

Charlevoix County Herald.

VOLUME 38

EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1934.

NUMBER 42

Here Are The Premium Lists

FOR CHARLEVOIX COUNTY POTATO AND APPLE SHOW AT EAST JORDAN

The success of the Charlevoix County Potato and Apple Show to be held October 27 in the East Jordan High School is definitely assured with the announcement of the premium list. In addition to many East Jordan organizations, the City of East Jordan and the County of Charlevoix are likewise assisting financially. Already definite plans are taking shape for the big banquet and program to follow. Every detail is receiving consideration for your enjoyment on this occasion.

Producers with this premium list will be encouraged to show the best they have. It is exceptional to have such a nicely balanced premium list as you will find submitted herewith in a county exhibition. The following premium list has been announced which will be paid 100%.

POTATOES — DIVISION A

Late Varieties. Individual Exhibits of 32 Potatoes.

Class 1. Russett Rural $20.00
1 — $5.00; 2 — $4.00; 3 — $3.00;
4, 5 — $2.00; 6, 7, 8, 9 — $1.00.

Class 2. Other Late Varieties $13.00
1 — $4.00; 2 — $3.00; 3 — $2.00;
4, 5, 6, 7 — $1.00.

II—Early Varieties. Individual Exhibits of 32 Potatoes.

Class 3. Any Early Variety $13.00
1 — $4.00; 2 — $3.00; 3 — $2.00;
4, 5, 6, 7 — $1.00.

III—Beginner's Special. Individual Exhibits of 32 Potatoes.

Class 4 — For Growers who have never won premiums at any show. $15.00
1 — $4.00; 2 — $3.00; 3, 4, 5 — $2.00; 6, 7 — $1.00.

IV — Sixty Pounds Selected Seed Stock (122 Potatoes)

Class 5 — Any Standard Variety. $20.00
1 — $6.00; 2 — $4.00; 3 — $3.00;
4, 5 — $2.00; 6, 7, 8 — $1.00.

POTATOES — DIVISION B

V — 4-H Clubs and Smith-Hughes Projects.

Class 6 — Smith-Hughes Projects. Any Variety (32 tubers) $15.00.
1 — $4.00; 2 — $3.00; 3 — $2.00;
4, 5 — $1.50; 6, 7, 8 — $1.00.

Class 7 — 4-H Club Members — Russett Rural (32 tubers) $15.00.
1 — $4.00; 2 — $3.00; 3 — $2.00;
4, 5 — $1.50; 6, 7, 8 — $1.00.

VI — $2.00
Class 8 — Best potato 1 — $2.00

APPLES — DIVISION C

Plates — Consists of 5 Apples.
Class 9 — Jonathan.
Class 10 — McIntosh.
Class 11 — Northern Spy.
Class 12 — Snow.
Class 13 — Wagner.
Class 14 — Wealthy.
Class 15 — Wolf River.
Class 16 — Any Other Variety.
Premiums Same for Each Class Named Above.

Class 17 — All Varieties Competing.
1 — $6.00; 2 — $4.00; 3 — $3.00;
4, 5, 6 — $2.00; 7, 8 — $1.00.

Keep this premium list. Note the splendid cash premiums that are offered. Before it is too late get a sample of your best potatoes and one of those nice red apples that you have. Let's show East Jordan that we all appreciate the wonderful efforts being devoted to this show. I hope to see you October 27.

B. C. Mellencamp,
County Agr'l Agent.

Democrats Raise State Costs By $67,000,000

The Democratic administration must account for the expenditure of more than $67,000,000 a year in new revenue.

This fact is brought out in statistics compiled by former Governor Wilber M. Brucker and show that during the fiscal year 1934 the democratic administration raised $67,114,752 in new revenue.

Because of the limitation placed on the property tax by the people at the 1932 election, revenues from this source dropped $16,774,750 as compared with the 1932 fiscal year. Thus by the most lenient reasoning, Michigan's experiment in democratic inexperience is costing $50,000,000 and more a year, according to Gov. Brucker's figures.

Where was this money spent? Never before has the state of Michigan seen such an orgy of job-patronage and loose expenditure of money. Let every democrat who aspires to office answer my question," Gov. Brucker asked.

Friend (gazing aloft): "Aren't you worried when you see your husband looping the loop?"

Aviator's Wife: "Oh, no. You see I remove all his loose change from his pockets before he goes up."

4-H Club Leaders To Meet At Charlevoix

The development of this winter's 4-H club program is already under way. In order to outline the program for this winter and to discuss its features, all rural teachers in the county and other prospective club leaders are invited and urged to attend a banquet at 6:30 and the program that follows immediately.

Last year there were 222 members of 4-H clubs in the clothing, hot lunch and handicraft club projects. It is hoped that this same program may be continued another year. Mr. A. G. Kettunen, state club leader and Miss Sylvia Wixon, asst. state club leader, will attend this training meeting and lead the discussion. Each year efforts are made to improve the quality of work and to make the program more effective.

The banquet will take place promptly at 6:30 and again we want to urge all folks interested in the club program to be present.

B. C. Mellencamp,
County Agr'l Agent.

Will Discuss Child Hygiene

THIS FRIDAY AFTERNOON AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PARLORS

This Friday afternoon, Oct. 19th, Dr. Lillian Smith of the Bureau of Child Hygiene, State Dept. of Health, and Edna L. Hamilton, R. N., of the Children's Fund of Michigan will speak to the ladies of this unit immediately following a luncheon meeting in the Presbyterian church parlors.

This meeting is open to all women interested in maternal hygiene. After the speech women will be free to ask questions and take part in an informal discussion of their problems.

The luncheon will be served at 1:00 p. m. Price 25c. Women who find it impossible to attend the luncheon may come in for the address at 1:45.

Every woman interested is urged to remember the date — this Friday, Oct. 19 — and make an effort to be present.

O. W. GOLLY, R. N.
Shaw — Meredith

Miss Alta L. Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shaw, and Milton Meredith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Meredith, — both of East Jordan — were united in marriage at 5:00 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 14th, at the Presbyterian manse by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Sidebotham. They were attended by Miss Margaret Maddock of this city and Benjamin Powell of Beloit.

Following the nuptials, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents on the West Side at which some twenty relatives and other friends were present.

Mr. Meredith has been with the Otis J. Smith barber shop for some time and the bride has served as operator at the local Michigan Bell Telephone Station for several years.

The newlyweds are now located in their new home — the former Grant Hammond residence at 514 North Main-st. The best wishes of their many friends are extended Mr. and Mrs. Meredith.

Plant Forage Crops On Idle Wheat Land

Michigan farmers who have wheat contracts are urged by the crops department at Michigan State College to use the 1935 contracted acreage for the production of forage crops.

Wheat acreages will be reduced only 10 per cent instead of 15 per cent as in 1934. The acres taken out of wheat production may be seeded to any grass, legume, or emergency forage crop. Grass and legume crops may be used for pasture, hay, or seed production. Emergency pasture crops may be used for pasture or hay but cannot be harvested for seed or permitted to reach maturity in growth.

The contract acres also may be planted to soil improvement crops to be plowed down. Summer fallowing or cultivation for the control of noxious weeds is permitted on the contract acres. Permanent removal of the contract acres from crop production by the planting of trees also is possible under the contract terms.

Wheat, corn, barley, grain sorghums, or sugar beets can not be planted in Michigan for harvest on the contract acres. These crops are included in the basic commodities. Special crops such as vegetables or small fruits also are prohibited. Small grains can be sown on the contract acres as nurse crops for seedlings if the grain is cut before it reaches maturity.

The government's plan for the 1935 wheat production is expected to produce a crop totaling 775,000,000 bushels for harvest. This will supply domestic requirements and furnish an adequate supply for carryover and export.

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who said: "You may kiss me now that we are engaged."

O'Hara Here This Friday

WILL BE AT EAST JORDAN CITY HALL AT 2:30 P. M.

Charlevoix County voters will have the pleasure of hearing John J. O'Hara, Republican candidate for Congress from the 11th congressional district, this Friday, October 19th.

Mr. O'Hara, prominent member of the Menominee bar and a speaker of considerable eloquence, will appear at Charlevoix at 1:00 p. m., in the Memorial Park. From Charlevoix he goes to East Jordan, speaking there from the City Hall steps at 2:30 p. m. and at Boyne City he will address the audience at 4:00 p. m. in the City Park. At Charlevoix, Otto W. Bishop of Alpena, Republican candidate for state senator from this district, will occupy the platform with Mr. O'Hara.

In addition to these outside speakers, a number of leading local Republican workers, including Judge Farm C. Gilbert, will hold a series of rallies in the various rural districts of the county during the three weeks remaining prior to election day. These meetings, which will be announced from time to time in the rural schools, will also be served by visiting speakers from the neighboring counties of Antrim, Emmet and Osego and will be held in the town halls and school houses. These meetings should prove interesting and be well attended.

Corn-Hog Payments Received

$2173.00 BEING DISTRIBUTED TO CONTRACT SIGNERS

After a long and tedious delay, the contract signers in this county have at last received the first payment of their corn-hog reduction program.

Mr. Wm. H. Mayne, Charlevoix County corn-hog treasurer, has been busily engaged this last week in distributing these checks.

The total benefit payments to be paid to the sixty-eight contract signers will amount to $5225.00 plus $308.00 for the corn reduction contracts making a total of $5533.00 less the cost of administration which will be something like $250.00. The compliance work will no doubt be completed this week so that the second payments may be expected some time this fall.

The sixty-eight contract signers have produced an average of 224 liters and have produced for market 1393 pigs.

Last week on Monday, October 8 and Tuesday, October 9, the contract signers were invited to a series of three meetings at which time the results of the program and plans for the future were discussed. At the close of each session, each signer had the opportunity of expressing his opinion by ballot. Out of twenty-four ballots cast, twenty-two voted favorably toward continuing the program another year. This means, without a doubt, that the government will continue its efforts toward maintaining the proper adjustment between production and consumption.

B. C. Mellencamp,
County Agr'l Agent.

Clarify Regulations On Duck-Bag Limits

To clarify misunderstanding among Michigan duck hunters concerning the federal regulation on duck bag limits, the Department of Conservation issues the following explanation:

The federal and state bag limit on ducks is 12 in one day, but canvasbacks, redheads, greater scaups, lesser scaups, ringnecks, blue-winged teal, green-winged teal, cinnamon teal, shovellers and gadwall included in the 12 may not total more than five. These five may all be of one species or they may represent different species of the restricted class — but in no case may the total number of ducks belonging to these 11 species exceed five. The number of ducks representing other species that may be hunted is limited only by the provision that the total bag limit of all ducks taken may not exceed 12.

Thus, the hunter may take a dozen mallards or he may take a dozen pintails, or six mallards and six pintails or eight mallards and four pintails or any combination of those birds that does not total more than 12.

But if he takes the maximum of 12 and includes in his dozen the species on which the limit is further restricted he will have bags like the following: Seven mallards plus five canvasbacks, or four mallards and three pintails plus one black duck, one canvasback, one redhead, one scaup and one ringneck; or five pintails and two mallards plus two canvasbacks, two redheads and one ringneck.

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who said: "You may kiss me now that we are engaged."

October Term Circuit Court

CONVENES AT CHARLEVOIX NEXT MONDAY, OCT. 22nd

Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix convenes next Monday, Oct. 22nd. Following is the list of jurors drawn and the docket arranged.

LIST OF JURORS

Charles Leist, Bay Township.
John Hausler, Boyne Valley Twp.
Dwight Fisher, Chandler Township.
Harold J. Pearl, Charlevoix Twp.
Howard Thayer, Evangeline Twp.
Amos Nasson, Eveline Township.
Ralph Brooks, Hayes Township.
Lewis Magee, Hudson Township.
Clyde Smith, Marion Township.
Ruth Biallas, Melrose Township.
Joseph Vratanova, Norwood Twp.
William D. Gallagher, Peaine Twp.
Thos. K. Gallagher, St. James Twp.
J. M. Ingalls, South Arm Twp.
Reinhold Dietz, Wilson Township.
Ed. Bennett, Boyne City, 2nd Ward.
Wm. Dow, Boyne City, 3rd Ward.
Mrs. Elden Tooley, Boyne City 4th Ward.
Robert Bonthron, Charlevoix, 1st W.
William Heise Jr., Charlevoix, 2nd W.
William Gibson, Charlevoix, 3rd W.
Kenneth Hathaway, E. Jordan 1st W.
James Meredith, East Jordan 2nd W.
Rex Hickox, East Jordan 3rd Ward.

CRIMINAL CASES

The People vs Joe M. Troyer, negligent homicide.
The People vs George Ruffe, gross indecency.

ISSUES OF FACT AND LAW
Myrtle C. West, Plaintiff, vs Frayley F. McMillan, Defendant, trespass on the case.
Charles E. West, Plaintiff, vs Frayley F. McMillan, Defendant, trespass on the case.

Nellie C. Iddings, Plaintiff, vs Walter S. Richardson, the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, et al., Defendant, trespass on the case.
Armour Fertilizer Works, a New Jersey Corp., Plaintiff, vs L. H. White, Defendant, assumpsit.

Harry Eugene LeRoy, Adm. Estate of Joseph Wesselle, Plaintiff, vs W. S. Shaw et al., Defendants, assumpsit.
Harry Coblentz, Plaintiff, vs James McGeah and Anna McGeah, Defendants, assumpsit.

I. E. Ingenfritz Sons Co., a Michigan Corp., Plaintiff, vs William C. Howe, Defendant, trespass on the case.
L. C. Rouse, Plaintiff, vs O. D. Satles, Defendant, appeal from Justice Court.

Clare C. Cook, Maude M. Cook, and Frank L. Kemp, Co-Partners as Cook Electric, Plaintiff, vs L. J. Malloy, Defendant, replevin.

CHANCERY CASES

Louise McKeercher, Plaintiff, vs The Michigan Trust Company, a Corporation et al., Defendant, quiet title.
Robert Stafford, Plaintiff, vs Zella Geer, Defendant, bill to set aside mortgage foreclosure.

Richard S. Shapton, et al., Plaintiff, vs The Estate of Andrew I. Creamer, Deceased et al., Defendants, bill for specific performance.
Royce A. Neckey, Plaintiff, vs Harriet W. Toner, Defendant, bill for accounting (motion).

CHANCERY CASES — DIVORCE
Anna Saganek, Plaintiff, vs Mike Saganek, Defendant.
Winnifred Campbell, Plaintiff vs Philo Campbell, Defendant.

William D. Moyer, Plaintiff, vs Mary Moyer, Defendant.
Lois Sevrey, Plaintiff vs Coryell Sevrey, Defendant.

Alta Hindbaugh, Plaintiff, vs Clarence Hindbaugh, Defendant.
Alice Barnes, Plaintiff, vs Meredith R. Barnes, Defendant.

Republican Rally at Knop School, Oct. 23

There will be a Republican Rally held at the Knop school house on Tuesday night, October 23rd, at 8:00 o'clock, the speakers will be Judge J. M. Harris, and James Leitch. Many of the candidates for the various offices will be present and take some part. Turn out and hear the issues of the day.

400 Motorists Without Refunds

Although all automobile weight tax refunds were mailed early in June to automobile owners who had secured 1934 license plates before the weight tax was reduced, there are slightly more than 400 motorists who have not yet received their refund vouchers.

The reason is because the Department of State has been unable to secure correct mailing addresses. When motorists had moved without leaving forwarding addresses, the refund vouchers were returned to the department where they are held until the proper address is received.

Slightly more than 257,000 automobile owners have received refunds this year following a reduction in the tax rate from 55 to 36-cents per hundredweight.

Wilson Grange Elects Officers

Wilson Grange elected officers for the year, last Saturday evening, October 13th. Following is the list of officers elected:—
Master — Herbert Holland.
Overseer — Clarence Kent.
Lecturer — Effie Weldy.
Steward — Richard Simmons.
Chaplain — Mrs. Gladys Holland.
Secretary — Mrs. Lucy Vronrdron.
Treasurer — S. R. Nowland.
Assistant Steward — Basil Holland.
Gate Keeper — Ed. Shepard.
Seres — Mrs. Irene Jaquays.
Pomona — Mrs. Josephine Warden.
Flora — Mrs. Edith Nowland.
Executive — Jasper Warden.

Maccabees To Meet Here

TRI-COUNTY ASS'N AT EAST JORDAN NEXT WEDNESDAY

A Tri-County Maccabee meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 24 at the Odd Fellow hall, starting at 10 a. m.

The forenoon session will consist of the regular business of the association, with adjournment at noon for dinner which will be served at the Methodist church parlors.

The afternoon session will convene at 1:30, this will be an open meeting to which visitors are welcome. A program will be given with various hives contributing numbers.

Assistant great Commander, Mrs. Ruth Doyle of Midland will be present. Also Herbert O'Connor, Great Commander.

All Maccabees in East Jordan whether members of the local hive or not are invited to attend.
An invitation is also extended to the Sir Knights.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Regular meeting of the common council of the City of East Jordan, held at the council rooms, Monday evening, Oct. 15, 1934.

Meeting was called to order by the mayor. Present: Mayor Milstein, and Aldermen Whiteford, Bussler, Kenny Rogers and Maddock. Absent: Alderman Dudley.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
Moved by Alderman Whiteford, supported by Alderman Bussler, that the city donate $25.00 toward the expense of the potato show to be held in this city. Motion carried.

The following resolution was offered by Alderman Whiteford who moved its adoption; seconded by Alderman Rogers:
Whereas, this council room is primarily an office room and not suitably arranged for public gatherings; and

Whereas, it is not only inconvenient but unnecessary for the various clubs and organizations to meet therein; therefore,
Resolved, that notice is hereby given that the said council room will not be available for any further meetings of any club or organization.

Adopted by the council of the City of East Jordan on the fifteenth day of October, 1934, by an aye and nay vote as follows:
Ayes — Whiteford, Bussler, Kenny, Rogers, Maddock and Milstein.
Nays — None.

Bills were presented for payment as follows:
City Treasurer, payment team work $57.60
Wm. Praise, labor 21.15
John Whiteford, work at cem 43.00
Leonard Dudley, on salary 10.00
John F. Kenny, coal 49.00
Wm. Richardson, hauling dirt 2.00
City Treasurer, purchase of lot & expense 12.00
Henry Scholls, janitor 7.50
E. J. Whiteford, window shades 23.44
E. J. Iron Works, mdse, etc., 9.00
Healey Tire Co., mdse, 18.65
Leo H. McCanna, gold leaf 2.00
Northern Auto Co., mdse 8.48

Moved by Alderman Rogers, supported by Alderman Whiteford, that the bills be allowed and paid. Motion carried by an aye and nay vote as follows:—
Ayes — Whiteford, Bussler, Kenny, Rogers, Maddock and Milstein.
Nays — None.

OTIS J. SMITH, City Clerk.

"VOTE REPUBLICAN to take off the food tax." — Fitzgerald. K. M. R.

Down in Kentucky sixty thousand motorists were asked if they used intoxicating liquor. Don't smile — remember the Allegan judge who demanded the nudist to define what is means by embarrassment.

Economy at Any Cost
Smith: "My wife sure is thrifty. She made me a necktie out of an old dress of hers."
Jones: "That's nothing. My wife made her a dress out of one of my ties."

Scoreless Tie With Cheboygan

GOOD DEFENSE AVERTS SCORES BY EAST JORDAN

(From Cheboygan Tribune)
Playing a splendid game, but showing weakness on offense, Cheboygan high school's football team battled to a scoreless tie yesterday on the high school athletic field against the East Jordan eleven, which is rated one of the best teams in the North.

Cheboygan demonstrated an abundance of fighting spirit as it stopped East Jordan touchdown threats three times; once on the Cheboygan 10-yard line, once on the Cheboygan 10, and once on the Cheboygan 12.

The Avalanche was rugged if not rigid on defense, stopping gains at critical moments. On offense, Cheboygan showed its principal lack. Cheboygan out-gained East Jordan slightly, but almost never threatened. The ball was in Cheboygan territory most of the game. Cheboygan's closest advance to the touchdown line was to the East Jordan 32 yard line in the last quarter.

Cheboygan showed that it has a developing star backfieldman in George Judd. The latest edition of a long line of star Judds was Cheboygan's outstanding player yesterday. He was Cheboygan's triple threat, throwing five successful passes, out-punting East Jordan's kicker, and making Cheboygan's best gains, besides doing fine defensive work.

It was his fine punting that kept Cheboygan a contender throughout the game. With Cheboygan continually getting the ball near its own goal, and with his own team's offensive abilities doubtful, he had to punt, and frequently punted on first down. Time and again his kicking rolled East Jordan back after a threatening advance.

Neither team was able to gain consistently, and the contest was largely a punting game, 23 punts being made, with Cheboygan getting the better of exchanges.

East Jordan matched Judd with a shining star of its own in Pray, its quarterback. He is one of the fastest and most elusive safety-men seen on the Cheboygan gridiron. He returned punts for big gains, and made fine gains on running plays. He shone at eluding tacklers. In the last quarter, he returned a punt 27 yards, dodging through half the Cheboygan team and seemed headed for a touchdown when he stepped outside and the run was stopped. He was covered as soon as he caught the punt, but got away and was past practically all the Cheboygan players when he stepped outside.

In addition, Pray did the East Jordan punting and passing.

Cheboygan	East Jordan
M. Socha	le Walton
Bonsecours	lt Strehl
Bonnett	lg Bennett
Kitchen	c Blair
Shaw	rg Bowman
Norman	rt Scott
MacInnis	re Russell
Judd	qb Pray
O'Brien	lhb Quinn
T. Socha	rhb Ellis
O'Neil	fb Swoboda

Substitutions — Cheboygan 0, East Jordan: — LaPeer, Johnson.
Referee — Aldred of Boyne City.
Umpire — McClutchey of Onaway.
Head linesman — John, of Cheboygan.

Homemakers' Corner

BY Home Economics Specialists Michigan State College

The knitting-needle and the crochet-hook seem to be on their way toward enjoying the full measure of their old-time popularity. Handmade woolen hats, sweaters, all sorts of accessories, even dresses and full ensembles are considered chic this year.

The problem of proper laundering these garments is an important one, according to home economics clothing specialist of Michigan State College. The loveliest piece of woolen can be easily ruined by improper handling in washing.

All knitted garments should be measured before laundering, so they can be stretched to their original size and shape before drying. Use an abundance of lukewarm water, 90-100°F for washing and avoid any change in temperature.

Use a mild soap and no strong washing powders. Make suds in the water rather than by rubbing soap directly on the garment. Gently work in the suds by squeezing rather than by rubbing the article. A kneading motion will prove effective and is not nearly so hard on the garment.

The same even temperature of 90-100°F is used for the rinsing. Never allow the water to boil. Squeeze the garment from the last suds and rinse thoroughly in several changes of lukewarm water the same temperature as the soap solution.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Assassination of King Alexander and Louis Barthou Alarms All Europe—Spanish Revolt Suppressed—CCC Will Be Continued.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© by Western Newspaper Union.

TWO men of great importance in the maintenance of peace in Europe were removed from the scene by the bullets of the assassin, Petrus Kalemien, who slew King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, in Marseilles.

King Alexander

"Another Sarejevo?" was the question in every mind, and, indeed, there was some slight danger that the crime would start another great war. Alexander was just beginning a "good will" visit in France, which was closely tied up with Barthou's plan for an accord between France and Italy, and Barthou was soon to go to Rome to further the scheme. Yugoslavia is allied to France but is not at all friendly to Italy, and Alexander hated Mussolini personally, believing that the duke gave moral support to the rebellious Croats. But the king did not want war and was willing to help along the proposed accord if it was not inimical to his country.

If trouble does follow after the assassinations it probably will start with revolution in Yugoslavia. Only by assuming and exercising dictatorial powers was Alexander able to keep peace in the hodgepodge that comprises the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, otherwise Yugoslavia, and it is not certain that there is anyone else there who can do it. Civil war might tempt some other nation to intervene and grab part of the realm, and in that case a general conflict might be precipitated.

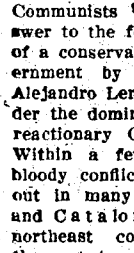

Alexander's eldest son Peter, who was in school in England, was promptly proclaimed king and, being only eleven years old, will rule under a regency of three men who were named in the political will of the murdered monarch. Whether these three can hold the kingdom intact is a question. Only the Serbs are really loyal to the royal house, though all the people had admired the strength and bravery of Alexander, whose life had been attempted four times before.

The death of Alexander was held especially important to Germany by the statesmen of that country, for they had looked to him to curb to a considerable extent the alleged ambitions of Mussolini. He was considered a close friend of the reich and a potential ally.

France was not only worried by the possibility of trouble in the Balkans, but also deeply mourned the death of Barthou, one of her ablest statesmen and, indeed, one of the ablest in Europe. He had been working assiduously on his pet scheme of a security pact for eastern Europe; and, although Germany had scored him for trying to build a diplomatic and economic ring about the reich, last June he personally negotiated an accord between France and Germany that was believed to give assurance of peace.

Petrus Kalemien, the assassin, who was quickly killed by the French police, was found to have been traveling on a forged Czech passport. Two men who accompanied him on his mission of death were captured near the Swiss border and another was being hunted down in Fontainebleau forest. Where they came from and what organization was back of the assassinations had not been learned at this writing. The police thought they belonged to a secret Macedonian revolutionary society.

CIVIL war in Spain was precipitated by the radical elements, starting with a 24-hour general strike which was declared by the Socialists and Communists in answer to the formation of a conservative government by Premier Alejandro Lerroux under the domination of reactionary Catholics.

Luis Companys

Within a few hours bloody conflicts broke out in many regions, and Catalonia, the northeast corner of the country, decided this was the time to establish itself as an independent republic. Luis Companys, president of the state, announced: "Catalonia is breaking off relations with the rest of Spain. I demand complete discipline from everyone." He called on Gen. Domingo Batet, commander of the garrison at Barcelona, to swear allegiance to the new regime, but that wily soldier sparred for time, and before an hour had passed he received orders from Madrid to declare a state of siege. His troops battled with the Catalans, and soon had Companys and his fellow leaders copped up in the presidential palace. Reinforcements for the government forces arrived swiftly by land, sea and air.

Then the artillery opened up, and after the palace had been thoroughly shelled, Companys and his colleagues surrendered and were marched to a prison ship in Barcelona harbor. The revolution was over and the new Catalan republic went out of existence. It was rumored the collapse was partly due to a dispute between Companys and former Premier Manuel Azana, a co-leader in the revolt. Azana was found in hiding and arrested.

Surrender of Companys did not end the fighting in northern Spain, for the revolutionists in various regions continued their desperate efforts, but the government considered the revolt really had been suppressed. There was no telling how many had been killed or wounded, but certainly the casualty lists were terribly long.

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR, chief of staff and now in command of the G. H. Q. combat air force and also of the ground forces, is planning to develop a fighting fleet of super battle planes. The first step will be the organization of the G. H. Q. air force of at least 1,000 planes grouped in five "wings" based on both coasts and in the Middle West. This would bring the army corps up to about 2,300 planes, making an aerial fighting fleet approximately the equal of any in the world.

GOV. GIFFORD PINCHOT of Pennsylvania has in the past been in sympathy with much of President Roosevelt's program, but he has now definitely broken away by coming out in favor of the re-election of Senator David A. Reed, anti-New Deal Republican, whose defeat would be most welcome to the administration. Immediately after Pinchot announced his stand in a speech at Wilkes-Barre, Postmaster General Farley conferred with Mr. Roosevelt and then, as chairman of the Democratic National committee, gave out a stinging attack on Pinchot. In it he referred to Senator Reed as "perhaps the most outstanding foe of the President's policies," who, if elected, would "do everything in his power to hamper the President's program and to make a misdeed out of the New Deal."

It is said that the Pennsylvania Democrats are importuning the President to take a hand personally, and perhaps make a speech in the state, in an effort to win over rock-ribbed Pennsylvania and retire Senator Reed in a defeat which could also be construed as a slap at Pinchot and Andrew W. Mellon.

GOVERNMENT crop benefit checks for more than $352,000,000 have been paid to farmers participating in the production adjustment program, according to figures compiled by the AAA. Some $575,000,000 additional is scheduled for payment under programs now in effect, nearly 60 per cent of it before the end of this year. Thus, the farmers' stake in the AAA approximates $1,000,000,000.

Payments already made or to be made before January are included in the estimate of the bureau of agricultural economics which places 1934 cash farm income at about $6,000,000,000 compared to $5,000,000,000 last year and $4,333,000,000 in 1932.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has made it plain that the Civilian Conservation corps, one of the least criticized features of his recovery program, is to be continued indefinitely. He wrote to Robert Fechner, director of the corps, saying:

"I have been greatly interested and encouraged by the fine report from your visits to CCC camps in many parts of the country.

"This kind of work must go on. I believe that the nation feels that the work of these young men is so thoroughly justified and, in addition, the benefits to the men themselves are so clear that the actual annual cost will be met without much opposition or much complaint."

Mr. Fechner had reported to the President that the cost of the CCC during its eighteen months of operation had amounted to $443,000,000.

THERE is an interesting report circulating in Wisconsin, especially in Madison. It is to the effect that President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin is looking toward the Republican Presidential nomination in 1936 and that this idea explains his refusal to permit Lloyd K. Garrison to remain in Washington as head of the national labor relations board.

The Madison Capital Times said it understood Doctor Frank feels the Republican party is in need of a "liberal" candidate, yet not a "dangerous" liberal, and believes he is in a position to qualify.

To interviewers Doctor Frank declined to comment on the newspaper story. He said his insistence that Garrison return to his duties as dean of the law school was solely in the interests of the university.

RHODE Island Republicans are quite satisfied with Felix Hebert as senator and have renominated him. For governor the state convention named Gen. Luke H. Gellan, a veteran of the Spanish-American and World wars.

USE of the taxpayers' money for the government operation of factories in competition with private enterprise was condemned by the board of directors of the National Association of Manufacturers, which acted on petitions received from seventeen large trade associations. The manufacturers assert that such government experimentation merely results in depriving employees in private industry of their jobs, creating employment at one point and unemployment at another.

"Entrance of the government into the manufacturing business in competition with its own citizens," says the manufacturers' statement, "even to supply relief for the unemployed, constitutes an extravagant use of the taxpayers' money in further experimentations."

"Where those in distress cannot be provided with either public or private work for which they could be paid, then public funds may legitimately be used to provide relief of actual need on a subsistence basis. But to furnish necessities required through government-operated factories is the wrong way to do the right thing."

CONFERRING with the full membership of the new national industrial recovery board headed by S. Clay Williams, President Roosevelt let it be known that he was far from satisfied with NRA enforcement in the past and asked the board to devise more vigorous and effective methods.

Price-fixing and production control were discussed but not at length and with the general understanding that, although price-fixing policies of the Johnson regime would be reversed on paper, no sweeping action would be taken to upset existing codes and any action at all would come slowly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CUMMINGS has called a national conference to discuss crime which is to open in Washington December 3 and continue three days. President Roosevelt is to address the first session in Constitution hall. The conference will be invited to give broad and practical consideration to the problem of crime in these principal aspects:

1. Causes and prevention of crime.
2. Investigation, detection, and apprehension of crime and criminals.
3. Criminal courts and prosecution.
4. Detection, parole, probation, and pardon.

"THE voice of Hauptmann is the voice I heard in the cemetery that night when the $30,000 ransom was paid," said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to the grand jury in Trenton, N. J., after he had listened to the suspect in the kidnaping and murder case. The grand jury accepted this as clinching testimony and returned an indictment against Bruno Hauptmann, charging murder.

The words "Hey doctor. Over here, doctor" were spoken by the man who got the ransom money from Lindbergh's intermediary, Dr. John F. Johnson. They were spoken in the cemetery where the payment was made. Lindbergh heard them and remembered the voice.

Although the case is invariably referred to as the "Lindbergh kidnaping," the grand jury returned no kidnap indictment. Kidnapers may only be sentenced to life terms. Murderers face the electric chair.

DELEGATES to the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco adopted unanimously and with cheers a resolution proposing adoption of a six-hour day and five-day week for all workers, private and government.

A committee appointed to investigate possibilities and merit of shorter work periods reported favorably.

William Green, president of A. F. of L., made an impassioned speech in favor of shorter work periods during which he said the federation can be expected to mobilize its economic strength to make a concerted drive on industry and owners of industry for adoption of a six-hour day and five-day week and that legislation by congress would be sought at the forthcoming session so that there will be enforcement of this economic reform, not to make less work for those already employed but to create work opportunities for more people.

Resolutions as adopted provide for no reduction in wages to result from shorter work periods.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, won a victory when the convention voted unanimously for the organization of workers into single unions embracing whole industries, as distinguished from craft unions limited to particular trades. The executive council was instructed to issue charters or the creation of national and international unions in the automotive, cement, aluminum and other mass production industries.

The council also was ordered to inaugurate organization campaigns in the iron and steel industries.

The federation also went on record in favor of pensions for the aged, for mothers of dependent children and for sickness and unemployment benefits.

DIGNITARIES of the Roman Catholic church from many lands and pilgrims by the hundred thousand gathered in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for the thirty-second International Eucharistic congress. Ship after ship entered the harbor laden with plous folk from Europe, Africa and all the Americas, and the city threw open its homes for their accommodation. The picturesque open air ceremonies were held in Palermo park, and other religious rites were celebrated in the magnificent cathedral.

NEWS from MICHIGAN

FLINT—Flint's first American Kennel Club licensed all-breed dog show in many years was held in the Industrial Mutual Association auditorium here. More than 300 dogs representing 31 breeds, entered the competition. Among them were 10 national champions, one international champion.

Grand Marais—Wolves have just discovered after 15 years that the bounty has been removed from their pelts, and are again taking to the deer trails in packs. Throughout the woods may be found the bones and remains of deer, mostly fawns and does, that have been pulled down and devoured by the wolves.

Cheboygan—King, Dr. R. P. Giffins' dog, has adopted two four-month-old kittens, Tarbaby and Graystone, and the attachment has become so strong that the three rarely are separated. King even goes so far as to fight for his friends, driving away any dogs that annoy the kittens. And the kittens, trusting him, leap between his paws while he watches.

Ann Arbor—A University of Michigan janitor discovered that jewels worth about $300 in a collection housed in the natural science building had been stolen. Crowbars had been used to pry open cases in which the gems were displayed and 19 small uncut diamonds, nine specimens of gold, and a few rubies and sapphires were taken.

Muskegon—The body of John Clark, 30 years old, plant engineer of the Norge Corporation here, was found in Lake Michigan by fishermen. Clark lost his life July 22 in an attempt to save Ralph D. Ballew, Muskegon contractor, when he was swept off a sloop far out in Lake Michigan. Ballew's body was recovered recently. A daily search had been made since by boat and airplane for Clark's body. Clark formerly lived at Walkerville.

Mt. Pleasant—Two new areas in Isabella and Midland Counties were opened for oil development when wildcat wells struck oil in the Dundee formation. The McClanahan Oil Co.'s No. 1, in Denver Township, Isabella County, located a mile south of the producing area, came in with 200 barrels a day flow. In Mt. Haley Township, Midland County, three miles east of the prolific Porter pool, the Atha Oil Co.'s Moran No. 1 test, encountered oil.

Negaunee—M. G. Degabriele, secretary of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association, sent a telegram to the State Conservation Department recommending that surplus moose on Isle Royale be trapped and removed to the Upper Peninsula mainland. The recommendation was made after a poll had been taken of directors of the 28 clubs affiliated with the association. The vote for trapping and removing was virtually unanimous. None favored killing by conservation officers.

Grand Rapids—First steps to make Michigan a pioneer among states in revising its social legislation have been taken by the State Conference of Social Work. The first drafts of contemplated changes included a revision of the old age pension law, with emphasis on the necessity of obtaining funds from a general tax rather than the head tax, and a plan to make relief administration a function of the State social agencies rather than an independent administrative branch of the government.

Fowlerville—The years rest lightly on the shoulders of William O. Hendryx, of Fowlerville, who boasts that he is one of Michigan's oldest automobile drivers. At 94, Hendryx holds no terrors for him as he pilots his coupe through Central Michigan. He boasts more proudly that never has he had an accident. Hendryx is a Civil War veteran, having served four years with the Ninth Michigan Infantry. He has 55 direct descendants—six children, 20 grandchildren, and 29 great-grandchildren, all living.

Bloomfield Hills—The skeleton of a half grown mastodon, between 20,000 and 25,000 years old, has been uncovered by Carl Opendorf, Bloomfield Township welfare worker, and turned over to the University of Michigan Museum. Dr. E. C. Case, head of the department of geology at the University in Ann Arbor, said that they have the skull, tusks, teeth and a few vertebrae, so far. The tusks are a little less than three feet long, and Dr. Case said that the young mastodon probably stood about six feet tall.

Royal Oak—Maggarino Genta, attendant at a filling station, smiled broadly as police took Maurice F. White, 41 years old, into court on a charge of assault with intent to rob. Genta smiled because he had captured White and sat on him until the police arrived at the filling station. Genta said White came to buy a can of gasoline. Then, in a holdup attempt, White produced a wrench instead of a gun, Genta said. Genta, afraid of a wrench, overpowered White and held him while passersby called the police.

Lansing—Last attempts to capture Michigan grayling in the Otter River of the Upper Peninsula for propagation purposes are being made by a crew of CCC boys, under supervision of the Department of Conservation. A thorough seining will be made of that stretch of the Otter River where grayling were known to live and where attempts of the past two years were not successful. If no grayling are secured this fall, the attempts will be given up under the assumption that Michigan grayling will have become extinct.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington—Whatever may be gleaned from recent developments in Washington, it can be stated with certainty that President Roosevelt has now set his mind definitely to continue the National Recovery Administration as a governmental unit. It may well be that the organization will be changed as to form; it may be possible that the name will be revised and that there can be no equivocation about the fact that Mr. Roosevelt intends to maintain NRA and that he has acted at this time to give notice of his decision in advance of the convening of congress.

Observers here have taken note of the unusual emphasis placed upon the President's part in NRA reorganization plans. They think this was done at the behest of the Chief Executive with the thought in mind that it would serve as a reassurance to hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country. I believe there can be no doubt that a good many people, some influential, some just the mine-run, have questioned the flying qualities of the Blue Eagle. Their dissatisfaction and distrust has been shown in many ways and thus it appears logical that Mr. Roosevelt would seek to allay their fears.

Under the new set-up of NRA, the President has taken active leadership. Of course, he has been the leader heretofore, but there has always been the disposition on his part to allow the former administrator, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, to guide his own ship. Despite the fact that Mr. Johnson was given a free hand, it was easy for Mr. Roosevelt to take control because, after all, he is president of the United States.

By dividing management of NRA among the heads of three boards, it is generally believed that the President has made it easier for himself to assert his influence and his ideas more directly than has hitherto been the case. This is particularly true when the personality of the former administrator is considered although the President had only one man with whom to deal under that circumstance.

Politically minded people in Washington seem to be wondering, however, what the effect will be on Mr. Roosevelt. Suggestions have been heard that by taking a direct hand in NRA Mr. Roosevelt has put himself "out front" where, some seem to think he may be the target for some of the "rotten eggs" about which the bombastic General Johnson spoke so frequently. The retiring administrator said frequently he did not mind being the target, but many times Mr. Roosevelt has taken occasion to fight back at his critics by calling them Tories, unawakened Rip Van Winkles, and other such descriptive terms.

It is yet too early for a general reaction to be evident among conservative business men on the President's NRA reorganization program. Those who have given voice to their feelings thus far, however, have indicated that the right wing group in the country are finding small unction from the new program. Indeed, the undercurrent of information which we get in Washington is to the effect that there are more secret meetings and definite moves among business interests to ward off any left wing swing by the administration than there has been at any time since Mr. Roosevelt took office.

The President's recent radio speech to the country was generally understood as a conciliatory move on his part and it seems not to take a stretch of the imagination to link that speech and NRA reorganization with these various movements against the overhanging threats of such liberals as Donald Richberg, former Chicago labor lawyer, who is certainly the most influential man in the new NRA set-up.

Everywhere I go, I find that business interests are accepting the reorganization of NRA as notice of its continuation and it may be possible that one result of this interpretation of the President's act is the growing opposition movement mentioned above. Business generally is mindful that the matter of continuing NRA must be decided by congress. They recognize that the present recovery act expires next June and that the President will lay before congress a comprehensive program early in January after congress returns. Their efforts in opposition, therefore, naturally will be directed to the congress in an effort to accomplish some of the changes in the law which they believe advisable to permit free and untrammelled commerce and industry.

With regard to the President's determination to continue NRA it needs to be pointed out only that if he had wanted to scrap that unit of his recovery set-up, the retirement of General Johnson afforded an excellent opportunity. It was then that he could have allowed the organization to disintegrate and could have transferred to various agencies of the government that are permanent in character such functions as he desired should continue. But he did not do that. He acted with dispatch. This is best shown by the chronology of events. It appears that the President made up his mind over one week-end. He received General Johnson's resignation on a Monday and announced it on a Tuesday. His return to Washington on Wednesday was followed immediately by conference with Mr. Richberg and a quick announcement of the new program. It is evident, therefore, that when the President decided something had to be done, he moved at once to get rid of General Johnson and to start the new machinery through orders issued to Mr. Richberg.

Formulation of industrial policies henceforth are regarded as likely to be more on the basis of trial and error than heretofore has been the case.

Banking and other financial interests of the country are apparently quite disturbed over the trend toward easier bank examinations. Mr. Roosevelt lately has told the treasury that the bank examiners were too hardbitten in going over loans held in portfolios of banks and that he was anxious to see a more uniform system developed than the examining methods long in use.

The fear seems to be that the bank examiners will relax too far in granting approval for loans outstanding. Heretofore, banks have had to toe the mark and any questionable papers or any loan that gave evidence of not being liquidated in accordance with its terms was promptly called to the attention of the bank management with instructions to make corrective adjustments on the books. If, as some financial authorities expect, bank examiners become too lenient it is suggested in many quarters that the banks again may find themselves with paper upon which they cannot realize just as occurred at the beginning of this depression. It was bad loans that forced the closing of many banks.

Then, too, many observers are finding it difficult to reconcile the President's attitude with the frequent rebukes that have come from the senate committee on banking and currency after its investigation of the banking structure. Time after time that committee, which proceeded with its investigation with a blessing from the White House, has attacked banks and bankers because of bad loans and worse judgment in dealing with the borrowers. The question has been asked several times lately whether banks are going to be willing to make loans that are in some respects a gamble even under the President's urge it, later, they will be subjected to attacks in the halls of congress.

On the bank loans the President is convinced that bank examiners have been throwing out a lot of loans that are perfectly good. They have been forcing the banks to charge off this paper as a loss. In other words, Mr. Roosevelt believes that under the old rules of examination a too stringent attitude was adopted by the administrative authorities in the treasury and the bank examiners carried out those rules literally.

In the background, it is to be remembered, however, there is the federal deposit insurance corporation. This agency guarantees that the depositors will be repaid in full up to a limit of $5,000 on each account. It would seem to be that the existence of this insurance corporation ought to fend off any particular fear. But bankers know and a good many of the political and administrative leaders recognize that the corporation could not withstand wholesale bank failures. It draws its funds from assessment of member banks and, therefore, when its present reserves are exhausted banks must dig up more. Following this line of reasoning, one cannot help arriving at the conclusion that a series of bank failures, resulting from bad loans, would throw more of a burden upon the good banks than they can carry. Thus it is made to appear that a high percentage of bankers in the country after all are going to continue to exercise their judgment on the type of loans they make and will not be influenced materially by administration wishes. Some, of course, will extend credit with abandon, and it is this group of bankers who eventually will witness the deposit insurance corporation paying off their depositors.

Consumers must look to a change in their diet as regards some items of food during the coming winter, according to a statement from the Department of Agriculture. Through the bureau of agricultural economics the department said that it expected some increases in prices between now and the end of the year but that the climb in price levels likely would be more gradual and not so large as has occurred in the last three months. This fact, it appeared, was traceable to the shortage of some kinds of food resulting from the drought in the central states and a superabundance of some other kinds produced in the eastern half and far western sections of the United States.

The department suggested that the full effect of the drought on retail food prices will not be felt until next spring. At that time, supplies of meats, dairy products and poultry products will have been reduced.

© Western Newspaper Union

THE BICENTENNIAL of DAN'L BOONE

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

ON NOVEMBER 2, 1734, there was born to a Quaker weaver and blacksmith in Exeter township, near the present city of Reading, Pa., a son to whom was given the name of Daniel. And now, 200 years later, that boy's name still has the power to stir the imagination of his fellow-Americans. For he was Daniel Boone.

Last month the magic of his name drew to a little town in Kentucky all the high officials of that commonwealth, representatives of the governors of eight states and a great crowd of people from every part of the country. They had gathered there to participate in the opening ceremonies of the Boone bicentennial which is being observed this year and which will come to a climax late this month.

Although the celebration at Boonesboro on September 3 was primarily a Kentucky affair, since Kentucky regards Dan'l Boone as essentially her own, a dozen other states have some claim upon him. Among them are Pennsylvania, where he was born; Virginia, North Carolina

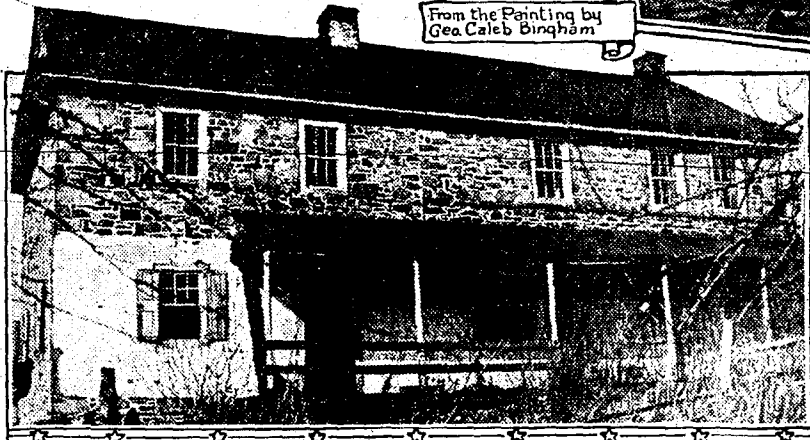

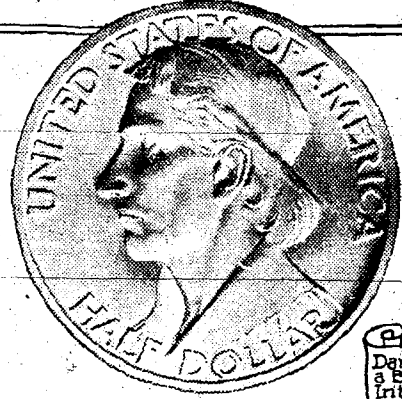

DANIEL BOONE

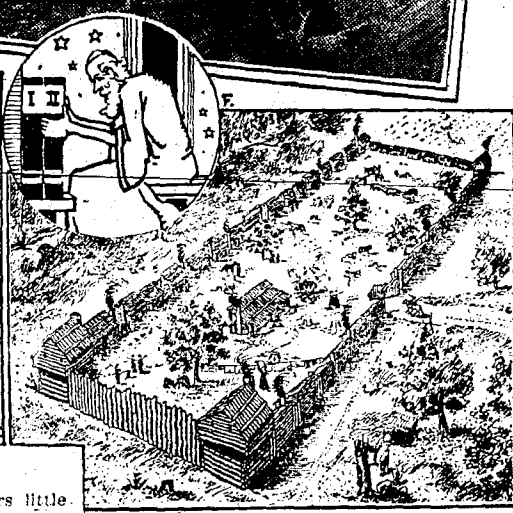

Daniel Boone Leading a Band of Pioneers into Kentucky

From the Painting by Geo. Caleb Bingham

Birthplace of Daniel Boone

Fort Boonesborough

and Tennessee, where his youth was spent and where he started upon his career as a hunter and frontiersman; West Virginia (then a part of the Old Dominion) where he made his home after the loss of his lands in Kentucky; Ohio, where he had some of his most thrilling adventures; and Missouri, where he spent his declining years and where he was buried when death claimed him in 1820. Even Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana have more than a casual interest in him. For in his old age, still the keen hunter and trapper, he made long trips into the western wilderness and it is possible that he trod the soil of all those states.

But in a larger sense Daniel Boone belongs to the whole nation. Symbolical of that fact was the authorization by the last congress of a special half-dollar for the Boone bicentennial this year. Designed by one of America's most distinguished sculptors, Augustus Lukeman, the coin bears on the obverse side Boone's likeness and on the reverse the figures of a frontiersman and an Indian and the designation of 1934 as Pioneer Year. These coins will be sold at a premium and the proceeds will go to the Boone bicentennial commission of Kentucky to be used in acquiring the sites of three pioneer forts—Fort Boonesborough, Boone's Station and Bryan's Station. These three, together with the site of the Battle of Blue Licks, will comprise the Pioneer national monument with a memorial highway connecting the four shrines.

Even without these material reminders of the fame of Dan'l Boone, his is a deathless name in the American consciousness. He is the eternal symbol of the pioneer, of a land where there were frontiers to be pushed ever westward and a wilderness to be won. In the America of today there are no more frontiers where venturesome souls may escape the humdrum of everyday affairs; there is no wilderness to be conquered; and pioneer life exists only in the fading memories of a few aging men and women facing the sunset of their days.

So this nation, still youthful but realizing how quickly it spent its youthful heritage of high adventure and brave enterprise, looks back somewhat longingly to those glamorous days and seeks some figure in which is embodied the spirit of its lusty youth. In Daniel Boone it finds such a figure. Americans of today, reading of him and associating themselves in their minds with him, can experience vicariously the adventures which befell him in real life.

Such is the magic of the name of Daniel Boone and to 99 out of a hundred Americans he is the pioneer par excellence. His apotheosis began long ago, for just as George Washington had his Parson Weems to make him more of a myth than a man, so did Daniel Boone have his John Filson to make him a frontier demigod. The result has been many a misconception about Boone's part in the settlement of Kentucky and many a "popular belief" about his importance as a frontier leader which are partially, if not entirely, erroneous.

Modern historical scholarship paints a somewhat different picture of him from the one which our schoolbook histories have presented. Scientific historians, devoted to seeking the truth and making the truth known, have gone back to the source material and out of their findings has emerged a new Daniel Boone who bears little resemblance to the Boone of the myth-makers. One of the first of these was the late Clarence Walworth Alvord of the University of Illinois and the University of Minnesota, whose reputation, gained in his researches into the early history of the Mississippi valley, is too secure for him to be regarded as an idle "debunker" of the great. Writing in the American Mercury nearly a decade ago, he declared:

"The facts of the life of the man Boone, indeed, have little in common with those of the superman so universally exalted. He is idolized as the most heroic of western explorers, as the first to make known to settlers the fertility of the 'dark and bloody country' of Kentucky, and as the first to plant in the West a permanent settlement of Americans."

But it requires only the most superficial research to knock the story into a cocked hat. A study of the historical sources proves that thousands of men explored Kentucky before Boone, and the region was well known to multitudes who needed no superhuman herald either to tell them of the fertility of the soil or to summon them to action. Finally, in this whole complex movement across the mountains Boone played a subordinate part; he was little more than an employee of an empire builder, Richard Henderson, a North Carolina speculator and the founder of the Transylvania company. Daniel Boone was one of many pawns in the magnificent game of chess being played on Kentucky territory. Of the superman there is no trace."

Another distinguished historian, who is probably the leading authority today on the history of the Old Southwest (Kentucky and Tennessee) and who is now writing a definitive biography of Boone, in an article which appeared in the New York Times Magazine in 1927, corroborated Alvord's statements in regard to the priority of other men as "Kentucky pioneers" but dealt somewhat more kindly with the superman myth. He is Dr. Archibald Henderson who is, incidentally, a great-great-grandson of Boone's employer. Writing of Boone's activities as agent for the Transylvania company, he says:

"While these are the revelations of modern historical investigation they do not detract from the distinctive qualities of Boone's real fame. Boone was probably the most skillful hunter of big game who ever lived upon the American continent. He was a peerless explorer, a supreme scout. Unsuccessful as a leader—even the leadership in the defense of Boonesborough seems to have fallen not to Boone but to Richard Callaway—Boone was unsurpassed as an individual Indian fighter, who on countless occasions proved himself more than a match for the craftiest and subtlest of his Indian opponents."

Seen through the glorifying halo of a century and three-quarters of time, Daniel Boone still rises before us as a romantic figure, poised and resolute, simple, benign—as naive and shy as some wild thing of the primal forest—five feet eight inches in height, with broad chest and shoulders, dark locks, genial blue eyes arched with fair eyebrows, thin lips and wide mouth, nose of slightly Roman cast and fair ruddy countenance. In suit of buckskin, Indian moccasins and coonskin cap, with rifle, knife and tomahawk, alternating with the axe and the surveyor's compass, he is the true leatherstocking of a Cooper romance."

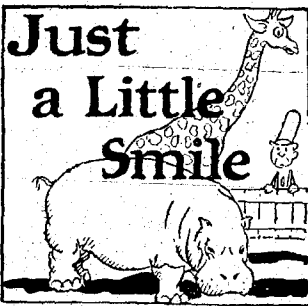

Here, perhaps, is a clue to the reason why there's still magic for us in the name of Daniel Boone. We are more influenced in our thinking by the fiction we read than we realize. It is easier to think in terms of symbols and types than it is to take into account individual differences in arriving at an estimate of some one person. So, when Cooper symbolized the American pioneer in the romantic figure of Natty Bumppo, we accepted Leatherstocking as the prototype of all frontiersmen. And when a character in real life came as close to fitting the fictitious portrait which Cooper drew as Daniel Boone did, it was almost a certainty that his name would be stamped indelibly on the American consciousness.

Involved in this result, of course, is a matter of racial and national pride—and also personal vanity. We Americans like to consider ourselves superior to other peoples, especially those whose skins are another color, although in this respect we are, perhaps, no different from the British, the French, the Germans or the citizens of any other country.

When we set out to overrun this continent, we encountered a natural opposition from its original owner, the red man. He was wily and daring; he was skilled in woodcraft; he was a first-class fighting man. In order to survive, the pioneers who invaded his hunting grounds had to outwit and outfight him. Those who didn't, soon lost their scalps. Those who did, were able to maintain their precarious hold on their new homes in the wilderness until the overwhelming numbers of the white man made certain the subjugation of the red man and the acquisition of his lands.

Outstanding among the pioneers who were able to survive was Daniel Boone who, as Henderson has said, was "unsurpassed as an individual Indian fighter." So when we read of one of his victories over the "wily redskins" it confirms our feeling of racial superiority, just as reading of Washington's victories in the Revolution and those of Scott and Taylor in the Mexican war confirm our feelings of national superiority.

Daniel Boone was an American; we are Americans; ergo, we, too, would have been able to have outwitted those "wily redskins." He was a crack shot with the long rifle of that period; he was "the most skillful hunter of big game who ever lived upon the American continent"; he was "a peerless explorer, a supreme scout." Therefore, by the same process of reasoning, we are all of those things. In other words he was a champion in his field of endeavor. And how we Americans do love champions and love to be champions!

DETERMINED SOLICITUDE

"I'm goin' to keep on sendin' my boy Josh to college," said Farmer Corntassel.
"You think he has exceptional intelligence?"
"No. Confidentially, I don't think he has a great deal of sense. I'm goin' to put him in the way of learnin' a lot of long words so's maybe he can fool people."—Washington Star.

Hard to Fill
Aunt Liza's mistress was talking to her one morning when suddenly she discovered a little pickaninny standing shyly behind his mother's skirts. "Is this your little boy, Aunt Liza?" she asked.
"Yes, miss, dat's Prescription."
"Goodness, what a funny name auntie, for a child! How in the world did you happen to call him that?"
"Ah simply calls him dat becuz ah has sech hard wuk getting him filled."

Around the Corner
"There have been some high words exchanged around the Capitol."
"Much to my disappointment," said Senator Sorghum. "As we keep zig-zagging along, we continually find that asperity is just around the corner."

In Trouble
Life Saver—Are you in difficulties?
Fair Bath—Yes, Needle and thread and a button as soon as you can get them.—Weekly Telegraph (Sheffield).

Long-Range Enjoyment
"Does your boy Josh enjoy work?"
"Yes," answered Farmer Corntassel. "He can sit on the fence an' I ever see anybody that seemed to get more enjoyment out o' work than he does."

SEASIDE ATTRACTION

He—You must be very fond of the water. I see you here every day.
She—I am! I love to sit on the beach.
Extensive Repairs
Mrs. Lafferty—Ten stitches did the doctor have to put in me old man after the fight last night—
Mrs. O'Hara—Ten? Was that all? Shure, when the doctor seen me poor husband carried in this morning he says: "Has any wan got a sewing machine?"—Boston Transcript.

News for Pa

"Father, why doesn't mother travel with the circus?"
"Why what could she do in a circus?"
"She might be the strong woman. I heard her telling grandma this morning that she could wind you around her little finger."

It Made Her Anxious

Nichleigh—I'm getting a new siren for my car.
Tall Beauty—Oh, Alfie! Does that mean all is over between us?—By-stander.

Weather or Not

Jones—Why do you let your wife rule the house?
Smith—Because if I didn't let her reign, she'd storm.—Transcript (Boston).

Or an Agonizer!

"What is an agonizer?"
"Aw, he's the guy that makes music in church."

Practical House Frock

PATTERN 9083
The nice thing about this frock—one of the nice things—is that you can wear it buttoned up some days and opened on others. If you face the reverse with a contrasting color, as in the illustration, it makes a great deal of difference whether you see the inside of it or not—it really makes a different frock of it. It is one of those house dresses which may be worn out of doors in the country or for shopping in the mornings. The inverted pleat makes the sleeves most flattering. Very attractive in a plain fabric as well as a printed one.

Pattern 9083 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 36-inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrasting.
Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.
Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West 18th Street, New York, N. Y.

DEMAND FOR NOVELTY

"What we need," said the emphatic citizen, "is some new laws."
"Maybe you're right," answered Senator Sorghum. "Even a law can grow old and convey the impression that it has outlasted its usefulness."—Washington Star.

Acquiring Knowledge

"We have a great deal to learn from Russia!"
"I know that," answered Senator Sorghum. "We can always learn much from foreign friends. But we have to be careful not to allow the tuition to become unreasonably expensive."

A Hint

Manager—Put your very old-fashioned coat in the office.
Clerk—Yes, sir, it is a bit out of date. I bought it the last time you gave me a rise.—From Ireland's Own.

WISE YOUTH

"Had your vacation yet, old man?"
"Not yet. I'm going to take mine the same time the boss takes his. Then he can't see how easily the office can get along without me."

Guessing

"The variability of public opinion makes politics a difficult game."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "The human race is just as hard to guess as a horse."

Charlevoix County Herald
G. A. LISK, Publisher.
Subscription Rate—$1.50 per year.
Member Michigan Press Association.
Member National Editorial Ass'n.
Entered at the Postoffice at East Jordan, Michigan, as second class mail matter.

Statement of the Ownership

Management, circulation, etc., of the Charlevoix County Herald, published weekly at East Jordan, Michigan, as required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912.

Publisher—G. A. Lisk, East Jordan, Michigan.

Editor—G. A. Lisk, East Jordan, Michigan.

Managing Editor—G. A. Lisk, East Jordan, Michigan.

Business Manager—G. A. Lisk, East Jordan, Michigan.

Owner—G. A. Lisk, East Jordan, Michigan.

Known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders, holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities.—None.

G. A. LISK, Publisher.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 16th day of October, 1934.

WALTER A. CAMPBELL, Notary Public.

My Commission expires June 14, 1938

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by John C. Shier and Geneva M. Shier, his wife, of East Jordan, Michigan, to the Peoples State Savings Bank, of East Jordan, Michigan, which said mortgage bears date the 10th day of November, 1927, and was recorded on the 17th day of November, 1927, in Liber sixty-seven (67) of Mortgages, on page eighty three (83), in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Charlevoix, Michigan, and that said mortgage is past due, and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage the sum of four thousand one hundred ninety nine and 86-100 ($4199.86) Dollars, at the date of this notice, including principal, interest, taxes, insurance, and attorney fee; and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

And whereas, the undersigned, George D. Nimmo, was appointed Receiver for the Peoples State Savings Bank, a Michigan corporation, of East Jordan, Michigan, on the 28th day of March, 1934, by R. E. Reichert, Commissioner of the State Banking Department of Michigan, and has duly qualified as such Receiver, and is now the lawful and acting Receiver for the Peoples State Savings Bank, a Michigan corporation, of East Jordan, Michigan;

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Saturday, the 27th day of October, 1934, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the east front door of the court house in the city of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held, said George D. Nimmo, as Receiver of the Peoples State Savings Bank, of East Jordan, Michigan, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, and all legal costs and attorney fee.

The premises described in said mortgage are as follows, to-wit:

"The south forty six (46) feet of lot nine-(9) and the north thirty two (32) feet of lot number ten (10), all in block one (1) of the village of South Lake, more commonly known as the city of East Jordan, as per recorded plat of said village now on file in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan."

Dated August 3rd, 1934.

GEORGE D. NIMMO, Receiver for Peoples State Savings Bank a Michigan corporation, Mortgagee.

E. N. CLINK, Attorney for George D. Nimmo, as Receiver for Peoples State Savings Bank. Business Address: East Jordan, Michigan.

Peoples' Wants

MUNNIMAKERS

Notices of Lost, Wanted, For Sale, For Rent, etc., in this Column is 25 cents for one insertion for 25 words or less. Initials count as one word and compound words count as two words. Above this number of words a charge of one cent a word will be made for the first insertion and 1/2 cent for subsequent insertions, with a minimum charge of 15-cents. These rates are for cash only; Ten cents extra per insertion if charged.

WANTED

WANTED — Representative to look after our magazine subscription interest in East Jordan and vicinity. Our plan enables you to secure a good part of the hundreds of dollars spent in this vicinity each fall and winter for magazines. Oldest agency in U. S. Guaranteed lowest rates on all periodicals, domestic and foreign. Instructions and equipment free. Start a growing and permanent business in whole or spare time. Address: MOORE-COTTRELL, Inc., Wayland Road, North Cohocton, N. Y. 41-2

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE — Rutabagas and Carrots. Phone 167-F2. 42-1

FOR SALE — Hay, Cattle, Mowing Machine, Hay Rake, '26 sedan Chevrolet Body.—TOM KISER 42x2

REPAIRS for Everything at C. J. MALPASS HDWE. CO.

PENINSULA

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Mrs. Geo. Jarman have as guests, her sister, Mrs. John Dick and Mrs. Dick's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carty and daughter, Deloris of Detroit for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Webb of Pleasant View farm had for guest, Miss Emma Berry of Petoskey, from Sunday to Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Staley and Mrs. Staley's son, Harold Green of Traverse City were dinner guests of Mr. Staley's brother, Geo. Staley and family at Gleaner Corner, Friday, and were guests of Mr. Staley's sister Mrs. Joel Bennett and family from Friday afternoon until Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bogart and son Clare of Boyne City were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Bennett at Honey Slope farm, Sunday.

The little Miss Byrel and Beverly Bennett of Honey Slope farm had a party Sunday afternoon, Miss Byrel's ninth birthday anniversary was Saturday, October 13th and Beverly's seventh was Sunday, October 14th. They had 12 guests and received some very nice presents and all had a pleasant time.

Miss Lucy Reich of Lone Ash farm and Miss Eva Crowell of Dave Staley Hill started for Jackson, Friday afternoon, going with Alfred Crowell as far as Grayling where they would meet Miss Crowell's cousins, Lloyd and David Perry of the CCC and they would take them the rest of the way. While in Jackson they will visit Miss Crowell's sister, Mrs. Helen Warden and family. They hope to get employment. Failing to get employment they will be gone two weeks.

Francis "Bill" Russell of the Springvale CCC spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Russell of Ridgeway farm. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kamradt of Traverse City were also guests there.

A lamb buyer was on the Peninsula Saturday. A B. Nicloy sold a truck load of feeders to him.

State Rep. D. D. Tibbits of Cherry Hill accompanied Frank Fitzgerald, Republican nominee for Governor on a campaign tour of Charlevoix Co., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mathers and family of East of Boyne City were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Staley and family at Gleaner Corner, Sunday.

"Doc" Gibbard and three sons of East Jordan dug potatoes on shares for Geo. Staley Saturday. They got out more than one hundred bushel.

F. D. Russell of Ridgeway farm had the misfortune to find one of his work horses dead in the barn yard Saturday morning. The animal had been worked Friday and seemed perfectly all right when turned out at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Staley and family of Gleaner Corner and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loomis and son Clare of Gravel Hill, north side, attended a dancing party at the J. E. Jones home East of Boyne City, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loomis and son Clare visited the Gene Inman family in Boyne City, Sunday.

About 20 friends and relatives of Mrs. Rolland Beyer, nee Zepha Faust, gave her a shower at her home, Mountain Ash farm, Wednesday afternoon. She received many beautiful and useful gifts. A pot luck lunch was served and all report a very pleasant time.

Curtis and LeRoy Nicloy of Sunney Slopes farm were taken very ill with stomach and bowel trouble after they got home from school Friday evening and were confined to their home all day Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Healey of Willow Brook farm were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Webb at Pleasant View farm, Sunday. After dinner the whole party went on a motor trip around Lake Charlevoix and called on Clayton Healey at Hill View farm.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gaunt and two children of Three Bells Dist. motored to Charlevoix Sunday and visited the Joe Gaunt family.

Mr. Derby Hayden and brother-in-law, LeRoy Albright of Boyne Falls and Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden and two children, Arlene and Lloyd were dinner guests at Orchard Hill, Sunday.

Fred Worn of Star Dist is the first to report having his potatoes dug. No rain since Saturday, Oct. 6 and farmers are surely taking advantage of the fine weather. Although there has been three hard frosts the past week the corn on Orchard Hill has not been touched and will be in the silo by noon Monday, being the last job on the Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leshner and little daughter, Emma Ruth of Petoskey were guests of the A. Reich family at Lone Ash farm.

CHESTONIA

(Edited by Mrs. Arlene Shepard)

Mr. Joe Weiler Sr. and his son, Joe Jr., are taking potatoes in the warehouse at Chestonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Shepard and nephew, Donnie Brownell, visited Mr. and Mrs. Irving Crawford Tuesday night.

Adolph Swotash dug Joe Weiler Sr.'s potatoes last week.

Mrs. E. M. Valentine, Mrs. Emma Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Vail Shepard and daughter Suebel, and Mr. Orrin Walling had Sunday Dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Shepard.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Weiler visited Joe Weiler Sr. and daughters Sunday and also Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weiler Jr.

The Grand Rapids Press man was in this community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vail Shepard returned home Sunday night after he worked a week for his mother, Mrs. Emma Shepard.

Mr. James Weiler and friend from Central Lake visited his father Sunday evening.

Doctor Tripp of Mancelona visited a number of people in this community this week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Basil Crawford, a girl, Nathalie Margurite, at Marquette, October 3rd.

Once a Fashion King — Now Living On a Fifty-Cent Daily Dole! Read About This Former Autocrat Of Dress in The American Weekly, the Magazine Distributed With NEXT SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD & EXAMINER.

HILL-TOP

(Miles District) (Edited by Jim Addis)

Everyone is busy digging potatoes during the nice weather and many of them have their crop dug and stored away for a higher price.

Mrs. Henry Steenhagen's sister, Mrs. Wright, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Steenhagen to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Gerritt Steenhagen accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steenhagen home from Grand Rapids last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harl Moblo of East Jordan called on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steenhagen Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Evans and Len Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Evans grandson, motored to Boyne City and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lindenau.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo called on Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert LaClair at Ellsworth Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed Jr. and family of Charlevoix and Mrs. Elmer Reed Sr. called on Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo Sunday evening.

Mr. Whittington and Mr. Mombberger called on Mr. Jerry Moblo Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Frank Addis and son James had dinner with Mrs. Supely LaLonde Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Addis and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kortanek Sunday afternoon.

Gwendon Hott, who is attending M.S.C. at Lansing was home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Vermillion and family and Clarence LaLonde of East Jordan had Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Stackus of Boyne City were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hott.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek and children of East Jordan called on Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hott Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hott drove to Gaylord Sunday morning with their son, Gwendon, who is returning to M.S.C. after a brief visit at home.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Frost, Sunday, were the following persons:— Mr. and Mrs. Orlie Washburn of Lansing; Mrs. Anna Washburn and family of Mesick; Mrs. Ethel Henderson with sons and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tanner of Kalkaska.

(Delayed)

Everyone has started to get ready for potato digging and some have already begun digging.

Those who have started to dig report a good yield.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steenhagen were called to Cincinnati, Ohio, by the death of Mrs. Steenhagen's sister, Mrs. Mary Schoolwer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dunlap and children of Boyne City called on Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Evans Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo visited their son, Karl Moblo and family, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Addis and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zoulek of Chaddock Dist. Sunday.

WILSON TOWNSHIP

(Edited by C. M. Nowland)

Mr. and Mrs. Max Graham of Detroit motored up with Mrs. Alma Nowland, Saturday. The former called on his parents at Eveline, Mrs. Nowland entered the Lockwood hospital at Petoskey for an operation, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Bartholomew of East Jordan spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simmons.

Mrs. Lee Goddard, son-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Donner and Miss Edna of Traverse City spent the week end with the formers sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holland.

A birthday party in honor of Misses Margaret and Bertha Martin was held Monday night at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin. St. Cards were played, refreshments served and a pleasant evening enjoyed.

Mrs. Gladys Russell of Petoskey spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Ethelene Davis.

A. R. Nowland, R. E. Nowland and Eugene Kurchinski shredded corn last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert St. John and son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Henderson and son Earl were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slate of Peninsula.

Mrs. Mable Holland of Lansing, a former resident of Wilson, leaves this week for Florida with Mrs. Sheets, her employer.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Scott and daughter, Elda, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Scott of Vanderbilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Slute and family were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Shaler.

Mrs. Silas Denning is laid up with an infection on her limb caused from picking cucumbers.

Miss Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Sr., was taken to the Charlevoix hospital Tuesday forenoon where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

(Delayed)

Mrs. A. G. Stephenson was a Traverse City visitor Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Conn Nowland and daughter Donna of Harbor Springs were Friday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Nowland, and Mr. and Mrs. Elgie Dow.

Mr. and Mrs. Vere Hawkins and daughter of Petoskey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trojanek Jr. and children of Detroit were recent week end visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trojanek Sr., and other relatives.

Mrs. Robert Pearsall celebrated her birthday anniversary a week late because of illness. Relatives gathered to honor her and hear the radio presented to her.

Mr. B. Wilber and son Guy made a business trip to Traverse City, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Cecil Ornsby and mother, Mrs. Bissell and Mrs. Roen of Boyne City were Sunday evening callers of Mrs. Arvilla Coykendall.

Mrs. Lottie Todd and L. Fuller were Sunday visitors at Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Trojanek, sons Edward, Floyd and Donald and Joseph Trojanek, Sr., were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Trojanek's sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Nowland.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Batterbee and daughters of East Jordan were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simmons.

Miss Agnes Stanek returned to the home of her parents Saturday, after being employed in Petoskey this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nowland accompanied their son Roy and family of East Jordan on a sight seeing trip to Alpena, Sunday.

The Bohemian Settlement school

FROM NEWS REPORTER TO NATIONAL LEADER.

UNITED STATES SENATOR ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG

APPOINTED TO UNITED STATES SENATE TO FILL UNEXPIRED TERM OF SENATOR FEARNS IN MARCH 1928, AND ELECTED TO THE OFFICE NOV. 1930 WHERE HE HAS SINCE SERVED. FATHER OF FEDERAL BANK DEPOSIT INSURANCE. MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE ON AMBITIOUS INQUIRY, CO-AUTHOR OF THE NYE-VANDENBERG RESOLUTION UNDER WHICH THE INVESTIGATION IS BEING HELD. PRESIDENT PRO-TEMPORIS—CHIEF SENATE HONOR. LED FIGHT FOR REAPPOINTMENT OF CONGRESS. SENATORIAL DISTRICTS GIVING MICHIGAN FOUR ADDITIONAL CONGRESSMEN AND PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS

HIS FIRST REAL JOB WAS WORKING AS CITY HALL REPORTER ON THE EDITORIAL STAFF OF THE GRAND RAPIDS HERALD, OF WHICH HE LATER BECAME EDITOR AND PUBLISHER, SERVING THE HERALD 26 YEARS

AUTHOR OF "ALEXANDER HAMILTON THE TRAIL OF A TRADITION" ETC. STUDENT OF AND AUTHORITY ON GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

HIS RECORD WHILE REPRESENTING MICHIGAN IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE HAS MADE HIM A RECOGNIZED NATIONAL LEADER.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

SORRY, ED. WE HAD A RUSH JOB THE OTHER DAY AND COULD HAVE USED YOU. BUT YOU DIDN'T HAVE A TELEPHONE, SO WE CALLED JOHNSTON.

A TELEPHONE OFTEN HELPS FIND WORK

When an application is made for work, either to an employer or at an employment agency, it is very important that the applicant be able to give a telephone number at which he can be reached. For, when jobs open, the quickest and easiest way to summon workers is by telephone. Other things being equal, the applicant who has a telephone is quite likely to get first call.

Telephone service can be had for only a few cents a day. For complete information, write or visit the Telephone Business Office.

had a two week potato digging vacation. Louis Fuller spent the week end at Flint with his aged mother who suffered a stroke of paralysis and is very low. He met a sister he had not seen for 12 years, besides many other relatives.

Constipation
If constipation causes you Gas, Indigestion, Headaches, Bad Sleep, Simply Eat, get quick relief with ADLERIKA. Thorough action, yet gentle, safe.

ADLERIKA
Gidley & Mac, Druggists.

"VOTE REPUBLICAN to take off the food tax." — Fitzgerald. K. M. R.

FLOUR GRINDING
Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday each week
Bring Plenty Sacks for Flour

ALBA CUSTOM MILLS
A. W. NICHOLS, Proprietor
ALBA, MICH.

RE-ELECT YOUR CONGRESSMAN PRENTISS M. BROWN

HIS SPLENDID RECORD IN HIS FIRST TERM ENTITLES HIM TO ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY TO REPRESENT YOU AT WASHINGTON.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY CAN BEST BE REPRESENTED IN THE NATIONAL CONGRESS BY A FRIEND OF THE ADMINISTRATION AND A MEMBER OF THE PARTY IN CONTROL.

Vote For Brown For Congress
DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Briefs of the Week

Mrs. Gertrude Waterman was a Traverse City visitor over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kahrs of Suttons Bay are guests of the Misses Porter.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Parks of Petoskey a daughter, Tuesday, Oct. 16.

Highest market prices paid for Chickens — Joe Kenny's Cream Station. adv.

Be sure and see the new line of "Patterns" at Whiteford's be to $1.00 Store. adv.

Mrs. Lance Kemp entered Lockwood hospital Wednesday for surgical treatment.

Tire Special for the following week. Come in and see us. Healey Tire Co. adv.

Mrs. Alice Sedgman returned first of the week from Flint where she has been visiting relatives.

The residence of Mrs. John Willis on Eighth-st was recently improved with a new shingle roofing.

Harvest Dance, Madison Square, East Jordan, Thursday-night, Oct. 25th. Wexstaff's Orchestra. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bland and family left Friday for Traverse City where they will make their home.

The Birthday Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Gus Muma, Monday evening, with a seven o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Ed. Strehl, Mrs. Jos. Kenny and Mrs. Leo LaLonde were Traverse City visitors, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McRouth and daughter Blanche of Hart were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hutchins.

Some good Fodder Cutters and other Machinery for sale cheap, Malpass Hdwe. Co., also want a good Root Cutter. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hoyt leave Tuesday, Oct. 23 for Grand Rapids to visit their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rogers and other relatives the first of the week.

Mrs. Josephine Stewart, who is spending the fall and winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Philman at Alden, is home for a few days.

The Fred Haney farm residence in Jordan township was destroyed by fire Sunday forenoon. The East Jordan Fire Dept. responded to the fire-call.

Rebekah Lodge Masquerade Party at the I.O.O.F. Hall, Monday, Oct. 29th, commencing at 8:00 p. m. Ladies only. Dance and lunch 15c. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Graham and children of Detroit are visiting at the home of her brother, Percy Batterbee, and other East Jordan relatives.

Some good Heaters for sale cheap — Malpass Hdwe. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hansen of Grand Rapids are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gunderson. Mr. Fred Eminors of Grand Rapids accompanied them.

A miscellaneous shower was given last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ransom Jones in honor of Miss Alta Shaw. Games and a mock wedding made up the evening's entertainment, after which refreshments were served. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride-elect.

Cash for your Corn Fodder, Hay, Cabbage, and cull Potatoes—C. J. Malpass. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark spent the week end in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Thomas were week end visitors in Flint.

Best brands of Shot Gun Shells, 78c per box at Malpass Hdwe. Co. ad.

Mrs. Alma Nowland is a surgical patient at Lockwood hospital, Petoskey.

Mrs. Richard Malpass is a surgical patient at Lockwood hospital, Petoskey.

Kenneth Henning, who is employed at Alpena, spent Sunday in East Jordan.

Robert McFarland of Grand Rapids was a week end guest of East Jordan friends.

Some nice spring Calves and young Cows to trade for Beef Cattle, C. J. Malpass. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis were Sunday guests of Miss Elsie Starmer at Bay Shore.

Benjamin Powell of Bellaire was a week end guest at the home of Miss Margaret Maddock.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar McKinnon left last Friday for Gaylord where they will make their home.

Mrs. Richard Lewis spent Monday of last week at the home of Mrs. L. Benton of Charlevoix.

Mrs. B. L. Lorraine is at Kalamazoo this week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Fred Hastings.

Mrs. Clark Barrie and son Edd returned to Flint Friday, after spending the week in East Jordan.

Mrs. Ada Olney of Bellaire is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lance Kemp and family.

Mrs. G. W. Kitsman gave a group of her original poems at the Ellsworth P. T. A., Tuesday night.

Mrs. R. Menzies of Vanderbilt is guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Sherman and family.

Mrs. Rex Hickox attended the Rebekah Assembly, as delegate from the local lodge, at Alma the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Bader and daughters, Barbara and Betty, are spending the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Swafford at Hermansville.

William Meyers of Pinckney was guest at the L. Wageman home last week, returning home Saturday. His mother, Mrs. Anna Meyers, accompanying him.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McKinnon, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sherman and Mrs. Emmett Scofield are spending the week in Chicago at the Century of Progress Exposition.

Regular meeting of South Lake Lodge No. 180, Knights of Pythias, will be held Wednesday, Oct. 24th, commencing at 7:30 p. m. Important business. Every member is asked to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sloan drove to Ludington, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sloan's father, W. G. Fortune, who passed away Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Sloan of Flint.

Chicken Dinner and Bazaar given by the Catholic Ladies Altar Society, Tuesday evening, October 30th, at the Odd Fellows Hall. Dinner served from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Adults, 35c; Children, 25 cents. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Healey spent Tuesday in Lansing. Their daughter, Lois, who has completed her course at Sparrow hospital, returned home with them for a few days visit.

A clinic will be held at the East Jordan High School, Thursday, Oct. 25, for the purpose of administering toxoid (preventive for diphtheria) to infants and children of pre-school age. Anyone not having a way of getting to the school, phone No. 228.

One of Michigan's early conservation experiments was the introduction of salt-water eels, live-trapped in the Hudson river. Approximately 2,200,000 were planted in inland waters of southern Michigan, according to the Department of Conservation, the first planting being made in 1877. The species failed to breed, however, and the supply decreased under continued fishing, spearing and netting. Occasional reports of the presence of eels in an inland lake are received by the Department. These are believed survivors of the early planting.

Why crank your car? Battery at $4.95. Healey Tire Co. adv.

A large gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle L. Gould on Sunday, October 15 when thirty sat down to a bountiful pot luck dinner. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Corniel of Lansing; Mrs. E. J. Gould of Grand Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nobbsinger of Gaylord; Miss Naomi Isaman of Ellsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Allison Pinney and family; Mrs. Helen Gould, Mr. and Mrs. John Craig and Miss Flora Craig; Mrs. Clarence Church; Walter Floyd; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Raymond, Nellie and Alfred Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Bohumil Cihak; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morford and son.

Gwendon Hott, who is attending M.S.C. spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hott.

The East Jordan Study Club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Wm. Swoboda, assisted by Miss Irene Bashaw, Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Mrs. H. F. Reid and mother, Mrs. F. M. Graff; Mrs. Claude (Harriett) Reynolds and daughter, Miss Bertine; Mrs. Benj. Reid and daughter, Miss Jo Ann, all of Muskegon Heights, were here over the week end for a visit with relatives and other friends.

Lake Superior, the largest of the Great Lakes, is deeper than either Lake Michigan or Huron, according to records in the Geology Division, Department of Conservation. A point in midlake northeast of Keweenaw peninsula is 1,008 feet in depth. One point in Lake Michigan is 924 feet deep and one point in lake Huron, 760 feet deep.

"VOTE REPUBLICAN to take off the food tax." — Fitzgerald. K. M. R.

DEER LAKE (Edited by Mrs. Roy Hardy)

Mrs. Fred Griffin passed away at her home in Boyne City, Oct. 4. A host of relatives and friends will miss her as she was highly esteemed by everyone. Her farm home was on the west shore of Deer Lake where she resided for many years before moving to Boyne City.

Mrs. Maurice Pierce and children of Petoskey are spending a couple of weeks here visiting relatives.

Chas. Reidel now has the milk route formerly owned by Earl Sawrey. Mrs. John Kulik and baby daughter of Petoskey spent the latter part of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Guzniazak.

Evelyn Hardy is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sutton in Boyne City and attending school.

Mrs. Pauline Eddy and children and Mrs. Marie Easton of Boyne City spent Friday of last week visiting Mrs. Maurice Pierce at the M. Hardy home.

Rev. Mary Jordan and Mr. Jordan and children of Petoskey; Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Hardy and Mrs. Otie Sheffels were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kirshner of Boyne City. Delbert Anderson was an afternoon caller.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Green are the proud parents of a 10 pound son, born Oct. 11.

Mrs. E. J. Lumley is residing with her children Miss Sidney Lumley and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lumley at present.

Mrs. Ervin Johnson called on Mrs. Maurice Pierce Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hardy and Mrs. Maurice Pierce and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hardy of Boyne City.

Mrs. Otie Sheffels spent the fore part of last week with her cousin Mrs. LeRoy Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McEmber and children of Flint spent the latter part of the week with Mrs. McEmber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Slaughter, Mrs. Beatrice Ratliff and daughter, Betty were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reed of Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hardy and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Barber of Porter's farm.

Lloyd and Lester Hott of Detroit are spending a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hott, and enjoying the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sutton and daughter, Christobel of Boyne City were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Joel Sutton and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hott called on Mrs. Sarah Hudkins and son Melvin Sunday.

First M. E. Church
Rev. John W. Cermak, Pastor
11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship.
12:15 p. m.—Sunday School.
6:30 p. m.—Epworth League.

Full Gospel Mission
317 Main-st. East Jordan.
Rev. Earl L. Ayliffe, Pastor
Sunday School — 11:00 a. m.
Preaching — 12:00 m.
Evangelistic Service — 8:00 p. m.
Prayer meeting every Tuesday evening at the home of Lee Danforth.
Friday evening regular services at the mission at 8:00 o'clock.
Children's meeting Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.
Everybody Welcome!

Latter Day Saints Church
C. H. McKinnon, Pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Church School. Program each Sunday except first Sunday of month.
8:00 p. m.—Evening Services.
8:00 p. m. Wednesday — Prayer Meeting.
All are welcome to attend any of these services.

EX-FASHION KING LIVING ON A 50-CENT DAILY DOLE

Discussing the predicament of a once mighty autocrat of dress, whose life was as extravagant as that of an Arabian Nights prince, who now eats in a public charity canteen or cooks his own meager meals. Read the article in The American Weekly with Sunday's Detroit Times.

NORTH WILSON (Edited by Mrs. C Bergman)

Harry and Frank A. Behling went to southern Michigan with a truck load of livestock, last week Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zinika of Benton Harbor visited friends and relatives here last week. They were former residents of Wilson.

Mrs. Hazel Davey of Muskegon is visiting Mrs. R. Erber.

Clayton Morse of Flint was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Peck, October 7th.

August Knop returned Thursday from a trip to Chicago. While there he spent a few days at the Century of Progress Exposition.

A birthday party was held on Ed. Henning Thursday evening. A jolly time was enjoyed by playing cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mackey of Traverse City drove up Saturday night taking Mrs. Mackey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dow home with them Sunday for a week's visit. Dow's will go to Muskegon to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chamberlain of Detroit spent the week end on their farm. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Turner, the latter's parents, returned with them after spending the summer on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Peck were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Reed near Central Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Slaughter, Mrs. Beatrice Ratliff and daughter Betty of Deer Lake were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ratliff's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Reed.

Will Knop of the Soo spent the week end at the home of his nephew, August Knop.

Ardith and Billy Schroeder were absent from school last week, having their tonsils removed at Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lenosky were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zoulek of Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Behling and children spent the week end with her sister at Battle Creek.

P.T.A. met last Friday evening at the Knop school house.

Miss Louise Behling is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank Stone, at Grand Rapids.

William Hosler of Echo spent the week end at the home of his sister, Mrs. Carl Bergman.

Miss Iva Kitson returned home from her employment at Charlevoix.

SOUTH WILSON (Edited by Marie Trojanek)

A church card party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenosky last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Frank Lenosky and Mrs. Clifford Pumfrey entertained. There were four tables of pinochle and four tables of pedro. About forty people were present. A dainty lunch was served at eleven thirty and a very pleasant time was had by all.

Mr. Peter Zoulek and sons Fred and Donald visited Mr. and Mrs. John Lenosky Tuesday evening.

Albert Trojanek called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atkinson last Thursday.

Joe Cihak helped Frank Lenosky dig his potatoes a few days last week.

Miss Clara Trojanek and Mrs. Adeline Trojanek Wheeler of Detroit spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek.

Dennis Trojanek and Peter Zoulek helped William dig his potatoes last week.

Fred Haney's farm home was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning.

Miss Mary Cihak of Detroit spent the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cihak.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek were: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pumfrey, Mrs. Joe Cihak and daughter Mary and sons Fred and Ralph, Daniel Trojanek and Ed. Hosler.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lenosky were: Mrs. Mary Stanek, Mrs. Frank Haney and brother James Novak, Mrs. Joe Cihak and sons Fred and Ralph, and Marie Trojanek.

Mr. Albert Trojanek left for Detroit with his daughters, Mrs. Adeline Trojanek Wheeler and Clara Trojanek where he will take treatments for his eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo LaLonde called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atkinson last Sunday.

Miss Edna Trojanek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek, now employed in Detroit, spent last week end in Chicago where she attended the World's Fair.

Mr. Francis Nemecek and Margaret Haney called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek, Monday evening.

DEER CREEK DIST. (Edited by Mrs. Tom Kiser)

Mr. Jacob Keller was on the sick list last week. He is feeling better at this writing.

Potato digging is about completed in our neighborhood.

Some of the Petoskey visitors, Saturday last, were Mr. Ira Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ranney, Mrs. Fred Larson, Mrs. Don Hott, Mr. John Chew, Mrs. Earl Shay, and Mrs. Tom Kiser and family, and Mrs. Frank Kiser and son Dale.

Mrs. Dee Saunders (formerly Miss Viola Kiser) underwent an operation for appendicitis, Wednesday last, at the Gaylord hospital. The Kiser families were up to see her Sunday and she is getting along first rate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Etcher.

WE WANT YOU to Know Banking, too

IT is not enough for us to know banking; we want you to know banking, too.

To carry out this idea, we are going to discuss publicly, now and then, the principles of sound banking. We shall keep a memorandum of some of the more frequent and important questions that our customers ask daily at the officers' desks and the tellers' windows, and answer them in these columns for everybody.

We are going to do this because we firmly believe that the true strength of this bank lies just as much in the intelligence and loyalty of our customers as it does in our own assets and careful management.

STATE BANK of EAST JORDAN

"The Bank on the Corner"

Presbyterian Church

C. W. Sidebotham, Pastor
C. R. Harper, Foreign Pastor
"A Church for Folks."

11:00 a. m. — Morning Worship.
12:15 — Sunday School.
7:00 p. m. — Evening Service.

St. Joseph Church

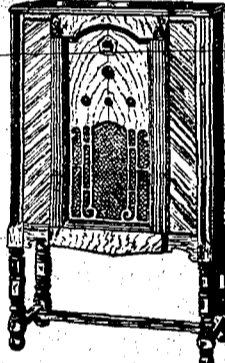

East Jordan
St. John's Church
Bohemian Settlement
Rev. Joseph J. Malinowski, Pastor

Sunday, October 21st, 1934.
8:30 a. m. — East Jordan.
10:30 a. m. — Settlement.
3:00 p. m. — Vespers.

NEW 1935 PHILCO

for homes not wired for electricity!
See and hear this sensational new PHILCO Superheterodyne with improved Permanent Field Dynamic Speaker and many other big features. Amazing distance, and glorious tone!

BATTERY OPERATED $49.50 and up.
ELECTRIC OPERATED $20.00 and up.

HEALEY TIRE CO. Phone 184F2

LIMIT Auto Taxes

Vote "YES" November 6th
Amendments 2 and 3

Help Michigan Prosper—
Help Michigan's Greatest Industry—
Help Men to Get Jobs—
Help Get More Cars on the Roads.

Limit Auto Taxes—Even if you do not own a Car, VOTE "YES"—You'll be richer if you do.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF MICHIGAN
DIVISIONS IN 25 MICHIGAN CITIES

Mother's Best Flour

ONLY $1.13 25 lb. Sack Bbl. $8.75

Mikind Flour KANSAS HARD WHEAT
25 lb. $1.08 Bbl. $8.25

Mayflower Wall Paper

Below Mail Order Prices.

REMEMBER YOU SAVE MONEY WHEN YOU TRADE AT OUR STORE.

TONY SHOOKS

ELLSWORTH, MICH.

'Coffee Cup'

DINNERS 25c
SUNDAY CHICKEN DINNER 35c

Specials

THIS SATURDAY ONLY

COFFEE CAKES 8c

Bread: Twin or Sliced Large Loaves .11

Lunch Rolls 11c

MILK - CREAM - ICE CREAM - CANDY -
Open Day and Night

MISS ALADDIN

... By Christine Whiting Parmenter ...

Copyright by Christine Whiting Parmenter

CHAPTER X—Continued

"I say we keep right on to the first ranch. That school was six or eight miles back; and when we passed I noticed particularly that the bus had left. Perhaps they closed at noon today."

A stinging flurry of snow was on them now, cutting across their faces like a whip. For a moment it took Jack's breath away; then he replied: "I guess you're right. There was a ranch somewhere along here. I remember seeing the gate and mail box. Help me into this jacket, will you? I don't want to stop the car. Gosh! Nancy, we're headed straight into this storm. That's it!" (as she struggled to get his arm into a sleeve), "don't bother about the other. Get into your own coat quick—or wrap it round you. Look at this snow! The windshield's covered already. I'll have to get out and wipe it off."

"Are there any side curtains in this old car?" cried Nancy as they started on after a short delay.

Jack shook his head as he bent tensely above the wheel.

"Darned if I know; and you couldn't put 'em on in this wind anyway. Keep your eyes peeled for that mail box, Nancy. We mustn't miss it. We—we can't miss it. Do you understand?"

Nancy understood only too well. There followed a mile or so when neither spoke. Twice Jack got out to wipe the glass, while his sister, staring into the wind-swept space, fought terror. Snow was descending fast and furiously now. Indeed, as they kept on doggedly it seemed incredible that this was the same bare road they had traversed so short a time before with friendly sunlight dappling the plains on every side. It might, thought Nancy, have been snowing here for hours and hours. Could it be possible that they were off the road? Straining her eyes into the drifting white, watching in desperation for the wayside mail box, visions of frozen cattle rose up before her, and the girl's heart thudded.

At last Jack said, not looking at his sister: "We've missed that ranch, Nancy. It can't have been as far as this. What say we turn back now and try to reach the schoolhouse? The wind would be behind us anyway; and as it is I can't see four feet ahead. It looks to me as if our best chance was to—"

The words were silenced by a cry from Nancy, a cry of warning that came too late. Jack jammed on the brakes so suddenly that his sister was thrown forward against the windshield just as the car collided with the engine of a big school bus, which stood, its back wheels resting in a snow-filled gully as it extended crazily across the road.

As Nancy righted herself again, her eyes met Jack's, a glance of stark despair passing between them.

"I'm afraid that crash has finished this old car," he told her; then added: "Why, Nancy, I think that bus is full of children!"

"Hi, there!" came a voice almost at his elbow. "Had a smash up, didn't you. Did you meet Clem?"

Jack turned to see a boy of perhaps eleven standing amid the swirling snow.

"Skip back into that bus, kid," he shouted, "we're coming, too."

He was already out, stretching a helping hand to Nancy, and together they fought their way to the door of

"Wake Up, Tommy! I Need You."

the stalled bus, the youngster calling over his shoulder: "Watch where you go there! Don't step into that deep rut, Miss—you gotta jump it." Then as the door flew open to admit them and Nancy, exhausted, sank into the nearest seat, he continued with a captivated grin: "We got company, kids. These folks is changing cars at this station. Say" (turning to Jack), "did Clem Johnson send you after us?"

Jack shook his head, and glancing about the bus, inquired: "Is he your driver?"

"Just for today. Our regular driver's sick," explained the boy.

"Came down with an awful pain when he was sweepin' out the bus this mornin', and his wife got Clem to drive us. Teacher closed school early because there's some sort of convention in Denver tomorrow, and she wanted to take a train this afternoon. The storm came awful sudden, after we left; and when we got this far Clem said we'd better get back to Bartlett's ranch as fast as we could. 'Tisn't more'n a few miles east of us; but when he tried to turn, the wheels went into that gully and somethin' broke. Clem worked for a long time and couldn't fix it."

"So he went for help?"

"That's it. He thought he'd get there easy; but the wind got somethin' fierce after he left. We told him not to go, but he said we'd freeze to death out here and 'twas up to him to get us somewhere safe. He's been gone a terrible long time though, Say, what's your name?"

"Jack Nelson; and this is my sister Nancy. What's yours?"

"Tom Osgood. I'm the oldest feller here; but two of the girls are older'n me. What do you s'pose became of Clem? He ought to be here."

At the front of the bus two children began to cry; and looking about at all those helpless youngsters, Nancy forgot herself. There must be fifteen of them; and two lovely little girls, obviously twins of seven or eight, wore only sweaters over summer dresses. How cold they must be!

"Look here," she said, rising to speak quietly, "these poor kiddies are getting frightened. We must divert them, Jack—play games of some sort—keep them moving as much as possible in this crowded place. Why, I'm cold already even with this coat, and not one of those children is dressed as warmly! Let's start rumpin' soon as I put my sweater on one of those little girls."

This worked for a time, and the smallest children, not realizing their plight, laughed with delight at the games Nancy invented. The older ones, however, grew noticeably quiet as time passed, trying to peer out of the snow-covered windows, and speaking together in low voices.

At last Jack and Tom Osgood started some wrestling matches at the rear of the bus; while the older girls roused themselves in an effort to keep the others occupied. They danced, jumped up and down, and did gymnastics; but despite this exercise they were growing colder every minute, and when during some roughhouse, a small boy's elbow went through a pane of glass, a cry of dismay arose from one and all.

It was then that Tom Osgood had an inspiration. Stored under the back seat and carried for just such emergencies, were canned food and a small, portable stove.

"I'll say we were pretty dumb not to think of 'em before," he observed disgustedly, "but we've never had a chance to use 'em, and I guess every one forgot." He had been rummaging about on his hands and knees, and now stood up, a bewildered expression on his many little face. "Why they're not here! Not anywhere! We've always carried 'em, and extra blankets, too. Say! I bet I know what happened. Joe took 'em out when he cleaned the bus this mornin', and forgot to put 'em back when he had that pain. He always sets 'em in the harness closet out o' the dust; and maybe Clem s'posed they was right here, or p'raps he didn't know they'd ought to be here. Gee! I'm hungry, and some o' that canned soup would have tasted good."

There followed another fruitless search, the children watching with strained, unchildlike faces.

"Don't cry, kiddie," said Jack, as a small girl burst into frightened tears. "I'm going to make a stove out of this milk can. We'll soon be opening windows to cool off!"

Nancy forced a smile at her brother's attempt at cheer, and lifting the crying child onto her lap, wrapped her coat about the small, cold legs. The bus was shaking with each gust of wind, and though every window was thick with frost, she knew the storm had increased in fury.

Where that empty milk can came from they never knew; but for a while it created not only diversion, but a feeble warmth that was dearly welcome. With the aid of a pocket knife Jack ripped the leather covering from the seats, and used excelsior stuffing for a fire. School books came next, but not until darkness was descending and all hope of seeing the missing driver was given up.

"I'd go for help," Jack told his sister grimly, "but even if the road weren't drifted, I'd never make it with night coming on. We've been here about four hours, haven't we? It seems a lifetime already, and these youngsters have been here a good while longer. If things aren't better in the mornin' I'll have to go, Nancy. Have you noticed" (he lowered his voice), "those twins are getting drowsy, both of 'em; and so's Paul Evans. I can't tell whether they're just sleepy, or—Look here, Sis! It's up to us to keep them movin'!"

Darkness came fast; but slowly, terribly slowly, it seemed to Nancy, hour after hopeless hour dragged on. Wild wind still raged about them, and at the back of the bus a snowdrift had collected, sifting in through the broken window and making their cramped space smaller still. Though all worked desperately to keep the fire burning, a sudden, especially fierce gust had blown it out; and there were no more matches. Jack had long since relinquished his sheep-lined jacket; and Nancy's knitted skirt—was pinned securely about a shivering boy.

Pretext at games—prancing up and down the aisle—anything to keep blood circulating in those small, cold bodies, was kept up valiantly; but as night descended the children who were not crying had dropped asleep, huddled together in a corner, and tears of fright and pity dimmed Nancy's eyes as she looked down at them.

Through that interminable night—a grim and silent Jack kept moving constantly, stopping at every tuft to rub the legs or arms of some small sleeper. Nancy, exhausted, sat for a time, hiding within her coat a boy of seven who whimpered with the cold. Later, when a semblance of warmth returned to him he dropped asleep, she too arose to move about the crowded quarters.

OUTLINING THE STORY FROM THE BEGINNING

Ruined financially, James Nelson, Boston merchant, breaks the news to his household. A short time before, an elderly cousin of Nelson's, Columbine, had suggested that Nancy, his daughter, nineteen, come to her at Pine Ridge, Colo., as a paid companion. Jack, Nancy's brother, seventeen, urges her to accept, to relieve their father of a financial burden, and offering to go with her so that she will not feel too lonely. They write to Cousin Columbine. She wires a welcome, and it is arranged that the two shall go. Met by Cousin Columbine, they are somewhat dismayed by her unconventional attire and mannerisms, but realize she has character. Mark Adam, son of a close friend of the old lady, is introduced. The desolation (to Nancy's city ideas) of Pine Ridge appals the girl. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a public library at Pine Ridge. The family makes plans to comply with her wishes. Cousin Columbine invites friends to celebrate Nancy's social "debut," the girl having confided to her her disappointment at having had to forgo that city idea. The newcomers meet Aurora Tubbs, Cousin Columbine's cook, and Matthew Adam, Mark's older brother. Cousin Columbine explains her reasons for desiring Nancy to come to her. Nancy gets better acquainted with Matthew Adam, and is impressed by his good sense—and his good looks. An absence of interesting reading, both in the house and in the community, gives Nancy an inspiration. Writing home, Nancy outlines an idea for a

School Bell

Harken to its Peals from the School on the Hill.

(Week of October 8 - 12)

Reporters:— Dorothy Sonnabend, Clara Wade, Helen Burbank, Irene Brintnall, Lorena Brintnall, Mary Seiler, Kathryn Kitsman, Irene Laughmiller, Dorothy and Josephine Prough.

Edited by the class in Senior English.
Editor-in-Chief — Gertrude Sidelbotham.

Assistant Editors — Kathryn Kitsman and Lorena Brintnall.
Sponsor — Miss Leitha Perkins.

The General Shop

The idea of the General Shop has been progressing for a number of years. It is a combination of various group activities. In East Jordan these activities consist of Woodworking, Mechanical Drawing, Sheet Metal, Elementary Electricity, Forging, General Metal, Concrete Work and Plumbing. All activities are carried on in one room with one teacher in charge. This type of shop eliminates the duplicating of materials and tools found in unit shops and cuts the cost of operating to a minimum. For the past six years the general shops in the country have been increasing. It is particularly adapted to small schools.

The idea of the General Shop in East Jordan is to combine it with Farm Mechanics as much as possible. We ask that the parents of the boys help in the selection of suitable projects that can be and will be used about the farm and home. A few repair projects have been brought in but we would like to have many more home problems brought to us. Many of the boys are doing jobs of an experimental nature which requires initiative on their part.

We wish to extend to the parents an invitation to visit our shop. Many new problems and better understandings arise through visits of the parents to the shop.

Hallowe'en Posters Up in 3rd Grade
The first grade has many pretty Hallowe'en posters around the room.

Flying Squirrel Interests 3rd Grade
We have a flying squirrel in our room, and find it very interesting to watch his habits.

Many pretty plants and flowers have been given to us and it helps a great deal in making the room look cheerful. We also have a blackboard border of fruit baskets.

We have made word books in reading and arithmetic books, for words and problems on which we need special study.

We have had so many people absent and tardy that we decided to have a contest between rows for the most perfect attendance. As a result, the following people were neither tardy or absent during September:— Louis Addis, Robert Bayless, Jeanette Bricker, George Davis, Gordon Evans, Russell Gee, Jack Gothro, August Graham, Gladys Larson, Malcolm McDonald, Yvonne McWaters, Bruce Miles, Viola Misner, Gladys Misner, Edward Perry, Betty Ann Scott, Roy Sloop, Gerald Smith, Louise Stanek, Russell Weaver, and Johannes Williams.

The Fourth Grade Chooses a New Motto, "Politeness Costs Nothing And Gains Everything"

We have a new pupil, Roy Marks. We are very much interested in our new Geography books, and fourteen people received "A" on a test from it last week.

We enjoyed watching a Monarch Butterfly come from one of the cocoons last Tuesday morning.

Sixth Grade "Ain't" Box Traps Unwary

Last week when Miss Clark attended the Teachers Institute, she brought back three nice bird books, a geography book, and a Nature Study book. These all proved to be very interesting.

During the week we also made an "Ain't Box" for those who say "Ain't" and a "Seen" box for those who say "I seen". Several have their names in the boxes all ready.

We started our geography notebooks last week, drew a map of Europe, wrote six pages, and had a test on what we had written.

The students on the Honor Roll for September are: Evangeline Cutler, Neva Hitchcock, Margaret Kaley and Suzanne Porter. Those on the black list cannot be on the honor roll.

Eighth Grade To Have Party

A class party will be given October 19th, by the eighth grade class. Committees were chosen, and the entertainment committee consists of Benjamin Clark, Robert Crowell, and Irene Bugal. The members of the refreshment committee are Louise Bechtold, Virginia Davis, Jean Bugal, and Jean Carney.

Seventh Grade Election

The seventh grade had a class meeting Tuesday, and chose the following officers: President, Francis Antoine; Vice-President, John Pray; Secretary, Doris Holland; and class adviser, Mr. Cohn.

Do You Know Your Parts of Speech?

The freshman English class has completed a thorough study and review of the eight parts of speech. After learning their meanings, their use, examples of each, various forms of drills have been done.

English IV Class Discovers Beginnings of English Literature

The English IV Class has just finished a study of England's literary beginnings. Their main problems have been to discover how literature came into existence, what has made some of these earliest writings live, and to observe the nature of some of the early types of writings.

Along with this study each member of the class has made a literary map of this early period, locating places that would be visited as literary shrines. According to some news reported by one of the class, some Michigan librarians are at work on a literary map of Michigan.

Period After the Death and Resurrection of Christ Studied by Bible Class

The Bible Study Class meets every Wednesday afternoon the first hour. About 30 students have enrolled, and are now studying the period after the death and resurrection of Christ.

Monthly Tests Wake Dead Language

Latin I students are still studying first and second declension nouns. From the results of the monthly test, there are several promising Latin I students. Jacklyn Cook, Faith Gidley, Jessie McDonald, Wylon Payne, and Jean Stroebel had "A".

Latin II also had a test, but not such good results. Only two had "A". They have finished the story of "Ceres and Proserpina," and are beginning "Orpheus and Eurydice." Orpheus, says the old myth, went down into the Lower World to get back his dead wife. Several other old Latin myths they have just finished are: "Atlanta's Race," "Hercules and the Serpents," "Philemon and Baucis," and "The Punishment of Tantalus."

Students Agree Mathematics is Work

The tenth grade geometry students are learning theorems and constructing figures.

The algebra classes are studying subtraction, division, multiplication, and addition; all of which involve plus and minus signs.

Letters Dictated at Ninety Words Per Minute

The second year typing students have had two fifteen-minute speed tests. The best scores were Beatrice Lee's, two errors and thirty-six words a minute, and Edith Russell's, five errors and forty words a minute.

The second year shorthand students are transcribing letters which have been dictated at ninety words a minute.

The Commercial Law class is studying contracts.

"I Will Conquer Cooking" say ninth grade girls

The ninth grade girls have been making soups during the last week. They started out by making cream of corn soup, and it turned out very well, as did all the others. They also made cream of tomato soup, cream of potato soup, and learned the table of white sauces.

The girls are learning how to judge the texture of soups. At first some of the soups were as thick as gravy, but now they are making them like soups should be.

The class is studying about lunches, calories, and main dishes. They are planning to make some of the different kinds of main dishes.

Bitter Debate Waged in American History Class

The Mercantile Theory was the subject of volcanic forensic manifestations in American History classes last Tuesday when leading seniors and juniors clashed in bitter intellectual combat. After the smoke cleared away it was found that by a close vote we had changed England's economic system. Ruth and Peggy Clark, Harriet Conway, Mary Seiler, Lois Rude, Marcella Muma, Bill Swoboda, Cyril Dolezel, Ralph Larsen, Roscoe Crowell, Orlando Blair, and the chairman escaped with their lives.

Ancient History Pupils Work — and Like It!

The Ancient History pupils are doing individual activity on a unit of work in ancient civilization. They are specializing in individual interests. They have had some very good creations on Egyptian art and mythology by Martha Gay and Mary Jane Porter.

Echoes

The High School Band gave a concert at the Teachers' Institute Friday, in Petoskey.

Monday the high school students were shown pictures of the Holy Land. These included some beautiful scenes of ancient ruins. These pictures were shown by Mr. Doty of Traverse City.

Mr. Robert's civics class is studying taxation.

The East Jordan Debating Team, which is now a member of the Michigan Forensic Association, meets every Monday and Friday afternoon for work and discussion. Its first practice debate will be in Petoskey.

Many Upper Classmen Get Names on First Month Honor Roll

Seniors:—
William Swoboda	B	B	A	B
Edith Russell	B	A	C	B
Mary Jane Porter	B	A	B	B
Wilbur McDonald	B	C	B	A
Marcella Muma	A	B	A
Helen Malpass	B	B	B	A
James Lilak	A	B	B	C
Harriet Conway	B	B	B	A
Ruth Clark	A	C	A	C
Pauline Clark	A	A	A	A
Orlando Blair	C	A	C	A

Juniors:—

Barbara Stroebela	A	A	A	A
Anna Mae Thorsen	B	B	C	A
Mary Seiler	A	A	B	B
Lois Rude	A	A	B	B
David Pray	B	B	A	C
Ruth Bulow	A	B	B	B
Virginia Bartlett	A	A	B	B
Keith Bartlett	A	B	B	B

Sophomores:—

Francis Cain	B	B	A	C
Lorena Brintnall	A	A	A	B
Stella Stallard	A	A	C	B
Anna Reich	A	A	B	B
Wylon Payne	A	A	B	C
Katherine MacDonald	A	A	B	B
Ruth Hott	A	A	A	A

Freshmen:—

John Bartlett	A	B	B	C
Irene Brintnall	B	C	B	A
Jean Stroebel	B	B	A	A
Faith Gidley	A	A	A	B
Artie Houtman	A	A	A	B
Kathryn Kitsman	A	A	B	B
Arthur Rude	A	A	A	B
Frances Lenosky	A	A	B	B
Mary Lilak	A	A	B	B
Jessie MacDonald	A	A	A	B
Bud Porter	B	B	B	B
Robert Schroeder	A	A	A	B
Anna Jean Sherman	B	B	B	A
Walter Shepard	B	A	C	B
Helen Trojanek	B	B	A	C
Clara Wade	B	B	B	A
Doris Weldy	B	B	B	B

Junior High Honor Roll

Seventh Grade:—

Eldeve Woodcock	A	A	A	A
Dorothy Stanek	B	A	B	B
Thelma Olson	C	A	B	A
Doris Holland	A	B	A	A
Sonny-Bulow	B	A	B	A
Jack Isaman	B	B	B	C
Francis Justice	B	B	A	B
John Pray	C	A	B	A
Keith Rogers	B	B	A	C
William Sanderson	B	B	A	B

Eighth Grade:—

Clarence Staley	B	B	B	B
DuWayne Penfold	B	A	C	B
Jane Ellen Vance	A	A	A	B
Ruth Slate	C	A	C	A
Beatrice Valencourt	B	A	A	D
Elaine Collins	A	B	A	C
Irene Bugal	A	A	A	B

"VOTE REPUBLICAN to take off the food tax."
— Fitzgerald. K. M. R.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

For GENERAL NOVEMBER ELECTION TUESDAY, NOV. 6, 1934

To the Qualified Electors of the City of East Jordan, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned City Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See Registration by Affidavit.)

Notice is hereby given that I will be at the Municipal Building on WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17, 1934 the 20th day preceding said election as provided by Part II, Chapter III, Michigan Election Law.

From 8 o'clock a. m., until 8 o'clock p. m. on said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said CITY as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

Notice is hereby further given to the Qualified Electors of this City that I, the undersigned Clerk of said City, will register qualified electors who may apply at my office on any business day in the year up to and including SATURDAY, OCT. 27th, 1934 —LAST DAY—

For General Registration by Personal application for said election, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 8 o'clock p. m.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

REGISTRATION BY AFFIDAVIT
Sec. 10—Registering Electors: Any absent voter, as defined in this act, whose name is not registered and who shall claim the right to vote by absent voter's ballot at any election or primary election, may at the time of making application for absent voter's ballot, present to the City Clerk an affidavit for registration which shall be in substantially the following form:

AFFIDAVIT FOR REGISTRATION STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of _____ ss.

I, _____ being duly sworn, depose and say that I am a citizen and duly qualified elector of the _____ Ward of the City of _____ in the County of _____ and State of Michigan; that my postoffice address is No. _____ street, _____, or R. F. D. No. _____ P. O. _____; that I am not now registered as an elector therein and that I am voting by absent voter's ballot at the election (or primary election) to be held upon the _____ day of _____, 1934, the application for which ballot accompanies this application; that I make this affidavit for the purpose of procuring my registration as an elector in accordance with the statute that I make the following statements in compliance with the Michigan Election Law: Age _____; Race _____; Birthplace _____; Date of naturalization _____ I further swear or affirm that the answers given to the above questions concerning my qualifications as an elector are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Taken, subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 1934.

Signed _____
Notary Public in and for said County, State of Michigan.

My Commission expires _____ 1934.
Upon receipt of such affidavit in the time specified herein, the clerk shall write in the registration book the name of the applicant together with the other information required by this chapter and such applicant shall thereupon be deemed to be duly and properly registered.

Note—If this acknowledgement is taken outside of the State, the Certificate of the Court, that the person taking the acknowledgement is a notary must be attached.

REGISTRATION OF ABSENTEE BY OATH.
If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH, state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the CITY TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election.

If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provided, That any city may provide by its charter or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day.

PROVISION IN CASE OF REMOVAL TO ANOTHER PRECINCT.

Any registered and qualified voter who has Removed from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT of the City to another election precinct of the City, shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, of Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS MOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

In every such case of transfer the City Clerk or the Board of Inspectors issuing such certificates shall cause opposite the name of such elector, to be entered in the column headed "Remarks" in such registration book, the words, "transferred to precinct number _____ (giving the number)," together with the initials of said clerk or some member of the Board of Inspectors of Election, as the case may be, and the date of the transfer.

Dated October 9th, 1934.
OTIS J. SMITH, City Clerk.

Ship's Scottie: "What do you charge for a hair-cut?"
Barber: "Twenty-five cents."
Scottie: "And how much is a shave?"
Barber: "Fifteen cents."
Scottie: "All right, shave my head."

Senator Couzens says that every man has not the gift to be a rugged individualist. Still one could do a hard job of trying with a fortune as large as that of the Detroit senator.

W. G. CORNEIL
GENERAL INSURANCE
SURETY BONDS
REAL ESTATE
City Building — East Jordan

DR. F. P. RAMSEY
Physician and Surgeon
Office Hours:
10:00 - 12:00 A. M.
2:00 - 4:00 P. M.
Evenings and Sunday by Appointment.
Office — Over Hite's Drug Store
Phone — 196-F2

DR. B. J. BEUKER
Physician and Surgeon
Office Hours:
2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
Office Phone — 158-F2
Residence Phone — 158-F3
Office: First Door East of State Bank on Esterly-St.

DR. E. J. BRENNER
Physician and Surgeon
Office Hours:
10:00-12:00; 2:00-4:00; 7:00-8:00
and by appointment.
Office Phone — 6-F2
Residence Phone — 6-F3
Office — New Municipal Bldg.

FRANK PHILLIPS
Tonsorial Artist
WHEN IN NEED OF ANYTHING
IN MY LINE, CALL IN AND SEE ME.

R. G. WATSON
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Phone — 66
MONUMENTS
EAST JORDAN, MICH.

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when people actually kept on working during a world's series baseball game.
Maybe the braintrusters got that mattress factory idea from watching some of the workers on those PWA jobs.

Now Chevrolet adds the world's lowest-priced six-cylinder 4-door sedan to its line

This new and unusual value in an ideal family car brings 4-door Sedan ownership within reach of new thousands

CHEVROLET Chevrolet—builder of the world's lowest-priced line of Sixes—now adds to that line the world's lowest-priced six-cylinder 4-door Sedan.

The rich finish and trimly tailored lines of the Standard 4-door Sedan suggest a higher price. Roomy and convenient, it is a quality car throughout, with Body by Fisher, Fisher No Draft ventilation, the List price of Standard Sedan at Flint, Mich., $540. With bumpers, spare tire and tire lock, the list price is $18.00 additional. Prices subject to change without notice.

$540

celebrated Chevrolet valve-in-head engine, weather-proof cable-controlled brakes, and a host of other fine features. And being a Chevrolet, it costs remarkably little to operate and maintain. We invite you to see this latest evidence of Chevrolet's ability to supply America with "Economical Transportation," today.

CHEVROLET MOTOR CO., DETROIT, MICH.
Compare Chevrolet's low delivered prices and only G. M. A. C. terms. A General Motors Value.

ONE RIDE IS WORTH A THOUSAND WORDS

CHEVROLET
HEALEY TIRE CO. East Jordan