EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1945.

NUMBER 42

War Fund Spirit Is "Carry On"

FINANCIAL GIFTS OF OUR CITIZENS WELL UNDER WAY

The National War Fund Drive is well under way in East Jordan to raise our quota of $1016. Committee members are calling from home to home and throughout our business district. Work started this week and the first two days netted about twenty per cent of the total.

Both Chairman Boswell and the committee are hopeful that the necessary funds will be available by this Saturday evening.

Possibly some were not at home when members of the committee called. If so, your donations will be gladly acknowledged at the State Bank of East Jordan. Please remember this will probably be the last combined NWF drive so please be generous with your donations — it is a most worthy cause.

Frank Maher To Speak At E. J. H. S. Gym. Next Thursday, Oct. 25

Frank Maher will speak next Thursday, Oct. 25, at 8 p. m., at the Institute of International Understanding at the East Jordan High School Gym. This is the third of a series of four lectures.

Frank Maher is Field Editor of Airports Magazine. He was formerly Assistant to the President of Parks Air College in St. Louis, Missouri.

Graduating from high school at the age of fifteen, Maher received his early training as a reporter on the St. Louis Globe Democrat and the St. Louis Post Dispatch, while at the same time working toward a Doctor of Philosophy degree at St. Louis University and Washington University. After seven years of newspaper reporting and editing experience, he assumed the editorship of two national merchandising magazines. In that capacity he was called upon to make an average of 150 merchandising talks a year throughout the country. He also wrote a number of books on merchandising.

Frank Maher

Since learning to fly 17 years ago, Maher has evidenced a strong interest in aviation as an air industry publicist and airport planning consultant.

Only 34 years old, he is a vibrant speaker, and imbues his audience with his own enthusiasm for the future of aviation which lies ahead in the "Air Age of Flight." In recent years, from his facile typewriter have rolled more than 25,000 words a week on the development of flying. Editors have referred to him as one of the most prolific writers and one of the country's most able exponents of flying.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Krych of Muskegon announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Gunnar, of Muskegon, to Ferman Kaley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kaley of East Jordan. The wedding will take place Nov. 24.

A picture of the bride-to-be appears in the Muskegon Chronicle of Oct. 13th.

Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zitka Passed Away Friday

Retta Mae Zitka was born May 25, 1934, in Eveline Township, Charlevoix Co., and passed away Friday, Oct. 12, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zitka, after an illness of 2 1/2 months. She attended the Bohemian Settlement School.

Funeral services were held at the Watson Funeral Home, Monday afternoon, Oct. 15, Rev. C. W. Sidebotham officiating, with burial at Sunset Hill.

The bearers were Warren Duplessis, William Zitka, Earl Batterbee and Charles Zitka, uncle of the deceased.

Those from away to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duplessis and son Warren of Charlevoix; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Batterbee and family of Central Lake.

Good News For Deer Hunters

CONSERVATION OFFICERS REPORT MANY MORE SEEN THAN IN SEVERAL YEARS

There is good news for deer hunters in reports of conservation officers that more deer are present in 32 counties above the Muskegon-Bay City line than were counted prior to the 1944 season.

Increases are reported in 25 lower peninsula counties and in seven counties above the Straits.

Officers report deer seen per hour while patrolling their territories during July, August, September, and October.

The last two winters have been mild and starvation loss has been low. Only 40 starved fawns were found in a three-day search of critical areas last spring. More than 200 fawns had starved in the same areas during the severe winter of 1942-43.

Reports indicate that the 1945 fawn crop is normal. Plenty of twins and some triplets have been seen.

Four census drives conducted on a square-mile area in Crawford county in recent weeks turned out an average of 42 deer. Last CCC drives in the region, conducted in 1937 and 1938, averaged less than 19 deer per square mile.

Weather, as usual, will determine the kind of season that hunters will enjoy during the last half of November. Last year, lack of tracking snow in the upper peninsula cut the kill to 25,000 from 28,400 in 1943. Luck was better below the Straits where heavy hunting kept deer moving.

Gun hunters took 70,912 bucks last season when 228,261 deer licenses were sold.

Upper peninsula counties where the deer count is up this year are Ontonagon, Iron, Marquette, Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce, and Chippewa.

Lower peninsula counties are Emmet, Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Antrim, Otsego, Alpena, Benzie, Kalkaska, Oscoda, Alcona, Wexford, Missaukee, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Isocoma, Mason, Lake, Gladwin, Arenac, Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella, Misland, and Muskegon.

Crimson Wave Defeats Harbor

CHAMPIONSHIP MAY BE DECIDED THIS SATURDAY AT CHARLEVOIX

The East Jordan boys went to the city of Harbor Springs, Saturday, Oct. 6th, and came back victorious. The score was 6 to 0.

It rained steadily until a few minutes before the game. The field was in bad condition, there being three small lakes on the west end of the field. All the players were swimming at one time or another during the game.

Victor Ayres was the man who made the only touchdown of the game, going around end. The try for point was blocked by a Harbor line man. Two other boys who made outstanding plays were Dick Adair who caught a pass and made a fine gain, and Chuck Kolein who intercepted a pass and made a run of about 45 yards.

Another 30 seconds of play and Harbor may have had a touchdown. The ball was about seven yards from their goal as the game ended.

Although it was unable to do much through the Pellston line which has shown marked improvement, the fast and crafty East Jordan high football team swept around ends and took to the air to chalk up its second Northern Michigan Class C Conference victory by a 33 to 0 score at East Jordan last Friday, Oct. 12.

East Jordan, which has one tie to mar its record and is slated to take on the high scoring Charlevoix team next Saturday, ran up two touchdowns in quick order with Vic Ayres, the speedy halfback who scored the lone touchdown against Harbor Springs last week, going over both times. The first score came on an intercepted pass and the second on a sweep around end.

Coach Max Damoth's eleven made it 19 to 0 at the end of the first quarter when Weisler, halfback, hit off tackle to score. Penfold made one conversion on a line buck.

Weisler took Hitchcock's long pass for the fourth touchdown, racing 30 yards to score, and plunged for the extra point in the only second quarter scoring.

The Broncos took a decided brace in the last half and gave up but one more touchdown, an oft-tackle slant by Penfold in the third quarter with Vic Ayres running end for the conversion. Thereafter there was no more scoring. Coach Sam McClutchey's team threatened in the fourth period when Shorter intercepted a pass and travelled 60 yards before he was pulled down from behind on the East Jordan 20 yard stripe. — Petoskey News.

SPORTS WRITER'S VIEW

(Petoskey News)

Leadership of the Northern Michigan Class C Conference and possibly the championship will probably be decided Saturday when Charlevoix's unbeaten and untied gridder entertains East Jordan at Charlevoix. A tie game would be the only circumstance which will keep the teams even at the top of the standings.

Coach Ray Kipke's Rayders are expected to defeat the Maroons on the basis of comparative scores which, however, are sometimes deceiving. Charlevoix swept over Grayling and Mancelona by scores of 25 - 0 in each case, then downed Boyne City 33 to 0. East Jordan has a scoreless tie with Mancelona.

In spite of the apparent edge the Rayders have over the Maroons, there are two factors that might result in their defeat for the first time this year — over-confidence which has been known to beat superior teams and the fact that East Jordan has a fighting eleven that is showing constant improvement. No opponent can afford to sell Coach Max Damoth's boys short for they play alert football and play for every break of the game.

How Michigan should spend its $50,000,000 veterans' reserve fund, already $1,000,000 richer because of accumulated interest, is one of several issues which will confront the State Legislature in special session early in 1946.

Michigan's 629,000 veterans, of whom approximately 500,000 are still in the service, are interested chiefly in the decision.

Other legislative problems include these:

Revision of the state's $20,000,000 building program. Rising labor and material costs have already exceeded the appropriation.

Veterans' education and housing at state educational institutions such as the University of Michigan and Michigan State College. No housing is available for veterans and their wives (plus children for some) at college dormitories.

Construction of 15 harbors of refuge for small boats on the Great Lakes, a benefit to the tourist industry. Revision of the state juvenile institute commission and possible reforms and improvements at the Boys' Vocational School, Lansing.

The veterans' multiple problems are not easy to solve. In the first place, there are five times more Michigan veterans today than 25 years ago, after World War I.

To divide $51,000,000 equally among the 629,000 veterans — a number likely to grow larger before the sum is expended — would put less than $80 in the hands of each veteran. The average bonus for World War I veterans was $210, computed individually at the rate of $15 per month of service. The federal mustering out pay varies from $100 to $300, well eclipsing an $80 Michigan payment.

To equal the state bonus of the last war, the legislature would have to appropriate $350,000,000 more for the veterans' reserve fund. This (Continued on last page)

Thunderhead

MARY O'HARA
W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY THUS FAR: Thunderhead is the only white horse ever foaled on the Goose Bar ranch in Wyoming. He resembles his great grandfathers, a wild stallion called the Albino. Ken McLaughlin, 13 years old, owns Thunderhead. He hopes his horse will develop into a racer, as he is very fast. Unfortunately, he is difficult to handle, so plans for entering him in the fall race meet are uncertain. Rob McLaughlin, Ken's father, goes east with 45 horses to an important auction in Pennsylvania. This clears out most of his stock. Mrs. Nell McLaughlin, left alone on the ranch, feels depressed. Financial worries have worn her down. Then one day she returns from a ride to find Rob back, and a party in progress.

CHAPTER XIX

"I've already started!" said Nell, on her mettle now. "I've written Aunt Julia, in Boston. She has a huge circle of friends and acquaintances. And two of my school friends, Adelaide Kinney and Evelyn Sharp."

"You expect them to promote your business for you?"
"Not that way! Oh, Rob! You're being simply horrible!" Nell sprang to her feet and stood by the mantel. "I simply want to get the idea," said Rob icily. "You wanted to tell me, didn't you? Go on—tell the rest. I'm particularly anxious to know, now that I realize you have passed on the fact of my failure to your relatives and friends in the east."

Nell was silent for a while, then drew a long breath and said, "They won't have to promote my business. They'll be glad to give me lists of the right people to write to. And they'll let me use their names as reference. And I've made out a letter, setting out the plan, descriptions of this place and everything, and all that can be mimeographed and sent to these lists of people. And we have the complete set-up. Practically no investment needed. Some guest cabins, yes—Gus and Tim and you could build them yourselves. And this is a lovely place, and there's beautiful country to ride in and plenty of horses! And I'm an awfully good cook!"

Nell said nothing more. In a moment Rob asked, "You say you've made out the letter?"

"Yes," Nell picked it up from the table and handed it to him. But Rob put out a protesting hand. "No, I don't want to see it, thank you. And I hope you haven't set your heart on this. Have you?"

"Set my heart on it?" said Nell. "Because I don't like to deny you any of your wishes."

"I know," said Nell hesitatingly. "You're awfully nice about that. I wanted to thank you for—for the sleigh Gus is making—and the monkey tree. I do thank you ever so much."

Rob brushed this aside. "It's nothing at all," he said indifferently. "No reason you should not have what you want."

Nell was silent. After a while she said, "Rob, you know this isn't just something I want—for the fun of it—"

"Isn't it? I thought maybe you were lonesome here with me alone."

"You know it isn't that at all. Rob, you aren't even pretending to tell the truth about anything."

"Just a damned liar, am I?"

That struck Nell as funny and helped her recover her poise. "It's because I told you that thing last summer—that the horses would never succeed and it made you mad at me. And you've never got over being mad. And I was thinking afterward that it was awful of me, to have knocked everything so—the horses and your work—without having something else to suggest. So I tried to find another plan. That's all."

Rob began to knock the ashes out of his pipe. "I hadn't meant to tell you this, Nell, but I'll have to now. Otherwise you won't be able to understand why I say no to your proposition. I am not going to continue to raise horses as the main production line of the ranch. They can be a side line. I'm going to raise sheep."

"Sheep!" exclaimed Nell. "But that requires an enormous investment! How could we possibly raise the money for that?"

"It's already raised. To begin with, although I did not make the twenty thousand dollars from my polo ponies which I might have made with good luck, I did make nearly ten. That clears me out of horses. With the exception of the young stuff coming up I'll have nothing more to sell. But I have put every dollar of that, and more too—all I could borrow—into a band of ewes. I investigated the sheep market thoroughly when I was in Laramie. I was lucky in my buy I think. I found these up at the Doughty ranch, near the Red Desert. Fifteen hundred Corriedale ewes."

"When are they coming on the ranch?" asked Nell.

"They're already on," said Rob. "I've got a Mexican as a herder, and we drove them up from Laramie two days ago. We came in the back way."

"But what about Bellamy's sheep? They're out on the back range there. I saw them yesterday."

"If you saw sheep on this ranch yesterday, you saw our own sheep: Bellamy left with his sheep weeks ago."

Nell was about to ask "What about the lease you gave Bellamy for another year?" but thought better of it. She did say, "You just said you hadn't intended telling me this yet. Why not?"

"Because it may fall," said Rob coldly. "It's a gamble, like all stock-raising. It looks good now. The markets have been good for several years. With these sheep I ought to net almost ten thousand in one year. That will make a sizable dent in our debts. And if it continues, in a few years we'll be out from under."

For Nell, the reversal of all she had been thinking and believing and planning was so sudden, she felt flattened out. Why! then everything's all right! Everything's settled and arranged! Our future provided for—and—and—everything!

Presently she found breath to say it aloud, and Rob acquiesced.

"Yes, everything's arranged."
"And there's nothing to worry about."

"Nothing."
The words faded into the heavy silence. Nell's eyes flickered to Rob. Everything all right—nothing to worry about—and yet, between them, this cold distance and strangeness. What made it? Was it impossible—once the habits of love had been broken—to mend them again? Even when the cause of the breach had been corrected?

Rob stared at the fire and said slowly, "I would have liked it—if

"Is this card phony or what?"

this experiment could have been worked out first, so that, when I told you, I could have told you of a 'fait accompli'—money in the bank, debts paid, notes met, a going concern—not just, as it is now, one more hope, one more plan, one more good chunk of wishful thinking."

Nell was leaning back in her armchair and made no answer.

"But," continued Rob, "since you have made it so plain that it was not only the horses you doubted, it was me too—and any ability I might have to care for you and provide a home for you—" he left the sentence unfinished.

The clock struck eleven, and Paul rose from where she had been lying near the fire and staged an elaborate stretch, then ran meowing to Nell.

Nell lifted her automatically. "That's true, isn't it, Nell?" asked Rob in a sudden direct manner.

"What?"

"That you have lost confidence in me?"

Nell did not answer immediately. Finally she said, "Rob—I didn't think you would succeed with the horses. I told you that. But that's not you personally—"

"But it was, me, personally," he insisted. "You didn't think I was going to pull us through, did you?"

"You never took me into your confidence," said Nell. "You didn't tell me you were going to try a different line. You kept saying it was to be the horses or nothing."

"I suppose that's as good a way of answering as any," said Rob slowly.

A sudden passionate protest flung Nell to her feet. Paul hit the floor with a little grunt, "I don't see why confidence means so much to you! I've never stopped loving you—not the least bit. Suppose some of the confidence—was gone? That would be only human—wouldn't really matter between us!"

Rob got to his feet and went about blowing the lamps out, and finally answered, "Just that it—sort of—takes the heart out of a man."

It was still possible, thought Nell, as she walked slowly upstairs. When people loved each other as they had, nothing more would be needed than just one look—one word—her name. Nell. There would be no forgiving or explaining, just a sudden coming together and all the discord flung behind them.

But Rob stood in a sort of daze in the center of the bedroom, as if he did not feel at home there. One hand held his pipe as he puffed at it, and he stood watching her as she moved about, turning the bed down, closing the window, taking her nightclothes from the closet and dropping them on the bed.

She went to his chiffonier and took out a set of pajamas and handed them to him. "Here are some fresh pajamas for you."

He took them absent-mindedly. Then, as Nell undid the belt of her skirt and stepped out of it, and peeled off her sweater, he said to her hesitatingly, "I'm awfully tired. I think I'll sleep in the other room. Do you mind?"

He looked at his wife. With just her slip on, she was seated over the other knee to untie her shoe, her slender and beautiful legs shining in their long silk stockings. Her tawny hair hung loose over the pearl-like skin on her breasts. Her cheeks were exquisitely flushed.

Without raising her head her dark blue eyes slid up underneath her brows and she answered easily, "Not at all. I think it would be a very good idea. I shall probably sleep better myself."

Charley Sargent never missed the three weeks' autumn race meet at Saginaw Falls in Idaho, one of the few major or "recognized" tracks in the Rocky Mountain states; and had the same stables for his horses, and hotel accommodations for himself, year after year. Taking his horses down the Continental Divide from a high altitude to one several thousand feet lower gave them an advantage, and he liked the town which lay in the long valley between the Weaichichi and Shimmo ranges and had a season of pleasant autumn weather.

Although the distance from Sargent's ranch to Saginaw Falls was not more than eight hundred miles, he always shipped his horses by rail in charge of his trainer, Perry Gunston, rather than vanning them or taking them in an automobile trailer. This was because the highway made a rather precipitous descent, winding down through several mountain passes; and on the Divide, the unpredictable storms sometimes made the road dangerous or even impassable for trucks. But he himself made the trip by motor.

There were always several events scheduled for two-year-olds, in which Sargent tried out his promising youngsters, and one race, on the last day of the meet, with a ten-thousand-dollar purse, which attracted an impressive entry. It was in this race that Thunderhead was to make his debut, and long before school closed Ken had familiarized himself with the past performances of all winners of this big event. Thunderhead had only to run the two miles on the Saginaw Falls track as fast as he had run it at home to win.

For Ken to hang around his father while the letter containing his report card was being opened, or even to allow the depressing event to catch him in the same room, was so unusual that Rob McLaughlin felt sure something was fishy.

He glanced up at Ken who stood waiting beside his desk with hands driven deep into the pockets of his bluejeans. "Going to take your medicine and get it over with, are you?" he grinned, then looked at the boy's face again. That wasn't Ken's usual report-card face—the face of one waiting for a death sentence. On the contrary, the sensitive face was now flushed with anticipation, gleams of light played in the depths of his blue eyes and one smile after the other rippled across his lips.

"Read it, dad. Read it quick!" he exclaimed, and watched closely as his father took the card and studied it, item by item.

Rob simply didn't believe it. He shook his head with bewilderment. "Is this card phony or what? Do you know what's in it, Ken?"

"What?" demanded Ken confidently.

"Ninety-two in Algebra. Ninety-four in Latin. Ninety-seven in Chemistry, and one hundred in English."

Rob pointed at the card. "How'd you get this? Was it just one composition?"

"You had to be excellent all year, and write a perfect composition to end up with."

"What subject did you choose?"

"I wrote about that time I tried to get the eagle feather—you know—down there in the Valley of the Eagles, and the eagle chased me all the way down the cliff and stuck his claws in my belly and it was only my belt that saved me—but of course I fixed it up a little."

"How'd you fix it up? Seems to me that was hot stuff without any fixing."

Ken waved his hands in a suave and explanatory fashion. "Oh, I put in some romantic dope—you know, the sort of things writers write—I had it that I had a picture of my girl in the buckle of my belt, so she sort of saved my life, you see."

Remove Tomato Vins
One way to save tomatoes from frost is to pull up the whole vine, with the tomatoes still attached, and hang it in a dry, moderately light place, such as the garage, the department of agriculture suggests. Tomatoes will keep fairly well this way for a few weeks. The mature green fruits will gradually ripen on the vine.

Hand-Firing
When hand-firing furnaces and boilers, shake grates lightly, use all-metal hoe to move glowing coals to one side, and place fresh coal at other side. If necessary, use paper to start a flame, and leave door slightly open for extra air to maintain flame. Open the overfire (firing door) damper enough to avoid "puffing." Use sized coal. Maintain a thick fuel bed. Do not use ashes to bank fire. Avoid overheating by checking fire before house is thoroughly warm. Tend heating plant regularly. By wetting ashes at night they can be removed dustlessly in morning. Plan house for easy fuel delivery and convenient ash removal.

Drying Rubber
Quick trick to speed the drying of rubberized foundations which do not open flat: After rolling in a bath towel, place it on another dry towel and stuff with crumpled tissue. This raises the top half so that air can circulate through it.

Tanning Technique Ancient
Tanning of leather and the manufacture of shoes dates from prehistoric times. Part of the story has been gained from crude drawings, unearthed by archeologists, says the National Geographic society. When a cave man cut or bruised his feet, he wrapped them in animal skins, and fur foot coverings gradually became as popular as present-day saddle shoes. Various articles of leather, more than 33 centuries old, have been found in Egyptian tombs. The ancients discovered an early means of refrigeration when they learned that leather "breathes" and water remains cool in a leather bag. The Arabs, artisans in saddle-driery, probably did the first really satisfactory tanning, using flour and salt to cleanse the skins, then placing them in the sun to dry.

Affects Plant Growth
When plants turn yellow, they have lost their green coloring matter and may die. This condition, called chlorosis, seriously affects the growth of the plant, shrub, or tree. It may be caused by a deficiency of certain elements such as nitrogen, potash, magnesium, zinc, copper or iron, or by an excess of lime. Other causes may be disease, winter injury, or over-watering. Application of a plant food or commercial fertilizer is the first treatment recommended. Adequate drainage and proper cultural methods are essential.

Kathleen Norris Says: Mind Your Own Business

Sell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"She is running around with one of the town boys, and whatever she feels, he is deeply in love."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THESE are good days in which to mind your own business. For one reason, because everyone's business is going to be complicated and hard under postwar conditions. And for another, because interfering in other persons' affairs is a harmful, wasteful and often useless employment.

Here is a letter from a woman who feels that she very decidedly ought to be minding other persons' business, even while she gives me a distinct impression that her own isn't being too well managed.

"My position is a very painful one," writes Carolyn Miller, from a Texas town. "I live with my husband's mother, who is a dear. She is only 52, active and capable, and we manage the house easily between us. I have a baby six months old.

"The trouble is my twin sisters-in-law, whom I will call Joan and Jean. They are 20, Joan married to a captain of marines, and Jean engaged to his brother, who is in the air corps. This marriage and this engagement took place before I moved in here. My husband, Bert, has been away for almost a year.

"Not His Baby."

"Joan, the married one, had a baby 10 months after her husband's departure for the south seas. She did not notify him of this baby's arrival until it was five weeks old, then a joyous cable was sent, 'fine little girl, both well.' His answer to this was so pathetically eager and happy that it made me sick, for in the family we all know that it is not his baby. Joan admits herself to a time of indiscretion, immediately after his departure, with one of his friends, since killed in the Pacific.

"The whole family expects me to be a party to this outrageous deception, of which I never would have heard, if I had not unexpectedly arrived here at the old home. My own instinct is to try to persuade Joan to write the truth to Art, and if she will not and her mother will not, to write him myself.

"Jean's case is, of course, less serious, but she is running around with one of the town boys, and whatever she feels, he is deeply in love. This seems to me terribly unfair to her absent fiance, but her mother will do nothing but look worried and say that time will settle all these problems. Personally I don't believe in leaving such matters to time; human beings have responsibilities, and our duties to our absent soldiers are surely the most sacred among them.

"My husband is now returning, honorably discharged, and we will move back to our own home, in a town some miles away. Naturally I have kept these troubles strictly to myself, for the honor of the family, but I really am in need of advice as to my correct course, having been brought up myself in the belief that honesty is always wisest in the end, however painful. Please help me."

Let Joan Tell Husband.

My dear Carolyn, my advice heads this article. Mind your own business. Button up your lip about Joan's affairs and Jean's affairs, and concentrate upon managing your home—fortunately in another town, and keeping your husband and baby happy.

You don't know—and you have no

She will tell him when he returns.

SILENCE IS BEST

It is often difficult to keep quiet when you happen to know some scandalous information. Many people persuade themselves that it is their duty to tell, because somebody is being deceived. They seldom stop to think that they may be making a bad situation worse.

The case discussed in today's article concerns two young wives whose husbands are still in service and out of the country. The girls are twins, young and pretty. Joan has given birth to a daughter—obviously out of wedlock. The other girl, Jean, is going around with one of the local men who is plainly in love with her. Carolyn, their sister-in-law, sees all this and feels she ought to write to the husbands and reveal the ugly facts.

Miss Norris admonishes Carolyn to keep out of these people's affairs. There is no good purpose to be served, she says, by telling the soldier-husbands now. Perhaps they will never need to know. In any case, it is the wives who should do the telling, and under more favorable circumstances than now exist.

business to know — what the relationship is between Joan and Art. Perhaps she has written him the full truth already. Perhaps she is waiting until he is home again, and at work normally again, and in love with the little girl baby, to say to him; 'Art, I don't know what weakness or craziness came over me—I never loved Tom as I did you. I was lonesome, and he was going away—to his death, as it happened—and we were carried away. Can you forgive me, and love her for Tom's sake, too, because he gave everything that he had, gave life itself, to keep her world safe for her?'

Perhaps, if something like that happens, Art never need be disillusioned, Art's heart need never be broken; perhaps there will be other children, and the little oldest girl not the least dear.

But whatever happens, your putting your stiff, moralizing, clumsy hand into this affair can only ruin everything, and do you no good. Leave Joan alone and leave Jean alone — Jean isn't the only pretty young flirt who's amusing herself in the absence of her heart's true love. Jean will probably meet her sweetheart with innocent eyes and a royal welcome, and to all the world Joan's mistake will remain hidden, and Joan's daughter will have her honor and her place in the world untouched. In a word, Carolyn, mind your own business.

Vitamin Intake Sufficient

You homemakers are concerned with the proper amounts of calcium and of riboflavin, known now as vitamin B-2. Calcium builds bones and teeth. Riboflavin promotes growth and is necessary to normal nutrition at all ages. B-2 vitamins are found in milk and milk products, among other foods. For folks have been drinking 25 per cent more milk since 1934, and increased their consumption of the B-2 vitamins about one-fifth.

Vitamin B-1 and niacin have been added. Iron is an important nutrient and it is usually fairly well supplied in average mixed diets and the enrichment program adds even more. The average quantity of vitamin B-1 that you and your family had last year was 33 per cent higher than in prewar years 1935-1939. Nine per cent of this B-1 increase was due to the enrichment of grain products. You homemakers have learned that if your family does not have enough B-1 it is apt to result in a poor physical condition, poor appetite and nervous disorders.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 21

MAKING THE HOME CHRISTIAN

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:38-42; 1 Corinthians 13:4-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love suffereth long, and is kind.—1 Corinthians 13:4.

Things do not just happen. It takes praying and planning and real effort to accomplish a worth-while purpose. We are thinking these weeks of the home as a Christian center of influence. We trust that many are asking in their hearts, "What can I do to make my home really Christian?"

The answer is clear. A home will be Christian when those in it are Christian and put their Christianity into daily practice. First, you must be sure of your own salvation and that of the members of your household. Then you can proceed to put the principles of godliness to work.

Our lesson presents the believing home as one that is well-balanced. There is both:

I. Work and Worship (Luke 10: 38-42).

No home can be a place of comfort and pleasant fellowship without much work. A disorderly, dirty or run-down house is a disgrace and a discouragement to all that is finest in the relations of those who live in it.

Home need not be a mansion. It does not have to be richly furnished, but it does need to be clean and orderly. Meals must be made. Cleaning must be done. So far Martha was right, but she went too far. She let the labor of the household hinder her from what she so deeply needed—fellowship, not only with her family but with the Lord.

Now, notice that Mary had not shirked her duty to share the work. Observe the word "also" in verse 39. She had worked, but she also sat at Jesus' feet. She knew when it was time to call a halt to labor and make the most of good comradeship. Blessed wisdom! Would that many burdened housewives would learn of Mary!

Jesus made it clear that life in the home is to strike a proper balance between work and worship. If you do not know where to make the division in your home, err on the side of worship. Give that more time than it should have rather than less.

Alas, it is not true that in most homes, even in Christian homes, worship is almost, if not entirely, forgotten! Something should be done about that. Will you do it in your home?

II. Love and Longsuffering (1 Cor. 13:4-7).

We are apt to think of love as the warm feeling of interest and emotion which suffuses one's nature in moments of special pleasantness or of intimate fellowship. But life is not made up of a succession of pleasant incidents, of sunny afternoons and moonlit evenings.

Life is real; it is earnest, and often it is drab and irritating. What about such times? Can love meet them? Yes, for love knows how to be longsuffering.

But someone may ask, Does love really work, or is this just a fine-sounding but obsolete theory? It works!

Think of the things in life which irritate and depress us. Then put opposite them the qualities of Christian love as given in verses 4 to 7, and you will agree that what this world needs most of all is love.

Remember that talking about love, or reading about it, or studying it in the Sunday school will not make it effective. We must put it into practice. Why not start now? You will be surprised at the results.

III. Promise and Perfection (vv. 8-13).

Christianity has a hope, and that is not just a vague wishing that something might come to pass; it is a sure hope. In Christ all the rich promise of prophecy, of faith, of hope will come to pass.

The Christian home is the place to teach boys and girls to believe with assurance that He who has begun a good work in us "will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ" (Phil. 1:6).

We who see only dimly shall one day see our Lord face to face, and love shall abide through all eternity.

Many gifts are only temporary in their usefulness; in fact, almost everything that man makes or does (apart from his service for God) is transient.

Even as vital a matter as prophecy shall one day find its end in fulfillment. Hope shall eventually find its longing expectation satisfied. Faith will be justified in seeing what it has believed. Childish things will be put away by the full-grown man; knowledge will increase and darkness disappear.

But love — love is eternal. It never fails, and will never fail. God is love, and God is eternal. From all eternity and unto all eternity love continues. Therefore, we agree with Paul who, in the verse preceding this chapter (1 Cor. 12:31) says that while you may covet the best gift, here is the more excellent way laine completes this definitely all-American costume.

Young Moderns Demand Clothes Styled With That 'American Look'

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

There's outstanding style distinction also in the page-boy red wool jumper dress shown to the left. It has all the attributes of youth and style and feminine charm teamed with a practicality and dependable wearability that makes it ideal for classroom and campus wear. Also, it's ever so smart to wear about town. Its weskit top, soft bow at the neck, together with the white striped sleeves of zephyr knit are style convincing. This young original costume has all the qualities that go to make up a "success fashion."

In sports separates the "American look" is outstanding in the new mix - and - match (more mix than match is noted this year) outfits that go in for dashing color contrast. Noted are the chic jackets, sleeveless jerkins and separate weskits with warm knitted sleeves. You will find in the stores such fetching numbers as an aqua wool jersey torso jerkin striped in fuchsia and black worn over an aqua crepe blouse with black sleeves and black collar, the separate skirt also in black. A jerkin that has waist depth buttons across one shoulder and along the underarm seam. It comes in a bright rust color, also in black, and it's chic and "comfy" to wear over a turtle-neck, long-sleeved sweater blouse.

AMERICAN designers are doing themselves proud in establishing a definitely distinctive individuality in the fashions they create. This has come to be recognized and acclaimed as the "American look." Clothes with a definite American look are what the young moderns, including teen-age, college and career girls, are clamoring for these days.

The keynote to the new all-American fashions is their striking simplicity, a simplicity that bespeaks a new era of smartness that gives accent to the uncluttered silhouettes, tuned to feminine prettiness in a most practical way. Such are the smartly styled dresses here pictured. These up-to-the-moment fashions by Emily Wilkens, the designer who is noted for her inimitable way of creating clothes for the campus set, are just the sort that are bringing a refreshing "American look" into the present-day fashion picture.

Simplicity - plus is expressed all the way through the styling of the swank bolero suit. The designer makes the skirt and bolero of the now - so - fashionable wide - wale corduroy, which in this instance is in a striking electric blue, for bright colors are making a tremendous spurge this year in the fashion realm. Using the wide wale horizontally instead of vertically is a master stroke as it gives a strikingly original look to the entire costume. The slightly peg-top skirt has a shaped built-up waistline bespeaking an important trend in the season's styling. A blouse of light blue ray-

Characteristic features of the important "American look" are seen in wide shoulders that round down softly into the new wing sleeves, in hug-waist and belted effects with bulk at the top, in peg-top skirts and the wrap-around tops. Smart as can be are the dirndl-with-contrast-top costumes. With the dirndl that is gaily colorful a waist depth black jersey blouse is top fashion. It is noticed too, that American designers favor gray as a color for smart wool suits and dresses.

Dressmaker Touch

Many of the new fabrics are made of rayon and aralac, the latter a new fiber made from casein of milk. Combining fibers in this manner produces lovely soft fabrics with the feel of wool and the drapability of silk. The material used for the exquisitely simple one-piece frock shown is a handsome soft flannel of the new rayon-aralac type. The dressmaker touch is seen in the streamers of self fabric laced through silver eyelets on the blouse and belt. Front tucks, slit pockets and a kick pleat give skirt interest.

Gray Is a Favorite Color This Autumn

Favor for gray is seen throughout the fall collections. For daytime dresses the smartest fabric you can choose is gray flannel. As for gray furs, they are right in the lime-light this autumn. Many of the smartest cloth coats are in gray wool or tweed which is lavished with spectacular gray fur. If you are going to buy a new sweater choose a fine gray Shetland wool. If you want to be the admired one of your group, here's telling you how. With your gray sweater wear a crystal cut necklace with a bracelet to match of crystal beads. Or if you are wearing a simple afternoon gown of gray crepe, give it new sparkle with crystal beads at your throat and your wrist. Returning to the topic of gray, it is that high in favor designers are making exquisite evening gowns of rayon gray crepe draped in sculptural lines. Suits of gray hollow-cut velveteen are high fashion.

Velvet Bows Return

Remember when it was the fashion to pin a big velvet bow here or there on one's frock as a glamorous finishing touch? The pendulum of fashion has swung around again to just that. It's smart to have in reserve a velvet bow or more to make your basic dress take on a dressy air. This trimming with bows is an important fashion gesture and the bows are really very flattering.

Fur-Lined Coats Popular

If you believe in preparedness now is the time to take up the matter of buying a fur-lined coat. News from style headquarters is to the effect that more fur-lined coats than ever will be worn this winter. Many of the fur linings are made detachable.

Air Conditioned Trailers
A fleet of new street cars in Atlanta, Ga., has been equipped with refrigerating units. This will be the first time that passengers can enjoy the benefits of air conditioning.

Every cow needs a rest period of six to eight weeks if she is to produce the most milk during her next milking period.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup In Your Kitchen?

Quick Relief. No Cooking. Easy!
If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done:—
Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugarsyrup. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it. And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.—Adv.

PAZO for PILES

Relieves pain and soreness
PAZO IN TUBES!
Millions of people suffering from simple Piles, have found relief with PAZO ointment. Here's why: First, PAZO ointment soothes inflamed areas—relieves pain. Second, PAZO ointment lubricates hardened, dried parts—helps prevent cracking and soreness. Third, PAZO ointment tends to reduce swelling and check minor bleeding. Fourth, it's easy to use. PAZO ointment's perforated Pile Pipe makes application simple, thorough. Your doctor can tell you about PAZO ointment.

SUPPOSITORIES TOO!

Some persons, and many doctors, prefer to use suppositories, so PAZO comes in handy suppository form. The same soothing relief that PAZO always gives.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. Your kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—all to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, stinging up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wise when you have Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

No Finger in the Dike

THE STORY of the little Dutch boy who saved his country by holding his finger in the dike is symbolic of Holland. It has always been a land of resourcefulness and courage.

But there could be no finger in the dike to save Holland this time. All the bravery of all its people could not stop the flood let loose in Germany, which ravaged all Europe, and swept over Holland leaving ruin, death, and starvation in its wake.

The Germans left 45 per cent of Holland under water. They stole clothes and blankets, even the blankets from hospitals. They stole so much food that an average of 125 Dutch children died each week from malnutrition.

Other Dutch children were so far along the tragic road of starvation that they could not assimilate food. It was necessary to fly to them a rare drug — protein hydrolysate — which, mixed with blood plasma, enabled them to swallow and digest food.

This drug was bought and sent by the American Relief For Holland, an agency of your Community War Fund, which is now asking for your annual contribution.

Knowing this, and other work the Fund does, have you the heart to refuse or be sparing? In addition to giving life back to Dutch children and other Allied children, the Fund supports the wonderful work of the U.S.O., of the United Seamen's Service, of War Prisoners' Aid, of the Community Chest of your own towns and of other organizations whose very names are blessed by desperately needy people in all parts of the world.

Seed Being Rushed to Europe, Asia to Avert Famine Threat

UNRRA Shipped 38,000 Tons Since Early Spring

By L. F. Sileo, Extension Marketing Expert.

First harvests from UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) seeds are being reaped by European farmers this fall, for despite early difficulties of shipping it was possible to send some seeds in time for the 1945 spring planting. A shipping program has been drawn up to meet Europe's 1946 spring needs and an initial program has been started in China. From the multiplication of UNRRA seeds will come seeds for the first plantings in Jap-free soil.

The 1945 fall and winter seed shipping targets for Europe are mainly wheat, rye, barley, oats, vetch and alfalfa. Data from current shipping reports indicate the amounts, varieties and destinations of the seeds included with UNRRA cargoes now going forward from the United States and Canada.

For instance, on July 2 the Chief Osceola left Baltimore for Constanza with 70,000 bags of rye seed for Czechoslovakia. The following day the Aleksandar I cleared Montreal with 934 bags of alfalfa seed for Yugoslavia, and the Tamara left St. John, New Brunswick, for Piraeus, Greece, with 905 bags of alfalfa seed. The Nicholas Labodie left Houston, Texas, for Constanza, July 8, with 15,420 bags of wheat seed and 1,166 bags of rye aboard to be routed to Czechoslovakia along with other UNRRA materials and supplies.

Europe Exported Seeds Before War.

In prewar times, Europe was not only self-sufficient, but a producer of an exportable seed surplus. This was true for cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, red clover and many other seeds although seed corn and perennial grasses were imported. But the destruction of war forced constant switches in the normal economy upon the occupied countries. At the end of hostilities such seeds as the edible legumes—beans and peas, most of the vegetables, wheat and other cereal seeds were needed. Many areas in Europe were also short on grass seeds to rebuild neglected pasture land, seeds to grow animal feed and seeds for industrial crops. Forage legumes, alfalfa, the clovers—red, alsike, and white—and turnips for animal feeding are called for. Seeds to grow rape and hemp for oil, and flax for fiber are also needed.

Shortly after UNRRA was formed by the United Nations in November of 1943, these estimates were turned over to the Standing Technical Committee on Agriculture. The experts of the committee, representing both the invaded and the supplying nations, used them as their starting point for planning rehabilitation through the importation and management of a seed supply. As later information came to light the early goals were modified. The time of year when countries were liberated also entered into UNRRA's calculations. Since the military is responsible for the initial shipments, the army would undertake to distribute supplies in countries ready to plant while military governments were in charge.

Vegetables Given Priority.
In selecting seeds to be sent, the committee gave first emphasis to seeds that grew food for direct human consumption. Vegetable seeds came first, then potatoes and cereal. Secondary consideration and shipping space went to seed that would produce forage crops for areas where the restoration of the livestock feed supply is considered urgent. The tonnages shipped and distributed to date reflect this priority. Seeds dispatched for 1945 spring planting were largely beans and peas from Canada and the United States, and other vegetable seeds from the United States and the United Kingdom. Food grown from these seeds is now furnishing some of the protective elements so badly needed in the diets of most of the people of the world today.

Some of the seed distributions in the liberated countries were carried on jointly by UNRRA and the military. As the military governments withdrew the remaining seed stocks were turned over to UNRRA. Seeds from this source were distributed in the Balkans. Some of the seed held for UNRRA in the U. S. for use last spring in case of an earlier V-E Day were then channeled into the domestic market.

For instance, vegetable seeds to replant the irrigated truck lands near the city areas in Greece were first made available through military supplies and later through UNRRA shipments. Vegetable and root crop seeds from plants grown in England were shipped this spring to Czechoslovakia. Root crop seeds were included with the first UNRRA cargoes for Poland.

Surplus Stocks Distributed.
One objective of the UNRRA seed program is to re-establish a flow of seeds within Europe from surplus pockets to areas of need. Military authorities found that Germany had been stimulating seed production in some of the occupied countries. Where crops were not destroyed these reserves are now made generally available.

Seeds of French origin are going to Holland and Belgium. Danish seeds may flow across Danish frontiers. Italy may have a surplus of seeds which can be routed to other countries. Seed potatoes from Cyprus have been sent to Greece. A small portion of the crops raised from the 1945 shipments of seed is being set aside to produce the seed for next year's planting.

The breakdown of interior transportation in the liberated countries as a result of German occupation is a complicating factor in the seed situation as it is in nearly every other relief and rehabilitation program. Every seedman who has led the fight in his own community for better farm to market roads can understand the situation. Roads and waterways have been bombed. Civilian motor vehicles have disappeared, carts have been wrecked and draft animals have been stolen and slaughtered. Much of this was deliberate sabotage on the part of the retreating Nazis. Even when there

Something to Keep the Ladies Warm

This armload of white fox pelts being displayed by an employee of a New York auction house is worth plenty at present prices. Fur coats, always expensive, will be sky-high this year, dealers say. Most skins now used come from Canada and the United States. The highest-priced fur this season is called silver-blue platinum mink. There are only enough of these rare pelts in the world to make up ten coats. An American mink farmer developed the color phase by careful interbreeding.

MEDAL MANIA

Lets see how quickly you gals can move in on a High Fashion.

Seems the smart fashion leaders in New York and in Hollywood are wearing costly antique medals for decoration on all kinds of clothes. Well, who says they are antique? See if your father has some old medals (wasn't he wading champion or something in his youth?); see if your O.A.O. will part with the medal he won for track. Pin them to bits of colored ribbon and wear them instead of your trickier lapel gadgets. If you have a lot of medals, you can pin them to a broad ribbon worn diagonally from one shoulder and tucked into your skirt belt. It's a fad!

Goober Special—Vanilla ice cream topped with peanut butter. It's positively Vanny.

Coke Mush—A coca cola with a scoop of ice cream floating in it. Delish.

Tin Roof—Ice cream, marshmallow, syrup, peanuts dished up in a coca cola glass. Tastes better that way.

Hula Shake—It's a malted milk with pineapple in it. Sounds deadly, but they tell us it's dreamy.

Jeep Special—Glass of water and a defense stamp. That's our favorite drink at the soda fountain. We hope it's yours, too!

SCHOOL DAZE

Pupil—Should you be blamed for things you haven't done?

Teacher—No, that wouldn't be fair.

Pupil—Thanks, I didn't do my homework for today.

Teacher—What happens when the human body is immersed in water?

Pupil—The phone rings.

Teacher—Order, please.

Pupil—Double chocolate malted.

High School Crowd Taught How to Drive In Safety Program

Anticipating a teen-age rush to used car lots for "jalopies" discarded by the motor public when new model automobiles are placed on the market, state and local school officials are accelerating programs in high school driver education.

Termed "behind the wheel" programs, those in operation or planned for the near future are designed to teach high school students to drive safely on the public highways.

Some 5,000 high schools throughout the country now have behind-the-wheel programs, according to information to the American Municipal association, with six states apparently well in the lead in developing such programs: North Dakota, Iowa, California, Wisconsin, North Carolina and Illinois. In each of these six states, at least 200 high schools offer driver education courses.

Delaware includes behind-the-wheel training in 27 classes in 18 high schools. Only six high schools in the state remain without the statewide driver education program because of wartime lack of personnel and equipment.

The West Virginia board of education has approved the proposed course of study in driver education prepared by the West Virginia driver education committee and included it in the standard state high-school curriculum.

Minnesota held a three-day education institute at the University of Minnesota this summer through cooperation of the university and state departments responsible for traffic education. The summer institute followed three regional institutes held in May.

One of the difficulties involved in behind-the-wheel training in North Carolina has been solved by using the state school buses for training purposes. Thousands of students have already learned the principles and practice of safe driving through this expedient.

Aircraft Engines
The expansion of aircraft engine production facilities from July, 1940, to June, 1944, exceeded air-frame factory expansion by 10 per cent, indicating the pressing need for increased engine production following Pearl Harbor. The advent of four-motored bombers and the expanded production of multi-engine types placed a tremendous load on engine production.

LOWER EGG PRICES EXPECTED IN 1946

Egg prices are expected to remain strong during the rest of 1945 and may even advance in coming weeks because of the usual seasonal decline in production and upward revisions of price ceilings. In the first half of 1946, however, the price is expected to be somewhat lower than for the same period in 1945. The over-all meat shortage and a 6 per cent decline in egg production were major factors supporting egg prices at the 1945 level. In 1946 civilian meat supplies will be more plentiful and egg production may be higher, depending on the number of chickens sold for meat.

As civilian, military and export demands for eggs decline, a lower level of production will be necessary (see chart). Egg producers in the corn belt states will be particularly affected because a relatively larger part of their output has been dried and the production has increased relatively more.

General MacArthur Receives Emperor Hirohito

Japan's emperor went to meet Japan's conqueror, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur. It was the first time in 2,000 years of Japanese history that a mikado had left the royal palace to be received by a foreigner. Emperor Hirohito, "The Son of Heaven," was dressed in formal morning attire, not in his flamboyant dress of admiral or marshal. The conquered ruler bowed to American correspondents.

Griser is just as anxious to return to his family as the paymaster is to be relieved of this expensive soldier.

Fattening Lambs
One help in putting weight on lambs is to keep sheep and lambs free from parasites, especially nodular worms and stomach worms. Infestation with parasites holds back growth and increases feed costs. Serious losses from parasites can be prevented by providing clean pasture, by the use of phenothiazine, and by taking other precautions.

Bike Passenger
You invite disaster when you carry another person on your bike.

Egg Eating
Egg eating by chickens is a habit usually developed by young pullets. This costly habit can be prevented by providing plenty of nests—one nest for each six birds—so eggs will not be broken by nest crowding at laying time. All nest bottoms can be kept well padded with litter such as hay, straw, cottonseed, shavings, so eggs will not be broken as they are laid. If the egg-eating habit has gone so far that some of the birds break the eggs themselves, it may be necessary to remove those birds from the flock for a few days or dispose of them entirely.

Heating Safety
One of the most notable innovations in safe heating is the wet base boiler in which water circulates under the ash pit. The fact that the boiler can be placed on a combustible floor is of interest in connection with the trend toward the basement-less house. In such houses it is often desirable to install the boiler on a wooden floor in a utility room or kitchen. Other safety features of modern boilers are foot-treadle door openers, ball-shaped, air-cooled handles and side shakers, making it easier to open and close doors.

Whip Soap Flakes
Whip your soap flakes in a little hot water with an egg beater and you will need fewer flakes and get better results.

Apple Picker
Watch the experienced apple picker at work and you will see that he sets his ladder properly and keeps balanced on it so he works as freely as he does on the ground.

Picker's Clothes
One of the first things the apple picker should do is to see that he has clothes for the job that protect the skin and help prevent accidents. They should be fitted for bending, be snug at the neck, ankles and wrists, and have usable pockets.

Bacteria Threat
An improperly cleaned milking machine may add millions of bacteria to the fresh milk that passes through the machine.

Bath Banishes Blues
According to etymologists, the English word "bath" comes indirectly from a Greek word meaning "to drive sadness from the mind." Which goes to prove again that the classic Greeks were a modern people and that they knew the full value of bodily cleansing. Bathe frequently and thoroughly, and thus "drive sadness from the mind."

Firestone TIRE
Built for Every Wheel that Rolls on the Farm

FOR your tractor . . . for your truck . . . for your car, and for every other farm use, there is a Firestone tire engineered and built to do the job—and to do it better than any other tire made.

There are certain definite reasons why Firestone tires perform better and last longer. One is Firestone's understanding of farm tire requirements based on years of experience in the farm tire field. Another is the never-ending Firestone research and development program to build the best today—and make it still better tomorrow. And still another vitally important reason for the superiority of Firestone tires is the fact that they are built by the finest craftsmen using the finest materials that science and machines can produce.

You can save time, money and do a better job of farming if you specify "Firestone" every time you buy a tire for your farm. From now on make it a Firestone.

Pfc. GEO. SECORD, discharged and expected home soon.

The PO says we have wrong addresses for LEONARD LADEMANN, PTR 3-c; ORVILLE E. CZYKOSKI, Cox 3-c; Pfc. FRANK CROWELL; and Pfc. WM. V. DOLEZEL.
Sgt. ASA J. BEAL, discharged Sat., Oct. 13 at Camp Chaffe, Ark. T-4 Beal saw 24 months overseas with the 532nd, 2nd E.S.B., and had 80 points. He has the Bronze Star Medal and 2 battle stars on his campaign ribbon. Besides receiving a news release, Asa writes us a letter in which he says: "I have appreciated the Herald and the column of Reveille on the Jordan. I wish to thank all of you for your time and work in writing the column for us fellows. Hope to see you soon."

Finally found out who EMERSON WM. RICE is that we mentioned last week. His mother is Mrs. Tillie Rice on Route 2, East Jordan, and he is a Charlevoix fellow, which probably explains why we didn't know who he was.

From Punta Gorda, Fla., S-Sgt. RALPH B. LARSON writes us that: "You have certainly been doing a swell job of writing the 'Reveille.' It looks like a lot of the boys are getting out of the Army and they deserve to get out too. I expect to be transferred from Punta Gorda in the near future as the field is closing, now that the war is over. I have been stationed here since a December, 1943. That is a long time to be stationed in one camp during war-time. The air base was an advance training base for fighter pilots during the war, but now we have only two planes and five pilots. Three of the pilots are from Michigan and are waiting discharge now. Well Paul, this is about all for now, and many thanks for the Herald. When I get out of the Army I shall start paying for the paper, and it will be worth it." (Say Ralph: You don't suppose that if you paid for it now they would kick you out of the Army would they? Or is that too much to hope for?)

JOHN W. (Shiner) VALENCOURT writes us his second letter from Great Lakes and makes more disparaging remarks about the "wonderful tires" on my doodlebug, and says "Did you have to rub me so hard about my recaps. I admit they looked funny but they made many trips to Boyne. I am now in a Dental Co. Its number is 1120 so it will be a change on my address. They broke up my Reg. they also broke up my Co into five sections. This Co. is about the worst Co. I have seen and they are in their seventh week. They eat chopped up horse feed. (I guess it is as it tastes like it). About half of them have their teeth out. They really are a funny sight. We make fun of them and they really burn. No fun as yet. There are some nice guys here at that. We had to eat with them a couple of days till we put up a kick, now we are eating like civilized people now. So the Model A's are still tearing up the Main St. I'll bet Dick T. would like to catch them all. He wasn't too bad but I know he would of liked to catch me more often. I seen TOM HAYDEN quite a few times. He will beat me home by a couple of weeks. I beat him here by three days I guess. I also had the luck of seeing two fellows from Boyne and one from Charlevoix." — Say Shiner, the grape vine has it that the morning you left for Induction that one of them thar recaps went flat at Ironton, you riding on to Charlevoix with someone else and the Chivvy coming home on the rim. Your father tells me that it still sits in his yard like Diddle Diddle Diddle — one tire off — and the other three — ALMOST!

sn't likely to happen, other needs being what they are.
The first state bonus cost taxpayers $53,454,668.49, of which the veterans received $31,395,006 and the bond owners the balance of $22,000,000 plus.

Recommendations of how the $51,000,000 fund might be used to benefit Michigan veterans are to be submitted to Governor Harry F. Kelly by the Office of Veteran Affairs sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Col. Phillip C. Paek, director, says the report will not be made public as it will be for the personal use of the governor.

At present the OVA is a service agency, created by the legislature and a model for other state governments, which is likely to continue for some years if the $51,000,000 fund is used for veterans' service and not doled out immediately in dribbling sums.

The OVA cooperates with the State Board of Vocational Control in operating a veterans' vocational training center at Pine Lake, north of Kalamazoo. The state pays $15,000 annually from state administration board appropriation of $1,000,000 and the vocational board chips in $118,000 a year from its federal aid kitty.

Another veteran service is likely to be a neurosis center operated by the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Michigan veterans are returning home at the rate now of 30,000 a month. The 1946 peak will come in June when 50,000 are due back. At least 350,000 veterans will be back home in Michigan by next summer — a fact politicians are already weighing.

The Kelly administration, faced with the possibility of labor unrest and widespread unemployment one year from today, is going to give careful and thoughtful consideration to all veterans' needs. Governor Kelly, disabled veteran of World War I, has a personal interest in this field that transcends political ambitions.

Lieutenant Governor Vernon J. Brown has personal interests also in war veterans. Two sons served in World War I; five grandchildren — four boys and one girl — are serving in World War II.

Moving the Michigan State Fair from Detroit to an upstate city has been proposed by livestock breed associations and farm leaders, but the idea is already being snaggled on opposition from friends of county fairs. The ace objector is the Ionia Free Fair at Ionia. Lansing boosters have been reminded that the fair was established permanently at the state capitol city in 1869, but after running in the red for several years it was returned to Detroit.

Echoes of the labor movement to get 30 per cent more pay.

Directors of the Michigan State Farm bureau declare farm prices must be boosted 30 per cent, if organized labor gets a similar boost in pay.

Quoting the bureau statement: "Some wage adjustments undoubtedly are called for, but a general increase will surely force generally higher commodity prices and a degree of inflation that might become disastrous."

White House analysts insist that overtime elimination has cut manufacturing costs 5.5 per cent on the average, while an end of upgrading and fringe increases has cut costs another 4.5 per cent. Thus 11 per cent wage increase could be absorbed by most industries without need for price increase, they say.

However, a 30 per cent pay jump would lead, the analysts add, to a 22 per cent rise in war material prices, and a 12-4 per cent rise in finished-goods prices. Thus, an inflation spiral resulting in higher prices for everyone.

Rankin Peck, executive director of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association, has notified the OPA that if the government grants a relief to distributors in wholesale prices, the local dealers should have a similar boost in retail prices. "The dealers cannot operate if the margin is reduced further in any way," cautioned Peck.

From Bustles...
TO BOBBED HAIR...
To Bobby Sox

Big things have happened in women's fashions since 1904... and since 1918. Yes, and the big changes have taken place in the telephone system since bustles were "the rage."

- In 1904, Michigan Bell had only 65,000 telephones. Total cost of buildings, equipment, wires, telephones, etc., was only 10 million investment dollars.
- By 1918 there were 260,000 telephones; the cost had risen to 38 million dollars.
- Beginning in 1945 there were 1,122,000 Michigan Bell telephones, and the cost stood at 242 million investment dollars.

You see, to add more telephones, and continually improve service, we must invest more money for central offices and switchboards, more for wire and cable — more for everything it takes to provide service.

Right now, 125,000 families want service that we can't supply. We already have started work on a 5-year $120,000,000 program to enable us to fill waiting orders... to care for future growth... to resume extension of rural service... to put into use new technical improvements... and to give you the service you want in the future.

Rates charged for telephone service do not supply sufficient money for expansion. Such investment dollars must come from the savings of thrifty Americans willing to buy Bell System securities. And — in order to attract their money — earnings must be sufficient to assure reasonable dividends, now and in the future. If not, those folks will place their money elsewhere.

The future quality of your telephone service depends on telephone rates sufficient to produce earnings attractive to investors. Too long a continuation of inadequate earnings would weaken our ability to meet expected post-war telephone needs.

Michigan Bell customers want good service. The telephone bill is so small an item in their regular expenditures that customers want really good service even though it might cost a trifle more than they would need to pay for inferior service.

OUR $120,000,000 POST-WAR PROGRAM MEANS JOBS FOR THOUSANDS
