Canning Sugar Registration

AT CITY BUILDING JUNE 18—19: YOU MUST TAKE YOUR SUGAR CARD

Registration required to provide for rationing of canning sugar will be held in Charlevoix county on June 18 and 19, has been announced by Fenton R. Bulow, administrator of the Charlevoix county rationing board.

Registration in East Jordan will be held in the City Hall, hours designated are 9 to 11 a. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. on both days. The registration here, Mr. Bulow stated, will be conducted by members of the East Jordan Garden Club, assisted by some members of the school faculty, who conducted the first consumer registration, and other volunteers.

Under recently amended sugar rationing regulations, the amount allowable for canning purposes is one pound for each four quarts of fruit canned the previous year, for preserving one pound per annum per person for preserves, jams, jellies or fruit butters. Registrars, however, will be instructed by the rationing board to set a maximum per person, which it is understood, will be between six and ten pounds per person. The amount allowable per person will most likely be split, part to be released at a specified date for "early canning" the balance later for "late canning." While regulations suggest two registrations to provide sugar for seasonal canning, only one registration will be conducted in this county.

The most important requirement to be remembered by registrants is to bring already allotted rationing cards, which provide identification and upon which the amount of sugar allowable per person and date to be released will be stamped. Other requirements include that a person be able to specify number of quarts of fruit canned in previous year; number of quarts now in possession of individual or family; number of quarts to be canned during the period for which application is made; whether sugar is to be used for preserving; excess sugar supply as of the time of registration. It is pointed out that it is extremely important that every person be registered individually or by a family member on June 18 or 19. Those who fail to do so will be unable to obtain canning sugar for at least two weeks after the registration period.

Charlevoix Men To Be Inducted Into Service Next Monday

Charlevoix County's call for June is for sixty men. Due to enlistments in the last few weeks it will be necessary to send only the following this time. They shall report to this Local Board at the City Hall, Charlevoix, Michigan, at 8:45 p. m. on June 8, 1942; whereupon they shall be sent to an induction station of the United States Army at Traverse City, Michigan.

Rotary Club Wants Names of Soldiers, Sailors Now In The Service

The East Jordan Rotary Club are planning to mail The Herald to men in the service of the United States from this section. They desire relatives to hand in the names and addresses of Service Men from East Jordan. A post card addressed to Barney Milstein, who is in charge of this, will do.

Help Wanted This Friday

For the School hot lunch project, as many men as possible to donate their time in setting out 1000 tomato plants this Friday. Please phone Supt. Wade or Mr. Braman.

MARRIAGES

DeLoy — Nichols

Mr. Harry Ross Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Win Nichols of East Jordan, and Miss Shirley DeLoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeLoy of Boyne City were united in marriage by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham at the Presbyterian Manse Wednesday evening, June 3rd.

They were accompanied by Mr. Hilbert O. Hardy and Miss Beverly DeLoy both of Boyne City.

Sutton — Wilbur

Miss Alice Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sutton and Palmer Wilbur of Charlevoix were united in marriage Tuesday evening, May 26, at the Charlevoix Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. J. Marion DeVinney.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. George Courtney. Alice graduated from the East Jordan High School in 1941.

The young couple will make their home in Charlevoix and they have the best wishes from all their friends.

Bartlett — Quick

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Swafford announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean Bartlett, to Charles Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Quick, of Romeo, August 1940.

The bride is a graduate of Community Hospital, Battle Creek, and the groom a graduate of Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo.

Mich Bell Telephone Co. Commended For Its Part In The War

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has been commended by Major General Dawson Olmstead, chief signal officer for the U. S. Army, for its part in the war effort.

George M. Welch of Detroit, president of the company, announced receipt of the following telegram from General Olmstead: "You are rendering a vital service to your country in this time of war by the rapid and efficient manner in which you are doing your job. The Army commends you for rising to the new and greater needs of the nation with spirits of loyal effort over and above your line of duty. Conduct of the war effort in your important section of country demands dependable communications under all conditions. You are doing your part in holding the lines of communication for us."

Michigan Potato Growers Exchange Sponsoring Co-operative Meeting

The Michigan Potato Growers Exchange is sponsoring a school of co-operation meeting at Dilworth Hotel, Boyne City, on Wednesday, June 10th at 6:30 p. m. A complimentary dinner is being given to the Managers, Directors and other individuals interested in the cooperative movement. It is expected that some fifty farm leaders will be in attendance.

C. L. Nash, Specialist in Economics, Michigan State College, will discuss "The Price Control Order and Cooperatives," as well as conduct a foundation discussion, Fred Hibst, Manager, Cadillac Potato Exchange, will speak on "Truck Regulations as it Affects Cooperatives." Jack Yaeger, Michigan State Farm Bureau will discuss "Cooperatives and Labor Relations."

Certainly this meeting gives every promise of being both educational and instructive. Never before has any type of business been called upon to keep records and to furnish information as today. The main objective of these meetings are to convey to the cooperative organizations the restrictions on business. It is expected that the organization from some five counties will be represented in a real bang-up session.

Infant and Preschool Conference Here Next Week

The Monthly infant and preschool conference will be held at the City Building on Thursday, June 11th, from 10-12 noon, and 1:30 to 3 p. m. Physical examinations together with preventive measures against diphtheria and smallpox will be given by Dr. James Chapman, director of the District Health Department and assisted by Miss Lawrence, County Nurse. Mothers with children up to school age are invited to attend this conference. Not only is the conference open to mothers in immediate vicinity but also those living in nearby townships are invited to come. Infants and children who are ill are not admitted but will be referred to the family physician. Defects will not be corrected nor will treatments other than preventive be given. Treatment of disease and serious defects must be carried on by the family physician or in an institution suggested by him.

Spring Recreation Program Of Our Public Schools Enjoyed By Many Students

One of the best softball programs ever held during the noon hour was conducted this spring for the girls and boys of our schools. At times 7 or 8 games would be going on at one time, with the big game in the center of the school playground.

The championship this year were won by the senior boys and the freshmen girls. For other successful achievements they were awarded charms at the annual award day.

Annual Meeting Farm Loan Ass'n

NEXT THURSDAY AT CHARLEVOIX CITY HALL

On Thursday, June 11th, at eight o'clock p. m., the members of the Charlevoix County National Farm Loan Association will hold their annual stockholders' meeting at the City Hall in Charlevoix.

This association was granted its charter on August 8, 1917, authorizing it to provide long term credit to farmers of the western part of Charlevoix County through the facilities of the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul. It has grown to the extent that at the present time 100 farmers in this area have availed themselves of this service.

Each year the attendance at the annual meeting increases and it is expected that this year will be no exception. The secretary-treasurer, H. C. Bedell, will present a report on the income and financial position of the association. This year, a copy of the report will be distributed to all members.

A director will be chosen at this meeting to succeed Clinton S. Blanchard of Charlevoix whose term expires this year.

Lee Sneathen, president of the association will present a report on behalf of the Board of Directors, giving the number of meetings attended by each director, a picture of the matters presented and considered at board meetings, and the general expense to the association.

In addition to the regular business meeting, the evening's program will include a discussion by B. C. Melencamp, County Agricultural Agent, on the timely subject "President Roosevelt's Seven Point Policy for Farmers." Walter Henley, County Chairman of the Agricultural Conservation Association, will discuss new developments in the AAA program for 1942.

Free lunch will be provided for all.

Story of "Gas" Destruction Denied By Ickes and Davies at Washington

"It is a damn scandal that a newspaper will print such a story," Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes angrily told his press conference May 14. Thus, in 13 words, Mr. Ickes summed up his opinion of a recent newspaper story that 2,400,000 bbls. of gasoline had been destroyed in the Chicago area due to lack of storage space.

Deputy Petroleum Co-ordinator Davies also made a formal, and more detailed statement, part of which follows:

"Such reports are completely without foundation. The storage situation in that area is not one which would require any such action on the part of any company or individual. Furthermore, this office would oppose, with all the powers at its command, the taking of any such step.

"Supplies of motor fuel in the Chicago district have been ample, but demand has been sufficient to prevent any undue increase in storage. In fact, all the indications are that gasoline inventories will be shrinking shortly in that section.

"Irresponsible statements about gasoline destruction in the Chicago area are obviously without foundation."

Junior High Patriotic Program Held Last Friday

The 7th and 8th grade were together for the first time this year in a assembly held in the annex of the Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 29th.

The purpose of the assembly was of a patriotic motif commemorating Memorial Day and pledging and declaring our loyalty to our country—the United States.

The program as follows: Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag — Assembly led by the 7th grade girl scouts.
Song — God Bless America

Farm Construction Building Permits

NOW REQUIRED BY RULING OF WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

Farmers desiring to construct new homes costing $500 or more and new barns and other agricultural buildings costing $1,000 or more are required to secure a permit from the local county U.S.D.A. War Board, according to a recent ruling of the War Production Board.

The following eight basic standards have been set up for use of local county U.S.D.A. War Boards in determining the importance of and making recommendations on farm construction applications:

The proposed construction must be essential to meet agricultural production goals on this farm.

The intended construction must be consistent with sound agricultural practices.

The use of scarce materials and equipment must be reduced to a minimum.

To the largest extent local labor will be utilized in the construction without interference with labor essential to war industries.

Residential Construction (Farm Houses)

The house should be used by a person or family whose full time labor is essential to the operation of the farm.

Construction of a new house should not be recommended if a present house can be feasibly remodeled or repaired to meet acceptable standards.

Agricultural Construction (Not Including Dwellings)

The present construction must be essential to meet agricultural production goals of the area to be served.

New facilities cannot be justified unless present facilities of the area served are being utilized to maximum capacity.

Houses can not be justified on the basis that the owner now has the money for a new house. War Bonds will be a better investment and after the war both labor and materials will be more available & doubtless cheaper.

In determining the total cost of a project one must compute the amount of materials to be purchased, labor and salvaged or used materials going into the completed building. This means that even if the farmer is to use much of his own labor and farm furnished materials the total cost of the project will include these materials and service computed at market prices.

The above restrictions seem quite drastic but it must be kept in mind that the primary purpose of the building freezing order is to reduce the vast amount of scarce materials—particularly metals, including copper, brass, zinc, tin, lead, iron and steel—ordinarily consumed in any construction.

People desiring further information should consult their local county U.S.D.A. War Board.

Our City Dedicates Itself

THIS YEAR IN EAST JORDAN DECORATION DAY WAS DEDICATION DAY

The patriotic exercises held in the High School auditorium on the morning of Decoration Day were attended by what was probably the largest assembly that has ever gathered in East Jordan for a patriotic program, and the spirit of everyone was one of Dedication.

The theme of the program, as announced in last week's Herald was "It is for us to dedicate ourselves to the unfinished task."

The first stanza of "The Star Spangled Banner," led by John Ter Wee was sung by all, after which Major B. J. Beuker led in a prayer that breathed the spirit of Dedication to Him in Whom is our Trust.

Mayor Clarence Healey fittingly dedicated the community to the task ahead, and promised that We Shall See It Through. Vern Whiteford, for the veterans of former wars, spoke words of dedication; and Supt. E. E. Wade dedicated the school to the patriotic task. Rev. C. W. Sidebotham called attention to the fact that a nation that kneels at a pagan shrine, and one that is led by a false Messiah are waging war against the freedom of the soul of man; and that we must keep faith with those who have sacrificed for liberty in the past, with God, and with the generations yet unborn.

Fred Vogel spoke for the fathers of the boys in the Service, pledging full loyalty. Then followed the most touching part of the program, when Mrs. Charles Dennis and Mrs. Bert Carney, both mothers of three service boys, were presented. Their presence brought home the thought of the fine part that the mothers are performing. The school children expressed their dedication by singing "Faith of our Fathers. We will be true to thee to death." After this all arose and in unison pledged allegiance to the flag.

Then all sang the prayer "God Bless America." This singing had all the solemnity of a sacramental hymn; it was an act of devout worship.

Then taps were sounded and the large assembly dispersed in the attitude of deep resolve that we must live out the promises of dedication that have been made.

There was a spirit of reverence and of dedication throughout all the program. Even the smallest children present seemed to sense the spirit of the occasion. It was one of those sacramental occasions that are possible only in times of deep consecration to the basic principles upon which this nation is founded, and to the God in Whom we trust. East Jordan has dedicated itself to the unfinished task.

Athletic Award Day

At E. J. H. S. Last Thursday, May 28

Presentation of the "Varsity" Letter "V" to the East Jordan high school boys for the athletic season of 1941—42 in the sports football, basketball, and baseball were made at the annual award assembly held Thursday May 28.

The following boys earned their letters in all three sports:

Bernard Sturgell Tyson Kemp
William Saxton Charles Saxton

These boys earned letters in two sports:

Henry Grutch Bruce Woodcock
Ernest Stallard Edward Perry

The remainder have earned their letter in one sport during this season.

Robert Strehl Leland Hickox
Fred Bechtold Leo Nemecek
Douglas Gilkerson William Walden
Edward Nachazel Ralph Kitson

The all-round athletic medal to a senior goes to Bernard Sturgell for the year 1942.

Joe Leu Consigns Two Herefords To Gladwin Beef Sale

Joe Leu, East Jordan, becomes the 1st Charlevoix county breeder to consign animals to the Gladwin Beef sale on Thursday, June 11th at the Gladwin Fair Grounds. The two animals are wonderfully grown out, of high type, and should be attractive to the buyers of pure-bred Herefords. Both are heifers and approximately two years of age.

This is the twelfth annual event & some sixty head of choice beef, Milkings Shortorns, Herefords, Beef Shortorns, Aberdeen-Angus, and Red Polls are offered for sale. Year by year, the sale attracts a large attendance of livestock breeders. For any one desiring good foundation animals this is an excellent sale to attend. The sale begins at 12:30 p. m., so the entire trip could be made in one day very easily. If you have the opportunity, you will enjoy seeing the animals auctioned. You will be pleased with the quality offered.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

For outstanding service to the nation, two of the navy's current heroes were honored by Secretary Frank Knox (center). Lieut. John D. Hawes was awarded a gold star to accompany Navy Cross he had already received.

U. S. AIR MISSION: Bad News for Reich

First body blows by the United States against Nazi Germany will be delivered from the air, it was forecast when Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, head of the U. S. Army air forces and Rear Adm. John H. Towers, chief of naval aeronautics, arrived in London to "consult with British officials on details of Anglo-American military co-operation."

Air-raids of a magnitude and destructiveness such as the world has never before seen will eventually be the sequel to plans perfected at the conferences, observers declared. In creating a second front against Germany, American planes and fighters operating with the British to bomb German factories, defenses and communications would be under their own command.

The "softening up" process forecast by joint American and British air offensives over the Reich would, it was believed, be a prelude to invasion by United Nations' land forces of the continent of Europe later on. This was confirmed by a statement of Lieut. Gen. Somerville that "America is ready to supply men and materials on a large scale to a European front."

The American air mission in Britain was regarded as a logical corollary to Gen. George C. Marshall's London conference on strategy recently. The U. S. Army chief of staff's talks with Prime Minister Churchill and British chiefs of staff were known to have covered every war zone including Russia.

600 MILLION: Fund for Housing

The appropriation of an additional $600,000,000 to provide living quarters for 1,600,000 war workers who will migrate to munitions producing centers was asked by President Roosevelt in a message to congress.

Congress had previously appropriated $1,020,000,000 for war housing to provide shelter for workers producing essential munitions.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his message that while workers are being obtained locally as far as possible and new sources of labor supply are being called on, it will be necessary for at least 1,600,000 to move to centers of war activity during the coming year. Existing structures are being counted on to absorb a large percentage of the workers, he said, but many workers will have to be cared for through new public construction, "largely temporary in nature and designed to serve the lower-income brackets of war workers."

LYBIAN FRONT: Active Again

Although the weather timetable said it was too late in the season, active warfare flamed again in the Lybian desert when Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel's armored units opened an offensive against British forces south of Tobruk.

In the opening phases of what was regarded as Rommel's long-awaited general attack, the British held the upper hand and repulsed and inflicted heavy losses on the Nazis in a series of fierce tank battles.

British tank units were strongly supported by squadrons of Royal Air force planes, according to communiques from Middle East headquarters. The German army was reported operating with stronger air forces.

Observers speculated about what foxy General Rommel had up his sleeve. A master of "feinting" tactics, the Nazi leader was believed by some experts to be making a token thrust against the British southern flank in order to screen a general advance eastward along the coast toward Egypt.

TWO NEW ALLIES: Mexico and Brazil

More effective measures against the submarine menace along the Atlantic seaboard and in Latin-American waters were forecast through the co-operative action of Brazil and Mexico in joining the United Nations' warfare against the Axis.

Operating under "shoot on sight" orders, Brazilian airmen were reported to have sunk three U-boats lurking off their northern coast. Brazil had to send her armed forces into action, said an air ministry communique, "to safeguard our sovereignty and the lives of our undefended sailors." Seven Brazilian ships had been torpedoed.

Mexico's action likewise came after the sinking of two of her ships. "We recognize the limits of our military resources," said President Camacho, "but we shall respond to the aggression of our adversaries, collaborating energetically in safeguarding America."

JOB FREEZE: Aids War Output

In answer to the growing practice of "pirating" war workers from one industry to the other by inducements of higher wages and other incentives, the War Manpower Commission moved drastically to hold "essential" workers in critical war industries and agriculture in their present jobs.

Primary purpose of the action was to step up war production hampered by shifts of workers.

Officials said the United States Employment service would be designated as the sole hiring agent for vital war industries. It was indicated that the service would be empowered to prevent any employed from leaving one job for another, "except in cases where his skills were needed for a particular task and where there was a shortage of skilled labor."

Men in key positions would not be subject to military service under the draft deferment provisions of the proposal.

WAR WIVES' AID:
U. S. Is Generous

Substantial financial aid for the families and dependents of enlisted men in Uncle Sam's armed forces was approved by the senate military affairs committee, when members voted an allowance scale beginning at $50 a month for wives.

The benefit system worked out by the committee included a much more liberal war-risk insurance plan than in World War No. 1.

The program's provisions would start with a government allowance of $28 per month for a wife with no child, to which would be added $22 from the monthly pay of her husband. A wife with one child would receive $40 from the government, plus the $22 allotted from the soldier's pay and $10 for each additional child.

In case of a soldier with parents, brothers, sisters or grandchildren dependent on him, an additional scale of benefits was provided, including $15 for one parent, $25 for two and $5 for additional B class dependents.

LEND-LEASE: More for Russ

The basis for closer economic co-operation between the United States, Soviet Russia and Great Britain both during and after the war was laid in a proposal for a master lend-lease agreement presented by the state department to the Russian government.

President Roosevelt described the proposal as similar to other master lend-lease agreements already signed by Great Britain.

In effect, the acceptance of the agreement by Russia would make the Soviet a party to attaining the economic principles of the Atlantic Charter sponsored by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

The foundation principles of the master agreements already existing between the U. S. and Britain, include "national and international measures to expand production, employment and the exchange and consumption of goods," and elimination of "all forms of discriminatory treatment in international commerce, to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers and generally to attain the economic objectives of the Atlantic Charter."

The significance of this latest move is that a victorious America, Britain and Russia, working in close economic collaboration, would compose an economic bloc that would dominate the entire world.

DE GAULLE: Warrior Only

Hopes of Gen. Charles de Gaulle that the United Nations would recognize him as the political leader of France as well as the military symbol around which Free Frenchmen have rallied, were dimmed by reactions from both Washington and London.

treat his organization as a full-fledged government and war partner instead of an agency for recruiting French fighters. The Free French leader used the American negotiations for demilitarizing the French Caribbean as an example of the inadequacies of his representation in the family of United Nations.

Official Washington made it clear that while the United States is continuing to give the De-Gaullists every aid possible, it prefers to wait for an eventually liberated France to designate its own political leader.

TOJO BOASTS:
China Performs

Boasting that Japan would stay in the war "until the influence of Britain and America and their dreams of world domination were wiped out," Premier Hideki Tojo reaffirmed his country's determination to "contribute to the utmost her share as the partner of Germany and Italy."

Describing Australia as the "orphan in the Pacific, helplessly expecting Japan's attack," the Nipponese tried again the war of nerve technique by warning the Commonwealth it must reconsider its attitude toward Japan.

But while Tojo was making brave talk, disquieting news for his people came in Chinese reports that the Japanese army of 100,000 which had launched the offensive in Chekiang province had been decimated. Of casualties totaling 10,000, the Japs lost 1,500 in killed through the explosion of land mines near the key city of Kinwha.

RUSS-NAZIS:
Fanks Take Toll

As drier ground and warmer weather permitted greater movement, the tempo of war on the Russian-Nazi fronts was stepped up. While German sources made claims of strategic flanking attacks, Red army communiques reported advances along the 150-mile Kharkov front.

Mechanized units were poured into the conflict. One report told of phalanxes of 52-ton Russian tanks lumbering through German lines.

In addition to successes reported at Kharkov, the Russians claimed advances near Barvenkova.

RAIL TRAVEL: With "rubberneck" sights

With "rubberneck" sights seeing buses already banned and drastic curtailment of airline service in effect, the next step would be eliminating in the near future of all "non-essential" railroad passenger service, federal transportation officials declared.

One step already taken was the rearrangement of stream-line train schedules to make such service available for local traffic, ODT, representatives pointed out.

Bossy Meets War Production Challenge
As Dairy Industry Supplies Vital Foods

Industry Observes Sixth Annual June Campaign.

CHICAGO.—June dairy month brings a picture of 26,000,000 cows on nearly 5,000,000 farms in the United States, each performing an important function in winning the war. Quietly at work in the barns and on the pastures from Maine to California and from the Canadian border to the Gulf, these 26,000,000 animals are daily producing a third of a billion pounds of milk.

That means an average production of 166,666 tons of milk every day in the year. If placed in ten gallon cans, 3,921,569 cans would be required to hold an average day's milk production in the United States. This is enough milk to fill 6,666 big 25-ton tank cars. If these were all put together in one big milk train, we would have each morning a train of 25-ton milk tank cars 57 miles long.

The flow of this life-giving stream of food rated by nutritionists as the No. 1 protective food is of vital importance to our nation at all times, but especially so this year. The Allied nations and the soldiers of the United States must have milk and its products. Factory and munition workers have greater need than ever for milk and milk products. Office workers, housewives, school children and all other classes of the American population are coming to realize, as never before, their need for greater quantities of these vital foods in order to keep America strong by making Americans stronger.

Dairy Program.

Today the National Dairy Council program, which the industry has sponsored for 23 years, is finding new recognition and new support. A national nutrition program is expanding and materially strengthening the realization of the fact that good nutrition is necessary to optimum health, vigor and vitality. This national nutrition program has been in operation for more than a year.

Just how are these 26 million cows and those responsible for the product meeting this challenge and this opportunity?

We need not wait for that answer. Those "bossies" and their masters are meeting the challenge. Starting with an average production of 104 billion pounds of milk during the years 1935 to 1939; there was 111 billion pounds of milk produced in 1940; 115 billion 500 million pounds of milk in 1941, and the production for 1942 is estimated at not less than 120 billion pounds of milk to be produced in the United States. In other words, for each and every day of the year, including Sundays and holidays, there is being produced more than 44,000,000 pounds of milk over that of five years ago. That is the equivalent of a fully loaded milk train of 50,000 pound capacity cars, 7 1/2 miles long over and above their normal production.

Mrs. Caroline Loomis who has spent a week with her son Ray Loomis and family at Gravel Hill, north side, returned to Lansing with her brother, Len Hervitt, Sunday, but will come later to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hayden and family of Bob White farm spent Saturday at Orchard Hill helping with the farm work. Master James stayed over Sunday with his brother Richard, who lives at Orchard Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Howe of Springvale and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lovel Chase, who are vacationing in a trailer house at Whiting Park, had Sunday dinner with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nield and son LeRoy at Sunny Slopes farm.

Little Naomi Bennett, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Bennett, of Honey Slope farm, who has been having stomach trouble for some time was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital Friday for observation and treatment. Sunday afternoon she was no better.

Neighbors will be interested to hear Mrs. C. A. Crane, who was so severely injured some time ago in a car wreck is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Little in Royal Oak, but Mr. Crane is still in the St. Joseph hospital in Pontiac. They plan to resume their trip to Cedar Lodge as soon as they are able.

There were 27 at the Star Sunday School May 31. All were very glad to have John Seiler there again after an absence of two Sundays. Plans were discussed for a joint Children's Day and Rally with the Tainter Sunday School, possibly the third Sunday in June, at the Star Community Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Jarman of Detroit were calling on the Peninsula, Sunday afternoon on their way back from Old Mission where they had spent Memorial Day with Mrs. Jarman's parents, Captain and Mrs. Mangle. They called at Pleasant View farm and on Ever "Bob" Jarman at Gravel Hill, south side.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Bennett and family of Honey Slope farm had for Sunday dinner guests, Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Jessie Papineau of Boyne City and Mrs. Geo. Fine and family of Grand Ledge. After dinner they motored to Charlevoix hospital to see little Naomi Bennett, who is a patient there. They found her not improved.

Mrs. John Seiler of East Jordan, on Sunday School maunstay, brought word Sunday of Sergeant Albert Richardson, who helped with the Sunday school two or three years ago, that he and his bride, Miss Davie, who some times attended while teaching in East Jordan school, now of Southern Michigan, were at his parents, the Wm. Richardson's, home, on furlough.

The David and Will Gaunt families of Three Bells District were surprised Saturday morning to have Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gaunt and family of Bridgeport, Mich. and Mrs. Martha

Expect Labor Shortage In This Region By Middle of Summer

The United States Employment Service Office at Petoskey, handling employment for Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet and Otsego Counties is now receiving orders for help of various kinds from many employers, and expects a labor shortage by mid-summer. Although fewer people are registered at this office than at any previous time, there is a greater demand for labor than ever before.

Due to the fact that several hundred young men from this area have joined the military services, and many hundreds of other persons have left the area for war production employment, there is a shortage of labor on farms, in local factories, in hotels and restaurants, and in domestic employment.

Several farm openings exist and many more are expected. Young people may do agricultural work without working permits. The faculties of most high schools, veterans' auxiliaries and other civic organizations have registered many men, women and children who are willing to assist with farm and cannery work during harvest periods.

As many outside students who usually work in hotels are employed this summer in war work, it is expected that some of these local registrants will be offered summer jobs in resort work and that others will be placed with retail stores and in domestic jobs.

Another of the functions of the Employment Service is the referral of young men between 17 and 24 years of age to N.Y.A. training projects for which there are several openings at present. All persons seeking employment are urged to register at the Field Office at 215 Howard Street, Petoskey or to contact Harvard Smart who maintains itinerant service at Basement of Dilworth Hotel, Boyne City on every Tuesday, between the hours of 1:30 p. m. and 4:00 p. m.

AAA PROGRAM IN CHARLEVOIX CO.

A Triple-A War Production Check-Up meeting was held at Boyne City on Thursday, May 28, attended by all county and community AAA committeemen and their wives. The meeting, presided over by the chairman, Walter H. Henley, emphasized the duties of all farmers and farm women in the war production farm program. Of special interest was a letter from Maurice A. Doan, State War-Board chairman, read by Mr. Henley, on the necessity of constant extra effort to meet the goals set earlier in the year. The Woman's place in the War Production Program was interestingly presented by the county farmer fieldwoman, Mrs. Countis Mascho. The President's New Seven Point Program was explained by our county agent, B. C. Mellencamp. A comparison between American farming and soil conservation methods as practiced in Germany were given by Carl Frohaska, Bay township chairman. A similar comparison of Ukrainian farming was covered by Peter Dobinjak, chairman of Hudson township. Following dinner served at the Dilworth, motion pictures consisting of a defense review were shown through the courtesy of Harold S. Lees, REA manager and were greatly enjoyed. A general discussion of war production check-up problem occupied the balance of the afternoon for the committeemen. Meanwhile the AAA fieldwoman, Mrs. Mascho held a discussion meeting with the ladies present. Topics relating to the farm woman's part in the War Program were considered and discussed. Mrs. Lenore Dicken, Farm Security Representative also assisted with the ladies afternoon meeting.

BROOK TROUT
artificial flies are the favorite lure for landing this popular game fish — insects and smaller fish are its natural food.

We'll admit it takes a knack to land the "fly" just where the big ones are waiting, but it's a lot easier when you have the right tackle as any fisherman will agree. At W. A. Porter's you'll find the right tackle you want for the kind of fishing you want to do.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day.

MICHIGAN WAR BOND QUOTAS FOR JUNE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made known June War Bond quotas for the 3,070 counties in the nation to all State and County War Savings Staffs.

The June quota for the State of Michigan is $29,782,500.

The county quotas, based upon a substantial increase over May quotas, are expected to reach ten per cent of income when the nation goes on a billion-dollar-a-month War Bond basis in July to help meet the war cost. "Everybody, every pay day, ten per cent" is the battle cry throughout the country. You can buy War Bonds at your Bank, Building & Loan Association, Post Office and at many department stores.

Quotas by counties are:

THE STORY SO FAR: Janice Trent runs away from wedding Ned Paxton, rich, but a gay blade. Unknown to Bruce Harcourt, a family friend, she becomes secretary of an Alaska camp of which he is chief engineer. Millicent Hale, wife of the man whom he succeeded, is also attracted to him. Bruce at first wants to send Janice back on a trip to the city, she encounters Paxton and tells him she is married to Harcourt. The latter hears it and insists on a wedding party arranged by the Samp sisters, elderly owners of the Waffle Shop. Mrs. Hale breaks in on the newlyweds with the cry that her husband had been shot dead. She also says: "If you only had waited, Bruce." Bruce spends the night investigating the murder. A Commissioner arrives to conduct an official probe. Jimmie Chester, Mrs. Hale's brother, who hated her husband, runs off in a plane. Bruce and the Commissioner set out to find him.

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER XIV

A yell of horror cracked in Bruce's throat. He seized his rifle, climbed down from the cockpit, stumbling, slipping, raced toward the man wielding a gun like a club as a great polar bear charged at him. Another, smaller, bleeding, roaring horribly, was struggling up from the ice.

Harcourt stopped. Raised his rifle. Fired. His gun cracked again. Again. Both animals crumpled into mounds of white fur. The man who had been defending himself jumped back, turned.

"Bruce! Bruce!"

The universe steadied. Panting, bleeding, ashen, dripping with moisture, Chester stumbled forward. His eyes were the eyes of a man who has stared death in the face.

"Just in time! I shot the cub—didn't know there was another and—"

and he swayed. Harcourt caught him.

"Take it easy, Jimmy, till I can get you into the cockpit."

With moans, Chester pulled himself up.

As he climbed into the cockpit, Chester mumbled deliriously:

"Take me—back—Chief. Crazy stunt to run—away. Milly heard—me—threaten—Joe. I'll—come across with—"

His face contracted in pain. His eyes closed.

Grant's usually clear voice was toneless. "Did you get those notes typed?"

"Yes."

He picked up the sheets Janice indicated. "You're good, you are certainly good. When you leave us you'd better take a turn at the reduction of the Public Debt."

"Leave! What do you mean?"

"Don't like the way this guy Paxton has been hanging round since Our Hero left. He and his 170-foot yacht, with its twin 550-horsepower engines, make headquarters look as bare and unlovely as a plucked chicken. I'll bet Bruce would be fit to tie if he knew that bozo was here."

"Ned arrived before he started."

"He did! And he went off and left you?"

"Of what importance am I in comparison to his job?"

"Says you." Grant's always ruddy skin took on a deeper tint. He clearly gave her the impression that in his opinion Harcourt was deeply in love with her. But he quickly changed the subject.

"I've just found out that Kadyama didn't appear at all at the squaw dance the night Hale was shot."

"He told the marshal that he was there after nine."

"He sure did. But he wasn't."

"Where was he?"

"That's what I mean to find out. You're the only person I've told. Don't breathe a word to anyone. The Commissioner and Harcourt are sure that Mrs. Hale knows more about the late unpleasantness than she is telling. They radioed that they would be back at headquarters tomorrow. Didn't say whether they were bringing Chester. Get her up to the H house for a cup of tea this afternoon, can't you? I'll drop in. Philo Vance stuff. If your former fiance comes, all to the good. I suspect that the sunny presence of a multi-millionaire might help dispel her gloom."

As she walked the short distance to the Samp cabin, Janice marshaled her memories. Where had Pasca been the evening of what he called the marriage-party? He had welcomed Bruce and herself when they landed on the flying field. She couldn't remember having seen him even for a moment during the festivities.

She paused abruptly on the threshold of the Samp living-room. Ned Paxton was beside Miss Mary at the table from which books and lamps had been removed to make space for a profusion of unmounted photographs. Martha, in the wing chair, white-stockinged feet on a stool, shoes on the floor beside it, peered from behind a newspaper.

"Sakes alive, aren't you through work early, Janice?"

"Mr. Grant closed the office early. I had finished the work he left. I suspect that he didn't want to be bothered with me. Immediately I thought of a tea-party. Where is Mrs. Hale?"

Martha Samp's voice was grim. "She isn't what you'd call cheerful."

"I will take you down the coast in my yacht."

I kinder think Millicent's goin' to enjoy widowhood like some folks enjoy poor health. She's talkin' an awful lot about missin' Joe. Now, makin' allowance for the shock an' terrible unhappy with him."

"You don't understand folks who aren't hacked out of Plymouth Rock, as you are, Martha."

If one of the scarlet-coated Hessians on the hearth had slashed with his gold saber, Janice wouldn't have been more surprised than she was at the younger Samp sister's outburst. Martha stared at her with faded agate eyes.

"Mary Samp! What foolish talk! Have you gone plumb crazy?"

"Crazy! I've just come sane. I've spent over two years of the precious few I got left cookin' waffles up in this wilderness, where you don't ever see anybody, when I might have been seeing places, real places, an' having clothes, real clothes. Great things are goin' on in the world, an' all I know is waffles an' then more waffles."

Martha Samp opened her lips.

"Mary Samp! Your head's been turned readin' those fashion magazines. Foolish things."

"They ain't foolish. They're like fairy tales to me. When I read 'bout slim, slithery women in trailin' silver dresses an' ermine capes an' emerald bracelets glitter-gleamin' on their arms, I'm them. You an' I are not poor. You like to pile up money. I don't. I'm going to spend my half. I'll stay here till the last boat goes out, then I'm through with pots and pans and waffles."

She sank back, visibly shaking. Her sister's voice was as sharp as a razor, though Janice saw the glint of tears in her eyes.

"Sakes alive, Mary Samp! I didn't know you had so much spunk. An' here I've been layin' awake nights wonderin' what would happen to you if I died. I guess I'm not so important as I thought I was. You'd probably get on a heap sight better without me. If that's the way you feel, you needn't wait for the last boat. Go as soon as you like. I don't need you."

Paxton, who had been standing by the mantel smoking, flung his cigarette into the fire. He laid his hand on Mary Samp's heaving shoulder.

"Call her bluff. I will take you down the coast in my yacht. I'll give you the time of your life. I will take Mrs. Hale, too, if she'll come."

Mary Samp wiped misty eyes with a shaking hand. "I'd like it, Mr. Paxton."

Millicent Hale was seated at a desk littered with papers when Janice entered her cabin. In her black frock she seemed passionless, remote, intangible as a shadow. The fire cast rosy shadows on her skin without warming it, flashed reflected flames into the strained eyes without lighting them. Janice felt her color rise in the face of her well-bred surprise.

Mrs. Hale touched her black frock. "You are inviting me to a party?"

Her pained surprise made Janice feel like a worm. "I didn't mean a real party. Merely a cup of tea. I thought coming to the H house for a while might shorten the day for you. It must seem horribly long."

Millicent Hale's shudder was slight, quickly under control.

"This day is neither longer nor harder than many other days have been in this horrible country. Has Bruce been heard from?"

"They radioed that they would leave the northern camp early tomorrow. Would reach headquarters in the afternoon."

"Have they found Jimmy?"

"Nothing was said about Mr. Chester. At least Mr. Grant told me nothing."

With a sob, relief perhaps, Millicent Hale laid her face on arms outflung on the desk. Janice tried to comfort her.

"I wish that I might help you."

"Help!" The woman rose with a haste which catapulted the somnolent Pekinese to the rug. Her voice shook with anger. "Help! You! You've snatched all the good in life there was left for me. You knew Bruce years ago, I hear. Met him again, ran away from the man you were to marry, disguised yourself as a boy, brought a trunkload of seductive clothes and came hotfoot after him, didn't you?"

"And got him!"

Janice banged the door behind her. Humiliation succeeded fury. If moments of crisis revealed one's true self, she and Millicent Hale had not shown up well under the late passage-at-arms. Two tenement-house women fighting over a man would have stripped down to the same basic frenzy.

"And got him!" What would Bruce think if he heard what she had claimed? The question which haunted Janice's waking hours, intruded on her dreams, bobbed up again! "Was Bruce in love with Millicent before I came?"

As she opened the H house door she heard a thud. Pasca, his plaid shirt of a blinding brilliance, was laying a log on the fire.

"Set up the card table," she said. "Lay the cloth and arrange the Chinese pewter tray the way I showed you. Be sure that the water for the tea has been freshly boiled. Grate cheese on crackers and brown them, put others together sandwich fashion with guava jelly and chopped nuts."

The man's stolid face brightened in a childish smile. "How many tea? One? Two? Tree?"

"Four cups. Put on your white coat." As she removed a faded flower from the bowl on the table desk which had been full of red roses the first time she entered the cabin she asked casually, "You like the white coat, don't you? What do you wear when you go to dances? Featherers and blankets or just ordinary clothes? Perhaps you don't dance? Perhaps you weren't at the squaw dance the night the Samp sisters had the party for me?"

He stiffened into immobility long before she had finished speaking. Before he answered he shuffled across the room, removed the embroidered tea cloth from the dresser drawer.

"I not go to dance, no sirree. Work all time at Waffle Shop. Tell Kadyama, You help. Then I get through much quick, then we two go squaw-dance. He say no. He plenty lazy all time." He spread the cloth carefully and pattered into the kitchen.

Later, seated on the spavin-legged stool before the crooked dressing-table, Janice thoughtfully buffed her already polished nails.

Had the party come? Janice flung open the door in response to a knock. Her smiling lips stiffened. Ned Paxton. Alone. She feigned enthusiasm.

"Come in. Where are the others?"

"Coming. I'm the vanguard. As the relations between the Samp sisters seemed a little strained, I left them to fight it out." Back to the fire, he lighted a cigarette. Janice was conscious of his critical scrutiny of the room as he inhaled and exhaled a long breath of smoke. His cynical eyes came back to her in the fan-back chair.

"So you chose this in preference to what I could give you?"

His amused incredulity stung her. She struggled to keep her voice as lightly contemptuous as his.

"But, you see, I didn't have to take you with it."

"Touche! Score one for you."

Janice asked with honest curiosity: "Why did you want to marry me, Ned? I am different in all my tastes from the girls with whom you play round."

He frowned as he regarded her with appraising eyes. "You'd be surprised if you knew how many times I have asked myself that question. I went out of my way to meet you. I was curious. I had heard that in spite of the fact that you neither smoked, drank, gambled nor petted, men hung round you in smitten swarms, that you had more friends than any girl in your set. I didn't believe it, but I fell for you like all the rest."

"Smoking for some inexplicable reason makes me dizzy and cutting out the whoopee stuff was no virtue in me. I tried it all. I don't like the ugly and sordid, and more particularly the cheap things of life. They leave tarnished memories. My inhibitions ought to prove to you that I wouldn't fit into your scheme of living."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD I. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 7

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING (II)

LESSON TEXT—Luke 23:33-46; Mark 15:33, 34

GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

Dark and distressing days have often come upon the earth, but the darkest day of all history was that day when cruel men with wicked hearts laid unholy hands upon the Son of God and crucified Him. And yet, by the grace of God, it was a day of bright hope for the sinful sons of men, for on that day complete redemption was wrought out. The veil was rent and the new and living way into the holy presence of God (Heb. 10:20) was opened for you and for me.

Three thoughts emerge from our lesson.

I. Crucifixion—Bringing Life (Luke 23:33, 34a).

"There they crucified him"—four words summing up the almost unbelievable thing that took place on Calvary. He died; but in that death life and immortality were brought to light (II Tim. 1:10).

As believers in Christ, we are interested in all that took place at the crucifixion, for we know that as we contemplate Him on the cross, we can say with Luther, "For me, for me!" And yet it was not for us alone that He died—it was for all mankind. So we turn to our unconverted friends and direct them to "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). He was crucified that they might live eternally. He who had only a plea for the forgiveness of His persecutors (v. 34a) tenderly offers His forgiveness to men today.

II. Rejection—Bringing Acceptance (Luke 23:34b-43).

Those who appear around the cross afford an interesting and striking picture of humanity. There were the indifferent ones, those not interested at all in who was being crucified; but only eager to share in the division of His garments.

There stood the people "beholding"—perplexed, unable to believe that the miracle-working Christ was about to die. Verily, they were as sheep without a shepherd.

Then we see those who scoffed. They knew His claim to be the Son of God and hated Him for it. Now at last they had their chance to rail at Him, to ridicule and taunt. More ignorant and yet equally derisive, we see the mocking soldiers.

Even one of the thieves by His side "railed on him" (v. 39), ridiculing His claim. But here is the marvelous thing—the other thief, rough and wicked person that he was, saw in Christ a Saviour to whom he turned in faith, which was quickly and fully honored (vv. 42, 43).

The picture is thus complete. The Rejected One is "the way" to acceptance for all who believe (John 14:6). He said, "I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved" (John 10:9).

III. Darkness—Bringing Light (Luke 23:44, 45; Mark 15:33, 34).

Physical darkness fell over the scene at the cross, as though all nature would go into mourning, or sought to shield the suffering Saviour from the curious and hateful eyes of men. Then, too, it was God's sign that this was not the death of any ordinary man, even as it spoke of the judgment of those who had laid violent, sinful hands on His Son.

But deeper yet was the spiritual darkness into which Jesus went, as bearing the horrible load of the sins of the world He "was made sin for us" (II Cor. 5:21), and God the Father turned away from Him. We cannot fathom the full meaning of that hour, and we dare not attempt to explain it. We can only accept it and thank God that because He was made sin for us we may by faith be "made the righteousness of God in him."

Out of the darkness of that hour shone forth the one light which nothing in time or eternity can dim.

Route to Happiness

The truest and happiest of earthly lives, proven over and over again by hard actual experience, is that life which accepts and observes most nearly St. Paul's great postulate, "Here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." Rightfully pursued, it in no way interferes with the intensest enjoyment of our time here on earth. We have but to see that we do God's will in everything.

NEW IDEAS For Home-makers

EVERY day we homemakers are gaining confidence in our own resourcefulness. We may not brew herbs and roots to make dyes as in Revolutionary times but this pair of flamingo red chairs in a modern setting shows that we understand the importance of the warming glow of color.

The tan of the couch covering makes the cording for the chair covers and the red of the chairs makes the cording and cushions for the couch.

NOTE: Clip and keep this article as this sketch is not in any of the home-making booklets prepared by Mrs. Spears for our readers. The dimensions for making the chair frame are in the new BOOK 8, which contains working directions for 31 things to make from what the average household has on hand, or from inexpensive new materials. Ice Cream—Perfect Dessert for a Shower
(See Recipes Below.)

Bridal Showers

Pretty, but practical—that's the cue for this year's bridal showers. Chances are this year's bride will be an army or navy bride with but a whirlwind wedding with her husband on a short leave, so there won't be much time for the frills and fuss of other years.

Her plans will be sketchy, most probably, and very often they will not include a permanent home or bungalow. That means that bridal showers will be simple and inexpensive and gifts for the bride-to-be will include only things which are not too elaborate, and which can be packed in a small space in case she is to travel or take a small apartment by herself.

What kind of showers, then? Well, there are always the personal showers in which you give her lingerie or other personal toilet items that you know she needs or wants.

Another practical shower is the Kitchen Gadget shower. Get small items like dish mops, kitchen knives, forks, mixing spoons, dish cloths, soap flakes, clothes pins and a few sets of bowls. Glass sets are popular, coming three in a set, fitting together in a nest so they don't take up much room. They're practical plus, too, because they can be used for baking dishes if you get the heat-resistant kind.

Include measuring cups and spoons, custard cups and small skillets and pots in the kitchen gadget shower. A new bride will appreciate your thoughtfulness in getting necessities like these for her.

The Kitchen shower is extra nice because you can carry out table decorations in the theme of the shower. Make a bouquet of some of the items for a centerpiece and use the dishcloths for doilies or place mats.

Sewing Shower.
Spools of thread in a riot of bright colors tumbling out of an attractive sewing basket can make the centerpiece for this party, both novel and economical.

There's a variety of things to give the bride in this kind of shower and none of them will strain the pocket-book—needles, hooks, snaps, darning thread, thimbles, etc.—all these are "musts" on the bride's list.

Recipe Showers.
Is the bride-to-be interested in cooking? Most of them are, and if they are not, they will be soon. That's why recipe showers get "most popular" rating often. For this shower you and your friends can gather together your most popular and favorite recipes on cards or in notebooks, or collect several cookbooks to give the guest of honor.

Decorations.

Pretty up your table with pastel and white colors. This is the time to use your nicest linen and most fragile china to lend daintiness to the occasion. Color combinations may be white used plentifully with pink, green or pale yellow. Fresh sprays of garden flowers, even in small quantity add charm.

Lynn Says:

The Score-Card: Egg production has been upped 15 to 20 per cent to take care of national and allied needs, so there will be no shortage of this staple item. Although there have been rumors of a tea shortage, tea will be rationed on a 50 per cent basis to assure plenty for summer, thirst-quenching use. There is enough tea in the country to last eight months, and in spite of the war, shipments are still coming in from India and Ceylon. The War Production board has allotted enough tin to the pineapple industry for this year's pack and operations for production in Hawaii have been hiked to the maximum. It is expected that supplies will be somewhat curtailed because the government has reserved about 26 per cent of the pack for its own purchase.

This Week's Menu

- Bride's Shower
*Salad Luncheon Plate or
*Asparagus Loaf
Tiny Hot Rolls Preserves
*Ice Cream With Green Gage Plums
*Recipes Given

A light, dainty luncheon platter can be served by way of refreshment. Accompany this with tiny hot-rolls or muffins and no shower guests could desire more:

- *Salad Luncheon Plate. (For One Serving)
½ cup cottage cheese
2 deviled egg halves
2 to 3 slices of tomato
2 to 3 slices of cucumber
2 finger strips of sliced cheese
2 crabapple pickles
Miscellaneous:
2 olives
Slices of hard-cooked eggs
Salad dressing
Paprika

Heap cottage cheese in crisp lettuce cup arranged in center of chilled salad plate. Then around this center, arrange the remaining foods in neat, symmetrical fashion—the deviled eggs opposite the crabapple pickles, the overlapping slice of cucumber next to the apples and opposite the overlapping slices of tomato on the opposite side of the plate, bread triangles topped with a slice of egg, opposite each other, 2 slices of cheese opposite each of the 2 olives. Garnish the cottage cheese with paprika, and pass french dressing with the salad.

If you prefer to serve a hot dish in place of the salad plate, you'll like this asparagus-loaf in this versatile combination with cheese and white sauce:

- *Asparagus Loaf. (Serves 6)
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated American cheese
1½ cups fine, soft bread crumbs
1 (1-pound) can asparagus tips
Pimiento strips

Drain asparagus, reserve liquid. Line bottom of buttered loaf pan with half the asparagus tips. Place strips of pimiento between tips. Melt butter, blend in flour and mix well. Add milk and ¼ cup of the asparagus liquid and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper and cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Fold in crumbs. Add gradually to eggs and fold in remaining asparagus tips, cut into one-inch pieces. Pour into loaf pan, place into a pan of hot water and bake 1 hour in a moderate (350-degree) oven. Serve on a platter surrounded with watercress and overlapping slices of tomatoes which have been marinated in french dressing.

Your figure-conscious young guests will appreciate the good news about ice cream. Recent tests show that ice cream has much less calories than other favorite desserts such as cake and pie, but nutritionally it is excellent.

- *Ice Cream With Green Gage Plums. (Serves 6)
1 quart of vanilla ice cream
1 No. 2½ can green gage plums

Drain syrup from green gage plums. Arrange big spoonfuls of vanilla ice cream in center of a large glass bowl. Garnish or surround with plums. Serve immediately, with a jug of syrup, drained from the can of plums.

Plums may be rolled in shredded almonds or finely chopped nuts, if desired.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MILLIONS of movie fans who have seen Johnny Sheffield cavort across the screen as "Tarzan Jr.," son of "Tarzan," will see him in a new role. He's starting on a country-wide tour to stimulate sales of War Bonds and Stamps; it's sponsored by the war savings staff of the U. S. treasury, in conjunction with Metro. Johnny, in his Boy Scout uniform, will make his appeals from the turret of a shiny new army tank; purchasers of quantities of stamps will be permitted to board it, for inspection.

Ann Thomas is doing such a terrific job as "Casey" in NBC's "Able's Irish Rose" series that author Anne Nichols is enlarging her part. The pretty and talented Ann is on so many radio programs that you wonder how she keeps her roles straight, especially as she spends her spare time collecting detective stories and phonograph records for the navy; takes 'em to the Brooklyn Navy yard herself.

Hollywood movie companies usually fly a balloon when on location, to warn away planes, because of the noise of their engines. Recently, however, Columbia's "The Lone Wolf in Scotland Yard" troupe practically hung out a "welcome" sign. The company, headed by Warren William, was in a bomb shelter, supposedly undergoing a raid, and they were shooting in the San Fernando valley, where plenty of planes flew overhead. When one especially large plane flew over, a company business manager said "That effect would cost us $25 in the studio."

Once upon a time it seemed that Norma Shearer was getting all the best roles in all the best pictures; nowadays it's Bette Davis who gets the good chances—and he it said for Bette that she never fails to turn in an excellent performance. She gets the feminine lead in the picture version of "Watch on the Rhine," which will be a great picture if it's nearly as good as the play.

Pretty Janet Blair got that coveted chance to play the title role in "My Sister Eileen," when the movie made from the play of that name reaches the screen. But she'll have her work cut out for her, for Rosalind Russell has an even bigger role.

Because "International Honeymoon," co-starring Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant, is laid in the period before the present war, a difficult bit of research has come up. Says for refugees, the only persons who have the needed information are in concentration camps.

It's nothing new for stars to write into their contracts the proviso that they're to have time off each year to do a stage play, or make a picture at another studio. But Roy Rogers has an original clause in the seven-year contract he recently signed with Republic. He may devote three months of each year, to war work.

Following the announcement that Walt Disney has completed his new feature length production, "Bambi," which was five years in the making, it had been revealed that 75 per cent of the studio's total output is now devoted to government films. In them, facts and figures appear on the screen in graphic, usually dramatic forms; complicated machinery dissects itself before your eyes by means of simple drawings. The raw recruit sees the bolt mechanism of a new weapon as a simple, understandable thing—thanks to the Disney war effort.

ODDS AND ENDS—Walter Reed has been assigned to the role left vacant in RKO's "Spitfire" series when Buddy Rogers joined the navy. . . Metro plans to film "Sabotage Agent," starring Robert Donat, in London, which seems to mark resumption of American movie-making in England. . . Jane Randolph, who has a pilot's license, changed her last name from Roemer to Randolph in honor of the flying field of that name. . . "We, the People's" broadcast from the army bomber in flight toward its target took four minutes to run off—four weeks to arrange. . . Novel Fabrics, Bright Colors Combined in Youthful Skirts

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE skirt-and-blouse fad which has been going the rounds among the younger crowd is gaining momentum. More than ever the fashion picture for summer is showing up this trend to gay skirts of peasant extraction with dainty feminine blouses or with blouses that are frankly colorful and casual for practical wear.

"The more the merrier" is apparently the prevailing sentiment among youngsters who are making it their hobby to acquire skirt-and-blouse collections made of most unexpected materials. In their skirt wardrobes you'll find skirts of patchwork calicoes that look as if they had stepped right out of grandma's quilting bee into the "bright lights" of the fashion world. Then there are the flamboyant flowered prints that revel in eye-smashing gypsy colorings, the skirts made of ordinary flour-sack muslin dyed in vivid reds or greens or purples, and the new bordered effects that give you handings of embroidery or print to finish off wide-skirted hemlines.

From the way young-girl fashions are carrying on at present it is self-evident that no teen-age or little-sister wardrobe will be complete unless it includes a generous quota of dirndls or variously styled skirts. Some will feature the popular broomstick types, with others it will be suspender effects (many colorfully embroidered) or some other spectacular stunt either in way of a wide embroidered band or a band-applique flowers finishing off the hemline. Of course, the collection will include a skirt concocted of materials in all the colors of the rainbow sewed together, not hit or miss, but with consummate artistry. Here, in the above illustration, you will see several skirt types that are holding forth in the sphere of youthful fashions as demonstrated at a recent style-clinic display at the Merchandise Mart in Chicago. One of the most popular types, which is making a repeat engagement this summer, is the patchwork skirt which is more highly colorful and eye-intiguing than ever. It is interesting to note that whereas last year's dirndls achieved their patchwork appearance entirely through printed pattern, this year's dirndls have the patchwork actually sewn together. The pieces for the skirt pictured are red, green and yellow all with the same flower motif.

A practical and likable idea is seen in "sister" skirts which illustrate the possibilities of related fashions for all the family. As you see pictured these sponsor the practical suspender versions. Embroidered bands contribute gay color. In this employment of band trimmings there's a message of important fashion news.

Perhaps the sturdiest types in the all-important skirts made of washable fabrics are those of blue denim. Some are neatly tailored, have self belts and buckles, deeply squared or rounded pockets designed entirely to give utilitarian service.

Skirts in a dressier mood are of white jersey, or spun rayon and shantung textures that are knee-deep in cross-stitch embroidery done in a Russian technique. Other outstanding gestures point to gypsy flower-print skirts that have head squares of the same bizarre print. Stripes, too, are seen everywhere.

Tri-Color Knit

Here is a veritable beauty of a sweater. You'll love its colorfulness which answers the demand for color that is heard everywhere in the field of fashion this year. This simple, straight pullover in black, banded with three contrasting colors is guaranteed to give smart accent to the simplest of black daytime skirts, dressing it up for an important occasion.

It's Going to Be

A Flowery Summer

Flower jewelry, flower buttons, flower prints, be-flowered hats, flowers worn in the hair, all point to an extremely "flowery" summer ahead.

The flower idea is especially announced by wee hats (if they can be called hats) which consist of nothing more than a huge cluster of flowers arranged on a wide band-dead, so that the flowers pose over the brow in a stunning bouquet. These flower fantasies are entrancing, and their enchantment is increased by whiffs of colorful veiling.

The newest white frocks take on elaborate appliques of cutout print flowers, and the latest white jersey swim suits boast showy summer decoration.

Colorful Purses Feature

New Initials of Plastic
Exotic, dramatic shapes, as well as versatile media and bizarre color, distinguish the new bags. They are done in everything from straw to plastic. There are such bold color combinations as lime green with scarlet or color-bright wood beads worked on multicolor striped linen or spectacular cotton backgrounds. Novelty closings of plastic or wood are also featured.

The most striking color touch of all is offered in the new initials which you can buy in the handbag sections or at jewelry counters. These are of plastic instead of metal, and you can get them in almost any color you desire. Red on black or on white is stunning.

Back of the transportation tempest on the Michigan home front, centering on the prospect of a July 1 restriction on automobiles, looms this question:—When will the war end?

If we could peer into history and foresee the outcome of the Russian-German struggle on the Leningrad-Moscow-Kharkov fronts, we might find the answer.

As it is, Michigan citizens are apprehensive that drastic restrictions on automobile transportation, if instituted July 1, will deprive our tourist industry of $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 income. To us, that is very important.

A high official at Washington remarked the other day that the proposed plan for nation gasoline rationing to conserve rubber had been unduly agitated. He termed the general alarm "a lot of newspaper talk."

Newspapers print the news, whether it is good or bad.

And the truth is that newspapers recorded factually the utterances of government officials, some of whom sincerely believe that at the present rate of the use there will be only 10,000,000 out of 30,000,000 automobiles on the road by the end of 1943 — next year! If rubber conservation is achieved, either by volunteer methods such as the "Pontiac Plan" or by coupon rationing of gasoline, together with requisition of tires on old cars and with salvage of other rubber stocks, it would be possible — so the press has been told — to keep more automobiles going by December, 1943.

You probably remember the headlines in late April that Eastern motorists would be given a basic ration of two and one-half to five gallons a week. An OPA official made this announcement, and the press recorded it as news.

Harold Ickes, petroleum administrator, promptly said this amount was too low. Jason Henderson, OPA chief, was quoted as agreeing with Ickes. It was all a bit confusing.

When rationing did come and motorists were given three gallons a week for "pleasure driving," Congress was besieged with protests. The X-ration cards didn't help any either.

Ten Michigan congressmen asked Henderson to forego proposed nationwide rationing starting July 1, terming the plan "unjustified, unwarranted, and wasteful."

A quotation: "There is no shortage of gasoline or gasoline delivery equipment in Michigan which is a large producer. . . . For the purpose of conservation of rubber we suggest rational and consistent request for lower speed limits with if necessary, an overall mileage limitation for the use of automobile transportation consistent with geographical conditions and public transportation facilities available in each section."

In other words, volunteer conservation of rubber tires and local mileage limitations rather than enforced coupon rationing of the OPA.

Does volunteer conservation really work? Use of gasoline in the midwest for civilian purposes during April indicated a 2 per cent reduction of automobile mileage compared with April, 1941. May mileage is expected to decline 25 per cent.

The Pontiac plan for staggering work-shopping hours and sharing transportation reduced Pontiac traffic 10 per cent and increased the load of private automobiles from 1.3 to between 1.8 and 1.9 persons, as compared with a goal of 3.5 persons.

The OPA viewpoint apparently is that voluntary methods cannot accomplish the objective; that enforced rationing of gasoline is the only practical method for effective immediate rubber conservation. President Roosevelt hopes that synthetic tires may be produced in sufficient quantity to save us from transportation paralysis — but it is only a hope.

Since transportation rationing is linked inexorably to the European and Far East military fronts, what are the prospects for an early victory? Well, what do you mean by "victory?"

If the Russians can defeat the Reich in 1942 with the aid of supplies from the Allied Nations and perhaps a second military front either in the air or land, a German internal collapse is remotely possible next winter or next spring.

Military authorities seem to agree that the war outcome will hinge on what happens in 1942, that Germans are staking everything this year, that we (Americans) must gamble also on an immediate all-out effort to "win" the war, despite our relative unpreparedness at this moment to do it.

In the Far East we have lost Manila, Singapore and Burma, China and Australia are pleading for planes which they probably will not get. Even if Hitler can be defeated in eight months, the Pacific front is 5,000 to 10,000 miles away. That means three to five round-trips a year for transporting men, equipment and supplies from the United States, even AFTER the European war is all over.

American war production will not be felt in tremendous force until 1943. We in Michigan are not blind. Our armed manpower will approximate 4,200,000 by December, 1942.

These ABC factors prompted Charles E. Keating, chief of research of the General Motors corporation, to forecast Allied victory by 1944 through an invasion of Europe. Defeat of Japan would be the next objective. And then, with the war won on all fronts, the Allied Nations would police the world during the armistice or "cooling off" period prior to the treaty, and then during the peace itself.

Does it not seem logical to conclude that many Michigan boys will not return home for many months to come, that conservation of rubber tires will be long before final victory is achieved, an accomplished aim on our home front?

If the Germans triumph in Russia, seize the Suez or take over the French fleet, the Michigan transportation problem would be very insignificant, wouldn't it? And so would everything else, for that matter. Never has the fate of five peoples hinged on the outcome of events so world-wide in their cataclysmic effect.

Farm Pest Has Part In War Effort

MILKWEED FLOSS TO BE USED IN LIFE PRESERVERS

Northern Michigan farmers are now being convinced that the lowly milk-weed need no longer be looked upon as a farm pest.

When the announcement was first made that milkweed floss was one of the finest materials ever discovered for life preservers, and that the Navy Department had signified its intention of purchasing 1,000,000 pounds of it — nobody believed it.

Now with the location of a ginning plant to be set up in Petoskey in the near future and with the capital all raised and with engineers inspecting buildings and purchasing the necessary machinery, there is no doubt of the sincerity of the Navy Department and the men behind the movement.

Dr. Boris Berkman, who has spent nine years of intensive research work on the milkweed floss, found that there was an abundance of the wild floss in Northern Michigan and spent many weeks each year visiting the northern counties of this state making experiments. A few days ago an aggressive group from Petoskey visited Dr. Berkman and his associates in Chicago where final arrangements were made for the establishment of northern Michigan's newest industry.

For the first year or two it will be necessary to pick the field pods and estimates are that 10,000,000 pounds of these pods will be needed for this fall's operation.

Information as to harvesting and marketing this year's crop will be discussed at a meeting of county agents and members of the AAA Committee within the next week.

It is not at all impossible to expect that within a few years many farmers will make a comfortable living raising nothing at all but milk-weeds. At the present time there are several interested men starting experimental plots, trying to learn how deep to plant the seed, what soils are best suited for it, and how much cultivation is necessary.

A feature of the crop which should appeal to any farmer is that once the fields are planted the weed yields for seven years before it dies — and new seeds must be planted.

No Northern Michigan capital has been put into the new business and when some of the men asked whether or not they could buy stock, they were told that plenty of capital was already on hand for the first plant and no more was needed.

The Petoskey Chamber of Commerce has been working hand in hand with Dr. Berkman for the past six months in an endeavor to bring the early development of the industry to Northern Michigan. The floss content is only one of a hundred uses to which the weed can be put future development after the actual cultivation is underway will bring to light its other uses for which basic patents have been obtained. The establishment of their plants utilizing the stalk the actual pod and leaves can be established throughout the area.
