The annual state-wide appeal for funds for the Salvation Army institutional works in the state of Michigan is under way.

When the workers call upon you they would appreciate your generosity. It is for a good cause.

A NECESSITY. ONLY TAX-PAYERS MAY VOTE ON PROPOSITION

PROPOSAL

Shall the school district known and designated as the East Jordan Rural Agricultural School District No. 2, comprising territory in the City of East Jordan and townships of South Arm, Eveline and Wilson in Charlevoix County and the townships of Echo and Jordan in Antrim County, State of Michigan, levy five (5) mills over and above the fifteen (15) mills tax limitation over a period of three years, 1948 - 1949 - 1950, to create a sinking fund for the purpose of erecting a school bus garage and storage for the said school district?

YES

NO

The above proposal will be presented at the regular school election Monday, June 14th.

In the last two issues of the Herald we have set forth the need of adequate storage for our school buses. It is our desire and intention to provide the children of our district with safe and efficient transportation.

We have $15,000, the site and plans for this building. This gives us a good start. Let's make it a reality.

Center Stage Cast Arrives

ARE ALREADY AT WORK ON REHEARSALS

When the Greyhound bus arrived here Monday afternoon, it brought fourteen members of East Jordan's new Summer Theatre. Heading the group were Marilyn Lief and Bernice Loren who, as the group's producers and directors, were here in April making arrangements for the theatre; Cyvia Gilbert, lighting technician; Jean Thomas, who designs their sets; and Mrs. Mildred Yurusso, their house mother. Mrs. Yurusso's son, David Young, is also a member of the group, who are living in the Ashland Bowen home on Second St. Four more members will arrive by the end of the week and they will complete the group of eighteen which will be here till after Labor Day.

Tuesday morning found them out looking over the city and, by noon, East Jordan had already received a number of very favorable compliments from the various members. It seems they have taken a decided liking to the town, townspeople, school, and even the new fire truck came in for its share.

However, Tuesday afternoon found them already hard at work on the script of their first play, "John Loves Mary," which will open in the High School auditorium, Thursday, July 1st. "John Loves Mary" is a hilarious comedy, which has just closed an extremely long run on Broadway, and is now playing in Chicago. It will be perfect fare for the opening of Center Stage '48.

Perhaps next week, we can give you a thumb nail sketch of each member of Center Stage '48.

Wanted—Swimmer

The Red Cross invites an East Jordan boy or girl 19 years or older, to attend the Red Cross Aquatic School at Ludington, June 20 to 30. You must be a fair swimmer.

Red Cross will pay your expenses to and from East Jordan, and while you are at camp. In return, regular free swimming classes on certain days per week will be held for East Jordan children. Why not take advantage of this opportunity to earn Red Cross Water Safety Certificate at no cost to you, other than that of teaching swimming. You will also be qualified to take any Life Guard position thru this course.

If interested call Ethel Crowell before June 15th.

Archery Field Course Ready for Use

A 14 target regulation field course sponsored by the Jordan River Sportsman's Club has been completed and is available to local Archers and visitors. The course is laid out in a very scenic area on the Keith Dressel farm and includes up and down hill shots, open field shots, shaded targets, under branch shot, shots varying in length from 20 feet to 80 yards. Effort was made to make it a practical course to help the archer prepare for the hunt.

A very interesting and entertaining game can be played on a field course with four players composing a group. Rules and score cards may be obtained from Edgar Bowerman at Ed's Boats.

Anyone having friends or relatives who are interested in archery and are coming to East Jordan for a visit, invite them to bring their archery tackle.

To Hold Vacation Bible School

IN LUNCH ROOM E. J. H. S. JUNE 14-25

Classes for all age groups four to 15 years will be conducted daily, Mondays through Fridays, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. The afternoon arrangement is necessitated by a similar school from 9 to 12 noon at Christ church, Boyne City during the same period.

Opening with a brief worship service each day, the school will feature sound motion pictures on religious subjects, singing and Bible study. A distinctive feature of the daily sessions will be handwork projects correlated with the lesson theme for the day.

Parents' night will be held Thursday evening, June 24, at which time parents of the children may view the handwork completed. Refreshments will be served by the members of the Bible school staff, and all children, parents and their friends will see the full length sound motion picture Reaching for Heaven, which has been so widely acclaimed since its release early this year. Attractive diplomas will be awarded all children enrolled in the school.

The Daily Vacation Bible school, which is open to all children without admission, is under the supervision of the Reverend Norman Kuck of Boyne City.

Lay Off This Horn Tooting In Chief Simmons Bailwick

It may be perfectly proper to toot your own horn in a nice, genteel manner, but not laying on an auto horn which emits sounds long and loud. This is particularly disconcerting if practiced in the wee small hours of the morning when most of us have a date with morpheus.

And for sundry reasons Chief Simmons likes it not in his bailwick. Result.

Sherman Hulbert was hailed into Justice Murphy's court last May 28th, charged with reckless driving without lights and too frequent use of said horn.

Justice Murphy after considering evidence brought forth, decided Mr. Hulbert's pastime was worth $100 in coin of the realm, and that he should meditate of his evil ways for thirty days in the county bastille. In default of the $100, he should continue his sojourn at Charlevoix for another thirty days.

Warning, other people have rights, so toot your horn in the aforesaid district. Or else.

PIE SOCIAL AND CAKE WALK

RESORT NEWS

WHO'S WHO AT YOUR RESORT

Here is an idea that comes from C. O. Bradford, operator of the Kalamazoo Motor Court. Brad says, "Last year we adopted a policy which in turn has not only brought us repeat business but lots of new business as well. It is very simple and it pays off. We take pictures of important people who stay with us and mail these pictures back to their home town newspapers for publication, showing Mr. and Mrs. Who's Who on an outing or vacation in Michigan. Of course we play up Kalamazoo to attract attention to our community. This idea has proven so popular that we now receive many requests for reservations from folks who want to get into the act. We are going forward with this idea again this season."

WATCH FOR COLLIER'S MAGAZINE ON JUNE 19

Collier's Magazine announced today that the June 19 issue will contain a lengthy feature story on Michigan, written by John Kord Lagermann and entitled "They Cut Down The Old Pine Tree". The article will be illustrated by a picture map and photographs in this magazine of nearly three million circulation.

The story is primarily recreational and contains off-the-beaten-path human interest material, typical Michigan "tall stories" in the Paul Bunyan tradition, the history of Michigan's conservation effort, bits of folks lore, anecdotes of the lumber jacks and the story of how the tourist business rescued Michigan from the doldrums following lumber days.

Watch for it!

Smoked and Canned Suckers New Industry for Charlevoix

First large-scale fish canning operations in the history of Michigan's commercial fisheries is scheduled for Charlevoix, and the product is something new in the Michigan commercial fishing industry—smoked, canned, sucker, or mullet.

George LaBlance, Jr., himself a commercial fisherman, is now constructing the canning plant in which he will pack the new product in quantity. The canned mullet is being compared to salmon and tuna. LaBlance developed the present patented process for preparing the fish after two years of experimentation and correspondence with canning companies and fisheries authorities in Michigan and the nation.

According to conservation department records, Michigan commercial fishermen have been producing two to three million pounds of suckers annually for the fresh fish market, and the fishery is believed capable of some expansion.

STANLEY M. POWELL

In the course of Mr. Powell's address, he showed how the setup of the Farm Bureau enables members to discuss timely issues in their community groups and formulate policies and programs which are threshed over and put into a final form at each annual State Farm Bureau Convention. Resolutions adopted at those meetings constitute the platform and program of the organization for the following year. The Farm Bureau through its Action Committee and community groups is well organized to keep track of legislative developments and to keep their lawmakers at Lansing and Washington currently advised as to their position on pending legislation. This is definitely democracy in action and has proved to be exceedingly effective in promoting rural interests regarding a wide range of important legislative issues.

Farm Bureau members attending this meeting reported that they found it exceedingly interesting and informative, and their only regret was that they wished that it had been possible for all the Farm Bureau members and other rural folks in this section of the state to have heard this address and talk together about these vital matters.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Israel Registers Diplomatic Victory By Agreeing to 'Cease Fire' Order; Lewis Quits First Coal Conference

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PALESTINE: Diplomacy

What the Jews of Israel lacked in armed strength to resist Arab attacks against their new state they had made up in shrewd diplomacy.

It was just possible that the decisive blow of the Palestine war was struck when Israel, foreseeing military defeat, agreed to order its army to cease fire on all Palestine fronts if the Arabs would do the same.

That development, which took place as the battle for Jerusalem entered its sixth day in an unholy atmosphere of rattling guns, bursting shell and violent death, made the most favorable impression possible in the United Nations.

Thus having the onus of prolonging the Palestine fighting shifted suddenly to their shoulders alone, the Arabs were put on the spot in the U. N. and in world public opinion.

It was a clever diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Jews but, at least at the outset of this new line of circumstances, the Arabs were having none of it. They reiterated their determination to wrest all Palestine from control of the Jews.

Actually, all the Jews had done was to issue a surprise cease fire order in compliance with a U. N. security council request that the fighting be brought to a halt. Neither the security council nor anyone else had expected the request to be observed.

But that put it up to the Arabs who, faced with a deadline set by the U. N., were having trouble deciding whether or not to cease fire.

If they stopped fighting now they would have done so without attaining their prime objective — the revoking of Israel's claim to sovereign statehood. If they continued the war beyond the deadline they would be laying themselves open to possible security council sanctions of the economic variety.

SECURITY: Desperate Plight

President Truman came up with another sound plank to reinforce his campaign platform when he demanded that congress overhaul and broaden the social security program.

To relieve the "desperate" plight of the aged and needy in this inflationary period he called for a 50 per cent increase in old age insurance benefits and asked that 20 million more persons be protected.

He offered a five point program and said he wanted quick action on it. For three years, the President pointed out with some irritation, similar requests on his part have been shunted aside. This time he was asking:

1. A 50 per cent increase "at least" in old age and survivors' insurance benefits; allowing pensioners to earn up to $40 a month instead of $15 without losing benefits; raising of the tax rate from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent next January 1.
2. Extension of coverage to farm and domestic workers, the self-employed and others not now covered.
3. Broadening of unemployment insurance to cover employees of small firms (having fewer than eight workers), federal employees and others.
4. Disability insurance to protect workers from loss of earnings caused by sickness and injuries.
5. Increased federal benefits to match state aid for dependent children, the needy, aged and blind.

Whatever his motives in presenting the problem of inadequate social security benefits again at this time, Mr. Truman did have a good, even a noble, point.

"People whose sole income is from social security payments have just about reached the breaking point. All of them face a desperate struggle in trying to procure bare necessities at present prices."

Both President Truman and the aged and needy were hoping fervently that congress would be able to squeeze social security legislation into the crowded docket it had prepared for the month preceding adjournment.

As for congress itself, it was on the fence again.

ECONOMICS: Wage-Price

While prices continue to climb steadily, wage increases are beginning to show signs of leveling off, says the latest department of commerce report on inflation.

Possibility of a business recession, and with it the prospect for lower prices, vanished like mist in the sun after the foreign aid and military preparedness programs began to take shape in March, the department survey revealed.

Walkout

This photograph of the west end of John L. Lewis going east out of a door is perhaps symbolic of trouble to come in the nation's soft coal mines. First conference between the United Mine Workers and the coal producers on the miners' 1948 contract ended in frustration when Lewis walked out after refusing to seat a representative of the Southern Coal Producers association at the parley.

NO CONFERENCE: Lewis Again

It was all typically Lewisian. "I make the observation that there is now no conference," quoth John L., chief of the soft coal miners, as he walked grandly out on the first meeting to negotiate a new contract between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

UMW's present contract expires June 30.

Lewis broke up the discussion on 1948 wage agreements when he objected to seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, at the conference and was outvoted by the operators.

He was not against Moody personally. Officially, his union's position was that the 14 regional organizations which comprise the Southern association must bargain in 14 separate groups, rather than delegate bargaining authority to the all-inclusive association.

According to Lewis' accepted pattern of operation, his balk at the Southern Coal Producers was the opening tactical stroke in his 1948 campaign for an improved miners' contract.

Following that, he could sit back and present the UMW wage demands in his own good time. Then, if the coal operators did not accede, he could call the annual strike.

Lewis knew his position was good. The UMW's recent pension walkout had left the nation's coal reserves seriously depleted. By the time June 30 rolled around, soft coal stocks would not yet have been built up to the point where industry could stand a long strike.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, it looked like this would develop into another injunction case.

The union still is under an 80 day court injunction prohibiting renewal of the pension strike; but the court might rule that another walkout would be a brand new strike. In that case a new injunction might have to be sought by the government under Taft-Hartley procedure.

HARVEST: European

Europe may look forward to possibly its best year since the war if food production prospects continue to be as favorable as they are right now.

U. S. agriculture department said that the continent will produce a larger part of its food needs this year than it did last year and that the crop outlook was good over most of Europe and the Soviet Union early in May.

Prospects indicate a considerably larger crop of bread grains — wheat and rye — than last year's desperately small one. A severe winter killed most of Europe's winter wheat and rye last year.

European production of bread grains may surpass 1.8 billion bushels, which was the size of the 1946 crop, largest since the war. Production last year dropped to about 1.5 billion bushels, compared with a 2.3 billion average before the war.

Long Voyage

Previous flight range records paled into insignificance when an air force B-36 superbomber flew an unprecedented 8,000 miles non-stop with a dummy bomb load of about five tons. It was aloft for a day and a half.

The B-36 returned to the ground with about 1,200 gallons of gasoline remaining in its tanks, enough to keep it aloft another two or three hours if necessary.

DAIRYING: To a Crisis

While the U. S. dairy industry was busy promoting its 12th annual June Dairy Month for the purpose of selling more milk, butter, cheese and ice cream it also was taking a long, critical look behind the scenes and not liking what it saw.

Industry analysis had spotted what appeared to be a dangerous trend. In its simplest form the trend could be defined as an inexorable increase in the U. S. population.

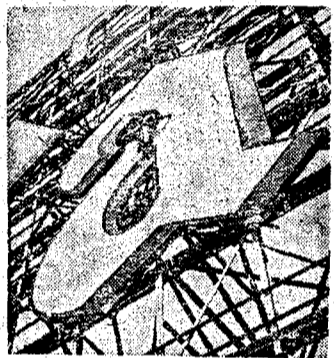

At the root of the problem was a stubbornly entrenched economic condition whose factors were the war, widespread hunger abroad and domestic inflation.

Continuing high prices for beef and veal have been instrumental in sending many dairy cows or potential dairy cows to the slaughter house. Too many American dairy farmers have discovered how they could reduce their herds drastically, put more land into money-making grain crops, realize a greater profit and still have more leisure time.

Adding those conditions to the fact that during the past few years the nation has experienced about a 45 per cent increase in its birth rate, the dairy industry came up with a grim conclusion: If these circumstances continue at the present rate, and there is every likelihood that they will, by 1952 the U. S. will be approaching the critical point at which it no longer will be able to produce enough milk to satisfy its own needs.

That, according to some prognosticators, might mean strict rationing in a land which hitherto had literally flowed with milk and honey.

Biggest Switch

Billboard advertising will reach a new spectacular extreme on Chicago's Lake Shore drive this July when the switch is thrown to turn on the lights of the world's largest sign — 114 feet high and 210 feet wide. A mile and a half of neon tubing, illuminating letters 38 to 58 feet high, will flash the name of a spirited product which a certain distillery wants everybody to switch to.

POLITICS: The Race

In Oregon, where the last presidential primary of this campaign year was held in an atmosphere of political hoopla, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was voted more likely to succeed than Harold Stassen.

Whether he would or not remained an open question, but it was certain that his political complexion had taken on a more sanguine hue as a result of the Oregon balloting.

Stassen, who had won spectacular primary victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska over Taft and Dewey, his chief rivals for the GOP nomination, and then had received a borderline setback at the hands of Taft forces in Ohio, at last had suffered a clear-cut defeat.

Oregon wasn't going to do Stassen any good. Having had to buck organized Republican opposition all the way along, he apparently had estimated that his best chance of procuring the nomination lay in building up sufficient prestige and momentum during the primary campaigns to stampede the June 21 convention.

However, he still will go to the national convention with at least 200 delegates pledged to support him on the first ballot. So, for that matter, will Dewey. A total of 548 convention votes is required for nomination.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Executive Office □ Lansing

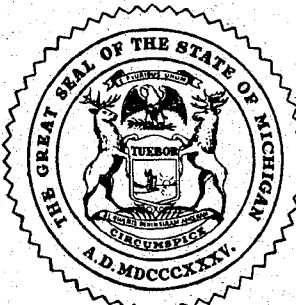

PROCLAMATION
Dairy Month

Michigan, with its million dairy cows producing over two and a half billion quarts of milk a year, ranks sixth in the nation as a dairy state. In the past few years, Michigan's dairy industry has grown from a seventy-two million dollar business into one of over two hundred million dollars, and represents more than one-third of the average Michigan farmer's cash income.

At a time when food and the sharing of food are of world-wide interest, the importance of milk and milk products is recognized as never before. Milk is considered nature's most nearly perfect food and is of vital and increasing importance to universal well-being.

The dairy industry has made great contributions to the general welfare of our citizens, through the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent annually for the improvement of our dairy herds, for the installation of better machinery and equipment, and for research in the field of human nutrition.

Therefore, I, Kim Stigler, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the month of June, 1948 as Dairy Month in Michigan, and urge that during this period our citizens become increasingly aware of the importance of the dairy industry to the economy of this state, and to the health and vitality of its citizens.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this Thirteenth Day of May, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the One Hundred Twelfth

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Ida Kinsey

JUNE 13, 1908.

The Water Tower, which has been a menace to life and property for some time past, collapsed Sunday, June 7, about 2:00 p. m. and, while it is causing our village officials some trouble to keep up a water pressure, every one in town is breathing a sigh of relief that the tower is leveled. Those who witnessed the event state that the tank, settled to the west, toppled over and crashed into C. S. Finney's barn, wrecking it completely. The tower fell in a north-easterly direction away from adjoining buildings. A lot of household goods were stored in the barn. Men immediately set to work to clear away the debris in order to shut off the broken main and, when this was accomplished, the pumps gave a direct pressure. A steam pump has since been borrowed of the East Jordan Lumber Co., and, with steam from the Electric Light Co's boilers, as good if not better water pressure is offered. The tower was about 100 ft. high and was constructed when the pressure system was installed at a cost of $3,000. Of late it had been growing weak around the bottom of the tank and the Council had already commenced making plans for rebuilding the entire water system.

At a meeting of the Council Monday night, it was decided to present the matter of bonding for a new water-works system to the voters on June 24th. The sum required, according to an expert engineer, is $20,000. Owing to the growth and expansion of our village this, even with the old tower, is an absolute necessity.

Clarence Kidder 24, was instantly killed while working on section 34 near Hitchcock, for the East Jordan Lumber Co. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kidder of Echo.

Owing to increased business in Prosecuting Attorney E. N. Clink's office, a partnership has been formed between Mr. Clink and Atty Dwight Fitch of Harbor Springs.

W. E. Malpass received a painful injury Saturday afternoon by a drop of molten metal striking him in the left eye, burning the eyeball quite badly. He will regain the sight of the eye, but it was a close call.

Miss Eva Mackey finished a successful term of school at Afton on June 5. A picnic dinner in the school room, then a program of talks and phonograph records. Miss Mackey gave each pupil a souvenir booklet, which was a thing of beauty. The cover was embossed in colors and contained her picture.

JUNE 14, 1918

The Steamer America of Harbor Springs was in port, Thursday, taking the household effects of Harry Curkendall who has located at Harbor Springs. Mrs. Curkendall with children left on the boat for their new home.

Mesdames Ashland Bowen, Frank Green, Wm. Crawford, and Neil Flannery, together with their husbands, were at Boyne City, Wednesday, to attend the funeral of the ladies brother, Roy Holt.

The Horticultural class of the high school, accompanied by their instructor Ralph Sill, held a picnic at Intermediate Lake, Wednesday.

JUNE 16, 1928

The Shingle Mill was struck by lightning and burned Wednesday A. M. One of the worst electrical storms, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, visited East Jordan at an early hour. One of the bolts of lightning evidently struck the high smoke stack, started a heavy blaze in the boiler and engine room which quickly spread. Loss about $9,000. A comparatively small amount of insurance was carried. The Shingle Mill, located at the end of the South Arm of Pine Lake, (now Lake Charlevoix) was among the structures erected during the early life of East Jordan's lumbering industries. It was erected over 30 years ago, and for many years boats navigating the Great Lakes, passed through the draw bridge (now torn down and filled in) and docked at the shingle mill for cargoes of their products. With the gradual receding of the waters, navigation became prohibitive, and of late years the product has been shipped by railroad.

Before an audience that taxed the capacity of East Jordan Public School auditorium, the forty-odd piano students of Miss Irene J. Bashaw gave a delightful recital Tuesday evening.

At the Annual school meeting of East Jordan Public Schools, L. A. Hoyt was reelected trustee for three years. Dr. G. W. Bechtold was elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term after Dr. H. W. Dicken resigned as member of the Board of Trustees.

The Eveline Orchards, Prof. L. R. Taft, manager, have purchased the building on the west side erected by the Everett B. Clark Seed Co., several years ago. They are repairing same and will convert the building into a shipping storage room for apples—the product for which they are famous.

M. C. R. R. closes East Jordan West Side depot. A portable depot has been erected at Marble—the inter section of the M. C. R. R. and the E. J. S. R. R. and here-after all freight and passenger traffic will be transferred at this point.

Mrs. Charles Hudkins arrived last Friday from El Monte, Calif., for a visit with her mother, Mrs. George Hayner, and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Davis, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Brennan and family who have lived in East Jordan about 17 years, leave this Saturday for their new home in Saginaw.

Carl Ellsworth and Miss Lydia Martin, were united in marriage June 9, at Petoskey.

Fish Also Hurt

By Forest Fires

Trout fishermen have a big stake in preventing forest fires, reports L. A. Carter, forester, at Michigan State college.

He advises that fires require large amounts of oxygen from small streams to such an extent that fish cannot survive. Fires also leave large amount of ash that is washed into the streams with the first rain. The ash makes the stream so alkaline that the fish are killed.

Care in building fires, care in smoking, and watchfulness at all times, can help to cut the tremendous loss from forest fires, Carter reports.

One thing in favor of death over taxes—death doesn't get worse every time Congress meets.

PLAN NOW TO TAKE BEST ADVANTAGE OF FROZEN FOODS

We all want to take advantage of using frozen foods in planning our family food supplies for the next year. With fruits and vegetables coming on the market, now is a good time to make some definite plans for the quantities we will need and how we will store them.

Whether to buy a frozen food unit for the home or use the facilities of the local locker is a question we all have to decide. Some very practical help in making this decision is available at no cost to Michigan families from Michigan State college.

Their recent publication, "Planning for Frozen Foods", contains 38 pages of illustrated down-to-earth facts that everyone needs to know before buying or renting lockers. One glance at the carefully prepared charts in the bulletin will tell you the amounts of various foods that it is practical to freeze according to the size of your family. Varieties best for freezing and basic information for their preparation is included.

What you can expect from each of the types of home units and from the commercial locker plants is discussed in detail. Costs are compared and the question of location of lockers either in your home or community is discussed.

Michigan State College home economists say you will find help in this bulletin about the amount of frozen food space you need for your family. That would determine the size of unit you would want if buying a home unit seemed practical for your family situation.

To obtain a copy of "Planning for Frozen Foods", write to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, or get one from your county extension office. Ask for Michigan State College Circular Bulletin 198.

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who is This Man?" For instance...

"He was one of the earliest lovers in American history..."

"And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright..."

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower..."

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims..."

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer is the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

Los Angeles Drive Seeks Full Value From Sunshine

Los Angeles county has started a comprehensive anti-smog program to insure residents getting full value from the California sunshine.

American Public Works association reports that an air pollution authority has been appointed with broad powers to enforce anti-smog regulations throughout the county as well as inside the City of Los Angeles.

Like other metropolitan cities, Los Angeles' soot and smoke problem is aggravated by fumes from outside city jurisdiction. Experts agree that smog control is most effective if tackled on a county-wide or regional basis.

State legislation passed earlier this year made possible creation of the Los Angeles air pollution authority. County-wide smog control also was authorized by state action this year for Milwaukee and Pittsburgh.

The Los Angeles authority has powers to license all places in the county which generate noxious fumes, excepting private homes. Licenses will be issued only if fumecleaning equipment is installed. To curb home-created fumes, trash-burning schedules are being drawn up which will take advantage of regular daily wind shifts.

Revocation of operating licenses rather than fines will be the penalty for industrial violators of anti-smog regulations. In addition, a privately built incinerator designed to burn industrial wastes with a minimum of smoke is being tested by the city.

Correct Ironing Procedure Saves Clothes, Electricity

The following proper ironing rules are given by state college extension authorities in order to save clothes as well as save on electricity or fuel.

Always iron fabrics until they are dry. Iron the extra, interior parts first, including inset pockets, attached shoulder pads and facings. If the moisture is not fully evaporated in these parts, they'll cause the garment to wrinkle. It is hard to do them later without musing an already ironed garment.

Always take an extra second to arrange the garment on the board to get maximum ironing surface. It saves time in the long run and often saves ironing in wrinkles.

In general, iron sleeves, sashes and trimmings, such as ruffles, first. Collars may be done last, if you prefer, provided the garment is not too large to dangle from the board.

The top part of long garments should be ironed next. The bodice of a housecoat or dress, for instance, should be ironed first, then the skirt. It saves musing.

Iron bias cut garments with the grain of the fabric rather than from neck to hem or sagging may result.

Fold wide articles such as tablecloths, lengthwise and iron one side. Then fold double and iron upper surface. Keep on folding and ironing the upper surface until the piece is finished. Avoid sharp creases.

Plutonium Not Harmful

Plutonium, the violently radioactive element of which atomic bombs are made, can be swallowed in small amounts with virtually no ill effects, Wright H. Langham of the Los Alamos laboratories reported to American Chemical society. Referring to plutonium toxicity, which he termed of great value in safeguarding the lives of workers engaged in developing peacetime applications of atomic energy, he said that recent laboratory tests indicate plutonium is extremely poorly absorbed from the intestinal tract, which means that only slight exposure can occur to workers who may, in the course of their work, swallow small amounts of it. Even when substances like sodium citrate, which increases the solubility of plutonium, were added to the solutions administered orally, rats used in the study absorbed only about 0.2 per cent of the total amount swallowed.

Business Men's College

University of Illinois is establishing an extension service for business, which will be comparable to the agricultural extension service offered by the state agricultural colleges to farmers. The new service, which is the first of its kind in the country, will include private consultations, short courses and regional conferences. Initially, a management consulting service covering business administration, production, office operation, personnel, purchasing, sales, records and finances will be offered, with members of the university staff acting as consultants. The program will be under auspices of the college of commerce.

Has No Atmosphere

Scientists say that the moon has no atmosphere in the sense that atmosphere is known here. Probably even the atmosphere visited by Professor Piccard and Commander Settle, on their trips into the stratosphere, would seem chockingly dense compared with the rare nothingness of the moon's envelope. Scientists have found that there are no such holders of heat as running water and vegetation on the moon, and there being no atmosphere, the temperatures are exceedingly variable. Water, vegetation and atmosphere act as brakes on the swift changes of temperature.

erision? Can you afford to cut your crop yield by the loss of water and soil? If you can then you should ignore contour strip cropping, terracing or good land use.

One and one half inches of rain fell in this vicinity of the Antrim Soil Conservation District Monday and Tuesday according to the Charlevoix Rain Gauge.

Do you realize the value of water to people and what are you doing to conserve water?

Everett Gulembo, Soil Conservationist states it takes 37.5 gal of water to produce one slice of bread; 400 gallons for one bushel of potatoes; 2800 gallons for one bushel of corn and 50 gallons for every man, woman and child each day of the year. Should we control water and soil loss or should the majority of people ignore conservation practices?

Getting up early in the morning is merely a question of mind over mattress.

GOOD FARMING PRACTICE

Heed danger signals such as this. In heavy rains, this type of watershed will drain thousands of dollars of valuable top soil from your fields.

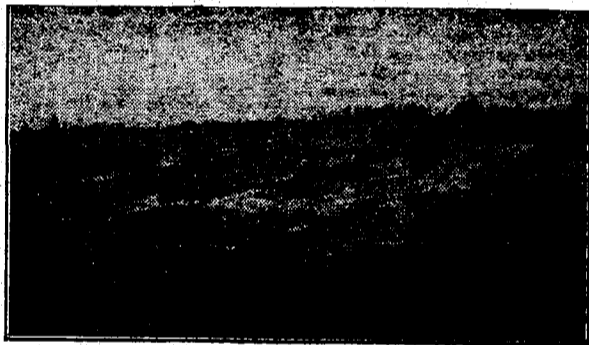

Families move out when the top soil is lost by erosion as in the illustration below.

Cross slope, around-the-hill cultivation increases yields by preventing soil erosion and holding water where it falls.

Sod in the natural waterways in cultivated fields prevents gullies and saves machinery, time and soil.

Esther's Zeal For Her People

Lesson for June 13, 1948

Dr. Newton

GEORGE MEREDITH has a line that runs like this, "God's rarest blessing is, after all, a good woman." In this study of Esther, you may wish to think of her primarily as a courageous woman—most people do, I guess. But back of her courage was a solid goodness, else she would never have been able to say, "And if I perish, I perish." One must read the Book of Esther, of course, to have any grasp of this great story. It requires but a few minutes, and every reader will be richly rewarded. I have a lawyer friend, a prodigious reader, who tells me that once each month, for the past 50 years, he has read the Book of Esther.

A QUEEN WHO WAS BRAVE
DANIEL, we agreed, was a brave person; but not more brave than Esther. There is a verse in Hebrews 13:6 that serves admirably to interpret this first stage of Esther's manifest courage, "The Lord is my helper."

We go to the palace in Shushan, where reigned Ahasuerus. His kingdom stretched from India even unto Ethiopia. His queen, Vashti, refused to come before him when he had made a feast. As a result of this refusal, the king ordered young maidens brought before him that he might choose a new queen. There was in the court a Jew, Mordecai, who had been brought there from Jerusalem. He had in his care the daughter of his uncle, a beautiful maiden, named Esther. Mordecai saw here a great opportunity and he brought her before the king. She was chosen. This brief sketch accounts for her position.

A QUEEN WHO HELPED HER PEOPLE

HAMAN, who was next to the king in authority, discovering that Mordecai was a Jew and was not worshipping as Haman had commanded, caused a decree to be issued which would put to death all the Jews in the kingdom. Mordecai, learning of this decree, sent word secretly to Esther, urging her to intercede on behalf of her people to the king.

Here is the heart of the story. Space does not permit a detailed recital. It is sufficient to say that Esther, though still in her early twenties, managed this delicate situation with such skill that the gallows which Haman had built for Mordecai turned out to be the instrument of death for Haman and his sons. Instead of the Jews being slaughtered, those who had planned the death of all the Jews lay dead.

ESTHER RISKED ALL AND WON ALL

IF EVER there was a perfect illustration of staking one's all on one great moment, Esther provides such illustration. "Who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" said Mordecai as he bolstered her nerve.

It is such a challenge as young people may be facing today. Obviously, the moment now confronting us calls for great faith and great sacrifice if this world is to be saved from utter destruction. It may be that this situation calls for hitherto unknown tactics. And let us pray God there is somewhere an Esther.

THE MESSAGE OF ESTHER

WHICH leads me to suggest that racial hatred was never more bitter than at this moment. Unless the winds of God blow, unless some mighty manifestation of divine intervention is granted, the world will break up on the rocks of prejudice and selfishness and ambition and all the forms and fashions of sin.

"God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform." Let us pray that we may early witness some mighty stroke of his mercy and deliverance, ere the night let down.

Atomic Hope

Terrifying as is the prospect of atomic energy running wild in the hands of a generation of men morally and spiritually unprepared to handle it, even more thrilling is the prospect of a Divine Will subjecting even such a diabolic thing as the atomic bomb to discipline and control.

Lists Gardening Chores For June

For home gardeners, the month of June means a little planting, a little pruning, a little watering, a little dusting and spraying, and lots of weeding. Jack Rose, Michigan State college gardening specialist says that all added together it makes one of the busiest and most important months in the whole gardening year.

June 1 - 10: Time still remains to plant part of the spring garden and start to plant some of the fall garden. If tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, and tender flower annuals have not been set out, do so now. Make second seeding of corn and beans. Sow lima beans, pumpkin, squash, melons and cucumbers. Plant late potatoes. Sow seed of cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, and brussel sprouts for fall crops. Dahlias may be set out any time during June. Continue making gladiolus plantings at ten-day intervals up to the last of June.

June 10 - 20: Start dusting sweet corn with rotenone or three percent DDT to control corn borer. Make five applications at five-day intervals. Keep squash plants dusted with rotenone to control vine borer. Spray tomato blossoms with hormone spray for early fruit set.

Watch beans for Mexican bean beetle. Spray or dust with rotenone, covering top and underside of leaves for control. Dust or spray potatoes with mixture of DDT and copper dusts of bordeaux mixture.

Pinch back chrysanthemums to get bushy growth and abundance of bloom. Stake delphinium, hollyhocks and other tall perennials.

June 20 - 30: Stop cutting asparagus. Apply ten pounds of 10-6-4 or other high nitrogen fertilizer per 100 foot row. Watch for and remove suckers on lilacs, roses and any other grafted trees or shrubs.

Water plants during dry spells. Be particularly careful to water newly set evergreens. Water lawn thoroughly, soaking soil to depth of three or four inches. Don't just sprinkle.

As a concluding note, the horticulturist urges gardeners to battle weeds. June is the month to whip the weed problem. Weeds rob garden plants of food and moisture. Hoe them out, pull them by hand, get rid of the weeds. This is a good time to use one of the 2,4-D sprays to destroy lawn weeds, too. Be careful not to get 2, 4-D on garden plants, however.

General Motors Corporation, a Michigan concern, has the reputation of being the best managed corporation in the world.

And so when GM announced a two-year contract with the CIO United Automobile Workers, granting workers an "annual improvement" of three cents an hour and eight cents an hour tied to cost of living many Michigan employers paid attention. Here was the pace-setter with a new formula for industrial peace.

In a two-day field trip in southern Michigan recently, we talked with a number of employers about 1948 problems of rising production costs and what their firms were doing to meet them. Invariably the employees attitude on profits was mentioned as a factor. Cost of living has been surging upward with dismaying persistency. While sales remain good, profits are declining. Many retailers are wondering what is ahead.

"I'd like to know the answer to this employee problem," said one employer. "It does not seem possible for the worker to win better wages perpetually without also inflating prices."

"The employee demand for higher wages is stimulated, it now appears, by a belief that the average business is rolling in high profits and that wage increases can be granted out of profits alone. This is a fallacy, a misconception. I sometimes think the average American is illiterate when it comes to understanding economics."

Marvin R. Benson, Mayor
Thelma M. Hegerberg, City Clerk

His petulant remark prompted us to dig into the record.

We find that from January, 1941, to December, 1947, industrial wages went up 84 per cent, while the cost of living arose 69.1 per cent.

Dividends to stockholders represented about 5 per cent of proportionate earnings in 1947. The remainder, 85 per cent—went to improve products and services through research and better machines, to replace old plant equipment, and to provide additional working capital sorely needed because wage and material cost.

Did you know that 75 per cent of the nation's post-war plant expansion program was financed out of current and past earnings? Well, such is the case.

Charles F. Kettering, engineering consultant of GM, believes that the GM "annual wage improvement" could be offset by a two per cent annual increase in efficiency. Maybe GM can do it. Surely other firms, less well managed, will be unable to follow suit.

Summer H. Slichter, Harvard economist, points out that collective bargaining with its perennial demand for higher wages have resulted in a continual slow rise of prices.

"With prices rising two or three per cent a year, who would wish to own saving accounts, government bonds or other securities paying two or three per cent a year?" he asks.

Is the ultimate effect of this kind of collective bargaining going to be a gradual reduction in the purchasing power of workers' pensions, savings accounts, life insurance and bonds? Is this going to rob us of any incentive to save? Is there no hope for the widow's son?

In England where there is a labor government today, unions have been asked by their own government to heed the following: "It is essential that there should be no further general increase in the level of personal incomes without at least a corresponding increase in the volume of production." (White Paper, Feb. 4, 1948). The same policy could well be adopted over here.

Farm Topics

GUERNSEY COW PRODUCES 74.5 POUNDS OF FAT

Versal Crawford of East Jordan owned the guernsey cow that produced 74.5 pounds of butterfat during May according to Lee Cook, tester for the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Archie Murphy of East Jordan owned the herd of 12 guernseys that averaged 46.9 pounds for the month.

A total of 2 herds were tested during the month. The average production for all the cows was 828 pounds of milk and 34.53 pounds of fat. Thirty-seven cows produced more than 50 pounds of fat. The returns per one dollar of feed cost was $2.68. The feed cost per pound of butterfat was $0.38 and per cwt. of milk was $1.61.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING HITS HIGH MONTH

A total of 91 services were made by Curtis Nicloy, inseminator of the Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association, during the month of May. Fifty-two were first services, 28 were second, 9 were thirds, and two were fourth services. The per cent of cows settled has been very satisfactory.

Five new members and 24 more cows were signed up during the month. The new members included: Fred Stutzman, Boyne City; August Jensen, Walloon Lake; L. Lockman, Boyne City; Freeman Laisure, East Jordan; and Ralph Leist, Boyne City.
