Center Stage Opening Near

OPENING CURTAIN NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

With the refinishing of the gymnasium floor completed, the High School Auditorium was turned over to our group of summer theatre folks Monday and rehearsals got under way in earnest for the opening of "John Loves Mary" which takes place next Thursday evening, July 1, at 8:30 p. m.

East Jordan is already gaining considerable publicity through the Center Stage '48 venture. Last Sunday Claudia Cassidy, Music and Drama critic of the Chicago Tribune spread the news of Center Stage's opening in her column, so that Chicagoans who are going to be summering in this part of Michigan could be sure of having legitimate theatre throughout the summer at East Jordan.

Here is more interesting information regarding members of the group.

Enid Pulver: Hails from New Jersey, and studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. . . was in summer stock at Stroudsburg, Pa. . . Played in Sherwood Anderson's "Winesburg Ohio". Played Emily in "Our Town", Cecily in "Importance of Being Earnest", and Miriam, the kid sister who starts all the trouble, in a New York City production of "Dear Ruth".

Gary Leverette: Studied at Columbia U. and the American Theatre Wing. Has appeared in several motion pictures filmed in New York and in March of Time newsreels. Has taught dancing for three years at the Arthur Murray Studio in New York—has done exhibition dancing in New York night clubs, and had his own dance band for four years, playing trumpet and also drums. Spent this last year working in television.

J. Stevens School: Comes from Kansas City, Mo. Studied at the U. of Kansas—Worked with the Kansas City Theatre Guild in "Death Takes A Holiday", "Orpheus", and "A Doll's House". Toured in "Outward Bound" and "Love From A Stranger". Has also taught dancing and exhibited his authentic American Indian dances. Spent two years in the U. S. Navy during the recent war.

Robert Chapman: A half brother of Steve School has done all types of radio work as well as acting. Played in the production of "Joan of Lorraine" which brought Ingrid Bergman her Broadway fame. Will be playing John here next week opposite Anne Dean, who will be playing Mary. He also toured in "Junior Miss." He and his brother Steve, are leaving for England immediately after the season closes here, where they will work with the Old Vic company.

RESORT NEWS

DON'T GOUGE THE TOURIST:

With the summer season getting into full swing we again sound a warning to our members and all others to beware of advancing prices. To hike summer prices beyond the realm of reason is one of the surest ways we know of to kill the tourist and vacation business in Michigan. To be blunt about it, we have actually heard some merchants and operators say in effect—"We don't care if we never see these guys again, we are going to get ours this year and hit 'em for all we can." Don't be foolish. We want to be in business more than this year and the best part of the tourist trade is the repeat business. Of course we want our people to make a fair profit, but be careful, take a lesson from Florida and be wise.

Spray Time Calls For Extra Caution

Spray safely—that's the advice given by Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, for this time of year when many sprays and dusts are being used on farms.

These materials can be dangerous if handled incorrectly, he warns. Spraying and dusting materials should be stored in closed metal containers away from kitchen food stocks. A respirator should be used when spraying or dusting if material blows back in the operator's face. Fumes can sometimes be dangerous and the body should be kept well covered—do not spray with arms or legs bare. Empty bags should be burned, taking care to avoid exposure to fumes.

The many new specialized materials require some additional safety rules, Roth advises. He urges users to read the label on each package carefully, noting its warnings and instructions and to follow them closely.

Gerard — McCarty

Pink and white peonies and blue canterberry bells stood among the bright candle lights on the altars in St. Thomas Aquinas church in East Lansing last Friday morning at 10 a. m., when Miss Florence Eleanor McCarty and Arthur Joseph Gerard spoke their holy vows, during a Nuptial Mass, officiated by Rev. George Zabelka with Mrs. Claycumb chanting the wedding music and the Ava Maria.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCarty, 215 Paris Ave., Lansing, Michigan, and the bridegroom, the son of Neta Gerard of East Jordan (and the deceased Glenn Gerard of Grand Rapids, Michigan).

The bride was lovely in her gown of white satin with lace yoke and long sleeves. The finger tip length veil was secured to a tiara of pearl beaded hearts. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and sweet peas.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Garney Hidecker, sister of the bride, her gown was of peach brocated satin and matching shoulder length veil and gloves. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The best man was Garney Hidecker, brother-in-law of the bride. A reception was held at the home of the brides parents for relatives and friends, after which the happy couple left on a three weeks trip.

Homecoming Next Week

FULL THREE DAY PROGRAM LINED UP

With East Jordan's Homecoming celebration only one week away, all but a few of the last minute details are now completed.

The kids are already hard at work building their cars for the soap box derby—there will be baseball all three days—Chick DeForest has his parade set—Leon Peterson is getting entries for the cross-country motorcycle race—the boys in the canoe race down the Jordan are taking out extra insurance—and the carnival and rides are all set to move in.

A registration headquarters will be set up in the City Hall and all guests are urged to register while here.

The festivities will get under way Saturday, July 3rd, and continue through Sunday and Monday, July 4th, and 5th. The local baseball club is hoping to bring the Grand Rapids Black Sox here for a game Saturday. The East Jordan Juniors will play the Cheboygan Juniors in a twilight game Saturday, Sunday, the locals play Gaylord here in a league game. Monday morning, Ellsworth plays Atwood and East Jordan plays Central Lake in the afternoon.

Also on Saturday's program will be the parade at 11:00 a. m., and performances in the High School Auditorium of Center Stage '48's opening play "John Loves Mary."

Sunday's schedule begins with the cross country motorcycle race about 1:30 p. m. followed by the ball game.

Monday's program will be a full one and a complete three day schedule will be published next week.

Of course, the carnival will continue throughout the entire celebration, with plenty of rides for the children.

People who have old time pictures of East Jordan to be displayed in the store windows, please leave them at the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible, so we can get the displays arranged and put up.

Remember—next week is Homecoming time in East Jordan.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us at the time of the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Nettie Novak.

Mr. and Mrs. James Novak
Mrs. John Lenosky
26x1 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haney

He: "Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man."
She: "Well, you don't have to try to get to heaven in one night."

Maybe YOUR automobile is in good mechanical condition.

But how about the "other driver"—the fellow who is driving the automobile you meet on the road?

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr. believes Michigan could save both money and lives by requiring the other driver to keep his car in safe driving condition. By this Alger means the following: brakes should work; headlights should light up the road; tires should have some tread; the windshield wiper should function.

Aside from the initial investment in testing equipment, the cost of periodic automobile inspections would be made self-supporting through a modest fee, 50 cents every six months. "It should be worth 50 cents to know that the other automobile on the highway is in good running order," said Alger. "And it's worth something to know your own car is able to stop at a reasonable distance in an emergency."

What is the highway traffic problem in Michigan?

State police report that traffic in 1947. The accident total climbed 25 accidents climbed to a new high in per cent over 1946. Not so many people were killed. Property damage was up 29 per cent.

All in all, the highway toll ran into many millions of dollars in property damage and hospital bills, not to mention the tragic snuffing out of human lives and the suffering of survivors.

All these facts were reviewed recently by a group of Michigan newspaper editors. The editors met to study ways to arouse the public to the need for better law enforcement, a high school driver education, and periodic vehicle inspection. The legislature in 1947 raised the age of drivers from 14 to 16.

As shown by a reduction of highway death in 1947, much progress has already been made in Michigan. But there is still much left to do, in the opinion of Secretary of State Alger and the newspaper editors' committee.

"It is significant to note that New Jersey cut highway deaths 30 per cent in one year by requiring the 'other driver' to keep his car in safe condition," said Alger. "New automobiles are potentially more dangerous than ever before. They run faster. My assistant, Charles Creedon, went to New Jersey and investigated the system there. He reported that motorists were well pleased. The inspections serve as a double check for their safety."

A uniform code of Michigan traffic laws is now under consideration by the state legislature for the 1949 general session at Lansing. Centralized licensing of drivers has also been proposed. Plates, licenses and mechanical inspections would be handled at one location under direct supervision of the State of Michigan through the Secretary of State's office.

One formidable barrier to periodic mechanical inspection is the initial heavy investment in equipment to check the automobiles. A substantial appropriation of State money would be needed, and the State of Michigan faces a deficit in the new fiscal year.

And yet a rise in the cost of highway accidents, as shown by the 1947 toll, is costing someone—the other driver, now and then—far more in the aggregate than the amount required to buy the inspection equipment.

Here is another problem that affects everybody.

Are the savings worth the cost?

Vacation Bible School Goes Far Beyond Sponsors Expectations

Enrollment at the Daily Vacation Bible school which has been conducted for the past two weeks in the lunch room of the High school reached a total of more than one hundred and twenty. It is regretted that, due to limited supplies, more children could not be invited after the opening day of the school.

Last evening on the occasion of the parents' night, attractive diplomas were awarded all children enrolled in the school. Handwork completed by the pupils was put on display, and refreshments were served to all children, their parents and friends by the Bible school staff. A feature of the evening was the showing of the motion picture Reaching From Heaven, produced by the Lutheran church and very recently acclaimed by the nationally renowned radio commentator Jimmy Fidler.

Tomorrow afternoon June 26 the pupils of the East Jordan and Boyne City Bible schools will enjoy a joint picnic at Whiting Park. Parents who can do so are asked to transport their own children and if possible to help transport others. Every effort will be made by the Bible school staff to provide transportation for children who are at the south entrance of the school by 1:30.

Teachers and workers in the Vacation Bible school, which was sponsored by Christ Lutheran church, Wilson Township, were Mrs. E. Redmer, Mrs. E. Olstrom, Mrs. W. Bender, Mrs. Norman Schumacher, Mrs. Martin Decker, Mrs. Martha McPherson, Mrs. August Knop, Mrs. A. Bulmann and the Misses Marcella and Jeannine Olstrom.

New Docks Nearing Completion

NEW HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS AT END OF CONSTRUCTION

Work on our new harbor improvements will in all probability be completed before the end of the week as construction now is well into the final stages. Enquiries as to our accommodations have already started to come in and we are advised a commercial operator will make use of the facilities during our 4th of July celebration.

The Harbor Improvement Benefit sponsored by the East Jordan Sportsmen Club also is entering its grand final with a mounting rivalry between business houses for the honor of dispensing the largest number of tickets for the $1500 worth of awards. Currently Norm's Tavern holds a good lead in this end of the project with a record of over 15 books to their credit—however several other business places are speeding up their efforts and the leaders position is by no means secure.

A special event is being planned for the final day on Saturday, July 10th, with the entire community participating in a gala Good Neighbor Day. Surrounding communities are being invited to attend the party and East Jordan's business section is heading the event. Just as a reminder here are the 13 grand awards that constitute the $1500.00 worth of merchandise that will be given away on the Big Day: A Gibson Home Freezer from the Al Thorson Lumber Co.; A Revere Motion Picture Camera from Earl Clark's Camera Shop; A 14ft Delux Century Boat from Glen's Boat Service; A Mercury Outboard Motor from the East Jordan Boat Sales (Hollis Drew); A Zenith Portable Radio from Sinclair Sales, one dozen Portraits from the Doris Meredith Studios; A Famous Thor Auto Magic (combination dishwasher, sink and clothes washer); A Universal Electric Com- forter; A Presto Pressure Cooker; A Sunbeam Automatic Iron; A West- ington Electric Roaster and a Seth Thomas Electric clock, all from the Home Modernizing Co.; and lastly a light weight Wegemaker 10ft Car- Top Boat from the East Jordan Boat Sales.

It's a great list of awards—and a great improvement for East Jordan. Let us ALL get behind it folks, let's make sure that East Jordan will go "Over The Top"—as we have so many times in the past. The Big Day is Saturday, July 10th, so get your tickets NOW.

MSC Folder Tells Of Tree Planting

Farmers who are contemplating planting trees for wind protection in rural areas will find many helpful tips in a recent publication of the Michigan State college Cooperative Extension Service.

W. Ira Bull, MSC forester, has prepared a folder which discusses planting trees as windbreaks, shelterbelts, and snowbreaks. Diagrams showing locations and suggested layouts of windbreaks are included as well as instructions for spacing the trees.

Copies are available from county agricultural agents or the folder may be secured by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Michigan. Ask for folder F-118, "Wind Protection for Rural Michigan".

Good Will like a good name is earned by many acts and lost by one.

From Malachi To Christ
 Lesson for June 27, 1948

THE interbiblical period, covering approximately four centuries, is one of the great silences of history, save as the prophecies of God offer flickering light upon the winding paths in western Asia, northern Africa and southern Europe. A remnant of Jews resided in Jerusalem, whilst many others were dispersed about the face of the earth. The Old Testament was translated into Greek—the version used in the time of Christ. The Talmud and the 14 books of the Apocrypha were written. The synagogue arose. The schools of Hillel and Shammai were founded and flourished. The sects of the Pharisees and Sadducees originated. Buddha, Confucius and Zoroaster were beginning to influence life in the Far East, while in the Near East Zeno and Epicurus dominated philosophical thought. The Caesars ruled the Mediterranean world.

To understand something of this period from Malachi to Christ, we are asked to read the Scripture passages listed above.

BEFORE JESUS CAME
 "BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way for me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come in his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts."

Did they fully understand the significance of these great words of Malachi? Hardly may we expect that they did, but they got their basis of hope, about which we studied last Sunday. Imagine the faces of the little children in the long ago as they heard of the coming Messenger!

THE COMING CHRIST
 LOOK carefully at the above Scriptures and see how both the Old and New Testaments center upon Christ. These great phrases are suggested:

The promised Christ, the expected Christ, the heralding Christ, the presented Christ, the enlightening Christ, the judging Christ, the merciful Christ, the redeeming Christ, the restoring Christ, the guiding Christ.

Space does not permit the citations, but a study of the passages will reveal each of these gifts and blessings in the coming Christ.

BETWEEN THE TESTAMENTS
 DIMLY only do we envision that period of four centuries, but we have sufficient light to trace the steps by which the faithful amongst the Jews were cleansing themselves of idolatry as the fires of God purged away the dross of paganism and secularism. One will find rich reward in the reading of the Apocrypha and Josephus. Also, one will find in the opening chapters of the New Testament light which falls back upon those dark ages.

There were synagogue schools, taught, in many instances by very able men, such as Hillel. There was a groping toward the light. Men were hungry for the fulfillment of prophecy. It was the darkness just before the dawn.

THE LIGHT BREAKS
 "BLESSED be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people," Luke 1:68. Thus does the golden text for Sunday's lesson flash upon the waiting heart of expectant humanity the Good News.

The fulness of God's time had come. Jesus was born. Peace had come to men of good will. James Montgomery puts the Good News in these lovely lines:

Angels, from the realms of glory,
 Wing your flight o'er all the earth,
 Ye, who sang creation's story,
 Now proclaim Messiah's birth:
 Come and worship, come and worship,
 Worship Christ, the new-born King.

Preacher's Task

No religious doctrine has any redemptive power until it is translated into the terms of a specific situation or an actual problem. It becomes the task of the Christian preacher in this generation to do the translating. The question, "What would Jesus do?" is always with him.

So That's Where It Comes From!

Open-eyed children of Michigan State college veteran students got a treat early this month. Carrol, one of the leading milk producers of the college herd, went visiting to the newly constructed nursery in the student housing area. When the herdsman showed them how to get the good and healthful milk from Carrol the children were intensely interested. And Carrol is just one of the million dairy cows in Michigan that's providing record quantities in this month of June, which is Dairy Month.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman's 'Non-Political' Tour in West Breaks Precedents, Also Hits Snags; Senate Fights to Recover Aid Slash

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ODDS ON SECURITY . . . Seeking to end what he termed a "desperate gamble" with the nation's security, Sen. Chan Gurney (Rep., S. D.) (left) opened senate debate on the measure to draft youths aged 19 through 25. Chairman of the senate armed services committee, Gurney here is discussing the draft bill with Senators Leverett Saltonstall (Rep., Mass.) and Richard B. Russell (Dem., Ga.).

NON-POLITICAL: Truman's Tour

President Truman's "non-political" swing through the West could be described as non-political only in the sense that Mr. Truman, as a candidate for Democratic renomination, had jettisoned many of the rules of standard party politics.

It was a lone wolf fight he was waging—going over the heads of party leaders to talk directly to the people. And most of what he had to say to the people concerned the Republican congress and what he termed its inaction.

In Chicago, speaking before the Swedish Pioneer Centennial association, he hammered out a platform upon which he can be expected to base his chances for renomination.

Specifically, he lashed out at the idea that communism can be legislated out of existence.

From Chicago the President, with his entourage, headed for the heart of the farm belt, Omaha, Neb., and it was there that he was set sharply back on his heels.

He continued his lambasting of the Republican congress—this time concentrating on GOP farm policies—in a speech at the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum in Omaha. Fantastically, in the coliseum which has a capacity of 10,000, fewer than 2,000 persons were present to hear Mr. Truman talk.

This phenomenon was variously interpreted. Some said the President's box office appeal had wilted. Others claimed the Nebraska Democratic machine had done a miserably inadequate job in promoting his appearance.

Probably closer to the truth was the plain fact that the "non-political" label of the presidential trip had backfired seriously. He made a political speech and had expected to get a crowd of friendly Democrats to fill the hall for the occasion.

But the White House previously had told the Democratic organization in Omaha to lay off the political hoop-la, and the organization acted in compliance with those instructions. Payoff came when nobody else showed up to fill the aching void which the Democrats created by staying away.

It was an unpleasant blow for the campaigning Mr. Truman and one that might produce grave political repercussions.

But the President was resilient. And in a more or less happy frame of mind he left Omaha on his train and rode away into the setting sun in search of happier hunting grounds.

AID SLASH: 'Less Recovery'?

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg was fighting mad at what the house of representatives had done to his political baby, the world recovery program, by slashing nearly a million dollars from the appropriations for the Europe-Asia aid bill.

On the Republican foreign policy leader from Michigan rested the administration's hope of reclaiming the appropriations cut in senate action on the measure.

Certainly, Vandenberg has a more than usual affinity for global aid program since it was he who labored to steer the Marshall plan to congressional approval last April. What the house had done was to approve a total foreign aid expenditure of $5,980,710,228 to be spread out over a period of 15 months. The administration had asked $6,533,710,228 as the minimum fund needed for a 12-month period.

Secretary of State George Marshall, fighting hard against the cut, had asserted that the smaller appropriation would mean putting Europe on a relief dole, rather than helping it to its feet.

But Rep. John Taber (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the house appropriations committee, went right ahead and swung the ax. He said the funds his committee proposed were all that could be spent with any degree of prudence.

Paul G. Hoffman, head of the European recovery program, said he "certainly hoped" congress would restore the cuts.

ERP was hardest hit in the fund cut. Whereas congress previously had authorized up to 4.245 billion dollars in 12 months for that 16-nation recovery project, the appropriations bill as passed by the house knocked that figure down to 4 billion dollars for 15 months.

Other reductions: Assistance to Greece and Turkey was cut from 275 million to 200 million dollars and aid to China cut from 463 million to 400 million.

DRAFT: Debatable

In the waning days before adjournment of congress the senate had buckled down to the task of producing action on a limited revival of the military draft.

The house was waiting only for the senate to dispose of the question before its members waded into the tricky currents of a similar measure.

Legislators in both houses were treading gingerly about on the issue, throbbing with the knowledge that this is an election year and furthermore there are any number of American parents ready to offer material objections at the ballot box if their boys are called up for military service.

In the face of all this the senate, nevertheless, was trying to do some kind of a job. Its measure provided for the drafting of men 19 through 25 in sufficient numbers to bring the armed services up to their authorized strength. The bill would permit 18-year-olds to volunteer for a year's training, thus disposing of a universal military training act for the present.

Among the side issues that arose during the senate debate was the old bugaboo of civil rights. After an abortive two-hour filibuster by southern Democrats, the senate voted 37 to 35 to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections so far as members of the armed forces are concerned. Actually, it was a minor issue, inasmuch as most of the seven southern poll tax states still have in effect wartime suspensions of the tax for members of the armed services.

Under the senate measure the draft would be authorized for five years, but the program is left flexible enough so congress each year could raise or lower both the regular and reserve forces to meet shifting world conditions.

Drafted men, after completing two years of service, would have to serve in the reserve for five years or, as a matter of choice, volunteer for an additional year in the regular services or two years in the national guard.

LATEST: In Bombers

Army air force is developing another new long range jet bomber which will use propellers driven by jet turbines. It is called the XB-52.

The experimental plane represents another effort by designers to overcome the high fuel consumption and resulting limited range of jet bombers but still retain the jet's high speed. Jet-driven propeller may provide a partial answer.

MINE TALKS: More Snags

As usual John L. Lewis was mining the channels of possible agreement in the latest series of contract discussions between him and representatives of the soft coal mine operators.

The explosive the UMW chief planted this time was a demand that the operators first guarantee welfare aid for distressed miners before they can expect his union to sign a new contract.

Thus, the "Lewis situation" in the United States was being brought to the fore again.

Already the possessor of enough government injunctions to paper the den of his Springfield, Ill., home, Lewis received another one before he would consent to bargain with the operators on a new 1948-49 contract. (The old contract expires June 30.)

U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough issued the latest injunction ordering Lewis to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers association. The mine chief previously had refused to bargain with the association because the 14 member groups were being represented at the contract talks by just one man.

However, Lewis bowed to the injunction and agreed to talk.

In the course of this talk one of the first things he did was to call the mine operators "fat cats" and then wave an arrogant club at them with these words:

"We assume that you would deplore any impairment of your abnormal income after July 1. Such an assumption would seem to be a logical predicate for the making of a new wage agreement before that date."

Briefly, it looked as though Lewis was determined to strike again. Deprived of one snag, he immediately grasped another. As a result the first round of contract talks was fruitless.

Transition

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in the manner of all old warriors, probably will remain a soldier at heart till the end of his days, despite the fact that he has discarded his military trappings for the cap and gown of an educator. Ike has settled down as president of Columbia university, and that's the only kind of president he wants to be, he says.

GERMANY: New Plan

Pivotal point of a healthy and prosperous Europe, Germany long has been under scrutiny by the Allied powers who have been searching for a way to return it to the world family of nations without starting another squabble.

Zonal partition of Germany perhaps has been the biggest hindrance to the formulation of such a plan, and Russia consistently has objected to re-establishing an autonomous German government.

Now, however, a new plan was afoot. The U. S. and five other friendly powers—Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands—revealed a scheme for self-government in western Germany.

At the same time notice was served on Russia that occupation troops will remain there "until the peace of Europe is secured."

The plan calls for international control of the Ruhr and for steps toward convening a German constituent assembly in the three western zones "to prepare a constitution for approval of the participating states."

That was the skeleton of a program which might put Germany back on its feet.

Reaction in the U. S. was favorable. The state department hailed it as a major step toward recovery in Europe, and it also was regarded as a body blow to Russia in the cold war.

But, although the plan asserted with some vehemence that "Germany must not again be permitted to become an aggressive power," there was some worry as to whether France would approve it.

Does the decision to go ahead with the political rehabilitation of western Germany—to the exclusion of Russia's eastern zone—mean that the defeated nation is finally and irrevocably split?

U. S. officials don't think so. The theory is that although it was Russia itself which forced the western powers to act without Russia, the new program does not preclude the participation of the rest of Germany in the new self-governing federation if and when the people of the Soviet zone want in.

AVOID POISON IVY

No person is immune to poison ivy. People may handle it for years without effect and then become so seriously ill of it that they require hospitalization. Ivy poisoning can usually be prevented if one learns to recognize and avoid the three-leafed plant, but the poison can be carried in dust, in smoke or on animals or shrubbery. It can be caught from a person who has it. If you have been exposed to the poison, wash immediately with very strong soap. If blisters appear, see your physician. Your physician can give you a "shot" which will usually prevent ivy poisoning. The weed-killer, 2-4, D, will kill the plant.

DESTROY INSECTS

Flies and mosquitoes both bother and endanger vacationists. The use of DDT spray is the best way to eliminate flies at camps and cottages. While traveling or boating, commercial insect repellants will keep mosquitoes away.

Flowers of sulphur daubed on stockings and underclothes help keep chiggers away. A person exposed to chiggers through walking in weeds and shrubbery should spread a thick lather of strong soap over his entire body and let it dry for ten minutes before removing it. A salt bath each evening may also help prevent chiggers. Spraying a rotenone preparation on grass or shrubbery will kill chiggers. The same preparation can be used on the skin to kill them.

Michigan has only one poisonous snake, the massasauga rattler which lives in swampy places and grows to be about three feet long. First aid recommendations for snake bite include placing a tourniquet on the limb above the wound, making a small incision in the bite, and sucking out as much venom as possible. It is imperative to get a snakebite victim to a physician as soon as possible. Report any animal bite, no matter how small, to your physician at once.

Use the same fire precautions you use at home, but remember that fire departments are usually further away in resort areas. Do not stand in doorways or under trees during an electric storm. You are safe in the middle of an open field.

Watch where you walk, and drive with care. Unfamiliar ground, surroundings and roads offer the hazard of falls or traffic accidents.

Keep regular hours, eat regular meals and get plenty of rest. There is no elfin like a long night's sleep from the standpoint of your physical well-being, your safety, or your outlook on life.

Know where the nearest telephone, doctor, ambulance and hospital are. Give immediate attention to minor blisters, burns, cuts and scratches. Do not risk the health and lives of yourself and your family while you are on your vacation.

Farm Topics

GRASS DAY

Speakers for the Grass Day program in Grand Traverse county June 25, will be C. V. Ballard, assistant director of the Michigan State college Cooperative Extension Service.

Ballard, who will succeed retiring Director R. J. Baldwin on July 1, has had a long career with the extension service. He joined the M. S. C. staff in 1915 as a county agricultural agent and has had wide experience with agricultural problems. In his Grass Day talk, he will describe the advantages of grassland farming and how it can improve a farming program.

Farmers from several counties are expected to attend the day-long affair which begins at 9:30 a. m.

The Grand Traverse event is scheduled for the Alfred Campau farm, five miles southwest of Traverse City on Secor Road. Road markers will be in place to show the way.

GRASS SILAGE

Dr. "Steve" Dexter of the Michigan State college farm crops department has worked a lot with grass silage. He points out one of its important advantages by telling his troubles in putting up a first cutting of hay on the college farm this year.

The field was cut on a Saturday and dried well over the weekend. On Monday one big load was put up before rain started. Then all that week there was just enough moisture to keep the hay too wet to put up. By Monday of the following week, it had been turned and rained on and still wasn't dry enough to go in the mow. After being handled so much it was pretty poor stuff.

Dr. Dexter's point is that this cutting of hay could have been put in the silo and provided a lot more feed than it ever will after the long period of handling in the field. You can haul and chop a field of hay for silage when it has wilted to 65 to 68, or even 70 per cent moisture. Chop the hay as short as possible. Molasses will help prevent spoilage when hay is a little too moist—Grass silage is heavy and hard to handle, but with proper equipment it isn't bad at all.

DO CHEMICAL FERTILIZERS HURT THE SOIL?

Perhaps you've heard the rumor that food from soil treated with chemical fertilizers is a cause of increased diseases in man. Those who promote this story maintain the fertilizer drives away or destroys earthworms, bacteria, and fungi. How about it? Lloyd Turk of the soil science department at Michigan State college advises you not to believe it. In fact, evidence shows that chemical fertilizers have a good effect on the soil microbes.

Soil Program Up For Vote

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HEARING INDICATES INTEREST IN DISTRICT

Approximately 130 farmers from every part of Charlevoix County attended the hearing on the proposed soil conservation program at Boyne City last Wednesday evening, June 18. The purpose of this hearing was to determine whether or not there was sufficient interest in the soil conservation district for Charlevoix County. With the capacity crowd present, no standing room left, and everyone talking in favor of the soil conservation district, the State Committee indicated that they would hold a referendum to give farmers a chance to vote on the program.

The State Committee, of which four must be in attendance at the hearing, included Charles Figy, Director of Agriculture for the state of Michigan; Gus Thorpe, of the State Conservation Commission, E. A. Winner District Extension Supervisor from Michigan State College and Herriet Waterman, a farmer from Sutton Bay, Michigan. Also present was Russ Hill, Secretary of the State Soil Conservation Committee and Guy Springer, District Supervisor of the Soil Conservation Program of Northern Michigan.

Ed Rehman, County Agriculture Agent, opened the meeting with a few remarks concerning the history of the soil program. He stated that the farm organizations were very much interested in this program and therefore requested assistance in this project. Mr. Rehman said that he attended a large number of local Farm Bureau, Farm Union and Grange meetings explaining the purpose of this program and how farmers could obtain a district if they so desired. Petitions were passed out for farmers to sign requesting this hearing. According to law 25 signatures were needed, however, a total of 291 signatures were placed on these petitions. Mr. Rehman then indicated on May 24 he called together a steering committee composed of the following farmers: George Klooster, Leonard Babel, Clayton Healey, Peter Winnick, Harold Thomas, Claude Pearsall, and Harry Bearinger. This committee decided that the above petitions should be turned over to the State Committee so that a hearing could be held as soon as possible even though they were running into the haying season.

Charles Figy, Director of Agriculture, was introduced and was chairman of the meeting. He first explained the set-up on the State Committee indicating that the members receive no salary except the secretary. Mr. Figy stated that these men who were on the State Committee took time out from their other important duties to help in the interest of soil conservation. He then asked for remarks from the farmers in the audience.

George Klooster started by saying his problem was one of drainage as he had some low wet land on his farm. Karl Kolker said that his problem was one of erosion in his hilly, light land. He indicated that after every rain he had several gullies formed and that he would be interested in contour strip cropping. Several farmers then asked the same question, "How do we get this large equipment?" Gus Thorpe explained that in some cases machinery companies or other organizations purchased the equipment and rented it to the district. Also some of the equipment was surplus and was given to the district.

Clayton Healey stated that as Farm Planners for the districts are paid for by Federal Funds that we in Charlevoix County have as much right to a district as we are helping to pay for other districts. The next question that came up was "How do we keep a district alive?" Russ Hill said that this depends very much on your directors. He stated that this was a democratic organization and that local farmers would have to pick very carefully the men they put in for directors.

George Jones indicated that these directors are for staggered terms and all are not elected at the same time. A question was asked, "How fast must a farm plan go into operation and the answer given by the State Committee was as long as it is necessary to take.

Julius Roberts asked about the relationship between the AAA and the soil conservation district. Charles Stanek answered this by saying that the relationship was one of co-operation and that neither program interferes with the other program. Art Geer was very much interested in the use of a new machine called rota-tiller. Guy Springer said that they had no information in regard to soil conservation on the use of this machine. George Jones indicated that he was very much interested in soil testing.

John Rosequist asked the question about finances for the district. In ten of the forty-nine districts of the state the local Board of Supervisors appropriated a small amount of money to help this program. In all the others it has been a local problem. Usually machinery is contracted for by the directors and rented out to those farmers who have need for it. However, Gus Thorpe brought out the point that on 95 per cent of the farms, farmers can use their own tools that they now have. Russ Hill said that the only pay that the Local Directors get is six cents a mile and $2.00 for each time they have a regular meeting. There is no salary whatsoever.

Charles Figy then asked for the show of hands so that the State Committee might get an idea of what the local farmers felt in regard to this district. Everybody raised their hand in favor of it and none of them opposed it. Claude Pearsall asked the State Committee that Charlevoix County be allowed to be the 50th district. Mr. Figy then took the State Committee out and in a few minutes they returned and indicated that they would be very glad to hold a referendum in Charlevoix County.

Claude Pearsall is to be overall pooling superintendent. All of the local voting places in each township will be used except on Beaver Island where the voting will be held at St. James. The date was set as of Friday, July 9, 1948. The hours will be from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p. m. and from 7:00 to 9:30 p. m. The petitions for directors was then turned over by Ed Rehman, County Agent, to Russ Hill. These nominating petitions contained the following names: Lee Sneathen Jr., Carl Grutch Jr., Albert Carlson, Carlton Smith, Joe Topolinski, Joe Lem, Norval Korthase, Harry Bearinger, George Klooster, Leonard Babel, Clayton Healey, Peter Winnick, and Harold Thomas. These 13 names will appear on the ballot. From this group of names the farmers must elect three for directors. The other two directors will then be appointed by the State Committee by the recommendation of the local steering committee. Russ Hill indicated that any land owner or occupier of three acres or more of land and are of legal age can vote. Ladies can vote if they have joint ownership with their husband. The only people who cannot vote are farm managers and hired hands. Charles Figy then closed the meeting by urging everyone to vote as a large attendance is required.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of hamburger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that hamburger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the husbands took their wives on at a game of darts, and later they played "indications." The party broke up around ten, with the boys agreeing that it was mighty successful.

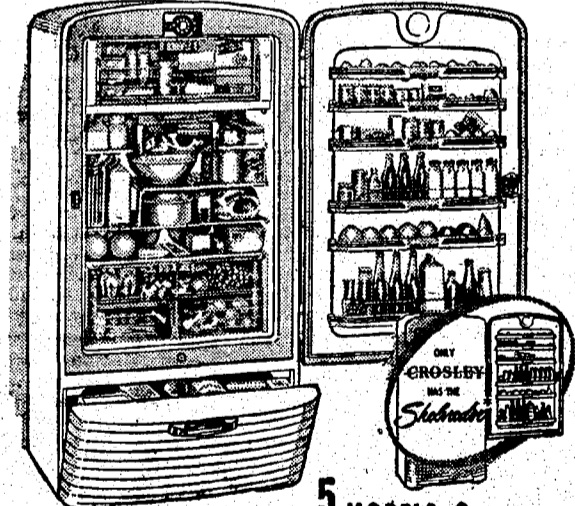

From where I sit, it's this companionship among young couples today, and their moderation in a sensible beverage like beer, that's won the younger generation such a wholesome reputation.
