This curtailment of service is in accordance with a directive just received from the office of the First Assistant Postmaster General in Washington by Postmaster St. Charles. The directive reads as follows: "Window service should be curtailed on Saturday afternoon or some other afternoon during the week whenever possible depending upon the local habits and requirements."

Grand Traverse Region Girl TO BE SELECTED QUEEN OF NATIONAL CHERRY FESTIVAL

On the blond, brunette or auburn tresses of some Grand Traverse region will rest the 1948 National Cherry Festival crown, at Traverse City.

Sentiment to secure outside queen whose name would have national significance, was brushed aside by a desire to have this honor go to a truly representative Grand Traverse girl who knows about cherries and the region.

Communities in all of Northwestern Michigan will be asked to select a candidate for queen through local contests or in some other fitting manner. In mid-June the candidates will be brought to Traverse City for the final selection by qualified outside and impartial judges. The girl selected will reign over the National Cherry Festival on July 8 and 9 and be the royal figure about which most of the festival activity will revolve. She will be the chief figure at the queen's coronation, the queen's ball, ride the queen's float in the grand floral parade and otherwise be the true royalty of the festival.

Beauty alone will not unlock the door to the royal robes. The successful candidate must be between the ages of 17 and 25 years, unmarried and the possessor of poise and personality. Pulchritude will, of course, be an important factor in the queen's selection but not the only one.

Approximately 35 communities will be asked to furnish candidates and from among them will be selected the ladies in waiting who will serve with the queen during her reign.

Cancer Society Opens Campaign

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY'S QUOTA IS $1,064.86

The Charlevoix County Unit of the American Cancer Society will open an extension education campaign this week to be followed by a campaign to raise $1,064.86, the county's quota in the national drive for $16 million. Mrs. E. B. Garrison, of East Jordan, campaign chairman has announced. The 1947 quota was set at $776.00 with a total of $2,086.78 being turned in at the end of the county's first drive.

After the campaign expenses for literature, etc., were deducted from last year's total and 50% contributed to the state and national organizations, $983.64 was returned to Charlevoix County for use here. A program was set up allowing $100.00 for dressings, medical supplies, loan closet, etc., $400.00 for a revolving fund from which cancer patients could borrow and repay without interest and the remainder was placed in an educational fund which included school expenses and the cost of operating the organization.

Projects completed during the one year the unit has been in operation include the 1947 campaign; an educational booth at the Charlevoix County fair; making dressings; assistance in the way of x-rays, lab fees, dressings, etc., and sending two members to the state training school in Grand Rapids last February.

At a meeting of county chairmen, city captains and others held at East Jordan last week at which the county commander, Miss Frances Martin, of Charlevoix, presided, it was voted to set up a county board of directors. Included on this board will be the commander, city captains, various county chairmen and representatives of organized farm groups and three members of the medical profession. Plans were also made for the educational campaign as well as the fund raising campaign to be carried out this month.

Mrs. Howard Gould has been named Boyne City captain and Mrs. Lewis Batke, East Jordan captain. Mrs. Garrison is county campaign chairman. Mrs. Dean Davenport is Charlevoix city captain.

of C. Resort Ass'n Banquet

EAST JORDAN TO BE HOST TO WEST MICHIGAN LEADERS

East Jordan will be hosts to the leaders of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association next Thursday, April 29th, of which the main feature will be a banquet at 6:45 P. M. in the High School Gym, for both men and women.

This will be their first visit to East Jordan for President Joe Bachunas, and Sec'y-Mgr. Chester C. Wells, of the Ass'n. The idea of these meetings is to give the officers a better chance to get acquainted with the cities in their territory so they can give better and more accurate information at the Tourist Bureau centers.

Joe Bachunas, 1948 Ass'n. president, is one of the largest and most successful resort operators in the Midwest. His main resort, Tabor Farm near Sodus, is today considered a model of a "perfect resort." He also operates the Hotel Macatawa near Holland and the Prospect Point resort on Spring Lake. This last winter he added another job when he purchased a large section of Norris State Park, on Norris Dam, Tennessee, which he is converting into a resort for the people of that area. One of the charter members of the West Michigan Association since its origin in 1917, Joe has been one of its most faithful and ardent supporters, and he truly has the interest of every person and community at heart. At the banquet Thursday evening he will talk on "Present Trends and the General Outlook."

Chester Wells, Sec'y-Mgr. of the Association will speak on their work and how they can be beneficial to us. Ed was Sec'y, of the Manistee Chamber of Commerce for several years, has been prominent in other civic, promotional, and resort activities, and is well qualified for his job.

Another prominent operator who will be present is Harold Vanderploeg, proprietor of Lake Shore Cabins at Holland. Harold is the man who helped the city of Holland upside down last fall with his "This is my money" idea. Harold will give that talk Thursday evening. It is short, to the point, and is packed full of common sense, business logic. Those who heard him at the Boyne City and Charlevoix meetings last winter will attest to the above statement.

There is also a possibility that Ed Dreier, the Ass'n. photographer and advertising head, will also be here with a couple of reels of their colored pictures on Western Michigan. Ed has a host of friends in East Jordan who are hoping he can be here.

At the close of the meeting, President Bachunas will throw it open for an open forum, for local resort operators and businessmen to bring up ideas in which Association can be more beneficial to the East Jordan territory. While here, they will call on their member operators. Among the members of the Association here are the local Chamber of Commerce, Cedar Lodge, Cedar Rest Cottages, Glen's Marine Service, Green River Lodge, Secord's Outfitting Service and Watson's Rustic Resort.

This is East Jordan's opportunity for a good boost just as another busy season is beginning. So don't forget the banquet in the High School Gym Thursday evening April 29th. The banquet is being served by the girls of the Home Economics Dept., under the direction of their instructor, Miss Mary Oster. Tickets are available from Earl Clark at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Post Office Bldg. It will help the Home Ec. girls greatly if those planning to attend will leave their names with Earl Clark by Tuesday noon.

Remember! ! ! This is for both men and women.

Last Meeting of Season

On Tuesday, April 27, the P. T. A. will hold their last meeting of the calendar year. Election of officers and a program.

Buy Trout Stamp Now

Buy that trout stamp early, the conservation department urges anglers, to avoid a last minute rush that may exhaust some license dealers' supply.

Since the trout stamp is entirely new this year, there is no gauge of what the demand may be in any one locality. The department reports liberal stocks of stamps have been given all dealers in proportion to their previous sales of fishing licenses, but concentrated demand could cause temporary depletion of some dealers' supply.

Buying a trout stamp in the home town before starting north is recommended as insurance against the possible annoyance of finding a dealer in the trout country "sold out" at the April 24 opening.

Koo Klooster, 63, Ellsworth Citizen Dies Suddenly

Koo Klooster was born, May 4, 1885, at Muskegon. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Klooster, Sr., and passed away at his home in Ellsworth, Thursday, April 15, 1948 of a heart attack.

He was united in marriage April 15, 1908, to Miss Maggie Hooker who preceded him in death in 1927.

Mr. Klooster came to Ellsworth in 1910 and was associated with his father in the grocery business; he later operated his own grocery and hardware store in Ellsworth.

In 1929 he married Maggie VanderArk. He served on the school board as treasurer for a number of years and a member of the village charter commission and village council.

He has been a resident of Ellsworth 38 years. For three and a half years he lived on his farm a mile north of East Jordan.

He is survived by the widow of Ellsworth, son George East Jordan, two daughters Geneva VanderArk of Ocheiden, Iowa, and Thelma DeJong, Missionary to Jukao, China. One stepson Evert VanderArk, Ellsworth; His mother, Mrs. George Klooster, Sr., of Ellsworth; three brothers Jake and Elmer of Ellsworth and Bernie of Fremont; a sister, Ida Osterbaan, of Grand Rapids; and eleven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church, Monday, April 19, at 2:00 P. M. Rev. G. A. Lyzenga officiating. Final resting place, Ellsworth Cemetery.

Tourist Business In Greatest Year

MICHIGAN AUTO CLUB SEES INCREASED BUSINESS

Michigan's tourist business in 1948 will see its greatest year in history—if the threatened gasoline shortage doesn't pinch too hard. Even if the shortage does materialize, this year should exceed 1947, when $400,000,000 in tourist money was spent, by 10 to 20 per cent.

These predictions are made by Automobile Club of Michigan's Travel Bureau Manager Harry Rogan, who explains that Michigan folks, always biggest customers of their own state's resort facilities, will vacation close to home if gas is short. Of total routings requested in 1947 by Michigan travelers, 42 per cent were for trips within the state.

About 10 per cent more facilities, mostly motor courts and hotels, will be ready for this year's Michigan tourist trek, according to material submitted for the 1948 Auto Club Michigan accommodations directory. Listed are 1174 separate accommodations, including hotels, tourist courts, cabins and resorts.

Michigan food and sleeping accommodations rates will be generally in line with those in other states, Rogan believes. Prices in most areas of the Lower Peninsula will be up from 10 to 20 per cent above 1947, with only meals being upped in some resorts. Canadian tourist operators have already raised rates 20 per cent from last year.

Upper Peninsula resorts, including the Keewenaw Peninsula area, should continue to grow in popularity this year, Rogan believes. For most U. P. tourist rates will not be raised, and some will even record slight decreases. One resort at Grand Marais, near trout fishing and swimming water, offers rates including meals and room at $25 per week. At the other extreme, a deluxe resort lists room and meals at $41.60 per day for two.

Michigan food quality and general service have picked up greatly, tourists noted last year. Although many complained of meager food portions, they were just as quick to note that college students were getting back and improving service.

Persons planning to vacation in Michigan—and 5,000,000 natives of Michigan will do that this year—can increase their holiday fun by going in June or September, the Auto Club advised. In these months, weather is often best and crowds are always slimmest. Resort owners have time to give more personal attention to travelers, then, and rates are usually at their minimum. Many Michigan resorts report they are already booked up solidly for July and August, Rogan stated.

State tourists made an effort during 1947 to spread the vacation peak load over a longer period, Auto Club figures show. June, September and October all showed sizeable increases over 1946. June travel recorded a jump of 25 per cent, the largest increase.

Nation-wide car travel in 1948 will probably not be as great as in 1941, the peak year, Auto Club touring experts feel. The threatened gas shortage will scare many from long trips. Accommodations throughout the country will be easier to get.

Bird House Contest

ENTRIES MUST BE IN BY THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

Saturday, April 24th is the date set for the county wide bird house contest to be held in the City building at East Jordan.

Entries should be in by Friday night if possible, and not later than Saturday forenoon.

We are hoping a great many boys and girls will take part and make this a success.

The contest is sponsored by the City Extension No. 1. The other extension groups of the county generously contributing toward the prizes which will be awarded as follows: The groups to be divided into three classes—First through the third grade, fourth through the sixth, and seventh through the ninth.

There will be a first prize of two dollars and a second prize of one dollar for each age group. A souvenir will be given each boy and girl who has an entry. Judges will be selected from Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan.

Entries may be left with Mrs. Basil Holland, or the Clover Farm Store.

Chairman.

Pleasantly Surprised

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Conway were pleasantly surprised on Sunday evening at their home when 40 neighbors and friends gathered to spend the evening and extend congratulations. A pot luck supper was served and the guests presented them with a gift.

Arbor Day April 30

Arbor day means a day outdoors for thousands of Michigan school pupils, particularly in the north where the day is something of a holiday as well as an observance of the importance of planting trees.

Arbor day this year falls on April 30 in the lower peninsula, May 7 above the straits.

The conservation department reports the more ambitious programs of schools near Michigan's 800 school and community forests, call for planting as many as 50 seedling pines per pupil, in small reforestation projects that are expanding year by year. At some schools, the occasion of the day will be planting a single tree on the schoolhouse lawn.

Parents of Local Women Passes

Mr. and Mrs. William Allerdyce passed away at their home in Hudson Twp., near Vanderbilt, recently. Mr. Allerdyce preceding Mrs. Allerdyce in death by only six days.

Hulda Zander was born in Germany in 1860 and came to the United States with her parents when a child, settling in Saginaw, Mich. She was married to William Guerin, of Wisconsin, and about sixty years ago they came to Hudson Twp., where she has resided since. To this marriage were born four children.

After Mr. Guerin's death, she was married in 1899 to William Allerdyce of Fairwell, Mich., where he was born and grew up.

After forty-nine years of constant companionship, they passed away. Both had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Allerdyce passed away on April 13. Funeral services were held Friday, April 16, at the Walker Funeral Home in Gaylord, conducted by Elder Allen Schuer. Interment at Vanderbelt Cemetery.

Mrs. Allerdyce passed away April 19. After funeral services, held at the same place by the same pastor she was laid to rest beside her husband, on April 22.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters—Mrs. Thomas Whiteford, East Jordan; Mrs. Seth LaValley, East Jordan; Leo Guerin, Flint; and Arthur Guerin, Vanderbelt. She also leaves eighteen grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren.

Reservations will be unnecessary except at the most popular resort areas and national parks such as Yellowstone and Grand Canyon. The latter is limiting reservations at the Canyon facilities to three days, due to 1947's attendance which broke former records by 25 per cent.

Train travel, now curtailed by the coal shortage, should be adequate during the summer. Plenty of airplane space will be available. Boat trip accommodations are being reserved rapidly. With stepped-up schedules and many package tours at all points available, buses should carry many tourists in 1948, Rogan said.

One girl asked another how to make love. "You can't really describe it," the friend replied. "You just stand still and defend yourself."

It takes two to play marbles, and you have to have marbles.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
U. S. Carries Fight to Communists
As Congress Approves Foreign Aid;
Income Tax Cut Becomes a Reality

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FOREIGN AID:
In Motion
With President Truman's signature on the $8,098,000,000 foreign aid bill, the massive, potent forces of western capitalism moved into action against Russian communism for the beginning of a titanic, long range clash of strength.

To observers in the U. S. this interplay of forces had all the ingredients of an epic poem—the power of good striving mightily to overcome the power of evil, with the fate of a large segment of mankind depending on outcome of the struggle.

There was an epic quality, too, in the manner in which congress, seemingly impelled by a strong sense of urgency, raced the bill through for final action. The house approved it with a vote of 318 to 75 after less than 15 minutes of explanation, and the senate followed up swiftly with a voice vote.

Two days after passage of the measure President Truman meshed the gears of the global aid program by ordering the reconstruction finance corporation to advance 1.16 billion dollars at once. That action released U. S. dollars, reconstruction supplies and in some cases arms to 15 European nations, as well as Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China.

The overall $8,098,000,000 aid package includes 4.3 billion dollars for the European recovery program, 275 million dollars for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, 483 million for China and 2 million dollars for Trieste. All of it is aimed at areas where communists are sharpening their sword of aggression.

An ill-starred movement in the house to include aid to Franco Spain in the bill was defeated before it had time to do much damage to U. S. prestige and moral stature abroad.

As the aid started to move, the situation abroad stacked up something like this:

Russia's seizure of Czechoslovakia, its new pact with Finland and pressure on Scandinavian nations, the Soviets' arbitrary action in Berlin all pointed to the fact that Moscow was trying to bring about a showdown in Europe before the European recovery plan began to work effectively.

On the other hand, the rapid passage of the foreign aid measure, the proposal to return Trieste to Italy and the stiffening of American will in Berlin seemed to indicate that the U. S., while not forcing a showdown, was, nevertheless, willing to have it as soon as possible.

Few persons familiar with the situation thought that a showdown with Russia necessarily meant war. But it did involve acceptance of a risk of war. U. S. leaders were willing to take that risk on the theory that the likelihood of a shooting war is less now than it might be in the foreseeable future.

REDUCTION:
Tax Measure

President Truman's veto of the income tax reduction bill was crushingly overridden by both houses of congress—311 to 88 in the house, 77 to 10 in the senate—and U. S. citizens sat back to gloat over the first major tax-cutting measure passed in nearly 20 years.

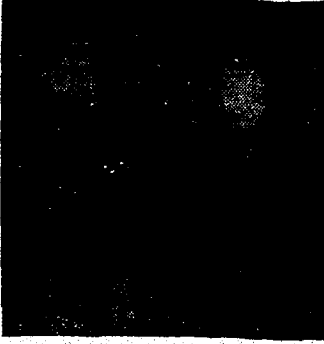

In his now characteristic "I'd rather be right than be president" role, Mr. Truman had stubbornly affixed his veto to the bill, protesting that it mainly would benefit persons with incomes of $5,000 or more, encourage further inflation and sap the nation's strength at a time of international "danger."

Examination of the new tax structure indicated that the President was right in his first contention, at least—that the law would be of greater benefit to persons with high incomes than to those in lower brackets. Reason for that is that 12.6 per cent of $3,000 is considerably less than 5 per cent of a million. (Cuts in tax rates as provided by the new law range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest brackets to 5 per cent in the top level.)

Most interesting aspect of the tax cut development was the question of what motivated Mr. Truman to veto the bill. He was aware that enough members of both houses were supporting tax reduction in this election year to override his veto; hence, that his veto would be a gesture of futility that would place him on record as opposing the popular will.

Mr. Truman must have been aware, also, of the strong possibility

Who's Mad?

Nobody seemed to be mad at anybody when Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia and President Truman met at convocation exercises at Williams and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., to receive honorary degrees of doctor of laws. Mr. Truman exchanged a cordial handshake with Governor Tuck, vociferous leader of the southern states' rebellion on the President's civil rights program.

that next year congress, safely through the elections, will boost federal income by reimposing some version of the wartime excess profits tax.

In view of these unpromising but inescapable realities, the President's veto of the tax bill simply did not fit the preconceived pattern of political action in an election year. Rather, it looked more like the deliberate driving of another nail in his political coffin.

In his veto message, Mr. Truman contended that increased defense and foreign aid measures might make it necessary for congress to raise taxes next year.

"In the case of the income tax," he said, "nearly 40 per cent of the reduction would go to individuals with net incomes in excess of $5,000, who constitute less than 5 per cent of all taxpayers."

Also, the President continued, while national income is high every effort should be made to reduce the size of the 253-billion-dollar public debt.

He was, beyond doubt, sincere in his objections, but they fell on deaf ears in congress.

APOLOGIA:
From Russia

Even as Russia officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" British-Soviet plane crash over Berlin which cost 15 lives, plain people all over the world began to see more clearly how, although no nation is seeking war now, a war could start accidentally.

A pilot of a Russian fighter plane had buzzed a British plane, carrying 14 passengers, as it was landing in Berlin. The transport crashed in the Russian zone where the wreckage lay for 12 hours before the bodies were permitted to be moved.

Tension in Berlin eased somewhat when British officials accepted the Russian apology and canceled plans to assign fighter plane escorts to all air transports coming into Berlin.

The official British account of the crash quoted eyewitnesses as saying that the Russian fighter pilot was "frollicking" when he hit the big plane.

While the fighter pilot undoubtedly had not been ordered to harass the British plane, it was equally apparent that he and his cohorts had not been forbidden to do so.

Aside from the number of lives lost, the disturbing part of the incident is that it was, in a manner of speaking, an aggressive action, an overt act of deliberate provocation. And it is just such incidents as that that world leaders fear might one day touch off the conflagration.

Cars on Road Hit Historic Figure

Number of passenger cars on the road in the U. S. today is at an all-time high, according to an article in the April edition of "Business Comment," bulletin of Northern Trust company.

This is true despite the fact that no passenger cars were manufactured for private use during the war, that an estimated average of 1.2

NEW START:

China's Chiang

Hopelessly lost in the political and economic confusion of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the republic in one capacity or another since 1927, was casting about for a new role in the tragedy of the Far East.

Afflicted externally by Communist armies and internally by the venality of black marketeers and corrupt government officials, Chiang has been in the position of a man attempting to build a house on a pile of soggy refuse.

Now, however, there was a report out that Chiang had decided to quit the presidency of China. But there also were indications that, far from going into retirement, he would remain as Kuomintang strong man by becoming premier.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing party, said that the generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese Communists.

According to latest reports, Chiang was urging that Dr. Hu Shih be elected president. Former ambassador to Washington, Hu Shih now is president of Peking university.

PALESTINE:

Trusteeship

Studiously ignoring the groups and individuals who threw up their hands in horror when the U. S. reversed its position on partition of Palestine, this nation went right ahead with its avowed plan for a United Nations trusteeship of the Holy Land.

Disclosing some of the details of that plan, Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U. N., told security council members that the United States favors sending foreign troops to Palestine to keep order, if and when that becomes necessary, under the trusteeship formula.

Unmistakably implied, although not stated outright, was U. S. willingness to send American troops to the Holy Land, provided other nations would join the parade also. Another provision was that the number of nations supplying troops be specifically limited.

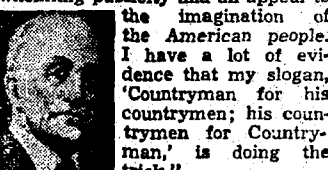

Actually, there was little optimism that the fratricidal strife in Palestine or the causes producing it could be effaced by the expedient of imposing a U. N. trusteeship.

NUMBER ONE

Public Friend

Carl C. Countryman again wants to be President of the United States. With true political ebullience he has dubbed himself "American Public Friend Number One" and adopted a monolithic slogan: "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman."

That this near-palindromic tongue-twister is intended to strike sparks of devotion from the flinty hearts of American voters is apparent in Countryman's frank statement that: "My campaign must be for overwhelming publicity and an appeal to the imagination of the American people. I have a lot of evidence that my slogan, 'Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman,' is doing the trick."

Countryman is not a myth. He is not a hoax himself, nor is he trying to perpetrate a hoax through his presidency campaign. He is just a man, getting along in years now, who is serving the sincere belief that he could do better in the White House than the political figureheads in vogue.

He is, in the parlance of the cynics and light-tongues; a "character," but an honest character.

Countryman opposes communism: "I want no part nor dealings with the Communist usurpers, who represent but a small fragment of the great Russian people."

Countryman opposes the military draft: "The draft is a subterfuge of incompetence. I favor making universal military training so attractive that it will be universal or approximately so."

Countryman's name will appear on no primary election ballots: "The gain inherent in such a course will not justify the necessary expenditure of time and money."

Countryman likes John Bricker of Ohio: "If I cannot get the nomination, I am all for Bricker. I should like to have the ticket Countryman and Bricker but if not, then Bricker and Countryman."

There is a truism which holds that universally present in the heart of every man is the belief that he could play Hamlet and run a newspaper. Countryman brings that deeply felt human motivation to the height of true nobility. For in his heart is the crowning belief that he also could be a good president.

Seek Uranium

Uranium—that most precious of all metals since advent of the atomic age—is being sought in Colorado now.

Department of the interior has set aside about 40 square miles of public land in the southwestern part of the state for exclusive use of the atomic energy commission, which will conduct an exhaustive investigation there for deposits of uranium, source of atomic energy.

Homer Does Some "Back-Seat Sewing!"

Homer Bentley's missus was working on her new sewing machine, when Homer comes in, draws up a chair, and starts talking: "Don't you think you're running too fast?" he says. "Slow down! Watch out! Be careful!"

When the missus finally turns with murder in her eyes, Homer says goodnaturedly: "I thought you might like a little help, dear—like you help me drive the car."

The missus can't help but burst out laughing—and they settle what might have been a quarrel over a friendly glass of beer. The missus agrees to give up back-seat driving and nagging Homer about ashes on the rug. Homer agrees to quit criticizing Sarah's taste for flowery hats and parsley salad.

From where I sit, the key to getting on together is meeting every issue half way—and overlooking any petty differences in tastes—whether these tastes apply to beer or flowery-looking hats!

May 3 Will Be An Important Date In The History of Antrim County

On this date, we, as progressive citizens of the county, should exercise our rights by going to the polls and voting on the question of a new building which will carry three units under one roof: jail, detention home for delinquent juveniles, and sheriff's residence.

Our present jail falls short of meeting the requirements set up by the State Fire Marshall's Department and we have had no detention home for several years although the law expressly states, "It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors in each county to provide and maintain at public expense a detention room or house of detention or other suitable place. . . ." To spend the necessary estimated $20,000 to meet these requirements will still leave us without a detention home; therefore economy and common sense call for our "yes" vote on the propositions to be submitted May 3.

If the assessed valuation of your property is $500, your share toward the payment of the building will be $1.50 per year or $7.50 over a period of five years; if the assessed valuation is $1,000, the amount will, of course, be doubled, or $3.00 per year and $15.00 for five years. If The Monies Collected During The First Four Years Prove To Be Adequate To Finance The Project, No Assessment Will Be Made During The Fifth Year.

Who is there who is unwilling to contribute this amount for so great a need?

Laura M. Mohrman
Clerk of Antrim Co.

Fertilizer Advice Given In Bulletin

The annual bulletin of Michigan fertilizer recommendations, compiled by the Michigan State college soil science and horticulture departments, is now available.

The recommendations made are gathered from field experiments covering many years. Scientists conduct these experiments in different parts of the state under the same climatic conditions that farmers have for growing crops. Fertilizers are then suggested for various types of soil and for various crops.

A publication of the Cooperative Extension Service, the bulletin can be obtained from county agricultural agents or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, East Lansing. Ask for Extension bulletin 159, "Fertilizer Recommendations for 1948."

Mr. and Mrs. James Sloan of Clinton spent the week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sloan, and their son and daughter James and Allison who are staying with their grandparents.

Treating Pigs Pays Profits

These pigs raised in a test at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State College offer visual evidence of the value of proper worm and mange control in growing swine. The two pigs from the same litter received identical feed and care. The larger animal, which attained a weight of 100 pounds, was treated for internal worms and mange. One percent by weight of sodium fluoride was mixed with his dry feed for one day at weaning time and again six weeks later. He was also sprayed for mange. The little animal, which attained a weight of only 32 pounds, was not treated. Both animals were allowed to run on ground known to be infested with hog worms. Michigan State College animal husbandry specialists believe most farmers can see the difference in profit to be derived from handling pigs these two different ways.

USE REASON TO GUIDE CHILDREN'S MOVIE ATTENDANCE

Do certain types of movies harm our children and give them nightmares, ideas about crime, and false ideas about the world in general?

If you think that a movie can be the sole cause of undesirable behavior in your child, you're probably making the problem too simple, asserts Mrs. Lennah Backus, child development specialist at Michigan State college. One child may be frightened by "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", but do not be misled. Something in the child's personality caused him to pick up the frightening elements in it and his behavior was not entirely the result of the movie.

Some films are really frightening, in bad taste, or of doubtful value. Some films might contribute to the maladjustment within the child but may not be the main or only cause of it. Before we can place the blame on the movies we need to consider the child's personality, early experiences, home, school, community and all other factors.

If your child's behavior seems to be affected by the movies he sees, you can do something about it. Study the movies that are being advertised and decide which might have harmful effects. Stay away from movies that contain no message, are trashy, mediocre and second-rate. Films that deal with evil and crime and show the criminal punished and right always triumphing are contrary to real life situations and may be harmful.

Attending too many movies will reduce the amount of time when your child could be learning to get along with others or developing some skills of his own. We don't want our children to become too dependent upon other people for their amusement. For a well-adjusted child eight years old or older, going to the more desirable movies a reasonable amount, at a reasonable time, can be entirely wholesome. Under that age children have a rich imagination of their own and may not profit by the movies at all.

This Eel A Traveler

That six-pound American eel taken from a trap net in Detour passage of St. Marys river last fall has been denied a longevity record, but it is conceded a travel record almost as exceptional.

Caught last September by commercial fishermen Paul LaPoint and Niles Goetz off the shore of Drummond Island, the 41-inch eel was packed in ice and shipped to the conservation department's institute for fisheries here for examination and investigation of its wandering so far from salt water.

Eels were planted in Michigan waters for a decade or more before 1900, but so far as is known none has been planted here for the past 50 years. Men of the fisheries institute doubt the DeTour eel could be a survival of any of the plantings in the last century. They think it is far more likely that it found its way from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes by way of the St. Lawrence river, then came through the Welland canal.

An adult female with well developed eggs, the creature had the silvery coat characteristic of the Atlantic eel after it returns to salt water, indicating preparation for spawning though "stranded" far inland.

Unlike the sea lamprey, which spawns in fresh water streams, the eel with its need for spawning in the ocean probably cannot ever become established inland, fisheries men say. Eels from the Great Lakes would have to get back down not only the lakes and the St. Lawrence, but across 1,000 miles of ocean to the spawning ground of this species in the Caribbean.

Prospects Good For Valuable Bean Crop

Increased plantings of beans in 1948 are expected to be profitable in bean growing areas. A. B. Love, agricultural economist at Michigan State college, reports that at least four major economic factors are at work to hold prices at a reasonable level of profit throughout the year.

The factors include: (1) The amount of beans needed for the European recovery program. (2) The bean price supports until December 31, 1948. (3) The increase in per capita bean consumption. (4) The fact that Michigan bean production is below the amount needed to meet domestic needs for pea beans.

Michigan bean production has fallen in the past three years to less than 3,300,000 bags (100 lbs.) compared with a previous yearly production of better than 5,000,000 bags.

Stocks of Michigan beans of all varieties were reduced during the war years to where there was practically no carry-over from year to year. The demands of the canning trade took almost all of the state's bean production, leaving only a small amount to be sold as dry beans.

For these reasons, Love thinks that farmers should give careful attention to increasing their bean acreage. The fact that beans ranks second in income value among agricultural crops usually grown in general farming makes it a valuable crop to grow. The average cash income to Michigan farmers from beans has averaged better than 15 million dollars a year, the economist reports.

A Egotist is a person more interested in himself than he is in me.

MICHIGAN Motoring

Nazis Were Pikers

When it comes to killing or maiming people, the Japs and the Nazis were "small fry" compared to American motorists.

During four years of World War II, we suffered some 950,000 casualties. In 1946, the first peacetime year, Americans were not being killed and wounded by foreign enemies, yet we injured each other to the extent of 1,200,000 accident casualties — a quarter of a million more in one year than the war did in nearly four years.

Unbelievable at first glance, but true. In 1947, it is estimated that 32,500 persons met death in automobile accidents in this country, in addition to another million injured. Coming closer to home, the Michigan State Police report that traffic killed 1,446, and injured 37,652 in 136,464 accidents in this state in 1947. This is an 11 per cent increase in injuries and a 26 per cent increase in accidents compared with 1946.

It's a strange psychology that causes Americans to demand an end to war abroad — but not to a traffic "war" that injures more friends and relatives in one year than alien enemies could do in four.

If we could see ourselves as others see us, we'd be a mess of plumb dissatisfied folks.

Some of the 75,000 ABC Pins Get Ready to Travel

Did you know that rules of the American Bowling Congress call for daily replacement of the bowling pins on its 40 tournament alleys? This means some 75,000 new pins are used in the course of the event. The practice assures that every team will compete under exactly the same circumstances. In the photograph above a girl is repacking a few of the discarded pins for distribution by Chevrolet truck to privately owned bowling establishments.

Rural Tele-news

LONG FURROWS: An improved type of telephone wire is used for rural service in certain areas where soil and weather conditions are favorable. It is plowed underground instead of strung on poles. Covering of synthetic rubber and steel mesh makes it stronger than underground wire previously used.

LESS PER LINE: We're building more rural lines and making good progress reducing the number of subscribers per line. Two years ago nearly half of our rural-line subscribers were on lines with more than eight parties. Today four out of five are on lines with eight or less!

BIGGER VALUE: Your telephone grows in value to you every day. That's because our construction program is constantly expanding the system... giving you more telephones you can call... making possible more telephone errands to save you time and money.

ZECHEARIAH 1:1-6; 4: 7-8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 94:1-8

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

Dr. Newton

ZECHEARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet. His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to sum up the people to a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes. The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you," Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God. The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the temple and restoring their life in Jerusalem.

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHEARIAH reminds the people that the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 4:13.

"What makes a nation great and strong?"

Not brick, nor stone, nor wood, But justice, love and brotherhood."

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple. The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him. I like the phrase of the fathers, "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, now sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

By the Bible

If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity.—Daniel Webster.

Marathon — the famous money saving tire is back in the Goodyear line — and a better "buy" than ever! You get the economy, long mileage and safety — the extra value for your dollars that made Marathon the favorite of millions of motorists before the war... added to this — more and stronger cords in the rugged tire body give the new Marathon even greater protection against tire failure. Stop in today and trade your worn tires for new Marathons — the money saving low price tire that has these features...

LONG WEAR — New specially treated cords and newly compounded rubber make Marathon the tire that "runs and runs and runs".

NON-SKID SAFETY — Those famous Goodyear diamond blocks really grip the road. You get safer, quicker stops — especially on wet, skiddy roads.

"COMPACTING TREAD" — Inflation forces the sidewalls out, compacts the tread. This reduces tread wear, punctures, bruises and breaks.

For a really sensational "buy" in tires, see us for Marathons today! And remember "new tubes save tires".

When the "ghost walks" on State of Michigan paydays, 144 employees find themselves in the peculiarly blessed position of getting bigged paychecks than any of the following elected state officials:

Secretary of state, auditor general, attorney general, state treasurer, state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction.

Each official, elected by the voters, receives $7,500-a-year compensation from the State Treasury.

It's like having a factory foreman getting more wages than the president of the company, the boss himself. Yes, 144 employees are better paid by the State of Michigan than are the heads of state government!

How did this Alice-in-Wonderland, topsy-turvy situation develop?

And how about the governor? You may add.

Here's the story, as we find it. When the present state constitution was adopted nearly 40 years ago, salaries of state officials and legislators were defined and limited. Here is section 21, still unchanged.

"The governor and attorney general shall each receive an annual salary of $5,000. The secretary of state, state treasurer, commissioner of state land office and auditor general shall each receive an annual salary of $2,500. They shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of any duties connected with the offices. It shall not be competent for the legislature to increase the salaries herein provided."

Section 22, added in 1940, authorizes a civil service commission to set salaries of all classified employees. Exempt are heads of departments and not more than two unclassified positions in each department.

The salary of legislators, representatives and senators, is a flat $3 per day throughout the two-year term. This compensation is not limited to the legislative session, such as is the practice in some other states.

It will run approximately $2,000 for a two-year term.

Legislators are under similar constitutional wage restrictions. "They shall receive no further compensation than as specified in this section for service. . . or perquisites of the office not expressly authorized by this constitution."

The compensation of state elective officials, other than the governor and lieutenant governor, has been increased to $7,500 a year by a legislative enactment of making them a member of the state administrative board. The secretary of state, for example, has a constitutional salary of $2,500 and $5,000 additional pay as a member of the "ad" board. Yet, two employees of the secretary of state's office are better paid than the secretary of state. Nine subordinate employees of the highway department get more money than the highway commissioner, their boss. And 12 subordinate employees of the attorney general are better paid than the attorney general!

The governor of Michigan draws $17,500 from the state treasury. This compensation is as follows: His constitutional salary, $5,000; a legislative-set salary as member of the state administration board, $2, 500; and a flat $10,000 expense account for which no accounting is required or given.

Among the amendments currently considered by the legislature at Lansing is one to remove constitutional salary limitations of both state officials and state legislators. The State Supreme court has ruled that the legislature is forbidden by the constitution from paying themselves expense money. This decision puts the governor's expense account in obvious legal jeopardy.

Is a $7,500 salary adequate for state elective officials?

This question appears to us to be linked directly to the illogical situation, now existing, whereby 144 state employees get higher wages than their bosses. Why should salaries of state officials be limited by the constitution, while salaries of their subordinate employees are not?

Eventually this state salary mess must be straightened out. We doubt if any farmer would be happy if the hired hand got more wages than he did. State officials are in the same fix. Michigan public service now calls for financial sacrifice. Such officials would be far better off to take a civil service appointment carrying less responsibility and no campaign obligation.

If you ever come home and find a horse in the bathtub, be sure to pull out the plug!

"Your husband seems to be a very brilliant man. I suppose he knows 'most everything.'"
"You'd be surprised. There are things he doesn't even suspect."

Would blow his horn,
Go weaving through traffic too fast;
'Twas a great mistake
To blow and not brake,
And Fate upset him at last!

The air turns blue, too, when a reckless Boy Blue turns up in crowded traffic! Other motorists curse him—pedestrians fear him—and no wonder!

Speeding is the prime cause of accidents—it kills 10,000 persons a year. And remember—50 miles an hour may be safe on good roads, on open highways—while 20 can be dangerous in bad weather or heavy traffic. Speeding is driving too fast for conditions.

Drive as though your life depended upon it—it does!
