EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1944.

NUMBER 18

WILLIAM CIHAK AWARDED PURPLE HEART

Brigadier General Thomas Rilea, at a military camp somewhere in Australia, congratulates Staff Sergeant William F. Cihak of East Jordan, Michigan, after presenting him with the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

Men Behind The Chamber of Commerce

Hollis Drew is on the Aviation Committee. He was born in Drayton, Ontario and went to Battleford College in Saskatchewan. Hollis is a first World War veteran, past president of our Rotary Club, and has been very active in the Charlevoix U. S. power squadron. Hollis came to our town in 1933, and put our town on the map by running one of the finest show places of the north. His ambition was to give the people the best entertainment that money could buy. Last winter he sold the theatre so he could give all his time to his bowling alley. He is a real promoter for our city and is now working on something big for our city and when put across it will put our city on the air map.

Hollis' family consists of one daughter, Peggy, who is helping her dad run the bowling alley. Rita, his wife, is his main spring, and keeps a close tab on the household, and was a great help to Hollis in running the theatre. I miss her smiling face behind the cage where you hand over the mazzama. Hollis' favorite sports are flying, boating, and bowling. The writer took many a ride with him on Lake Michigan, and believe me there were times when I wished I was on shore. Three times we tried to make Beaver Island, and failed every time. (what a pilot!).

Achievement "A" Awarded Friday

REID, MURDOCH CO. HONORED BEFORE A LARGE CROWD AT ELLSWORTH, LAST WEEK

Before a packed house, the "A" Achievement Award was presented to the growers, employees and management of the Ellsworth Branch of the Reid, Murdoch Company, last Friday evening, April 28, in the Community Building at Ellsworth.

The entire group, led by Walter Shooks of Ellsworth, joined in singing America, after which several selections by the Charlevoix City Band, conducted by Earl Beach, were enjoyed.

Rev. H. Rikkers of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church gave the invocation.

A. T. Flynn, Director of Reid, Murdoch and Company, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Colonel John N. Gage, Executive Officer of Chicago Quartermaster Depot, Chicago, Ill., who, with appropriate remarks, presented the "A" Achievement Award Flag. The color guard of the Charlevoix Coast Guard detachment assisted in raising the flag.

In a few well-chosen words, Elmer H. Rood, Manager of Reid, Murdoch of Ellsworth, accepted the award.

Donald E. Smith, Deputy Director of Food Distribution, WFA, Chicago, Ill., made the presentation of "A" award pins to all employees.

Mrs. Laura Wilson, in a gracious manner, made the acceptance speech in behalf of the workers.

H. W. Armstrong, President of Reid, Murdoch and Company gave a short but interesting talk, expressing appreciation for the loyalty and support of both growers and employees.

Representatives from several adjoining towns as well as three service men, former employees who were home on furlough, were introduced.

The Boys Scouts rendered their assistance by acting as ushers.

In closing, the Star Spangled Banner was sung by the group.

The Ellsworth factory may be justly proud of this achievement, which was made possible by the whole-hearted co-operation of growers, employees and management, to produce and process a large quantity of quality goods in spite of limited facilities and labor shortage.

BOWLING

Milt Meredith found the groove and piled up the top score of the week with an imposing 248, and that is certainly some pile of wood! In the ladies division Grace Irwin repeated her performance of last week with her 169 leading all competitors. Her hubby, who claims he is chief of the hamburger department, isn't doing too much bragging now!

Sunday, May 7th, will bring to the Recreation a bowling festival that will be well worth attending and one that will provide a surplus of fun and rivalry. The event as planned will include six teams with Petoskey, Bellaire, Charlevoix, Ellsworth, East Jordan and the sixth from either Traverse or Boyne. If you are a bowling enthusiast plan now to take in this inter city contest, it is bound to be worth your time.

Hud Somerville cut himself a nice slice of the City Association Tournament prize money last week with a grand slam that included all four of the divisions. Hud participated in the first money in each event: A member of the winning 5-man team, Benson's Hi Speeds; a co-winner of the doubles with Bill Taylor as partner; winner of the singles event by 16 pins; leader by 19 pins over all players in the all events! Congratulations, Hud!

A list of all prize winners in the City Tournament will be found below:

Crashed into a nest of giant reptiles. That's what a pilot did in the jungles of Nicaragua, but he saved himself and his two terror-stricken passengers. Read how he did it in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Fire Destroys Home Occupied by Three Families, Thursday

The home of William LaCroix, located at the corner of Spring and West William streets, just north of the old Company barn, was completely destroyed by fire about 3:00 o'clock Thursday morning, May 4. The fire fanned by a high South-West wind, had gained considerable headway at the time our Fire Department was called.

The house was occupied at the time by three families, Wm. LaCroix, Harry Kowalske and family and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Barber and family. The fire has gained such a start upon discovery that no household furnishings were saved.

Rock Elm Grange No. 705

Rock Elm Grange No. 705 met April 20, 1944 with 35 members and six visitors present. Nine were given the third and fourth degrees. Program followed and refreshments were served. The Grange has taken in sixteen new members this year.

4-H Achievement Day A Success

JEAN TROJANEK, EAST JORDAN, CHOSEN STYLE CHAMPION

The 4-H Club Spring Achievement Day held in the Charlevoix Gymnasium last Friday, April 28th, proved to be one of the best ever held. Favored with a beautiful spring day and with great interest and enthusiasm, the various activities of the day solicited much favorable comment from those in attendance. As was expected, the number of articles exhibited was not as large as last year, but the quality of the work was of the usual high standard and the facilities available allowed ample space for the exhibits.

Promptly at 10:30, 400 boys and girls marched to the Palace Theatre where free movies were enjoyed. At 1:00 o'clock, following a noon lunch, a fine musical program was rendered by the Char. High School Band under the leadership of their Director, Mr. Beach. Following this, the dress review took place with approximately seventy-five girls appearing on the stage in one group wearing the clothes they had completed in their project activity. This always proves to be one of the highlights of the entire day and gives the girls' friends a thrill to see this exhibition. When one stops to consider that some of the girls are only nine and ten years of age, the handiwork is remarkable.

A short address of welcome was given by Mr. Harry Bingham, High School Principal, who very warmly congratulated the farm youth for their contribution. Two majorettes, Phyllis Davis and Pat Bradley from Boyne City, demonstrated baton twirling.

Mr. A. G. Kettenun, State 4-H Club Leader, next gave a few well chosen remarks pertaining to the high quality work being accomplished by the thousands of boys and girls who make up the 4-H Club army. At the conclusion, he announced the winners who had done the outstanding Club work during the winter. Miss Lois Corbett, Associate State Club Leader, announced the members who appeared on the County Honor Roll.

The concluding event was a 4-H citizenship program which depicted the responsibilities of all folks making up the American home. All of the various projects carried on were portrayed by a Club member dressed to illustrate the project. The program was short and snappy and received the applause of an appreciative audience. The following is a list of the various Club members whose work was of sufficiently high standard and quality to be included on the County Honor Roll.

Adults Urged to Prevent Small Boys From Shooting at Birds

An appeal to parents and teachers to counsel boys not to kill songbirds is made by the conservation department as the airgun season opens.

Interested adults can tell boys how to distinguish between song sparrows and the common variety, as an example, and they may be able to center the interest of the boys on competitive target shooting rather than on live targets. It is hoped that small boys will not include street lights in their list of targets.

Auto Crash Injures Two

MR. AND MRS. GERALD AGER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

In an automobile accident that occurred near midnight Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ager were injured and bruised and taken to Charlevoix hospital. Jim Bennett, the third occupant of the car, was uninjured.

Mrs. Ager was bruised and cut on her leg, while Gerald's face was cut and bruised, and both legs were bruised. X-rays of his legs showed no fracture as he was at first thought to have sustained.

According to Chief of Police Harry Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Ager were riding north on Main street, in the front seat of an automobile owned and being operated by James P. Bennett. A large truck and semi-trailer were parked next to the curb directly opposite the City Library, and Mr. Bennett, evidently failing to see the trailer, smashed into the back end of it. The front end of his car was badly crushed and the wheels of the trailer were knocked out of position.

Clarence Hosler Family Burned Out Last Sunday Morning

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the house on the Charlevoix road, occupied by the Clarence Hosler family, Sunday morning, Apr. 31. The house was owned by Arthur Gidley who lives in California.

The East Jordan Fire Department was called out about 9:30 o'clock. Water was pumped from the lake and part of the household furniture and a garage were saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hosler and family now occupy the Alfred Walden house on State Street.

Inductees to Report on May 8 and 11 at Depot at Charlevoix

Victory Garden Versus Helping the Axis

Do the Citizens of East Jordan want to see a prolific Victory Garden on every plot of land, or are there some who want to help the Axis.

In other words, keep your dog on his own premises. Your neighbor don't like your dog tramping out seed beds and young plants, nor do they want to complain against a neighbor.

If owners of dogs want to be fair to their neighbors they will keep their dogs confined to the premises. If they THINK their dog is different they have another guess coming.

Should anyone wish, they may file a written and signed complaint with the Justice of Peace and the matter will be taken care of.

It would be much pleasanter all around if dog owners would approve of Victory Gardens and not be an indirect Axis sympathizer.

HARRY SIMMONS, Chief of Police.

Chief of Fire Dept: Gilbert Sturgell.

Health Officer: J. VanDellen, M. D.
Park Commissioner: R. G. Watson.
Park Caretaker: Joe Cummins.
Supt. of Cemetery: John Whiteford.

Moved by Malpass, supported by Shaw, that the appointments be confirmed. Carried, all ayes.

Moved to adjourn.
WM. ALDRICH, City Clerk.

County's Oldest Resident Passes

ALEX CURRIE, AGED ALMOST 103 YEARS, DIES WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 3.

Alex Currie, Charlevoix County's oldest resident, passed away at the home of his niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson, of Eveline Twp., Wednesday morning, May 3, at the age of 102 years, 10 months and 23 days.

UNCLE ALEX CURRIE

He was born June 26, 1841, near Belfast in Northern Ireland. In 1873 he came to America and was employed for a few years by a wealthy New Yorker whose hobby was raising pure-bred stock. He later moved to Ontario, Canada, and in 1881 came to Ironton, Michigan. After lumbering for a few years he purchased a farm in Eveline Township.

In 1892 he was married to Mrs. Caroline Fruman who preceded him in death about 29 years.

On the 100th birthday anniversary of Uncle Alex, as he was known to many, open house was held which was a pleasant occasion. From early morning to late night he enjoyed visiting and recalling earlier experiences.

He is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Lyle Wilson with whom he had made his home for thirty-four years, and Miss Anna Currie; three nephews, Charter Currie and Alex Currie of Eveline Township and James Currie of Boyne City.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon, May 5, at 2 o'clock at the Watson Funeral home, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham of the Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Temple Program for Week Beginning May 5

Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6. James Cagney and Grace George in "Johnny Come Lately." The story of a tender hearted tramp, tempted by fate to stay long enough in one spot to even the score for a charming old lady newspaper editor, who is at the mercy of a corrupt political element.

Sun., Mon., Tues.: Ann Sheridan, Irene Manning, and Dennis Morgan in "Shine On Harvest Moon." Songs and laughter, mixed with a few tears and a touch of romance, taking you back to the good old days. An excellent portrayal of the ups and downs of the show business at the turn of the century.

Wed., Thur.: Kay Kiser and Joan Davis in "Around The World." This has Kyser music, gorgeous girls, exotic backgrounds, and high speed action.

Coming attractions are: Stage Door Canteen, The Fallen Sparrow, Crime School, Heavenly Body, Iron Major, Desert Song, Broadway Rhythm, and Lady In The Dark.

We'll see you at the Temple.

Clean-Up Proclamation

The week of May 8 to May 14 has been designated as Annual Clean-Up Week in East Jordan. All residents are urged to clean up their premises of all rubbish.

Trucks will be furnished by the City for the removal of rubbish placed in containers and at the curb or near-by alley. All rubbish for removal should be placed by Monday a. m. so that no "repeat" trips will be necessary. The City absolutely will not haul ashes. These must be taken care of by the residents.

VERN WHITEFORD, Mayor.

Unending Allied Air Offensive Blasts Nazi's Western Defenses, Railroads; Lag Seen in Farm Machinery Output; Dutch East Indies Bombed by British

EUROPE: Unending Raids

An unending procession of U. S. and British bombers soared over western Europe blasting the invasion path, while in the Balkans to the southeast, Axis forces went over to the attack to shore up the Russians' drive on Rumania and Hungary.

Big bombers, medium bombers and strafing fighter planes all participated in the Allied aerial attacks on France, the Lowlands and Germany, with rail communications leading to the invasion coast and airports and aircraft factories the principal targets. In one 36-hour period alone, Allied aviators made no less than 6,000 individual flights over the west.

Axis counterattacks in the Balkans took form as the Russians advanced on Carpathian mountain passes leading into the rolling Hungarian plains, and other Red forces threatened the rich Rumanian oil fields around Ploesti. In the Crimean peninsula jutting into the Black sea, Russian forces laid siege to the big naval base of Sevastopol, where Axis troops flocked after a lengthy retreat.

Demand Loyalty

As western Europe crackled under the Allies' savage bombing offensive to clear the invasion path, Nazi No. 2 Hermann Goering and Nazi No. 3 Joseph Goebbels used Hitler's 55th birthday to loudly appeal to the German people for unquestioned loyalty during the hectic period to follow.

Hermann Goering

Said Goering: "A thousand dangers may lie ahead . . . New anxieties and burdens may prove inevitable . . . No sacrifice and no privation should be too great to make for Germany . . . Our gift to the fuhrer is our vow not to lay down arms until we have assured the Reich's future."

Said Goebbels: ". . . Even the greatest leaders of history will be faced with occasional setbacks and defeats . . . It will not be possible to form an accurate and just idea of the individual war events and factors which have been decisive in the war until the war is over . . . So to serve our aims means to be loyal to the fuhrer and to follow him through all the storms of war. . ."

FOREIGN HOLDINGS: U. S. Stake

After a canvass of more than 200,000 individuals, estates and trusts, and 16,000 business firms, the U. S. Treasury established American holdings in more than 50 foreign countries at $13,300,000,000.

Although two-thirds of the holdings of household goods, bonds and factories are in Allied or friendly nations, U. S. national's stake in Axis or occupied countries totals $3,775,000,000, of which $1,290,000,000 is in Germany, $265,000,000 in Italy, $90,000,000 in Japan, $65,000,000 in Rumania and $55,000,000 in Hungary.

By far the largest U. S. investments are in Canada, aggregating $4,375,000,000 and holdings in Great Britain total $1,030,000,000. Investments in Cuba amount to $785,000,000; Mexico, $420,000,000; Argentina, $355,000,000, and Brazil, $330,000,000.

GOP: Keynoter Named

Selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California as opening speaker, or keynoter, at the Republican national convention in Chicago, June 24, has served to modulate the extreme nationalist and internationalist elements in the party.

Brawny, 6-foot Governor Warren, who first jumped into the political spotlight on the west coast through his racket-busting, stands by the GOP's Mackinac declaration on foreign policy, stressing international cooperation with other nations without impairing U. S. sovereignty.

Said Warren: "As Republicans, we must avoid discord that would interfere with our displacing the White House palace guard with an administration more competent to win the war and solve our postwar problems, domestic and foreign."

LEND-LEASE: Extension Debated

With congress considering extension of lend-lease until June 30, 1945, debate centered around subjecting the President's final settlements with foreign recipients to legislative scrutiny.

Under terms of the lend-lease measure, the President had sole authority to make final settlements, but in extending the act to 1945, the house wrote in an amendment which prohibits him from negotiating final settlements involving international commitments without congressional approval.

During the course of house debate on the new measure which was sent to the senate by a 334 to 21 vote, the majority killed Republican efforts to compel foreign nations to return lend-lease munitions to the U. S. after the war.

PLAY BALL: Majors Open

More than 123,000 fans were on hand to witness the opening of the 1944 major league baseball season, with the largest crowd of 30,154 watching the Chicago Cubs spank the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 0, at Cincinnati, and the smallest of 4,030 watching the St. Louis Cardinals blank the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 0, at St. Louis.

The New York Yankees' Johnny Lindell drove out the majors' first home run against the Boston Red Sox to lead his team to a 3 to 0 victory, and the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators played the first extra inning game, with the A's winning in the 12th, 3 to 2, when Rookie Erwin Hall doubled home Babe Siebert.

STRIKES: In U. S., Canada

Strikes at Montgomery Ward and company and the Ford Motor company of Canada crowded the labor spotlight.

At Ward's, the nation's No. 2 mail order house, the company resumed shipment of freight and parcel post after railroad and teamster unions had tied up deliveries in sympathy with the CIO's United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail Employees union, which struck over the firm's refusal to extend a bargaining contract upon order of the War Labor board.

About 14,000 employees of the Ford company's Canadian plants remained idle after a walkout in protest over the firm's discharge of CIO stewards for investigating members' grievances during working hours, and the company's subsequent cancellation of the union's contract.

SOLDIERS' WIVES: Arrive in U. S.

Anxious to look over their new homeland, 90 Australian brides or fiancées of American soldiers arrived in the U. S. from "Down Under," with one expressing the belief that if they got good Irish stew now and then, they should learn to get along.

Wife of a marine corporal from Shinnston, W. Va., Mrs. Doris Jean Lebas, said: "The American boys . . . bluntly told some of us, in Australia were 10 years behind the times. They told us we couldn't wear American clothes, and that we'd never see such beautiful girls as we'd see in this country."

Australian wives of U. S. soldiers may apply for citizenship after two years. Any of their children born overseas automatically become citizens with five years residence under the U. S. flag.

G. I. BOARD

It is costing the government less this year to provide "board and room" for the millions of enlisted men in the army. Economies have trimmed the annual expenditure to an estimated $465.06 this year.

The estimated figures include $215.35 for food, $173.70 for clothing, $44.70 for individual equipment (excepting arms and ammunition), and $31.31 for barracks equipment. Production costs on many items supplied by contractors have been reduced.

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

LESSON TEXT: Acts 16:13-15; Philippians 3:7-14. GOLDEN TEXT: I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.—Philippians 3:14.

Pressing "toward the mark" (Phil. 3:14) well describes the zeal and intense devotion with which Paul lived his life for Christ. He was wholehearted in giving himself to the preaching of the gospel. Our lesson tells of his carrying of the gospel into Europe by the guidance and blessing of the Holy Spirit.

It seems appropriate to consider the two Scripture portions in reverse order, looking first at Paul's declaration in Philippians of his passion to know Christ, and then in Acts of his purpose to make Him known. The man with vision is eager to serve. "A task without a vision makes a man a drudge; a vision without a task makes him a visionary; a task and a vision makes him a missionary."

I. Paul's Passion to Know Christ (Phil. 3:7-14). There were many things in Paul's life of which he was proud, until he met Christ, and then everything else lost its importance and interest.

All things in life are relative in value and our attachment to them is determined by our heart attitude. Now being spiritually minded and having found in Christ real satisfaction for his soul, the Christian counts as refuse the things in which the world takes such pride and satisfaction.

To "know Him" calls for a depth of experience, sacrifice and of joy which is not easy to describe in words. It begins with a divine righteousness imparted by faith. Self-righteousness will not suffice. This is not a matter of law, but of grace.

It is a resurrection faith and therefore powerful. It is a faith which accepts suffering for Christ as a part of fellowship with Him—not only bearable but glorious because it is in the power of His resurrection.

That fellowship is one day to be complete and eternal, for there is to be for Paul the assured experience of a personal resurrection out from among the dead (v. 11). The faith of a Christian looks beyond the grave.

All this has to do with the present, as well as the blessed future. The man who has this kind of spiritual experience shares the purpose of Paul expressed in verses 12-14. Here there is no resting back in self-satisfied comfort, no pride in one's past victories, no sense of having "arrived."

Paul saw not only the necessity but the blessedness of going from victory to victory. Too many Christians of today are entirely satisfied with what they have attained (and it is usually all too little).

There is a prize to be gained, the prize of our "high calling in Christ Jesus." Let us, like Paul, be filled with holy dissatisfaction with ourselves until we reach that blessed goal.

The man who had such a vision was ready for God's call to carry the gospel into Europe.

II. Paul's Purpose to Make Christ Known (Acts 16:13-15).

The story of the conversion of Lydia has many elements of special interest. It presents the turning point in the progress of the gospel, which by the grace and leading of God brought it northward into Europe rather than southward into Africa. Many of us have heard because of the way Paul was led, and one wonders if Europe and America might not otherwise have been the "dark continents" rather than Africa. We are what we are by the grace of God.

Then we note that the first convert was a woman. She was not the last woman to give an attentive ear and a believing heart to the gospel message. The church through all its history has been blessed by the readiness of women to bear and heed the gospel.

We like to note that she set a pattern of hospitality and service which her sisters in the church have maintained (see v. 15). She "constrained" the visiting preachers to enjoy the comforts of her fine home, and thus put forward the work of Christ (see III John 5-8).

It is encouraging to note how perfectly the leading of the Holy Spirit worked out in the experience of Paul and his brethren. The Lord sent His prepared messenger to the place where there was a prepared heart waiting to receive the Word with gladness.

We may confidently go on the errands of our God, knowing that when He leads, He goes before and prepares the way. That does not mean that there will be no trials and difficulties. Paul had plenty of them (see II Cor. 11:23-33). But it does mean that we may go with the assurance of blessed results, in His name, and with the grace to bear whatever comes along the way—for His glory.

U. S. Farm Expert Gives Friendly Advice to China

Department of Agriculture Officials Visit Chinese, Suggest Practical Methods Of Increasing Food Production.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building Washington, D. C.

Out in Falls Church, Virginia, a little way from Washington, there lives a friend of mine who was brought up on a farm. Last year, some new neighbors moved in next door — city folks, you could tell by looking at them, but full of pep and vinegar and very patriotic. They started out to make a victory garden.

My friend could tell by the way they handled their hoes that before long, they'd be asking him for advice.

He's a good neighbor, but he isn't nosy. So he just waited. Well, it wasn't long before the man next door came up, leaned over the fence, and said: "How is it your garden is coming along so good and mine ain't?"

My friend smiled, and then he pitched in and told him some of the facts of plant life.

It isn't going to benefit my friend even if his neighbor's garden is a record breaker but he's a typical American and he's doing what we all used to do back in the old days when neighbor depended on neighbor — giving a helping hand when it is needed.

Last week, I sat down across the desk from a big, black-haired fellow, who looks a lot younger than he is in years and wisdom. His name is Dr. Ralph W. Phillips.

When I talked with him, he had just returned from giving a little neighborly advice over the back fence to our Chinese neighbors. He's in charge of genetics investigations for the Department of Agriculture and he was loaned to the State department, along with some 21 other experts, to go over to China (at the invitation of the Chinese) to look around and see what ought to be done to improve their stock.

For you and me and most Americans, even those who don't know any more about a farm than to think "shorts" are just underwear, a cow that doesn't give milk wouldn't be much of a critter. But believe it or not, one of the results which it is hoped Dr. Phillips' trip will achieve is to explain to the Chinese why cows have udders.

First-Hand Facts

The Chinese know many things which we don't know, but Phillips has put between the covers of a book now being printed in China, a lot of things that the Chinese never knew before. He got his facts first hand, traveling over most of the unoccupied parts of China with the Chinese Minister of Agriculture and a good interpreter, and collated them against his own expert knowledge of animal husbandry. But as he said to me, if you know anything about a cow, a sheep or a horse, you don't need an interpreter to tell you what's the matter with it.

It was a hot day in Washington when I interviewed Dr. Phillips and he had his coat and vest off. "I'm a shirtsleeve diplomat," he said to me.

When I learned a little more of the details of his particular job, I realized that it was one in which you had to take off your coat and roll up your sleeves. Among other things, he rode several hundred miles over what the Chinese laughingly call roads, in ancient automobiles, and a good many miles on the back of a very tough Mongolian pony.

This friendly, easy-going shirtsleeve scientist typifies a new order — he is part of a new, honest effort (as one member of the State department said to me) "to establish a relationship of people to people" rather than a relationship of diplomat to diplomat, or government to government.

Dr. Phillips witnessed the effects of the great migration of the Chinese government followed by its universities, its people, its industries. This great movement, enforced by the Japanese occupation, opened up vast territory in western and northwestern China about which the rulers of China heretofore have been very little concerned. For the sake of this discussion, China can be roughly divided into two quite different agricultural domains. In the crowded eastern provinces, small farming and very small farming, indeed, is the chief activity. In the west, there are great grasslands better adapted to the raising of stock.

Animal husbandry in China must meet one immediate problem, and that is, increasing and improving production in the western part of the country and breeding for restocking in the areas which will be re-occupied when the Japanese are driven out.

The heavy demands for food by the American military, to say nothing of China's own soldiers, make it necessary for the Chinese to increase food production to the utmost. At present, however, Dr. Phillips reported that except for the famine areas where drouth or insects have affected the crops, the Chinese people have more food available than is popularly believed.

But they aren't making the most of their cows and pigs and chickens.

As to the Chinese cow, about which Dr. Phillips spoke with great feeling, one of the first things to do is to teach the Chinese peasant that it gives milk and that milk is a pretty good food. And then to improve the breed so that it will give milk. At present, the cow is a beast of burden, a draft animal. However, it isn't even as good a draft animal as it could be. It will not be difficult to improve the breed so that it will be more efficient as a beast of burden and as a milk giver, at the same time.

Of course, the Nomadic people who live on the great plains of northern China, who live from their herds, use the milk as food, mostly dried in the form of casein. They also store butter. They have the yak and a hybrid animal, a cross between a yak and a cow, which is called a "pian-niu."

The chickens in China aren't much to crow about either, I take it, from Dr. Phillips' description. If they lay only 50 to 60 eggs a year, nobody complains. There, too, breeding from selected types that China already has would be a great help.

Dr. Phillips likes the Chinese donkeys and in spite of personal experiences on their backs, thinks Mongolian horses have possibilities. Very good mules are produced by crossing the Mongolian mare and the donkey. But the Mongolian horse is a little, tough-mouthed, flat-withered, crooked-legged animal which could be greatly improved with inter-breeding with a good saddle horse strain.

No Ordered Effort

Dr. Phillips had first-hand experience with these little animals whose ancestors were tough enough to carry Ghangis Khan across Asia but are too tough to follow the bridle if they get other ideas.

Up until now, there seems to have been no ordered effort by the representatives of any other foreign country to assist in the improvement of Chinese livestock. Missionaries here and there have introduced better grades which have had an influence in the immediate vicinity, German missionaries brought in some nice fat pigs. Others introduced good chickens and cows. But these were only a drop in the bucket.

The Chinese Department of Agriculture itself is a new thing and has very little background of training or experience. Perhaps the one most important influence has been the exchange established between Cornell university and the University in Nanking. A number of experts in agriculture have been trained at Cornell and have gone back to China.

Naturally with such a large proportion of the population illiterate, it will be exceedingly difficult to spread the information even when the Chinese leaders themselves are trained.

The present Chinese government, despite the fact that almost every ounce of energy has to be turned toward fighting the war, has shown an interest evidenced by the welcome reception given the various American representatives, and the United States on its side has sought to improve its relations between people and extend its influence by this activity which is a part of the cultural relations program.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Premier Hideki Tojo's government has announced details of a countrywide "vacant lots utilization program" under which the land along railroad lines and highways, as well as other available vacant areas, will be put to use for growing pumpkins and soybeans to help solve Japan's war food problems. The plan is quite reminiscent of our own victory gardens.

Yanks on leave in British restaurants ask for roast beef, Yorkshire pudding, fish-and-chips and home-made scones, while British customers have taken to traditionally American dishes such as cheese with apple pie, and fried chicken and waffles, the British Information services report. The war may lead to an exchange of cooking recipes as well as an exchange of ideas.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

PROFITS: The meat packing industry had a net income of only 1.1 per cent on sales in 1943, the lowest for any major manufacturing industry, the American Meat institute reports.

BANANAS: Shortage of shipping between South American and United States ports is seriously handicapping importation of bananas, trade officials say.

HERO: In a curious case of a marine hero, who is also a deserter from the marines and the army, First Class Private William B. Murphy of Tennessee left the army after nearly six years of service and then joined the marines to win the navy cross as a member of Carlson's Raiders. Walking away from a marine hospital, he was later detained and held for discipline.

Reveille on the Jordan

Just a little message to the boys in the service from the folks back home. Sponsored by the East Jordan Community Service Club.

Friends:

As customary the second Sunday of this month (May 14th) is marked on our calendars and has also been officially proclaimed by our President to be a special day. Yes, another Mother's Day has come and will be far past when the majority of you receive this paper, and yet knowing that we cannot time these articles so that you will get them at the proper time, we will try, as we have in the past on special occasions, to have those of you in the states receive them as near to the proper time as possible in order to remind you of the day.

Of all years for this day to be remembered certainly you will agree with us when we say that this is probably one of the most important. Without a doubt, never before in the history of the world has there been so many people (some mothers son or daughter) in the fighting forces at one time. Naturally it follows that all mothers anxieties, fears, and worries are many, for how could it be otherwise.

But certainly we're not writing this to paint a black picture, rather may be offer you a suggestion to somewhat ease the anxiety. Laying on my desk is a blotter with this wording: "A letter is like a visit, write today." Very few of you will be home personally on this Mother's Day and yet if a letter is like a visit, put your sentiments of the day on paper and send it home, certainly it will at least partially fill the vacancy. If you could see the post office around mail time, I'm sure you would get some kind of an idea of what I'm driving at. So write those letters home even though they arrive too late for this Mother's Day.

Two weeks ago we write of a letter received from GEORGE REBEC, included with which was the following poem which, as George said, might be used for this occasion. Again we appreciate very much receiving the poem because it expresses the sentiments of all of you and we know too that you would want to use this medium for expressing yourself for this day.

TO MOM

I know that you are lonely,
But there's nothing I can do
Till this troubled world is peaceful,
And I'm home again with you.

I can't even send you flowers
To express my love in part,
But a car load full of flowers
Couldn't ease an aching heart.

Now, Mom, you keep on smiling,
And at times if you feel blue,
Remember other boys are fighting
And their mothers miss them too.

So you mothers stick together,
Please don't worry about us men,
And before you even know it,
We'll be coming home again.

HOME FRONT NEWS

Very few different soldiers and sailors were seen during this past week than what were mentioned in our last week's column so this part will be short. One quite unexpected soldier spending the opening of trout season at home is RUSSELL CONWAY. We can just imagine how his furlough at this particular time is envied by so many of you who are wont to spend this day on the waters of the Jordan or one of its tributaries. Russell, as you will recall, has been enjoying the Pennsylvania air, being stationed at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation — not Indian Reservation as almost was written. We used the word enjoying because Russell said it was a very pretty place especially now that spring is bringing everything to life again, in fact he said it compares quite favorably with Northern Michigan. From other sources we learn that Russell found hitchhiking to be real good despite the gasoline rationing, having traveled by this method from Detroit. Yes you guessed it, the trip was made in two days as one night must be spent in Mt. Pleasant. However, Russell says that in all his travels while being in the army nowhere else has he found such hospitality as he was given to enjoy in that City. Sailor JIM McKENNY apparently has completed his boot training at Great Lakes as we noticed him driving in town last week, however, will try and have the details next week. The only other serviceman seen was GAYLE SAXTON. You will remember our mentioning last week that he was expected in town soon. Gayle has been spending all his time in the City of Chicago and expects to report back to the same school and resume his regular duties.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT

Again it's time to report to you on the news from the front so we'll begin with the letters and cards received this week. The first letter is a V-mail from GLEN WEILER now in England. He tells us that so far he likes his life in England and is stationed in a nice place. He is kept busy as a driver and has seen some interesting sights during his tour of duties. Glen has asked for the address of MARSHALL SHEPARD which we have forwarded to him.

The next piece of mail is a humorous card from LEO NEMECZEK. Leo is now stationed at the DeRidder Army Air Base in Louisiana and is with the sixth Photo Lab Section. The picture on the card he sent shows a soldier jumping over the swamp and has this quotation — "We Don't 'Go Over the Top' we 'Jump the Swamp' in Louisiana. Perhaps the boys that have had maneuver training in that state won't agree with this or maybe they can appreciate it. . . . The first time we heard from DALE GEE since his furlough a few months ago was last week. We wish to quote a paragraph from Dale's letter: "When I was home on furlough I wrote a letter to CLIFF GREEN who is in Italy. Since then I have been looking for his letter to me and today I received it. But here is how I received it. Some way or another Cliff's letter got mixed up with a letter a fellow there wrote to his sister in Minneapolis, Minn. She in turn sent it to me and also wrote me a letter. Boy was I ever surprised to receive it in that way." We just wonder if Dale wasn't just a little elated over the fact that Cliff's letter got sidetracked that way.

At the time this letter was written Dale was restricted to the post because of the fact a few people in town had gotten the mumps. Sure hope those mummy people have recovered by this time so Dale can again have his freedom and get into a ball game which he is anticipating. . . . From far away Sardinia comes word from EDWARD STANEK. Ed tells us that they are enjoying some real nice spring weather although he anticipates it will get plenty warm there this summer but doesn't think it can be much hotter than it was in Africa last summer. A Frenchman told Ed that the heat was so extreme at one time in Africa that they were able to fry eggs on the streets. That's just another reason we've got to get this war over so our boys can enjoy those cool summers at home. Ed is one of the servicemen that has been overseas a year and a half. Since being at his present location he hasn't happened to meet with anyone from home but mentioned that while in Palermo he has met GUY RUSSELL before he was moved back to England. . . . After reporting to Treasure Island to attend Gyro School, BARTON VANCE found he was a bit too early to start classes so he used part of this time by writing in to the paper. He plans on being at Gyro School for four months so if there are any others in that location, look him up at the Advanced Training School there. We wish Barton lots of success in this new course. . . . To look at the hours that HARRY WATSON is keeping we can well understand that the most of his time is spent right at Great Lakes. Here's a copy of Harry's schedule: Go to school from 4:20 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. Chow. School again from 8:30 p. m. to 12 o'clock midnight. Hit the sack (Harry's expression) at 12:30 and get up at 8 a. m. Chow at 9:30 a. m. Physical hardening at 2 p. m. until 3 p. m. That's all for the day until Harry starts classes again at 4:20. The navy does give them a 32 hour week end leave every other week end. That is the schedule Harry will follow for 16 weeks as he is attending torpedo school. As far as he is concerned he believes it is strictly the best but, as Harry says, there is nothing too good for an East Jordan fellow. . . . Monday night, April 24th, found JIM LILAK writing his first letter to the paper from Camp Lee, Virginia. The paper comes to Jim every Monday morning which we think is pretty good service. We're sorry Jim had to cut his letter short but he had to help clean the army barracks for the next day's inspection. Basic training is just about over for him and he tells us he didn't find it half as bad as he had expected. Let us know what's in store for you after basic, Jim. . . . We are informed that BILL WALDEN has received a pair of gunner's wings upon his graduation from Harlingen Army Air Field in Texas. A new address for Bill has it that he is now at Hammar Field in Fresno, California, and is attached to Sqd. 12. . . . We are told that ROBERT KISER is now a Pm. M 3-c. Bob is still stationed at his old address. . . . CLIFFORD DERENZY sure manages to stay in the east and his new address has it that he is now at Camp Pickett, Virginia. . . . A surprise meeting occurred last week between ROBERT TROJANEK and TOM HITCHCOCK, Jr. in Peoria, Illinois, where they both happened to be at a USO club. We can guess that the evening was spent conversing over old times. . . . Having seen our good friend JOHN SMITH here in East Jordan but a short time ago, it seemed almost unbelievable when we received a letter from him from somewhere in Italy. It again makes us remember how fast things are happening these days and we're glad to know that the axis are finding this out too and how fast things can happen that they never dreamed could happen. Anyway as we said John is somewhere in Italy and from the tone of the last paragraph has encountered some of Italy's mud on the Anzio beachhead. John writes that he found the North Africa country and its natives most interesting in his visits to Casa Blanca and Oran. . . . From the other corner of the globe we have a letter from BURL WALKER who also left the states quite recently and now finds himself in New Guinea. Burl, as has been mentioned before, is with a Q M Refrigerator Co. and we can imagine that in New Guinea this is rather an important unit. We wonder if Burl isn't sometimes tempted to use it for himself. However he says he's gradually becoming accustomed to their ways of doing things including the left hand driving. . . . All of you will remember the swell letter from ALBA BROOKS that was printed in full in last week's issue. Just one week from the date of that letter, another one was written which gives us his new address as being Camp Van Dorn, Mississippi, where BENNY BENSON and CARROLL BARTHOLOMEW are also stationed. Perhaps you fellows will find it possible for a get together. . . . As usual a number of address changes have come in during the past week and included in this group we note the following have left for foreign duty, JOHN LEWIS and DUANE (Sonny) HOSLER. Don't forget to keep us posted on your boxing career, Sonny, so that we in turn can keep the others posted as we know they are interested too.

Again our source of material has been exhausted so we will sign off for another week, meanwhile awaiting the news from you.
Your friends at home,
By Henry Drenth.

PROBATE ORDER

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix in said County, on the 17th day of April, A. D. 1944.

Present, Hon. Rollie L. Lewis, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of William D. Kenny, Deceased. Ole K. Hegerberg, Administrator of said estate, having filed in said Court his final administration account, and his petition praying for the allowance thereof and for the assignment and distribution of the residue of said estate according to law;

It is Ordered, That the 8th day of May A. D. 1944, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for examining and allowing said account and hearing said petition;

It is Further Ordered, That publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix County

It's still BIG MONEY in our business!

THE ordinary copper penny has lost a lot of its purchasing power these days — and even some of its copper. But it still buys as much electricity as ever.

For example, right now in your home a penny will toast about twenty slices of bread — or brew ten cups of coffee — or clean five big rugs — or run your refrigerator for several hours.

Rather startling what a penny will do when you think of it that way, isn't it?

Actually, the price of electricity came down so steadily before the war — and it has stayed down so successfully since — that today the average family gets about twice as much electricity for the same money it paid fifteen years ago.

All this didn't just happen, of course. It's due largely to the hard work, efficiency and experience of your friends and neighbors who man and manage this company. That's why a penny, spent for electricity, buys so much.

CAUTION: Even though electricity is cheap — even though it isn't rationed — PLEASE DON'T WASTE IT. Coal, oil, manpower, transportation go into the making of electricity and these are critical war resources.

Russell Conway came to our room the other day and talked to us on army life.

We are studying China in our geography class.

We gave a program in our class last Friday and invited Mrs. Butlers fifth grade.

SECOND GRADE — Miss Muck
The Sunshine class has finished their "Friendly Village" books. We are now reading "Neighbors on the Hill."

Shirley Farmer brought a picture of "The Angelus" to school. Miss Muck told us the story of the picture and the life of the artist Jean Millet.

SIXTH GRADE — Mr. DeForest
We are all making experiment books of the last two months experiments.

Our room had $2.35 in war stamps last week. The total for all the grades for the past week was $79.90.

FIFTH GRADE — Mrs. Butler
Thelma Bennett is a new pupil in our room bringing the total to forty.

We are carrying out a nature study project in language, art and music.

Linda Petrie and Byran Boring made a large outline map of the United States for us to use in geography. We are making pictures of the important things of each state and pasting them on the map.

Physical training every morning in the gym is part of our health class.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Last Friday about thirty girls and fifteen boys went to Charlevoix for the annual 4-H Achievement Day. There was a large attendance and some very fine exhibits were on display. Only four girls had the honor of being placed on the County Honor Roll. They were: Jean Trojanek and Marian Strehl for complete costumes. Gladys Larden and Maxine Lord for children's garments.

The boys this year were unable to have a handicraft club. So they took a course in personal grooming instead. The three boys who were placed on the County Honor Roll for this class were Victor Ayres, Danny Sinclair and Elgy Brintnall.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

With just a few weeks of school left it is time that we turned our thoughts to those who will be leaving us at the end of this school year. Some will be going to the service, some to college and some to work. Wherever they go we want them to know that our best wishes are with them. Good Luck, Seniors!

This year Mary Ann Lenosky and Parker Seiler have consented to write the senior biographies.

The following four were written by Mary Ann Lenosky.

LOUIS ADDIS
Louis Addis, or Louie as he is called, was born on a farm near East Jordan on September 4, 1926.

He has spent all of his seventeen years on a farm, and has attained all of his schooling at the East Jordan Public Schools.

Louie has been a member of the boys 4-H Club for two years, and is Treasurer of the Senior Class. Until his eighteenth birthday next fall, Louie plans to go sailing on the Great Lakes.

REVA ADDIS
Veronica Reva Addis was born on a farm west of East Jordan on May 16, 1926.

Reva, as she is more commonly known, has always attended the East Jordan Public Schools. She has been a member of the Girls' 4-H Club for six years and played a cornet in the band for two years. Her hobbies are reading and collecting pennies.

During her four years of high school, Reva has majored in commerce, and plans to attend a business college next fall.

MARJORIE ALLEN
One of the shortest girls in the Senior Class is Marjorie Allen, who is a little over five feet tall.

Born in Charlevoix, July 6, 1926, Marjorie attended the Charlevoix Public Schools until coming to East Jordan in her Junior year. While in Charlevoix she was a member of the Girls' 4-H Club for three years and the Pep Club.

Marjorie will probably be seen around school next year, as she plans to take a post-graduate course.

AUDREY CLEMENS
The honor of being the youngest person in the class goes to Audrey Clemens, born February 3, 1927.

Audrey has attended twelve different schools, coming to East Jordan from Sterling, Michigan, in her Senior year.

She has been a member of the Girls Glee Club, and also played on various basketball teams.

In her spare time, Audrey likes to collect stamps, and also take pictures.

After graduation, she plans to work.

SOUTH ARM...

(Edited by Mrs. Arnold Smith)

"His experiences in a Japanese Prison Camp" will be the subject on which Rev. J. O. Wells, a missionary from Petoskey, will speak at the Ranney school, May 9th at 10:45 a. m. The talk will last about an hour. So everybody come. All friends and neighbors are welcome.

Callers at the Arnold Smith home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McPherson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flora and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Walton and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith spent Sunday with their son, Jett, near Mancelona. They spent most of the day fishing.

Allen Walton and Arnold Smith each purchased a new cow this week.

Mrs. Anna Craft and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hersh and family at Ellsworth.

Mike Eaton was a Sunday caller at the Irving Addis farm.

Mrs. Hattie Murphy spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the Archie Murphy home.

There was a good crowd at the South Arm Grange hall a week ago Saturday and there will be another public dance there this week end.

Betty Dougherty is back in school again after a week's illness.

Alfred Dougherty wrote his folks from his camp last week. He is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sloan Jr. and family were Sunday evening callers at the Irving Crawford home. Jim will return to his work but Mrs. Sloan plans to stay until school is out.

The Sutherland family moved on to the Kenneth Isaman farm Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Crawford and daughter Audry, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crawford and Mrs. Clara Liskim were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Crawford and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vessel Crawford and daughter were Monday evening callers of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hard of Rapid City.

Mrs. Allen Walton, Mrs. Harvey McPherson and Mrs. Arnold Smith were business callers at Petoskey, Tuesday.

There were eleven members at Mrs. Clarence Lord's home last Thursday when the South Arm Extension Club met for their lesson. Pot luck lunch was served at noon.

We will have Sunday School at the Ranney School again this summer, starting Sunday, May 7. Everyone in the neighborhood is urged to attend.

LEGAL

PROBATE ORDER

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

In the Matter of the Estate of William E. Malpass, Deceased.

At a session of said Court, held in the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 1st day of May, 1944.

Present: Rollie L. Lewis, Probate Judge.

The above estate having been admitted to probate and William H. Malpass, Richard W. Malpass and Theodore E. Malpass having been appointed Executors.

It is Ordered, That two months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate for examination and adjustment, and that all creditors of said deceased, are required to present their claims to said Court, at the Probate Office in the City of Charlevoix, on or before the 10th day of July, 1944, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time claims will be heard.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix County Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

ROLLIE L. LEWIS,
Judge of Probate.

ANTRIM SOIL CONSERVATION REFERENDUM SATURDAY, MAY 6, FROM 7 TO 10 P. M. LAND-OWNERS URGED TO VOTE

Saturday evening, May 6, from 7 to 10 o'clock, a county wide referendum is being held to give all owners of land, lying outside of the incorporated villages of Bellaire, Central Lake, Ellsworth, Elk Rapids and Mancelona, an opportunity to vote on the proposed District. Owners or buyers of land in the various Townships will vote in the following places:—

Banks Township — Ellsworth Community Hall, Ellsworth.

Chestonia & Star Townships — Chestonia Town Hall.

Echo Township — Echo Town Hall, Pleasant Valley.

Jordan Township — Jordan Town Hall.

The establishment of a Soil Conservation District in Antrim County is for the purpose of making available to individual farmers within the county the services of specially trained soils technicians, who give those farmers desiring such services, assistance in the controlling of erosion, soil and farm management problems, and preserve and increase the fertility of the soil on your farms. The assistance of such men cost individual farmers nothing. Districts CAN NOT pass laws, assess taxes or float bond issues. The business of a District is administered by a Board of Directors of five Antrim County farmers elected by the land owners of the County.

Early in 1944 nearly three hundred farmers petitioned the State Soil Conservation Committee, consisting of Charles Figy, Commissioner of Agriculture; P. J. Hoffmaster, Director of Department of Conservation; and E. L. Anthony, Dean of Agriculture, Michigan State College, for the establishment of an Antrim County Soil Conservation District. A County wide hearing was held at Bellaire, on Friday, March 20, by the Committee, at which time testimony was taken as to whether there was need for such a District in Antrim County. Everyone present was of the opinion that there was a need for a Soil Conservation District in Antrim County.

Farmers will need good land after the war as well as now. Every field on every farm is suited to something. Often times we have crop failures because we attempt to grow crops on fields which are not adapted to the crop.

All landowners in Antrim County are urged to vote. Women are urged to vote as well as men. The Antrim County Farm Bureau and Granges are sponsoring the formation of the proposed Antrim County Soil Conservation District.

Questions, Answers Pretaining to Soil Conservation Districts

1—What can a Soil Conservation District accomplish in Charlevoix County?

The answer is up to cooperating land owners, as the management of the district is entirely under the direction of five local directors, who are appointed or elected from local farmers and who will guide the activities to best serve the county needs, and to aid in the improvement of soils in the county. Accomplishments will depend upon the requests and response of local cooperating farmers.

2—What are some of the activities that might be possible in Charlevoix County?

The improvement of soils and the use of land to increase production are the general objectives of all District activities. Special activities likely in Charlevoix County might be:

A—Activities to Conserve Soil and Water.

1. Sod water ways.
2. Improved crop rotations.
3. Contour strips.
4. More use of green manure and cover crops.

B—Activities to prevent wind damage to soil and crops.

1. Wind breaks.
2. Strip farming.
3. Improved crop rotations.

C—Activities to increase productivity of land.

1. Use of more hay and pasture crops on hilly fields.
2. Cooperative use of bull-dozers for clearing new land.
3. Planting of trees on private land not adapted to farming.
4. Use of new crops and improved rotations to provide cover and add humus to the soil.

3—Would all these activities be attempted on every farm?

The answer is definitely NO. What might be desirable on one farm might be of no value or even be a detriment to another farm. The services of a trained man without cost to Charlevoix County would be available and the individual problems on each farm would be worked out with the owner, who applies for assistance.

4—How would activities of a Soil Conservation District be conducted?

FIRST, the Local Directors would outline the activities of most value to the county.

SECOND, a trained technician would be made available to all farmers in the county as a hired man to conduct the activities outlined by the directors.

THIRD, the technician, cooperating with the State Soil Conservation Service, would work out special plans for soil improvement for each farm on an individual basis.

5—Just how would a Soil Conservation District affect an individual farm?

If the owner did not wish any help from the technician the farm would NOT be affected at all. It is not compulsory in any way. In cases where farmers desired to make use of the service, the technician would discuss the soil problem with the farmer and work with the farmer in developing a plan for soil improvement. Such problems might be; building up the fertility of a field that is not as productive as the rest of the farm; the control of water run-off that is causing a gully in the farm; protection of crops and fields from damage by wind; developing profitable hay or pasture crops on hilly fields that are unproductive at present; planning the location of tree plantings to give wind protection or to act as natural snow fences; or combinations of these problems or other problems that would aid in soil improvement or land-use.

6—Would the services of a Soil Conservation man be available to owners of land which is not farm land?

Yes, the service would be available to all land owners who request it. Tree planting, wood lot management, game cover and game food problems, are definitely related to good land use and as such would be a part of the activities of a Soil Conservation District.

7—Is a Soil Conservation District necessary to make this service available to land owners?

Yes, if complete and adequate service is to be obtained for Charlevoix County farmers. The services of the County Agricultural Agent, Michigan State College, AAA, FSA, FCA, and other agencies would still be available, but responsibilities of these groups include many activities and none provide for detailed soils work on all farms.

8—What would be the cost to Charlevoix County land owners for maintaining a Soil Conservation District?

No county, township, or local contribution would be asked. The District is prohibited by law from raising taxes or issuing bonds. Farmers cooperating with the district program would stand the cost on their own farm, just as they now build their own fences and furnish seed for planting.

9—Why is it necessary to have the land owners vote on establishing a district?

Soil Conservation Districts are only established at the request and in agreement with the wishes of the landowners. A public vote is the means of determining the wishes of the people. A large vote is necessary to show that more than a minority are in favor of establishing a district.

10—Would soil-building practices adopted by cooperating farmers receive farm payments from AAA?

Yes, all desirable and approved soil building practices meeting AAA requirements will be approved for payments. In fact some practices are over and above the regular allowance established for the particular farm.

11—When will the voting take place to determine if the land owners of Charlevoix County desire to establish a Soil Conservation District?

On MONDAY, MAY 8, 1944 between the hours of 7:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. (cwt.) However, if land owners can not vote at this time, they may secure absentee voters ballots by applying in person or by mail to LAVERN MCGHAN, Polling Superintendent, Charlevoix, Michigan. Absentee ballots which are mailed must reach the Polling Superintendent before the scheduled time for voting.

12—Where may land owners vote?

At all township halls in the county. Landowners should vote in the township in which they live, or in the township in which they own land.

13—Who may vote on establishing a Soil Conservation District?

All land owners owning land in Charlevoix County outside of the incorporated cities of Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City. Persons buying land on a contract may also vote. In cases of a joint deed or a joint contract both husband and wife may vote.

Convicted
"Well, judge," said the waiter, "Whut'll you-all have for breakfast? Has you ebber tried enny ob ouah boiled eggs, sah?"
"Yes," responded the judge, "and I found them guilty."

To Forget
"Have you forgotten that five spot I let you have last week?"
"Not yet; give me time!"

Extended in Front
Caller—Let me see, I know most of your folks, but I have never met your brother, George. Which side of the house does he look like?

Kidneys Must Work Well—For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging back-ache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They cost nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

Indian BEEF

by HAROLD CHANNING WIRE
W.N.U. RELEASE

LEW BURNET is trail boss of the Cross T herd, which is being driven from Texas to the Indian agent at Ogallala. The year is 1875. TOM ARNOLD, owner, has been killed in a stampede. His will names Lew boss and owner until the cattle are sold, when STEVE and JOY are to receive their shares. After many difficulties they reach Dodge City, where CLAY MANNING, Joy's fiance, is wounded in a gunfight. Joy stays to nurse him, while the rest move on with the herd. When only 30 miles from Ogallala, the herd is stopped by federal officers. An early frost ends the quarantine and Lew delivers the cattle just within the contract date. Lew discovers why Steve and Clay have been opposing him.

CHAPTER XIX

"Steve, when Joy and Clay are married, and we get rid of this herd, you and I'll backtrack the trouble you're in."

"But you're going on."
He shook his head. "No. We'll let Clay and Joy start the new ranch. I can see plenty of loopholes in Rayburn's killing. Those four can swear it against you now, but maybe we can make them swallow their tongues. Ed Splann took liquor inside the Indian Nations. I can get witnesses, Chief Spotted Horse for one. That throws them into the hands of the United States marshal right here in Ogallala. Gives me an ax to hold over their heads. And there's other ways to make a man give up the truth." He considered that and didn't say what he saw. "We'll find out who killed Rayburn. I'd gamble it wasn't you." He grinned suddenly. "You can't hit the broad side of a barn when you're sober. That night you were drunk!"

Again he put his arm across the slanted shoulders and pulled them up. "We'll work it out, Steve. Don't let it bound you any more."

He lay that night in his bedroll smoking a last cigarette—he needn't ride guard now with so many extra hands—and there was a mingled bleakness and relief in what he felt. Something had filled in him that had long been empty. He was back on his old footing again with Steve. And Steve himself was finishing up this trail facing his troubles in a way that Tom Arnold would be proud of. It was one thing the old man had wanted most in his life. That account was settled. But his own failure with Tom's fortune on the hoof was black. He couldn't be blamed for the quarantine, and yet when a man set out to deliver a herd he delivered it, come hell or high water. It was the pride of being a good trail boss. Fifteen thousand dollars, maybe, for the hides and tallow sounded good in talk, but it wasn't much of a pay-off for the years that had gone into the herd. It wasn't ninety thousand and wouldn't be much for the new ranch.

He finished his cigarette and rubbed it out against the ground. It seemed strange then that he didn't feel as low as he might. Over him the stars had never looked so clear and sharp. There was nothing going to spoil his sleep.

He turned on his side and dropped off soundly . . . and the next thing a mule's trace chains were clanking and dragging over him and a voice was yelling, "Whoa there! Whoa!" He bolted upright in his blankets and saw Charley Storms in the gray dawn, running and yanking the chains over the row of beds.

Then he saw John Quarternight rise more slowly next to him. Charley Storms came back to yell, "Look, you lazy cowboys! Look!"

He saw it then—all the prairie lying beyond as white as Quarternight's hair. Frost! The old man turned to him. "Lew," he said, "if that don't make you believe in God, nothing will."

They could move now. Sixty days' time or one good frost would kill the Texas fever. The quarantine wouldn't hold. Dressed, he stepped out of his blankets onto a mat of grass as stiff as nails. In the dawn the prairie looked like snow.

To the cook he said, "Pull up to the ridge before you stop for breakfast. We're going to get a wiggle on ourselves."

With the herd shaped and walking fast in the cold air, waiting for the frost to melt before they grazed, he pointed up the ridge at eight o'clock. No one stopped them. On along the crest he could see the Northern cowmen breaking their dead-line camps, and as he passed the military street where the yellow-logs were rolling up their tents Captain Wing rode out.

His brown face was polished from an early shave; he was looking pleased. "Well, Texan," he said, "you played in luck. The Cheyennes claimed we'd get an early frost this year. I'm going on to the post now, but I've detailed some of my men to escort you in the rest of the way, just in case of trouble."

"That's mighty good of you, Cap," he said. "The cook's up there in front with beefsteaks for breakfast. You'd better stop."
One last night's camp south of Ogallala, a dry one—there was no water here—and they crossed the river the next day at noon. For more than a mile the thirsty herd spread out in the wide bottom, drank and splashed themselves and romped on up the low bluffs beyond. They were fatter and better looking than when they had left the Little Comanche. That was good. He wouldn't need to argue with the agent about condition. All his contract stated anyway was numbers and an average weight of five hundred pounds when this beef was dressed. Even a greenhorn could see the animals would do that.

From the flat top of a mesa north of the river, flanking the herd and shaping it again, he looked back and could see the far-off arrowheads of other herds coming down the divide. The Open A must be among them. Let them come.

A yelling commotion turned him. He was up high enough now to see all the mesa toward its rim of hills. Hundreds of canvas tepees dotted it. A swarm of mounted bucks had started a race toward him, riding cream-colored ponies and decked out in gaudy blanket shirts for this special occasion. Women and children were running afoot behind them, the squaws' dresses flapping in a dangerous way for cattle.

He called across to Quarternight and they ran their horses forward to turn that danger of a stampede. The bucks veered off at his waving signal. The women stopped. He judged there were a thousand Indians in this camp.

Riding back to the point again, he was thankful he didn't have to see this beef issued. Hunting down wild animals was a different matter, but these longhorns had become almost as tame as pets.

He saw the stockade a little later, a huge square fenced with poles and wire on the flat mesa top. And soon after that an army ambulance came up from the east in the direction of Ogallala. The town was out of sight below the river bluff. An escort of yellow-legs trotted beside the slick varnished three-seated outfit. They swung off out of his dust, until one of the troopers came toward him and he recognized Captain Wing.

"There was another telegram in town for you," Wing said. "Thought you might want it."

He nodded, turned the gray envelope in his hand and waited till Wing rode off. He ripped it open. It was like her other. Ten words: "Arriving Ogallala on Cannon Ball nine p. m. August thirty-one. Love." He slapped the setting dust from it and read it again, staring at the last. She might be only filling the allotted space. And yet she never did waste her words. He felt a quick warm stir through his blood and tried to hold that feeling down. But tonight she would be here. This was August thirty-first.

There were those afternoon hours to pass, the dusty job of parting out the ranch stuff from the herd and after that feeding the beef longhorns in a thin line through the stockade gate. He sat his horse on one side, counting, while the post commandant and the Indian agent watched from the other. He could see their eyes sweat and knew they lost their count early. In the end they took his word.

Long before train time he was pacing the loose cinders of the depot yard. At last the train arrived.

This was the Cannon Ball going through to Salt Lake City.
He had halted near the station, back in its shadow, and even when he saw her he didn't move. He hardly knew her. She was standing in a sleeper's vestibule behind the conductor. Everything she had on was new: a small hat like twisted ropes of dark velvet wound around her head and a light brown suit, buttoned and small at the waist and reaching below her shoe tops. It turned her into a woman more than ever. He remembered they had come through Kansas City and Omaha. They had long stops.

She was looking out past the conductor's shoulder and came down like that, her eyes searching the depot where a little group of men had gathered now. Even then he waited, until the conductor handed out her bag and she stood there holding it herself, and he knew she was alone.

He had to steel himself, walking toward her, feeling a shakiness in a way that nothing had ever shaken him before. She saw him, and all of her face seemed to catch the station's light, glowing and warm before a shadow fell. He couldn't speak in that moment until he managed, "I'll take your bag. Here." He shifted it into his left hand and took her arm.

There were men watching, expecting something they didn't see. Beyond the depot he avoided the town's street and walked into the dim lane. In a moment the Cannon Ball snorted behind them and after that banged past, showering down sparks. She put up one hand to cover her new hat. Then in the sliding light of car windows he saw her face turned up to him, strained for a question he had not asked.

He did when the night was silent again. "Where's Clay?"
"In Chicago, I suppose," she said, "by this time. He went with a trainload of feeders for the stockyards. He has a job."

"I see."
"No, Lew. No, you don't. He isn't coming back."

He felt as if something had stabbed through him, pinning him rigid. He shook his head. "Give me time. I thought you'd be married . . ."

"I know." Her voice came up to him quietly. "We forgot one strong thing about Clay. His pride. We both did." A rail fence ran along the track's right of way. She leaned against it. "There's so much to tell. Is Steve all right?"
"Yes," he said. "I'm keeping him out of town."

"You needn't. I know all about it now." She pulled the little hat off and held it, looking down at it in her hand. "You remember there was an Open A rider wounded in the hospital with Clay and Ed Splann? I nursed them all the best I could." Her voice dropped. "He died. But I'd made things easy for him, and when he found I was Steve's sister he told me. Steve didn't kill Sheriff Rayburn. That man did. The doctor wrote a confession for him and witnessed it. I've got it here."

Out of the dark the calls and sounds of Ogallala's night life rose and died away. She seemed to listen. In the silence again she said, "A girl can't marry a man who won't have her, can she? That was it. Clay knew what had happened. He could have gone on with half of me and wouldn't. It was his pride more than that, I think. There were a lot of fine things in Clay after all."

"There were," he said. "I know that now."
She had been looking off past him. She brought her eyes up with a smile growing in them and her lips turned soft. "Do you see I have a new suit? I bought it in Omaha. I thought it would be nice to wear . . . before we went on."

Before they went on. In those words all of the future opened ahead of him, the little trail that was left to Wyoming and all of the years they would have. "You'll wear it," he said, "tomorrow," and brought her close in his hard arms. A wild fire was rising in him, burning clean away a loneliness he would never know again.

Mr. Winkle Goes to War

BY THEODORE PRATT

EDWARD STREETER, AUTHOR OF 1917'S RECORD-BREAKING WAR BOOK, "DERE MABEL," SAYS:

"Mr. Winkle Goes to War" is swell. Having read the first page I could not put it down until I had read the last.

It is a charming, restrained bit of satire which is going to appeal to the hearts of thousands of people who are groping for something which ties this fantastic war into human realities. Here's hoping that Chipman Mr. Winkle becomes as well known and well beloved as he deserves to be.

AROUND THE HOUSE

For painting shelves that are too close together to use an ordinary brush and for other tight corners, make a "right angle brush." Cut the handle off an ordinary brush and fit the remaining stub of handle into a hole bored in a piece of wood about 10 inches long.

When following a recipe in a cookbook or magazine, it is easier to fasten an ordinary trouser hanger at the top to hold the pages open, hanging it on a hook or nail above the kitchen table. In addition to being easier to read, it keeps the cookbooks and magazines from getting soiled.

Prolong the life of rubber footwear by keeping it away from light, heat, grease and cleaning fluid. Heat weakens and cracks rubber, and makes it sticky. Sunlight has two rubber enemies—heat and light. Oil, grease and tar make rubber swell and get weak, and cleaning fluid also weakens it.

Turning a belt is easy if you insert a tape a little longer than the belt between the two strips of material. Stitch the tape at one end at the same time the end of the belt is closed. To turn, simply pull the end of tape that sticks out and the belt is right-side out in a jiffy.

Take the shine off your clothes with sandpaper. First, sponge the spot with cleaning fluid or with water to which has been added a few drops of ammonia or vinegar. When the fabric is dry, take a small piece of sandpaper and lift the nap by briskly brushing the spot. Don't brush too hard, however, or you may remove the nap entirely.

Johnny Was for Making Most of His Resources

Little Johnny's mother had just presented the family with twins, and the household was in a state of excitement. Father beamed with pride as he took Johnny on one side.

"If you'll tell your teacher about it, I'm sure she will give you a day's holiday," he said.
That afternoon Johnny came home radiant. "I don't have to go to school tomorrow," he announced proudly.

"Did you tell your teacher about the twins?" asked his father.

"No, I just told her I had a baby sister. I'm saving the other for next week."

To avoid losing a handkerchief under a bed pillow in a sick room at night, sew a pocket on one side of the pillowcase.

To pipe with rickrack, turn the raw edge of the fabric once or twice to the inside and stitch rickrack over it.

DO YOU have a large wall space somewhere in your house that looks rather bare? Why brackets on which you may make an attractive arrangement of bric-a-brac and trailing vines?

This sketch shows a set of three brackets in a quaint old-fashioned heart design over a davenport in the living room. The center bracket is fourteen inches wide with one of the matching smaller brackets on each side. The sketch also shows how easy it is to cut out the heart design with a sharp knife after boring holes with a brace and bit. Any school boy who has the use of a coping saw or maybe a jig saw may make these graceful brackets.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual size pattern for all the pieces of this set of wall brackets, with complete directions for cutting, assembling and finishing. The lines of these brackets are so well proportioned that you will be proud to own them. Ask for Pattern 263 and enclose 15 cents, which covers cost and mailing. Address:

Help Yourself to a Salad!

(See Recipes Below)

Salad Magic

Salads are in season summer, winter, fall and spring, but in spring you can really have all the variety you want. There are crisp greens aplenty, perhaps fresh from your own garden, and loads of fresh fruits and vegetables to complete the demands of health and satisfy the appetite for really fresh - from - the - garden foods.

Everywhere you go you hear people saying, "A salad is just the thing," or "I want something green and crisp." It's a sign of spring, this desire to eat foods that fit with the newness and freshness of spring.

A new idea for serving is to try a salad buffet for it will save your preparing individual salads for everyone. Simply set salad ingredients in bowls, park them on a tray and whisk them into the dining room for everyone to make up his own combination. In the picture illustrated above, you will notice the bowl of salad dressing is surrounded by crisp greens, and then there are bowls of grapefruit sections with avocado pears, strawberries, pears or peaches and prunes stuffed with cottage or cream cheese and nuts—all the makings for salad for helping yourself to any combination that appeals to you and your guests.

Salads can double for both the salad and dessert course, or they can be the mainstay of your luncheon for the club.

*Salad-Dessert Loaf.

(Serves 6)

- 1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or substitute
- 1/2 cup mild vinegar
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- Few grains cayenne, if desired
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons canned pineapple juice
- 1 cup prepared fruit
- 1 cup evaporated milk, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks and salt. Add vinegar, salt, butter, cayenne, paprika and pineapple juice gradually. Whip lightly. Add milk and cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and dissolve softened gelatin in hot custard mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally while cooling. When mixture begins to set, fold in whipped, evaporated milk and fruit, cut in small pieces (orange, cherries, canned pineapple, grapefruit,

Lynn Says:

Give Yourself Health! Egyptians cultivated salad foods such as onions and garlic; Romans enjoyed chicory and lettuce. Why shouldn't you?

Your cues to a good salad are few but important: ingredients should be well chilled, attractively arranged and served with the proper dressing. Most fruit salads take a whipped cream dressing or cooked dressing or mayonnaise flavored with fruit juices. Occasionally, in the case of a bland fruit or citrus fruit, a french dressing is a must.

Seafoods are usually marinated before mixed with other ingredients. Marinate shrimps, crabmeat, etc., in french dressing even though you may use mayonnaise to hold the salad together. The above trick may also be tried with potato salad. It improves flavor.

peaches, pears or any desired fruit combination). When firm, unmold on platter and garnish with green pepper. Trim platter with salad greens.

Shrimps in a salad can make up the main dish for a warm night supper without too much fussing on your part:

Shrimp Salad.

(Serves 6)

- 2 No. 1 cans shrimp
- 2 1/2 cups diced cooked potatoes
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup french dressing
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- Salad greens
- 3 whole tomatoes, cut in wedges
- 8 green pepper rings
- Ripe olives

Combine shrimp, potatoes, celery and green pepper. Add french dressing, lemon juice and salt. Chill. Just before serving, moisten with mayonnaise. Serve on chop plate garnished with salad greens, tomatoes, wedges, green pepper rings and ripe olives.

A salad that's substantial and really good is one that combines fish with macaroni. A subtle combination of seasonings makes it just perfect eating:

Macaroni-Salmon Salad.

- 1 1/2 cups flaked salmon, tuna or crabmeat
- 1 cup cooked macaroni
- 1 cup canned peas
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons minced pimiento
- 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Mayonnaise

Combine ingredients in order given. Toss lightly with dressing and serve, well chilled in lettuce cups. The following salads are cool and vitamin-rich, perfect foil for warmer weather:

Raw Vegetable Salad.

- 2 cups raw carrots, grated
- 1 cup raw cabbage, shredded
- 1/4 cup raw celery, chopped
- 1/4 cup onions, diced
- Cooked salad dressing

Mix together vegetables with just enough dressing to hold together.

Lettuce Rolls.

- 1 head lettuce
- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- Salt

Combine cheese, raisins and nuts. Blend well with mayonnaise. Add salt to taste. Use large lettuce leaves and spread with cheese mixture. Roll as for jelly roll; chill and serve.

Dressing Variations.

French Dressing: Crumble 1/4 pound Roquefort cheese into 1 cup french dressing. Serve over greens.
Lemon Cream Dressing: To 1 cup chilled, evaporated cream, whipped, add 3 tablespoons honey and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Serve with Fruit Salad.
Mayonnaise: Add 1/4 cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped to 1 cup mayonnaise. This is good over lettuce.

DUSTY CONCRETE FLOORS

Question: Some time ago you wrote about a mixture for laying the dust of a concrete cellar floor. Will you please repeat?

Answer: You can lay the dust by soaking the floor with a mixture of one part water glass in four parts of water. Make plenty of this mixture, so that it can be poured on the floor liberally, spread with a broom and the floor allowed to soak it up. At the end of some hours, wipe up any puddles that may remain. You may have to repeat the treatment within a day or two. But if you wish to paint the floor later on, water glass should not be used. If you should wish to paint, get a kind of paint that is proof against the effects of lime; for ordinary floor paint will not last on a basement floor if laid in the usual way.

LEAKING FLUSH TANK

Question: Our old-fashioned, high-type of wood flush tank is leaking. Could I use wood putty to mend it?

Answer: Caulking compound would last longer. This is similar to putty (not wood putty) but never becomes hard or brittle. This compound is much used for repairing outside leaks around window frames. It is forced into the crack with a caulking gun. Inquire about this at your hardware store.

How to Build Shower Stall

Question: I am planning to build a shower in a space 32 inches wide by 24 inches long and 7 feet high. What type of waterproof material can I use that will be economical, yet good? Must the floor be of cement, or can something else be used instead?

Answer: The base or receptor of the shower should be built of cement with a lead pan under it to prevent possible leakage to the floor below. This work should be done by a competent concrete or tile man who has had experience in this kind of work. Or, you can get a precast cement receptor. The latter would be simple to install.

The walls can be of cement plaster over wire lath, or you can use one of the prefinished dense fiber wallboards. If the board is used, the manufacturer's directions should be followed in making the joints watertight. The smallest size shower receptor measures 32 by 32 inches. Your 24-inch dimension is rather "skimpy" for a shower stall.

Oil Stain on Wooden Chest

Question: I have a wooden chest that I was preparing to paint, when a large quantity of baby oil was spilled on it. Although I wiped it off with rags as soon as possible, quite a bit of it penetrated into the wood. Will the oil that remains in the wood affect the enamel finish that I am planning to apply on the chest?

Answer: Sandpaper as much of the surface as possible, and, if some of the oil still remains that cannot be removed, cover the stain with a thick layer of a paste mixture made by combining fuller's earth or powdered whitening with a (preferably noninflammable) spot removing liquid. When dry, brush off the powder. An oil stain of that type would affect the drying quality of the enamel.

New Maple Floor

Question: What would you suggest for a new maple floor to be laid in a store where there will be considerable traffic and wear?

Answer: The floor can be given a couple of soaking coats of hot linseed oil (raw). After allowing an hour or so for soaking, wipe off the excess and apply the next coat 24 hours later. Penetrating preservative oil finishes are serviceable and good-looking on maple.

Fireproofing Paper

Question: How can paper be made fireproof?

Answer: Soak it in a solution of eight ounces of boric acid and ten ounces of borax in one gallon of water. Float the paper on the liquid until it is thoroughly saturated, and then hang up to drip and dry.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A researcher in things rubber reported that in 1938 the trade in rubber products ran between four and five million dollars annually and the industry employed 10,000 workers. Vulcanization had been known less than 20 years then.

The extra man-hours required in the manufacture of heavy tires for military airplanes, trucks, combat vehicles and for civilian trucks, buses and farm tractors mean that the major share of the tire-building manpower and facilities available must be devoted to this job, in the opinion of John L. Collyer, B. F. Goodrich president. These are the essential needs from a current tire standpoint.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Mabel Secord

April 30, 1904

A change of more than passing importance took place this week in business circles of our village when the firm of W. A. Loveday & Co. sold to Stroebel Brothers their large line of hardware. The change has been contemplated for some time but only of recent date has anything definite materialized. The gentlemen who take possession are both past the novice stage in hardware. W. A. Stroebel comes from Beaverton where he has been in the hardware business for a number of years. Carl Stroebel of Ishpeming is already well known in this vicinity, having been in the hardware business at Central Lake for a number of years.

As for the retiring gentleman, W. A. Loveday, we will have him with us yet as he will most likely devote part of his attention to the electric light plant here (which is one of the best in the State). Mr. Loveday has been connected with the hardware business here for the past 17 years.

The Herald carried an illustrated article on the proposed D.A.R. Memorial building, about to be built in Washington, D. C. Also a picture of the current president of the society, Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the vice president. She and her husband were raised in my native county (Union) in Ohio and her picture reminds me of the homecoming at Marysville one year while Mr. Fairbanks was vice president. They had come back for it and the committee had arranged a reception for them in the evening. An uncle of mine who had been active in the event watched the people greeting them in the most formal manner regardless of the fact that they had played tag with Nell Cole and Charley Fairbanks when they were children. He finally joined the line and his, "Hello Nell," and "How are you, Charley?" left the others gasping. During the day there had been a parade that stretched out a mile and a half, the main feature of which was an animal, imported from the African jungles (so the advertising had announced). It was a biological freak named a "rhinoelapotamus". The day it was to arrive in town, mothers were warned to keep their children away from the place where it was to be kept, (and many a poor kid was kept in the house all day, just in case). A list was printed of the enormous quantities of forage the committee had to provide for it. When the day arrived the contraption was loaded on several drays and its "insides" fired up. It had been made in a foundry down-state. Fire and smoke shot from its yawning jaws and for days committee members dodged irate mothers who had become nervous wrecks lest the terrible beast swallow their progeny.

(From school notes) Burton Nicholas, '02, of the law department of U. of M. visited school last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Salmoe Chew of Hayes township, aged 60, died Wednesday. She was the mother of Justice of the Peace J. E. Chew.

The Walter Cryslers opened the season's navigation Tuesday with a trip to Charlevoix. She encountered considerable porous ice but it broke up fairly easy. About a dozen people made the trip.

(Note: I'll wager Mr. Lisk printed the invitations for the following event.) "Handsome wedding stationery announces the approaching nuptials of Roland P. Maddock to Miss Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, at the home of the bride's parents at Phelps. Same to occur next Wednesday evening at the hour of six, Rev. A. F. Nagler, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Charlevoix officiating. Mr. Maddock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maddock of this village and brother of the famous football player, "Joe." The young lady is well-known at Phelps and is liked and esteemed by a host of friends who wish the young couple all sorts of congratulations on their approaching nuptials and in which the Herald wishes to join."

Three other weddings are listed but the stationery isn't stressed in the write-up:

John A. Boosinger and Mary L. McRae were married the morning of April 26th in the Church of the Sacred Heart in Mt. Pleasant at four o'clock. After the wedding breakfast they left on an early train for Lansing and St. Louis. The item continues: "They will then come to our village where an elegant home has already been prepared by Mr. Boosinger."

Miss Margaret Harrington, daughter of the postmaster and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrington, was married April 26th to Joseph H. Caulder. Sylvester Garberson and Miss Bee Isaman were also married April 25th at the M. E. parsonage.

The Supreme Court on Tuesday denied a motion for a rehearing in the case of Hewitt vs. the East Jordan Lumber Co. This is the finale of the case and Atty E. N. Clink is quite jubilant over his success as counsel for plaintiff.

"A pleasant surprise party was tendered Mrs. J. J. Gage Wednesday evening by some 40 of her friends. Mrs. Gage is about to leave East Jordan to take up a residence with her husband at Jennings. The ladies through Mrs. J. A. McKee presented Mrs. Gage with a handsome engraved silver soup ladle as a token of esteem."

Note: Men seem to have taken as active a part in the club life of the town as the women. Here is a program given at the home of Miss Louise Loveday the evening of April 27: Cornet duet, Messrs Brotherton and Palmer; paper, "Modern Surgery," Dr. Sweet; solo, "The Mighty Deep," Mrs. Loveday; selection, "Pope's Essay on Man," Mr. Crossman; banjo solo, Mr. Perkins; solo, "Forgotten," Dr. Dicken; paper, "Hull House, Chicago," F. E. Boosinger; piano solo, Mr. Cole; current events, J. N. Roy; ghost story, Mr. Plank; banjo solo, Mr. Perkins.

Strayed or stolen:— One large short handled tin dipper. The finder will confer a favor by hanging same on the electric light pole, corner of Garfield and Second streets. (Query: was this the location of the original city drinking fountain?)

Eleven of the groceries and markets of East Jordan have agreed to close at 7:30 each evening except Saturday and pay days until September 15th.

An item from the college in East Lansing states there were at that time 17,826,366 acres of unimproved land in Michigan.

Harry Saxton has sold his lunch room business to D. Haley.

E. Kirkpatrick of Elk Rapids is locating here with his family at Bell's grocery. Mr. Kirkpatrick is a well-known photographer of Antrim Co. and will open a studio here in a few weeks.

Arthur Graves, 55, a former manager of the Commercial House here, died at his home in Jacksonboro, New Ontario the first of the week. The body is being brought to East Jordan for burial.

E. Flagg and family are moving this week to their farm home north of the city on the Charlevoix road.

Dan S. Kitson and family left for their new home in Riding Mountain, Manitoba.

A number of marriage licenses are listed which include Fred Vogel and Grace Shepard; Louis Lemieux and Rose Knickerbocker; and Billy Ray Grossett and Grace Angeline Clark, all of East Jordan. The item also gave their ages.

"Those were the good old days!" Listen to this: "No license whatever is required for fishermen of the State to fish in the State, the angler's license being required only of nonresident fishermen."

Frances King, Norma Johnson, Myrtle Joynt, Ula Dewey, Mary Miller, Clara Thorsen, Vern Richards, Mose Weisman, and Alfred Blake are at Charlevoix this week taking teacher's examination.

May 2, 1924

The High School chorus, under the direction of the music supervisor, Gertrude Sanford was preparing to present the operetta, "Windmills of Holland," with a cast of 110 voices. It was given May 9th and was one of the most colorful things ever presented at the auditorium. Soloists were Principal Clyde Snellenberger, Thyra Arnston, Aura McBride, Frances Rogers, Ralph Clark, Howard Snyder, and Carl Wright.

At that time there was a real interest in music in the city. The Study Club organized a glee club that year and presented an Indian cantata, "Mon-dah-min," the following summer; the High School chorus again gave an operetta, "The Toreador," and the East Jordan Concert Band was giving fine concerts.

We Met the Challenge...

"We are the food army of Michigan. There are nearly 200,000 of us—each with our family, our bit of soil, our hopes, our ambitions. Ours is a never-ending battle—sometimes against drought or rain, against cold or heat, against pests and disease, against shortages or surpluses, and always against time."

"No state in the union grows a greater variety of products. Proud as you must be of Michigan's industrial contribution to ever-approaching Victory, proud, too, you should be of her agricultural greatness. For Michigan, last year, was asked to produce a record-breaking tonnage of food—food to feed our own people, food for our fighting men around the world, food for our allies, food for the starving in China, in Africa, in Italy."

"It was a challenge to the farmers of our state. And we accepted it, though there were many who said it couldn't be done."

"We won the battle of food. We won it in spite of the help we didn't have, the equipment we couldn't obtain. We won it in spite of a jesting Nature that washed out our early plantings, bogged down our tractors, destroyed precious days and weeks. We harvested nearly 500 millions of dollars' worth of vitally-needed food, an all-time record."

"We met the challenge as you have met the challenge in your work—as your food retailer and wholesaler from the smallest independent to the largest chain store operator met it without complaint. They were beset with problems, too—ration stamps, ceiling prices, countless Government reports, increased operating costs, inadequate help and often shortages of merchandise."

"They made it possible for the food we produced to provide you with the energy to do a fighting job on the home front."

"They brought you our luscious berries, cherries, melons, peaches, pears, plums and apples from our fruit areas . . . sugar from our beets, millions of gallons of health-building milk, cream and other dairy products for your children and war workers, golden honey, top-grade potatoes in abundance, poultry, eggs and meats from our farms . . . fresh vegetables in never-ending streams and much more packed in our canneries . . . peas and beans and tomatoes and body-building, vitamin-enriched root vegetables . . . carrots, turnips, beets . . . all from Michigan farms and orchards and processing plants."

"The cooperation of your food merchants made our victory possible. Michigan working together has overcome almost impossible odds. That is the bright hope of the future as we enter upon a new season . . . we who till the soil of Michigan and distribute its food."
