Charlevoix County growers of potatoes and apples won many honors as Cheboygan Potato and Apple Show held last week. Elmer Hott of East Jordan repeated his accomplishment in winning the Sweepstakes award for the best peck of potatoes in the entire show last year, and again this year. His peck of Katah ding was outstanding in quality. Yea after year Mr. Hott is right at the top. In addition his fifty pound sample of table stock won a blue ribbon and his peck of Chippewas a third prize making Mr. Hott one of the biggest winners of the show. Harry Behling of Boyne City continued his winnings, year after year, by cap-turing first in a peck of all other varieties as well as a second and a fourth place. His samples were White Rural Irish Cobblers, and Chippewas.

In the Russet Rural peck competition open classes Lee Sneathen of Charlevoix won third; Clint Blanchard, Charlevoix, eighth; and William Shepard, East Jordan, ninth. In the beginners class Eugene Koteskey. Boyne City, won first in the bushel competition and Lee Sneathen Charlevoix, won 4th.

In the plate competition Floid Griffin a 3rd and Eveline Orchards a 6th. These two exhibitors helped to make the apple show a beautiful display. Another year they are going to enter the competition in a bigger way and I am sure we will hear more from them. The show was beautifully arranged and handled most efficiently by Mr. Griffith, County Agr'l Agent Cheboygan as secretary. The banquet was attended by 139 visitors with an address by Leo V. Card, Commissioner of Agriculture as the highlight.

The better exhibits have already been packed to the Michigan State College where they will be displayed at the State Seed Show to be held in connection with Farmer's Week.

According to the state law on ini tiatory legislation, the voters them selves will have an opportunity to enact the bill if the legislators fail to act. The referendum is automatically invoked by negative action of the legislature, and thus the people themselves would have the last word in this controversy.

In this tug-of-war the battle line are between urban and rural banks Earl.W. Delano, of Allegan, president of the Michigan Bankers' association explains that the proposed law would prohibit branch banks outside the county in which the parent bank is located. This provision would prevent extension of branch banking, such as through the Michigan National Bank with branches in large cities such as Lansing and Battle Creek.

Reapportionment

Another issue between upstate and metropolitan interests appears to be headed for a showdown in the 1943 legislature in the revived demand for reapportionment.

Here is a case where the state constitution, stipulating how many legislators shall serve each area according to its population, is being convenient-ly ignored due to rural fears of urban domination.

From present signs, the reapportionment issue is already involved in labor vs. farm prejudices, overshadowing the basic issue of constitutional representation.

Special Session?

As financial worries begin to multiply at Lansing, suggestions are being made again that the state legislature be summoned to meet in special session early in 1942.

challenges or quibbles about it. Concurrently the National Audubon society, of which Mr. Peterson is educational director, begins a drive for the protection of birds and other wild life in defense areas.

At the age of 26, Mr. Peterson proved that bird lore can be made to yield a lot more than mere bird seed. That was in 1934; when he published his book, "Field Guide to the Birds." As bird books go it was a best-seller, warmly praised not only by the somewhat esoteric cult of bird-fanciers, but by a much wider public, which appreciated its clarity and simplicity. There came other editions and then his "Field Guide to Birds of the West," and his "Junior Book of Birds," of 1939. All-in all, Mr. Peterson's books and magazine articles were so successful that he has had plenfive billions of them.

He not only writes but illustrates his books, having emerged from the New York Art Students' league as a highly qualified decorative artist. He is known as the best American authority on field identification of Mr. Peterson had an adventure convention of the society at Cape May last year, which, so far as we can learn, was not picked up by the news hawks at the time. It seems a group of ornithologists, Peterson included, got up at 4:30 to clock a scheduled hawk migration. It didn't come off and all were downhearted until a rumor got around that a black-necked still had been seen near the lighthouse pond. There had been no stilt in this section since 1870.

The party set out for the spot. Finally far across the pond; inaccessible to any dry land approach, the bird was sighted. Mr. Peterson said it would be necessary to approach as near as possible, disturb the bird, and then observe its flight carefully. He and William Fish vol-unteered to brave the mud and cold. They waded in, and at times were up to their armpits in slimy mud. Finally Peterson waved his arms at the still. It didn't move. Approaching nearer, they discovered it was as stiff as a plank.

The convention finally ran down the story. The National Academy of Sciences at Philadelphia had had housecleaning and heaved out a lot of stuffed birds. Some rival bird fans of the Delaware valley had retrieved the stilt and set it up across the pond.

Professor Ralph Barton Perry, of the faculty of philosophy of Harvard university, is similarly concerned about old age, but for a different reason. In a brilliant essay in a recent issue of the Princeton Alumni Week ly, he rallies the oldsters against being "hustled around by their juniors in politics; he notes the capitulation of wise old age to bumptious youth, and chal-lenges Rabbi Ben Ezra by insisting that there's no use growing old with him, or anybody else, if old-age is to be merely a tolerated short-ender in the life sweepstakes. "The most striking evidence of the downfall of the aged," writes Professor Perry, "is to be found in "is to be found in

The last remnant of paternal au-thority was the period in which the father was an ogre, who came home at the end of the day to deal with major offenses. He was no longer magistrate, only executioner.

"But even this role disappeared when domestic criminology was modernized and the child's insubordination was regarded as a person ality problem, to be solved by love bygiene and paychoanalysis.'

Chicago: National defense has changed reading tastes. The libraries here are swamped with requests for mechanical literature and technical books.

London: General Wavell, who sent from north Africa to India to organize the British armies there, may be used to lead a force to fight side by side with the Russians in de-fense of the Caucasus oil fields.

Dublin, Ind.: Life was beginning at 71 for Riley Laymon. He became the father of twins and started out on a brand-new job in a factory on his birthday.

Luck Smiles

When the torpedoed U. S. tanker Salinas limped into port under its own power, one of the luckiest fellows aboard was Phillip McBride (above) of Chicago. It was the third time he had missed death by inches. He was transferred from the S. S. Greer to the S. S. Kearny shortly before the Greer was attacked and then was transferred to the Sa linas just before the Kearny was torpedoed. So far he is still one jump aliead of a torpedo.

'NEST': Near Iceland

Somewhere south and west of Iceland it had become evident that Germany had established a big "nest" of submarines preying upon convoys, and apparently giving especial interest to American warships.

What inroads this country's navy had been making on it was not re-vealed, the published "score" being totally in favor of Hitler, though the navy department had early announced that no successes against U-boats would be reported.

The loss of the Reuben James, the navy said, entailed 95 casual ties, all of the officers being missing as well as half of the enlisted men. Only two known dead, one survivor dying of his injuries and the other a body picked from the water, were reported.

Reports of the torpedoing of the destroyer were that the vessel was struck in the center and broke in two, the forward half sinking at once, and the afterpart going to the bottom a few minutes later. Evidently most of those saved were aft, and succeeded in picking up a few of those hurled into the ocean from the other part of the ship.

The navy said:

"It is probable that the attack took place during darkness. From he terrific force of the explosion it is a possibility that the magazine exploded. It is a probability that the majority of the casualties occurred in the forward section, although two- of the survivors were from that part of the ship."

Latest incident was the torpedoing of the Salinas, navy tanker, in the same district where the others had occurred. The Salinas made port. The navy would not give details of her damage, but published no casualty list among the crew.

FOOD: Rationing?

A rumor which had been worrying housewives—that the United States, in addition to seeking price control, would—also start food control and made to create jobs on public works. rationing, was categorically denied by Donald Nelson, who said 'I should know."

He is priorities director of the nation, and said that any rationing of any type of material, whether edible or not, would normally go through his office.

That the matter had been considered, he denied, then showed his own awareness of the situation by stating that he had known that there would be shortages of certain foods. but that a rationing program had not been talked of.

Foods he mentioned were cheese of which huge quantities are being sent to England, and salmon, which has been short for a good while, and which also is a favored lease-lend

DRUG:

New Wonders

It was announced formally that gramicidin, new drug dug out of the soil three years ago by Dr. Rene DuBose; who had modestly declined any public claims for the medicine, and had given it out for testing to a dozen medical schools and hospitals, has turned out to be the wonder drug of the age—far more powerful in germ-killing than the now-famous "suifa" drugs.

Its potency is from 1,000 to 100,000 times as great as sulfanilamide. which has saved thousands of lives. One millionth-teaspoonful, or about has been sufficient (of gramicidin) to protect a mouse from 10,000 le-thal deses of pneumonia germs. First reports of its use on humans came from two Boston university medical researchers, who told curing ulcers in three week which had defied all drugs for 15 years; of curing a chest infection which is almost 100 per cent fatal ordinarily.

Government Gives Serious Consideration to Problems of the Farmer When 'Reconstruction' Period Begins. By BAUKHAGE National Farm and Home Hour Commentator. WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N-W, The people of the United States through their representatives in Washington, have just begun spending another six billion dollars for tanks, guns, shells, and ships. of grasshoppers, beetles or other varmints—a lot of ruined property and a lot of dead things to bury, burn, or plow under—the result of wholesale destruction.

But along with all this spending to kill and destroy, the nation is also planning to build and create.

Currently thousands of Americans are gathering in state capitals, to talk over some brass-tack ideas for reconstruction after destruction. Post-war planning, it's called.

has when he is done fighting a blitz

"We visualize a post-war world," says Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, "in which we will make full use of our manpower and our resources for the benefit of the American people." That's a nice visualization. What's peing done to make the vision real? The National Resources Planning poard in Washington is centralizing post-defense planning efforts, not only of the federal government but of the country as a whole. In Sep-tember Secretary Wickard set up an inter-bureau committee in the department of agriculture on postdefense problems to help work out ome of these plans. The committee has three jobs:

1. Keeping in touch with and making what contribution it can to the developments that affect the national economy as a whole.

2. Developing rural works programs in the capital improvement field. (That means improving the farmer's "plant.")

3. Developing publicly sponsored programs of rural welfare ("serv-

Mediums of Action

How does this committee get action? Through state and local landuse planning committees already set up, with the co-operation of department field representatives. These are state committees, county committees and committees of neighborhood groups. The latter are made up of farmers; the others are mixed farmers and federal and state officials.-

What are the general problems the American farmer has to face in the post-war world as the depart ment of agriculture sees them to-

First, there is likely to be a great demand for foodstuffs as the United States feeds a starving Europe after the war. Secondly, there will be an effect on the domestic market when military service and defense work ends, for the farmer's income swells and made to create jobs on public works projects while industry is changing. over from defense to civilian pro-duction. But it is freely admitted that the tremendous defense effort in the industrial world cannot be duplicated by "made" work. Therefore, the emphasis in planning is to be placed on jobs that will produce jobs, and agriculture must expand to carry its share of the effort, say the planners.

Rural Works' Program

The first job which the depart-ment of agriculture is concerned with right now under "capital improvement' is a rural works pro-gram which will provide work in rural areas to improve the farmer's physical plant. And that is what the committees are now consider-ing—"rural housing." When these committees have studied the question and given their suggestions, they will be reported back to the inter-bureau committee and the department will build its policy under Then the department will report to the National Resources Planning board which in turn will submit its program to congress whose duty it is to carry out the wishes of the

Thus the democratic cycle is completed.

Many of the suggestions which the inter-bureau committee is throwing out for consideration are not new. Under the head of improving the farm plant, and back of it the redraw-are the well-known activities in soil conservation, flood control, water development. Many of these activities are now being carried on but, says Secretary Wickard, "not on a scale commensurate with the

These are the things that can be done. The defense effort has defnonstrated here, as it has in England, potential national income much greater than ever achieved before. It is stimulated by the forced creation of destructive products. There is no reason why the resources of this vast and rich nation cannot be utilized to create just as large an income derived from constructive endeavor whose benefits can, be shared by all.

If it is not, then we servants of democracy have buried our talents and we may as well get ready to be banished, along with another certain "wicked and slothful servant," into outer darkness where, it is said on excellent authority, there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

"Come on!" urged Red, making the water boil behind his paddle "This job begins to look interest-

After a clean-up and shave Finlay and Malone left Blaise at their camp on the island and started for the post less than a mile distant. As they approached the shore the log resi-dence of the trader compelled their admiration.

The stir of people in the post clearing indicated that the approach of the Peterboro was creating unusual interest. In front of the big log house a group of three were leveling glasses on the approaching boat.

"He's got living quarters fit for a king!'

Down at the landing men were evidently discussing the strangers. Garry raised his binoculars. "Two wom en in sporting togs, Red, giving us the once over! The man with them must be his highness, Czar Isadore,

The eyes of the two clashed in a look of mutual appraisement. "Delighted to, Mr. Finlay, and you'll join us at dinner? It will be a treat to my wife and daughter to talk to two handsome young men from the outside."

Garry laughed .- "If the ladies will pardon our woolen shirts and bush clothes, we'll be glad to accept your hospitality, Mr. Isadore. You have a magnificent place here," he ob

"The marten and black fox did it," Isadore answered. "We beat the Hudson's Bay at their own game. It's been a gold mine.'

A gold mine! Garry's blood heated with his sudden anger. Was Isadore fishing—trying to draw him out so early? He watched from the tail of his eye the wooden face of Isahead man as he threw out: "Speaking of gold, they tell me there's a big rush on for the Chibougamau." But Labelle's face was vacant of expression.

"So I hear," replied Isadore. "Last year and the year before some poor fellows tried to get in by the Waswanipi but were drowned Bad river that!"

"You're a cool proposition, Isadore," thought Garry. Then he said: "Yes, so your man Batoche fold me at the railroad."

As Garry limped beside him, Isa-dore commented: "Hurt your leg?" "Yes, slipped on a rock and twist-"Too bad!" Then Isadore's face lit as they reached the waiting girls. "Well, here's what makes life possible at Waswanipi. Corinne, this is Mr. Finlay and Mr. Malone, on the government survey. My wife, gentlemen, and my daughter, Lise." Garrett Finlay was startled by the dark beauty of the two girls.

"Welcome to Waswanipi, Meestair Feenlay and Meestair—what was it?
—Malone?" said the elder and smaller of the two with a slight accent as she extended her hand with a thrust of smoldering eyes.

Red Malone beamed like a boy new toy into Corinne dore's vivacious face, framed by a blue-black bob. "What a break for two bored fe-males!" As Lise gave him her firm hand, Finlay felt that he had never looked into a lovelier face or one more baffling. "Corinne and I were about ready to call it a summer in this fly-infested bush and scram if Jules would send us." Her short upper lip curled as she archiv add-"But if you're going to survey the lake we might"

They reached the house and with a wave of the hand Lise joined Corinne Isadore. Finlay watched the lithe figure of the girl disappear through the door. Had his judgment been wrong? Was Jules Isadore ining something for that evening and did she know it?

SEES 'PLANNED ECONOMY' AS FORM OF FASCISM WASHINGTON is figuring on the war in Europe continuing at least and possibly all through 1943, and that we will be a part of it. No one has attempted to say when or how up to this time, but it is expected the opening may be with Japan 'and Hitler's support of the Japs against us.

Washington hopes to stay out of active participation in the war until our war production can be great-ly-increased, in fact trebled. That would mean an annual expenditure of 50 billion dollars a year. It would also mean cutting production for civilian use by at least 50 per cent.

The opinion in Washington is that all small manufacturing concerns that cannot be adapted to war production will have to close and get out of business. It will mean the closing of thousands of small factories, a large proportion of them located in small towns.

Big business is to be regimented, as the farms are regimented. The government will not operate them. but will dictate what they will produce, whom they will employ and how they will operate. It is to be "planned economy" for American business.

When the war is over the "planned economy" is to be applied to busfness throughout the world, as well as to America, if America has the "say so" and in Washington they believe America will be in a posi tion to dictate. It is through such "planned economy" that an after the-war depression is to be prevented.

That, briefly, is the program at Washington for the future. To me it is not a bright or promising future either during the war or after it is over. To me it is the end of the American way of life, the American system of free competition under which we have grown great. To me it is the state capitalism of Fascist Italy.

INFLATION WOULD MEAN EQUALIZATION OF POVERTY

WE ARE TOLD in Washington that America is to spend 50 billions a year on preparations for war and aid to the democracies. That is about three times as much as we have spent during 1941.

Where are we to get this 50 bil-ion dollars a year? What are we lion dollars a year? What are we to use for money. Does it mean the printing presses? If it does, it means inflation that is disaster. It means destruction of all our values. as individuals and as a nation. It does not mean the equalization of wealth, but it does mean the equali-zation of poverty, and it means poverty for every one, with nothing to divide.

Our domestic and foreign policies are so tied together that it is impossible to determine where one stops and the other begins.

America's future is in the balance, with the scales tipping definitely against our American way of life, our American civilization.

WHO MAKE CHEESE THE DAIRY SECTION of Wiscon sin, one of the greatest dairy pro-ducing districts in the world, is a two to five-hour haul to the Chicago market. Wisconsin cheese is now going to England, purchased and paid for on lease-lend account by the United States for the English government. Wisconsin cheese is selling in English stores at less than people in Chicago can buy it. To help England, it is necessary to provide more than war supplies. Food is a major item. Of the first seven billions appropriated by congress for British assistance, practically one billion will be used for food products from American farms, and American farmers have reason to be proud of the job they are doing.

OUR ARMY

FOR A REPUBLIC to create an effective fighting force there must be a purpose, enthusiasm, equipdiscipline. Today we have an army of one and a half million men, but to the rank and file of that army, all four ingredients are lack-ing. To assemble and maintain that army has cost close to two billion dollars. If we are to equip and feed the democracies of the world, it would have been better if we had kept that million and a half men on the farms and in the factories, where they might have been doing their part in providing the food and equipment so badly needed. They would have been more effective and better satisfied.

THAT SHRINKING DOLLAR

THROUGHOUT the last 200 years in all nations the cost for the necessities of life-for food, clothing, shelter, fuel has taken 65 per cent of the income of each individual. In this country as late as 1905, the government took an additional cents out of each dollar for taxes.

But taxes are now taking about 30 cents, leaving us only five cents that we can do with as we please. That may account for the decrease in collections at Sunday church

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

• In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

• It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every ne we make a purchase, though have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It gives us the most priceless feelings: In the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expect buyer, filled with self-confidence it is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus ad tising shows another of its manifold facets-shows itself as an aid toward more secure and pleasant.

UNION WITH CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—John 15:1-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—Abide in me, and I in you.—John 15:4.

Our lesson presents deep spiritual truths concerning our union with Christ — mystical, but practical; precious, but too often forgotten or neglected.

I. The Conditions of Union With Christ.

There is a sense in which union with Christ is entirely unconditional, one is either united with Him by faith or he is not. However, there are conditions for the fulfillment of all that such union carries with it. It is in that sense we use the word.

1. Cleansing (vv. 1-3). Christ is the Vine, and the believer as a true branch is united with Him. There is a oneness here which is difficult to express but delightful to receive and believe. He who is the Vine needs no cleansing, but the branch needs constant, daily purification by "the Word" (v. 3). Are we permitting God's Word to keep us clean? Only if we are reading it, studying it, meditating upon it.

There is moreover a severer type of purging to which the husband-man subjects the vine that it may bear more richly, and that is prun-ing (v. 2). It may not be pleasant, my brother, but it is profitable, and remember whose loving and sure hand it is that wields the pruning knife (v. 1).

Some branches must be cut away altogether (v. 1) and burned (v. 6). They lack the evidence of life fruitbearing — and must be destroyed. These words are evidently not written to dishearten true believers, but they are a solemn warning to those who bear a false profession of Christianity. 2. Abiding (vv. 4-8). The branch-bears the fruit of the vine. It has no strength or ability of its own to bring forth fruit. The Christian cannot serve Christ without abiding, and if he does abide the life of Christ will show forth in His living and serving. There can be no union without abiding in Christ.

3. Obedience (vv. 9, 10). The hall-mark of character in a child is obedience. That is also true in God's household. There is no use in talking sweetly and piously about abiding in God's love unless we obey His commandments. The Christian who disobeys the teachings of God's Word regarding holy living and does not respond to the leading of the Holy Spirit shuts off the blessing of God in his own life and stops its flow out to others.

II. The Results of Union With Christ.

1. Purity of Life (v. 3). "Now ye are clean"—how refreshing our Lord's words sound to us as we live in a wicked and filthy world. We sometimes wonder if there are any pure lives anymore. Yes, there are—those whom the Lord has cleaned by His Word. Would you like to be clean? Turn to Him and to His Word.

2. Prevailing Prayer (v. 7). At first one wonders why our Lord put in that word about prayer, but it union and fellowship with Christ must be intelligent prayer according to God's will, in the power of the Spirit, and certain of an answer.

Notice that the prayer promise here is absolutely unlimited, but that it follows an "if" which states a closely limited condition. Let us fulfill the condition and claim the promise.

3. Fruitbearing (vv. 2, 4, 5, 8). The fruit a Christian bears is the fruit of Christ who is the Vine, but as the branch he does have the joy of bearing "fruit" (v. 2), "more fruit" (v. 2), and "much fruit" (v. 5, 8). The Christian's phraseology can be berrowed, the Christian's service imitated, but his fruit produced only by abiding in Christ.

4. Abiding in Love (v. 10). We have been talking about abiding all through our lesson and it may seem strange to list it as one of the results of union with Christ, yet it belongs here. Our Lord said (v. 10) that the cleansed and obedient disciple should abide in His love, even as He obeys the Father and abides in His love.

What a picture that is. Christ the One who knew no stain of sin (II Cor. 5:21), always perfectly obedient to the Father (Heb. 10:7), who knows complete and perfect fellowship with the Father, reaches out His loving arms and draws the believer into the circle of that blessed union and love.

'Only Thee'

No one can ever become quite solitary, quite poor, quite miserable, who can truly say "Lord, if only I have Thee." That is just the time when God makes his consolation most gratifying and abundant, when we through distress of body and sou have turned from all temporal things to Him, and have learned that royal. overshadowing "only thee."-Theodore Christlieb.

Rayon Fabric Patterns Show New Emphasis on Originality

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

O LONGER are fine fabrics the exclusive property of the few people who can disregard cost. There's luxury for everybody these days, because of the advancement of rayon as a textile fiber during the last few years. Rayon has made possible the reproduction of all the magnificence of traditional quality cloths at prices well within the reach of modest budgets.

. To the evening wear field, where luxury has always been the keynote, are contributed gorgeous fabrics worked with all the lavishness and richness the feminine heart couldask. Exquisite, for evening, is crisp rayon taffeta in enchanting colors and new effects. In these times when men are so occupied with defense, women and girls can maintain national morale only if they look their best. Just as soldiers, sailors and marines are required to keep their uniforms neat; to shave every day, to keep their nails in order, and to have good haircuts, so should women be especially careful of their clothes, their complexions, their hands and hair. The selection of stylish, be-coming dresses and the use of cold cream, powder, lipstick and nail polish and attention to the hair are more important than ever before.
