Gaylord Stockholders Meetings

PRODUCTION CREDIT ASS'N HOLD A SERIES

Official notices have been mailed to the 800 farmer members of the Gaylord Production Credit Association announcing the special stockholders' meeting to be held at four places in the territory as follows: August 23rd, at Cheboygan in the Court Room; August 24th, at Petoskey in the Court Room; August 26th at Alpena in the City Hall and August 26th at Gaylord in the Court Room. The meetings will start promptly at 8:00 p. m.

The main business feature of this meeting is to vote on whether or not additional class A stock shall be offered the members for purchase in order that the Government investment of $25,000 can be paid and the association can become entirely farmer owned. The association repaid $35,000 of government capital last December.

When the Production Credit Association were organized in 1933 the government put in the entire capital with the understanding that as stock was sold to the farmers and earnings were accumulated this stock was to be gradually withdrawn and the association would become entirely farmer owned. The board of directors feel that the Gaylord association is in a position where it can be completely farmer owned, thereby assuring the farmers the services of a permanent cooperative credit organization.

The meetings are being held in sections in order that the members can attend more easily. Any interested farmer desiring to learn more about this organization is welcome to attend.

Highways In Charlevoix County To Be Improved

Low bidders on state trunkline and three county road projects, totaling $1,723,207.87, were announced by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The state and county projects, low bidders and amount of bids are as follows:

6,666 miles of pavement on the US-131 relocation from one mile northwest of Elmira in Antrim county north to Boyne Falls in Charlevoix county, Loselle. Construction Co., Wyandotte, $381,403.57. The south 2,953 miles will be paved with 27-foot concrete and the north 3,713 miles with 33-foot concrete. The relocation will provide a more direct route for through traffic to Boyne Falls and replace the present rough and worn gravel surface. The completion date for the project is December 31, 1948.

2,520 miles of grading and drainage structures and aggregate surface on the Ellsworth-East Jordan road two miles west of East Jordan, in Charlevoix county, Maclean Construction Co., Lansing, $47,497.20. This project will include grading, placing the necessary drainage structures and applying a 22-foot aggregate course to the existing narrow gravel surface in preparation for a blacktop surface to be applied at a later date. Several sharp curves which are to be eliminated on this road which is an important farm-to-market route. The completion date of this project is December 31, 1948.

The Charlevoix county project is: 8.141 miles on US-31 relocation northeast of the city of Charlevoix. The new paving will extend about one-quarter mile west of Bay Shore, through an underpass under the Pere Marquette Railroad. It will eliminate the present downhill dip and crossing of the railroad track northeast of Charlevoix. The Loselle Construction Co., Wyandotte is the contractor. Contract price is $491,815 and the completion date December 1, 1948.

Marriages Clapsaddle — Brintnall

A simple but impressive wedding took place at 7:00 p. m. Saturday evening, Aug. 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Clapsaddle, when their daughter, Willa Arlene, became the bride of Elgy Brintnall of East Jordan, in a setting of baskets of mixed flowers and baby's breath.

Rev. Moore performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and close relatives.

Miss Carrie Buhland of Central Lake, her bridesmaid, wore a pink eyelet embroidery dress and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Cam Graham, cousin of the bride, assisted the groom as best man. Both wore gray suits. Miss Donno Clapsaddle, sister of the bride, played the traditional wedding march and accompanied Miss Iris Petrie who sang, "Always."

The bride's mother wore printed silk and a corsage of red roses and baby mums and the mother of the groom chose a black and white checked jersey dress and a corsage of pink rosebuds and white mums for the occasion.

A lovely reception for both relatives and friends, complete with wedding cake, ice cream, etc., followed the ceremony and the happy couple received many lovely gifts from their well-wishers, then escaped to start a honeymoon trip in the Upper Peninsula.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandfather, Mr. Will Clapsaddle of Brown City, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis of Owosso and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dilworth of Flint, aunts and uncles of the bride. Out of town relatives of the groom included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cronin and three children of Roscommon; Mrs. C. Sidney Hungerford and daughters of Sault Ste. Marie and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Brintnall of Williamsburg. Sisters and brothers of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pillman of Alden; Mr. Duncan Crawford of Ellsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brintnall of Boyne City, aunts and uncles; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roberts of Central Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Delmore Lyons of Grand Rapids, cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Brintnall is a graduate of the Central Lake High School, class of 1947 and the groom is an East Jordan graduate, class of '44, and is at present employed at the Sinclair Sales Co., of East Jordan.

The young couple will reside in an apartment on Second St. in East Jordan on their return and will be at home there to their many friends.

Michigan Mirror

GRAYLING — A "new look" has arrived at 76,000-acre Camp Grayling Training Center of the Michigan National Guard.

Approximately 2,500 teen-age youths, most of them just out of high school, are getting their first experience in military training here.

When Congress resorted to compulsory military training (Selective Service) as the only effective way of manning the army and navy, the National Guard was given a preferred status. Youths who enlisted in State Troops were exempted from the draft.

Like having a gold rush on its hands, the Michigan National Guard recruited 2,500 teen-agers in 30 days. Total enrollment soared to 7,300, an all-time record. The troops arrived at Lake Margrethe last week in more than 1,000 motor vehicles and 200 railroad cars. They were reviewed last Saturday (Aug. 14) by Governor Kim Sigler and Major General Ralph A. Loveland and this Saturday (Aug. 21) following a week of overnight bivouacs and field exercises, the troops will depart for home.

Youth is getting its first peace-time military training as a part of national security. The atmosphere is hardly that of a holiday although the traditional banter and horse-play of army life is as noticeable as ever. The Berlin crisis and other world events have cast a shadow. War is still a serious business.

Military discipline is being tightened this year.

And yet, according to top command, more emphasis is being put upon recreation than ever before. Soft ball games are held daily. Free motion pictures, latest from Hollywood, are offered each evening. The 46th Infantry Division Band is kept busy playing for regimental reviews and special concerts. Church attendance is compulsory. Military police units patrol the streets in Grayling. The "brig" is the last punishment.

It is apparent that General Loveland and his staff are making every effort to provide a dose of military training for teen-agers that will be acceptable to fathers and mothers back home.

The atmosphere is a bit informal to an old-time army man, uniforms of officers are just about the same as those of the buck privates. The insignia of rank is unchanged. Saluting is maintained on a voluntary basis. There is less military swank.

All this reflects the "new look" of youth and a determination of the military command to make selective service a permanent part of our national defense policy, subject to approval of public opinion itself. Pride of National Guard units has deep roots in Michigan communities. Officers are watching with interest the congressional outcome of a move to Washington to put the National Guard under federal control. The feeling of opposition is running high here.

Col. Edward R. Roberts, Senior U. S. Army Instructor on duty here, diplomatically pointed out that National Guard divisions were not given "soft jobs" in World War II. The 45th Army Division (Oklahoma) suffered the second highest casualty rating in the war during its service in Italy and Europe. The 32nd Division (Michigan-Wisconsin) was first in action in the southwest Pacific, while the 29th Division (Maryland and Virginia) were among the first troops to land in Normandy.

On the ground and in the air, Michigan is doing its part to be ready for whatever the future may bring. Camp Grayling is a symbol of this preparedness.

Mrs. Earl Beardsley of Goebels, and Mrs. Ruth Lemmer and daughter of Allegan spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ransom on their way home from Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Farmers Union Picnic

Charlevoix County Farmers Union picnic will be held Sunday, August 22nd at Whiting Park. Pot luck dinner at noon. All farmers are welcome to come and enjoy the day with us. A state speaker is scheduled to be present.

The August meeting will be with South Arm Local on Tuesday evening the 24th.

Farm Topics

CERTIFIED SEED AND SEED TREATMENT

Michigan farmers looking for certified wheat and rye seed can get helpful information from the "Certified Wheat and Rye Directory" published by the Michigan Crop Improvement association. It contains a list of growers whose fields passed inspection this spring. Your county agent has a copy or you can get one from the Michigan Crop Improvement association at Michigan State college.

Stuart Hildebrand of the college farm crops department says that all seed, whether certified or not, should be treated before planting. Use an organic mercurial compound, such as Ceresan. Seed treatment cost ranges from two to five cents per bushel which is cheap insurance against the bunt or stinking smut as it is sometimes called.

On Vacation Aug. 31-Sept 8

There will be no service available between Aug. 31 to Sept. 8—Annual vacation, Antrim-Charlevoix Artificial Breeders Association.

MULCHING FRUIT TREES

A. L. Kenworthy of the Michigan State college horticultural department finds that each year more fruit growers are using a mulch in connection with sod. This practice, known as sod-mulch, involves the use of a mulch under the tree and the sod between the trees. The mulch material is spread under the tree up to within one or two feet of the trunk and extends one or two feet beyond the limb spread. It should be four to six inches deep and renewed as necessary.

Kenworthy reports that trees in the mulched orchards are showing better growth and are greener in appearance and that mulching improves the size of fruit and crop as well as the quality. At present there are three rather commonly used materials. They are straw or grass, legume hay, and sawdust.

STATE 4-H SHOW, FARMER'S DAY TO BE HELD AT MSC

Michigan State college will be the destination of many rural youths August 31 to September 3, when the annual State 4-H show convenes.

Also scheduled for the week is the Farmer's Day Program on September 2nd.

In telling of the plans for the show, A. G. Kettmen, state 4-H club leader, indicates that this year's show will be one of the finest. Fifteen hundred registered delegates are expected and they will bring approximately 1,400 head of livestock. Several thousand other exhibits in the handicraft, crops, and home economics divisions are also expected.

All livestock, with the exception of horses, will be housed in the new Macklin Field stadium. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn. Other exhibits will be shown in the college auditorium.

A full week of activities has been planned for the 4-H boys and girls while they are in East Lansing. Evening programs will be held in the auditorium at 8:00 on Wednesday and Thursday nights and will feature top-flight entertainment, including WJR's youth chorus, which is featured in the radio show, "Make Way for Youth."

Since many farm families come to the MSC campus for the big event, Farmers' Day has been set as Thursday, September 2nd.

During Farmers' Day, the college farms and barns will be open for inspection so visitors may see the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Members of the school of agriculture staff will be stationed at various locations to explain the experiments and to consult with farmers on agricultural problems and techniques.

Ed. Rebmam, County Agr'l. Agent.

CHARLEVOIX GIRL WILL REPRESENT COUNTY AT 4-H SHOW

When the State 4-H Club Show opens at Michigan State College, August 31, Charlevoix county will be represented by Miss Nita Brumm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brumm on 304 Park Ave., Charlevoix. Miss Brumm won the honor to attend the State show by participating in the Dress Revue contest at Gaylord 4-H Camp. Six girls from the Gaylord Camp area will represent northern Michigan. She will make the trip with the 4-H Club Agent and several delegates from Emmet county. The delegation plans to leave August 31

TO BE PRESENTED BY CENTER STAGE THIS WEEK

Advance reservations indicate record audiences at Center Stage '48, new summer theatre in East Jordan, for the popular and unusual production "Voice Of The Turtle" to be presented this week.

The Broadway set will be reproduced in replica complete with a three-room apartment on stage and according to Directors Lief and Loren, Les Robin, designer, has created one of the most unusual settings of the theatre's season.

Visitors backstage after last week's play were introduced to a new member at Center Stage which has officially been adopted by the group as their mascot, until such time as it's rightful owner should claim it. Known to all as "Voice Of" the tiny turtle was found by members of the cast, slowly making its way down an East Jordan street in disreputable condition. It was covered with dust, very thirsty and quite hungry, according to it's new owners. The little reptile has been receiving excellent care and seems to thoroughly enjoy his stage career with the professional company. He maintains an exalted position, near the large switchboard on "Backstage Right".

If any child is missing a pet turtle, Center Stage would like them to file claim at the boxoffice. However, they would appreciate being able to continue caring for "Voice Of" throughout the production, as they sincerely feel he is a good omen.

P. S. "Voice Of", has not been heard to have uttered a single word as yet.

Four Classes of Pine Planting Stock Available This Fall

Four classes of pine planting stock will be available, at no increase in prices, to farmers and other planning reforestation plantings this fall, the conservation department's forestry division announces. Order blanks are mailed now from the division's Lansing office.

Stock available includes two- and three-year old red pine seedlings, two-year old jack pine seedlings and three-year old red pine transplants. White pine will not be available for another year. The fixed quota per customer, maintained on some classes of stock in recent seasons, has been lifted, as demand normally is light in the fall. Foresters advise against fall planting on heavy soils in the southern counties because of the likelihood of frost damage.

Stock is not lifted at the pine nursery until after the first frost has hardened it. The normal shipping season is September 20 to October 15. Pines produced in the conservation department nursery at Higgins lake may be used only for reforestation, and may be ordered only on order blanks from the forestry division's Lansing office that show that legal description of the lands to be planted.

and return September 3rd.

The Laminated roster model barn, built by Stewart Bost, Howard Campbell and Nuel Johnson, of Barnard Club, will also be transported to Michigan State College for exhibition. W. J. McKay, leader of the Barnard handicraft group, guided the boys in the building of this barn in their project work last winter.

The 4-H Club Show at the college will have a record number of exhibits this year, it is estimated that 1400 animals will be on display as well as hundreds of articles from other projects.

Delegates will be housed on the campus in Quonset Village and meals served in the Quonset Cafeteria.

Thursday, September 2, has been chosen as "Farmer's Day" and farm families who are visiting the campus are invited to inspect the MSC experimental plots and livestock. Specialists from the school of agriculture will be on hand to explain the experiments and to consult with farmers on agricultural problems.

K. C. Esterling
District Club Agent.

Religion: Hand-Sewn

Lesson for August 22, 1948

THE NEIGHBORS didn't know what Tabitha's ideas were. She never went down in history as a great thinker. What church she attended, whether she ever took part in a prayer-meeting, what her spiritual life was like, the neighbors did not say. But they cried when she was dead. She was a good woman, they knew. When Simon Peter came that way, they did not tell him about Tabitha's prayers or her peace of conscience. No doubt she had these. But what the neighbors brought in to show how good their friend had been, was—"coats and garments." All made by hand, her hands; made for her poorer neighbors, widows. In those days widows were not protected by life insurance, social security or annuity plans. They could not go out and earn big money in factories. To be a widow, as a rule, meant to be in need of help. Too many of them starved. So Tabitha spent her time making clothes for the widows of her city.

Dr. Foreman

Full of Good Works
THE BIBLE says she was "full of good works." It does not say she was full of faith or full of love. Just full of good works. We can be pretty sure the faith and love, the religion, was there, but it was the good works that people noticed. Religion in Tabitha's house was translated into the language of coats and skirts. Religion always has to be translated into something we can understand. Religion uses words, of course; books full of them. We cannot get along without them. They stand for something. But where the Christian religion is concerned, we cannot stop with words.

Would They Want You Back?

THERE MUST have been a number of deceased Christians in Joppa, but the only one who seems to have been worth a miracle to bring back to life was this woman, Tabitha, or Dorcas. Her life was over, yet it was a life worth living again.

How many people would be worth bringing back to life again? How many funerals would the neighbors want done in reverse? Not many, maybe, but if the neighbors voted at each funeral, as they did at Tabitha's, on the question, "Do we want this person back again?" they would usually vote for people like Tabitha, whose religion was all hand-sewn.

What Is Service?
SERVICE IS a word much used in Christian circles. We even have the world around us using the word. Department stores, government agencies, radio manufacturers, filling stations, all offer service. The trouble is that much of this is something for which you have to pay. And much so-called service is simply mending something that was not done right in the first place. Tabitha's service was of a different kind. It was genuine doing for people who couldn't do much for themselves and who certainly could not do anything in return.

Even among Christians, when we think of service we set our sights sometimes too high. We think of Telemachus, who stopped the brutal sport of gladiators murdering one another on Roman holidays. We think of great missionaries or settlement workers, or Christian statesmen like Gladstone or Kuyper. All honor to such men and women; they inspire us all. Yet they discourage us, too. For these great Christians are "special" people; they had outstanding talent, some of them even genius. They had opportunities given only to a few, opportunities that do not come in every one's lifetime.

Religion in the Hands
WE SHOULD REMEMBER this Tabitha, or Dorcas. All she had was her hands and some pieces of cloth. Her only opportunity was a poor city filled with poor people. Her only talent was one most women have: Plain sewing.

Yet the Tabithas, the Dorcases, make the backbone of Christianity. They are the salt of the church, the salt of the earth. In your own town, in your own community, if the Christian religion is loved and respected, it is not because of the famous preachers; it is because of the humble doers, the people whose Christian religion goes to their hands.

STATE LAND SALE

Notice Is Hereby Given, That pursuant to the provisions of Section 131 of Act 206, P. A. 1893 as amended, state lands in Charlevoix County will be placed on the market by offering same for sale at public auction, Wednesday, September 15, 1948, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern Standard Time, in the county courthouse, Gaylord, Michigan.

Pursuant to statutes, deeds conveying lands so offered will reserve the following to the State of Michigan: all rights to minerals, coal, oil, gas, sand, gravel, marl, etc.; rights of ingress and egress over and across lands lying along any watercourse or stream; all rights to aboriginal antiquities, mounds, earthworks, etc.

Pursuant to Section 6, Act 155, P. A. 1937, as amended, any person (former owner) who at the time of the tax sale had an interest in lands so sold, shall have the right for a period of thirty days after the public auction to meet the highest bid. For this reason, successful bidders at the sale will receive a thirty-day purchase certificate. If the former owner does not redeem, deed will be issued to highest bidder at the expiration of thirty days, or in the event the former owner does redeem the high bidder will receive a refund of the purchase price. Former owners, under the provisions of this sale, do not acquire mineral rights.

Further particulars and list of property to be offered are available at the County Treasurer's office at Charlevoix, Michigan, Conservation District Headquarters, Gaylord or Lands Division, Department of Conservation, Lansing.

Rural Tele-news

SIX OUT OF SEVEN FAMILIES—85% of the homes and business establishments within Michigan Bell's rural territory can have telephone service without paying any construction charges. Today's liberalized rural construction plan allows one-half mile of free line-construction per applicant beyond existing lines.

SAME WIRES — MORE CALLS — By means of special equipment, one pair of wires in effect becomes six pairs, carrying six separate conversations simultaneously. Michigan Bell has in operation several such experimental lines using this new equipment, known as "telephone line carrier," which may prove helpful in serving rural areas.

PARTY-LINE COURTESY PAYS OFF — Rural telephone service is good service, particularly when everyone co-operates by spacing out calls . . . being careful to hang up the receiver after each call . . . not interrupting when others are talking, except in an emergency . . . and by giving up the line when others have emergency calls to make.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Our $13,500,000 post-war rural construction program means more and better rural telephone service.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Moscow Talks Provide Peace Hope;
Congress Eyes Inflation, Housing;
Red Spy Scare Startles Country

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer. Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

MOSCOW: Conference

Practically all that anyone knew during the initial stages of the Moscow conference between Josef Stalin and the ambassadors of three western nations was that there was a conference.

The opacity of a thick censorship ban overlaid any details of what was happening.

Nevertheless, the impression was that the talks fattered by the desperation inherent in the Berlin crisis, might be the first step in easing off the strain between Russia and the western powers.

Some information that slipped through the secrecy wall indicated that both sides might be willing to make some concessions in order to further negotiations between Russia and the U. S., Great Britain and France.

The talks with Stalin and Molotov were reported to have produced at least one new suggestion—that prior to another Big Four conference there should be a meeting of the U. S., Russian, British and French deputy foreign ministers.

Such a conference would, theoretically, be accompanied by a gradual relaxation of the restrictions which the Soviets have clamped on the western areas of Berlin and which brought the East-West relations to their present boiling point.

Although it might be the height of optimism, Communist Russia being what it is, there was some faint hope that such a piecemeal lifting of the Berlin blockade might bring about a provisional meeting of minds on the subject of German currency and other irritating issues.

At the worst, such a discussion at least would tend to act as a brake against a drift to war and provide a breathing space for talks with Moscow on more basic controversies.

There was, however, still another interpretation of the discussions between Stalin and the three western ambassadors: Russia, having carried its Berlin blockade virtually to the ultimate point short of war, might be thinking that it had brought the western powers to a position where they would have to accede to Soviet demands if they wished to avoid conflict.

CONGRESS: Unwilling

Probably the only accomplishment of the special summer session of congress called by President Truman was to provide both parties with a bigger and better supply of political ammunition for the election campaign.

Democrats would be able to say that the GOP congress simply sat back on its haunches and did nothing about the pressing problems of inflation, housing and other national issues.

Republicans could counter with the assertion that, within the bounds of their political beliefs and judgment of what is best for the nation, they did all they could under the circumstances. To that they probably would add the stock argument that the whole thing is the fault of the 16-year Democratic regime and that the ultimate solution must lie in the election of a Republican administration this November.

One result of the special session that might be classed as favorable was that it served to sharpen the rough edges of the wide cleavage between the two parties over domestic problems and give the voters a more clear-cut, definitive idea of what they will be deciding on November 2.

Despite President Truman's laborious diatribes against congress and his repeated warnings that controls alone will curb the now dangerous inflation, in the final analysis it remained foolish to believe that the GOP congress ever would take the action he recommended. Republicans simply do not approve of that method of handling the nation's economy.

Republican congressmen agreed only to string along with legislation serving to reimpose consumer credit controls, with some limitation on bank credits, and to speed action on a watered-down housing program which does little except ease credit terms for home builders.

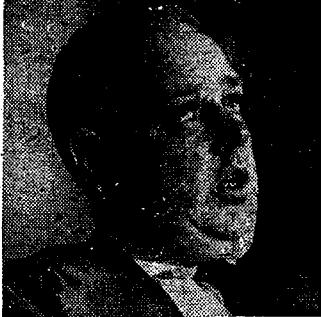

The anti-poll tax measure, blocked for a week by a droning filibuster by southern Democrats, finally withered and blew away in dust.

TAXATION: 125 Billion

By the end of this year individual taxpayers in the U. S. will have paid nearly 125 billion dollars in direct personal taxes, according to a survey entitled "Domestic Consumer Markets" prepared by the National Industrial - Conference board.

Last year, the report says, Americans paid more in personal taxes than they spent for new homes, cars, furniture and medical care.

'Then There Was ...'

Whittaker Chambers, a senior editor of Time magazine and an admitted former member of the Communist party, got a load off his chest when he told the house un-American activities committee the names of a few more higher echelon government officials who had participated in the notorious Washington spy ring of a decade ago. His testimony included the names of Alger Hiss, former state department official; Nathan Witt, former attorney for NLRB, and Lee Pressman, former CIO general counsel.

ESPIONAGE: Dragon Seed

The dragon seeds of international espionage sown during the war suddenly had begun to bloom with a vengeance and the nation's capital, seemed to be overgrown with spies and rumors of spies.

First stone was cast by Miss Elizabeth Bentley, self-confessed courier for Soviet agents, who revealed that much of her information had come from sources in official government positions.

She showed no hesitancy in naming names, among which were those of Nathan G. Silvermaster, board of economic warfare and war assets administration official; William W. Remington, former commerce department official, and Alger Hiss, former state department official active in the establishment of the United Nations.

There was no visible proof that any of the persons she implicated ever had furnished information to the Soviet espionage ring, although some had Communistic backgrounds.

As a matter of fact, the FBI reported that it had spent more than three million dollars in an investigation of the same matter months prior to the current excitement. The G-men finally gave it up because of lack of documentary proof.

But congressional investigations were under way in both the senate and house. Testimony included the usual flamboyant accusations and recriminations but failed to produce any concrete evidence.

Rep. Karl Mundt (Rep., S. D.), chairman of the house un-American activities committee, added to the national impact of the affair by asserting that there is "good reason to believe a Communist spy ring is operating in Washington right now."

His committee was investigating, he said, although the public hearings so far had dealt only with the testimony that a Red espionage system was at work in the U. S. during the war.

COTTON: Mechanized

Last of the great American farm commodities to remain essentially a man-mule crop, cotton finally is becoming mechanized, thus eliminating the necessity of maintaining vast armies of laborers to meet the two peak labor periods of the crop cycle.

Mechanization is one of the major steps in the effort of cotton people from Virginia to California to achieve lower production costs. To the 12½ million people in 18 states who derive all or a substantial part of their income from cotton it is of paramount importance that they keep their crop competitive cost-wise.

The answer lies, to a great extent, in mechanization. Thinning and weeding equipment and harvesting machines are revamping the farm picture in the South.

The mechanical cotton picker is capable of performing the work of 40 to 50 human pickers, varying with weather conditions, land surface, and other factors.

Typical of mechanization was the experience of a Mississippi farmer who used a flame cultivator to control weeds at a cost of 80 cents an acre at the same time human choppers were costing $5.

Of course, complete mechanization of cotton will not materialize overnight. National Cotton council, representing the entire industry, reports that in 1947 less than 3 per cent of the crop could be classed as entirely mechanized. A considerable portion of the remaining crop, however, was in various stages of mechanization.

RELIGION
World Council

"To justify the ways of God to man" was John Milton's expressed purpose for writing his monolithic epic poem of the Reformation, "Paradise Lost."

Academically Milton succeeded in providing that justification for his own and an unknowable number of future generations of Christians. But since the 16th century days of Milton human society has turned an increasingly cold cheek to the spiritual values preached by every great Christian since Paul.

Particularly since the outset of the 20th century man's attention has been claimed more and more by the dramatic power of materialism which has been brought into full play as a result of this technological economy with its assembly lines, power politics and repetitive wars.

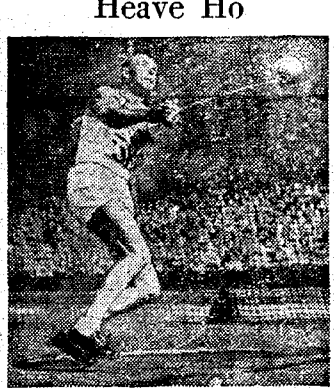

Thus, the problem now is not so much how to justify God's ways to man as it is how to justify man's society in the eyes of God. And if, as many churchmen believe, no such justification is possible, then how to work a reasonable and beneficial change in the society which men have wrought.

It is that problem which the World Council of Churches, composed of 148 Protestant and Orthodox churches from 40 nations, will endeavor to meet squarely at its first world assembly in Amsterdam August 22 to September 4.

Four hundred and fifty church leaders — laymen and clergymen alike — are determined, among other things, "to assess the strengths and weaknesses of present-day Christendom" and "to define a basis of common principle upon which Christians can cooperate for world order."

Under the conference theme, "Man's Disorder and God's Design," the delegates will attack such questions as: How to infuse more spirituality into our mechanized society without advocating the destruction of all mechanization? What action can the church take among its members to aid in establishment of world order and what is the church's answer to the amoral power politics of the present day?

If these are tough questions, the World Council of Churches is likely to prove itself spiritually tough and realistic enough to go a long way toward providing some of the answers.

Heave Ho

Despite the impression you might have received from reading newspaper accounts of the Olympics, American athletes were not the only ones who took part in the games. This straining gentleman, for instance, is Imry Nemeth of Hungary who won the hammer throw with a heave of 183 feet, 11½ inches.

HOLY LAND: Optimism

Although the July 18 truce in Palestine put at least a temporary end to the military bloodshed between Jews and Arabs, the struggle for rights and power continues behind the diplomatic scenes in the Near East.

However, there is some reason to believe now that many of the troubles in the troubled spot may be smoothed out when Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. mediator, proposes his next peace plan in September.

One of the reasons for such optimism is the attitude of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, most powerful of the Arab league states.

Abdullah has asked for full and careful consideration of any future proposal for permanent peace in Palestine.

And, he said, his "Arab nation does not exclude any possible compromise that secures justice and prevents unnecessary bloodshed."

"We would like that the efforts of Count Bernadotte in the refugee problem be successful, and afterwards that any new proposals which he will make should not be rejected outright, but be fully discussed before they are put in final form."

That Old Oil

Oil is being consumed in the U. S. today at a rate exceeding the total world consumption of only 10 years ago, according to an article in a recent issue of "Business Comment," bulletin of the Northern Trust company in Chicago.

Demand for all oils in the first quarter of 1948 averaged 0.3 million barrels daily, an increase of 7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1947.

MICHIGAN

Believes in Promoting Rural Health

Rural health is a great deal more than a discussion topic to the medical doctors of Michigan—it is a vital program that has their fullest support. This is evidenced in many ways, as will be brought out at the Michigan Rural Health Conference which is to be held at Michigan State College, September 16-17. Being one of the sponsors, Michigan doctors of medicine will utilize this Conference to search out the further avenues in which they can most practically enlarge their health services in Michigan's rural areas. This concern of organized medicine, and many other health organizations, with the health improvement of all the people of the State is one of the reasons why Michigan leads the way in health progress.

COMPARE THE VALUE

Yes, compare the features—compare the prices—compare what you get for what you pay—and you, too, will come to the conclusion that Chevrolet continues to be first in value, just as it continues to be first in Big-Car Quality at Lowest Cost, and just as it continues first in demand, year after year.

COMPARE THE POPULARITY

You can identify the biggest value in any list of products by picking out the one product which enjoys greatest popularity, year after year; and, of course, in the field of motor cars, that one product is Chevrolet—outstanding leader in popularity for the total 17-year period, 1931 to date!

COMPARE THE FEATURES

Only Chevrolet combines the United Knee-Action Ride for gliding smoothness; the world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for performance and economy; Body by Fisher for tasteful beauty; and Fisher Unisteel Construction plus Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes for all-round safety protection!

COMPARE THE PRICES

You'll agree with millions of other car buyers that prices—like quality—are a major consideration in these times; and just as Chevrolet's Big-Car quality is unique in its price range, so Chevrolet prices are the lowest in its field. Chevrolet costs less to buy, to run and to maintain!

"Yes siree! I spent a good many years of down-right drudgery workin' my farm before I hired Reddy Kilowatt. Now I let Reddy do all the tough farm chores. It's a heap easier pushin' a plug and flippin' a switch than the old way. Not only that, Reddy's wages are low. By golly, I wouldn't be without my electric farm hand for many times the cost!"

Here are a few of the jobs Reddy can do:

- Pump water.
- Increase egg production.
- Step up milk production.
- Lower mortality rate of pigs and chicks.
- Light up buildings and yards.
- Dry hay. • Shell corn.
