TWO NEW HOME EXTENSION GROUPS ORGANIZED

Two new Home Extension groups have recently been organized in Antrim County, says Mrs. Virginia Vance, District Home Demonstration Agent for Antrim, Kaykaska and Crawford counties.

One of the new groups is located in South Milton with Mrs. Glen Hooper and Mrs. Pearl Hockin as project leaders.

The second group was organized in Ellsworth with Mrs. Henry Ruis, Chairman, Mrs. Claude Dawson, Sec. and Mrs. Ed Klooster, Project leaders; Mrs. Marvin Elzinga, Recreation Leader and Mrs. Charles Edson, representative for the County Home Extension Council.

Home Extension groups are organizers through the county where people are interested in Home Economics work. The work is made possible through the Extension Service of the Michigan State College working local County offices. The project leaders attend the Leader's training meetings when they are held in Bellaire and then, they in turn present the material to the members of their local group.

There are now 15 active Home Extension groups in Antrim County.

Other people who are interested in forming Home Extension groups may secure assistance by contacting Mrs. Virginia Vance, Home Demonstration Agent, in the County Agricultural Agent's office, Court House, Bellaire.

Recommends Use of Fertilizer on Spring Grain

The use of commercial fertilizer on spring grains is recommended by E. D. Longnecker, soils specialist at Michigan State College.

One of the best places to use the fertilizer, he points out, is with small grain crops with which seedlings of legumes or legumes and grasses are being made. The benefits to the grass and legume seeding often equal or surpass the benefits to the grain crop.

On the heaviest types soil, the silt loams and clay loams, an application of 300 to 400 pounds per acre of 2-16-8, 2-12-6, 0-14-7, 0-20-10, or 0-20-0 is advised. Where a legume is being seeded with the grain, a fertilizer carrying half as much potash as phosphorus should be selected. On a field which tends to produce grain crops lacking in straw growth a complete fertilizer carrying at least two per cent of nitrogen should prove most satisfactory. Where stable manure is being applied, ordinary superphosphate may be used to supplement the manure.

Fertilizers carrying more potassium are needed on the lighter soils such as loams and sandy loams. Analysis shows as 3-12-12 and 0-12-12 can be used. The 0-12-12 should be used only on soils which tend to promote overrank straw or stalk growth.

This spring it may be necessary to substitute 2-16-8 for 3-12-12 because of shortages. If 2-12-6 is used on small grains in which legume seedlings have been made, an application of 0-12-12, 0-20-20, or 0-10-20 should be made as soon as it can be obtained.

South Arm Farm Bureau

The South Arm Farm Bureau will meet Tuesday evening 8 P. M., April 20, at the home of Mrs. John Addis. There will be an interesting report given by a member who went on the two-day study tour of the Michigan legislature, the Department of Agriculture, the Michigan State College, the Michigan Farm Bureau and Farm Bureau Services' headquarters at Lansing, March 30 and 31.

Everybody welcome to attend the meeting.

Reva Addis, Secretary.

East Jordan Study Club Activities

Mrs. Howard Taft was hostess to the East Jordan Study Club on Monday, April 5th, with Gladys Bechtold, Agnes Hegerberg and Rose Adair assistant hostesses.

The nominating committee presented the following members for office for 1948-49 and they were unanimously elected: President, "Esther Porter; Vice President, Rose Adair; Secretary-Treasurer, Luella Stanek. Mrs. Sidebotham reviewed the book "Little Mossback Amelia" by Amelia Fox.

The final meeting for this year will be the Annual dinner on April 20th at the Methodist church, after which the Club will adjourn until September.

Farm Topics

SHOULD YOU ADD LIME?

Do you add lime to your fields, because you think you should or do you add lime because you know you should? Is your money well spent buying lime or are you throwing it away? Would good fertilizer be a better buy?

To answer the above questions, 361 samples of soil from farms in Charlevoix County were tested last week for lime requirements. Only 55 of the 361 samples, or about 15 per cent, needed lime. Of these 55 samples that needed lime, 32 samples needed only one ton per acre, 18 samples needed two tons per acre and seven samples needed three tons of lime per acre.

Lime should not be added to the balance of the samples. In fact 81 of the samples, or 22 per cent, tested too high in calcium content for best growth of most crops. Some of these 81 were high enough so that some trouble might be expected from deficiency of other plant food elements. Potato growers should be very careful about adding lime. The moral of this is—TEST YOUR SOIL BEFORE YOU ADD LIME.

The following recommendations for fertilizers will satisfy most farms in the County. For oats planted alone use about 300 lbs of 2-12-6. For oats seeded with alfalfa use 400 lbs of 3-12-12. For corn use manure and 100 lbs of 2-12-6. For potatoes without irrigation use 500 lbs of 3-12-12 and with irrigation use 800-1000 lbs of 3-12-12. For gardens use about 25 lbs per 1000 sq. ft. However you will have to use what ever fertilizer you are able to obtain.

PETER WINNICK JOINS COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

Peter Winnick, who lives north of Charlevoix, joined the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association this past month, according to a report by Lee Cook, tester. Mr. Winnick has a nice herd of holsteins. He is also a member of the Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association.

During March, Mr. Cook tested 23 herds with a total of 290 cows, including 60 dry cows. The average test was 3.96% with an average production of 622 lbs of milk and 24.6 lbs of butterfat for the month for all cows. The average returns per $1.00 feed cost was $1.89. The average feed cost per pound of butterfat was $0.55 and per cwt. of milk was $2.17. Bernie DeYoung owned the Jersey cow that produced 1432 pounds of milk testing 4.4% and containing 63.0 lbs of butterfat. Nathan Carpenter owned the Jersey herd whose average production for March was 38.6 pounds of butterfat for all of his nine cows. Clyde Warner produced a pound of butterfat with $0.36 worth of feed. However it must be remembered that feed is only one of the many items of expense in producing butterfat.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS IN ARTIFICIAL BREEDING PROGRAM

Five farmers have joined the Boyne City A. B. A. this past month. They are as follows: Leonard Cosier, Boyne City; Mrs. W. A. Richards, East Jordan; Elmer Behling, Boyne City; John Stanhope, Boyne City; and Shirley L. Behling, Boyne City. A total of 64 members now belong to the association.

Curtis Nicloy, Inseminator, reports 64 services for the month of March. This is 13 more than during the month of February. The new microscope seems to be helping out in giving better service.

Watch and Jewelry Repair Shop Opens For Business

A former East Jordan G. I. Frank J. Strehl, is opening a Watch and Jewelry Repair Shop at the Hite Drug Store.

Mr. Strehl has studied this work at the Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, and at the Veterans Vocational School at Pine Lake. Later on he worked at the trade at Allegan.

Mr. Strehl is well qualified in this work and will, without doubt make a success of his venture.

Grass Days Will Emphasize Need For Crop Balance

Michigan farmers are realizing the need for a better balance between acreage in cash and grain feed crops and hay and pasture. During the war, 11 million acres of land in the corn belt area went into intertilled crops, much of it from grass and legume acreage.

E. D. Longnecker, member of the soil science department at Michigan State college, believes much of this land needs to go back to grass and legumes to protect the soil. Soil tests conducted by the college show the use of legumes in crop rotations not only builds up the soil, but pays bigger returns over a five year period.

Tests on the Lee Ferden farm in Saginaw county show that rotations with alfalfa included in two years of a five-year rotation were most profitable. A one year use of alfalfa grossed $35 less per acre over the five-year period. When no legume of grass was used the income was $70 per acre less than when two years of alfalfa were included in the five-year rotation.

Longnecker believes Michigan farmers will find many demonstrations at the various Grass Day program to be held throughout the state in June that will be of interest to them. Demonstrations held in different sections of the state will show proper methods of seeding, management, harvesting and using legume and hay crops.

Although the demand is still high for heavy production of grain crops, Michigan's huge dairy industry needs a great acreage of pasture and hay.

An optimist is a man who goes downstairs with a fish pole when he finds his basement flooded.

Last Number of Community Concerts Next Monday, at Petokey

The last number of the season on the Community Concerts course will be Monday evening, April 19, at the Petokey High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

The treat in store for Monday is a violinist, Tossy Spivakovsky. Time magazine paid him a most unusual tribute in the January 26, 1948, number, giving a column and a half to a concert he had played with the San Francisco orchestra. We quote from Time of that date.

"No one was quite sure what had set them (the audience) off: the flashing performance of a violinist unknown to San Francisco audiences Tossy Spivakovsky, 37 or the wonders of the work he had just played, Bela Bartok's only concerto for violin.

At intermission people asked each other was this the best since the sensational debut of Heifetz 30 years ago or was this just the best period?" Mr. Spivakovsky will play some of the same music next Monday evening that made such a hit in San Francisco last January.

Pomona Grange Meets With Marion Center Friday, April 16

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange will meet at the Marion Center Grange Hall on Friday, April 16. A pot luck supper will be served at 7 P. M. The program, in charge of Mrs. Anna Warner, follows later in the evening. At this time instructions will be given for the start of the Grange Mystery Ride. Two or three counties are participating and it counts in the contest.

Hottest Spice Family

More than 50,000 tons of spices are consumed annually in the United States alone and the most popular spice is black pepper which was discovered as an unattractive wild vine in the jungles of the Malay peninsula. Both black and white pepper come from the same plant—the white comes from the less peppery, inner parts of the berry. Hundreds of other types of peppery, hot plants are much hotter to the taste and easier to grow but the popularity of black pepper on the modern table remains unchallenged since long before Columbus set out to find a faster route to the spice-bearing East.

Michigan's public enemy No. 1 today is inflation, the by-product of War.

It is responsible for most of the problems now before state and local governments.

This fact came to us with new force the other day when we heard State Senator Otto Bishop of Alpena, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, give an excellent luncheon talk on state government's financial dilemma. We then visited the gallery of the House of Representatives at the Capital. What we heard there was an echo.

Here's the over-all picture, as we see it. The worth of a dollar bill is measured by how much you can buy with it. Compared with 1939 prices, the dollar today is worth only 60 cents.

This is dollar inflation. It has followed every major war: War of 1812, Civil War, World War I and now, World War II. It happens whenever there are more dollars in circulation than there are goods on the market.

World War I was followed by inflation, then by depression. By 1932 the banks were closed; thousands of people were losing their homes. The state legislature voted a mortgage moratorium, abolished the state realty tax, and adopted a 3 per cent sales tax. Eleven cities took refuge behind a 15-mill limitation of local real estate taxes, as offered optionally by constitutional amendment.

Then World War II came to us via Pearl Harbor. Prices started upward again. State government collected more taxes than it could spend due to war controls; the legislature took $50 millions of surplus and created a veterans' trust fund. Money was earmarked also for hospital needs, all long neglected.

Inflation grew worse. Cities badly needed more funds. So did public school teachers. Cities and teachers then put over an amendment to divert 76 per cent of the state sales tax (first adopted as a substitute for the state real estate tax) back to local governments.

Where 59 per cent of this money was returned to local governments last year (ending July 1, 1947, the total will run 76 per cent by July 1, 1948.

Now as long as prices keep going up and up, the 3 per cent sales tax has yielded more and more money. By July 1, for example, the state expects to have a surplus of $23 millions. By using this sum and what is left of state collected revenues, state government will have a deficit of $28 millions by July 1, 1949.

Last year the state collected $382 millions taxes. The state then paid $226 millions to local governments. The total revenue collected by state and local governments was $693 millions. Local governments got 77.5 per cent of this; state government had 22.5 per cent.

The inflated dollar is putting everyone in the hole—citizen, local government and state government.

Deficit financing looms for several county governments. Disbursements of all county governments in Michigan rose from $64 millions in 1944 to $80 millions in 1946. Such was inevitable. The dollar in 1946 was worth 71 cents. Today it is worth 60 cents.

Deficit financing looms for the State of Michigan. Except for the July 1 surplus, the deficit next year would be $51 millions.

The state legislature is wrestling with the effects of inflation. Can the state cut its own expenditures to make up the gap caused by diversion of more revenue to local governments? Should the state cut out other state aids such as money to public libraries, welfare money to the poor, and so on? Should hospital beds be provided for the mentally ill? Should college buildings be finished? We can't lick dollar inflation by levying more taxes.

We can check inflation by spending fewer dollars, deferring some expenditures, and putting this money aside for use later on when a dollar will be worth more than 60 cents.

The Security Bond campaign, opening this week, offers each citizen an opportunity to act.

Inflation is our Public Enemy No. 1

Mosher — Hosler

Margaret J. Mosher and Clifford R. Hosler were married, Saturday, at 9:00 A. M., at St. Joseph Catholic church. Miss Mosher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Mosher, East Jordan, and Mr. Hosler, the son of Mrs. J. K. Bader, East Jordan, and Dewey Hosler, Grand Rapids.

The double ring marriage ceremony took place at a Nuptial High Mass offered by Rev. Joseph J. Malinowski, before an altar decorated with potted Easter Lillies and baskets of yellow, white and red snapdragons, pink gladioli and evergreen boughs.

The bride's maid of honor was Mary Umlor, and twin sister, Sue Umlor, was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Robert Nemeck and Edward Lord.

The bride chose a gown of white satin trimmed with lace. The long sleeves fashioned with a point trimmed with lace at the wrists. The skirt ending with a long train. Her finger tip veil was of net and edged with white satin ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white roses and white stock tied with white satin ribbon with long streamers. The maid of honor wore a light blue printed organdie gown and carried a bouquet of white roses tied with a blue ribbon.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of pink printed organdie and her bouquet was white roses tied with pink ribbon.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Mosher chose a aqua dress and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a black crepe dress and corsage of deep pink roses.

A wedding breakfast was served the wedding party by the bride's mother at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Pienta, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held at the Jordan Inn at 2:00 o'clock to over 100 guests. The dining room was decorated with pussy willows, evergreens and snapdragons. The table was centered with a three tiered cake topped with a white dove holding two rings in its bill. The cake was served with ice cream fruit, punch and coffee.

For their short wedding trip the bride wore a grey suit with white accessories. The couple will make their home at the Bowen apartment, 402 2nd street.

Out of town guests were Stanley Block, Trenton; Robert Herrmann, Wyandotte; Shirley and Lorene Buskard, Romulus; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Karr of Sault Ste Marie.

Annual Fiesta First in E. Jordan

JOIN IN THE FUN THIS SATURDAY. SEE THE KING AND QUEEN AND THE BULL FIGHT

There is hardly a family in East Jordan who is not looking forward to Saturday, April 17th and what it will represent in the way of gaiety and fun. The first annual P. T. A. sponsored Fiesta is scheduled for that day and indications are that East Jordan will be host to many out of town visitors who will join in the Fiesta. Everyone is asked to don a sash, colorful scarf, or complete costume and join in the parade that is scheduled to start at 1:30 P. M. Led by the East Jordan High School Band which has been re-named for the occasion and now known as "Pedro and His Hot Tamales", the parade will include the recently elected King and Queen of the Fiesta, King Kazmir Monuske and Queen Glenda Maxwell. Also taking place of honor in the parade will be attendants and members of the "royal party". Students who were selected by classmates in the upper four grades of the High School and were candidates in the King and Queen Contest. Many riders on horseback and colorful horse drawn vehicles will also be in the parade followed by all who care to join in this gay event. Participants will meet at the High School at 1.15 P. M.

Festivities will continue in the downtown section following the parade and at 5:30 P. M. Mexican Food will be served in the High School Gym. The Fiesta will get under way with the King and Queen reigning over all at 7 P. M. Highlights of the evening entertainment include a replica of a Mexican street market where many items of Mexican handicraft will be exhibited and placed on sale, a comedy bull fight, candy and bake goods booths, a fish pond, a "Battle of the Flowers" and many musical numbers of both dance and song by local participants. There is no charge for admission to the colorful Fiesta.

General chairman of the Fiesta is Mrs. Franklin Stucker; Mrs. Robert Maxwell is in charge of entertainment; Mrs. Keith Dressel is supervising the Mexican dining room; Mrs. M. B. Huckle is handling publicity and advertising; and all teachers in the school as well as parents and merchants in East Jordan are cooperating on this Fiesta!

An Appreciation

We the members of The American Legion Auxiliary Rebec-Sweet Post No 227 of East Jordan, wish to give a special thank you to the merchants and citizens of the community of East Jordan who gave us such wonderful co-operation and support at our Bake Sales and Bazaar to purchase our Flags.

Thanks to Ole Hegerberg and the Kotovich's for the use of their buildings and to every one of you who helped make these bake sales a big success.

Less than two months from the day that our Flags were destroyed by fire, we were again marching behind the Flag we are all proud of. Much credit is due the people of East Jordan who knew that our Bake Sale and Bazaar were for this purpose.

Our first aim after the fire was to get our Flags because we knew that with them always before us we felt United and Strong but our Daily work of Rehabilitation, Membership, Child Welfare and Americanism have been going forward.

Plans for our Annual Poppy and also Memorial Day Services are underway. Again we say thanks to you East Jordan.

Rebec-Sweet Post No. 227 American Legion Auxiliary Edna Wilkins, Chairman 16a1

"I don't think you know who I was when you met me on the street this morning, did you?"

"No, who are you?"

Last Tuesday night following the business meeting of the regular communication, the Master Mason degree was exemplified and another brother completed the work in our Blue Lodge. We extend to him a cordial welcome. Out of town guests present to witness the ceremonies were Lee Adair of Hastings, Mich., brother of the candidate; R. C. Campbell, Master of Durand Lodge No. 344 Petokey, Roger Lambert, district deputy lecturer for the Grand Lodge and also a member of Durand Lodge, and Hilton Milford a former East Jordan boy and son of the late Jim Milford. It was a most interesting session.

MICHIGAN PARENTS SOLVE NURSERY SCHOOL PROBLEM

"How can we afford to put our pre school children in nursery school?" This question has been answered by parents in seven Michigan cities where cooperative schools represent a very promising new movement.

Parent-cooperative nursery schools in these towns are solving the problems states Bernice Borgman, instructor in the Michigan State college nursery school. Three of these schools are in Ann Arbor, two in Lansing, and one each in Ypsilanti, Willow Run, Mt. Pleasant, Allegan, and Bloomfield Hills.

These parents realize that a good nursery school serves as a laboratory for children. There they can learn about things and people from other children in a way that adults cannot duplicate. There they have equipment and materials to work with that homes may not have.

For such reasons these parents tried to find some way of furnishing these advantages for their children. They reduced the cost of equipment by helping to make it, and the cost of instructors by working as teachers' assistants in the school. Very soon the parents discovered that they were profiting, too. They learned much about children from the children themselves.

Parent-cooperative nursery schools have demonstrated that their success depends largely upon a well-qualified teacher and the continuous interest and activity of the parents. It is not enough for parents just to give money, they must help with the planning and work of the school. Real cooperation between the parents and the school are essential to its success. Fathers must do their share as well as mothers.

Sam: "Do you mean to say your dog can really talk?"

Bill: "Sure he can," Rover, what's on top of the house?"

Rover: "Roof."

Bill: "Rover, how was that dry food you had for dinner?"

Rover: "Rough."

Bill: "Rover, where do they tie up the 'Queen Mary'?"

Rover: "Ward."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 38 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Lewis Battles Taft-Hartley Law; Baruch Sees 'Total Mobilization'; Eisenhower Repeats His Refusal

Released by WNU Features
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

LABOR: Lewis Fight

John L. Lewis and the Taft-Hartley law were locked in a mortal struggle.
His United Mine Workers were still out of the pits in a "voluntary" objection to the companies' alleged refusal to provide them with a $100-a-month pension plan. Most of the 400,000 miners were out fishing. Lewis himself was out gunning for the Taft-Hartley law, enactment of which was largely the result of his activities in the first place.

After the miners had gone out, President Truman, acting under the Taft-Hartley law, had appointed a fact-finding board to investigate the difficulties. But when the board asked John L. Lewis to testify, he refused.
Then the board issued a subpoena requesting that he appear. Again Lewis refused, stating that the board had no right to demand his presence before it.

He said he based his disinclination to testify on the facts that:

1. Neither he nor the UMW had done anything covered by the Taft-Hartley law, thereby nullifying the President's invocation of the law, and
2. Two of the three board members were "biased and prejudiced and in honor should not serve."

Finally, minutes before the deadline, the burly, bushy-eyebrowed chief appeared.
It was obvious, of course, that the UMW chief was out to break the Taft-Hartley enactment. Apparently he was determined to drag the pension dispute all the way through the courts—preferably as high as the supreme court to get a final verdict.

And any way it turned out, the process would react for the miners' immediate benefit. While the courts would be mulling over the matter the date for the annual renewal of the mine workers' contract in June would be approaching. The longer the present dispute remained unsettled, the worse the nation's coal situation would grow, thus putting Lewis in a good bargaining position to extract a favorable contract for next year.

MOBILIZE: Controls?

Bernard M. Baruch approves of selective service and universal military training for the present crisis, but he does not think that is enough to meet all the implications the world situation holds.
The financier and presidential adviser called also for an "economic mobilization plan" and said that America's failure to muster all its resources now for peace would leave "no alternative but to mobilize for war" in the future.

Baruch told the senate armed services committee that he was afraid that if the nation suddenly and without preparation were called upon to mobilize and prepare for a big war, such forces of domestic inflation would be set in motion as could blow the country wide open and leave it defenseless.

He suggested the appointment of someone to "watch the impact upon our economy of the partial mobilization we are entering upon and to maintain a constant inventory, balancing all our growing commitments against our resources."

It had not been a hidden threat, but Baruch's statement had focused attention on the possible danger that a sudden spate of military spending could bring about ruinous inflation.
As a result, talk of reviving the defunct OPA was being heard in Washington. Baruch's warning touched off informal discussions in congress about the possibility of reviving wage-price controls, rationing and other curbs on the domestic economy.

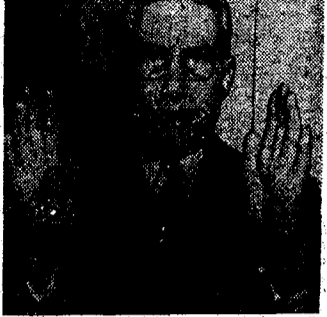

This, of course, had been an integral part of President Truman's famous 10-point program against inflation which he proposed last year, but most congressmen virtually had gagged at the thought of reimposing price and wage controls, and the President was accused of trying to set up something like a "police state."

Now, however, congressmen were not so sure. They were beginning to wonder if the military spending necessary to contain Russia might not have to be buttressed by controls at home.

BUNDLE FROM HEAVEN

New Minor Planet 'Swims Into Ken'
U. S. astronomers have revealed the discovery of a bundle from heaven—a strange new minor planet which moves around the sun at high speed.
The planetoid is only about two miles in diameter. Although there are about 1800 of these minor chunks of matter, all circling around the earth like the sun, most of them

'Greatest Killer'

Glenn L. Martin, pioneer aircraft builder, revealed that the U. S. has developed an offensive weapon superior to the atomic bomb. He called it a "radioactive cloud—the greatest killer of human beings ever devised." Martin said also, "I'd be in favor of using it before I'd become a slave to another nation."

LUCIUS CLOBB On War Nerves

"Pharonic," said Lucius Clobb to his helpmate as he arranged a quizzical wrinkle in his brow, "d'you think we're thunderin' toward another war?"
"Soon as you open your mouth I figure we're in for at least a skirmish," retorted Pharonic. "If you spent half as much time cultivatin' my peace of mind as you do your soybeans we wouldn't have near the arguments we do." She impaled the elder statesman of Pawhooley county on a spearlike glance.
"Dang it, Pharonic, why do you have to drag your rockin' chair militarism into everything I set out to do a little talkin' on? One of the reasons you married me in the first place was to get security. Now you got security but you still want to fight."

The light of creative achievement gleamed briskly in Lucius Clobb's eye.
"Say, by gosh, that there gives me a right smart idea for an aphorism. Nothing I like better than an aphorism. What d'you think of this Pharonic: Between 1941 and 1945 we were united with Russia in the bonds of holy warlock, but now the honeymoon's over, the lock is busted and there ain't nothin' left of the original idea except war."

"Mister Clobb, you can put that out in the corn crib with the rest of your aphorisms," commented the critical Pharonic.
"Mebbe so," sighed the elder statesman, "but it worries me—not knowin' how to feel about this here world situation. I'm gettin' on toward 69, so I could afford to think that in order to have peace and a secure foreign policy we first got to rig up a strong backbone at home. And a strong backbone right now means a strong army and navy and air force."

REPEAT: Ike's 'No'

Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower, fair-haired boy of both political parties, said it once more: He would not be a presidential candidate on anybody's ticket.
There had been a lull following his unequivocal refusal of Republican overtures, and then the pro-Eisenhower sentiment was resurrected in the hearts of no fewer than four widely divergent groups.

Probably the most unique approach was being made by Torrey Stearns, a New York public relations man, who harbors the opinion that Eisenhower is a Republican. He conceived a "People for Eisenhower" movement. The method is a nationwide solicitation of voting citizens to send in postcards bearing this signed testimony:
"I want to vote for General Eisenhower for president in November. I am a citizen of voting age."
"On June 21," Stearns announced, "all of the statements will be presented to the Republican national convention as indisputable evidence that the people of the United States demand the nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower for president."

But Eisenhower was having none of it. Speaking through a statement by Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, army press chief, he indicated that "his no politics statement of some weeks ago" should "apply to all parties and groups of voters."
Said Parks: "He has not changed one iota in his position and I do not believe he will do so."

TO WALLACE: Veiled Hint

Henry Wallace, whose third party movement was coming more and more to follow the standard Communist party line, had reached the status of a complete pariah as far as President Truman was concerned.
In his St. Patrick's day address in New York the President had rejected angrily any notion of accepting Wallace's support in his campaign, even if it cost him the election.

Then, during the course of remarks made at a dinner meeting of Greek-Americans in Washington, Mr. Truman turned on still more heat.
He issued an acidulous, thinly veiled suggestion that Wallace take his third party movement to Russia where Mr. Truman obviously thinks it belongs.

"I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a Henry Wallace," the President said to his listeners. "I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a statesman, an orator, a demagogue. . . . They had the greatest demagogue of all times, Alcibiades." (Alcibiades was a famous Athenian who, after committing certain indiscretions, was forced to flee Athens. He went to Sparta and there betrayed secrets of his countrymen which was instrumental in bringing about the fall of Athens.)

Mr. Truman continued: "If imitators of that ancient Greek conqueror want to see . . . liberties subverted, I suggest that they go not to the Rocky mountains—that's fine country out there. He ought to go to the country he loves so well and help them against his own country if that's the way he feels."

Aw, Drop Dead

Few people can appear more human than this quizzical simian as he bestows a suspicious glare on photographer Arthur Sasse and obviously is thinking he wants his picture taken about as much as he wants a hole in the head. Sasse staunchly unafraid in his belief that no animal would attack a photographer, has been taking pictures at New York's Bronx zoo for 28 years.

HOMEBODY: No Meeting

With the arrival of spring and the yearly rebirth of hope eternal, a second-hand rumor suddenly was revived across the Atlantic. It had to do with the rebuilding of the stripped gears of East-West relations.

The rumor, which was being circulated widely in Europe, said that President Truman was planning a trip to the continent for a Big Three conference with Attlee and Stalin.
Another version, as given currency by newspapers in Turkey, reported that the President might go to Europe sometime in April and possibly visit Turkey and Greece.

All this was good for a flurry of excitement, but in the end it turned out to be nothing more than a clutching at straws.
Mr. Truman, the White House announced, had no plans for leaving the country, and there was no prospect of a Big Three meeting.

SPIES: In Germany

Conditions were getting back to the cloak and dagger state.
With a dramatic flare, radio Moscow charged that Russia had uncovered an American-directed spy ring of former German army officers operating out of western Germany, Austria and Sweden to learn Soviet zone secrets.
Leaders of the group functioning in the Soviet zone had been captured and had confessed, Moscow reported. The broadcast claimed, in part:

"He confessed he was a member of an illegal Fascist organization existing in the western occupation zone of Germany, consisting of officers of the former German army who are being used by the American intelligence service for espionage in the Soviet zone."

PIPELINE: Junked

The Canol pipeline, that 140-million-dollar project constructed during the war as a means of getting an emergency oil supply from Norman wells in Northwest Canada to Alaska, is ending in the junk yard.
All that is left of it now is being trucked out for shipment to junk dealers in the Midwest United States. Fifty trucks work night and day out of Johnson's Crossings on the Alaska highway hauling salvage.

The Return From Exile

Lesson for April 18, 1948

COWPER'S lines come to mind as we study the dramatic return of the Jews from their exile in Babylon to Jerusalem in the first year of the reign of Cyrus, king of Persia, 536 B. C.:

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform;
He plants his footsteps in the sea And rides upon the storm."

Dr. Newton

led by Daniel, 806 B. C., and the one led by Ezekiel, 597 B. C.

PROCLAMATION OF CYRUS

THE proclamation of Cyrus, Ezra 1:1-5, records the happy word to the Jews that they would not only return, but that the temple would be rebuilt. Cyrus called upon all the people who would make offerings by which the temple might be restored. Cyrus was acting under divine impulse in this gracious and generous proclamation.

"The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah," said Cyrus, Ezra 1:2.

Fifty thousand Jews, their hearts rejoicing at the thought of returning to the land of their fathers, set out on the trek of 800 miles, laden with gifts from the Persians for the restoration of the temple in Jerusalem. They could now sing the song of the Lord, and no longer did their harps hang silently on the willow trees.

THE DECREE OF ARTAXERXES

THE fourth chapter of Ezra brings us to the halting of the work on the temple, after they had raised the magnificent sum of approximately $400,000, and had laid the foundation for the temple, with imposing ceremonies.

This delay was occasioned by the jealousy of the Samaritans, who went to Artaxerxes, through employed counsel, and convinced him that it would be dangerous to allow these Jews to rebuild Jerusalem. At first, the Samaritans proposed that the Jews let them use the temple in joint worship, but the Jews feared the Samaritans and refused their offer. It was then that the Samaritans effected the delay in the building of the temple by the space of 14 years. Meanwhile, the Jews went forward with the building of their homes and reestablishing themselves and their civilization in Jerusalem.

STICKING TO ONE'S PURPOSE

WE come now to the part Haggai played in summoning the Jews to their duty and obligation to God to restore the temple. It was in the second year of the reign of Darius that Haggai received the word of the Lord. "Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste? Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider your ways."

It was enough. The people rallied to the call of Haggai, and the temple was completed. Men can always do what they ought to do, if they will to do it.

GOD'S PURPOSE FULFILLED

THE message of Haggai was heeded. The temple was completed, Ezra 8:13-18, and God's purpose was fulfilled. Read Psalm 126.

This brings us to the golden text: "No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the Kingdom of God." Luke 9:62. When once the returned exiles felt the iron of God's purpose surging through their veins, they quitted themselves like men, and God's power was everywhere manifest. So may it ever be with us!

As We Achieve

The degree of success which we achieve in making effective our Christian education program in the life of this generation will determine whether future generations will be able to enjoy a society free from the distrust of religious intolerance, the vindictiveness of race prejudice, and the bitterness of class hatred.—Walter W. Head.

THE GIRL AND THE OUTLAW

It's a romantic tale stranger than fiction, this love story of one of the West's most dangerous outlaws and his gentle Julia. Read the thrilling story of desperado Emmett Dalton's career in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (April 18) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Grandma will tell you that housecleaning was one chore she hated—and Grandpa dreaded. But that was before electricity had taken so much work out of housework.

• Now, with cheap, dependable electric service ready to lend a hand—or a dozen hands—housecleaning has been stripped of much of its drudgery. Housecleaning—and housekeeping, as well.

• For the cost of a couple of candy bars a day, the housewife has a dozen helpers at her elbow. Today, electricity washes, cooks, sews and cleans, preserves her food, lights her home and entertains her.

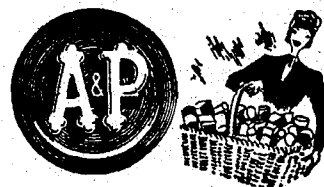

• Never before has electricity done so much to make life easier and more comfortable. Yet the average family today is still getting twice as much electric service for its money as it got 20 years ago. What other item in the budget does so much for so little?

Firestone Super-Balloons Now Available For Most Older Cars

Twenty-six years makes a lot of difference in styles—feminine or industrial—as a glance at the above picture will prove. In 1922 Milady wore the daring spring outfit shown at the left, while motorists across the land were equipping their cars with the newest thing in tires—The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company's low-pressure easy-riding balloon, one of the original tires being shown. The young lady at the right is wearing the newest in fashion for Spring 1948. She is just as proud of Firestone's Super-Balloon tire, available now for 1941 and later model automobiles, as she is of her new outfit.
