New Management at West Side Sinclair Service Station

The Northern Auto Co., Ford dealers of Petoskey, announces new management of the Sinclair Service Station on the West Side at M-66—M-32 junction, to be known as Franklin's Super Service by Franklin Stucker, formerly of Detroit. The station will be open each day at 6:00 a. m.

Along with the complete line of Sinclair gasoline and oils and Firestone products, they will handle a complete line of fishing tackle.

Mr. Stucker returned home last fall after three years service with the Fifth Army in Africa and Italy. He is a member of the V.F.W., American Legion and East Jordan Chamber of Commerce.

MARRIAGES

Buckley — Putney

James W. Putney of Grand Ledge, and Miss Jessie Buckley of Eagle, Mich., were united in marriage at the Presbyterian Manse, Monday evening, Aug. 19, by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Coolman of Ellsworth. Mrs. Coolman is a sister of the bride.

Beal — Hitchcock

Before an arch of Princess pine and pink glads, with side baskets of pink and white glads, Eleanor Marie Beal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Beal, became the bride of Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Wednesday, August 21, at 2 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard Moore, using the double ring service.

Eva Wilson accompanied Patsy Beal who sang "Always."

The bride wore a gown of white net over satin with finger-tip veil and carried an arm bouquet of white asters and pink rose buds with white satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid was Joyce Hitchcock, sister of the groom, and wore a gown of pink net over pink satin and carried a bouquet of white asters and delphiniums with white satin ribbon.

The groom was attended by Leland Beal, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Beal, mother of the bride, wore a corsage of pink roses and white snapdragons. Mrs. Hitchcock, mother of the groom, wore a corsage of white snapdragons and yellow coreopsis. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. John Valencourt, wore a corsage of white carnations and white snapdragons.

A three-tiered wedding cake and ice cream was served after the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock will take a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and through Canada, then will be at home with the grooms parents.

E. J. Garden Club Will Hold Benefit Party for Park Project

The East Jordan Garden Club will hold a card party at the East Jordan Tourist Park recreation building, Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 27, at 2 p. m. for benefit of the Memorial Park Project. If you do not play cards, bring your handwork. Refreshments will be served.

BOWLING

Announcement was made through the local newspaper that all captains of bowling teams and new sponsors of teams wishing to enter the Merchants Bowling League were kindly invited to attend a meeting Thursday evening, August 15th at 8 o'clock. Rumors were that some new sponsors were willing to place teams in the league. The meeting, as scheduled, was held Thursday evening with twelve captains or team representatives present. All agreed to start the league with the twelve teams represented at the meeting in order to avoid any further delay. The 1946 season will open Monday evening at 7 o'clock September 9th.

To avoid any unnecessary misunderstanding with the officers and other players it would be well for every captain of the team to instruct his players about the regulations regarding the entrance fee, prize money, handicaps etc., and good sportsmanship during the season.

The captains are requested to give names of their teams and lineup to Barney Adair on or before the season opens.

The following officers of the Merchants Bowling League were elected at the meeting: Pres., Rev. Joseph Malinowski; Vice-Pres., Donald Clark; Secretary, Barney Adair; Treasurer, W. G. Boswell.

Officers of the Bowling Association are: Pres., Barney Adair; Vice-Pres., Barney Milstein; Secretary, Greg Boswell; Treasurer, Greg Boswell.

Ladies interested in bowling on Tuesday nights starting Sept. 10th, are requested to meet at the Recreation Friday evening, Aug. 23rd, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a six-team ladies league sanctioned by the W. I. B. C. The officers of the league are: Pres., Shirley Taylor; Sec'y and Treasurer, Judy Desjardins.

This week marked the return to the alleys of many of the men, to get in shape for the new season, and from the scores that have been bowled, it looks like a big season ahead. Dick Hamerski rolled a 275 game and Ed Reuling scored 1216 for 6 games.

Arrangements are now being made for one of Detroit leading women's team to bowl here on Sept. 7th and 8th, when Lucille Quamy will bring her R. G. Dun team from the ladies major league of Detroit.

In the Durand Express of Aug. 15 is a picture of Lieutenant Commander Gilbert T. Joynt, also a picture of the "Fighting Lady" on which he was a fighter pilot in the air strike at "Fighting Lady" made in Tokio.

This V-J Day finds thousands of "the birds with folded wings" voiceless and at rest, but ready for almost instant action should the unwanted time for their service come again.

Purchases West Side A-G Store

Clifford L. Bradshaw, formerly of Mancelona and Detroit, purchased last week the West Side A-G Store, formerly owned and operated by Mrs. Julia Gunther.

Mr. Bradshaw solicits a continuation of the business afforded this store by former patrons. Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw, with 6-year-old daughter Karen, now occupy the residence at the store.

"Jack" Gunderson Takes Up New Conservation Work at Roscommon

Russell J. Martin, who has been superintendent of the conservation department's training school at Roscommon for the last nine years, has been assigned an assistant—veteran conservation officer John Gunderson—a graduate of E. J. H. S.

Gunderson's service as a conservation officer, beginning in 1937, was in Calhoun, Livingston, Branch and Ingham counties. More recently he was assistant district supervisor at field administration district offices in Traverse City, Boyne City and Gaylord, and he has traveled much about the state as a first aid instructor.

A graduate of Western Michigan College of Education, Gunderson was a physical education instructor for five years at Bessemer. For the last five weeks he has been at the Higgins Lake training school, assisting in the management of the boys conservation camps.

Farm Topics

FARMER'S DAY ON MSC CAMPUS WILL BE SEPTEMBER 3

The annual Farmers' Day program to be held on Tuesday, September 3, on the Michigan State college campus at East Lansing is expected to prove even more interesting and instructive to the several thousand visitors. Features of the 1946 event include: a dusting and spraying equipment demonstration for farm and orchard use; fly control with DDT; and mowing of hay with forced-draft heated air.

The annual Farmer's Day program is being held in conjunction with the State 4-H Club Show. Families are invited to hold picnic lunches noon or evening under the numerous shade trees on the college campus.

At the college experiment station, guides will be present throughout the morning and afternoon to explain the experimental projects. Experiments with crop varieties, soils and fertilizing tests, and rotation will be explained and the values of approved methods shown.

College livestock will be exhibited in the various barns and the college poultry plant will be open for inspection.

An evening program will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the college auditorium which will feature the 4-H club dress revue.

Farm women will be interested in the various foods and canning demonstrations put on by the 4-H club girls competing in the state contest and in the canning, foods, home improvement, and clothing exhibits.

SOUR CREAM SAVES SALAD OIL

If cream turns sour, put it to good use in saving other fats and oils now in scarce supply. A half pint of sour cream can make enough dressing for salad to serve six.

A recipe that is especially good for a chilled fruit salad dressing follows: Use 2 whole eggs or 4 egg yolks; 1/4 cup vinegar; 1 cup sour cream; 1/2 tablespoon sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon mustard; 1/8 teaspoon paprika. Beat the eggs and add the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Cook in a double boiler and stir constantly until the mixture thickens. Chill before serving on chilled fruit.

BUILD A LAWN NOW

August 15 to September 1 is the time to seed a new lawn in lower Michigan. Important steps which should be taken are:

First, grade the yard properly to set off the buildings and provide desired contours and landscape features. The most satisfactory grades slope gently away from the buildings in all directions. Avoid terraces and steep grades.

After the grading is done, add topsoil. Dark colored, sandy loam and loam soils are ideal. If loams are not available, good lawn soil can be prepared. A good mixture in one bushel of clay soil, one bushel of muck or peat and two bushels of sandy soil. If a clay loam is available, mix one bushel of peat and only one bushel of sandy soil instead of two. On loam or clay subsoil, the layer of topsoil added should be from 6 to 10 inches deep. If the subsoil is sandy, 10 to 12 inches of topsoil will give better results.

Do not add lime to lawn soils un-

Feeder Cattle Sale at Gaylord Oct. 25

ON OCTOBER 25, SPONSORED BY NORTHERN MICHIGAN BEEF BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

The First Annual Northern Michigan Feeder Cattle Sale at Gaylord on October 25 will provide a direct outlet for quality Northern Michigan grown feeder cattle of Hereford, Angus or Beef Type Shorthorn Breeding.

The sale is being sponsored by the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders Association as a means of promoting beef production in Northern Michigan and improving marketing facilities. The membership in the Association consists of pure-bred and commercial beef breeders who are working in cooperation with the Animal Husbandry Extension Service of Michigan State college in a quality beef program for Northern Michigan.

The first annual sale at Gaylord was prompted by the fact that southern Michigan cattle feeders, who annually ship in over 50,000 head of feeder cattle, show a preference for native Michigan cattle. Reduced losses from shipping diseases, lower transportation costs less shrinkage and better acclimated cattle resulted in purchasers from 25 counties paying Chicago prices for quality feeder cattle at a similar sale at West Branch in 1945.

Both calves and yearlings may be consigned at the Gaylord sale. All stock must be of good or choice quality. Breeding should be from quality cows and registered bulls. Cattle will be sorted according to breed, sex, weight and body conformation and will be sold in lots of 8 to 12 head in a pen.

Information on consigning to the sale may be secured from County Agricultural Agent Ed. Rebman, Ed. Rebman, Co. Agent.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS TO MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Announcements have been received in the County Extension Office that two Charlevoix County Club members are recipients of scholarships to Michigan State College. Shirley Sinclair of East Jordan was awarded a scholarship of twenty five dollars at Michigan State college as all-round County Champion in 4-H club work during the year 1945. Shirley Sinclair has been a member of a clothing club led by Mrs. Leatha Larsen. She has completed seven years of club work.

A ninety five dollar scholarship at Michigan State college was awarded to Theodore Melin of Charlevoix for his outstanding work in Handicraft. Theodore began his club work in 1939 at the Hopyard School. He is continuing his club work in the Charlevoix Public school under the leadership of Une Suomela, Manual Training Teacher. Theodore has had six years of 4-H club work.

Two other awards, copies of the challenge book, "I Dare You," given to outstanding club members by the Danforth Foundation will be presented to Betty Erber of Boyne City and Oliver Johnson of Charlevoix at a later date.

less tests show the soil strongly leveled. After the topsoil has been leveled, broadcast 10 to 15 pounds of 10-6-4 lawn fertilizer per 1,000 square feet and thoroughly rake into the surface soil.

Before seeding, alternately rake and roll the lawn surface until firm. The feet should not sink into the soil appreciably when the seedbed is sufficiently firmed. After the soil has been firmed properly, rake lightly over the surface before seeding.

Keep new lawn seedings moist, watering with a fine spray to avoid washing. Begin mowing when the grass has reached a height of 3 inches. Set the mower to cut at a height of 2 inches and maintain grass at this height.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sinclair announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Leland A. Hickox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hickox, at 8:00 p. m., Saturday, August 31st, at the East Jordan Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Fred Olert of Detroit is Guest Preacher at Presbyterian Church

Dr. Fred Olert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, is guest preacher next Sunday morning at 10:30 at the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Olert is one of the younger ministers who is receiving national recognition, and is doing a remarkable work in Detroit. East Jordan is fortunate in having Dr. Olert being willing to preach here.

John Perry Looze Passes Away In His Seventy-second Year

John Perry Looze passed away at Charlevoix hospital, August 13, from cancer. He had been in failing health two years.

He was born in Charlevoix, March 19th, 1874, and, with the exception of a few years spent in Lansing and four years in Muskegon Heights, his life was spent in this community. He attended school at Three Bells.

He was married June 18, 1918, to Myrtle Person, who survives him.

Mr. Looze was a farmer, also did some carpenter work in his younger years. He was a charter member of Peninsula Grange which was organized 61 years ago, of which he held many of the offices and was a Past Master of the Grange.

Surviving, besides the wife, are two brothers—William of Boyne City and Edward of Flint; and three half brothers—Archie Hewson of Lansing, Rancile of Fife Lake, and Lyle of St. Johns; and a half sister, Myrel Daggett of Elsie.

Services were held at the R. G. Watson funeral home Friday afternoon, August 16, by Rev. Howard Moore.

Funeral home, R. G. Watson, 1100 East Main St., Charlevoix, Mich.

Peninsula Grange, Belders, were Lee, Geo. Ferris, Peter Umior, Joe Leu, Herman Kamradt and Carl Grutsch.

Those from away to attend the funeral were—Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hewson and son Donald, Lansing; Edward Looze, Flint; Rancile Hewson, Fife Lake; Mrs. Myrel Daggett, Elsie; Mrs. Frances Graff, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Reynolds, Miss Kathryn Reid, Evelyn and Bob Graff, Muskegon Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor and son Billy, Cedar Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Persons and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tolfree and Mrs. Joe Weiler, Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henderson and family, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chambers, Cadillac; Fred Looze, Charlevoix; Mrs. Gertrude McNulty, Ontario, Canada; Mrs. Thelma Kline, Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Looze and Mr. and Mrs. John Looze, Boyne City.

Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the council held Aug. 19, 1946 at the City Hall.

Absent: Bussler, Malpass.

Present—Mayor Whiteford, Aldermen Somerville, Hayes, Nowland, Thompson.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

Tons of Dishes Washed Annually

SALVAGING OF HOUSEHOLD FAT MAKES POSSIBLE PRESENT SUPPLIES OF SOAP

It has been calculated that every American housewife washes six tons of dishes every year! Add up the accumulation from 365 breakfasts, luncheons, dinners and in-between snacks and the total would fill six trucks, experts say.

Staggering as the task of washing six tons of dishes sounds, imagine how much more impossible the job would be without soap! The prospect of a soap-less life is not on the horizon, however, as long as housewives keep up their present rate of salvaging fat.

Department of Agriculture authorities point out that if it had not been for salvaged fat in 1945, housewives would have had 13 per cent less soap. Even so there are not enough industrial fats and oils available to meet the demand for soaps and other goods the public wants.

Help Yourself
Every time you turn in a pound of fats to your meat dealer you are actually helping yourself and your neighbors by relieving the shortage not only of soap but also of scarce items like table linen, draperies, floor coverings, even possibly some more nylons.

Food experts too are urging fat conservation! Use and reuse every drop and ounce of beef, bacon and even lamb fat when you're cooking, they say. Then, when you've had all the food value of your fat, turn in the drippings and scrapings for salvage.

The 800,000,000 people starving in Europe and Asia are scavenging in garbage cans for grease that many an American family washes down the drain. Fats are scarce everywhere. We, as a nation, must be careful not to waste material, which if properly used would save human lives in some other country and add to comfort in our own. Remember your annual six tons of dishes.

One Pound Helps
Sixteen tablespoonful of used fat make a box of packaged laundry soap, or five bars of toilet soap.

The lady engineer and general manager of such a household therefore can save and salvage enough used cooking fat to take care of her dishwashing needs.

Remember that in addition to dishes, literally tons of clothes need washing every year—miles of woodwork and linoleum must be scrubbed and it takes mountains of soap. Sit down and figure out the amount of soap... and the amount of fat... required to keep your household clean.

Supplies Never Lower
Supplies of edible and inedible fats and oils all over the world have never been as low as they are today. Fats and oils imports to the U. S. are still only a shadow of their pre-war tonnage. The only tangible way to get more raw materials for soap making and other essentials is by turning in more used cooking fat.

Continued conservation of every drop of used cooking fat will prevent shorter supplies of soap. Accelerated fat salvage—the skimming of soups, scraping of pans, rendering of raw and cooked fat—means improvement in soap supply, and a slight easement in the household burden of six tons of dishes every year.

FATHER AND SON!

The boy who has a modern-minded father for his best pal, these days, is a lucky young fellow. George Eldridge as the father and Jimmy Clark as his son, turn in great performances in the new Hollywood hygiene film, "Mom and Dad", which opens an engagement at the Temple Theatre Monday Sept. 9. Elliot Forbes will appear here in person.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fortune returned Thursday to their home in Ludington after spending two weeks visiting at the home of Mrs. Laura Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sloan.

House Group Proposes New Farm Program to Aid Agriculture; Drouth Strikes Mid-West States

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FARM PROGRAM: New Proposals

A new farm program calling for a combination of sound open market practices and governmental assistance was proposed by the special house committee on postwar economic policy and planning headed by Representative Colmer (Dem., Miss.).

In recommending changes in present farm legislation, the committee urged:

Greater flexibility be allowed in farm prices, especially toward each other.

Supply and demand be given greater opportunity to determine farm prices rather than artificial controls.

Re-examination of the out-moded parity price formula designed to give farmers an income on a par with industrial workers.

Concentration on a long rather than a short range farm program.

The establishing of a "floor" under farm prices to prevent a disastrous drop, the committee proposed a support program guaranteeing producers "60, 70 or 80 per cent of parity"; a supplemental payment during hard times to assure a certain percentage of pre-depression income and limits on the rate of decline for a specified commodity in a year.

PARIS:

Parley Gets Going

Settlement of the highly controversial rules procedures enabled the 21-nation Paris peace conference to get underway for consideration of vital issues concerning treaty drafts for Italy, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

Agreement to place all conference recommendations passed by a majority vote before the Big Four foreign ministers for their study in drawing up the final treaties represented a major victory for the Anglo-American bloc. Russia had held out for a two-thirds vote on the grounds that decisions should be as unanimous as possible and was supported by a Slavic bloc including Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, the Ukraine and Byelorussia.

While the Anglo-American and Russian blocs were at issue on the voting procedure they readily joined in a decision to open both committee and general assembly meetings to representatives of the defeated nations to place their views before the delegates. There also was agreement on excluding any of the Big Four from the chairmanship of any of the committees to preclude the imposition of their policies and to limit each country to one chairmanship.

DROUTH:

Strikes in Mid-West

Because of an atmospheric quirk, parts of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and almost all of Michigan have suffered from a severe drouth, with heavy rainfall needed to prevent major corn, pasture and truck crop failures.

As explained by the weather bureau, a low pressure trough exists in a north-south direction in the Great Plains states. Normally, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico would pass into this channel, to be distributed to the eastward. During the last six weeks, however, a strong northerly wind has been blowing in to block the moist air.

Outside of this area, there has been heavy rainfall, especially in the East, the Great Plains states and parts of Iowa and Illinois. To the east and west of the affected air trough, southerly winds are bearing moisture from the gulf.

Corn in the drouth area already has suffered a 10 to 20 per cent loss; seeding of clover and alfalfa in stubble has been retarded, and tomato blossoms are blasting and falling off vines.

CIO:

To Fight Prices

Remaining militant in its post-war program to aid the interests of more than five million members, the CIO announced an all-out drive on rising prices to prevent further depreciation of workers' dollar.

Revealing that it had given up plans for another big wage drive to win further increases to offset rising living costs, the union stated that demands for more money probably would result in still higher prices.

In forecasting additional price rises of 15 to 20 per cent during the next few months, the CIO said that the corresponding reduction in purchasing power of the consumer's dollar would represent a wage cut of 17 per cent. A successful consumer strike against higher prices would terminate current inflation within the next 18 months at the worst and three to six months at the best, it said.

UNRRA:

U. S. to Quit

Following close upon the blast of Senators Butler (Rep., Neb.) and Ellender (Dem., La.) against use of United Nations relief and rehabilitation funds abroad, Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton told the fifth UNRRA council meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, that the U. S. would not contribute additional funds to the agency.

While the senators had charged that UNRRA supplies were being used to bolster foreign governments, Clayton stated that the U. S. was withdrawing future assistance to the agency because the period of immediate postwar impoverishment was passing and the U. S. and other countries had supplied sufficient credit mediums for financing recovery.

No less than 30 billion dollars have been made available for loaning through such agencies as the international bank and monetary funds set up at Bretton Woods, Clayton said. Furthermore, prospective borrowers now can approach wealthier nations for advances if necessary, he added.

In all, the U. S. provided no less than 2 1/2 billion dollars of aid to UNRRA, sufficient for supplies to fill 2,000 cargo ships.

RURAL AREAS:

Efforts to cure the "ghost town blight" caused by migration to the city of rural talent and enterprise are being intensified in Montana by recently increased expenditures for rural redevelopment research according to the council of state governments.

World War II accelerated this rural depopulation trend. In Montana, where almost 20 per cent of the population has moved elsewhere since Pearl Harbor, the

OPA:

More Price Boosts

Reflecting the termination of subsidy payments amounting to $89,200,000 yearly, OPA boosted the price of No. 2 sized cans of peas and tomatoes two cents and corn and tomato paste one cent. The price of a 14-ounce bottle of catsup was upped one cent along with six-ounce cans of tomato paste.

At the same time, OPA followed its removal of price control from snap beans packed after March 1 by freeing frozen and canned snap beans processed before that date.

While congress had slashed the administration request for two billion dollars for subsidies by half in renewing OPA, the agency had decided to discontinue vegetable payments in July, it was reported. With the lapse of the old price control act in June, subsidies ended on the 1946 pack and later were stopped on the 1945 supply.

Study Meat Control

As the new super price control board undertook to determine whether meat should continue free of price control, packer bids on cattle and hogs dipped in the leading markets upon heavy receipts of low-cost beef and consumer resistance to rising pork prices.

Taking cognizance of department of agriculture charges that whole carloads of meat were spoiling on railroad sidings in the East because of a buyer's strike in protest against high prices, packers stated that present prices including former subsidies actually are lower than under OPA regulation.

Because of the large volume of tonnage available, some shipments may be arriving faster than distributors can handle them, it was said.

National Income Near Peak

With disbursements of private industry rising to an all-time high in June, income payments to individuals for the month were at a near record annual rate of $160,600,000,000, the department of commerce reported.

Included in income payments to individuals are wages and salaries, net return of unincorporated businesses, dividends and interest and net rents received by landlords.

Indicative of whirring post-war industrial activity, wage and salary payments for June were estimated at $8,701,000,000 and dividend and interest disbursements were put at $2,263,000,000.

HIGH SEA:

Seek Prize

A British steamship company stood to gain three million dollars and the Latvian captain and crew of one of its tugs another million if their claim to the abandoned 15,000-ton American Farmer cargo vessel is upheld. Boarding the deserted ship 600 miles off of England, the British crew later was forced to give it up to U. S. seamen.

Considered as a prize to anyone picking her up under maritime law, the American Farmer was spotted by RAF planes as she drifted aimlessly after being abandoned by her U. S. crew following a collision with the U. S. William Riddle. Valued at almost two million dollars herself, the American Farmer bore cargo estimated at an additional two and one-half million dollars.

The British tug located the American Farmer after several U. S. vessels had passed the ship up. Shortly after the tug captain had put a crew aboard and started to tow the huge prize in, the U. S. Ranger drew alongside and sent seamen to take possession of the craft.

HIDES:

Hit Hoarding

Led by Reconversion Director Steelman, the government moved to spur the lagging sale of hides and leather which was said to threaten an imminent shutdown in shoe production.

Declaring that the government would use every means for striking at hoarders who held back shipments in the hope of raising prices, Steelman revealed that the justice department would investigate rumors that distributors were withholding supplies to gain greater profits and OPA would check inventories so that it could order release of excess stocks.

Reaffirming OPA's determination not to grant further increases in prices of domestic hides and leather, Steelman declared that under OPA ceilings production of these items between V-J day and June 30, 1946, reached the highest level in history. With the temporary lapse in OPA, prices of hides skyrocketed an average of 50 per cent and approximately 900,000 were sold, he added.

ARMY:

In a move to assist in alleviating acute housing shortages in congested communities and at the same time provide greatly needed family living quarters for men now in military service, the war department is carrying on a program of converting existing barracks and other buildings into family units.

Contracts already have been let for converting army buildings into 4,746 family units located at 62 military installations.

GOP Leaders Intrigue Press With Election Prospects

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This weather—in Washington and elsewhere—develops more heat than light. That's a trite phrase, I know, but it's apropos because heat, rather than light, is always the keyword at this season, politically speaking. Congress accomplished its fade-out rather gracefully, I thought, even if they must have prayed for forgiveness for "the things we have left undone" as fervently as for the things they did which didn't sit too well with their consciences.

And now the voice of the vote-getter is heard in the land.

Radio and newspaper correspondents are being courted by both political parties. For example, recently, a crowd of radio folk was given a luncheon-table talk at the vote-getting machinery behind the Republican lines. Our hosts were Republican Chairman Carroll B. Reece at one end of the table, and Republican Campaign Manager Clarence Brown at the other. (A similar jaunt into Democratic territory will be reported in a future column.)

Reece Quiet, Popular Chief

Reece is a slight, greying, quiet-voiced man whose Tennessee accent reminds one occasionally of Claude Pepper in one of Claude's unromantic moments if you can catch him in one. (Personal confession: I like Pepper and Reece both and so do a lot of people who would be the first to say, "the views of these notables do not NECESSARILY agree with those of the undersigned.")

It is a little presumptuous of me to refer to Reece as "greying" because the year 1889 had to stretch itself from January to December to fill the time-gap between my birthday and his. He has taught in almost as many academic institutions as I have casually attended. He was a battalion commander in World War I whereas I never rose above the exalted station of shavetail, and among his five decorations are the Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Service Medal and the Purple Heart. He was cited for bravery by a marshal, three generals and a colonel.

Perhaps the same qualities which won Reece his decorations qualified him for his present job. He certainly doesn't lack assurance even if he doesn't rattle sabers in expressing it.

But we are not talking about Reece. We are talking about his job. He is out on the hustings, although his trip, which will take him as far west as Seattle and as far south as Georgia, is mildly camouflaged as a vacation. Anyhow Mrs. and Miss Reece are going along, and a part of the time will be spent at a resort in the Rockies.

Backstopping Reece here in the capital where nobody votes, but where a lot of writers and talkers remain, will be Clarence Brown, representative from the seventh district of Ohio, a state which might be called a latter-day mother of presidents and which right now is looking hopefully over the patterns of maternity gowns.

Brown and Reece complement each other very well. Reece is slight, dignified, soft-spoken. Brown is large, loud enough to be heard in the back row without using the PA system, and hail-fellow-well-met. As "campaign manager" he is going to sweat it out (that is literal) with the rest of the Washingtonians who don't vacate in the summer.

I have a fellow feeling for Representative Brown, tinged perhaps with the natural deference a reporter always has for a publisher. Brown publishes several country newspapers (that's the way he put it himself in the congressional directory) whereas I merely write for "several" besides this one. Also he has three more children than I have. He and I once met on the debating platform, and while I would naturally never admit that I didn't present the best argument, I will concede somewhat grudgingly that Brown's resounding oratory won him the most applause. We were debating selective service, and I hasten to explain that former Senator (now Supreme court justice) Burton and I had the unpopular side. Anyhow, Brown (may-the-best-man-win) won.

Reece and Brown didn't talk on-the-record at the luncheon but I have a good idea of how things looked to the Republicans at that congenial gathering of radio folk. If the elections were held as of that moment, they claimed, the Republicans would win a majority of seats in the house of representatives and would make very heavy inroads on the Democratic majority in the senate. Since then many of the primary battles have been fought and I'll report the reactions later.

Gallup Poll Heartens GOP

In the first place I understand that the Republicans took considerable satisfaction in the Gallup poll which showed that, excluding the one-party Democratic states, 48 per cent of the persons interviewed showed a Democratic preference and 54 per cent a Republican preference.

The GOP leaders believed they had a good, fighting chance to win 15 to 17 senatorial seats from their opponents. In New York, they say Governor Dewey's good record and the campaign he is planning ought to pull in a Republican senator (they won't say whom). They believe Democratic Senator Mead will have to run or the governorship.

They felt they had a chance in Delaware and West Virginia and that if the ballots were cast at that moment they would win in Missouri (I'm still talking about the senatorial race). They called Montana and Washington probabilities rather than mere possibilities.

Carroll B. Reece and Rep. Brown

O'Mahoney knows he has a fight, they say, and they believe the Republican candidate, John Henderson, has a chance against the popular gentleman from Wyoming.

I heard a lot of talk, too, about the interesting possibility in Connecticut where Repr. Clare Luce was expected to oppose former OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, which would be a colorful affair with all the technical skill of her publisher husband, and all the skill of an advertising man, Mr. Bowles, pitted against each other.

As to the house of representatives, Republican machinery has been grinding in at least 75 districts.

OP Kentuck

Bloody Battleground

Kentucky was catalogued as still a dark and bloody battleground. At the time of the luncheon, Representative May's followers seemed to feel, according to press reports, that he was a martyr. If something should come out to change their minds on that score, he might go down to defeat. And we are reminded that, as one Republican put it: "every 20 years or so Kentucky changes its mind."

Other debatable districts were listed in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and New York.

What the Republicans seem to count on most is the natural reaction, the "throw the rascals out" theory which Americans always have reverted to after so long a period of any party's incumbency. In addition, say the GOPundits, there are the usual mistakes of the party in power which result in the well known attitude of one of Clarence Brown's constituents who told him:

"I don't know who I'm FOR, but I know darned well who I'm AGAIN."

The Republicans think they have discovered a trend away from centralized government which may turn the voters against the administration and into Republican pastures.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

A NEW ATTITUDE TOWARD RUSSIA IS DEVELOPING

WASHINGTON. — Some failers have rhetorically rolled me over the barrel for reporting recently it does not make much difference whether or not we have treaties of peace co-operatively with Russia. They also objected to my story about the old politician whose activities worked out about the same for an enemy as for a friend. These whackers did not understand; they interpreted too generously a passing reference. For Russia is neither friend nor enemy. She is something which exists.

To date she has been co-operative with some ventures for a joint world peace, but generally she has been antagonistic. She cannot be converted to our way of life and peace, because she will accept peace only on her own basis. (See Brooks Atkinson in the New York Times, and many others as to why this is so. Atkinson concluded after a long and truly objective experience in reporting from Moscow that "The most we can hope for is an armed peace the next few years"). Treaties can amount to much, little—or nothing. I am reporting on genuine peace, which is what our people want.

New thought is developing inside here on this subject. As a result of our experiences in Paris and in the UNO, the thinkers of the administration are clearing their heads of their war propaganda that made Russia out to be something she was not, and are coming to a factual, truthful, realistic viewpoint sooner than the politicians of the administration.

WILL TRY TO IGNORE RUSSIA. Their refreshed minds are working along these following lines:

How do we get along peacefully in a world with a powerful antagonistic force? Well, how do you get along with an antagonistic neighbor? Some people fight him. Most people do not. To fight him is to waste the energies of both in conflict which may sap your strength and shorten your life even if you are victorious. Most people just ignore him. They plan their lives for their own purposes. If he wants to come in on some things which the community undertakes, let him come in, and give thanks to God that he sees some things right, at any rate. If he chooses to remain out or is obstructionist of your community purposes, leave him out. Go ahead and plan as you would, and can.

This reasoning is far more sensational than it may appear to you at first glance. It forecasts a whole about-face from the war propaganda, from the time when it was practically treasonous to doubt that Russia was not our friend, did not go to war to save the world for our kind of democracy, and did not believe in all our freedoms, the freedom of religion, the spirit and the press being most important. It projects a notion of us running beyond treaties to our own full understanding of the basis of them, to maintain our part of the victory in our part of the world, and hope that others come to it—in short, it would mean "an armed peace for the next few years."

Now all the politicians may not hasten to this banner. Mr. Truman pointed to the marker at Gettysburg which said: "Peace eternal in a nation united." He moved to amend "nation" to "world." So it should be—but it cannot be. It is idle to lead people to expect this in the face of what we have encountered in UNO and at Paris — and are getting daily from the Moscow press. Politicians may wave some treaties saying so.

The prime minister of Britain waved one such when he got out of his airplane from Munich and announced to the world it meant "Peace in our time" — just before Britain went to war, unprepared. Politicians may pretend the state of the world today is what they intended all along, and realism will have no objection, but if they pretend peace has been established in the face of facts which all the world knows, they are entering upon most dangerous ground. For such claims will lead inevitably to disarmament, and disarmament will lead to defeat. If you want the peace, you will have to keep it.

MUST MAINTAIN ARMAMENTS. Within this last realm of reality is plenty of room in which politicians may safely play without danger or damage, if they wish. But they must not play us into another Pearl Harbor. They must not cut armaments to a point of developing national drowsiness or inability to defend ourselves. They must not give atom bombs loosely, without justification, around the world. They must not scrap armies and navies as they did before. To have peace they must maintain it with constant vigilance.

The new street sprinkler is filling a long-felt want.
Cottage construction work has begun at Terrace Beach.

The postoffice building owned by L. C. Madison is being completed. James Dufore landed a 30 lb. muscalonge with a trawl line out of the head of the lake first of the week.

The old Catholic convent at Cross Village, built in 1855 by Fr. DeCamp was struck by lightning Saturday night and burned. Ten years ago its bells, crucifix, and other paraphernalia were moved to Joliet.

Owing to lack of cream and poor quality the East Jordan Creamery closes down today. Pasturage is poor this year and farmers are allowing their cattle to run at large. The result has been a much inferior grade of cream than that heretofore brought in.

August 4, 1906

The Semi-Weekly Boyne Citizen, Vol. 1, No. 1, was issued Tuesday by Bro. Wilson.

A unique electric "wink" sign is in Boosinger's store, advertising Born & Co.

Ray Clink is home from school at Ypsilanti State Normal. He will be Supt. at Fowler next year.

Frederick W. Bechtold has purchased the banking business of Sickles, Tiffany and Co., Bellaire, conducted as the Bank of Bellaire, and will at once organize a State Bank.

August 18, 1906

Nowadays our teachers usually attend a three-day Institute some time during the year but forty years ago it lasted three weeks. Fifty-four enrolled in the one that was held in Charlevoix which closed on August 3rd. About half of them were there the entire three weeks while the others attended from one to ten days. Only four names are mentioned in connection with it — Supt. and Mrs. Woodley, Miss Jessie M. Himes, and Miss Gail. Some of my readers will recall them if they were at the Institute.

From the Council Proceedings: A motion carried "that the matter of building a dock and slips for boat landing at the foot of Garfield St. be left in the hands of the street commissioner with power to act." A resolution was adopted "that the President and Clerk be authorized and directed to sign the bonds heretofore provided for, for the purpose of purchasing and maintaining a site (land) to be known as Recreation Park."

Gus Muma and bride arrive from Rose City the latter part of this week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Muna.

John Monroe erected two small docks last week on the South Arm of Pine Lake. One was for the new summer resort near Monroe Creek and the other side of Holy Island, the latter being constructed by a number of farmers of that locality.

The Lakeside Hotel changed hands this week, Mrs. M. A. McHale selling the property to Mrs. Esther Newson. (Continued on page six)

Rip Van Wrinkle wakes up to a bargain!

WHAT DAY IS IT? I mean, what year is it? My word, I've been asleep 20 years!

Yessir, I see lots of changes since 1926, but women's hats are as silly as ever! And the high cost of living makes me want to sleep another 20 years!

Gosh, look at all the new electrical gadgets! When I dozed off back in the Twenties, we had electric lights and an iron and a vacuum cleaner at our house! Now we've got a refrigerator, a couple of radios (my last one was a crystal set); clocks, toaster, washer — why, everything you touch has a switch on it!

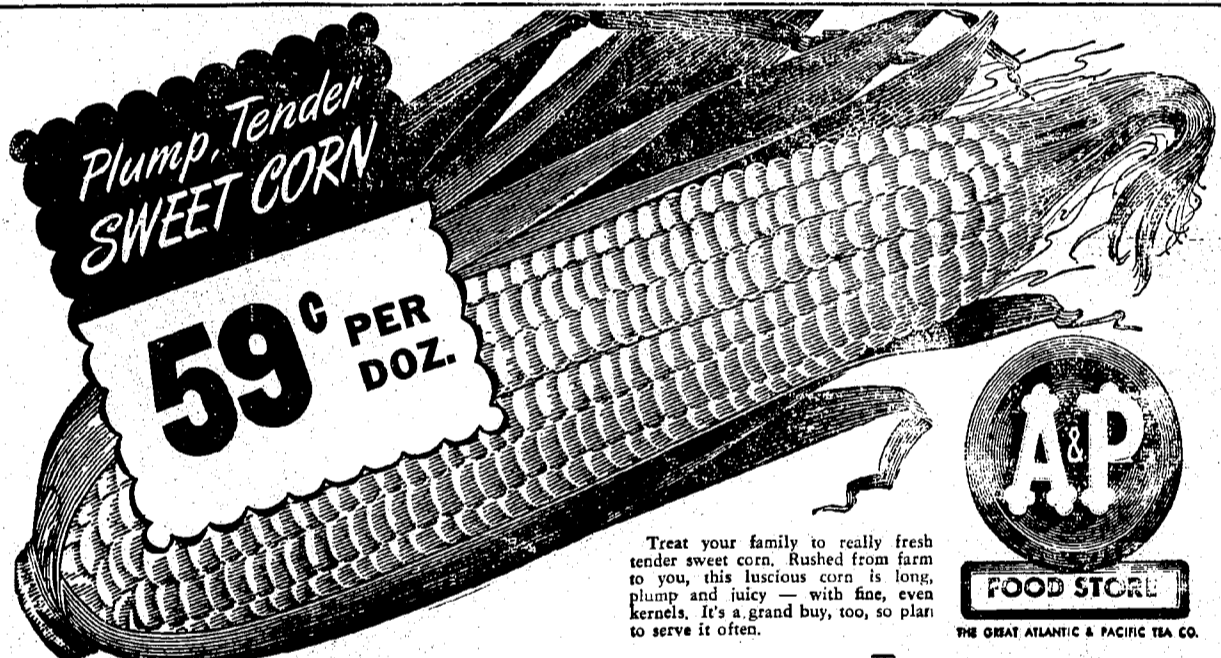

It's funny, too, with all those gadgets perking away, my electric bill isn't much more than it was 20 years ago, while everything else has gone up a lot!

(Yes, Rip Van Wrinkle, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 20 years ago. It took increased usage plus plenty of skill and planning — under sound business management — to make electricity the bargain it is right now!)

Enjoy "THE SUMMER ELECTRIC HOUR" with Anne Jamison, Bob Shanley, The Sportsman, and Robert Armstrong's Orchestra. Sundays, 4:30 P.M., EDST, CBS Network.

Looking Backward

Mrs. Newson will move from her present location, the Exchange, first of the week and conduct a first class hotel in the new location. She intends to rent the "Exchange," probably to Mrs. M. Hart.
"The friends of Mrs. McFarlane and her son, Robert, of Deward will be pleased to learn they will again be residents of East Jordan, their household effects having arrived today." (omitted from the June 30th issue.) "Miss Jennie McFarlane is about to embark in the old Heston house on Second St."
"A camping party consisting of the Misses Pearl and Ethel Crowell, Mina Hite, Lydia Cook, Myrtle Howard and Gladys Kenny pitched tents at Tooley's Landing Thursday and will camp there about a fortnight."
"Sandy Dean went trout fishing on Sunday. Now Mr. Dean is not a professional fisherman which probably explains why he brought home eight beauties, the largest weighing three pounds."

Mesdames J. L. Weisman and E. R. Price gave a farewell party Tuesday evening at the Weisman home for Mrs. Charles Lewandowsky who goes to Bear Lake to reside.
Mrs. C. Lewandowsky entertained her brother, James Newson and wife of Charlevoix the first of the week.

July 28, 1916
Newton Jones and family; Mrs. Isaac Bowen and family, and Miss Marjorie Bown left for Flint Thursday where they will make their future home.
Mrs. Loren Forst, aged 39, died at her home in Wilson township Sunday. During the heaviest electrical storm of the season lightning struck the tower of St. Joseph's church, just below the cross, Thursday morning. It also followed a phone wire into the James Gidley house, starting a fire in a closet.

August 4, 1916
Mrs. Dooley, sister of Mrs. C. Walsh and mother of Mrs. John Heferan (nee Maggie Dooley) who taught for many years in our public schools, died in Leetsville Sunday morning. The remains were taken to Grand Rapids for burial.
Ezra P. Hubbard, aged about 75, former East Jordan business man, died at his home in Montague July 23rd.

August 11, 1916
Aside from the items telling of who visited where, I find only this: "The popcorn and peanut stand owned by Carl Heinzelman was this week sold to A. W. Clark, manger of our telephone system."

August 18, 1916
Mrs. Alice D. Gould, aged 65, of Jordan township died at Petoskey last Sunday.

July 30, 1926
Donald Hawkins, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hawkins, former East Jordan residents and a nephew of Will E. Hawkins, died of a heart attack while in swimming at Traverse City Thursday evening.
Ragnar Torval Pederson, aged 53, South Arm township farmer, died in Ann Arbor Thursday, July 22nd.
Tomas R. Joynt, aged 57, died at his home July 26th.

From the Peninsula items: "A cloudburst and wind and thunderstorm struck this section Wednesday morning at 5:30 but no damage is reported, as the telephones were already out of commission."

August 6, 1926
Miss Louise Brennan and Roy H. Davis were married at St. Joseph's Rectory Tuesday afternoon, August 3rd.
Mr. and Mrs. Erle Farmer and the latter's father, Nelson Sherwood, left last Friday for Oregon by auto, where they plan to make their home. Mr. Farmer has been an employe of the E. J. & S. R. R. for the last 26 years.
Jacob Quick, aged 76, died at the home of his son, Archie, August 6th.
Allen Hildreth, little son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Seiler, died at the home Monday, following an illness from measles. He was nearly three years old.
Miss Eleanor McBride and Kit Carson were married at the Presbyterian Manse in Boyne City August 2nd.

Miss Sophia Olson and Ralph Walker were married at Hamtramck June 29th.

August 13, 1929
At a double wedding in the Presbyterian Manse in LaPorte, Indiana August 7th Miss Fern Flannery and James M. Sloan, and Miss Mable Maddock and Ingwald Olson were united in marriage.
Sandy Dean landed a 3 3/4 pound speckled trout while fishing on the Jordan Sunday.
Photographer and Mrs. C. J. Nelson have closed their studio here and left Friday for their location at Howell.

August 20, 1926
Alexander Hosler, aged 76, Echo township farmer, died in Lockwood hospital, Petoskey, August 10th. He was born in New York and took up a homestead in Charlevoix county the spring of 1869.
Basil C. Cummins and Miss Beulah A. Swift were married in St. Petersburg, Florida August 4th to provide a job for this young lady!

IT TOOK
$13,000

You may never have thought about it this way, but for each Michigan Bell employee there is $13,000 worth of telephone buildings and equipment.

Where did the money for this telephone "plant" come from?

It came from the sale of Bell System securities to folks who had savings to invest. And, naturally, they want — and are entitled to — a fair return from their investment.

That return must come out of Bell System earnings — the money left after paying wages, taxes, and other operating expenses. But, if earnings are insufficient, investors will not put more money into the telephone business, and Michigan Bell would not be able to expand and improve your service.

Since earnings depend so largely on telephone rates it's important to remember this:

Our "cost of living", like yours, has been rising rapidly. If it continues to go up, rate increases may become necessary to insure adequate earnings. In any event, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher — and no lower — than necessary to operate the business efficiently . . . pay good wages . . . give a fair return to investors and, thereby, protect the future quality of the service we give you.

WNU RELEASE

THE STORY THUS FAR: Amos, Annie's husband, revealed that when he was coming home late at night he saw a ghostly figure in a graveyard. Also, Amos revealed that he had seen Meg with Tom Fallon that night. Laurence called the aid of Bob Reynolds, a detective, and they set to work to solve the mystery of Alicia's murder. After careful checking, they were inclined to believe Amos' story. Jim MacTavish came in as Larry, Reynolds and Megan were ready to eat. He was tired, his shoulders drooping. Reynolds announced abruptly that it was an open and shut case, and Jim almost dropped the carving knife. Later Meg tells Larry that she and Tom had met accidentally.

CHAPTER XIII

"Not as to the identity, no," admitted Bob. "But I'm convinced that it was some prowler—a would-be burglar who was frightened off before he had a chance to steal anything. Though, of course, it's not usual for a burglar to be supplied with a knife as a weapon—I don't believe he brought the weapon with him. I believe that he used one of the victim's own knives—a large kitchen knife." He broke off, scarlet and embarrassed as he saw Megan's white, twisted face. He apologized hastily, "Good grief, Miss MacTavish—I ought to be kicked! Please forgive me—I'm thoroughly ashamed—Larry, you ought to have better sense than to allow me out with your friends. I'm sorry, Miss MacTavish—I do apologize."

Megan managed a faint smile and said huskily, "Please don't—I am a bit squeamish, I suppose. You see—I knew her well—"

Bob nodded soberly. "I know—everybody says you are the only real friend she had. Everybody else seemed to dislike her and distrust her. I guess that's the reason I was speaking so frankly. Let's forget it. After all, a meal like this deserves more cheerful and appreciative table conversation!"

When the meal was over, and the men were settled in the living room, Megan stayed to help Annie clear the table. And while she was thus engaged, Laurence came back into the dining room, and stood at her shoulder and said very low, "I just wanted you to know, Meggie, that—everything is quite all right. There's nothing at all for you to worry about."

Megan looked up at him, tears thick in her eyes, her mouth tremulous, "I—met him by accident, Larry. I didn't plan it—truly."

He looked down at her, frowning. "But—good heavens, Meggie, don't you suppose I know that?" he protested, almost as though he resented her feeling that she should offer such an explanation.

She caught her breath and a wave of relief swept over her. She smiled through her tears and said huskily, "Thanks, Larry."

"For what?" The frown still drew his eyebrows together. "For knowing that you couldn't possibly do anything wrong? For knowing that you couldn't make, or keep a tryst with a man tied up as Fallon is? For Heaven's sake, Meggie—I've known you since you were a baby—don't you suppose I know you well enough to know that if you met Tom Fallon on the Ridge at midnight, it was an accidental meeting?"

Laurence hesitated a moment and then he said quietly, "I'd like to ask you something, Meggie—mind?"

"No, of course not."

"Then—are you in love with Fallon?"

The words were quietly spoken, but they took her breath so that she could only look up at him, unable to speak. But the way the color flowed into her face, the look in her eyes gave him all the answer he needed.

"So that's why you—couldn't get excited about marrying me," he said after a moment, very quietly.

She set her teeth hard in her lower lip, not daring to trust her voice to answer him, and after a little he said in a tone of the greatest gentleness, "Poor little Meggie! Always doing things the hard way!"

By now she had steadied her voice, and she faced him straightly. "If—you'll—j-j-just give me a little time, Larry—" she managed.

His brows were drawn deep now in a frown and his look was puzzled. "A little time, Meggie?" he repeated. "For what?"

"To pull myself together and get over this—this—craziness about Tom," she said. "Because I will, you know. I'll—I'll get over it and—maybe if you haven't got disgusted with me before that—"

"Oh, I'll be around, Meggie. Is that what you mean?" asked Larry, and now there was a grimace in his voice, a coldness in his eyes that chilled her a little. "You are the only girl for me. You've always been. I'm a slow and plodding cuss, but once I get my mind—and my heart—made up, I hold on. Like the good old swan that gets a grip and swings on until you have to kill him to make him let go. But what makes you so sure that you can get over what you feel for Fallon?"

"Because I'm going to!" she told him with determination. He turned away from her then as Bob called to him from the hall, and a little later they were gone. Megan and her father sat in the living room for a little in silence after they had gone. It was Jim who finally broke the silence.

"Did you know that she—was married?" he asked heavily.

"Yes," Megan nodded. "Laurence told me."

Jim's face twisted. "What a laugh she must have got out of me—wanting to marry her. And she told me she would—she never for a moment even hinted that she was not a widow!"

Megan waited, knowing a little of the release that would come to him if he could rid his mind of these revelations.

"It began, at first, as a sort of—well, joke," he admitted. "It seemed to amuse her to give the Pleasant Grove folks something to talk about. I was lonely, and I suppose she got a kick out of making a fool of me—"

He broke off and passed a hand across his eyes and looked straight at Megan. "But I didn't kill her," he finished quietly, with a simple

"Don't kid yourself, my dear—we haven't seen the last of this! Nor heard it, either," he corrected her swiftly. "Had you realized that if Amos was on the Ridge that night, as he must have been to tell Larry the story he did, the chances are excellent that he saw you—as well as the eight-foot-tall ghost?"

Megan nodded, her face white but her outward composure commendable. "I know that he did, Dad," she said quietly. "He told Larry."

Her father's body jerked like a marionette on a string manipulated by an inexpert puppeteer. "Told Larry—that you were on the Ridge with Fallon?" he repeated sharply.

Megan nodded. "For a moment Jim was very still, like a man suddenly paralyzed. And then very carefully he asked, 'Did you tell that fellow Reynolds?'"

Megan shook her head, her hands cold in her lap. "He—didn't seem to think it was necessary," she managed the words with difficulty. "He seemed to think that the fact that I was there gave me an alibi. If I was there at that time, I couldn't possibly have been across the road—even if I had had a motive."

Her father nodded. "Which, of course, means that Larry doesn't know I intended to try to marry her and bring her here," he finished the thought for her. Then he smiled, a mirthless smile that made him look suddenly very old and very tired. "Now if only somebody had seen me going for my walk—"

"Perhaps somebody did," said Megan eagerly.

He shook his head. "I saw no one—after I left Alicia," he said quietly and distinctly.

She stiffened a little and her eyes were wide. "You—saw her—that night?" she whispered, her lips pallid.

"At eleven-thirty," said Jim and heaved a sigh as he ran his fingers through his magnificent crop of silvery-gray hair. "The way I figure it, she couldn't have been alone, after I left her, more than ten or fifteen minutes."

His fingers trembled a little as he filled his handsome pipe and tamped the tobacco carefully into the mellow bowl, but his eyes did not leave Megan's white, frightened face.

"We quarreled," said Jim quietly, distinctly, "when she admitted that she had not the slightest idea of marrying me. She called me a pompous old fool, and a no-count stuffed shirt and a lot of equally uncomplimentary things. But I did not kill her, Megan, I swear it."

Suddenly Megan was on her knees beside him, her arms close about him, her cheek hard against his, all the ugliness and the animosity that had colored their relations for years wiped out between them in this moment when she ached with pity for him, and when for the first time in her adult life she had begun to have some glimmering of understanding him.

"Of course you didn't, dear—no one could believe for a moment that you did," she told him, her voice shaken with emotion.

Jim put his arm about her and seemed to welcome her nearness, the sheer creature comfort of her warm presence and her sympathy.

"Thank you, my dear—but I'm afraid a great many people could be persuaded to believe that I did," he pointed out to her at last. "The circumstantial evidence against me is pretty strong. We did quarrel. Undoubtedly I am the last person—save one!—to see her alive. And when I left her, in a fury of injured pride and bruised self-esteem, I went for a long walk alone, and saw no one. I returned home here well after one o'clock—by which time she had been dead, according to the doctor, for at least an hour. So you see—"

"But you didn't—you couldn't—have done it, Dad! Nobody could ever make me believe you did!" she comforted him, as though he had been the child, she the parent.

It was long before she slept that night, but in spite of the unpleasant turmoil and excitement of the last forty-eight hours, she was more at peace than she had been in a long time. She could begin to understand her father a little; and to understand it was to forgive.

She was conscious only of the fact that she and her father might hope to live together now with less friction, less animosity than before. And the thought had healing and comfort in it. She was able to fall asleep at last, emotionally and physically exhausted, and when she awoke in the morning, she felt stronger and more refreshed than in many months, in spite of the horror of the last twenty-four hours, and in spite of knowing that the next few days were going to be far from pleasant.

She had finished her morning chores, and was busy with a seed catalog and an order blank when Laurence arrived.

Annie, big-eyed with excitement, showed him into the small den where Megan worked, and hovered anxiously. "It's all right, Annie—we found something that proves that Amos was telling us the truth—that is, that he did see something at the old burying ground that night," said Laurence quickly.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for August 25

JESUS AND PURE LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:14; Proverbs 4:14-23; Matthew 5:3; Philippians 4:8. MEMORY SELECTION—Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.—Proverbs 4:23.

Moral corruption has been the ruin of the great nations of the earth, and if history is not to be repeated by the fall of our own nation, we must do something—yes, something prompt and drastic. The breakdown of morals in our land is so evident and so widespread as to give grave concern to social and national leaders. What then, is the Church doing about it?

We do not like to talk about adultery and related sins. We must speak with care and tact, but perhaps the time has come for some straightforward dealing with an unpleasant situation.

I. Keep Your Home Pure (Exod. 20:14).

As the divinely appointed center of man's life, the home holds a place of such importance that it is the special target of Satan's offense. That has always been true, but it seems that in recent years the onslaught against the home has been intensified.

Any violation of the divine plan for the marriage of one man and one woman in loving communion for the founding and maintenance of the home, is a direct violation of the law of God.

It is also a violation of the law of man. It brings serious results in the destruction of the home, and in the ruin of individual life—physical, moral and spiritual.

This awful sin (and do not let a wicked world convince you that it is anything else) is back of much of the discord and divorce in our American homes.

When we realize that in the City of Chicago there is now one divorce for every three marriages, and that the ratio is rapidly becoming lower, there can be no question that divorce is a major evil in our day. Statistics are, positively shocking, but they are cold and quickly forgotten. But who can fail to see, and who can forget, the awful woe brought into American home life by divorce.

Bad as it is, the awful effect on parents is nothing compared to the nervous, moral and spiritual shock which comes to children in broken homes. Statistics reveal that now (1946) more than 70 per cent of the juvenile delinquents and young people committed to prison come from homes where divorce has entered to break down and destroy family life.

II. Keep Your Heart Pure (Prov. 4:14-23; Matt. 5:8).

Out of the heart are the issues of life (Prov. 4:23); hence it is of the utmost importance that it be kept in purity and devotion to God.

The heart in Scripture does not refer to the physical organ which circulates the blood, but even as that heart is the center of the physical life, so there is a spiritual heart which is the very center of man's inner being.

Evil thoughts, unholy desires and ambitions hidden in the heart will ultimately be revealed in overt acts of ungodliness, unless God is permitted to regenerate that heart and make it clean.

The solution for the problem of impurity is found in our lesson verses. First of all one must avoid the way of the wicked (Prov. 4:14-17). They are so evil that they cannot sleep until they have misled some poor souls and brought them down to their own level (v. 16). They make sin and immorality look mysterious and attractive. Don't be led into sin by the enticement of curiosity.

Shun the evil way, which goes down with increasing darkness, by seeking the good way which "shineth more and more unto the perfect day" (Prov. 4:18, 19). The way of life is a bright and shining way. Don't let Satan fool you, young people, into thinking the opposite. It's great to be a Christian!

III. Keep Your Head Pure (Phil. 4:8).

The mind of man is quick and active (that is, if he is really alive and awake), and it wants to be occupied with something of interest. The world, the flesh and the devil are keenly aware of that fact and come to fill his mind with allurements to sin and destruction.

Thank God that no one need lack for things that are good, honorable, true and noble to fill and satisfy every mental as well as spiritual interest. God's provision is not limited either in scope or variety. He provides the best, the most delightful, the loveliest and most noble.

Observe that it is for us who know Christ as our Saviour to give ourselves in diligent effort to "think on these things." As we do we shall find that they crowd out our thinking those things which are sensual, selfish or sinful. It is a sound principle of psychology as well as a spiritual admonition. It really works.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Bread Makes the Pudding!

(See Recipes Below)

Don't Waste Bread!

Most of us don't think it matters one way or the other whether we throw away a stale slice of bread, but, if each family were to save a slice of bread every day, the amount would feed many millions of hungry families who are less fortunate.

Small families, particularly find that the average loaf of bread dries rather quickly, and there are several slices within the week that are regarded as unfit for sandwiches. But there are literally thousands of uses for such bread.

Why not start on a personal campaign of your own just to see how much you can save by using every scrap of bread well? Spread the word to your friends and neighbors, and let's see if we can't really save food, which is the equivalent of putting dollars and cents in your pocketbook?

Here are ways to use those leftover pieces of bread with meats and vegetables. They stretch these other foods as well as make the dish more savory, which will be of interest to the palate as well as the purse.

Tangy Cheese Dish.

(Serves 8)

5 cups toasted 1/4-inch bread cubes
1/2 pound American cheese, grated
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 1/2 cups milk

Alternate layers of cheese and toast cubes in a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Combine beaten eggs, salt, paprika, mustard and milk. Pour liquid mixture over bread and cheese in casserole. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 35 minutes.

Meat Souffle.

(Serves 6)

2 cups ground cooked meat
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
3 cups bread cubes
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Combine meat, salt, pepper and beaten egg yolks. Melt shortening in a small skillet, add onion and cook five minutes. Pour scalded milk over bread cubes. Combine meat mixture with bread and milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Baked Tomato Surprise.

(Serves 8)

2 3-ounce packages of cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk

LYNN SAYS:

The Know-How of Bed Care: Beds should be cleaned on the day that you give a thorough cleaning to the bedroom. Remove all blankets, sheets and pillows to a chair. Draw the mattress off the bed so that the frame may be dusted thoroughly.

Box springs may be cleaned with a vacuum cleaner, and dust may also be gathered from wire springs with the vacuum. Wire springs may also be wiped with a clean, lintless cloth that has a few drops of lemon oil sprinkled on it.

The mattress should be gone over thoroughly with a vacuum cleaner on both sides. This, of course, may be done on the bed or chair.

Change the mattress pad frequently, and fit the sheets carefully at the corners, tucking them well underneath the mattress when you make the bed.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENUS

- Salmon Salad
- Potato Chips
- Tomato Surprise
- Watercress Salad
- Bran Muffins
- Beverage
- Blueberry Cobbler
- Cream

*Recipe given.

- 1 teaspoon garlic salt, if desired
- 2 teaspoons celery salt
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 4 eggs, beaten slightly
- 2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 8 medium tomatoes

Combine cream cheese, milk and seasoning. Add salt to slightly beaten eggs. Place dry bread crumbs on pie plate. Slice each tomato crosswise into fourths. Place one tablespoon of the cheese mixture on half of the slices. Top each with the other tomato slices. Place toothpick into middle of each "sandwich" to hold tomato slices together. Roll the tomato slices in the bread crumbs, dip in beaten egg and roll again in bread crumbs. Bake on a well-greased cookie sheet in a hot (400 degree) oven for 20 minutes.

Bread Griddle Cakes.

(Makes 14 cakes)

- 2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup finely grated apple

Soak dry bread crumbs in milk to soften. Add salt, cinnamon and soda to bread crumb mixture. Blend thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and apple; mix well. Drop by tablespoon onto a hot greased griddle. Turn over and brown on both sides. Serve with syrup, honey or apple sauce.

Now that so many fresh fruits are in season, you'll certainly want to make good use of them. Fruits combine well with bread crumbs and give a nourishing finale to the lighter meals we are accustomed to eating in warmer weather. Here's a lovely dessert dressed up to fit a queen's table.

Baked Fresh Peach Macaroon.

(Makes 6)

- 6 medium fresh peaches
- 1 egg white, stiffly beaten
- 1/4 cup white corn syrup
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 cups coarse dry bread crumbs

Dip peaches in hot water to remove skin. Slowly combine beaten egg white and corn syrup, beating until blended. Add sifted brown sugar and bread crumbs. Cover peach with macaroon mixture. Place on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 25 minutes.

Danish Apple Cake.

(Serves 8)

- 1 quart applesauce
- 2 cups toasted bread crumbs
- 3 egg yolks, beaten
- 1/2 cup melted butter or substitute
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 cup sugar

Combine applesauce, toasted bread crumbs, beaten egg yolks, butter, cinnamon and sugar. Bake in a greased two quart casserole in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Remove from oven. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar gradually continuing to beat until mixture stands in peaks. Add vanilla. Top apple cake with meringue and return to oven for 15 minutes or until meringue browns.

It's a duty to see that no fat goes to waste. Here are quick tips: Every bit of fat left from cooking may be saved and used again unless it has scorched or is too strong in flavor.

Keep any fat from scorching and smoking. For once a fat reaches the smoking point, it gets rancid and it doesn't taste good.
