City Delivery Not For E. Jordan

LACK OF POPULATION AND POSTAL RECEIPTS PREVENTS CITY DELIVERY

The following letter from the Post Office Department to Hon. Prentiss M. Brown, explains why the City of East Jordan's petition for City Delivery cannot be allowed at this time.

"Referring further to your letter of September 22, you are informed that the audited, adjusted receipts of the East Jordan, Michigan, post office amounted to $9,774 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1941, which is below the $10,000 legal requirement for city delivery service. The population of 1550 residing within improved territory is also below the 2500 minimum requirement for such service.

"It is regretted, therefore, that the Department is not warranted in establishing city delivery service at East Jordan.

Very truly yours,
Ambrose O'Connell
First Assistant Postmaster General."

Cotton-Mattress Program In Full Swing Throughout The County

Many families throughout the county have been busily engaged in making mattresses and comforters in various centers organized for the project. Many communities have not started as yet due to the rush of farm work and the harvesting season.

The communities of Clarion and Boyne Falls have already completed their work with the Thumb Lake center finishing by the time this paper is published. Other centers, nearing completion are Maple Grove, Boyne River Grange and Wilson communities. By far the busiest center is the Boyne-River Grange where they are turning out over twenty mattresses and 35 comforters each week. Beaver Island is another busy spot. In order to take care of the demand, another shipment of two bales was made last week. They expect to finish within the next two weeks. The centers at Marion and Barnard are slated to begin this week. While Advance, East Jordan and Rock Elm are making plans to start.

The folks who have made their mattresses and comforters are truly appreciative of the wonderful opportunity and are cooperating in every way possible. Great credit is due the community leaders who have to make out the daily reports and supervise the actual work. This is absolutely the last time this program will be made possible and we must finish the work before the end of the year.

These Young Men Enlist In Army Air Corps; Go To Biloxi, Mississippi

The following men from East Jordan and Charlevoix have enlisted in the Regular Army Air Corps at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Mississippi:

Thomas O. Breaker, son of Mrs. Mildred Breaker of RFD No. 1, East Jordan.

Robert J. Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder of East Jordan.

Clarence H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Smith of RFD No. 3, Charlevoix.

The following vacancies are now open at this station: Air Corps, Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss.; Military Police Co., Fort Custer, Mich.; Regular Army; Unassigned, through Fort Custer, Mich.; Infantry and Signal Corps, Panama and the Ordnance Dept., Puerto Rico.

These vacancies are limited and all men who wish one of these vacancies are advised to apply for the vacancy they desire in the near future.

Weekly Ladies Day To Start at E. J. Recreation Next Tuesday Afternoon

A new innovation will be started next Tuesday at the East Jordan Recreation with the inauguration of a weekly Ladies Day. This event is in response to an expressed desire by many of the ladies who have found it difficult to participate in the evening league play now under way. It will also be an ideal time for beginners to start as the building will be reserved exclusively for the feminine patronage, and instruction in the game's fundamentals will be available for beginners. It is expected that an afternoon league will be formed with several alleys reserved for open play and practice.

All ladies are invited to take advantage of this special "day" and if you would like to join a league team it would be well to turn your name in to the management at an early moment. So ladies remember... the place will be yours on Tuesday afternoons from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

Parent-Teachers Ass'n Start Drive For Hot Lunch Donations

The Parent-Teachers Association of East Jordan will start its annual drive for hot lunch donations and P. T. A. memberships, Monday, November 24. District workers have been selected to cover all sections of the rural and city area.

Every child in the district should have some warm dish for lunch at noon each day during the winter. Many of the children depend largely on these lunches. The committee in charge hope to accomplish this and seek to make this year's drive as successful as last year's.

Along with requests for food donations, a request for new and renewed memberships to the P. T. A. will be made. The P. T. A. has assumed many worthy causes for the school child in our community. Each parent is urged to join the association and take an active part in its work. It is only through such cooperation that our parent teacher's group can do the most good for our children.

Three Boyne City Men In Circuit Court Sentenced At Charlevoix

Judge Parm C. Gilbert at a special session of court, last week end at Charlevoix, sentenced Edward Camay of Boyne City from 11 months to 1 year in Southern Michigan prison for contempt of court and nonpayment of alimony.

Archie Adams, also of Boyne City, for a third offense on a drunk and disorderly charge was given 14 months to 2 years at the same institution.

William Mathers, Boyne City, was given 40 days in the county jail on an assault charge.

East Jordan Canning Co. Close Season With Social Hour, Last Thurs.

The East Jordan Canning Co. closed their run for the year, Thursday, Nov. 13.

During the noon hour a sumptuous chicken dinner was enjoyed by about 125, the main part of the dinner being furnished by the Canning Co. The tables, which were set in the warehouse were very attractive with their bouquets of fall flowers.

At the close of the dinner Mr. Sinclair was presented with a small remembrance from the group, with appropriate remarks from Mrs. G. W. Kitsman and Merle Crowell.

Moving pictures were then shown by John B. Wegener, Gov't Inspector, showing the production from the field to the can, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Lever Bros. Credits Newspaper Ads For Swan Success Here

"If you have something to be told, let the newspapers tell it."

Lever Brothers Company, famous soap manufacturers, have supplied new evidence for belief in this old adage with their announcement that they credit newspaper advertising for a large share of the phenomenal acceptance of Swan Soap, introduced here recently through large advertisement ads in this paper.

There has been an uncommonly heavy mail response from housewives in this area using the soap for the first time, according to the manufacturer. Many of the letters have contained new uses for the soap, together with the suggestion that they be incorporated in the advertising; others have complimented the makers for the improvements over other white floating soaps. Introduced by Swan, these improvements, developed after hundreds of laboratory tests, include richer, long lasting suds and a bland-mildness comparable to that of finest, imported castiles.

"Small fry," just learning their letters, have also been ardent readers of the Swan advertisements, it appears. A number of newspaper pages bearing the likeness of the active swan which appears in the ads have been received — all beautifully colored in unusual shades of blue and green by enterprising young children.

But the most imposing suggestion for advertising the new white, floating soap was received as a postscript to a mother's letter. The youngster, who will undoubtedly become an advertising man, had a ninth important point to add to the eight improvements outlined in the ads.

"It makes good boats," he said.

Lansing — The threatened strike of the CIO workers in the Chrysler tank plant at Centerville, one of Michigan's key industries in national defense, has focused attention again on the role of the state mediation board.

The idea of requiring labor to serve notice of intention to strike and thus to permit voluntary mediation during a "cooling off" period was conceived during the 1939 state legislature. The late Frank Fitzgerald had sensed the public's critical reaction to the sit-down strikes of 1937. Labor peace became one of his promises, and the state mediation board logically followed when he was elected governor.

During the present emergency, Governor VanWagoner has made frequent use of the mediation machinery established by the state board. To seek a settlement of the Chrysler tank dispute, the governor appointed a special mediation committee headed by Thomas J. Donahue, chairman of the state board. The governor said of the press:

"I will do everything in my power to make sure that the continuous flow of tanks from the arsenal is not interrupted for as much as one day."

Labor Policy

The rise here of labor disputes, some of which have seriously hampered defense production, is in rather sharp contrast to the cordial relations existing in England between unions and employers.

While strikes in war industries have been banned in England, the government's order was agreed to in advance by both labor and employers. Furthermore, it contained no penalty provisions against strikers.

In the first World War Great Britain introduced compulsory arbitration of disputes in war industries, and yet more than 1,500,000 munitions workers took part in illegal strikes during thirty-three months after adoption of the act in July, 1914. Compulsory arbitration is difficult to enforce.

Even the United States during the last World War never prohibited strikes or lockouts. The national war labor board was without authority, as is the present national labor mediation board, to enforce its decisions. Yet, the record shows that the board's decisions were generally accepted.

Morale Is Key

Capt. Don Leonard, Michigan State Police executive who visited England last summer on a national civilian defense mission, was impressed greatly with the high morale of the British worker in support of the government's war efforts.

He visited industrial plants in which men and women were working long hours daily to produce vitally needed tanks, airplanes and munitions. Any thought of depriving the government of defense material was considered by the British "man on the street" as subversive, unpatriotic, and downright sabotage.

"One factory was hit by bombs during an aerial raid," Captain Leonard relates. "The workers were so outraged at the Germans that they voluntarily increased their own production and stepped up the normal output 20 per cent for the next few months."

British labor unions are of long standing, contrasted to the newness of many unions in this country. The regular machinery for collective bargaining has been effective in adjusting disputes without recourse to interference in production.

Complacency

Since his return from England, the Michigan police captain has been appointed a special assistant to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, commissioner of civilian defense, and has been "loaned" to the federal government for special service in promotion of civilian defense.

How has the average American citizen received the civilian defense program?

According to Captain Leonard, the attitude of Americans today is somewhat like the attitude of Britishers before the Nazi invasion of Belgium and Holland and the collapse of the French army. Britishers were unmindful of the possible dangers of bombing attacks from the air; invasion of the island was considered a fantasy; industrial production of war materials took an easy-going pace.

Lagging Morale

Because the United States has 3,000 miles of water between the Atlantic coast and Europe, the average American is complacently confident of the country's security from military attack, the captain observes. He is inclined to overlook the military hazards that would follow a few years from today should Hitler triumph in Europe; he is confident also that the Japanese are bluffing, that we will not be engaged in a two-ocean war with a one-ocean navy.

The combined result of such circumstances and thinking is a lagging morale with regard to defense production. Rise of labor strikes is current proof of it. Even the so-called "shooting war" on the Atlantic has not been enough to create a spirit of determination to defeat Hitler. We present this conclusion not in criticism of labor, nor in defense of any administration, but as an observation objectively borne out by the facts.

As Captain Leonard puts it, many of us still do not realize that our government has pledged America's entire national resources to secure the military defeat of Hitler, regard-

Volorous Bartholomew Dies Following Year's Illness From Heart Trouble

Delbert Volorous Bartholomew passed away in East Jordan, Saturday, Nov. 16, following a year's illness from a heart ailment.

He was born in Echo township, Antrim county, May 18, 1898, the son of Frank and Rosalie Bartholomew. He resided in Echo township 25 years, Boyne City four years, and East Jordan 14 years. He was a member of Jordan River Lodge I.O.O.F.

On Dec. 10, 1921, he was united in marriage to Gladys Batterbee.

Surviving are his parents of East Jordan; two sons and two daughters: Kenneth and Evert, East Jordan; Rose Helen and Louise, St. Clair Shores, Mich. Also by a brother, Emanuel Bartholomew, East Jordan.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, conducted by Rev. Scott Bartholomew. Burial was at Moore house cemetery conducted by the Oddfellows.

Among those here to attend the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Schroeder, Jarald Schroeder, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Attinger and son of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolverton of Boyne City; Donald and Marie Morrison of Boyne City; Rose Helen and Louise Bartholomew of St. Clair Shores.

E. J. Garden Club Will Meet Next Wednesday Afternoon

The East Jordan Garden Club will meet Wednesday afternoon, November 26, at the City-Building. There will be election of officers for the ensuing year. Evergreens will be the subject of a talk by Mr. George Hemingway of the Charlevoix County Nursery. This meeting was originally scheduled for Nov. 19, but was postponed to next week — Nov. 26.

less of the cost.

A costly tie-up of tank production, should the CIO strike actually develop, might create a 1942 political liability akin to the sit-down backfire that proved so disastrous to Governor Frank Murphy.

The public moves slowly, yet public opinion, once aroused, becomes a swinging pendulum that tends to go from one extreme to another.

BOYNE-WALLOPS LOCALS 26 - 0

In the last game of the season, Armistice Day, East Jordan lost to her Boyne City rivals, 26 to 0. Although the East Jordan team was beaten, it fought to the bitter end, gaining several first downs. But it lacked the final punch needed to put the ball over.

Outstanding in the local backfield were Sturgell and Bechtold, both playing their last game for the Red and Black. Captain Bob Strehl was in on every play as were Grutsch and Gilkerson, the other senior linemen of the first squad. The squad also loses Forrest Rogers, a second string tackle, making a total of six men E. J. loses this year.

The locals won 3, tied 1, and lost two games this season, for a fine showing. With several veterans and letter winners returning next year, the school should be able to put a strong team on the field.

Fred Bechtold, fullback, was named to the center position on the All-Northern team this year.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

The local basketball team has started practice at the Ellsworth gym, with about 12 fellows out. There will be only one team this year. All games will be played on the opponents' home floors.

HOME ECONOMICS BREAKFASTS

The ninth grade home economics classes held breakfasts this week. The girls planned and prepared their menus.

The first period home economics class was divided into two groups. The menu of one group consisted of Orange, Ralston, Ham and Eggs, Muffins, Cocoa.

The other group had Banana, Ralston, Bacon and Eggs, Muffins, Cocoa.

The class having home economics the third hour was also divided into two groups. Their breakfast menus were as follows:

First Group: Pineapple Juice, Ralston, Sausage and Eggs, Waffles and Syrup, Cocoa.

Second Group: Pineapple Juice, Rolled Oats, Waffles and Syrup, Bacon and Eggs, Cocoa.

TESTS GIVEN

Tests to determine pupils' attitudes and problems were given at the school Tuesday morning during the fifth, sixth, and seventh periods. All high school students took the tests.

SAFETY LESSON

Last Thursday the third hour classes discussed another phase of safety. The topic was "Safety in School — On the Stairs and in the Corridors."

FORMER TEACHER VISITS SCHOOL

Mrs. Harold Wirkku of Hancock visited school this week. Mrs. Wirkku, the former Miss Sylvia Niemi, left last February after three and one-half years' teaching in the East Jordan schools.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Hager's fourth grade had been studying Africa for the last week. Mrs. Reuling gave them a talk about the part of Africa where she lived and taught.

She spoke about her home in Durban, east South Africa, near the Cape of Good Hope.

She lived near some of the largest gold and silver mines. Some of them are two miles deep.

"The days in Durban are much like the days in Michigan," stated Mrs. Reuling. "The hottest ones are no hotter than here and the coldest ones are colder than the coldest days in August."

The children in class later wrote letters to Mrs. Reuling thanking her for the talk which they appreciated very much.

SECOND GRADE

There are twenty people who were neither absent nor tardy this last month.

We are making a doll house and the furniture for it.

We talked about all the things for which we are thankful, then we made pictures of them and put them on our bulletin board. We also made some pictures of the Thanksgiving turkey.

Congressional Neutrality Act Revision Permits Armed U. S. Merchant Ships To Sail Through Belligerent Zones; U. S. Faces Serious Labor Situation

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Everyone in Soviet Russia is learning the soldier's trade these days. Even the students in school. Here an instructor is shown teaching secondary school students methods of bayonet fighting. Note that girls as well as boys are present for instruction in this class.

NEUTRALITY:

Revision Complete

When the house voted 212 to 194 to permit the arming of U. S. merchant ships and allow them to sail through war zones into ports of nations at war it amounted to a repeal of the neutrality act's main provisions. For as the senate had already adopted the same measure, the administration's battle on this vital issue was over.

As a vote neared on the measure a warning came from President Roosevelt that its defeat would be evidence to Hitler that "the United States is disunited." For a while there were strong indications of a Democratic revolt in the house, as many members were reported to be demanding a former presidential stand on defense strikes in return for "going along" with the Roosevelt foreign policy.

When the President's warning, in the form of a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn, was read before the house, it was inferred that assurances were being given that the strike situation would be dealt with and many members were reported to have then fallen in behind the White House revision plans.

Marked by a hectic battle on the issue, the principal fight centered repeal of the combat zone and belligerent port provisions. For shipping arming had already been approved by the house and senate packed on the controversial provision when it passed the broader bill and returned it to the house for concurrence.

GERMANS:

Fighting Front

Frank admissions from Berlin that the attack on Russia was entirely stalled no longer had been withheld as the Germans were finding it necessary to explain to the people the failure of their armies to capture Leningrad, Moscow or the defenses in the Donetz basin.

German press announcements blamed entirely the weather. It also was claimed that the Russian defenses, especially around Moscow, were based on the knowledge that the German mechanized army could not operate over fields and through woods on a terrain covered with snow and rain.

One communique said: "This has forced us to use roads instead of traveling cross-country, and these roads are literally minefields, especially the shoulders."

The defenses around Moscow were described as extremely powerful and intricate, including subterranean tank garages from which Red tanks would dash directly into battle and then circle and re-enter their "bunkers" after firing a few shots, and before the German attacking forces could organize their defense.

This system really gave the Russians movable fortifications. The German communique also said they were encountering flame throwers so concealed in the ground that only the nozzles were showing, and which could be operated from a considerable distance with devastating effect. The Russians thus have been able to hold back the Nazi attack, Berlin frankly admitted, though it was claimed that at one point the assault had reached within 31 miles of the borders of Moscow.

Nothing was said about Russian claims that her troops were actually taking the offensive at many points.

FINNS:

To Continue

Finland, in a lengthy reply to Secretary Hull's message, urging withdrawal from the war against Russia, had politely rejected the plea of the United States, and, in effect, said that her objectives were not yet accomplished.

Thus the pressure from the hard-fighting and winter-acclimated Finns had continued on Russia's northern front, keeping a big portion of the Reds' planes and armies in action, and complicating her defense.

BRITISH:

Loss

Loss of the aircraft carrier Ark Royal was admitted by the British who said that the craft (claimed many times as being sunk by the Nazis) had been torpedoed in the Mediterranean east of Gibraltar. The 22,000 ton floating airfield was sunk while in tow after a submarine torpedo had struck her.

STRIKES:

Galore

Highlighting the news of a troubled labor situation in the United States was the strike called for December 7, by 350,000 operating employees of the nation's railway systems.

The American Federation of Labor trades in San Diego, 2,000 members of which had walked out, crippling navy and marine defense projects, went back to work.

At the same time the C.I.O. chieftains in the coal dispute in the captive mines walked out of the conference, and it began to look as though the army would have to take over and operate the mines.

In the steel-coal-mine strike, however, after a quadruple plea by President Roosevelt to John L. Lewis had temporarily halted the threatened walkout of 53,000 workers and had sent them back to work pending negotiations before the national mediation board, trouble developed as soon as the board decided adversely to the closed shop demand.

Lewis had set his deadline, and only three days before that time the board, on which Philip Murray and other C.I.O. chieftains were sitting, declined to vote the closed shop. Murray and his aides had announced that they were quitting.

WAR:

And Mr. Welles

Administration forces saw the approach of America's entry into actual hostilities as closer, not because of repeal of the neutrality act's main restrictive paragraphs, but as a result of increased pressure on this country by Japan and Germany.

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, and President Roosevelt himself, in their Armistice day addresses, had issued most solemn warnings.

Mr. Welles, in particular, said: "Another war may be forced on the United States at any moment by Japan or Germany."

"The tides are running fast. The heart-searching question every American citizen must ask himself is whether the world in which we have to live would have come to this desperate pass had the United States been willing in those years which followed 1919 to play its full part in striving to bring about a new world order based on justice and on a steadfast concert for peace."

He said that President Wilson, dying five years after he had laid the groundwork of such co-operative effort, "was laid to rest amid the apathy and the sneers of those of his opponents who had, through appeal to ignorance, to passion and to prejudice, temporarily persuaded the people to reject Wilson's plea that the influence, the resources and the power of the United States be exercised for their own security and their own advantage, through our participation in an association of nations for peace."

And Secretary Knox told a Providence audience that "the hour of decision is here," and that the nation should maintain itself in "instant readiness for defense." Of the Japanese situation, he said: "We have co-operated with every liberal and peace-loving element in Japan and we are still ready to co-operate."

"We have been patient while our rights have been violated. We are moved, and actuated in the Pacific, no less than in the Atlantic, solely by considerations of self-defense."

Prison Camp

The first prison camp since World War I is now being completed near Patchogue, N. Y. It will accommodate some 700 aliens. The watchtower is shown above.

ROME:

And Hostages.

Italy, by arresting 150 hostages in Yugoslavia as an aftermath of a Serbian uprising in which a large number of Italian soldiers and civilians were slain and wounded, had placed herself in position to go into the hostage-execution business in a similar manner to that of the Nazis in France and other occupied countries.

In the official casualty list in Greece and Yugoslavia issued by the Italians since their armies occupied those countries 179 Italian soldiers had been reported killed, and 128 wounded.

It was the first time since the outbreak of the war that the Italian command had resorted to the "hostage method" of control or reprisal.

MEDITERRANEAN:

Battle Report

British warships, under the guns of a highly superior Italian naval force, had engaged a convoy in the Mediterranean, and had sunk several freighters, also three destroyers.

The British admiralty announced in a later communique that four more Axis troopships had been sunk, two sailing vessels sent to the bottom, and four other vessels damaged.

All of this was accomplished by submarine action, the British asserted. It was considered possible that the action might have been a prelude to activity by the British in North Africa.

MARSHALL:

On Morale

Gen. George C. Marshall, head of the army, declared there was in progress a "sudden and widespread" attempt on the part of the Nazis to "sabotage United States munitions, utility and transportation industries—also the army's morale."

Already, the general revealed, there has been uncovered an Axis propaganda attack designed to disrupt army morale.

This campaign, using "clever methods" has succeeded already in upsetting the families of soldiers and has also misled some members of congress.

The general's daily mail, he said, reflects "German scheming through letters from families who are worrying about their boys in the army, who have been led to believe, for instance, that the soldiers lack food, proper shelter or medical attention. They come from members of congress who have been similarly misled."

He cited the various events indicative of disrupted morale which occurred during the summer:

ELEPHANTS:

Circus Tragedy

The sudden death of 10 elephants in the Barnum Bailey circus at Atlanta was followed by a statement from the management that it was clearly a case of "elephant murder."

Autopsies determined what the poison was, and that it was an "inside job." Arrests had been promised.

The story had much "human interest," and it was expected that it would blossom out into detective fiction. Most of the animals that died were young for elephants, 30 to 35 years old.

MISCELLANY:

Berlin: The Germans claim that the British, since they took the air offensive on the west front had lost 1,744 planes from May to October, inclusive, while the German losses were only 376.

Philadelphia: Temple university students are planning to adopt a British university, and to provide moral and financial support to its students. The Temple organization will be called the Collegiate V. (for victory).

Three-Way Pulling Match Builds Defense Log Jam

Washington Sees Conflicts of Authority, Effort And Viewpoint as Threat to Satisfactory Carrying Out of Program.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N-W, Washington, D. C.

There is a log jam today holding up the defense program that is going to take dynamite to blow up. Whether there is the courage and the unity and the understanding to do the job remains to be seen.

It will take understanding because the men who make the charges will have to know the facts and realize the conditions and the traditions which have created the evils.

It will take courage, for a premature burst may damage a lot of innocent bystanders.

As far as can be judged from information leading out of the cracks in the defense machine it is a three-way pulling match. The difficulty in analyzing the situation is the difficulty in classifying and identifying the opposing forces.

The usual classification is: One, the New Deal group. Two, the dollar-a-year men. Three, certain army and navy officials.

But this is a very misleading classification because there are some dollar-a-year men who are working with the administration. There are some members of the administration charged with playing into the hands of the dollar-a-year men. There are some army officials who are co-operating with the so-called New Deal element.

Roughly—the Charges

Roughly the charges are these: Those sympathetic with the viewpoint of the New Dealers say that some army officials insist on favoring the dollar-a-year men who manage to steer defense contracts to big business, block sub-contracting to the smaller firms.

Some of the army and navy officials say that they are not going to let amateurs run their affairs, that they have dealt with certain firms for years who know how to do what they want done.

The champions of the small business men and congressmen who have attempted to help them say that priorities assignments are sending essential materials to the big business firms—and they mention the utilities in particular. Small manufacturers and public projects like rural electrification which is bidding for precious copper for its power lines, are being passed by, is the accusation.

The dollar-a-year men say that they are protecting free enterprise and that those opposing them are trying to turn business over to government control.

These bitter conflicts of authority, effort and viewpoint naturally prevent the co-operation essential in the tremendous undertaking which the Office of Emergency Management is attempting to carry out.

This is one reason for the log jam. There is another. In Washington itself criticism is growing. This is not new. It is criticism of the overlapping and conflicting authority among the officials of the OEM.

Theoretically, Vice President Wallace is the responsible head of all defense effort and in that capacity he reports only to the President but the money he requires to carry out his functions is controlled by Jesse Jones, head of the RFC as well as secretary of commerce. That is just one example of similar anomalies right down the line.

The strange thing about it all is that everybody in Washington seems to know all about the log jam except the President himself who is the only man who can straighten it out.

'ABCD' Countries

In New Trade Pact

The "A B C D" countries have just drawn up a trade agreement which bottles up a large share of the raw materials of the world. The ABCD's (America, Britain, China and the Dutch East Indies) control a large share of the things that do not or will not grow anywhere else. The agreement has a two-pronged purpose. One is a horn of famine, one is a horn of plenty. The horn of famine is pointed today at Japan as a threat to keep her within her own domain. The horn of plenty is a peaceful promise. Its purpose is to provide a working arrangement so that all nations may share in the riches of the earth, the precious raw materials of which the "have-nots" say the "haves" are depriving them.

We do not realize how much of a "have-not" nation the United States is. I did not until I saw the report of Carter R. Bryan of the department of commerce. It was a story of his visit to a country store.

Mr. Bryan looked over the goods on the shelves and counters and hanging on hooks against the walls and then began to trace them to their origin. I haven't the space to mention more than a few but the next time you go to the store you will be able to use this list as a starter and surprise yourself.

List of 'Have Nots'

Of course he began with tea from China and coffee from South America and then went on:

"Among other things were binder twine, made of sisal, which comes from Yucatan, and halter ropes, made of hemp from the Philippines; brushes, made of hog bristles from Mongolia, soft drinks containing coca leaves from Peru and kola nuts from Jamaica, and tapioca from The Netherlands Indies or the Dominican republic."

"Cocoa beans from South America are used in making cocoa and chocolate. The same is true of the chocolate bars in the candy case. Even those penny peppermint candy sticks," he continued, "are made of sugar, which probably came from Cuba, and peppermint oil from Russia, and that chewing gum was made of chicle from Central America or Mexico."

Then of course there are spices—"And spices," he pointed out, "have played a big role in history before. Columbus wasn't looking for America when he sailed west; he was looking for a new route to India and spices in the days when another barbaric horde interfered with trade."

After noting several large bunches of bananas from Central America and pineapples from Cuba, he continued:

"One whole section was given over to bottles containing cod liver oil from Iceland, old-fashioned castor oil from India—and Brazil, hay fever and asthma remedies containing Ma Huang (Ephedra Vulgaris) from China, purgatives containing psyllium seed from India, ipecac from Nicaragua, senna from the Levant, and aloe from The Netherlands West Indies, that invaluable cold and malaria remedy, quinine, from The Netherlands Indies, camphor oil from Japan and iodine from Chile, horchound from Spain, and other medicinals from every part of the earth."

As I said, this was only a starter. Bryan named at least 100 other articles right in that one country store, all or a part of each shipped in from foreign lands. If this country, with its wide range of climate and mighty resources has to depend on foreign countries for these products used in our daily life it is easy to see how dependent all nations have become, one upon the other. Trade barriers must go down if civilization is to continue to go upward.

Birds, Traffic Signals And Early Risers

Some people here in Washington have been living dangerously before you and I start our day.

They are up and doing before the traffic signals begin their rhythmic cycle of red, yellow and green. It is a period of comparative freedom, the lights flash yellow—a warning to be careful, not a command to stop. To some of the mad, pre-dawn motorists the flashers are not warnings at all. They are simply lures for the heedless autos dashing at the intersections like moths at a candle flame.

That makes it stimulatingly dangerous for early folk whose reveille has sounded long before our bacon sizzles. They have to be wide awake. Except the birds—one of the few forms of life, feathered, furred, or pajamaed, whose waking is pleasant to hear—the plaintive peep that gradually swells in a soft crescendo to a cheerful chatter.

And the birds are about the only living creatures who can risk an early start for they can cross the street without regard for the traffic lights.

Chicken a la King for Fifty (See Recipes Below.)

Church Supper Ideas

What is so gay as a grand, big get-together full of informal fun, the hum of pleasant conversation and plenty of good food thrown into the bargain? A church supper, of course!

The fun will take care of itself and the food—well, almost if you get the right amount of it, for the cooking's as simple as only simple can be. Chicken a la King is a treat any way you serve it, but very easy to prepare and serve if you do this time-tried, old-fashioned, favorite way ladled out of a big kettle with plenty of cream sauce onto feathery light hot biscuits:

*Chicken or Turkey a la King. (Serves 50)
4 4-pound chickens, stewed, then cut meat into pieces

Or
1 18-pound turkey, stewed or roasted, meat diced
1 pound fat (chicken or turkey fat and butter mixed)
4 cups flour
2 gallons scalded milk
1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 large cans
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 1/2 teaspoons or more salt
3/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
2 sweet green peppers, chopped (optional)
2 pimientos, chopped (optional)
1/2 cup egg yolks (6 eggs)

Melt about three-fourths of the fat, add the flour, and blend thoroughly; add scalded milk, stirring rapidly with a wire whisk—to keep well mixed. Cook until starch taste is gone—about 10 minutes. Cook the mushrooms, sliced, in remaining fat, until delicately browned and add to sauce with the onion. Beat egg yolks and mix with a small amount of the hot mixture to blend and add to the sauce, stirring thoroughly. Cook 4 or 5 minutes more. Add turkey meat. Season to taste (with paprika and pepper mixed into salt). Add peppers and pimiento, if used. Serve on hot biscuits.

The simplest way to prepare the chickens is to cook them in seasoned water, to which a small onion, 2 carrots and a small bunch of celery are added. Chickens are handled best if disjointed and the breast and back sections cut into convenient-sized pieces.

Baking Powder Biscuits.

(Serves 50)
4 cups flour
2 cups double-acting baking powder
2 tablespoons salt
1 pound shortening (2 1/2 cups)
5 cups milk

Sift the dry ingredients together, add fat and mix lightly. Make a well in the center and add the milk.

LYNN SAYS:

Attractive salads pep up meals besides adding nourishment plus to menus. Salads in winter are a little hard to plan because of the scarcity of fresh fruits and vegetables, so I suggest you try these for solving your salad problem: Prunes stuffed with cream cheese and nuts, served with orange sections and lettuce. Cooked beets and cooked carrots diced with celery, mixed with mayonnaise. Orange sections served with tiny cream cheese balls. Marinate oranges in french dressing first.

Canned pineapple and fresh oranges served in alternate sections on lettuce. Alternating orange and grapefruit sections are a good idea, too. Chunks of lettuce with crumbled hard-cooked egg and a few leftover peas, tossed together with salad oil, salt, pepper, vinegar.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

- *Chicken a la King
- *Scalloped Potatoes
- *Sunset Salad
- Bread and Butter
- Assorted Cakes
- *Coffee

*Recipe given
Mix just until the dough holds together. Divide dough into fourths and make 1/4 at a time. Roll on a floured board, pat to 1/2 inch thickness, cut and place on baking sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a hot (450 degree) oven until golden brown.

*Scalloped Potatoes. (Serves 50)
10 pounds (6 quarts) sliced potatoes
2 quarts hot milk
1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 cups butter
3 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon pepper

Peel potatoes before weighing. Before measuring, peel and slice. If large, cut in two lengthwise before slicing. Into six baking dishes put a layer of potato, then a slight layer of flour, and repeat until all potatoes are used. Dissolve salt, pepper and butter in hot milk. Pour over potatoes, cover and cook in slow oven for 1 1/2 hours or until done.

Best idea for a salad is this one that's made in advance and needs only to be sliced and placed on lettuce leaves for serving. It's as gay and colorful as the get-together itself.

*Sunset Salad.
18 ounces lemon gelatin
2 1/2 quarts hot water and canned pineapple juice
1 1/2 quarts grated raw carrots
1 1/2 pints canned crushed-pineapple, drained
2 teaspoons salt

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and pineapple juice which has been heated to 130 degrees F. Chill. Combine carrots, pineapple and salt. When mixture is slightly thickened, fold in carrot and pineapple mixture. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise and grated carrots. Makes 32 portions.

Just in case you want to make up a church supper menu of your own, I'm listing additional recipes:
Meat Loaf.
10 pounds ground round steak
2 pounds ground pork or salt pork
4 eggs
1/2 pound bread crumbs
2 onions
2 tablespoons salt
2 teaspoons pepper
1 quart cold mashed potatoes
1 quart milk or canned tomatoes
Mix thoroughly, mold into five loaves, and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F., until done. Makes 50 servings.

*Boiled Coffee. (Serves 50)
1 1/2 pounds coffee (8 1/2 cups)
2 1/2 gallons water
2 eggs

Mix shells, whole eggs and 1 additional cup of cold water with coffee. When the water comes to a boil, add the coffee-egg mixture which has been tied in a bag, to the boiling water, and boil for 3 to 5 minutes. Test for strength. When ready, remove bag, let coffee stand 10 to 15 minutes before serving.

The wife of one of our famous football coaches, Mrs. Lou Little, likes to serve a simple but hearty meal after the game. Jot this one down as an idea for an after the game supper or church supper idea: Hot mulled elder, casserole of pork and beans, buttered hot date-nut bread, celery, pickles, and chili sauce; jellied cole slaw; doughnuts and coffee.

For the casserole, used canned pork and beans with tomato sauce; heat in the oven about 20 minutes. As a decoration use half slices of date-nut bread. Put them around the top of the beans for 5 minutes before the casserole comes out from the oven.

Union of Friendship

Friendship is the supreme tie. It is stronger even than the bonds of blood, as we see in the case of Jonathan, who stood by his friend David even against his own father. When two hearts have become one in the mystical union of friendship, that relationship should mean more to them than any matter of circumstance, fortune or individual benefit.

A house-full of smoking pleasure is the gay, new Christmas gift package of Camel Cigarettes now being featured by local dealers. Designed in the shape of a house, trimmed even to the snow on the roof, this colorful package contains four "flat fifties"—200 Camel Cigarettes, America's favorite. No wrapping is needed. There is even a gift card printed right on the package. For those smokers on your Christmas list, give Camels and be sure your gift is appreciated. Camels are also available in the regular carton of ten packages of "20's"—200 cigarettes. The carton, too, is handsomely wrapped and ready to give.—Adv.

THE CIGARETTE OF GUSTIER TOBACCO

BRIEFS . . . By Baukhage

Instead of waiting for migrant families to find their way to the jobs, up in the Northwest hop and apple country the State Employment services are opening offices at each of the 20 Farm Security migratory labor camps. Already job placements in the hop and potato fields and in the apple orchards have outstripped all previous records.

Sweden's Tobacco Monopoly has estimated that about 800 tons of tobacco are literally thrown away each year in that country in discarded cigarette stubs, the department of commerce reports. It is proposed, therefore, to avoid this economic waste by use of hollow paper tips on cigarettes of a size approximating the length of the stub usually discarded.

Toolmakers Will Be Trained in Schools

Broad Program Is Shaped by Engineers' Society

DETROIT. — The United States never again will be caught in an emergency without enough skilled workers to swing full speed into a national defense production program, according to a broad new educational plan just formulated by the American Society of Tool Engineers.

The society soon will release through its 37 chapters a three-point training program to local school boards that eventually may turn out skilled men by the thousands. Ford R. Lamb, executive secretary of the society, said.

An acute shortage of machinists, tool and die makers and machine designers has been the principal bottleneck in attempts to retool and expand factories for defense production, and the society estimated last summer that 1,260,600 technical and skilled workmen were needed for defense requirements.

This figure, Lamb said, has not changed "because we can make a semiskilled machine operator in four to six weeks, but it takes years to train a skilled mechanic or tool and die maker."

Lamb said it was impossible to operate tool and die machine shops on a three-shift day, seven-day week, as requested by Production Chief Knudsen, "because it would take 300 per cent. more manpower than we have."

Whereas the solution to the immediate problem is longer working hours for each employee, Lamb said, the educational program will assure the industry of a plentiful supply of manpower in the future. Acting only in an advisory capacity, the society, composed of men employed in the industry, will submit programs to high schools, colleges and manufacturers.

Strange Herbs Sold by Mexicans at Juarez Mart

JUAREZ, MEXICO. — At the historic Juarez market where Mexicans shop and where American tourists come to see strange products of Mexico's interior, peddlers and vendors offer herbs from Mexican soil that "will cure anything," even a broken heart.

In the tiny booths grizzled wise men do a thriving business in herbs and charms which they say their ancestors have found effective for centuries.

For a bad cold they offer a remedy the Mexican swears by. It's called yerba de vibora, or snake hair. A little green herb, it grows in the mountains. Brew a tea of yerba de vibora, mix it with sotol — potent Mexican alcoholic beverage — and the cold will disappear, the vendors assert.

For rheumatism, huachichile is recommended. Gourd tea is reportedly the best cure for chest ailments and tuberculosis. For a hangover orange leaves mixed with — you guessed it — sotol, is supposed to be the best cure.

Avoid the Peaks and Help Defense

THE chart above shows the ebb and flow of Long Distance telephone calls during an average week-day in Michigan. Notice the sharp peaks in mid-morning and mid-afternoon. That's when business activity is greatest — when many important defense calls must go through. See the third peak around eight o'clock in the evening. That's when your out-of-town friends are most likely to be telephoning. At these peak periods our switchboards and circuits carry their heaviest loads — heavier now than ever before, because of defense, increased business and new homes. If you can time your calls to fit the "valleys" instead of the "hills," you'll get faster service and find more people free to talk.

For 34 years Christmas Seals have successfully carried to Americans the message: Tuberculosis can be wiped out if the people make the fight their own and support it financially.

Bermuda Rigid War Outpost

British Staff Is Kept Busy With Passenger, Cargo And Mail Tests.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA.—A staff of some 800 British army and government authorities is stationed on this island as a final check against spying and shipments to and from the United States that might damage the British war cause.

Honeymooners and vacationers who formerly flocked to Bermuda in peace time, have been replaced by censors, secret service agents, customs officials and army authorities intent on using this gateway to the Western hemisphere as a marine outpost for Great Britain's war against the Axis powers.

Co-operation of the United States government—which instructed the Pan-American Airway's Clippers and ships of the American Export Lines to submit to examination on their trips to and from Europe—is signaled by the American sailors who are here to establish a defense naval base near St. George. The base was one of the many acquired in the United States-British destroyer trade.

Gréat Amount of Detail. However, the job of the contraband control and the censors is staggering in proportion. These officials must examine passengers, cargo and mail of every airplane and ship that enters a Bermudian port.

Passengers bound for the war zone must give up any soap, matches, sugar, coffee, silk and other commodities declared as contraband under rulings of the British blockade. An Axis power citizen traveling on a special United States government visa—as was the case of Italian officials who recently returned to their country from the World's fair—were forced to give up all their money except bare traveling expenses. Gold and jewelry also was confiscated. A French World's fair official returning to his home in occupied France had some 25 pounds of chocolate, sugar, coffee, and a quantity of women's silk stockings taken from him. A French marquis, also returning to France, had to give up a quantity of match folders engraved "Help Us to Help France" to the British.

Major problems of the British authorities here is determination of the status of persons traveling to unoccupied France and to such countries as Holland, Denmark, Hungary, Belgium and Sweden. These nationals, returning to nations under German domination, constitute a constant problem for the British secret service.

Some Travelers Detained. Although no official data is available, it is known that several persons have been detained when they attempted to pass through the Bermuda control. If they are found to be enemies of the British, they are interned either in one of the islands here or sent to a Canadian camp.

Persons who have property confiscated here receive receipts for it in case he wishes to appeal to the British contraband control for its return. However, such appeals will take years in settlement and for property of little value, little protest is made.

Bermudians still are attempting to picture their islands as an American vacation spot despite the war. The drop in vacation revenue—which annually runs into millions of dollars—has seriously affected Bermuda's economy.

Dictator Swan in Zoo Demoted and Isolated

NEW ORLEANS.—Audubon Park zoo officials have a way of dealing with dictators. Mike, a great white swan who has controlled the actions of both men and birds on the park lagoon for several years, has been sent into "exile" so the traffic may ply the pool once again.

Mike, the egocentric, dominated the lagoon with his huge wings. He drove other birds from the water, and invariably fought the oars or paddles of boats by flapping his wings.

Frank Neelis, the park superintendent, had Mike removed to a small pool on the opposite side of the park, and supplanted him with five new swans.

Missing Your Appendix? Better See This Doctor

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — Any one who has ever mislaid an appendix after its removal has an unusual opportunity to replace it with one that has withstood the test of time. Dr. John A. Miller, who recently retired after 53 years as a country doctor, has 136 of them, preserved in alcohol. They are souvenirs of, in most cases, kitchen-table surgery.

Museum Built in Style Used by Mound Indians

MOUNDVILLE, ALA.—A museum designed after the architecture of the ancient and little-known Mound Builders of Alabama has been opened to house situ burials and artifacts found at the mound village here.

A burial, left exactly as it was uncovered, is located under each wing of the building and the center section contains cases which hold hundreds of relics of the tribe.

AMERICANS GIVE

Thanks

For their Many Blessings

How small our few troubles appear in comparison with the weight of misery which has descended upon the peoples of many other lands.

Within the circle of our security, life still goes on in a civilized manner, and even the poorest of us is rich enough to enjoy liberty and to command justice. Let us be thankful.

COAL FACTS

AMERICA'S BEST COAL DEPOSITS HAVE BEEN HUNDREDS OF YEARS IN THE MAKING.

No artificial processing can take Nature's place in the creation of good coal. And because coal is a natural fuel, formed by geologic rather than man-power processes, it costs less. Besides its unequalled economy, it offers safe, steady, natural heat free from shocking "quick changes" in temperature.

INSTALLMENT FIVE

THE STORY SO FAR: Bound for the Chibougamau gold country, six men lost their lives on the Nottaway river. Red Malone, Garrett Finlay, brother of one of the six, and Blaise, half-breed guide, arrive at Nottaway posing as surveyors.

The trader led his guests into a large living room the floor of which was strewn with moose, caribou and bear-skin rugs. Two hundred miles from the railroad the trader lived in comfort. "So you're surveying the lakes?" he began. "I suppose that will take you all summer."

"Almost," Garry answered, his thoughts with the girl. "But we have the lower Nottaway to finish before joining our party at Rupert."

"Lucky you're not mapping the big rivers that feed this chain of lakes! You'd need canoe men—Indians."

"We left the best white-water man in Canada out there on the island but we'd need more than Indians," said Finlay pointedly. "We'd need luck."

"Oh, you have a man with you?" "Yes." So you thought Blaise was killed on the river, did you? surprised Finlay. Then he said: "I judge from the buoys you use planes here."

There was a shadow of annoyance in the other's baffling eyes. "I have to hire a plane from Quebec to bring the girls in and out. They don't like the river. I can't get them to winter here. It makes it pretty lonely."

Shortly a Montagnais girl appeared at the door and nodded. There was laughter outside and Isadore's wife and step-daughter entered the large room at one end of which a table was set.

"Hope you won't mind if we doled up and powdered our noses!" bubbled Corinne Isadore. "It's an event to have guests and—such guests!"

Isadore disappeared and returned with a cocktail pitcher and glasses. The two guests watched him closely as he filled the glasses with martinis and passed them. Finlay gave the "Okay" signal to the questioning eyes of Malone as he lifted his glass.

"To our charming hostess!" he said, holding his glass at his lips until Isadore and Corinne had started to drink. He watched Lise closely as she placed her half-emptied glass on the table.

"What's making her so nervous?" he wondered. "On the surface she seems too decent to be the step-daughter of this buccaneer."

Garry caught the trader studying the bulge in Red's coat caused by the .45 in his hip holster as he bent over the effervescent Corinne. "That's sudden death, Isadore," he reflected, "if you're so foolish as to try to pull anything tonight—sudden death! Watch your step!"

There was red-fleshed sturgeon and roast ptarmigan and the hungry men did honor to the half-breed cook. When the Montagnais girl brought in bottles of red Bordeaux, Garry gave Malone the "okay" signal by rubbing his left ear. "So far, so good, mine host!" Garry mentally applauded. "The wine may make your ladies talk."

It was evident that Corinne Isadore was making a night of it. She was mercilessly flashing her black eyes at the russet-haired giant, blowing cigarette smoke in his face and greeting his low-pitched conversation with bursts of laughter while he casually filled and refilled her glass.

As he talked with Garry, Isadore's cold eyes constantly wandered to his wife's flushed face inching closer to Red's. It was different with Lise. She lit and snuffed out half-smoked cigarette after cigarette. The hand holding her fork was unsteady.

It was evident that Lise Demarais was either excited or worried. "Your home is in Calgary?" Lise asked.

"Yes," he lied. "So your work has been in the west?" broke in Isadore.

"Yes," Finlay was on his guard. There were questions he wished to avoid. "I suppose you're a Province of Quebec man?" he countered. "Isadore laughed. "You think I'm French? No, my father was Spanish."

Finlay saw Corinne Isadore answer what must have been a signal by raising her black brows. She turned to Red with: "When you've finished the map of the lake, you'll let me see it? Could it be traced? I'd love a map of Waswanipi."

"That's his first move!" thought Garry. "He doesn't believe we're engineers."

"Of course, I'll trace one for you!" replied Red, beaming into Corinne's challenging eyes.

"That's fine!" applauded Isadore. "We'd appreciate it. Well, gentlemen, let's drink to a successful summer for us all! But your glasses are empty. I'll open another bottle."

Finlay noticed that the glasses of Isadore and the girls were full. That couldn't be accident. He'd watch this.

As the trader half turned to uncork a fresh bottle, held at his side, Garry saw his left hand, grasping the neck, move over the mouth as he took the bottle in his right and, rising, fill the glasses of his guests.

Finlay is told that the six men were not drowned as reported. Suspicion prevails that Isadore, rich fur man, has made a gold strike and aims to keep prospectors out of the country at any cost. The three men start out on the Finlay's eyes found and held Malone's. His right hand lazily moved to the back of his neck. Red caught the warning and turned to Corinne. "In British Columbia," he laughed, "we always exchange glasses for a toast."

Isadore coughed sharply. The veins in his forehead swelled. "Corinne! Not another drop! You've had too much already!" His voice split the silence as an axe splits oak.

Blood flooded the girl's olive skin. Her eyes kindled. "I'm no child to be told what to drink!" she shot at the man who sat rigid watching her, then drained the glass in her hand.

On the hush that followed broke an idle tapping on the spruce table. As he watched the infuriated Corinne, Malone's straining ears caught the dots and dashes, in Morse code, of Finlay's signalling fingers. "New bottle drugged!"

Isadore's high-pitched voice, now under control, broke the tension. "I'm sorry, gentlemen! You'll excuse Corinne. She's not used to much wine."

Corinne drew deeply on her cigarette, blew a cloud of smoke into Red's face as she lounged, round arms on the table. "Do you theenk I've had too much wine, beeg boy?" she whispered.

"Of course not, Beautiful!" Red returned, from the corner of his mouth, watching her fast drooping eyelids.

"We've forgotten our toast!" insisted the tight-faced Isadore, raising his glass.

"Think?" snorted Red. "My fingers ached to drown him in front of his place. Drugged his own wife! Some joke on the slick Jules Isadore! And was he sore!"

"That was clever headwork of yours, Red, when I signalled that he'd drugged the wine. That strange western custom of switching glasses had him stopped dead. Nothing like an Irish imagination!"

Red chuckled. "Thought you'd like it! Say, the girls couldn't have been wise to his plan!"

"No, it didn't look so. But what was his plan when he had us doped?"

"I believe he wanted to search us. He'd let us sleep it off, then he'd apologize for his strong wine we couldn't handle."

"Our showing up here must have staggered him. But he's got nerve."

"What interests me most is this Tete-Blanche. He seems to be a bogey man at Nottaway and Lise looked as if she'd seen a ghost when she spotted him in the doorway. She must know he's Isadore's private killer."

"I wonder how much those gals do know."

"Get anything out of Corinne? She threw a wicked eye at you, Red. I was worried—thought she'd kiss you right before King Isadore!"

Red laughed. "What a doll to trot on your knee! She's right up my alley for looks! But she didn't ask a suspicious question. How about Lise?"

"She puzzled me. She started off with a rush—was gay and flippant; then suddenly grew absent-minded. Drank hardly anything! Didn't hear half what I said!"

"She was sure easy on the eyes in those whipcords."

"And easier in that white dress at dinner! Skin sort of transparent. The distinct impression I got was that she wants to leave Waswanipi. She didn't say so, of course. But I sensed it. She's worried."

The approach of the canoe to the island where Blaise had a bright fire burning as a beacon was announced by the barking airedale.

"Well, Blaise, what do you think of it?" asked Finlay, when he had finished his story.

"We leave here, wabatch, quick!" "You mean tonight?" Brassard nodded.

"Why tonight?" "Two Montagnais fallar come here after dark I give dem suppair and taste of whiskey. Den dey talk. We move out, now. Onles you wish to fight."

"Well, what's it all about, Blaise?" demanded Red.

Blaise told his story. That afternoon the two hunters had brought a canoe load of sturgeon to Isadore's place to be traded for supplies. They were in the trade-room when the Peterboro was first sighted far down the lake. Labelle rushed in and called the man with the scarred face outside where Isadore was watching the distant canoe through glasses. Curious, the two Indians moved to the door and listened: The trader was wild with rage. "Here liar!" he said to Batoche. "Here come de men you said drown in de Long Saulte of de Nottaway." The trader struck Batoche in the face but Labelle stepped between them. Then they moved away out of earshot of the eavesdroppers.

Later, the Montagnais were starting with their supplies for their fishing camp when they heard an angry voice up the shore. "Wat good are you? Now Isadore send me to dat island tonight to finish your job!"

They looked and saw the man with white hair, the Montagnais called Neshwed, the Killer, with a little man, Detu, talking to Batoche. So, after dark, the hunters had come to the island with the warning.

Nottaway, despite warnings. On the third day out they are ambushed from shore. They escape serious injury and start for the Hudson's Bay post. Finlay and Malone visit Isadore and meet Lise, his pretty stepdaughter.

Red nodded. Action! There was the glint of sun on young ice in his blue eyes. Stiff in their chairs the men waited. Then the trader returned.

"It is most embarrassing, gentlemen," he coolly apologized. "Mrs. Isadore took more than she's accustomed to. I hope you'll understand."

Garry rose. "Of course!" he said. "Will you thank her and your daughter for a most delicious dinner and—interesting evening?"

"But you're not going? The night is young."

Finlay admired Isadore's callous nerve. "It's late," he replied. "We'll say good night."

"Well, if you insist. I'll give you a light to your canoe."

Outside the night was black as a spruce swamp. Isadore produced an electric torch and walked to the shore beside Finlay. Close on the heels of the trader followed Malone.

As he pushed off the canoe Finlay said: "The evening was most pleasant, Mr. Isadore, and—instructive."

Finlay and Malone paddled in silence until they were well offshore.

"Now what do you think of that for a dinner party?"

"Think?" snorted Red. "My fingers ached to drown him in front of his place. Drugged his own wife! Some joke on the slick Jules Isadore! And was he sore!"

"That was clever headwork of yours, Red, when I signalled that he'd drugged the wine. That strange western custom of switching glasses had him stopped dead. Nothing like an Irish imagination!"

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

By ROGER B. WHITMAN

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Removing Dents in Wood.

WHEN a table top is dented by the dropping of a candlestick or other heavy object, the dent can usually be taken out by a process that will swell the fibers of the wood. For this the finish around the dent should be scraped off so that bare wood is exposed. The dent is then covered by a cloth dampened with warm water, which is pressed by a warm—not hot—iron. The steam produced will be absorbed by the dented fibers, which will then swell, and return to their original positions. The refinishing of the table top will be required, at least in that part around the dent. Should the wood be actually gouged, so that some of it is removed, the hole that is left can be filled with stick shellac. This can be had in all shades of wood colors at many large paint stores and from dealers in cabinet-makers' supplies. An old screwdriver is heated to a point at which it will melt the shellac, and a little of the shellac carried by the blade is then transferred to the hole. If the correct amount of shellac is picked up, the surface can be smoothed by the warm blade; if too much is used, the surface can be cut off with a razor blade. A job of this sort can be so neatly done that the patch will hardly be noticed.

Thermometer Setting

One of my correspondents describes an interesting experience with a thermostat. He could not understand why the house felt so cold with the thermostat thermometer standing at 70 degrees. After a time he checked with a second thermometer, and found that the thermostat was registering two degrees higher. His service man was called in and adjusted the thermometer by lowering the glass tube, so that it registered correctly. He says that home owners might be interested to know that thermostat thermometers are often so made that they can slide in relation to the scale, to change the reading, should it be out of adjustment. I am sure that the above information will be found useful. An experiment with thermometers that is usually startling to those who have not tried it is to take the temperature of the air at floor and ceiling at a time when the wall thermometer is standing at its normal 70. Only too often the low temperature on the floor is the unsuspected cause of chilliness.

Avoiding Greasy Hands.

When a dirty or greasy job is to be done, time will be saved by first coating the hands with something that will keep the dirt from working into the pores of the skin. One good material for this can be made by dissolving 2 ounces of gum arabic in 1 pint of water, to be mixed with ½ pound of soap chips, dissolved in 1 pint of water. The liquid is heated in a double boiler, and 1 ounce of lanolin is then added. The result is a soft paste, to be rubbed well into the skin, and especially under and around the finger nails. On finishing the job, the hands can be washed with clear water, or with soap and water. It is worth while to make up a quantity of the compound, to be stored in tin cans or glass jars until needed.

Smoky Furnace.

Question: A piped hot air furnace admits soot to the rooms, in spite of a recent cleaning. What treatment should it have?

Answer: Smoke and soot are escaping from the firebox into the air passages through open joints between the furnace sections, due to the giving out of the cement with which they were packed. The best remedy is to renew the cement, which should be of a variety made for the purpose and resistance to heat. Even with the best cement, the job usually gives out in five years or so.

Woody Smell.

Question: About a month ago I was given a bedroom suite of maple furniture. I do not like to put any of my things in the chest of drawers because of the very strong "woody" smell inside. Airing does not seem to help. Is there any way to get rid of this odor?

Answer: "Paradi" (moth) crystals make an excellent deodorizer. Put a generous amount of the crystals in each drawer and allow to remain for several days.

Faded Veneer.

Question: A damp towel was carelessly left on brown walnut veneer, and made a grayish cloudy stain. How can this be restored?

Answer: The damage is probably only in the finish. Try the effect of scraping it off with a razor blade. If this also removes the color apply successive thin coats of oil stain of the proper shade; get a color-sample card at a paint store. Finish with a thin coat of varnish.

'They Got Me Covered'

Is Funniest Book of Year

A NEW all-around champion has been crowned in the entertainment world. He is Bob Hope. Not satisfied with being rated tops on the radio, Number One in screen box office receipts, he is author of one of the nation's best sellers, which just about nails down this triple crown for Bob. "They Got Me Covered," Hope's autobiography, has been claimed by critics and readers alike as one of the year's funniest books. It is a hilarious story, in narrative form, of Bob Hope's life, generously illustrated with photographs, in addition to having cartoons depicting scenes from his life.

The book is now available at drug and department stores throughout America at 10 cents per copy with the purchase of a Pepsodent product. This low price is possible because the sale of the book has been sponsored by the Pepsodent Company.—Adv.

OVER 50? Constipated?

Most of us find that age and living habits bring on occasional bowel-laziness. These spells of constipation, with aggravating gas, may cause restless nights. ADLERIKA can help you face the future more cheerfully. Its ingredients attract to the bowels extra moisture which softens packed wastes and assists in comfortable bowel action. ADLERIKA helps to leave your bowels refreshed and clean. Next time constipation and gas threaten your comfort, try ADLERIKA. Druggists have it.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—all to blame impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backaches, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, setting-up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wise. This is why Dr. Doan's Pills, Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

NOT content with having a very promising film career, Susan Hayward has turned actors' agent. Dining at a New Orleans hotel, she was impressed by the young singer and trumpeter player with Chuck Foster's band; he stopped the show at every performance. So when he was brought over to meet her she questioned him. Why wasn't he in films? Nobody'd asked him to be. Where did he come from? Los Angeles, but he'd never been able to get near a film studio there!

So Susan placed him under contract, and arranged for his Hollywood debut at a cafe there. His name? Ray Robbins, professionally; in real life, it's Fostet.

A new romantic duo makes its debut in RKO's comedy, "Obliging Young Lady," in the persons of Edmond O'Brien and Ruth Warrick.

RUTH WARRICK

He recently scored in "A Girl, a Guy, and a Gob" and "Parachute Battalion." She made her film bow as Orson Welles' first wife in "Citizen Kane," the picture that's been a springboard to motion picture contracts for so many actors and actresses.

Robert Taylor has an exceptionally tough beard, and while he's being shaved talks about show horses, like his Arabian stallion; Clark Gable chats about guns and fish and venison, under the same conditions, and he also has a tough beard. Spencer Tracy yells wisecracks at everybody while he's in the barber's chair. Bob Young makes a few remarks about his riding horses. Jimmy Stewart sits and says nothing. All this information from Jim Adamson, major domo of Metro's barber shop, who began snipping locks and news from movie stars way back in the days of Inceville—he's been at it for 2 1/2 decades, and has his own Hollywood Who's Who.

We're told that Inez Cooper, a Hollywood new comer, looks so much like Hedy Lamarr that experts can't tell them apart. Miss Cooper has worked in "Unholy Partners" and "The Shadow of the Thin Man"; she's now appearing in "Mr. and Mrs. North," and is slated for a role in "I Married an Angel." None of these pictures have yet been released, yet she's already had a flourishing screen career.

People whose memories go way, way back will remember Harold Lockwood, one of the big stars of his time. His widow died recently, after having been a member of Paramount's make-up department for nine years. Today's movie stars are more foresighted financially than were those old-timers. For example—Joel McCrea is listed by the government not as an actor (though he's been making pictures for 11 years) but as a good producer, thanks to the annual profit of approximately $5,000 which he makes from his ranch.

Madeline Lee, who's "Genevieve Blue" on the "Amos and Andy" broadcasts, has found herself turning into a hat designer. She entered a hat designing class on a dare, found that she not only liked it but was good at it; now she makes all her own hats, and her friends beset her to turn out little numbers for them.

Correction: Last week's item about "The Chocolate Soldier" was partly wrong; Metro's picture by that name includes only music from the operetta so known; the story is the one you're familiar with under the title of "The Guardsman."

OBDS AND ENDS—RKO has signed St. Brendan's Boys' choir of 20 boys for church sequences in "Juno of Paris," which will star Michele Morgan, the new French star, and Paul Henreid. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello will play the leading comedy roles, and Kathryn Grayson and John Carroll will have the romantic singing leads in the new movie version of "Rio Rita." Walter Pidgeon returns to his first career, that of a singer, in "Design for Scandal," which he has just completed with the newly wed Rosalind Russell. They sing "A Bicycle Built for Two." Clive Brook's daughter Faith, makes her film debut in "Suspicion."

Wool and Fur Combinations Make Stunning New Outfits

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WITH surpassing artistry and craftsmanship American designers are setting a new high in costume design.

Especially are our American style creators doing themselves proud in the campus, town and country ensembles which they create of gorgeous colorful wool and stunning fur.

Not only do the costumes pictured redound to the glory of American designers but there is fascination and patriotic thrill in the thought that the fur, American opossum, which is combined with the beautiful wools of these stunning costumes, is itself decidedly all-American.

The possibilities presented in this new alliance of wool with opossum are endless. Not only is opossum a flattering young fur when used for general utility costumes, but through scientific skill it has also been made available for dressy daytime and evening wear as well as for all-purpose wear.

A beautifully cut coat is shown to the left in the group. The exquisitely colorful wool stripe of which it is made speaks for itself. Now that fashion is advocating color, women are going in wholeheartedly for coats that add a bold dash of color glory to the winter landscape. The soft-foam fullness achieved by skillful manipulation of the stripes is decidedly effective. The wide notched collar and cuffs of natural American opossum are perfect with the subtle blue, lavender and pink in the tweed.

When one invests in a three-piece outfit as perfectly ensembled as the handsome model shown to the right, she has underwritten for herself a feeling that wherever she goes she is sure to be among the best dressed. This important ensemble for town carries an air of matchless distinction. The suit is a masterpiece of fine tailoring. The three-quarter length cape of American opossum with striped tweed to match the suit will carry through triumphantly as a wrap to wear through the winter with daytime frocks and party dress as well. A sure, safe, sound and same investment, this, that will pay big dividends in chic, charm and self-gratification.

Centered in the picture is another example of the intrigue and glamour expressed in the alliance of bright wool with smart fur. The coat is lined with a plaid wool in glowing high color to match the hood and blouse. When thrown back the hood forms a colorfully lined collar. The jacket and skirt pick up two of the colors in the plaid. Mittens too, if you please, of matching fur!

If your new wool ensemble happens to be of wool in the now-fashionable magenta color, and if it is without fur, you will look very smart if you carry with it a stunning huge muff of opossum, and, of course, there must be a hat of the same fur to wear with it. The hat and muff twosome is an accessory combination especially cited among toponoth fashions.

Colors highlighted in wools this season especially stress browns and dark greens. The new bright blue is the talk of the town. With furs it is outstanding in any fashionable gathering. Amethyst tones and purples also are being played up to heights of distinction in wools, their beauty accentuated with handsome amethyst jewelry and sumptuous furs.

Crocheting Has a Gay Fashion Role

Crocheters, now is your big moment. Crocheting is rising to dizzy heights of style prestige this season. It is nothing less than astonishing to see what novel and intriguing costume accents can be achieved with crocheting. This new enthusiasm for crocheting is "going big" with leading designers everywhere who are bringing new artistry and imagination into the field of crochet design.

One of the most fascinating gestures noted this season is that the new longer length heralded for the smartest vividly colorful suede or fabric gloves is being achieved by either gauntlet or mosquitoire tops done in simple crocheting decorated with tiny crocheted flowers or tiny ruffles that finish the top edge and then go meandering down the glove.

Wool suits and dresses are cunningly detailed with pockets crocheted of yarn in either a matching or a contrasting color. A crocheted patch pocket embroidered in your monogram will add a thrilling touch to your long middy-like jersey sweater.

Other ideas include a border of crocheting that widens the brim of your gay colored felt hat. Add a bag and belt with related crocheted detail. Cover big button molds with plain crocheting adorned with an applique of crocheted flowers. Designers are also bringing genius to play in the crocheting of scarfs and triangular head coverings. In fact, there is no end to the charming and unique uses now being made of crocheting.

Silk Jersey

Here is a perfectly charming dinner gown made of silk jersey that combines sun tan beige for the blouse with black jersey for the skirt. The skirt is subtly draped in the new long sleek lines so popular this season. Note the new, long-dolman sleeves. A wonderful black cire felt turban has superlative sheer black lace veiling arranged over its crown, the ends brought down and fastened under her chin. Gold buttons adorn the blouse.

PRAYER AND THANKSGIVING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:5-15; Ephesians 5:20; I Thessalonians 5:17-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks.—I Thessalonians 5:17, 18.

Being one with Christ, the Christian finds prayer to be as natural as breathing. As he walks with the Master he talks with Him, praises Him, thanks Him, makes his petitions and his needs known to Him. We feel, however, like Christ's disciples who asked Him to teach them to pray (Luke 11:1).

1. Instruction in Prayer

Approaching the subject from the negative viewpoint, Jesus told them 1. How Not to Pray (Matt. 6:5, 7). Prayer, which is the highest privilege of the Christian, is beset by some deadly dangers.

a. No hypocritical performance (v. 5). Some who wished to be seen in prayer managed to be in a conspicuous place at the Jewish hours of prayer (nine, twelve, and three o'clock). There, before a crowd, they put on a prayer "show" for the benefit of the onlooking audience. Such a prayer is designed for the ears of men and never reaches God.

b. No vain repetition (v. 7). We do not need to repeat our petitions. God knows our need (v. 8). When repetition is the outpouring of an earnest and urgent heart it means much, but that is different from just repeating phrases.

2. How to Pray (Matt. 6:8, 14, 15; Eph. 5:20; I Thess. 5:16-18). Public prayer is sometimes both necessary and proper, but usually our prayer should be a. In secret (v. 6). When we pray we should be free from distracting influences or personalities. We are talking to God and should give ourselves entirely over to communion with Him.

b. In faith (vv. 6, 8). God knows what we need even though He waits to be inquired of concerning it. He will answer prayer so as to honor His name in our lives and in our testimony before others.

c. With forgiveness (vv. 14, 15). No one who comes before God with an unforgiving spirit toward his brother is ready to ask God for the forgiveness which he himself so greatly needs.

d. With thanksgiving (Eph. 5:20). To give thanks is altogether fitting as we come to God in prayer. Note that we are to be thankful "always" and "for all things," not just when some special blessing or favor has come to us.

e. Without ceasing (I Thess. 5:16-18). Union with Christ enables us to pray without ceasing, even as He ever prays for us. This does not call for the constant utterance of words, but the moment by moment prayer of a heart and life lifted to Him. With such praying comes constant rejoicing (v. 16).

II. A Model of Prayer (Matt. 6:9-13)

The prayer which our Lord taught His disciples was intended to be a model rather than a form of prayer. We may repeat it, however, if we put into it the prayer of our hearts.

1. God and His Glory (vv. 9, 10).

Recognizing Him as our Father to whom we may and must come for all things, we in all humility ascribe all honor to Him! Then we pray that His kingdom may come, not only in the future (and we look forward to it!), but now, in our own hearts. The true believer wants the will of God done in his own life and throughout the earth, even as it is perfectly done in heaven.

2. Man and His Needs (vv. 11-13).

Daily bread is mentioned first, for without it life could not continue. This is the constant need of man, and his great struggle. God is able for that problem, and only He is able. Unless He gives "seed to the sower and bread to the eater" (Isa. 55:10) we are gone.

But man has even greater spiritual needs. Sin needs forgiveness, weakness needs strength, the power of the enemy of our souls calls for deliverance. Again God is able and ready to hear man's prayer.

One of the sad things about the study of prayer is that we are all so ready to talk about it, discuss it, even preach about it, and then do so little praying. Knowing how to pray, and admiring a model of prayer, will profit us nothing, unless we pray.

God Work Never Fails

So, then, Elijah's life had been no failure after all. Seven thousand at least in Israel had been braced and encouraged by his example, and silently blessed him, perhaps, for the courage which they felt. In God's world, for those who are in earnest there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice freely made, was ever made in vain.—F. W. Robertson.

Lights of New York by L. L. STEVENSON

This & That: Porters at the new airlines terminal are now officially "skycaps" . . . The name won a $100 prize for Willie Wainright, of New Orleans, in a contest in which there were 6,000 entries . . . It's my guess, however, that the luggage toters, if a tip is in sight, will continue to answer the call "Porter" . . . Or come without being called . . . Job I wouldn't like at this time of the year: Washing skyscraper windows . . . Or at any other time, for that matter . . . Job I surely wouldn't care for during the holiday rush: Elevator operator in a department store . . . Woman shoppers seem to have elbows of ox-goad sharpness . . . The oldest strike in New York is that at the Brass Rail restaurant . . . It soon will be two years old . . . In a midtown restaurant is an oyster opener who, in 20 years of steady employment, has never found a pearl.

In many apartment houses, washing machines are available to tenants for a 10-cent charge . . . and superintendents have to use vigilance to keep neighbors from sneaking in and using the machines . . . Also, maids in need of dimes, keep the coins handed over by the mistresses and do the work by hand . . . Billy Hill has been dead more than two weeks but the strains of "The Last Roundup" keep running through my head . . . and I think of how, with all those melodies in his soul, to support himself, he had to work as a doorman on Fifth avenue . . . It has been spring on Seventh avenue for quite some time; no matter what the calendar says . . . Displays of vernal season fashions are the reason . . . The shows were held earlier than usual this year to lengthen the time for retail sales.

Irwin Shaw, whose "Retreat to Pleasure" was not well received by Broadway critics, says he is through with the theater . . . Writing for the stage means a lot of hard work, a terrific buildup . . . and then "Bang!" . . . So he plans to stick to short stories for a while at least . . . Though I hope he changes his mind and turns out another "Bury the Dead" . . . Or "Those Gentle People" . . . Four extremely comely young women, all dressed alike, are seen night after night in various clubs, especially the openings where celebrities are present . . . They are department store models whose business it is to display what's new in clothes . . . In other words, they draw a salary for doing what other folks pay money for.

Sign in a Madison avenue window noted by Charlie Spivak: "Dictionaries. If you are thinking of sending a letter to Hitler they won't be of any use to you. Otherwise, they're a bargain at 98 cents" . . . Harry Salter each month receives dozens of requests from inmates of Sing Sing, Atlanta, Alcatraz and other bastilles—all over the country . . . But the favorite tune of the convicts is not "The Prisoner's Song" . . . Right now, it's "Star Dust" . . . I like the skating of Adele Inge, featured in the Terrace Room of the Hotel New Yorker . . . Among other things she does is turn a forward somersault without using her hands . . . She's only 15 and her home is in Clayton, Mo.

Things that stirred my emotions: That radio conversation between Emyln Williams in London and his wife in New York . . . The British surely can keep their chins up . . . Refugee children standing in awe before the big Christmas tree in Radio City . . . The Palisades blushing as the morning sun caresses them . . . The acting of Ethel Barrymore in "The Corn is Green" . . . and the acting of Jane Cowl and Peggy Wood in "Old Acquaintance."

A niece, here to visit Bess Johnson, quizzed her about actors with whom she works. Miss Johnson, having told a little about them, said, "And sometimes Mr. Barker is in the cast—he imitates dogs." The youngster pouted and exclaimed, "Don't try to kid me, Aunt Bess—I'm a big girl now." And Aunt Bess had a hard time winning back the trust of the child although the man who imitates dogs actually is named Bradley Barker.

Remarks: Speaking of unemployment, says Virginia Payne, the average man has 12,000,000,000 brain cells. (Don't blame me if that's wrong because I've never counted them) . . . Eddie Paul opines that the wise husband talks in his wife's sleep . . . Vincent Lopez observes that some favorite sons show how blind mother love can be . . . and here's THE END (Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

Hail Brazilian Birds As Air Raid Sentinels

MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee zoo has two "air raid sentinels." Director Ernest Untermyer says the Brazilian-crested screamers are of proved reliability. Possessing superkeen senses developed through generations of vigilance against natural enemies, the birds can hear an airplane 10 miles distant, and they react with a shrill, screamlike call.

PENINSULA

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

The largest Auction Sale in this section for many years was held at the Fred Wurn farm in Star Dist., Wednesday, Nov. 14th. Everything out doors went at a good price. Mr. and Mrs. Wurn will soon move to Boyne City. Because of failing health and scarcity of farm labor, this move was made necessary. Mr. and Mrs. Wurn have lived on the farm more than 80 years. We are all sorry to see them go.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hayden and two youngest sons of Bob White farm were callers at Orchard Hill, Wednesday, Mrs. A. Reich and daughter Beth, of Lone Ash farm, took advantage of Armistice Day and spent Thursday afternoon there.

The Extension Club met at the Star Community Building, Thursday afternoon. The leaders gave the lesson in rebuilding coiled spring cushions. There were 15 in attendance including visitors.

Mrs. Gebe Inman of Boyne City visited her sister, Mrs. Ray Loomis at Gravel Hill, north side, Thursday. She helped with the Extension work at the Club meeting.

John A. Reich of Detroit made a flying trip up Saturday a. m. and returned in the p. m. He brought his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Kitson and son Ivan of Deer Lake, who had been with them two weeks, home, also brought the announcement of a fine little son who arrived at the Osteopathic Hospital, Nov. 14, who will answer to the name of Daniel John Reich. Mrs. Kitson also brought home little Loreta Reich to take care of while her mother and little brother are in the hospital. Mrs. Reich's hospital address is: Mrs. John Reich, Detroit Osteopathic Hospital, Room 282, Highland Park.

Clarence Mullett and a friend of Fremont motored up early Saturday a. m. to go deer hunting, and bagged his buck on his own land the same day. Buddy Staley of Stoney Ridge farm, adjoining Mullett's land, not to be outdone, also got his buck Saturday. Last year Buddy also got his buck the first day.

Mr. and Mrs. Vale Gee of Stoney Ridge farm were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gee in East Jordan.

Ernest Staley of Charlevoix was a Sunday-supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vale Gee at Stoney Ridge farm.

Among those to pull out for hunting camp, Friday, were Orval Bennett, Wm. Looze and sons Perry and John and a friend, Ray Loomis joined a bunch from Detroit near West Branch. Geo. Staley joined a crowd from Boyne City. Many others have not been reported. Those going for the week end were Kenneth and "Bill" Russell, Godfrey MacDonald, Junior Gaunt, Roscoe Barber and many others.

The promise of tracking snow in this section at least is disappeared, as the snow is all gone and the sun actually shone Friday afternoon and Saturday. Fall plowing is about all done.

Mrs. Wm. Looze of Three Bells Dist. came Friday to spend deer hunting with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Perry Looze and family at Cherry Hill. They all spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gould in Mountain Dist.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden and younger children of Pleasant View farm visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer in Chaddock Dist., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden of Pleasant View farm and Mrs. Ray Loomis of Gravel Hill, north side, were among those to attend the P-T-A. meeting in East Jordan, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt and son Will of Three Bells Dist. spent Sunday afternoon with the Ted Westerman family at the F. H. Wageman farm.

Mrs. Walter Ross and daughters, Rosa and Dorothy of Norwood visited the David and Will Gaunt families in Three Bells Dist., Sunday, as did Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers and little daughter of Mountain Dist.

Will Gaunt laid off from his work at the Foundry at East Jordan last week to do some work for the AAA.

Henry Ross of Detroit called on the Gaunt families in Three Bells Dist., Saturday a. m., on his way to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross at Norwood. Later in the day the Ross men folks went on a hunting trip.

Miss Eva Crowell and friend of Jackson, who were deer hunting near Grayling, spent Saturday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell at Dave Staley Hill.

There were 28 at the Star Sunday

School, but instead of the regular session Rev. C. W. Sidebotham of East Jordan, Clyde Hawkins, ex-secretary of the Presbyterian Church of Mt. Pleasant, and Dr. Martin L. Gorton of Arizona, a missionary, to the Indians, gave a very interesting talk on courtesy and different places where he had found courtesy even around almost savage Indians. The Star and Tainter Sunday Schools will have a Rally at the Presbyterian Church in Boyne City, Wednesday evening, Nov. 19, at 8 p. m. The prize is the banner for attendance which the Tainter school took from Star in August, 1940, and the Star regained in December of the same year, and has held since.

For Longer Mileage and Greater Durability . . .

THE NEW SAFTI-SURED Firestone

De Luxe CHAMPION TIRE

Remarkable mileage is assured by the new wear-resisting Vitamic Rubber used in both tread and cord body. This tire is Safti-Sured against skidding by the new Safti-Stop Gear-Grip Tread and Safti-Sured against blowouts by the Safti-Lock Gum-Dipped Cord Body. Cost is surprisingly low with BIG TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR OLD TIRES.

LET US SHOW YOU HOW NEW-TREADS SAVE YOU MONEY
If your old tire has a safe and sound body, we can apply a Firestone New-Tread at very low cost that adds up to 80% of the mileage built into the original tread.
