Bond Drive Is Gaining Momentum

BUT TEMPO MUST BE STEPPED UP TO INSURE THE GOAL.

The drive for selling bonds in the present Drive is progressing well, but the tempo has to be stepped up a little. In other words many have already done their bit, but some have not yet signed for their bit on the dotted line. Some may be thinking they cannot buy a big bond, and what they can do is small in comparison to the total amount. No soldier can do it all, but each can do his part, and all to gether the effort will be victorious.

No one buyer can do it all, but all, and each, measuring up, East Jordan will do its full share. Our love for our country, and our love for our fighting boys, is such we are confident that East Jordan will step up the tempo and go over the top.

This week we publish the paper written by Suzanne Whiteford in the High School contest, and one by Capt. Elizabeth Sidebotham White, who is in charge of recruiting for the War in the States of Georgia and Florida. It should be remembered that the guaranteed wages of each War when she enlists is less than she is sure of in civilian work. That is, each begins as a private, and has no assurance of any higher pay.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT SAYS:—

BACK THE ATTACK

You and I both love Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jones and Miss Brown. But are we doing enough? You see Mrs. Smith just lost her son Johnny. His P-38 was shot down over Berlin. Mrs. Jones lost her husband Bob. His ship was torpedoed in the Pacific. Miss Brown lost her sweetheart. He will never return from Guadalcanal. Your pennies, nickels, and dimes might have saved their lives. All other boys whom we know and who may be very dear to us might not have lost their lives if you and I had given more freely. So be sure to "Back the Attack" with War Bonds and Stamps.

Suzanne Whiteford
High School Student

WOMAN IN THE SERVICE SAYS:

You've heard people say, "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond". Perhaps you've said it yourself without realizing how heartless it sounds to men who are fighting and dying.

During this Fourth War Bond Drive, let's buy that extra bond in addition to the bonds we are now buying or had planned to buy.

Many of us who have entered the Service did not ask ourselves if we could "afford" to do so. Patriotism is a spiritual, not a material thing. We know you are not going to fail materially the millions of men who are representing you in camps, training centers, on Army Transports, and on the battle front? You are going to buy that extra bond aren't you?

Capt. Elizabeth Sidebotham White

4-H Leaders Hold Training Meeting

ALL PHASES OF CLUB ACTIVITIES DISCUSSED BY STATE LEADERS

The annual 4-H Leaders Training Meeting was held in the dining room of the Charlevoix High School last week Wednesday, with a good attendance of club leaders and club friends. Miss Lois Corbett, Assistant State Club Leader, outlined the club projects to those interested in girl's activities, while K. C. Festerling, District 4-H Club Leader, met with the leaders interested in boy's activities.

Mrs. Anna Warner, County Junior Red Cross Supervisor, gave a splendid talk to the leaders relative to the Red Cross program. It was enlightening to learn that all schools in the county are doing Red Cross work except three and they are now being organized.

With war conditions prevailing the 4-H club activities are largely geared up to meet these needs. The requirements for successful completion of projects have been somewhat changed due to the difficulty in buying materials. However, the 4-H club folks are cooperating nicely and we expect some wonderful exhibits when the spring Achievement Day takes place in Charlevoix on April 28th.

Beloved Lady Passes Beyond

MRS. JOHN MONROE WAS RESIDENT OF THIS CITY FOR SIXTY YEARS

Mrs. John Monroe passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kenward, at Gary, Ind., Monday, Jan. 24th, in her 84th year. She had been quite ill since last May.

Catherine Clark was born at Detroit Jan. 30, 1859. She grew to womanhood in that city. On Aug. 30, 1881, she was united in marriage to John Monroe at Detroit. They went to Montreal on a wedding trip and then came to this region via the great lakes, coming in from Charlevoix on a small boat. With them they brought their wedding gifts, home furnishings and a favorite horse and buggy. Coming from Detroit where she was accustomed to comforts, the pioneer life was something new and hard to assimilate.

They built a frame home, just west of what is now the Sportsmen's Park which they occupied. And it was in this home that the first Roman Catholic services at this place were held with an improvised altar and were in charge of a missionary priest. The priest used the horse and buggy in making calls in this region.

Later the dwelling was moved to a location nearly opposite the street from the Eveline Orchards warehouse. This has always been the family home.

Mrs. Monroe always took an active interest in the development of East Jordan from its beginning. A devout Catholic all her life she contributed to the establishment and development of St. Joseph Church.

She always was devoted to fine needlework and her flower garden. For many years her handiwork was outstanding at our county fair. Since its inception she took an active interest in Extension Club work. Her flower garden was always a place of beauty. Of late years she developed a herb garden. She was among the first active members of our Garden Club, and at a Flower Show a few summers ago she had a remarkably fine display of herbs.

Mr. Monroe passed away some 18 years ago.

For several years past Mrs. Monroe had divided her time between her home here, at homes of her two daughters, and her winter home in Florida.

Surviving are the two daughters, Mrs. Fred (Esther) Dye, Detroit; Mrs. Charles (Mabel) Kenward, Gary, Ind., Eleven grandchildren, one great grandchild. Also a sister and brother: Mae Fallette, Batavia, N. Y., Frank Fallette, Phoenix, Arizona. Mrs. Monroe has six grandsons in the armed service of our Country.

The remains were brought to East Jordan. Funeral services were held at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Friday forenoon conducted by the pastor, Rev. Joseph J. Malinowski. Burial was at Calvary cemetery in this city. Bearers were Wm. Swoboda, Bert Lenosky, Chas. Strehl, John Kraemer, Wm. Bashaw, Lawrence Addis.

The two daughters were here to attend the funeral; also a sister-in-law, Mrs. Enga Berg Monroe of Muskegon.

Herbert Lee Evans, 41 Passed Away At A Petoskey Hospital

Herbert Lee Evans passed away at a Petoskey hospital Thursday, Jan. 27, following a brief illness from pneumonia.

Mr. Evans was born in South Arm township, June 25, 1902. As a lad he attended the Miles school.

In 1926 he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Kriss at Muskegon.

Deceased is survived by his wife; his mother, Mrs. Mary Evans, South Arm; a daughter and two sons:— Frances, 17; Lyle, 15; Louis M., 13. Also the following sisters and brother — Goldie Huston, Detroit; Laura Lindenau, Boyne City; Delia Bancroft, South Arm; Lynn Evans, Detroit; Francis Evans, Lansing.

Funeral services were held at the Full Gospel Church, Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30th, conducted by Rev. G. F. Lewis. Burial was at Maple Lawn, Boyne City. Bearers were Delbert Ingalls, Howard Donaldson, Milton Donaldson, Douglas Gilkerson, James Addis, Kenneth Slough.

Among those here to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Houston, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Evans, Lansing; Lynn L. Evans, Detroit.

To Friends of The Herald

For some time past members of The Herald staff have been encountering two pet peeves and we are asking you to ease these for us.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

In writing in for a change of address, please give your OLD address as well as NEW. We have before us a line from a lady asking to change her address to a certain town. Now the writer knows the lady well, but just where The Herald is now going is a problem.

COPY IN WEDNESDAYS

All copy intended for the first page of The Herald SHOULD be in our office not later than Wednesday noon of each week to insure publication. Many articles are brought in late Wednesday afternoon that could have just as well been in our hands on Monday. A little consideration on the part of contributors could save us a lot of late hours Wednesday night. Last Wednesday, to put it mildly the late copy was "rummy."

May we ask your co-operation in these two matters.

Thanks a Lot,

LOSE LAST TWO CONTESTS BY QUITE A MARGIN

In the last two basketball games played, the East Jordan basketeers fell victims to Harbor Springs by a score of 41 to 26, and Charlevoix defeated us again, by a score of 32 to 20. This is the second defeat suffered in the hands of both opponents.

The main difficulty encountered by the boys of the Red and Black, was scoring. Their defensive work as a whole is very good, although the scores tend to show differently. In both instances our opponents have done most of their scoring in the first or second quarters. This may be attributed to a lack of experience. No matter how the score may be going—for or against them the East Jordan squad continues to put every effort forward until the final horn.

In the Harbor game, Allarding and Smith were our big head-aches. Allarding scoring 12 of his 15 points in the first half, while Smith scored 10 of his 11 points in the last half. In the Charlevoix game, most of the scoring was done by Bellinger, who made 19 of Charlevoix's 32 points.

Regardless of how the boys have made out in previous games, it is hoped that there will be a large crowd present at the East Jordan gym Saturday night February 5 to see the East Jordan — Pellston game. Of one thing you may be certain, Pellston has a very fine outfit, and should show us a good brand of basketball.

U. S. 'Experts' Baffled By Complicated Income Tax Form

Cleveland—Five reporters of the Cleveland Press went to the north-eastern Ohio internal revenue district office Monday to learn how government tax experts figure out those mathematical problems.

Unknown to the deputy collectors, the reporters presented five identical statements of income with tax payments and claimed deductions to five different experts. The results should have been the same, but—

One reporter owed the government $246.10, another was entitled to a refund of $13.33. Other results were a debt of $12.55 and refunds of $8.23 and $9.21.

District Collector Thomas Carey said he would investigate.

Farm Loan Ass'n's Consolidated

PLAN TO MAKE CASH REIMBURSEMENTS TO FORMER STOCKHOLDERS

Consolidation of the Charlevoix County and Springvale National Farm Loan Associations with five other associations in Antrim, Emmet, Charlevoix and Otsego Counties, and adoption of a "rehabilitation plan" offered by the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul was unanimously approved on January 18th, 1944 by stockholders of these two associations. The plan is intended to put associations on a sound operating basis for the future making of land bank loans.

An essential feature of the plan is reimbursement in cash to every former association member who has repaid his loan in full, the full par value of his association stock if he did not get such reimbursement when he paid his loan.

The plan had already been approved by directors of 440 associations in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota, and is now being submitted to members for ratification. The other associations in the four countries mentioned have also approved the plan.

The new association will complete the organization of a board of five directors to take the place of the seven present boards of thirty-five directors, and will take over Antrim, Emmet, Charlevoix and Otsego Counties. Directors named to the new board are: Henry J. Korhase of Boyne City, Harry Bos of Ellsworth, Sim J. Lewis of Gaylord, Richard T. O'Reilly of Alanson and George Ramey of Harbor Springs.

The farmers who get a long-term federal land bank farm mortgage loan joins a local National Farm Loan Association and takes stock in the association on the basis of a $5 share for each $100.00 of his loan. When he completes repayment of the loan his stock is retired and cancelled, he is repaid the $5 per share and he gives up his association membership.

Many associations have carried out these terms and have redeemed their stock when loans were repaid, but some were unable to do so because of financial losses. Those that were unable gave the retiring members retirement certificates in the expectation that better crops would make it possible to redeem these certificates at some future time. The land bank rehabilitation plan will make this redemption possible. In the five counties now served from the Boyne City office payments to the former members will total approximately $12,000.

Considerable economy and increased efficiency of operations is expected to result from other provisions. The number of associations will be reduced from the present 476 to about 200, overlapping of territory will be minimized between associations approving the plan, association boundary lines will be altered in some instances and the location of a few group offices will be changed with some regrouping of associations.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

House Votes $300 Discharge Bonus;
U. S. Bombers Rip Nazi Supply Lines;
Red Army Continues Push on Baltic;
Peace Rumors Spiked by British Press

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

DISCHARGE PAY:

House Votes $300

Arguing that higher payments would represent a soldier's bonus which should be left for later discussion, the house passed a bill providing for mustering-out pay of $300 to discharged vets with 60 days' service and $100 to those released before 60 days.

With 15,000,000 vets including those already discharged standing to benefit from the measure, total cost of payments was estimated at 3 1/2 billion dollars.

After passage by the house, the bill was sent for approval to the senate, which previously enacted legislation providing for maximum payments ranging from $500 to vets overseas for 18 months or more, to $200 to those with less than 12 months' service in the U. S. Unless the senate okayed the house bill, parliamentary procedure required the two chambers to get together to work out new legislation.

EUROPE:

Pound Supply Lines

U. S. bombers ripped rail lines supplying German troops in southern Italy as American and British forces pressed against the Nazis' winter-line centered on Cassino, key to the road to Rome.

With two of three main rail lines temporarily put out of use, the enemy was forced to route supplies over bomb-pocked highways, some of which were snarled by the wreckage of bridges.

As U. S. artillery laid down a curtain of thunderous fire over German defense emplacements before Cassino preparatory to the infantry's charge forward, British units to the west engaged Nazi troops along the Garigliano river.

Along the Adriatic coast to the east, Canadian forces were held to short gains in hard, close-in fighting.

U. S. HEMP:

Cut Production

Because of the improvement in imports from the Caribbean and Mediterranean areas, the government's hemp-growing program in the Middle West will be cut to one-third of 1943 production, and only 14 of 42 processing plants will be kept in operation.

Raised on contract to the government, farmers found hemp profitable last year, their net yield per acre being larger than from any other crop in the nation, in some cases reaching $200, it was said.

In seeking to relieve a threatened hemp shortage after the outbreak of war, the government undertook construction of processing plants in 42 communities, and arranged for farmers to grow 4,000 acres of the fiber in each of the districts. The plants were erected at an estimated cost of $100,000 each.

LABOR DRAFT:

Pro and Con

While Secretary of War Henry Stimson told a senate committee that a labor draft would equalize soldier and civilian sacrifices, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, headed by William Green, said that the organization would never surrender the basic freedom of the country's workers.

Likening a labor draft as a shot in the arm for the nation's patriotism, Stimson said the first flush of enterprise excited by the Pearl Harbor attack has worn off, and now "the stern voice of law" is needed to "keep up the patriotic emotion."

Declaring that in freedom there is strength, the AFL council asserted that the "amazing speed with which free American workers have won the battle of war production against the enemy within two years upholds the truth of that principle."

Chance for passage of the labor draft dwindled with the house's pigeon-holing of the measure.

New Britain—Marines wade through swampland on New Britain front. (See: Pacific Front.)

PACIFIC FRONT:

MacArthur to Stay

U. S. medium and heavy bombers ranged widely over the Pacific, blasting Jap bases supplying hard pressed enemy troops, and hitting installations and airfields in the strategic Marshall islands.

As U. S. armies were pinning the foe back in the South Pacific area, Secretary of War Henry Stimson announced in Washington, D. C., that General MacArthur would not be retired when he reached the age of 64 on January 29. Retired at his own request in 1937, MacArthur was recalled to active duty following the outbreak of World War II.

In New Guinea, U. S. bombers smashed at the Jap base of Wewak, above American positions at Saidor; and in New Britain, explosives were dropped on the big feeder center of Rabaul, and on barges carrying supplies along the coasts.

RUSSIA:

Baltic Push

Preceded by a thunderous barrage of heavy artillery, Russ infantry pushed into German lines below Leningrad, and cut the enemy's rail communications farther to the south, 70 miles from the Latvian border.

The Reds were reported to have thrown 250,000 men into the battle on a 250 mile front, and units of Russia's Baltic fleet stationed near Leningrad were said to have participated in the bombardment of German positions prior to the big push.

Stiffening German resistance slowed the Reds' progress on other fronts, with the Nazis reporting continuance of Russ efforts to break through in the prewar Polish area of White Russia.

Peace Rumors

With the Allied world still wondering over Russia's semi-official publication of a rumor that two former British statesmen had discussed a separate peace with German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop, Stalin permitted reproduction of a London newspaper's story that Britain had received specific peace terms from Hitler under which the Nazis would withdraw to their 1939 prewar boundaries.

Although Britain remained indignant over the Reds' implication that she was double-dealing, and the U. S. continued puzzled over why Stalin should have allowed publication of the rumor, Russia's man in the street was led to suspect British intentions.

AIRPLANE PROGRAM:

Bigger Types

No. 1 industry of the U. S. today, aircraft plants will set their sights on production of more than 100,000 planes of heavier weight in 1944.

More than 50 per cent of production will be of combat-type planes, with a decrease in output of trainer and obsolete craft. Facilities now being used to turn out the latter two types will be converted to manufacturing parts for other models.

The swing toward heavier planes marks a trend toward production of craft carrying bigger guns and bomb loads. Total weight of planes is expected to approximate 1 billion pounds, compared with 750 million pounds in 1943.

DEPOSIT IN KETTLE

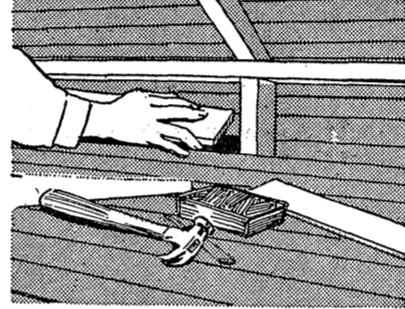

Question: Can you tell me how I can get rid of the lime that has settled on the inside of my cast aluminum kettle?

Answer: There are several ways of removing that hard water deposit. Fill the kettle with water mixed with cider vinegar in the proportion of a cupful to a quart. Bring to a boil and allow to stand overnight. Another way is to mash three or four raw potatoes in the kettle with a little water. After standing for several hours, more water is added, and the whole is brought to a boil. To prevent scale from forming, keep an oyster shell or flat stone in the kettle.

In hard water sections of the country, a teakettle with a spout is not so practical as an ordinary saucepan. (Have you thought of installing a water softening unit after the war?) The following item was sent in by one of our readers: "My mother advised me to empty my kettles of remaining hot water and set them away with fresh cold water in them. I followed her advice for eight years now, and have no scale in either my copper water pan or enameled teakettle."

STUD SPACES

Question: In my house the spaces between the studs are open to the cellar, and run all the way to the attic. The house is 15 years old, and the builder tells me that those spaces should be closed. What advantage would there be in closing them?

Answer: With those spaces open to the cellar and attic there is a continual draft through them. In winter this draft tends to chill the house, and, at all times, it would suck a cellar fire into the walls. There is every advantage in closing those spaces.

Drier Basket Stuck Fast

Question: We bought a second-hand washing machine. The directions said to remove the agitator and drier basket to clean the tub after each washing is done. The drier basket evidently is so caked with soap that it will not budge. The manufacturer's suggestion was to force it out with rope, but still the basket won't budge. What can you suggest?

Answer: Try soaking with a hot solution of washing soda, about two pounds to the gallon of water. Allow to soak for 24 hours or so, then try to remove the basket. It may be that the basket is jammed on the shaft. A machine-shop mechanic or your plumber may be able to remove it for you.

Wavy Shingles

Question: What makes a new asbestos shingle roof full of waves, instead of lying flat? Is there any remedy?

Answer: Asbestos shingles are rigid. You probably have asphalt shingles on your roof. These, when put on over wood shingles without filling in the hollow spaces at the butts of the old shingles, will follow the contour of the roofing under it when the heat of the sun softens the asphalt. Bevel or "feather-edge" wood strips should have been used to make a level surface for new shingles. Nothing can be done to eliminate the waviness except to re-lay the shingles.

Insulating a House

Question: What is the best time of year to have insulation blown into a dwelling? When openings are made in winter, is not the cold, damp air trapped inside the walls?

Answer: Insulation can be blown in at any time of year, provided the weather is clear. Cold weather will not affect the efficiency of the material used.

Mixing Paint

Question: Can you give me information on mixing paint or tell me where I can get a chart for mixing paint to get different colors?

Answer: Write to the Lead Industries Association, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, for the information that you require.

Cedar Lining

Question: The cedar wood lining in our clothes closet has dried out and no much scent remains. What can I do to bring back the cedar scent?

Answer: You might be able to restore the cedar odor by scraping or planing off some of the surface of the boards. If this fails, you can coat it with a liquid containing a cedar odor. For the name of this product, write to the Architects Samples Exhibit, 101 Park Avenue, New York.

In the Navy a floor is a "deck," doors are "bulkheads," downstairs is "below," and a cigarette is a "Camel." At least, Camel is the favorite cigarette among Navy men, as it is among men in the Army, Marines, and Coast Guard. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And a carton of Camels is a favorite gift. Though there are now Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

Reveille on the Jordan

Just a little message to the boys in the service from the folks back home. Sponsored by the East Jordan Community Service Club.

Reveille on the Jordan

Both radio and newspapers have been blazing the following high spot in today's news: "Red Arrow Division to Return Home Soon." As we stop to consider this bit of news we are reminded that there are some to whom this paper is sent each week who are included in this 32nd division, that are members of the 126th Infantry. This group have been gone from home for so long now, some of us may have forgotten who of our number are included in this division, so for our memories we will list those whom we have record of. They are S. Sgt. WILLIAM F. (TINY) CIHAK, CPL. FRANK CIHAK, Pvt. ERNEST DALE RICHNER, Lt. CARLTON H. SMITH, and Sgt. ALBERT JACKSON who is listed with the 128th Infantry but is now in a group filling in for the 126th Infantry. We are not certain whether or not he is included in the group to return home.

Let us also review some of the campaigns of this Infantry, the former Michigan National Guard regiment from Western Michigan. This particular infantry was trained at both Camp Beauregard and later at Camp Livingston, La., and also received some training at Fort Devens, Mass., in the spring of 1942 the division was sent to a Pacific Coast embarkation point where it left for Australia in April, 1942.

Although the history of the 126th Infantry goes back to the Spanish American war, memories of it's citation in this conflict are permanently fixed in our minds. We all remember of the anxiety of those back home when they made part of the spearhead attack which repulsed the Japs in New Guinea during the months of October, November, and December 1942. As our memories turn back to this campaign, including the battles of the Sannada Road, at Buna, and over the Owen Stanley mountain trails, we recall also that it was at this time that Dale Richner and Tiny Cihak were injured, the first casualties reported for this immediate area. Since that time Frank Cihak has also been wounded and is now already back in the states recuperating in a hospital in Dansville, Kentucky.

Many heroic chapters were written during this campaign and all of us should be and are proud of the part that those of our group have played in it, in their performance of duty not only, but also knowing that these men were giving their all for us.

We know that all of you will agree with us when we say that if any of our fighting men are deserving of a trip home, then surely these men are, having spent approximately 3 years in the service and 22 months in active combat, during which time we know that they have given their best.

It is supposed that these returning soldiers will be given leaves at home and then will be assigned to camps in America. May their return be soon. Your friends at home, Henry Drenth

NEWS FROM THE HOME FRONT

Surprises were in store for two of our servicemen this past week. HARRY MOORE and RUSSELL CONWAY both arrived home unexpectedly as neither of them knew they were coming home soon enough to inform anyone at home. Harry pulled in from Camp Campbell, Kentucky where he has recently been sent following his participation in the Tennessee maneuvers. To Harry the overcrowded conditions in trains and buses are no obstacle in his way of traveling as long as his thumb remains on his right hand, at least we gather this when 27 hours is all the time required to travel from Kentucky to Northern Michigan. Harry reports liking the army life O.K. except that spending Christmas day on a bivouac in a corn field with mud up to your knees sn't too much fun, although he did say it could have been worse as his job is driving the truck that pull the chuck wagon from place to place which allows him to eat as much and as often as he wishes. Harry expects that his present location in Kentucky is merely a stopping off place. Russell who has just been moved from Fort Benning to Lexington, Virginia, also made use of his thumb for at least part of the distance, having taken the train only to Grand Rapids. From Fort Benning, where he had the pleasure of spending much time with LELAND HICKOX, Russell carried with him memories of many and varied experiences, one of these being able to see the heavyweight boxing champion of the world, Joe Louis. Although the training was plenty rugged we see that he has gained in weight, nevertheless. At Lexington, Russell is to take up an engineering course similar to which his friend, Leland has taken, which will occupy his time for a period of some months, after which he expects another furlough. We were glad to hear from Russell that Leland is recuperating nicely from a seige of pneumonia which has laid him up in a hospital for a couple of weeks. HARRY WATSON has now left the old home town to report to Detroit for his new station. There is always something to show for Harry's having been home, don't look at his dad's car. Rumors have it that JOHN SMITH, RONALD HOLLAND and GERALD DAVIS are expected home soon, but more of that next week.

A Muskegon friend of Reveille on the Jordan sent in the following clipping taken from the Muskegon Chronicle. . . .

Vivian Maze To Wed Lieut. of East Jordan, From the Muskegon Chronicle of January 15, 1944.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Vivian Maze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Maze of 190 Jiroch street, to Lt. Arthur M. Rude son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rude of East Jordan.

Miss Maze has been circulation manager of The Education Digest in Ann Arbor for the past year and a half. Lt. Rude is in the Ordnance division of the U. S. army at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Both Miss Maze and Lt. Rude were graduated from the University of Michigan in May 1942. The wedding is planned for the near future.

Several of our servicemen have recently left the shores of the U.S.A. for foreign duty. Last week we mentioned that BILL SWOBODA and FRANK STREHL had left the shores but as yet we have not heard of their destination. Others that have left for foreign duty since that time are FRANK CROWELL and BERNARD SPURGELL.

By coincidence, CLIFF GREEN finds himself in the same kind of a place he was a year ago, that is in a hospital. The only difference is this, last year Cliff was a private in a hospital in Montana and now on New Year's Day of this year he is a sergeant and in a hospital overseas. Cliff says that they have completed two of their missions and are now in for a long rest, which may account for his stay in the hospital as he says he feels good and has a hearty appetite. We appreciate your being a regular correspondent even though you haven't received a paper for three months. This reminds us that your brother CLYDE has not written in for several months and would like to hear from him again. . . . One of the many changes of address this week comes from ROBERT LAPEER who has recently been transferred to the medical but is still at Camp White, Oregon. According to the tone of Robert's letter he sounds rather prejudiced against the Waac's but we don't think he means it quite as strong as he put it. . . . A happy meeting took place recently out in the islands of the South Pacific when FRED BECHTOLD and ROY HOTT had the pleasure of seeing each other. As far as we know this is the first time either Fred or Roy had met any of their own acquaintance from home. Fred is with the marines and Roy is with the army. . . . In one of our recent writings we made mention of a change of address for BOB KISER from which we deducted that he had been sent out to sea. However, during the past week an interesting letter was received from Bob which intimates that he is still on shore and is attending classes to further his knowledge of medical studies. Bob's rate in the naval hospital corps has been changed to H. A. 1c and finds the work connected therewith to be very interesting. We hesitate to repeat some of Bob's present studies as we feel they are too deep for the most of us, but gather they have something to do with a person's anatomy or something. . . . The attitude expressed in this letter can best be determined from his own words, — "I sure does please me to hear that so many of the boys are having the opportunity of being home, especially for the holidays. Judging from what I know now it will be the middle or latter part of 1945 before I'm home but if it helps to contribute to winning the war I don't really mind." . . . The outfit that NOLIN DOUGHERTY is with is now at Camp Lockett, Calif., having moved from Fort Reno, Oklahoma. This of course is a much longer distance from his brother, Calvin, who he was able to see quite often when at his old location. . . . Up in this part of the country we think it quite nobby to be able to go to Florida for the winter, but FORREST ROGERS probably has a different idea about this as we hear that he had the misfortune of running into too many scarlet fever germs at one time. Forrest made the trip by Pullman from Chicago to Sanford, Florida and is now in the hospital there. We hope that your recovery is near at hand and in the meantime you should have time for a letter or two. . . . Of the two Gee brothers in the service DALE, now a corporal, does not consider himself as fortunate as RUSSELL, who has been home three times while Dale has not yet been accorded a furlough by his commanding officer. We were glad to hear that the paper reaches Dale so soon after mailing and hope with him that he will be able to have that first furlough within a month or two. . . . Another soldier expecting a furlough soon is PHILLIP "BUCK" FISHER who according to his mother will have finished his training at Camp Callen, California, by the last of January and then hopes he can come home for a short time. . . . Word recently received by the Archie Gramms, is that their son ARCHIE Jr., "DUDE" is still located somewhere in the Hawaiian Islands and has been kept busy. He also has informed his

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

There were 26 at the Star Sunday School Jan. 30. Miss Dorothy McDonald had 14 in her infant class.

Rosco Barber of Knoll Krest left by bus Sunday afternoon for Detroit to report for service duty.

Misses Beverly Bennet of Honey Slope farm and Arlene Hayden of Pleasant View farm took advantage of the holiday Friday and visited the Boyne City school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Leu of Orchard Bay farm and Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden and six younger children of Pleasant View farm spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer in Chaddock District.

Miss Orveline Bennett of Honey Slope farm spent Saturday with her grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Papinaw in Boyne City, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Bennett and son, Rex also spent Sunday with Mrs. Papinaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Little and son, Charles Wm. and Richard Knox of Royal Oak spent the week end with Mrs. Little's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crane at Cedar Lodge. They returned Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Westerman and two children who have occupied the F. H. Wangeman place in Three Bells Dist. the past 7 years expects to move to a place 2 1/2 miles North of Charlevoix soon.

parents that mail from him in the future will be about as irregular as it has been in coming as it seems that for some reason or other the papers are held up until finally he had the pleasure of receiving four at once, or was it a pleasure? . . . From Oklahoma City GLENN TROJANEK reports the misfortune of having been put out of action for the past couple of weeks due to a broken wrist. Because of this little accident he was transferred temporarily from the drafting board to the editing staff and as Glenn puts it, the editing staff has to do with the correcting of the finished maps and charts before they go to reproduction but does not compare with the more interesting work of the drafting board where a person can see his work grow until the map is finished. This too sounds very interesting to us and we hope that the broken wrist will not be responsible for keeping you from this for too long a time. As far as that ice skating is concerned, we believe your opportunity for skating in Oklahoma is about as good as ours, as our skating rink, upon which so much time was spent, has nearly vanished due to the excellent weather we have enjoyed. . . . BUD BUGAI is all dolled up with a cadet hat and emblems which he received on January 24th at Nashville, Tennessee, where he completed his exams satisfactorily. He previously had been attending the University of Syracuse in New York and is now awaiting transfer from Nashville. . . . Another transfer reported this week is for VESTAL CLARK, who remained with his same outfit but is now at Camp Pickett, Virginia having moved from Camp Bradford. . . . By the looks of address changes that came in for CARL GRUTSCH and EDWARD J. STANEK, these fellows may be on their way overseas. . . . Your new serviceman this week is ROBERT WALKER. Robert is with the army and is located with a field artillery unit at Camp Roberts, California. Hope you will enjoy your army life and that you will keep us posted as to your experiences.

With this same expression and wish to all, we sign off Reveille for another week.

Your correspondent and Friend,
Henry Drenth

Clayton Healey of Willow Brook farm, A. B. Nicloy of Sunny Slopes farm, Ray Loomis of Gravel Hill North Side and Joe Leu of Orchard Bay farm plan to go to East Lansing Monday evening to attend Farmer's week. They plan to go in the Healey car.

The cream truck made the ridge Friday, January 28. The first time since Dec. 21, and the mail came through Saturday the first time since before Christmas. The mild weather has taken the snow all off except in very large drifts, and traffic was resumed on the ridge road Sunday normally.

Carl Beyer was home on furlough spent his time with Mrs. Beyers lough from training camp in Miami, and little son, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyer in Chaddock Dist. returning to Camp Sunday afternoon. He is about to be transferred from the radio training to an air school some where in the south. He spent Thursday afternoon with his sister Mrs. F. K. Hayden at Pleasant View farm.

Hayden of Pleasant View farm spent Saturday with her. With the bad weather of the past few weeks, the Domestic Science noon day lunch has been a life saver to many boys and girls who come a long way and are forced to eat a cold lunch. From an average of about thirty, it jumped up this week to 150 for two days.

(Three columns of the front page are devoted to the death and a summary of the life of Woodrow Wilson.) Northern Michigan dug itself out of a snow blanket and drifts one to ten feet deep, Wednesday of this week. The storm lasted three days during which East Jordan was without mail. While E. J. & S. kept their line open, the Pere Marquette was badly handicapped below Traverse City. The Detroit & Charlevoix was again snow-bound. No trains have moved over it for a week.

H. S. Student Contest Most Gratifying

The High School contest for the best article on "Back the Attack" has been very successful. The State Bank offered three prizes for the best three papers.

The response was gratifying. The students worked, worked hard, and the results showed it. There was a length limit on the articles, and there were excellent papers ruled out because the limit was exceeded. Only three prizes could be awarded, but there were other papers that were so good that in an ordinary contest they could have had a place with the winners.

The first prize went to Margaret Collins whose article was printed last week; the second went to Suzanne Whiteford and here is published this week; the third to Anna Gibbard and her's will be printed next week.

Honorable mention goes to Victor Ayers, Donna Holland and Gerda Nielson.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A Wisconsin truck driver recently received a tribute from the Office of the Rubber Director because he risked his life to save the tires on the trailer of a tractor-trailer unit he was driving. The trailer caught fire, but the driver jacked it up and removed the tires while it was ablaze.

The far-reaching influence of the rubber situation will be appreciated when it is known that close to 40% of the motor vehicles ever made in this country were still in service in December, 1941. More than half of them were owned by families with incomes of less than $30 a week.

Indian BEEF

by HAROLD CHANNING WIRE

LEW BURNET has been engaged by TOM ARNOLD, owner of the Cross T, to act as trail boss on the drive from southern Texas to Ogallala in the spring of 1942. Tom, with his son and daughter, STEVE and JOY, are moving to Wyoming. Tom must deliver 3,000 longhorns to the Indian agent by September 1 or lose a profitable contract. Lew has reason to believe that the Indian Supply Co. is trying to delay the Cross T herd. He suspects that Clay, Steve and ED SPLANN are in some way connected with the company, but he does not wish to make charges until he is sure. The drive gets started, but CLAY MANNING, foreman, and ED SPLANN, a new hand, rebel at Lew's orders.

CHAPTER VI

From the point he saw Steve and Clay and Splann gather far behind him. They rode like that for most of the afternoon.

The two white-topped wagons had vanished early northward over a swell of ground. It was almost dark when he saw Owl-Head's plume of smoke. He waved Joe Wheat up to take his place. To Quarternight he said, "I'm going on."

There was something he wanted to look at before the longhorns' hoofs trampled out all sign. His knowledge that Cross T horses had been run up Crazy Woman Creek to these plains had gnawed inside of him, his puzzle only half clear. Now a deep notch in the plain's edge to the east marked the entrance to Crazy Woman. While off on his left was the tank, a natural hollow covering several acres. It still held enough muddy water, he saw, from the winter's rain, and brought himself to a sudden stop next moment.

It was clear enough in his mind that the Indian Supply herd had needed horses and had got them by trading Cross T stock via the New Mexico exchange. The men who had caught him near Crazy Woman were not only rustlers but part of the Indian Supply crew. Yet what still had no answer was Clay Manning's part in that deal.

Approaching camp where the two wagons had stopped beside the tank's rim, he saw the charred embers of other camps near the cook's fire. Owl-Head rose from stirring something in a Dutch oven and jerked a thumb toward them. "What do you make of that?"

He didn't say. No use spreading what he knew. But Moonlight Bailey, driving ahead of the longhorns with his horse herd, had cut that trail from Crazy Woman. He was riding in between the wagons now, a small brown man with a bullfrog voice.

"By Judas, Lew!" he burst out, "I know where our saddle stock went!"

"All right. Keep it to yourself." "Keep it!" Moonlight's round, simple face turned dusty red. "Tom's ribbed me plenty for losin' horses. If I hadn't listened to Clay, him tellin' me there was no use lookin'—"

"Moonlight," he said, "shut up!" He had seen the canvas of Joy's wagon open. "Now you mind!" Then he heard her voice behind him. "Lew, come here."

He wheeled his horse around. She was sitting on the blankets of her bed, her hat off and her dark hair falling loose.

"What was Moonlight saying?" "Nothing," he said. "Your wrangler sleeps out in the moon too much. He sees things."

"No. It was about the horses and I've been thinking it wasn't possible for twenty or thirty head to vanish the way they did. What has Moonlight found?"

He didn't want to worry her with mysteries, and yet he didn't want this discovery to get back to Clay Manning either. He said, "That's right, it was about the horses. Moonlight thinks he has the answer. I don't think he has. But let it go for now, will you? Don't talk."

She nodded and smiled a little. "I learned to keep things to myself, Lew, long ago. I've had such a good example from you men."

He grinned, and yet, riding from her, he hated that any doubt and suspicion should begin to trouble her so early on the trail.

no sound broke the almost silent thrust of the wind. Here on the flat plain, with nothing to strike against, it made only a thin hiss through the short grass. Then the ragged black pool was ahead of him. He could see the way they had swung north now in the direction the wind was blowing and knew they were held from a run so far because no leader had started it off.

His tight fear had to be broken. He understood the slim chance a man would have caught in that mass if it jumped suddenly into its blind stampede. But there was no other way; he rode directly in among the hard, unyielding bodies.

The familiarity of a horseman, his voice lifted in a wordless crooning, seemed to ease their dumb brains. They began to move aside. They brought their heads down. He crowded on, weaving toward the middle.

There were other riders around him in the dusty dark. Ghost shapes appeared higher than the ridgepole backs and vanished.

Until after midnight he had a certain hope. These storms came up with the suddenness of a hurricane, then often ended in a short time as abruptly as they had come. But at midnight the wind was still rising with a harder thrust. It would not end soon. By three it was blowing with a strength that made his horse unsteady. He knew the time by the strange unearthly light beginning to show a little of the herd around him. Their low-moaning complaint had gone on these hours. They began to move now in a solid way, too tired to stand any longer, too restless to lie down.

"Breakfast, Lew? Got some beans with plenty of sand."

Riding back in the first dusty brown light of dawn, he saw that Moonlight Bailey had already met one danger by leading four mares on picket ropes. Most of the horses were crowding up close. They would not desert their ladies. Jim Hope was riding behind them to catch any drift.

From the campfire, loading up his kegs for an early start, Owl-Head yelled, "Breakfast, Lew? Got some beans with plenty of sand!"

He shook his head and rode on to where Joy's mules were harnessed. She was up on the wagon seat with a handkerchief across her nose and mouth, ready to drive. He stepped down and tied the mules' halter ropes to the tail gate of the chuck wagon. He had to shout above the slapping rattle of canvas. "Get inside!"

Only the blinking squint of her eyes showed over the handkerchief edge. Her voice reached him stubbornly. "This is my job!"

He moved back to her, head down and leaning against the wind. "You want to go blind?" Sliding his arms under her legs and behind her back, he carried her to the rear end and put her in on the wagon bed. He grinned, feeling the dust dry in his mouth. "You won't miss anything. Don't stick your head out today."

She pulled the handkerchief down, squinting up at his red-rimmed, burning eyes. "Have you had any sleep at all?"

for a distance that he could neither see nor guess. And above the rumble and clack of their walk the open-mouthed groaning rose to a sharper key that turned a man's nerves raw.

He could no longer locate his rock piles; only a slim chance would let him blunder onto the double butte. Each hour he could feel himself being pressed farther into the desert of the Staked Plain, beyond the last water that he knew.

Dragging off his saddle and throwing it onto the fresh horse that Jim Hope brought, he spied two masked figures butting into the wind. Moving toward them, he recognized Clay Manning and Tom Arnold. They were shouting together.

He wanted a moment's talk, somehow the reassurance of other men's words. Bending beside them he yelled, "We've sure hit a bad one!"

It was Clay next to him. His head turned. The violence of his answer bulged the handkerchief from his mouth. "A hell of a time to think of that! How you going to get us out of this?"

Tight nerves snapped. "Fly out! You got a better way?" "Did have," Clay flung back. "It was a fool move at the start!"

"Lew?" Tom Arnold thrust himself in front of them. He looked shrunken and dried out. "You got any idea where we are?"

He couldn't have; they knew that. He shook his head and started to say, "All we can do—" A lash of the old man's temper cut him off.

"Then, by God, I'm damned if I know what you're here for! This was no way to come!"

He had no answer; you didn't fight Tom Arnold's temper. It would cool. And he understood the bitterness of what the man could lose. But at the same time he saw the quick vengeance in Clay Manning's blood-shot eyes. He had got in his word with Tom.

There was a horse bolting toward them through the dust. He didn't see for an instant that it was running loose, its head up high searching for the herd, and that a man was hunched over, clinging to the saddle horn with both hands. He grabbed its bridle. The sudden stop flung the rider down into his arms. He pulled the handkerchief off. It was Steve. Both of his eyes were glued shut, the swollen red lids puffed out of their sockets.

Struggling in the wind he brought the slack body up against him. "Steve!" He yelled. "It's all right, boy. Try to walk." Close to his side Tom Arnold shouted, "Get him to the girl's wagon!" and reached out to help.

"Don't worry," he said to Joy. "Bathe his eyes and let him rest. He'll be all right." He swung from her and fought back to his horse.

But her look went with him, turning him cold with what it showed. This was what it meant to be a trail boss. Whatever happened he would get a little credit—and all the blame.

Steve, he knew, was only the beginning. By nightfall he had led others one by one back to the wagons. For a short time all the dusty air around him had turned to gold. It was blood red now in the sunset as he crossed the front of the herd, counting his men.

Five were left spaced at far-apart intervals; himself, three older hands, Quarternight, Joe Wheat and Ash Brownstone and Charley Storms. As he passed each one he warned them, "Don't try to stick it too long."

Sheer fatigue had slackened the pace. It was again a slow walk but as relentless as a powerful machine. Thirst was what drove these animals now, a mad fever that would keep them going until they found water or dropped dead. Their hoarse and frenzied bawling was swept forward around him in waves that rose and fell and sometimes burst into almost human screams.

If he hadn't known this same experience once before he would not believe that men or beasts could hold through another hour. You reached an absolute limit, and then what kept you going he didn't know. Yet his awareness of being dead tired had passed; a dull, slack feeling had come over his body. It was as if he had no weight. He locked both hands on the saddle horn and let his head nod.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS FEEDS THE MULTITUDES

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:35-44; 8:1-9. GOLDEN TEXT—I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.—John 6:35.

Hungry! That word describes the crying need of the greater part of the world's population. Men who have ventured themselves because of their ability and ingenuity have brought the nations of the earth into such awful confusion that even God's abundant provision cannot reach the needy ones.

God is concerned about man's physical need just as truly as He is about spiritual needs. This story brings Christianity into action on a level that all will appreciate—the need of food for the body. It works there as it does everywhere.

The supply of every need of man is God. "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus" (Phil. 4:19). Countless Christians have found it to be true that we may trust God—completely—and for everything.

The stories of the feeding of the two groups of people show the wrong and the right attitude toward man's need. In two approaches to the problem the disciples were wrong. Then Christ showed them the right way.

I. They Can Take Care of Their Own Need (6:35, 36). "Send them away"—that was the plea of the disciples when the multitude of those who had followed Him became hungry. The people were there because they were interested in Christ. They had come in a hurry (v. 33) and had not brought food. The problem was on the disciples' hands, and they sought the easiest way out. Let them shift for themselves—"Send them away."

The church has followed their example in dealing with the social problems of the people down through the years. The result is that being denied fellowship, comfort, and help by a church which was too busy building up a vast organization or a beautiful order of worship, the common people have responded to the appeal of political leaders who have provided a substitute for what the church should have given them.

When Jesus put upon them the direct responsibility to feed the people, the disciples changed their "slogan" and said:

II. We Should Like to Help, but We Cannot (6:37). Reckoning hastily on what a small boy had brought for his lunch (trust an alert boy to be ready!), the disciples soon demonstrated that it was impossible to feed this great throng. (See similar reasoning in Mark 8:4.)

Logic is such a devastating thing when it operates apart from faith in God. They were absolutely right in their reasoning and in their calculations, but they had forgotten the one factor that really counted. Jesus was there, and Jesus is God, and God is omnipotent.

As we face the need of the world now and after the war, we wonder how the peoples of other lands can be fed without depriving our own land of what it needs. It is a great problem, and we ought to pray for those who must work with it.

But let us not forget that all that we have comes from God, and that He is able to do "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think" (Eph. 3:20). The Christ who multiplied the loaves and fishes is our Living Lord today, and ready and able to do it again.

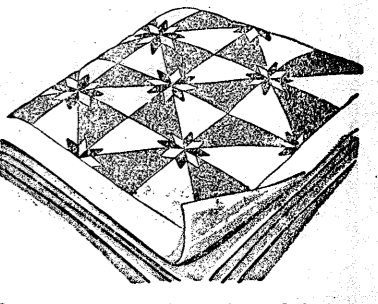

III. Jesus Said, "I Have Compassion on the Multitude" (6:36-44; 8:1-9). He started right. Instead of shutting his heart against the tender desire to help, He let His love for the people control. Then instead of magnifying the difficulties, He multiplied the provisions. And lo, there was enough for all, and to spare.

"He commanded . . . and they did all eat" (vv. 39, 42). When God speaks, all the limitations of the finite disappear, and the needs of men are fully met—with "twelve baskets full of fragments" left over!

Note the orderly manner in which our Lord met this situation. Five thousand men, with women and children to swell the throng, were seated on the grass. Jesus took the loaves and fishes and blessed them. You who forget to return thanks at the table, notice that quiet and meaningful act. Then He broke the loaves and divided the fishes. No doubt they were multiplied as the disciples passed them out to the people.

God is able to do that very thing even in our day. Perhaps not in just the same manner, but surely those who serve Him have marveled as they have seen that "little is much when God is in it." Let those who labor in difficult places with limited resources take heart—and trust God.

The 4th WAR LOAN is your opportunity to do something about it!

This farm boy stopped bullets intended for you . . .

Joe Martinez, Colorado farm boy, his battalion bogged down under withering fire from Jap positions on Attu, arose alone and advanced into a hail of bullets to clean out trench after trench so his battalion could advance. He died with his rifle at his shoulder, pumping lead into the enemy, while his mates were able to move up behind him and successfully take the pass. For this, Joe Martinez has been posthumously awarded the Nation's highest military honor. Let every man who was once a farm boy himself buy an extra War Bond in Joe's honor . . . for Joe took the bullets aimed at the heart of America!

It's Time to Take the Offensive. Your government has the men it needs to do the job in the front lines—great men all! But it doesn't have the money it needs, by a long way. That's your job! And the immediate task is the Fourth War Loan—Your chance to take the offensive not only in support of the men who are fighting and dying for you and your loved ones, but also in support of your own future!

What are you going to do—about a wornout tractor, about repairing fences and buildings, about replacing depreciated machinery and equipment? Will you be ready with money in the bank when these things are needed?

You will if you take the offensive now! Put every extra dollar into U. S. War Bonds—the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Think! You are asked to make a sound and prudent investment—not a sacrifice!

When Your Boy Comes Home

Will your boy come back to a farm or ranch with no financial reserves, no future? Or will you greet him at the gate with a bundle of War Savings Bonds—for working capital, new machinery, better buildings? And if your children are going to college, why not be sure they get there by buying today the bonds that will pay the cost.

No need, really, to tell an up-to-date farmer or rancher what he needs financial reserves for. You know more reasons than any one else can enumerate for setting aside extra dollars to meet the future. Now is your chance to do it . . . and help fight the war too!

Go on the offensive! Buy all the Bonds you can—today!

You Never Get Less Than You Lend! And you get $\frac{1}{3}$ more than you invest. When held 10 years, War Bonds yield 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually. You get back \$4 for every \$3.
