Trout Season Opens April 24

Men of the conservation department's fish hatchery staffs are keeping an anxious eye on backwoods roads, for if they are fit for truck travel early, the start of the season's tremendous trout planting program will go smoothly.

This year, as in the previous two, the department's goal (never yet quite reached) is to plant one million legal size trout, seven inches long or larger, besides many smaller trout and other fish.

In the ordinary season the fisheries men can count on about 75 days suitable for trout planting, from shortly before the season opens in April to mid-August. On these 75 days the crews must average more than 13,000 legal size trout per day, in addition to other fish planting and routine hatchery work.

Even distribution of the big trout over thousands of miles of stream requires truck travel over remote trails seldom used by any vehicles other than light passenger cars. The planting operation itself takes considerable time, as the trout must be spread along the stream in likely places where they can find food until the angler finds them. The longer it takes for back roads to become passable, the greater the load on planting crews in midsummer.

Except for the lower part of Black river in Mackinac county where rainbow trout fishing starts April 15, the state's trout streams and trout lakes are open to anglers April 24. Anglers may identify the 1948 plants of legal trout by their lack of the adipose fin, and recognize the survivors from 1947 plantings by their lack of the big dorsal.

PROCLAMATION

City Hall
City of East Jordan

Whereas the President of the United States and the Governor of the State of Michigan have proclaimed the month of April CANCER CONTROL MONTH, and

Whereas one of every three who now die of cancer could be saved through early detection and prompt treatment, and

Whereas it has already been demonstrated that the death rate from cancer, which is responsible for one in every eight deaths, could be reduced by an informed public and existing medical skill, and

Whereas the people of the City of East Jordan have always shown a progressive attitude toward all worthy public health enterprises, therefore, I, Vern J. Whiteford MAYOR OF THE CITY OF East Jordan do hereby proclaim APRIL as CANCER CONTROL MONTH and request that the citizens of this city do observe it as such.

I further request that all individuals, institutes, businesses and organizations within this city cooperate and assist the American Cancer Society in its campaign during April.

April 2, 1948
Mayor of the city of East Jordan.

Betty Lou Nelson of Houghton spent the Easter week end with Jean Trojanek. She is a student of North eastern School of Commerce, Bay City.

Army Engineers Turn Down East Jordan Breakwater Project

The investigations regarding the advisability of Federal construction of a breakwater on the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix at East Jordan, Michigan, concerning which a public hearing was held on the 2nd of October 1946 at East Jordan, and the report thereon has been made by the District and Division Engineers and is unfavorable to the desired improvement or to a detailed survey thereof at this time. The principal reasons for the adverse conclusion are that the large cost of providing the desired breakwater is considered to be not economically justified by anticipated benefits therefrom and that existing natural protection and harbor facilities are considered to be adequate for present and reasonable prospective recreational and commercial vessel traffic at this locality.

PARENTS CAN HELP WITH CHILD'S RADIO LISTENING HABITS

As parents are you concerned about the radio programs which your child listens to in the evening? Do you wonder if so many programs of horror and crime will have a harmful effect on your child?

Some critics feel that these programs can be the cause of delinquency and severe emotional disturbances. Others feel that such programs offer outlets for suspense, adventure and aggression. Mrs. Lennah K. Backus, child development specialist at Michigan State college, feels that you should consider whether the programs over-excite your child.

Exciting radio programs may tend to be too exciting for your child for several reasons. First of all, they are concentrated into an hour or an hour and a half of continuous programming. Second, they usually occur at the end of a child's day when he is pretty well tired out. Finally, the serials frequently end upon a high note of suspense.

What can parents do about the radio listening problem, you ask? It might help if you encouraged your child to listen to a program which is a complete story in itself instead of having always to wait until the next evening to relieve suspense. However, children have a way of liking what they like and we may not be too successful in attempting to influence their choice of a program.

Your best solution for getting your child's point of view and being of some positive help to him is to listen with him to some of his favorite programs. By sharing the listening with him you can relieve some of the tension and make more intelligent comments to him. If you try, you can enjoy watching your youngsters grow through various stages of radio interest.

Clean-up Proclamation

The week of April 12 to April 17 has been designated as Annual Clean-Up Week in East Jordan. All residents are urged to clean up their premises of all rubbish.

Trucks will be furnished by the City for the removal of rubbish placed in containers and at the curb or near-by alley. All rubbish for removal should be placed by Monday a. m. so that no "repeat" trips will be necessary. The City absolutely will not haul ashes. These must be taken care of by the residents.

VERN WHITEFORD, Mayor.

Legion Convention Here Sunday

LOWER 11th DISTRICT CONVENTIONS THIS SUNDAY APRIL 11th.

Legionnaires from sixteen Northern Michigan communities will be here this Sunday April 11th for the annual spring convention of the lower 11th Michigan district, American Legion. Rebec-Sweet post will be hosts for the occasion, which was scheduled last fall when the local boys still had a home. Despite the loss of the Legion Hall, it was decided to go forward with plans for entertaining the spring convention.

The festivities get under way with a parade at 1:00 P. M. It is hoped that several Bugle & Drum Corps will be present for it.

At 2:00 P. M. the business meetings get under way, the Legion holding theirs at the Temple Roof, and the Auxiliary meeting in the Odd Fellows Hall. At 5:00 P. M. the Auxiliary will serve a buffet luncheon in the Odd Fellow Hall, and entertainment and dancing will be held at the Temple Roof in the evening.

The present Temple Roof, known for many years throughout northern Michigan as "The Armory", was the original home of East Jordan's Company I, and its predecessor, Company X, before and during World War I. It was Rebec-Sweet post's first home. The original members worked hard in building up the post and, through their efforts, the home destroyed by fire in February was bought and paid for. When the boys returned from World War II, they found 35 of the "Old Guard" on hand to meet them. With the younger vets joining with the older ones, new life has been instilled until now the post boasts a membership of 225, the largest in Northern Michigan. All Legionnaires, regardless of where their homes are, are invited to attend the convention Sunday.

J. H. Gilman of Petoskey, committeeman of the lower 11th, will be here, as well as several other notables.

Local committees in charge of the affairs are, Entertainment: Franklin Stucker, Bill Bennett, Henry Boss, Frank Ingalls and Teddy Kotowich. Parade: Gerald Barnett, Thomas Breakey, Archie Griffin, Leon Peterson and Bud Strehl. Publicity: Cyril Dolzel, Dave Pray and George Secord.

The buffet luncheon will be handled by the Auxiliary, with Mrs. Louis Bathke, Mrs. Roy Gokee and Mrs. Ted Kotowich in charge.

Communities which will be represented are Alpena, Bellaire, Boyne City, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, East Jordan, Ellsworth, Harbor Springs, Kalkaska, Mackinaw City, Mancelona, Petoskey, Rogers City, South Boardman, Walloon Lake and Wolvenine.

Calling All Oddfellows

The annual district meeting district No. 4, will be held at Gaylord, April 17. Our district president has made elaborate plans for a grand get to gether. A parade of all Odd fellows clothed in the proper regalia of the rank that they have attained, will form at the depot at 7 P. M. All Oddfellows who wish to enjoy a fine program and join in the good fellowship of our district Lodges should make every effort to attend.

We will meet at our Oddfellow lodge room at 5:30 P. M. There will be plenty of cars for all. Lets have our Lodge be the best represented there.

Recording Sec., Sherman Conway

Chain Postal Cards

In recent weeks there has been received at the local Post Office a great many postal cards offered for mailing, which in general read as follows:

"In three days make six copies of this card leaving off the first name and adding yours to the bottom. Mail to friends. Send the top name one tea towel. Please do not fail to do this. You will receive 36 towels when your name gets to the top. It's fun to see who they come from. Pin your name on the towel you send."

All such chain letters and postal cards are unmailable and contrary to the Postal Laws and Regulations and in accordance with order No. 21953 of July 22, 1943, will be withheld from the mails and disposed of through Dead Letter Offices.

Sanitation In Barnyard Needed

The needless loss of meat and waste of feed can be cut by some common sense clean-up measures, believes Dr. B. J. Killham, extension veterinarian at Michigan State college.

Livestock and poultry losses caused by disease, parasites and injury take a large toll each year. Cleaning and disinfecting buildings and pens, particularly those where young animals and birds are to be born or housed, is a good measure. Old piles of refuse and manure are often heavily infested with parasites.

The veterinarian advises farmers to get rid of old strawstacks and plow under or scatter the straw. Old stacks harbor parasites and germs. Low spots in barn lots should be drained or fenced off. Stagnant pools and mud are breeding places for parasites and insects.

In removing causes of injury, Killham advises special care in picking up nails, glass, or other sharp objects. Protruding nails, broken stalls, and other defects can easily injure stock.

Get Trout Stamp Now

Thousands of Michigan trout fishermen preparing for the season opening just three weeks away appear to have overlooked to date one essential item: the new $1 trout stamp. Among the first few hundred stamp buyers, stamp collectors outnumbered fishermen three to one.

Residents and nonresidents alike must have the stamp pasted on their regular fishing licenses, as duck stamps are pasted on hunting licenses, when they get out on trout lakes and trout streams April 24. While fishing for brook, brown or rainbow trout every fisherman must have the stamp with him—with one exception. The wife of the licensed resident angler may fish trout free on her husband's stamp, as she fishes for other species free on her husband's license.

Revenues from trout stamp sales must be used by the conservation department exclusively for the propagation of trout and planting of trout in trout streams. The trout stamps are available at any one of the state's 3,000 license dealers in sporting goods stores, hardware stores, gas stations and resorts.

The Trestleboard

Did You Know that a majority of our present congressmen are Masons? Many of them are 32nd degree Masons and belong to the Consistory and Shrine. The Shrine is what is known as the play ground of Masonry. The order maintains many hospitals for crippled children throughout the state and sponsors an annual circus in many of the large cities, proceeds from which go to the maintenance of the hospital.

The 33rd degree in Masonry is a strictly honorary one. Only men of distinction and those who have attained outstanding achievement in Masonic circles are honored with this degree. Its membership is very limited. President Truman and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg are among those who hold membership in this select group.

In Kansas City Missouri, March 1919 The Order of DeMolay for boys was organized. Boys of good character who are between the ages of sixteen and twenty one and whose fathers are Master Masons are eligible for membership. The ritualistic teachings of the order are filial affection and patriotism. While in no sense a Masonic organization, it is under the supervision of Masonic bodies. A sister to the DeMolay is the Order of Rainbow for girls. This organization is sponsored by the O. E. S. and came into being April 6, 1922.

Mark Chapter O. E. S. Welcomes to its membership four new members who received their initiatory degree work last Friday night April 2nd. Among the group of seventy five who attended the ceremony, were many visitors from neighboring towns. These included one grand lodge officer from Harbor Springs, three past grand officers, and five officers of the Meguzee.

Don't forget tonight (April 8) is the O. E. S. sponsored dance at the high school. As no ticket will be sold at the door, it will be necessary that you purchase them prior to the opening hour. Mdes. Reuling, Jackson, or DesJardins will be glad to accommodate you in the little detail.

Regular communication of East Jordan Lodge No. 879 this coming Tuesday, April 13.

Regular meeting of Mark Chapter O. E. S. Wednesday, April 14.

Truman Calls for Draft, Training To Bolster Resistance to Russia; U.S. Reverses Stand on Partition

FORCES AT WORK . . . Increasing Communist pressure in Europe has been instrumental in dividing the continent into three component power blocs, all of which are influenced by a fourth force—U.S. policy, symbolized by the presence of American troops in Germany, Austria and Italy. Map shows western bloc (1) of anti-Communist Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands; northern bloc (2) of the Scandinavian countries, daily growing more apprehensive of Soviet tactics and eastern bloc (3) of Russia and its satellites. Present approximate American troop strength is indicated for Germany (120,000), Austria (10,000) and Italy (5,000).

THE PRICE

Peace and War

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace or assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

Those words, spoken by President Harry Truman to the U. S. congress, could be the seeds of the first genuine, effective foreign policy this nation has had for half a century.

Disregarding any political overtones there might have been in the President's speech, his address to the joint session of congress reflected the realization at the top level of government that any successful foreign policy must be based on the fundamental concept of striking a balance between commitments abroad and the national security or strength at home available to back up those commitments.

By definition, the term "foreign policy" implies that any nation expressing such a policy possesses the strength—in military forces and alliances—to follow it consistently at all times and to defend it just as consistently in case of war.

In that connection Mr. Truman specifically asked congress for power to draft men to build armed strength against the ruthless aggression of Soviet communism. He asked also for "prompt enactment of universal training legislation," indicating that the draft should be only temporary until universal military training is giving the country the trained men it needs.

Finally, he sought swift passage of the 5.3-billion-dollar European recovery program—the Marshall plan for economic recovery of western European nations which is setting the Kremlin's teeth on edge.

Bluntly the President upbraided Russia for making a travesty of peace:

"One nation has not only refused to cooperate in the establishment of a just and honorable peace, but—even worse—has actively sought to prevent it."

Western Pact

Lending force to Mr. Truman's scattering of the seeds of foreign policy was the fact that, an hour before he delivered his pronouncement, the just-completed five-nation western European pact for common defense against attack had been announced officially.

Under the treaty, Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands pledged one another military aid in the event that any one of them should be attacked.

According to the new "Truman doctrine," the United States would be the principal guarantor of this five-power union. Without such a guarantee of U.S. backing, the western European treaty would be meaningless.

By his declaration in support of the western European pact Mr. Truman seemed to be guiding the U.S. to a point of departure from its historic adherence to the diplomatic enormity of refusing to engage in "entangling alliances" even at the price of its own welfare.

BACHELORS:

Declining

Evidence of an innate desire for family life among adult Americans is revealed in a study by the U. S. bureau of the census showing a long-term decline in the proportion of bachelors of both sexes.

On a numerical basis, census bureau figures disclose, the number of single men and women has dropped to the lowest level since 1920, despite a third increase in population since then.

REACTION:

Divided

What are the true facts? Just how potentially lethal is the situation with regard to Russia?

Senators and representatives were asking those questions after President Truman's "let's get strong" message. Many of them were demanding answers before they would consent to go ahead with any legislation endorsing a military draft or UMT.

Congress was divided, but the split was not along party lines. It reflected isolationism, discontent with the Truman foreign policy and in some cases an almost unhealthy respect for Russia's power in Europe. Greatest fear seemed to be that conditions in Europe, as precipitated by Soviet actions, may get

CONVINCING

Closeted for 50 minutes with Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall, the senate armed services committee emerged from the conference to throw its weight behind President Truman's plea for quick action to build up America's military forces.

Sen. Chan Gurney (Rep., S.D.), chairman of the committee, reported that 10 of the group's 13 members were convinced that both a limited draft and universal military training have become an "absolute necessity."

Just what the three secretaries told the armed services committee was not disclosed, but it was undeniably powerful information.

out of hand suddenly, despite the efforts of Russia or any other nation to prevent such a development.

Best opinion holds that, while Russia is not now seeking war, the Communists have created a kind of Frankenstein monster in Europe that at any moment could plunge out of control and involve the world in another conflict. Secretary of State Marshall is said to feel this way:

The Soviets are motivated by a sense of urgency to act before the European recovery program begins to function and before the union of western European nations is firmly established. Driven by this feeling of urgency, the Soviets may not be able to avert an incident which would lead to a shooting war.

ABOUT FACE:

Expedience

To many persons it looked as though the United States, in abandoning its support of the Palestine partition plan, had pulled a "Pontius Pilate" on the same scene where the procurator of Judea had, washed his hands not quite 2,000 years ago to sanction the Crucifixion.

In reversing its role in the partition struggle, the U.S. proposed that the Holy Land be made a United Nations trusteeship, giving Jews and Arabs a chance to reach agreement on their own concerning the future of their country's government.

Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U.N., said that it was obvious that partition could not be carried out except by force, and the U.S. consistently has demurred against the idea of sending troops to Palestine.

It was ironic that the American statement withdrawing support from the partition plan was undoubtedly the death blow to that plan which never would have been adopted by the U.N. in the first place if it had not been for American pressure and influence.

TRIESTE:

Surprise

In a move that surprised everyone from the Russians to American congressmen, the U.S. proposed jointly with France and Britain that the free territory of Trieste be returned to Italy.

Trieste, long a storm center coveted by both Italians and Yugoslavs, had been made a free state under United Nations guidance in the six-months-old Italian peace treaty.

The proposal was, apparently, a shrewd and calculated move to try to help the anti-Communist forces in Italy win the April 18 election.

It literally put the Russians on the spot, leaving them with little choice of reaction. If they support the western powers' proposal to return Trieste to Italy they will be, in effect, turning their backs on their previous arguments for a Yugoslav Trieste, thereby kicking their Yugoslav cohorts in the face.

On the other hand, if Russia were to side with Yugoslavia it would amount to a rebuff for the Italian Communists. Possession of Trieste is a great political issue in Italy, and it well may turn out now to be a deciding factor in the elections coming up there.

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, however, lost little time in answering the proposal of the U.S., Britain and France. He simply rejected the demand and proposed instead that a plebiscite be held in the free state of Trieste to decide whether it should be Italian or Yugoslav.

Moscow diplomats were calling the action "another move toward war." Said one: "The beginnings of international order which emerged after the war are being destroyed."

But to those who were working tooth and nail against the spread of communism it looked like a master stroke, one which might keep Italy and all of western Europe out of reach of the Kremlin.

FOOD WASTE:

Rats, Insects

Although the world is crying for food, hundreds of thousands of tons of American foodstuffs are spoiled each year by the depredations of rats, mice and insects—and often by the carelessness of some producers.

Food and drug administration officials say the amount of so-called "filthy food" they destroy every year is enough to contribute "very substantially" to the hungry areas of the world.

"Filthy food" is the legal term for food spoiled by "contamination of rats, mice, insects or other repulsive foreign bodies." It is the job of the food and drug administration to find and condemn filthy food in the channels of interstate commerce and to prosecute those responsible.

Since FDA's power to condemn filthy foods at their destination was taken away a year ago, officials estimate that, as a result, 20 tons of such food appears in retail outlets every day.

RABBITS:

Meat Supply

There is one vast source of meat—maybe an inexhaustible one—that the U.S. public might have to consider seriously if beef and pork become as scarce and expensive as it is predicted they will:

Rabbits. That is a department of agriculture idea. The department suggested that the American people take up the raising of rabbits as a supplementary source of meat to eke out the usual protein fare, destined to become more scarce and costly.

National rabbit week, which was observed during the week following Easter, would be "a good time" for families to plan to produce a "year round supply of this white, delicately flavored, nutritious meat, comparable to breast of chicken," the department hinted.

What does one need to begin raising rabbits? Just rabbits.

Bushed

It takes technicolor to do justice to the whiskers of Gordon Moore of Vicksburg, Mich., who will defend his title as the owner of the world's champion beard in a contest to be held there in July. Beard and mustache are a brilliant and matching red.

Expanding Colleges

By 1950 American colleges and universities will need additional space equivalent to 133 Empire State buildings and several billion dollars to pay for it, which is where the taxpayers come in.

That is the present outlook for higher education as reported by the U. S. office of education. The report, dealing with college and university building needs, is based on a survey of 1,386 institutions.

His Message to Exiles

Lesson for April 11, 1948

CONTINUING the theme of last Sunday's lesson, we go further into the ministry of Ezekiel as God's messenger to a people in exile. For this Sunday we have chapters 18 and 34, and portions of the 36th and 37th chapters.

Dr. Newton

The 18th chapter opens with a revealing rebuke to Ezekiel. God tells him expressly that he is not to say any more to the Jews that "the fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine." And then God adds, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

GOD'S LOVE AND CARE

ALL through these chapters in Sunday's lesson, two solemn truths appear—God's love for his people, manifest in unwearied care; and the responsibility of each soul for the sin which such commits against God.

This truth, or these truths, I should say, are equally applicable for us today. As Ezekiel was sent to remind the people of God's love and care, so must we, early in our youth, accept the responsibility of accepting his love or rejecting his love.

We cannot claim his care if we despise his will. That is the message of Ezekiel for us.

WHAT GOD IS LIKE

NOWHERE in the Old Testament is the love of God more manifest and compelling than in Ezekiel 34:11-27. I hope that you will open your Bible to this passage. Here the Bible speaks in words that burn with the compassionate love of God for sinful souls.

"I will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day . . . And I will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers."

One is reminded here of Jesus, when he said, "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

A NEW HEART

"A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you," Ezekiel 36:26.

Here we have, perhaps, the sublimest sentence in the prophecy of Ezekiel. God is speaking. Ezekiel is merely the messenger—the voice, as John the Baptist delighted to describe himself.

Ezekiel has faithfully declared that each individual is responsible unto God, and just as faithfully he has proclaimed God's love and care, and now he adds the third great truth, namely, that God wants to bestow the new heart and the new spirit to every repentant soul.

A new heart and a new spirit. That is what the Jews needed. That is what the world needs today—a new heart and a new spirit. Only God could give a new heart then, and only God can make such gift today.

EZEKIEL'S MESSAGE FOR US

WOULD we listen to Ezekiel today? He has the message we need above all other words that may be spoken. He called the Jews to repentance of sin. That is what America needs today. Boys and girls need it. Men and women need it. And just as God waited patiently to bestow the new heart and spirit to Israel in the long ago, so does he wait to grant us today a new heart and a new spirit.

Our Hope for years to come;
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home."

There's No Substitute

"I thoroughly believe in a university education for both men and women, but I believe that a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible. Every one who has a thorough knowledge of the Bible may be truly called educated, and no other learning, or culture—no matter how extensive and elegant—can be a proper substitute."

"I AM ONE of 24,000 Michigan Bell employees. In 1947 we had more facilities and equipment to work with. We added new wire, cable and central office equipment at record speed. And by the end of the year we were putting telephones in at the rate of over 1,500 a day. Last year, 1,900 more telephone jobs were created, which meant up-from-the-ranks promotions for many of us. Wages were higher. There were nearly three times as many of us as ten years ago, and our payroll was nearly four times as high. One out of every eleven of us received payments for illness or injury under the company's Benefit Plan and 7,400 of us were buying A. T. & T. stock under a payroll deduction plan."

Which were you in 1947?

"I AM ONE of 1,200,000 Michigan Bell customers. In 1947 we bought more telephone service than ever before. And the rates we paid were the same or lower than they were ten years ago. We made 10% more local calls and 8% more long distance calls than in 1946. We got better, faster service. By the end of the year there were 133,000 more Bell telephones in Michigan that we could call. So our own telephones became more valuable to us—and will become even more valuable when the thousands who are waiting for telephones get them."

"I AM ONE of more than 730,000 people whose savings, invested in Bell System securities, provide money for building the telephone system. That makes me an investor in Michigan Bell. Millions of others have invested in the telephone business indirectly through their savings accounts or insurance policies with institutions owning Bell securities. Although Michigan Bell took in 6% more money than in 1946, the cost of providing service rose 13%. And Michigan Bell earned only 3 8/10c last year on each of our dollars invested in the business. This is less than a fair return and offers us little incentive for investing additional money needed to expand and improve service. So it's a good thing Michigan Bell has asked for an increase in telephone rates to assure us a fair return."

LOOKING AHEAD: Michigan Bell fully expects to supply a continually improving service to the public... good jobs for thousands of employees, with plenty of opportunity for advancement in a growing business... and a reasonable return to those whose savings are invested in the business.

Governor Kim Sigler says he will veto any legislative bill to increase the three-cent gasoline tax.

Announcement was made to newspaper correspondents at Lansing, following delivery by the governor of two supplemental messages to the state legislature. His decision was forecast in this column March 11.

The Michigan Good Roads Federation recently advocated a 15-year $1,400,000,000 highway construction program which would be financed, in part, by a boost in the gas tax. The weather of the past winter proved to be a strong ally, as state highways were damaged badly. Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler estimates the loss at $500,000, the worst in 20 years. Detroit's street damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

The governor's attitude is based on his belief that Michigan's tax revenues are not being distributed equitably, due to the sales tax diversion amendment. Seventy-six per cent of the state sales revenue is now returned to local governments, including public schools.

Sigler does recommend, however, that present highway funds be distributed more equitably. This covers the motor vehicle weight tax.

A. O. Cuthbert, director of the County Road Association of Michigan, says that an emergency situation now exists on Michigan highways because of post-war inflation.

"In 1940 the county road commissions paid $8,300,000 in wages," he said. "Last year they paid $15,200,000. A highway maintenance truck sold for $950 in 1940 and now costs $2,200. A motor grader costing $5,000 in 1940 is listed at $11,000 today."

Counties now maintain 87,000 miles of Michigan's 107,000-mile highway network.

The tug-of-war continues between state and local governments over whom should be held responsible for enforcement of liquor laws. Eighty-five per cent liquor fees are now returned to local units, to help finance enforcement of such regulations. Yet the state liquor control commission maintains a force of 82 inspectors. Attorney General Eugene Black has ruled the commission can withhold payment of license fees to any municipality or township which does not utilize such revenue for the use as intended.

The house of representatives has voted to cut the number of inspectors from 82 to 55.

Michigan miscellany: Thirty-four county and district fairs will have harness horse racing during their fairs this year. . . . The Michigan Education Association is sponsoring a constitutional amendment to permit lifting of the five-mill limitation on real estate taxes by a majority of votes cast instead of the two-thirds majority now required. Ludington, voted 754 to 531 to levy an additional five mills for five years. Such a vote on a bond issue would have carried it; the two-thirds requirement meant its defeat.

Budget Director John A. Perkins reports these significant figures: During the 1948-49 fiscal year approximately $305 millions will be returned by the State of Michigan to local governments from state-collected taxes. During the 1943-44 fiscal year the total was $142 millions. Payroll of state employees is 13.9 per cent of total current expenditures; in 1942, five years ago—it was 14.9 per cent.

Ernest T. Conlon, former state ex-lobbyist, has just received a $7,500 a year plum as head of the sales tax division for Detroit. The job was revived after a lapse of ten years.

Back in the days of Governor Alex Groesbeck the governor had power to hire or fire department heads. Groesbeck wielded his authority, and it is a matter of record that he fired Tom Johnson as state superintendent of public schools and the State Supreme court upheld his right to do so. Some of the reluctance of legislators today to centralize power in the hands of the governor may be traced back to memories of 1921 when Groesbeck swung the big stick.

If the state legislature declines to submit the reform amendments to the people at the November election, Governor Sigler is likely to take the issue directly to the voters. As a self-registered lobbyist for the people, Sigler would make a vigorous campaign.
