Bad Blaze at Bussler Home

RESIDENCE AND FURNISHINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The David Bussler home, located in East Jordan on M-66, just south of Nettleton's Corner, was destroyed by fire Friday night, Feb. 14.

According to Fire Chief Gilbert Sturgell, the fire started from a defective oil conversion unit installed in the kitchen range, and quickly spread to the walls and attic of the house.

The two older children were playing in the kitchen while Mrs. Bussler was in the living room, and the fire had gained considerable headway before discovered by the children who called to the mother. Mr. Bussler, a saw mill employee, was absent when the fire started, but arrived soon afterwards.

Mrs. Bussler led her two small boys outdoors and then hurried back to save her 6-week-old baby asleep in a crib. She told firemen dense smoke almost balked her efforts.

The fire alarm was sounded about 7:30 o'clock. The firemen were not long getting there, and after a short time the fire appeared to be quelled, but flared again in the partitions and then the attic, and because of insufficient water supply, the house was leveled. For several hours water was hauled in cream cans on two trucks from the M-66 & M-32 intersection, which was sufficient to keep two small hoses on our new fire truck in action, but this was insufficient. The chemical truck was there also.

Loss was estimated at over $4,000, partially covered by insurance. Only possessions salvaged were some articles of clothing.

TO SPONSOR BENEFIT

South Arm Grange members are sponsoring a box social and dance February 22, for the benefit of the David Bussler family. Everyone is welcome to attend. Ladies bring a box! Men, bring your pocketbooks! Don't forget, South Arm Grange, this Saturday.

DRIVE SLOW WHEN STREETS ARE WET

I have observed lately that we have quite a few discourteous drivers who seem to delight in driving down our streets when they are full of soft snow or slush and spattering all pedestrians within range. Such acts not only constitute reckless driving — but — can be prosecuted as such. A little more consideration for the fellow on foot is needed. If such carelessness continue my only alternative will be to file a proper complaint and let the violator take the consequences.

Each school participating will receive an entire block of reserved seats. These seats may be obtained from your school officials. There will be no charge for them. Class D schools will each receive one entire side of the gym and the balcony, class C schools will receive one entire side of the gym downstairs. For example: If Central Lake and Ellsworth play Thursday night, Central Lake will get one side of the gym and the balcony and Ellsworth will get the other side. There will be no reserved seats for Alba and Bellaire on that night. The same plan will be used for class C schools. These seats will be held until 7:30 p. m. at which time they will be open to the general public. Boyne City people will receive reserved seats on the nights that they play and only on those nights.

City to Enforce Ordinance No. 53

EAST JORDAN IS AT LAST TO HAVE INTERFERENCE FREE RADIO RECEPTION

At the regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of East Jordan, held Monday, Feb. 17, it was unanimously agreed to enforce Ordinance No. 53 which is "An Ordinance prohibiting electrical interference with radio reception and providing penalties thereof."

Mayor Whiteford appointed T. M. Lufford as official Radio Interference Locator for the City of East Jordan. This is as provided in Section 5 of the Ordinance which says, in part: "Any police officer, and any other person or persons authorized by the city council, shall have the right to enter any premises at reasonable hours for the purpose of inspecting the installation and working of all apparatus coming within the terms of this ordinance, and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to interfere with any police officer, or any person or persons authorized by the City Council, in making said inspection, or to refuse to permit them or any of them to enter their premises for such inspection."

The ordinance also provides a fine of not to exceed $100 or not to exceed 30 days in jail.

For years it has been impossible to obtain interference-free radio reception in East Jordan's business district during the daytime, and, while Ordinance No. 53 was adopted March 3rd, 1930, it has never been enforced.

Mr. Lufford plans, in the near future, to make a survey of the business district and test all electrical devices for radio interference, and will give free advice as to how to correct interference producing devices. The City Council has ordered him to report all violators who refuse to co-operate, to them, after which more drastic action will be taken against the violator. The Council, feels, however that all violators will co-operate 100 per cent, to produce an interference-free City.

Valentine Party at Legion Hall Well Attended — Successful

The "All Vets" Valentine Party held at the Legion Hall last Friday evening was well attended. Guests were greeted by host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Obie Burull, who asked each one to register and to deposit their valentines into two cleverly trimmed valentine boxes which later were drawn from for dancing partners.

A plentiful "Pot-Luck" supper was served to the veterans and families. Followed by Tom St. Charles introducing Franklin Stucker as Toastmaster, who in turn called upon Post Commands of the American Legion, Jason Snyder, and Mrs. Louis Bathke, President of Auxiliary for remarks. The Veterans and families were then introduced.

Group singing was part of the evening entertainment and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Roy Gokee and Tom Breaker for their clever "Doodle" valentines, while Jim Bridgewater came in last for the "Booby". Mrs. Louis Bathke then presented Joe Wheaton with a sweater for his ever faithful service rendered the Legion and Auxiliary.

Tables were cleared away and the evening was spent playing cards and dancing. The music was furnished by Mrs. Eva Starks, Clarence Carney and Clem Kennw.

The evening came to a joyful close by everyone expressing their desire for more and soon. So plans are being made to fulfill their wishes. So Vets that were there, keep talking and next time bring the buddies along that missed this one.

J. V. Creamery To Handle Milk

BOARD OF DIRECTORS DECIDED ON ACTION LAST WEEK

The board of directors of the Jordan Valley Creamery met with a group of interested farmers from Antrim, Charlevoix, and Emmet counties last Wednesday to discuss the possibility of handling milk in addition to cream. Some farmers are more interested in selling milk than butterfat and they would rather sell to their own cooperatives. Also the new addition to the present plant has been designed to handle milk.

With these factors in mind, the board of directors passed a motion to handle raw milk. In times of shortages the various milk dealers will be able to buy raw whole milk from the plant. In periods of surplus, the plant will either manufacture sweet cream, dried milk, condensed milk, or whatever product will be given the greatest return to the farmer member.

Lose Home Through Fire

JOEL PARDEE RESIDENCE COMPLETELY DESTROYED IN BLAZE TUESDAY

Fire from unknown cause completely destroyed the frame farm dwelling owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joel Pardee and their six children Tuesday, Feb. 18th. It was discovered about 1:30 P. M. by Mrs. Pardee who was at home alone at the time and found the upper floor was all a-fire. Except for the washing machine, sewing machine, and baby bed that Mrs. Pardee saved the entire contents were destroyed with no insurance. The fire spread so quickly that men working nearby could not get there in time to help. The family are being taken care of by neighbors and relatives.

Coasting Hill Now Operating

FINE HILL. NO MORE SLIDING ON OUR STREETS

Through the joint efforts of our Common Council and a group of public spirited citizens, an improved hill for sliding has been developed in back of the School House. The hill is safe in that it is well removed from any traffic. Plans to light it for night sliding are now under way.

Heretofore sliding has been permitted on Garfield street with large stop signs being placed on Main Street to warn traffic. The stop signs have now been removed and no further sliding will be permitted on that hill or on any other street in the City.

Quite recently two accidents have happened involving young people who were sliding on the streets. Fortunately the accidents were not serious — but — they could have been. This community is fortunate in having officials who will provide safe sliding hills for our young people. It is up to every parent to see that there be no more sliding on any street and that violators are properly punished.

Traverse Wins The Tournament

DEFEAT LOCAL CANNERS 64 - 46 IN SPECTACULAR GAME

Traverse City's "Bensley Cleaners" putting on a display of scoring power defeated the Local "Canners" 64 to 46 to win the 2nd annual Independent Tournament.

The "Canners" stayed within reach throughout the first half but Bensleys heavy reserve strength and height was just too much. F. Ott with 16 and Carson with 15 lead the Traverse attack — Edson with 11 and Saxton with 10 lead the "Canners".

"Indian River" upset a favored Charlevoix team to carry off 3rd place. Charlevoix was all out after holding Traverse City to a 35 - 24 win. King with 14 lead Indian River Chew and Zeidler had 9 each for Charlevoix.

East Jordan reached the Finals by defeating Indian River 41 - 28 in the first game of the evening. The "Canners" started slow but picked up in the last half to win. Going away Saxton's 13 was tops for the Canners H. King again lead his team with 15.

The Tournament proved to be a real success with large crowds turning out every night. The Gym was jammed for the finals Saturday evening and the fans enjoyed some real basketball.

The "Canners" will be playing again so watch the paper for the dates.

Weather conditions are making it difficult for wild birds to obtain food. The snow is quite deep and weed seed are largely covered. Remember the old saw that "An inch on a kite string isn't much, but quite a little on your nose." A few crusts and crumbs don't look like much to a husky school-boy, but do look mighty good to a cold, hungry bird. So throw the crumbs out of doors, preferably where the snow is hard.

AN APPRECIATION

I wish to express my thanks to my neighbors, friends and relatives for their lovely cards, flowers, and fruit while I was in the hospital.

LENTEN MESSAGES

(A series of articles from pen of the pastors of East Jordan Ministerial Association.)

But thou when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face, that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father, which seest in secret, shall reward thee openly. Matt 6: 17-18.

As we are now come to the time of Lent, may each of us who claim to be Christian men and women, enter into the season thereof with a solemn and purposeful determination, that our preparation might gain for us, the rewards we seek.

In order that we might attain to the stature of the Perfect Man, let us pause to remember that it is not indulgence that makes us strong — but rather sacrifice and abstinence.

And as we abstain from some of our more evil pleasures, it may so happen, that we shall not be overcome by evil but overcome evil with good.

Elder Ole Olson,
Pastor LDS Church.

World Day of Prayer

A PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

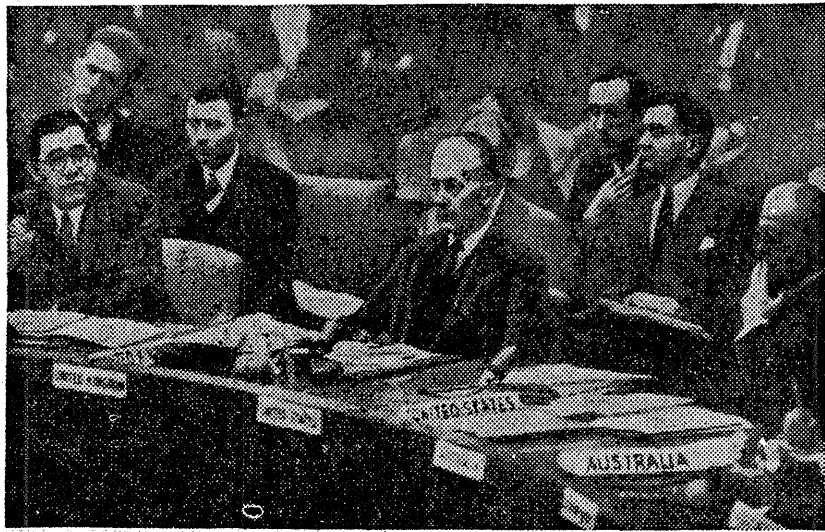

It is felt by the Church Women of the world today, that the present day conflict is beyond the minds of anyone, in order to arrive at a solution, and that we need the help of God; Therefore, I do hereby declare Friday, February 21, 1947, as World Day of Prayer in the City of East Jordan, and do hereby call upon the citizens of this City to observe this day as an individual invitation to attend a specific World Day of Prayer Meeting and if the duties of some are such as to make this impossible, I do then ask that these people pause in their work for one minute of prayer to ask that God give us light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to reunite us, in the world of trials today.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Accidents Kill 100,000 in 1946; State Department Maps Program; Seek Presidential Term Curb

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
 (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

U.N.: How to Disarm?

Sick of war, the U. S. and Russia remained sold on world disarmament, but as the two great powers in conflicting camps, they locked horns on procedure.

The atomic bomb remained the nub of the problem. The U. S. insisted that no adequate system of collective security could be devised until establishment of effective control over A-bombs, long-range rockets and other mass destruction weapons. The Russians, on the other hand, wanted the U. S. to surrender the A-bomb and disarm at the same time.

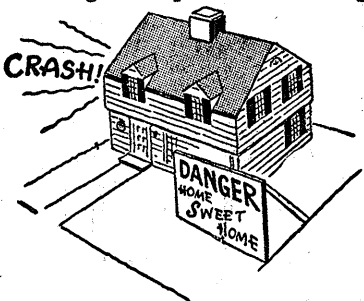

U. S. military experts reason that should the U. S. give up the atomic bomb without securing effective control and scrap ships, airplanes and tanks simultaneously, Russia would have a distinct advantage in case of future hostilities since she could quickly remobilize her ground forces. Thus, stripped of effective communication and power, the U. S. would stand empty-handed at the other end of the world.

No responsible official could stomach that prospect.

Mishaps Take Big Toll

Home, sweet home continued to be the most dangerous place in 1946, National Safety Council reported in its roundup of accidents for the year. No less than 34,000 persons were killed in their homes and over 5,000,000 incurred disabling injuries.

In all, 100,000 persons were killed and 10,400,000 injured in accidents for 1946, with an average of 1 out of 13 people in the U. S. suffering a disabling mishap. Based on wage losses, medical expenses, overhead cost of insurance for accidents, production delays, industrial damage and property damage from traffic mishaps and fires, the economic loss was estimated at over 5 1/2 billion dollars.

Automobile accidents claimed 33,465 lives; falls, 27,800; burns, 10,200; drownings, 7,300; railroads, 3,928; firearms, 31,100, and scheduled domestic air travel, 107. Only 1.2 passenger deaths were recorded for every 100 million passenger miles covered by commercial air lines.

WORLD TRADE: Hit British Pact

Britain renounced any intentions of negotiating restrictive trade clauses with other countries following Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's protest to London over terms of an agreement with Argentina.

Under the disputed pact, Argentina would be able to draw on funds owed her by Britain in years when the latter sold more than she bought from the South American nation, but the money would have to be spent within the British empire. In this manner, Britain would prevent Argentina from draining valuable foreign currency, like U. S. dollars.

Snyder contended that the agreement violated the 3 1/2 billion dollar loan recently granted Britain in that

Appliances Find Common Place in U. S. Homes

Luxuries of years ago are commonplaces in the American home today, the National Family Opinion organization reported after a nationwide survey for marketing interests.

More than 93 per cent of American homes have electric irons; 90 per cent have radios, while 15.9 per cent have combination radio-phonographs. Almost 36 per cent of the homes have electric mixers and 11.5 per cent have electric roasters.

Among the heavier electrical appliances, vacuum cleaners are most popular, with 61.8 per cent of the homes possessing them. Washing machines are close behind, being found in 59.7 per cent of the homes. Fully automatic washers are owned by 5.4 per cent of the families. Electric sewing machines are distributed through 39.1 per cent of the homes.

ANTARCTICA: New Discoveries

The vast frigid Antarctic lying at the bottom of the world began to take clearer shape as a result of the Byrd expedition. No less than 125,000 square miles of hitherto uncharted wasteland were mapped by naval explorers in the first five weeks of polar operations.

Fliers photographed and charted 4 great bays, eight major mountain ranges, more than 20 islands, 3 important peninsulas and 2,000 miles of coastland. Most important single discovery was a vast bay cutting deeply into the continent from Franklin Roosevelt sea. It measured 180 miles in length and 120 miles in width.

Now on his fourth antarctic expedition, Byrd remained sold on the white-capped continent. He asserted that it contains a treasure-house of raw materials which could supplement U. S. resources depleted during the war.

PARIS: Fashion Parade

Hens, roosters, eggs and rabbits were among the fashion themes of famed Parisian designers at the recent style showing in the French capital.

Schiaparelli set the farmland motif in hats and on prints, using cotton instead of silk, wool and synthetic materials. Mindful of the shortage of maids the world over, what with high wages prevailing in other work, Schiaparelli thoughtfully added de luxe aprons to dinner dresses for home service.

Simplicity was the theme in all designs, even in daring evening apparel, where it was effectively used to bring out the most of milady. Smartly tailored dresses, tailleurs and peplums were given a big play, although fancy prices, as high as $600, put the originals out of the working girl's reach.

Le Long produced a knockout in a classic pink formal slashed to the waist in the front, back and sides.

FINANCE: A Comer

Young, a former New York stock broker who catapulted into the national limelight by joining in purchase of control of the vast Van Sweringen railroad empire for only $510,000, heads the Alleghany corporation, which dominates the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nickle Plate and Pere Marquette.

Robert R. Young

Operating through Alleghany, Young is said to have increased his holdings in the New York Central to 309,000 shares and bought up almost $18,000,000 in Rock Island securities. Control of these two lines would give him a run from New York to Chicago to New Mexico, from whence he could bargain for track rights to the Pacific coast, completing his dream of a transcontinental line.

An aggressive champion of railroad modernization to keep up with other competitive modes of transportation, Young repeatedly has assailed carrier interests for failure to improve their properties. He is a strong believer in advertising.

BUILDING: Labor Pact

AFL building trades unions and Associated General Contractors of America set a pattern for postwar labor and management relations designed to minimize working disputes and speed completion of postwar construction.

Officials of the union and contractors disclosed their plan for industrial peace in a letter to President Truman. Under the agreement, parties to a dispute would submit their case to a joint national conference committee composed of representatives of labor and management for arbitration. The committee would have no jurisdiction over organization strikes.

The Associated Contractors represent all branches of the construction industry but principally builders of commercial structures, highways, roads, bridges, dams and other heavy projects. Unions involved include carpenters, teamsters, plumbers, roofers, sheet metal workers, painters and paperhangers, plasterers and cement finishers, stone cutters, marble polishers, lathers, bricklayers, hod carriers, common laborers, iron workers, granite cutters, electricians, boiler-makers and engineers.

Other groups engaged on construction projects also can avail themselves of the services of the conference committee for settlement of disputes, it was explained.

GERMANY: Plan for Ruhr

Thrice the victim of German aggression within the last 75 years, France will strive for the permanent emasculation of the reich at the forthcoming foreign ministers' conference in Moscow.

Added to the plan for hobbling Germany politically by breaking the reich up into loosely federated states, the French also propose detachment of the Ruhr from the rest of the country.

Washington Digest

Union Rank and File Ask For Extended Labor Peace

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. — Sitting in the committee room where the hearings on the forthcoming labor bills have been taking place I often have wondered how closely they were being followed by the rank and file of the union members. Of course, the leaders were listening with cocked ears to every syllable—were they listening with the same ears as the men?

The reason I ask that is because of a letter I received which asked:

"How can the thousands of union members like myself make people understand that what the leaders of our unions do are not the views of the small fry rank and file members?" He goes on to claim that these international officers are elected at a convention attended by a certain few. And we who stay at home and pay their salaries by our monthly dues have nothing to say about who our national officers are to be or what policies are to be followed. The first inkling we have of what is going on is when we read it in the paper.

He points out that people like himself have no huge financial reserves, no way to make themselves heard. "All we want," he insists, is to be "left alone. We want to work. We want to work hard because we are all financially broke. It is our fervent wish that everybody let us alone and let us work in peace."

When I read that letter on the air, another 59-year-old automobile worker (member of a CIO union) wrote in immediately to agree with the sentiments. He says: "All I ask for is 52 weeks' work in a year (including one week vacation with pay), no strikes, no lay-offs and no increase (underlined by the writer) in wages. Industry and farm prices would take away all and more of any increase I might get. I too, wish we could get a secret poll of CIO members on such matters as above, but that is quite improbable—the union leaders would discourage any such vote."

Another listener reminded me of the so-called "Barnes bill" in Massachusetts to compel unions to file certain statements with the Commonwealth—a bill fought by union leaders—which was carried by so large a majority that observers figured that more than 50 per cent of the members of unions in the Bay state had voted in its favor.

A woman correspondent added her voice in support of the first worker. She wrote: "Men looking for work are trying to avoid jobs where they have to join unions."

Of course, there were many who disagreed. One of the most vehement was a 78-year-old Virginian who began work on the railroad in 1886. He described early days when unionization was just getting under way. He said: "When I joined the Brakemen, it was a crime. In fact, you had to keep it a secret or off went your head." He characterizes the union man who criticizes his leadership as "a parasite glad to get a raise and better working conditions, but who will let the other fellow pay for his fare."

An Ohio union member concurs, saying: "When anyone tells you that they do not have a say in what their officers do, they show no respect whatsoever for the truth. They should attend their meetings and help shape their policies, and don't blame their officers for what is done because it is their own fault."

Obviously, situations differ in different unions. When the bill is written by congress, I believe it will be so phrased that it will make it possible for the majority of union men, if not the majority of the leaders, to vote without qualms for the men who wrote it. That seems common political sense.

New Book of Wonders

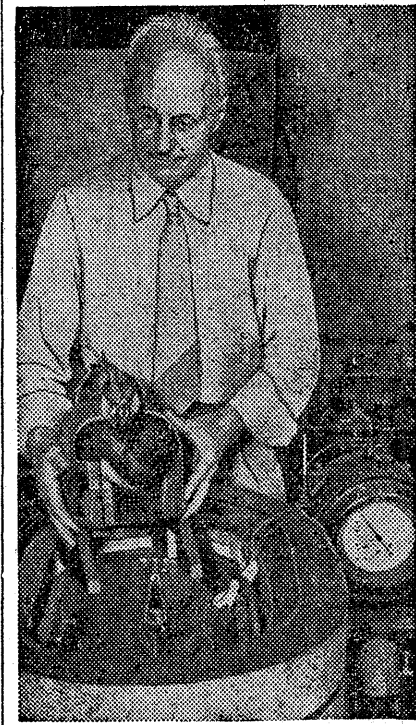

When I was reminded that there was going to be an Agricultural Yearbook this year (the first one since 1942) I hot-footed it over to the editor because the Agricultural Yearbook is news. Bad news when they don't have one and good news when they do, which is every year since 1863 when Abraham Lincoln signed the bill authorizing establishment of the department of agriculture and outlining its functions.

At this writing the book is still in galleys but will be out soon. Circumstances which interrupted the annual publication of this work have combined to make it perhaps the most interesting in the history of the department. Its title is "Science in Farming" and it will reveal some of the tremendous advances which have affected the products of agriculture during and because of the war. The editor is Alfred Stefferud and the authors of the some 150 odd articles which it contains are mostly scientists in the department. Some are staff members of state colleges, state agricultural experiment stations and other government laboratories. As editor Stefferud says, this yearbook will furnish "a wealth of information on how to live better and work better, information about food, clothing, housing, gardens, pests, forests, new processes and many other things."

There isn't room here to list all of the contents but the articles which deal with plant and animal genetics recount tremendous strides made in breeding, feeding and care, and combating insects and diseases. The hen getting her respiration measured in the picture is an example of the studies of conditions favorable to health and well being of poultry, cattle and horses which have been made.

Then there are the new products which have been created out of old ones: Utilization of corn-cobs and stalks and straw; the manufacture of vegetable meals that used to be dumped; chapters on penicillin and rutin showing the new bond between agriculture and pharmacy. I never guessed that rutin can be made from some 35 different plants and the richest in yield is the one that produces those tasty buckwheat cakes that I used to drown in maple syrup in my youth.

Bio-physicist H. G. Barott of department of agriculture places hen in respiration calorimeter to measure intake of oxygen and output of carbon dioxide and heat.

Then there is the story of "velva," the toothsome product made of over-ripe fruit. You may or may not know that one of the most difficult flavors to preserve is that of the apple. It was never captured even in candy, successfully. Now, however, it has been anchored and there is an apple flavor as satisfactory as vanilla. Incidentally one of the most fascinating articles is the result of a survey which reveals what Americans eat and why.

After even a rather hurried glance at the contents of this volume I realize how lucky are the people who have a friend in congress from whom they can obtain a copy of "Science and Farming." Under the law 260,000 copies of the yearbook are printed as congressional documents and nearly all of these are delivered to congressmen. It is left to their discretion to distribute them. They also can be purchased from the superintendent of documents of the U. S. government printing office. The price has not been announced at this writing but I imagine it will not exceed $2 this year.

BARBS . . . by Baukhage

If radio could do as much to improve the production and quality of its corn as agriculture does it would be a happier world.

The American public spent three times as much on tobacco as it did on religion although the latter sum reached a new high last year. Which shows that some people still expect to smoke here as well as hereafter.

The only ordinary civilians who can give orders to generals and admirals are the newsreel photographers.

Unlike Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Austria still have some freedom. How soon will Russia be able to arrange free and unfettered elections in those three countries?

DANGER OF WAR WITH RUSSIA CONSIDERED QUITE REMOTE

WASHINGTON. — Some people (not Communists) see the recent trend of Washington affairs, particularly the increasing prominence given military leadership, as meaning there soon will be war with Russia. One ardent enthusiast claims there will be war within a year. I do not think so. Russia has nothing much. She is really a quite inferior nation.

Her home situation, which she keeps from our people by the most rigid isolationist military censorship, shows she cannot efficiently operate a peace economy to meet needs of her own people. Military reports indicate she has several million troops under arms, possibly a concentration of several thousand (some say 4,000) planes near Turkey, and her military allocations have been made with a view to moving farther into central Europe and Scandinavia, as well as China.

The necessities of constant alertness were stressed recently by Senator Vandenberg. This is the full attitude here, military and diplomatic. Inner quarters have heard some rumors about meetings of the Russian military leadership in the Balkans to plan spring possibilities, but these are only spurs to the necessity for alertness.

WEAK IN AIR AND ON SEA

Best available military information suggests Russia has no bombing plane fleet (she never had one during the war). She has no navy. As a matter of fact, she had only one plane in quantity which was effective, the "Stormovick," and one gun of importance and, of course, an unlimited man supply which she used to absorb the opposition firepower. In all respects except one she is an inferior nation. The one exception, of course, is world politics. In that field our initial conception of winning peace by appeasements has led us into a somewhat exaggerated notion of Russia's importance to the world. We have drawn her, by our methods, first into international conferences which she entered reluctantly, and then into the United Nations.

But we have succeeded only to a limited extent. She has not come far. She is not by any means a cooperative world-peace-participating nation. For instance, she isolated herself from air commerce agreements. She has no merchant marine. She is not looking hard for trade outside her own empire acquisitions in adjoining countries. The situation simply is that by taking advantage of political objections to every existing governmental authority—and indeed every complaint of everyone in the world—she has accumulated considerable political power throughout the world, corralling all opposition movements.

The theory of the Roosevelt administration was that Russia would fall under her own weight in the peace no matter how much was given her or how much we tried to make her a world peace participant. That was the secret Roosevelt theory, but it was poorly administered to accomplish the desired result. She has no available program for world progress which she can prove is better than others, but only a theory of revolution. She does not propose to improve the situation anywhere, but simply to convert it to chaos. Her real power is political braggadocio in a timid world.

SMALL FORCE ALL WE NEED

Now all authorities here think it would be utterly foolish for us to fight such a ludicrous assault on world affairs. As all agree, since Russia's self-made destiny is inferiority, it is not necessary to consign her by force to a destiny which seems inevitable. We do not need a heavy, costly army except for air and directed missiles. We need a navy for protecting our world supply system. But what we need most is an ample air force and scientific resource development in order to protect our air defense measures in the face of a rocket bomb threat, measures such as the exploding of bombs harmlessly in the air, a plane force to bear armies northward to prevent establishment of air bases, to develop some nearly perfect defense for the atom explosion, and steps along this line.

The prominence of military men in diplomacy is merely a reflection of the fact that they are the only people who seem to be able to get the Russians to do anything. They know guns, planes and results. And Russia understands that language as it understands no other. The generals even get along, in friendly dealing, with the Russians, better than the diplomats. They are forthright, determined, uninterested in politics and not at all eager to have another war, now or any other time.

Annual Tax Sale

STATE OF MICHIGAN In the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix In Chancery. No. 130-4

In the Matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Charlevoix in the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on the 3rd day of March A. D. 1947, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any parts thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by said decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Ward I. Waller, Presiding Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Charlevoix County this 2nd day of January A. D. 1947.

WARD I. WALLER, Presiding by Assignment.

Countersigned, Fenton R. Bulow, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN In the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix In Chancery.

In the Matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County Charlevoix, in Chancery: John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays: a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc. Dated: December 27, 1946.

JOHN D. MORRISON, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Civic Singers Organizing

The civic singing group are now well organized and have had two good meetings. At present they are working on a Cantata, "Olivet to Calvary", which they hope to present to the public sometime around Easter. The committee would like more singers, however, but anyone interested should start practicing immediately so as not to be behind. The group practices every Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the side room of the Presbyterian Church. May we see all you good singers there? (Note:— Thursday evening, Feb. 20 only, practice will start at 8:30 o'clock.)

Rural Telephones

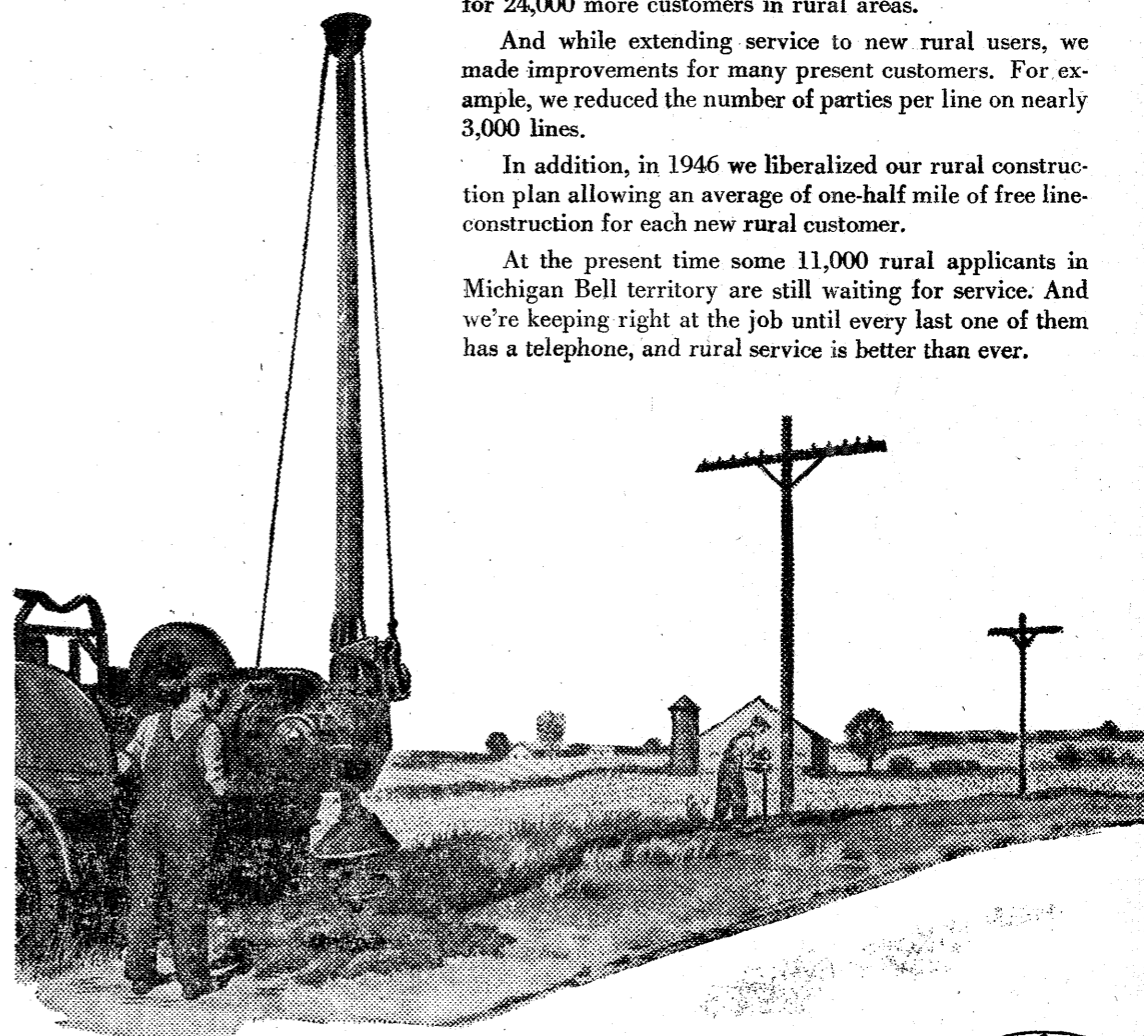

Coming Through!

Our big 5-year $13,500,000 rural expansion and improvement program is moving right along. Last year we added nearly 10,000 miles of wire and provided telephone service for 24,000 more customers in rural areas.

And while extending service to new rural users, we made improvements for many present customers. For example, we reduced the number of parties per line on nearly 3,000 lines.

In addition, in 1946 we liberalized our rural construction plan allowing an average of one-half mile of free line construction for each new rural customer.

At the present time some 11,000 rural applicants in Michigan Bell territory are still waiting for service. And we're keeping right at the job until every last one of them has a telephone, and rural service is better than ever.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon
Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundstone Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.
But when Cissy Cupper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here.
"There's no place better than our town," Cissy says. "And I'd like to start married life at home, with things Bud and I are used to."
Makes sense, come to think of it. Folks naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.
My missus prefers traveling—and that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon—or second honeymoon—than right at home—with your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two—with the best companion in the world.

Soldier Come Home

BY BETTY ZANE WATSON

Johnny Davis, home from war, joins his father at their newspaper office. He falls in love with Kit Willett, a lovely reporter, and is upset to learn that she is engaged to his cousin, Basil Martin. He goes to see his grandmother, Jennifer Martin, who has never acknowledged him or his father because she holds them responsible for her daughter's death at Johnny's birth. She refuses to see him. Johnny kisses Kit and realizes he loves her. Kit, meanwhile, is invited to Martindale to meet Mrs. Martin. She learns that Basil and his father, Henry, seem anxiously awaiting the old woman's death. She is impressed by Mrs. Martin but is hurt at the old woman's curtness.

CHAPTER V

Kit, however, did not stop her typing. She looked up for only a moment. "Can't stop here, Johnny. You'll have to wait another column and a half."

Eventually, the typewriter stopped. "Well, Johnny—that does it." She started on to the door, then turned as she reached it. "Good night, Johnny."

"Kit—" he called as she opened the door.

"Yes?"

"Why—I was going to say that it's pretty late, and if there's no one waiting for you—well, since it's so late—" He felt like an awkward schoolboy asking for his first date, but he was afraid that she might get a wrong impression of his suggestion after the night at the park when he kissed her.

"That you think you better walk home with me?" She smiled. "Well, I don't really think you have any cause for worry, but if it will make you feel better, Johnny. . . ." She closed the door and stood waiting until he told J. D. they were leaving.

The evening was cool, and although there was no moon, the stars scattered themselves across the sky as though God had thrown a handful of stardust on the floor of Heaven.

It was good to be walking with Kit, Johnny thought. He liked her long, even strides keeping pace with his own. They reached her aunt's house all too quickly and Johnny walked up the porch steps with a feeling of regret.

"Would you like me to fix us a cup of coffee, Johnny?" she asked him quickly, as if with sudden decision.

"That would be great, Kit," Johnny answered, both delighted and surprised at her suggestion.

While she was waiting for the coffee to come to a boil, she came over to the table and sat down opposite Johnny.

"Johnny—I asked you in because I wanted to tell you something. I—I met your grandmother last week, Johnny."

He looked at her and the sincerity in her face. The words she spoke were only of secondary importance to him; the fact that she had wanted him to know this—that was most important.

Johnny Takes The Initiative

"Johnny—there's a picture of your mother. It's—" She hesitated, not finding the right words to explain it to him.

"Yes, yes, I know. She's beautiful, isn't she, Kit?" He took his eyes from her and looked down at the table as if the sheer memory of her was a solemn one.

"Then you've been there, Johnny? You've seen her?" she asked quickly.

"Yes—about three weeks ago. I meant to tell you."

"Did you get to talk to her, Johnny?"

"No. But I saw her, and more than that, I saw my mother, Kit. I saw all the things there I needed to keep me trying. There's so much in her eyes. She wanted that park so badly, Kit. And she'll have it yet, I can promise you!"

Kit did not answer him. She only looked at him with deep admiration in her eyes and something deeper in her heart she did not recognize.

The coffee had boiled over and was running down the side of the stove when they finally remembered it.

When Johnny walked home later that evening he had decided on a bold plan. He had talked about it with Kit and together they had decided that it was worth a try. Johnny was to go over to the Settlement and out to the plants early in the morning and try to solicit help to finish the Park project. The men and himself would go to the park with their shovels and what equipment they could muster and begin work where the laborers had left off twenty-three years ago. Kit believed, as did Johnny, that once they had the nerve to start work on the unfinished park, Mrs. Martin would not have them stopped. Perhaps she was even sorry for her decision, but would not give up unless she saw a way to save face, and when she saw that the men of the town meant business, she would keep hands off and let them finish their park.

Johnny thought with enthusiasm of the group that would march to Martindale Park tomorrow. Martindale Park. He turned the name over in his mind and decided he did not like its sound. It should be named for his mother, Linda. Park Linda. Yes, he decided, that would be it. That would please her. He hurried on back to the office, where he knew J. D. would still be working. He would like the name Park Linda, too.

Johnny had no trouble whatsoever the next morning rounding up the men who were not at work at the plants. They were all enthused with his idea and believed, as did Johnny, that Jennifer Martin would not try to stop them.

It was a morning early in October when the little group, with picks and shovels thrown over their sturdy shoulders, walked in a body from the Settlement toward Martindale. They had decided the best plan was to start work at once, for if they waited until spring, half the summer would be wasted before they could manage to complete it. If they started now they could at least make a good beginning by finishing some of the buildings. They would get an appropriation from the Council for the expense of the lumber they would need. J. D. had promised to see to that.

When they reached the Park site the view before them should have discouraged them. The lumber, half rotted from the seasons' wear, was almost entirely worthless. The weeds and debris that covered the field made working impossible until the ground had been cleared. Johnny, the organizer of the group, saw all these things and tried to keep the discouragement from showing in his face. It was a big job ahead of them, and the workers, though more than willing, were not skilled carpenters and builders. But he couldn't let mere discouragement of something that time and work could remedy, change his plans.

There were about twenty men. At Johnny's suggestion they threw down their shovels and picks and the entire group started clearing the field of the weeds and lumber that had been tossed carelessly aside so long ago. They worked continuously until noon, Johnny working right beside them, and had results even over such a short time to show for their efforts. Most of the men could work only until noon, as they had to sleep before they started their next shift at the plants. That afternoon a different group of men that had been working the morning at the plant and in the mines, would be out to help Johnny keep up the work.

Jerry Murphy Issues a Threat

As the men were gathering around Johnny before they left, to hear what he thought of their progress that morning, a short, stocky man pushed his way through them to Johnny. Not recognizing him as one of the men that had worked during the morning, Johnny wondered what the fellow wanted. He thought perhaps it might be someone his grandmother had sent to stop them from finishing the park. But once the man faced him, he knew that it was Jerry Murphy, and that he was drunk, as usual. His father had often pointed him out to Johnny. Jerry's father, a drunkard, had accidentally stumbled into one of the mine shafts years ago and Jerry had sued Mrs. Martin for his death, but in vain, as few had any sympathy for the whole family. They lived at the Settlement and Jerry was employed at one of the plants, but only managed to work when sober, which was little.

"Hello, Jerry. Want a job?" Johnny asked him before the other had a chance to speak.

"Heck, no!" He spit on the ground near Johnny.

The men gathered closer around them. Something was definitely in the air and they did not want to miss anything.

"What's the big idea of starting this thing again?" he continued. "Since when do my friends have to work at this lousy hole? Some more of your grandmother's famous generosity, Davis?"

Johnny looked at him for a moment, so taken back as he was by the man's words and attitude, and then, without waiting a second longer, he gave the fellow the answer he had so plainly asked for. Murphy went sprawling to the ground the moment Johnny's right made contact with his square chin. Murphy tried to spring back to his feet, but the blow, along with his drunken condition, kept him on the ground while Johnny stood above him.

"Get up, Murphy. But get this! These men and I intend to finish this park. What's wrong, man? This park is for the kids. You've got children, Murphy. Don't you want them to have a place to play—a swimming pool?" Johnny asked him.

"I don't want anything to do with old lady Martin," he answered gruffly.

When Johnny started back toward town for lunch, Jerry Murphy walked along beside him.

"Look, Davis, maybe I was wrong about you, but I still am plenty hipped about the old lady. Why, the way she skinned us in court to get out of paying for my old man's killing. . . well, I'll get her yet. You can count on that!"

"I can't figure how it was her fault, Murphy. Just because your father had an accident. . ."

"Accident, was it?" He stopped walking. His face took on an ugly expression.

"All right, Murphy. I'm sure I didn't know anything about it. I wasn't on the jury; it's not for me to say. Shall we forget it?" He wanted to keep peace as nearly as he could with this trouble-maker.

"No, I'll not forget it, Davis. I ain't going to be forgetting anything like that what she done." With this, he left Johnny, turning the corner and disappearing from sight.

Johnny had lunch with J. D. and stopped by the Clarion office long enough to report to Kit that all had gone well during the morning. He thought it best not to mention his altercation with Murphy. She seemed pleased that everything had gone so smoothly for them and gave him a special smile as he left the office.

He did not go directly to the park after noon. He thought it best to walk past the Settlement and see how many men were intending to go with him, so he walked toward that direction. A group of them met him halfway, however, anxious to do their share of the work, too.

Johnny had no premonitions now when returning to the park site. This morning he had wondered just how far his bold plan would get, but having gone through the morning without any notice from the house on the top of the hill, he felt certain that the worst was over. The men talked together and seemed as fired with enthusiasm as did the men who had worked the morning with him.

Waiting for them in the clearing they had made that morning was a group of uniformed men. Johnny recognized the policemen at once and knew by their expressions that the job was against their liking.

McCleary, Chief of Police, walked over to Johnny.

"Johnny, I'll have to be asking you and yer men to leave without any trouble, m'boy." He looked at Johnny to see what effect his orders would have with him.

The Plan Is Temporarily Suspended

Johnny felt the unrest behind him and heard the men talking among themselves, and he knew there was liable to be trouble. Knowing this would only do harm, he turned to them.

"We might as well go home, men. It won't do any good to start trouble. These men aren't enemies. They are merely enforcing the law—their job."

"That's right, men. Do you think we'd be out here if that—if Henry Martin hadn't made us come?" McCleary spoke up, showing his feeling for Martin only too plainly.

Johnny caught a spark of hope. Henry Martin, McCleary had said. Then it wasn't his grandmother this time! Unless she had asked her son to call the police, which was unlikely. Jennifer Martin took care of her own affairs. Well, they would leave now, but not without hope. Because now there was a chance.

The next few weeks were weeks of waiting for Johnny, who had not decided on just what plan to follow after the failure of his last attempt at park building.

He spent much of his time in the office and managed to keep pretty busy. However, his mind was always wandering back to the familiar subject and it was at these times that J. D. or Kit helped him.

He learned much about Kit during those days. And the more he knew the more he loved her. Somehow, she was everything he had ever dreamed of in a girl. He even decided that it was she he had been dreaming of through the long winter of war.

They talked of many things—she, J. D. and Johnny—during the hours when they were alone in the office. And Johnny always sensed a feeling of encouragement in her presence.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:7-18. MEMORY SELECTION—I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.—John 10:11.

An open door! How inviting! Jesus had just been talking to the man once blind (John 9) who had seen the temple door closed against him. It shut him out from all the sacred traditions of his people, but it turned him to Jesus, who presents himself in our lesson as "the door of the sheep."

I. The Door of the Sheep (vv. 7-10).

The preceding verses of chapter 10 are important, for they identify Jesus as the true Shepherd. He speaks of his people as his sheep.

Flocks were sometimes kept in the field at night, as was the case on the night when Jesus was born in Bethlehem. But ordinarily they were brought into a sheepfold, where many flocks gathered for protection. A shepherd was on guard at the door. Thieves would climb the wall to steal sheep, but the true shepherds, when they came in the morning to lead forth their flocks, entered by the door. They called out their own flock by name.

It is said that only sick sheep will follow a stranger, which may explain why so many false isms of our day appeal to the sick and lead them away from the Good Shepherd.

Do you know his blessed voice? Have you responded to his call? Will you follow him? Decide now.

Consider the beautiful figure of the shepherd as the door of the sheepfold. When the sheep enter the fold to rest, he is the door. When they are ready to go out to feed in green pastures again, he is the door.

Note that they go in and out. Belonging to Christ is not bondage. If any man enter in by Christ, the Door, he is free to go in and out, to find pasture, to live for and to serve him.

"The Door"—what a striking figure! It is a means of entry, the only way in. Every door has two sides and the side we are on determines whether we are inside or outside—saved or lost. Children often sing:

"One Door and only one,
And yet its sides are two—
Inside and outside;
On which side are you?"

Then repeating the two first lines comes the direct testimony and question,

"I am on the inside;
On which side are you?"

II. The Keeper of the Sheep (vv. 11-13).

We think of sheep as peacefully grazing on the hillside—an idyllic picture in the summer sunshine. But there were dangers to meet. It is so with Christ's sheep too, and then he is there to keep them. The wolves come out as the shadows gather. They come to kill and to scatter. Where then is the shepherd? If he is only a hireling, serving for what may "be in it" for him, he will flee.

How perfectly this pictures religious leaders, who, in spite of their swelling words and ingratiating manners, desert the flock in the hour of adversity. Fair-weather friends are they, who disappear when darkness and danger appear.

In the darkest hour Jesus is nearest at hand. He never fails. He has no fear, for he has not tasted the bitter death of Cavalry's tree for you and me? He is the Good Shepherd. He gave his life for the sheep. Those who have put their trust in him shall never be put to shame.

III. The Saviour of the Sheep (vv. 14-18).

He laid down his life for the sheep. Ah, yes, it is all too true that evil men laid wicked hands on him and crucified him. Their guilt is awful. But it is clear from Scripture that until the hour had come for Jesus to be made sin for the redemption of man, they could not touch him (see Luke 4:29, 30; John 8:59).

When the time came, Christ laid down his life in accord with "the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God" (Acts 2:23). He died for us, not as a martyr to a cause, or the victim of an accident or miscarriage of justice, but willingly, and for the glory of God.

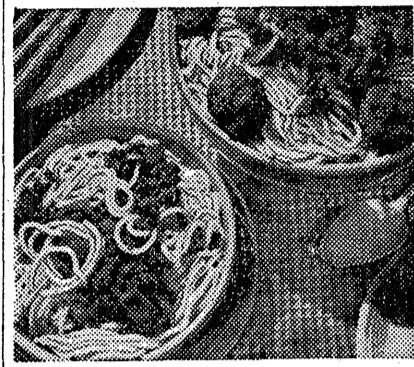

Yes, he died for us, but he also died for every lost soul who will hear his voice. There are "other sheep" about whom the Lord is deeply concerned. Are we?

He "must bring" them—but remember, God works through yielded believers—through men and women. We ought to be eager instruments in his hands to reach these other sheep, whatever their race, creed, or condition.

Do not miss the note of unity in verse 16. "There shall be one fold." Sometimes one wonders as Christians fight one another how they will ever be brought into the unity of one fold. Only the Lord can do it—he "must bring" us together—but let us not contribute one iota to the confusion and division which must so grieve his Father-heart.

Serve Casseroles For Late Evening Snacks, Parties

Ingredients for this home style Italian spaghetti are simple and economical. The cooking time is brief but this dish can make you an enviable reputation.

Simple but Satisfying

There's still plenty of nippy weather ahead before spring breezes warm up the days and evenings, and there's nothing more welcome on a crisp evening after the gang of youngsters has been out skating, skiing or coming home from a play than a sizzling hot casserole and a tossed salad.

Or if you have friends over and the evening begins to run out, there's no better way to wind it up than with a nice, homey oven dish to warm up the spirit and satisfy the appetite.

Make refreshments simple by tossing together the salad right after dinner—or at least getting things ready for the toss up. Also, prepare the casserole, store in the refrigerator and then about three-quarters of an hour before serving, slip it into the oven.

While we're watching our budgets, we're all looking for inexpensive dishes for entertaining. Utilize leftovers for casseroles, and make them stretch with such good foods as macaroni, spaghetti and noodles.

Here's an inexpensive but popular suggestion for late evening snacks:

*Italian Spaghetti (Serves 6 to 8)

½ pound long spaghetti
1 pound ground beef
3 to 4 tablespoons cooking oil
1 green pepper, cut fine
1 large onion, minced
½ cup celery, cut fine
½ cup mushrooms, sliced
2 cans tomato puree
Salt and pepper to taste
Fry onion in oil until lightly browned. Add pepper, celery, mushrooms and cook covered until they are tender. Add tomato puree. Turn fire low. Place on top of sauce the ground beef which has been seasoned and formed into small balls. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Turn meat balls once.

Serve this sauce over freshly cooked spaghetti. Cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. Serve with grated cheese and meat balls.

One-Dish Meal (Serves 6)

2 cups diced carrots
1½ cups diced celery
6 medium potatoes, pared and sliced
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup meat stock
3 tablespoons sliced onion
1 cup canned or cooked peas
1½ to 2 cups diced leftover meat
½ cup bread crumbs
3 tablespoons melted butter
Cook carrots, celery and potatoes separately in boiling, salted water until tender. (Leftover cooked vegetables may be used.) Melt butter, blend in flour, add milk and meat stock; cook over direct heat until sauce thickens, stirring constantly. Add salt. Combine sauce with remaining ingredients, except crumbs and melted butter, and pour into a two quart buttered

LYNN SAYS:

Plan Short Cuts to Aid in Meal Preparation

Plan ahead and do everything in advance that is possible. Puddings and most desserts can be prepared in advance; salad fruit and vegetables cleaned and chilled though not mixed together; salad dressings prepared; hot bread batters made and chilled, pans buttered; casseroles may be made ahead and chilled and the table set.

casserole. Combine crumbs and melted butter and sprinkle over top. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 35 to 40 minutes until top is browned and mixture thoroughly heated.

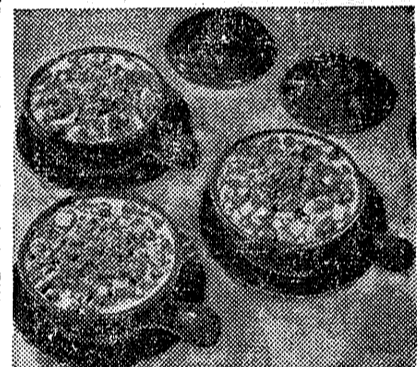

The goodness of apples and ham combine with macaroni in the following recipe to give you a dish for cool, tart evenings:

Ham and Apple Casserole. (Serves 6)

6 to 8 ounces elbow macaroni
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons mustard
1½ cups milk
1 cup ground ham
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chopped celery
2 apples
3 tablespoons brown sugar

Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water for 10 minutes. Drain and rinse. Melt butter, blend in flour, mustard and milk. Cook slowly until thickened, stirring constantly. Combine all ingredients except apples and sugar and pour into a greased baking dish. Dice apples and spread over top of casserole. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 30 minutes.

Simple little tricks add a lot of eye appeal to certain simple dishes, such as this one. In this case, the cooked noodles are mixed with minced pimiento and green pepper and placed in a casserole. Then, press a "nest" into the center of the noodles and fill this with a mixture of creamed tuna fish. Serve with a colorful salad of sliced tomatoes and chunks of crisp lettuce, or a tomato aspic ring filled with cole slaw.

Leftovers take on glamor while clearing the refrigerator when used with spicy seasonings in this crumb topped casserole. White sauce helps adults and children get milk necessary in the diet.

Creamed Tuna, Noodle Nest. (Serves 6)

8 ounces noodles
3 tablespoons each, pimiento and green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper
1½ cups milk
1 6-ounce can tuna fish
1 cup cooked green peas

Cook noodles in boiling, salted water until tender. Mix with pimiento and green pepper and make nest in casserole. Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper to taste and milk. Cook until thick and smooth. Add tuna and peas and pour into noodle nest. Heat in moderate oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Here is an easily prepared salad that is rich enough to satisfy winter appetites:

Calavo Beet Salad.

Calavo half shells
Lemon juice
Salt
Finely shredded uncooked beets
Thinly sliced green sweet pepper
French dressing
Salad greens for garnish
Hard-cooked eggs
Mayonnaise (optional)

To prepare calavo half shells, cut fruit into halves lengthwise and remove seed. Sprinkle cut portions of fruit with lemon juice and salt. Dress combined beets and pepper with french dressing. Place calavo half shells on garnished salad plates and fill seed cavities with vegetable mixture. Top each salad with a quarter of a hard-cooked egg. Garnish with mayonnaise, if desired.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Sauces for vegetables and entrees may be made ahead of time if they are chilled.

See that you have enough salad dressings ready in the refrigerator at the beginning of the week so you do not have to take time before meals to put them together.

Some things should never be done ahead. Never squeeze citrus fruit juice, for example, or prepare meat, fish or egg dishes without placing them in refrigerator until cooking time.

YOU SHOULD KNOW YOUR RADIO!

by T. M. Luxford

There is more to tell you this week than there is allotted space in which to tell it, and it is very good news. I am going to incorporate the gist of it in this article and give you the details later.

Last Friday morning an impromptu consultation was started in the Herald office between Paul Lisk and myself on radio interference which has been the subject of this column the past few weeks. Paul and I are fire-side sitters and we hesitated leaving the warmth of the Herald office but we braved the elements at great personal sacrifice and skidded down the ice to the City Building. With the kind assistance of Miss Bartlett, our city clerk, we dug out ordinance 53, regarding radio interference, passed by the council March 3, 1930 and printed in the Herald March 7, 1930. I want to call your attention to a reprint of parts of this ordinance in this week's issue of the Herald. To complete the entire picture you should also read the council proceedings of last Monday Feb. 17, also in the Herald this week. Finding myself uncomfortable close to the city jail I urged Paul to continue over to the Michigan Public Service building, where we contacted Ole Hegerberg. He was busy unpacking a new shipment of kilowatts which he had just received from the main warehouse gladly but took time to offer valuable suggestions concerning our problem, and pledged the full cooperation of the power company. Contacts made during this week with several business men of East Jordan resulted in the promise of 100 per cent cooperation so far in ridding East Jordan of radio interference and the willingness exhibited is certainly gratifying. All this was climaxed by the action taken by the city council Monday evening.

Pausing to review all this, you and I owe a public vote of thanks to Michigan Public Service, the business men who have promised their support, and last but not least, to Mayor Whiteford and the members of the city council. There are many towns, villages and even large cities whose governing body live in a modern manner with all the modern conveniences but whose minds react in a horse and buggy manner.

Many cities have an ordinance such as our ordinance 53. All laws are made for the protection and convenience of the public. That is the purpose of this one. The majority of us choose to live and abide by the laws, however, unfortunately, there are always a few who don't. So laws have penalties as does ordinance 53, to be inflicted upon a few if necessary, and for the benefit of the community as a whole. If you and I take ordinance 53 as a personal insult to our public spirit and willingness to cooperate for the public good as well as ourselves, we are very narrow-minded. I expect to find practically 100 per cent cooperation from this community, if not fully 100 per cent. I have contacted over 500 people in my business here. I have yet to meet a dyed in the wool sourpuss.

There will be some of you who will find it necessary to filter noise from one or more electrical devices which you own and operate. Some of you

Will Be Here March 18, to Assist Taxpayers on Intangibles

On March 18, 1947 Mr. Jay C. Harbaugh representing the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at the East Jordan State Bank between the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax returns due not later than March 31, 1947.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States bonds, including War Bonds, are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks or building and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100 per cent taxable including Michigan Corporations.

The Department has issued a warning to all owners of property, such as is outlined above, to file the necessary return forms prior to March 31. The Revenue Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangibles Tax Act. Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Mr. Harbaugh will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangibles Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year 1946 and copy of their 1946 return filed with the Department.

will escape entirely. You have a right to expect and you will receive full cooperation in filtering out the noise with the least possible expense. Filters cost from 50 cents and up. Many of you can install your own filters and save the cost of installation. Advice will be given free.

In this paper you will see my advice giving prices at hourly rates for installation of filters. Most ads are for the purpose of getting more business. This ad has a different thought. Thanks to you, I have been more than busy since I started my business. As interference locator for the community I am going to be still busier. Therefore the ad is intended only to reveal that I am available if you get stuck. Location of any noise remember is free. Advice on type of filter and installation is free. Inspection of your premises is free. Any reliable electrician or radio technician can install filters.

Shortly we will have equipment of our own to locate interference. At present thru the courtesy of Michigan Public Service, we will be allowed to use theirs. When you inform me of noise in your radio I will get there as soon as possible. I ask you to write, not to phone or see me personally. That is to save my time. I will not be able to acknowledge receipt of your letter or card for the same reason. I want to emphasize the fact that you should inform me at once. I expect to be swamped but the only way I will have knowing where noises are occurring is thru you. I want to know now so I can plot it on a city map and lay my plans for elimination. If I don't get to you as soon as you expect don't feel neglected. I will neglect no report and will arrive eventually to take care of it. We ask you to carefully read the following instructions, cut them out and place inside your radio or some convenient place where you won't lose them:

1. Address all reports to T. M. Luxford, East Jordan, Michigan.

2. Give your full name and Street address. If you have no street number give explicit direction as to your location.

3. Before reporting any noise, turn off all electrical appliances including fluorescent fixtures. Turn the radio on. If noise is still there turn the dial from one end to the other. Report the following:

a. Is noise all over the dial?
b. Is it louder at some certain point?

c. Does it occur at some certain time every day or is it continuous?
d. Describe it as best you can.

4. Check with two or three neighbors and find out if they get it too.

5. If you have an aerial external from the set check it for bad connections or breaks.

6. Write me when it stops. It may have been corrected as a result of some other call in your neighborhood.

While I cannot extend this interference location service too far beyond the city limits I don't want rural districts to feel neglected. I have received numerous complaints from outside the city. I'll be glad to help when I can find the time. Occasionally I may be able to drive out and do some checking. It will be free, although I might hint that I am not allergic to chicken or turkey dinners.

Just before this goes to press I received news you should hear as well as appreciate. The sincere promise of the officials of the East Jordan Iron Works to do everything possible to eliminate all radio interference radiating from their factory has been extended. In fact if it were possible to give more than 100 per cent cooperation they are willing and anxious to give it. I have met officials of other local industries and although I have had insufficient time to contact all of them with respect to this project, I can vouch for their cooperation.

In conclusion, let me say, we have a big job to do. We have all got to pull together. The success or failure of this project rests on all of us individually as well as collectively. Don't wait for your neighbor to report interference. He may be waiting for you. Lets go!

Thanks

I deeply appreciate the support given me by the voters of Charlevoix County at the recent primaries, and the many letters of encouragement.
