'Biggest Budget in World's History' For Expanding of U. S. War Program Will Cost Nation 56 Billion Dollars; Russians Continue to Push Back Nazis

SOMEWHERE IN CHINA.—Veteran Chinese soldiers of this type, pictured at a railway station "Somewhere in China," are advancing toward Malaya to aid the hard-pressed forces of the British against the Japs. It was reported that veterans of this type took part in the slaughter of Jap troops in the Changsha, China, sector.

TAXES:

Billions on Billions

Americans who had been given grim satisfaction by the President's stirring message to congress faced with what courage they could muster the huge bill that will have to be paid, 56 billions of dollars.

Congress, to a man, had told the President "we will give you the money." OPM had said, "We can and will do it," and labor said, "we will not stop working." And the country, with surprisingly little grumbling, but with no small measure of worrying, decided to dig down into its earnings to foot half the bill this year.

Twenty-seven billions of dollars, taxes of nine billions on top of 18 billions were to be levied to meet as much as possible of the due bill as it is spent.

On the basis of 130,000,000 people, the expenditure in taxes for the federal war program, added to whatever local and state taxes might be levied, would be $204 for each person, man, woman or child; $813 for a family of four. That of course was an average, with those better able to pay shouldering the larger portion of the burden.

The "overall" war expenditure estimate was thus brought to 131 billions, or three times the total cost to this country of World War No. 1.

Mr. Roosevelt frankly had told newsmen it was the biggest budget in the history of the world. Government authorities said it was twice the estimated annual war expenditure of Germany.

On top of the taxes, it would be necessary to borrow 32 billions. The national debt, therefore, would skyrocket to $110,000,000,000, or about three times the huge figure of June, 1940.

The nine extra billions, the President said, would be divided into seven billions in direct taxes of various types, though he said he opposed a general sales tax. The other two billions would be in the form of new social security taxes.

Existing taxes of all descriptions would be continued, and they have been estimated as due to produce 18 billions.

The war allocations had been split as follows: 18½ billions for the army; 17 billions for supplemental but unspecified items; seven billions to the navy; 7½ billions for the lend-lease program; 1½ billions for the ship program, the rest for miscellaneous purposes.

Perhaps a billion can be lopped off of non-defense government activities, the President said—that is all.

REACTION:

Local and World

Britain was exultant over the program, believed it adequate for the swiftest possible victory, and praised the administration to the skies for the stand it was taking, and the X-Y-Z or all-out plan to win the war. One London headline had been typical—"The Yanks Are Coming," which was the British answer to President Roosevelt's promise to send to the British Isles a large A.E.F.

Australian premier, John Curtin, said the President's plan was one for "working and fighting."

Italy called the plan "sensational and spectacular" and was not to be believed. Nevertheless, the Italian censors did not permit the newspapers to publish the figure—185,000 planes, 120,000 tanks in 1943.

German also were not allowed to discover what the American production plans were, and the Reich sources were belittling, calling the program a "warm-over" of previous utterances by the President.

Italians went further and said that these armaments were all in the future, a future that would come too late.

JAPAN:

Still Pressing

Reports from the Far Eastern fronts, with the exception of China, were uniformly continuing stories of increased Japanese pressure in occupied zones, and uniform efforts to extend Japanese operations.

The British had doggedly been holding on in Malaya, but steadily and slowly falling back toward Singapore.

The Japs apparently had complete mastery of the air in Luzon; and it was deemed only a question of time how long General MacArthur's army could hold out.

Where the main defense was coming was obscure and remained a military secret, but there were certain indications which were said to be giving Tokyo plenty to worry about.

For instance, the naming of Wavell as supreme commander, and the placing of a well-trained Chinese army in Burma, together with other Allied forces, readying themselves for an onslaught on the Japanese rear at Malaya was one of these.

Another was the American and Australian insistence that strongest possible aid be given to the Dutch. On top of this came the word that Java would be chosen as general headquarters of the Allied operations.

A glance at the Southwest Pacific maps showed the position of Java and Sumatra and their relation to the Malacca straits and the open ocean route to the south to Darwin, Australia, and plainly indicated the general tactic that was most likely to be pursued.

Japan, to break supply lines along this route, would have to move a considerable naval force out of the China sea and into the open South Pacific and that could only be done with grievous results to the land campaign.

REDS:

Increasing Pace

News from Russia had been uniformly good, with 572 towns reported captured in one week, 10,000 enemy troops slain, and huge quantities of booty taken.

Hitler went to the front, made his headquarters at Smolensk, and suddenly found he was only 45 miles from where the chief fighting was. He was believed to have moved his headquarters hurriedly farther to the rear.

The Crimean debacle was equaling the disaster befalling the German arms in the north around Leningrad. Turkey had temperatures far below zero, coldest in Turkish history, and that was an indication of what the ill-prepared Germans and their Italian and Rumanian allies had to stand in the Crimea, ordinarily the warmest part of Russia.

The Germans were resisting most strongly on the central front. In the north the Russians had even recaptured Hogland island, which had been taken by the Finns, and it was evident that the Finlanders, reportedly deserted by their Nazi comrades, were rapidly getting into the safest possible places, and losing one dangerous spot after another.

In addition to the successes for the Reds on the Crimean peninsula, which were rapidly raising the siege of Sevastopol, the Russians were gaining in the Donets basin.

AFRICA:

British Winning

British sources reported they had evidence that General Rommel had virtually given up hope of eventual retreat from Libya, and had resolved on a pitch battle in the most favorable ground he could find.

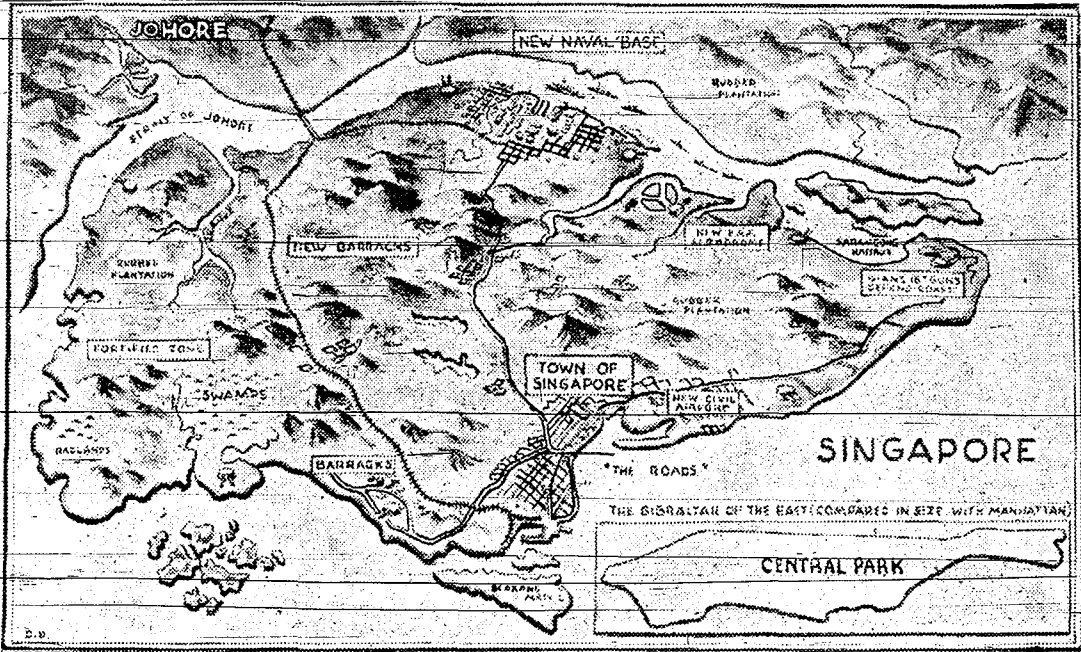

This was a plateau on which there was considerably more clay foundation than desert sand, which would aid the German mechanized forces and afford better than average landing spots for planes.

A Couple of Good Cracks at Herr Hitler

Singapore, Gibraltar of East, Is Rich Prize

The defenses of Singapore, the Gibraltar of the East, are, naturally, military secrets, but this map of the British island fortress gives some idea of the city's size, its resources and harbor facilities. Raid-free in the first days of the Pacific war, Singapore was attacked repeatedly by Jap bombers but valiantly defended. Martial law was declared in the Singapore area shortly after the first attack by Japanese invaders.

Putting Extra Stretch in Rubber

We will all have to do without new automobile tires for the present. Next best thing is a re-treading job on your old ones, if they are too smooth for safety. At left you see a re-treading operation in progress. A "camel back," or new rubber top, is vulcanized to the old casing, to give a new gripping tread. At the right is shown how a worn-out tire compares with one that has just been given a face lift, or a new tread. The recapped tire is at left; the old "smoothy" beside it.

This censor-approved photo which was received from Honolulu shows Honolulu automobile owners lined up over two blocks on the first day, waiting at the city hall to get their gasoline ration tickets. Note the sand bag barricade on each side of the entrance. This is for the protection of the armed guards.

'42 Will Be Record Year For American Farm Crops

Food Goals Are Raised to Boost Production As Agriculture's Part in Winning The War for U. S. and Allies.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1342 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

The farmer came across. He produced more the past year than any year in history. Never has America blossomed and borne fruit as she did. Next year the production will be even higher for the department of agriculture found that the farmer was willing to meet the goals set up last August, and even to exceed them.

But that doesn't mean that the food-for-victory problem has been settled. Now the department of agriculture finds a part of the problem back in its own lap, for we are in the war ourselves and our allies depend on us for supplies. The farmer must be assured labor, supplies and machinery to carry out his part of the job. And the processor must have the equipment to take care of perishable products when the farmer lays them down at the door.

Experts here tell me that the farm-labor problem is not unsolvable. The combined demands of war and industry mean that the farmer will have to put up with older hands, with less skilled farm hands. It means that schools will have to be dismissed at harvest time and when harvest time and cultivation time come together. It may mean a land army of women. But the farmer will get the help he needs, even if it isn't exactly the kind of help he would prefer.

Can Get Repairs

The farmer can also get the parts he needs to repair his farm machinery.

He will get some new machinery, enough to get by with.

He may have to skimp a little on the nitrates and the phosphates although at present there are reserve supplies.

But the big problem is to provide the processor with the essentials he needs to prepare the food and to wrap it up in packages for the consumers. Take for instance milk: some 24 new evaporating plants will have to be built, some 350 cheese factories will have to be put up.

And PIGS! This year was a record crop. Next year will be bigger. Will the packers be able to take care of the porkers which may be waddling up at the rate of a possible thousand a day to squeal their last squeals for freedom? That is one thing which the secretary of agriculture is battling over now. It takes tin and stainless steel and a lot of other things which the army wants before you can change a pig into a portable meal. And the army is tighter than a Sunday shoe when it comes to yielding up any of those essential metals. It is interested chiefly in destroying, not preserving.

Food Goals Raised

The department of agriculture has raised the food goals—already it has called for a 25 per cent boost in the tomatoes wanted; 33 per cent in snap-beans, corn and peas for canning. Russia is very likely going to ask for food that we had not figured on supplying, China may need more. And then, who knows there may be an American Expeditionary Force, probably will be before we are through, which will have to be fed. Modern armies still move on their stomachs, but even in that position they cannot eat off the land as they used to.

These extra, added demands were not in the cards when the original "food for freedom" goals were set up. But they will have to be taken care of. America's good earth can produce them; the farmers can and will raise them. The next thing is to wangle the means of putting them into the packages that will take them where they are going. It's a big job—one of those which when done, will win the war.

War-time Washington—Crowded and Busy

War-time Washington... crowded press and radio conferences at the White House with no one admitted without a photographic pass, registered fingerprints or a special signed card issued only to known and guaranteed bearers. Special police, secret service men and two superintendents—each from press and radio galleries to inspect each card... a modification of the same system for entrance to all government buildings... anti-aircraft guns with their crews, like the one I can see from my window as I write, on top of buildings... more British reporters, no Japanese, German or Italian newsmen... a sign on the window of one of our many Filipino-driven taxis, "Philippines, U.S.A."—explanation from the grinning driver, "Best take no chances" (many people take the Filipinos for Japanese).

Fur coats on government workers which will be the last for a long time... "Paw" (Brigadier General) Watson, presidential secretary, in his uniform like hundreds of others... black paint around the edges of the broadcasting station's windows to keep the light from leaking out during blackouts... messenger-girls... tire-boot-leggers and tire-thieves... traffic jams.

Will the Horse Stage a Comeback?

"My kingdom for a horse!" A lot of the people who own America's 30 million vehicles may murmur that wish before long.

With sale of new autos and trucks banned pending rationing and with the rationing in effect, "My kingdom for a horse" may become no idle wish.

And nobody knows today when the farmer will be told he can have no new farm machinery when what he has wears out.

So the question naturally comes up, will the horse come back?

In the city he just can't. Some cities won't allow horse-drawn vehicles on certain streets. Washington is one of them and not long ago a man drove an old-fashioned carriage with a team of mules down Sixteenth street just to see if he could get away with it. He did—because after all, even a cop knows a mule isn't a horse.

But the city man, even if he learns which end of the horse to put the crupper on, wouldn't have any place to park the animal—he couldn't leave it out beside the curb all night the way many do their cars.

On the farm the horse may become a necessity. But his return will not be achieved overnight. In the first place every year with the increased mechanization of the farm, the supply of horseflesh has been dwindling. The situation isn't as bad as it was some years ago before vaccination scotched the sleeping sickness that threatened to reduce the equine population still further. But considering that it takes nearly four years after breeding before you get a horse in shape for regular heavy work, a market couldn't be built up to supply any increased demand for some time.

It is true that in 1932 and 1933 when money was scarce and feed was cheap a lot of farmers used horses instead of trucks. But the American is a mechanical minded man and unless he just naturally takes to animals he would a lot rather drive a motor. As one horse expert said to me:

"What's more a lot of folks are afraid of horses. Many men who will drive a farm truck 50 miles an hour nowadays would think he had a runaway on his hands if a team he was driving broke into a trot."

On the more serious side of the question however, is the possible long-time demand of the army for essential materials that go into trucks and tractors and which may cut down perceptibly the machines that run farms today. A lot of farmers, like a lot of city people, really can't afford to own the machinery they have. It makes work easier. A horse is more trouble than a machine. But a machine is not always necessary to do farm work any more than a car is necessary to the city dweller to do the work his own father made a shank's mare do.

Also, a horse can eat a lot of non-salable roughage, which food is much cheaper than gasoline is going to be while we need it for tanks and airplanes and army jeeps.

The United States now has 100,000 civilian pilots at the end of 1941, or five times as many as it had on July 1, 1938. About 65,000 of the new pilots were trained in the Civil Aeronautics administration program begun in 1939.

BRIEFS . . . By Baukhage

Although the White House grounds and entrances are guarded by a flock of extra policemen, nobody is paying any attention to the Japanese pin oaks which line the walk from the main building to the Executive office entrance.

The first commander in chief of the army and navy to hold divine services on ship board was President Roosevelt.

Japan is burning the candle at both ends as far as her materials for war are concerned. Supplies of metals are, of course, particularly short. Reports reaching our commerce department say that strenuous efforts are being devoted by the Japanese to the gathering of old railway cars, kitchen utensils, iron fences, manhole lids, pipes, wire, etc.

Rattling in Water Pipe
A HOME owner is much worried because of a rattling and vibration in his water supply pipes that comes with the turning on of a faucet. He says that the vibration is so great that it is felt all over his house, and naturally enough, he wants to know how it can be stopped. That trouble comes from a worn faucet washer, or from some loose inside part of a faucet. The rush of water through an opened faucet sets up a vibration that extends to the whole pipe. The remedy is to put in a new washer or to tighten up any part that may be loose. This vibration, which occurs when a faucet is opened, is quite different from the bang or hard thump that may come when a faucet is being closed, and especially when the closing is abrupt. That noise is due to the sudden stopping of the water flowing through the pipe; of the overcoming of its momentum. The noise is accompanied by a sudden rise in pressure that may strain the pipe and can be overcome by an air cushion.

This is an extension of the pipe, with the end tightly capped, or by a spring arrangement. Air contained in the capped pipe, or the springs, forms a cushion that takes up the momentum of the water and brings the flow to a gentle instead of an abrupt stop. The overcoming of the trouble, which is known as water hammer, calls for the services of a plumber.

Chimney Cleaning

Question: Our furnace chimney is so clogged with soot that there is no draft. Can the soot be cleared out by anything used in connection with the fire, such as salt? Or must cleaning be done from the chimney top?

Answer: Chemicals used as soot cleaners have the effect of reducing the temperature at which the soot will ignite, so that it will burn off. However, when a chimney is clogged with soot, this would be dangerous, for the fire might spread to the soot will be scraped off. The safe and sure way to clean a chimney is from the top. One easy method is to let down an old tire chain on a rope, swinging it around from side to side as it descends, so that the soot will be scraped off. The opening at the bottom of the chimney should have something over it to keep the powdery soot from messing up the room.

Furniture Finish

Question: An oak breakfast set was originally stained pale green, but much of the color has come off. How can the remaining stain be removed? How can I give the set a maple finish?

Answer: The stain should come out with a varnish remover, to be had at a paint store. For a finish, use varnish stain; you can get a good maple shade by mixing oak with a little mahogany.

Refinishing a Dresser

Question: I have an oak dresser that is now finished with enamel. How can I take the enamel off, so that I can use varnish?

Answer: Any liquid paint remover will do the job. Be sure that you follow the instructions on the label. The remover should be used in a place where there is plenty of ventilation, so that the vapors will be carried off. In a closed room they might cause a fire.

Skating Rink

Question: Roller skating is now becoming the vogue, and I would like to convert my maple dance floor for roller skating. Would skating render the floor useless for dancing again?

Answer: Roller skates with composition wheels will not do any great harm to the floor. When you wish to convert the floor for dancing again, sanding and refinishing will put it in good condition.

Brick Floor

Question: I want to lay a brick floor on the dirt under my back porch, to make a shelter for bicycles, etc. How can I keep the bricks from settling into the dirt?

Answer: By far your best move will be to lay the bricks on a bed of concrete, two or three inches thick. An alternative would be to excavate and to lay six inches of packed sand, placing the bricks on top.

Roosting Sparrows

Question: Is there any way to keep sparrows from roosting on rainspouts and telephone wires? They gather on horizontal rainspouts in large numbers.

Answer: Birds cannot be kept from roosting on wires, but it might be possible to protect rainspouts with insect screening, of the same metal or finish.

PENINSULA
(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

No news—only storm.
The mail has not made the Ridge since Monday.
Lake Charlevoix is frozen over and no one noticed it until Saturday.
There was no Sunday School at the Star Community Building on Sunday, because of impassable roads.
Clayton Healey of Willow Brook Dairy farm hauled hay from the August-Leu farm with the team on Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Vale Gee of Stoney Ridge farm have been staying in East Jordan the past week, where Mr. Gee is employed, because of the storm.
Orvel Bennett hiked to Advance on Thursday afternoon and "packed" home some necessary supplies just as everyone did back in the seventies only the distance is only two miles—but it was quite a hike in the storm.
Will Gaunt, who is employed in East Jordan, stayed with the George Weaver family in East Jordan the past week; Sunday afternoon he followed the snow plow down as far as the top of Five Star Hill and made the rest of the way across the fields.
Perry Looze, who is employed in Detroit, drove all Saturday night to get to his family at Cherry Hill arriving Sunday morning. His car got stuck at the Fitch Tooley place just before he got to the Ridge road and he made the rest of the way on foot about a half mile. He will return to Detroit Monday.
A. Reich of Lone Ash farm, and son, A. G. Hayden and Charles Arnott of Maple Row farm were among those caught out in the blow Saturday afternoon and after making around by the golf club by dint of hand power shoveling were forced to go a half a mile on shanks and bring the team to tow them from the Star Community Building to Lone Ash farm.
The worst storm for years has been with us since New Year's day with only very short lulls. The school bus gave up the job Tuesday afternoon and the plows made no effort to open the side roads but upon very urgent requests plowed the ridge road Friday late afternoon so some supplies were obtained early Saturday morning but by noon the road was impassable again.

Chester Waldon, our cream truck driver made the East Jordan-Ironton run Saturday and being unable to get through the Ironton-Boyer City road made back to East Jordan and brought out much needed grain as far as the cross road where he was met by Cash Hayden and Orval Bennett with the two weeks' accumulation of cream with team and sleigh which had a task making back.
A bunch of cars, Ted Westerman and Buddy Staley Atkinson, and Roscoe Barber and James Parmenter were all stuck in the snow at one time Saturday afternoon, below the McKinney Hill, and had to get in touch with the East Jordan snow plow. The small plow could not make the drifts so a larger one was brought and got them home to Toughs Corners but turned around and made back to East Jordan. The storm raged in all its fury until Sunday morning when there was a lull but the wind rose from the south Sunday evening and what the result will be no one can guess. The mercury was at zero or below all during the storm, touching twelve below Wednesday morning at Orchard Hill but rose to twelve above Sunday afternoon.

A session of the Michigan legislature with no partisan politics.
If assurances from the leaders of both camps of the state's divided government carry through, Michigan citizens will witness a strange and unusual spectacle Monday, January 19, when the Republican controlled legislature answers the call for a special war session issued by Democratic Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner.
Calling the legislators back to Lansing, Governor Van Wagoner made it clear that he wanted the legislature to confine itself to "this war emergency." That means the Governor wants it understood beforehand that there will be no injection of partisan disputes or other controversy into the consideration of strictly necessary war measures.
Simultaneously, Republican Speaker Howard Nugent notified the Governor that the dominant Republican majority in the House of Representatives would cooperate fully in the consideration of wartime measures.

War Needs in State
Just what the wartime measures will include were not definitely outlined by Governor Van Wagoner in his announcement.
He may ask appropriations totaling $5,000,000 for wartime spending. Possible expenditures would include expansion and equipment of the Michigan State Troops (Home Guard organizations), further subsidy for the State Council of Defense to finance its program of civilian recruiting, auxiliary and civil defense activities.

Echoes in State House
Echoes of the storm which wrecked the fragile structure of bi-partisan government in 1941 still ring through the State House of the legislature approached its special war session.
Memories of the legislature which refused to adjourn are still fresh and the politicians in both camps are inclined to be a bit jittery.
The personnel of the legislature, which defied the governor at the regular session, is unchanged. There is no indication that the temper of the leaders of the opposition has undergone any definite change. The "show me" attitude is apparent in both houses on the part of at least some of the members, who will be alert for any semblance of an attempt to play politics in the special session.
At the same time there is strong evidence of the desire of Republican leaders to cooperate with the Governor to the fullest extent possible in the matter of wartime emergency legislation. Requests of the Governor, within that category will speedily be granted. No one seems to doubt that further Republican leaders may be depended upon to avoid any controversy, which may tangle up the defense program or stall quick and united action on Michigan's part toward meeting the national crisis. It is to their party's best interest that a Republican legislature goes along in that phase of bi-partisan government.

Tests at Hand
Governor Van Wagoner has stated that he does not contemplate injecting such issues as the appropriation of funds for civilian non-defense governmental activities into the special session picture. This does not preclude action on other matters, mutually agreed upon, however. It is here that the bi-partisan government idea may be put to another test.
"We would need a pretty clear understanding that there would be no opposition to any non-defense items brought into the special session," the Governor has been quoted as saying.

There has been increasing pressure upon the Governor from several of the state departments and commissions for additional funds with which to operate for the remainder of the year. One such request comes from the Labor Mediation Board which has been concededly under-financed from its inception. Most departmental budgets have been upset by salary increases ordered by the Civil Service Commission.
Some of these requests for funds may be considered if the executive of the legislature can reach a mutual agreement. They may furnish the test as to whether or not bi-partisan government is more than a dream.

Defying Superstition
Gov. Van Wagoner defies a superstition and get away with it?
The Governor's "advisors" are said to have called his attention with fear in their voices, to an old superstition of the Capitol that the governor who calls back the legislature for a special session pays with his job. The rumor is that the Governor paid some attention to those who begged him beware, but decided to risk his political neck anyway. So the legislature will come back. A survey of gubernatorial history does not bear out the superstition and indicates that some governors who went down in defeat after calling back the legislature, would have lost at the polls anyway.
Governor Frank Fitzgerald called back the legislature late in 1936 but he had already been defeated at the November election and convened the special session at the request of Governor elect Frank Murphy to consider social security legislation.
War-time necessity has chased away fear of the jinx from the "front" office.

Public Pressure
Sometimes in the whirl of governmental procedure, John Q. Public rises up and takes over a function usually performed by a special group and interests. He puts pressure on government for something HE wants.
From the outside, it looks as if the public pressure is being recognized in the matter of bi-partisan administration of the state's defense program. At any rate, public demand for some such arrangement may have something to do with action of the state's officials, responsible only to the electorate. And such public pressure is not unwelcome to the officials of the bi-partisan administrative board, composed of all the elective state officers because it may remove some of the party pressure from their own necks.

FOUR FREEDOMS By Raymond Gram Swing
Chairman of the Council For Democracy

Our Heritage and Our Goal
THE Bill of Rights is a hundred and fifty years old, which is a natural occasion for retrospect. But it is a minor reason compared with the peril which must be surmounted if these rights are to be preserved.
Rights that have been safe for a hundred and fifty years are not for that reason safe for two hundred years.
It took sacrifice and heroism to establish them. Through the recurring crises of a century and a half, they have been kept intact in the letter, and most of the time in the spirit.
Today these rights are the essence of a world struggle, which will decide whether the current of the future turns sharply against individual rights. A review of the hundred and fifty years of cherished freedoms should spur the inheritors to as great endeavor to maintain them.
President Roosevelt's four freedoms are more than a summary of the Bill of Rights. Freedom of worship and expression are there explicitly. Freedom from fear is there as regards domestic tyranny, with security against the suspension of legal safeguards. Fear of a foreign tyrant, or a foreign doctrine of tyranny, could hardly be guaranteed in such a document. Neither could the freedom from want. These are the goals which a long-free America is now dedicated to attain.
It is clear, the Bill of Rights would be lost in a world subject to tyranny. It also is clear that without the freedom from want, men will be tempted to forego other freedoms in the pursuit of economic security. So the sesqui-centennial of the Bill of Rights calls for more than reverent gratitude toward the past. It must be the reassertion of its bold spirit. It must carry forward the achievement of pioneers.

East Jordan F.F.A. Takes Seventh Place In State-Wide Contest

In connection with Michigan Apple Week observed in late October, 1941, East Jordan High School Agricultural Department Future Farmers of America, as an organization, took part in an apple display contest sponsored by the State Apple Commission of Lansing. Apples grown by prominent local growers were furnished for the display, and the exhibits were set up by the East Jordan F.F.A.

The apple growers who furnished bushel and plate lots of standard Michigan apples were The Eveline Orchards, and the Douglas Tibbetts Orchards. Apples were displayed at the following places, and the courtesy extended the F.F.A. and the entire East Jordan community, is very much appreciated indeed. Charlevoix County Herald, East Jordan Michigan Public Service, Bill Hawkins Store, and the W. A. Porter Hardware.

In addition to the selection of apples and displaying of them a report was filled out and submitted to the Michigan Apple Commission. This form had been worked out by the Commission. The combination of the display and the report constituted the basis for comparison with other similar organization contest entries for contest purposes. The report was signed by one of the apple growers and by the local editor, G. A. Lisk, and also by the adviser of the local F. F. A.

The result of the contest was that East Jordan was awarded seventh place in the state with a money prize payment of $12.00 paid to the secretary of the East Jordan F.F.A.

Patricia Vance was a Traverse City business visitor last Monday.

Harold Thomas of Flint was week end guest of his mother, Mrs. Russell Thomas and other relatives.

Gabriel Thomas, who is engaged in National Defense work in Patterson Field, Fairfield, Ohio, came last week end for his wife and sons, Dan and Lee, returning Monday evening.

For the past week or so, East Jordan (as well as the rest of the nation) experienced one of the worst snow storms in years, coupled with near zero weather. Some roads were kept open, but for most of them it was practically impossible to keep open any length of time. It eased off Monday and Tuesday, but Tuesday night the high winds plugged the highways again and many cars were bogged down.

The Ladies Auxillary of the Rebec Sweet Post had their regular meeting at the home of Mr. J. F. Kenney with Mrs. LaCroix on Tuesday, Jan. 13th. The next meeting is to be held January 27th. Try and all be present at that meeting special business. — Pub. Chairman.

Vital Metals from the Telephone Junk-pile

- ★ Worn-out, broken and outmoded telephone apparatus—even odds and ends of copper wire and lead-covered cable—are not wasted in the Bell System. Instead, at the smelting and refining plant of Bell System's Western Electric, all basic metals in the telephone junk-pile are refined for use over and over again.
- ★ That is why old telephones and other equipment may appear once more in useful form — perhaps in gun parts, big shells, fighter planes, bombers . . . or be used in completely new form in the telephone system of a battle cruiser or naval arsenal.
- ★ But that's not all. Bell System research enables us to save vital metals for war needs by using alternate materials in some parts of telephone equipment. That research assists us, too, in the increasingly difficult problem of providing service when and where needed.

AGRICULTURAL DEFENSE MEETINGS SCHEDULED FOR EVERY COMMUNITY IN ANTRIM COUNTY

A series of twelve Agricultural Defense Meetings for each of nine communities have been scheduled for Antrim County, beginning the week of Jan. 19. Meetings are to be held once each week for twelve successive weeks, in each of the nine communities. This will afford, to every farmer in the county, an opportunity of attending one of these meetings without the necessity of traveling very many miles.

Subject matter for each of the twelve weeks is: Weeks of January 19, "Farm Success Factors," January 26, "Farm Poultry," February 2, "Producing Pork," February 9, "Dairy," February 16, "Beef and Other Livestock," February 23, "Better Potatoes," March 2, "More Profit From Hay and Pastures," March 9, "Corn and Other Grain Crops," March 16, "Soils and Fertilizers," March 23, "The Farm Garden and Truck Crops," March 30, "Repairing and Sharing Farm Equipment," April 6, "Planning Your Farm for 1942."

Communities in which meetings will be held, places and time of meeting each week are:

Tuesday afternoons, each week at 2:00 p. m., Jordan Town Hall, Jordan Township, Pleasant Valley School, Echo Township, and Alden School, Helena Township.

Tuesday evenings, each week at 8:00 p. m., Alba School for Warner, Star and Chestonia Townships, Bellaire School for Forest Home and Kearney Townships, Mancelona School for Mancelona, Custer and Chestonia Townships.

Thursday afternoons, each week at 2:00 p. m., Kewadin, Milton Town Hall for Elk Rapids, Milton and Torch Lake Townships, Ellsworth, Ellsworth Community Hall for Banks Township and Central Lake and parts of Echo and Torch Lake Townships.

At Bellaire, Alba and Mancelona, Adult classes for women will be held the same evenings as the meetings for men. These classes are under the direction of the local Home Economics Instructors, The Misses Rotter, Maxwell and Strom respectively.

ANTRIM COUNTY SCHOOLS COLLECT WASTE PAPER

All schools thruout Antrim County are being organized to assist in the waste paper drive being carried on thruout the county. In many schools paper collections have been carried on for some time. In other schools some waste paper has been collected but there was no means of getting the paper marketed. Thru the efforts of Dr. H. C. Fischer, Commissioner of Schools, Robert Helms Director of Social Welfare and Walter G. Kirkpatrick, County Agricultural Agent, a plan has been worked out whereby a system of gathering the paper and marketing it will be carried out.

Money received from the waste paper might be used to purchase needed equipment for Hot Lunches, the Clothing or Handicraft projects or to buy Defense Stamps.

Old corrugated boxes, as well as old brown wrapping papers and bags are in urgent demand as well as other types of paper, the former especially because of the imported kraft pulp which goes into them.

We can do our bit by saving paper and helping not only National Defense effort but also our own boys and girls.

GARDEN SEED PACKETS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Proper varieties and quantities of garden seeds will doubtless be hard to secure this Year due to the fact that many of our former sources of seed supplies have been cut off. The influence of the war is already being felt thru the increased price of all seeds.

For several years, packets of seeds, that is one large package that includes all vegetable seeds used in the average garden, have been used in various sections of the state. In Antrim County this packet has been used very successfully by the Farm Security Administration. Thru the use of such a packet, bids are placed with all local seed dealers and others, thereby giving all an opportunity to secure the business thru competitive bidding. At the same time, individuals participating in the plan are able to secure garden seeds of top quality in proper amounts and of correct varieties for an average size family at a saving over the regular market price.

This year, in view of the emphasis being placed on Nutrition as a part of our National Defense effort, this same plan is being offered to every family in Antrim County thru the Antrim County Agricultural Defense Board. Thru the cooperation of Nutrition and Vegetable Specialists, Michigan State College, a Garden Packet, including nineteen varieties of vegetables, with sufficient quantities of seed of each variety that will produce all the fresh vegetables needed as well as all the vegetables needed for preserving for a full year for a family of five, is being offered. Bids were submitted and one accepted which will save individuals ordering thru this plan at least fifty per cent over normal retail prices. Letters explaining the plan are being sent to all farm families in Antrim County. Others desiring to participate in the plan are asked to contact the office of the County Agricultural Agent, Agricultural Adjustment Administration or the Farm Security Administration. Orders must be placed by January 20 to insure delivery of seeds, and lowest possible price.

Mr. Farmer: Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid Income Tax Trouble
in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Charlevoix County Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agricultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookkeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes a week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.
G. A. LISK, Publisher.
