Arabs Blast Plan for Jewish Entry in Holy Land; Rail Unions Threaten Strike for Wage Hike

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Dramatic photo panel pictures execution of Andor Jaross, former Hungarian minister of interior and Nazi collaborator, for war crimes. No. 1 shows Jaross trussed to post; No. 2, firing squad shooting, and No. 3, Jaross grimacing with pain as slugs tore through body.

PALESTINE:

Hit Entry Plan

Arab reaction to the recommendation of the Anglo-American committee of inquiry on Palestine that 100,000 European Jews be admitted into the Holy Land immediately was strong and bitter, with leaders warning of strife and a swing toward Russia in the middle east.

In branding the committee's plan as a betrayal of Arab rights, Arab leaders vowed they would resist its implementation and warned that repercussions might be heard throughout the entire middle-eastern Arab world with its 33 million people. Because the western powers showed a disposition to ignore the centuries-old dominant Arab population and culture of Palestine, they said, they might be compelled to turn to Russia for recognition.

To be acted upon by the American and British governments before its implementation, the committee's plan called for the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine and a relaxation of barriers in other countries to accommodate some of the victims of persecution in Europe.

Neither Jew nor Arab are to dominate Palestine, with interests of the Christian as well as Moslem and Jewish faiths protected. Restrictions on land transfers would be removed and replaced by freedom in the sale, lease or use of land, irrespective of race, community or creed.

Pending the creation of a United Nations trusteeship to rule the country, the present British mandate government would be retained to preserve order and prevent an Arab or Jewish movement for domination.

FOREIGN MINISTERS:

Discuss Reich

Pushed by the U. S. to permit Germany to return to a self-supporting basis and aid in the revival of the war-shattered European economy, Big Four talks on the postwar status of the Reich headed up the foreign ministers' meeting in Paris.

Though the conference originally was called to speed up formulation of peace treaties with Italy and other former German satellites, the pressing need for early reconstruction of the continent led to consideration of the problem of the Reich. Seeking to reassure Russian fears of a revived Germany, the U. S. proposed a four-power control plan for Germany to cover 25 years and guard against rearmament.

Joining with the U. S. in consideration of a unified Reich confined to non-military production, British leaders declared that division of Germany would encourage redevelopment of another nationalist movement. Advocating retention of the industrial Ruhr and Rhineland in the Reich to help bolster its economy, they proposed British control over these vital areas until a four-power commission could be set up for permanent supervision.

LABOR:

Strike Threats

With the coal strike reducing industrial operations and necessitating fuel conservation in metropolitan areas, the threat of a railroad walkout loomed as another menace to the nation's productivity.

POLIO:

A nationwide poliomyelitis treatment and professional-level training program that will cost upwards of five million dollars has been approved by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its local chapters.

Of the sum, National Foundation headquarters has allocated $800,000 to train doctors, nurses and physical therapists in the modern treatment and care of polio victims at these centers.

Following the collapse of negotiations between the carriers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, union heads announced strike plans unless the companies resumed parleys over their demands to negotiate the difference between the 16 cents an hour wage increase awarded by a Presidential fact-finding board and the 25 per cent boost they seek.

Declaring that in some instances, the increase awarded would amount to 13 cents an hour and in others 18 cents, the union heads said they would insist upon the adoption of their demands regardless of who runs the railroads, thus indicating they might balk at government operation.

Meanwhile, federal conciliators worked feverishly in an attempt to break the soft coal deadlock, with the government taking cognizance of the dwindling fuel supply already resulting in reduced industrial operations by ordering railroads to cut passenger service on coal burning trains by 25 per cent and embargoing all freight shipments save for essential commodities.

Jap Women Hot Politicos

Although they have just come into their own in Japanese politics, Nipponese women already are taking their electoral responsibilities with fervor.

Following Mrs. Hatsu Imai's resignation from parliament after her recent election, four of her feminine co-legislators lit into her for quitting because of the press of her domestic duties.

"A betrayal of the electorate," cried Haru Wazaki, an independent from Akita.

"Weak will," snorted Tsuko Yamashita, independent from Kumamoto.

"If she had to quit because of feudalistic expressions around her, I think she should fight against them," averred Shizue Kato, social-democrat from Tokyo. "Destruction of the traditional family system is the key to women's development."

MEAT:

Test Control

With Secretary of Agriculture Anderson calling for the removal of price control on meat if government regulations fail to provide major packers with a sufficient run of stock in the next 90 days, observers waited to see how effective re-imposition of slaughter quotas and a reinvigorated attack upon the black market would be in remedying short supplies.

Declaring that the big companies could not obtain enough cattle at ceiling prices because smaller operators have bid up the market for available stock, Anderson said the government was giving meat control its final test. Though packers were convinced slaughter quotas would not furnish sufficient relief, Anderson said they had proven effective before, and along with a tighter clamp on the black market might route adequate supplies to established companies.

In discussing the meat situation with Anderson during hearings of the senate banking committee on extension of OPA, Senator Barkley (Dem., Ky.) declared that a reliable stockman stated that while he normally slaughtered 7,000 head a week he can now get but 500. Anderson replied the case was typical of the industry as a whole.

Production Down

Farm production of meat animals in 1945 totaled 40.2 billion pounds, about 1.6 billion pounds smaller than the output in 1944 and around 6 billion pounds below the high record in 1943. Production of cattle set a new record and that for hogs was the fourth largest but raising of sheep and lambs was below par. Gross income from meat animals in 1945 amounted to 6,252 million dollars, nearly equalling the record return in 1943 and 158 million dollars higher than in 1944.

Firestone
Announces THE SAFEST AND LONGEST WEARING TIRE EVER BUILT

RAYON CORD AT REGULAR PRICE!

55% STRONGER
New Rayon Cord Saffi-Sured Body* Gives Extra Protection Against Blowouts

60% MORE NON-SKID ANGLES
New Saffi-Grip Tread Provides Extra Protection Against Skidding

32% LONGER MILEAGE . . .
Wear-Resistant Vitamic Rubber in both the Tread and the Cord Body Assures Extra Protection Against Weather and Wear

INSTEAD of merely substituting a rayon cord body for cotton cord in a previous tire design, Firestone especially engineered this tire to take full advantage of the extra strength of rayon. As a result, Firestone research has created a revolutionary new tire, tested and proved by millions of miles of service—a tire that's new in design, new in materials, new in performance—YET IT SELLS AT REGULAR PRICE. See this new Firestone De Luxe Champion Tire at your nearby Firestone Dealer Store or Firestone Store TODAY!

*Rayon cord bodies in size 6.50 and larger, extra strong cotton cord bodies in smaller sizes until more Rayon is available.

HERE'S WHY THE NEW FIRESTONE DELUXE CHAMPION STAYS SAFER LONGER

Rayon fibers are locked together by the Firestone Saffi-Lock process, then Gum-Dipped and calendered with Vitamic Rubber. Saffi-Sured Construction welds all parts of the tire into an inseparable unit for EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS.

The new Saffi-Grip Tread has up to 60% more non-skid angles for EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING.

New, wider, flatter, silent Saffi-Grip tread and large area in contact with the road mean slow, even wear. Precision balance and uniform flexing mean less internal heat. These features assure EXTRA MILEAGE!

"Cook 'em any way, Michigan Beans are Finer"

SEVEN DOLLAR BEANS

To encourage greater bean production to supply domestic needs and to send to famine areas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the 1946 market price for Navy, Cranberry, and Yellow Eye beans will be supported at $7.00 per cwt to the growers, hand picked basis. This is an increase of 75 cents over the 1945 prices.

Michigan leads the nation in bean production. Last year's short crop is sending buyers elsewhere for beans. Keep Michigan in front. Protect your future market by filling the present demand. Plant beans and put beans on the table!

Why all this hew and cry today over food?

Newspaper headlines tell the encouraging news that Michigan farmers are rushing wheat to grain elevators in response to a national call for famine relief. It is forecast that nearly 1,000,000 bushels will be delivered by the end of next week (May 25) and that ultimately from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bushels of an estimated 6,000,000 Michigan bushels in storage will be hurried to east-coast ports on the way to Europe.

Hurry, hurry, hurry is the appeal. All of which prompts an observation: Why wait 12 months to do something about an emergency that was clearly foreseen?

The first responsible warning about post-war food shortages was voiced in April, 1945 — a good 13 months ago — by Judge Samuel Rosenman who at President Roosevelt's request visited Europe on the eve of Germany's surrender.

In July, 1945, Joseph C. Grew (then under secretary of state) repeated that warning.

Then on Sept. 29, 1945, the agricultural department said that "only substantial food imports from outside sources can save millions of Europeans from near starvation in the coming winter."

But that isn't all — not by a long shot.

On Nov. 27, 1945, the state department reported that 350,000,000 persons desperately needed food, and President Truman told Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada that "we expect to ship all (the food) we can possibly spare." Remember — that was in November, some six months ago.

On Feb. 7 of this year the President said the United States might have to return to meat rationing to save others from starvation.

Then on March 1 he set up the famine emergency committee with Herbert Hoover as chairman, and on March 17 Hoover was sent abroad to get the facts — mind you, to get the facts!

By April 18 the White House decided that American millers must set aside 25 per cent of the wheat they normally consume in making flour earmarking this set aside for export to Europe.

What did the country do about the urgency of hastening life-vital food to the distressed countries of Europe — especially to those who were our Allies during the war?

In the first quarter the wheat exports of this country were 12,000,000 tons short of our commitments for that period. On April 19 came a special price premium on wheat and corn, coupled with another administrative appeal for action.

Just last week Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, said the United States fell 150,000 tons short on its relief exports in the first week of May. Our quota was 250,000 tons of food. We sent about 100,000 tons.

The difference for this one week — the 150,000 tons just mentioned — would have made 330,000,000 loaves of bread, enough to supply the minimum weekly ration for 71,500,000 persons — men, women and children. That much was probably wasted in this country by careless householders and restaurant operators. Americans have been always extravagant with their food; during the World War they consumed more food per capita than before the war — believe it or not!

Why Washington has dilly-dallied for months, avoiding a showdown on the food issue and hesitating to impose restrictions, is probably answered by the fact that 1946 is an election year. Politicians don't want to do anything that might be unpopular with well-organized pressure groups back home.

So don't continue the draft of young men after May 15. It might be unpopular with their parents.

So don't ration meat or food. The voters wouldn't like it.

So don't worry about price ceilings. After all, living costs soared 62.8 per cent in World War I; then went up only 29.9 per cent in World War II. Let's have some more inflation and whoopee. The country can stand it.

So don't do anything to antagonize the labor unions — John L. Lewis especially. If we must have national paralysis because of the coal miners' strike, it's just too, too bad.

Counter to this selfish attitude of the vote-hungry politicians is the fact that American public opinion has always been ahead of the public official. Public opinion surveys demonstrated this, time and again, throughout World War II. It is Congress, plus the bureaucratic Washington, which lags behind the willingness of the home front to get things done. Congress is conservative.

The shameful delay in sending food overseas certainly cannot be ascribed to the lack of knowledge about the coming famine. The failure to meet the issues of famine food exports, sufficient military strength for our army and navy, and protection of the public against racketeering labor leaders — just to mention a few — should be put on the doorstep of Washington, and no place else.

The public is ready for action, as public opinion surveys have repeatedly proved. Isn't it about high time that Washington took the leadership and did something about it? W. think so.

(Delayed from last week) Secretary of State Herman F. Dignam is arriving at his office in the capital unusually early these mornings. Reason: A nesting robin.

The bird built her nest inside the Dignam garage in East Lansing one warm, sunny day when the garage door had been left open. At night the Dignams lock the garage door, but they have to get up early every morning to open the door so the robin can get out and promote a breakfast. The catch is this: The daily garage opening is a seven-day-a-week chore — Saturdays and Sundays as well as office week days!

Every seventh dollar in factory wages paid in Michigan normally comes from foreign trade.

That is the reason why Michigan lake towns, such as Detroit and Muskegon, are so active in the fight for the national seaway project. The movement has been recognized officially by the State of Michigan which elected, some years ago, the "Michigan Great Lakes Tidewater Commission."

Linking the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean through better canals along the St. Lawrence river, the seaway program would reduce freight cost of shipping Michigan-made goods to Europe, according to seaway proponents.

John C. Beukema, commission secretary, says the "bare cost of rail-water transfer at the Port of New York is $2.75 per ton. By bringing foreign flag vessels into the Great Lakes, our shippers have enjoyed precisely the same freight rates as shippers on the Atlantic seaboard on some commodities and only slightly higher on others."

You can guess who is against the seaway. Yes: The railroads.

The publisher of a major daily newspaper in Michigan believes it would be economically feasible to deliver a daily newspaper into homes of subscribers by radio facsimile broadcasting for only 7 cents a day. The newspaper would rent out the facsimile receivers, service them with paper, and collect from subscribers weekly or monthly, as at present. The receiver would print sixteen pages, 9 1/2 by 12 inches, in 60 minutes.

Just one year ago a promotional campaign was launched at Lansing to stimulate Victory gardens as an important source of war-time food. Now, with the war over, a similar drive is getting under way under sponsorship of the Michigan Food

Council. The office of civilian defense will be the spearhead. If the Midwest were to experience a serious drought this summer — and meteorologists hint that one is overdue — the food situation would become more critical.

Jap Trick Shown Up by Yank Who Knows Babies

WITH THE MARINES.—An alert marine sentry who knew there was a right way and a wrong way to carry a baby, was responsible for capturing a Jap soldier attempting to infiltrate through our lines on Okinawa.

Warned to be on the lookout for Jap troops posing as civilians, the sentry became suspicious when he noticed how awkwardly an infant was being carried by its "mother." When he halted the "mother," he discovered that "she" was a Jap soldier trying to slip through the marine lines.

The Japs have been going to elaborate lengths to masquerade as civilians, but the use of an innocent baby as an aid to the disguise is the newest device, according to the report of S/Sgt. Ray Fitzpatrick, a USMC combat correspondent.

A New Book Issued
By Dr. Buttrick

The many East Jordan friends of Dr. Buttrick, of New York City, will be interested in a new book by this famous author and preacher, that has just been published.

It is entitled "Christ and Man's Dilemma." In some ways it is a sequel to Trueblood's book "The Predicament of Modern Man." That book brings out that man's moral development has not kept pace with his progress in technology.

Dr. Buttrick's book shows that Christ is the key that unlocks the knowledge and the power that man needs to meet the problems of life.

Like Dr. Buttrick's previous book "Christ and Man's Dilemma" is expected to be a best seller in religious circles. It has keen insight and is written in the author's inimitable manner of expression.

One time there were two farmers

One day Jake stopped over at Bill's farm. "Got a great plan to save money this winter," he said. "I'm mixin' a little sawdust with the feed. Hoss don't notice the difference."

Around Christmas they met again. "Say," Jake grinned, "you oughta try my system. Got the nag eatin' half sawdust an' half grain now. It's a lot cheaper."

Bill wasn't so sure. "B'lieve I'll stick to oats."

Along about spring plowing time Jake came over to Bill's place, looking kind of glum.

"What's wrong?" asked Bill. "Isn't your money-savin' idea workin'?"

"Oh, it worked fine," Jake said. "Had him trained so he was eatin' nothin' but sawdust. Only this mornin' the ornery cuss fell down an' wasn't able to get up. How 'bout lettin' me hire your hoss for my plowin'?"

THERE'S a big "plowing" job ahead if Michigan Bell is to expand and improve telephone service and supply it to all who are waiting. It can't be done on sawdust.

Here is why. Thousands of thrifty people have their savings invested in Bell System securities. Their money makes good telephone service possible. In fact, Michigan Bell's 5-year $150,000,000 expansion and improvement program will be financed largely by these and other investors. And that program will provide more and better telephone service for you.

So you see, our earnings are important all around. And telephone rates—such a small part of your monthly budget—must be maintained at a level which will keep our earnings adequate. Otherwise, investors would not put their money into the telephone business, and the future quality and extent of your telephone service would suffer.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.

Technical improvements over the years have brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. But if the recent rapid rise in costs continues, rate increases may become necessary. In any event, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.
