

"Wets And Drys" At It Again

SHALL THE AMERICAN LEGION BE ALLOWED TO OPERATE A "CLUB BAR"

This mooted question will be submitted to the electorate at the primary to be held Tuesday, July 29. This proposition has been in the public eye for a long time and most of us know well enough how we intend to vote. It was submitted to our Council who turned thumbs down on the question. And so, dear public, it is now up to you to decide, not so much who will fill the Fred Bradley shoes in Congress, rather it is on the question of a "Club Bar". — The date is Tuesday, July 29th.

For Your Safety, Don't Start Fires With Kerosene Our Firemen Urge

Just recently there has been several fires where loss has been severe. Injuries have occurred which were caused by the use of kerosene to start or "rustle up" a fire in the kitchen range. The report in the daily papers stated that the damage was caused by the blowing up of an oil stove but, in fact, it was caused by pouring kerosene on smoldering coals in a wood burning stove which caused gas to form and then let go with considerable force. The best advice we have heard in regard to the use of kerosene in starting fires is, don't use it at all! Some other method may take a bit longer but loss of life or long weeks spent in a hospital to say nothing of the suffering cannot be offset by the saving of a few minutes.

And let us be very careful that when we get kerosene that it really is kerosene and not gasoline. Keep the gasoline in a properly marked, red container and not of more than one gallon capacity. According to the Fire Division of the Michigan State Police, starting fires with kerosene is the greatest single cause of loss of life by fire in Michigan. This is written to call your attention especially to the danger in the use of kerosene in starting fires, don't you think it a good idea to have the fire prevention idea in your mind at all times? Keep that basement clean, all waste papers tightly banded and disposed of, in short, be a good housekeeper whether, shop worker, store keeper or home maker.

Your Fire Department Generations of the future will wonder what was done with all the tax money — well! what was done with it?

Fire And Kerosene A Bad Mixture

MOTHER AND INFANT PAY PENALTY FOR ERROR

Mrs. Ivan Kinner died Tuesday night at Charlevoix hospital, from burns received at her home on the West Side, last Friday forenoon. An infant son, Charles Irvin was killed almost instantly by the explosion and intense blaze. The blaze was, so it is said, started when a five-gallon can, containing some kerosene, was used to start a fire in the range. Mrs. Kinner, age 25, sustained third degree burns on her body. Larry Streeter, 14, living nearby, dashed to the home, opened the door, dragged Mrs. Kinner out of the house and called for a blanket to extinguish the blaze in her clothing. Funeral services for the infant were held at the Watson Funeral Home Saturday afternoon. Burial at Sunset Hill. Services for Mrs. Kinner were held Thursday forenoon at the L.D.S. church. Besides her husband, she is survived by Gerald 8, Joan 3, and Catherine 2. The house, located on Division street on the west side of town, was partly destroyed by the blaze which East Jordan firemen fought for more than an hour. The two story frame house is owned by Mrs. Kinner's mother, Mrs. Muriel Roberts of Traverse City. Mrs. Kinner is the former Dorothy Roberts. At the time of the fire Mr. Kinner was at work on the US-131 road construction project near Boyne Falls. He is a veteran of World War II.

Gov. Sigler Proclaims Week of July 20-26 Farm Safety Week

In proclaiming the week of July 20 to 26 as Farm Safety Week in Michigan, Governor Kim Sigler joined with President Harry Truman in calling upon citizens to cooperate in cutting the number of farm accidents in Michigan and the Nation. "More than one hundred seventy farm people were killed accidentally last year on the farm. Many hundreds were seriously injured and endured much suffering and economic loss," the Governor's proclamation pointed out. "Two million dollars worth of farm property is destroyed annually by fire.

"The majority of these accidents and fires, with the accompanying toll and request all persons and organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life to cooperate in the observance of Farm Safety Week to the end that safety hazards may be removed from farms."

President Truman, in his proclamation, urged farm people everywhere to set aside a specific time during National Farm Safety Week for family discussions of methods for the prevention of accidents, in order that the producers of the Nation's food may live and work with greater safety.

Attention East Jordan

In regard to granting a club license to the Legion Post. I hope the people of East Jordan will think carefully, as I realize that good respectable young men that would not be seen in one of the beer joints, would go in the Legion Post and buy whiskey, not realizing it would create an appetite that in time would make him a habitual drunkard ruin his life and in many cases separate their homes, etc. And you will soon find them in any old beer joint with all the other drunks.

And not only that, the City Council has did the best they could and have inquired into these things and used their best judgment when they turn it down, and how do you think it will make them feel if this is carried over their heads? Don't you think it will have a tendency to make them careless until you may find it in most of the drug stores and such like till it won't be a fit place for a respectable man or woman to go in, for I can tell you from past experience that one drink on an empty stomach and he or she is no more a gentleman or a lady. They may insult your son or daughter as mine. Now, I want you Legion members to think this over and change your attitude about it, and let's everyone that is able to vote get out, old and young, and let the Council know we do respect their judgment and vote this thing down the next election which is July 29th.

May God bless you all. Elder Burt J. Gates. (advertisement).

Homemakers' Corner

SPRAY HOUSE FLIES WITH DDT SOLUTION

To kill house flies you will find that DDT is one of the best materials you can use advises Ray L. James, Extension entomologist at Michigan State college. Aerosol sprays containing DDT are easy and quick to use for killing flies indoors. These sprays make a fine mist that kills every fly it hits, but has no long-lasting effect. Residual sprays on the other hand, may be effective for several months in killing flies that touch sprayed places. Around the house use a 5 percent DDT oil solution. Spray where flies usually rest. Spray kitchen and dining room walls and ceilings thoroughly. Brush spray on window and door screens to kill flies before they enter the house and spray it around porches and garbage cans. Outdoor areas may need to be treated every two or three weeks or as needed during the summer.

Don't use the 5 percent oil solution where it will get on plants or gardens because it will burn them. In such places use a wettable DDT powder in water instead. Other precautions are very important: (1) Do not let sprays get on eating utensils or food; (2) Never use oil solutions on animals; (3) Never spray oil solutions near open fires; (4) When applying DDT, remove fish and pets from the room and cover plants; (5) Wash your hands after using DDT.

Will Ask General Rate Increase

MICHIGAN BELL TO ASK M. P. S. COM. TO INCREASE RATES

Detroit. — The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has formally announced its intention to file a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission for a general rate increase.

Pointing out that it will mark the first time in 21 years that the company has sought a general increase in its charges, President Thomas N. Lacy declared that "prewar rates are no longer enough to meet postwar costs."

Beyond the indication that, "as a matter of fairness to all our customers," the proposed increase will be applied to all types of telephone service, Lacy did not reveal the extent of the proposed rate boosts. In accordance with the statute, the company will advertise its specific proposals during the week of August 3, preliminary to the filing of its petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission later that month for approval.

"Michigan Bell today is operating under a general rate schedule established by the commission in the latter part of 1936," Lacy continued. "Except in towns where local rates have been lowered still further and for toll-rate reductions, the rates of 10 years ago are still in effect. Meanwhile, the cost of everything used in furnishing telephone service — wages, taxes, and supplies has gone up.

"Postwar wage increase alone, for example, have raised Michigan Bell costs nearly $11,000,000 a year.

"Although the amount of business that we have been doing has risen sharply, the increase income has not kept pace with the rapid upward movement in costs. Since 1937, our income has gone up 2 1/2 times, but cost operating the business are now three times the level of 10 years ago.

"As a result, our return on investment has slipped far below the danger mark. Based on today's telephone rates, the company's return now is only 4 1/2 cents on its investment dollar — a drop of more than one-third under the rate of return in 1937. If the new rates ordered by the Commission in 1946 were being charged today, the return would be even lower — actually, less than 3 1/2 per cent. That rate order is now on appeal in the Ingham Circuit Court.

"It is one thing for earnings to be at such low point in a period of depression and with a surplus of plant facilities; it is quite another to be limited to such bedrock return at a time of inflation and shortage of plant facilities.

"If our plant were increase by the millions of dollars necessary to restore peacetime margins for better service, the rate of return obviously would dip to an even more shocking level. A growing business especially has to earn a good return to attract the capital needed for that growth.

"Any decision to increase rates is a hard one to make. It reverses a trend in our operations which has brought rate reductions that are now saving our customers $20,000,000 a year compared with rates of a quarter of a century ago.

"We have held off this decision as long as possible. Rate increase already have been requested in 29 other states. In 17 of those states, increased rates have been ordered by regulatory authorities. Sixteen independent telephone companies have been granted increases by the Michigan Public Service Commission and two more such applications are still pending.

"Michigan Bell has legal and moral obligation to provide the best possible service to as many as ask for it, within the limits of its ability to do so. That obligation — to provide more and better service — will cost a lot of investment money from here on. That money must come from investors who will put their money into this business only if assured of fair return. No such assurance can be provided under existing rates.

"The alternative to increase telephone rates, in the final analysis, is inferior service. Poor service is an expensive luxury that neither an individual nor a community can afford. The new rates will be just as low as possible. They will be no higher than necessary for us to provide the kind of service our customers want."

Light on the Problem Of Human Suffering

LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 20—Job 1:8; 2:7-10; 19:7-10; 42:1-5; James 5:11.
MEMORY SELECTION—Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.—II Timothy 2:3.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted
by International Council of Religious Education by permission.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

HUMAN suffering—what a problem it is to all of us, in greater or smaller measure. From the broken heart of men and women comes the question "Why?"

We cannot always answer, nor do we fully know the meaning and purpose. We must often simply put ourselves and our loved ones into the hands of God, trusting him to bring us into assurance and victory.

There are some things we can know, and they are most helpful.
The book of Job reveals much concerning the background of suffering and its uses and advantages. It is not all loss and pain. God does not forget his people in their hour of trial.

Job had suffered the loss of property, family, and was now personally afflicted by sickness of his body. His friends who came to comfort him had added to his troubles by their pious platitudes about suffering being the result of sin (cf John 9:3), and so on.

There was enough truth in what they said to make it hurt, and so we are doubly glad we are given a look behind the scenes. We learn that this was not a struggle between God and Job, nor even between Satan and Job. We see

I. The Battle Between God and Satan (Job 1:8).

READ the entire story here and you will see that Satan, when faced by God with the godly example of Job's life, threw down a challenge. He declared that the only reason Job loved God was because he received so much good out of it, because God protected him.

The issue was clearly drawn;
the question was whether God was able to keep a man in the midst of trial and suffering. Was His grace sufficient for the dark hours of life as well as the happy and bright ones?

Having stripped Job of all his possessions, and left him childless and heart broken, Satan had to admit failure up to that point. But he sneeringly slandered both Job and God by saying that Job was not concerned about these other things so long as his own body was unharmed (2:4, 5).

So the Lord permitted him to afflict Job's body, and we see the conflict raging in

II. The Battleground—the Life of Job (2:7-10; 19:7-10).

THE mystery of God's permissive will enters into the picture here, and we learn too that Satan, while a mighty being, has limits to his power. God may give him liberty to test his people, but it is never with the thought that they will fall; rather to prove that they can stand true come what may.

Was any mortal ever more afflicted than Job? We find him finally an outcast, sitting on an ash heap, scraping the awful sores upon his poor body.

Job did have his times of questioning and doubt (19:7-10). He felt at times that God had forsaken him.
He misunderstood the providences of God. But through it all he held on to his faith in God. He could do without his possessions (1:21). God could even take his life and he would say, "Though he slay me, yet will I trust him." He saw beyond the grave, for he knew that if his body were destroyed he would still see his Redeemer.

What more sublime expression of faith could a man make than to say in his hour of seeming despair, "I know that my Redeemer liveth."
How did it all come out in the end? That is our last point.

III. The Outcome—Victory for God in Job (42:1-5; James 5:11).

JOB had to come to the end of himself. Judging himself to be unworthy (42:6), he repented of all his own self-righteousness and cast himself upon the mercy of God. God then vindicated him and restored him to a place of blessing and usefulness.

The answer then to our problem is this—God is able to keep to the utmost those who put their trust in him (Heb. 7:25) through the grace he gives. Suffering may be in his permissive will for our own self-judgment and growth in grace. But back of it all is the assurance that God knows about it, he has not turned away; that in due season, if we faint not, we shall see victory.

Ultimately, the question is not whether we can stand or not, but whether God is able to keep us in the midst of the onslaught of the world, the flesh and the devil.

Why Michigan Bell must ask for a Rate Increase

THERE has not been an increase in telephone rates in 21 years. From 1926 until 1937, our rates went down substantially. Except for even further reductions in local rates in a number of exchanges and decreases in toll rates, those 1937 rates are still in effect—despite the fact that the cost of almost everything . . . wages, taxes, supplies . . . has been going up.

For example, post-war wage adjustments alone have boosted our costs nearly $11,000,000 a year, including settlements reached during the recent strike.

Actually, all our costs put together have gone up much faster than our income.

In the ten years since 1937, income has gone up 141%, costs have gone up 193% and our return on investment has dropped more than a third.

It's just simple arithmetic that 1937 rates won't work in 1947.

We've tried to make both ends meet without increasing rates. We've held off as long as possible. But now, we've got to ask for an increase—because it is absolutely necessary to protect our customers' service.

It will take a lot of money from investors to give more service and better quality service from here on. Investors will put up the money only if they are assured a fair return, which we cannot provide under our present rates.

So the future quality of Michigan's telephone service depends on raising rates enough to assure the financial stability of your telephone company.

That's why we're going to ask the Michigan Public Service Commission* for a public hearing to review our proposed new schedule of rates. During the week of August 3, we'll publish details of the

*The body established by State law and appointed by the Governor to regulate utility rates.

proposed rates throughout Michigan Bell territory.
After that, we'll file the petition with the Public Service Commission.

Telephone service will still be a bargain at the proposed rates. We'd rather not be asking for an increase. But that's the only way we can assure our customers the kind of service they want. For 1937 rates won't work in 1947.

Where the term "Income" is used above, its meaning is the same as "Revenue" or "Gross Income." When the term "Investment" is used, it means the original cost of the telephone property less the depreciation reserve accrued against the ultimate retirement of the property.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

This Michigan Marco Polo, whose thrills of travel re-discoveries have been faithfully recorded in this column for more than ten years, is hitting the trail again.

We had a grandfather who hit the preaching trail for a lifetime. We like our travelings in doses — not every week as a steady diet.

This time we are leaving behind, and with some pangs of regret, a diverse assortment of camping paraphernalia including a 9 x 12 tent, a collapsible spring bed, a folding camp table, a couple chairs and a memorable wood-burning stove that was made, designed, originally to warm a fish shanty.

Yes we're going to travel the easy way. No more wrestling with tent poles in pitch blackness or in a soaking rain; no more chopping wood to keep our little cricket happy. No Sirree!

We are going to take our own cabin along with us. Any place our automobile can go, our new 19-foot Michigan-made house trailer can go. At least, so we now think.

Having a snug apartment on wheels ready to use when you arrive at your destination, is a luxury for this veteran camping fan. We don't know what our old buddies of World War I would say about this deluxe way of going places and seeing things. But after giving it the works over the Fourth of July week-end, we can truthfully say that it beats a 40 and 8 boxcar all hollow.

One essential for trailer travel, we have learned, is that you must be on good speaking terms with your wife. The distance from the daybed or davenport at the front to the Hollywood-style bed at the back is only 19 feet. In between is the kitchen with a stove, ice box, places to keep pots and pans and a lot of room for arguments.

There isn't a whole lot of space, you see. People who live in trailers must be like folks who live in glass houses, if anyone was silly enough ever to do that. You've just got to get along with the missus. If she hurred a dish or shoe at you, the result would be utter, stark disaster. You couldn't duck.

The missus is pretty well accustomed to our yen for camping outdoors. Several years ago, inspired by pictures she saw in a L. L. Bean catalog, she purchased a neat outdoors outfit. When it arrived and she put it on; lo and behold, what greeted astoished eyes was this: A floppy coat, baggy pants, all in a dirty green color that utterly defied fashion description.

The poet of Mt. Pleasant, Webb McCall, once cast his optics on it and solemnly proclaimed: "L. L. Bean is my trailer, and I shall want."

Why did we happen to take the trailer plunge? It's awfully simple: maybe it's simply awful.

During the war-years we jointly fostered a fund to finance a cabin in the w.k. piney woods of Northern Michigan. This summer we surveyed our summer's traveling itinerary of newspaper meetings here and there. It seemed foolish to invest in a cabin, when we would be at Traverse City one week-end, and somewhere else the next. Hence, our cabin on wheels.

Next week, after the Lowell Showboat sails on Tuesday night, we're heading north for the Porcupine Mountains State Park and an editor's get-together at Ontonagon. Michigan is a great place to live. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

Know Your Radio

For some time we have been writing about interference on your radio. So far we have treated the subject in the light that you are more interested in methods used to get rid of it than you are in the conditions that cause it. Very few of you understand the problems that present themselves and many of you are not interested in causes. You are more concerned with results. That's as it should be. However many have asked us such types of questions as to lead us to believe that an article revealing some of the problems encountered would not go amiss. In other words there are types who want to know all about it. We all represent types. I am a certain type of writer. That makes me a typewriter, I guess. Just call me Corona the next time you see me. I hope, by now, that I have you just as confused as I am. We start out even. You have to be in a confused state of mind anyway to understand radio interference. You have to be more confused to understand me, and you will be.

I told Paul I didn't know what to write about this week. He says, "Do you ever?" My report is censored.

Eliminating radio interference would be easy if we could successfully employ some filters at the radio. Filters have been on the market for years which are supposed to be used at the radio but have proven ineffective. They must be applied at the source of the noise. This means a filter must be attached to each offending device, making the problem much more complicated because the location of the noise-maker must first be determined and, next, the proper filter found and applied. It would be comparatively simple if we could definitely know the type of filter which would always work on a certain device. Unfortunately, this is not true. While we have, from experience, certain rules to follow, we frequently have to resort to trial and error methods. For example, a filter which is successful on a fluorescent fixture in one location is unsuccessful in another location. Several factors enter into such a case and we have to follow a particular line of fundamental reasoning.

It was the experience of the writer to have worked part of the time during the war for the Ordnance dept., U.S. Gov't on motor vehicle radio noise suppression. Here we encountered ignition noise emanating from various types of motor vehicles. It was necessary to suppress such noise to the extent that it would not interfere with radio communication. Furthermore, it was possible for the enemy, using radio location devices, to quite accurately locate our mechanized forces from the ignition noise radiated by the motor vehicles. It is interesting to note that many such interference problems were never solved and some of the world's best engineers were working on them.

Radio interference radiates from its source in the same form of energy that your radio programs are sent. It is picked up by your aerial and conducted into your radio the same as your program. Consequently, because of the fact that it is the same form of energy as your program, if you attach anything to your radio that will stop it, you will also stop your program. The only alternative is to locate the device sending out the interference and arrest it at its source. We will continue this discussion next week.

From a thoroughly unreliable source, we have reported an inventive genius in our community. When Major Hoople kicks off, this wizard will take his place. Besides his regular job, he sharpens lawn-mowers on the side. They cut better going around corners if they are sharpened on the side. This one-man brain-trust laughingly remarks that his business is better when its dull. His latest invention will soon be on the market. It is alleged (this saves us from a libel suit, we hope) that he has an attachment for your lawn-mower that will pull out the dandelions as it cuts your grass. We might suggest adding to the attachment an arrangement for planting crocuses in their place. His interest in your lawn is not because he likes the grass less but because he loves the lawn-mower. I have an invention myself. Why hide my light behind a bushel or even a thimble for that matter. It hasn't been marketed because of financial difficulties. It's an outdoor barbecue cleverly designed with no place for the fire. Such an ingenious arrangement makes it just ducky for people who don't like to cook out of doors. For dessert you could have my favorite dish — a chocolate soda without chocolate. These are easily obtainable, now that we have plenty of chocolate to serve them without. It was hard to serve them during the war, because chocolate was so scarce. After all, no-one forces you to read this stuff.

In a swank cafe the other evening a patron looked up from the menu, motioned for the waiter, and said, "I see here that you have beef hash for eighty-five cents and also beef hash for one dollar, thirty-five cents — What's the difference?"

stupid expression beclouded the waiter's face and in an apologetic voice he replied, "I'm sorry, sir, but I'm no good at arithmetic either."

Financial Finagling

Pat had opened his first bank account and had taken to paying most of his bills by check. One day the bank sent him a statement together with a packet of cancelled checks. Of the statement Pat made neither head nor tail but the returned checks pleased him greatly.

"Mike," he said to a friend. "It's a smart bank I am doing business with now. Oi paid all me bills wid checks and be jabbers if the bank wasn't slick enough to get every check back for me."

UNFAIR COMPETITION

A decrepit horse was being offered to the highest bidder. An old farmer watched as a young man in riding breeches bid for the animal. When the sale was completed, he turned to the young fellow. "Tell me," he said, "what on earth are you going to do with that nag?"

"Oh," replied the cocky young sportsman, "I'm going to race him."

The farmer took a second look at the animal. "Well, you'll win," he said.

Save the Pans!

Edgar, a veteran of many battles, had never had a fight like this one! His wife was beating him over the head with a saucepan. His mother-in-law, hearing the racket, dashed into the room.

"Unhand that bum, daughter!" she bellowed.

Edgar thought he must be delirious. What mother-in-law — especially his — ever took the side of a son-in-law in a family row? But he soon awoke to the cold grim truth when the old lady continued:

"If you want to hit him, use the old saucepans! I won't have you knocking all the enamel off my new ones!"

Telling Him Off

Easy-going, indifferently educated Sam Jenkins married a school teacher, a precise, extremely erudite woman of decided opinions and it was soon evident they would not hit it off very well together.

"I guess," commented one friend of the unfortunate Sam, "that you are overcome by your wife's powers of diction."

"Not at all, not at all," rejoined Sam. "What's got me licked is her almighty power of contradiction."

To the People of the 11th Congressional District:

Petitions have been filed with the Secretary of State on behalf of

Otto W. Bishop

of Alpena for the office of Representative in Congress from the 11th Congressional District to be voted for in the Primary Election to be held on July 29, 1947.

Mr. Bishop is now serving his 7th term in the Michigan State Senate. He has been signally honored by his district in not having any opposition in either Primary or General elections during the last four terms.

During his period of service in the State Senate he has been either Chairman of, or a member of its most important Committees. Today he is Chairman of the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committee of the Senate, as well as Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Highways, Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Senate Business, and a member of the important committee on Interstate Cooperation. Not alone has he had many years of experience in State Government, but previously had eleven years experience in local or city government. Such experience in Government on both local and state level make him well qualified to perform and assume the duties of Representative in Congress.

In addition to the training he has received in the political field, he has had an extensive business career, first as a clerk in a general store for five years, then as an employee of a National Bank for twenty years in all banking positions from Clerk to Cashier.

During his early business career he also developed an insurance business from scratch, which he still operates. Following his resignation from the bank he entered the commercial fishing business and operated for years a fleet of tugs on the Great Lakes giving him an intimate knowledge of that industry. Some years ago he entered the Retail Coal business and is now operating a successful business under the name of the Bishop Coal Company. He is past President of the Michigan Retail Coal Dealers' Association, and is still one of its Board of Directors. He also served for a number of years as a Director of the American Retail Coal Dealers' Association.

He is a life long resident of Northern Michigan having been born in the City of Alpena, and has long been active in the civic, political and business affairs of this section of the state. He has been active in Boys' Work, is past President and present Director of the Alpena Boys' Club.

Since he became a member of the Michigan State Senate he has devoted much time and effort to developing and promoting the Tourist and Resort industry of Northern Michigan having annually, during the last thirteen years, secured appropriations for the support and development of this industry. He drafted the Act which created the Michigan Tourist Council.

He has been especially active in support of Veterans' measures, being the first to introduce a bill creating a Reserve Fund for disabled veterans, their widows and dependents.

A very important measure introduced by him, and which readily received the approval of all his colleagues, was a bill to prevent over-drafts by all state Boards, Commissions, Agencies and Departments.

It is well known by the County Road Commissioners of Northern Michigan that he has always been active in promoting legislation beneficial to the development of our road system. His interest in the promotion of education, both primary and higher forms, is well known.

His record of accomplishment in political, civic and business activities indicate that he is well qualified to cope with the fiscal, tax and other problems now facing our government which must be solved in the next session of Congress. He solicits your careful consideration of his candidacy for the office and will appreciate your support in the Primary Election, July 29, 1947.

PENINSULA... (Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Mrs. Marion Pillsbury, who with her husband Marion Pillsbury, have occupied the Sid. Hayden cottage north of Whiting Park for the past 16 months, passed away Wednesday evening, July 9th, after many weeks of suffering with tumors. She is survived by her husband.

Old residents of the Peninsula will be concerned to hear of the death of Mrs. Lona Coblentz Campbell. Mrs. Campbell spent her childhood and early womanhood at Lone Ash farm, now occupied by the A. Reich family, and attended the Star School. The funeral was held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Stackus Funeral Home, Boyne City, with bearers chosen from her childhood friends: Fred Crowell, Frank Russell, Arthur Nicloy, Ray Loomis, Cash Hayden with one from Boyne City. Lona was a lovely girl and is fondly remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reich and three children of Dearborn, who are spending their vacation with relatives, spent Wednesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Reich and family at Lone Ash Farm.

Mrs. Daniel Reich and sons Richard and Mike called at Orchard Hill Friday evening.

Callers at Orchard Hill, Wednesday were Mrs. Alida Hutton of East Jordan and Mrs. Candice Dow and Mrs. Mercy Perry of Boyne City; Mr. Campbell and Mrs. Erber of Boyne City.

Robert Hayden, who has spent his vacation at Orchard Hill, returned to his work in Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Tibbits and little daughter Ann Elizabeth of Cherry Hill called on the Orvel Bennett family, also at Orchard Hill, Sunday.

Cherry Inspector Ogden, of East Jordan was inspecting the cherry orchards, Saturday.

The bingo party at the Star Community building, Saturday evening, was well attended and all had a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Hall of Detroit were week end guests of the Robert Whales on Lake Shore Drive. The Whale cabins are all filled up.

The Star Sunday school had a picnic at the Star Community Building after the Sunday School session, with 25 in attendance. Mrs. Emma Hayden of Pleasant View farm helped with the picnic.

Sunday was a record breaker. 98° at 2 p. m. in the shade, followed by a thunder shower which was badly needed.

The 240 Telephone Co. held their annual meeting at the Star Community Building, Thursday evening, with a full attendance. Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Hayden, who have been secretary-treasurer for eleven years without pay refused to take the job again, and "Fatty" Shaler of Advance took over the job. Harry Thompkins rather took the job of getting the Co. in shape so the Bell Co. will take it over. The old rural lines are all in such shape it is impossible for an amateur to keep them in working order and it is hoped the Bell Co. will take them all over so we can have reasonable service.

Mrs. Jessie Papineau of Boyne City and Mrs. Geo. Fine and three children of Grand Ledge spent Friday with the Orvel Bennett family.

The Farm Bureau regular meeting was held with the Orvel Bennett family with 12 members present. The next meeting will be with the Nicloy's at Sunny Slope farm the second Wednesday in August.

A large amount of haying and cultivating was done last week.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Disks Capture National Fancy; Lewis Signs Best Contract Yet; Czechs To Attend Paris Parley

Released by Western Newspaper Union
 (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

DISK JOCKEYS

Great Flying Saucer Mystery

They were aluminum linings from bottle caps. They were meteors. They were buzz-saw blades. They were everywhere and nowhere, everything and nothing. But one thing was sure.

Hundreds of persons—most of them apparently sober, solid citizens—had reported seeing the shiny "flying saucers" twirling their eerie paths over virtually every state in the union.

The great mystery of the airborne platters grew apace as Americans wavered, trying to decide whether they should laugh at or worry about the strange phenomena.

As army planes, equipped with telescopic cameras, took to the air to hunt the elusive saucers, scientists were attempting to determine whether the many reports were fact or fancy. Disagreement on the subject even extended to a quibble over whether the objects were "disks" or "saucers."

Mrs. Walter Johnson of Spokane, Wash., who said she had never before heard or read of the saucers, told how she and 15 other persons watched a group of about nine of them—"big as a four or five-room house"—flutter to the ground "like leaves" near her summer cabin in Idaho.

Other conflicting reports had them roaring like express trains, looking like washtubs, flying at terrific speeds, two feet in diameter and colored orange.

In the meantime, qualified psychiatrists were adding to the mystery by declaring that the reports were too numerous and well-founded to be explained away as mass hysteria or mass hallucinations.

At any rate, watching for flying saucers was good for whiling away the tedious summer months.

CONTRACT:

Coal Strike Ends

Half of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners went back to work immediately following a brief strike when John L. Lewis signed the best contract he has ever secured with more than half of the bituminous coal industry.

Lewis predicted that the rest of the mine owners, in the South and Far West, would agree to the contract within a few days after the northern operators had consented to the pact.

Lewis

Under the terms of the one-year contract, miners will receive a $13.05 basic daily wage for eight hours—$1.20 more than they have been getting for nine hours.

Northern operators said the agreement is "the most effective way to maintain the economy of the nation," although the cost of mining coal and producing coal by-products will be higher as a result. They added, however, that price increases "will be substantially less than would have been the case had a strike occurred."

Previously, it had been estimated that the new contract would add from 500 million to one billion dollars annually to the consumers' fuel bills.

G.I. BONDS:

Cash or Tarry?

With a unanimous 386 to 0 vote, the house approved and sent on to the senate a bill which would permit veterans to cash their terminal leave bonds after September 1.

Republican leaders predicted that the senate would act promptly on the measure, although Representative Halleck (Rep., Ind.) warned that a presidential veto was possible. Halleck also told the house that treasury officials were opposed to the bill on the grounds that if all the veterans cashed their bonds now the sudden flood of money (about $1,800,000,000) would result in serious inflation.

The bill would allow veterans to cash their bonds at local banks or hold them until they mature five years after their issue date. It also extends until September 1, 1948, the time in which veterans may apply for terminal leave.

Halleck said that the Republican economy program, aimed at paring federal departmental expenses to the bone, would provide enough savings to cover the cashing of all outstanding bonds.

Liquor Termed Growing Traffic Menace

Official records indicate tragically that in one of every four fatal traffic accidents, either a driver or a pedestrian was reported as having been drinking.

That fact was revealed in an article by W. Earl Hall, managing editor of the Mason City, Ia., Globe-Gazette and chairman of the national committee for traffic safety, who warned that "drinking by drivers and pedestrians is a growing traffic safety problem."

Well, Why Not?

Everybody seems to want an explanation of the wacky flying saucers. So here's a simple one. They're just another indication of the high cost of living. Even coffee is going up.

CONFERENCE:

Czechs In

Czechoslovakia, close neighbor and ally of the Soviet Union, has agreed to participate in the Marshall-plan conference to be held in Paris in July, and by so doing dispelled wide fears that the European reconstruction talks would be boycotted by half the nations of the continent.

As the Czechs answered "yes" to the Anglo-French invitation, decisions of the governments of Poland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—all well within the Soviet orbit—were being awaited anxiously.

Earlier, however, the Moscow radio had reported that Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia would not take part in the conference.

In the light of Russia's outright refusal to have any part of the American-sponsored European recovery effort, special interest was attached to Czechoslovakia's acceptance of the bid to the meetings.

Some observers believed that despite Russia's attitude of non-cooperation, the Soviets are willing to have Czechoslovakia sit in on the conference—as an observer if for no other reason. On the other hand, the Czechs might be particularly eager to get their share of the American dollar credits and supplies which may be showered on Europe to prime the reconstruction pump.

OPEN THE DOOR:

Million D.P.'s

President Truman went to bat for Europe's million displaced persons when he entered a plea with congress for swift action to permit entry into the United States of a "substantial number" of the homeless refugees still existing in the western zones of Germany, Austria and Italy.

Although the President asked for no specific number to be admitted, a house judiciary sub-committee currently is holding hearings on a bill by Representative Stratton (Rep., Ill.) which would permit 400,000 displaced persons to enter this country over a four-year period.

Mr. Truman said his request did not constitute a proposal for any general revision of the nation's immigration policy.

The refugees, he said, are unwilling "by reason of political opinion and fear of persecution" return to the areas where they had homes.

RIOTING:

Calcutta Seethes

Fifty were dead and injured in Calcutta, India's worst outbreak of Moslem rioting. A pitched battle between police and rioters in Calcutta's downtown area as officials attempted to quell the disturbance.

The police opened fire on large groups of irate Hindus and Moslems as they milled in the streets. Wounded rioters sprawled over the pavement and an atmosphere of near panic prevailed in the city after the clash.

Rioting, the worst since last August, broke out when a group of Moslems formed a procession carrying the body of a Moslem police officer killed by a gunman the previous night.

ARMY-NAVY:

One Head

Heralded by the prediction that its passage in both the house and senate was certain before congress adjourns late in July, the bill for army-navy unification came up for senate debate amid charges and denials that it would militarize the nation.

Senator Robertson (Rep., Wyo.) said that the measure, designed to concentrate all branches of the armed services under a single secretary of national security, would "turn the whole country over to the army."

Other members of the senate, however, were equally vigorous in their contentions that the bill would not lead to militarization.

If it is enacted in its present form—and any alterations are unlikely—the measure would create a secretary of national security who would be the chief over equal departments of army, navy and air.

It would raise the air force to a level equal with the army and navy by setting up a new department of air.

Provisions also are made for: Creation of a national security council, composed of the President, secretary of state and four military secretaries, to coordinate domestic, foreign and military policies.

Establishment of a national resources planning board to handle the related programs for military, industrial and civilian mobilization. Protection of the marines and naval aviation by specific statements to the effect that their identities are to be preserved.

TEACHERS:

Going Fast

Delegates to a National Education association convention in Cincinnati heard an ominous prediction that when U. S. schools open this fall they will be short 125,000 teachers, while in 125,000 classrooms teachers with substandard training will face the pupils.

Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of N.E.A., said that it will take 10 years and a tripled annual expenditure for education to restore the national teacher supply, both in quantity and quality.

"We won't have enough or good enough teachers until we attract thousands of trained ex-teachers back to our schools and until we make the profession inviting enough to bring promising youngsters into the ranks," Givens declared.

Outlining a broad program of school improvement, he said that increased salaries alone will not prove a great enough attraction. Class sizes must be decreased, school plants and equipment modernized and a general overhauling be carried out on the educational system.

EGG PRICES:

Sunnyside Up

Other metropolitan areas may be more fortunate, but in Chicago eggs will be selling at one dollar a dozen retail by the end of the year, experts on butter and egg market trends have reported.

E. E. Birks, chief of the butter and egg department of S. S. Borden company, blamed government price-pegging policies for the predicted astronomical prices of henfruit.

It was pointed out that in January, the department of agriculture bought nine million cases of eggs in order to keep the market for farmers at 90 per cent of parity. Those eggs, Birks said, were placed in cold storage and some of them now are being dried and sent to Great Britain.

Birks claimed that government purchases left this country with a surplus of only four million dozen eggs, the smallest reserve in years. That, coupled with the fact that egg production is starting to decline and will reach a low point in November, is responsible for the soaring prices, he said.

Dog Fancier

Anne Crawford, British film star, does other things besides acting. She trains and races greyhounds, one of which is shown here having its teeth picked by the comely Miss Crawford.

HOME LOANS UP

Many mortgage lenders are more willing to make loans to finance new home construction now than they were several months ago, according to a survey of recent trends in the mortgage lending field.

Previously, institutions were refusing to make loans to finance new construction as a result of the extreme shortage of materials and the consequent delays in completing the buildings.

Sam Helps with the Dishwashing

Dropped in at the Abernathy's just the other evening—and there was Sam, out in the kitchen with an apron on, helping his missus wash the supper dishes. (And then I learned later he'd helped cook the supper, too.)

Of course, Sam could have settled into his favorite chair, enjoyed his evening glass of beer, and left all the messy kitchenwork to Dixie. But he kind of likes her company—and she in turn certainly appreciates his help.

In fact, sharing the housework and the mealtime chores is sort of a bond between them... like sharing that friendly glass of beer together, when the work is done. It's one of those little all-important things in marriage.

From where I sit, the time that a man and wife can spend with each other in this busy world today is all too precious. And the more things they can do together, the better.
