NUMBER 36

County Picnic Next Monday

VICTORY GARDEN EXHIBITS AND FLOWER SHOW. BIG AMATEUR SHOW

All plans have been completed for the biggest day of the year at Whiting County Park on Labor Day, September 6th. A big crowd is in prospect. The exhibits will be of great interest. This is the one day of the year that folks can see one another, get acquainted and enjoy real friendship.

The program will start promptly at 1:30 with sports and running races for young and old. At 2:00 under the direction of L. B. Karr, East Jordan, County Victory Garden Chairman, special recognition will be given to some twelve individuals who have the best gardens in the county. At 2:30 the big amateur show will be staged. It is expected that at least fifteen numbers will be presented. Dallis Henry of Charlevoix fame will be the master of ceremonies. He has informed us that several numbers will be given by Charlevoix's outstanding musicians.

At 3:00 a soft ball game will be played between the East Jordan and Boyne City Rotary Clubs. Watch your favorite businessmen do his stuff. These two clubs are out after each other's scalps. This will be a seven-inning game unless physical exhaustion takes its toll.

As is the custom in past years all concession rights are restricted to American Legion Posts. We already have assurance that sandwiches, pop and ice cream will be available. A Bingo game will also be in operation for your patronage. Due to rationing and other limiting factors free coffee, sugar and cream will not be available this year so each family should bring a well filled lunch basket and their own drinks.

Don't forget the 4-H Club exhibits which include the livestock animals victory garden products, canning and food preparation displays. Elsewhere in this paper you will find the rewards offered for Victory Garden products and the Flower Show.

Make your plans now to enjoy this day with your friends and neighbors. This is the one day of the year that you will have this opportunity so why not make the most of it.

Dr. Newgent, Former St. Quentin Chaplain, Speaks Here Next Friday

Dr. L. Newgent, former chaplain at St. Quentin prison, will give an address at the Pentecostal Log Church, on the West Side, next Friday evening, Sept. 10, commencing at 8:00 o'clock.

Topic — "Crime Doesn't Pay." Dr. Newgent will relate his experiences at 36 hangings, nine electrocutions and two gas chamber executions. Amazing facts on crime, dope, its harm and danger. Death cell scenes. No charge for admission. A free-will offering will be taken.

Squint on Fishing

HUNTING — TRAPPING
—by Milton E. Meredith

Where did all the fish go? Last week the Michigan Public Service Co. had a crew of men removing the hold back planks from the spillways at the dam.

This was sure interesting to watch. Somehow the place doesn't look the same with the lake gone and all the hundreds of stumps that have been buried for years. No wonder this was a fisherman's paradise, and at the same time a pain in the neck. I'll bet a small fortune in fishing equipment could be found hooked on all these stumps. A fellow would certainly need a pair of seven league boots to inspect them all.

Fishing on the Jordan River has held up real good this summer. Limit catches have been reported almost daily.

Bass and Pike have gone on a vacation, as they aren't biting worth a darn. Blue Gills are still hungry but otherwise the lake is quiet. Anyway it still makes a good place to relax.

Dr. John Van Ess Guest of Former Schoolmate Rev. C. W. Sidebotham

Dr. John VanEss, for many years a missionary in Iraq (the Garden of Eden) spent Thursday and Friday of last week with Rev. C. W. Sidebotham, an old school day friend. Dr. Van-Ess is an recognized authority on questions concerning the Near East, in the past year having had articles in "Asia" and "The National Geographic." His book "Meet The Arab" will be published in about two months. His visit was on short notice but a good number gathered to meet him on Thursday night and enjoyed a forum discussion on mission work and international affairs.

Ellsworth Man Was Auto Victim

HERBERT S. PEEBLES, 75, DIES FOLLOWING AUTO CRASH.

Herbert S. Peebles was fatally injured late Thursday night when his auto struck a tree after being sideswiped by another car on a country highway south of Central Lake. Mr. Peebles suffered a throat laceration and died from loss of blood while being taken to Charlevoix hospital.

His nephew, Emory J. Wilson, also of Ellsworth, who was riding with him, was suffering from shock, head bruises and lacerations.

Mr. Peebles, who had been prominent in Antrim county affairs for many years, was en-route home from a meeting of the Antrim county rationing board at Bellaire when his car collided with one driven, according to officials, by Bob Conway, Jr., of Mancelona. Conway and his four passengers escaped injury.

On the same day of the accident, Mr. Peebles had attended the tri-county Farm Bureau picnic at Eastport.

Born Aug. 24, 1868, in Canada, Mr. Peebles came to Antrim county when 3 years old. On Dec. 25, 1896, he was married to Addie Rogers. He had served as supervisor and treasurer of Banks township, president of the Ellsworth Farmers' Exchange and was vice president of that organization at the time of his death. He was one of the original members of the Antrim county ration board.

Surviving are the widow, two sons, John and Kenneth of Ellsworth; a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Archer of East Lansing; eight grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Anna Johnstone of Ellsworth.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church. Burial was at the Ellsworth cemetery.

Let's Put It 'Over The Top'

East Jordans Over Seas Cigarette fund drive is now nicely on it's way and you'll find collection cans in every place of business in town. But don't take them for granted after seeing them a couple of times—make a practice of dropping in something every time you make a purchase. Even a nickel will send almost two packages of American cigarettes to one of our overseas fighting fronts for free distribution where they are needed most. After the mention of this campaign in last week's, "Reveille On The Jordan," our boys will be looking for those comforting 'smokes' with the East Jordan label on the package—let's not let them down.

Those attending and events in which they will participate, are: Geraldine Atkinson, Elk Rapids, Style Review; Alice Hillman, Ellsworth. Clothing Judging: Belvia McClure, East Jordan, Foods Judging: Donald Holmes, Alba, Crops Judging: Bethel Larsen, Ellsworth — Alice Shinn, and Jerry Williams, Mancelona, Dairy Judging: Alice McClure and Leona VanDeventer, East Jordan, Foods Demonstration: and Lucile Shisler and Patricia Stratton, Bellaire, Dairy Demonstration.

BOYS AND GIRLS EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Numerous 4-H exhibits of Livestock, Garden, Poultry, Food Preparation, and Canning, from Antrim County, are on display at the Northwestern Michigan Fair at Traverse City this week. It is expected that a complete list of exhibitors and awards will be ready for next weeks edition of this paper.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness extended by neighbors and other friends during the illness and at the death of our beloved father, Frank Brown.

Frank J. Brown, 72, Carpenter and Lumberman Passed Away Aug. 23

Frank J. Brown, well known and esteemed citizen of East Jordan, passed away at a Petoskey hospital, Monday, August 23rd. Following a five-year illness from coronary thrombosis.

Mr. Brown was born in October, 1871, at Cleveland, Ohio. Later on he came to the Bohemian Settlement. On May 18, 1903, he was united in marriage to Mary Hyak at the Settlement. They came to East Jordan where he has since resided. Mrs. Brown passed away February 20, 1920.

Mr. Brown was a carpenter and lumberman by trade. He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, and a former member of the K. of C.

He is survived by two daughters:— Miss Mary B. Brown, Adrian, Mich.; Mrs. W. H. Krehl, Jacksonvill, Fla.; A sister and brother— Mrs. El Keyes, Los Gatos, Calif.; Ed Glashaw, St. Ignace, Mich. Also a grandson, Billy.

Funeral services were held Thursday, August 26, at St. Joseph's Church conducted by Fr. A. S. Baumann of Pinconning. Burial was at Calvary cemetery. Bearers were Wm. Stanek, Wm. Swoboda, John Kraemer, John Hefferan, Ole Hegerberg, Mose Hart.

Among those here to attend the funeral were Fr. Baumann; Mrs. Walter Dubek, Saginaw; Mrs. Ed. Glashaw, Frank Glashaw, St. Ignace; Mrs. Glenn Rockwood, Miss Dorothy Scott, Lansing; Dr. W. Miller, Gladys Emery, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. W. McNeil, Unionville.

KEEP POT BLACK FOR FUEL SAVINGS

The pot can call the kettle black nowadays and make it a wartime compliment, according to home economics specialists at M.S.C.

For if either the pot or the kettle is black, on the bottom, less fuel is needed to cook the family meal or preserve food for winter consumption.

Shining pots and pans have been used for centuries as a guide to a cook's neatness, but wartime shortages have changed that situation. Steel wool and copper have become scarce and housewives have been deploring the lack of chore boys and other gadgets usually used to keep the smudges off cooking equipment.

In a series of tests with cookies, a shining new tin required oven temperatures 25 degrees hotter than for cookies baked on old dark tins. In fact, the specialists point out, tin should never be polished anyway, since the thin layer of tin wears off and leaves the steel exposed to rust.

The science of heat absorption backs up the wartime blackened pot. Shiny surfaces reflect heat. Dull surfaces absorb heat. For wartime, at least, it is pointed out, kettles and pots can go unpolished, if inside surfaces are kept clean.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The biggest field gun in the Army. That's the 240-mm. howitzer. It's twenty-feet of barrel and must be pulled into position by tractors. After it is rolled into place, its own wheels are removed and the Big Bertha is set upon its emplacement ready to fire at its target some twenty miles away.

The cost of these huge guns runs into thousands of dollars but we can assure the Army of obtaining them by our purchases of War Bonds. Ten percent or more of your income is necessary. The easiest way is to join the Payroll Savings Plan at your office or factory. Let's "Top that ten percent."

Bean and Cuke Harvest at Peak

ARMY OF 700 ADULTS AND CHILDREN EMPLOYED DAILY

Great credit is due the hundreds of boys and girls throughout the county who are making it possible for farmers to harvest the largest crops of beans and cucumbers ever produced. Not alone do we have a larger acreage devoted to these canning factory crops but thus far nature has been most generous and as a result the yield per acre is remarkably high.

Certainly without this army of youth tons and tons of farm produce would go to waste. It is particularly gratifying to note that dozens of these young folks are less than ten years of age and the majority are not over thirteen. If you don't think that your nine year old boy is proud of what he earns ask him some time.

Already over 200 Victory Farm Volunteers have received their insignia which is being worn as an armband, which officially recognizes their contribution in the war effort. Later these same volunteers will be awarded a little certificate signed by the war food administrator, chairman of the War Manpower Commission and the state extension director.

The month of August has been a red letter month in regard to farm activities. The value of these contract crops to the community is even greater than would be expected. The East Jordan Canning Factory is receiving the processing of approximately fifty tons of beans per day. In terms of money and including both the pay roll at the plant and the money received by farmers for the beans over $5,000 per day is being paid out in the bean program alone at the East Jordan Canning Factory. Then in addition to this the Ellsworth canning company is responsible for nearly the same size program in Charlevoix County. It is estimated that every day there are at least 700 adults and children picking beans and cucumbers. Approximately 250 women and 100 men are working at the East Jordan factory. Eleven snipping machines are working night and day. This is a bee-hive of activity if there ever was one. Right now the cucumber picking season is on in full swing and perhaps 3,000 bushel of cucumbers are being picked each day and this will continue for many days. The East Jordan factory reports that as of August 31st they had canned more beans than for all of last year and there are still two or three weeks of the canning season left.

Following beans and cucumbers we will find another big job of harvesting the potato acreage. Prospects point to a very fine crop of potatoes. Farmers have been spraying far more efficiently than last year. If late blight can be controlled and the present prospects continue it will take hundreds of Victory Farm Volunteers to harvest this crop. All in all Charlevoix County can be more than pleased with this contribution to the war effort.

Holiday Fun At The Temple

The Labor Day program is a complete holiday celebration all by itself this year with an extra fine array of carefree gayety all set to uncork for your enjoyment. Betty Grable, Cesar Romero, George Montgomery, Charles Winninger, and Phil Silvers headline the cast of glorious, tuneful, "Coney Island." It is the kind of musical that every one enjoys—packed with songs, old and new—filled with laughs—old time dances—and all photographed in eye-filling, gorgeous Technicolor! Matinees are scheduled for both Sunday and Labor Day (Monday) and a gala mid-nite preview will be held at 11:30 on Saturday night—just in case you have insomnia!

The full week's programs appear in thumb nail outline below:
Fri-Sat; Roy Rogers, Smiley Burnette, Sons Of The Pioneers in, 'King Of The Cowboys.'
Saturday Midnite; Preview of 'Coney Island.'
Sun-Mon: Betty Grable, George Montgomery, Cesar Romero in, 'Coney Island.'
Tues-Wed; Susan Peters and Pierre Audmont in, 'Assignment In Brittany.'
Thursday only (Family Nite); BettyRhodes, Dona Blake, Cliff Edwards in, 'Salute For Three.'

"BACK THE ATTACK"

STATE OF MICHIGAN
EXECUTIVE OFFICE
LANSING

September 1, 1943

Citizens of Michigan:

The Third War Loan Drive is under way!

The U. S. Treasury is asking the people of the United States for a loan of 15 billion dollars.

On the fighting front, the watchword now is "Attack!" On the home front, we must back that attack with war bonds. It is our responsibility. We must not fail!

Each of us, to the very limit of our capabilities, is called upon in this all-out effort. There can be no exceptions. We must extend ourselves as never before.

You are urged to buy at least one extra $100 War Bond during this drive. Let your own conscience judge the limit of your participation.

Remember: each dawn our soldiers face, is one more day to die. It is up to us, here at home, to hasten the day of Victory. The opportunity is at hand in this Third War Loan Drive!

Let Michigan again give proof to the nation that this is the "Arsenal of Democracy".

Yours for Victory,
Navy Kelly

8. In what sport is the term trugden used?
9. Where was Adolf Hitler born?
10. What is the name of a poor cobbler's son who became absolute ruler over more than 160,000,000 people?

The Answers

1. Lithosphere.
2. An earthquake strong enough to be felt occurs somewhere in the world every 26 minutes.
3. The Empire State building in New York city. It has 102 stories and measures 1,248 feet from its base to top of mooring mast.
4. Land. A hectare is equal to 2.471 acres.
5. They are all wood-wind instruments.
6. Baltimore.
7. The ribs.
8. Swimming (a racing stroke).
9. In Braunau on the Inn, Upper Austria, of Austrian parents.
10. Joseph Stalin.

When you see news photos of soldiers "off duty" in camp or behind the battle-lines—notice how often you'll see them smoking a cigarette. There's a good reason for that. Army officials say that cigarettes are an appreciable factor in maintaining morale—and the soldiers themselves add that a carton of cigarettes from home is always welcome. What brand? Well, sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens show that Camels are the favorite cigarette with men in all the services. Though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are.—Adv.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.
Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

THE AUTO OF THE FUTURE

Airplane and auto companies are already busy on plans that will give post-war America a combination plane and motor car that will be at home on or off the ground.

Designs for a family jitney that will "fly through the air with the greatest of ease" when popper's patience with red lights runs out are being revealed. Some models combine all the hair-raising features of a jeep, a fighter-plane and a witch's broom.

One, the "aeroflyver," has quick detachable wings! And a demountable tail! Whoops!!

The "aeroflyver" has a regular auto body to which the flying features can be attached "as easily as changing a tire." It's gotta be easier than that, mister!

When you have cooked up a weekend trip that will be too monotonous if you stick on all four wheels, you clamp on the wings, rudder, etc., and—"Gangway! Daddy's playing sea gull!"

Then there's the "helicab," a combination helicopter and coupe. Nothing detachable about this baby. It comes all in one piece, looks like a Jap beetle that has been living with Henry Ford and can run, jump, fly and "hover."

No head-start, no impetus! It rises straight off the rear lawn like a cricket off a hot griddle. It can go backwards, forwards or stay still in midair like a kingfisher over a school of shiners. What fun!

It combines the best features of a Sunday bus trip to Finnegan's Beach with those of a tryout for the Air Corps, a balloon ascension and an afternoon over the hurdles without a horse.

The auto of the future will jump over traffic cops, skim the red lights, blitz the road rules and make touring an aerial exploit.

The question will not be "How many miles does she give per gallon?" but "How many states can she hop per hour?"

One of the first things an auto buyer will ask of the salesman is going to be, "Do I bail out from the left or right?"

And in time we can picture the ladies being appealed to by a sales talk emphasizing that parachutes come in old rose, beige, canary yellow and robin-egg blue, with compacts attached.

It all sounds far-fetched but auto and aviation men are deadly serious about it. They insist that with the end of the war the flying urge will be international.

Mitza, bring in the kiddies! Here comes the flying laundry wagon, the milk ace and the Jones boy in his helicopter-jeep, car!

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

- 1—Let's take a train ride and relax.
- 2—Plenty of seats up forward!
- 3—If you don't see what you want on our menu, ask for it.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Allied Military Representatives Plan Over-All Strategy for Defeat of Axis; Red Troops Close on Nazi Strongholds; October Draft Quota to Include Dads

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

With the historic Chateau Frontenac in the background, English-American political and military leaders meet for memorable conference. Seated from left to right are Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada; President Roosevelt, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England. Standing from left to right, Gen. H. H. Arnold, Sir Charles Portal, Sir Allan Brooke, Adm. Ernest King, Sir John Dill, Gen. George Marshall, Adm. Sir Dudley Pound, and Adm. William Leahy.

MEDITERRANEAN:

Zero Hour

The zero hour for Italy arrived. Across the Mediterranean, Allied transports massed in North African ports. Axis planes flying in to bomb the shipping were met by walls of steel anti-aircraft fire and scores of fighter planes.

Plowing along the Italian shoreline, Allied cruisers and destroyers poured heavy shells into important railroad junctions and power stations. Overhead, all kinds of bombers—fighter, medium and heavy—dropped high explosives on Axis troops moving along open roads and through mountain passes.

As Allied artillery pumped shells into Italy from Sicily, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower counted 167,000 Axis casualties in the 39-day campaign which won the island. Our own losses were placed at 25,000.

Peace and the Sword
Assault of Hitler's European fortress and policies for dealing with re-occupied countries—upon these momentous questions turned the sixth conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec.

Formulating the military grand strategy were approximately 350 army and navy officials from the U. S., Great Britain and Canada. Over their maps they planned, first, the invasion of Europe, then, the conquest of Japan.

Joining Roosevelt and Churchill were their foreign secretaries, Cordell Hull and Anthony Eden. With them, the two Allied leaders discussed the measures to be taken in restoring order in re-occupied nations, and the policies to be pursued to meet Russia's territorial claims and demand for participation in the rehabilitation of Europe.

RUSSIA:
Push Nazis Back
Russian troops closing in on the charred ruins of what was once the mighty industrial city of Kharkov, found their advance delayed by strong German counter-attacks. But as fighting raged at the gates of the former "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine, other Red forces worked their way northwest to seal off the last railroad running out of the embattled city.

Farther to the south, the Nazis claimed the Russians threw in tanks to re-enforce 150,000 Red troops hammering along the big bend of the Donetz river. This would indicate the Russians concentrated their striking power along the whole Ukrainian front, where the Germans have been making a slow retreat with the Reds pressing forward in the teeth of intensive defensive artillery, mortar and machine gun fire.

The Russians claim the Nazis have 211 divisions, approximating 3,000,000 men, on the eastern front, with 38 divisions in reserve in Poland.

TAXES
Americans buying goods over and above actual necessities may have to pay a spending tax in 1944. Such a tax is under study by the treasury department, which is considering sources for raising an additional 12 billion dollars in revenue next year.

The treasury also has under study a congressional proposal for taxing all income over and above an individual's normal peacetime return.

At any rate, individual and corporation income taxes, excess profits and goods' taxes face an increase.

DADS' DRAFT:
Certain to Go
With the draft quota for October set at 312,000 men, the War Manpower commission reported that induction of pre-Pearl Harbor dads would begin, with those in non-deferrable jobs being the first to go.

While the WMC was making its announcement, Sen. Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina declared that congress soon would act to establish a definite draft policy and eliminate the confusion arising from varying WMC directives. Reynolds favored the induction of all single men in the nation before drafting any fathers.

The October quota was set on the basis of the services' goal of 10,800,000 men by January 1. Of these, the army will get 8,200,000, and the navy the rest. However, the navy recently revealed that it had already achieved its mark of 2,665,000 in uniform.

EXPLOSIVES
So huge a quantity of explosives is being turned out by the nation's chemical companies that the government has ordered output be reduced. Less than four months after Pearl Harbor, powder production had surpassed the peak of the first World war. Because of decreased demands for the army and lend-lease shipments, eight army ordnance plants have been placed in a "stand-by" or non-producing status, by Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson.

WORK-STOPPAGE:

Strikers, Plants Hit

Cancellation of draft deferments and suspension of a striker's privilege for other employment were authorized by President Roosevelt for refusal to comply with orders issued by the War Labor board for settlement of industrial disputes.

Mr. Roosevelt also recommended that war contracts, priorities, fuel or transportation be withheld from companies failing to observe the WLB directives.

Other penalties for non-compliance authorized by Mr. Roosevelt include government seizure of plants in extreme cases, and withholding of dues and cancellation of other union benefits until conformance with the WLB orders.

Office of Economic Stabilization Director Fred Vinson was charged with imposition of the penalties. Of 1,000 cases settled by WLB, there have been only seven instances of non-compliance.

Miners on Trial
Thirty miners who appealed for dismissal of indictments against them for conspiring to conduct a strike in government held pits on the grounds that the Smith-Connelly anti-strike law was unconstitutional, were denied their motion and ordered to trial by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker in Pittsburgh.

Judge Schoonmaker answered the miners' contentions that the law violated the constitutional provisions for freedom of speech and against involuntary servitude, by declaring that the government's war powers were unlimited.

To the miners' charge that the law would prevent them from discussing working conditions in any plant, the government attorney contended the crime of sedition was almost always committed by the utterance of words alone. But that did not prevent punishment for such speech, he said.

Robert Reynolds
soon would act to establish a definite draft policy and eliminate the confusion arising from varying WMC directives. Reynolds favored the induction of all single men in the nation before drafting any fathers.

The October quota was set on the basis of the services' goal of 10,800,000 men by January 1. Of these, the army will get 8,200,000, and the navy the rest. However, the navy recently revealed that it had already achieved its mark of 2,665,000 in uniform.

EXPLOSIVES
So huge a quantity of explosives is being turned out by the nation's chemical companies that the government has ordered output be reduced. Less than four months after Pearl Harbor, powder production had surpassed the peak of the first World war. Because of decreased demands for the army and lend-lease shipments, eight army ordnance plants have been placed in a "stand-by" or non-producing status, by Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson.

At any rate, individual and corporation income taxes, excess profits and goods' taxes face an increase.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

ISRAEL CALLED TO BE A HOLY PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Leviticus 19:1-4, 11-18, 32-34. GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye holy; for I am holy.—I Peter 1:16.

Labor Day, 1943, with a war-torn world, finds us facing a social order deeply divided regarding the rights and wrongs of the relationship between man and man, especially capital and labor.

For these many years we have talked of a planned economy where kindness and justice shall control all dealings of man with his fellow man. But to accomplish such a result apart from the hand of God to guide and restrain, has proved to be impossible.

Selfishness and sin control too much of the thought and action of our world. We need to be reminded, as was Israel in our lesson, that God has called us to be a holy people. His holiness is not just something of which one sings in a hymn or talks in a sermon. It means among other things, real social justice.

God has always stood for social righteousness. The underlying moral law of the universe demands it, and the law of God as revealed to His people developed and implemented it for successful functioning, were we only wise enough to see and follow it.

It is time that all God's people emphasize God's moral principles in the life of society. Never forgetting that its first business is to preach the redeeming gospel of Christ, the church ought also to make its influence felt for social righteousness.

Our lesson speaks first of the foundational matter in all social justice, namely:

I. Holiness of Heart Before God (Lev. 19:1-4).

Because God is holy, His people were to be holy. It was not a matter of choice or impulse. They belonged to a holy God, they were to be a holy people.

There is an idea current in the church today which has served Satan well, namely, that holiness of life is something which is not required; that it is expected only of a few folk who are spiritually minded, and that the other professed followers of Christ may go on living a worldly, careless, powerless life. It is the devil's own lie. God expects every Christian to be holy.

Such rightness with God shows itself in a rightness with others, which we note as our second point:

II. Holiness of Life Before Men (Lev. 19:11-18, 32-34).

How intensely practical and workable in daily experience were the laws here given to Israel. They are just as apropos to our present day.

1. Honesty (vv. 11-13). No stealing, no perjury, no lying, no oppression, no withholding of wages, none of these could be tolerated, for they dishonored God's name. Think what the elimination of dishonesty in dealing between men would accomplish. Most of our social problems would be solved overnight. Merchants would do well to read verses 35 and 36 in this connection.

2. Kindness (v. 14). The deaf cannot hear what we say about them, nor can the blind see what we do. But the eternal God hears and sees, and He expects us to be kind to them.

3. Fairness (vv. 15, 16). Some assume that a man must be right because he is rich. Others are equally sure that the poor are always worthy of special consideration.

Note the condemnation of the talebearer. Every gossip who reads these words knows that God condemns that evil practice. Nor does He countenance indifference to the welfare of others. Their blood cries out to Him for deliverance (v. 16).

4. Love (vv. 17, 18). "Love thy neighbor as thyself." That is the standard. How much have we done to meet it?

A rebuke may be necessary, but love will not permit grudges, or the seeking of vengeance, even when we have been wronged.

5. Respect (vv. 3, 32). God's Word always stresses the need of a right attitude toward parents. Children need to learn anew the lesson of verse 3.

Then there are the aged (v. 32). Old age pensions doubtless have their place in our complex social order, but perhaps they would not be needed if men and women honored the hoary head and the face of an old man.

A pension does not take the place of honor and love for the aged, even though it may pay the bills. God has high standards.

6. Consideration (vv. 33, 34). The man who knows God will not be party to taking advantage of a stranger. He remembers that he too has been a stranger. To meet with loving kindness and tender care when one is in a strange place should inspire one to go and do likewise.

RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THIS old fashioned saw tooth quilt pattern has been used for the border of many handsome quilts. It is so modern looking and so simple to piece that it should serve many decorative purposes. Here it trims kitchen curtains of unbleached muslin. In addition to its old time use its angular note would make it effective as a border for luncheon cloths, aprons and various other purposes.

To make a pattern cut a square of cardboard, then cut diagonally; one half will make a triangle pattern. The size suggested in sketch may vary according to the purpose in mind. If a bright color is used for the plain triangles, a narrow border will make a good showing.

NOTE: Readers who plan to piece quilts and have not selected their pattern should send for the three patterns designed by Mrs. Spears which will be sent to you for 15 cents. Address:

Early Coalman Couldn't Sell 'Dirty Black Rock'

In 1828, a few tons of coal were shipped into Cleveland to determine if this kind of fuel could be introduced here. An agent loaded on a wagon and drove up one street and down another almost pleading with the residents to buy at least a small basket full. But they weren't going to be fooled into buying this dirty black rock when they could get wood.

At nightfall the agent drove to a barroom and persuaded the proprietor to try some in the stove. This was the beginning of the coal business in Cleveland.

It's Aye, Aye, Sir

Girl telephone operators in several navy yards and naval stations on the eastern seaboard now say "Aye, Aye, Sir" instead of "Thank you" when servicing calls for both men and women.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Rubber shortage will cause motor trucks to be operated this year only 60 per cent of their 1941 mileage, according to OWI. Ton mileage haul in intercity service, however, was up 10 per cent early this year.

Rubber latex, a milk-like substance, contains from 30 to 40 per cent solids; cow's milk has only 12 per cent solids.

Add lettuce to the list of rubber producers! Tests of three varieties of lettuce by the University of California, it has been reported, showed high content of rubber latex.

ED REULING — EDITOR

Dear Friends:

I ran across a song yesterday written by Jeanette M. Brissey, an aunt of Mrs. Bill Shepard. It is not copyrighted and Mrs. Bill says the wider the circulation the better. The title is "Your Mother is Praying For You." It sums up so well the thoughts of your moms back home here that I'm going to try and give you both the words and the music. If you fellows who are not familiar with music would get one of your buddies who is, maybe you can figure out how the tune goes from the following explanation. The music is in four flats, 6-8 time, and all notes are eighth notes unless otherwise indicated. A period (.) after the note indicates a dotted eighth, and an asterisk (*) indicates a sixteenth, and a hyphen (-) a quarter. "s" means sharp and "n" natural. The tune starts on low E in the treble staff and, except for one low D stays in one octave above the starting E. Measure bar is indicated in both music and words by a perpendicular line (|). Here it is, first the music, then the words. Because of lining-up difficulties it is impossible to do this with the words directly under each music note as intended, but you'll catch on after a couple of tries.

Another of our lads has turned up missing in action. Word came through on the afternoon of the 31st that Lt. Harvey Harrington had been missing since the forepart of July. Delay in so reporting is in line with the War Department Policy of withholding such news in the hope that the soldier will eventually be reported in. Ins tough to even now give you such news because we can't help but feel that Harvey will come back to us. He was always a resourceful fellow, and, from all reports, an excellent navigator. We don't know what mission he was on that he failed to return from, but we do know that whatever it was he was doing, as always, a thorough job of helping win this war. You may be on the sidelines for a time, Harvey, but we can't help but think you will be back soon. Until we hear differently we are hoping to believe that. We know that your Mother and Dad (Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Harrington) will too. You are a man and a soldier, Harvey. Here's Luck to you wherever you may be. . . .

HOME TOWN NEWS

Seven visitors came in during the week. JUNIOR BATES from North Camp Hood, EARL MOORE from Camp Swift, CY DOLEZEL from San Diego and ROY GOKEE, BILL HOFMAN, CHARLEY CHADDOCK and HERSCHAL NOWLAND from Louisiana maneuvers. Junior Bates is a tank destroyer. He didn't do much destroying around here but he sure seemed mighty pleased to be home — even though he does think army life is O. K. Earl was transferred just recently to Ordnance and is kind of looking for a pretty good rating soon. The fellow is lucky in one respect. He has been able to have his wife with him most of the time. As a matter of fact she, and Earl's ten-week-old boy came along when he called. He too has no complaints on army life. Lt. Cy has been making our eyes pop with accounts of how they teach the marines to fly. He has a lot of hours under his belt already and kind of figures maybe it won't be too long before he starts taking his own personal crack at the Zeros. He makes one swell looking officer — and man. . . . The four boys from Louisiana maneuvers have just finished up a long session there and figure to report to Camp Pickett, Va. when they go back. It was kind of a rough deal in a way because they couldn't get round trip tickets coming from La. to here and back to Va. Nevertheless the boys were mighty pleased to be home. Roy and Bill bumped into each other in Chicago and Herschal and Charley came all the way. The latter two came by way of Grand Rapids and from there via their thumbs and made it in here some 12 hours sooner than Roy and Bill. The boys report maneuvers plenty tough, but worth while. All four are in the F. A. and all four have important jobs in their different outfits. They think they are fully trained now and, barring cadres, might be seeing their last of the old home town for a long time. Thanks to the seven of you for stopping in. Here's luck to all of you.

A little constructive criticism has blown my way. I am asked by several why I do not mention names and dates of enlistees who have not been called, or fellows who are about to report for their physical. I would like very much to do so, but it does seem like it might be embarrassing to report a fellow as about to go in and then later discover that he was rejected or some such thing. I've seen and talked with lads who have been rejected and I know they did not enjoy it. Thus we skip mentioning names until the fellows have actually passed, and are in. For example several go down tomorrow, Aug. 30, for their physical. When we know the final result then seems time enough for their sakes to report it.

I wonder if "Squint on Fishing" will think to tell you about trout fishing being good of late. Ed Nemecek ought to know. He has had some pretty good catches. The season ends Labor Day and the boys are spending every spare minute on the river. Also, did you hear about draining the Michigan Public Service dam up on Deer Creek? They are putting in new timbers and have had to let practically all of the water out. Wouldn't know for sure but would guess the water level has gone down thirty feet. A few pictures were taken so you may get a chance to see what our dam without water in it looks like. There is some talk of cleaning the pike, etc. out while the water is down, and then stocking the pond next spring with Brown Trout so that we will have a better trout pond than the Bellaire pond. It's a good idea if it will work.

The fellows who were inducted on the 24th are still at Custer, but by the time this goes to press will probably be at their new camps. We will be looking for reports from them as they get themselves assigned and located.

A number of Dads hereabouts who are under 38 have received notices that their cases will come up for reclassification. Looks like maybe Uncle Sam means what he has said about needing more hired hands.

As far as we know now the high school will have a bang up football team. They plan on playing five games I think, two each with Charlevoix and Boyne City and one with Mancelona. The squad will be small and such fellows as Bruce Woodcock (now in the army) will be missed. The boys resolve, however, to carry on and do their best. Incidentally, it's not generally known but our present coach, Max Damoth, is one of five brothers and all but Max are in the service. His dad gave me the dope on them the other day.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT

Still no further report on BILL CLARK. Still "No news is good news." We are anxiously waiting though. . . . I've heard a lot about the various toughening up exercises you fellows have been taking. The other evening I saw a pretty good movie of what they are doing down at East Lansing to harden the boys up. Imagine my surprise when, as I sat there taking it all in, TICH SEXTON came sliding at me on his belly through a stream of water spouting from a hose, and an awful lot of mud. He did his little act several times and was recognizable despite the fact that he was pretty well plastered with mud. Such surprises in recognizing some one you know is what makes such films interesting. Hereafter when you fellows take a belly flopper you might call it "doing a Saxton." . . . ARCHIE NEMECEK is on some kind of duty at an embarkation port in the East. He has been disappointed so many times in getting a furlough that he has just about given up hoping. The other day after the ship they were loading was all set and the troops were going aboard Archie spied Corp. CHARLEY HART among them. I'll bet it was quite a thrill at that for one to stand ashore and watch a home town buddy take off for over there — particularly when Archie had no idea of seeing anyone he knew. Here's luck to you Charley. Give us a report when you can. . . . Which reminds me to ask about PAUL WILKINS. Couldn't some of you Detroit readers who get news of him give us the low down? A lot of inquiries have come in and we just don't know how to answer them. We think he is across but are even guessing at that. . . . I hear that ERNEST RUDE has been transferred out of his soft spot at Selfridge Field and is now doing duty somewhere in the vicinity of brother Art down in Maryland. We do not have his address — neither have we heard from Ernie or Art in a long time. How's things going boys? . . . We still have a first report to get on BUD BUGAI since he landed in Florida. What's doing down there with the AAF Bud? . . . FRED SULAK reports a transfer to Pittsburg, Cal. That's the same spot Abe Cohn took off from so it could be that Fred is on his way soon. If it's a good guess Fred, Here's luck to you. If it's a poor guess and you will stick around awhile yet, here's luck anyhow. . . . LOUIS BUNKER is getting more training at cooks and bakers school at Camp Forrest, Tenn. Couldn't you tell us more about it, Louis? . . . LEONARD BARBER says life at Camp Beal, Cal. is O. K. He likes his work with an Ordnance Heavy Maintenance outfit and thinks he is getting a swell break in getting a chance to learn to do such things. Couldn't you send us a direct report Leonard. . . . PEGGY BURKLAND is one of six or eight WAC officers who have been assigned to take a company of WACS to Montreal to show our Canadian friends how the gals in the States do things. It sounds like a pretty interesting experience but a lot of work, Peggy. We'll be waiting for a detailed report. Meanwhile, why not get after your hubby, Al, and get him to tell us what he is doing just now on maneuvers? . . . Just a few days ago BUD STREHL's souvenir package from the southwest Pacific arrived. I haven't seen its contents as yet but the report is it contained a Jap sniper suit made out of coconut tree leaves. Seems like the slant eyed so and sos strap themselves in a tree and stay there until such shots as our FRED BECHTOLD pick them off, and even then, you have to climb the tree and cut the strap to get them down. The latter sounds like risky business to me because a guy would never know whether the b. . . . — are playing possum. . . . LOUIS KAMRADT and TOM ST. CHARLES are in Plt. 671, RDMCB, San Diego (41). You marine vets out that way who can get a chance to look them up ought to do so. Remember how much you appreciated it when someone came along and took you out of boot camp for a week-end. If it should happen let's hear about it. Incidentally I hear that Tom has contacted home already for some extra change for smokes. I thought the boots in marine camp were supposed to leave the gallopin' dominoes alone, Tom. . . . I've been wondering for a long time now which one of the 140 of you over there would be the first to fall for, and marry, an "over-there sweetheart." It hasn't happened yet, but a pretty accurate report is that MM 2-c BOB BENNETT is going to take an Australian lass for better or worse right soon now. That's bad news for the home town gals — but good news otherwise. When the event comes off, Bob, be sure and let us know. Meanwhile, congratulations. . . . Sgt. JACK BOWMAN really is getting around. Just now he calls Tuscon, Arizona his base. It could be anywhere within a radius of 13,000 miles from there before the next month or so. Sure wish you would write, Jack. That tail gunners job of yours sounds like the real McCoy. . . . You fellows have a pretty good idea where LEON PETERSON was when he got shipped back, Well, CHRIS BULOW writes he is taking up just about where Leon left off. He has tried to locate BUD STREHL but no luck to date. He also wants to find Abe Cohn. Chris says we always called him coach and it seems kind of funny to be calling him Abe. Shucks, Chris, he's still coach to a lot of you boys and always will be. Apparently Chris has had contact with the Sea Bees because he says they are really a swell outfit, highly skilled, thoroughly trained, and all men, says Chris. Keep up the good work fellows and don't worry. You ask how many have made it home since going in. I haven't counted exactly but just about fifty per cent of the more than 400 of you is the answer. The other fifty percent are in the same boat you are. They have had to take their war without even one breathing spell back home. . . . GEORGE ROGERS says, as he reports his APO number, "Guess this is it." He kind of thinks maybe he will be going somewhere in the vicinity of where MAC Corp. Dorothy Clark is. Keep those reports coming in Geo. . . . CLARENCE TROJANEK is still in the hospital. Just recently they cut his game leg open again and this time Clarence has hopes that he will be O. K. soon. He has named his tank "Grace" and is anxious to get to driving her again. After 1000 miles on maneuvers with never a failure he is sure that Grace can take it. He says, "when Henry Ford put that motor in those tanks he put victory in them." Them's welcome words, Clarence. Here's hoping you make it out of the hospital soon. Keep up the good work. . . . NOLIN DOUGHERTY got his first stripe when he got back from furlough. He got back into the same groove breaking in remounts but is expecting that training days are about over and something big coming up. I'm sorry, Nolin, but I really haven't much of an idea how far RED GEE and BOB KALEY at Clinton, Okla. are from Fort Reno, nor do I know how far Alva, Okla. (FAY SHELTON is there) is from your camp. You might get a map and look it up. If it's not too far you can find the sailors in Sec. Q, Fleet air detachment, Clinton, or Fay in the 455th M. P. Co. at Alva. Let's hear what luck you have. . . . RUDOLPH CHAK's big ambition is to be assigned as cook aboard a big PB2Y where there are only 14 to cook for, and a 2 plate burner to cook on. He is following the same line as his big brother ALBERT and thinks he will eventually catch up with him even though Sgt. Al did get a nineteen month head start. . . . DESMOND JOHNSON saw Lt. GILBERT JOYNT when he passed through the base at Atka, Alaska, a while back. He also has seen Rev. Sidebotham's nephew, PAUL, who is stationed at the same base. You fellows who complain about the weather make him envious. He says it's so foggy and wet up where he is that all their work has to be done in a row boat. He has passed his radioman 1st class exams and is just putting in his time now until the rating comes through. Congratulations sailor. Does that mean that brother DOUG, will have to do some hustling to catch up again? . . . HOWARD take in the movie tonight. Seems like it's as always — Good Luck and So, we will just make it. Until next week Long. — Ed.

YOUNG was a patient in a hospital for quite some time. When he finally got out he was transferred to ambulance driver at the Borden General Hospital, Chickasha, Okla. He would like to have gone across with PAUL WILKINS but kind of figures the limp he acquired from basic training days will keep him on this side. You might try looking NOLIN DOUGHERTY, Troop B, 253 Remount Sqd., up at Fort Reno, Howard. Don't think that's so awfully far from your spot. . . . Ensign RUTH DARBEE has sent in her 2c worth from the National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Maryland. Her work is mostly supervisory in a convalescent ward, but apparently supervisory does include a lot of extra curricular activities such as being kind of a big sister to a lot of sailors who have been hurt and are a long ways from home and friends. For example one lad came in with his face well messed up. He resolved to just drop out of sight and never go home that way. The navy medics went to work on him with skin grafting and Ruth with her big sister act with the result that the fellow is nearly as good as new except for one eye, has taken a discharge and gone home as happy as ever. She tells of other incidents too but modestly wants no part of the credit for the good results. We have heard a lot about you navy nurses, Ruth. The sailors all swear by you and we know that you must be doing some really swell work. Your description of the marvelous results obtained from the new drug "Pencilin" sounds even better than the Reader's Digest report. Thanks also for telling us that (a) "Navy food is all grade A, there is none better" (Frank Crowell to the contrary notwithstanding); (b) Stella Stallard Hamilton (Mrs. Stephen) is no longer a navy nurse but has been back in Lansing again for several months now; and (c) you'll help out if you can. You can do the latter, Ruth, by sending us some more reports just like you did. It's little incidents as told by people that our boys know personally, or know of, that make interesting reading and give them a lift. Seriously, and no fooling, you could surely give our lads from here a great big lift if you would be a regular contributor. They like you, Ruth, and are mighty proud that you are in "his battle with them. Come again. . . . A number of people have inquired about much travelled Sgt. BOB WINSTONE. We have him listed as being attached to an Airmobile Squadron APO 4516, San Francisco. Except for that we haven't the slightest idea where he is, but expect it's where they are seeing a lot of Zeros. If you read this Bob, how about a letter. . . . BURL WALKER got his T-5 rating a few days back and is expecting a transfer to Vancouver Barracks. His outfit has had its picture taken for Life Magazine. The next time you fellows see the new issues of that magazine look for Burl. He's the biggest man in the outfit, and so far is the biggest (237) man from your old home town in the service. Congratulations on the new rating Burl. . . . ALBA BROOKS has successfully finished OCS at Fort Sill and has walked through the archway that reads "The World's Greatest Officers' Candidate School." Congratulations fellow on getting those gold bars. He wants to say hello to all his old buddies and particularly his old coach "ABE COHN," whom Alba gives plenty of credit to for teaching him the right way to live and learn. Be sure and keep us posted Lt. . . . LT. BRUCE SANDERSON reports in from Sicily. He seems in good spirits and health but has kind of a hankering once in awhile for home and a turkey dinner, or next best he'd like to see someone from home. Five fellows have your APO number Bruce. I gave you the dope on them a couple of weeks back. You fellows in Sicily who can locate an armored Sig. Bn. can find out Lt. Bruce in the Hq. Co. Give it a try, and, let's hear about it. . . . PETE HAMMOND managed to do a bit of Texas fishing on his day off and seemed to have fair luck. He figures his outfit is set to go but has no idea when or where. I'll bet what you call "My Texas Cowgirl" will miss you when you pull out Pete. Wonder if she would like to see her name written as per the above quotes. . . . MILT WARD down in South America someplace heard the news that a few undersized trout had been taken out of the Jordan. Sorry, Milt, but it was a couple of other fellows who got caught. Glad to know you are hale and hearty and get some fishing in on the side. I still think you ought to reconsider the ultimatum the young lady has issued and take your time about such things. Let's hear more about what's doing down your way. . . . BILL STURGELL says his new quarters at the Harbor Club, 32 Clay St., San Francisco, are just about the best ever. He has no idea how long he will be there but indirectly I've heard that it will be at least six months. Is this right Bill? Meanwhile you fellows in that vicinity ought to look him up. . . . ART GERARD has been shifted around pretty much of late. Just now he is at Fort Bliss with an AAAAW (sp) Bn. Sounds to me like anti-aircraft auto weapons supply but am not sure. Am I right Art? . . . BILL BENNETT is now stationed just 4 miles from Hollywood and thinks it's an all-right spot. Wonder if his wife back home here thinks so too. He is still an AAF medic and expects to be there a couple of months. Keep us posted fellow.

What the old home town looks like

Kit Carson and Frank Bird are doing their bit by raising 5,000 turkeys, out at the Fair Grounds, for Thanksgiving Dinners for you fellows Over There. You'll get yours, whether we get ours or not, and that's O. K. by all of us. The Sportsman's Club is arranging a big Turkey Shoot when you fellows get home. However, you should give us old fellows some sort of a handicap, since you have all the ammunition, and the Hitlers and the Togos to practice on.

Shop Now For Overseas Boys

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES FOR OUR BOYS OVERSEAS MUST BE MAILED SOON

The Christmas shopping season is here—even though the weather is still warm.

Mailing of gifts for Army and Navy personnel must begin by September 15, if many of the men and women in our armed services are not to be disappointed; and September 15 is less than a month away.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to Army men and women overseas only between September 15 and October 15. After the latter date, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift; so gifts must be mailed on time. The Navy also urges that gifts be mailed between September 15 and October 15.

Reasons for the early mailing dates are: The vast distances that the parcels must travel to reach our men at war fronts and stations the world over; frequent transfers of thousands of men from one location to another, which means forwarding of the mail and consumes additional time; the necessity for giving preference to medicine and food in allotment of shipping space, which often means that the shipments of gifts must wait. And it is most urgent that gifts be delivered to the men in time for Christmas, to keep their spirit high.

The only way to insure against disappointment for the fighting men is to buy at once and mail early—your gifts as soon as possible after the September 15 starting date.

Those who have relatives or friends in the service should remember that we have fighting men in Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, England, Sicily, far-separated regions of Africa, the Near Eastern countries, Australia, many of the South Pacific islands, India, China, South America, and other areas.

Weeks are required for a ship to reach many of these stations. There can be no assurance, of course, that the first ship sailing for any of these locations will have space available to carry Christmas parcels. Gifts may have to wait until vitally needed supplies and equipment have been shipped, to assure victory and to save the lives of our men. If the parcels are not mailed early, that delay may prove to be just enough to prevent their arrival by Christmas day, with consequent disappointment to the men who are offering their lives for their country and ours.

Mail of all kinds is vital to the spirit of fighting men. Every officer who has inspected our Army and Navy postal facilities overseas has reported that thousands of fighting men disregard mess call when it conflicts with mail call, and get their letters first. Officers at our large military and naval stations report that the spirit and efficiency of their men receive a distinct lift when mail is distributed, and that a delay in mail service caused a decided decline in spirit with a consequent let down in efficiency.

A disconsolate soldier or sailor who thinks he has been forgotten at Christmas obviously is not at his best. So the gifts must be mailed on time so that they can arrive on time.

Rules for Christmas mailings to the fighting forces overseas were made public in June for the guidance of early shoppers. They include:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

The parcel must be well and strongly packed, in a container of metal, wood, strong fiber board, or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

PENINSULA...

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

There were 28 at the Star Sunday School, August, 29.

The Erber boys of Boyne City are picking string beans for A. Reich of Lone Ash farm.

The temperature at Orchard Hill, Saturday a. m., August 28, was 49°, which reminds us fall is coming.

"Joe" and Richard Hayden of east of Boyne City picked string beans for F. K. Hayden at Pleasant View farm several days last week.

Rain Sunday noon, Monday a. m., Thursday night and again Sunday gives plenty moisture but pretty damp for second cutting.

F. K. Hayden of Pleasant View farm plans to return to his job at the Tannery, Monday a. m., after laying off since Thursday night to look after the little new son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loomis of Gravel Hill, north side, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Loomis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Sweet in Advance.

County Agent B. C. Melencamp of Boyne City, and Clyde O. May of East Lansing, were on the Peninsula Wednesday, checking up the farm account books.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Webster of Pleasant Valley spent Friday evening with their grand-daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Russell and family at Ridge-way Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Gaunt of Three Bells Dist. spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Gaunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt at the home of Mrs. Martha Earl in Boyne City.

String bean picking is the order of occupation and is a fine crop. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loomis, of Gravel Hill, north side, have picked 4000 lbs. off a half acre and did the picking themselves.

Melvin Bingham of Alba, who has spent two weeks with his sister, Mrs. Kenneth Russell and family at Ridge-way farms, helping with the farm work, returned to his home on his bicycle, Saturday evening.

The junior class of the Star Sunday School had a very pleasant party at the Star Community Building, Saturday evening, with confectionary, cookies and Kool Aid for refreshments. The whole class was in attendance and had a very enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. John Seiler of East Jordan, superintendent and junior teacher sponsored the party.

The 4-H Calf Club held their meeting at Ridgeway Farm, Friday evening, and got five of the club calves trimmed up according to schedule. The five calves belonged to Rickie Russell, Paul Bennett, Earl Bennett, Jim Arnott and Lloyd Hayden. Clare Loomis also had his animal there which is a third year entry and a milk cow now, but time was too short to do so much.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden of Pleasant View farm, a 13-lb. son, Friday, August 27. Mother and son doing fine. Mrs. Wilfred Arnott of Maple Lawn farm is assisting with the care of Mrs. Hayden and infant. That new baby seems to be an attraction as among the callers at Pleasant View since he arrived are: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer and son Herman of Chaddock Dist., and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Faust and daughter, Esther, and Mrs. Carl Beyer and son Pat of Three Bells Dist., Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. A. Reich of Lone Ash farm and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beyer of Chaddock Dist., Sunday.

Perishable goods, such as fruits that may spoil, are prohibited. Incendiary materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Since the armed forces are being plentifully supplied with food and clothing, the Army and Navy recommend against these as gifts.

Addresses must be written clearly and completely. In addition to the return address of the sender, a parcel for an Army man should show the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, Army post office number, and name of post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical address for an Army man:
Private John R. Doe (serial No.)
Company F. 167th Infantry
A.P.O. 810, c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

The address on a parcel for a Navy man should include the name and rank or rating of the addressee, the Naval unit to which he is assigned and the Navy number assigned thereto, or the name of his ship, and the fleet post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical Navy address:
John M. Jones, Seaman f.c. US Navy
Naval Air Station
Navy 199 (one nine nine)
c/o Fleet Post Office
San Francisco, Calif.

PLAX

THE UNIVERSAL BEAUTY FINISH

FOR PERFECT ENAMELING RESULTS

Experts and amateurs alike acclaim LOWE BROTHERS PLAX, the universal beauty gloss for all enameling. And no wonder! PLAX makes it easy to obtain expert results. Adaptable to any surface PLAX hides effectively, covers solidly and flows freely. What's more, PLAX resists wear and weather and many stains and acids—as dramatic "abuse tests" prove. And PLAX, the universal beauty finish, is economical, too; because ordinarily only one coat is needed for refinishing.

Good Attendance at Bureau Picnic

TRI-COUNTY FARM BUREAU ENJOY OUTING AT EASTPORT

For the first time farmers of Antrim and Charlevoix counties got together for a picnic under the auspices of the Tri-County Farm Bureau, at the county park in Eastport. About two hundred fifty people gathered at ten o'clock Thursday morning, August 26 to enjoy the day together including basket lunch at noon.

Jack Jaeger of the Farm Bureau Lansing office and Representative Fred Bradley of Roger City spoke in the afternoon on legislative and other farm problems.

In sports, honors were about evenly divided between the two counties. Charlevoix boys took the soft ball game and Antrim the tug o war. Races and other events were enjoyed by young and old.

The most important event, from a progressive agricultural standpoint, took place in the evening, when about thirty five farm leaders, Wesley Hawley and Rep., Fred Bradley, took part in open discussion of issues that farmers face.

"Sis asked me to tell you!"

"My kid sister's a long distance telephone operator. She says there are so many calls these days that lots of the lines are 'overloaded.'"

"At the base I just left down in the South Pacific, we knew about 'overloads.' We had a lot of doctors and nurses and beds, but sometimes after a big scrap, there'd be so many to take care of at one time that some of those boys would just have to wait their turn."

"Sis says the telephone's like that, too; that your long distance call today may delay another call that is even more urgent than your own."

Long distance lines to war-busy centers are particularly congested. Therefore, please . . .

Proclamation

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES

Proclamation

RECOGNIZING THE FACT that in carrying the war into enemy territory, we shall need greater amounts of money than any nation has ever asked from its citizens in all history, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do officially proclaim that on Thursday, the ninth of September, 1943, the Third War Loan shall be launched.

As Commander-in-Chief, I hereby invoke every citizen to give all possible aid and support to this Third War Loan drive, not only so that our financial goal may be reached, but to encourage and inspire those of our husbands and fathers and sons who are under fire on a dozen fronts all over the world. It is my earnest hope that every American will realize that in buying War Bonds in this Third War Loan he has an opportunity to express voluntarily and under the guidance of his conscience, the extent to which he will "back the attack."

The American people supported well the first and second War Loan drives and in fact did even more than was asked of them. Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask far more sacrifice, far more cooperation than ever before.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-eighth.

By the President:
CORDELL HULL
Secretary of State.

Lawyer Met His Match In Finsmith, On and Off

A lawyer, noted for his success in cross-examination, asked a witness how long he had worked at his business of tin-roofing. "I have worked at it off and on for some time." "How long off and on?" "Sixty-five years." "How old are you?" "Sixty-five." "Then you have been a tin-roofer from birth?" "No, sir; of course I haven't." "Then why do you say you have worked at your trade 65 years?" "Because you asked how long off and on I had worked at it. I have worked at the trade 65 years—20 years on and 45 off." Here there was a roar in the courtroom, but not at the expense of the witness, and the lawyer hurriedly finished his examination in great confusion.

See Here, Private Hargrove! by Marion Hargrove

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of a North Carolina newspaper, has been inducted into the army and has spent some time in training at Fort Bragg. In his story he has given prospective inductees considerable advice. Immediately before induction he advocates a period of "painting the town red." Once in, the new soldier should "keep an open mind" about what he learns because "the first three weeks are hardest." Private Hargrove has been missing the point of some of his essential training and as a result he has had considerable KP duty. Some of his friends have been advanced to Corporal and his Sergeant has asked why he was not promoted.

CHAPTER V

"Me?" The idea had never occurred to me. "I'm just not the executive type, I suppose. Back at the News, the boss told me that if I stayed there sixty years, I'd never get promoted. I'm just not the type that gets promoted." "Let's look at the record," said the sergeant. He pulled his little black notebook from his pocket. "On the drill field Saturday morning, you pulled forty-eight boners out of fifty marching commands. Everything you did was backwards." "Friday morning you fell out for reveille without your leggings. Saturday you had your leggings but no field hat. Monday morning neither of your shoes was tied and none of your shirt buttons were buttoned. Tuesday morning it was without leggings again."

"I'm never really awake," I protested, "until ten o'clock."

"You ain't awake then," he scoffed. "Every Monday morning without fail I have to wake you up at least a dozen times. I have to look behind all the posts around here to see which one you're sleeping against. You snore and disturb your classes, too!"

He was exaggerating there, I told him, I don't snore. And I'm sleepy only on Monday morning. The rest of the time I'm alert and energetic.

"You're too energetic sometimes!" he roared. "Just this morning, when the lieutenant was coaching the platoon in rifle sighting and you were on fatigue duty as usual! That was a pretty one! You ran up and down the battery street twenty-two times in thirty minutes and you saluted the lieutenant every time you passed him! Do you think he ain't got a thing to do but return your salutes all morning?"

This was evidently a rhetorical question, so I didn't answer it.

"You don't salute an officer every time you see him when you're right there at his side practically all day. You salute him the first time you see him and the last time you're going to see him."

"And then when the lieutenant explains that to you," he sighed, "then what do you do! The next time you see him, you salute him again and then ask him was you supposed to salute him that time!"

He put his head in his hands and drummed sadly on the toe of his foot locker. He raised his head after a time and looked into the notebook again.

I knew what was coming next and I edged toward the door.

"And then you low-rated the mess sergeant's recipe for creamed beef on toast and told him his chow was the worst in the Army. And you said you was going to start eating in the next battery. That hurt his feelings so bad that he burned the potatoes for the next three meals!"

I promised to apologize to the mess sergeant. The sergeant read out of his notebook for five or six minutes more, enumerating the things I had consistently done wrong.

"Now, do you know," he asked wearily, "why you don't get the red stripes when they give them out?"

"I suppose I'm just not the executive type," I told him.

A mess sergeant, according to military legend, is a cook whose brains have been baked out. This does not apply to the mess sergeant in our battery, whose feelings are easily hurt by cruel remarks and who weeps tears into the mashed potatoes when he's picked on. This is simply the old Army definition of a mess sergeant.

All of us rising student cooks are eligible to become mess sergeants. Staff Sergeant Adams told us in our first cooking class yesterday morning. Then we can sit out in the cool dining rooms and yell back orders for the cooks to yell at the student cooks to yell at the kaypees.

This is not the beautiful goldbricking life that it seems, though. The mess sergeant has to make requisitions and keep records on all the rations, he has to make out the menus, see that the food is prepared properly and supervise the work of the cooks, the student cooks, and the kaypees. Besides this, he must listen to all the gripes about his food and to the threadbare jokes about cooks who get drunk from lemon and vanilla extract.

All this he must do, with his brains baked out.

The cook, lucky little rascal that he is, also leads an ideal life. He is allowed to believe that he knows more about cooking than the mess sergeant will ever know, although he is not supposed to tell the mess sergeant that he does. He works one day and sleeps the next two.

If the cook is not feeling cheerful, he can pick on at least one student cook and at least five kaypees. On the battlefield, he is in the safest position behind the lines, since the food is endowed with more sentimental value than the top sergeant. The jokes about Army cooks being shot at from both sides are not based upon fact.

However, friend cook has to greet the morn before the morn gets there. On the days when he works, he has to get up between 3:00 and 3:30 o'clock in order to prepare a substantial breakfast for about two hundred healthy, growing boys whose appetites are exceeded only by the size of their mouths and the power of their lungs.

Yesterday we started to school, with cookbooks and manuals and loose-leaf notebooks for our homework. The only way in which it differed from public schools was that the naughty boys didn't have to go and sit with the girls. Also, the dunce seat, instead of being in the corner of the classroom, was said to be behind a large sack of potatoes in the battery kitchen.

The only hope for an easy time in class was gone in this school. There's no percentage in bringing a shiny red apple to a teacher who has the key to at least one well-stocked pantry.

In the kitchen, they tell us, all the cleaning-up work is to be done by the kaypees, so that the cook may be doing more important things. This, unfortunately, doesn't apply to the daily task of cleaning the stoves thoroughly. The stoves, it says here in the books, are the cook's tools and he must do his own grinding.

It isn't worth the time to wait for the stoves to get comfortably cool before you begin the twilight beautification of these overgrown infernos. In order to avoid the rush at the theater, and to let the kaypees off early, start work now.

The stoves must be cleaned inside and out—thoroughly. First, shake down the fire. All the live coals must go into the ashpans under the grate. That much is simple. Then remove the ashpans, red coals and all. It must be dumped into the ash can out on the garbage rack. This entire procedure should be simple, too, it says here. All you have to do is catch the front handle with a heavy glove and catch the little hook in the rear with the far end of your cap lifter. Here we go!

Carry the ashpans well in front of you. Ain't it hot! When you get to the door, simply open it with the toe of your shoe. Like this. Like—Doesn't seem to work. Try again. Try pushing the right screen so that the left one will swing slightly toward you. Ready? Slightly push the right screen. Something seems to be wrong here.

During this time, you will become increasingly aware that the glove over the ashpans handle is becoming hotter and hotter. Just as you get your toe into the door, the heat penetrates the glove and you decide—very suddenly—that perhaps it's best to drop the whole matter. Drop it slowly, carefully, tenderly—if you can. Do not drop it upon the wooden floor. Look around, if you think you have time, and locate an overturned boiler on which to set it. Whew, that hand's hot! No boiler? Then drop it anyway!

You will find that dropping the ashpans, even though you did it gently, has released a small amount of floating ash, all of which will be absorbed into your mouth and nose. Patience, brother. See that the ashpans isn't lying where it will burn anything, such as a perfectly good wooden floor. Pour cold water on the glove, wait for the resulting steam to blow away, prop open the door as you should have done in the first place, and try, try again.

This time you will almost reach the garbage rack before the glove again gets hot. Slide, Kelly, slide! You won't get there without dropping the whole pan into the clean road, but at least you tried.

Beat the pan against the ash can several times for sound effect. Return to the kitchen, where the mess sergeant, who was watching you through the window all the time, will direct you to return and clean it up.

By the time you have finished and look about you, the kaypees have finished their work and are sitting around gazing at you as if you were a steam shovel. A very, very black steam shovel.

Isn't gas a wonderful fuel?

Private Sher and I were sitting out on the back steps to dodge the cleaning work going on inside when we saw the sergeant bearing down on us from the other end of the battery street.

"It's no use scooting inside, Hargrove," said Sher. "He's already seen us. Look tired, as if you'd already done your part of the work." Private Sher is the goldbricking champion of Battery A and always knows what to do in such an emergency.

We both draped expressions of fatigue over our faces and the sergeant skidded to a halt before us. He reached into his hip pocket for the little black book and aimed a finger at both of us.

"Bums!" he shouted. "Bums! I worked my fingers to the bone yesterday morning getting this platoon to pretty up the barracks for inspection. Comes inspection and two privates have dirty shoes lying sprawled all over the floor under their bunks! Private Hargrove and MISTER Private Sher! Report to Corporal Farmer in fatigue clothes."

We reported to Corporal Farmer, who looked at his list of jobs. "As much as you don't deserve it," he said, "you two goldbricks are in line for canteen police."

Mr. Private Sher and I walked up the battery street toward the canteen.

"Is this canteen police business good or bad?" I asked.

"Oh, so-so," he said. "You have to clean up the papers and cigarette butts around the post exchange first thing in the morning. Then you come around and check up three or four times during the day."

I stopped, aghast. "What do you do between times?"

"Just be inconspicuous," said Sher. "That's all there is to it. Please pick up that candy wrapper over there. My back aches."

We cleaned up the grounds around the post exchange and sat for a while in the shade, watching a battery going through calisthenics. With beautiful precision, the soldiers swung their rifles up, down, to the right, to the left. They went through the quarter, half, and full knee bends and the shoulder exercises and the rest of the routine. "Those boys seem to be improving, Mr. Sher," I said.

"Result of hard work," said Maury. "Personally, I get awfully tired watching this. We'll wear ourselves out. Let's go over to my kitchen and handshake for a bottle of milk."

"No," I protested. "We must go to my kitchen."

"To avoid a tiring argument," suggested Private Sher, "we will go to both our kitchens. We can't be thrown out of both of them."

After successful forays on both kitchens, Private Sher began to yawn with boredom. "My dear Hargrove," he said, "we must stimulate our minds. Let us adjourn to my place for a game of checkers." Private Sher's "place" was only one flight of stairs removed from my squadroom, so we adjourned.

"He's already seen us. Look tired as if you'd already done your part of the work."

After two games of checkers, Private Sher waved his arms. "This is folderol," he said. "You are no checker player, Hargrove. You have no idea of tactics. Let us sit by the window and watch our comrades drill. There is something stirring in the sight of fine young men perfectly executing a marching order."

While we were sitting there being stirred, another corporal disturbed us. He wanted us to go with him to haul coal.

"Much as we would like to help you haul coal, my good man," said Maury, "we are now actively engaged in the work of policing up the post exchange. Feel free to call upon us at any other time."

The corporal placed his hands on his hips and stared at us. "You're being punished," he asked, "with canteen duty?"

"There's no need to be vulgar," said Sher. "If you will excuse us, it is time for us to go again to look for cigarette butts around the post exchange. Coming Mr. Hargrove?" "Coming, Mr. Sher. And a good day to you, corporal!"

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

Smart Two-Piece. SKILLFULLY designed two-piece that can be worn to innumerable places for all its simplicity. Immensely flattering.

Pattern No. 8483 is in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14 takes, with short sleeves, 4 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

Household Hints

Grape juice frosting is delicious and different. Put three tablespoons grape juice into a pint bowl, then stir in one to one and a half cups of confectioner's sugar till mixture is thick enough to spread on your cake.

Ventilated containers for bread and cake should be scalded, sunned and aired once a week during the summer months.

Water spots may often be removed by drying the spots, then rubbing them with a finger-nail or the edge of a coin; or by rubbing the spot with another section of the material and pressing the article under a damp cloth.

Light-weight food containers for refrigerators allow food to cool more quickly than do thick heavy containers.

War-time canning jar rings are made of unelastic reclaimed rubber. Stretch them as little as possible.

If your kitchen is small, instead of a table have a shelf that may be let down out of the way when not in use.

Hang blankets over a line with a half or a fourth on one side, and without clothespins. A blanket dries quicker if two lines—near together—share the weight. Squeeze water from the ends occasionally and shake the blanket to fluff the nap.

Water the compost pile occasionally to keep it in a moist condition. When the pile has cured for a sufficient length of time to decompose thoroughly, fork the pile through and through so as to have all the material well mixed.

World's Largest Bearing Carries Million Pounds

The world's biggest bearing was designed to carry the enormous load of one million pounds, which is the estimated weight of the largest telescope ever designed, in Mount Palomar, Calif. It is in the shape of a gigantic horseshoe and weighs 158 tons. But it is a marvel of accurate engineering, for so perfectly has it been machined that it is within five thousandths of an inch of the actual specifications.

Some indication of its size may be obtained from the fact that it is no less than 43 feet across and 58 inches thick, and is just over eight times as large as the bearing which bears the mirror of the huge Mount Wilson instrument.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Mabel Secord

My apologies to Mr. Brown. As though one nickname were not enough (Doc), a typographical error last week changed his good old Bible name of "Peleg" to "Peg-leg."

News writers have a common saying, "Read 'em and weep." These errors, known as "fluffs," are often amusing, (that is, if they happen to the other fellow's stuff).

For a change I'm giving you a few excerpts from the "fluff" section of one of my notebooks.

One tells of the body of a high church dignitary which was to arrive "Wednesday morning and will lie in wait in the church." In another, high powered executives became "high powdered" ones. One gem describes a corsage worn at a wedding as being made "of Rapture roses and lilies of the valley, centered with an orchard."

A few years ago George's and my good friend, Ernest Jack Sharpe, (Newaygo News), wrote a special poem for us which included the line "And flaming autumn sky."

His poems are printed in a large number of periodicals and when this one appeared, one paper "fluffed" it to read, "And flaming auto sky."

Commenting on it, Mr. Sharpe wrote, "They generally leave out whole lines so that the rhymes hardly make sense, then people think I'm slipping."

I've tried to persuade Mr. Lisk to add "Tall Tales of Newaygo News" to the Herald but when it comes to poetry he has a real phobia regarding it. Those cracks in the ceiling over his desk are the result of people bringing him poems they have written, to print.

The same weekly that spoiled the "autumn" poem once printed an account of a musical program. In it Wolfram's aria from "Tannhauser," "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star," became, "O Thou So Blind Sweet Evening Star."

It was in this same town, at a Fourth of July celebration back in 1872, that a young Irish lawyer voluntarily mounted the speakers' platform, struck a flamboyant attitude and said, "Every man should be proud of the land of his nativity, whether he was born there or not!" He closed with, "I now give way, because there are several other distinguished gentlemen who wish to be heard."

September 5, 1903

School was to begin September 8, with a preliminary short session on the 7th, (Labor Day). A new superintendent, J. M. Tice, headed the faculty which included the Misses Isabella McLease, Catherine Daugherty, Patterson, Minnie Weipert, and Josephine Campbell in the high school and upper grades. The first, second, and third grades were taught respectively by Emma Severance, Ella Barnett, and Mabel Malpass.

Charles Morrison and family have moved to Boyne City.

The James Milford family have moved to Springvale where Mr. Milford is employed in Cobb & Mitchell's general store.

J. G. Miller has gone to Dowling where he will be the butter maker in a new creamery there. A Greenawalt is the new butter maker at the creamery here.

William Maus, the new liveryman, has moved his family here from Ellsworth.

Miss Margaret Dooley is here from Grand Rapids on her way to her school in Gould City. Miss Cassie Winters, who also teaches there, left for Gould City Friday.

The Dewitt Keenholts home was the scene of a wedding Wednesday evening when their daughter, Bertha Rae, became the wife of J. Harvey Milford, Principal of the South Arm school. They were serenaded by the East Jordan Military Band.

Director Cole of the Band is asking for more clarinet players. (They spelled it "clarinet" in those days.) Theodore Douglas, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Sufferin, died Wednesday.

September 6, 1913

School opened Monday with a total enrollment of 633. Of this number 454 were in the east building and high school; 150 in the West Side school; and 29 in the Jordan River school out at Franseith's corner which was a part of this district.

William Hudkins of Rock Elm died in Kewana, Indiana, last Thursday while attending a family reunion there.

Ray T. McEacheron, aged 20, died at his home here August 30. The body was taken to his former home in Elk Rapids for burial. The Band, of which he had been a member, accompanied the remains to the depot, playing a beautiful funeral march.

William Crammer died at his home here Monday evening.

Eugene Adams has leased the Majestic Theatre in Charlevoix.

The first $1,000 payment for one mile of State reward road has been received by County Treasurer D. S. Payton.

Prof. Adams of Oberlin, Ohio has bought a tract of Lake Shore property and plans to build a cottage next spring.

August 31, 1923

Retribution followed closely on the heels of a Russian near Boyne Falls. August 22 this man, known as Russian Jim, while very drunk went to the home of a friend, Stanley Laski, and shot and killed him. He also tried to kill Mrs. Laski and the seven children but they eluded him. Later in the day while in hiding he tripped and fell while carrying some dynamite and caps which exploded. Bee hunters discovered the mangled body beside a log.

John LaVerne, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Beals, died Tuesday from diphtheria.

James Charles, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bayliss, died Wednesday. Miss Charlotte E. Gothro and Marshall J. Griffin were married at Charlevoix August 25.

Prof. and Mrs. Evan L. Mahaffey of Columbus, Ohio are guests of Mr. Mahaffey's cousin, Mrs. James Secord, and family.

Mrs. Anna Keat and children have returned from Gadsby, Alberta and will again make their home in East Jordan.

Cents and sentiment do mix. Take Henry Ford of Dearborn, for instance.

He is the central figure of this tale about two lumber villages in Michigan, now being revived for war work.

Here is Michigan's most astute manufacturer, a genius of mass production and the inventor of the famed Model T "tin lizzy" whose very name has been a household word in American homes for nearly two generations. Here is the doctrinaire of "more and cheaper goods" the industrialist who established a $5 minimum daily wage in 1912, and who, until the recent advent of the UAW-CIO, fixed wages and working conditions on a basis of "take it or leave it" with ever increasing prosperity for himself and ever mounting wages for his employees.

Henry Ford at 80 is again the millionaire commander-in-chief of a war industry whose self-sustained operations extend far and whose size is breathlessly gargantuan.

Here also is probably Michigan's outstanding sentimentalist, a man whose devotion to the ideal of old-fashioned, simple living was the inspiration for his Edison Museum and Greenfield collection of Americana, a devotion which is only exceeded by his fondness of children.

We became convinced of the latter distinction recently when we visited a little lumber village of Pequaming, five miles north of L'Anse on the Keweenaw Bay route to the Huron mountains where Ford has been spending his 1943 vacation.

Thanks to Henry Ford, a few remaining families at Pequaming and Alberta are smiling. Homes are being re-opened. Children will go to school again. And smoke will pour from the mill stacks.

The historic town of L'Anse, whose site was a campground 200 years ago for French explorers and missionaries, has two satellite villages — Pequaming and Alberta.

Alberta is better known to travelers, for it was created by Ford in 1936 amid a heavy hardwood forest 10 miles east of L'Anse as an industrial experiment. Those of you who motored in pre-war days over U.S. 41 between Marquette and L'Anse will remember your surprise and pleasure when you turned a curve in the scenic road and beheld a picturesque, modern community — white-painted sawmill, neat and trim cottages, a schoolhouse and firehouse, and all this with boulevard lights and fine drinking water and even sewage disposal.

We say "pre-war" days because one dark winter morning, after Pearl Harbor, an order arrived from Dearborn to cease operations. Overnight the town became deserted. Windows of the cottages were boarded up.

When we visited Pequaming the other day, men were cutting hay along the streets and on the lawns of unoccupied homes and the closed school. Pequaming is an Indian word for wooded peninsula, and such it actually is, a mushroom-like jetting of land, swept by breezes from Keweenaw Bay.

Henry Ford had been there the week before. Unaccompanied by company executives except for his personal chauffeur, the head of the industrial empire talked with the caretaker and a few of the remaining townspeople. Only 12 out of 74 dwellings were occupied.

He was told that the Pequaming school, which had been a source of considerable pride and satisfaction to him because of its unique rustic furniture, was only a shell of walls and floors. The rustic furniture had been sold to company executives from Iron Mountain and elsewhere.

Ford declined to enter the building, saying that he preferred to remember it as it was with the sound of children's voices.

Oscar Olson, his prize fiddler, who plays for old-time square dances, was in L'Anse when the industrialist arrived unheralded from his Huron Mountain summer lodge where he spends August each year.

We met Olson at the steps of the village postoffice. He was smoking a pipe, stolidly. He spoke affectionately first of the founder of Pequaming, Charles Hebard.

"Yes, I worked for Yarley Hebard," he said, referring to the English lumberman who laid out the community with wide streets and oak trees, like an English suburban town. "The gov'nor was mighty good to us. Ve allus had a job."

Olson related how the "gov'nor," who ruled the town benevolently like a feudal lord, provided rent-free homes and free water and light and would even "stake" a hard-pressed family with food from his general store until the mill resumed operations or logging work started again. Hebard erected the Union Church building, along Gothic lines, and he attended worship services with the mill hands, an informal friendliness which everyone liked and remembered.

Hebard's son carried on the work for a while, but in 1922 the Ford Motor Company located at L'Anse and the next year it acquired Pequaming along with approximately 500,000 acres of timber land in Baraga county. Big business had arrived.

For many years the Pequaming folk looked to "Governor" Hebard for security of employment. Then a big corporation, backed by multi-millions, became their employer. The workmen thought they had steady jobs for the remainder of their useful days. In old age a retired worker could always fish and trap and grow a few vegetables while enterprising, God-fearing sons and daughters kept the home fires burning.

The shingle-sided cottages resounded with laughter of children, and the modern school had its square dance music led by Oscar Olson, a "supervisor of music," thank you, who now composed his own fiddling numbers. The children delighted Henry Ford on many an occasion by their skill of intricate dance steps.

All this was changed when efficiency experts at Dearborn, influenced perhaps by a few heartless and ruthless executives, decided last year to close down Pequaming and Alberta. The workers could hardly believe the news, but they knew new things might be expected because of the war.

Veteran employees, who enjoyed high seniority rights, were transferred to L'Anse. Confusion was inevitable, but strangely enough, the Pequaming and Alberta families blamed "company politics" for their troubles and they clung to a strange and abiding faith in their former boss, Mr. Ford. Fiddling Oscar Olson, typical of these, said proudly that Ford had "asked" about him on his recent August visit. And the mill superintendent at Pequaming beamed with happiness as he told us how Ford had extended his hand for a friendly greeting. "I never thought I would shake hands with Henry Ford," he said.

The town newspaper editor, M. G. Menge of the L'Anse Sentinel, is merely "Bill" when Henry Ford of Dearborn comes to town. Henry is just that way to people whom he likes.

To the Swedes and Norwegians and Finns of Pequaming and Alberta, the flivver king is still their friend. After he visited Alberta, a town which was entirely his own creation, Ford instructed his new Upper Peninsula superintendent, Leo Gannon from Big Bay, to re-open the mill at once. Telegrams were sent that same day to families, some of them living in Detroit, urging them to return north. Pequaming is next for re-opening.

And when the families do return, as they will of course, it will be solely because Henry Ford is a person of old-fashioned sentiment. He is a man of his word, and the Pequaming and Alberta workers know it.

PROBATE ORDER

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the city of Charlevoix in said County, on the 5th day of August A. D. 1943.

Present: Hon. Leon W. Miller, Emmet County, Judge of Probate Acting in and for Charlevoix County. In the Matter of the Estate of Russell Thomas deceased.

Carrie Thomas having filed in said Court her final administration account, and her petition praying for the allowance thereof and for the assignment and distribution of the residue of said estate, and for her discharge.

It is Ordered, That the 8th day of September A. D. 1943, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for examining and allowing said account and hearing said petition;

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County Herald a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

LEON W. MILLER
adv. 33-3 Acting Judge of Probate

FDR says:
