East Jordan Defeats Grayling

LAST FRIDAY BY A SCORE OF 21 TO 0. OUR BOYS SHOW GOOD FORM

Fighting a winning battle right from the start last Friday, the East Jordan Eleven defeated Grayling to put us into 3rd place in Conference standing. The final score of the game was East Jordan 21, Grayling 0.

Grayling kicked off to East Jordan in the first quarter to start the game going, but no real gain was made by either team during this quarter. Although most of the playing was done in Grayling's territory, Grayling was able to hold the boys until the quarter ended.

The local boys Touchdown drive started in the second quarter and didn't stop until the ball was taken over by Weisler and the extra point made by Ayres. No gain was made on the next few plays before the half ended with East Jordan leading 7-0.

Grayling took the ball in the third quarter and managed to get a first down when the East Jordan boys were penalized 15 yards. This was the closest Grayling got to scoring in the whole game as the local boys held them away from the goal line. East Jordan and Grayling both handled the ball again before the quarter ended.

Starting off in the 4th quarter Grayling kicked to East Jordan and the boys started down the field, picking up plenty of yardage on the way. They made three first downs before Weisler again took the ball over and Lord made the extra point. The score then stood 14-0, with the Red and Black out in front.

But the 4th quarter wasn't over yet. Robinson kicked to Grayling and the local boys held them down in their own territory until we took over the ball on their 45 yard line. Picking up one first down and several yards in the next few plays Ayres then made end run and took the ball over for the last touchdown of the game. The extra point was made by Lord and soon after the game ended.

The Jordan boys played one of the finest games of football they have played this year keeping the crowd on its toes every minute of the game watching for the next play.

This Saturday the Jordan Eleven will play their last game. They will meet Boyne City on our home field at 3:00 o'clock and a great battle is expected. As this is our annual Homecoming Week-end, a snake dance has been planned for Friday night and a Homecoming Dance on Saturday night at the High School Gym. Let's have a good crowd out to all these activities and especially at the game Saturday when the boys really need your support!!

THE SCHOOL BELL

Seated around a campfire last Tuesday evening, about forty-five Seniors and teachers enjoyed one of the finest outdoor parties ever held. After stuffing themselves with wieners and other food bits, everyone participated in singing old and new songs until the party broke up and all went home tired but happy.

The party turned out to be something of a celebration when the group learned that it was Mrs. Larsen's birthday.

Rumor has it that big things are being planned for the Hallowe'en party at school this Thursday evening. Everyone has been requested to masquerade, which ought to prove plenty of fun.

Last Friday night the gym was packed when students came to the second dance of the year. A good time was had by all, especially after Mr. Hall got a game of tag going and everyone was dancing with a different partner. This Saturday night will be our annual homecoming dance from 8:00 to 12:00 p. m. It is hoped that it will be one of the best dances this year. Admission 30c per couple, 20c single.

Our Homecoming week-end this year will consist of the snake dance on Friday night, followed by the big football game with Boyne City on Saturday afternoon and the Homecoming dance on Saturday night. Your support at these functions would be well appreciated. Come and have the time of your life!

A special attraction to come off in the following week is the Sadie Hawkins Dance to be held on Friday Night, November 8, from 8:00 to 12:00 p. m. Admission for this dance will be determined by the number of inches around your date's waist. This is to be strictly GIRLS PAY!

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to take this opportunity in thanking those who sent flowers, candy, cards, books and toys to Connie Lou while in the hospital. Also to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Darbee and the employees of Eveline Orchards.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bennett and Connie Lou.

Draft Board Will Change Office Hours

Effective November 3, 1946, the Charlevoix County Local Draft Board, Charlevoix, Michigan, will be placed on part-time operation. They will be open for business from 8:00 A. M. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M., Monday and Tuesday of each week, until further notice.

BOWLING

Howard McCullough manager of the Brunswick Balke Colender Co., Detroit Branch, and originator of the famed Captain Sponsors Tournament as well as Herb Mertens, President of the Detroit Bowling Association were visitors at the Recreation during the past week.

Saturday, November 2nd, the Recreation Men's Team will be host to Rollie Clapps 5 over 50 Team from Royal Oak, Mich. Every member of the visiting is over 50 years of age, and carry an average of around 180 each. Prior to the match East Jordan's youngest bowler will bowl a game against the oldest member of the visiting team. The match is scheduled for 8:00 p. m.

Norm's Tavern	8	24

Auto Owners suffer first loss of season when Cal's Tavern take all four points with Chris Taylor leading the winners with a 210 game in 590, which was high series for the night.

Bader's Standard Service also scored a slam over Norm's Tavern with Bader and Harper scoring 223 and 208 games.

The Bank team scored an easy 3 point win over Sinclair Sales after losing the first game. Bob Campbell shooting 220 for the winners.

Both the Post Office and Ellsworth Electric scored a three-point upset over the Canning Co. and Clark's Homewreckers respectively. The Canning Co. winning their only point when Bill Taylor gave the boys a thrill having 40 points in the 2nd frame and 7 big strikes in a row only to draw the impossible 8-10 split on a perfect pocket hit. Bill finished up with 244. In the same match Walt Davis of the Post Office rolled the highest game of his career, knocking the maples around for a big 223.

The Recreation and St. Joseph's split their match when Ray Dubas fired a 203 game followed by a 219 for Rev. Malinowski, swamped the Recreation in the last game after the Recreation team had won the first two games.

The Recreation Ladies team scored a shut out over Cal's Tavern Ladies to move into a tie for first place with the State Bank, as the Bank ladies took a three point win from St. Joseph's ladies and the Creamery girls also took three points from Andy's.

High scores for the night were bowled by Mildred Campbell who had a 201 game in 500 series. Judy Desjardins also rolled a 200 game and Helen Dubas, a 109 average bowler from the Creamery Team, rolled 189. Mary Lou Brakey bowled 182 to help the Recreation team take the last game by a scant two pins.

Dr. Helen A. Langell Honored at Traverse City Meeting, Sept. 24

Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Kappa held its luncheon and meeting at the Park Place Hotel in Traverse City in conjunction with the State Optometric Convention, on September 24, 1946, at 12:30 p. m.

After the luncheon a business session was held at which five new applications to membership were read, one of which was Dr. H. A. Langell of East Jordan.

In a short talk by Dr. P. Scholler, he told of the beginning and growth of the BSK also of the recognition derived from being the first organization to donate, as a body, their eyes to the eye bank. The BSK has also donated $25,000 to the Brochure Fund of the AOA.

At the termination of the talk, Dr. Scholler presented to Dr. H. A. Langell a badge from the first State Convention held in Michigan as she was a member of the first class to take the State Board examination.

Amendment To Correct Oversight

PROPOSAL ONE AFFECTS AVIATION IN MICHIGAN

The future progress of the State of Michigan in the field of aviation will be decided upon the polls this Fall, on November 5th, when the citizens vote on the Constitutional Amendment Proposal Number One.

This Amendment Proposal No. One will correct the "flaw in the law" which was revealed last Spring. Proposal No. One deals with that section of the State Constitution concerning state participation in works of internal improvement. In 1945, this same section of the constitution was amended to permit the State to engage in works of internal improvements, including public roads. However, at that time, the Legislators overlooked including airports and harbors of refuge in the Amendment.

Upon realizing the oversight, the Legislators, during the Spring Special Session, passed a Joint Resolution to put on the ballot for the November election this Proposal No. One which will correct the omission and thus include airports just as highways as works of internal improvement in which the State is authorized to participate. Thus, this Proposal is to bring the Constitution up to date on changing functions of government.

For nearly twenty years, the Department of Aeronautics has been assisting local communities in planning, ports and other aeronautical facilities throughout the State of Michigan. However, the Attorney General ruled last Spring that this participation was unconstitutional since it was not specifically stated in the Constitution that the State was permitted to do this. The Department of Aeronautics has been operating on the so-called "Aeronautics Fund" which industry, which has been paying is derived entirely from the aviation into this fund all these years a 3 percent tax per gallon on aviation gasoline. Also, airport managers and aircraft owners pay a licensing and registration fee which also contributes to this fund. This entire fund is now being held in escrow as a result of the Attorney General's decision. The $1,000,000 which the State Legislature appropriated to be used for matching Federal funds is also being held.

Unless Proposal No. One is passed by voters in November, these aeronautics funds can no longer be used for airports. Neither can political subdivisions of the State use public funds for construction, improving or maintaining airports because no political subdivision of the State may engage in any activity which the State is prohibited by law itself from participating. Should Proposal No. One fail to pass at the polls this Fall, not only will the State of Michigan be in a very embarrassing position, but all of its cities, villages, counties and townships will be in a like spot.

Singspiration Service At LDS Church Next Sunday Evening

Singspiration Services, which have been discontinued during the summer months, will be resumed next Sunday evening, Nov. 3rd at 8:00 o'clock—this time at the LDS church.

These services, "giving a song unto the Lord", were quite popular the past season.

Former E. J. H. S. English Instructor at Michigan College of Mines

Kenneth Heafield is one of more than 25 administrative officers and faculty members at the Sault Ste. Marie Residence Center of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Instruction begins at the Center Nov. 1. The 73-acre site was formerly Fort Brady, established by the U. S. Army in 1822. This term it will accommodate about 300 of Michigan Tech's 1900 students. Most of the Sault group, all freshmen, are veterans.

Mr. Heafield was an English instructor at the East Jordan high school from 1936-38 and subsequently principal of the junior high school. He is an instructor in English at MCMT's Sault Center.

"Pop, did Edison invent the first talking machine?"

"No, son. God made the first one. All Edison did was invent one that you could shut off."

Jr. Red Cross Opens Drive

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN JUNIOR RED CROSS ENROLLMENT DRIVE FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1

Enrollment in the Charlevoix County Red Cross Chapter under the Junior unit of membership will begin in the Boyne City school November 1 in a campaign that concludes November 15 according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Helen Rothenberger, Junior Red Cross chairman for Charlevoix County.

Conducted on a county-wide basis, the enrollment will be officially opened when Junior Red Cross members begin to sign up their fellow students in membership units. The regular fee of 50 cents for enrollment of each classroom in elementary schools and $1 for a group of 100 or less in secondary schools will prevail, the chairman said. Mrs. Rothenberger pointed out that members usually earn their enrollment fees and that no individual fee is ever required, nor is any person excluded because he is unable to contribute toward group enrollment. All funds over and above enrollment fees go into a Junior Red Cross service fund, the chairman said, a fund used exclusively to finance local, national, and international Junior Red Cross programs and in no way connected with disbursements of the parent organization locally or nationally.

The chairman pointed out that Junior Red Cross members, through the National Children's Fund, have contributed to the health of children abroad and, in addition to the $200, contributed locally to the fund last year. Junior Red Cross members in Charlevoix County also packed 300 gift boxes filled with educational health supplies for children overseas.

"One hundred per cent enrollment in all of Charlevoix County's schools is our aim," Mrs. Rothenberger said. "Children in our schools, realizing the accomplishments of the Junior Red Cross in the past, will be eager to align themselves with the organization and help the American Red Cross in the schools can magnify its already impressive record."

Stockholders Receive Notice

GAYLORD PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION MEET NEXT MONDAY

Official notices have been mailed to the 750 farmer members of the Gaylord Production Credit Association announcing the annual stockholders' meeting to be held at Gaylord on Monday, November 4th. The meeting will be held in the St. Mary's Church basement.

A feature of the meeting will be the report of the board of directors by Arnold W. Ostrander of Afton. Mr. Ostrander will discuss policies of the association, its progress and the plans for the future.

The Secretary-Treasurer's report will sum up the year's financial progress on the volume of business done, increase in farmer membership and investment and growth in capital and reserves. It will reveal the best in the 12 years of association history.

A main business feature of the meeting will be the election of two directors. Directors whose terms expire at this meeting are Arnold W. Ostrander of Afton and Charles Shepard of Boyne City.

The meeting will be called to order promptly at 11:00 A. M., recessing at noon for a free lunch. The program is to be resumed at one o'clock with adjournment scheduled for 3:30 P. M. In addition to the educational features of the program, there will be drawing for prizes and some entertainment.

White this is a meeting of the stockholders of the association, they will welcome anyone interested in farm credit and leaders of agricultural organizations.

Special Meetings

Beginning Sunday, November 3, at the Full Gospel Church to continue for two weeks with Evangelist Estelita Maffet of Big Prairie, Ohio, as the speaker.

All evening meetings begin at 8 p. m. with Monday and Saturday of each week being open dates. Mrs. Maffet will also be speaking Sunday morning at 11 a. m.

Mrs. Maffet is one of considerable experience in evangelistic work and we count it a privilege to have her in East Jordan.

Farm Topics

WINTER DAIRY PROGRAM

It's good, sound business to prepare your cows for freshening with a good feeding program. Money spent on feed for a milk cow during her six-week to two-month dry period before freshening will return milk production in months ahead that will pay the costs many times.

Fall and winter freshening cows show good production records throughout the year. The best time to guarantee a good production record for the year is during the six-week to two-month vacation time the cow has before freshening.

Feeding of liberal amounts of bright high quality roughage and from 6 to 10 pounds of grain daily is recommended. It permits the cow to build up milk-making material which adds production after freshening time.

A good grain mixture to use is 600 pounds of wheat, 200 pounds of corn, 100 pounds of high-protein concentrate or other protein feed. In addition to the grain and roughage, the cow should receive salt, preferably iodized. In some instances cobalt sulfate is recommended. Always provide milk cows with plenty of water.

Records at Michigan State college for the dairy herd improvement associations over the state show that an average of 3,000 cows a day will freshen in Michigan from September to April.

LIGHTS FOR LAYING HOUSES

That time is here when the progressive flock owner is thinking of providing a little more daylight to produce a few more eggs each day from his laying hens. Howard Zindel, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State college offers a few suggestions about the use of electric lights in laying houses.

You can use the lights at either end of the day—or at both ends if you desire. Just extend the normal work day for the hen to 12 to 14 hours. If your other farm work gets you up early, you may desire to start the hens out early in the morning. But if early rising isn't so necessary, you may leave the lights on longer at night.

Lighting specialists say about 40 watts for every 200 square feet of floor-space is adequate. Remember that some kind of a dimming device is needed so the hens can find their way to roost.

Some modern poultry plants use about 15 watts of light to 200 square feet for all-night lighting, and then turn on the remaining 25 watts for the same area for the early evening or early morning period.

Whatever system you adopt, use it the entire season. Irregular lighting causes moulting and production slumps. And remember too, break the hens in gradually to the use of lights. Don't leave the lights on for the full period of time from the start. Increase the time 15 minutes each

Stanek — Ciszewski

Vera Stanek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stanek of East Jordan and John Ciszewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ciszewski of Elmira, were united in marriage, Saturday, Oct. 26, in the St. John's Church, Bohemian Settlement. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Jerome Szydlowski.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin gown with small train, her veil was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of mums and carnations.

The maid of honor, Audrey Cleoggy of Toledo, Ohio, niece of the groom, wore a blue net gown, with matching headpiece of blue netting.

Irene Ciszewski, sister of the groom, and Elizabeth Stanek, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. One was dressed in a gown of yellow netting with matching headpiece; the other in pink satin and netting with a blue headpiece. Their flowers were white, pink and yellow carnations, matching their gowns.

Chester Bobleski, acted as best man; also taking his place in the wedding party was Edward Ciszewski, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stanek wore a navy dress with matching accessories, her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a wine color velveteen dress, with matching accessories, her corsage was also of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents for about 50 guests.

In the evening, a reception and dance was held in the Settlement Hall attended by a large group. The young couple received many lovely gifts.

day, and soon you'll have the hens up to that regular 12 to 14 hour working day.

U. S. Moves to Free Economy; Paris Parley Ends in Dissent; Ask Reds to Settle Lend-Lease

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Luxembourg palace was all lit up on the eve of adjournment of Paris peace conference but the weariness attending the 11 weeks of bitter hickering was indicated by the slumber of the bartender on his stool (upper left) and the newspaper man at his desk (upper right).

DECONTROL: Speeded Up

Hundreds of non-essential items were scheduled to be removed from price control as OPA moved to comply with President Truman's plans for a speedy shift to a free economy. Whereas 52 per cent of the nation's economy was under regulation, the total was expected to be reduced to 40 per cent by the end of the year.

Items basic to production or living will continue to remain under control to keep the economy within balance. Included in this category are farm equipment, needed for output of food and fibers; building materials in widespread demand for housing; clothing; household appliances and furniture.

Removal of controls from livestock led to OPA decontrol of fats, oils and feeds. Because of the lifting of ceilings on lards, OPA said it would be difficult to keep corn oil, cottonseed oil, peanut oil and soybean oil under control. Free market prices for livestock might lead to excessive use of cheap mixed feeds, OPA declared.

See Hope for Soap

Prospects for improved shipments of livestock following decontrol promised to relieve the critical soap shortage although a continued scarcity of copra from the Far East threatened to limit maximum production.

Normally, soap consists of 50 to 70 per cent tallow or grease, obtained from cattle and hogs, and 20 to 30 per cent coconut oil, derived from copra.

Since experiencing a shortage of coconut oil, producers have been increasing the amount of tallow and grease for soap. Heavier marketings of cattle and hogs thus would enable them to step up their production.

Despite high production of coconut oil in the Philippines, crippled grinding mills have been unable to turn out large volumes of copra. While cottonseed mills in the U. S. could crush the coconut, it was said that OPA ceilings were inadequate to permit operations.

PARIS: Grim Ending

Secretary of State Byrnes made a final address to a "people's peace"; Molotov spoke of a "democratic peace," and Bevin prayed for a "lasting peace," but there seemed as yet to be no peace as the Paris conference ended in the ornate Luxembourg palace.

Ten empty seats belonging to the Yugoslav delegation strongly attested to the differences existing between the powerful western and eastern blocs. Complaining that decisions had not been reached on the basis of existing facts, but rather in the interests of the nations commanding a majority, Yugoslavia preferred to remain away from the closing session.

Yugoslavia's action pointed up Molotov's declaration that the newly established democratic Slav states would not be "dictated to" by the western powers. The Russian foreign minister had backed Yugoslavia's strong protests against the creation of a neutral governor for the key port of Trieste and rejection of Tito's claims to Italian border territory.

Mar Duke's Happy Return

For the first time since their historic marriage in a French chateau, the Duke of Windsor took his wife, the former Wallace Warfield Simpson, back with him to England. Hardly had the couple settled down for a two-month sojourn in the country when a thief stole a million dollars in jewels from the duchess while she was entertaining nobility. Included in the booty were sapphires, rubies and diamonds.

MEAT: In Offing

If meat was slow in coming onto the market following decontrol of the industry, consumers could lick their chops for a big feast ahead.

LEND-LEASE: Ask Russ to Settle

In asking Russia to settle its lend-lease account of $11,141,000,000, the state department reported that the action was taken in compliance with congressional desires to speed up final liquidation of such obligations.

Settlement is expected to follow the pattern of previous arrangements made with Britain and France, with the Reds paying only a percentage of the cost of the guns, tanks, airplanes and other material sent during the war. In arriving at the final figure, the U. S. has always written off part of the debt owed in consideration of losses and casualties suffered in the common cause.

In the case of the British and French, the U. S. extended credits for the purchase of surplus goods as part of the settlement, and the same privilege could be afforded the Russians. As it is, the U. S. advanced the Reds between 300 and 400 million dollars at the time of the cessation of lend-lease to permit them to obtain supplies ordered but not yet delivered.

Withdraw Czech Aid

Possessing no inclination to be Uncle Sam, Uncle Sam withdrew a 40 million dollar credit to Czechoslovakia and suspended negotiations for a 50 million dollar loan following the Czechs' support of Russian charges at the Paris peace conference that the U. S. was trying to enslave Europe economically.

While Czech support of Red baiting of the U. S. constituted the principal reason for the action, the state department also charged the Czechs with profiteering in the resale of American surplus goods to Romania and stated that the Czechs were far ahead of other European countries in postwar recovery.

INDIA: Strange Interlude

It takes a big man to admit a mistake, as Mohandas K. Gandhi did in New Delhi, but it also takes a smart politician to cut the ground from under his opposition, as the Hindu leader also sought to do.

Gandhi's double-edged action occurred as his all-India congress party and the Moslems continued to fence for political advantage in the proposed New Indian government. It was reported that Gandhi had carelessly endorsed a Moslem statement claiming that their party was the sole representative of the Moslems in contradiction to his own oft-repeated assertions that his Congress party embraced all faiths.

With Moslem leaders in possession of Gandhi's endorsement and in position to publicize it as a lever for obtaining wider representation in the new government, the little Mahatma put on his sack-cloth and ashes in an attempt to head off his foes. Said he: "I feel impelled to tell you of an error committed by me. . . . It may be that I am old and my brain is getting weak. . . . I am telling you of this mistake in order that you may learn a lesson from it and never be hasty or careless in your actions. . . ."

AFL: For Americanism

AFL delegates representing seven million members took a firm stand against Communism in their 85th convention in Chicago, proclaiming their devotion to a free, democratic government in opposition to "a godless dictatorship seeking to subvert liberties won from previous tyrannies."

At the same time the AFL urged the government to continue a firm course against Russia, declaring appeasement would not halt the Reds' efforts to extend their domination over other countries. The U. S. plan for atomic energy control was deemed the only sound proposal for assuring against the production or use of nuclear power for war.

Adoption of a resolution boosting per capita assessments on internationalists was expected to yield the AFL an additional $400,000 annually to support its year-round program. Fees were raised from 1 1/2 cents to 2 cents on the first 200,000 members of affiliated unions, with 1 1/2 cents charged on all members over 200,000.

allied noose at the last minute. Whereas suicide is considered an act of cowardice in the U. S., Germans regard it as a means of redeeming lost honor.

Allied authorities wondered if Goering's dramatic demise would tend to take some of the sting out of the war crimes trials in the German mind. Despite the execution of 10 other top Nazis, Goering's escape from the noose took on the effect of a subversion of allied justice.

AGRICULTURE: Future Pattern

Increased agricultural production in the face of uncertain demands threatens to pose another historic farm problem.

Indicative of what may lie ahead, the department of agriculture re-imposed production controls on potatoes following the bumper output of 1946. Despite a reluctance to restore regulation, the department acted to prevent the waste which accompanied the banner harvest this year.

Until plans for increasing consumption overseas and in the U. S. materialize, re-imposition of controls to prevent excessive production of various crops may develop. Reduction of some acreage, however, may be accompanied by shifts to the increase of other products like meats, milk, fruits and vegetables to provide a better balance in diets.

While stimulation of consumption in the U. S. would require maintenance of good wages and perhaps even the payment of subsidies to low-income groups, big foreign demand for food hinges upon reduction of trade barriers and distribution to needy areas.

POLLUTION: Ask U. S. Control

Limited government control over water-pollution problems to provide cleaner waters in the United States was advocated by the Federation of Sewage Works associations at the group's 19th annual convention in Toronto, Canada.

International pollution authorities from all states in the U. S., and from Canada, Britain and Argentina, approved the resolution calling for federal control of U. S. pollution problems with limiting provisions.

PAUL CHAMPIONS FREEDOM AND BROTHERHOOD

TEXT—Acts 15:23b-29; Galatians 5:13-18.

SELECTION—But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.—Acts 15:11.

Fundamental doctrine must be sound and true or the church will go astray. A question had arisen at Antioch which had to be answered authoritatively, and once for all.

The early converts of the church were naturally from among the Jews, and they carried with them into their new-found faith the traditions of their religion. Some of them did not recognize that the salvation they had in Christ was entirely by grace, apart from any works of the law. They not only felt that they must observe the law, but insisted that the Gentile believers must also fulfill the Jewish rite of circumcision. This promptly raised the question whether Christ alone could save, or if men were saved by grace plus works.

To settle this matter, Paul and Barnabas went up to the church at Jerusalem, and there a great council discussed it freely, and came to a decision which was then transmitted by letter and a committee.

That decision established an eternal

I. Principle—Believers Are Free from the Law (Acts 15:23b-29).

The believers at Antioch were to abstain from those things which would hinder their spiritual progress and harm their testimony. That was important and right, but it must not be allowed to confuse them regarding the basis of their salvation. They were not saved by works, not even though they were most commendable.

Salvation is by grace, through faith, "not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9). That principle, which is absolutely foundational in all Christian thinking, was established then, and is valid and blessedly true for all time.

Is it not strange, then, that all through the church's history there has been a determined effort on the part of some in the church to add something to God's redeeming grace as a ground for salvation?

Observe the plain rebuke given to teachers of error in verse 24. It is no light matter to trouble and mislead the souls of men by injecting our worldly wisdom or our opinions, when we should be teaching the truth of God's Word.

Salvation by grace and freedom from the law does not bring the believer into a place of license, but of liberty—and a liberty controlled by a new factor in his life. We note that in

II. Practice—Believers Are Bound by Love (Gal. 5:13-15).

The one who turns to Christ by faith is indwelt by the Holy Spirit and finds that, far from failing to keep the high moral principles of God's law, he is given grace to keep them more perfectly. This he does, not in order to be saved, but because he is saved.

He comes out of a bondage to legalism, which he could not bear, into a new bondage to the law of love, which his new nature in Christ delights to bear and in which it finds the fulfillment of its highest and holiest desires.

Note that this shows itself in the church and in the world in loving service to others in the absence of strife; in a word, in the practice of the admonition: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 14; Lev. 19:18).

No one faces that life responsibility without realizing that he is evidently not able for it. God has provided for that need, for we note next that there is

III. Power—Believers Are Led by the Spirit (Gal. 5:16-18).

Being saved does not set us free from the conflict with sin, for the old nature declares itself in enmity with the Spirit. We find it often to be in our hearts to do right, and in the decisive moment we find the flesh taking control and we cannot do the things we would (v. 17).

What is the solution of that problem? An all-out attack on sin and sinful desires? That is commendable, but it somehow doesn't work. We need a superior power to work in and through us.

That's it! There is a power in us and ready to work through us—the matchless, victorious power of the Holy Spirit. He dwells in the heart of every believer (I Cor. 6:19) and only awaits our yielding to him that he may take control of our lives.

Walking in the Spirit (v. 18) is simply giving him the liberty to direct our lives after the will of God, day by day and moment by moment. This puts us in the way of victory, for as we walk in the Lord's way we may call on him for not only his grace, but also his strength.

Saved by grace to a life of liberty and power—such is the inestimable privilege of the Christian. Are we, are you, living up to it?

Need Time for Democratic Roots to Take Hold in Japan

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Recently one of Japan's liberal newspapers took occasion to admonish its readers against substituting General MacArthur for the emperor as an object of reverence.

Baukhage

The paper pointed out that MacArthur was a symbol of democracy, but not a living god. In so doing, the editor touched on a matter of deep significance to the future of Japan and one which poses one of the greatest problems of the occupation. I doubt if most people realize it.

This situation was revealed to me by a very earnest and very widely experienced observer, just back from Japan. The burden of his theme was the strange unreality which seems to envelop the life of the Japanese people like a mist. Let me give you, as nearly as I am able, the gist of his impressions, supplemented by other current reports of on-the-spot observers.

The remarkably successful record made by General MacArthur in one year's occupation of Japan can be written down on the credit side of America's postwar undertakings.

It is, nevertheless, only a beginning. Unless the structure is completed on the foundation we have laid, all of our work will go for nothing.

On the negative side, we have disarmed Japan and destroyed its military machine. We have taken over its industrial power. The business monopolies have been broken up.

On the positive side, according to MacArthur's own report, "the average Japanese no longer cringes in the presence of the police or other public authorities; his home has become his castle; he registers his opinion on public issues, uncontrolled except by his own conscience; he enjoys the right of assembly and petition; he worships as he chooses in accordance with his individual religious faith; he enjoys the untrammelled right individually or collectively to demand correction of unjust labor practices; electoral discrimination has been removed."

That is probably literally true. But it does not tell the whole story for, according to my informant, there are indications that the progress made, the reforms achieved in the political, economic and social life of the country, are only forms, and it will take a long time—many years—before those forms can be hardened into enduring substance. The reason for this is that the life of the individual Japanese and acts of their government, actually are dominated by a supreme power which, while it is not constantly visible, is no less potent—that is the power of the U. S. occupation forces.

Recover From Stunning Loss

At first the Japanese were utterly stunned by the suddenness of their crushing defeat. Gradually they discovered that they were being well treated and they assumed a co-operative attitude, an almost servile loyalty, obedience, friendliness and an apparently complete sympathy with the Americans. But that does not mean they actually have absorbed our culture, socially, politically or otherwise. Nor does it mean that they have been able to build up any real or lasting structure of their own. An utterly exotic democratic culture has suddenly been superimposed upon them. It would be absurd from the standpoint of human psychology or human experience to expect that Japan, an almost feudal nation, a land of powerful tradition and a thoroughly oriental viewpoint, could possibly about-face in a period embracing even decades. Certainly not in years.

In addition to the wide gulf that exists between occident and orient, there are many obstacles which stand in the way of the achievement of a democratic Japan.

Let us look at this conquered country through the eyes of a man who had the opportunity to study, first-hand, the rise and fall of democracy in Germany under the Weimar republic. It so happened that this observer also watched the attempts at the westernization of Turkey after the last war. Both

Germany and Japan lived in a semi-feudal atmosphere for centuries. Of course, the Germans belonged to western civilization but ever since 1870 they grew under what amounted to a military dictatorship in a highly disciplined society, a rigid class system with complete subservience to authority. In these respects Japan is similar.

Like Germany, after World War I, Japan has suffered a crushing defeat, has deposed an emperor, has absolutely no training in democratic organization or democratic action, no experience in parliamentary government as we know it. Political parties organized in the sense that we know them were utterly strange to both nations, and both peoples lived under an economy and a society based on the support, morally and materially, of a huge army and navy.

These are some of the difficulties which the Weimar republic faced and the young Japanese democracy is facing. Strong anti-democratic influences represented by big business and the aristocracy of blood and uniform, common to Japan and Germany, are at least latent in the former.

But perhaps the greatest parallel danger in Japan today—and the thing that eventually destroyed the Weimar republic—is the economic situation produced by inflation. Many students of history feel that Hitler never would have gotten even a start in Germany if it had not been for the chaotic condition caused by the terrible inflation.

Inflation today is one of Japan's greatest problems.

Economic Chaos Breeds Controls

It is quite possible that the Weimar republic, even under the best conditions and with the material and moral assistance of the democratic nations (which it did not get) never would have succeeded. On the other hand, it never had a fair trial, for economic chaos forced the dictatorship. There was no time to establish in the minds of the people or in the processes of government, a real, solidly built democratic philosophy. It is inconceivable that without a long period of education the Japanese can evolve politically to the point which the Germans never reached.

America's greatest bulwark of democracy is conceded to be the public school.

A whole new curriculum must be laid down for the Japanese. At present the shortage of books is serious. The old books are, of course, almost useless. There is likewise a shortage of trained teachers.

Another factor essential to the growth of a democratic government is security, without which individual effort cannot flourish.

Today in Japan no Japanese worker is sure that his wage in the rapidly deteriorating currency will provide him a livelihood. No industrialist is certain he will have purchasers and many are not sure their factories will be allowed to operate until the question of reparations is settled.

In other words, the Japanese lives, thinks, acts, by the grace of a superior force, the American high command. Remove it, and the anti-democratic forces will be let loose; maintain it without a solid foundation of native grown democratic structure springing from the people themselves, and you are merely removing a substitute for a MacArthur or an Uncle Sam, or a Mikado, and another will quickly be found.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Mabel Secord

This is Volume 5, Number 1. At the beginning of another year of my column I want to thank the many readers of the HERALD for the appreciative words and letters I have received regarding it. As my residence here dates back only to March 1912, the 40-year files present a problem as to just what people will want to re-read, but I'm doing my best in selecting material and try to include everything that looks interesting. Thank you.

(The following items were omitted from last week's issue.)

October 20, 1906

Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Bartlett returned from Manistee Tuesday and are settling in their new home on Esterly Street.

The Clark Seed Co. has installed a 10 h. p. electric motor and 25 pickers began work at the warehouse Monday where more than 5,000 bushels of seed is stored.

The Charlevoix Co. Sunday School Association meets at Charlevoix next Wednesday and Thursday. East Jordan people taking part in the various programs are Rev. George Allen; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Robertson and daughter Blanche; Fred E. Boosinger and Miss Louisa Loveday.

Dan Goodman is out again after his serious illness.

Miss Jennie McFarlane was in Deward last week in the interests of her millinery store.

The program for the Literary Club Oct. 18th included a solo by Mrs. William Stone, accompanied by Miss Mary Porter; piano solo by Miss Porter; a paper on The Bejlah Land Commonwealth for boys at Boyne City; and Mrs. E. Scott read an article on the end of the world. Discussion followed.

"A young mother chanced to occupy a seat in front of us on a train last week when an amusing incident occurred. She was vainly trying to quiet her youngster who was apparently about two years old. The young cherub had gormandized on vast quantities of fruits, nuts etc. and seemed to be in great misery, positively refusing to be comforted. Finally an old gentleman sitting beside her and whom we took to be the young woman's father, remarked: "Jennie, I'd larrup that kid." "Oh, I hate to whip a child on a full stomach," said she. "Looks to me like it'd be an easy matter to turn it over," was the quaint reply."

October 20, 1916

Verne Whiteford is now delivering groceries for Carr's grocery. Victor Cross dislocated his knee last Friday while playing football.

GREYHOUND

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Haley Bayliss of Muskegon twin girls October 3rd. Mrs. Bayliss was formerly Miss Florence Runyn of this City.

October 27, 1906

Traverse City, Mich., Oct. 23rd:

Fourteen men began work here today surveying for the Northern Michigan Traction Co., which will build an electric line 229 miles in length extending from Manistee to Cheboygan, taking in Traverse City, Charlevoix and Petoskey with several branch lines.

The contemplated road will cost $7,000,000 and F. O. Oleson, General Manager, announced that there was ample capital behind the scheme and that $3,000 had already been expended.

A surveying gang is also working in this direction from the north. It is proposed to install local systems wherever there is sufficient population to warrant it. The third rail system, with the overhead trolley in towns, will be used. From this city a branch will run to Old Mission 18 miles away, and from Petoskey a branch will run to Walloon Lake, East Jordan and Bellaire, connecting with the main line at Elk Rapids.

While Oleson refuses to announce who is backing the project, it is thought that Cleveland interests are financing the proposed road. As soon as the survey is completed, if the weather holds good, grading will begin.

Gone to Mississippi.

Party of thirty-odd men left Thursday morning over the Detroit and Charlevoix Railroad for Bond, where they are under agreement to work in the sawmills there this winter. The party is in charge of E. R. Kelly, who has a position as cook in one of the camps there. He is accompanied by his wife and child. A number we understand also leave from Mancelona.

We'd like to publish a list of those who come back in about six months from now, but that's the unwritten part. Down in that State work is paid for by the day—an average of about $2.00. This would be a good proposition if full time could be put in, but the rainy season lasts from October to March and naturally a good many days will be lost every month. The cost of board, etc. will go on just the same and it's a safe guess that those seeking a new Eldorado will be greatly disappointed. Below is a list of those who went: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kelly, Clayton Gaspie, Walter Clark, Harry Parks, Lawrence Provost, Jess Bayliss, Archie Kidder, Bert Bennett, Cal Bennett, Ira McMullen, Duncan Ferguson, Richard Freeman, Harvey Hill, Joseph Moor, Duncan McFee, Frank Eaton, E. F. Murray, William Reno, John Johnson, Nick Vanquist, A. F. Muirhead, Clinton Glasburn, John Sherwood, Joseph Emory, Elmer Jensen, Charles Barrett, Lester Barlow, Ray Lanway, James Light, William Montroy.

"The Honey-ya Club meets this Saturday evening. Everyone be on time." (What on earth was This one?)

"Call and examine a combination bookcase and writing desk sold by Empey Bros. for $7.15 and freight added—Sears and Roebuck prices."

Groceryman Will Richardson has purchased the Heston Building on Main St. and intends to move his stock there when the building is ready.

The residence of H. H. Cummings two miles south of town burned Wednesday morning, together with most of the contents.

Rev. J. A. McKee resigned his pastorate of the Presbyterian church here last Sabbath morning and has accepted a call from the Redford church near Detroit.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Foster are shipping their household goods and plan to leave next Monday for Los Angeles, Cal. where they will spend the winter. Their home here has been leased to Dr. John A. McGregor of Central Lake who will take up Dr. Foster's practise here.

Bessie L., wife of J. Garfield Myers of Charlevoix and daughter of Howard Weikel of East Jordan, died at her home in Charlevoix Tuesday of spinal meningitis. She leaves a baby boy, Clare, about two months old.

The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission recently awarded a bronze medal and $2,000 to be devoted to educational purposes to William C. who on April 29th rescued 14-year-old Ruth Schoolcraft from drowning.

Last week, Thursday, the steam barge, Winnipeg, loaded the largest load of lumber ever taken out of Boyne City at the W. H. White Co's dock, 1,042,000 feet. She took it to Buffalo, P. Collier was the inspector at the dock.

October 27, 1916

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennis celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary with a party and dinner at their home Sunday.

William Wilks and family moved to Mackinaw City, Monday, where Mr. Wilks will take charge of the section there on the railroad.

George Ward and family now occupy the residence vacated by Mr. and Mrs. William Wilks.

Thomas Brennan and son, Glenn, arrived here from Mackinaw City, Wednesday. His family will follow later. Mr. Brennan will take Mr.

Wilks' place here on the D. & C. railroad.

An important change will take effect in the management of the D. & C. R. R. on November 1st. After that date the road will be known as the East Jordan Branch of the Michigan Central Railroad and we understand will be subject to all rules and regulations applicable to the main system, including a two-cent passenger fare. Heretofore it has been operated as an independent line.

Matthew Beebe died at his home in this city Friday last, aged 65 years.

Miss Daisy Bryant of Leland is in the city and will open dressmaking parlors as soon as she can find suitable rooms.

Mrs. O. E. Sundstedt and son, Elwyn, will leave this Friday for Detroit where they will make their future home.

Kenneth Isaman and Miss Theresa Burbanks were married at the M. E. Parsonage Friday evening, October 20th by Rev. John Clemens.

October 29, 1926

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bancroft, delegates from South Arm Grange, left Monday to attend State Grange in Lansing. Bert Lumley and sister, Sidney, of Deer Lake Grange attended as Pomona delegates from this county.

Miss Clara Weisler and William Heaton were married Monday, Oct. 18 at St. Joseph's Rectory by Fr. D. M. Drinan.

Moses Tyler, aged 95, died at the county infirmary October 20th.

We believe that the re-election of Senator Vandenberg presents a challenge to the people of Michigan. The Senator has taken the voice of our State into the highest councils of domestic affairs and into the peace deliberations of the world. He has given our State a prominence and an influence in world events that is unequalled in our history. His re-election becomes a matter of State pride.

We are proud of Arthur H. Vandenberg. We are proud that he comes from Michigan. He should be re-elected to the U. S. Senate with an extra big vote of confidence.

And remember this — no matter how heavy his responsibilities around the world, he has never failed you and our home State when Michigan interests have been at stake in Washington.

Let's get out and vote on Nov. 5. Let's "tell the world" that we support our Senior Senator from Michigan.

This message is published in behalf of 100,000 citizens from all 89 Counties of Michigan who placed Senator Vandenberg in nomination in June.

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU

Wouldn't this old world be better, If the folks we meet would say, I know something good about you, And then treat us just that way! Wouldn't it be fine and dandy, If each hand-clasp warm and true, Carried with it this assurance, I know something good about you. Wouldn't things here be more pleasant, If the good that's in us all, Were the only thing about us, That folks bothered to recall! Wouldn't life be lots more happy If we'd praise the good we see; For there's such a lot of goodness In the worst of you and me. Wouldn't it be nice to practice This fine way of thinking too; You know something good about you, I know something good about you!

Wife: "Darling, I always worry when you stay away from me."
Hubby: "But Honey I'll be back before you know it."
Wife: "Yes—that's what worries me."
The Sweet young thing had broken her glasses. "Will I have to be examined all over?" she asked the optometrist.
"No," he replied, "just your eyes."

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROPOSAL NO. 1

Which Authorizes The State To Continue To Establish Public Airports?
HERE ARE STATEMENTS OTHERS HAVE MADE

GOVERNOR KELLY SAYS:
"I sincerely hope that this Amendment will be approved in order that the State of Michigan can proceed to improve its facilities and meet the challenge of the Air Age."

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE MURRAY D. VAN WAGONER SAYS:
"This is to assure of my strong endorsement and support of Senate Enrolled Joint Resolution No. 1, which proposes an amendment to Section 14, Article 10, of the State Constitution."

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE KIM SIGLER SAYS:
"In any event, let there be no question in the mind of anyone regarding my stand on Proposal No. One. I am definitely and wholeheartedly for it."

AMERICAN LEGION AVIATION COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN THOMAS E. WALSH SAYS:
"I feel confident the voters of Michigan will give their approval to Constitutional Amendment Proposal No. One which is so vital to aviation progress in Michigan."

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU MANAGER CLARK BRODY SAYS:
"Approval of Amendment Number One vitally concerns farmers. Aviation for business trips, carrying mail, law enforcement, medical aid, spraying and transportation of perishable products is vital to Agriculture. Vote Yes on Amendment Number One."

BOARD OF AERONAUTICS CHAIRMAN WILLIAM B. STOUT SAYS:
"It would be as short-sighted to turn down aviation for our State as to have refused to build public highways for the automobile."

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF AERONAUTICS DIRECTOR COL. FLOYD E. EVANS SAYS:
"There can be only one answer to the Constitutional Amendment Proposal No. One which will appear on the Ballot November 5. Vote 'YES' and Michigan will remain as a leader in aviation."

HUNDREDS OF STATE-WIDE ORGANIZATIONS HAVE PUBLICLY ENDORSED THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROPOSAL NUMBER ONE — YOU CAN'T GO WRONG WITH A YES VOTE.

KEEP MICHIGAN ON TOP AS A LEADER IN AVIATION

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together — Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside him

Murder in Plain Sight

by GERALD BROWN
W.N.U. FEATURES

Duke McCale, private detective, is guarding the wedding presents at the Bigelow mansion. He senses that old Mrs. Adelaide Bigelow is afraid of something more serious than theft. He meets the bride and groom-to-be, Veronica and Curt Vallancourt, and Veronica's mother, Sybil, and her brother and sister, Stephen and Victoria. While at a night club McCale spots Vallancourt in company of the club's singer, Shari Lynn. He talks to Jerry Tate, a newspaper man, and learns that Vallancourt is a big spender and gambler, and that he has the heart interest of Mrs. Stephen Bigelow for a short time, according to rumor. As soon as he met Veronica, he concentrated on her.

CHAPTER VI

"For almost nothing, but thanks anyway."

He left the Club and trudged through the midnight city, a sullen gloom curtaining his thoughts.

The lights of an all-night luncheon room winking through the murk drew Duke inside. It was a dismal enough place, peopled with a few down-at-heel stragglers.

The restaurant door banged and a tall, wasted figure in a bedraggled coat and hat slouched to the counter. There was something familiar about that back. Instinctively, McCale half rose to his feet to see, but his movement was too late. Joe Leach saw him as she turned, tray in hand. He shuffled over and sat down.

"Hi, shamus," he said. "Well, all turned out in tails, I see. Excuse me, but you look as though you'd just been thrown out of the Ritz. What are you disguised as—a magician?"

McCale grunted noncommittally. "Won't talk, huh? It just happens I'm a bit of a dick myself, bud, so I'll dig down in my bag of tricks and pull out the fact that you've been hobnobbing with the elite—the Bigelow tribe to be exact. What have they been having—a soiree?"

"Good God. Have you had a tail on me?"

"Deduction, shamus. No. To be honest, every agency in town knows you've knocked off the Bigelow job. How'd you do it? What's it all about?"

"What'd you give to know?"

"Oh, Lord. I'm just curious."

"It might be worth your while."

"Look. I won't argue with you. Either you tell me or tell it to the marines. I'm indifferent now. What does it matter?" He made a slight movement as if he were about to get up and go.

"All right, all right. I just thought I might soak you for a five. I lost my pants in a game tonight. The truth is, Stephen Bigelow called our office to get the low-down on you, late this afternoon."

"Called your office? To get dope on me?" Duke gave a raucous, derisive howl. "That's too darned funny. What's the connection—between your outfit and Stephen Bigelow, I mean?"

"We did some work for him once."

"You did?"

"Uh, uh."

"What kind of work—the usual?"

"Sure."

"Who was the dame?"

"His wife."

McCale's spine began to prickle. He hoped his sudden interest did not show too much on his face.

Five Dollars' Worth Of Information

"You may not think it's worth the five, but here it is. About six months ago this Stephen Bigelow came in to see Watkins. Wanted a tall put on his wife. He didn't say much, but the boss figured it was the old divorce routine. I got the night job—following her around to the nightclubs. She went out a lot alone. I trailed along for a couple of weeks. She'd stop in at a lounge bar now and then, always met people she knew, but never seemed to gather in anyone particular. Then one night I followed her as far as a studio building in Copley Square. A dumb elevator boy couldn't place her or tell me where in the building he took her. I'd wait and in a few hours she'd come out—alone. This happened two or three times a week until one night, late, she came out with a middle-aged guy. They went to a quiet little restaurant around the corner. I tagged along. It looked like the old, old story to me."

"You found out who the man was?"

"Sure. Well, here's where the drama falls apart. Hmm, I see where I don't get paid off. He was a piano teacher, name of Parecini. Not an old foxy grandpa with a weakness for blondes, after all. We turned the news over to Stevey boy, and damned if he didn't seem relieved. He came in a week or so afterwards to pay his bill. He told us his wife had once shown great talent for the piano, but had lost the use of an arm from nervous shock or arthritis or something. She was getting back her old wallop again, slowly. She'd been going to the old bird for lessons, keeping it from the family for a surprise, or so he said. Now, how do you like that?"

"I like it."

"You think it was the truth? Now, see here, in spite of the fact that it looked on the level, I think it was fishy. I wasn't pulled right off the tall, see? It was over a week before Stevey came in to pay up. We hadn't heard from him to the contrary, so I kept on the job. But the blonde bombshell never went near Parecini's studio again. She must have backed down somewhere along the line."

"They probably had a nice old-fashioned heart-to-heart talk and patched it up. My guess would be that she wanted to continue her studies with the idea of going on the stage, or something of the sort, but Stephen put his foot down. The family probably wouldn't stand for it."

"Yeah. Funny, isn't it? Not that either of them seem socially conscious."

"Your insight is amazing. They are both good family, but not quite—as you say."

"Well, whether you know it or not, Stevey was quite a gay dog once. Used to do a bit of chasing in the old days."

"I don't doubt that, but I think he's in love with his wife."

"Umm. Better to have loved, et cetera. He sure seems nuts about her."

"Decidedly."

One night late she came out with a middle-aged guy.

"That's all of my little offering. Do I get the five?"

"Oh, sure. . . . Take it."

He slid the money over to the big man. He had the exasperating feeling that he'd been cheated. He shrugged it away.

McCale had set his alarm for seven-thirty the next morning. It had shrilled in vain. A feeble ray of sunlight flickered across his face as someone shook him by the shoulder. Shrugging out from under the none too gentle pressure, he blinked, yawned, and saw by the clock that it was much later.

McCale began to dress as Rocky headed for the inner sanctum. It didn't take him long. His toilet completed, he went directly to the office windows to pull back the curtains on another dreary morning. He took the cup of coffee his assistant handed him and waited until they sat facing each other across the desk, before beginning conversation.

"Well," he said, between sips of the hot black liquid, "let's have your birds-eye or keyhole view of the goings on of last night."

A Jittery Family, Thinks Rocky

"Nothing sensational to report, boss, outside of a lot of nervous running in and out till about one a.m. I had a look-see at about everyone but the dame called Victoria. She'd gone out someplace to dinner when I got there and must have slipped in without my lamping her, if she came home at all."

"No trouble with the servants?"

"I only saw the butler. Very superior guy. He kept looking in the dining room where I was sitting with an eye on the door. I don't know whether he thought I was going to snatch some of the fingerbowl or sample the family bourbon. Anyhow, he kept popping up at odd moments until around ten-thirty. Say, what a parade of junk they've accumulated."

"Yeah. What do you think of the set-up? In general, I mean. Atmosphere—that kind of thing."

"I may be wrong, but outside of the little old lady, they're a bunch of screwballs. She's okay. A little jumpy, but for that matter, the whole caboodle ain't my idea of what I've been led to think of as calm, quiet, untruffed bluebloods. They're all as jittery as a hang-over."

"Definitely."

"Well, here's five to your one that there's something cooking that's going to smell to heaven."

"You've no taker in me." McCale grinned and lit a cigarette.

"Smart, as usual. The old dame acts as though she was walking through a bad dream but doesn't dare wake up."

"Very aptly put."

"She meets me last night, shows me around, sort of impersonal-like. So far as she was concerned, I might have been the plumber's helper come to repair a leak. Very cool and calm, but burning up with something inside her. Acts all the time as if she's scared stupid but won't admit it if it kills her."

Rocky poured himself a second cup of coffee and took a deep breath before he continued.

"She went to her room early, about nine. I didn't see her after that. Veronica, the bride and joy," he looked at McCale to see whether he was amused by the play on words, "of the old lady—she is that, isn't she?—it sticks out all over—stayed home all evening, too. She was in the back library most of the time."

"Did she look good to you?"

"Oh, yeah, if you like the placid type. She had two visitors. Guess?"

"I'll buy it. Don't play guessing games with me so early in the morning."

"Well, the present and the past Glamour Boy Number One, and good old dog-like, ever lovin' Chris."

"Oh. He impressed you that way? Christopher Storm, I mean?"

"Remember, I only got a short gander at the past and present crown princes, as they entered and left. He was the second one, by the way. Mr. Big came first."

"Go on."

"Well, I'd just got settled in the silver and crockery department, when Johnny Weismuller comes swinging from tree to tree calling for his mate. Such a flutter they get into over him, don't they? The butler scuttled around after him as if he'd just brought the fatted calf. Then the bride-to-be comes down the stairs in a flurry. But a flurry, I said. And he just tells her he's off to dinner with some friends. She looks at him with the trust of a bird fascinated by a python. You know—'What enormous eyes you have, Grandmother.' And off they go to the library."

"I take it you didn't warm to Romeo."

Not me. Obvious as heck, don't you think?"

I don't know. The boy's got something. Just what is it?"

It's as old as the world, chief. The Vallancourt can just make his eyelashes go boo."

Take that needle out of your arm. He's in love with the girl."

All right. So he's in love with her."

What's your impression of the girl? You didn't show a great deal of enthusiasm."

I guess I don't like 'em quite so wide-eyed, chief. She's nice. You know what I mean—nice—and when you've said that, you've said everything. Right out of a Mignon Eberhart novel, if you get what I mean. Just beautiful and wispy and too dumb to take off her rose-colored glasses."

Rocky had already settled for himself the fact that Veronica Bigelow was both beautiful and dumb. McCale leaned back in his chair and smiled, for Rocky was a good guy, mostly amusing.

Searching for the coffee pot, Duke's eyes slanted up quizzically at Rocky as he said, "Well, boy, what's the word on Christopher Storm, now that you've dusted everyone else off?"

Odd Goings On In the Mansion

"J. P. Marquand has done him to a turn, on both sides and in the middle. More than once. That guy was born to the Yankee purple, has gone to the best schools, and never stepped out of line in his life. He may be a little shocked at the Bigelows, but they are Bigelows, aren't they? So they couldn't be wrong. Veronica has tossed him overboard, but would he say a word about it? Would he ride up in his Stanley Steamer and rush her off to the nearest Justice of the Peace before she makes a fool of herself? No sirree. It just isn't done by people, in our set, doncha know?"

"He did come to see her."

"Oh, yes. Had a short confab with her in the library. I didn't get a chance to eavesdrop, of course, but I did see them when they said goodnight at the door. He had the most miserable little-boy-who-has-been-kicked expression on his puss when he kissed her good-by."

"He kissed her?"

"Don't let it throw you. It was just the old I'll-be-a-sister-to-you act. She sort of put her head up and he gave her a solemn brotherly kiss on the forehead before he went into the night like the last act of an old melodrama. I could have spit in his eye, the dope!"

"My, my. You are taking this to heart."

Not so you'd notice it. Well, do I go in the order of their appearance?" he asked, a sour smile on his lips.

"Oh, of course. No offense, pal."

Rocky waited a moment, looking at McCale skeptically, not quite sure he wasn't being made fun of. Then he resumed.

"Let's see. First there is Mr. Stephen. Now there's a jumpy guy. Surly, wedded to the bottle, too."

WORK in a picture with Bob Hope or Bing Crosby and you're likely to turn into a golfer. Signe Hasso learned the game between scenes of Paramount's "Where There's Life"; her instructor, co-star Bob Hope, turned a corner of the sound stage into a green for the purpose. Joan Caulfield, now in "Dear Ruth," caught the fever when she made "Blue Skies" with Bing and got herself a teacher. He told her not to count her strokes, but she counts the ones when she's par or under; says it helps a lot.

Willie Howard, the famous comedian who'll soon celebrate the completion of 40 years in show business, is going strong—his life story's being filmed, he's writing his autobiography, and plans to star in a revival of one of his old hits and then appear in the film.

Ken Roberts and the producers of Mutual's "Quick as a Flash" have been wondering which sex reacts quicker to the excitement of competition—so Fordham university's psychologists arranged to attach electrodes to a man and a girl contestant and record the results.

Virginia Mayo, a Samuel Goldwyn featured player, achieves star status in December with the release of "The Best Years of Our Lives." It was produced simultaneously with "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," in which she co-stars with Danny Kaye—so during a four-month period Virginia was on call most of the time. Yet she gained eight pounds—says it was because she ate sensibly and got nine hours' sleep every night. But when the pictures were completed she was still on call for fashion stunts and color layouts—and lost 15 pounds!

As if the language of high school students hadn't acquired enough by words, William Bendix' "The Life of Riley" has added two more—"What a revoltin' development this is!" greets many a minor tragedy. And they've also adopted the greeting offered by "Digger O'Dell," the friendly undertaker character—"Hullo there, you're looking fine, viddy natural!"

Everybody knows that Edgar Bergen got his start in radio on Rudy Vallee's program; few know that Rudy learned ventriloquism from Bergen, and is now fairly proficient. He has three dummies—Sally Ann; Linoleum and Ezra Snerd, brother of the famous Mortimer.

Sunday afternoon seems to be Metropolitan Opera stars' time: three of them are featured on their own programs—starting at 2:00 p. m. on NBC there's Robert Merrill, half an hour later James Melton has his own program, and at 5:00 along comes Patrice Munsel.

Ruby Dandridge, who's Judy Canova's maid on the radio, will appear as Lillian Russell's maid in "My Wild Irish Rose," starring Dennis Morgan. Evidently she doesn't mind being typed; she's played maid roles in 15 consecutive pictures!

Paul Lavalle has organized and conducted many types of orchestras; now he's organizing a tin pan band. The conductor of the Friday night "Highways in Melody," co-operating with the New York Children's Aid society, is getting together an orchestra of youngsters four to eight years old; they'll learn basic music rhythms by beating on tin pans and kettles.

Gene Kelly and June Allyson will be teamed in Metro's "Cabbages and Kings"; he'll play a Coney Island sideshow barker who falls in love with her, a modern Alice in Wonderland.

ODDS AND ENDS—Victor Slezak's latest screen appearance is as co-star in RKO's "Sinbad the Sailor." . . . Dennis Morgan has just made himself a brick barbecue; now all he needs is the meat to go with it. . . . Benny Goodman, star of "The Victor Borge Show," will be one of three judges in a nation-wide contest to select the best song by an amateur based on the movie, "Duel in the Sun." . . . Jimmy Wallington estimates that he's announced about 10,000 radio shows in his years before the mike. . . . Marlene Dietrich's to be featured as an actress, not a siren, in "Golden Earrings."

Sweet Potatoes With Citrus Flavor (See Recipes Below)

Winter Vegetables

The passing of summer is no good reason to neglect the serving of vegetables. We all need their precious vitamins and minerals in cooler weather and there are plenty of the winter variety to take their rightful place in our menus.

The yellow vegetables: carrots, turnips and squash are a good source of vitamin A, necessary for resisting infection, and essential for the health of eyes, ear, nose and throat. Serve these vegetables frequently and test your ingenuity by trying new ways with them.

Green vegetables aplenty can be found, too, for cabbage, green pepper, lettuce, etc. are abundant. And don't forget the canned variety, for canning cupboards are undoubtedly well-stocked with summer's produce. Use them up during the winter so you have space and jars for next year's produce.

Beets can be popular with your family if you prepare with flavor.

Stuffed Beets (Serves 6)

6 medium-sized beets
1/4 cup diced bacon or drippings
1/4 cup onion, chopped
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Boil whole beets about 40 minutes or until almost tender. Rub off skin under cold water. Scoop out centers, then sprinkle sides of beet with a little salt. Chop the removed pulp fine, add remaining ingredients. Fill beet shells with this mixture. Place in a dish containing a small amount of hot water and bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until browned, about 30 minutes.

Any type of cabbage may be used in the following sweet-sour recipe. Use all the seasonings listed for that mouth-watering flavor.

Sweet-Sour Cabbage (Serves 6)

4 to 6 cups cabbage, shredded
8 strips of bacon, diced
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon water

Boil cabbage until tender, drain and keep hot. Cook bacon until crisp, then add combined dry ingredients to it. Add vinegar and water and heat to boiling point. Pour over hot, cooked cabbage and serve at once.

Parsnip Patties (Makes 8)

4 cups pared, cored, thinly sliced parsnips
1/2 cup sliced onions
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/4 cup minced parsley
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup coarse bread crumbs
Finely sifted bread crumbs
2 tablespoons fat or oil

Boil parsnips with the onions and salt in boiling water for 15 minutes or until tender. Drain and mash well. Add parsley, egg, coarse bread crumbs. Chill well and form into patties. Roll in finely sifted bread crumbs and saute on both sides in fat until golden brown. Sprinkle with paprika, garnish with parsley and serve as a luncheon dish or as a side dish with meat.

Sweet potatoes are one item you'll be serving often in the next few months. I'll guarantee you'll like this way of preparing them.

Orange Sweet Potatoes (Serves 4 to 6)

6 medium-sized sweet potatoes
1 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3 tablespoons melted butter or substitute
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cook potatoes in their jackets until tender. Remove skins. Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients in a saucepan and cook, stirring until thickened. Arrange sweet potatoes, either whole or cut in lengthwise slices, in a baking dish. Pour sauce over them. Cover and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 20 minutes. Uncover and bake 15 minutes longer. Cut-up pieces of marshmallow may be sprinkled over the potatoes during the last 15 minutes of baking.

Squash De Luxe (Serves 6 to 8)

1 medium-sized squash
1 medium onion, minced
1/4 cup butter or substitute
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon mixed, powdered herbs
Rich milk, scalded
Melted butter or drippings

Cut squash into small pieces. Remove seeds and stringy portion. Place in steamer or colander over boiling water and cook on top of range for about 45 minutes or until tender. Scoop squash from shell, leaving each shell intact. Mash squash thoroughly, then cook onion until clear in butter. Add to squash with the next four ingredients. Add enough milk, if necessary to make a fluffy mixture. Pile lightly into shell sections. Brush with melted fat and broil for 10 minutes, or until squash is browned.

Turnips with Peas (Serves 6)

3 cups hot, diced cooked turnips
2 1/2 cups canned peas
1/4 cup rich milk
4 tablespoons canned, diced pimientos
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or substitute

Combine turnips with other ingredients in order given. Place in a saucepan and heat thoroughly before serving.

LYNN SAYS:

Unless you have your own vegetables, choose those you buy with extreme care. Look for freshness, since most vegetables lose their crispness and flavor as soon as they are picked.

When using frozen vegetables, it's best not to let them defrost before cooking as they deteriorate rapidly after thawing. Experts say they should be placed in boiling water in their frozen form.

Tips on Vegetable Dishes

When broiling vegetables, brush them with salad oil or melted butter to make them brown more evenly.

To make delicious fried potatoes, melt enough cooking oil or bacon drippings in a pan. Add sliced potatoes which have been cooked for 10 minutes, then peeled, and chopped onions. Let potatoes brown before turning them with a spatula.

Public schools of Michigan will gain on November 5, regardless of how voters decide the fate of ballot proposal No. 2.

This proposal would amend the state constitution whereby 76 percent of all sales tax revenues would be earmarked for local governments. Schools would get approximately $100,000,000 a year compared with $80,000,000 in 1946-47. Cities, villages, and townships would get $47,000,000 instead of $20,000,000.

If the ballot proposal carries — and the Michigan Education Association believes it has a 50-50 chance of so doing — then school teachers will rejoice. No more legislative lobbying for funds! The state constitution will guarantee in perpetuity — as long as the amendment stands — a big boost in money for payment of salaries and other expenses.

School teachers are underpaid in this postwar inflation period, as compared with the rest of our wage-earners. Property owners balk at lifting the 15-mill limitation on property taxes. The amendment would offer a happy solution for public education. No doubt about that.

If the ballot proposal is defeated by voters who fear it would lead to additional taxes in 1947, then the schools still stand an excellent chance of getting more funds at Lansing, Ing.

The straw in the wind to this conclusion is provided by Rep. John P. Espie of Eagle, chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee of the State Legislature. Espie believes the amendment is bad legislation. He warns that the state government cannot function with only 24 percent of the sales tax revenue.

However, he recommends that state aid to schools be increased from $60,000,000 to $75,000,000 or $80,000,000 a year, boost of 25 to 33 percent.

Espe also favors state aid for new buildings in school districts financially unable to construct necessary addition because of increased population.

It is the judgment of State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Republican nominee for reelection and president of the Michigan Institute of Local Government, that adoption of the sales tax amendment would lead to a $21,500,000 deficit for the first year of operation of state government.

If the $270,000,000 veterans' bonus is also approved, the treasury deficit would be $39,114,000, Brake warns.

"You cannot stop caring for the insane, running the prisons, paying old-age assistance, educate your veterans, and the thousand and one things state government is doing for the people of Michigan," he said. "People just won't stand for it."

Brake predicts more taxes, if the tax amendment carries.

Robert S. Ford, director of the University of Michigan's bureau of government, points out that school benefits under the tax amendment would depend on whether or not total local property tax levels stay at their present level of $71,500,000 for the entire state.

"If these levies are reduced, as they may be in school districts, revenues for schools will not be increased as much by adoption of the amendment as is now anticipated. Likewise, if the state should decide to impose additional taxes to maintain existing services, residents of school districts would have to pay more taxes."

Ford also pointed out that the hope of financial gains for cities, villages and townships may turn out to be a mirage. The state now returns all of the proceeds of the intangible tax and the new 10 percent tax on liquor to cities, village and townships. The combined yield amounts to $18,000,000.

"It is conceivable that the state legislature might amend the law to retain all of the proceeds of these two taxes for state purposes," he explains. "If so, the gains to local units would be almost entirely nullified."

The Detroit bureau of governmental research takes much the same view.

In an announcement December 9, the bureau declares that the adoption of the tax diversion amendment will lead inevitably to more taxes.

"As things now stand, the school lobby has been the most successful in the state," states the bureau report. "School aid distributed by the state has grown from 22 million in 1933, prior to the sales tax, to 50 million three years ago and close to 64 million last year. In 1941 basic grants to schools were 41 millions. This year they are 60 millions."

Fundamentally, in the opinion of the bureau, the amendment is unsound because it "violates the fundamental and sound principle that responsibility for raising money should accompany the spending of it. That principle is bedrock in responsible government."

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, recently pointed out that approval of the tax amendment may force the legislature to throw back upon local governments more than $4,000,000 worth of state education services now paid by the state.

Michigan Society for Mental Hygiene, through its directors, has expressed opposition to the amendment charging it would "jeopardize" the state's entire mental health program.

The State Association of Equalization Schools, headed by John S. Page, superintendent of schools at Howell, likewise opposes the amendment.

After studying all the arguments pro and con pertaining to the sales tax amendment, the writer of this column has come to the following conclusions: Schools will gain financially whether the amendment is defeated or adopted. New taxes will be imposed if the amendment is approved. Cities, villages and townships will not be ahead financially if the amendment carries.

PENINSULA...

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Roy Bennett will return to school Monday, after being absent with the mumps two weeks.

The A. B. Nicloy farm, Sunny Slopes, was a very busy place last week early in the week there was a crew digging potatoes, Friday they bailed straw and Saturday buzzed the winter's wood.

STORE GLAD BULBS RIGHT
Paul R. Krone, of the horticulture department at Michigan State college, says there is a way to protect gladiolus bulbs against thrips when you store them for winter.

The use of 3 to 10 percent strength of DDT dust to cover the corns thoroughly will do the job. Glads should be harvested after the first frost. The tops should be cut off immediately and foliage destroyed.

The DDT may be left on the bulbs all winter without injury.

RID YOUR LAWN OF MOLES
If the moles are bothering your lawn, there's a way to get rid of them.

Entomologists and zoologists at Michigan State college, offer this advice. For each 100 square feet of lawn you possess, purchase one pound of lead arsenate. It can be bought from a drug store and some firms and hardware stores. Mix the lead arsenate with sand or some bulky material that will allow it to spread evenly over your lawn. Spread the mixture this fall.

The lead arsenate—a poison—will kill the grubs and the beetles along with the earthworms. That's what Mr. Mole is after when he cuts those subways beneath your turf. If there are no grubs, he won't bother your lawn but will go elsewhere to find these bugs and worms.

PLANT TULIPS NOW

If you have not planted your tulips for those early blooms next spring, you had better do it now. Paul R. Krone, Michigan State college horticulturist, advises getting tulips in soil where there is good drainage. They should get a little start before the ground is frozen. Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

THE TRUTH ABOUT PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH

Numerous techniques have been devised to bring about painless childbirth, but medical science still is looking for, and hoping to find, a perfect one. G. B. Lal, science analyst, writes on the subject in The American Weekly, with this Sunday's (November 3) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Judge: "So you shot your husband with a bow and arrow?"

Wife: "Yes, I didn't want to wake the children."

JUNE 30, 1946

On June 30, 1946, the State Government had more cash on hand than the year's total collection of the sales tax... Much of this surplus has been set aside for future spending by the State, including State institutional buildings and improvements, highways, and veterans' benefits. There is $21,500,000 surplus not earmarked. More than sixty percent of the State's operating funds come from sources other than sales tax.
