ALL SET FOR BIG HILARIOUS JAMBOREE

East Jordan's Fifth Smelt Run Saturday, March 20th

AFTERNOON AND NIGHT TO BE FILLED WITH ACTIVITIES

DIVISION FOR ESTHETIC FIGURE SPITTERS

With only one week till the National Smelt Jamboree and the smelt run about to break in the Jordan, the pace of activity on Main Street and the islands is becoming alarmingly fast.

Petoskey reported an earthquake Monday night but it has been learned from a more substantial source that the tremors were due to the smelt ramming the abutments of the bridge here as they tried to squeeze into the Jordan. Three gentlemen from Petoskey graciously sent their car to the bottom of Lake Charlevoix last Sunday afternoon to investigate the smelt problem. The car ascended to the ice, Monday, saying never before had it seen so many smelt in the lake.

Dinty has been on the rush all week getting more lined up for his parade. Harry Saxton says the lumber scenes and demonstrations will be the best ever and Teddy is busy between dips putting the finishing touches in the float section of the parade.

Newaygo Newt sent a letter this week stating he is bringing his famous black cat Tobias, the champion spitting cat of the world, but due to a recent mastoid operation, it is doubtful if Tobias can put on his usual show for the anxious multitudes that afternoon. However, Newt says Tobias will ride with him on his float the 20th. Several entries for the spitting contest are already in and anyone else wishing to enter are asked to see Dinty LaLonde and give him their names. Newt says if there are any fancy spitting experts in the crowd, a division for Esthetic Figure Spitters will be opened.

The dipping will begin at 9:00 P. M., E. S. T. each evening and the conservation officers will oversee the run. The stag banquet, which is becoming more famous each year for its hilarity, promises to be a sellout this spring. Bob Becker came out with an article on the Jamboree in last Sunday's Chicago Tribune and Tuesday the inquiries started coming in from Chicago and Champaign, Ill.

The boys are putting the finishing touches on the new boardwalk along Long Island and things should be in shape to handle the crowds this week end.

Charlevoix County Notes 20 Years of Land Bank Service

Charlevoix county farmers have outstanding $427,200 in loans on their farms as the result of organization of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul 20 years ago March 17. The bank's charter was granted March 17, 1917, following many years of study of country life and rural credit problems in this country and Europe. The farm loan act creating the land bank was approved on July 17, 1916.

The basis for this volume of loans is chiefly the national farm loan association through which land bank loans are made. However, in order to meet the emergency of 1933 congress that year provided for "comissioner" loans by which additional credit could be extended to farmers. The land bank acts as agent of the commissioner in making such loans, the local association assisting.

In this county there are 258 farmers who have financed their farms with one or both these types of loan, of whom 169 are association members. Of the total volume of credit shown above, $148,100 comprises commissioner loans, and $284,100 land bank loans to members of associations.

Association boundaries do not always follow county lines and in many places the loans in one county may have been made through several different associations. Some associations cover several counties, others are contained entirely in one county. Some counties have 2 or more associations.

The association is a local cooperative with equal membership rights for all and each member's (that is each regular land bank loan) is indorsed by the association. It is through this kind of cooperation, all members being linked together, that it is possible to bring outside money at a low rate of interest into this county. Each association's indorsement is backed up by that of the federal land bank and the doubly indorsed farmers' mortgages thus are used as the basis bond issues sold throughout the United States, which furnish the loan funds.

SAD FATE OF THE LITTLE RED HEIFER

Many strange tales are now heard where contestants are in active training for the Newaygo smelt spitting contest, which is to be one of the feature events of the National Smelt Jamboree, to be held here March 20th.

Ben Baker, one of the contestants, sat warming his feet by their furnace Wednesday evening, mentally planning just how he was going to win the contest, when he absentmindedly spit at a lamp nearby.

Ben's aim was true and his ammunition heavy. It struck the lamp with such force it knocked it to the floor and might have cost serious damage, but Ben is a rapid fire spitter, of the "phutter" class, and quickly extinguished the blaze by cutting loose with another flood.

Billy Murray was not so lucky as Ben. Billy was practicing for the contest by spitting through a knot hole in the side of his barn, and his aim was so good that after an hour of practice, he went inside the barn and discovered he had drowned his little red heifer.

However, most of the contestants are getting along without serious accident and by late reports coming in from some of the outside training camps, Newaygo Newt is going to have to look to his laurels.

Killed While Felling Tree

CLARENCE CHURCH MEETS TRAGIC DEATH, SATURDAY

Clarence Church, aged 39, a resident of this vicinity for the past two years, met a tragic death Saturday a. m.

He and his wife, nee Flora Craig, had moved to the W. H. Malpass cherry farm about two weeks. Saturday a. m. they were cutting a tree on the hillside below the house. After notching and sawing it, Mr. Church tried to direct its fall, but slipped and fell. At the same time the tree, striking another tree, rebounded and struck the side of his head, crushing it and causing instant death. Mrs. Church carried him and placed him against a nearby tree; then secured aid from the men logging in the Severance sugar bush across the road.

Mr. Church was born in Wood County, Ohio. Besides the widow, he is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Church of Grand Ledge; a brother, Kingsley Church of Lansing; and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Handy of Newberry; Mrs. Ray E. Shier of Leslie; and Mrs. Zephia Phillips of Jerry City, Ohio.

He was a member of the American Legion and was buried with full military honors. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Leitch in the Methodist Church, Wednesday, at 10:00 a. m. Burial was in Sunset Hill.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

SCOUTS RE-ORGANIZE

The troop committee of Boy Scout Troop No. 1 of East Jordan met recently with the Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster.

The remaining members of the committee, Rev. C. W. Sidebotham and Howard Porter, elected Ole Olson to fill the vacancy in the committee formerly occupied by Dr. E. J. Brenner.

Arnold Dedoes was selected to succeed Lester Walcutt, as acting Scoutmaster for the ensuing year.

The committee also selected Messrs. Benjamin Bustard, Richard Malpass, Lester Walcutt, and William Porter as Assistant Scoutmaster to Scoutmaster Dedoes.

SCOUT MEETING

The East Jordan Scout Troop with its five man leadership program held their meeting in the school gym. Thursday, March 4. Eight new prospective members were present. The requirements of the troop make it necessary for each boy to pass his Tenderfoot test before he may join.

With five leaders at the head of the troop, the boys can be assured of an interesting program at each meeting. A different head will conduct the troop in turn, with the others doing all they can to give assistance.

Ways of earning money to buy Scout equipment and finance camping trips has also been worked out to a point where it would be impossible for one man to carry it out.

The men who have volunteered to give their services to the troop are: Dick Malpass, Bill Porter, Lester Walcutt, Benj. Bustard and Arnold Dedoes acting as Scoutmaster. It is our aim to make every boy a Scout.

Join The Scouts

E. J. SCOUTS ON 12 MILE HIKE

The rapidly rising and newly inspired Scout Troop of East Jordan took off for a hike by way of the lake route to get a look at Ben, Bustard's boat in the making. Ben is one of the capable leaders of the troop and it has long been a desire of the boys to see the boat. When completed, the boat will be large enough to accommodate 14 persons with sleeping quarters. There is no limit to the amount he could carry on a sleepless trip. It is the hope of the Scouts that they will be transported to their summer camp on this seaworthy craft.

Sixteen boys left town with their leaders in charge. Each boy carried his own lunch to stay the pangs of hunger until they could again sit down to one of mother's home cooked meals. Several of the boys passed cooking and fire building tests, two of the requirements necessary to becoming a second class Scout. The Scouts passing tests were: Merle Politt, fire building and cooking; LeRoy Sloop, fire building and cooking; Glen Trajanek, fire building; and Raymond Richardson, cooking.

The leaders that accompanied the boys on their trip were Bill Porter, Dick Malpass, and Arnold Dedoes. Lester Walcutt was unable to make the trip but will accompany the boys on the various other hikes planned for the troop.

Mrs. Felix Weimer, Cherryvale, Passed Away, Tuesday

Mrs. Felix Weimer, 52, passed away at her home at Cherryvale, near East Jordan, Tuesday forenoon, Mar. 9th, following an illness of several years duration.

Gertrude M. Struebing was born at Marine City, Mich., Aug. 11, 1885, her parents being Charles and Carrie Struebing. She resided at Marine City, Detroit and Gladstone. On April 7th, 1930, she was united in marriage to Felix Weimer and they came to East Jordan the following month — May 11, 1930.

Beside the husband and parents, deceased is survived by the following brothers and sisters:— Norman Struebing, Detroit; Walter of Marine City; Mrs. Oscar Dierdorf, Levering; Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, Manitoulin Island, Ontario; Mrs. John Connolly and Mrs. Paul Rousch, Detroit.

Deceased was a member of the M. E. Church at Marine City. Funeral services will be held from his late home at Cherryvale this Saturday afternoon, March 13th, at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. John W. Cernak, pastor of the M. E. church. Burial will be at Sunset Hill.

CONTESTS FOR MAYOR AND ALDERMEN AT GENERAL ELECTION

Monday was the last day for filing petitions for City of East Jordan offices and with only two candidates for any one office the contests will be held at the general election on Monday, April 5th.

Candidates filing are as follows:— Mayor — Kit Carson, Clarence Healey.

Alderman First Ward — Kenneth Hathaway, Merritt R. Shaw.

Alderman Second Ward — Ed. J. Strehl.

Alderman Third Ward — Gilbert Sturgell, Bert L. Lorraine.

Plant Employees of Michigan Bell Awarded Vail Medals

(Note:— Mr. Freese, mentioned in this article, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freese of East Jordan.)

Two plant employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company have been awarded the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze for performing acts during 1936 that were above and beyond the normal performance of duty and that resulted in the saving of human life. They are John A. Freese, 44 years old, exchange repairman, of Kalamazoo, and Floyd J. Evans, 55, building inspector of Saginaw.

The announcement was made by George M. Welch, president of the company, following citation of the two men by the Michigan Vail Medal Committee of Award during the past week. The Vail medal is awarded for unusual and outstanding acts of public service. Since the establishment of the Theodore N. Vail Memorial Fund in 1920, it has been conferred upon 68 Michigan telephone men and women, 57 of them employees of the Michigan Bell company and six employees of smaller telephone companies in the state.

The Vail Medal Committee of Award also cited one woman, Mrs. Irene Thurkow, an operator in the Lenox central office, Detroit, for special commendation for an unusual act of service.

On July 6, while spending his vacation at Diamond Lake, near White Cloud, Freese rescued a woman and a small child after they had gone beyond their depth in the water. He helped take them to shore and resuscitated the woman by the application of artificial respiration learned in the first aid course provided by the Michigan Bell Company. The woman, Mrs. Bren Heyne, of 8021 Justine street, Chicago, while teaching the little girl to swim, waded into deep water and Freese, hearing her screams, swam to the rescue. Mrs. Heyne, standing on the bottom of the lake with her head under water, was able to hold the girl's head above the water sufficient long for Freese to reach her but could do nothing to save herself. Freese placed the child in a boat that he had brought with him and pushed out from the shore by wading and swimming, and then tried to locate the drowning woman. He found her by diving, took her to the surface, and placed her in the boat, which he shoved to shore with the aid of his daughter. There, he applied first aid and restored respiration before a physician could arrive. A grandfather of the child, who also attempted to go to the

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GET TOGETHER, NEXT TUESDAY

In its endeavor to stimulate community interest, the local Chamber of Commerce is arranging for another interesting dinner meeting for next Tuesday evening, March 16th. To this meeting the ladies are cordially invited. After the regular business has been disposed of, a program will be offered consisting of vocal and instrumental music in keeping with St. Patrick day spirit, together with an address of real community interest.

The outstanding speaker of the evening will be Doctor Emanuel M. Clark, Vice-President of the Ferris Institute. Doctor Clark is not only an outstanding educator, but is a recognized authority on Michigan history, being chairman of the Michigan Historical Society and co-author of the book "Do You Know", dealing with the Centennial history of our state, which has appeared serially in leading state papers during the past two years.

The musical program will be by and under the direction of Professor Ferdinand Warner, of Big Rapids, who will bring with him varied talent for the occasion.

The dinner is to be at 6:30 p. m. at the High School building. The Chamber of Commerce is desirous of a large attendance, and the public is cordially invited. Price of dinner will be 50c per person, and the public is asked to co-operate by purchasing tickets in advance. They will be on sale at the State Bank and the East Jordan Lumber Co. store. It's another Booster Gathering.

Temple Scores With First Run Scoop

The Temple this Sunday is "scooping" the north with the first booking on the sensational surprise picture that has Detroit in stitches this week, "Love Is News" starring Tyrone Power, Loretta Young, Don Ameche, Slim Summerville, Stepin Fetchit, Dudley Digges and Walter Catlett. The Detroit critics write of the preview on Saturday say in part, "the audience reaction was the best ever witnessed there were whole sequences where the laughter was so continuous you could not hear a word, one of the big surprises of the year." After closing at the Fox Theatre on Friday the picture comes directly to the Temple where it will start a three day engagement on Sunday.

Here is the complete schedule for the week:

Fri.—Sat; Jack Holt in North of Nome: Andy Clyde comedy. Latest News. Scrappy Cartoon.

Sun.—Mon.—Tues; Tyrone Power, Loretta Young, Slim Summerville, Stepin Fetchit in Love Is News. The March Of Time. Cartoon Comedy.

Wed.—Thur; Family Nites: Spunky McFarland, Phillips Holmes, Irving Pinchel in General Spunky. Color Traveltalk. Musical Comedy.

rescue, became so exhausted that he was enabled to reach shore only by hanging onto the side of the boat. Freese has been a telephone man 17 years.

Evans saved the life of C. D. Zimmerman, a farmer living near Coleman, while the two and E. A. Gragg of Saginaw were hunting rabbits six miles northeast of Coleman December 13. Zimmerman, while separated some distance from the others, was shot in the right elbow when his gun was discharged as it fell off a stump. Evans and Gragg heard the report and Zimmerman's cry for help, and located him by following his tracks through the snow. Evans, who also had taken the Michigan Bell Company's first aid course, checked the severe arterial bleeding by grasping Zimmerman's arm tightly above the elbow, and then applied a tourniquet, improvised from a handkerchief and small stick, to stop the hemorrhage completely. At the Coleman hospital, Evans assisted further by holding the tourniquet while a doctor and an assistant amputated Zimmerman's badly shattered arm. Evans has been in telephone work 33 years.

Mrs. Thurkow, answering a dial "0" signal the night of October 24, heard a woman moaning and a dog barking. Unable to secure response to her query, she had the call traced and notified the police of the circumstances and the address. The police found that a woman had taken poison, and rushed her to a hospital where, however she died shortly.

Loans Are Now Available

FOR CROP AND FEED APPLY TO AGRICULTURAL AGENT

All papers ad materials necessary for crop and feed loans have been received at the County Agent's office in Boyne City. These loans are made for the purpose of assisting farmers in buying seed, fertilizer, spray materials and other spring requirements. These loans when made for less than $200 will not require clearance through the Production Credit Association of Gaylord. These loans bear interest at 4% and mature during late summer.

The applicants must agree to use seed and methods approved by the department of agriculture, to plant a garden for home use and to plant a sufficient acreage of feed crops to supply feed for their work stock and subsistence cattle. No loan will be made to any applicant who can obtain the credit elsewhere, who has an application for a Production Credit Association loan, who has not observed good faith in the repayment of previous emergency loans, or who has a means of livelihood other than farming.

No loans will be made out for more than $400 or less than $10, and must be in multiples of $5. If anyone is interested in obtaining one of these loans, our advice is to come early and make out your application before spring arrives.

John H. Cummins Former Resident Here Dies in New York

John H. Cummins, a former resident of East Jordan, passed away at Bellevue hospital, New York City, Friday, March 5th.

Mr. Cummins was born Nov. 8, 1873, at Natural Dam, St. Lawrence County, New York, a son of John and Eliza Cummins. He came with his parents to East Jordan in October, 1878, and made his home here up until 21 years ago. During the World War he served his country as sailor in transport duty between the United States and France and other ports.

Deceased is survived by two sisters and a brother:— Mrs. Ida St. John of Grayling; Mrs. Rose Jones of Dayton, Ohio; and Joseph Cummins of East Jordan.

The remains were brought to East Jordan and funeral services were held from the Watson Funeral Home, Wednesday afternoon, March 10th, conducted by Elder Leonard Dudley of the L. D. S. church and attended by members of the American Legion. Burial was at Sunset Hill.

Dog Owners Reminded

Dog owners are reminded that the season for training dogs on wild game extends only to March 15. After that date and until late summer dog owners are not permitted by law to train or let their dogs run wild and disturb nesting game birds and animals.

BUY PERKY HATS, WOMEN ADVISED

Spring is the proper time for a woman to think of getting a new spring hat but it is no time to be too conservative, buy the perky type hat.

At least that is the advice of Marian Hillhouse, instructor in clothing at Michigan State College. The old winter hat looks drab and dreary. The new one might be another model of the conservative knock about felt that is easy to become accustomed to, yet it ought to be stylish enough to require thought in proper selection. Here are some of the types suggested by Miss Hillhouse.

A flat sailor with a crisp brim line, shallow crown and perhaps a knot of wired ribbon shooting upward to indicate some life and action in the hat and the wearer, that's one suggestion.

Then for those who have the personality and the youth to wear them are the perky rolled Bretons that try to appear casual but are youthful and smart in style.

There is another type in the "cloche" that was a popular spring hat back ten years ago. These fit snug but are crisp around the brim.

There they are, felt, straw or fabric. The selection problem, says Miss Hillhouse, is to pick one that fits the face, that is becoming and lends to the wearer the awakening in spirit that is a natural part of spring.

Lewis and C. I. O. Gain Recognition From Steel Industry and Plan to Tackle Textiles—Neutrality Measure Adopted by Senate.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

YOU'VE got to hand it to John L. Lewis. The beetle-browed leader of the C. I. O. is going places and doing things, despite several setbacks in his plans to unionize all industry. The steel magnates are yielding to a great extent, and the threat of a general strike in that industry is fading out. With the Carnegie-Illinois corporation, largest subsidiary of United States Steel, leading the way, the biggest concerns in that industry are granting increases in wages and the 40 hour week, and agreeing to deal with the unions affiliated with the C. I. O. This is the first time in forty-five years that "Big Steel" has recognized union labor as a bargaining agency for its employees.

Lewis and Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers' organizing committee, were jubilant, but the Carnegie-Illinois corporation issued an official statement that toned them down a bit.

"The company will recognize any individual, group, or organization as the spokesmen for those employees it represents," the statement said, "but it will not recognize any single organization or group as the exclusive bargaining agency for all employees."

"Under this policy the status of the employee representation plan is likewise unchanged. It will continue as the spokesman for those of the employees who prefer that method of collective bargaining, which has proved so mutually satisfactory throughout its existence."

The General Electric company declared its willingness to discuss a national collective bargaining agreement with the United Electrical Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate; and the indications were that Lewis and the Appalachian coal operators would be able to negotiate a new wage and hour agreement in time to avert a coal miners' strike.

The C. I. O. announced the formation of the United Shoe Workers of America with a nucleus of 20,000 members and went after New England's shoe industry. Still more important, Lewis and his aids let it be known that the next target of the C. I. O. drive would be the textile industry.

Secretary of Commerce Roper and Secretary of Labor Perkins expressed much gratification over recent developments.

That the public, as usual, will have to pay for what the worker gains in all these negotiations was evidenced by the action of the steel companies which announced price increases of $3 to $3 a ton for semi-finished and finished steel products.

The sit-down strike policy was tried at Sarnia, Ont., and promptly was given a black eye. Fifty employees of the Holmes foundry there took possession of the plant, but 300 nonstriking workers battled them for two hours, threw them all out and sent nine to the hospital. The police did not interfere with the fight. Shortly after negotiations opened between the Chrysler motor corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America, the union presented resignations of 103 of the 120 employee representatives on work councils in Chrysler plants in the Detroit area. The resignations all said "the great majority of our constituents are heartily in favor of the U. A. W. A. as the sole bargaining agency to represent them."

Sit-down strikers in the plant of the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation at North Chicago, Ill., who defied court eviction orders, were routed by a force of deputies and police armed with tear gas guns, and were arrested for contempt of court. Also taken into custody was the strike leader, Max Adelman, who had fled to Wisconsin. The strikers and their friends insisted they would prevent the reopening of the plant by strong picket lines and the corporation obtained an injunction against such procedure. The sheriff said he was prepared to deal with any act of violence. This is another C. I. O. strike, and Governor Hornor of Illinois gained no glory in his efforts to settle it.

Among the many strikes in the Detroit district was one of 150 employees, mostly girls, of the largest Woolworth store in Detroit. They planned to extend the strike to all other units of the company there, meanwhile keeping the big store closed by the sit-down method.

BUSINESS men and economists again were talking about the prospects of inflation after the decision of the Supreme court upholding the New Deal's gold clause abrogation act for the second time. The ruling was made in the case of the Holyoke Water company, which, moved by a desire to protect itself against loss in the event that the dollar should be debased, had written into leases to the American Writing Paper company clauses giving it the privilege of demanding from the latter payment in gold coin or bar gold. Now the Holyoke company must be content to accept payment in present depreciated dollars. The court's decision was regarded as removing the last barrier to the free exercise of authority over monetary matters by the administration.

GUESTS at "victory dinners" all over the country heard President Roosevelt deliver at the feast in Washington a preliminary appeal to his party and the nation to support his plan to pack the Supreme court. He said that a crisis exists demanding immediate social and economic legislation to improve the lot of the common man and that there is no time to lose, lest a great calamity, such as a revolution or the advent of a dictatorship, be visited upon the country in the two or three years that might be necessary to remove the obstruction of the New Deal in the manner prescribed by existing law.

Incidentally, Mr. Roosevelt let his hearers understand that he has no intention of seeking a third term in the White House.

OUR War department has finally decided that the autogyro is a good thing—long after European nations reached the same conclusion. Secretary Woodring announced that six autogyros had been purchased for military purposes at a cost of $238,482. They are the Kellett KDL wingless planes, which have a top speed of 125 miles, a minimum of 18 miles, a cruising speed of 103 miles, and a cruising range of 3 1/2 hours, or 361 miles. The plane is powered with a Jacobs I-4 engine, which develops 225 b. h. p. at 2,000 r. p. m.

The army air command for years resisted suggestions for tests of the autogyro but for the last year it has been tried out by all branches of the army and the report was that it was essential to the modernization of the army.

"FREEDOM of the seas" as an American policy was abandoned by the senate when it passed, by a vote of 62 to 6, the resolution submitted by Senator Key Pittman on behalf of the foreign affairs committee continuing the President's present power to declare an embargo upon the shipments of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerent nations.

The measure also provides that the President may declare it unlawful for any American vessel or aircraft to carry to warring nations any articles whatsoever he may enumerate. However, foreign nations may purchase such articles, arms and munitions not included, and transport them to their own countries at their own risk. And the act will not apply to an American republic, such as a South American country, engaged in war against a non-American country provided that the American republic is not co-operating with a non-American state in such a war.

Senators Borah and Johnson fought valiantly against adoption of the resolution but when it came to a vote only four others supported them. These were Austin, Bridges, Gerry and Lodge.

THERE is war on between Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia of New York and Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany. The mayor, addressing a gathering of Jewish women, proposed that a "Hall of Horrors" be erected for the city's 1939 world fair which would include a figure of "that brown-shirted fanatic who is menacing the peace of the world." Hitler himself made no reply but Ambassador Luther was directed to protest to the State department. The Berlin press raged against La Guardia, one of the mildest names applied to him being "scoundrel super-Jew."

AFTER a lively debate the house of commons indorsed Great Britain's huge rearmament program by a vote of 243 to 134. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who outlined the principles of the British foreign policy, repudiated the policy of universal military commitments for Europe as "unworkable" with Germany and other powers absent from the League of Nations.

Next day the navy announced that its share of the rearmament program would cost $525,325,000, this including the construction of 80 warships. Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, said only $135,000,000 of the cost will be borne by Britain's new $2,000,000,000 defense loan, forcing the nation's tax payers to dip into their pockets for the additional $390,325,000.

HOW the minimum wage and maximum hour provisions of the outlawed NRA can be re-established was pointed out to congress in a report from the President's committee on industrial analysis.

"In my opinion," the President said of the report in a special message, "it will point the way to the solution of many vexing problems of legislation and administration in one of the most vital subjects of national concern."

"If controls of the NRA type are to be tried again," the report said, "experience indicates that the attempt should be limited to a few of the more important industries in order that proper standards of investigation and adequate supervision may be maintained, and should be guided from the start by more definite principles and policies, such as NRA experience indicates would be likely to stand the test of application."

"Under the type of policy finally adopted by NRA, if strongly adhered to, there is little chance that codes would be proposed in such large numbers as to create serious difficulties, but even that chance might be guarded against."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT told the press correspondents that he was planning another fishing trip and hoped to get away late in April. This time he is going after tarpon in the Gulf of Mexico, and he intends to go to New Orleans and there board the Presidential yacht Potomac for a cruise along the Texas coast.

WITH only four votes in the negative, the senate passed the Sumners house bill for voluntary retirement of Supreme court justices at the age of seventy on full pay. The four who opposed the measure to the last were Bridges of New Hampshire, Bulow of South Dakota, Johnson of California and Moore of New Jersey. During the debate Senator Johnson declared that "a Supreme court justice who would retire at this particular time, by virtue of the bait that was held out to him, would not be the sort of individual for whom I would have the greatest respect."

The retirement bill was favored by the President but, as Senator Pat McCarran said, was not a part of Mr. Roosevelt's bill for enlargement of the court. The controversy over the latter measure grew more bitter day by day and to the surprise of the administration, it was found that it was likely to be defeated in the house. Therefore the majority leaders decided to let the senate act first. In that body the decision rested with some twenty-five senators who had not yet announced their position.

Mr. Roosevelt stood firm in his determination to force the bill through congress, and announced he would deliver a radio speech in his defense on March 9, the day before the one set for the start of senate judiciary committee hearings on the bill. The President denied a report that he would make a tour of the country in behalf of his plan.

Senator George of Georgia, Democrat, stepped into the fight with an assertion that the Supreme court enlargement proposal is a repudiation of the party's 1936 platform pledge that it would seek a clarifying constitutional amendment if it could not attain its social-economic welfare program by legislation.

In defense of the measure various members of the cabinet and heads of federal agencies began a speaking campaign.

EUGENE VIDAL has resigned as director of the federal air commerce bureau and says he will re-enter private aviation. His conduct of the bureau has been subjected to much criticism at times and a committee headed by Senator Copeland of New York has recommended the reorganization of the bureau. Recently the bureau and representatives of the air transport industry have differed sharply over causes of the series of major air crashes.

Vidal's successor is Prof. Fred D. Fagg of Northwestern university law school. He became associated with aviation during the war when he served as a second lieutenant with the ninety-second aero squadron in France. After the war he returned to the United States and specialized in air law. His assistant in the bureau will be Maj. R. W. Schroeder, also of Chicago.

THE International League of Aviators announced in Paris that Howard Hughes, the wealthy American speed flier, and Miss Jean Batten of New Zealand had been awarded the Harmon trophies as the outstanding man and woman in aviation for 1936. Hughes' land-plane records in flights across the United States won the honor for him, and Miss Batten was rewarded for her spectacular solo flight across the south Atlantic.

Louise Thaden was voted the outstanding woman flier in America.

It's black and white surface is tinted a smoky hue, but it carries on in the face of adversity, giving its message to all. It is the "No smoking" sign in the city commission assembly room.

Ann Arbor—Oldest experience of the week is told by the night watchman of a local lumber company. Two night prowlers spent considerable time trying to crack the company safe and finally fled at the approach of the watchman. The joker in this situation is that the safe is always empty and is never locked. Apparently it had not occurred to the thugs to try the handle first.

Escanaba—This community is a hive of industry, with residents busy preparing for the annual Escanaba Smelt Jamboree, to be held April 1 to 3. More colorful than ever, features include the crowning of the kingfish (not the Louisiana type) and the queen of Smeitiana. The climax will be written with a banquet at which a nationally known conservation authority will speak.

Marion—Most recent subjects for debate are the old wooden sheds around many of the churches in this district. Originally constructed to shelter horses, before the automobile era, while their owners were attending church, the old sheds now are for the most part so decayed that they are useless. Latest plans are to dismantle the sheds, sell what lumber is good and use the balance as firewood for needy families.

Mikado—Retiring on a pension here recently, Albert Broadwood reached the end of the trail on a rural mail route he has traveled for 25 years. "Broadway," as he is known to hundreds of friends, has seen the evolution of mail service from "horse and buggy" days to an era of modern motorized equipment. In a quarter-century of public service he has garnered a host of stories which will grace his fire-side years.

Milford—The old adage that charity begins at home was shown strikingly in the case of a Michigan youth who went to Ohio to aid in flood relief work. Drenched to the skin and covered with mud, he went to Red Cross headquarters to see if he could get some dry clothes. He was given a suit that appeared to fit. While changing, he looked at the label, found his name. It was his own suit that his mother had contributed to the Red Cross, in their home town.

Ann Arbor—Today's problem is whether a prima donna can give birth to quintuplets and maintain her operatic career as well. "Pipes," highly publicized singing mouse owned by ten-year-old Howdy Ross has the answer. While her mate was absent at the birth, "Pipes" managed to do very well for herself. Of the five young born, she showed cannibalistic tendencies by devouring four of them, then launched into an aria from something or other to celebrate the occasion.

Bellaire—Work and keep well, says W. C. Otis, 79-year-old local resident, who is living proof of that adage. Inlaid woodwork is his vocation and his hobby. A delight to collectors, his den holds an assortment of firearms, swords, Indian bows and South American Indian poisoned arrows. As keepsakes of the Civil War, he has three stock ends of shotguns, forming a pedestal for a reading lamp. Mounted on a wall is a water buffalo head, which belonged to ex-President Theodore Roosevelt.

Martin—In keeping with America's long established traditional democracy, Patrick Reilly, who recently gained the title of king of onion growers, won't have any of this royalty business. Friends and neighbors arranged a chicken dinner for Reilly, at which time he was to be crowned Michigan onion king and presented with a silver medal and a cash award. The affair started but there was no sign of Reilly. Finally, Frank Umbrink had to take the crown, medal and cash to Reilly at his home.

Saginaw—"There's no use sitting home when there's hunting to be done," said Mrs. Ivy Gronewald, 59 years old, as news reached her of the start of Gratiot County's recent coyote hunt. Forthwith, she joined the army of hunters who set out to rid the district of the coyotes that have been preying on livestock. The age-old grape-vine telegraph must have been in operation, however, as the 500 hunters found coyotes more scarce than hens' teeth. Merlin Evans bagged the only animal caught.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
By WILLIAM BRUCKART

Washington—Many times in these columns, I have called attention to the confusion that has come to be so much a part of the federal government's general administration. I have talked about the bluster and the ballyhoo and the cross purposes at which so many pieces of the New Deal program have operated, and another outstanding example of this condition now appears.

More Confusion
Two governmental agencies, one a strictly New Deal agency, the other with a beginning in the Hoover administration, and themselves working directly in opposition to each other—and in the end taxpayers will pay.

It is not the fault of the Home Owners Loan corporation that it finds itself in a position where it is going to be landlord to something like 160,000 pieces of real estate—largely homes.

When the government went into the business of loaning money on private residence it had experience upon which to base its program. Many years ago the farm loan system was organized with none too happy results. In the late days of the Hoover administration, however, three or four politicians were able to drive through the legislation creating a system of government loans on residences as distinguished from farms.

I predicted in these columns some three years ago that the government, through the HOLC, was going to be the proud possessor of a lot of real estate. My statements at that time were based upon what I had seen happen in the case of the loans on farms. The article brought me direct criticism from two or three places in the government—but at this time I can report that the HOLC, before another year passes, will own something like 160,000 homes.

It is always difficult for a mortgage or bank institution, privately owned, to dispose of property which it has been forced to repossess through default of the borrowers. It is much more difficult for the federal government to dispose of that type of property, try as it may to get rid of the parcels.

So, we find one governmental agency serving as a landlord on a wholesale scale and with signs portending moves by politicians that will in the end cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. These politicians are proposing legislation in congress to cut the interest rate on the loans now in default and other loans as well; the principal of the loans on the defaulted mortgages and they are seeking means by which those in default may have unlimited time in which to make the payments in a way that, superficially at least, makes the proposals appear actually as an outright gift to those who have bought homes under the government loan plan.

There is no way to tell now what will happen to these various proposals. Undoubtedly, most of them will fall by the wayside and receive no consideration in congress. Yet, on the basis of observation of many such movements, it does not seem far wrong to guess that the politicians in congress will accomplish something in the way of reduction of these debts where the defaulters bring pressure to bear on the home town political machines.

Now, concerning the other governmental agency involved in the game of cross purposes that I mentioned.

Cross Purposes
I refer to the federal housing administration. Like the Home Owners Loan corporation, it is not the fault of the housing administration that it finds itself in a tough spot. It is commanded by the President and by congress to proceed with a gigantic housing program, to loan money on new homes wherever it can persuade contractors to build and individuals to buy. It is to be remembered also that loans on these properties are guaranteed—the legislation calls them insured loans—and that makes the federal housing administration liable in case the new home buyers fail to meet their commitments.

The housing administration announced its program to encourage wholesale home building throughout the nation only recently and it was by coincidence, I am sure, that the housing program was announced almost simultaneously with the determination by the HOLC to start foreclosure proceedings in order to maintain its own solvency.

Thus, to bring the picture to a focus, we find one governmental agency that has loaned hundreds of millions of dollars on residences being forced to foreclose in order to protect the money it has spent, at least in part, and a second governmental agency entering the field simultaneously with a gigantic program in which more hundreds of millions will be expended and more people encouraged to place themselves in debt.

I cannot criticize the housing administration policy any more than I can criticize the program of the HOLC. The point is that there is simply no co-ordination in government policies as they concern these two agencies, and consequently, one group is building new homes and another is taking over old homes for which the buyers have been unable to pay. In my humble opinion, it does not make good sense.

I have heard considerable talk among influential New Dealers to the effect that new homes will sell more easily than the old ones and therefore the housing administration plans are held to be justified. Yet, it does seem to be a perfectly natural and logical thing that new homes become old homes as time elapses and there are many who believe that the government, because it has guaranteed the loans on new homes, will have to take over a large percentage of them as well. That is, it will have to take over at least a normal percentage because whether the loans are made by private financing companies or by the government, a considerable number of buyers are unable to fulfill their obligations. It is not always the fault of the buyers. Sickness, loss of jobs or a thousand and one other circumstances may develop that prevents the buyer of a home from carrying through his cherished dream of own the roof over his head. It is the way of life that a certain percentage will, and of necessity must, fall by the wayside.

I never have been able to agree that the federal government has any business in the field of financing homes or extending credit to individuals.

Wrong Principle
I have always criticized the Hoover administration for creating the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Roosevelt administration for expanding its operations. The principle is wrong because it uses money either borrowed by the government or paid into the Treasury by the taxpayers to finance, to build up, personal funds of individuals or corporations.

It seems quite clear to me that the HOLC, following the experiences of the farm loan system, justifies the conclusion that the federal government cannot successfully engage in that field. In the first instance, I think it is bad business for government to go beyond the protection of life, liberty and property, with all the implications carried in those three words as a governmental policy. Further, and with much more emphasis, I am sure that any time government engages in that field it opens the way for politicians to be tempted, to be forced, to do things in a legislative way that cannot be justified as economically sound.

Earlier in this article, I suggested the difficulty always surrounding the sale of property that has been taken back from the original purchasers. Officials of private mortgage companies and other financial institutions have grown many a gray hair in their efforts to recover money loaned in cases where the borrowers have met with unfortunate circumstances. The government, finding itself in the position of the private lender insofar as repossession of property is concerned, has about one-half the chance of liquidation that the private lender would have. And beyond that, there is too much chance for favoritism, scheming and even crookedness when the government attempts to do a job like the HOLC now is facing. I say that regardless of the honest purpose that I know characterizes the present HOLC management.

It may not have occurred to some but the fact that the federal government through the HOLC will own all these houses which had to be taken back, means that the federal government becomes a taxpayer in every city, county and state where it owns these homes. At the rate things are going and assuming that the ratio of delinquencies and defaults continue as they do for private lending agencies, another four years will see the HOLC in possession of a minimum of 250,000 parcels of real estate. Of course, I imagine, the local tax collectors will be glad to see the federal government taking over the property because they will then collect their taxes. But where does that money come from? Sooner or later, directly or indirectly, it comes from the taxpayers of the nation. It is not a pleasant outlook.

U. S. a Taxpayer
And who knows but what there may be more decisions like that of the Florida judge who refused to grant the foreclosure plea of the HOLC attorneys on a twelve hundred dollar mortgage on the home of a carpenter.

The comet, which has a tail about "one degree long" and is of the twelfth magnitude, was discovered by the astronomer when he examined a photographic plate he had taken.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Privacy for the Windsors.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.— "In order to live quietly and escape as much public attention as possible—" I'm quoting the dispatch—"the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson, following their marriage, will seek a secluded residence in the United States."

The idea is not new. Hoping to kill Stanford White in some very remote secret nook, Harry Thaw picked out a New York roof garden on the first night of a big musical comedy. And only lately one of our movie queens, striving to get away from it all, put on all her portable jewelry and went to the Broadway preview of one of those colossal, titanic, gigantic, mastodontic superscreen epics, only to come forth complaining that one could never flee to the most private of hiding places without being annoyed by crowds.

Irvin S. Cobb

So America is certainly the right place for the newlyweds' honeymoon—where nobody will stare at them, or follow them, or yell at them or ask for autographs or photographs or interviews or try to tear their clothes off for souvenirs.

Why, just off-hand, I can think of fully three spots where famous folks may enjoy such immunity—Mount McKinley in the winter, Death Valley in the summer and Alcatraz island all the year round.

Giving Up Earl Browder.
FOR years it has been my regular custom to give up something during Lent. Last year I gave up boiled turnips—I never eat boiled turnips, anyhow—and jokes about Mae West.

The year before, I gave up "Anthony Adverse" (at page 2,749) and nearly all Little Theater movements. The year before I gave up Upton Sinclair as my spiritual guide in matters political.

For this year I decided to give up Mr. Earl Browder. I don't quarrel with his sincerity. He happens, though, to be the outstanding exponent in America of the communist movement, which has done so much for human happiness and human progress in the countries that tried it, such as Russia.

Victory Dinners.
WHO says New Dealers aren't smart business men? That $100 victory dinner means a clear profit of $94.70, figuring the food at $5 a head and the combined speeches at 30 cents, which, even if they average up to most after-dinner speeches, is indeed a high valuation.

Back in Andy Jackson's day you could pay off a campaign deficit with hoop poles and coon pelts. And in Thomas Jefferson's time the strongest pack mule in Virginia couldn't tote $100-worth of vittles. So, naturally Jeffersonian simplicity and Jacksonian thrift will be extolled.

Presumably the Republicans will follow suit with a nonvictory dinner or donation shower for John Hamilton's hope chest. Needy guests will wear Liberty Leaguers' old clothes, while the idea of having Canada annex Maine and Vermont will be strongly opposed.

Congressman Ham Fish will speak—such being his habit—unless, for economy's sake, they switch his name around hind part before and serve him as two courses.

Signs of Spring.
OUT here the first sign of spring is not the birds coming back. Mainly, our birds don't fit away. They go mute awhile, being practical; the only residents that even temporarily refrain from bragging about the climate, or, in case of a cold snap, explaining that this is very unusual.

With us the herald of spring 'is the surf-bather—that hardy adventurer who plunges in and comes forth as blue as an Easter egg and as deflated-looking as a toy balloon on the morning after circus day. Because the Pacific is never what you'd call a real cozy ocean and especially it isn't following a chill-some winter.

We make fun of the bathing suits our mothers wore. But middle-aged persons of both sexes disporting on the beach in the modern skimpiest present a morbid, not to say gruesome, spectacle, except to students of the adult human leg, including the slabby-shanked, the full-calved, the bowed, the double-jointed, the buckled, the knock-kneed, the spavined, the ankle-sprung, the heavy-hocked, the varicose-veined, the fur-bearing, etc., etc.

Sometimes a fellow gets to thinking that right young babies and raw oysters are almost the only things that should ever be exhibited on the half-shell.

Well-Dressed at Little Cost

IT WAS some job, Ladies of The Sewing Circle, to get these three lovelies together to pose for the camera this week.

They're under the strict tutelage of Dame Fashion just now, learning the latest lessons on how to be well turned out this Spring without benefit of a private mint. You can understand, then, why the co-ed above, center, sort of jumped the gun, so to speak, and was already on her way when the camera clicked.

A Frock That Clicks.
Speaking of things clicking, don't think that new princess gown she's wearing isn't doing it in a big way. Can't you see from where you're sitting that it is simple to sew besides being a figure-flatterer of the first order? The buttons half way and a neat little collar in contrast are all its lively lines need to complete the perfect balance—chic vs. simplicity. Take a tip from this stylish student and figure it out for yourself in cashmere or velveteen. The style is 1202 and it can be had in sizes 12-20 (30-38). Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material plus 3/4 yard contrasting.

Go Print for Spring.
The charming young lady above, left, has chosen to model a very dainty and rather picturesque little frock for she believes you'll be interested in this style as a fitting gesture to Springtime. Especially in a modern-print, featuring, say, pussycats or deep-sea flowers, would this frock be tempting. The skirt is bias-cut for artistic reasons, and the circles of-contrast aid and abet its gracefulness. Let yourself go print then, come Spring. Style 1257 is designed in sizes 12-20 (30-40 bust). Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. Eleven yards of bias binding is required for trimming as pictured.

Gay House or Street Frock.
Lest you begin to think every day is Sunday for our starrng trio, the trim-looking young lady above, right, wants you to concentrate now on her new gingham gown. Not an ordinary bread-and-butter cotton version, but a beautifully cut, carefully planned dress for general service. The linked button front is enough to give it first place on your Spring sewing list if Sew-Your-Own designers know their clients as well as they think. However, there's more to recommend it: a young becoming collar, a simple yoke-and-sleeve-in-one construction, and a slender action-built skirt. Put them all together they spell CHIC—that little word with a vast meaning. Style 1267 is for sizes 34-48. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 35 inch material plus 1 1/2 yards contrasting.

PROBATE ORDER

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix in said County, on the 3rd day of March, A. D. 1937.

Present, Hon. Ervan A. Ruegsegger, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of certain Missing and Disappeared Persons, Jay H. Adams having filed in said court his final account as Public Administrator, of said estate, and his petition praying for the allowance thereof.

It is Ordered, That the 2nd day of April, A. D. 1937, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for examining and allowing said account;

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

ERVAN A. RUEGSEGGER, Judge of Probate.

one hand shot from past midcourt. These supernatural heaves, coupled with a pair of charity tosses, spelled doom for the local machine. The Roscommon quintet, a tall and rangy team, averages six foot to the man, and held a season victory over the Bon Ton Bakery team of Petoskey, considered by many to be the strongest independent outfit in Northern Michigan.

The scoring honors of the locals go to Howard Sommerville and Max Fitzpatrick with nine each. Link led Roscommon with 10. The work of H. Sommerville was outstanding, as he played a bang up game, seeming to be all over the court at once.

Mrs. C. W. Sidebotham visited friends in Dearborn this week.

Jackie Cermak is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. DeLong at Northport.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Healey spent last week in Detroit, Ann Arbor and Flint.

Percy Penfold, manager of the Jordan Valley Creamery, is attending a dairymen's convention at Grand Rapids.

Just to remind us that winter is still with us the temperature tumbled to around 5° below zero early Tuesday morning.

Lutheran Young People's League will meet this Saturday evening, March 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ulyund.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter and daughter Suzanne returned from Los Angeles, California, after vacationing there the last month.

After listening in on President Roosevelt's "fireside" chat Tuesday night, the conclusion is drawn that it should be called a "suicide" chat.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Watkins of Mancelona, a son, Glen Richard, March 3rd. Mrs. Watkins was formerly Miss Velma Trojanek of East Jordan.

During the enforced absence of Mrs. Sherman Conway in the hospital, Mrs. G. W. Kitsman is kindly gathering the "Local Happenings" for The Herald. Her phone number is 173.

An all day meeting of the East Jordan Ladies Home Extension Club will be held at the home of Mrs. G. A. Lisk on Wednesday, March 17, 1937. It will be a pot luck dinner. Visitors are welcome. — Sec'y.

An auto party of four East Jordan ladies were in a serious auto accident, Tuesday afternoon, while enroute to Traverse City. Near Kaleva the auto, driven by Mrs. S. E. Rogers, skidded on a stretch of ice and smashed into a tree, wrecking the auto. Mrs. Rogers received a serious scalp wound; Mrs. Sherman Conway suffered a fractured pelvis bone, while Mrs. Carl Heinzelman received arm bruises and Mrs. B. E. Waterman was badly shaken-up. Mrs. Conway was taken to the Lockwood hospital, Petoskey, for treatment — the other ladies returning to their homes here.

Miss Anna Shedine of Grand Rapids and Miss Mary Shedina of Ionia, spent the week end at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shedina.

Quite a little excitement was caused Sunday afternoon when a car belonging to C. E. Kozarek, adjuster and inspector for the Western Adjustment Co. of Petoskey, broke through the ice near the Argo Mill and went down into sixteen feet of water. The car was recovered Monday by the Northern Auto Co.

There will be a general enrollment for C. C. C. camp about April 1st, or shortly thereafter. The rules for eligibility are, briefly, that a boy must be single, in good health, between the ages of seventeen and twenty-eight, and from a needy family. Boys who have been in C. C. C. camp before are eligible for re-enrollment providing they received an honorable discharge, and have been out for one year or more. Any boys interested in going to C. C. C. camp should get in touch with the Charlevoix County E. R. A. office as soon as possible.

Will Patrol Trout Streams

Extra patrols of conservation officers are to be assigned again this spring to the larger trout streams of northern Michigan to protect steelhead or rainbow trout against poachers.

The steelhead begin their spring spawning runs upstream on a rising water temperature and already have appeared in some of the rivers. In some places these runs attract violators who are tempted to spear, net or dynamite the fish. Since the future of fishing depends upon the successful reproduction of game species, authorities point out that it is particularly desirous of protecting spawning fish. A good size rainbow trout may produce as many as 5,000 eggs.

The Japanese cherry trees at Washington are lovely to look at, but bear no fruit. Students of legislative panaceas will recognize the species. "Colossal" is to Hollywood as mammoth, Goliath and ponderosa are to seed catalogs.

Canners Take This One

DEFEAT KALKASKA CCC BOYS IN MONDAY NIGHT GAME

Coach Alex Sinclair's Canner quintet, winning handily over the Kalkaska CCC Camp team 44 to 25 Monday night, lasted through the opening round of play. Taking the lead on the opening play, as Harry Jankoviak caged one, the locals were never threatened or hard pushed to win. The starting lineup for the Canners was Hegerberg and Capt. M. Cihak at forwards, lanky Spike Russell at center, with Jankoviak and LaPeer, guards. The CCC boys furnished little opposition for the fast breaking local quintet, who led at the halftime 27 to 15.

Hegerberg, with 11 points, led the local scoring column as he caged four field goals and two free throws. D. Smith led the camp team with nine. The locals will have to play much better ball if they expect to advance any further in the tournament, as they will meet much stiffer competition.

Wood Lot Demonstrations Attracted Wonderful Attendance

Without a doubt the four wood lot demonstrations conducted last week were the most successful of any carried on in the Co. relative to forestry projects. The four demonstrations were attended by 160 farmers who thoroughly enjoyed themselves in seeing first hand the results of good and bad wood lot practices.

The average farmer present some what disagreed with the wood lot practices recommended by Mr. Culver during the early stages of the meeting, but usually agreed 100% as the demonstration, continued. In the first place, it was agreed that it was better to leave the brush in the woods somewhat evenly distributed, than to either pile it or remove it from the woods.

The speaker made the statement that a properly managed wood lot should not have all of the new growth destroyed and look like a city park, but should have a large amount of new growth to replace the old stand as it is cut down. Considerable emphasis was placed on the question of types and species of trees to save, the elimination of badly shaped trees and the proper spacing of trees.

Very briefly, the soil conservation was explained at each meeting, especially the payments associated with wood lot improvement practices. Quite a large number of farmers made application to have their wood lot inspected by a member of the county committee, which is necessary before anyone can cooperate in the program. It is felt that wood lot improvement will be one of the outstanding accomplishments of the soil conservation program. It is surprising to note the larger number of farm wood lots which are badly in need of attention.

TALL TALES OF NEWAYGO NEWT TOBIAS

This is my cat, Tobias.
— When he was a little kitten,
At Euple an' my other pets,
He was always spittin'.
Now, I'm a champ at that, myself,
So I sez, sez I,
I'll train that cat to be good too.
At least I'm goin' to try.
An' every night before the hearth,
Tobias I'd be trainin'.
To hear the sizzlin' on the coals,
Ya'd think it was a rainin'.
I'd pick a target in the fire,
Then let'er go, "ker-splat"! An' then, Tobias, he'd take aim,
An' purty soon that cat was good as me, but not so strong.
I'm good for thirty feet.
Tobias couldn't spit that far,
— But at ten could not be beat.
'Cause he practised by the hour
An' never seemed to tire.
It didn't bother him a bit,
But was darn tough on the fire.

Swift and dependable. Long Distance telephone service has won an important place in the modern social life of Michigan. The recent rate reductions have given the service greater usefulness than ever before, have made available to almost every one the pleasure and benefit of "voice visits" to far-away friends and relatives.

Special occasions lend special interest to Long Distance service. It is the ideal way of extending your congratulations on a birthday, a wedding day, an anniversary. Any other remembrance you send could be sent by some one else; but only you can send your voice.

Little Church Around the Corner

NEW YORK'S "Little Church Around the Corner" is probably the world's most famous and romantic spot to be married in. And of all things, its popularity first started from a funeral!

This historic place of worship, whose real name is the Church of the Transfiguration, is a picturesque, rambling, brown structure on Twenty-ninth street near Fifth avenue. About 1870, the great actor, George Holland, died in New York. His sister wanted his funeral to be held at her own church—a then fashionable temple on aristocratic Fifth avenue.

Joseph Jefferson, an old friend of the Holland family, called on the high-toned rector of the church to make arrangements for the funeral. But that reverend gentleman refused to hold services for what he termed a "common actor."

"There is," he said, "a little church around the corner where you might get it done."

"Then," said Mr. Jefferson solemnly, "God bless the little church around the corner!"

A few days later the service for the dead actor was held in the "little church," before a congregation that included many of the city's most prominent people. Attracted by the human interest angle, newspapers gave it headlines. Mark Twain wrote a touching piece about it. So what might have been a tragedy turned out to be a triumph.

From that memorable incident, the "Little Church Around the Corner," got its name. Many noted theatrical people joined its congregation, and all found a cordial, warm reception. Where they went, publicity followed. Many a theatrical wedding was performed before its altar. Somehow the congenial, friendly air of its atmosphere has been maintained down to this very day.

The First Love Letter

HUMAN nature seems to be the same at all times and in all places. Numerous clay tablets nearly 4,000 years old, which were recently dug up from the ruins of Babylon, show that the habits and problems of that ancient people were astonishingly like our own.

These tablets, written in cuneiform inscriptions, have been laboriously translated by scientists. One tells of the complaint of a young man about the bad food he receives in his boarding house and how he longs for the food he used to get at home. Another tablet is the plea of a mother for her wayward son to come home and be forgiven.

And most familiar of all is the tablet written by a young man who has gone to Babylon to make his fortune, who wants his sweetheart to join him there and become his wife. Here it is, the oldest love letter in the world:

"To Bibeya from Gimil Marduk—May Shamash and Marduk grant thee, for my sake, to live forever. I write this to inquire after thy health. Let me know how it goes with thee. I am now settled in Babylon, but I am in great anxiety because I have not seen thee. Send news when thou wilt come, that I may rejoice at it. Come in the month of Araksamna (November-December). Mayest thou, for my sake, live forever."

America's First Presidents

ALTHOUGH George Washington was the father of our country, he was not, as is often mistakenly assumed, the first President of the United States. That honor goes to an obscure man most of us have never even heard of—Thomas McKean.

Our present Constitution did not go into effect until March 4, 1789. Washington was the first President under its provisions, and served until his voluntary retirement in 1797. But before that time our country, such as it then was, had been held together by the Articles of Confederation.

On September 5, 1774, delegates from twelve states (Georgia was not represented at the first congress) met in Philadelphia and organized what has since been called the Continental congress. Its purpose was to organize the colonies into a federation for united action against their common enemy, England.

The Continental congress met irregularly until March 2, 1789. Its most important single act was drawing up and adopting, on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence, written largely by Thomas Jefferson.

The delegate in charge at the meetings carried the title and signed papers as "The President of the United States." Thomas McKean was the first man to be elected to that post. Altogether, there were eight different men who held the office, in addition to John Hancock who was elected but declined to serve.

NEIL STAFFORD

on Killing with Kindness

I had to use telephone booths or side rooms, where I could sneak a cigarette and light it myself.

By NEIL STAFFORD

REMEMBER quite well that as a youthful member of the human race, I held to a great number of strong, definite opinions concerning this and that, many of which have long since gone overboard and are now far astern. I was always astonished by the irritability of elderly persons, amazed by the suddenness with which they flew off the handle over mere trifles and I well remember saying: "So, that's the way old folks act, is it? Well, I will take good care never to be like that, fussing about nothing at all, growling and swearing at everyone."

That's what I said and I meant it, and to my astonishment, I realized the other day that I am now as cranky and fussy as those old gentlemen ever were, and I go about wishing people had a little more sense. Take the simple habit of smoking.

I smoke cigarettes and I like to light my own cigarette, using my own match and my own fingers, and when I am alone, this is possible, but it is different in a hotel or restaurant; where in some rare instances, the bell boys are given bonuses for beating a customer to the light.

There was one hotel with a marble floor, uniformed boys all over the place and the lad who lighted the most cigarettes per week received a cash award. Whenever I reached for a pack of cigarettes, four boys came sliding across the marble, four matches were stuck under my nose and the honor of the hotel was apparently saved again.

Now with me, part of the pleasure of smoking is to light the tobacco, using the Australian crawl or overhead lighting stroke and any outside interference simply destroys the job. If you have ever observed an old pipe smoker in the peaceful act of lighting up, you realize his loving solicitude and the comfort he gets out of it. Each man has his own manner of lighting a cigar, excepting those uncouth souls who do not understand tobacco and care nothing about the finer things. In this hotel, it was so bad I had to use telephone booths or side rooms, where I could sneak a cigarette and light it myself.

These helpful ones, of course, are animated by a desire to be courteous and therefore a person cannot be openly resentful or annoyed. In my favorite restaurant, there is a waiter who for years has never understood and I don't like to hurt his feelings, so the way I do, I wait till his back is turned and by bending over and working fast, I manage to light the cigarette before he sees me.

I Want to Four It.

That's the only one item—smoking. Take the matter of pouring beer into a tall glass, or even a short one. I am fond of a cold bottle of beer, with the little moisture beads on the outside and I long to pour it myself in my own way. There ensues always a little race between me and the waiter, for he wants to pour, and only one waiter in eight hundred knows anything about pouring beer.

The accepted and universal waiter custom is to tip the glass at a sharp angle and the bottle at another sharp angle until their noses meet and then slide the beer softly along the inside of the glass, leaving no foam. This, of course, is all wrong and barbarous. The right way to pour beer, you slam the beer bottle into the glass roughly, making as much foam as possible and watching it rise to the top and spill over. That's my way, but if I am reading a paper or preoccupied, the waiter pours and when I glance up, there is my beer, all poured out and looking like stale cider that has been standing on the table a week.

Consider the super-courteous young gentlemen in the filling stations of an ambulant nation, who certainly are not to blame for their kindly energies, as the gasoline companies require them to do certain things. When I am in an occasional hurry, I do not wish my tank filled. I want ten gallons of gas and that's all and nothing else.

So what happens? A bright-eyed and rosy-cheeked youth bobs up with three chamois skins and two bottles of something and begins cleaning me up before I can shoo him off. He is the glass boy or shiner-upper and he goes at it feverishly, no matter how clean my windshield may be. Another young man lifts the hood on both sides to see how my oil is. A third young gent removes the radiator cap and a man starts to fill my battery with distilled water. I am requested to drive to the air pumps and have my tires checked and at any instant, I expect to be given a shine, haircut, shave, shampoo and brush-off.

Telephone Trouble.

There is excuse for persons who are trying to be courteous and helpful, no matter how mistaken they may be at the moment. But what can be said for those other people, who are not trying to be courteous, such as the perfect stranger who rings your telephone and asks in a cold, clear voice: "What number is this?"

That is the individual I definitely dislike. Sometimes it is a male, but usually, a female, and her ambition apparently is to waste an afternoon in idle persiflage. The proper way to use a telephone is to get your number and state quietly: "This is Mr. Higgins speaking. Is Mr. Jones there?"

It so happens I have no office in a tall building, no secretary or outer line of defense and I work in my home, when I work. I have long since arrived at the point where I don't want to talk to anyone on the telephone about anything. Years and years ago, it became apparent to me that nine out of ten telephone calls were bad news and would be better unanswered.

The nine out of ten referred to something I didn't wish to do, didn't wish to talk about or consider in any form—such as, would I be interested in buying a boat, joining a beach club, buying a sedan or seeing the insurance man.

And so, as time wore on, I became a natural enemy of the telephone, but am often forced to answer, and, therefore, I come into contact with those idle souls who wish to know what number is this? The lady on the other end doesn't want to speak to anyone. She will give no information whatever and continues to chatter about numbers until I hang up and go sadly back to work. If it's a salesman, he simply wants to make certain of your number, so he can call you tomorrow and I often give him the number of a friend down the road and let him handle the trade.

Lesson for March 14

JESUS PRAYING FOR HIS DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT — John 16:5-7; 17:14-26.
GOLDEN TEXT — That they may be one, even as we are one, John 17:22.
PRIMARY TOPIC — When Jesus Prayed for His Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC — Did Jesus Pray for Me?
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC — Jesus Praying for Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC — Unity with God and One Another.

The assurance that someone is praying for us is an anchor in a time of storm. Many a man or woman has been on the point of giving up in despair, of yielding to temptation, and has been carried through to victory by the intercession of a godly mother or father. Just to know that someone prays for us is to find strength for the knees that have weakened and for the heart that has all but failed.

Infinitely more precious is the truth of our lesson, that the Lord Jesus himself prayed for each one of his followers. John 17:20 makes clear that while he prayed for those who were with him at the time, he also included in his petition all who since that day have come to believe on him because of their testimony.

Before entering upon his inexpressibly precious and beautiful prayer, the Lord gave to his followers a promise, which was of vital importance.

I. A Promise (16:5-7).

Persecution is coming, and Jesus will not be with them to meet the trying hour. He is about to enter upon that final scene in his earthly life, which will bring it to its end in "a place called the place of a skull."

How then can he say to them that it is expedient for them that he go away? Because he will send the Comforter, the Holy Spirit. Students of the Scriptures recognize in the Holy Trinity an inscrutable mystery, but receive the teaching of the Bible concerning the ministries of the three persons in the one Godhead with glad and thankful hearts. It is a subject which cannot be entered into here, but which richly rewards careful study. Suffice it to say that while the Holy Spirit has always been active in the earth, he did enter upon a ministry of a special nature when Jesus had gone to be with the Father.

The essence of the work of the Holy Spirit is to glorify Christ (16:14), and in so doing he convicts the unbeliever of sin and guides the believer into all truth. The mark of a Spirit-filled Christian is that he permits the Spirit to glorify Christ in him and in his service for God.

II. A Prayer (17:14-26).

When one enters the sacred precincts of John 17 he feels that he has come into the holy of holies, and that he would not only lose the shoes from his feet, but also stand silent in worship and in praise. He prayed for me—for me! Each student of this lesson will wish to enter fully upon the meaning of these words as he re-reads them, in the illumination of the Holy Spirit. May I suggest three things which Jesus sought for His children?

1. Consecration (vv. 14-16). No one is Christ's child without regeneration, but, sad to say, there are many children in his blessed household who are not obedient, not spiritually well and strong. They are in the world, they must be here, but alas too many of them want to be as much like the world as possible. He prayed that we might be kept from evil, separate from the world, kept by God even in a world that hates him and his truth.

2. Sanctification (vv. 17-21). This means to be set apart and cleansed for God's service. How is it accomplished? Through the truth. His Word is the instrument of sanctification. Little wonder that there is so little holiness of living when the Word has so little opportunity to touch and cleanse the life.

3. Glorification (vv. 22-26). When Jesus came into the world in the flesh he voluntarily laid aside the glory which was his, and which still is his, and which he prays that we may behold. "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image" (II Cor. 3:18). Thus in beholding his glory we also may enter into his likeness.

City Versus Country.

It cannot escape even a casual observer that the Bible begins with a scene in the garden to end in a city: one may be "nearer God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth"—but certainly "the dwelling-place of God is with men."

Giving and Taking Orders

He who will not accept orders has no right to give them; he who will not serve has no right to command; he who cannot keep silence has no right to speak.—Hubbard.

Household Questions

Items of Interest to the Housewife

When cream will not whip, add the white of one egg and thoroughly chill before whipping.

A couple tablespoons of molasses will make beans brown nicely.

Rayons should be pressed with a warm, but not hot iron. A hot iron will melt some synthetic materials.

Dishes that have contained sugar or greasy articles should be soaked in hot water before washing.

To make lace look new, squeeze in hot, soapy water, then in cold water, and then in milk to stiffen it. Press on the wrong side with a fairly hot iron.

One gallon of coffee will serve 25 medium sized cups. The size that would accompany a dessert after a dinner.

Chocolate stains may be removed by washing in cold water or by soaking in boiling water to which borax or a little glycerin has been added.

Cooperation

Cooperation among the classes and within the classes is falling out in the high school lately. It appears as though only a few perform the work and later attend the affair.

Cooperation is pep meetings, assemblies, and attending games, have all been lectured and written about, but what is really needed is the real ability for classes to work together. The law of cooperation is: when two or more persons work together, the law of production tends to be greater than when each works separately. Simple cooperation tends to increase production somewhat; division of labor tends to increase it still more. This means that if a class with the help of all its members put on some production and the rest of the school attends it, it could really be called cooperation.

School is almost over for this year, but the most important events will soon take place, and if they are to be a success, the Jr. and Sr. classes will need more cooperation.

The Senior play has been changed to Thursday, March 11. The cast includes Wylon Payne, Alston Penfold, Arthur Cronin, Ruth Hott, Stella Stallard, Clifford Gibbard, Don Johnson, and Virginia Saxton. Here is a quotation taken from Minneapolis Tribune by Earl N. Pomeroy, Dramatic Critic: "Through The Keyhole has a great deal of genuine laughter inherent in lines, characters and situations. The author has provided sufficient materials with which to make this ingratiating to the funny bone. It possesses real entertainment value."

This is a modernistic play of 1936, and we hope you will support the Seniors with a very large crowd.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club has been working on songs they will sing for the senior play. Some of the songs are, "Fairy Snow," "Dark Eyes," and "To a Wild Rose." The latter they have just started practicing recently. The Glee Club is planning to begin work on numbers to be sung at the festival which will be held in May, in East Jordan.

WORKING ON ART BOARD

The Sixth Grade is arranging their art board. On it they are placing March pictures. Beryl Bennett brought a cecropia moth and a cocoon to school. The pupils have found them very interesting to study.

Tommy Lew has been out of school on account of sickness and the pupils are very anxious to have him return when well again.

MAKING EASTER CALENDAR

The fourth grade is making holland posters and also dutch girls and boys. They are also making a holland calendar, they are placing easter eggs (cut from paper) on it and then putting the numbers of the days of the month on the eggs. On the top of the calendar is a big basket which the children made.

HARD AT WORK

Every morning the First Grade pupils have a discussion on animals. It gives them knowledge about looking for animal pictures. They are making a book for their animal table. Each child makes one page for the book.

GUESS WHO

The person we are describing this week is Galen Seiler. The person we are describing this week is a girl in the tenth grade. She weighs 115 pounds and is 5 feet 5 inches in height. She is 16 years old, has blue eyes and is a brunette.

Her favorite color is blue and her favorite sport is swimming. In school her favorite teacher is Mr. Smith. Her favorite subject she says, "Can't be Latin." Her hobby is collecting snapshots.

She likes to camp out of doors and go hiking. She also goes in for dancing and ice skating.

In school she goes by a nick name, even the teachers call her by this name.

For the answer look in the next week's Guess Who column.

THE SOPHOMORE PARTY

The Sophomore party was pronounced a success by everyone who was present. The evening was well spent playing games and dancing, by the music of Mr. Roberts' orchestra. The refreshments were ice cream and cake. The chaperons present were Miss Staley, Mrs. Carson, Miss Morrison and Mr. Roberts.

ANNUALS

The annuals consist of about forty pages. There are about three pages just for photographs of group activities.

There are about eleven outside organizations that will include. They will cost one dollar and fifteen cents each.

This is the first year that this school has had an annual in a long time.

There will be things in the annual about the Latin Club, Student League, Etiquette Club, Musical organizations, athletics, and other school organizations. Also there will be sections for each grade in the high school consisting of the freshman, sophomore, juniors and seniors.

Mr. Eggert and Mr. Heafield are helping with the annuals. They expect them to be here about the last of May. Selection of staff members will be mentioned next week.

OBSERVATIONS

There are some very interesting pictures on the bulletin board in the study hall, which attract much attention.

The Home Economics girls are anxious to get their smocks and pajamas done.

If you want to learn how to dance see Gerald Simmons!!

Some students are determined they will draw pictures on the blackboard in the 9th grade room.

Equipment of Junior & Senior Room

Each week an article will appear telling the equipment of a certain room.

You will find as you enter room 4 the following articles: One large desk with various books and papers belonging to Mr. Roberts, 80 smaller desks belonging to the students, only two erasers and one piece of chalk due to the many fights carried on, two rulers, one chalk compass, one table, one little cupboard, one set of book ends, three large pictures, six windows, one door, one thermometer, two blackboards, five lights, and one clock, which was given by the class of 1917.

SERVICE

Dr. Owen J. Cleary, who is a captain in the Michigan National Guard, and Dean of Administration at the Cleary College, Ypsilanti, gave a forty-five minute speech in assembly on Wednesday afternoon.

The subject of his talk was "Service." Under this heading he discussed courtesy, self-control, responsibility, and knowledge.

Dr. Cleary was on the scene of action at the strike in Flint and told a little about it.

This talk was very interesting and greatly enjoyed by the students.

OBSERVATIONS

Helen Fisher has returned from her sojourn at the hospital. Tom Breakey understands perfectly what the Senior Play is all about, judging from his cartoon on the black board.

Rumors are floating around to the effect that the Student League will soon be presenting a one act play.

The Senior Play cast is trying to decide whether March 11 is a lucky or unlucky day.

The monthly reports are out, and some faces are certainly pleasant to behold.

SENIORS WHO'S WHO

Russel Crowe
 Russel Crowe, son of Georgian and George Crowe, was born in Boyne City, May 3, 1917. At the age of five he began school at the first ward school and then started high school at Boyne High, and the last two years he spent at East Jordan.

He is nineteen years old, with brown hair and brown eyes. During his school career he has been on the honor roll quite often. In the future he plans to be a farmer. All his classmates wish him the best of luck, but we know he'll do good in whatever he does.

His favorite sport is fishing (which seems to be the sport of all bashful boys) and the subject he likes best is anything in the line of agriculture. His greatest dislike is History, but even if he didn't like it he did join the History Club for a year.

RUTH ELEANOR DARBEE

"When the golden rod is yellow and the leaves are turning brown." It was on such a day as this September 30th to be exact that Ruth Darbee showed her first dazzling smile in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Darbee. She's still showing that beautiful smile.

Her favorite subject is typing (probably, like the rest of us, because she doesn't have to study for it) and her dislike is History. She says she's so used to taking chemistry she doesn't notice it any more.

She likes music. She has played a saxophone in the band for two years and in the orchestra one year. She also plays the piano some. Outside of this, she says she has no hobbies.

But we wonder what about Tom ??? Her favorite sports are swimming and ice skating. That makes us wonder if it's the skating or if there's some other attraction on the rink?

You saw her in the Junior Play last year in the role of Miss Hayes. She plans to attend Ferris Institute after graduation.

Upon receipt of such affidavit in the time specified herein, the clerk shall write in the registration book the name of the applicant together with the other information required by this chapter and such applicant shall thereupon be deemed to be duly and properly registered.

Note—If this acknowledgement is taken outside of the State, the Certificate of the Court that the person taking the acknowledgement is a notary must be attached.

REGISTRATION OF ABSENTEE BY OATH

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the CITY TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, he shall be subject to the pains and penalties there of.

Provided, That any city may provide by its charter or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day. PROVISION IN CASE OF REMOVAL TO ANOTHER PRECINCT.

Any registered and qualified voter who has Removed from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT of the City to another election precinct of the City, shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, or Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS MOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

In every such case of transfer the City Clerk or the Board of Inspectors issuing such certificates shall cause opposite the name of such elector, to be entered in the column headed "Remarks" in such registration book, the words, "transferred to precinct number _____ (giving the number)," together with the initials of said clerk or some member of the Board of Inspectors of Election, as the case may be, and the date of the transfer.

Dated March 8, 1937.
 R. G. WATSON, City Clerk.

Spearing For Noxious Fish

Practically every county in Michigan has one or more streams or portions of streams in which spring spearing for noxious fish is permitted by law without artificial light.

Sportsmen who would like to take a whirl at this type of sport would do well to consult their county conservation officers to learn which stream waters are legally open. The officers first admonition probably would be to keep away from trout streams since all are closed to spring spearing and to be sure to have a fishing license.

Spearing for non-game fish became legal March 1 and continues legal to and including May 15.

An extortionist at Cleveland, wrote a preacher demanding $1,900, and the whole intelligence rating of the criminal classes slumped two years because of the blunder.
