EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1941.

NUMBER 7

Father and Son Banquet, Feb. 20

ANNUAL EVENT AGAIN BEING SPONSORED BY ROTARY CLUB

East Jordan's annual Father and Son Banquet is again being sponsored by the Rotary Club, and will be held on next Thursday, February 20.

The committee consisting of Dr. Harvey Harrington, R. G. Watson, and Barney R. Milstein are doing everything in their power to make this the most enjoyable evening for the fathers and sons that has ever been staged for this occasion.

Everything has been arranged and the banquet will start promptly at 7 p. m. at the High School auditorium.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by Magician D. Helmar and his lady assistant. The Methodist Ladies will again have charge of the menu. Admission tickets are $1.00 per couple and may be obtained of the above-named committee or at the State Bank of East Jordan.

E. J. Garden Club Meets With Mrs. M. F. Lewis Next Wed.

The East Jordan Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. M. F. Lewis next Wednesday afternoon, February 19th, at 2:30 o'clock. Members of the Club will view Mrs. Lewis' window garden.

Club members are requested to bring their new seed catalogs. Mrs. H. M. Harrington will lead a talk on the new features of these.

Mrs. Ed. Komradt will give a talk about her grandmothers house plants.

Temple Hit Parade

Famous stories, great directors, talented stars, these are the ingredients that go to make up the four varied programs for the coming week at the Temple. Comedy, historical adventure, musical comedy, prophetic fiction, these are the thrilling themes that weave the magic web of the grand entertainment listed below for your ready reference.

Saturday only: Jackie Cooper and Leila Ernst with Hedda Hopper in the Aldrich Family story "Life With Henry."

Sunday and Monday: Gary Cooper, Paulette Goddard, Robert Preston and Madeleine Carroll in the Technicolor special, "Northwest Mounted Police."

Tuesday and Wednesday (Family Nites): Ken Murray and Rose Hobart in "Night at Earl Carroll's."

Thursday and Friday: Louis Hayward, George Sanders and Joan Bennett in "Son of Monte Cristo."

Red Cross First Aid Course Available to Citizens of East Jordan

As an aid in National Defense work, the American Red Cross is organizing over the country classes in First Aid, intended particularly for men and women in industry, but also open to many other occupations, such as police, firemen, school workers, etc.

A committee for this purpose has been appointed in Charlevoix County consisting of the following men: Chairman, George Hemmings; Secretary, Earl Strangstad of Boyne City; Oscar North and Frank Bird of Charlevoix; and Howard Taft and John Porter of East Jordan.

The course will consist of ten lessons of two hours each, which will begin next week, the hour and day to be determined later.

For East Jordan the instructors will be the two local physicians, who are generously donating their time.

The only expense to members of the Class will be the cost of the Red Cross First Aid Manual, 60c. All other supplies will be furnished by the Red Cross.

All persons wishing to make application for the Course, or wishing further information about it, are requested to phone or call upon either of the undersigned, who will gladly answer all questions as fully as possible.

HOWARD TAFT
JOHN PORTER
Committee for East Jordan.

Band Concert of Last Thursday Was Well Attended

Our school band concert of last week Thursday evening was attended by a crowd of about 350. The concert by many observers, was called better than the average and considering that many of the first chair players had not played that part in public before, they done remarkably well.

The clarinet section is smaller this year than it was for many years and a large group of beginners is expected to join the beginners class this spring.

The band mothers furnished cake and sandwiches and a 10-cent lunch was served after the concert by band mothers and P. T. A. members. Fourteen dollars was added to the uniform fund.

The band will take part in the spring band festival which will be held in Petoskey, April 26 and every band member hopes they will go in new uniforms.

Wilson Township To Hold Primary Election

Wilson Township will hold a Primary Election next Monday, February 17th. Those filing nomination petitions are:

Supervisor: Claude Pearsall and Charles Reidel.
Clerk — August Knop.
Treasurer — Luther Brintnall and Effie Weldon.

No candidates have filed for Highway Commissioner, Justice of the Peace (full term), or Member Board of Review.

E. J. Team In Better Form

COHNMEN MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN CHARLEVOIX GAME

(From E. J. H. S. News)

A much improved East Jordan team dropped another game to Charlevoix, 36 to 31 in a fast hard battle last Friday. The game was close. The last half Charlevoix led 21 to 18.

The Charlevoix quintet got under way the third quarter and got a safe lead. The Cohnmens rallied the fourth quarter but couldn't raise their end of the score enough. Oggie Woodcock, with 15 points, was high man for East Jordan, Stewart, with 12 points, was high scorer for Charlevoix.

The East Jordan Reserves were defeated by the Charlevoix Reserves 38 to 12. The East Jordan team held Charlevoix down to 7 points and rolled up 6 of their own the first half, but couldn't stop the Charlevoix men the last half.

Lloyd Johnson of Petoskey was referee.

State Capitol, Lansing — Stalwart partisans who take their politics seriously and who likewise, believe devoutly in party responsibility, find Michigan's 1941 state government to be downright disturbing.

The "good old days," verily, are slipping fast into memories. Whether for good or bad, better or worse, we are headed in a new direction, come what may. As every action brings a reaction, as the pendulum swings invariably from one side to another, so Michigan is undergoing a significant change.

And it is all the result of a steady trend in public opinion — how we look at things.

Independence

When voters went to the polls last November, they did not act deliberately with cool, calm foresight to create today's bi-partisan rule at Lansing.

They merely voted for their favorites.

Privileges of a democracy made it possible for them to choose simultaneously three Republicans (secretary of state, attorney general, and auditor general), and two Democrats (governor and state treasurer), while maintaining a Republican majority in each branch of the state legislature. And that's scrambling 'em a bit!

And yet the old-fashioned idea of putting one cross in one circle at the top of the ballot has been fading in Michigan for the past decade or so. A decisive bloc of independent voters crossed party lines exactly five times between 1930 and 1940 to elect a new governor at each election. Every two years, as a result of this flexible public opinion, old "rascals" would be turned out at Lansing and new "rascals" would be put in.

F. D. R.'s New Deal

At Washington in 1933 a truly political phenomenon occurred.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt began his famous "New Deal" with the aid of Republican Harold Ickes as secretary of the interior and Republican Henry Wallace as secretary of agriculture.

In New York City a dynamic coalition candidate by the name of Fiorella H. La Guardia upset an entrenched Tammany.

Arthur Vandenberg, a man who has never been a politician in the true sense of the word and who has not been actively identified with party organization, became one of our outstanding independent leaders in the United States senate. The primary system, originally conceived as

Herbert J. Sutton, 62 Born and Died In Wilson Township

Herbert J. Sutton passed away at his home in Wilson Township, February 9, 1941, following a short illness from a heart ailment.

Mr. Sutton was born in Wilson township, Aug. 11, 1879, his parents being Joel and Christina Sutton, deceased.

On March 12, 1904, he was united in marriage to Stella Sullivan of Boyne City. They made their home mostly in Wilson township following the life of farming. Mr. Sutton was a member of Deer Lake Grange.

Beside the wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Richard Cheynoweth of Dayton, Ohio, and three brothers — Leon and Will Sutton, Jackson, Mich., and Archie Sutton, Boyne City.

Funeral services were held at Boyne City, Wednesday afternoon, February 11th, conducted by Rev. Stanley Buck, pastor of the Methodist church there. Burial was at Maple Lawn.

Among those attending the funeral from outside were: Joel Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fretz of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Summers, Elsie, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Cheynoweth and daughter, Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Walter Caselman and daughter, Flint.

Bids Wanted on Tool Shed

Wilson Township will accept bids on a 20x30 frame building, used as a tool shed, and in good condition. Can be either moved or taken down in sections.

Bids must be in on or before March 25th. The Township Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

AUGUST KNOP,

adv-7-2 Township Clerk.

a remedy for boss-plagued conventions, paved the way.

In 1939 the voters of Michigan upheld in referendum a non-partisan judiciary, a reaction against a so-called political judiciary.

In 1940 the same voters stripped the legislature of its patronage powers and instituted a drastic and somewhat revolutionary program of civil service, jobs by merit.

Gymnastics

Concurrently, the independent voters in 1940 performed other mental gymnastics just as remarkable.

They cast a majority for Wendell L. Willkie, who was a lifelong Democrat until recently. They cast a majority also for Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Never in its history had the Republican party broke precedent nationally by crossing party line in its selection of a presidential candidate. The man, not the emblem, proved to be the irresistible magnet.

But this change in political thinking has not been the exclusive virtue (or sin, depending on how you look at it) of any one party. Witness these acts: The late Governor Frank Fitzgerald appointed a study commission for civil service, and his successor, Frank Murphy, signed the legislative act. Governor Murphy then appointed a study commission to recommend reforms in parole and prison management, and when a Democratic legislature provided for a bi-partisan commission, Republicans did not move to revise it.

Bi-Partisan Trend

Today's current dispute over bi-partisan appointment of the state commissioner of agriculture is just another case at point.

An administration measure would take the commissioner out of politics through appointment by a long-term bi-partisan commission. Counter to this Van Wagoner farm reform is a McPherson-sponsored bill for the commissioner's appointment by the state board of agriculture, Michigan State college's elective governing body.

Also being kicked around at Lansing is the idea of letting bi-partisan boards appoint the state highway commissioner and the state superintendent of public instruction.

A 1941 legislative bill would have regents of the University of Michigan elected by non-partisan ballots.

And so the signs multiply. Michigan's bi-partisan administration appears to be, in part, the culmination of a trend of popular thinking that has disregarded party labels in an insistent quest for more efficient and responsive government. What will be the voters' reaction to this? That answer is yet to be written.

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET AT BELLAIR THURSDAY, FEB. 20

An all-day meeting for Antrim county beekeepers will be held on Thursday, February 20, at the courthouse, Bellaire starting promptly at 10 o'clock, according to Walter G. Kirkpatrick, county agricultural agent.

Mr. R. H. Kalty, Extension apiarist, Michigan State College, will be in attendance. Antrim county has the most beekeepers of any county in Northern Michigan. All beekeepers and interested people are invited to attend this day's meeting which will include discussions, talks, and movies.

January Report of Northwestern Michigan D. H. I. Association

During January 284 cows in 21 herds were on test. Of these 68 were dry and 6 produced over 50 lbs. of butterfat. The Association average production per cow was 456 lbs. of milk and 19.3 lbs. of butterfat. The average test was 4.23 per cent fat.

Joe Leu of East Jordan had the high producing herd for January. His 14 grade Guernseys averaged 764 lbs. of milk and 31.9 lbs. of butterfat. Archie Murphy of East Jordan was second with 715 lbs. of milk and 31.5 lbs. of butterfat.

The high cow of the month was owned by the Beburg Bros. of Petoskey. This 3-yr.-old grade Guernsey produced 1432 lbs. of milk and 68.7 lbs. of butterfat.

During January the two J. H. Smith farms of Atwood and Central Lake joined the Association.

Exams for Cadetships In U. S. Coast Guard To Be Held In May

Congressman Fred Bradley has been asked to call attention to the annual competitive examinations for appointments to cadetships in the United States Coast Guard, to be held May 14-15, 1941. The examination is open to all boys and young men, between 17 and 22 years who have the required educational preparation and moral and physical requirements.

The course is the highest possible type of college training. Successful completion of four years of cadetship at the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. leads to a Bachelor of Science degree, a commission and a career in the United States Coast Guard. Pay of a cadet while undergoing instruction is $780 a year, plus an allowance for subsistence.

High School graduates desiring to compete for the appointments may get application blanks and detailed information by writing the Coast Guard or to their Congressman, Fred Bradley, 1339 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

THE AAA PROGRAM IN CHARLEVOIX CO.

Walter H. Henley, County Chairman, announces that all final allotments and yields are now definitely established and approved for the 1941 AAA Program in Charlevoix county.

A total of 16,368 acres of soil-depleting allotment was distributed among farms within the county. Each farm received a share of this county allotment on the average of previous acreages planted to depleting crops, plus the acreage that the farm should produce if operated in accordance with good soil-conserving practices. Two special county allotments, consisting of 1266 acres of potatoes and 914 acres of wheat was also divided among farms in a like manner. These allotments, which are a part of the national and state allotment, represents an acreage estimated as needed to produce enough crops for home consumption, exports, and a sufficient reserve.

Farm computation sheets and farm plans are now being prepared in the County Office at Boyne City. When farmers receive notification of their 1941 allotments and yields, they will also be informed as to their maximum farm payment and soil-building goal for the year.

An educational instruction meeting will soon be called for community and county committeemen. They will receive the necessary training to enable them to contact all farmers within the county and assist them in planning their farming operations on the basis of a sound soil conserving system of farming.

Participation in the AAA Program is voluntary, which proves that each year's increased compliance is developing a farm organization which will be the first line of defense against farm insecurity.

JORDAN VALLEY CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

Long talked about had been the idea of the farmers of this region forming a producer's cooperative creamery, but it wasn't until after the turn of the year in 1931, that definite steps were taken to make this idea a realization. A number of farmers interested in this undertaking met in March and formed what is now known as the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery. The officers and Board of Directors elected at this first meeting were: President, Elmer Murray, East Jordan; Vice-President, Harold Nyland, Atwood; Sec'y-Treasurer, Archie Murphy, East Jordan; Arlow Wickersham, Charlevoix; Howard Stevens, Hortons Bay; Edd Nemecek, East Jordan; and Robert Watson, Central Lake.

After purchasing what was then known in this community as the Lakeside Garage, Percy Penfold, of Nashville, was brought here as general manager. The building was altered and remodeled and equipment installed and operation began June 8th. With a small churn, two vats, and a small boiler and other lesser items production the first year showed 300,000 lbs. of butter. At that time the concern employed but four persons, but today employs ten, besides the eight truck drivers, who daily bring in around 3,000 lbs. of butterfat, from an area that reaches South to Kewadin and Rapid City, North to Cheboygan and Levering, and East to Gaylord. All told they have between 1,200 and 1,400 producers and today's production has stepped up almost 400 per cent of that of the first year. Last year 1,162,000 lbs. of butter was produced, ranking them seventh highest in the state on the production basis of all cooperative creameries. This year's production shows an increase of 23 per cent over the same period in 1939.

From time to time modern equipment has been added and today it has become a well equipped plant. First improvements were made in 1933 when a can washer, 600 gal. vat and new truck was added. In 1934 a larger churn replaced the old one. A new boiler and buttermilk dryer was added in 1937. Whereas previous to purchasing the buttermilk drier only about $360.00 was netted in selling this by product, today as we look over the figures of last year over $8,000.00 was realized last year. Last year the drier took care of 180,000 lbs. Just recently two new Cheery-Burrell non-roll churns have been installed. Another recently completed project was the addition of a new 150 ft. well with automatic control, which will pump upwards of 100 gallons of water a minute. They have equipment for putting up their own ice and pack around 500 ton each winter.

The organization managed to survive the dark years of 1932 and '33 and each year pays dividends to its stockholders, all of whom are producers.

Only one-ninth of all production is print trade, the other being bulk trade.

Mr. Penfold is still retained as manager. He had short course work at M. S. C. East Lansing and Ames, Iowa, before coming here.

Today's Officers and Board of Directors is made up of many of the original group. President, Howard Stevens, Hortons Bay, Vice-President, L. Oosterbaan, Ellsworth; Secretary - Treasurer, C. Blanchard, Charlevoix; Arlow Wickersham, Charlevoix; G. P. VanderArk, Ellsworth; Elmer Hott, East Jordan; and Elmer Murray, East Jordan.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Washington Experts See War Crisis In Europe and Asia Within 90 Days As Hitler 'Promises' German Victory; U. S. and Ford Clash on Labor Policy

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BARDIA, LIBYA.—Two Australian soldiers of the British forces in Libya look at the nameplate of the main street in this city. After entering Bardia, the Aussies changed the street name from "Benito Mussolini" to "Australia."

60 TO 90 DAYS: Crisis Will Come

In Washington, where bets can be obtained on almost anything, the odds are 55 to 45 that the United States will be at war with Japan within 60 to 90 days. Peace is on the short end.

The view is shared by competent observers. Whether there will be actual armed conflict probably will depend on what happens during this period. The predictions are being made not by goosebone prophets but on careful analysis of political, military, geographical and economic factors.

Those most apprehensive in the capital are concerned with adoption of the lend-lease bill which would give President Roosevelt full powers to place the nation on an all-out war footing. They believe Japan is a full partner of the Axis and will act on orders from Berlin.

They believe that within 60 to 90 days Hitler will order the full force of his powerful attack left loose on Britain and they are doubtful of the outcome. They fear the United States will be faced with an enemy on the Atlantic and the Pacific at the same time.

For America the chief immediate political factor is the tripartite pact among Japan, Germany and Italy, signed last September. The pact provides for co-operative action if either of the others is involved in a war. These officials believe the treaty is an outright offensive alliance aimed at the U. S., just as Nazi spokesmen said at the time.

In Tokyo those immediately concerned are seeking full powers for the cabinet headed by Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, who is pledged to the "new world order."

In both countries it is the apparent desire on the part of leaders to prepare public opinion for the worst so that there will be no outcry which would force modification of the programs.

Crisis Year

President Roosevelt's birthday is a holiday in Germany, but not for the same reason. In Germany it is celebrated as the birthday of the Nazi acquisition of power. Annually Hitler makes a speech. This year was no exception.

But his speech bade the German people to mark the year 1941 as an exception. He promised it would be the victory year. He said the attack on Britain was near, that it would come without fail in spring, and he warned that no aid from the United States would be permitted to reach England.

Every ship carrying help to Britain, he said, would be torpedoed, no matter what its ownership, no matter if it was convoyed or not.

Also in the theater of war:

☛ The British continued to make headway in Libya, besieging Benghazi, the last main port held by the Italians and threatening to extend their lines to the border of French Tunisia.

☛ In East Africa they also battered their way into Eritrea. The Italians retreated in trucks. An Italian army of 100,000 there was said to be in a bad way.

☛ German Big Berthas were firing from the French channel ports into England. Whereas before the projectile toppled into the Dover area, now they were reported to reach 10 miles inland.

Land of Liberty?

PEACE: It's Wonderful

Japan long has eyed the rich area of Indo-China and the port of Saigon, through which is exported 80 per cent of Indo-China's rice, fish, salt and timber. Last September Siam (Thailand) which is known as a "client state" of Japan, suddenly declared war on the French who controlled Indo-China. The French, occupied elsewhere, were forced to fight only an enfeebled campaign.

Now Japan has stepped in as a "mediator." "A Japanese flotilla sailed into Saigon and ordered mediation end the conflict. Seven Japanese diplomats called representatives of the two powers to the warship and ordered "peace." Japan claimed the right as the protector of the "new order" in the Far East.

But Japan revealed she was not interested in peace alone. As payment for bringing peace, Japan demanded that 80 per cent of each year's crop in Indo-China be sold to them. The demand gave point to the argument that Japan had deliberately encouraged the Thai attack so that it could step in and make peace, at a price.

Power

Meanwhile the Japanese naval force continued to base itself in Saigon, just opposite the Philippines which stand between Japan and the Dutch East Indies. The Japanese navy already has occupied Hanoi, opposite the northern tip of the Philippines. Only other base in the area is the British fortifications at Singapore. Japan has said that if America takes over that base, through negotiations with Britain, it will be regarded as an act of war.

Peace. It's wonderful.

YOUTH:

Sponsor Lost

The American Youth congress is a group with affiliations from hundreds of organizations, religious, political, fraternal and educational. Organized in 1934, it claims 3,400,000 affiliated members.

But the group has had plenty of critics. The Dies committee investigated it for communism. The President chided it last year when convention delegates called at the White House. In return he was booed. But through all the criticism, Mrs. Roosevelt remained one of its champions. She attended meetings, made speeches and denied the charges of communism. She invited delegates to the White House for dinners.

But the organization now has come out against the selective service act, has opposed the lend-lease measure for aid to Britain and has declared the nation is being led to dictatorship. So many of the former supporters are leaving the group. Invitations issued for the convention this year were turned down by Sidney Hillman, C.I.O. vice president and national defense commissioner, Secretary—and Mrs. Roosevelt.

MISCELLANY:

☛ Big salaries in the United States are fading, the Institute of Real Estate Management was told, by its vice president, A. William Walstrum, of Ridgewood, N. J. Excess profits taxes and emergency levies are acting as great levers of fancy incomes, he said, adding that statistics show that the trend of top salaries shows them limited to between $15,000 and $25,000.

☛ Edward W. Scott, a New Zealander, was editor of the Panama American, owned by Dr. Harmonio Aroas, brother of Panama's president. Editor Scott and Dr. Aroas have been critical of the administration and its alleged anti-Americanism. Editor Scott was ordered deported. Crowds came to the station to see him off, but the Panama police had figured on that demonstration. The crowd discovered the police had gathered up Editor Scott and deported him on a train leaving the railway station at an earlier hour than the announced time.

Public Places 'Censorship' Upon Undesirable News

Opposing Viewpoints Dismissed as False; Government Aims to Increase Trade With Latin America.

By BAUKHAGE

National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—As emotions rise here over the debate of American foreign policy and America's role in connection with the European war a strange sort of censorship is settling down upon the nation. I can feel it in the mail which I receive from listeners to my broadcasts.

It is not a government censorship. It has nothing to do with company rules and regulations, it isn't even voluntary deletion on the part of writers or commentators. It is a censorship which the public itself invokes and it is quite as effective as the kind imposed by Herr Goebbels. I have encountered it before.

It is simply a flat refusal on the part of the individual to believe anything he doesn't want to. He puts it into operation with a twist of the dial when he hears something he doesn't agree with on the radio or by tossing the newspaper into the corner when his eye catches a sentiment of which he doesn't approve.

But let me give you some striking examples of this "audience" censorship—of how the public will believe only what it wants to.

The Athenia was sunk while I was in Berlin. Shortly thereafter, comment of a high American official was cabled to German papers. This official in Washington had referred to the "torpedoing" of the Nazi ship. The Germans with whom I spoke (people who couldn't have known any more about what really happened than I did) were astounded.

"Even if we wanted to torpedo a ship full of Americans," one of them said, "we wouldn't be quite dumb enough to do that when the last thing we want is to get the United States into war. If it was torpedoed at all the British did it to get you in on their side."

When I got back to the United States I found that it was accepted without argument that the Germans had done it.

To the best of my knowledge it has never yet been determined just what happened to the Athenia.

British Fliers Interviewed.

I'll give you another example. While I was in Germany I had a chance to interview the first three British airmen shot down in raids over German territory. To be perfectly frank I found them, even the two who were laid up with injuries, extremely satisfied with their treatment. Naturally they had a good deal of attention being "firsts." And in those days the feeling wasn't so bitter.

I did report the factual things they told me—I interviewed them with no Germans present and we all spoke freely.

But did the British public believe it?

I should say not. An International News Service dispatch from London to American papers the next day quoted "diplomatic circles as being concerned" and stating that "one spokesman labeled the broadcast an obvious fake."

But no Englishman at that point wanted to believe what those boys said about their treatment or their personal feelings toward their captors.

Broadcast Cut Off.

The third experience was the most amusing.

I was broadcasting from Berlin and I wanted to get over the idea to my American listeners that while I was well treated I was under censorship and that if I departed from my censored text I would probably be cut off. So I said this:

"It is very much as if I were in the office of a man whose whole future is suddenly at stake, still he is kind and courteous to me. He offers me his hospitality. He lets me use his typewriter and now he pushes his busy telephone across the desk to me to let me talk to you, right before him."

And right there I was cut off the air. The American listeners knew what I was driving at and immediately surmised that the Germans had cut me off because I was criticizing the censorship. But a few days after the event I was summoned to the German foreign office and questioned at length by a highly suspicious underling.

"Why," he asked haughtily, "did the National Broadcasting Company cut you off when you were praising the Germans?"

Meanwhile I had been notified of what had happened and I explained, truthfully that I had been cut off because I had reached the end of a period and that had I continued, it would have interfered with a regular commercial program. But did my Nazi accuser believe? Did my American friends believe when I returned? Definitely not!

That is the censorship which is growing as the nation is stirred over the debate on the lend-lease bill. And not only do pros and antis defend their cause with patriotic fire but each is ready to declare that the other who disagrees must be silenced for the good of the Republic. That is the kind of individual censorship against which no protest, however powerful, can prevail.

Seek to Improve Latin American Market

"Good fences make good neighbors."

I once quoted that line from a New England poet to a Dakota farm son and he flew into a rage. He said it was typical of the unneighborliness of the Yankees. Well, being prairie-born myself with a long line of New England ancestors I am inclined to sit on that fence and look both ways. Perhaps we ought to say that there is nothing unneighborly in a good fence so long as it has a gate.

And Uncle Sam feels the same way about the "Good Neighbor" business as it applies to South America. The farmers on both sides of the international fence, the Latin-American farmers and the North American farmers, while they are all for unity, economically, politically and culturally, are a little wary about competition.

That is why the department of agriculture talks so much about "complementary" or non-competitive products in its program for developing trade with Latin America. We want to sell goods, to South America. We have lots of things they want. But in order to buy our goods they have to have American dollars. They can get the dollars if they can sell their goods to us. Many of the things they would like to sell us we already have—especially agricultural products.

Therefore certain questions addressed to the department of agriculture are pertinent. Here they are along with the official answers:

Principal Imports.

What are the principal agricultural products we now import from Latin America?

"Our agricultural imports from Latin America are of two general types," says the office of foreign agricultural relations.

(1) "Complementary or non-competitive agricultural products, consisting for the most part of coffee, cocoa, bananas, sisal, henequen, special types of wool, spices, essential (volatile) oils, and tagua nuts. Such products are normally imported to meet the whole of our requirements since they are not produced at home."

(2) "Supplementary or competitive agricultural products. These include cane sugar, vegetable oils, seeds, cattle hides, unmanufactured tobacco, meat products, vegetables and vegetable preparations, dutiable wool, goat and kid skins, and linseed, to mention the more important."

How does the department of agriculture propose to increase trade between the United States and Latin America?

"By developing in Latin America for United States consumption the tropical and semi-tropical products which are not competitive with our agriculture."

Does Latin American co-operation mean increased imports into the United States of supplementary or competitive agricultural products?

"No, that is not the aim of the department's program."

What are the complementary or non-competitive products of Latin America, the imports of which can be increased?

They consist of crude rubber, cinchona bark from which quinine is made, abaca or manila fiber, valuable for the making of ropes for the navy, rotenone-bearing plants extremely valuable for insecticidal purposes.

Other products are kapok, necessary for insulation and other purposes; cocoa, camphor and tea.

"Imports of these eight amounted to approximately $236,000,000 in 1939, of which only $16,000,000, or just about 7 per cent, represented imports from the Latin American republics. There are, of course, a number of other tropical and semi-tropical products that may be added to this list. When our total needs for these can be supplied by Latin America our total imports from there should exceed $750,000,000 per year," he explained.

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the news

No Citizen—The United States revoked the citizenship of Dr. Herman Frederick Erben, a native of Austria and resident of Sacramento, Calif., when it was learned he had served as a physician on the supply ship for the ill-fated German pocket-battleship, Graf Spee. The federal court acted on the basis that the doctor made false statements in his application.

Target — Aaron Shaddinger, 54, was shot to death in a quarrel in his New Orleans home. Two slugs were found in his brain. But they were not the ones that killed him. Investigation revealed they were fired accidentally 18 years ago and because he recovered quickly and showed no ill effects they never were removed. The second time he was shot he wasn't as lucky.

For the Empire on Which the Sun Never Sets

German and Italian Prisoners of War

Although the censor does not reveal the city, the name on the train verifies the fact that it is in Canada that these German prisoners (left) are being marched to their train from the prison ship at an east coast port. Right: Some of the thousands of Italian prisoners made captive as the doughty Greek warriors and their assistants, the British, pressed farther and farther into Albania.

Der Fuehrer Welcomes New Soviet Envoy

This picture, which was approved by the German censors, shows Adolf Hitler, chancellor of Germany, chatting with Vladimir Dekanosov, in the new Reich chancellery, shortly after Dekanosov had presented his credentials as the new ambassador from Soviet Russia to Germany. The German leader is all cordiality.

Lion of Judah Leads Revolt

Somewhere in the Sudan, near the Ethiopian frontier, Haile Selassie, "Lion of Judah," ex-emperor of Abyssinia, inspects some of the troops with which he hopes to overthrow Italian rule and regain control of his empire. Already his revolting tribesmen have been credited with several successes against the Italians.

Upper grades have learned Lincoln's Gettysburg Address for their language work.

We are all glad to have Ivan back with us after his illness. We missed him a great deal. After he returned from the hospital he studied at home and kept all of his work up to date.

Most of us are working for a pin of merit or a certificate in penmanship. Jennie Mae Chanda, Vera Stanek and Otto Nemecek will soon be completely through. Then they will work for an advanced certificate.

We have our classroom gaily decorated for the oncoming holidays. In decorating we have used silhouettes of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, on our windows we used red and white valentines. We have a big box for our valentines.

Our history classes have decorated the bulletin to represent all the countries from which people have come to become Americans. We made paper flags and made a border at the top, then we made miniature characters clothed in their native dress of all of the countries. In the center we have an American boy scout.

Strategic South Tyrol Links Italy to Europe

The Italian South Tyrol is set high in the Alps of north-central Italy along the southwest border of former Austria. It is a highly strategic region which was a part of the old Austro-Hungarian empire until the treaty of St. Germain shifted it to Italian control after the World war.

It is famed for its spectacular scenic beauty. Through it runs the historic and economically vital route that leads across the Brenner pass into central Europe, linking the Italian peninsula with the heart of the continent.

It was to give Italy a protected position on this strategic pass that the peace treaty in 1919 moved the Italian frontier more than 100 miles northward. The shift included both the Italian-inhabited district of Trento, whose former inclusion in Austria had long been contested by Italy, and the Germanic region of the South Tyrol, now known as Bolzano. In the Bolzano district (which includes over half the entire transferred area of 5,371 square miles) are concentrated more than 200,000 Germans, now reportedly facing the choice of declaring allegiance to the Reich or remaining as Italian citizens in the Italian province.

During the World war, when this region was under Austrian rule, the inhabitants of South Tyrol fought against the Italians in some of the bloodiest battles of the conflict. When the Italians advanced into Austrian territory, both sides had to struggle against nature itself, making their precarious way along precipitous slopes and over icy mountain paths. Whole towns were wiped out when the 1917-18 battlelines were drawn along the old Italian frontier.

Since acquiring the Tyrolean area, the Italian government has made vigorous efforts to Italianize its people. Italian was made the official language for all public services. It was required on public signs, catalogues, timetables, menus, maps, postcards—even tombstones. Place names were changed from German to Italian. The word "Tyrol" was strictly forbidden, "Bolzano" taking its place.

'Air-Minded' Spiders Soar Long Distances

Spiders are wingless, but by taking advantage of favorable air currents they are able to travel through the air for long distances, and many have some control at least over their flights. In a long series of flights above Louisiana in airplanes equipped with insect traps as a part of a research program looking to control of cotton insects and mosquitoes, P. A. Glick, federal entomologist, found that soaring spiders were more than six times as common as winged moths and butterflies. The insect group including flies, mosquitoes and gnats outnumbered the spiders about seven to one, and there were about three times as many beetles and weevils as spiders.

Immature spiders—called spiderlings—are more air minded than their elders. To launch its flight a spiderling climbs a tall weed, shrub, or tree and pays out a long thread of web material. When the breeze pulls on this, the spiderling lets go and is drawn upward. Some spiders are able to draw in the filament and so put an end to the flight.

This trapping of insects in the upper air as an aid to the study of methods for controlling crop pests was pioneer research in entomology. It helped clear up puzzles of insect dispersal, and suggested special problems for air study elsewhere. A few strong flying insects prefer to make headway against the prevailing winds, but most insects travel with the winds which are ordinarily from the south in spring and from the north in fall, aiding northward spring migrations and southward flights in fall. Many weak flyers appear merely to drift with the wind.

Two Ohio Ministers Run 'Crimeless' Town

Two ministers who rolled up their sleeves and went to work to stop crime and accidental death, are credited with making Shelby, Ohio, town of 7,000, a "crimeless community" and the winner of two national safety awards. One of them is the Rev. D. B. Young, pastor of the First Lutheran church and mayor of the town.

The other is Leroy Coffey, who was minister of a Baptist church before the Rev. Mr. Young selected him for his chief of police three years ago.

"I couldn't see why we could not have the best-policed community in the country," the pastor-mayor said. "Coffey and I decided to apply big-city technique to our crime and accident prevention."

One of the things which has caused police officers throughout the state to comment is the two-way radio system installed in Shelby's police cruisers. The system, said to compare favorably with those used in major cities of the country, was installed for only $800. Police Chief Coffey and his force of seven did all the work.

"Before we could use the system," Coffey said, "all seven on the force had to learn how to operate the sets, know the Morse code and become licensed operators. It was a big job, but the men seemed to get a big kick out of it."

A criminal identification division was set up with cameras and fingerprinting equipment. Coffey inaugurated a series of crime prevention and safety talks at schools and before club groups.

Unwritten Law Forbids Meddling With Nature

There seems to be an unwritten law forbidding man to make too intimate contacts with any of nature's host of wild folk. Tragedy and unhappiness usually follow when man, with the best of intentions, substitutes his own association for that of the animal's own kind. Hand-raising a young western tanager found helpless as a fledgling, is a case in point.

Beautiful Sequoia National park in California was the setting, and the park ranger scrupulously followed the schedule he knew most mother birds observed, feeding the youngster, chiefly on insects, every 30 minutes during the daylight hours.

This normal regime brought the bird to its juvenile period in a satisfyingly healthy state. But its human guardian could not furnish the stimuli that should have aroused in it instincts of self-preservation and animal cunning. Thus the bird could not protect itself from the menace that lurks in the form of weasels and squirrels. One afternoon it failed to appear at feeding time. Search was made. A little bunch of bloody, matted feathers was the only trace of the little stranger.

Nature's inexorable law of competition between the species, and the absence of instruction by a parent of its own genus in coping with it, resulted in a hopeless handicap for the young bird.

Just Wait and See

Raffaele Bendandi, amateur seismologist and astronomer of Italy, said recently that he had discovered four new planets the existence of which would cause North America—or maybe Europe—to sink beneath the ocean on April 6, 2521.

Bendandi, who has claimed success in forecasting earthquakes during the last six years, said his calculations indicated that North America—or Europe—would become another lost Atlantis in a map-changing deluge comparable to the Biblical deluge which Noah survived in his ark.

"I have baptized the new planets Italy, Rome, Rex and Dux," Bendandi said. "I estimated that the solar system becomes 50 times vaster than was previously discovered before this discovery. I consider my calculations precise enough for me to say that the cataclysm will strike the world in 582 years precisely on April 6."

U. S. Fur Markets

Once the United States had such great fur resources that it created foreign markets . . . now the demand here is so great that about two-thirds of our furs are imported . . . this is particularly important at the present . . . because, in the event of a general European war which might cut off the outside supply, our own fur resources would be exhausted within a few years! . . . and not only that, but because of lack of state co-operation, the U. S. has no accurate inventory of the amount of wild fur animals being taken each year . . . all that is known is that more fur animals are being taken than are being replaced . . . which is very bad business from any standpoint.

This Way Out

After a six-mile run on the foot-board of a runaway train speeding 70 miles an hour, Engineer John Vallance and Fireman Thomas Eaglesham jumped from the engine seconds before it crashed into a freight train near Ayr, Scotland. As they lay gasping for breath at the side of the track they heard the crash. Neither was seriously injured. The speeding train had gotten out of control on a steep grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hosler, Jr., of Detroit left their small daughter to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hosler, Sr., and Mrs. M. Touchstone, until they come up for another visit.

Frank Atkinson, the Antrim County Chairman of the AAA, with the Jordan Township committee, Ralph Josiek, Raymond Dubas, and Tom Kiser, held a meeting at his home one day this week to organize a Junior AAA. Those attending and planning to become members were Robert Brown; Albert, Ed and Clement Stanek; Charles Kotiek, Stanley Sutton; Glen Ingals; Jos. Lisk; Howard Hosler; Kenneth Morris; Raymond Goud; and Melvin Sweet. While the election of officers, etc., was going on, Mrs. Karl Goud, Mrs. Tom Kiser and children, also Mrs. Dubas and daughter Helen visited with Mrs. Frank Atkinson. After the meeting some delicious ice cream and cake was served.

"HAMS" AND THEIR IMPORTANCE IN WAR

In modern warfare, radio balks the commands. That's why our Army and Navy are sending an SOS to the Nation's 58,000 amateur operators — the "hams" who have saved hundreds of lives in earthquake, flood and fire. Paul W. Kearney discusses the importance of radio in today's perilous times in an entertaining article. Read it in This Week, The Detroit News Sunday Magazine.

WOMAN'S WORK NEVER DONE! HOW TO TURN IT INTO FUN

Women, you can solve the everlasting problem of housework and relieve the monotony of daily drudgery by transforming routine work into a fascinating pastime. Two New York advertising men recommend some interesting ways in an unusual article in The American Weekly with the February 16 Detroit Sunday Times. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Beyer and three sons of near the Bohemian settlement were Sunday dinner guests of his sister Mrs. F. K. Hayden and family at Pleasant View farm.

F. K. Hayden of Pleasant View farm had the misfortune to lose his best cow Friday afternoon. She had been sick about a week. The chemical truck of Gaylord came and took it away.

Miss Dorothy McDonald of Three Bells Dist. took advantage of the beautiful weather Thursday and hiked to Sunny Slopes farm and spent the afternoon with her uncle, A. B. Nicloy and wife.

Will Gaunt of Three Bells Dist. took his daughter, Mrs. Alfred Crowell and two children of Dave Staley Hill, west side, to Jackson, Saturday, to join her husband, Alfred Crowell, who has employment there.

Harvey Kyes of Three Bells Dist. had the misfortune Saturday evening to damage his car very badly, completely putting it out of commission when he tried to break through a snow drift near the David Gaunt farm.

Mrs. Margaret Bennett of Honey Slope farm and Mrs. Frances Looze of Cherry Hill attended the School of Instruction at Boyne City, Tuesday, and plan to have their next meeting with Mrs. Mary Fett on the Lake Shore drive the 20th of February.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Looze of Three Bells Dist. accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chambers who visited them last week end, back to Cadillac for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McNulty will take care of things while they are away.

Mr. Editor: The George Nicloy spoken of in the report from Hamilton Field is our own James Curtis Nicloy of Sunny Slopes farm. Why the change in name, please? Mrs. Hayden — Thanks for the correction. We simply "followed copy". — Ye Editor.

Mrs. J. W. Hayden of Orchard Hill received a letter from her nephew, Evert "Bob" Jarman Friday, Dater February 4 at Stanford, Texas, stating that he and Edward Faust had arrived there at 10 a. m., Monday, February 3, and would visit the R. E. McNabb family until Thursday a. m. They had very bad weather and bad roads all the way down, 1/2 inch of ice formed at Stanford February 4, but the temperature was like our spring although everyone was shivering there. They planned to reach Phenox, Arizona, February 9th.

RANNEY SCHOOL NEWS
Teacher — Ina Gilkerson

We are planning on making valentines this Wednesday.

Misses Elston Sloan and Virginia Helleman were also welcomed guests last week.

Our contest will end this Wednesday. The winners will plan our party and make the valentine box.

We were very glad to have Mrs. Crawford visit us last Wednesday. She has the honor of being the first mother to visit this year.

The A's for spelling this week go to Jimmy Sloan, Verna Boyer, Donald Graham, Robert Graham, Shirley Walker and Caroline Helleman.

Mr. Palmer, the county School Commissioner, was a caller at our school last Tuesday. He told us a very interesting story and also left a very nice Bible for our school.

Safety Experts Urge Pedestrian 'Education'

Educating the pedestrian to be more careful on the streets and highways—statistically demonstrated to be necessary to the safety picture—may prove to be a boomerang. Safety experts, who have the jump on run-of-mine dabblers in highway security, believe that, unless the present campaign is handled cleverly, the average motorist is going to lapse into further disrespect for the rights of those who travel on foot.

A survey in Washington showed that 7 out of 10 traffic fatalities were pedestrians. The natural inference is that people walking are especially careless and need a lot of schooling in safety. It is too easy to overlook the fact that pedestrians are especially vulnerable, being minus bumpers, safety glass, steel bodies and turret tops.

According to the American Automobile association, pedestrians who have never held drivers' permits are nine times as likely to be killed as walkers who are licensed motorists.

It is reported that last year 8,000 pedestrians lost their lives through their own careless actions. On the basis of these findings a campaign has been launched to prove that the man afoot isn't always an innocent victim.

But some of the most cautious thinkers on the traffic problem are not too sure that we are giving the pedestrian a break by concentrating too much on his "education." Even the educational methods are under suspicion. Prize example is the rule about walking toward traffic when on the road. Some of the most serious accidents have occurred when pedestrians were following the rule. They have been clipped by cars driven by people who turned way over to the left side of the road to overtake other cars.

'Saluting the Equator' Is Old Sea Tradition

The ceremony of "crossing the line" or "saluting the Equator" antedates the American navy and all the rest of the world's navies.

It is so old that, according to the authorities, nobody really knows where it came from. So the Vikings held similar ceremonies; so did the Greeks and Phoenicians. For these ancients, of course, the rites had nothing to do with the equator, which they would not have recognized, had they seen it. But the idea of propitiating the sea god seems to have been common to all of the old seafaring peoples, who had their own times and places for the observance.

The custom of making the ceremony an occasion for horseplay and its identification with the equator evidently came much later. Even the horseplay is a very ancient tradition of the sea, observed from time immemorial by the navies and merchant shipping of all the nations, at least of Europe.

First Davy Jones comes aboard as emissary of His Majesty, Neptune Rex; then a couple of days later as the vessel crosses the line King Neptune himself arrives, complete with trident, oakum whisks and an impressive court, to pass judgment on the "polygytes." These neophytes are those who never before have crossed the line. Their judgment and punishment for the offense is a boisterous affair in which all "shellbacks," those who have crossed before, co-operate with enthusiasm. Lard, soap, creosote, whitewash, electric shocks and a dousing in the swimming tank all are essential ingredients of the ceremony.

Needless to say, the more strenuous observances are preserved for the younger and hardier polygytes, older and distinguished passengers being let off with a verbal roasting.

Manufacture of Pills

At one time pills were impaled one by one on a needle and dipped into gelatin solution, then the pinhole was carefully sealed. Today, by an interesting arrangement of suction bars, hundreds of pills are hemispherically coated at one dip and then transferred to a second similar bar, where the coating is completed. The mixing equipment for a pill batch is like the dough mixer of the bakery. The revolving kettles for sugar or chocolate coating came from the candy maker, but the machines that transform the doughy mass first into "pipes" of carefully controlled diameter and finally reduce them into slugs that, rolled between eccentrically moving belts, produce the pills, are inventions of the pharmaceutical industry. Automatic machines evolved for the purpose stamp out compressed tablets at extremely high speeds, and the utility of these machines is such that they have been introduced into many other industries. A specific example is the stamping of tablets of molding powders for use in the plastics industry.

Water Power Clock

One of the world's strangest clocks stands at Rome's Villa Borghese municipal park in Italy. It is operated by means of water power. The water drops from a fountain and is caught into a series of descending cups providing the motive power for the mechanics. The clock, according to the Italian information center at Rockefeller center, has been operating for over a hundred years and has kept perfect time.

A Break for Julia

By SMITH JOHNSON

(Associated Newspapers - WNU Service.)

CHARLOTTE DAVIS could hardly wait till 12 o'clock lunch hour, so eager was she to show her friend Julia Winter her new ring.

"It's lovely," praised Julia. "I do hope you and Leslie will be very very happy," she added, wistfully.

"I hope so, too," retorted Charlotte. "And I guess we will be, for Les seems willing to give me anything I ask for. Lucky for him that he works in a store and can get a good break on the sort of stuff I want."

"Where will you live?" inquired Julia.

"Out on Park terrace."

"Aren't the rents awfully high in that district?" exclaimed Julia.

"Oh, yes," cheerfully admitted Charlotte. "But we only live once, I tell Les, so we're getting the very best of everything."

"It sounds wonderful," sighed Julia.

"I'll say it's wonderful," agreed Charlotte. "All that swell stuff for only $25 down, and he didn't really have to pay that, for the store is giving him credit for the twenty-five as a wedding present, so he took the fifty he saved and made the down payment on my ring."

"Oh!" gasped Julia, aghast at the thought of the size of the debts in proportion to the size of Leslie's income.

"That's what I get for having a sweetie who is a salesman."

"Want a nice willow rocker for your hope chest?" called the foreman of the warehouse, as the tall, cheerful-looking truck driver passed the office door.

"What's wrong with it?" replied the younger man.

"Paint got scratched off in uncrating and the party that ordered it claims the color can't be matched. We settled with her for $5 cash—and we don't want the rocker."

"Store it for me?" grinned the tall chap in tan.

"You bet," cheerfully agreed the foreman. "Put it right in with the rest of your junk. And while you're in the mood to spend money, better take a look at the table over by No. 15. Make you a nice dining table when you've got the top done over, and it won't cost much since the party that owns it hasn't got room for it and won't pay storage any longer."

In the warehouse Pete's bargain-hunting had become a standing joke. But it was a kindly joke that the men enjoyed, for Pete MacElroy was popular and the men all knew that the young chap's purse was strained to the utmost with helping put three younger brothers and sisters through school and at the same time saving to marry Julia Winter.

"I'll wait," Julia had bravely promised.

Sunday afternoons when Peter and Julia walked in the park or took a bus ride or went to a cheap movie they talked, as lovers will, of the time they would be living in a "home of their own," with a garden and a radio and an open fireplace. And then a sorrowful silence would come between them.

Peter and Julia were the first guests to be entertained at the Park terrace apartment. Proudly Charlotte displayed her new treasures. Silk draperies, silk bedspreads, handsome glassware, china and rugs, stunning furniture.

"Honestly, Julia, I wish you could clear-out of that stuffy hall bedroom before the hot weather comes," whispered Charlotte as she kissed her chum good-night.

Going home on the bus Peter and Julia were strangely quiet, yet when they reached Julia's rooming-house Peter said, "Let's sit on the porch a while and talk."

Nervously the young chap clasped and unclasped his big hands, cleared his throat and exclaimed abruptly, "Honestly, Julia, there isn't a bit of sense in going on this way. We are just eating out our hearts. And at the rate I'm getting on we'll both be gray-haired before I can give you more than about two rooms to live in."

Julia's poor heart almost stopped beating. Yet she did not blame Peter for wanting to stop pinching pennies to save for a home after spending most of his wages for his brothers and sisters.

Bravely Julia winked back the tears which filled her brown eyes. She tried to speak, to tell Peter that he was free—to offer to give back to him the inexpensive little ring he had given her two Christmases before.

But the words choked her.

Anxiously Peter peered down into her face. Tensely his firm, tanned fingers closed over Julia's trembling hands as he said, "How about it, sweetheart? Are you game to start homemaking with me in just two rooms? I've some odds and ends of furniture stored at the warehouse. And I've enough money saved so you can pick out your own cooking things for the kitchen, and curtains—not silk, like those fancy ones at Charlotte's. And the foreman gave me a tip yesterday about a garage-cottage we can rent dirt cheap, with an option to buy."

"Oh, my dear!" gasped Julia, looking up with a smile that was radiant testimony as to just how Julia felt.

The Lamp in the Valley

BY ARTHUR STRINGER

W. N. U. Service

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EUROPEAN STANDARDS AND OURS

I HAVE SEEN something of farming conditions of Europe—the narrow strips of land, of which every available inch must be cultivated that the farm family may eke out a barren existence; the little huddle of buildings along one side of the road in which the farm families live; the horse and cow and pig occupying the first floor of each building; the farmer and his family occupying the floor above; a manure pile in front of every building, each ounce of which must be carefully preserved that the few acres may be kept fertile and productive.

In such crude homes there are no conveniences—no toilets, no facilities for a bath, no telephones, no radios, and never an automobile.

In these villages there are no stores, no schools, no newspapers. They represent but a small settlement of peasants. One generation follows another. There is no opportunity for advancement, and among these people there is no ambition to achieve more than a mere living, as their fathers and grandfathers did for generations.

Such are the general farming conditions throughout continental Europe. Such is the general standard of farm life in France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and throughout the Balkans.

Germany has announced that she proposes to establish throughout all Europe a uniform standard of living, with the German standard at the top and serving as a model. That is the aim of Nazi rule.

It is a condition born of European methods. Such a condition would not, and must not, be tolerated in America.

Here we have opportunity. Thousands of our farm boys and girls achieve prominence in all walks of life. They are encouraged to work for self-improvement, encouraged to cultivate ambition, and out of it all, we are continually improving the American standard of living.

DEFENSE TAKES TIME AND CAPITAL

WHEN WALTER CHRYSLER bought his first automobile in 1915, they were making them one at a time, and his Buick car cost something over $5,000. It turned him from a railroad mechanic into a top-notch automobile manufacturer, but it took 30 years to perfect mass production methods to the point where hundreds of better cars could be built in less time than it then took to build one and so they could be sold at a small part of $5,000.

It took a long period of designing, developing and building machines to do the job. Now we are asking industry to step into mass production of tanks, cannon, airplanes and other defense implements practically overnight, and are inclined to condemn American industry for not making good.

The machinery used to produce automobiles will not produce any of the war implements we are asking for. New machines must be designed, developed and built for the new job. Not one of each, but hundreds. The first mass production job is that of tools.

Today there are employed in the manufacture of automobiles well over one million men. To provide tools and machinery for mass production on war implements will mean an expenditure of close to eight billion dollars if a million men are to be employed on the job.

It takes not only time, but it also takes money to do the job. Government restrictions as to financing have made it an almost impossible task for industry to provide any such sum. When the threat of war, or the war if it comes, is over, that eight billion dollar investment in tools and machinery would be practically valueless.

If industry is to protect us and provide for our war-time needs, we must give industry a chance as it applies to both time and money.

SEEING AMERICA

THE WAR in Europe is causing Americans to see something of the beauty and grandeur of their own land. Trains are heavily loaded with tourists now seeing America, who in previous years had thought of travel only as a trip to Europe, to the Far East or a Mediterranean cruise. An eastern friend tells me he has finally found that the western boundary of the United States is not the Hudson river.

HUNGER MORE PERILOUS

HUNGER WILL kill more people in Europe during the next 12 months than will bombs and bullets. Estimates of those endangered by lack of food range all the way from 15 to 60 million—and such conditions at a time when America is piling up surpluses of food products.

War accounts for but a portion of the difficulty. Lack of a practical, workable, world-distribution system is even more responsible. Americans can well afford to study that subject.

THE STORY SO FAR

Lander and he is surprised in turn to learn her name. He is working for the Trumbull company which is contesting her father's claim. He is engaged to Trumbull's daughter. Carol had seen Lander and Barbara rection of Alaska. And next spring they're countin' on plantin' an army o' pie-eaters on the valley tundra and watchin' 'em git rich growin' spinach for themselves.

He shifted his cud and brushed aside the mittened hand with which Katie was semaphoring for silence.

"This ain't no place for college doods," he doggedly pursued. "I got one o' them know-it-all engineers over t' my shack right now. He kin talk big about g'ology and machine-minin', but he could no more take a tom-rock back in the hills and wash out a poke o' dust than I could pilot one o' them airplanes that's stampedin' our good ol' brand o' husky-dogs off the trails of Alaska."

Katie, very plainly, could stand for no more.

"That's all very interesting," she bellowed. "But we're here to find an Indian baby. And if you can help us in our search I'd rather like to know it."

The challenge in Katie's voice brought a keener look of animosity from the bewhiskered old face.

"I was a-comin' to that, lady, if you'll only keep your shirt on." And still again he spat with deliberation.

"You're sure wastin' your time on them no-account Nitchies," he averred. His morose eye ranged along the far-off mountain peaks. "Same as I'm wastin' my time in this valley, batchin' it in a ten-by-two wickyup and bakin' my own sourdough. I've got me a minin' claim up between the Little Squaw and the Goldstream where the mother lode runs as thick as your leg and once I get back there and open her up she's sure goin' t' be a second El Dorado."

I could feel Katie's elbow prod my ribs.

"They all say that," she muttered. I remembered that she was right. I'd seen them broken and wasted from bad diet, and arthritic from bad teeth and burnt out with bad whisky, but still nursing their dream of some lucky strike that was going to make them millionaires overnight.

And in it, I felt, lay both the curse and the glory of all Alaska.

"Here we be," cried Sock-Eye as we rounded a trail bend and rolled up in front of a log shack with a pair of weather-bleached moose horns over the door.

The light wasn't strong in the shadowy warm room. But I could make out a dog, lying beside the stove, and a man in his shirt-sleeves, stooping over a blanket-lined basket without a handle.

I stared at that man, rather stupidly. Then I looked back at the dog, in an effort to verify the incredible. The man stooping over the blanket-lined basket was Sidney Lander.

I could feel my heart beating a little faster as I stood staring at him. I could see Katie O'Connell's eyes widen as she inspected the nursing flask he'd made out of what looked suspiciously like a beer bottle with a glove finger tied over its end. It wasn't working right, apparently, from the thin walls of protest that came from the basket.

"Leave this to me," said the nurse as she reached for her hand-bag. Sidney Lander, thus elbowed aside, stood watching the expeditious hands that betrayed none of the hesitations marking his own clumsy movements. When the dog lifted his pointed nose and rubbed it in a friendly way against my knee his owner raised his eyes and stared straight into my face.

He saw, for the first time, just who it was under that worn old parka. But he didn't speak and he didn't smile. He merely stood there, with wonder in his eyes.

"I didn't expect this," he said as Sock-Eye Schlupp busied himself stoking the stove. "I was on my way down to Toklutna to find out why you hadn't much faith in me."

"In what did I fail you?" I questioned, a little resentful of his power to dampen or quicken my spirits.

"I asked for the data and documents to back up your Chakitana claim," he reminded me.

"I don't happen to have any documents, as yet," I told him. "But even if I had, why should they go to you?"

"I wanted to lay them before John Trumbull," replied Lander, puzzling me by the grimness of his jaw-line. "He's the big smoke in the Chakitana Development Company."

"But also your boss," I said.

"I'm afraid he won't be for long," was Lander's unexpectedly embittered reply.

"Why not?" I inquired.

Here's a Design for Rag Rug Enthusiasts

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

MAKE one rag rug and you will find yourself a member of an enthusiastic clan that gloats over any soft piece of old woolen goods and who count the days until they fall heir to a dress of a particular color that they want. These enthusiasts bleach materials to tone them down; they brighten others with dye; they antique some with tea and they have a wonderful time.

The sketch gives all the directions you will need to copy this fascinating braided rag rug with a flower medallion in the center. Or you may make two of the medallions, sew them together and add a braided handle for a knitting bag. Braid the fabric strips tightly and keep the work flat while you sew the circles for the roses and the loops for leaves; then sew them together. Use carpet thread double for this and for sewing the braided rows around the edge of the rug.

NOTE: There are two other fascinating braided-rug designs in Mrs. Spears' Book 3 and the new Book 6 contains directions for a hooked, a braided and a crocheted rag rug. "The Rug That Grew Up With the Family" is in Book 3. Each book has 32 pages of pictures and directions. Send order to:

Arctic Eiderdown

A new industry which has sprung up in Arctic Canada should bring prosperity to the 1,500 Eskimos living in that region. The department of mines and research at Ottawa has given permission to the Hudson Bay company to collect eiderdown on the bird sanctuaries along the coast of Baffin Island. The collecting will be done by Eskimos in the slack period between hunting and trapping seasons, and they are being taught to pick the down without scaring the ducks and causing them to abandon their homes.

BREAKFASTS TO GET THE FAMILY UP

"The nice thing about breakfasts" said one newlywed, "is that you don't have to plan them, you just serve them." Although it is possible to get a breakfast with whatever there is at hand in the line of toast, coffee, and fruit juices, a little planning does yield big dividends.

For it is planning that makes possible the breakfast specialties that get the laggards out of bed in the morning—and down to eat before they go. And that's important, because they miss the Vitamin C in the orange or tomato juice when they skip breakfast, the Vitamin B in the whole grain cereal, the iron in the egg yolk, which aren't always made up later in the day.

A sketchy, hurried breakfast, or none at all, accounts, too, for some of that mid-morning fatigue. It's a long time to go without food, from six o'clock of one night until noon of the next day.

Here, then, are some breakfast menus, and some recipes for new breakfast specialties, that are guaranteed to get the family out of bed in the morning. Just let them get one whiff of a platter of shiny brown sausages garnished with orange slices, like that in the picture above, and no coaxing will be needed to get them down to breakfast.

QUICK BREAKFAST

- Chilled orange juice
- Hot cornflakes over banana wedges
- Oven eggs in cornbread cases
- Pan-fried bacon
- Coffee, milk

LEISURELY BREAKFAST

- Grapefruit halves
- Bran flake cereal with brown sugar and cream
- Apricot omelet
- Buttered toast
- Coffee, milk

Raisin Sally Lunns.

(Makes 2 dozen 2-inch Lunns)

- 1 cup milk
- 1 cake compressed yeast (½ ounce)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup melted shortening
- 2 eggs
- 3 cups sifted flour (all-purpose)
- ¾ cup raisins

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm (85 degrees Fahrenheit). Add crumbled yeast, sugar, and salt. Add 2 cups flour, beating thoroughly. Add melted shortening and beaten eggs. Add remaining flour, beating until smooth. Add raisins. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Brush with butter (if desired), cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled in bulk (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 15 minutes.

Eggs in Corn Bread Cases.

(Serves 6)

- 6 squares or slices corn bread
- ½ cup butter (melted)
- 6 eggs
- Salt
- Pepper

Cut off top crusty portion of corn bread. Then remove part of corn bread from each slice, forming a depression. Brush top of each slice with melted butter. Break an egg into each depression. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven (475 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes or until white of egg is set. For quick breakfast, corn bread should be prepared the day before.

Grated Apple Waffles.

(Makes 8 waffles)

- 1½ cups flour (all-purpose)
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1½ cups cooking apple (grated or cut fine)
- 3 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour once before measuring. Then add salt, cinnamon, sugar, and baking powder and sift again. Separate eggs. Combine milk, eggs, and cooled melted shortening. Add dry ingredients to milk and egg and stir lightly until just dampened. Fold in grated apple. Beat egg whites until stiff and glossy and fold in, using a spatula. Bake on pre-heated waffle iron and serve with butter and brown sugar.

Corn Bread.

(1 8-inch square)

- 1½ cups yellow corn meal (uncooked)
- ½ cup flour (all-purpose)
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs (beaten)
- 2 tablespoons fat (melted)

Sift corn meal with flour, baking powder and salt. Combine milk, eggs, and shortening and add to dry ingredients. Bake in a well-greased 8-inch square baking pan, in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 40 to 50 minutes.

Bran Griddle Cakes.

(Makes 15 cakes)

- 1½ cups milk
- 1 egg (well-beaten)
- 2 tablespoons melted fat
- 1½ cups flour (all-purpose)
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ½ cup bran cereal

Combine milk, beaten egg and cooled melted fat in mixing bowl. Sift flour once before measuring. Then add salt, baking powder, and sugar and sift again. Combine dry ingredients with bran cereal. Add to milk, stirring until just mixed. Bake on a hot griddle and serve with butter and strained honey or maple syrup.

Apricot Omelet.

(Serves 4)

- ½ pound dried apricots
- 1 cup water
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2½ teaspoons butter
- 4 eggs

Prepare apricots ahead of time. Cover them with water and let soak 30 minutes. Then simmer until tender, about 25 minutes. Add sugar and cook for 3 minutes more. To make the omelet, drain juice from the apricots and combine with water, if necessary. Combine tapioca, salt and apricot juice in top of double boiler over boiling water and cook 10 to 12 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon butter, remove from heat and cool. Separate eggs. Beat whites until they are stiff and will stay in a partially inverted bowl. Without washing beater, beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add egg yolks to tapioca mixture, then lightly fold in egg whites.

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in large frying pan (10 inch). Turn in egg mixture. Cook over low heat for 5 minutes, then place in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) to finish cooking for 15 minutes or until golden brown on top and firm to the touch. Make a shallow cut across the omelet at right angles to the pan. Cover half the surface with finely cut cooked dried apricots. Fold over omelet, turn out onto hot platter and serve at once.

Codfish Toasts.

(Serves 4)

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs (hard-cooked)
- 1 tablespoon green pepper (minced fine)
- 1 cup shredded codfish (freshened)
- Few grains white pepper
- Few grains onion salt
- 4 slices bread
- ½ cup grated cheese

Melt butter and add flour. Stir to make a smooth paste. Add milk. Dice eggs and add to milk mixture together with green pepper and shredded codfish. Season with white pepper and onion salt. Toast bread on one side, cut in half diagonally and place codfish mixture on untoasted side of bread. Sprinkle with grated cheese and brown lightly in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit). IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 16

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS AND GRATITUDE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 17:1-4, 11-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4:32.

Did you ever hear of "vinegar saints"? They are the Christian folk who are "preserved" (as Paul prayed in I Thess. 5:23), but are apparently pickled instead of sweetened. Every housewife knows that things may be preserved with sugar or with vinegar.

God never intended it to be that way. All through His Word there are admonitions and encouragements to gracious and considerate living. Every Christian is under orders to "grow in grace" as well as in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ (II Pet. 3:18). This lesson stresses two leading Christian graces.

I. Forgiveness—Not Always Easy, but Always Possible (vv. 1-4).

The Bible is ever realistic in its approach to life. God knows that Christians must live in just our kind of world; in fact, your kind of world, and makes provision for it.

Offenses cannot be avoided. There will always be occasions for stumbling. No matter how closely we may guard our children, they will face temptations. Let us prepare them to meet them with the power of Christ, and let us be so prepared ourselves.

The fact that offenses must come does not excuse the one who creates the cause of stumbling.—Someone is responsible for every such occasion for offense, and the woe of God is pronounced upon him.

What shall I do about the one who thus tempts me and others? Just grieve over it and look the other way? No indeed. "Rebuke him," says God's Word. Let us do it! If he does not repent, there is no occasion for forgiveness. To do so would only encourage him in his sin.

If he repents, or even says he repents, we are to forgive, not just once, but over and over again (v. 4). That's not easy for any of us, but it is possible if we, like the disciples (see v. 5), ask God to "increase our faith," and use it as Jesus directs in verse 6.

II. Gratitude—the Almost Forgotten Christian Grace (vv. 11-19).

Nine men wonderfully healed of the dreadful disease of leprosy, and only one said, "Thank you," to Jesus, "and he was a Samaritan," an outsider or stranger. One wonders whether in our own day of professed enlightenment and culture the average of those who express their gratitude would even reach one-tenth.

"Gratitude is as scarce as friendship." Many there are who profess to be Christians who never offer praise to God for the provision of their daily food, let alone for all other temporal and spiritual blessings. The kindness of friends is taken for granted. The thoughtfulness of others is accepted without comment.

Have you told your minister that you appreciate his sermons and his ministry in the community? Does your Sunday School teacher know that you have received help and blessing in the class? Does the editor of this paper know that you enjoy and appreciate this column? If you do, why not encourage him by calling him on the telephone or writing him a note to tell him so?

Young people, have you ever said a real heart-felt "thank you" to your father or mother for all they have done for you? Perhaps some older sister or brother or school teacher or neighbor would be greatly heartened by such a word from you.

Someone may say, "I am grateful, but I am not the type that talks about it." One wonders whether Henry Van Dyke was not right when he said, "A dumb love is accepted only from the lower animals." A dog will show his thankfulness by wagging his tail, but a man has a tongue with which to say kind and tender words of appreciation to both God and man.

Most important of all, let us bear in mind that God awaits our words of praise. Christ valued the words of gratitude of this man and missed them from the nine others. When He was in Simon's home (Luke 7:44-46), He gently rebuked His host for failing to show him the ordinary courtesies of the household.

Appreciate Beauty

Never lose an opportunity of seeing anything beautiful—welcome it in every fair face, every fair sky, every fair flower and thank Him for it who is the fountain of all loveliness; and drink it simply and earnestly with all your eyes; it is a charmed draught, a cup of blessing.—Kingsley.

Bible Is Valuable Guide

I have read it (the Bible) through many times; I now make a practice of going through it once a year; it is a book of all others for lawyers as well as divines, and I pity the man who cannot find in it a rich supply of thought and rule for conduct.—Daniel Webster.

Matching Hat, Handbag Give Chic Accent to Spring Costume

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IF YOU want to be fashion-wise this spring, it is absolutely necessary that you become thoroughly and wholeheartedly accessory-minded. From the very start in assembling your new wardrobe, keep firmly implanted in your mind that accessories, above all else, are cast to play the dramatic role in fashion this season. Do this and you will find yourself safely charted in the right course through both spring and summer.

It is a matter of tradition that a new and becoming hat ever has and ever will prove the most effective first aid in sounding the first joyous note of spring. This season fashion goes the idea "one better" with the insistence that a matching handbag complete the picture by way of adding drama to the occasion. Try the hat-and-matching-handbag-way and you will find that it works like magic in broadcasting the glad tidings of spring.

Note the quartette of fetching hat-and-bag ensembles shown in the illustration. Twosomes of this sort are typically "first fashion" news for spring. At the upper right of the group a navy blue stucco braid beret is shown which claims distinction because of the bright patriotic-colored strips which detail the beret and are repeated in the "nautical knots" which enliven the navy felt handbag. By the way, navy will be tremendously smart again this season.

To the upper left the problem of matching hats and handbags has been eliminated by two well-known American designers. Clear synthetic strips laced through the Howard Hodge hat and the Nat Lewis handbag subtly emphasize harmony of colors and materials. In the popular South American manner the hat of artichoke straw has a high pleated crown of the same flame red felt used for the handbag.

Below to the right black felt and spaghetti braiding is manipulated into a new version of the fashionable off-the-face pillbox with its low-tied bow of the braid, repeated in the laced handbag.

For the handsome hat and bag set pictured on the figure seated, bright green silk petal-shirred grosgrain ribbon is used by Lilly Dache. A matching petal-shirred envelope bag completes this distinctive accessory ensemble.

The supremacy of accessories in the spring mode carries courage and inspiration in the thought that the movement is being aided and abetted by the very highest style-creative talent in all industries that pertain to fashion in women's apparel. The whole trend is to correlate and to co-ordinate costume detail. To this end designers, manufacturers and merchants are enthusiastically working together to co-ordinate color, material and style motif. By way of suggestion when you go accessory seeking, look up the new tiger yellows and browns, the many smart greens, the beiges, Peruvian pink, the new pastel jewel colors, and reds are bolder and brighter than ever.

New 'Half Hat'

Of all the exciting fashion news for spring, 1941, what is more exciting than the novel "half hat," recently turned out by Lilly Dache! There will no doubt be a rush for these flattering flowery hats when the season gets into full swing, for they are not only charming but practical.

Unusual Fabrics Enhance Dresses

Unusual fabrics frequently add to the attractiveness of evening gowns. A little use of the imagination will often produce satisfactory results.

If you are a smart young person you might consider going to the upholstery department next time you need material for a new evening dress. You will be doubly smart if you choose material with a gray background.

Heavy gray rayon taffeta has great possibilities, as does gray satin with tiny motifs in gold or striped and damask designs. This material is so wide that it takes only a few yards to make a beautiful dress.

Jewelry Innovation Adds Chic to Frocks

A new development in the jewelry realm is clips that come in series from two to three, four or five. They vary in size and are worn along a neckline or are clipped or pinned to sweep down one side of the bodice like a flock of little birds.

Another version of the jewel series is interpreted in several clips that may be worn singly, in a series or fastened together to form one important individual-looking piece. Such is the new lotus flower clip. One clip may be the flower, another the bud still another the foliage. Wear them separately and they serve many purposes, fasten them together (they are made to do just that) and you have one imposing piece of jewelry to wear with your evening gown.

The idea is carried on in some instances to include matching finger ring and earrings.

Main Street Gone From Fashion World

"There is no more Main Street in Fashion," declared Mrs. Wilhelma Cushman, fashion editor of Ladies Home Journal, before a convention of retailers and manufacturers who recently held their spring national shoe fair in Chicago. Mrs. Cushman says she has found in her travels of 20,000 miles in the past that Main street and Fifth avenue meet and now launch simultaneously the same advance fashions.

Declaring that this season "a costume will be made by its accessories," Mrs. Cushman said that bags will be bigger, softer and more colorful. In footwear, the news is of softer shoes. There is a new softness about the leather used. The seamless glove will also be featured this season, she added.

New York's newest free show is the municipal information center on Forty-second street under Park avenue just across from Grand Central. It's rather a showy place with a big black counter, a diorama of the city and a staff of experts. A lot of taxpayers have visited it since its recent opening, some to ask questions, some to display their knowledge of the city and some to see what they got for their money. The askers have been and still are in the majority. Mostly they want to know how to get to various points, especially Brooklyn, that borough being unknown land to many a New Yorker just as it is to me. Another popular question is how to get out to LaGuardia field, which is New York's $45,000,000 airport and which, up to the opening of Information Center, was the very newest thing to be seen without paying admission.

While the greater number of questions are routine, there are some out of the ordinary. For instance, the woman who wanted to know where to obtain feeding bottles for humming birds. The question was on the level and for a few moments had the staff stumped. But a little telephoning revealed that the National Association of Audubon Societies supplies such equipment and the customer went away happy. Another inquirer wanted to know the name of the statue facing south at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street. The answer to that one came quickly. General Sherman being led on by the angel of victory. Still another was curious to know if there was a place called Linoleumville, S. I. Research showed that there had been until nine years ago when the name was changed to Travis.

The information center staff, from Elizabeth F. Kehoe, the plump and rosy-cheeked director, on down, consists of expert question answerers. In her civil service examination for the post of assistant secretary of the department of public works, Miss Kehoe came out with a grade of 91.90. Alexander Myers an assistant, has won six radio quizzes during the year. Another assistant, Mrs. Mary Stuart Power, was Miss Suzy-Cue in a big department store during the World's fair, having won the place because she knew all about New York and was prepared to impart her knowledge to inquirers.

Mention having been made in the opening paragraph of LaGuardia field, there may be excuse at this point for announcing the fact that during the holidays there were days when 200 airplanes arrived and departed, the previous high having been 172. Such heavy traffic seemingly indicates that within the last few years, the American public has become quite air-minded when it comes to travel. It also interested me to know that the number of landings and take-offs might have been greater had more pilots been available. Since a pilot may fly continuously only eight hours and then remain on the ground for the next 24, officials of the four big lines operating at the city port, with every seat sold in the regular service, also had to worry about a shortage of man power.

Since LaGuardia field, the city's new $45,000,000 airport, has been opened over in Queens, day and night airplanes drone over our house like flocks of huge eagles. The transcontinental lines and a number of others having deserted Newark for North Beach, we have the sound of motors, and at night the sight of red, green and white lights in the sky. As we listen while going to sleep, though they are no longer a novelty, we still are glad that this being America, they are merely mail and transport planes and not bombers.

New Yorkers, ever avid for free shows, have been flocking out to the new field. On a recent Sunday, they snarled highways up to such an extent that pilots, who had planned to reach the field an hour ahead of the time scheduled for their departure so that they might study weather maps, etc., would have been late for their flights had not police come to their assistance.

NOON HOUR ACTIVITIES

For the past two or three weeks, basketball has had its share of noon hour time, several fine games being played.

In girls' basketball, the eighth grade defeated the eighth grade 4-H, 18 to 9.

The Freshman girls then trimmed the eighth grade girls 13 to 11.

The F. F. A. really turned the heat on, as they knocked over the 4-H boys 22 to 6 in softball.

The noon-hour league of softball is beginning to become a little more exciting. Nachazel's team, which won seven in a row, now has lost two.

Two other teams, Gilkerson's and Nicoly's have both climbed up in the rankings while Grutsch's team is mirrored in the cellar. The standings at present are as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Avg.
Nachazel	7	2	.777
Gilkerson	5	4	.555
Nicoly	5	4	.555
Grutsch	1	8	.111

Are You Planning For More Business in 1941?

PARDON US, Mr. Merchant, for intruding in your business confab, but if you're making plans for a banner year in business, during which the words "depression," "financial loss" and "failure" will become . . . if not obsolete . . . at least infrequently heard, we would like to be in on it. There's no point in our being obsequious or reticent about insinuating ourselves in your affairs . . . the fact is we have a definite place in your plans for more business in 1941. We are the most widely-read newspaper in this community . . . and our readers include the whole family. Our advertising costs you less because consumer response is greater. We just wanted to impress you with the fact that you should figure us in on your business plans for 1941. It will be to your advantage.

Annual Tax Sale

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
County of Charlevoix, ss.
The Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Charlevoix in the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on the 3rd day of March A. D. 1941, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offering, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. P. M. Gilbert, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Charlevoix County this 10th day of January A. D. 1941.

PARM C. GILBERT,
Circuit Judge.

Fay A. Bradley, Deputy Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.

In the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix in Chancery.

In the Matter of the Petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for the taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery.

Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) fifty cents for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: January 8, 1941.
VERNON J. BROWN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.
