dairy products. The high percentage of investment in farm buildings adds also to the importance of the water system and saves lights in their protection against fire. The increase in number of farm housewives who add to their income by keeping "paying guests" has also created a larger demand for water systems, farm light plants and gas plants for cooking. The newer models of farm light plants will do more than 100 jobs on the farm, all at a very low cost.

BUSINESS PITFALLS IN FARM DISTRICTS

Bankers Point Out Hazards of Unsound Practices and Help Farmers to Avoid Them.

WAYS in which bankers may discourage unsound farm practices are described by President F. D. Farrell of the Kansas State Agricultural College in the American Bankers Association Journal. He says:

"In Kansas in connection with the importation of dairy cattle, a large shipment of very inferior animals came into a county to be sold at auction to local farmers. The county agricultural agent informed the bankers that the cattle would be a detriment to the community. The bankers refused to finance the purchase of the cattle and the sale was abandoned. The cattle were shipped to another county. The county agent and the bankers there did as was done in the first instance and the second county escaped."

"A year ago creamery promoters began trying to capitalize the Kansas farmers' desire to improve his markets by inducing communities of farmers to purchase creamery plants before production and local conditions justified them. Informed of this by the State Agricultural College, the bankers association sent warnings to every bank in the state, leading many to refuse to support the creamery promoters until the college approved the plant for the community concerned. This saved many communities loss from the premature establishment of plants."

"A third way bankers can discourage unsound practices is to refuse to finance farmers who wish to pyramid their enterprises, a temptation difficult to resist. This is illustrated among farmers who buy cattle for feeding purposes. A farmer feeds two or three cars of cattle one year and makes a good profit. This induces him to buy twice or three times as many the second year, still more the third and so on until he finally loses more by having too many cattle on feed in a year of bad prices than he made in several previous years with smaller numbers and better prices. When bankers discourage bad practices their action is a positive benefit to the farmers concerned."

WHAT A KEY BANKER DID FOR HIS COUNTY

The farmers of one county in Tennessee are receiving $400,000 additional annual income from new farm enterprises started since 1928 through the efforts of a "key banker" and the county agent, according to estimates from the Tennessee College of Agriculture. A "key banker" is a part of the state bankers' association voluntary field force cooperating with the American Bankers Association in its nationwide plan for bringing about better agricultural conditions through combined banker-farmer effort. New projects started in this particular county are tobacco, Irish potato and cabbage production for cash crops, and dairying and poultry raising for livestock.

The key banker, looking for something to do to better his community, first attempted to procure a county agent but was unable to get the county to make the necessary appropriation, so he and other leading citizens made up the requisite funds through private subscription among farmers and business men and an agent was employed.

Up until 1926 grain was the principal farm production in the county. The banker recognized the disadvantages of this. It afforded a low cash income, and the land was too hilly and rough for profitable grain raising. His idea was to introduce cash crops that offered more return per acre and were better fitted to the county. It was decided that the county should standardize on the Green Mountain potato and to market it in carload lots. Through his bank he sponsored the buying of a car of certified seed potatoes. He likewise bought some high quality tobacco seed and several hundred settings of purebred eggs. These supplies were distributed at cost through the banks to the farmers.

After considerable effort a market for dairy products was assured the farmers when in 1928 a national cheese company located a factory there. A county appropriation was secured for county agent work in 1928.

In 1929 the cash crop program resulted in farmers selling $45,000 worth of milk, $150,000 worth of tobacco and fifty-five carloads of potatoes and cabbage, mostly through cooperative sales. "This was some step from the $25,000 worth of cash crops in 1926," the county agent says, "and indications are that this amount will be doubled."

Banks Favor Diversification

Emphasis was placed on the strategic position the banker holds through the use of directed credit at a recent meeting of the Alabama bankers' agricultural committee. Alabama is confronted with the problem of over-production of cotton. The committee recommended to banks that credit be extended on the basis of a twenty-five per cent reduction in cotton acreage. The value of growing other crops than cotton was strongly stressed and county outlook meetings are being planned with the thought of bringing about a more balanced agricultural program in the various communities.

Plan Permanent Garden of Annual Vegetables

A plea that gardeners of the nation plant more perennial fruits and vegetables in home gardens is included in Farmers' Bulletin 1242-F, Permanent Fruit and Vegetable Gardens, recently revised and reissued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The authors, W. R. Beattie and C. P. Close, horticulturists of the department, stress the value of several permanent crops, especially asparagus, rhubarb, horseradish, raspberries, blackberries, logan blackberries, dewberries, currants, gooseberries, strawberries and grapes, according to locality. They say that a garden of annual vegetables alone cannot compare with one containing all of a few of these perennials.

Farmers' Bulletin 1242-F describes the cultural requirements and yields of each of these plants and the number of plants of each required to supply the needs of an average family. The bulletin is available free, so long as the supply lasts, to those requesting it from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington D. C.

Yard Lights Convenient When Cold Winds Blow

When cold winds blow and frequent night trips are necessary to visit the brooder house, farrowing or lambing pens, yard lights with flexible methods of switch control are greatly appreciated. These are available to the man with the farm light plant as well as those who receive electric power from high lines. Dome reflectors may be mounted on poles or the yards may be lit from lamps in angle reflectors conveniently placed on farm buildings. These should be wired with three-way or four-way switches installed at central positions.

Undesirable Seed

Immature and discolored alfalfa and sweet clover seed may germinate fairly well but cannot be expected to produce plants unless it is of good weight, according to Prof. O. A. Stevens, seed analyst at the North Dakota agricultural college. Low grade seed can be expected to produce half or less as many plants as the germination test indicates. Slightly green seed germinates well. Seeds which are brown from age or heating are dead, he states.

The ninth grade girls have been studying how our clothing keeps us healthy and the characteristics of textile fibers.

The tenth grade girls visited Blossie's meat market to view the different cuts of meat. They are very grateful to him for his kindness in taking his time to show them the cuts of meat and discussing their use.

At Rest

Mr. Charles Knop of Wilson Township, died after a brief illness at the Lockwood Hospital in Petoskey on Tuesday, April 21. He caught a severe cold, which was followed by acute pneumonia, putting an end to his life within a week. His death came as a severe shock to his many friends in the entire community. This all the more so, as he had been known to many hundreds in the county, having been school officer in the township for about twenty years, having served 6 terms as township treasurer, and having been justice of the peace almost continually throughout the years of his service in the township. In Mr. Knop the entire township and county loses a character of true citizenship, and Christ Evangelical Lutheran congregation a devout and zealous member of many years.

Funeral services for Mr. Knop were held on Friday, April 24th, in the afternoon. After a brief service with prayer had been observed at the house, the main services with sermon took place at Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church. Rev. Helmuth Schulz, pastor of the deceased, was in charge of the service. He preached a regular funeral sermon from the altar, basing his remarks of consolation upon the words of Job, chapter 19, verse 25, "For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth." A trio, composed of three men, sang wonderfully two songs, the one entitled, "Beautiful Isle."

The spacious church room was filled to its utmost capacity. Though in addition to the pews, chairs had been placed, the church could hardly hold the people. It was one of the largest funerals in the history of the congregation. Many beautiful flowers covered the coffin. After the services at the church the body was viewed for the last time by many. The course of life was read from the altar to the entire audience by the pastor. Burial services took place in Maple Lawn cemetery, Boyne City, where a long line of cars via the Deer Lake road had followed.

Here is the course of life, as it has been given to Rev. Schulz by the children of the deceased: Charles Frederick Ferdinand Knop was born on November 10, 1861 in Prussia, Germany. His parents were August Knop and Louise Waldo. In his early infancy he was baptized in the Lutheran faith. At the age of 6 years he emigrated from Germany and was admitted to the United States, where his parents settled in Chicago Illinois. In that city he received his education, both in the Lutheran Parochial school and in the public schools of that city. He was confirmed by the sainted pastor H. H. Succop, pastor of St. Johns Evangelical Lutheran Church. In the year 1882 he came to Michigan, and from the very outset to Wilson township, Charlevoix County, where he lived to the end of his career. He was married to Miss Laura Schultz on December 23, 1884, by the Rev. M. H. Feddersen, first resident pastor of the parish, who now is in retirement at Homewood, Illinois. Twelve children were born to this union, of which three have died. He was a very active and zealous supporter of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, the only church in the township. He enjoyed good health during his entire life, while signs of sickness began to appear about a week before his death. He caught a severe cold, acute pneumonia developed, and within a few days his life came to a close. He suffered severe pains, but nevertheless he was patient and cheerful, as his pastor testifies when he visited him. His wife preceded him in death on March 10, 1928. He leaves three sons, six daughters, eleven grandchildren, two brothers and one sister. He had attained the age of 69 years, 5 months, and 11 days. The children of the deceased have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their hour of bereavement.—Boyne Citizen.

H. S. BAND AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUB AT TRAVERSE CITY

The East Jordan High School Band and Girls Glee Club of the High School will go to Traverse City this week end to take part in the Northern District Music Contest.

There are fifty-four regular members of the band, about nine more than we have ever had in the regular band before. It is one of the best bands that ever represented the High School. However, if the local band places above last place in Class B, they are to be congratulated. The past couple of years Petoskey, Cadillac and Traverse have had full time band men and the band in the towns mentioned practice every day. While the East Jordan band has but two practices a week. Not only that, the three Class B schools have more than two and a half times as many members to pick from, making it unnecessary to use very few, if any Junior High people. While the local band contains nearly one-third of its membership from the Junior High. The present contest will largely decide whether or not it is best for East Jordan to remain in Class B group or drop back to Class C.

The Girls Glee Club under Miss Jean Clark leaves Friday noon to compete in Class C against Mesick, Frankfort, Benzonia, and Elk Rapids. One or two of the above towns have competed in the Glee Club work a number of years, but the locals are making their first start.

The coming week is National Music Week. In keeping with such a program, the local High School Band and Orchestra will present a program Monday night at the High School Auditorium—playing the selections used at the Music Contest. This is going to be a varied program including some saxophone numbers, brass quartet, xylophone, cello and other numbers.

This program is entirely free to the public and it is hoped that a large number of school patrons will take advantage of this very fine musical treat.

It is possible, if enough people from the country care to come in and make it known, that one of the buses would pick them up.

Lawson, Royal Oak, are among nine persons sued in circuit court for alleged failure to pay the county treasurer after having bid in delinquent taxes in 1929 and 1930. # "Mrs. Jones Had On a Wonderful New Dress"

THE Mrs. Jones we're talking about is the sort of woman who, in spite of only moderate means, is always well dressed . . . whose home is furnished with exquisite, though not extravagant, taste . . . whose table is frequently graced with some appetizing new food product . . . whose housekeeping equipment, kitchen requisites, all seem to have been chosen with rare good judgment.

Mrs. Jones is an observant woman. A well-informed woman. A keen judge of values. A careful buyer. She reads the advertisements in her favorite newspaper.

Whatever is new or improved is the realm of merchandise, Mrs. Jones most likely knows all about it. She reads the advertisements.

Whatever store is putting on an unusual sale, Mrs. Jones has probably heard about it. She reads the advertisements.
