 DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 119.

Baruch, The Scribe

Lesson for August 1, 1948

BARUCH, whose name means "blessed," was the grandson of Maseiah, "governor of the city" under Josiah (II Chronicles 34:8), and his father, Neriah, appears to have been an official during the reign of Jehoiakim. He was a trusted friend of Jeremiah (Jeremiah 32:8-15 and 43:2-6). Tradition holds that Baruch was carried to "Babylon, where he wrote the apocryphal "Book of Baruch," and died in 574, B. C., twelve years after the fall of Jerusalem.

Dr. Newton

Our golden text for this lesson is found in Psalms 119:105, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and light unto my path."

OUR BIBLE

WHEN Jeremiah called Baruch, the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the Lord. Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the Lord in the ears of the people in the Lord's house upon the fasting day; and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of the cities." Jeremiah 36:4-8.

How did we get our Bible? Through this simple process of God speaking through his appointed prophet, and by the faithful work of men like Baruch who served as scribes.

THIS SCRIBE OF LONG AGO

IN THE introductory paragraph I sketched briefly the story of Baruch. He was a trained man, trusted and beloved. This he had to be, else God would not have approved Jeremiah's selection of Baruch to copy what he was saying for God. And not only was he selected to write down what God was saying, through his prophet, but he was used to proclaim the words of God to the people in the Lord's house. Baruch was amanuensis, reader and distributor of the Bible—a distinguished role, indeed. Let us today be gladly ready to read the Bible to others, and to distribute and circulate the Scriptures wherever we may. Here I pause to pay tribute to the American Bible Society and all others, including the Gideons, who help to make the Bible known to all men everywhere.

A MAN ON WHOM GOD COUNTED
 THUS we see that Baruch was a man on whom God counted. His work was done well, and we read that, "When they heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king all of these words."
 Young people will do well to ponder this incident. In the varied contacts of young Christians in this modern day, we may be used of the Holy Spirit in making known the words of God in countless ways. Thus, like Baruch, you may be used of God to make known his will unto all mankind.

BARUCH, A COURAGEOUS SCRIBE
 THE full context reveals the fact that Baruch exhibited courage as well as faithfulness in his service as scribe to Jeremiah. It was not an easy task. Nor will it be easy to fill our posts as couriers of the Good News. But it was a rewarding experience for Baruch. He served his day and generation according to the will of God.
 Mr. Henry Ford, Sr., believed in having a copy of the Bible near at hand wherever he might sit down in his home. I heard him say once that he had a Bible on every table in his home. "I do this in order that I may reach over and spend a few minutes with the Lord wherever I may sit down. And I always cherish the hope that others will find it a lamp unto their feet and a light along their daily pathway."
 Let us give thanks for Baruch—the trusted friend who served Jeremiah, and thus served God.

Conduct

Fundamentally, the force that rules the world is conduct, whether it be moral or immoral. If it is moral, at least there may be hope for the world. If immoral, there is not only no hope, but no prospect of anything but destruction of all that has been accomplished during the last 5,000 years.
 —Nicholas Murray Butler.

Doster—Situating along the shaded shores of Pine Lake, 12 miles north of Kalamazoo and adjacent to this Barry County village, is one of the most unique educational institutions for war veterans in the entire United States.

Here is a veritable "dream spot", the sort of thing a young man overseas might conjure in his imagination but never expect to see.

It is a practical emblem of Michigan's generosity to its sons who served the Nation in World War II.

We refer to the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School, operated by the State of Michigan and administered by the Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo.

We arrived at the Pine Lake school, as it is generally called, just as dinner was being served in the long administration building.

Windows of the dining hall overlook the sky-blue waters of Pine Lake. The scene is that of a summer resort rather than a college campus. In front of the main building is a bathing beach. Boats are tied up to a wood pier. A float with diving board is moored in deep water.

In a grove of tall trees are 25 log cabins.

After dinner the veterans lounge about. Some go swimming. It is a twilight time for relaxation. A busload of girls from Kalamazoo is due to arrive at 9 p. m. for juke-box dancing and eats.

"And what kind of courses are offered at this bit of paradise?" you ask.

Commander Harry W. Larson, director, places emphasis upon vocational training—the teaching of useful trades. These include business education, home appliance repair, machine and architectural drafting, machine shop, printing, radio and typewriter repair, and watch and clock repair.

Modern tools are provided for class instruction. The printing department, in which we were personally interested, has a modern typesetting machine and a full line of printing equipment. Kenneth Ross, printing instructor, served in the Canadian Air Force.

We became interested in the story of "Ike" Perrella, a Negro double amputee.

"Ike" served in the Signal Corps for five years. While in combat duty in Germany, he lost both hands. Percy Jones general hospital equipped him with mechanical fingers, and "Ike" became a student at Pine Lake in February.

"Ike" Perrella, of Battle Creek, a World War II veteran who lost both hands in combat, is learning how to operate a typesetting machine at the Michigan Veterans Vocational School, north of Kalamazoo at Pine Lake. "Ike" wants to be a printer and earn good steady wages. The printing department with training facilities for 20 students is sponsored by the Michigan Press Association, Inc.

One of three Negro veterans out of nearly 180 at Pine Lake, "Ike" is popular with his fellows. He never asks for sympathy, never whimpers. Although he gets $200 a month for life because of his disability, "Ike" wants to live a useful life and do his part. He has plenty of guts.

We admire his courage and his cheerful outlook. He is a real American.

Travel Notes: A "must" in our trailer kitchen pantry is a Charlevoix discovery, smoked lake fish canned by George LaBlanc, Jr. George distributed samples at the newspaper editors' outing June 25-27. We promptly ordered a case. The product is lake mullet, or sucker to old-timers. The smoked flavor is similar to tuna or salmon.

As you drive north on US-31, leaving Beulah, is a new industry featuring delicious frozen pies—cherry and apple. "Pet-Ritz", on Orchard Hill, is the result of a Beulah cherry pie recipe developed by the mother of Althea Kraker, until recently a co-ed at Michigan State College. Althea earned vacation money selling cherry pies to Beulah tourists. The pies inspired her husband, Pet-ritz, to go into business. Frozen pies by the truckload, are now delivered to frozen-food dealers and they are really something "out of this world!"

Scenes we witnessed on two succeeding Saturday nights:

Castle Park, exclusive summer colony on Lake Michigan at Holland. A marvelous resort for parents with children and with money. Meals at ivy-green Castle Inn. Trained supervisors for youngsters at beach. Horse-back riding, tennis, golf. Dancing on cement circle high above lake. Sons and mothers, daughters and fathers, all join in "grand march". Everyone is happy.

Lighthouse Park, summer trailer colony on Lake Huron at Port Huron. A miniature "city" run by "Barney" Cook, Canadian-born Irishman. Flowers, lawn. Trailer fee, $4.50 week, netted profit in 1947. Pavilion for dancing. Everyone is happy.

It's a good world, and don't forget it.

If You Don't Know When or Where Born Uncle Sam May Tell You

Birthdays—If you don't know when or where you were born, the government will tell you for a dollar. During the war more than 3,000,000 people obtained proof of citizenship in this way in order to get jobs on restricted projects.

Some 50,000,000 Americans don't have birth certificates because they were born before the states had perfected their registration systems. Perhaps you've forgotten, but in its numeration every ten years (the last was 1940), the Census Bureau asks th names, ages, and birthplaces of all members of the household. In applying for a search of the records, you give your exact address on each census date and the name of the head of th household. Census then goes over its records, back to your childhood, and issues you a transcript which is acceptable for passport, Social Security, and other purposes. The search is more than 90-per-cent successful, failures being ascribed to insufficient information on the application. Census doesn't search back of 1880. Older records, 1790 and subsequent, which are useful to genealogists, are in the National Archives.

Even though the spelling of your name has been changed, Census can usually trace you straight off, as is has 100,000,000 cards representing families, filed y a simple phonetic system.

As ours isn't a police state, you are the only person who can get information about you. It isn't even given to the F.B.I. or the tax collector. The dollar service takes several weeks, but if you're in a hurry—as in the recent case of a sailor whose ship was sailing the day he applied—you pay three dollars for extra-fast service. Ask Census Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., for an age-search application form.

Reprinted from July, 1948, issue of Liberty Magazine.—Two kinds of records are maintained in the Bureau of the Census at Washington, D. C., from which individuals may obtain copies of information concerning themselves. These are the records of th various Population Censuses, and the draft registration records of the First World War. Americans who need evidence of their United States citizenship, of their age or their relationship to others are requested to write to the Census Bureau, Washington 25, D. C. for an appropriate application form.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING IN MICH.

Announcement by the Michigan Artificial Breeders' cooperative of September 14 as the dedication day for their new bull barn makes a good time to look at some facts on artificial breeding, as carried out in Michigan. But first here are a few facts about that new bull barn and the plans for its formal opening on September 14.

The barn was built with funds of the MABC. It's located on the Michigan State college farm at East Lansing. The land is leased from the college. The barn is 140 feet long and 40 feet wide and will house 38 of the 58 bulls now in use at the bull stud. The mow will hold 130 tons of baled hay and straw and the barn is equipped with rat-proof grain bins, automatic loading and unloading devices, grain and feed grinders, and gutter cleaners.

Each of the 128 local artificial breeding associations in the state will send representatives for the dedication day. However, it isn't necessary to be an ABA member to attend. Everyone is cordially invited.

Now for some of the facts on artificial breeding in Michigan, which has one of the finest programs in the nation. A. C. Baltzer, secretary-treasurer of the MABC, estimates that 95,000 to 100,000 dairy cows will be bred artificially in Michigan in 1948. There are 15,000 herds enrolled and a total of 110,000 cows in these herds. Of the 128 local associations, 12 are in the Upper Peninsula. Sanilac county with six local associations, tops the other counties in this category. Ingham county is tops in percentage of cows being bred artificially—that percentage is forty.

Members of the MABC board of directors are these: The Holstein committee—Douglas Pierson, Goodrich; Kermit Carey, Flint; M. F. Irwin, Perrinson. The Guernsey committee—Dale Kirkin, Kalamazoo; Frank Heim of Jackson who is vice president of the board; Dale Anderson, St. Johns. The Jersey committee, Sander Ensing, Fremont; Howard Busfield, Allegan; John Evatt, Grand Blanc. Red Dane representative—Otto Klein, Harrisville. Delegates at large—Wesley Mahaffey of Marlette who is president of the board; Harold Wilson, Holt; Marshall Pierce, Hastings.

Ed. Rebman, County Agr'l Agent.
