EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1944

NUMBER 7

E. Jordan Goes Over The Top

IN BOTH DIVISIONS OF FOURTH WAR BOND DRIVE

"According to your faith", if you work to back up your faith. Staunch faith and hard persistent work tells the story of the Fourth War Bond Drive.

The total quota for East Jordan was $117,300 which was divided as follows: Corporations sales $31,000; Individual sales, $86,300. Of the individual sales the quota called for selling $52,000 of "E" bonds.

East Jordan passed the mark in each of these lines. The sale of corporation bonds amounted to $38,700; individual sales amounted to $91,725 of which $74,950 were in "E" bonds. This is the highest amount of "E" bonds that have been sold here.

Several factors entered in the successful campaign of the Bond Drive. The first is the underlying spirit of patriotism among our people. The second is the splendid work done by the Blue Star mothers. They worked with superb enthusiasm. Another factor was the advertising done by the school children. They took a quota of $5000 and in bonds and stamps sold about $7000. This was fine, but the best thing they did was to make the homes of East Jordan bond conscious.

Charlevoix County was the first county in the State to go over the top, and East Jordan has done more than it was asked to do. We had the faith to believe it would, and the faith was well backed by hard work, that was motivated by patriotic enthusiasm.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, Leath M. LaCroix, who passed away one year ago Feb. 19, 1943.

Those hands that toiled for those she loved

Are stilled; the work is done. Those willing feet are now at rest; Their earthy race is run. The aching head and weary heart, By sickness so oppressed, Has found at last a loving home Of peace and joy and rest.

Basketball Tournament To Be Held In East Jordan High School Gym

For the first time the East Jordan High School will have the District Basketball tournament here in our new gym. The dates of the tournament are March 2, 3, 4. About 13 schools will be represented, with two classes, class C and D. Those entered in class C are: Boyne City, Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Mancelona, Pellston and East Jordan. Those entered in class D are: Alba, Alanson, Bellaire, Boyne Falls, Central Lake, Ellsworth and Mackinaw City.

The Drawings will be made February 24, at 8 o'clock at the High School. The officials assigned are to be: William K. Diekman, Don C. Stewart and Wendell M. Loveless.

BOWLING

Our East Jordan ladies are certainly rough on the wood these days! Each week sees the mere males pushed farther in the background and some of the boys are even asking special handicaps. Early in the week the femmes opened their High Score campaign with Louise Bugai's opening 168 and ended with Agnes Darbee's big 206, which took the Weekly Hi prize.

And for the men's division it was Gordon Sloan again with 232 as tops. It looks as though us "average bowlers" will have to start taking some of those vitamin X capsules!

The Recreation boys are just a little conceited about that Merchants League third round—they even claim they deserved to win! But will have to agree that maybe they did have a little something of the ball because the competition is really getting keen in this league. Just a glance over the sheets from last week revealed these tallies: Kiley Bader 208; Jim Davis 201; Gordon Sloan 214; Milt Meredith 207; Bob Campbell 223; and a series of 596: Greg Boswell 201. And Ted Malpass collecting his weekly foul.

In the Doghouse League the old Magee still fiercely defends and maintains his undisputed record for solitary confinement. Of course his almost constant companions Herb Peebles and Norm Bartlett, provide some consolation! Team standings as of last week are as follows:

	won	lost
Airedales	32	19
Spaniels	29	22
Poodles	26	25
Hot Dogs	24	27
Mutts	23	28

Temple Theatre

The program offered by the TEMPLE for the week beginning Friday, February 18th, has some very attractive features that will be enjoyed by all.

Friday and Saturday, an authentic story of Stalingrad, The City That Stopped Hitler. Actual breath taking, heart tugging, scenes from the sensational Battle of Stalingrad, portraying the magnificent courage and historic sacrifice of the Russian people, who by their supreme struggle, actually brought about the turning point in the present world conflict. This picture will bring about the better understanding of our Russian Allies and make us more conscious of the part our heroic boys are playing in this bitter conflict.

Sunday and Monday, Randolph Scott, Alan Curtis and Grace McDonald, in GUNG HO. This is a show that has run for 28 consecutive weeks in New York, and is still going strong. Made in co-operation with the U.S. Marines, it depicts the Marine Raider attack on Makin Island. See our Marines out-fight, out-smart, and out-manuever the Sons of Heaven. Go with our boys on this one courageous struggle and feel the inspiring pride that is instilled by witnessing the acts and deeds of those who are representing Our America on the field of battle.

Tuesday and Wednesday, movie-lands two most eccentric comedians, Charles Winniger and Charlie Ruggles in the celebrated Broadway play, "Friendly Enemies." If you like to laugh and be merry, don't miss Charley.

Thursday, Family Nite: The Kings Men, the Four Society Girls and also Alan Jones of Donkey Serenade fame in "Sing A Jingle." Music, Romance, Comedy, the bewitching trio. Suggestions and comment will be graciously received and appreciated by the management of Your Theatre. We'll see you at the TEMPLE.

Father and Son Annual Banquet

25TH ANNUAL EVENT TO BE GIVEN THURSDAY, FEB. 25, AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Plans have now been completed for East Jordan's annual 'all mens' event, the 25th yearly repetition of the Father and Son banquet. Sponsored again by the Rotary Club, the event promises to exceed all previous events and the advance sale of tickets seems to assure a crowd of between three and four hundred which will to tax even the capacity of the new High School Auditorium.

The date selected by the committee is Thursday, February 24th and the time is 7 p. m. Tickets are on sale at both the Bank and the Healey Sales garage or by any member of the Rotary Club. Coach John Gill of Western State will be the principal speaker of the evening and he has assured us that he will also bring some of his best motion pictures of the past football season — very likely of the exciting Great Lakes — Western State game that fans are still talking about. Don Winkle, musical director, has arranged a specially selected band group and from past performances this will be one of the night's high lights. An element of mystery is contained in the announced appearance of an all-colored chorus featuring Negro songs and to date we have only been able to elicit the single statement that the color will not be guaranteed—but that the volume will be ample! The Methodist Ladies Aid will serve the Banquet which in itself is assurance that this important feature of the festivities will be up to all press notices.

So remember the time and the date; Thursday, Feb. 24th at 7 p. m. in the High School Auditorium. Tickets on sale at Healey's, the Bank the Foundry — or by any Rotarian. But above all just be there, either with your own son or someone else's, it will be an event that both you and the boys will long remember!

Large Flock of Canadian Geese Rested Here Sunday

East Jordan was treated to an exceptionally unusual sight, for this time of year, Sunday morning, Feb. 13, when a flock of from 200 to 300 Canadian Geese alighted on the newly-frozen ice on the north side of the bridge, about ten o'clock. They were probably attracted to this spot, as this newly frozen ice looks like open water from a height.

These geese evidently had been flying for a considerable length of time as several of the flock were winded so badly that they allowed observers to approach and pick them up. They left after a half-hour rest.

Same was framed and hung in class room where they will remain until next June, when respective pupils will take them to their homes."

Men Behind The Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Howard Taft is President of the Chamber of Commerce. He has been in our midst for about 20 years, and in the last three years he has made East Jordan his permanent home. He owns his house and is part owner of Eveline Orchards. This orchard is one of the largest in the state. They raise some of the finest apples in the land. These apples are in demand all over the United States. They also raise a large amount of cherries. Mr. Taft's hobbies are gardening, and assisting in the orchard. Mr. Taft has one daughter, whose husband is in the service. Mrs. Taft is vice-chairman of the county Red Cross, and a very likeable person of whom Mr. Taft is very proud.

If you do not know who Mr. Taft is I will tell you how you can tell. If you see a man walking down the street about six feet tall, and straight as an arrow, with a red mackinaw, and cap you will know it's him. Get acquainted with him by introducing yourself and you will meet one of the finest gentlemen we have in our community. (Contributed).

Here's Conservation That Is Gay, Smart

IT IS not necessary to make our economies so dull that they depress every one. Let's make them gay and attractive to give us a lift and a bit of a challenge too. This old rocker is an example. A saw and a wood chisel were used for removing projections and rockers. An old quilt was found for padding and the feathers from an old bolster were packed into a thick seat cushion to raise the seat which has been lowered by removing the rockers. This required a yard and a quarter of ticking. Four and one-half yards of inexpensive chintz in a bold, modern pattern did the rest. Total cost for an up-to-date chair less than two dollars, one that will serve well for the duration.

NOTE—This remodeled chair is from BOOK 5 which also contains directions for modernizing an old fashioned couch and making other home furnishings from things on hand. To get copy of BOOK 5 send 15 cents direct to:

Who's News This Week

By Delos Wheeler Lovelace

Consolidated Features.—WNU Release.

NEW YORK.—The name of Napoleon Zervas keeps coming into the news that is relayed from Greece, and he may be the leader around whom his people will rally when the Nazi invaders try to retreat up the Valley of the Vardar, down which they marched in such easy triumph a while back.

Just now, as long ago in Yugoslavia, there has been a split among Greek partisans, and Zervas has just broken away from the oldest guerrilla forces to set up his own movement. He calls it the National Andartes band and hopes to keep its members free from the bribery which, he says, taints the old group.

Allied leaders in the Middle East call Zervas Greece's ablest guerrilla leader. Before the war he was an officer of the regular army. Now he calls himself "General Zervas" but whether he uses this title on more than his own authority is not clear. He is old enough to have been a general.

His present fight against the Nazis is being waged in the northwestern province of Epirus. This is his home and his birthplace. He knows every dim trail over its wild mountains as Alvin York knows his Tennessee hills. Every tree, every rock is a friendly shield, and every small village a fortress with a hundred sally-ports out of which to attack or . . . when the enemy presses hard . . . escape to fight again when the odds have evened.

SINATRA fans from coast to coast are rising to defend their idol against slurs cast by Artur Rodzinski. Older and soberer and more eminent led by Conductor Stokowski, are speaking up in gentle reproof of the maestro. This corner enjoys a bit of boogie woogie but still it thinks that the conductor of the New York Philharmonic should not go undefended.

Certainly he has courage. The smoke caused by his quarrel with dismissed New York musicians has just stopped getting in his eyes, and now he takes on the embattled 'teen agers. The man positively enjoys squaring off for a fight.

Of course age doesn't have to worry him yet. He was born in Spalato, Dalmatia, only 50 years ago. And if he needs legal aid in his squabbles, it's right in his own head . . . or ought to be. To please his father he got a law degree at the University of Vienna as well as a doctorate at the Vienna Academy of Music. He began as conductor of the chorus at Lwow; he went on to Warsaw; came to the U. S. at Stokowski's invitation to be assistant director of the Philadelphia orchestra. This was in 1926.

He isn't the long hair that Sinatra calls him although he has an ample pompadour. He has a tall virile figure, nearsighted lively eyes, and a quick likeable grin. His manner on the podium is matter-of-fact but he has plenty of temperament, as all know who listen in Carnegie Hall and over the revealing air waves.

THE seldom-heralded earl of Selborne (Roundell Cecil Palmer) reports that Germany cannot hold out much longer, and the announcement is as significant as one would be by Eisenhower telling of shattered Nazi corps. Selborne is Britain's minister of economic warfare and it is his business to keep tabs as much on Germany's resources as upon those of his own country. If he didn't know what bombings and the blockade and sabotage were doing to his enemy's stockpiles, he would hardly know how high to heap his own for victory.

Reports Germany Close to Bottom Of Her Barrel

He is a rock-ribbed conservative, but bold in his estimates of Germany's staying power. He knows that four million of her best men have been killed in battle, and he knows that this has weakened Hitler's fortress, and how the bombings have weakened it, and the lack of oil, rubber and textiles. He doesn't say just when the break through will come, but his guess ought to be good.

The Selborne earldom is not old. It dates back only 62 years or so, but this is the third head of the house to have an important, although unobtrusive finger in his country's problems. The first earl gave sound legal advice to Prime Minister Palmerston in troublesome matters arising out of the American Civil war. The second earl, as high commissioner for South Africa, helped build the Union now standing loyally with the mother country. And the present Selborne has been directing the ministry of economic warfare three years.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 20

JESUS TEACHES TRUE GREATNESS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:33-39; 10:13-16, 42-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Mark 10:45.

Ambition to be great is not wrong—provided one has a proper conception of greatness, and seeks it in a right way. Every one of us should be our very best, not for selfish reasons, but for God's glory.

The disciples were earnest and eager to have a place of honor with the Lord in glory, but even in that holy purpose they became selfish and argumentative. Jesus gives several marks of a truly great man.

Greatness Means Being— I. Not First, but Last (9:33-35).

The way of the world is to seek the place of "No. 1 man"—to be looked up to, honored, and served by all. True greatness takes the last place, the place of a servant; and lo, God regards that as the first place.

It is not a question of timid diffidence, or self-effacement, but a willingness to take the humble place in order to serve all.

II. Not Proud, but Humble (9:36, 37).

"Great" people of this world have no time for children. Let them be cared for by servants, teachers, anyone at all, but not by their "distinguished" parents.

But Jesus said that the one who set aside human pride and received a child with humility of heart and mind—and in His name—received the Lord who gave them life—spiritual as well as physical—and is interested in them; in fact, He is with them and hence when we receive them in His name, He is there!

III. Not Exclusive, but Co-operative (9:38, 39).

John, quick to apprehend spiritual truth, saw in the teaching of Christ concerning the little child the condemnation of something he had done.

The man who casts out demons, or who gives the disciple of Jesus a cup of water, in His name—that is, with true faith in Christ, and in His power, and for His glory—must be a believer. He may not belong to our group or circle, he may not speak our language, he may not use our methods, but if he is serving Christ we should not forbid him or speak evil of him. You and I may not like one another's appearance, or voice, or methods, but let us love and co-operate with one another for Christ's sake!

IV. Not Important, but Approachable (10:13-16).

Some who think they are great, pride themselves on being hard to reach—protected from the rabble and their problems by secretaries and servants.

The disciples had built up such an idea of the importance of Christ in their own minds. He had never given them any ground for it either by word or deed.

So the man who is truly great follows in the Master's footsteps. He is approachable, kind, has time for simple folk and little children. If that isn't true of a man he is not great—no matter what he may think of himself or what others may say about him.

V. Not a Supervisor, but a Servant (10:42-44).

Christianity is not organized after the manner of secular government (v. 42). Much of the mischief that has come to pass in the church is the result of "running the church" as an organization, when it should be allowed to develop as a living organism.

The way up is down. That is always true in the spiritual realm. The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister, yea, to give His very life (v. 45). Shall not those who bear His name walk the same path of humble self-denial?

Anyone who observes with even a little care knows that the church of Jesus Christ is hindered most seriously by the presence of pride and selfish ambition. Some people will not work unless they can rule.

Are there then no Christians who humbly serve the Lord? Yes, praise His name, there are many, and wherever they are found they are the salt of the earth.

VI. Not Unselfish, but Sacrificial (10:45).

The world is full of people who want to be served. Their little personalities swell with pride and pleasure if someone else cringes and bows, and serves.

There is nothing commendable about being served. The great and good thing is to serve. The Son of man—Himself the Lord of glory, the One who might have called legions of angels to do His will—came "not to be ministered unto but to minister." That service meant going about doing good even when He was exhausted and worn. But it meant far more than that, for it took Him to the cross where He gave "his life a ransom" for us. Are we ready to learn of Him?

Whistler's famous "Portrait of the Artist's Mother" was at first rejected for exhibit at the Royal Academy in England and remained unsold for 20 years thereafter.

"I WAS CONSTIPATED FOR MANY YEARS!"

Now I'm 'Regular' Every Morning!

Constipated? Then here's an unsolicited letter you'll want to read: "I'd been troubled with common constipation for many years. Was taking laxatives and pills all the time, and feeling very weak and run down. 3 months ago, I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. Now, I have a regular, natural movement every morning, which helps me feel my best!" Mr. Samuel D. Blank, 292 Kings Highway, Brooklyn, New York.
What is this seeming magic of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—namely, lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out." It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!
If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find lasting relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

With synthetic tires about to be in general use, experts emphasize again that speed is important in determining tire mileage. The legal limit of 35 m.p.h. has been found to be the best mileage conserver with synthetics, just as it was with tires of crude rubber.
Tire cords lose elasticity as they grow older, which accounts for many blowouts when a well-worn tire strikes a rough spot in the road.
Wartime regulations are saving nearly 200 million bus miles a year for the country's highway transportation system. Converted into tires, this conserved mileage means a lot to the rubber program.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix in Chancery

In the Matter of the Petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained; parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: January 12, 1944

VERNON J. BROWN,

Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

MARYLAND APPLE COFFEE CAKE

A four-star dish is this apple coffee cake a la Maryland. For breakfast, for lunch or as a dinner dessert it is equally delicious. It has the added wartime virtue of reheating beautifully, if not entirely consumed at one meal. It should be served warm or hot to be at its luscious best.

1-1/8 c. water
1/2 c. shortening
1/2 cup margarine melted
3/4 c. sugar
1 t. cinnamon
2 eggs, well-beaten
1/2 c. finely chopped nut meats
1 yeast cake
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 c. lukewarm water
4 T. molasses
6 to 6 1/2 cups sifted flour
Boil water and shortening together ten minutes. Cool. Soften yeast in 1/2 cup lukewarm water and add to shortening mixture. Add sugar, salt and well-beaten eggs. Add flour, beating at first with spoon, then working it in by hand. Mix well. Turn dough into a well greased bowl and let rise until it has doubled its bulk. Cut down, then cut dough into pieces the size of a walnut, flatten out and cover with small pieces of apple, making a ball. Roll each in butter, then in sugar, cinnamon and nut mix. Place one layer of balls in a well-greased deep 9 inch tube pan so that they barely touch. Sprinkle with raisins. Add another layer of the apple balls. Sprinkle with more raisins. Cover and let rise until light (about 60 minutes). Bake 45-60 minutes at 375 degrees F. Loosen in pan with spatula, and invert pan so sugar runs down over it. If you like a nice glaze, place 4 tablespoons of molasses in the bottom of pan, before placing first row of apple balls. Serve warm, with coffee.

AAA Obtains Soy Bean Meal For Farmers

The car of soy bean meal which was allocated to the Charlevoix County farmers by the State Triple-A Committee has been distributed to dairy farmers through the three county Co-operatives. Although the amount was inadequate, it has helped considerably and another car will be received in the county this month.

It was only through the efforts of the War Food Administration that this meal was made available to farmers. Up to this time all soy bean meal had been going to the large feed mixing companies.

Government feed wheat purchased from the Commodity Credit Corporation through the Triple-A office is still available to the farmers of this area. About 35,000 bushels have already been purchased by farmers in this county. Consequently, the production of meat, dairy and poultry products have been greatly augmented.

Feed wheat is still the lowest cost feed that the farmer can buy and at no time should a feeder pay in excess of $1.41 per bushel.

BEING PREPARED

The nurse had occasion to visit Johnny's mother. When she left Johnny was the not very proud brother of twins. This did not please him at all.

Some time later Johnny's parents moved to a neighboring village, and in her visits, the nurse came across Johnny at one of the schools. "Hello, young man," she said, "have you come to live here?" "Yes," said Johnny, "but I'm not showing you which is our house this time."

Asking for It

The country vicar was nailing some trelliswork up in his garden, when he chanced to look up and saw a London evacuee boy watching him. With a pleasant smile, he said:

"Well, my little man, are you interested in woodwork or gardening?"

"Not me, guv'nor," said the boy. "I'm just waitin' to 'ear what a parson says when 'e 'its 'is thumb!"

Hope It Works

An intimation to slow-paying customers given by a country shopkeeper:

"All persons indebted to our shop are requested to call and settle. All indebted to our shop and not knowing it are requested to call and find out. Those knowing themselves indebted and not wishing to call are requested to remain in one place long enough for us to catch them."

You Can't Win

Emogene—When I grow up, mummy, will I have a husband like Daddy?

Mother—Yes, dear. Emogene—and if I don't get married, will I be an old maid like Aunt Christy?

Mother—Yes, dear. Emogene—We women certainly have a tough time, don't we mummy?

NOT TELLING

"Papa insists that I wait until I am thirty before I get married."

"In other words, he insists that you never marry."

Showing Him

"Pat," said Mike, "it's the hard worker ye are. How many hods of mortar is it ye've carried this morning?"

"Whisht," said Pat. "It's not the hard worker I am at all. Have I not been carrying the same load of mortar up and down the ladder all the time to fool the boss into thinkin' I'm working?"

Something Else

"I cannot understand why you permit your daughter to sue me for breach of promise," said the young man. "You remember that you were bitterly opposed to our engagement, because I wasn't good enough for her."

"Young man," replied the girl's father, "that was sentiment; this is business."

Ho! Hum!

The cavalry recruit was instructed to bridle and saddle a horse. Ten minutes later the sergeant-major came along for his mount and found the recruit holding the bit close to the horse's head.

"What are you waiting for?" he roared.

"Until he yawns," answered the recruit.

Now Who Pays?

"I can't understand why you let your wife run up such big bills for clothes. Why don't you put a stop to it?"

"Well, it's easier to make arrangements with my creditors than with my wife."

ON THE HOOF

"How much do you think Brown's worth?"

"Are you asking about his efficiency or his financial condition?"

No Secret

Tom—You ought to brace up and show your wife just who is boss around your house.

Gill—I don't have to. She already knows.

With the Wind

Bimms—Do you think a dollar goes as far as it used to?

Simms—Oh, much farther. In fact, mine all go so far they never get back.

Reservations

Minister—You know, Sambo, it's no disgrace to work for a living.

Sambo—Yasash! Dat's whut Ah always tells mah wife.

Quitting Time

Bore—I don't know how it is, but I feel thoroughly wound up tonight.

Hostess—How strange! And yet you don't seem to go.

To 40,000 Michigan men, veterans of World War II, the war is already over.

Post-war is here — today — for them.

This fact was emphasized by Dr. Alexander Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, at a conference with members of the educational committees of the state legislature which is now in session at Lansing. Approximately 3,000 Michigan men are being discharged each month by the army and navy, he said. Seventy percent of these being returned to civilian life because of physical and nervous disabilities; a surprisingly large percentage of the national total represents psychiatric casualties — inability of the human nervous system to absorb the shock of modern warfare.

These facts, little known by the public, present one of the serious growing problems of 1944: How to assist these valiant to readjust themselves to a new world — new to them because of their new handicaps. The answer, in the eyes of education, is just this: adult education!

While the State of Michigan, from its very inception, has accepted the responsibility of free education for youth, the state has not ventured into the newer field of education for adults.

Hence the decision of Gov. Harry F. Kelly to submit a state program of adult education to the state legislature is the breaking of precedence. The state would assume responsibility for adult education but only to the extent of financial support and over-all supervision. Educational services themselves would be given by colleges and schools, for the most part, and hence under control of local communities and the state boards of education.

Furthermore, since the program would be an innovation, it is the governor's belief that the 1944-45 cost to the state should be in keeping with the experiment as a long-range objective.

The idea of adults going to school is not new. Scan its history.

The lyceum movement was born 100 years ago; the 1870's saw the birth of the free public library. The Philadelphia Centennial Exposition gave an educational impetus to museums. In the same decade the Chautauque Institution was founded, and that brought the traveling chautauque to rural communities everywhere prior to the day of automobiles, good highways and movies.

The university extension movement came in the late 1880's, modeled after the extramural activities of Cambridge and Oxford university in England.

In 1914 Congress passed the Smith-Lever act establishing an extension service in the United States Department of Agriculture. Michigan State college has made this service in Michigan a national pattern. Michigan is the recognized leader.

Next comes the George-Deen act of Congress during the post-war economic depression of the 30's, and it was put to good use during the pre-Pearl Harbor days when national defense was mobilizing mechanical skills.

Throughout the darkest days of the American Revolution George Washington never doubted that independence would be won at last. For eight years his majestic figure towered above all the discouragements and defeats of war. In the story of George Washington's struggle and triumph we may find inspiration today.

Is there a real need for adult education in Michigan?

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott superintendent of public instruction, points out that the 1940 census disclosed these following facts which tell their own story: 300,000 citizens of Michigan received an education through the first three grades; 72,000 others did not finish the first grade. We have 290,000 aliens.

Because we have not learned yet to live with each other, Michigan is spending a million dollars a year in Detroit alone to maintain state troops as insurance against race riots.

Leaders of labor unions concede privately the need of rudimentary economics for the rank-and-file membership which continues to pressure officials at the top for more and more wages without reckoning the ultimate effect on the cost of living — their own pocketbooks.

George H. Fern, director of the state board of control for vocational education, recently announced a post-war plan to provide technical training for war veterans as well as for young people who do not go to college.

Fern's program calls for vocational rehabilitation for disabled residents through a federal-state relation whereby instruction is given in local school districts and hence is the responsibility of local school districts — grass roots democracy itself.

It is Fern's suggestion that trained instructors be assigned to each school district for the purpose of vocational education. Dr. Elliott favors a broad program of adult education in which vocational training would be included and general instruction would be provided by teachers now on the staffs of local school districts. The state would reimburse the local schools for 75 per cent of the instructional cost, and Dr. Elliott believes that much of the remaining 25 per cent could be financed through educational fees paid by those who received benefits.

Here is the broad picture: Approximately 500,000 men from Michigan will be in military service in World War II.

Of these perhaps one-tenth or less — Dr. Elliott estimates the number to be 30,000 — will have the mental capacity to go to college for post-war training.

The Federal Communications Commission has assigned five Frequency Modulation wave lengths for educational radio stations. Radio is a long-range possibility. In the meanwhile, Michigan State college's radio station, WKAR, is already providing daily service for adult education and is making application for "FM" broadcasting.

Assisting Michigan veterans to readjust themselves to civilian economy is a tremendous challenge. It is a post-war problem that is already here — today!

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Indian BEEF by HAROLD CHANNING WIRE W.N.U. RELEASE

LEW BURNET has been engaged by TOM ARNOLD owner of the Cross T, to act as trail boss on the drive from southern Texas to Ogallala in the spring of 1875. Tom, with his son and daughter, STEVE and JOY, are moving to Wyoming. Tom must deliver 3,000 longhorns to the Indian agent by September 1 or lose a profitable contract. Lew has reason to believe that the Indian Supply Co. is trying to delay the Cross T herd. He heads west, and successfully brings the herd through dangers from dust storms and drought, to the banks of the Red river. Lew rides on to Doan's store, and finds that none of the other herds have crossed yet. Back at camp, he has another run-in with ED SPLANN,

CHAPTER VIII

The Indian Supply Company's Open A might be among those herds held up on the south bank by the high water of the Red River. Or they may have crossed before the rains. He wanted to know some way without his own presence being known. Unless there had been a leak, his Cross T had vanished completely as far as the Open A knew.

Lew slid his horse down the high riverbank and then on the gravel shore rode at a lope again. Little side ravines began to cut the red wall in half an hour's riding. He came to Doan's flatboat ferry tied up because of the flood. He had seen no one. He rode on to a point that would bring him up behind the store and hid his horse in the willows.

Noise of the crowd that had gathered here floated off the rim. He walked directly up into it, the wild, mingled voices of two or three hundred restless men spending their time and money in the only two ways that Doan's store offered.

Whoever Doan was he didn't know. This place had been here long before his first trip up the trail.

As soon as he walked in, even while his eyes caught little at first in the dim light, he had a quick sense of something wrong. The room was not crowded. Trail men took their drinks outside. He saw mostly, among the fifteen or twenty figures, the blue, yellow-striped uniforms of the army moving across the damp clay floor. The talk was low; the smells of tobacco and liquor and oiled leather were right.

Then farther inside he knew. It was the big Swede's jovial voice he missed so quickly. Ole Soderlund wasn't here. He had counted on Ole. They were friends and they could talk, and that talk would never leak out of the Swede's head.

A man he didn't know was on a high stool behind the counter at the back of the room. He was small and wore a black suit with a white shirt, oddly out of place in this frontier store. Shrewd eyes in a pinched face were watching him closely.

He reached the counter. "Soderlund gone?"

Only a curt nod answered him.

"For good?"

"Sold out."

He could feel a guarded suspicion behind the shrewd eyes and he wondered. Did he look like anything but another trail hand?

"Something you want?"

"Maybe," he said and turned away, putting aside for now the one question he had come here to ask.

Tonight's celebration called for a treat. He found the sardines on a shelf and took down fourteen cans. A trail crew always ran short of tobacco. He spread his rawhide coat and piled into it with the sardines a five-pound box of Honey Tip Twist for the old men who chewed and a dozen cloth sacks of Dixie Durham for the smokers.

Three army men stood around an open cracker barrel. He turned to one who had a lieutenant's gold bars. "What brings you boys so far south?"

The lieutenant smiled. "Whisky." "Well"—he grinned—"there's plenty of it!" He looked at the smooth boyish face and thought the government never did show much sense. Like this youngster. A green West Pointer hardly twenty-two or three sent out here to cut his milk teeth on the Indians.

"Soderly the lieutenant was saying, 'You're right, there's plenty here. Too much liquor too close to the reservation. I'll warn you. If you're going north don't load up your wagons with more than you need. There's a tribe loose. If they cut your herd for beef don't trade them whisky instead.'"

He nodded. "I see." What he saw was a reason for the new trader's watchfulness. Ole Soderlund had never traded snake-juice across the Red. But it could be a good thing if a man wanted to risk it. "Comanches loose again?" he asked.

"No, it's the Dakota Cheyennes. They're out on a hunting permit after antelope. Six hundred of them. But antelope are scarce. Trail beef is a lot easier." The lieutenant looked stern. "Don't ask me for help if you get caught. You Texans have got no right crossing the Nations. There's a treaty against that."

"Sure, a treaty!" This boy was talking out of a book. "Did any Texan sign it? I know. We ought to drive clean around by way of the Mississippi!" Lew grinned and started on. "No hard feelings, Bub. Come and get a good meal if you sight my camp."

The Cheyennes loose were bad news. He understood about the Dakota Cheyennes. By what fool decision the government was set on making Northern Indians live in the South he didn't know. It wasn't home and they wouldn't stay. Only three years ago they had made a break in the dead of winter. Eleven hundred that time, leaving a swath of burned ranches and dead whites as far as Dakota. Troops brought them back.

A great chief, Red Cloud, had led that break. Red Cloud was not here now; he was a guest at the capitol in Washington where ladies of the Indian Friends' society were making fools of themselves and a bigger one out of him. It was all in the papers. As good a way as any, Lew guessed, to tame a wild Cheyenne. But there were young chiefs with the tribe, more dangerous even than the old one because they knew white men's tricks and had known white women. He could handle them if they stayed sober. Outtalk them and present a few old mossy-horns from the herd. But full of whisky—

He was back again at the counter, spreading out his coat. He stacked five silver dollars on the boards. "Right?" The man nodded and he rolled his coat around the bundle once more, and then, casually, he asked, "Has an Open A herd crossed here yet?"

A thin hand reached out for the cartwheels and dropped them into

"Who's looking for the Open A?"

an iron cashbox. "Who's looking for the Open A?"

"I asked, didn't I?"

"You did. That's what I want to know."

He shrugged, warned. "Never mind. My question wasn't so important." He walked out slowly, taking his time, yet even more guarded, and threw a long look around the clearing before he turned toward the river. He had seen nothing. But as soon as he was gone a man whom he might have recognized stepped from behind the buffalo-bone pile and hurriedly entered the store.

The late afternoon turned gray beneath a bank of thunderclouds. Dark niggerheads piled up, flat at the base, round on top. Loping back along the river bottom, that was his only troubling thought. A storm would spoil the evening's celebration.

Night fell swiftly. He climbed up into the darkness of the flat shelf. Campfires of those herds at the crossing were out of sight now, but ahead was a single huge blaze to guide him.

Still a mile off, he could see figures moving in that wide circle of light. Trees stood up above them tall and red. He caught a drift of music and grinned. An organ had never been played in this spot before!

Then someone must have heard his approach for all of the figures stood suddenly motionless, until he yelled, "Let her rip, boys! Go on with the dance!"

He picketed his horse and walked in with his bundle. The cook met him as complaining as a wife. "Where you been? Supper's gettin' cold!" A white towel stood up around his bald brown head like a chef's hat. He wore a burlap sack for an apron.

"Fishing," Lew said. He dumped his sardines on the endboard of the chuck wagon. Part of the meal was stacked there in a deep pan, thin steaks floured and cooked quickly in hot lard. They made a golden pile, juicy meat coated with crisp batter. Over the fire pit two long combs of ribs were braising.

Quarternight came in from the outer darkness and stopped to say, "I only left a two-man guard, Lew. Moonlight and Splann offered. Guess it's safe enough for a while."

"I guess," he said.

The line of men was already moving past the fire pit. They loaded their tin plates with steaks and laid braised ribs on top. At the table they marked their places by dropping their hats on the bedrolls drawn up for seats, came back to the pit again for beans and corn bread out of the Dutch ovens and pickles from the chuck-wagon keg. They poured blackstrap molasses over their bread and grinned when the cook tossed each one a can of sardines. But all talk soon died. Eating was a sober business.

Only Joy said, "Lew, just like Christmas!" and smiled at him, her eyes lingering with a steady warmth as if to tell him something.

He didn't understand the look, but this meal was like Christmas dinner, that one time at home on the Cross T when crew and family ate together in the big front room. A ruddy glow from the pit flooded the bent dark and light and bald heads as if from the fireplace of the room, while branches of elm and oak arched a roof above them.

He was halfway along the table with Rebel John, his inevitable partner, at his right elbow. Tom Arnold occupied one end, Joy the other. He watched Tom.

This was their last meal on Texas soil. He looked around the table and knew that some of these men, chances were, would never come back to it. He saw Joy watching him again.

"What's the news from Doan's?" she asked.

"Not much." The dress she had on tonight was suddenly familiar, made of fine cream-colored linen with a high collar and long sleeves. A narrow red ribbon drawn tight above her waist shaped a woman's full softness. She had worn that dress the night of the Ox Bow dance, when Clay Manning had told the world she was going to be his wife. "A dozen herds," he said, "held up south by the flood. Hoe-men are crowding in along the river. Saw a troop of yellow-legs around," he added but didn't say what they were there for. No use bringing up about the Dakota Cheyennes.

He saw Clay, around the corner of the table at Joy's right, lift his blond head. "What outfits did you see?"

"Strangers mostly." He waited, feeling there was another question in Clay's mind. But Clay dropped his head and went on eating.

It was Steve, directly across the table, who brought out casually, "Didn't see the Open A, did you? Guess they're too far on."

"No," he said, "don't think they are, Steve," and watched a change set instantly across the boy's face. "They didn't have enough start on us. The river's been higher than it is now, maybe up for a week. You can tell that by ring marks on the trees." He saw the tight look grow. "We're even with them, I figure, and got a good chance to get ahead."

He had been feeling better about Steve these past days. The hounded look of watching his back trail seemed to have gone, as if Steve felt easier somehow as they approached the north line of Texas. But that look was there again now. In some way the Indian Supply herd being behind them, and not ahead, made a difference.

Yet he was learning a man's guard and that boyish giveaway passed quickly. Only Tom Arnold showed he had caught it. He paused with a coffee cup half lifted, his puckered gaze fixed intently on his son.

When Owl-Head had cut the pies exactly in halves and had given each man his piece he saw that the red-freckled kid was not the only one who'd had plenty. Tom Arnold finished part of his and sat there waiting, until the other plates rattled empty again. He stood up.

"Lew," he said, "it's a shame to have anyone eat seconds at a meal like this. I'm going out to relieve Moonlight and Splann." He looked down at Steve. "You want to come along?"

"Say!" Steve objected. "Why me? What's the rush anyway?" His back stiffened, his face going young and truculent. Never was a time, Lew thought, when the pup didn't show himself at his worst to his father. He expected the old flare between them.

Instead, gently, Tom urged, "Come on, son. I want you to ride with me."

There was a moment of remaining stubbornness and challenge, and then he felt that Steve could find no way to meet his father's strangely quiet urging. In the outer rim of firelight the old man laid one arm across his boy's shoulder. They vanished into the dark like that, walking slowly.

Lew uncrossed his legs and stretched them out and, making a cigarette in brown corn paper, he offered idly, "Anyone short on tobacco? I laid in a supply."

He saw Clay swing his broad back to the table and sit there as if listening off into the night. But no sound came from that direction, south, where the longhorns, well-watered and fed, were sleeping peacefully. And there was nothing to see. Clouds had blotted out the stars, filling the world with absolute blackness beyond the circle of firelight.

Household Hints

If wool clothes get wet or muddy, dry them slowly at room temperature (never close to a stove or radiator). When dry, brush them.

Sawhorses with a board or two on them make a dandy platform for papering and other house-cleaning chores. But often they scratch the floors. Several doubles of cloth fastened to the lower ends of the legs will prevent this trouble.

Cellar windows should be opened frequently to purify the atmosphere of the cellar and entire dwelling.

Clean gummy furniture by saturating a small piece of cloth with olive oil and going over the furniture to be cleaned. Wipe off the surplus oil and polish with a clean, dry cloth. The oil is good for the varnish, as it tends to keep it from cracking.

Before adjusting hems of dresses to new lengths, rip the hem and wash the garment. It is easier to get rid of the crease and the thin ridge of soil which often forms at this point if the preliminary washing is given.

Texture of griddle cakes will be finer if the eggs are separated and the whites are beaten and added last to the batter.

Reveille on the Jordan

Just a little message to the boys in the service from the folks back home. Sponsored by the East Jordan Community Service Club.

"A change is as good as a rest" is an expression which is often used and which is realized in this weeks Reveille.

During the past week we received the following letter and as we felt we couldn't do justice to it by printing just snatches of it, we are deviating somewhat from our former practice and printing this letter in full.

Dear Members of the Service Club:

I was very happy to receive your little package of remembrances at this Christmas time. Thanks a lot for the package and I think that everything will come in handy for me or any other soldier.

I am writing to you to thank you for the package and I thought that maybe you would like to hear what I can tell you about my experiences overseas, so here goes.

Well to start things rolling, I will start my trip coming across the ocean. We had a nice trip, some pretty rough days, but all in all, not too many suffered seasickness. Aboard I found about the best place to get a good sunbathe that I ever saw, and I did get a good one. We were all sure glad to get our feet back on soil once more. I first landed in Africa. It wasn't so bad, but it was nothing but replacements after replacements for quite a few weeks, and boy, was I glad to get into an outfit that wasn't a replacement depot, as any of the boys will tell you when they get back what it is to be in a replacement depot. I then got put in a swell outfit and it was the (Hq. 15th Army Group) I stayed in that outfit for a few months and then I was transferred to the IBS in Sicily. It wasn't so bad there but maybe I wasn't there long enough to get accustomed to it because I was sent out on detached service for a few weeks to operate a switch board. It wasn't a hard job but it gets tiresome as it is the same thing over and over. I was then transferred to the 10th Port of Embarkation where I am at the present time. I was here only a short time and I made Sergeant. I worked as a Sergeant of the Guard for a short time, and then as duty Sergeant, and then a short time ago I was given the job of working in the Post Exchange or the Company Store. It is the kind of work that I like and I hope that it continues to keep the same.

Sicily is quite a nice place but the people have a long way to go before they catch anywhere up with the good old U.S.A. They are a very unhealthy people, and are all covered with sores, and very dirty, but some of them are a very high class of people and are very nice to talk to if you have learned to speak a little of the Guiana language, but it is a muddled up mess when they get up in their way of throwing their hands to do their talking, and they talk so fast that you sure have to be good at understanding them in order to be able to make anything out of what they say.

The weather here is quite nice. There isn't any snow except up on the mountains so we are not bothered much with it, but we get plenty of rain and cool days and nights. Thanks again for the Christmas remembrances and I hope that I will be home before too long, then I will be able to tell you more about this place.

NEWS FROM THE HOME FRONT

Whether things travel in cycles or not, it would seem that this expression is true of furloughs of servicemen. About two weeks ago we made mention of the fact how few soldiers were home after the holiday season, and now during the past week we were again pleased to see so many around these parts. Besides those mentioned in last weeks Reveille, we have seen HARVEY KEYES, PHILLIP FISHER, ROSS NICHOLS, FORREST ROGERS, TEDDY MALPASS, RONALD HOLLAND, and WILLARD HOWE. Harvey hails from Camp Langdon up in New Hampshire where he is with the coast artillery and more especially the camouflage division. We might also mention right here that all of the fellows do not look the worse for their past training as apparently all have gained much weight. Ronald is to report back to the same place in California where he is becoming very adept in the handling of anti-aircraft guns. According to Ronald's report, and we believe it to be true, we would advise any plane to steer clear of those gun sights as those desert maneuvers have been making some crack shots and were glad to hear that Ronald helped in setting some of those records. Last week we wrote a little about the experiences of JOHN SMITH but didn't know at that time that practically the same things would apply to REX MURRAY who was home at the same time. Rex also was permitted to travel home due to the extra time given for traveling from his former location, Camp Wheeler, Georgia, to Fort Meade, Maryland. We hope both of these fellows will be able to look up SONNY HOSLER who is also at Fort Meade.

PHILLIP (BUCK) FISHER pulls in from San Diego and is another one of these fellows to whom an extra few days is allowed for traveling time and naturally his travels would lead him back home. Buck is one of these fellows who believes that the longest way is the sweetest as his destination is only a few miles north of former location. At the new station he expects to resume his training with an anti-aircraft unit. Here's something that probably the most of you didn't know, at least we didn't. Dale has been in foreign service and yet has been closer to home probably than a lot of you who are within the boundaries of the U. S. Yes Dale says that he is now permitted to say that he is stationed in Canada with the communications service, which, no doubt, is the reason for not having a furlough sooner. Dale wanted to take this means of saying 'hello' to his old pal REX GIBBARD and wished that he might have enjoyed his furlough with him. For the benefit of Rex and others who are regular correspondents of Dale, please note that his A. P. O. number is now 701. Apparently Forrest Rogers didn't like the Florida climate or maybe that scarlet fever germ we mentioned a couple of weeks ago got the best of him. Anyway Forrest is over the scarlet fever and is home on a short sick leave. Our guess is that the trip was not made non-stop as all indications point to a stop-over in Lansing. You guess who came with him. After receiving his wings as a bomber pilot on Feb. 5th granted a furlough. Willard was able to spend one week at home with his parents and upon returning will report to another field in Texas. Just as this leaves us for printing we get word that HERMAN CLARK has hit town on his first furlough since being in the service. We haven't seen Herman as yet but are able to tell you that he will report back to Fort Ord, California and then expects to go overseas.

This week we have some real sports news about our boxer, SONNY HOSLER. Sonny was recently honored at a banquet in Washington D. C. given by the National Amateur Boxing Commission, at which time he was awarded the "Turner Boxing Trophy." The trophy is awarded to the outstanding amateur sportsman of the year and it stands three feet high and is gold plated. Sonny is still in the boxing ring and is scheduled to fight a return bout with the National Amateur Middle-weight Champ in Washington within a few weeks. We are anxiously awaiting news of your Chicago fight and are sure there will be quite a few of your fellow servicemen from East Jordan there rooting for you if it is at all possible for them to get to the fight. Keep up your good sports record, Sonny. . . . This week a letter came from your former coach, ABE COHN. Abe has just seen his seventh East Jordan boy since being in the service in the person of FRED BECHTOLD. Some of the other boys that Abe has met overseas include BOB WINSTONE, MAURICE and BUD STREHL. Fred, according to Abe, has seen his share of action and is now in for several weeks of rest and then on to Tokyo. We are glad that you two have been able to meet and relate to each other your experiences, and hope the addresses which are on the way will make it possible for you to meet more of your former students and friends. In the meantime continue to enjoy your daily swimming in the "salt brink". Another report came this week from CLIFFORD GREEN who is still in a hospital somewhere in Italy. Cliff has been reclassified as 1B but as yet does not know what the army will do with him. According to his letter he had been in the hospital four weeks on January 25th but was feeling pretty good at that time. . . . The news in the paper is considered quite up to date by KEITH RUSSELL although he doesn't get the papers until they are a month and a half old. Keith is in England and is spending his time with a quartermaster outfit. . . . It's quite unusual that we get a letter written by two hometown fellas but this week that happened and the letter was written by EUGENE MUNSOSKO and JOHN SKROCKI, both stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington. Eugene and John were formerly with the same outfit but recently Eugene was transferred to a different outfit and was also promoted to Sergeant. He now is in charge of 26 men in a construction platoon and finds his work very much to his liking. John is with the same water supply battalion as before and whatever his duties may be the day following after they wrote the letter he was to go after a German prisoner who had gone A.W.O.L. and who was then in Vancouver, Washington. John and Eugene tell us they have had a good look at their enemy, the Germans, as there is a number of German prisoners at their camp. They also have met an East Jordan boy, OLE BARBER, and enjoyed talking over the good old times they had at home with him. We enjoyed your letter a lot fellas, and maybe you'll be able to spend more of your Sunday afternoons that way. . . . Fort Knox, Kentucky must be almost like a second home to ROBERT SLOOP who has been stationed there for over two years except for a short while spent in Baltimore, Maryland, where he attended school. Bob has been doing radio work and is now in a heavy tank division. His brother, RAY, also in the army is beginning his training at San Diego, California. . . . North Africa seems quite wonderful at ART WALKER as far as weather is concerned as the climate compares with that of Texas and when he wrote the letter, on January 27th, they were enjoying some nice spring days with little rain. Art hasn't been able to make up with the Arabs as in his opinion they are trying to get rich too quick by selling tangerines to the soldiers. We can't tell you just where JAMES CHANDA is at the present as has address indicates he may be overseas. We will send his address along to you so you can correspond with him. . . . We note that GERALD BARNETT is on the move from San Diego, Calif., but don't know where to. His wife was able to be with him for quite some time in San Diego but now is on her way home. . . . A New Year's resolution made by RODNEY GIBBARD was to report in to the paper more regularly this year. We count that a better resolution and hope it won't be a broken one. Rodney is in the Hawaiian Islands and had met FRANCIS KALEY a few times during December. He has recently completed two months of Ranger School; one month as a student and the other as instructor, but is now back with his infantry unit. He tells us that his Christmas package arrived in November and since he did not know what the contents of the can were he guessed it to be string beans and tried to give it away but none of his buddies wanted to accept it. Rodney left it unopened until New Year's Eve and then enjoyed some tasty chicken sandwiches. He also tells us that the sporting facilities on the Islands are excellent and that they have some top-flight service teams. He claims they have an artillery service team which he believes is almost as good as the East Jordan Cannons were a few years back. Letters from his brother, Rex, reach him quite quickly, and tell you what Rex is doing well, we'll use his brother's expression— "He's piddling around in some little mud scow down South of here someplace. I just hope he doesn't end up by bringing some black gal home with him." Here's wishing both Rex and Rodney the best of everything and Rodney don't break your good New Year's resolution and for Rex we'd like to hear from you more often. . . . A couple of weeks ago we mentioned that GLENN MALPASS was all set for a transfer from Corpus Christi, Texas, and now we hear that he was moved to Treasure Island, of course it is not known whether he will seek his treasure there or elsewhere. . . . All of you will be interested to know that WIN-

FORD SAVAGE has recuperated from wounds suffered in the battle of Bougainville and is now back with his former outfit after being hospitalized at New Caledonia. A late report has it that ASA BEAL who is also in the same territory has had a slight touch of the fever, but not too serious. Asa has been seeing plenty of action and recently sent home a paper "The Yank", which is printed down under, which was illustrative of the conditions he is living in. . . . From local reports it is noted that WALTER HART has moved from Shreveport, La., to Camp Roberts, California; and that BURL C. WALKER now has an address in care of Postmaster at San Francisco, Calif., but remains with the same company as formerly. . . . There has been some moving around as usual and the changes of addresses that came in this week tell us that CLARENCE BOWMAN is now in Camp Cook, California, BERNARD BEST has left Camp Carson, Colorado, and is now in Camp Robert, California, and HAROLD LEWIS has moved with his air corp outfit from Oklahoma to Laurel, Mississippi. . . . The news of promotions are always gladly received as we know those promotions mean so much to you in the service we are glad to report that ELDON NEUMANN is now a Corporal, IVAN RANNEY is now a T5, LOUIS BUNKER has made Sergeant, and Willard Howe is now Lt. Howe. . . . We have a report on the three HOSLER Merchant Marines for you this week. DEWEY and ED (brothers) are now on their way across. Dewey is serving as steward and Ed is chief cook and both are with the same convoy. Before leaving for across, Dewey was able to visit his son Duane at Ft. Meade, Maryland. The other merchant marine is ED HOSLER, JR., who has just made his fifth trip across with the merchant marines. A cablegram just received by his mother informs her that he has reached his port safely and all is well. . . . We hear that GEORGE ROGERS was one of the fifty men that attended a Michigan State night in England. We don't know whether or not there were any others from East Jordan in attendance at this meeting but judging from the number of you that are stationed in England we expect there may have been more representing East Jordan. The reunion was held January 17th and the fellows were entertained with a dinner all sponsored by the American Red Cross. . . . During the past week a rather lengthy article appeared in an issue of the Grand Rapids Herald. Since we are unable to print this article in full we will try and give you the gist of it. It seems that a certain Lt. Frank Clay and Lt. Alfred Nelson got in a little argument as to who was the better fighting soldier of the two. To settle the argument Alfred and his fellow lieutenant decided to prove their statements and hiked off together for Cassino. According to the Herald this is what they did — Checked up on hov front line doughboys were making out in the embattled city, spotted four German pill boxes and directed tank fire which knocked out all of them, stalked German snipers and then trudged home with a Nazi bazooka gun which they presented to the commander of their armored task force. According to the article the commander greeted them with a Cyclops—a one-eyed giant of ancient legend, rumored to have been a very tough citizen.

EVEN CYCLOPS COULD SEE IT

- See what? That electric rates are much lower now than they used to be.
- Come again? It's the truth. The average family gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.
- Quit clowning! Seems to me my bill gets bigger every year. Know why, don't you? Because all along you're using more service, more appliances—to make home life easier, more efficient. For example, you're using an electric range now, aren't you?
- Sure. Got it — oh, five years ago. And a washing machine for your wife?
- Yep. No horse-and-buggy days for us. And didn't you buy an electric refrigerator back in those dear, dead days before the war, when there were such things? And a couple of electric fans one hot summer?
- Okay, okay. You win. No—you win. You win the greatest household and industrial servant of them all—electricity. And at rates that have stayed down while the cost of living—as it always does in wartime—has gone up. Something to keep in mind, isn't it?
- You said it, brother!

mock bawling out for taking chances but it must not have meant much to Alfred as a statement of his quoted in the article was "We may go back to morrow, though," to which the commander replied, "Then again, lieutenants there's a bare possibility you may not." It was a swell article, Alfred for your homefolks to read and we all count you as a brave soldier. We are passing the article on in part to your buddies in the service and know they will be as proud of you as we are. We know this is but a typical illustration of what many of you are doing which makes the homefolk proud of you all. And so it's the same as usual, thanks for the letters received, and keep them coming so we in turn can pass them on.
