Drivers Provided Instruction Car

OUR SCHOOL, CHEVROLET AND A.A.A. JOIN IN PROVIDING DRIVING INSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Through the courtesy of Albert R. Sinclair, local Chevrolet dealer, with the support of the American Automobile Association the East Jordan School has been able to install a driving instruction program for would-be drivers. At a recent ceremony Sup't E. E. Wade accepted the keys to a 1948 Chevrolet 4-door Fleetmaster from Mr. Sinclair while Coach Max Damoth, licensed by AAA to instruct, looked on. The car is, without cost to the school, equipped with dual controls so that Coach Damoth can assume control whenever he finds it time to do so.

At present the instruction program is, because of lack of trained personnel, limited to high school pupils who are at least 14 years old. Coach Damoth has attended an Instructors' School and has been certified by the American Automobile Association as an able and certified instructor. Our school participated in paying his expenses of instruction as well as re-arranging his teaching schedule to permit him adequate time to devote to his duties as instructor. The course is for one full school semester. Each graduate is given one-half credit upon satisfactory completion of the course which now takes up for each student five class periods and two driving periods each week.

Sup't Wade hopes that the program can be enlarged so that adults as well as our young people can participate. He suggests that those who may be interested contact either he or Mr. Sinclair who can provide further information.

The car now being used is owned by the A. R. Sinclair Sales, of which Mr. Albert Sinclair is the proprietor. It is equipped with dual controls that he provides. The AAA has certified Coach Damoth as its approved instructor. The School provides gas, oil, insurance and maintenance expenses. Coach Damoth gives extra long hours above and beyond his regular hours — and Sup't Wade has, and promises to continue, to extend the program to all who may wish to learn to drive.

The Community is fortunate that we have behind us such public spirited people as Mr. Sinclair, Sup't Wade, Coach Damoth and the others who have made this project possible. Good driving means safe driving. Good drivers are drivers who have had good instruction. The Chevrolet — School — AAA — Coach Damoth Program provided it.

Eighty Vets to Start Training

ON THE FARM TRAINEES TO ENROLL MARCH 9 AT CHARLEVOIX CO. COURT HOUSE

A program, designed to help the veteran and the entire county, will be launched March 9 when some 80 veterans meet at the Charlevoix County Court House to fill out forms for the new on-the-farm training program.

This March 9 session is the result of the offer made two weeks ago, asking veterans who would like to have a farm training program under the GI Bill to turn in their names. Some 80 did so. Then on Feb. 18 John Hall of the State Vocational Education Board mapped out the next steps in the program.

The farm training will work just as any other GI on-the-job program works. The veterans receive subsistence pay, have to spend 100 hours a year (in the farm program set-up) in classroom work, and 200 hours in supervised practice. In addition he must work on a farm.

On March 9 this group will meet with the veterans and help them to fill out the required application blanks. Previously, notice cards will be sent out to all those who turned in their names.

Veterans must bring a photostatic copy of their discharge papers to the March 9 meeting, as well as a certified copy of their marriage certificate if they are married.

Seventeenth Leap Year Birthday Celebrated

The son-in-law, Milton Meredith, took pictures and entertained the group by showing a collection of many colored slides.

Mrs. Shaw received many lovely gifts and a pleasant evening was had by all.

To Clean Up Fire Hall Debris

LEGIONNAIRES AND FIREMEN TO COOPERATE IN CLEANING UP OLD FIRE HALL SITE

At their regular meeting the local American Legion Post voted unanimously to cooperate with the City and the Fire Department in a clean-up project on the old fire hall site. The Legion suggested that, weather permitting, this coming Saturday, March 6th, would be a good time to do the job. Veterans Francis Lilak and Harold Moore, have already offered to donate the services of their new crane to help in the lifting of heavy material. The Legion and the firemen would welcome other donated equipment, particularly dump trucks.

The decision on the part of the Legion to help with the project was influenced by the facts that most members are taxpayers, all are interested in saving the City money, all have civic pride and take pleasure in seeing a job well done. Neither the Legion nor the members themselves expect to be paid for their work. They would appreciate, however, as much assistance and cooperation as any citizen and tax payer sees fit to contribute. Bill Bennett is in charge of operations. Should anyone wish to help with either equipment or work, he should be contacted.

Remember the date—Saturday, March 6th. This community ought to get behind this project and give our Legion Post and Firemen their very best cooperation, and thereby giving your city aid in getting a new fire-hall started.

Civic Chorus Activities

On Feb. 26th the East Jordan Civic Chorus met in the Home Ec. rooms for a pot luck supper and business meeting.

The time of singing was changed to Wednesday evening, the place is still the band room.

The ways and means committee announced a baked goods and candy sale for Mar. 6 at the Quality Food Market.

Old members are urged and new members invited to meet with us next Wednesday and every Wednesday until the spring concert.

X-Ray Clinic

There will be a chest x-ray clinic conducted by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in Boyne City. The Clinic will be held in the high school gymnasium there on Thursday, March 11, from 9 to 12. Anyone interested in having a chest x-ray at that time may come in.

P.-T. A. Meeting March 15

The next regular meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held Mar. 15 at the E. J. H. S.

The program for the evening will consist of a movie and an explanation of the Civilian Rehabilitation Service. This is a government service by which a disabled civilian is trained for work which is agreeable and suitable to him.

Let's all come out and hear this speaker.

Attention All Veterans

Special meeting to be held Wednesday, March 10, at 8:00 P.M. at Andy's Duck Inn.

The Trestleboard

Did You Know that the highest order of British Knighthood is the "Order of the Garter", established by King Edward III about 1349? The emblem of the Garter is a dark blue ribbon, and is worn below the knee on the left leg. There is a star emblazoned on the ribbon, which as a matter of fact, seems to be a part of the insignia of most of the orders of knighthood.

The "Order of the Golden Fleece" was established in Flanders in 1429 by Philip the Good, Duke of Burgundy. This order is still in existence in Austria, and Spain.

The regular communication of the lodge F and A.M. No. 379 will be held next Tuesday evening March 9. The brethren will take due and timely notice.

Mark Chapter of the O.E.S. will hold its regular meeting next Wednesday March 10th. Special plans for honoring its past Patrons and Matrons are being made. A good attendance is anticipated.

The Fellowcraft degree was exemplified at a special communication of the lodge last Tuesday night March 2. Two brothers received the degree.

Officers and members of Mark Chapter O.E.S. journeyed to Bellaire last Wednesday night where they were guests of the Bellaire Chapter.

Regularity and punctuality are two of many good habits. It applies to lodge attendance.

Last week's slippery days caused a lot of minor and major accidents and some funny stunts too. One lady walked on hands and feet to and from her mailbox, about 100 feet from the house. Another started sliding with both feet down a hill and decided it was better to be wet than hurt, so she sat down and slid.

SCRIPTURE: Acts 8:26-39
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 97

The Personal Witness

Lesson for March 7, 1948

DR. ALBERT SCHWEITZER, described by Hermann Hagedorn as "Prophet in the Wilderness," is a living example of what Sunday's lesson is undertaking to portray, namely, living for Jesus where you are. Schweitzer, at 72, is described by Hagedorn as one who "burns like Francis of Assisi, and looks like Josef Stalin." But to the people of Equatorial Africa, he looks and acts like our Saviour Jesus did.

The lesson passage is found in Acts 8:26-39, and is the story of Philip, leaving his very successful evangelistic campaign in Samaria to follow the lead of the Holy Spirit into the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert. There he found a man in search of God, and through his witness the man was saved.

THE STORY OF JESUS
THIS man was not of Philip's race. He was an Ethiopian. But he was a man. And God loves every man of every race and of every condition of life. Jesus never did meet an unimportant person, nor will any true follower of his. Jesus said, "As the Father has sent Me, even so send I you," John 20:21.

This man was reading in the Book of Isaiah, where the prophet was foretelling how Jesus would suffer for the sins of the whole world. He could not understand the wonderful words. And the Spirit directed Philip to go and join himself to the eunuch. Philip ran to the chariot in which the rich man rode, asking, "Understandest thou what thou readest?" He was quick to give his witness. That is the first lesson of the lesson.

AND THE MAN LISTENED
WHEN we faithfully obey the Holy Spirit, he enables us to effectively witness for Jesus. We cannot be effective witnesses if we rely upon our own wisdom and our own judgment. The boy in your street who does not know Jesus will listen to your story if you go in the same glad obedience to the command of the Spirit of God as did Philip.

A lad told me this story. He had a neighbor who had never been to Sunday school, and he wanted to enlist this friend. He thought about it seriously. But he was not quite sure of himself. And then he prayed, asking God to direct him. The next day the boy asked him, "What are you doing Sunday morning?" With this opening the lad invited his neighbor to come along with him, and the result was that the little neighbor, of another race, accepted Christ as his Saviour and is today a regular attendant at church and Sunday school.

TO WHOM SHALL WE WITNESS?
THE question now emerges, To whom shall we bear this witness? We cannot all go as missionaries, as did Dr. Schweitzer. Most of us must remain at home and carry on the work of our everyday pursuits of life.

But every Christian can witness. First, to those immediately about us. In every community in our beloved country are people who do not know Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. We can witness to them, not to all of them, but to some of them, perhaps to one of them. And I would remind you that if you miss that particular person to whom you may be directed by the Holy Spirit, he or she may never know about the Saviour's love.

Second, we can share in the sending of the missionaries to earth's remotest bounds, through our gifts. I delight to think that I am in partnership with many great men and women on foreign fields, through my gifts and through my prayers.

Third, we can witness through personal correspondence with people in other lands. The present far-reaching media of relief for stricken peoples of the world affords a wonderful opportunity for this very witness. Ask your pastor for the name of some person your age in one of the lands to which your church is sending relief, and write that person a letter, telling of your joy in serving God.

The eunuch went on his way rejoicing. Why? Because Philip had taught him the way of salvation. He had been used as an effective witness in leading a man of another race to experience the peace that passeth all understanding.

And Jesus is saying to us today, "So send I you."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Reds Take Over in Czechoslovakia; Truman Urges Action on Housing; Civil Rights Fight Still Rages Apace

Released by WNU Features.

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

LAST STAND: Czechoslovakia

Czechoslovakia's ship of state, last outpost of democratic government in the Balkans, was sliding down greased ways into the pool of communism.

The crisis which had been impending for months appeared when the Social Democrats, in a sudden change of heart, decided to negotiate with the Communists for "equality" in the Czech cabinet.

That development came as the Communist-controlled ministry of the interior announced it had discovered the anti-Communist National Socialists were plotting against the republic and arrested seven persons.

Previously, Slovakia, which has a semi-autonomous state government had been isolated from Prague by a Communist coup and reported to be under Red control.

There was no doubt that the Soviets were moving swiftly to take over Czechoslovakia as openly and completely as they have taken over other satellites in eastern Europe.

The Communists have followed their tried and true pattern for annexing states: First there was a period (three years in the case of Czechoslovakia) of consolidation of the Communist party within the state. Then came the assumption of control of the ministry of the interior, including control of the police forces. Then, by applying pressure, the achievement of a coup d'etat, after which they take over the reins of the government.

Logically, the next step for the Communists in Czechoslovakia will be to take over the press and other media of information. Then the former anti-Communist government officials will be accused of treason, persecuted and liquidated in one way or another.

When all that is done, Russia will have added another state to its orbit; and in Czechoslovakia it will have gained a valuable acquisition. Among other things, the Soviets will get the great Skoda works and the managerial ability, technical know-how and skilled labor force that have made it one of the most important arms producers in the world.

Finally, America's access to and influence in Czechoslovakia will be reduced to negligible proportions. But neither the U. S. nor any other power can or will do anything to prevent the Russians from establishing total control over the nation.

HOUSING: Action Now

Too many Americans are living in sub-standard homes and apartments, President Truman told congress, and something has to be done about it.

In support of that thesis, he issued a virtual demand for action to overcome the national housing shortage, eliminate slums and guarantee millions of tenants the protection of workable rent controls.

Specifically, Mr. Truman urged the adoption of laws to encourage the building of more than 10 million new homes and apartments in the next 10 years. He also asked that public housing projects for low-income families be resumed at the rate of 100,000 units a year until 500,000 have been constructed.

Such a program, he asserted, would go "far toward the goal of a decent home for every American family."

The President tied his housing proposals to a request that congress act speedily to extend and strengthen the rent control law which expired February 29. The new law, he said, ought to be extended at least until April 30, 1949.

And the law should have teeth in it, he emphasized, deploring the recently expired enforcement machinery which made it impossible for the government to act against landlords who violated the law.

In most respects, Mr. Truman's long-range housing program included principal provisions of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill which is gathering dust in a congressional pigeonhole.

Objectively, the President's remarks on housing amounted to a political speech in an election year. And however necessary and constructive his proposals might be, there was not too much of a possibility that congress would see fit to act upon them now.

GROWING BUSINESS

More New Firms Appear Each Year

There were 200,000 more business firms operating in the United States at the end of 1947 than at the end of 1946, the commerce department has reported.

The number of going firms has continued to rise since the end of the war, but the rate of growth declined to a considerable extent last year, the department said. Last year's increase compares with a

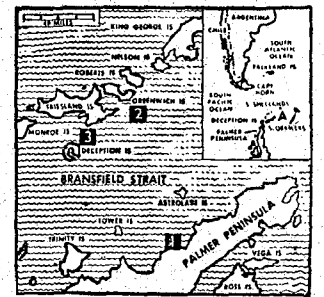

ANTARCTIC

3 Nations Dispute

Discovery of uranium deposits is reported to be the reason why warships of three nations suddenly have gone steaming frantically toward the desolate Falkland islands in the Antarctic circle.

Chile, Argentina and Great Britain are involved in a dispute which may wind up in the United Nations security council.

President Gabriel Videla of Chile proceeded in person to Greenwich island (No. 2 on the map) where he laid claim to the frigid dot of land on behalf of his country which has been maintaining a weather station there. He also established, against British protests, a second military base on Palmer peninsula (No. 1).

Greenwich island lies in the South Shetland group (inset A) which Britain considers rightfully hers.

Meanwhile, Argentina, also eager to get out in the Antarctic cold, dispatched warships to claim Deception island (No. 3).

It was the ageless drama of territorial acquisition, being played out this time in the frozen wilderness of the Antarctic. But the prize this time was as modern as next week—uranium for atomic energy.

RUCKUS: Civil Rights

Fresh from a stiff brush with J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, four Dixie governors added more fuel to the inflammable civil rights issue which currently is burning holes in the fabric of the Democratic party.

They promised doggedly to use "whatever means are necessary" to block President Truman's race equality program. In a formal statement, Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, Ben T. Laney of Arkansas, Beauford Jester of Texas and R. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina, declared:

"The southern states are aroused and the present leadership of the Democratic party will soon realize the South is no longer in the bag."

That sounded serious, although many self-appointed political observers still remained prone to view the Dixie revolt as the kind of political burlesque that is to be expected in an election year. Proponents of that attitude hold that the civil rights issue will fade and disappear before the national convention rolls around, and that any real party "split" is virtually impossible.

McGrath's own statements—unless they were only wishful thinking—tended to bear out that interpretation. He said that, in his meeting with the four governors, he had gained the impression that the conference had "resulted in good understanding," adding that he hoped it would "lessen the split in the party."

COWBOY: (Dem., Ida.)

It looked like political suicide when Sen. Glen H. Taylor (Dem., Ida.) came out formally as vice-presidential candidate on Henry Wallace's third party ticket, but the "crooning cowboy" from Idaho didn't see it that way.

He did it, he said, to support Wallace in his "gallant fight for peace" and because the Democratic party has surrendered to "Wall street and the military."

"I am not leaving the Democratic party; it left me," Taylor declared dramatically.

Taylor accused the Democrats of having "betrayed the principles in which I believe," and gloried verbally in the wonderful freedom that now would be his to campaign with Wallace against "this bi-partisan coalition and all its works; Taft-Hartley—universal military training—this drive toward war—high prices and racial discrimination and suppression of civil liberties."

FOR PEACE: Bradley

In his first public address as army chief of staff, Gen. Omar N. Bradley devoted the major portion of his remarks to peace and presented the age-old formula of the military man—peace through preparedness.

He had four suggestions for achieving lasting world harmony:

1. Support the United Nations.
2. Establish universal military training.
3. Aid in reconstruction of Europe and Asia.
4. "Do not give comfort to those nations who would risk aggression."

General Bradley also pointed out the unpleasant truth that the world is free of fear of immediate aggression today only because "the drain of war on the industrial and manpower resources of the nations has temporarily exhausted much of their vigor."

Apparently determined to carry on in the same vein which General Eisenhower had stressed insofar as world peace is concerned, the new chief of staff said:

"Security will be gained not through singular dependence on long-range aircraft, mobile land forces or naval might, but only upon a balanced trust in all three."

"Our best assurance against the inevitability of another war lies in some measure of universal subordination of absolute national sovereignty to a community of nations."

U. S. POLICY: Palestine

Caught between the devil and the deep sea as a result of possible collapse of the partition plan in Palestine, the U. S. has been compelled to formulate a hasty policy of expediency with regard to Jewish-Arab strife in the Holy Land and its repercussions in the United Nations.

First unofficial reports indicated that the American policy may be cast along these lines:

U. S. will continue to back the partition of Palestine but it will not initiate any move to send an international army into the Holy Land to enforce partition.

But if some other member of the 11-nation U. N. security council starts such a move and the council passes it, the U. S. will go along. However, such a vote appears improbable in view of the present lineup, and the U. S. will not use its own troops in any event.

U. S. will stress and support the idea of some kind of army from smaller nations or an international volunteer police force. It will also support a movement toward "freezing" the partition issue for a time in an effort to achieve conciliation between Arabs and Jews.

It is possible that the U. S. will consent, later on, to lift its arms embargo against Palestine by permitting shipments of guns and ammunition to take place as directed by the U. N. partition commission.

Pass the Meat

Two University of Chicago physiologists, Dr. A. J. Carlson and Frederick Hoelzel, have come up with new evidence supporting an earlier finding that a vegetarian diet is not only a delusive fad but actually may cut the lifespan.

They have shown that rats fed the vegetarian diet raise fewer young than those that ate everything, and the young they did raise were subnormal.

How to Put Up with Women's Styles

When Will Dudley's missus finally gave in to the new-style longer skirts, Will was mighty critical at first. Allowed as how women were a slave to fashion... ought to dress to please their husbands and not style designers.

She finally reminded Will of his habit of sitting by the radio Saturday afternoons in shirt sleeves and old slippers, listening to the sportscasts with a mellow glass of beer. Suggested that maybe Will was a slave to comfort.

And Will admitted she was right.

Perhaps the way somebody dresses isn't always to our taste—just as Will's glass of beer may be another person's cider.

But from where I sit, those little differences aren't important—unless we go out of our way to make them so, by being hypercritical. As Will says now: "Well, anyway, those long skirts hide a multitude of shins"... and lets it go at that!

Rural Tele-news

GOOD NEIGHBORS: Good rural-line neighborliness means better service for all. We're good telephone neighbors when we keep calls short, remember not to interrupt others' talks, and hang up after each call. (One receiver off the hook ties up the line for everyone.)

VOICEWAYS FOR '48: Michigan Bell expects to set 25,000 poles and string over 11,000 miles of wire in rural areas this year. This will help bring telephones to folks who are waiting and reduce the number of parties on many rural lines.

BIG CITY: The number of telephones added in rural areas by Michigan Bell in the past two years would provide a telephone for every man, woman and child in a city the size of Battle Creek. There are now 125,000 telephones in rural areas served by Michigan Bell.
