Two Boys Put In Safekeeping

EAST JORDAN YOUTHS SENT TO REFORMATORY SEPT. 18TH.

Two of East Jordan's youths, who have been a thorn in the flesh of our chief of police for some time past, were sent to the Lansing, Mich., reformatory a week ago, there to meditate on their evil ways.

Lifting things out of stores, out of cars, including the stealing of beer, wine and whiskey out of cars, and breaking into cottages have been their accomplishments for some time. Each time they were apprehended, they were taken before the Probate Judge and sent home with a warning to desist in their evil practices. This time, however, it was decided more stringent measures had to be taken with the boys in order they become useful citizens.

East Jordan Library LIBRARY HOURS

Afternoons: 2:00 to 5:00 every day except Sundays.
Evenings: 7:00 to 8:30 except Tuesday and Fridays: On those days we will open at 12:00 and close at 5:00 and will not be open in the evenings.

A gift of $100.00 from John Porter has made it possible to furnish the room in the basement with needed equipment and supplies, so it can be used for the children story hour.

Children from 3 to 5 yrs. old are invited to meet Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, starting October 1st.

Those from 6 to 9 yrs. old are invited to meet Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock starting October 4th. All meetings will be held in the basement, with Mrs. Sidebotham in charge.

Howard Porter has presented the library with five books for the International collection. Mr. Porter also gave us $10.00 to buy additional books. Each of the books listed below has some relation to World Peace, since peace can come only through knowledge and understanding of other people.

The anatomy of peace by Reeves: Mr. Reeves feels as keenly as anyone could about his subject as his mother was "atrociously and senselessly assassinated like countless other innocent victims of the war".

Just tell the truth — Strohm: Uncensored story of the Russian people today, as told by a correspondent who was allowed to travel freely throughout the country.

Why they behave like Russians — Fisher: Helps to understand the Russian viewpoint.

Nusantara, a history of the East Indian Archipelago by Vlekke. This is stimulating as well as informative reading.

The life of Greece — Will Durant: This book covers Greek government, industry, manners, morals, religion, philosophy, science, literature and art from the earliest times to the Roman conquest.

Princes of Foxes — Shellbarger: Historical novel, Italian setting.

Miracle on 34th Street. — Davis: Humorous story of Santa Claus, but especially interesting to adults.

Anna Karenina — Tolstoy: Historical novel of 19th century Russia. Fountainhead — Rand: Story unfolds through the careers of two architects. It is a dramatic novel of ideas, exciting events and colorful characters.

Marked for Murder — Halliday: Mystery.

Give love the Air — Baldwin: Romance and humor.

Secret of Hillyard house — Norris: Romance interwoven with mystery. The Drifting Kid — Irwine: Western.

Juvenile Books
Three Mustangs — James: Western.

Blaze Face — Hinkle: Horse story.

Martin and Abraham Lincoln — Coblenz: Story of a little boy who fixed President Lincoln's shoe.

Star of India — Bothwell: Dangerous adventure on a trip from the hills of northern India to the city in the plains.

The Young Barbarians — Satterly: Story of High School girls.
Teen-age of outdoors — Owen, ed.: Short stories.

Special communication of East Jordan Lodge No. 379, F. & A. M. next Tuesday night, Sept. 30th. Work in the M. M. degree.

Maybe there's just as good fish left in the sea, but are you sure they'll bite?

Rotary Club to Have Guest Speaker Next Tuesday Noon

The Rotary Club, and East Jordan, is very fortunate in securing as their speaker for next Tuesday the 30th, Mrs. Belle Farley Murray, of the University Extension Service.

Mrs. Murray is well known throughout the State for her courses in Parent Education. Only the fact that she was going through to speak in Petoskey, the Soo, Munsing, Escanaba, and other cities of the north, enabled the Rotary Club to secure her for East Jordan.

Mrs. Murray's lecture will be most interesting to all parents, teachers, or anyone interested in youth training and education.

The lecture will be at the regular Rotary luncheon hour of 12:15 sharp, in the basement of the Presbyterian church. Everyone is invited especially mothers and fathers. Tickets can be secured for luncheon and the lecture at the Chamber of Commerce Office or at the Bank. Get your tickets early, as the number that can be accommodated is limited.

Where else can you get a good meal and a worth while lecture for $1.25.

Foreign Students Are Our Guests

VISIT EAST JORDAN ON 15-DAY TOUR OF AGRICULTURE INTERESTS

Twenty foreign students from four countries of the world and their instructor, Dr. C. Uley arrived in East Jordan last Tuesday afternoon, September 16.

The purpose of this visit was to study Farm Cooperatives throughout the state of Michigan. This was their 15 day out on their tour with two days to go. The countries represented were, Burma, India, Ecuador and China.

The program started with a visit to the Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery and a tour throughout the plant by Percy Penfold of the Creamery. They had expected to go to the East Jordan Cooperative Company and meet with William Stanek, Manager, but due to the fact that their time schedule became mixed up, they were unable to do so. At 7 p. m. a dinner was served to the group and was sponsored by the two Cooperatives.

Representatives of the farmer cooperatives in Ellsworth, Charlevoix and Boyne City were in attendance. After the dinner a short program was held with remarks by Ed Rebman regarding agriculture in Charlevoix County; Walter Kirkpatrick, Agriculture in Antrim County; Evert Gulembo, Soil Conservation; K. C. Festerling, 4-H club work; Lavern McGhan and Mr. Vanderark, why they believe in farmer cooperatives.

Percy Penfold, Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery; William Stanek, East Jordan Cooperative Company, and John Porter, East Jordan Canning Company. The meeting was then turned over to Dr. Uley, who called upon students from the 4 countries represented to tell something about the agricultural of their country and why these students were here representing their country, and what they intended to do after they got back home.

After the discussions the group settled down to see some Michigan pictures from this area, but as the pictures started, the main fuse in the lights blew and the meeting had to be adjourned.

Rally Day at The Methodist Church

Sunday, Sept. 28, is Rally Day at the East Jordan Methodist church.

An interesting program is being prepared and all who are interested in the work of the church and church school are invited to be present.

Come to the morning worship at 10:00 o'clock and plan to stay for the Rally Day program immediately following.

THE WEATHER

Temp.	Rain or	Weather
Max	Snow	Cond'n
18	46	SW pt cldy
19	56	W cloudy
20	55	19 SE cloudy
21	16	53 2.40 SW cloudy
22	56	39 NW cloudy
23	60	39 NW pt cldy
24	59	40 NW pt cldy

The rainfall of 2.40 inches Saturday night and Sunday is the most for any 24 hour period in several years. And the total of 3.21 in. for the week is more than usual.

Temperature Thursday morning, Sept. 25, was 27°; barometer 30.52, which is high.

Nature was pretty wise. It planned two ears but only one mouth for a man.

Buildings Now Capacity Full

SCHOOL SHOWS INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

At the close of the 1st week of school our enrollment is 887 compared to an enrollment of 850 at the close of last year.

The enrollment in the kindergarten is 77. As most of these children are from the country and remain all day we have found it advisable to use two full time teachers here. We are also planning to add additional teacher in the intermediate grades so that all rooms can be reduced to approximately 40 pupils.

Mrs. Alta Drapeau is teaching English in the Junior High school and vocal music in the high school grades.

Buildings are now filled to capacity. Our enrollment had increased more than 300 since we started to use the new building in 1942. Buses are loaded beyond capacity, but a new one is expected in October or November. As a rule it requires 12 to 18 months to get delivery of a bus after an order is placed. More than 500 of our children ride the buses. It takes time to correct over-crowded conditions.

At the beginning of the second week all classes and schedules are working smoothly.

"Initiations" Must Stop

No sooner has school started than the desire to initiate school pupils develop among others of the same school.

Both boys and girls are guilty of this practice and it must cease or prosecutions will follow. This rough stuff will not be tolerated.

These Anglemorms Are Lampreys

Ooze from the bottom of the paper mill at Manistique hot pond, drained for cleaning, was found swarming with what appeared to be anglemorms but proved on examination to be larval lampreys. Specimens were taken for the special sea lamprey study being made by conservation department fisheries research men.

One age group of the lampreys was three to five inches long and a little thicker than anglemorms, another was no larger than a common pin. Sea lampreys are believed to live three to five years in the mud before they become free-swimming parasites preying on lake trout and other fish.

It was at the outlet of this same pond that thousands of adult sea lampreys were trapped and destroyed in 1946. The pond is used for assembling and holding logs just before they are taken into the mill.

MARRIAGES

Harrison — Corcoran

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard V. Harrison of 1217 State St. Saginaw, Mich., formerly of East Jordan, announce the marriage of their daughter Barbara to Dale Corcoran, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Corcoran 402 Evert St. Cadillac. The wedding took place Friday evening, August 8th in the Presbyterian church of Cadillac. They will make their home in Lansing where Mr. Corcoran is enrolled in Michigan State College.

Gaunt — Murdick

Brown Street Pilgrim Holiness church in Flint was the scene of a wedding on Saturday, Sept. 13th when Freda Gaunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaunt, formerly residents of the Peninsula, became the bride of Kenneth Murdick, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Murdick of Romeo. The Rev. C. R. Hendrick officiated, assisted by Rev. C. B. Collier, and Rev. Wesley Caswell of Romeo. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of blue jersey, her corsage being of white roses. Miss Ida Dennis attended the bride as bridesmaid and was attired in pink jersey. Everett Murdick of Toledo, Ohio, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were, Jess Morrison and Ernest Grose. The pianist was Joyce Daniels.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Y.W.C.A. A three tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom centered the table. Assisting at the reception were, Elizabeth and Ethel Siegle, Mrs. Leonard Ward and Mrs. Charles Davy.

Guests were present from Reest, Romeo, Saginaw, Toledo and Flint. For their wedding trip to northern Michigan, Mrs. Murdick wore a brown wool suit with pink accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at Romeo.

Potato and Apple Show

TO BE HELD AT BELLAIRE NOV. 10th AND 11th

The twelfth Annual Northern Michigan Potatoe and Apple Show will be held November 10, and 11 at Bellaire, Michigan. This show is for the northern part of the lower peninsula and any one who raises potatoe or apples are eligible to exhibit. Charlevoix County for the past several years has not had too many interested in the Northern Michigan Potatoe and Apple show. This year, however, it is hoped that this county will have considerable more exhibits than in the past. Farmers who are interested in exhibiting a sample of potatoe and who desire help in picking out a sample, should contact the County Extension Office. In addition to picking out this sample, potatoe growers who want yield tests to determine the yield of potatoe to see whether they are eligible for entry in a 300 bushel Club, should also contact the County Extension Office.

Archie Pringle Dies Following Long Illness In His 63rd Year

Archie Pringle was born in East Jordan, October 22, 1884, and passed away at his home after an illness of four years, with caranoma of the bone.

Mr. Pringle made East Jordan his home for the greater part of his life. He attended the East Jordan school and taught school on the West Side as well as other schools. He was also a salesman and did shop work in Flint during World War II.

He was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Hendricks in 1912 at Montevideo, Minn., who survives him. The Pringle's made their home there for a time, later returning to East Jordan. He is survived by a widow & one sister, Mrs. Minnie Crumm, Flint and two brothers:— Henry, Flint; and Robert, Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services were held at the Watson Funeral Home, Friday afternoon, Sept. 19. Rev. B. M. Dirks conducting the service. Bearers were Amber Muma, Philip Gothro, Sherman Conway, Chris Taylor, Ira Bartlett, and Edward Kamradt. Interment at Sunset Hill.

Relatives here to attend the funeral were Mrs. Pringle's sister, Mrs. Al S. Johnson, Shakopee, Minn.; and Mrs. J. A. Boulet, Austin, Minn.; and brother, Henry A. Hendricks, Stouss Falls, Iowa; their nephew Donald Stewart; brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pringle and sister, Mrs. Minnie Crumm, of Flint.

"A friend is not a feller Who is taken in by sham A friend is one who knows our faults, And doesn't give a damn!"

Hannon — Lewis

Mary Lou Hannon daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hannon R. 2 Petoskey was united in marriage to Carl Lewis son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lewis of East Jordan, Sept. 4 at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Rev. R. L. Matthews, of Parr Memorial Baptist church.

Rev. Matthews performed the double ring ceremony. Miss Betty Hewitt was the brides only attendant and William Hannon assisted the groom as best man. They are making their home at 810 Spring St. Petoskey.

Nixon — Roberts

An informal wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage Saturday, Sept. 20, at 5:00 o'clock when Helen Nixon of Charlevoix was united in marriage to Julius Roberts Jr.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Howard G. Moore pastor of the Methodist Church.

The bride wore a rose wool street length dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was attended by Mrs. Marjorie Kauffman who wore a grey wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of red rose buds. The groom was attended by George Kauffman.

After the ceremony a reception for the wedding party was held at the Lake Side Inn. The new Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are spending a few days in Detroit and upon their return will make their home in East Jordan.

Civic Chorus Is Organizing for Season Events

The Executive Board of the East Jordan Civic Chorus met for a potluck supper and business meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Liskum on Sept. 19.

The Civic Chorus is a non-profit organization which has one purpose for being: to bring vocal music to the people of East Jordan.

There are two types of members in the Civic Chorus: Active members who sing once a week and associate members who are not able to participate in the singing but who wish to assist in the work of the organization. At present the membership fee for either type is $1.00 per year. This money is used to buy music which will be kept on file, thus building a fine library of choral music over a period of years.

25 copies of "Handel's Messiah" have been ordered and rehearsals will be resumed on Thursday evening October 9th at 8:00 P.M. Watch this paper for the announcement of the meeting place. Whether or not you have ever sung with the Civic chorus or any other group, if you like to sing you are welcome to come and sing with us.

Callahan Blasts Shielding Traitors

RAPS DETROIT NEWS ARTICLE BY KELSEY TO SHIELD REDS

A devastating answer to the article in the Detroit News by W. K. Kelsey against enforcement of the Callahan act was made today by its author, Matthew F. Callahan, state senator. Kelsey gave plenty of aid and comfort to the Michigan Communists who are seeking 150,000 voters signatures in an effort to repeal the Callahan act, which seeks to put a tag on subversives opposing the U. S. form of government.

The Michigan state legislature, both in the senate and house, gave fulsome hearings demanded by the communists and their fellow travelers before enacting the law.

Now the Communists and their friends fear the act may be enforced, despite the attitude of Eugene F. Black, who has staged a sitdown against the measure. They fear the state supreme court will uphold the act. All the law does is to make enemies of the nation come out into the open, so as not to mislead the general public as to their true nature.

Senator Callahan issued the following statement, the first copy going to the Detroit News:

BY SENATOR MATTHEW F. CALLAHAN
Mr. W. K. Kelsey, Detroit news Commentator, in his column of Sept. 4, 1947, taking advantage of Attorney General Black's statement about the non-enforcement of the Callahan Act, reverts to his opposition to this Act by a broadside against it. I for one, welcome a discussion of the Act because it offers an opportunity to answer, at least in part, the falsehoods and vilifications the Communists and their fellows travelers have spread about this Act.

Mr. Kelsey wants to bury the Act with ridicule. He says that "the matter is already covered by Federal enactment". Mr. Kelsey does not state whether he disapproves of the Federal enactment on this subject. He apparently does disapprove, otherwise he would not ridicule similar supplementary legislation on a statewide level.

May I quote the decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan pertinent to this subject; People vs. Ruthenberg 229 Michigan 315 on page 355, where the Court quoted with approval the opinion of the Supreme court of the state of Illinois, People vs. Lloyd.

'LEGISLATURE HAS AUTHORITY'

"The Citizens of this State are citizens of the United States, and the citizens of the United States residing within the borders of this State are citizens of this State. Each citizen owes a duty to these two separate sovereignties. The State is a part of the Nation, and owes a duty to the Nation to support the efforts of the National government to secure the safety and protect the rights of its citizens and preserve, maintain and enforce sovereign rights of the Nation against public menace, and to that end the State may require its citizens to refrain from any act which will interfere with or impede the National government in effectively defending itself against such public enemies."

"Manifestly the legislature has authority to forbid the advocacy of a doctrine designed and intended to overthrow the government, without waiting there is a present and imminent danger of the success of the plan advocated: If the State were compelled to wait until the apprehended danger became certain, then its right to protect itself would come (Continued on last page)

Special Session of Legislature

TO CONVENE AT LANSING ON SEPT. 29 TO RECONSIDER VETERANS GRANT

Michigan's legislature will convene in special session, at the call of Governor Kim Sigler, on Monday, September 29, to reconsider appropriations of $412,000 to veterans organizations. The legislature appropriated the grants but did not give them the necessary two-thirds majority.

Governor Sigler emphasized that he was limiting his call for this session to one subject, and that it will in no way interfere with matters he intends to present to a special session early next year. Under the State Constitution, legislators may consider only those subjects submitted by the Governor when he calls them into a special session.

"This is an emergency," Governor Sigler declared after a conference with Attorney General Eugene F. Black. "Payments from this appropriation are illegal because the law, passed in the closing hours of the legislature, failed to receive the two thirds majority required by the State Constitution for appropriations to private persons.

"As a result, among other things, lack of funds would mean that some 100 children of war veterans at the American Legion Billet would not be taken care of," the Governor said.

Wm. Nice Dies In Canada

Wm. Nice 80 yrs., a former resident of East Jordan passed away, Friday, Sept. 12, at the hospital at Kirkcarnie, Ontario, Canada, following a stroke, then a fall which resulted in his death.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Earl (Dottie) Dawes of San Antonio, Texas, and son Wilbur, Ionia. The funeral was held Sunday Sept. 14 with burial at Tiberton, Ontario.

SOIL CONTROL PRACTICES
PROVE VALUE

With the September rainfall for 1947 far ahead of schedule (4 inches) this past week compared to 3.05 inches for the total month for a 33 year average) Antrim County farmers have an opportunity to observe the value of erosion control practices.

This past week with 4 inches of rainfall erosion has been on the rampage. Many farmers have pointed out sheet & gully erosion on neighboring farms where soil conservation practices are not in effect. On the farms where contour strip cropping has been established with alternate strips of meadow, little if any erosion has occurred. Farms with well established sod waterways have stopped gullying in the waterways.

Sod orchards showed no erosion while orchards clean tilled without cover have had plenty of damage.

One farmer asked this question, "How long are farmers in the area going to continue letting good top soil get away from them?" Top soil is the pay dirt. Let's keep it where it belongs. Moisture held on the land so it permeate into the soil, will be available to grow next year's crop.

Individual assistance by farmers in soil and water control practices is available in Antrim County through the County Agricultural Agents office and Antrim Soil Conservation District.

Leftover Storage

Three covered refrigerator dishes for leftover foods will help to solve your storage problem — one for meats, another for fruits, and the third for vegetables. The various leftover meats may be used in creamed dishes, meat pies and in combination meat-vegetable dishes. The vegetables may be used together in soups, salads and combination dishes, while odd bits of fruit may be combined and served for either the first or last course of the meal.

Military Photography

Thirty thousand aerial photographs were made for the Salerno landing and 20,000 for the Anzio landing. The Allied military services used more photographic materials in 1944 than at any previous period in military history.

Radar Grew Fast

Barely existent before 1940, the radar industry had delivered nearly three billion dollars' worth of equipment to the army and navy by the Japanese surrender date.

TOO DARK

An inmate in a mental institution was troubled by a cat in his tummy. The feline, he told attendants, tore around inside and clawed him something fierce. One day the poor fellow got a real pain—from a bad appendix. An operation was necessary, and the surgeon figured that maybe this was his chance to cure the patient of his delusion. He sent out for a cat—a black one—and when the patient came out of the ether the doctor held up the animal and said, "You're all right now. Look what we got!"

The patient took one look, grabbed his tummy and howled: "You got the wrong cat! The one that's been bothering me was a gray one!"

YEAH, WHY?

"Why do you weep over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest when you go to the theater?" asked the man.

"I don't know," replied the woman; "why do you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not acquainted slides safely into second base?"

A Better Name

Little Willie wanted a dog for Christmas, and that is what he received. And what a dog!—a big bumbling Newfoundland, the soul of amiability, but with absolutely no sense of obedience or propriety.

Worn out by the non-cooperative nature of his pet, whose obedience to commands had been absolutely nil, Willie greeted his dad at eventide with the bitter complaint, "Daddy, I'm just washed out. I can't do a thing with that Newfoundland dog!"

Take It in Trade

It was the first case in the docket of a small court "down in the hills." After hearing the evidence, the judge said sternly: "The fine is five dollars for breaking that glass window."

The culprit handed him a ten dollar bill, the judge looked in his cash box, shook his head, and further advised: "I have no change so I'll keep the $10. . . how about going out and breaking another window?"

A Scorcher

First Farmer—I see according to the paper, your boy at M.S.C. is a very fast runner. It says he "fairly burned up" the track during the race yesterday. I suppose you was there, and saw him do it.

Second Farmer—Well, I was there all right, but I got there too late for to see the race. However, I did see the track, and there was nothing but cinders.

All in the Mind

The landlady, thinking there was too much cover on a roomer's bed, removed a blanket and folded it carefully on the foot of the made-up bed.

Next morning the roomer told her: "Thanks a lot for the extra cover. I was really cold the night before, but with that extra blanket I was quite comfortable last night."

STICK IN SLOTS

"I understand that in certain countries they use fish for money." "Gee, they must have a messy time playing slot machines."

In High Places

A young, stylish woman was extremely vain of the honors conferred upon two distant male relatives. She talked on the subject to all and sundry.

"I have two relatives in the House of Lords. Have you any?" "No," replied one of her acquaintances, "but I have three maiden aunts in the Kingdom of Heaven."

Too Big a Load

"My husband left me on March 15. How do you account for that?" "He probably figured he couldn't support all those government employees and a wife on one salary."

Easy to Count

Minister—Yes, my boy, even the hairs on our heads are numbered. Small Boy—Dad's ain't; he's bald-headed.

This Saturday (Sept. 27), Michigan's new labor law will go into effect.

All labor unions and all employees will be affected, as the law imposes new obligations with respect to strikes and picketing. It seeks to prevent industrial strife by requiring the use of mediation. Strikes may be called only after the state conducts an election of employees. A strike is legal only if it is authorized by a majority of those voting.

Furthermore, the new law seeks to outlaw strikes by employees of public government, public utilities and hospitals, and to settle such disputes by arbitration.

Here's how the new law will work, beginning October 11.

Suppose the workers of the Smithville Manufacturing Company, a fictitious firm as far as we know, have a dispute with their employer. The workers, or their bargaining representative, file a notice of intent to strike with the state labor mediation board at Lansing.

The state board sends a mediator to Smithville. He tries to settle the dispute by getting both sides together.

If these negotiations fail, the state board is required by law to conduct a special election to determine whether a majority of the workers of this firm favor the proposed work stoppage.

The most recent offer of management must be printed on the strike ballot. Cost of the election — printed ballots, etc. — is to be paid by the two disputing parties, employees and the management, either equally or upon some other basis agreed upon. The State of Michigan does not foot the bill.

Suppose two unions are in a row over who has the right to represent the workers. Such a dispute also goes to mediation. If mediation fails, then a special election must be called by the state board. Expense of this election is to be borne equally by the two disputing unions.

Only until the unions' dispute is settled by the workers, can a legal strike be called.

Contrary to popular belief, Michigan has not had an effective picketing law up to now.

Effective Oct. 11, it is going to have one. The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "hinder or prevent by mass picketing, threats, intimidation, force or coercion of any kind the pursuit of any lawful work or employment." That's a mouthful.

Also: The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "obstruct or interfere with free and uninterrupted use of public roads, streets, highways, railways, airports or other ways of travel or conveyance."

Enforcement of the law is up to all enforcement agencies in the following orders: City police, county sheriff's department, Michigan State Police, Michigan National Guard and United States Army. State Police or the National Guard intervene only by order of the Governor upon receipt of an appeal from a mayor or sheriff. The U. S. Army intervenes only upon order of the President upon receipt of an appeal from the Governor.

The new law is the result of a public's protest against industrial strikes that affect the general public welfare. It will be interesting to see whether the law succeeds in its purpose.

OVEREATING CAN KILL YOU

Some 40,000,000 Americans face real danger if they continue their overeating and fail to check their diets with a physician. For your health's sake, be sure to read "Overeating Can Kill You," one of many informative features in The American Weekly, great magazine with this Sunday's (September 28) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

PRICES:

Out of Hand

Stratospheric U. S. food prices were taking on an international flavor.

No matter what the opinion of the average consumer who cringed every time he thought of buying a pound of butter or meat, it was becoming clear to everyone that prices at home were irrevocably linked with American foreign policy and this nation's effort to feed the starving world.

Sharply illustrating that fact was a department of agriculture announcement that 40 per cent of the salable U. S. wheat crop would be exported this year. The resulting relative scarcity of wheat coupled with a shortage of corn, was expected to send prices still higher. Best guess was that prices of staple groceries—butter, milk, eggs, meat and bread—would continue to climb for at least six months.

Problem facing the U. S. government was how to force prices down at home and still send enough food abroad to feed hunger-ridden peoples.

On the surface, it looked like the only answer could be found in the old and impossible gag: Repeal the law of supply and demand. Root of the trouble was the fact that world-wide demand is greater than even the enormous American supply.

Government action took several different tacks:

1. Americans were asked to eat less meat voluntarily, and also to offer as much buyers' resistance as they could to high prices.
2. Department of justice asked for reports on any attempts at price fixing.
3. Commodities Exchange authority launched a pressure campaign to cut down grain speculations.

No one was being optimistic about the possible results.

U. N. ASSEMBLY:
Next Hope
It might have been second-guessing when John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the U. N. general assembly, said; "It was never expected that the security council could act decisively when great powers were on opposite sides," but no one could deny the truth of his statement.

With that in mind, U. S. Secretary of State George Marshall made some pointed remarks on the eve of the opening of the 55-nation United Nations general assembly.

The general assembly, he indicated, would have to step in with its trowel to cement the peace, since the security council had done little except sling mortar around haphazardly.

Primary task, according to the U. S. viewpoint, was the protection of Greek independence and sovereignty which is being threatened by Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

To Russia, without mentioning that nation by name, Marshall issued a pointed challenge: Cooperate in the United Nations or face an inexorable world judgment which would be beyond the power of veto. Immediate prospect was that strained East-West relations might easily reach—and perhaps pass—a major crisis during this session of the U. N. general assembly.

CONFLICT:

Compromise

W. Stuart Symington, assistant secretary of war for air, has admitted that U. S. military planners are face to face with a mental and financial conflict.

On the one hand, he told the first annual convention of the Air Force association, the need is definitely for a military force "certain to be adequate" for any emergency, while on the other hand it is realized that the American economy could not stand the burden of supporting such a force.

Only alternative is compromise, he said. "We must face the constant compromise between what military authority considers necessary on the basis of maximum security and what is finally decided as the minimum requirement on the basis of calculated risk."
There is, of course, a "reasonable minimum" below which the U. S. could not go without endangering its security, Symington observed. For the air force that minimum would be "a 70 group force (400,000 officers and men) in instant readiness." To date, that minimum has not yet been achieved.

To Return War Dead

First bodies of American overseas World War II dead will reach the United States in mid-October, with three converted Liberty ships, each of 6,300-body capacity, scheduled to begin shuttle service between the Pacific seaboard and Far East ports as soon as the first boatload of bodies is ready. A total of 118 railroad coaches are being converted to mortuary cars to transfer bodies to 15 receiving depots.

Beyond the Pale

Now confined to the barbed wire back yard of their new home in the Poppendorf internment camp at Lubeck, Germany, these two boys were among the Jewish refugees who originally sailed on the exodus ships hoping to find a home in Palestine, only to be returned to Europe.

NEW FRONTIER:

With Music

With spirited background music consisting alternately of Slovene folk songs and Communist party ballads, Yugoslav troops moved up to the new provisional Italian-Yugoslav frontier as the Italian peace treaty went into effect.

There was no trouble as Marshal Tito's soldiers advanced into the former Italian territory ceded to Yugoslavia under the treaty. British-American forces which had been occupying the ground withdrew.

TROUBLE ALREADY

A few hours after the Italian peace treaty became effective, Yugoslav troops made an attempt to cross the frontier between Yugoslavia and the new free state of Trieste. American forces at the outpost brought up a tank and fired a warning burst from a machine gun. The "invading" soldiers fell back. Both sides indicated they would ask "higher authorities" just who could go where.

drew according to plan, and some of them even joined in the singing.

Orderliness of the operation was the more marked, coming as it did after a day of fierce clashes between Italian and Yugoslav partisans in Trieste.

Allied forces now were stationed in a U.N.-administered free territory, and on the new frontier, Italian and Yugoslav troops faced each other across a barbed wire barrier. Thus, for the present, at least, the situation remained static. How much, if any, static electricity would develop remained to be seen.

INNOCENT:

One Million Dead

Charged before an American court in Nuremberg, Germany, with killing more than a million persons, 23 former Nazi SS and gestapo men pleaded innocent.

At least two of the accused war criminals took the tremendous charge to heart: One, a former SS brigadier general, was seized with an attack of shaking palsy and had to leave the courtroom; the other, an SS colonel, fell to the floor in an epileptic fit.

In a bitter echo of the war, the prosecution charged the men with killing Jews, Gypsies, Russians and others they considered to be racially inferior to themselves.

One of the defendants, Maj. Gen. Otto Ohlendorf, previously had admitted being responsible for the deaths of 90,000 persons, but to the court's formal charge he entered a plea of not guilty.

TYPHOON:

Japan Hit

When anything happens to Japan, it happens in a big way, and the typhoon rains which inundated 200 miles of flatlands north of Tokyo were no exception.

First reports by American military government authorities told that 2,384 Japanese were dead or missing in two of six prefectures hit by the gigantic storm.
More than 40,000 homes were reported flooded or destroyed, and two medium-sized towns virtually were wiped out.

HOME BUILDING:

Shows Increase

Home building activity in the United States reached a new high level for 1947 in August, according to a survey by the bureau of labor statistics, which reported that 524,100 homes were placed under construction in the first eight months of the year. That is 56,000 more than were recorded in the same period of 1946. Home building was reported to have increased in virtually every part of the country.

PRE-CAMPAIGN:

Now Marshall

Democrats, seeking an antidote for the Republican-inspired "Eisenhower for president" boom, are beginning to whisper the name of George Catlett Marshall in connection with the vice-presidency.

The wartime chief-of-staff, now secretary of state, is being seriously considered by "a lot of important" Democratic leaders as a potential vice-presidential candidate, according to Gael Sullivan, acting national chairman of the Democrats.

Argument being advanced in his behalf is that by next June American foreign relations will have reached such a state that the people will demand an executive official of his experience.

More practical problem facing the Democrats now, however, is the election of a national chairman to succeed Postmaster General Robert Hannegan when the national committee meets in Washington in October. Hannegan has not yet resigned, but is expected to do so.

GOLD SALE:

Last Rabbit?

Great Britain, appearing almost tragic in its desperate efforts to stave off ruin, pulled what might have been her last rabbit out of the hat by dipping into her gold reserve and selling 80 million dollars of it to the U. S. for dollars.

That move came just two weeks after Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin came out with what now is considered his pathological suggestion that the U. S. should redistribute the gold in Fort Knox.

The gold sold to this country was part of Britain's 2.4-billion-dollar reserve, and the dollars obtained from its sale would be used in a last-ditch effort to cover rising British expenditures.

Sale of part of Britain's gold reserve emphasized, possibly more than any other action could have done, the urgency with which the government is reducing dollar imports and boosting exports in an effort to regain economic stability.

Meeting of the Twain

A ship of the desert, with its hawk-nosed camelcaper bent on some reverie of his own, makes an incongruous picture with an ultra-modern oil refinery for a backdrop. The refinery is the Ras Tundra plant of the Arabian-American oil company on the Persian Gulf coast of Saudi Arabia.

IN JANESVILLE, Wis. . . William Austin, driving his family home from church, heard a commotion under the hood of his car, investigated, found an enraged hen trying to keep its precariously balanced egg from rolling off a motor fitting.

IN SPRINGFIELD, Ohio . . . Mrs. Nellie Strong (above), bed-ridden with rheumatic fever, nevertheless had her dander up over high prices, started chain phone calls to housewives, finally wound up making a nation-wide appeal by radio.

IN GEORGIA . . . A young lady, unidentified, heard the U. S. government was making loyalty checks on its employees, wrote the treasury department: "I think we deserve them. Don't overlook me when the government starts to hand out those checks."

Soybean Crop Good

Current prospects of an above-average soybean crop, now being harvested in the Midwestern "soybean belt," indicate a good supply of protein feed and oil which may give some relief from a short corn crop. Corn and soybeans are competitive as raw materials in the production of cattle feed, and proper use of soybean meal can reduce the quantity of corn needed to bring a hog to a marketable weight.

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.

THE BIBLE TODAY
International Uniform Sunday School Lesson
By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D.D.

SCRIPTURE: Ecclesiastes.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Ecclesiastes 5:1-7.

Worthy Objectives
Lesson for September 28, 1947

THE Book of Ecclesiastes, written by Solomon, B. C. 977, is profitable in the fact that it discloses the findings of a very remarkable man on life. Solomon tells us that he had tried every tempting offer of the world, but found it vanity. "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity," he declares. Solomon is often referred to as the wisest of men. He does not make this claim, nor would I suggest it. As a matter of fact, Solomon was a very unwise man in many of the manifestations of his life. He had every advantage, but yielded to selfish pursuits of pleasure when he might have been serving his day and generation by the will of God.

Why do I point to Solomon as an unwise man? From his own testimony—"I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly; I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit. For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow."

Excellent Advice
EVEN so, Solomon was ready, by the time he wrote Ecclesiastes, to give some excellent advice. He had discovered that pomp and ceremony are meaningless—that they turn at last to ashes.

For example, "He (God) hath made everything beautiful in its time," chapter 3, verse 11. Solomon had dealt in the artificial. He had worn the most costly robes, lived in the finest palaces, had gardens set up to please any passing whim.

But now that he has come to see the vanity of men, he can at last open his eyes to the beauty which God creates. And now he has become a wise man, indeed. There is beauty everywhere if only we have eyes to see.

Words of Wisdom
THE next section of Sunday's lesson brings us to one of Solomon's greatest confessions. He says, chapter 3, verse 14: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be forever; nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him."

We do well to remember that God is, and that he is good, and that he is sovereign. "This is our Father's world," wrote Malthe Babcock. Here is a truth for today. In our dismay over the atomic bomb, we are about to forget that God intended for man to discover atomic energy, and he expected man to have enough moral stamina to use this discovery for his good and God's glory.

Which brings us to the heart of the Preacher's message, chapter 12, verse 13: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter; fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man."

Seeking the Best in Life
SOLOMON, by his own testimony, missed much of the finer things of life; but he admonishes the reader to profit by his mistake and seek the best in life. For example, in chapter 2, verse 24, Solomon says: "There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour."

Every boy and girl in the world knows the joy of honest work, at least I hope so. Have you grown a beautiful flower? A vegetable garden? Cut a cord of fire wood? Then you know that work is one of the essential ways of seeking the best in life.

Then Solomon comes to the first eight verses of the last chapter—a golden section for memory. It is one of the first passages of Scripture I ever learned. I trust every young person reading this column will commit that passage to memory, if you have not already done so.

Testing Life's Philosophies
SOLOMON concludes his confessions with this probing declaration: "For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."
What is he saying? He is reminding us that whatever may be our philosophy of life, such philosophy, together with our commitments thereto, will be tested out under the white light of God's ultimate truth. My conclusion is that I desire but one thing—to find and follow the will of God, which is always right and always best.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Mabel Secord

September 21, 1907

At the Michigan Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church held at Albion the past week Rev. W. W. Lamport of Leslie is assigned to East Jordan, replacing Rev. John Bretts who goes to Fennville.

There are two interesting items from the Lansing correspondent who wrote State news: "A mile north of Davison on the old state road a section of the highway five or six rods in length and varying from 60 to 75 feet in width has disappeared entirely, having sunk out of sight during the night, leaving a deep natural reservoir with water. The sink hole has been explored to a depth of 60 feet, but as yet no bottom has been found. No cause is known for the phenomena and there is no present prospect that the hole can be filled and the roadway restored at that point. The road runs north from Davison to Bay City and is one of the main traveled highways in that part of the county."

The second item refers to the opening of Michigan's first tuberculosis sanitarium, located at Howell. The manager, R. L. Kennedy announced that two male patients had been received and there was room for 12 more. It was hoped that a building would be erected for women during the Autumn.

Another column has an item, telling of the disappearance of a nun from the convent at Isadore, west of Traverse City. Many years passed before her body was found.

Dr. F. C. Warne has sold his pharmacy to F. B. Gannett of Cadillac. It was established nearly 25 years ago under the name of W. L. Warne and Son in the building now occupied by Miss Kneale's millinery parlors.

A daughter was born to Mrs. John Boosinger September 14th, two weeks after the father's death. A daughter was born to the John Roys the same day; a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins on Monday and another to the Bert Reids on Tuesday.

Howard Porter left Friday for Yale College where he takes the preliminary examination for entry in the engineering course.

Up to the present time Supernaw Bros. have shipped 4,500 barrels of apples.

Archie Misenaar, who went to Moosejaw, Saskatchewan a year ago, died there Thursday of typhoid fever. He was married last year to Miss Grace Allen of Ironton. The body was brought back to East Jordan for burial and services were held at the Methodist church.

Ray I Clink has gone to Ypsilanti to complete work at the State Normal for a teachers life certificate.

Jay Hite who has been managing a Northport drugstore this summer, was home over Sunday before leaving for Leland to rehearse with the Maro Concert Co. before starting with them on the road.

Mrs. I. W. Bartlett, accompanied by her daughters, Josephine, Laura, and Florence, left Tuesday to join her husband in their new home in Sedro Woolley, Washington. The family had resided here for 30 years.

The W. H. Thompson restaurant has been sold to Dan Kale.

September 21, 1917

The Charlevoix Co. Fair was scheduled for Sept. 25, 26, 27, and 28. This was before the day of night fairs, but East Jordan business men were under-writing two evenings celebration. Wednesday night there was to be a big display of set pieces of fireworks, the display to be given on the lake. Thursday night there was to be big pavement dance of masqueraders. The war had broken up the local band but two East Jordan bandmen had rounded up the best of what was left in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan and they played for the dance. Unmasking was to be at 10 o'clock and prizes for the best and most comic costumes were to be awarded.

Rev. Myron Hoyt of Lake City is replacing Rev. John Clemens here as pastor of the M. E. church.

Rev. George W. White was installed as pastor of the Boyne City Presbyterian church Wednesday, Rev. Robert Sidebotham delivering the installation sermon.

Mrs. Rosella Coon, aged 63, died Monday at her home on the West Side.

Mrs. William Moore, nee Violet Grigsby died at her home in Saginaw last Friday. Burial was at Saginaw.

Miss Hansen of Marquette Normal has accepted the position made vacant by the sudden resignation of Miss Hazel Richardson in the Rock Elm school.

September 23, 1927

The East Jordan City Council voted to enter into contracts with the surrounding townships in the matter of buying new fire equipment for their mutual protection.

Miss Julia Supernaw and Hugh C. the bride's parents September 21st. Dicken were married at the home of Miss Helen Ward and Barney Milstein were married at Detroit September 14th.

L. V. Gibbs, former manual arts instructor in East Jordan schools, and Miss Marjorie Helm were married at Detroit Sept. 17th.

Misses Eva McBride, Frances Benson, and Mrs. James Sloan have resumed their studies at Western State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo; Marjorie Mackey to Downer College, Milwaukee, and Donald Clark to U. of M., Ann Arbor. Dorothy Webster and Marguerite Rogers are at Mt. Pleasant attending Central State Teachers' College. Joe Boyd is enrolled at the Howe Military School, Howe, Indiana.

Miss Leona Seaman and Joseph

Etcher were married at the Methodist parsonage Sept. 20th.

Littering of Streets In East Jordan Must Stop

A large truck load of straw passed through East Jordan recently and littered the streets with a liberal sprinkling of straw from the loosely tied load. This same practice of carelessness is also evidenced by the quantity of stove wood, old boards containing nails and other materials found on our streets from time to time. Truckers and others who haul such material through East Jordan (including those who haul waste materials to the City dump), will henceforth be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, if loads are insecurely loaded and scattered about the streets.

into being simultaneously with the overthrow of the government, when there would be neither prosecuting officers nor courts for the enforcement of the law. The Act under consideration makes the advocacy of the overthrow of the government a felony, and provides for the punishment of the advocate and so it is not necessary that there be a real or actual effort to carry out the program that he advocates."

The readers should know that the Federal Voorhis Act Mr. Kelsey refers to was enacted in 1940 to deal with the Nazi and Fascist fronts and organizations operating in this country, and is likely to be enforced against the Communists. Does Mr. Kelsey think that Congress was wrong when? We have no record of his having said so.

It appears to us then, that Mr. Kelsey's virulent animosity to the Callahan Act is due to an unwarranted differentiation he makes between Nazis and Communists, in favor of the latter. Does, or does not Mr. Kelsey consider he Communist Party a Foreign Agency? Does or does not Mr. Kelsey believe that the Communist Party is committed to the violent overthrow of the Government of the United States? If he does, what does he propose to do about it?

Mr. Kelsey skirts completely the fundamental issues involved in the Callahan Act by a crude repetition of the Communist falsehoods about the act, by claiming that the Act is aimed at any international organization whatsoever which according to Mr. Kelsey, may mean the Red Cross, the churches, the Masons, the Rotary, the A. F. of L., the English speaking union, etc. Why doesn't the Detroit News print the Full text of the Act for all its readers to read for themselves?

The Act, in plain English for everyone who wants to understand, says that it is aimed at foreign agencies which seek to (1) overthrow or control the Government of the United States or State of Michigan, or (2) are subsidized by a foreign Government in order to overthrow or control our Government.

CALLAHAN ACT EXPLICIT

The Act is aimed entirely and solely against subversive elements operating by and under the directions directly or indirectly, in the interests of a Foreign Power, Red, Black, or Brown. Who is there in our Government legislative or executive, who would consider the Masons, Rotary clubs, the Catholic or other churches, or the A. F. of L. as agencies seeking to overthrow our Government in the interests of a Foreign Power?

Nor is the act aimed at ideologies like the Socialists or Anarchists, etc. because whatever else they are, they do not seek to overthrow our Government in the interests of a Foreign Power. The Anarchist Ferrer school, of which Mr. Kelsey says he was once a member, would not be affected by this Act, as he ought to know.

Come, come, Mr. Kelsey. In seeking to ridicule the Callahan Act, by drawing a red herring across the trail you make your own argument ridiculous.

WHY DUCK MR. KELSEY?

If my memory serves me rightly, Mr. Kelsey was also opposed to the investigation of Communist activities on our compuses. Really, Mr. Kelsey do you advocate a "hands off" policy on the subject of Communism? Do you think that the 5th column of an aggressive Foreign tyranny should be allowed to operate inside our Democracy without any interference whatsoever?

Mind you, all the Callahan Act does is to require the subversives to register and to report. It does not require them to shut up! If the Communist Party, or any of its stooge organizations, think they can prove themselves not to be Foreign Agencies within the meaning of this Act, they can contest the decision in Court. If they are Foreign Agencies (and there are stacks of evidence to prove it) why should our people not be made aware of that fact, so that they can act accordingly? Or is Mr. Kelsey even opposed to a procedure of identifying them as such? Would you protect incendiaries and spies merely because they claim not to be such?

Mr. Kelsey objects to language in the law like "being of foreign inspiration" or "serving directly or indirectly the interests of a Foreign Power" etc. The fact is that in drawing up the law, we had to make allowance for the "tricks of the trade" foreign agencies, like the Communists, engage in — their Trojan horse and wolf-in-sheep's-clothing techniques. They call themselves Communists today and Jeffersonians tomorrow, but under whatever name they operate, they always serve the same master. The law seeks to cover both their aims to overthrow our Government in the interests of a Foreign Power, and their techniques of camouflage with which they go about accomplishing their aims.

KELSEY UNLEASHES HATE

By quoting parts of the content, or serving up only those portions that lend themselves to Mr. Kelsey's song of hate against the Act, he may create plenty of heat and hate, but contribute nothing to a rational enlightenment of the subject. To discuss this law intelligently, it must be treated as a composite whole.

Mr. Kelsey's statement about the law being repealed by demand of the Governor is in the nature of the wish being father to the thought. All the arguments he now used have been served up by the communists and their supporters at the special hearing held by the legislature on this subject, and again before the Governor signed the Act. The only thing added now is that they appear under the name of Mr. Kelsey.

If after hearing the pros and cons and voting for the Act by more than a two third's majority the legislators allow themselves to be scared out of it that easily by Communist inspired propaganda, then that day should indeed go down in the History of our State as a confession of Bankruptcy. That day, Mr. Kelsey, if the people of our State can help it, shall never be.

PENINSULA...

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

Mr. Richard Hosegood, a resident of Mountain Dist. for many years, had a stroke at his farm, Monday, and was taken to the home of his son, Charles Hosegood, in Boyne City, where he passed away Thursday night. Mr. Hosegood was ever a kind and obliging neighbor and will be greatly missed. He has been in ill health for several years. His younger son, Oswald, who was in the service for several years, has been on the farm with his father since his return.

Mrs. A. Reich of Lone Ash farm spent Wednesday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Hayden, at Orchard Hill.

Silo filling is well under way. Clayton Healey of Willow Brook farm, is using his new field chopper while most of the others are filling the old way.

The A. B. Nicloys are remodeling their spacious barn at Sunny Slopes farm, making a modern dairy barn of it, installing a modern milk room and other features.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Kitson of Star Dist., and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Reich and son Donnie of Gravel Hill, south side, attended a 4-ply birthday dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Prebble on the East Jordan - Advance Road, Sunday.

There was a very nice turn out at the Star Community Building Bingo party, Saturday evening, and all had a very pleasant time.

Quite an excitement was caused Sunday when an airplane circled around very low several times and finally landed in the Orvel Bennett meadow. It was Mr. Verlin Bennett, son of Lawrence Bennett of Flint, calling on his uncle, Orvel Bennett and family. Verlin spent many months in the service overseas. He was a very successful flyer.

Mr. Charles Hillegas, a native of Three Bells Dist., but for the last quarter of a century a resident of California, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. Anna Wildy in Boyne City, is spending some time with his boyhood friend, Geo. Staley, at Stoney Ridge farm.

Mrs. Clayton Healey of Willow Brook farm was confined to her bed several days last week, being overdone by helping to care for her mother, Mrs. Rengold Deitz, who has been very ill at a hospital in Petoskey for many weeks. Mrs. Jr. Gaunt of Three Bells Dist. has helped out with the housework several days.

The recent rains and warm weather has brought on a fine crop of string beans and everyone is doing well with their beans after all, but an all days cold rain Sunday is likely to end up with a frost. No one is complaining of drouth or heat today.

The current quit at 10:30 Sunday evening, leaving everything in pitch darkness, as it was raining and very dark. There was also no telephone service.

First snow Sept. 22. The REA trouble shooters were out bright and early, but had not corrected the trouble at 8:30 a. m.

TOMATOES ARE EASY WAY TO CAN VITAMIN C

Whether you can your tomatoes this year with a hot or cold pack is up to you, but you will want to can a supply of the only common vegetable that doesn't require a pressure canner.

You'll be canning up a lot of vitamin C and good flavor with either a raw or hot pack reports Roberta Hershey, Michigan State college foods and nutrition specialist. Of course with a hot pack you can put more tomatoes in each jar. Either pack is easy to do.

Use only perfect ripe tomatoes. To loosen skins, dip into boiling water for about half a minute, then dip in cold water. Cut out stem and peel tomatoes.

For canning tomatoes with the hot hot pack method, quarter the peeled tomatoes. Bring them to a boil, stirring often. Pack hot in hot glass jars to one-half inch from the top. Add one-half teaspoon salt to pints, or one teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Process in a boiling water bath for ten minutes either pints or quarts. Remove jars and complete seals.

Raw-packed tomatoes will probably hold color and shape better than hot-packed ones. Leave them whole, or cut in halves or quarters if you wish. Pack to one-half inch from the top of the jars, pressing gently to fill space. Adjust jar lids.

Put the jars in the canners in water that is hot but not boiling. Heat to boiling and process pint jars 35 minutes. Process quarts for 45 minutes. Remove jars from the canner and complete seals.
