Air Parcel Post Hastens Delivery

EFFECTIVE SEPT. 1, LEAVES EAST JORDAN 5:30 P. M. ARRIVES SAN FRANCISCO 7:40 A. M.

With the inauguration of nationwide—worldwide air parcel post September 1, the United States can boast of the most modern and expeditious delivery service in the world, according to Postmaster St. Charles.

The new highly specialized airborne service, enacted into law by the 80th Congress, will afford patrons of more than 42,000 post offices in America and its possessions, unexcelled shipping facilities. Transit time will be reduced to a fraction of that required by other modes of transportation.

Postmaster St. Charles pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same particular consideration shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given to air parcel post as is afforded other forms of mail, making the airborne mail service unique in every respect.

He added that distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white and blue and bearing the likeness of a winged package with the earth's globe underneath, will soon be available without cost at the East Jordan Post Office to apply to outgoing packages.

"With a scheduled plane taking off or landing within the United States on an average of every seven seconds around the clock, and an over-sea-bound plane leaving our borders every 30 minutes, we stand ready to give our patrons the fastest parcel post service offered anywhere," Postmaster St. Charles said.

While international air parcel post has been available from the United States and its possessions for several months, domestic airborne service is being launched for the first time in history.

AIR MAIL that leaves the East Jordan Postoffice at 5:30 p. m. via Petoskey will arrive at Detroit at 10:10 p. m., New York City 3:20 a. m., Jacksonville, Fla., 3:55 a. m., WEST: Grand Rapids 9:46 p. m., Chicago, Ill., 11:05 p. m., San Francisco, Cal., 7:40 a. m., Seattle, Wash., 8:25 a. m.

Frankfort Summer Visitors Cooperate

They say in newspaper parlance that when a dog bites a man it's commonplace, but when a man bites a dog it's news. By the same token it is very ordinary for a Chamber of Commerce or community group to bend every effort towards providing beach improvements and added facilities for the comfort and pleasure of vacationists, but it becomes an unusual feature when resorters pitch in to help the town build up its tourist attractions.

The resort town of Frankfort is unique in this respect. It is fortunate in having a group of summer people that seem to show a real interest in the community. They have cooperated in the job of helping to raise money for a new hospital—in fact they originated the idea. They have volunteered their services in cleaning and improving the Frankfort beach.

They have been successful in bringing the West Michigan Regatta to Crystal Lake; raised money for a new athletic park; discussed plans for a new golf course; displayed an interest in conservation problems and even joined the Chamber of Commerce without solicitation.

They have encouraged their friends to spend vacations in Frankfort and all in all have become a very enthusiastic and substantial part of the community. Of course, they spend money there and are interesting in having a good time, but they are also showing a desire to be helpful citizens during their summer visit. Cooperation of this character certainly speaks well for both the summer residents and the good people of Frankfort. Let's have more of it!

Silo Should be Made Ready for Filling

A little time taken to put the silo in good condition will result in better keeping of the silage according to agricultural engineers at Michigan State college.

The silo should first be cleaned by scraping off any old silage that may be adhering to the walls. All litter at the bottom of the silo should be taken out.

Air leaks in walls may cause silage to spoil. Walls should be carefully examined and small cracks filled. Melted paraffin applied with a paint brush is good for this purpose. Since paraffin is inflammable when hot, care should be taken when using it. It should be brushed into cracks or joints while it is still warm.

FINE QUALITY OF STOCK EXHIBITED BY 4-H'ERS AT 10th ANNUAL SHOW

The 10th Annual Antrim County 4-H livestock show was held at Craven Park, Bellaire, Wednesday, August 18. A large number of entries marked the show and the quality of the stock exhibited was the best ever.

Ray McMullen, County Agricultural Agent of Gaylord acted as judge. Mr. McMullen did a very fine job of grading the animals and was loud in his praise of the quality of the cattle exhibited by the Antrim County boys and girls as well as the fine job they did in showing the cattle. Mavis Kratochvil of Alden was first in the showmanship contest with her stylish Ayrshire cow and her sister Marion placed second and Connie Smith of Bellaire placed third.

A fine group of parents and friends from all parts of the county were in attendance throughout the day. The day's event was concluded with a softball game between a 4-H team from Kalaska and a team from Antrim County. The game was closely played with Kalaska winning 10 to 7. A return game will be played in a few weeks.

LITHUANIAN FARM WORKERS

A survey of Michigan farmers to determine whether they could or would accommodate 100 year-around farm workers from Lithuania, will be started Monday, it was announced Saturday by James F. Moore, Executive Director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

The announcement followed a meeting with representatives of the United Lithuanian Relief Fund of America, charged with placing in employment in this country some 22,000 Liths, under the Displaced Persons Act of Congress.

Moore said these people, consisting of youths up to 23 or 24 years of age, and family groups with parents 45 to 55 years old, are all skilled farm workers, some of them highly educated in European universities. Michigan's quota has been set at about 100 workers or family groups. They are skilled in general farming, dairy farming, and animal husbandry. Most of them speak Lithuanian, German, Polish and Russian. They have been screened as to skill, health, and moral standards, Moore said.

Preliminary queries as to the prospects of placing of these people will be made of county agricultural agents, followed by personal interviews with farmers as to their requirements. Certain wage and housing restrictions will be insisted upon before these people will be placed, he insisted.

Farmers interested are asked to contact their County Agricultural Agents or the MUCC office nearest their home.

FINDS PRACTICAL USE FOR DEAD RIPE FRUIT

Dead-ripe fruit which is too soft for canning or freezing can be made into fruit puree and preserved for use in many colorful and delicious recipes next winter.

Excellent pies, puddings, whips, ice cream and breakfast rolls can be made from frozen fruit purees states Pauline Paul, home economist at Michigan State college, who has worked out the recipes in laboratory kitchens.

Purees are easy to prepare and simple to freeze. Wash and trim the fruit and cook it for a short time. Then put it through a sieve or food chopper, mix with a small amount of sugar, package and freeze. Adding a little sugar helps to keep the natural color and flavor.

Purees should be cooled before packaging. Strawberries are the only fruit which do not need a little cooking. Packages should be frozen as soon as possible after preparation and stored at zero degrees Fahrenheit until used.

Tomato puree will make delicious juice by adding water and seasoning or it can be used for tomato sauce or French dressing.

Juice from the puree can be left in for a thinner puree, or it may be drained off and used separately. For further information about preparing purees and for delicious recipes, obtain a copy of the Michigan State college experiment station bulletin, "Fruit Purees." Request it from your county extension office, or from the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

As the season draws to a close at the summer theatre, the group are receiving numerous post cards and letters encouraging their return in '49 and expressing audience appreciation of the plays presented this year. "We are delighted to hear from people who have seen our plays and wish to thank them sincerely for their interest in Center Stage" said Miss Lief. LELAND — This is a tale of nostalgia.

It is a story about J. Lee Barrett—Detroit's suave No. 1 ambassador and promoter of civic superlatives—manager of the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau, and his vacation retreat on South Manitou Island on Lake Michigan.

We viewed the distant outline of the Manitou—North and South—from a window of Karl Detzer's print shop here at Leland.

In the foreground are fishermen's weatherworn docks and shacks. A baldheaded man, bronze with tan, has set up his easel to paint. A family was having a picnic in the village park where a charcoal iron smelter once stood. Children were playing on the sandy shore, for the waters of Lake Michigan are numbingly cold. Hundreds of gulls swarmed noisily about wood pilings that line the narrow harbor entrance.

Between this tranquil scene and the faint silhouette of South Manitou are 18 miles of blue water.

Tracy Grosvenor, mall boat skipper, knows the Manitou. His conversation about life on the islands was a pleasant relief from lingering troubled memories of teen-age boys undergoing military training at Grayling.

"Back in 1908 my father was a logger on North Manitou," said Tracy at the wheel. "Before then the island had a popular summer lodge for Chicago tourists. Many times the dining room served 100 people. When the lumbermen came in 1908 for a second timber harvest, the tourists left. Years later the island was acquired by William R. Angell, former President of the Continental Motor Company of Detroit and Muskegon, and Roger Sherman a Chicago attorney. They operate it now as a sportsmen's club and cherry farm."

We stopped at North Manitou to deliver parcels of food and to pick up two lugs of cherries for the Coast Guard. Thence we journeyed on to South Manitou whose natural harbor, curved like a new moon, is praised by sailors as being the best on Lake Michigan.

The boat trip from Leland was slow, two hours and a half.

August Warner, Deputy Sheriff, met us at the South Manitou dock. We climbed aboard his 1928 model A Ford. The chugging ride up neglected two mile trail was reminiscent of grandfather's time.

We pause at a rustic gate and then drove past an ancient barn to a small farmhouse. The Detroit publicist, usually immaculately attired, resembled a beachcomber. He introduced us to two of his associates in the Lee Island Company, Inc., which was financing the venture. William

W. Slocum was reclining in a hammock. William G. Bloes was busy preparing lunch in the farmhouse kitchen.

Yes, the Detroit promoter explained, everyone has been busy fixing up things. Union plumbers were forgetful, you know, and the island was miles off the mainland. So the Detroit Business men had been wielding a paint brush, hammering nails, sawing wood and installing plumbing. Gradually the farmhouse was being transformed into a snug lodge. The barn was to become a clubhouse.

A stone's throw from the farmhouse was a beach of Lake Michigan strewn with driftwood. The lake was invigorating. Wild raspberries nearby grew in profusion.

We beheld the farm scene with its happy city colony and we marvelled at the zeal of these Detroiters who were revelling in the isolated pastoral simplicity of a half century ago. No telephones, no automobile traffic, no factory or railroad whistles, no gadgets, no evening papers with black headlines. Yes, this could be impelling attraction—man's protest against modern complex living.

Barrett smiled in contentment.

South Manitou, Robinson Crusoe haven of nostalgia, had waited years for him The Island was his answer, in complete reverse, to a promoter's prayer.

Dawn Patrol Successful Affair

MANY EXPRESSED THEIR APPRECIATION OF OUR HOSPITALITY

Thanks to the Weather Man, the contributions of interested business men, and a few hours work on the part of the committee, East Jordan's first Dawn Patrol went over in a big way.

Visitors from the south remarked, "What delightfully cool weather you have up here."

There were 32 planes in, coming from as far south as below Pontiac, and as far north as the Soo. Five came in from Frankfort, at least one of which was from Ohio. Local cars picked up the visitors, took them down town for breakfast, and short trips about the City.

Four prizes were given out, first for plane coming longest distance, second for pilot registering nearest to a predetermined time (9:37 — he registered at 9:40), and the first lady pilot to register.

Many visitors expressed appreciation for the hospitality and courtesies shown them, and declared their intention to come back some time.

The only criticism heard was a constructive criticism that our landing field was a little rough. For your information, the City put 650 yards of clay loam on the field this spring, the State paying half of the cost of same. This improved the worst spots. Further stabilization of similar kind is planned when funds are available.

Marriages

Boyd — LaCroix

Mrs. Ruth Boyd of Butler, Ind., and Theodore LaCroix exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 21, at 8:00 p. m. at a ceremony performed at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor LaCroix.

Rev. R. B. Warner of the Charlevoix Pentecostal church officiated at the single ring ceremony. The house was decorated with bouquets of mixed colored gladioli.

The bride chose a medium green silk crepe semi-formal gown for her wedding and her corsage was fashioned of peach colored gladioli. Mrs. Leo LaCroix was her only attendant, and wore a navy blue print dress and wore a corsage of yellow gladioli. Leo LaCroix assisted his brother as best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Community log building at the Tourist Park. About seventy-five guests were present at the reception. The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered by a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and bouquets of gladioli. Ice cream and wedding cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. LaCroix will make their home at the farm home of his parents north of the city.

A back-to-school reminder to drivers and pedestrians alike to "Take it Easy" is being issued by Automobile Club of Michigan in the form of the above poster. It and others are being distributed as part of a series to Michigan police chiefs and parochial and public elementary schools. The series will attempt to prevent the traffic death of any Michigan school child crossing the streets during the 1948 opening school days. After rising a third in 1946, traffic deaths of children between ages of 5 to 14 have decreased by 12 percent in 1947 in the face of greater traffic volumes. Auto Club encourages school safety patrols, teachers and police forces to unite in reducing accidents every year. A diligent safety patrol boy in each city is annually given a four-day all-expense trip to Washington, D. C., for the AAA safety patrol convention.

Rev. and Mrs. Maurice Grigsby of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Grigsby of Hastings were guests at the Gidley cottage last week. Rev. Grigsby left Thursday as he took charge of the Fort Presbyterian church at Detroit.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
U. S. Registers Cold War Victory;
Moscow Talks Headed for Failure;
Truman, Congress in Budget Fight

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

COLD WAR
Villian Revealed

At last something had happened that could and did make people understand what this Russian situation was all about. It had been pretty difficult going for the world public to perceive the basic truth when it was obscured by confusing circumstances like currency reform in Berlin, control of the German Ruhr, a maze of spies at home and political annihilation of small European nations by Russia.

What it all amounted to, as far as most people were concerned, was a mess of verbal pottage that they wouldn't trade for the comics page any day of the week. Then it happened. Mrs. Oksana Kosenkina, the Russian school teacher, jumped from a third-story window in the Soviet consulate in New York to achieve the liberty she so desperately sought.

Mikhail Samarin, the other Russian school teacher, was wanted by the Russians but managed to retain his freedom. Refusing the Soviet demand that he return to Russia, he tossed this scallion for the Communists into the propaganda war: "I won't return to death."

And finally, in England Olympic athletes from Czechoslovakia and other Soviet satellite states were steadfastly refusing to return to their home countries after their taste of a free land.

It all added up to the biggest break the western nations have had yet in their propaganda battle with the East.

This was simple, basic, understandable: These people from the land of the Soviets—the schoolteachers and athletes—utterly despised the idea of returning. They simply would not do it.

Thus, it was in the end a few ordinary persons who destroyed the elaborate fabrication which Moscow had constructed to represent to the world the ideal way of life that existed in the Soviet Union.

One Voice of America spokesman said: "This is what we have been waiting for in our war of words. This is something that can be easily understood by people all over the world."

The Communists tried frantically to cover this breach in their curtain by calling it, among other things, an underground conspiracy in the U. S. to wreck any possibility for peace between the two nations.

But the villian's disguise was off now and everyone knew him. Try as they might, the Communists never would be able to explain why two obscure school teachers would seek their freedom so desperately, nor why Russia was so determined to get them back.

PARLEY:

Failure
From Moscow came crushing news for all those hoping for peace: The talks between the western democracies and Russia were reported to be on the brink of failure.

Barring a last-minute miracle in the conferences between the U. S., England, France and Russia, the East-West stalemate would continue, along with the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

It was reported that the western powers were getting ready to stay in Berlin under conditions of economic siege, planning to maintain and enlarge the air lift to supply the 2.5 million persons in their sectors.

There was, however, one slim chance that utter failure could be avoided. The three western ambassadors were scheduled for a final talk with Premier Stalin, and it was a possibility that the negotiations might be resumed. But the odds against agreement stood at about five to one, officials said.

If the conference ended in the anticipated failure, it was thought that the Big Four governments would try to conceal the extent of the fiasco from the public in order to avoid the even greater degeneration of East-West relationships that undoubtedly would result if everyone knew just how hopeless the case was.

However, if the Moscow talks did break up in futility it would not mean necessarily that all similar negotiations would be abandoned. It would mean that any further effort to reopen them would be delayed until at least next spring—possibly March—after the election and inauguration.

WHAT'LL YA HAVE, GENTS?

How About 55 Gallons of Black Coffee?

Coffee and milk, by a wide margin, remain the favorite beverages of American drinkers who will down nearly eight billion gallons of coffee and nearly seven billion gallons of milk in 1948.

The report on the national liquid intake, compiled by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company, also estimates that about 2.7 bil-

BUDGET:

Unbalanced

Will there be a surplus or deficit in the government's budget at the end of this fiscal year?

It was a question good for a lot of political haymaking, and both President Truman and his Republican opponents in congress went to work with a will.

Mr. Truman's forecast was that the government would be 1.5 billion dollars in the red next June. In his mid-year budget report he blamed the Republicans' "ill-timed" five-billion-dollar tax cut for putting the nation back in the hole.

Stricken with horror, GOP lawmakers rapped back sharply: Far from harboring a deficit, they said, the treasury will close its books next June with a surplus of between five and six billion dollars.

The President had juggled figures for political campaign effect, the Republicans charged bitterly. "Another of the weird distortions which are coming from the White House while its occupant is a nervous candidate for re-election," commented Sen. Styles Bridges (Rep., N. H.) mordaciously.

Mr. Truman had said that federal expenditures this year would hit 42 billion dollars, while Republicans claim that actual expenses will total 38 billion. They charged, too, that the President had figured the national income 3.4 billion dollars too low for the year.

Just who was right in the matter, if anyone, was impossible to say. The entire affair had many of the characteristics of the kind of tempest in a teapot that is a run-of-the-mill event in an election year.

Actually, even if President Truman's estimate turns out to be the correct one, the books still will show an "adjusted surplus," despite the 1.5-billion-dollar operating deficit. That is because congress provided that three billion of the surplus last year should be shifted to this year's accounts to help meet foreign aid costs.

PSYCHIATRY:

War Cure

How can the world prevent wars? Use of psychiatry would be a big help, according to Dr. John Milne Murray, professor of clinical psychiatry at Boston university.

A psychiatrist, he said, is one who seeks the reason for the failure of human relations in the individual rather than in the mass. "But," he asked, "what is war except a mass breakdown of inadequate relations ending up in a tremendous burst of self-destruction?"

Take, for instance, the reactions of a child trying to adjust itself to a harsh environment. Under stress the child may revert to archaic forms of behavior, and that is very similar to the impulse of destruction which, on a world-wide scale, becomes war.

Therefore, knowledge of mass human reactions should be employed to abolish war, Dr. Murray concluded.

Actually, it's all very simple. If people didn't act the way they do they wouldn't have to fight each other. The trick is to make them understand that.

Out of the Park

In some dimly seen future time baseball record books might fall into dust, but there will be those who still talk of Babe Ruth. And among kids the legend of the Babe might grow into this: Every baseball he ever hit he hit for a home run. And some might smile at the exaggeration but say nothing because it will be a magnificent story.

Paper Work

War-guilt trials of the Japanese war lords in Tokyo produced literally tons of evidence—bale after bale of recorded testimony and documentary proof of the Jap war criminals' carryings-on. Job of translating all the data will take five weeks, after which the international military tribunal will hand down its verdicts.

MASARYK:

Murdered?

Last March 10 Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia under the Communist regime, fell to his death from a third-story window in the foreign office in Prague.

Since then Masaryk's friends, as well as many who never knew him but admired him because of his hopeless fight in behalf of Czechoslovakia's national liberty, have speculated long as to whether he committed suicide or was killed by the Communists who wanted him out of the way.

The official-Communist version of the incident was suicide, but too many persons had too many doubts to let it rest at that.

Then, suddenly, last month the doubts were crystallized. Dr. Oskar Klinger, Masaryk's personal physician, asserted that the Czech statesman did not commit suicide.

He was sure of that, he said, because he and Masaryk had planned to escape by plane to Great Britain on the very day that Masaryk died.

Klinger said that the security police discovered Masaryk's plan to flee and came to his rooms that night to arrest or kill him. Defending himself, Masaryk shot and killed possibly four men.

With the remaining men closing in, Klinger's version went, Masaryk was forced closer and closer to the window. Then, the men either threw him out the window or, overwhelmed by fear, Masaryk flung himself out.

In proof of his conviction, Klinger offered this evidence:

Masaryk would never have committed suicide because he was afraid of physical pain. Also, he left no note or letter—a usual practice in suicides.

Shots were heard in the building the night he died, and four coffins were carried from the place that morning before the Czech commission arrived to inspect Masaryk's body, indicating that four persons might have been killed during the night.

? Current Events ?

Here are five questions, based on recent happenings in the news, which are guaranteed not to keep you awake nights. Unless, that is, you stay up late to read the paper anyway.

1. Several witnesses before the house un-American activities committee, refusing to answer questions about Communist activities, invoked the fifth amendment to the Constitution. What does the amendment say?

2. President Truman said recently that a woman president of the U. S. "was not only a possibility, but a probability" some day. At present the Constitution prohibits a woman from becoming president. True or false?

3. Population of the U. S. is 143,414,000. Name the nations that have larger populations in order of their size.

4. What outstanding war events took place three years ago on these dates: August 8, August 9, August 14?

5. Born in 1865, he was governor of Kansas from 1915 to 1919 and became a senator in 1919. Recently he retired from the senate as its senior member in point of service. Who is he?

BOXCARS:

No Worries

Despite all-time record production and the bumper crops forecast for this year, U. S. railroads do not expect as tight a boxcar situation this autumn as has prevailed during the past several years.

Southwestern grain, bulking larger than any other section, has begun to taper off, more cars are available in the Northwest this year than last and terminals still have space for storage.

Recruits Decline In Armed Forces

Enlistments Fail to Keep Manpower of Services At Full Strength.

WASHINGTON. — Diminishing manpower is causing grave concern to the high commands of all armed forces — army, navy and air. Recruiting for the services is running far below the levels necessary to keep the armed forces at authorized strength, in some cases as much as 20 per cent too low, officials say.

The navy, which customarily is in a better recruiting position than the army, is getting only about 80 per cent of the needed number of recruits on the basis of latest figures. Navy officials estimate they need about 15,000 men a month. The army, which also carries on air force enlistments, gained about 21,000 men in September, compared with a desired total of about 30,000.

Prospects Termed Poor.

The army has a present actual strength of about 980,000 compared with its authorized force of 1,070,000. The navy currently is somewhat above the average strength figure authorized for the current fiscal year (ending next June 30) but the present rate of discharges compared with enlistments will drop it below strength, officials said. The navy strength, in men and officers, is about 477,000 compared with an authorized 437,000 figure for the fiscal year.

The air force is understood to be between 70,000 and 80,000 short of its 391,000 authorized strength (a part of the 1,070,000 total for the army).

Guard Sagging, Too.

An intensive effort is under way to build up another vitally important component of national defense, the national guard. Like the regular establishments, that, too, lags far behind requirements.

High army officials said that they were still able to keep up the manpower required by Gen. Lucius D. Clay in Germany and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan for occupation duties. But, they added, the point is being reached where the drain of manpower in the United States to keep those forces at proper strength is threatening to upset the manpower pool here required to support the overseas forces.

The closing out of the Italian occupation area under terms of the peace treaty is helping the European situation some.

Suicide by Hitler Depleted
By Nazi for American Probers

NUERNBERG, GERMANY. — Hitler's suicide and funeral pyre were described for United States investigators by a prominent Nazi, Arthur Axmann, leader of the Hitler Youth, who asserted he saw Hitler and Eva Braun dead in their Berlin air raid bunker and that he helped burn the bodies in the garden of the reichschancellery. Axmann, under automatic arrest because of his high rank in Nazi party councils, said that he was in Hitler's headquarters under the Fuehrer's orders from April 22, 1945, to April 30, Hitler's last day.

Hitler had been told that Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler had deserted him. In his last few days he became a strangely changed man. He strode up and down the bunker floor almost ceaselessly and spoke to no one, but "he was calm," Axmann related. Late the night of April 30 Paul Joseph Goebbels took Axmann by the hand and said "the Fuehrer is dead." The propaganda minister led Axmann into the death chamber.

Hitler was sitting upright on the divan. He had shot himself through the mouth, and there was blood on his temples from the concussion. Eva evidently had taken poison.

Many Try Patent Medicines
Before They Call on Doctor

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — A survey of 1,215 Pennsylvania homes and their medicine cabinets indicates that 60 per cent of Americans may try patent medicines or home remedies before summoning doctors when they're ill.

The survey, dealing with the influence of commercial health advertising, was reported to American Public Health association meeting by a special committee.

The committee said that if this self-treatment based on advertised claims for drugs was true in other parts of the country also, then something should be done to improve health practices and education.

TB Increases 50 Per Cent
In U. S. Zone in Germany

BERLIN. — Tuberculosis among Germans in the United States zone of Germany has increased nearly 50 per cent in the last year and there are no hospital facilities for 15,905 sufferers, a report of Gen. Lucius D. Clay disclosed.

Since July, 1946, when 93,821 cases of the disease were under medical supervision in the zone, the number of active cases has increased to more than 137,000. Of this number, more than 38,000 were classified as "open infectious cases."

Labor Day of 1947 was no happy holiday for 18 Michigan motorists who were killed in auto crashes and thousands who were injured or inconvenienced in non-fatal accidents. Pointing to last year's traffic toll over the long weekend, Automobile Club of Michigan urged all motorists to "Take It Easy" this year. "Traffic over this holiday will be unusually heavy — probably the greatest concentration of the year — because thousands will be stretching extra time out of the last long weekend of warm weather and because many will be returning from resort areas. Auto Club urges Labor Day motorists to start for home early, drive more slowly and closely observe yellow road markings. August led all months for persons killed on Michigan's highways last year, with 149 traffic deaths out of a total of 1,444 for the year.

Buying Deep-Freeze Unit? Then Consider These Points

Families intending to purchase home deep freezers should consider carefully uses to be made of them before they buy, in the opinion of G. H. Stewart, leader of Clemson agricultural engineering extension work.

Stewart believes that the deep freeze units can best be used in connection with locker refrigeration plants where they will be used only for storage of frozen foods.

"Money can be saved if the vegetables to be stored can be processed and packed at home and then taken to the locker refrigeration plant for sharp freezing," he says. "After they have been frozen they can be brought home and stored in the home freezer. This will prove more economical than to have the locker refrigeration plant do the complete processing," he adds.

He advises that several points be considered before buying a deep freeze unit.

Among these he lists: (1) Money available to invest; (2) whether the unit is open or sealed; (3) insulation, depending on manufacturers, should be closed to protect from pests, and should be moisture-proofed; (4) size needed for the family according to purpose for which it will be used; (5) deluxe, standard, or stripped model; (6) does door open right way for desired kitchen equipment; (7) finish; (8) shelves, space arrangement, adjustable, pull out for ease in reaching; (9) reliable manufacturer, reputable dealer, and available local service.

New Type Heat Resistant Assures Better Sun Lamps

Better sun lamps and laboratory glassware can now be made from a new type of heat-resisting material.

The new glass, called vycor, can be heated to 1800 degrees F. and rapidly cooled without breaking, and sun lamps made from vycor do not darken and lose their potency as rapidly as lamps containing other kinds of glass, Dr. Richard B. Ellis of the University of Miami told a meeting of the American Chemical society.

A novel process is employed to prepare the glass, which consists almost entirely of silica, or quartz. Fused silica has long been used because it is heat-resistant and does not impede the passage of ultra-violet light, he pointed out, but vycor may take the place of quartz glass, since it is cheaper to manufacture and easier to shape.

Vycor is made from a soft, alkaline glass, which has been molded or blown by conventional methods. The soft glass is then immersed in hot acid and the alkali is dissolved and washed out.

Determined Pigeon

YORKSHIREMAN kept homing pigeons and boasted that one of them could find its way home from anywhere.

A friend bet him 20 pounds that the bird could not fly back from London. The bet was taken and the pigeon was sent to King's Cross station to be let loose, but the man making the bet artfully arranged for the bird's wings to be clipped before it was liberated.

At the end of a week it had not returned.

"You wait," said the owner, confidently, "he'll be back all right."

At the end of two weeks the friend claimed that he had won the bet.

"He'll come home from anywhere," insisted the owner.

After three weeks the friend went round to claim the 20 pounds.

"That'll get nowt—these'st," said the Yorkshireman. "He coom last neet, but by gum, his feet were sore!"

QUAKER PSYCHOLOGY

A gentle Quaker, hearing a strange noise in his house one night, got up and discovered a burglar busily at work. So he went and got his gun, then came back, and stood quietly in the doorway.

"Friend," he said, "I would do thee no harm for the world, but thee standest where I am about to shoot."

Rainy Weather

A drunk staggered home and made his way subconsciously through the house, winding up in the stall shower of his bathroom. As he groped about, he turned on the water, deluging himself plenty and making a racket which brought the Little Woman to the scene.

Taking in the details, she called him all kinds of names winding up with a none too flattering estimate of his past, present and future.

"That's right, honey," admitted the shuddering sot. "I'm everything you said—and worse. But let me in, won't you?—it's raining something awful out here."

A DREAM COME TRUE

"When I was a little child," said the sergeant, addressing his men at the end of an exhausting drill. "I had a set of wooden soldiers. There was a poor boy in the neighborhood, and after I had listened to the beauties of charity, I softened enough to give them to him.

"Then I wanted them back and cried," he continued quietly. "But my mother said: 'Don't cry, Tom. Some day you will get your wooden soldiers back.'

"And," shouted the sergeant, glaring at his men, "believe me, that day has come."

Lost and Found

The following notice was inserted in the columns of a country weekly: "Anyone found near my chicken house at night will be found there in the morning."

COUNTRY APPRAISAL

A city boy and a country lad were walking down a street. Coming toward them was a product of the beauty parlor—permanent wave, scarlet fingernails, drugstore complexion and gaudy lipstick.

"Now what do you think of that?" asked the city boy.

The farm boy looked carefully and observed: "Speaking as a farmer, I should say that it must have been mighty poor soil to require so much top-dressing."

Monologue

A girl was out with a soldier. "So you really think I'm the most adorable girl you ever knew?" she cooed.

"Uh-huh."

"Do you think I'm the most attractive girl you have ever seen?"

"Uh-huh."

"Oh, I'm so glad! And do you adore my figure?"

"Uh-huh."

"You do say the most marvelous things, darling! Please do go on."

'Hot Lab' to Pioneer In Special Research

Plan Is Significant for Future of Atomic Energy.

ST. LOUIS, MO. — A "hot lab" rising on the grounds of Washington university soon will begin pioneering significant for the future of science and atomic energy.

"Hot" laboratories are those for studies with tracer atoms, the tell-tale radioactive kind that can be followed wherever they go.

It is the first one at any university that is not under auspices of the Atomic Energy commission, so far as Dr. Joseph W. Kennedy, 31, professor of chemistry and one of the earliest wartime workers on plutonium, knows.

This is one reason for the pioneering character of the lab.

Many universities are using or will use research facilities established under the AEC, but none other has been provided with a laboratory of its own.

The other reason is that the work at this laboratory likely never will make any headlines for readers interested only in inventions or immediately "useful" products from science.

It will try to discover some of the basic signposts that later may lead to such inventions.

Washington university will get its tracers or radioisotopes from the atomic oven at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and from its own cyclotron.

This machine and the larger one at the University of California at Berkeley produced plutonium in the early days of the Manhattan district work.

Projects now planned by scientists here, Dr. Kennedy said, include studies of just how molecules behave and affect each other, of photosynthesis in plants, of what chemical changes occur when radioactive chemicals decay, how various sugars are formed and their fate in the animal body, of fluorescence, of nucleic acids within cells, and what causes the colors in certain chemicals.

First Dinner in 26 Years Tastes 'Just Wonderful'

PITTSBURGH, PA. — Mickey Schuster, who was fed through a tube inserted in his stomach for 26 of his 28 years, ate a pork chop dinner and then nibbled on a chocolate covered cherry.

"It's wonderful to be able to eat like other people," said Mickey, who is recovering from a series of operations that enabled him to swallow food normally for the first time since he swallowed a can of lye when two years old.

"I could taste the food before," Mickey added, "but I couldn't swallow it."

Physicians said the Youngstown, Ohio, furniture worker could look forward to a normal life at the dinner table, although it will be another month before he leaves the hospital and he won't be able to return to work until next spring.

New Method of Treating Common Cold Described

WASHINGTON. — Chance discovery of a new—and still experimental—method of treating the common cold was described by a navy doctor.

"Encouraging" results in treatment of such colds have been achieved by benadryl, a drug originally developed as a treatment for certain allergic conditions, Capt. John M. Brewster reported in the U. S. Naval Medical Bulletin.

In fact, he said, it was while treating an allergy patient with the drug that he found, to his "surprise" that it apparently also checked a cold the patient had.

Brewster described subsequent experimental trials of the drug in 100 cases of common cold of virus origin as "most satisfying."

But, asserting that benadryl has a soporific (or sleep-inducing) effect, Brewster said patients using it should be cautioned "to avoid driving a car or operating potentially dangerous machinery while taking the drug."

Poor Breakfasts Termed Traffic Accident Hazards

TAMPA, FLA. — Burnt toast at breakfast, says a safety group official, may cause many an automobile accident.

"You would be surprised," said Asher Frank, director of Florida Safety council, "to learn of the number of accidents caused by bad cooking such as the eggs being burned, coffee not good, bacon not crisp and burnt toast."

"We have found men who had accidents due to these causes, for instead of having their minds on driving they were thinking of the poor breakfast they had."

Gave in Virginia Gives Up 30 Century-Old Skeletons

TAZEWELL, VA. — A cave gave up its century-old secret: 30 skeletons.

Unearthed on a farm three miles from here, the cave was explored by two farmers who reported they found the skeletons lying on the floor. Near the bodies were a number of beads.

GIVES HINTS FOR RETURN TO SCHOOL

School days! School days! Whether your child sings those words or moans them depends a great deal upon you, the parents.

Little things that may not seem important to you are vital to your child's happiness and success in school. Shirley Newsom who has had a great deal of experience instructing children in the Michigan State college nursery school reviews a few pointers for parents.

Whether your child is going for the first time or just starting back after summer vacation, there is likely to be some dread mixed with his anticipation of school. He needs some "props" from you as he sets forth. Feeling healthy and rested are of first importance to him. This means that he needs to be adjusted to a routine schedule before school starts and doesn't come back from the lake late the night before he starts school.

New clothes are a helpful boost to a child's morale. Remember that it is important to him to be like the gang so be sure that his clothes follow their pattern rather than what you think he "should" wear. Respect his judgement about school equipment, too.

Another pointer — just before school starts isn't a good time for a radical change in a child's appearance. Braids cut off, a new frizzy permanent, new braces on the teeth — are no help for first appearances. The comment from another child, "Gee, you look different!" may be quite upsetting.

Be sure he gets to school on time. Walking in late could be very embarrassing to him. And don't go with him or take him unless he wants you to. Let him feel independent — he probably is thinking of what the "other kids" will say.

MICHIGAN PEACH CROP READY TO CAN OR FREEZE

With Michigan's fine peach crop moving to market each housewife is speculating about preserving some of the expected 3,700,000 bushel crop for her own family. It's one way she can battle the high cost of living.

Whether you can or freeze peaches, by following the right directions you will have a beautiful product, advises Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State college.

Simplest way to skin peaches is to dip them in boiling water, then quickly in cold water and rub off the peelings. Then cut them in half and remove the pits. To prevent darkening while you're preparing peaches for canning, drop them into water containing two tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Drain just before heating or packing cold.

For a hot pack, heat peaches through in hot sirup. If fruit is very juicy you may heat it with sugar, adding no liquid. Pack the hot fruit to one-half inch of the top. Cover with boiling liquid, leaving one-half inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar for 20 minutes for either pints or quarts.

For a cold pack put the raw fruit to one-half inch of the top and cover with boiling sirup, leaving one-half inch space at the top. Adjust jar lids. Process in boiling water bath 25 minutes for pints and 35 minutes for quarts.

Peaches are excellent frozen but difficult to prepare. Work very quickly in the peeling process the same as for canning. Cut each half in four or six pieces. Pack quickly into containers and leave as little head space as possible. Packing procedure is to cover with a fifty per cent sirup. Adding ascorbic acid tablets (vitamin C) to the sirup will prevent the peaches from growing. You will need three-fourths teaspoon ascorbic acid crystals or 1,000 milligrams in tablet form to each quart of sirup.

A visitor at the Capitol was accompanied by his small son. The little boy watched from the gallery when the House came to order. "Why did the minister pray for all those men, Pop?" "He didn't. He looked them over and prayed for the country."

Missiles Attain Incredible Speed

New Navy Ram-Jet Engines Hit Speed Double That Of Sound.

CLEVELAND. — Speeds double that of sound have been flown by pilotless aircraft developed by American research, scientists say. Experiments with ram-jet engines have been conducted by the navy and speeds of 1,500 miles an hour have been attained. These experiments dealt only with engines.

At least two years ago American pilotless aircraft reached 1,000 miles an hour, it was disclosed by one expert here following a British announcement that a rocket powered research plane was dropped from a mosquito bomber into the Atlantic, attaining a speed of 900 miles an hour.

Faster Than Sound. An expert familiar with the British program said that the British vehicle closely resembles one built in this country by the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

The NACA's research missile, known as the RM-1, was launched from the ground, however, and flown out over the Atlantic from NACA's pilotless aircraft research station on Wallops island, off Virginia. The first one reached 1.4 times the speed of sound, or around 1,000 miles an hour.

Since then research planes in the "RM" series have reached double the speed of sound. Scientists call that speed simply "two," meaning "mach number" two. Mach numbers are speeds expressed in terms of their relation to the speed of sound at given temperatures. (Temperature, not altitude, determines the speed of sound, which varies from about 680 to 750 miles an hour.)

Ahead of Britain. The RM missiles—in this country the term missile rather than aircraft is used for such research vehicles even though they have experimental wings—have used both pre-set controls and remote controls for light stability tests. Experts are inclined to credit excitement over the British announcement to a difference in terminology. Such a research vehicle usually would not be described as a pilotless aircraft in this country.

One expert estimates the United States is two to three years ahead of the British in such pilotless missile research.

The navy, in testing some of its ram-jet engines capable of speeds of more than 1,500 miles an hour, launched them from shore with rocket assists to attain the initial speed needed to operate the engine.

The NACA recently made a drop flight test with a ram-jet engine and clocked it at 1.43 times the speed of sound, or just over 1,000 miles an hour. That engine did not carry wings. However, further drop tests will be made with more powerful ram jets and will have wings for study of airfoil design. Contemplated speeds are in the neighborhood of 2,000 miles an hour.

Britain Prints Ads Asking 'Little Men' Work Harder

LONDON, ENGLAND.—The government has started a newspaper advertising campaign to convince skeptical Britons that a grave economic crisis exists and the nation urgently needs more production.

The advertisements urge Briton's "little men" to work harder and explain in simple language why "the national problem is a personal problem for every one of us."

A cartoon pictures Britain as a housewife and the rest of the world as a grocer. "Mrs. Britain" is shown receiving 10 food packages and paying for only 6.

"It's exactly like a family spending 10 pounds ($40) for every 6 pounds it earns," the ad says, explaining the difference between what it must import in food and raw materials for industry.

Boy Should Keep Up on Her Toes to Get His Best Girl

SIKESTON, MO.—"Toe touchin'" is the name of a new game which seems to be nosing out oldtime box suppers in some sections—and you have to know your toes to get your best girl, too.

At Lincoln school here the girls prepared a meal. The boys put up the cash which went for benefit of the library. Then the girls took off their shoes, covered up with a sheet and let only their bare feet stick out. The boys went by and touched the foot they wanted next to their own at the dining table.

Rule 1 is that the feet must be well washed.

Boy's Tongue Trapped by Valve on Shop Refrigerator

CLEVELAND, OHIO. — Joseph Demko, 4, who was believed to have mistaken a valve on a Deepfreeze cabinet for a drinking fountain, suffered a torn tongue muscle and lost a piece of skin.

The boy's mother was making a purchase in a store when she heard him scream.

Finding his tongue stuck to the refrigerated cabinet, she first tried to pull him away, then grabbed the tongue. It came loose, but a piece of skin remained.

Seek Pine Cones To Supply Seed

The expanded reforestation program on farms has created a tremendous demand for tree seed in Michigan, according to W. Ira Bull, Michigan State college forester.

He reports that in order to grow the planting stock needed for farmers, the MSC Forestry Department must have large quantities of seed from most of the native coniferous species. These include white pine, red pine, jack pine, and white spruce. This seed will be purchased in the cones by the bushel or extracted seed will be bought by the pound, Bull reports.

This year prices which MSC will pay for the cones are: red pine, $8 per bushel; white pine, $1.50 per bushel; jack pine, $2.50 per bushel; and white spruce $7 per bushel.

Other coniferous seed needed by the Forestry Department include Balsam fir, white cedar, Norway spruce, and Scots pine.

Persons wanting more information on cone collecting should write to the Forestry Department, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Michigan, or the Dunbar Forest Experiment Station, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Cones collected in the Upper Peninsula should be delivered to Maurice Day, director of the Dunbar Forest Experiment Station. In lower Michigan, cones will be handled by W. Ira Bull, Forestry Department, Michigan State College.

CHILDREN CAN'T BE SPEEDED. THEY'LL WALK WHEN READY

Mothers and fathers who fret about their young fry learning to walk should relax and let the child take his own time, advises Mrs. Lenah Backus, extension specialist in child development at Michigan State college.

Sometime around the end of the first year a child is strong enough to walk. When his body is ready he will start to walk all of his own accord. There's nothing you can do to speed it up! Better let him set the time and that time may have no relation to when brother or sister or the neighbors' children started to walk.

Once he has his feet firmly on the ground, the right toys may make walking even more fun. Push toys give a beginning walker something to lean against—a little extra support.

Of course many of these toys that help walking make a noise—the engine has a bell, the lawn mower rattles, the wagon squeaks. There is a good reason why some toys are made this way. Children love noise, all kinds of noise. It's up to the parents to learn to take the noise because it seems to give children a sense of power and thus helps them to walk.

When your child does begin to walk he will explore everything, and you will want him to. Remove things for a time that are apt to keep you saying, "Don't touch!" At the same time see that your child has lots of things of his own that he can touch and bang and pile and lug.

Home Team

Lesson for September 5, 1948

HUSBAND AND WIFE: Team or tug-of-war? In times when more and more homes are splitting apart, it is refreshing to read the story of one home that stuck together.

Dr. Foreman

We do not know whether these two ever had children; no doubt their home was happier if they had. But we do know their names. No one who ever spoke of them mentioned one without the other. You could not think of Aquilla without thinking of his wife Priscilla (or Prisca for short), or vice versa. They were displaced persons, but that did not keep them down.

Family Trade Union

LIKE ALL JEWS of that time, they had a specialty, a trade they had learned. In this case someone had taught Prisca the same trade (or did she learn it from her husband?), so the two of them formed a sort of trade union. They were tentmakers, working not only in heavy tent-cloth but in the tanned skins of which many tents in that time were made.

Their home was a workshop, their hands were bent by long use of hard tools, very likely they initialed their produce. P & A tents were good tents. Their business was good, for we know they always had room for another guest, for another hand at the workbench. That was one thing helping their marriage to stick.

How many husbands and wives today are working teams? One reason why divorces are more common in cities than on farms is that the city man and his wife seldom have any work in common, while a farmer and his wife are a working team in which each needs the other to succeed. Find some work you two can share, even if it is washing the dishes, and you have something to help you hold together through the years.

More Than Meals

ANOTHER bond that held these together was their hospitality. They had a long list of friends, some of them distinguished. We know about Paul and Apollos and we hear of many others. But when Apollos stayed at their house, he was getting more than meals.

If you don't do more for a guest than feed him, he might-as well be at a restaurant. If you don't do more than amuse him, he might as well be at the movies. What those two did for Apollos was to give him ideas, bigger ideas, truer and better than he had ever had, about the Christian faith. No doubt Apollos enjoyed Priscilla's lamb chops, but when he left that home he was not merely a well-fed man but one whose soul had grown.

Here again is something for husband and wife today. What are you doing for the people who come in your door? If they come for dinner you wouldn't insult them with trash or poison. What do you give their minds, their souls? Poison, trash or food?

The Church in Their House

EVIDENTLY the P & A tents made enough money for Priscilla and Aquilla to have a spacious home, for we find Paul in a letter mentioning "the church in their house." This more than anything else kept these two together, a working team. You know in every church there are a few key people. They may not be conspicuous, but like the distributor under an automobile hood, if they are not there things do not run smoothly and maybe not at all.

Aquilla and Priscilla were like that. Their church naturally revolved around them. This must have taken a good deal of their time, no doubt it cost them money, and it must have meant work. But if the church was in their house it was because they wanted it that way. It would be hard to believe that they asked for this so as to keep themselves from drifting apart; yet undoubtedly that was one effect of it.

The great majority of divorces are among people who have no connection with the church whatever. Many, of course, are of persons who are on church rolls somewhere. But how many broken marriages do you know among persons who are active in Christian work?

HESSIAN FLY:

It will soon be time to begin planting wheat. Some farmers always plant the wheat planted by the last of August, while others spread it out late in the fall.

In the past, considerable amounts of wheat have been damaged by the Hessian Fly. These flies pass the winter as larvae and change to flies in the spring. These flies lay the eggs for the insects that cause lodging and shriveled grain.

The population of these flies decrease as the weather cools during late summer and early fall, and unless wheat is available at this time for egg laying, the flies will die.

The fly free date for Charlevoix County has been determined as September 3. Wheat planted about this date will escape injury from the Hessian Fly in most years. Also there is still enough time after September 3 for wheat to become established before winter sets in. It is a good plan to plant as soon as possible after the Fly Free date.

TOMATO BLIGHT

The present weather of cool nights and hot days is ideal for the development and spread of late blight on tomatoes, Ed Reberman, County Agr'l. Agent stated today. Warnings have been issued that cases of blight have been found in southern Michigan. Blight, if once started, can wipe out the entire crop.

For protection every home gardener should spray once a week with one of the fixed coppers at the rate of two pounds metallic copper per 100 gallons of water, or two table-spoons per gallon of water, or use a carbamate like Parzate or Dithane according to manufacturer's recommendations. If late blight appears in the field, spray every four or five days.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT APPROVED

Final word was received this week from Russ Hill, Secretary of the Soil Conservation Service, that the proposed district for Charlevoix County has been approved. The three farmers who were elected to the board of directors are, Carlton Smith, George Klooster and Clayton Healey. Two other directors Peter Winnick and Norval Korhase, have been appointed. This five man board will operate your Soil Conservation District.

The first meeting of this board will be in the near future. At this time the board will formally organize and officers will be elected. Mr. Hill will be on hand to explain the duties of the board of directors.

Several folks have asked about securing help, as yet we do not have a district man in the county and in all possibilities it will probably be at least until next spring before such help is available. Information regarding signing an application will be sent out following the first board meeting.
