Christmas AT THE CHURCHES

Garden Gossip

Edited by Caroline Harrington
Letters and questions on garden topics will be welcome. They will be published and discussed in this column.

Today, December 22nd, the reign of Winter officially begins. The sun says so far this is "the shortest day" when the days again "begin to lengthen" and "the cold begins to strengthen." It is reasonable to expect that now Arctic winds will bring the mercury down, that the lake will freeze over, that the frozen ground will be covered with snow. And, from now until spring, our birds will have a bitter and unceasing struggle to keep alive. Their warm feather overcoats will protect them well from the cold if they can eat regularly, but starvation hounds them constantly, for most of their food seed, insect eggs and larva — is buried in the drifting snow, or encased in the ice and sleet that sheaths tree trunks and branches.

So — if you have been neglecting your bird friends, remember them now with grain and crumbs, scraps of meat, seeds of all kinds. (I hope you have been saving squash and pumpkin seeds.) Twice a day, at daylight and late afternoon, place your offerings on a protected shelf built under a window with a southern exposure. If you have no shelf, the window sill makes a substitute, but a poor one as you will find out when the wind blows the food away before the birds can eat it. Soon you will have a flock of steady patrons who will be punctual to meals, and will come in increasing numbers as they learn to depend upon your hospitality.

Perhaps birds relish suet more than any other one thing. At any rate, a chunk of suet anchored under a wire mesh will be an attraction all day long to woodpeckers and jays, — yes and to the less popular starlings, too. Chickadees prefer nut meats and soon become quite fearless. They are amusing little acrobats, and will clown for an hour at a time on a swinging trapeze baited with nut meats. They quickly learn not only to accept but to demand, and whenever the food supply runs low you will hear their indignant "dee-dee-dee" call at your window.

The nuthatches are shy. They like to carry off the nut meats and tuck them in convenient cracks in telephone poles or the bark of trees where they sit and eat in solitary grandeur. Their only cry seems to be an unmusical "yank-yank-yank" which they repeat over and over as they run down, up and around tree trunks looking for hidden insect eggs. Neither the chickadees nor the nuthatches are as frugal as the sparrows which apparently are quite content with the crumbs left by other birds.

Hang up your suet enclosed in wire mesh (so it will not be dislodged and fall to some watchful dog or cat) in a convenient tree — dead or dying worm-infested one preferred — for the wise birds make the rounds of these trees as a matter of routine. And, speaking of feeding stations, your discarded Christmas tree, stuck in a snow drift near a window on the south side of the house, will make a dandy bird restaurant. Hung with meat rinds, crusts of bread, a stale fried-cake or two, plus a bird pie, it will never lack for customers. Here's how to make a bird pie: Over a small dish of cracked grain and nut meats pour melted suet or drippings. Allow to harden and serve.

Of course, if you wish, you may build a feeding station more pretentious than a protected window shelf. Write to the Michigan Audubon Society at Battle Creek for plans and for instructions for attracting the birds of so many different varieties all hungry!

Gala Holiday Week At The Temple

Christmas week at the Temple is loaded with entertainment treats in keeping with the festive season. Favorites, old and new, make appearances in sparkling new pictures with such fictional characters as Hop-A-Long Cassidy, Charlie Chan and Dr. Kildare — and the glamorous Garbo in her surprise comedy smash. Four of the holidays programs are listed below:

Saturday; William Boyd and Russell Hayden in the new Hop-A-Long Cassidy story, "Range War."
Sun — Mon; Matinees both days: Greta Garbo and Melvyn Douglas in "Ninotchka." (Don't pronounce it — See it.)
Tues — Wed. Family Nites; Sidney Toler and Lynn Bari in "Charlie Chan In The City Of Darkness."
Thurs — Fri; Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore in "Secret of Dr. Kildare."

Anybody Can Use Want Ads — Practically Everybody Does — Profitably.

Fistic Events at Boyne City

GOLDEN GLOVE TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD IN JANUARY

Plans for the second annual Golden Glove amateur boxing tournament at Boyne City are being perfected this week by the Ernest Peterson Post of the American Legion, and Gilbert Lindsay, again chairman of the boxing committee, said he expected the show to top last year's, during which more than 2,500 persons saw 70 entries in action during the three night carnival of amateur leather tossing.

The affair is to extend for four nights, January 15, 17, 19, 20. Bill Tryon, in charge of entries, said that queries had already been received from Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Petoskey, CCC Camp Wolverine, East Jordan, and Boyne Falls, in addition to high local interest. Entry blanks have been prepared and amateur scrappers, eager to make their bid for fistic fame in the most famous of the non-pro tournaments, may obtain blanks at the Boyne Citizen office, or by writing Bill Tryon in care of the Boyne Citizen.

Splendid trophies will be presented to the winners and runners up in each weight division and the winners will be taken to the Grayling tournament later in the season. Fans expect several of the fighters in this section to carry on to the Bay City show, and to the state finals at Grand Rapids. A special huge trophy is to be given the city, organization, or individual turning in the largest number of entries.

Training equipment has been installed in the Boyne City gym and the quarters there are to be open each week day afternoon from 3 to 4. The gym will also be open each Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9. The Legion invites all prospective entries to use the facilities and to train under expert supervision. "Everything possible will be done," Chairman Lindsay said, "to extend every courtesy and convenience to the boxers entered in what is predicted to be northern Michigan's biggest amateur fight show to date."

Wm. (Bill) Inman Enlists in Army

Wm. (Bill) Inman enlisted in the U. S. Army at Detroit Dec. 7th, and is now with the Third Airbase Squadron, Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens. The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Inman residing north of East Jordan and graduated from E. J. H. S. with the Class of 1939.

New Year's Eve Frolic

The Baby New Year will get a rousing welcome at the Temple's Mid-Nite Jamboree with bells ringing, whistles whistling, balloons bursting and a lusty song as "Auld Lang Syne" echoes from the rafters. Entertainment on the Stage and Screen will include a whopping amateur show and a surprise comedy motion picture that will be a complete secret until the title flashes from the screen. Hats, noisemakers, serpentine, balloons and favors will add to the carnival spirit as 1940 makes her bow. Seats are now on sale at the theatre and will be limited to seating capacity so every one will be sure of a seat.

"Merry Lanes" Are Now Ablaze

BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS MAKE OUR CITY MOST DISTINCTIVE

Merry Lane was ablaze with color Saturday evening when, despite the inclement weather, hundreds of citizens and visitors ventured forth to enjoy and catch the Christmas spirit for the many colorful displays. At the foot of Main St. a 35 foot tree was erected with a 4 foot lighted star atop.

Festoons of greens and lights extending from the tree to the opposite street corners symbolize arms extending a welcome. At the center corners of Main St. were hung heavy festoons of greens and colored lights with a doubly lighted star forming the center motif. The City placed trees in front of each business place and the merchants decorated them with glistening materials.

The globes of the boulevard lights in the business section are covered with Christmas colors and viewed at night from a distance, have the appearance of the gems, ruby and emerald hung from the sky. Many homes were very elaborately decorated with lighted growing trees, enteries, porch decorations, doorway lightings, porch flower boxes and baskets, lighted windows and indoor Christmas trees. The lighting effect on Santa on the roof of John Porter's residence is strikingly attractive.

The Bechtold residence was beautiful as usual. The Bechtold residence has the honor of being the first to have exterior Christmas decorations. The single lighted candle in the window of many homes bespeaks the sweet homey spirit of Christmas within.

The citizens of all professions responded most generously of labor and expense to the request of the East Jordan Garden Club, directed by the president Mrs. John Porter, who instigated the movement, credit also be given to Chief of Police Harry Simmons who was untiring in efforts to make the City festive of Christmas.

Everyone is urged and visitors from neighboring cities are welcome to view the whole city and enjoy its Christmas Beauty.

The selections for honors for so many beautiful decorations was a difficult task for the Committee. The following receive ribbons.

1st — Grand Prize Benton Baker.
1st Ward — Abe Cohn
2nd Ward — Al Ashby.
3rd Ward — William Swoboda.

futility of petitions and gullibility of signers. Apparently a plea for a holiday in honor of a professor's birthday, the fake petition provided that each signer would decapitate (behead) himself on that day.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Russia's Ouster From League Is Empty Victory for Finland Because Geneva Is Powerless

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

They Figured in the Battle of Nations

JOSEPH AVENOL

Secretary-general of the League, he called the special session at Finland's behest after the little Baltic nation was invaded by Russia. Purpose: To win League condemnation of Russia, possibly her expulsion, and the support of other League nations for Finland's cause. When the assembly agreed unanimously to offer Russia its mediation services, Avenol extended the bid to Moscow.

VIACHESLAV MOLOTOV

Premier of Russia, he replied bluntly by referring Avenol to an earlier Soviet message which said Russia considered Finland's appeal "unfounded"; that Russia did not consider herself at war with Finland; that Moscow was maintaining "peaceful relations" with the Soviet sponsored Finnish "peoples" government; that the regular Helsinki government no longer had authority.

KARL HAMBRO

League assembly president and representative of Norway, he was among leading pro-Finnish workers who argued for Russia's expulsion following receipt of Molotov's message. Rudolph Freyre, Argentine delegate, threatened to leave the League unless this action was taken. Finally such a resolution was passed and the council adopted it. Avenol was ordered to give the Soviet its walking papers.

JAKOB SURITS

Russian ambassador to France and delegate to the League, he packed his bags and left Geneva silently while the forces of democracy cheered. But observers wondered about the wisdom of this gesture. Would not Russia's ouster draw the Kremlin closer to Berlin and Tokyo, thereby cementing the pro-war forces and spreading the conflict? Moreover, had the defunct League gained anything?

THE WARS: Western Front

"Strangers are present," said Prime Minister Chamberlain, and 15 reporters were ousted from the gallery. A few minutes later the house of commons began its first secret session since the World war. Subject: "Organization of supplies for the persecution of war."

There was probably a lot of explaining to do. First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill was probably asked why Germany's $20,000,000 Bremen was allowed to slip through the blockade and reach

BREMEN
Why, Mr. Churchill?

Hamburg, homeward bound from Murmansk.

(The admiralty had announced a British submarine had sighted the Bremen but did not attack because it would have broken international law. Germany scoffed at this report, but failed to tell why the Bremen was called home so suddenly from the alleged safety of a Russian port.)

Sir John Simon probably had to explain why Britain and France had merged their economic structure into what English financiers called

NAMES ... in the news.

☐ Buried: Screen Actor Douglas Fairbanks, Drug Magnate Charles Walgreen and Michigan's G. O. P. Rep. Carl E. Mapes.

☐ Made political news: New York's Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., who announced he would enter the 1940 G. O. P. presidential race; Candidate Tom Dewey, who planned a New England drive; Idaho's isolationist Sen. William Borah, who fought a plan to sidetrack foreign policy as a campaign issue.

☐ New job: Bishop John F. O'Hara, who relinquished presidency of Notre Dame university to become auxiliary army and navy bishop of the U. S. under papal appointment.

an "unbreakable combination of financial power." But aside from these matters, the allies could be fairly well pleased with the war's progress.

Day after Germany had announced her war aim was "military destruction of the enemy," three British cruisers sent the Nazi raider Admiral Graf Spee limping into the harbor of Montevideo, Uruguay, with 36 dead after a 14-hour running fight. Same day, however, this gain was offset when the British destroyer Duchess collided with another warship and went down with 122 men.

Intensified warfare was also seen on the Western front, where Nazi raiders provided a mysterious touch by attacking at night wearing black hoods and cloaks.

Northern Front

Russia could not blame little Finland for the loss of her steamer Indigirka, which went down off the coast of far-away Japan with a loss of probably 700 lives. But the Kremlin did point that Finland's white-clad ski units were "using bandit tactics in sudden attacks..."

Wrote one war correspondent to his Moscow paper: "The enemy does not engage in open battle. Hidden under white robes, they suddenly dart from the woods to shoot at our advancing units. Then in all haste they run, frequently taking off their boots to ski only in their stockings."

Finally, after 14 days of ignominious defeat, the Russians reportedly rushed up 1,500,000 men and 1,000 airplanes to bisect little Finland, whose troops were slaughtering hundreds of Reds each day, disabling tanks and capturing light artillery pieces. Britain announced she would send war materials to aid the Helsinki government, while Italy continued sending planes and pilots.

BUSINESS: Asphyxiation

Ever since its passage the 1935 public utility holding company act has been fought tooth and nail by America's No. 1 holding company, Associated Gas and Electric company. Last year a senate investigating committee was outsmarted in its sensational search for mysterious H. C. Hopson, Associated Gas' guiding spirit. Meanwhile the firm fought Henry Morgenthau's treasury department over a tax dispute, but several months ago agreed to pay $8,700,000.

Crux of the holding company act is a "death sentence" clause providing for integration of all utility systems geographically and economically. This month, its long argument apparently lost, Associated Gas asphyxiated itself. Resigned "because of ill health" was President J. I. Mange, replaced by Roger J. Whiteford. Said the new chief: "It is my purpose to give my attention at once to simplification of the corporate system... integration or consolidation of its properties... and adjustment of the voting power..."

Jap Villagers Kneel at Mound They Call Christ's Burial Place

TOKYO.—Peasants in a remote northern Japanese village do not celebrate Christmas but they believe Jesus Christ died in Japan.

Nor are they Christians, but each year they kneel before a strange mound, which they believe is Christ's burial place.

This takes place at the village of Heral where Buddhists or Shintoists gather each year around a mound surmounted by a pillar on which are three Japanese characters and a six-pointed star composed of interlocking triangles, like the Hebrew emblem.

How this strange tradition arrived in Japan is not known, but visitors notice that the village, which is located in Aomori, near the extreme tip of Honshu island, is no great distance south of Mount Yadaijin, which is pronounced almost like the modern Japanese word for "Jew."

The six-pointed star is completely foreign to the people, yet some peasants are familiar with the Biblical version of Christ's death. The Aomorian story, which they have believed for 20 centuries, is this:

During the reign of the Emperor Suinin, the eleventh emperor, a young white man came to live in the district. Twelve years later, at the age of 34, he disappeared. His name: Soraitaro.

Fifteen years later he returned and told the people he had been to the land of his birth teaching religion and that, because of his beliefs, had been sentenced to death by crucifixion.

Soraitaro is then said to have told the natives that his younger brother, Iskiri, sacrificed his own life on the cross. Then he traveled for four years, across Europe and through Siberia. Finally reaching Aomori again, he died at the age of 105 in the eleventh year of Keiko Tenno's reign.

Near the alleged burial mound is the ruin of a stone building which villagers call "Tsukino-Tatte," the House of the Moon. Many foreign articles are reported to have been unearthed from this place. People say it is the place where Jesus worshipped.

They do not worship His memory in a religious way, nor is the mound especially sacred. They describe Jesus as a "Sei-jin," a saint or wise man.

Christmas Comes But Once a Year—Almost Any Time!

Merry Christmas is whatever you make it, whenever you make it. From December 5, when Saint Nicholas arrives for Dutch children, to the Aleutian islanders' Christmas on January 7, someone is celebrating this festive day most of the time.

Holland chooses December 5 as the eve of the festival day which the church has set aside in Saint Nicholas' honor. In Hungary Santa Claus pays his first visit several weeks ahead of the Yuletide, leaving boxes of candy in preparation for his second visit.

Most of the unusual celebrations, however, come after December 25—indeed, fall after New Year's day. Remote Shetland islanders north of Scotland celebrate January 5, still clinging to the old Julian calendar and refusing to accept that of Pope Gregory which most of the world has used for two centuries.

January 5 is also Christmas day in at least one part of the United States proper, isolated and windswept Rodanthe island off North Carolina. The custom, apparently a holdover from "old Christmas"—the Twelfth night, or Epiphany—the occasion finds all 300 residents hanging their stockings and awaiting Santa Claus.

In Alaska, where mid-summer delivery of Christmas presents makes them suitable either for last Christmas or the coming one, part of the residents celebrate on December 25 and the rest, January 7. The latter date is observed chiefly by Aleutian islanders, which is populated by natives who were interbred with Russians hundreds of years ago. They use the Russian calendar, which has not been changed to conform with that used by the rest of the world. By this calendar, New Year's is celebrated January 14.

Men of Christmas

Postmaster General James A. Farley receives Christmas cards at the rate of 1,000 a day during the Yule season.

Vasco Da Gama, the great Portuguese navigator, was born on Christmas day in 1469, discovered Natal, Africa, on Christmas day, 1497, and died on Christmas eve, 1524.

Oscar Phillips, postmaster at Santa Claus, Ind., cancels a half-million pieces of mail each Christmas season.

President Roosevelt gets a toothbrush and cake of soap in his stocking each Christmas—an old family custom.

Edward Keenan, who has enacted the role of Santa Claus in Milwaukee since 1927, keeps a small herd of reindeer all year round for this purpose.

Meat Packer Donates Food to Needy at Yuletide

DENVER, COLO.—Because Louis K. Sigman sometimes went hungry when he was an orphan boy in the streets of Brooklyn, N. Y., he now gives 50,000 pounds of meat each Christmas for distribution to needy families by a Denver newspaper. This custom, followed the past 10 years, has helped make the holiday season cheery for the destitute. There are 5,000 parcels of 10 pounds each. In the 10-year period, Mr.

No, This Isn't Santa, Kiddies

Just a few of the boys entering into the festive spirit. Top to bottom: Eddie Cantor (couldn't you recognize those eyes?); Jimmy Durante (you couldn't miss that beak); and Boris Karloff, shudder merchant of the films.

Next Year's Yule Cards

Already Being Designed

Workers on Christmas cards carry on steadily all through the year. The artists who draw them have already produced their designs for the 1940-41 season, and as soon as the holidays are over the printer will begin work on those cards. One big firm in England has 500 men and women employed in the production of these cards, sometimes with calendars added.

Some Good May Come to America Out of Awful Finnish Catastrophe

Mask Pulled Off Communism in United States and Left It Thoroughly Damned; Ways of Helping Finland Freely Discussed in Washington.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART

WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Press and radio have been filled for days with news of the cowardly and ruthless attack by Russia upon the defenseless and harmless Finns. So sickening has this assault been that millions of Americans have all but forgotten the movements of that predatory animal called Hitler. Indeed, the brutality of the drive upon the Finns has practically forced news about Hitler's war with Britain and France to disappear from the front pages. The "sit-down" war still goes on but it has failed to create interest in America.

But I believe that, for us, there is some good coming out of that awful Finnish catastrophe. It is a paradox that anything good could come from such a stench as Russia, but I am certain of the results in that regard.

For one thing, the latest sor-did page in Soviet history has pulled the mask off of communism. It has left communism standing before Americans, nude and thoroughly damned, with its hands dripping with human blood, with gory filth oozing from every pore, and its true rapacious character exposed to the last grimy detail.

Moreover, the Soviet destruction, or near-destruction of the helpless Finns has posed questions to be answered in this country by a good many thousands who have held up communism as the acme in government theory. Those folks now are called upon to attempt a justification of the great "liberalism" which has used miserable excuses to invade and bomb and mutilate. It is time for the parlor pinks, the so-called "intelligentsia" of the colleges and universities and the "movements for freedom," as well as the real scheming, lynx-eyed foreigners to try to explain away what has happened.

May Compel Everyone to Unite for American Way

Thus, when I observed that I believe some good will come out of the hellhole of Russia, I was thinking how the situation abroad is going to compel most everyone to unite for the American way.

These latest vengeful acts of the Russian bear "that walks like a man" bring into bold relief again certain things that happened back about November 16, 1933. They remind us of the various glowing statements that were forthcoming as to the value, in a material way, of diplomatic recognition of Russia.

Maxim Litvinov was here, you will remember. He bargained for American recognition of his nation, and got it upon a promise that Russia would quit her attempts to spread the doctrine of communism in this country. There were bombastic statements of millions of dollars in trade that would flow from the agreement worked out between President Roosevelt and the Russian commissar. As I remember it, Senator Borah, the Idaho Republican, had conducted practically a one-man campaign for Russian recognition long before Litvinov arrived. Predictions were glowing, but neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Senator Borah ever suggested that the "glowing" was going to be the sheen of flowing blood of helpless women and children and their men.

A lot of things are happening as regards this new situation. For example, the Reconstruction Finance corporation has agreed to extend a credit of $10,000,000 to the Finnish government "for the purchase of agricultural surpluses in the United States." There is talk also of using the recently remitted Finnish debt payment in some way for the aid of the stricken peoples of the only nation that has made good on repayment of money borrowed during and after the World war. We are likely to hear a great deal more about active help from this side of the Atlantic ocean because American hearts are tender but there is danger in the action that has just been taken.

Pushed Soviet Buyers Out

And Told Them to Stay Out

There is danger in that proposal, however our hearts may desire that we help the Finns. As I have so often said in these columns: it is Europe's war, and we can and must stay out of it. If we, as a nation, start helping Finland, it strikes me that somebody's face is liable to get slapped, and immediately, of course, there will be the kind of hatred arise that will drag us into the flaming cauldron. Mr. Roosevelt did an admirable job, I believe, when he placed an unofficial, but very effective, embargo on the further purchase of airplanes in this country by the Soviet. It is generally understood that a Soviet mission was wandering around this country at the time, seeking to buy hundreds of airplanes.

There is a difference in helping Finland in that manner than by extending a helping hand affirmatively. Mr. Roosevelt's action, simply stated, pushed the Soviet buyers out and told them to stay away—to go ahead, if they must, and use their army of approximately 13,000,000 against the meager 400,000 of Finns.

HELPING THE FINNS

American sympathy has been deeply touched by the plight of the Finns, says William Bruckart in his column today. Americans are eager to help. There are proper ways to help. But there are also dangerous proposals. President Roosevelt did an admirable job, says Bruckart, when he placed an unofficial but effective embargo on airplane purchases in the U. S. by the Soviets. That is action taken on our own soil. However, Senator Vandenberg's suggestion that we recall our ambassador goes beyond that. It would be fraught with war peril.

Another thing that is happening and it is taking on quite a bit of steam is the demand that the United States recall our ambassador, cut loose the diplomatic ties to the extent that withdrawing an ambassador shows disgust and disapproval.

Might Be Unwise to Recall

Our Ambassador to Russia

Recall of the ambassador has been strongly advocated by Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, who is out looking around for delegates to the Republican national convention next year. A dozen or so other Republicans have taken the same position, and the department of state and the President have been urged by numerous Democrats to show the American position in that manner. It seems unlikely that such a thing will happen, nor am I convinced that it is the wise thing to do.

Soviet officials, if they desired, could interpret such an action as amounting to a declaration of war on our part.

We have seen enough of their operations to suspect that they will do most anything which will further their own ends—things just as ridiculous as announcing to their ignorant and illiterate millions that Finland was planning to "capture" Leningrad, a great industrial city. I doubt that Mr. Roosevelt ought to recall the ambassador, but I do not see how Constantine Oumansky, the Soviet ambassador to Washington, can remain in the great and lavishly furnished embassy here with any feeling that his presence is desired by the bulk of the Americans.

But what is this Russian "defense" against Finnish "attacks" leading to? What brought it about?

The answer is that the Reds have started west. They have entertained fears, I am informed, that some nation that has been friendly with Finland was preparing eventually to use Finnish land and sea areas as a base of attack. To preclude that, so it is said, the Reds want a Baltic outlet.

That may be true, but it is not all of the truth.

Many Believe That Stalin

Double Crossed Hitler

There are many persons in official life here who believe that Stalin has double crossed Hitler, and most of us add that there is little to choose between the two. It is plain to see that Hitler's plan to seize Poland was approved by Stalin who was bought with a share. But the inside rumor is that Hitler never approved of the westward march upon which Stalin is now engaged, nor is there any ground for belief that Hitler welcomes the threats at Rumania and some of the areas to the east that are being made from the den of the Russian bear. Just as a thought, then, we hear it suggested that perhaps Stalin trapped Hitler by letting him enter Poland—that Stalin knows Hitler's hands are occupied on the French front—that the Soviet eventually may be in a position to crowd Germany by the type of persuasion given off from bombs and bayonets. I do not outline this as a fact; I toss it in here because it is the subject of military discussions and it certainly is a possibility.

Stork Habitual Visitor to Massachusetts Family

Mr. and Mrs. James Oliveri of Quincy, Mass., visited by the stork only recently, are shown with their family of 12 children. Mrs. Oliveri holds the youngest arrival, who was christened Peter. Mr. Oliveri, 36 years old, is an auto mechanic receiving $36 a week salary. Mrs. Oliveri is 32 years old. The couple has been married for 15 years.

Nazi Land Mine Hunters Draw Most Dangerous Job

The warning sign, "Minen," (mines) on the cart tells the story of this picture. A squad of German soldiers hunt land mines in a sector on the western front recovered from the French. Most dangerous job is that of pulling the cart in which recovered mines are carried. A slight mishap and it is doubtful if even the identification tag would be found. The recovered bombs which cannot be used by the finders are destroyed by Nazi marksmen—in a safe place.

Meet 'Josephine,' 900-Pound Champion

"Josephine," 900-pound three-time champion Poland China hog, gets a long drink of water from four-year-old Marlene Cattle. Josephine attracted more than her share of attention when she was entered in a Los Angeles live stock show. She weighs about 20 times as much as her diminutive caretaker, but obeys orders readily, especially if there's food in the offering.

Diaper Derby

Edward Moeller, a bachelor uncle, won the Kansas City, Mo., diaper derby recently when he bested a field of five experienced fathers, completing his task in 1:02 seconds. Reason: He used a zipper-equipped diaper in which to enclose his young but co-operative nephew, Bobby Smith.

Final Russo-German Splitup of Polish Pie

Creation of a puppet Polish state under Berlin domination is expected shortly as the final step in that doomed nation's division between Germany and Russia. Small area whose fate is still undecided probably will become a corral for German and Polish Jews, who will be forced to seek refuge there.

4-H Corn Prince

"Good seed, careful tillage and good fertilizer"—that's Raymond Kreig's recipe for championship corn. Kreig, 17-year-old Oakley, Ill., 4-H club worker, won the Corn Prince title in Chicago's nationwide contest. He produced 75 bushels of championship open pollinated yellow corn per acre on his profitable six-acre plot.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Read the labels on canned foods. Many tell the number of slices contained in the can. Others give additional useful information about the contents.

About Grapefruit.—A soft, discolored area at the stem end of a grapefruit indicates decay and decay, even in one small spot, will affect the flavor of the whole fruit.

Milk will not scorch or stick to the pan when boiling it if the saucepan is rinsed with boiling water just prior to putting in the milk.

Making Muffins.—Muffins should be mixed just enough to moisten all ingredients, but should not be stirred. Stirring develops gluten in the flour and makes the muffins elastic and tough.

Attractive Centerpiece.—A wooden salad bowl of the old-fashioned chopping variety makes an attractive centerpiece for the holiday party if it is filled with appetizers assorted. Surround the bowl with holly, pine and mistletoe sprigs.

Picking Lemons.—Lemons that have a fine-textured skin and are heavy for their size are usually of a better quality and have more juice than those that are coarse-textured and light in weight.

Protect House Plants.—Drafts of cold air or night temperatures that approach freezing handicap house plants. It is best to remove them from windows for the night.

Use for Pickle Liquid.—Liquid left over from mustard pickles is excellent to mix with chopped meat or fish and use in sandwich fillings.

Ventilate Kitchen.—The following bad air conditions in a kitchen may cause fatigue: Not enough oxygen or an excess of carbon dioxide, and the presence of carbon monoxide, excessive moisture and excessive heat. The kitchen, more than any other room, requires frequent ventilation.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT

THIS pinafore apron (1876) will be a great favorite with everybody in the sewing circle—it's the most useful kind you can have! It goes on in a jiffy—not even a sash to tie! It covers both the top and the skirt of your dress thoroughly. It won't slip off the shoulders. It has two capacious patch pockets that you will find mighty handy.

Buttons and bright piping give it a gay touch; it's prettily small at the waist and flared at the skirt. Best of all, it's so easy to make that you can turn it out in a few hours. Send for the pattern today, and make half a dozen aprons like this, so that you'll always have one ready to put on, fresh and clean. It's nice for gifts and club or church sales, too. Make it of gingham, percale, chintz or linen, in cheerful prints or plain colors.

No. 1876 is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44. Size 34 requires 2 3/4 yards of 35-inch material; 2 yards bias binding to trim.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1324, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of pattern, 15 cents (in coins).

Costly Murder Trial

The costliest murder trial of modern times was that of Sacco and Vanzetti in Boston, which started in May, 1921, and ended with their execution in August, 1927. Not only did their defense committee spend $325,000, but millions of dollars were expended throughout the world in newspaper space, mass meetings and petitions to urge clemency.—Collier's.

PENINSULA

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

One item missed last week was Rev. Felton of Petoskey, the German Lutheran minister, made several calls on the Peninsula, Monday, Dec. 11. His health is very much improved since his rest in his childhood home.

Richard Guerin arrived at the home of his step-father, Geo. Jarman at Gravel Hill, south side, Tuesday after being absent since early spring, having been in Massachusetts, his birth place, during the summer. He plans to stay all winter.

Orval Bennett was aroused Wednesday night by dogs chasing his cattle which were bedded down in his barn yard, at 1:30 o'clock. The cattle ran hither and yon, very much frightened. It took a long time in the morning to round them up.

Mrs. Orval Bennett, who has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Papineau in Boyne City since her release from the Charlevoix hospital, Nov. 29, returned to her home Saturday, Dec. 16, a great deal improved in health but still very poorly.

Miss Arlene Hayden of Pleasant View farm spent the week end with Miss Vivian Evans in East Jordan.

Mrs. W. C. Howe of Overlook farm is confined to the house with a severe cold.

Henry Johnson, who has been with the Ted Westerman family for some time went to Petoskey Saturday where he plans to spend the winter.

Mr. David Gaunt is real poorly at his home in Three Bells Dist., a victim of bronchitis in a mild form.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crowell and two children of Dave Staley Hill, west side, were Sunday supper guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gaunt and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt in Three Bells Dist.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers of Mountain Dist. were also Sunday callers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McClure, who are stopping with Mrs. McClure's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson in Boyne City, spent Friday night with their daughter, Mrs. Will Gaunt and family in Three Bells Dist.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Beyers and three sons were supper guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Faust, Friday.

There were 42 at Star Sunday School, Dec. 17, and different plans were made for the Christmas tree and program, Friday evening, Dec. 22.

Everyone is sure to have a fine time if they take the trouble to attend.

Mrs. Zola Mathews and family of Jones Dist. called on the Geo. Staley family at Stoney Ridge farm Sunday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Easton.

Mrs. Margaret McLain, who is helping the Geo. Staley family at Stoney Ridge farm, because of Mrs. Staley's illness, spent the week end with the Fred Crowell family at Dave Staley Hill, east side. Mr. and Mrs. Crowell brought her back to Staley's and spent the evening, Sunday.

Willfred Arnott has purchased the 40 acres of land of Mrs. Louisa Bracé and will start clearing it.

State Rep. D. D. Tibbits of Cherry Hill called at the Charlevoix hospital Sunday afternoon to see Miss McGhan and Mr. St. Arno who were so severely injured near Gaylord several weeks ago in a car accident in which one young lady was killed and the three other occupants injured.

Mr. Tibbits and son Donald were the first at the scene and pulled some of them out of the wreck.

Rep. D. D. Tibbits and son Donald plan to deliver a truck load of apples to Lansing, Friday, and spend Christmas with his daughters, Alberta and Edith in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Reich of Lone Ash farm returned Thursday from Detroit after visiting their sons Daniel and John A. and their families since Sunday. They also visited Mrs. Reich's brother, S. A. Hayden and family. They report the snow plows were out and farmers were using sleighs. The ground has not been really covered with snow here yet.

Mrs. Jennie McKee, who visited her niece, Mrs. Robert Myers and husband last week, was Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Healey at Willow Brook farm. After dinner they motored to Charlevoix and called on the Will Provost family. Mrs. McKee will spend a few days with the Fred Wurn family in Star, Dist.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wurn had for Sunday company their son Walter and family and daughter Mrs. Albertha Cyr and family of Boyne City.

John Knapp, who is employed at the Fred Wurn farm spent Sunday with his parents in Boyne City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loomis of Gravel Hill, north side, spent Sunday with relatives in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Faust and two younger children, Daniel and Esther, made several calls, Sunday afternoon and spent the evening with the F. K. Hayden family at Pleasant View farm and the Hayden's at Orchard Hill.

The regular fortnightly Pedro party Saturday evening was another of the very pleasant affairs which has missed but a few sessions for several years.

Proposal
Fred—Would you accept a pet monkey?
Catherine—Oh, I'll have to ask my father; this is so sudden.

Easy
Teacher—Name the four seasons.
Pupil—Pepper, salt, vinegar and mustard.

PULL AND PASTE

Acquaintance—So, Mike, you are a collector of coins now—do you collect with enthusiasm?
Highwayman—Naw—wid a gun!

War Dog Monument
In the animal cemetery at Hartsdale, N. Y., there is a monument in the form of a German shepherd dog wearing Red Cross insignia, a water bottle and leather helmet lying at his feet.

The Constitution Framers
Of the men who framed the Constitution fourteen were fifty or over, 21 were under forty. Franklin, the eldest, was eighty-one; Dayton, the youngest, was twenty-six.

Made Slaves Pray
When the Turks ruled Athens in the late Middle Ages, in times of drouth the Turks made their slaves, as being innocent victims of misfortune, pray to Heaven for rain.

Park Farthest South
Everglades National park, in Florida, is farther south than any other section of the United States and 350 miles farther south than Cairo, Egypt.

Must Understand People
"To be popular," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "it often proves necessary to understand the people without allowing them to understand you."

Fine View at Odense
From the Belveder tower in Odense, Denmark, 600 feet high, the whole island of Fyen may be surveyed on a clear day.

Tea Taster Busy Man
Since the blending of teas is an art, a tea taster, or tea expert, fills an important place in preparing tea for the market.

Try a Herald Want Ad for Results!

"This furniture store ad says: 'Let us feather your nest.'
"Don't they know feather beds are no longer used?"

Right Guy
"I like to have my employees get on well together," said the boss. "What I want is a man who'll never utter a hasty word."
The applicant smiled eagerly. "I-I-I-I-I'm y'our m-m-m-an, b-b-b-boss!" he said.

Explained
Husband—How much did you pay for that new hat?
Wife—Nothing.
Husband—How did you get it for nothing?
Wife—I told the milliner to send the bill to you.

Financial Note
Husband—I've told you before that it is economically unsound to spend your money before you get it.
Wife—I don't know. If you don't get it—at least you've got something for your money.

Ferry Good Answer
"I believe the Albany boat leaves this pier, does it not?"
"Leaves it every trip, ma'am. Never knew it to take the dock up the river yet."

A Matter of Choice
Golfer (who had just gone around in 112)—Well, how do you like my game?
Caddie—I suppose it's all right, but I still prefer golf.

Omgnous!
A man with a little black bag knocked at the front door.
"Come in, sir, come in," said the father of 14 children, "and I hope to goodness you're a piano-tuner."

Tailspin
Professor—What is the most potent poison?
Student—An airplane; one drop and you're dead!

Same Old Cry
"I understand cannibals won't eat anybody over forty."
"Youth will be served."

The Song of Christmas Time May Change But The Melody Lingers On---

WE MAY GIVE OUR CHRISTMAS GREETINGS IN DIFFERENT WORDS AND IN DIFFERENT WAYS. EACH YEAR WE SEEK TO EXPRESS OUR LOVE AND APPRECIATION FOR FAMILY AND FRIENDS IN A DIFFERENT WAY THAN WE HAVE IN CHRISTMAS PAST. IT IS A THRILL TO US TO DO SOMETHING NEW AND UNUSUAL AT CHRISTMAS. YET NO MATTER HOW DIFFERENT OUR EXPRESSIONS OF LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP MAY BE, THE FEELING BEHIND THE GIFT AND IN THE HEART OF THE RECEIVER IS AS IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN SINCE THAT FIRST CHRISTMAS SO LONG AGO WHEN THE WISE MEN BROUGHT GIFTS OF LOVE TO A BABE IN A MANGER.

WILL YOU AS PATRONS AND FRIENDS ACCEPT OUR SINCERE WISH AT THIS SEASON FOR A CHRISTMAS AND A NEW YEAR OF GOOD CHEER AND HAPPINESS?

PRACTICAL 'JOKE' CAUSES YOUTH TO HIDE 3 DECADES

Wisconsin Farm Boy Frightened by Threats; Leaves Home for 32 Years.

NEW GLARUS, WIS.—"The Swiss Who Disappeared in a Fox Hole," a tale originating in the neighborhood of New Glarus, Wis., from the experiences of Fabian Streiff, who died three years ago, is now included in the state historical society's collection of Wisconsin legends, writes a correspondent to the Milwaukee Journal.

The popular version of Streiff's absence for 32 years from his New Glarus home, terminating upon his return in 1915, starts with a hunting trip. Streiff is supposed to have crawled into a fox hole after one of the animals. Unable to get out again, he wandered through a labyrinth of caves. Days later he came out on the hills overlooking the Wisconsin river near its confluence with the Mississippi. Dazed from his experience, he could not find his way back home.

What actually happened to Streiff is a story that almost "outfables" the fable. The facts were pieced together by Fred and Peter Streiff, New Glarus cousins of Fabian, with whom he lived for years after his return.

Their version is that Fabian Streiff, as a young man, was shy and timid. In 1893 he hired out to a farmer two miles across the hills from his home. He would walk home each week-end to spend Sunday with his family.

Carrying an ancient hunting gun, Streiff stopped in New Glarus on his way home one day. Here he met some practical jokers who threatened to kill him.

As Streiff plodded on from New Glarus the threats haunted him. Fearing to go home, he decided to hide in the woods. That night, clutching his gun close to him, he slept under some brush. The next day he continued westward.

Several days later when his employer missed him, Streiff was hunted by large searching parties, but no trace was found of him. Out of a maze of conjectures, the fox-hole fable grew and spread.

Streiff, however, his shoulder rubbed raw from his heavy gun and the fear of death hounding him, wandered into Illinois. At Savannah, Ill., he obtained work on a farm as a hired man. For 32 years he worked there, receiving no salary and only tobacco and the simplest wearing apparel.

In 1915, Streiff, afraid of his employer, stole away from the farm with his cumbersome gun over his shoulder and a pathetic bundle under his arm. He had a vague idea of returning to New Glarus, but his wanderings took him south. Weak from fatigue and hunger, he was found by a Morrison, Ill., farmer, who wrote to the New Glarus postmaster. The letter was forwarded to Streiff's cousins, as all his immediate family had died or moved away. The "lost Swiss" was definitely identified and taken back to New Glarus. His relatives brought legal action against the Savannah farmer and obtained $6,000 as wages for his 32 years of work.

Installment Jail Terms Given Salem Offenders

SALEM, OHIO.—You can't get drunk on the installment plan, but you can pay your fine and serve a jail sentence that way in Salem.

Mayor George Harroff, who assesses each drunken driver a fine of $100 and costs and a 30-day jail sentence, is the author of the installment system.

If he can't collect the $100 right away, he arranges for payments. If the defendant motorist is working every day, the mayor allows him to serve his time on week-ends.

Still others, whose employment is not so regular, come to jail in the morning, and are released in the evening to come back the next day until the 30 days are up.

Burglar Appreciative, Gets 1-10-Year Term

FORT WAYNE, IND.—A polite burglar told Judge Harry H. Hingemann he "appreciated everything that has been done for me here," before Judge Hingemann sentenced him to one to ten years on charges of entering a house to commit a felony.

The burglar blamed his crime on a nervous disorder, saying that "the first thing I know I wake up and find I have broken into somebody's house."

Judge Hingemann said he believed one of the best cures available for that could be found in the State prison hospital.

Huge Owl Flies Away With Feet in Traps

GEORGETOWN, DEL.—His hen house raided regularly, George Warrington, poultry grower at near-by Indian River, placed two steel traps near the door of the coops, only to find the traps missing the following morning.

Later, Carter Markham shot a large bird in a field bordering on Warrington's property. He found it to be an owl with a four foot, seven inch wingspread, and with a steel trap fastened to each foot. The traps were Warrington's.

Nebraska Carpenter

Builds Own Coffin

LITCHFIELD, NEB.—The surviving relatives of Alva Lang, Litchfield carpenter, have been spared the necessity and expense of purchasing a coffin for him when he dies. Lang already has made his coffin, which he keeps in his home.

Occasionally he crawls into the coffin to see if the fit is just right.

WOMAN LOSES VOICE SHOUTING; REGAINS IT

Speech Returns to Bystander Who Saved Child.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Mrs. Homer L. Pearce, 34 years old, who lost her voice when she screamed a warning to save a child's life in 1933, was able to talk again today through the aid of a psychiatrist.

Mrs. Pearce saw a three-year-old boy toddling across a street, a truck bearing down upon him, one day five years ago. She screamed and the child scampered safely back to the sidewalk. When she tried to speak, her voice was gone.

Physicians told her she was suffering from aphonia and psychic loss of speech, and that an expensive operation would be necessary to restore her voice. She decided to communicate her thoughts by writing and by teaching members of her family to read her lips.

This week she entered a hospital for removal of an abscess. Dr. John Lyon, an expert in psychiatry, learned of her loss of speech and confirmed the earlier diagnosis that she had suffered aphonia.

He administered sodium amytal, a drug which dulls the conscious mind. Then he directed her to clear her throat. She tried and succeeded, then coughed as he directed. He suggested other sounds and she responded. Day by day he repeated the treatment.

Today Dr. Lyon stood by her bed and asked: "How do you feel, now?" "Just fine, doctor, fine!" It was the first sentence she had spoken in five years.

Rush Starts When Gold Is Found in Old Shoe

PARIS.—A little town in Brittany, Priziac, became the scene of a recent small-scale "gold rush" when a farmer discovered an old shoe filled with gold coins.

The shoe hit against his plow, which suddenly started unearthing a furrow of gold coins dating from 1860 to 1891. Before the farmer could have his property protected, his fields and those surrounding his land, were being spaded by all ages and all walks of life.

The digging was fruitless. The only gold found was represented in the coins, believed to have been buried there by a burglar who robbed a peddler 60 years ago in that region and then died in prison without revealing the hiding place of his loot.

Parched Garden of Eden Will Be Watered Again

LONDON.—The Garden of Eden is to blossom again. British soldiers who fought in Mesopotamia during the war remember this famous garden as an inferno of heat and sandstorms; but irrigation is at last to bring it under cultivation. Tradition places it on both sides of the Gharraf river between the Tigris and the Euphrates, and its desolation has been due to the fact that the Gharraf gets no water except when the Tigris is in flood.

Now that the Iraq government has completed its Kut barrage scheme, the flood waters of the Tigris can be stored and a constant flow maintained into the Gharraf. The barrage itself is 1,500 feet long with 56 sluice gates to control the Tigris.

War Bonnet of Red Cloud Is in Indian Collection

PAINESVILLE, OHIO.—For half a century Tom Flynn has spent his summer vacations roaming through the West in search of material for his "one-man Indian museum."

Flynn, now a retired railroad man and keen-eyed as an Indian scout, has a collection of Indian relics and mementos worth more than $10,000 in a small frame "museum" in the backyard of his home.

Paintings in the collection were done by "Old Ted" Mahto, nephew of Sitting Bull.

His proudest possession is a war bonnet once owned by Red Cloud, famous Sioux chief.

Mysterious Old Estate

Sanctuary for Animals
LONDON.—On a centuries old estate near Frome all kinds of animals roam unmolested.

By decree of the owner, no animal may be killed in Marston park, which has become a place of mystery.

The magnificent mansion which stands in the center of 400 acres of woodland has been deserted for many years. Once beautiful lawns and gardens, now grown high with weeds, are infested with rabbits.

Villagers tell strange tales of wild horses, whose hoofs have grown over until they turn up in front and cows of fantastic proportions.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

The chief charm of Christmas lies in its simplicity. It appeals to all because we all can share in it and enjoy a fellowship that pervades all common life. That simplicity has glorified the coming of children to the home; made beautiful growing childhood; sanctified motherhood; brought brightness and beauty, glory and gladness to the whole circle of life and duty.

Let us count our blessings and rejoice that we live in a country where Christmas is a reality. It is our prayer that your cup of joy may be full, and your happiness complete in this yuletide.

"CHRISTMAS GOASTS" — A DELIGHTFUL SHORT STORY

The well-known writer, Christine Jope-Slade, has written a fascinating tale, illustrated in color and to be found complete in The American Weekly with the December 24 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times which relates romantic experiences of four ultramodern young people who agreed to spend the Yuletide in the phantom-ridden cottage to prove it wasn't haunted. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times.

It isn't the load that breaks us down, it's the way we carry it. Empty stomachs are dangerous things.

The Christmas Star

No man-made "blackouts" of savagery and conquest can long obscure the eternal light that shines down from on High. In millions of homes — even those surrounded by War's darkness — sheltering hands are cupping the feeble candle-gleams of Love, Hope, and Faith from the fierce blasts of Paganism and intolerance. Peace on earth, good will toward men, is God's idea, and His ideas must always prevail. We hope that the Christmas radiance may shine deeply into your home and heart at this season, and throughout the new year.

CHAPTER XII—Continued

"Baldy," Evans said, "I don't agree with you that it was—the money. That may have helped in her decision. But I think she cares—"

"For Towne—nonsense."

"It isn't nonsense. She knows nothing of love. She may have taken the shadow for the substance. And he can be very—charming." It wrung his heart to say it. But almost with clairvoyance he saw the truth.

When they returned to the house Baldy found a message from Edith. He was to call her up.

"Uncle Frederick has just told me," she said, "that Jane is to be my aunt. Isn't it joyful?"

"I'm not sure."

"Why not?"

"Oh, Towne's all right. But not for Jane."

"I see. But he's really in love with her, poor old duck. Talked about it all through dinner. He's going to try awfully hard to make her happy."

"Then you approve?"

He heard her gay laugh over the wire. "It will be nice—to have you—in the family. I'll be your niece-in-law."

"You'll be nothing of the kind."

"You can't help being—Uncle Baldy. Isn't that—delicious? And now, will you come in tonight and sit by my fire? Uncle Frederick is out."

"I've sat too often by your fire."

"Too often for your own peace of mind? I know that. And I'm glad of it." Again he heard a ripple of laughter.

"It isn't a thing to laugh at."

She hesitated, then said in a different tone, "I am not laughing. But I want you by my fire tonight."

It was late when Evans went upstairs. He had spent the evening with his mother, discussing with her some matters where his legal knowledge helped. They did not speak of Jane. Their avoidance of the subject showed their preoccupation with it. But neither dared approach it.

On the bedside table in Evans' room lay the valentine he had bought for Jane. There it was, with its cupids and bleeding hearts—its forget-me-nots—and golden darts.

Arthur Lane and Sandy talked it over. "I wonder what has happened. He looks dreadful."

The two boys were on their way to Castle Manor. They wanted books. Evans' library was a treasure-house for youthful readers. It had all the old adventuring tales. And Evans had read everything. He would simply walk up to a shelf, lay his hand on a book, and say, "Here's one you'll like." And he was never wrong.

But of late, Evans Follette had met them with an effort. "Look for yourselves," he had said, when they asked for books, and had sat staring into the fire. And he had not urged them to stay. His manner had been kind but inattentive. They were puzzled and a little hurt. "I feel sorta queer when he acts that way," Sandy was saying, "as if he didn't take any interest. I don't even know whether he wants us any more."

Arthur refused to believe his hero inhospitable. "It's just that he's got things on his mind."

They reached the house and rang the bell. Old Mary let them in. "He's in the library," she said, and they went towards it. The door was open and they entered. But the room was empty.

That morning Baldy had had a letter from Jane and had handed it to Evans. It was the first long letter since her engagement to Towne. Baldy had written to his sister, flammily, demanding to know if she were really happy. And she had said:

"I shall be when Judy is better. That is all I can think of just now. Her life is hanging in the balance. We can never be thankful enough that we got the specialist when we did. He had found the trouble. The question now is whether she will have the strength for another operation. When she gets through with that! Well, then I'll talk to you, darling. I hardly know how I feel. The days are so whirling. Mr. Towne has been more than generous. If the little I can give him will repay him, then I must give it, dearest. And it won't be hard. He is so very good to me."

And now this letter had come after Towne's second visit:

"Baldy, dear, I am very happy. And I want you to set your mind at rest. I am not marrying Mr. Towne for what he has done for us all, but because I love him. Please believe it. You can't understand what he has been to me in these dark days. I have learned to know how kind he is—and how strong. I haven't a care in the world when he is here, and everything is so—marvellous. You should see my ring—a great sapphire, Baldy, in a square of diamonds. He is crazy to buy things for me, but I won't let him. I will take things for Judy but not for myself. You can see that, of course. I just go everywhere with him in my cheap little frocks, to the theaters and to all the great restaurants, and we have the most delectable things to eat. It is really great fun."

Since he had heard the news of Jane's approaching marriage, Evans had lived in a dream. The people about him had seemed shadow-shapes. He had walked and talked with them, remembering nothing afterward but his great weariness. He had eaten his meals at stated times, and had not known what he was eating. He had gone to his office, and behind closed doors had sat at his desk, staring.

And now this letter! "You see what she says," Baldy had raged. "Of course she isn't in love with him. But she thinks she is. There's nothing more that I can do."

Evans had taken the letter to the library to read. He was alone, except for Rusty, who had limped after him and laid at his feet.

She loved—Towne. And that settled it. "I am marrying Mr. Towne because I love him." Nothing could be plainer than that. Baldy might protest. But the words were there.

As Evans sat gazing into the fire, he saw her as she had so often been in this old room—as a child, sprawled on the hearth-rug over some entrancing book from her shelves, swinging her feet on the edge of a table while he bragged of his athletic prowess; leaning over war-maps, while he pointed out the fields of fighting; curled up in a corner on the couch while he read to her—"Oh, silver shrine, here will I take my rest . . ."

He could stand his thoughts no longer. Without hat or heavy coat, he stepped through one of the long windows and into the night.

As he walked on in the darkness, he had no knowledge of his destination. He swept on and on, pursued by dreadful thoughts.

On and on through the blackness. . . No moon . . . a wet wind blowing . . . on and on . . .

He came to a bridge which crossed a culvert. No water flowed under it. But down the road which led through the Glen was another bridge, and beneath it a deep, still pool.

With the thought of that deep and quiet pool came momentary relief from the horrors which had hounded him. It would be easy. A second's struggle. Then everything over. Peace. No fears. No dread of the future . . .

It seemed a long time after, that, leaning against the buttress of the bridge, he heard, with increasing clearness, the sound of boys' voices in the dark.

He drew back among the shadows. It was Sandy and Arthur. Not three feet away from him—passing.

"Well, of course, Mr. Follette is just a man," Sandy was saying.

"Maybe he is," Arthur spoke earnestly, "but I don't know. There's something about him—"

He paused.

"Go on," Sandy urged.

"Well, something"—Arthur was struggling to express himself, "splendid. It shines like a light—"

Their brisk footsteps left the bridge, and were dulled by the dirt road beyond. Sandy's response was inaudible. A last murmur, and then silence.

Evans was swept by a wave of emotion; his heart, warm and alive, began to beat in the place where there had been frozen emptiness.

"Something splendid—that shines like a light!"

"I can't stand much excitement."

Years afterward he spoke of this moment to Jane. "I can't describe it. It was a miracle—their coming. As much of a miracle as that light which shone on Paul as he rode to Damascus. The change within me was absolute. I was born again. All the old fears slipped from me like a garment. I was saved, Jane, by those boys' voices in the dark."

The next day was Sunday. Evans called up Sandy and Arthur and invited them to supper. "Old Mary said you were here last night, and didn't find me. I've a book or two for you. Can you come and get them? And stay to supper. Miss Towne will be here and her uncle."

The boys could not know that they were asked as a shield and buckler in the battle which Evans was fighting. It seemed to him that he could not meet Frederick Towne. Yet it had been, of course, the logical thing to ask him. Edith had invited herself, and Towne had, of course, much to tell about Jane.

Evans, therefore, with an outward effect of tranquility, played the host. After supper, however, he took the boys with him to the library.

On the table lay a gray volume. He opened it and showed the Cruikshank illustrations.

"I've been reading this. It's great stuff."

"Oh, Pilgrim's Progress," said Sandy; "do you like it?"

"Yes," Evans leaned above the book where it lay open under the light, and started to read to them.

That night Evans found out for the first time something about his mother. "You look tired, dearest," he had said, when their guests were gone, and he and she had come into the great hall together.

"I am tired." She sat down on an old horsehair sofa. "I can't stand much excitement. It makes me feel like an old lady."

"You'll never grow old." He felt a deep tenderness for her in this moment of confessed weakness. She had always been so strong. Had refused to lean. She had, in fact, taken from him his son's prerogative of protectiveness.

"You'd better see Hallam," Evans said.

"I've seen him."

"What did he say?"

"My heart—"

He looked at her in alarm. "Mother! Why didn't you tell me?"

"What was the use? There's nothing to be worried about. Only he says I must not push myself."

"I am worried. Let me look after the men in the morning early. That will give you an extra nap."

"Oh, I won't do it, Evans. You have your work."

"It won't hurt me. And I am going to boss you around a bit." He stooped and kissed her. "You are too precious to lose, Mumsey."

She clung to him. "What would I do without you, my dear?"

He helped her up the stairs. And as she climbed slowly, his arm about her, he thought of that dark moment by the bridge.

If those young voices had not come to him in the night, this loving soul might have been stricken and made desolate; left alone in her time of greatest need.

CHAPTER XIII

Once more the Washington papers had headlines that spoke of Delafield Simms. He had married a stenographer in Frederick Towne's office. And it was Towne's niece that he had deserted at the altar.

And most remarkable of all, Edith Towne had been at the wedding. It

Great Lakes Shrinking; Geologists Do Not Agree

That in the comparatively recent past our Great Lakes were much larger than they are today is no secret. And indications that the recession is continuing are easily discoverable. But just how rapidly the outlines and levels of the lakes change is another matter, and some reports made by two men from the University of Michigan invite attention to this somewhat important question, says Detroit Free Press.

Recently Dr. E. G. Greenman, archeologist, uncovered on Great Cloche island in the Georgian bay region the evidences of a great gathering of Indians at a spot which was then on the beach of the lake. But this same spot is 28 feet higher than the present beach.

Estimating that the water table has been falling for some thousands of years at the rate of a foot in from 38 to 50 years, Dr. George M. Stanley after studying the site believes the Red Men held their pow-wow and feast somewhere between 500 and 800 A. D.

However, all geologists are not in agreement regarding the rate at which the great lakes have been receding, and the estimate of one conservative savant would put the gathering back about 3,500 years, which would be in the neighborhood of 1600 B. C.

The difference in estimates seems in considerable degree to be a difference of opinion about the steadiness of the rate of recession. And it is quite understandable that the shrinkage may have been much more rapid just after the glaciers melted and the lake outlets were numerous and bigger than today.

Another point that needs to be taken into account is the changing tilt of some of the shoreline.

There are strong indications that not so long ago the land in the vicinity of the Straits of Mackinac, for example, was definitely lower than it is today, perhaps because the compression caused by the weight of the big glaciers still remained. And there also are indications that the land levels at the southern end of Lake Michigan were higher.

Certainly we know that lands have emerged at the Straits and have been engulfed in the regions near Chicago.

So how much of the rise of the shore at Grand Cloche and other places is due to lake shrinkage and how much is the result of the elasticity of earth which has been relieved of a great weight is quite a question. Indeed, it's the uncertainty about all this that makes the subject fascinating.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Britain has an unusual and difficult task in carrying out its decision to bar German exports from the seas. It puts this undertaking in the hands of a man who gained fame by making a diligent study of enemy exports when convicts burned Dartmouth prison and exported 300 from their ranks in 1932.

He is Sir Hubert du Parc, judge of the High Court of Justice, and now chairman of the enemy exports committee, which, in view of neutral protest and somewhat confused precedent for such action, may be steering a difficult course. For reasons which did not appear in inadequate press accounts here, Sir Hubert's inquiry into the Dartmouth prison break brought him great national acclaim, and, soon thereafter, he was both knighted and raised to the high bench.

The savage outbreak made England a bit jittery, as such occurrences are rare there. Sir Hubert, a penologist as well as a lawyer and judge, is a stern symbol of authority, a strict interpreter of the law, and he found and discountenanced evidences of "coddling" the convicts as a possible cause of the mutiny. He recommended a stouter jail and more watchful keepers. In his report, he stressed the fact that, just before the outbreak, the governor of the prison had said to the prisoners, "I am sorry that the porridge at yesterday's breakfast was not up to the usual standard." That, thought Sir Hubert, was surely taken as a sign of timidity and might well have caused the break. After that Sir Hubert became a bulwark of the empire.

Taking his master's degree at Oxford, he won honors in the classics. He was president of the Oxford Union in 1902. He became a highly successful lawyer and politician, and, as a judge, the strict legal constructionist which the British traditionally like. Lawyers could find no holes in his decisions.

SCARCELY a day passes without new evidence that Stephen T. Early, White House secretary, has become a new and authoritative voice of the government. His direct and emphatic discourse, on matters too delicate perhaps, under present conditions, for the usual frank presidential press conference, has moved Mr. Early into the right-hand post of the late Louis Howe and the Washington scribes are writing him down as the most important person in the executive offices, next to the President.

Born into an old Confederate family of Crozet, Va., Mr. Early became a Washington correspondent. He received the "silver star" citation for bravery in the World war, returned to newspaper work in Washington, and, immediately after the war, established the long friendship with Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the allegiance of years which has carried him up each plateau of the Rooseveltian rise.

When President Harding was dying in San Francisco, he slipped down a hotel fire escape and had the news of the President's death on the wire seven minutes before the physician's bulletin appeared. He is thus given to acting on impulse, and, as a poker player, he never played close to his vest. Now he does, say the Washington correspondents, tight-lipped and cagey, and speaking "not as the scribes and Pharisees, but as one having authority."

CAUGHT in the ruck of the Russian revolution was a 17-year-old girl, playing the piano with swollen and half-frozen fingers, taking her turn in the bread lines, sometimes from times from the afternoon until 10 o'clock the next morning. Today, she is Madame Ania Dorfmann, Arturo Toscanini's guest soloist at a recent New York concert, as another savage upheaval shakes the world.

The years between have made her a world-famous pianist. In 1920, she escaped to Constantinople. Thereafter she was never ragged or hungry. She is small, merry, blue-eyed and dark-haired and was Dorothy Thompson's choice as the "perfect party guest."

Her home is in Madison avenue, New York city. "Music," she says, "is a holding force." Hers has held through epic stress and strain.

Patchwork Border For Luncheon Cloth

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THE new uses for crazypatch stitches in Sewing Book 3 have aroused so much interest that it set us to thinking of smart new ways to use pieced quilt block designs. This border pieced of small patterned cotton prints of all kinds and colors put together with red and blue strips is the result. It is very striking and decorative for luncheon cloth shown here which, by the way, is made of unbleached muslin bags. The seams where the bags are joined to make the cloth the desired size are covered with straight 1-inch bands of the red and blue material as shown at the right.

The diagram at the lower left shows you how to make a pattern for the blue, red and print pieces. Cut a triangle of stiff paper 4 1/2 inches high and 7 inches wide at the base. Mark the blue strip 1 inch wide along the left edge as shown and then the red strip joining it on the right edge. Now cut away the top and lower right corners as shown. Cut the red, blue and print sections apart and use them for patterns in cutting the fabric pieces adding 1/4-inch seam at all edges.

NOTE: Readers who are now using Sewing Books No. 1, 2 and 3 will be happy to learn that No. 4 is ready for mailing; as well as the 10-cent editions of No. 1, 2 and 3. Mrs. Spears has just made quilt block patterns for three designs selected from her favorite Early American quilts. You may have these patterns FREE with your order for four books. Price of books—10 cents each postpaid. Set of three quilt block patterns without books—10 cents. Send orders to Mrs. Spears, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—all to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, feeling nervous, anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

FESTIVE TRIUMPH FOR CHILDREN'S PARTY

(See Recipes Below)

Children Need Parties Too

With all the holiday festivities for grown folks and for older sisters and brothers, it's not strange that the youngest members of the family beg for a party, too!

Children's parties must be colorful, the entertainment simple, and the refreshments very light. If the party is to be a success (and why give one if it isn't?) the activities of the youngsters must be wisely directed from the moment they arrive, until they leave.

Choose, to direct the entertainment, the wisest, jolliest, child-loving adult you know. Plan games that are simple, and make sure that all the children are included. Remember, too, that children weary quickly of any one activity, so plan a variety of games and get the new one under way before interest in the old one vanishes.

Party refreshments, of course, must be geared to the age of the guests. If they are very young, it's a good idea to serve the feast at the end of the party, so that it takes the place of the regular evening meal.

Decorate the table with snapping crackers, colored balloons, and peppermint canes to give a really festive setting for the occasion.

When Five and Six-Year Olds Get Together

Special Peanut Butter Sandwiches
Raw Carrot Strips
Peppermint Stick Tapioca Cream
Cocoa

Peppermint Stick Tapioca Cream.

(Serves 8)

2 egg yolks
4 cups milk
1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 red cinnamon candies, crushed
peppermint sticks, or crushed clear fruit-flavored candies
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites

Mix egg yolk with small amount of milk in top of double boiler.

Add quick-cooking tapioca, candies, salt and remaining milk. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 10 to 12 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Remove from fire. (Tapioca will be well distributed throughout, but mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Beat egg white until just stiff enough to hold shape. Fold hot tapioca mixture gradually into egg white. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools. Chill. Serve in sherbet glasses. Garnish with whipped cream and colored candies.

Special Peanut Butter Sandwiches.

(Makes 1 cup filling)

1 ripe banana
1 cup peanut butter
1/4 cup dates (cut fine)
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Mash banana with a fork and thoroughly blend in remaining ingredients. Use between slices of whole wheat bread.

Orange Ice.

1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups water
1 teaspoon gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
2 cups orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon orange extract

Make a syrup of the sugar and water and boil for five minutes. Remove from fire and add gelatin, which has been softened in cold water. Stir until the gelatin is entirely dissolved and then add fruit juices and flavoring extracts, and pour into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator. Turn cold control to lowest temperature for rapid freezing. Stir three times at half-hour intervals after the ice has begun to freeze. When almost frozen, place the mixture in a chilled bowl and beat with a rotary egg beater; then return to tray and complete the freezing.

Little Silver Cakes.
3/4 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
2 3/4 cups cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 egg whites

Cream the shortening, add the sugar, and beat well. Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt; add alternately with the milk and vanilla. Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold into the cake. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 15 to 20 minutes.

Grilled Bacon Sandwiches.
Remove crusts from slices of bread and toast bread on one side only. Spread untoasted side with peanut butter and top with slices of bacon. Preheat broiler to 350 degrees. Place sandwiches on broiler rack, 3 1/2 inches from flame. Broil until bacon is crisp and brown, approximately 7 minutes. Serve very hot.

Sugared Doughnuts.

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons shortening (melted)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 1/2 to 3 cups cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Beat the eggs until light. Add sugar slowly and continue beating until foamy. Add melted shortening and vanilla extract. Mix and sift two cups of flour and all the other dry ingredients and fold into the egg mixture. Add just enough more flour to make a soft dough which can be handled. Roll on lightly floured board and place dough out to 3/4-inch thickness. Cut, and fry in deep fat (370 degrees) and drain on unglazed paper.

Hot Spiced Cider.

2 quarts cider
1 cup brown sugar
1 six-inch stick cinnamon
6 whole cloves
1 teaspoon allspice

Add spices and sugar to cider, place in kettle and let simmer over heat (not boil) for 15 minutes. Strain and serve hot in small glasses. Add a little grated nutmeg.

Stands for Vegetables.

To be sure, we all know that vegetables in one form or another are an important part of the diet. But when you're confronted with the problem of getting Junior to eat his carrots, just how will you get around that? Next week I'll give you my suggestions for solving that particular problem. Be sure and watch for them in this column next week.

Electric Outlets Needed For Kitchen Efficiency

When electric outlets are being planned in a new house for lamps, clocks, and radios, the kitchen is often neglected. In reality, it has more uses for plugs than any other room.

Without reasonable limits, there cannot be too many appliance outlets in the kitchen. In this room electricity is used both for lighting and for motivating power. Consumption of current varies widely with kitchen appliances, and special attention should be given to the load the outlet is expected to carry.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 1:18-25; 18:1-6; 19:13-15. GOLDEN TEXT—A little child shall lead them.—Isaiah 11:6.

The children's holiday! Yes, Christmas is the children's day of days, and it is also the day for those who have been "converted and become as little children" (Matt. 18:3). It is quite proper that it should be so, for Christmas really means nothing very significant except as we gather at Bethlehem's manger and there we find a child, the Christ-child. Those who come on the morrow to do homage to Him in the spirit of childlike faith will truly keep Christmas. In that spirit the writer of these notes wishes for you who read these lines just that kind of a joyous day of joy and gladness.

Let us then go first of all to Bethlehem, and there having seen the One who "became flesh and dwelt among us" as a little child, we shall be ready to go on and learn from Him what a blessed example, responsibility, and opportunity there is in the childhood which we see all around us.

I. The Child—Jesus Our Saviour (Matt. 1:18-25).

The virgin mother Mary "brought forth her firstborn son" and "called his name Jesus"—the one who should "save his people from their sins" (vv. 21, 25). In order that He might be the Saviour, He had to be both God and man. This could only be true as God sent His only-begotten Son into the world by giving to Him a human mother in whom He as the eternal Son of God was "conceived by the Holy Ghost" (as we express it in the creed) and became the Son of Man.

For anyone who believes that God has all power and all wisdom to do what He wills and as He wills, and who further believes that Christ was pre-existent as the Son of God before His incarnation, there is no difficulty in believing in the virgin birth. In fact, no other manner of incarnation would have been possible. It necessarily follows that the one who denies the virgin birth of Christ thereby declares that He does not believe in the God of the Scriptures and in Jesus Christ His Son our Lord.

II. The Child—Our Example (18:14).

The disciples had been having a discussion about who was to be the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. This was not because they desired their "brothers' advancement, for each one wanted to be the greatest" (Luke 9:46).

Jesus frankly told them that they needed a real change of heart, a conversion. True greatness is not a matter of worldly position or ambition, but of a childlike humility. Such an idea was absolutely revolutionary in the day of Jesus, and in fact sounds unbelievable to the worldly man today. But it is nonetheless true that the great man or woman is the one who knows and recognizes himself to be utterly dependent on God in every moment, every circumstance, every trial, and in every opportunity of life. We need to learn of our children.

III. The Child—Our Responsibility (18:5, 6).

These awful, solemn words should be considered with great care. What a terrible judgment awaits those who cause little ones to stumble by reason of their false teaching, their failure to bring God's Word to bear upon their lives, improper discipline in the home, or the influence of a bad example. There are probably preachers, teachers in the Sunday School, grandparents, uncles, aunts, mothers, fathers, yes, even friends of little children who need to reread these verses and then cry out to God in repentance before it is too late.

IV. The Child—Our Opportunity (19:13-15).

Jesus knew the real value of a child and His loving heart reached out to invite the children to come unto Him in love, in obedience, and in trust. When they came, He never failed to bless them.

The glorious thing is that we are privileged to thus bring little children to Him. Someone may say, "Jesus is no longer on earth," and not take my child to Him." Jesus is not here in the flesh, but He is here ever present with His children. You can bring your child to Him, for the coming which He has in mind in these verses is not in any physical sense but rather spiritual. The parents who teach their little ones about the birth of Christ on this Christmas day have brought them to Him. Every word of instruction, every encouragement to pray, every example of devotion to Christ which the child may follow is the true bringing of that child to Him.

Will you do it this Christmas—in the home, in the Sunday School, in the church, anywhere? If you do, there will be blessing beyond your ability to contain it and you will have

A Blessed Christmas!

Bolero and Princess Types Compete for Style Prestige

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

NO MATTER the elegance of fabric, no matter the color glory of the material, no matter the perfection of detail, no matter whether it cost a plenty or less if your dress or your coat or your suit be not figure flattering then all is lost insofar as allure or smart appearance is concerned. Yes, indeed, we are hearing a lot these days about "lines" and "hips," wasp waists and the new corseted silhouettes.

From the figure-flattering standpoint there are two types that stand out definitely in the mode this season, namely the bolero costume and the form-fitting dresses and coats that are cut a la princess. The difference between the two is that the dress or suit with a bolero possesses the magic to make figures that are not a hundred per cent perfect look up to par, while to wear a princess successfully one really must have a good figure.

If in doubt, there is no safer, saner choice than a bolero ensemble. To define the bolero theme is a big order, for it expresses itself in infinite moods ranging from tailored types made of utilitarian wools to afternoon types started with sequins or more or less embroidered even unto whimsical affairs that are all aglitter with jeweled embroidery, ostrich trim, filmy lace that tones to formal evening wear.

Most practical is the tailored bolero dress or suit made of a sheer wool weave or of a silk-and-rayon or bengaline. Such a dress-with-bolero or skirt and bolero will prove the better part of a wardrobe without itself. You can wear different blouses and change the entire appearance of your costume from day to day. The suit may be simply tailored or the bolero can be handsomely all-over braided.

At the smartest places you see bolero costumes similar to the model pictured to the left in the group. Sheer wool or silk crepe in a chosen pastel tone, a skirt rippling to a wide swirling hemline, a blouse that looks like a froth of tinted lace, a bolero that bespeaks youth in its every line thus the story of this charming costume is told. The lace blouse worn with this bolero twosome reminds us that the forward coming from fashion headquarters is that the dainty lace-trimmed or all-of-lace blouse is scheduled to reach a new high in fashion next spring.

Princess coats and dresses are all the style this winter. In coats the classic double-breasted form-fitting princess type of wool coating or richly colorful tweed is an acknowledged favorite. As to the princess dress, style-alert debutantes and girls of high school age have fallen in love with the simple classic such as is centered in the illustration.

Describing this model, it is a black bengaline coat dress, suitable to wear from morn to night. The form-fitting princess lines are cut with purpose to achieve the chic skirt fullness that develops a wide flaring hemline. The dress is further styled with sailor collar and a row of gold buttons at the front closing.

If you are young, slim, svelte and alertly fashion-conscious, tie a ribbon in your hair and wear a form-fitting princess dress like the one pictured to the right in the group. Buttons down the front make this model do the most for the typical junior figure. The gored, hemmed skirt flares gaily. And the four little embroidered and edged in val-type cotton lace pockets!

Sequin-Trimmed

Sequins flash at you from the most unexpected places this season, the latest idea being to trim the black jersey frock in glittering bands done in white and gold sequins as you see pictured. The gown has the new long sleeves, a high neck and open back that buttons only at neckline and waistline. These new "coverup" fashions are the smartest of the season. Note that the fullness is brought to the front in the skirt.

Call for Glitter

Brings Up Metals

In harmony with the call for glitter in fashions this winter is the return to favor of metal weaves for dinner gowns for cocktail frocks, and especially smart is the blouse of rich lame to be worn with the velvet afternoon suit or with the long formal skirt at evening functions.

Milliners report a big demand for exotic looking turbans of metal cloth draped in oriental fashion, these to match the gowns or blouses or jackets with which they are worn. These flattering turbans look stunning with winter furs and women who like to dress for occasion are playing up the idea of the metal-draped turban for all it is worth.

Metal jackets that button with jeweled buttons are desirable for evening wear.

Bright red triumphs in the color realm. Bright red for your hat, your scarf, and a spectacular turn of affairs is bright red gloves worn with your dark furs.

Bright red jackets top dark skirts day and evening, the more formal ones scintillating with glittering embroidery. Young girls love the new long red capes or coats if you prefer, that are so swank for evening wear. Sometimes brass buttons add to their glory.

Corduroy and Wool

Bright corduroy and printed wool are combined in a comfortable ankle-length dinner dress for informal dining at home.

Mantlet

Mantlet is the newest name for the waist length evening jackets of fur with attached hoods.

Our Thoughts

Every thought and feeling is a painting stroke, in the darkness, of our likeness that is to be; and our whole life is but a chamber, which we are frescoing with colors that do not appear while being laid on wet, but which will shine forth afterwards, when finished and dry.—Henry Ward Beecher.

3 simple steps begin amazing relief in a jiffy

1. To relieve headache, body discomfort, aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a glass of water. Repeat in 2 hours.

2. For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in 1/2 glass of water and gargle.

3. Check temperature, if you have a fever and temperature does not go down—call your doctor.

Just be sure you get genuine fast-acting BAYER Aspirin.

At the first sign of a cold, follow the directions in the picture above—the simplest and among the most effective methods of relief known to modern science.

So quickly does Bayer Aspirin "take hold" of painful cold symptoms, welcome relief you can really feel often starts in a short time. It's amazing how fast it works.

Try this way. You will say it is unequalled. But be sure you get the fast-acting Bayer product you want. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name when you buy.

Christmas Carols

The singing of carols at Christmas time is one of our oldest and best customs. The carols express in words and in melody what we feel in our hearts during the Christmas season but is otherwise hard to express. The singing of "Peace and Good Will" go deeper into the heart than mere words alone could make them do.

When we wish for you joy ever abiding, Peace and Happiness, we hope we will strike a responsive note in your hearts as though it were sung. We solicit your patronage during 1940.

Crimson's Drop Second Conference

GAME AT GAYLORD LAST WEDNESDAY, RESERVES WIN

Coach Abe Cohn's Crimsons dropped its second conference game in as many starts at Gaylord last Wednesday evening as they were set back on their heels 19 to 14 by Coach George Brotherton's Blue and Gold. Gaylord came from behind in the final stanza, after trailing the first three periods. East Jordan got away to a 2 to lead at close of the opening period on a rebound shot by Isaman, who returned to his regular center berth after being out of action for two weeks with a leg injury sustained in the Cannors tilt. The score at the halftime and three quarter marker still showed the Jordanites out front 8 to 7 and 11 to 9 respectively. Fessler, Gaylord guard broke into the open twice early in the last period and both times cashed in on field goals, which broke down the morale of a defensively mixed up Jordan aggregation. Isaman stood out for locals with 5 points and his defensive play was also of high caliber. Fessler counted 8 for the winners and along with Glaser turned in outstanding play for the Blue and Gold. Playing on the huge Gaylord court the Jordanites seemed unable to hold up under the grueling pace, wearing down by a fast break, which sent them all over the hardwood frequently.

Coach Harry Jankoviak's steadily improving East Jordan Reserves topped the Gaylord Seconds 20 to 10 in the opening match of the evening.

the Northern Michigan Champion Cannors open their regular season against the Mancelona Independents. In the preliminary game the High School plays the Coffee Cups, so two real games assured. Camp Wolverine was scheduled to play in the prelim, but were forced to cancel at the last moment, so the Crimson Wave will carry on in their place. This will be the only appearance of the Mancelona boys here this winter. The team, organized by Bruce Smith, is composed mostly of fellows back from college for the holidays, and will present a strong lineup. The preliminary game starts at 7:00 p.m. with the main game following at 8:15.

Garden Gossip

Edited by Caroline Harrington
Letters and questions on garden topics will be welcome. They will be published and discussed in this column.

Today, December 22nd, the reign of Winter officially begins. The sun says so far this is "the shortest day"
when the days again "begin to lengthen" and "the cold begins to strengthen." It is reasonable to expect that now Arctic winds will bring the mercury down, that the lake will freeze over, that the frozen ground will be covered with snow. And, from now until spring, our birds will have a bitter and unceasing struggle to keep alive. Their warm feather overcoats will protect them well from the cold
if they can eat regularly, but starvation hounds them constantly, for most of their food seed, insect eggs and larva — is buried in the drifting
snow, or encased in the ice and sleet that sheaths tree trunks and branches.

So — if you have been neglecting your bird friends, remember them now with grain and crumbs, scraps of meat, seeds of all kinds. (I hope you have been saving squash and pumpkin seeds.) Twice a day, at daylight and late afternoon, place your offerings on a protected shelf built under a window with a southern exposure. If you have no shelf, the window sill makes a substitute, but a poor one as you will find out when the wind blows the food away before the birds can eat it. Soon you will have a flock of steady patrons who will be punctual to meals, and will come in increasing numbers as they learn to depend upon your hospitality.

Perhaps birds relish suet more than any other one thing. At any rate, a chunk of suet anchored under a wire mesh will be an attraction all day long to woodpeckers and jays, — yes
and to the less popular starlings, too.
Chickadees prefer nut meats and soon become quite fearless. They are amusing little acrobats, and will clown for an hour at a time on a swinging trapeze baited with nut meats. They quickly learn not only to accept but to demand, and whenever the food supply runs low you will hear their indignant "dee-dee-dee"
call at your window.

The nuthatches are slyer. They like to carry off the nut meats and tuck them in convenient cracks in telephone poles or the bark of trees
where they sit and eat in solitary grandeur. Their only cry seems to be an unmusical "yank-yank-yank"
which they repeat over and over as they run down, up and around tree trunks looking for hidden insect eggs.
Neither the chickadees nor the nuthatches are as frugal as the sparrows which apparently are quite content with the crumbs left by other birds.

Hang up your suet enclosed in wire mesh (so it will not be dislodged and fall to some watchful dog or cat)
in a convenient tree — dead or dying worm-infested one preferred — for these wise birds make the rounds of these trees as a matter of routine.
And, speaking of feeding stations,
your discarded Christmas tree, stuck in a snow drift near a window on the south side of the house, will make a dandy bird restaurant. Hung with meat rinds, crusts of bread, a stale
fried-cake or two, plus a bird pie,
it will never lack for customers.
Here's how to make a bird pie: Over a small dish of cracked grain and nut meats pour melted suet or drippings.
Allow to harden and serve.

Of course, if you wish, you may build a feeding station more pretentious than a protected window shelf.
Write to the Michigan Audubon Society at Battle Creek for plans and for instructions for attracting the birds of so many different varieties
all hungry!

Gala Holiday Week At The Temple

Christmas week at the Temple is loaded with entertainment treats in keeping with the festive season. Favorites, old and new, make appearances in sparkling new pictures with such fictional characters as Hop-A-Long Cassidy, Charlie Chan and Dr.
Kildare — and the glamorous Garbo in her surprise comedy smash. Four of the holidays programs are listed below:
Saturday; William Boyd and Russell Hayden in the new Hop-A-Long Cassidy story, "Range War."
Sun — Mon; Matinee both days:
Greta Garbo and Melynn Douglas in "Ninotchka." (Don't pronounce it—See it.)
Tues — Wed. Family Nites; Sidney Toler and Lynn Bari in "Charlie Chan In The City Of Darkness."
Thurs — Fri; Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore in "Secret of Dr. Kildare."

Fistic Events at Boyne City

GOLDEN GLOVE TOURNAMENT
TO BE HELD IN JANUARY

Plans for the second annual Golden Glove amateur boxing tournament at Boyne City are being perfected there this week by the Ernest Peterson Post of the American Legion, and Gilbert Lindsay, again chairman of the boxing committee, said he expected the show to top last year's, during which more than 2,500 persons saw 70 entries in action during the three night carnival of amateur leather tossing.

The affair is to extend for four nights, January 15, 17, 19, 20. Bill Trybn, in charge of entries, said that queries had already been received from Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Petoskey, CCC Camp Wolverine, East Jordan, and Boyne Falls, in addition to high local interest. Entry blanks have been prepared and amateur scrapp-ers, eager to make their bid for fic-tice fame in the most famous of the non-pro tournaments, may obtain blanks at the Boyne Citizen office, or by writing Bill Trybn in care of the Boyne Citizen.

Splendid trophies will be presented to the winners and runners up in each weight division and the winners will be taken to the Grayling tournament later in the season. Fans expect several of the fighters in this section to carry on to the Bay City show, and to the state finals at Grand Rapids. A special huge trophy is to be given the city, organization, or individual turning in the largest number of entries.

Training equipment has been installed in the Boyne City gym and the quarters there are to be open each week day afternoon from 3 to 4. The gym will also be open each Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9.
The Legion invites all prospective entries to use the facilities and to train
under expert supervision.
"Everything possible will be done," Chairman Lindsay said, "to extend every courtesy and convenience to the boxers entered in what is predicted to be northern Michigan's biggest amateur fight show to date."

Wm. (Bill) Inman Enlists In Army

Wm. (Bill) Inman enlisted in the U. S. Army at Detroit Dec. 7th, and is now with the Third Airbase Squadron, Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens.
The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Inman residing north of East Jordan and graduated from E.
J. H. S. with the Class of 1939.

New Year's Eve Frolic

The Baby New Year will get a rousing welcome at the Temple's Mid-Nite Jamboree with bells ringing, whistles whistling, Balloons bursting
and a lusty song as "Auld Lang Syne" echoes from the rafters. Entertainment on the Stage and Screen will include a whopping amateur show and a surprise comedy motion picture that will be a complete secret
until the title flashes from the screen.
Hats, noisemakers, serpentine, balloons and favors will add to the carnival spirit as 1940 makes her bow.
Seats are now on sale at the theatre and will be limited to seating capacity so every one will be sure of a seat.

"Merry Lanes" Are Now Ablaze

BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS MAKE OUR CITY MOST DISTINCTIVE

Merry Lane was ablaze with color Saturday evening when, despite the inclement weather, hundreds of citizens and visitors ventured forth to enjoy and catch the Christmas spirit
for the many colorful displays.
At the foot of Main St. a 35 foot tree was erected with a 4 foot lighted star atop.

Festoons of greens and lights extending from the tree to the opposite street corners symbolize arms extending a welcome. At the center corners of Main St. were hung heavy festoons of greens and colored lights with a doubly lighted star forming the center motif.

The City placed trees in front of each business place and the merchants decorated them with glistening materials.
The globes of the boulevard lights in the business section are covered with Christmas colors and viewed at night from a distance, have the appearance of the gems, ruby and emerald hung from the sky. Many homes were very elaborately decorated with lighted growing trees, enteries, porch decorations, doorway lightings, porch flower boxes and baskets, lighted windows and indoor Christmas trees.

The lighting effect on Santa on the roof of John Porter's residence is strikingly attractive.
The Bechtold residence was beautiful as usual. The Bechtold residence has the honor of being the first to have exterior Christmas decorations.

The single lighted candle in the window of many homes bespeaks the sweet homey spirit of Christmas within.
The citizens of all professions responded most generously of labor and expense to the request of the East Jordan Garden Club, directed by the president Mrs. John Porter, who instigated the movement, credit also be given to Chief of Police Harry Simmons who was untiring in efforts to make the City festive of Christmas.

Everyone is urged and visitors from neighboring cities are welcome to view the whole city and enjoy its Christmas Beauty.

The selections for honors for so many beautiful decorations was a difficult task for the Committee. The following receive ribbons.
1st — Grand Prize Benton Baker.
1st Ward — Abe Cohn
2nd Ward — Al Ashby.
3rd Ward — William Swoboda.
Bowens Add — Ed. Strehl.
Commercial — Theatre Bldg.
Store Windows — Earl Clark.
Gas Stations — Co-op.

East Jordan Physician Heads Medical Group

Boyne City — Dr. Harvey M. Harrington of East Jordan was elected president of the Northern Michigan Medical Society at a meeting at Boyne City recently. Dr. G. C.
Saltonstall of Charlevoix was elected vice president; Dr. A. P.
Litsenburger of Boyne City, secretary; Dr. W. S. Conway of Petoskey, delegate; Dr. W. E. Larson of Lever-ing, alternate, and Dr. B. H. Van-Leuvern of Petoskey, medical legal advisor.
