Turkey Shoot Sunday, Oct. 31

ANNUAL EVENT OF SPORTSMEN'S CLUB, OCT. 31

The annual turkey shoot of the Jordan River Sportsmen Club will be held at the Sportsmen's Club rifle range on the Boyne City road, Sunday, Oct. 31. All sportsmen are invited.

Considerable improvements have been made at the range in the past few weeks through the ingenuity of some of the sportsmen and the co-operation of the East Jordan Iron Works. The old system of overhead cable for the running deer target has been replaced by a track system. A deeper and longer pit has been dug so that the targets can be checked in a more efficient manner.

The shooting distance for the running deer targets is 11 yds. with deer rifle, 10 to 12 contestants competing for a turkey.

The Bounding Bunny targets are run at about 75 ft. and the winner in a bracket of ten contestants receives a chicken.

Pistol and Archery have been added this year with chickens as prizes. Coffee and sandwiches will be served at the range.

More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of.

WITH THE ANTRIM COUNTY AGR'L AGENT

W. Kirkpatrick, Extension Agent

PLANS FOR COUNTY RAT CONTROL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED
The final plans on the County-Wide Rat Baiting Program as is being sponsored by the Antrim County Agricultural Council is being announced by Walter G. Kirkpatrick, County Agricultural Agent.

To make it easy for everyone in the County to cooperate in the program, various businesses in each of our local communities are cooperating in accepting orders for Rat Bait. Every one including people that live on farms or in villages that have any idea they have any of these rodents are urged to cooperate in the program by going to a distribution station nearest them, ordering the amount of bait needed and paying for same at the time the order is placed. All orders must be placed by Friday, Oct. 29. The bait which consists of Red Squill Poison which is specific for rats only, will be delivered at each of the distribution points where the order is placed so that individuals can pick it up Nov. 4 for County Bait Day, Nov. 5.

Businesses cooperating throughout the County in which orders will be received are as follows: Albs-Russells Garage and Winships Store; Alden-Alden Marketing Ass'n; Atwood-Essenburgs Feed Store; Bellaire-Gerald Biehl & Son; Central Lake-Argo Milling Co., and Dale Burns; East Jordan-East Jordan Cooperative Marketing Ass'n; Elk Rapids-Community Supply Co., John Vogeli; Ellsworth-Ellsworth Farmers' Exchange and Ellsworth Feed Co.; Elmira-Zaremba Store; Pleasant Valley-Petries Store; Manzelona-Ecklunds Feed Store and Wisler's Farm Store.

Rats can kill 100 or more baby chicks in one night. They will eat up to 50 pounds of feed in one year and destroy many times as much feed as they eat. Rats can cause fire by knowing electric wires and are a known source of spreading diseases. Rats move from farm to farm and home to home that is why Antrim County is planning a County wide campaign to fight everywhere with poison bait.

Help your neighbor control rats by eliminating the rats around your own home or farm.

Red Devils Scorch Ramblers

TO THE TUNE OF 6-0 IN LAST FRIDAY'S TILT

Capitalizing on one of three scoring opportunities, the East Jordan Red Devils held the Boyne City Ramblers scoreless.

East Jordan received the kick-off. The Red Devils carried the ball well into Rambler territory. A touchdown pass from Cutler to Holland was fumbled on Boyne City 25 yd. line.

The Jordanites continued to drive through and Boyne City was unable to stop the East Jordan boys who were "Touchdown Bound". A touchdown by Max Sommerville on a hand-off through tackle was completed in the first quarter. A try for the extra point failed on a fumble. Both teams fought desperately in the second quarter, neither team scoring.

The third quarter was as thrills-packed as the other two quarters, with East Jordan pounding a path to the Boyne City goal line. Boyne stopped the scoring threat, when a pass from the five yard line was intercepted. The Ramblers passed and punched their way out of danger to the midfield stripe. Both teams were fighting their traditional battle.

The finish was deadlocked with neither team in a serious position to score. A brief flare-up of tempers caused a Boyne player to be eliminated from the play. The traditional rivalry ended with East Jordan in possession of the ball and the ball game by a hard fought score of 6-0.

South Arm Farm Bureau Elect Officers

The South Arm Community Bureau held their Oct. meeting at the home of Nina L. Zimmerman with T. F. French and Joyce Petras as co-host and hostess. The house was decorated and lighted by jack-o-lanterns, and upon entering, each lady was presented with a yarn mustache and each gentleman with a bright hair bow, causing much merriment. After voting Helen Klooster and Delbert Ingalls funniest lady and gentleman, the meeting was called to order by chairman, George Klooster. He gave an interesting short talk on "Soil Conservation."

After a brief business meeting, officers for the coming year were elected. Included are: Chairman, Geo. Klooster; Vice-chairman, J. M. Ingalls; Sec'y-Treas., Nina Zimmerman; Discussion Leader, Delbert Ingalls; County Director, August Bulmann; Roll Call Capt., T. F. French; County Women's Chairman, Nina Zimmerman; Hospital Service Sec'y, Helen Klooster.

Chas. Mascho, County Sec'y, gave an interesting explanatory talk on the new Automobile Insurance plan for Farm Bureau. Election of officers used the time usually allotted to discussion, so the meeting was adjourned and an informal discussion held over the coffee cups during the serving of the pot luck lunch. Next meeting will be held at the Geo. Klooster home in Nov.

Candidates Named For Production Credit Directors

Plans are well under way for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Gaylord Production Credit Ass'n. The meeting is to start promptly at 11:00 A. M. at the V. F. W. Hall, Gaylord, Mich. on Friday, Nov. 5th. One of the important purposes of the annual meeting will be the election of two directors for a term of three years. The terms of George H. MacKenzie of Johannesburg and Ed Hartung of Levering expire at this meeting. Mr. MacKenzie is not a candidate for re-election because he feels he is too busy with farm work to attend to the duties of the office properly.

The nominating committee, composed of Paul Tippet of Harbor Springs, Frank Drefts of Gaylord and Joseph Koronka of Gaylord have nominated the following candidates: Ed Hartung of Levering, Lee Bosma of Harbor Springs for Emmet County area and Albert Kasuba of Gaylord and Joseph Theisen of Gaylord for the Otsego County area. These men will be candidates for the two directors to be elected, in addition to any who may be nominated from the floor.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Geo. Susens, President of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul.

In addition to the regular business the board has succeeded in getting Mr. Earl Parchman of Williamston who will provide 45 minutes of excellent entertainment. Those who attended the Potatoe & Apple Show at Bellaire last year will agree with this. Free lunch will be served at noon. All stockholders are urged to attend. The meeting this year is open only to stockholders and their families.

School Census To Be Taken

SURVEY TO BE MADE WEEK OF OCTOBER 11th.

New national school enrollment figures will soon be available as a result of inquiries to be made of 25,000 representative families throughout the United States as a part of the U. S. Bureau of the Census. A considerable number of East Jordan families are included in this survey, as announced today by the District Supervisor, Donald F. Watkins, whose office is located in Room 200, Post Office Building, Boyne City, Mich. Information obtained from the selected families in East Jordan will be combined with data furnished by families in 67 other representative areas, Mr. Watkins, stated. By using this "sampling" procedure, the Bureau of the Census is able to obtain important national totals quickly without the expense of a total enumeration of the population, though the number of interviews in any one city is far too small to provide the basis for local estimates.

Four questions on school enrollment were asked of households in the October survey. The answers will provide information on the number of persons enrolled in kindergartens or schools, the grade they were attending, the number of persons in public schools, and the highest grade of school completed. These answers will help in planning for the increased school enrollment which is sure to result from the greatly increased numbers of children born during the war years.

The school enrollment questions are in addition to regular questions on employment which are asked each month in the current population survey.

The Oct. current population survey was conducted in East Jordan by a small number of trained Census enumerators during the week of Oct. 11. Supervisor, Mr. Watkins pointed out that all individual information furnished to the Census Bureau is treated as confidential under Federal law.

Recruits Now Wanted For Enrollment In Mich. State Police

Sergeant Edgar Welsch, commander of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police, will be at his office from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., Thursday, Nov. 11, to interview young men interested in joining the department.

While candidates for enlistment may make application at any time, this day is being set aside especially for interviews with those who desire to learn more about the department and to help them fill out their application blanks.

"We are at present conducting a recruiting effort in preparation for another training school. We expect to get enough graduates out of this school to bring our force up to authorized strength, so it is advisable that candidates do not delay, but get now in filing their applications. Succeeding schools will be held only to make replacements unless authorization is given to increase the size of the department."

Candidates must be between 21 and 30 years of age, inclusive, physically fit, unmarried, and have a high school education or its equivalent. Regarded as a career service, the State Police offer subsistence in addition to salary, civil service employment security, interesting work, promotions based on merit, paid vacations, sick leave and a pension. In addition, the Veterans' Administration has classified the State Police training school as on-the-job training and veterans are eligible for extra compensation under the GI bill.

While the candidates find it advantageous to call at the post, Sergeant Edgar Welsch said, they need not do so, but may obtain information and application blanks by writing to the Civil Service Commission or the Michigan State Police in Lansing.

Lime Needs Should Be Checked Before Planting Legumes

If you're planning to make a seeding of alfalfa, red clover, or other legumes, it will pay to check the lime needs of the land, James A. Porter, extension soil scientist at Michigan State college, reports.

Seed and fertilizer for these seedings will cost from 12 to 15 dollars per acre. If the lime requirement of the soil has not been met, the return from this investment will be greatly reduced or even lost.

A number of things can cause this crop failure. Perhaps the farmer does not suspect that the soil is acid. Maybe liming material is applied but not in sufficient quantity to neutralize the acidity. Sometimes the liming material is applied such a short time before seeding that there is not time for the necessary chemical action to take place.

Porter says the farmer need not guess. He can know whether any soil needs lime by having the soil tested or by testing it himself. For this test, or the outfit to make his own tests, he can arrange with his county agricultural agent.

Fall application of lime is good insurance that liming material will have time to correct soil acidity before seeding. Liming material can be spread on sod land in the fall, and even when the soil is frozen, if conditions are good for spreading.

On sloping fields where the liming material might be washed away, it is best to apply at a time when it can be worked into the soil soon after applying.

Five Amendments To Be Voted

AT THE GENERAL ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

When you go to the polls on Nov. 2 you will be asked to ballot on five constitutional amendment proposals and two referendum issues. One may vote intelligently only by a careful examination and study of these statements and proposals.

Amendment I.
An amendment relative to the succession to the governorship. The object is to prevent in Michigan what happened in Georgia following the election of 1946 when the governor-elect died before his inauguration. There was no provision in the Georgia constitution to provide for this contingency. We had a similar flaw in our Federal Constitution until the passage of the 20th Amendment.

Amendment II.
An amendment which provides for the repeal of the sales tax diversion which was passed by the legislature in 1946. This law has had the strong support of both the schools and the municipalities. There was a feeling on the part of many people that the legislature was cool to the needs of education and local government. The state officials are, generally speaking, opposed to the sales tax law because, they say, it places the legislature in a financial strait-jacket — not being able to appropriate money as they see fit. The law as it now stands provides that one-third of the sales tax is to be returned to the local communities. Of the one-third returned, one-half goes to the schools and the other half goes to the townships, villages and cities, on a population basis.

Amendment III.
An amendment which makes it possible for the salaries of the elective state officials to be set by the legislature and not provided for specifically in the Constitution itself. As it now stands, the salaries can be raised or lowered only by changing the Constitution. Michigan's present Constitution was adopted in 1908 when the purchasing power of a dollar was much higher than it is today.

Amendment IV.
This amendment is similar to amendment III only here it applies to the salaries and compensation of the legislatures themselves. No increase in salary would be retroactive—that is, it would apply to succeeding legislatures but not the one passing the law.

Amendment V.
An amendment which would modify the present 15-mill tax limitation. This amendment, like amendment II, is one of particular interest to our State's schools. As the law is now, the maximum amount of taxes for all purposes that may be assessed against property in any year is 15 mills or $15.00 per $1,000.00. However, qualified voters by a two-thirds vote may increase the tax up to 50 mills or $50. per $1,000. for five years. If adopted, this amendment would provide for increasing the tax up to 50 mills over a 20-year period by a simple majority vote.

Proposal VI.
A proposal which requires the registration of foreign agencies within the State of Michigan. This provides for a referendum on the much discussed Callahan law adopted by the legislature in 1947. It was the purpose of this law to drive Communist and Communist-front agencies out into the open by requiring such groups to register with the Attorney General as to their purpose, size, financial status, etc.

Proposal VII.
This proposal will appear by itself on a ballot. It proposes to call a convention for a complete revision of the Constitution. Michigan's Constitution was revised last in 1908. Unlike the above six proposals which require only a simple majority of those voting for adoption, this one requires a majority of all the votes cast. Vote!!

Doris Meredith Studio In New Location

The former barber shop of Frank Phillips. Remodeling is underway and it is hoped, according to Bill Huckle, that part of the new Studio will be opened in about 10 days. However, it will be some time before the "setting" or camera room addition is completed. Meanwhile, the Studio will operate from its present location on Second St.

Mrs. Jane Bowen, Worthy Matron of Mark Chapter, O. E. S., entertained the 1947-48 officers at her home, Saturday evening, with a chicken dinner. There were 14 present to enjoy a delightful meal, after which bunco was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Bechtold of Des Moines, Iowa, were guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Bechtold, Thursday.

a limited amount of whole milk to a calf and replacing the milk with a dry calf "starter" (calf meal) it is now! Milk is high! Grain and therefore calf meals are lower in price. With milk selling on a real good market it is possible to save $25.00 or so in raising a calf by skipping the whole milk and replacing it with the right kind of calf meal.

It is possible to raise a calf up through 16 weeks with about 175 lbs. of milk to small calves, to about 315 lbs. to larger calves. In each case about 400 lbs. of calf meal is needed. The above system is explained in Extension Bulletin 105, entitled, "Raising Dairy Calves." For your copy drop a Post Card to the County Extension Office in Boyne City.

GROWING CERTIFIED SEED:
 If you have a farm quite free of noxious weeds there is no reason why you shouldn't raise certified seed. To obtain the extra premium that is derived from this enterprise. The first step is to join the Michigan Crop Improvement Association. Membership is open to any farmer and costs only $1.00 per year. They you will have the problem of getting registered seed. For more information on this see your County Agricultural Agent.

Why Cities, Schools and Townships are Concerned about the November Election

PROPOSAL NO. 2
 In 1946 the people adopted an amendment guaranteeing to cities, schools and townships a share of the sales tax money. In the year ending June 30, the City of East Jordan received $9,711.75, the East Jordan School District received $18,191.77, South Arm Township received $4,107.00, Wilson Township $3,067.00 and the other Townships within the school district received like amounts in proportion to their population as a result of this amendment.

The State did not suffer, it ended the same fiscal year with a surplus.

Proposal No. 2 would repeal this amendment and take this money away from your City, School, and Townships.

Vote NO on No. 2

PROPOSAL NO. 5
 The 15 mill limitation can be increased for five years only and requires sixty-six and two-thirds per cent majority.

Owing to the abnormal increase in school age children, many school districts find their buildings greatly over crowded and cannot raise enough money in a five year period to erect new buildings without extremely high taxes.

Proposal No. 5 would keep the limitation but would change it to a majority vote and extend the period to not more than 20 years.

Vote YES on No. 5

True Wisdom

Lesson for October 31, 1948

WHAT is the most important thing in the world? What is worth more than anything else? Some would say Money; some Power; some Goodness; some Truth. Another answer is given by the writers of a group of books, two of which are included in our Bible. "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom," they say.

The books of Dr. Foreman Proverbs and Ecclesiastes in our Protestant Bible, and the books of Ecclesiasticus and the Wisdom of Solomon in the Apocrypha, all have this viewpoint and are therefore called the Wisdom Literature.

Other writers in the Bible divide the human race into the Good and the Wicked, or the Believers and the Unbelievers; but these writers see mankind as the Wise and the Foolish. The books they wrote (especially Proverbs) were intended particularly for those who are so far neither foolish nor wise—that is to say, the young.

Knowledge Is Not Wisdom

WISDOM (as these writers use the word) is not the same thing as knowledge. A person may know a great many things and still be a fool. Or he may not even know how to read and write, and yet be wise. Some modern writer has said: Knowledge is knowing what to do; skill is knowing how to do it; and virtue is doing it. Wisdom is all of these put together.

But the special feature of the "Wisdom Writers" is this: True wisdom begins with the fear of God. "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom . . . the knowledge of God is understanding." In other words, wisdom without religion, without faith, is foolish after all.

We can see how in our times the story of the Nazis has shown this once more to be true. The German Reich of 1935-1939 had the best of the science of the world; they had scholarship and wealth and "know-how" in many fields; but they rejected God and defied his church—and so a nation was destroyed.

We too may profit by their example. We of the western nations have wealth and technical skills beyond any other peoples, we have the atom bombs—but have we the wisdom without which all these things are but as torches in the hands of madmen?

University on Ant-Hill

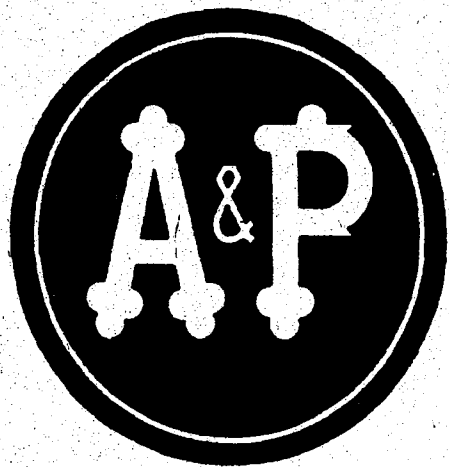

KNOWLEDGE may be expensive. It costs a great deal of money to know what it takes to be an engineer, or a surgeon. Wisdom, strange to say, is less expensive. It is fact on such a low shelf that most people pass it by.

Consider where the "Wisdom Writers" tell us we may learn wisdom. One place is experience. "Experience keeps an expensive school, but fools will learn in no other—and hardly from that," says a more modern proverb.

Many of the proverbs in our Bible are simply distilled drops

OF EXPERIENCE "A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger," for example. Do you need an angel from the sky to tell you that? Another source of wisdom is just nature herself. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard (lazy fellow): consider her ways and be wise." A lazy man is a fool; but how shall he learn to be wise? Not by reading books—just by watching the ants.

Inspired Common Sense
 A FORMER governor of Virginia used to say that during his term of office he received more practical help from reading Proverbs than from any of the books on political science in his library. For the scientist, or the art of government is simply one specialized form of that most important art, getting along with people. And the Wisdom Literature shows us how it is done. Some people think that inspiration is always mysterious, and that the Holy Spirit would not stoop to inspire what we could learn in any ordinary way. But the Christian church, when it declares Proverbs (for example) inspired, expresses her belief that there is such a thing as Inspired Common Sense. God may speak to us, and does speak—if we will listen—in the advice of our parents, in the everyday experiences, in the hard-working and the majesty of the soaring eagle. All truth is God's truth, even when we find it in our own backyard. (Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of Protestant denominations. Reprinted by WNU Features.)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Truman Proposes Moscow Mission, Rocks Foundation of U. S. Policy; Russ Ask Big Four Parley Renewal
 By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer
 (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Bi-partisan unity in the U. S. was grievously wounded by the knife-edged Berlin crisis when, on the one hand, President Truman called a private conference with Under Secretary of State Robert Lovett and Secretary of State George Marshall to mull over the situation . . .

and, on the other hand, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey summoned his foreign affairs advisor, John Foster Dulles, from Paris to find out for himself what was going on in Europe.

DIPLOMACY: Trip Canceled
 To President Truman, for engineering the abortive deal to send Chief Justice Fred Vinson to Moscow for personal talks with Kremlin leaders on the atomic bomb, went the credit for producing the most heroically proportioned diplomatic faux pas of the year. It happened very swiftly and very simply, Mr. Truman deciding suddenly to try his own hand at straightening out the tangled foreign mess, started making preparations to send Vinson to Russia. THEN the state department heard about it. Robert Lovett, under-secretary of state, profoundly shocked, notified George Marshall who came winging frantically across the Atlantic from Paris to stop the President from committing what he considered a blunder of immense gravity. The Vinson trip was called off, of course, and President Truman backed hastily away from the whole business after issuing an abashed note of explanation. BUT THE memories lingered on. Mr. Truman, in the minds of those who knew or thought they knew about the international situation, had gone completely beyond the pale with this momentary, headstrong effort. His campaign opponent, Gov. Thomas Dewey, at first wavered between righteous anger at what he obviously considered a deliberate flouting of the established bi-partisan foreign policy and elation that the Democratic candidate had made such a grievous tactical error. And although the Dewey camp was astute enough to realize that its cause would benefit more if it magnanimously ignored the affair than if it leaped in for the slaughter, it nevertheless redounds to the New York governor's credit that he did not take advantage of this internationally dangerous situation for his personal gain.

Significance
 Why was President Truman so widely and thoroughly castigated for making what he undoubtedly looked upon as a sincere, constructive attempt to clear up the Russians' "misunderstanding" of the problem of atomic control? Because his intention of sending Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow represented a serious divergence from the basic characteristic of U. S. foreign policy—toughness with Russia. MR. TRUMAN'S proposal amounted to a softening up of the laboriously built "get tough" attitude of the U. S. toward Moscow. It was tantamount to saying in a pleading voice, "Let's get together once more and try to talk this thing out." Current history has proved that the kind of personal diplomacy the President sought to institute in the Vinson trip has been completely unavailing in dealing with Russia since the war. Moreover, insofar as personal diplomacy always tends to bypass the United Nations, it usually has an ill effect on international relations in general. IN THE final analysis, a personal visit to the Kremlin by Vinson probably would have upset the entire, carefully fabricated structure of the policy upon which the U. S. is depending to defeat Russia's aims in Europe.

JUST A FIRE HAZARD
'Sagging' White House Due for Repairs
 This probably will cost you a million dollars. The White House—America's home for its presidents—will undergo a series of reconstruction jobs next year that will bolster up the slightly sagging, 132-year-old executive mansion. And it is probable that the work may cost U. S. taxpayers as much as a million dollars. W. E. Reynolds, public buildings commissioner, said a structural survey is being conducted to determine what repairs are needed. Large scale improvements of the rambling presidential residence will have to be undertaken, Reynolds pointed out, because the building as it now stands is such a fire hazard "it would not pass the code of any single responsible city in America."

CHURCHILL: Grim Accents
 At the British Conservative party's annual convention in Llandudno, Wales, Winston Churchill, never a man to deal in firm optimism when the going was tough, talked in grim accents about the world's peril. HE WAS the old pre-war, no-appeasement Churchill as he warned against letting any French breach appear in the line of western resistance to Soviet drives. To the United States he said, in effect: Keep those atomic bombs. Destruction of the U. S. atomic arsenal now would be tantamount to suicide. "If it were not for the stocks of atomic bombs now in the trusteeship of the United States there would be no means of stopping the subjugation of western Europe by Communist machinations backed by Russian armies and enforced by political parties. "BOLSHEVIK Russia is already heavily armed and her forces in Europe far exceed those of all the western countries put together. At the present time the only sure foundation of peace—and the prevention of actual war—rests upon strength. He urged the West to "bring matters to a head and make a final settlement" before Russia produces a usable bomb. Such a settlement, according to the view of the wartime British prime minister, could be arrived at only after the Russians had released their grip on satellite states, released the German and Japanese prisoners they "now hold as slaves," ceased to "oppress, torment and exploit" those parts of Austria and Germany they hold and called a halt to disruptive operations elsewhere in the world. BUT CHURCHILL would not be a party to issuing any "false hopes of a friendly settlement with Soviet Russia." Actually, he said, the Berlin blockade may precipitate a war at any time.

ALIENS: On the Job
 The U. S. is hiring scores of aliens, many of them in countries behind the iron curtain, to staff its 27-million-dollar international information program. Leland J. Barrows, deputy director of the state department's office of information and education, told the senate appropriations committee that the department planned to add 278 aliens and 60 Americans to overseas duty by the end of the 1948 fiscal year. WHAT WILL they do? Barrows said that the aliens—14 of whom will be added to the American embassy in Moscow—would be used primarily as translators, clerks, messengers and in other work associated with the U. S. foreign information program. Testimony before the committee showed that the state department gained the committee's reluctant approval of its foreign-hiring plan, despite the objections of Chairman Styles Bridges (R., N.H.) who contended that it would provide a fertile field for Communist infiltration into government functions. GEORGE V. ALLEN, assistant secretary of state, countered that there were certain jobs that had to be performed overseas that could best be done by aliens. He said aliens could be employed much cheaper for certain tasks where they can be watched fairly easily, even though Americans may suspect their loyalty. This departure from the norm in the business of hiring federal employees was a new wrinkle in the government that very probably will be attracting considerable public attention within the next few months.

ANYTHING NEW? What, No War?
 Answers to the question "Does Russia want war?" are a drug on the market, in informed and uninformed circles alike, but now and then someone comes up with a reply that is a little more imaginative than most. ONE OF this kind has been furnished by an experienced professional diplomat—necessarily anonymous lest his identity become known to the Russians—who is attending the U. N. meetings in Paris. He said: "There will be no war soon. The reason is that Stalin, the head of the peace party, has just had Andrei Zhdanov, the head of the war party, murdered." (Zhdanov, who died several weeks ago, was one of the ranking members of the politburo where he was almost on a par with Molotov in power and influence. He had been talked of as a possible successor to Stalin. His demise was mourned with parades, pageantry and ostentation by Stalin, the boys in the Kremlin and the Russian people.) "HE (ZHDANOV) urged immediate war. He argued that if Russia was defeated militarily she would win politically, since the resulting horror and chaos would cause a new, irresistible wave of communism. "As long as Zhdanov was successful, Stalin gave him his head. When he failed in Yugoslavia, Stalin told him to lay off. Zhdanov defied the Soviet generalissimo. So Stalin got his head. "This means that Stalin's waiting tactics have prevailed. There will be no war soon."

BIG FOUR: Come Again
 While the U. S. state department was exerting all its influence to prevent a return to direct negotiations with Russia at this time, the Soviets were hammering away at the opposite course of action by demanding that Big Four discussions of the Berlin issue be resumed. THE TWO viewpoints, starkly emphasized by the reception Mr. Truman's futile mission-to-Moscow idea received in the U. S., revealed with extreme clarity the broad gap now separating the East and West. Russia's demand wasn't new. It was a repetition of Moscow's now well-established tactics in East-West relations. What the Soviets wanted was simply that the Berlin question be removed from the agenda of the U. N. security council and that discussions among the Big Four be resumed where they were severed last August in Moscow. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, deputy Soviet foreign minister, handed a note to that effect to Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, acting president of the security council, who separately informed the U. S., British and French delegations. IT WAS all wasted effort as far as the western powers were concerned. Neither the U. S., Britain, nor France wanted to get within shouting distance of direct negotiations with the Russians at this point. One western spokesman commented simply, "The Russian reply is unhelpful." The Soviets, again, were making no concession to peace.

Constantine Boldyreff is a man who wants to take the classic Communist concept of the necessity of revolution and apply it to Russia itself. Claiming to represent a world-wide Russian anti-Communist organization dedicated to the overthrow of the Stalin regime, Boldyreff believes that the great mass of Russia's 167 million people are ready for revolt.

SUB RADAR: Sentry Duty
 A submarine with radar "eyes," a new unit in the nation's defense system, was scheduled to start operating in November to detect any hostile planes attempting a sneak approach across such remote reaches as the polar seas. The navy announced that the submarine Tigrone, taken from the reserve fleet and converted into the first radar picket submarine, was to be commissioned November 1.

Intentional Retake

KNOWLEDGE may be expensive. It costs a lot of money to know what it takes to be as wise as a serpent and as clean as a dove. To say it is less expensive, it is fact on such a low shelf that most people pass it by.

Consider where the "Wisdom Writers" tell us we may learn wisdom. One place is experience. "Experience keeps an expensive school, but fools will learn in no other— and hardly from that," says a more modern proverb.

Many of the proverbs in our Bible are simply distilled drops of experience. "A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger," for example. Do you need an antidote to that?

Another source of wisdom is just nature herself. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard (lazy fellow); consider her ways and be wise." A lazy man is a fool; but how shall he learn to be wise? Not by reading books—just by watching the ants.

Inspired Common Sense
A FORMER governor of Virginia used to say that during his term of office he received more practical help from reading Proverbs than from any of the books on political science in his library. For the science, or the art, of government is simply one specialized form of that most important art, getting along with people. And the Wisdom Literature shows that that is common sense.

So you see, there is no magic. The Holy Spirit would not stoop to inspire what we could learn in any ordinary way. But the Christian church, when it declares Proverbs (for example) inspired, expresses her belief that there is such a thing as inspired Common Sense.

God may speak to us, and does speak—if we will listen—in the advice of our parents, in the everyday incidents of the maturity of the soaring eagle. All truth is God's truth, even when we find it in our own backyard.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Want To Join Our Club?
 Newcomers to our town are puzzled when they hear talk of "The Barbecue Club." Want to know who can join, and what the purpose is.
 Well, the answer is: any one can join who's neighborly inclined. The purpose is simply to enjoy good food, good beer and ale, good conversation—all towards getting to know one another better.
 Every other Saturday, at one farm or another, the pit is dug, and the fire started. And by sundown, neighbors from miles around have come together—the women contributing cakes, pies, and coffee, the men contributing the meat for barbecuing, and the beer or ale.
 From where I sit, it's this simple wholesome side of country life in America—its spirit of good-fellowship—that makes for tolerance and better understanding between neighbors.
 As I say, Neighbor, any one can join up! So come along a week from this Saturday.

Small Game Hunting Reported Good This Year

Capsule comments concerning current small game, duck, and bow and arrow deer seasons, as reported by conservation department game men:

Pheasants -- in general, there are more pheasants; hunting pressure rather light, not greater than last year in most areas, in some instances rather less; weather conditions better than a year ago; a long way from a good year despite some improvement; game men's preseason prediction that there is some increase in legal birds is apparently borne out by reports from counties in pheasant range.

Ducks -- best success in several years reported by hunters; hunting pressure comparatively light; good shooting reported for Saginaw Bay, St. Clair Flats and Pte. Mouillee marshes; favorable reports received from inland marshes downstate and from Dead Stream area west of Houghton lake; bluewing teal flights almost over; some flight ducks being taken, especially redheads and canvasbacks.

Grouse -- better success than last season reported for Eastern Alcona, Gladwin, Arenac, southern Ogemaw, Presque Isle and Alpena counties; about the same as last year in Crawford, western Alcona, Oscoda, Roscommon, Montmorency, and north half of Ogemaw.

Deer -- archers taking more deer than year ago; 30 deer taken to date in Lewiston area, 12 to 15 in Oscoda county.

MSC Dean Defends Farmers In Blame For High Prices

Those who place the blame for high food prices on the American farmer are not familiar with facts of philosophy of farm people according to E. L. Anthony, dean of the school of agriculture at Michigan State college.

"Fact show the production of food products on American farms has increased steadily since 1936. Today the production of all farm products is 50 percent greater than the base 1910-1914 average and nearly 30 percent higher than the 1936-1940 average", the dean pointed out.

Greater supplies of foodstuffs normally act to keep prices lower, Dean Anthony maintained and then added: "The farmers certainly have done everything possible to keep production up."

"The farmer is by instinct a producer. He wants to produce more because he has always worked on the theory that the more he produces from the land, without causing lasting harm to the soil, the more income he will have to spend for things that make life more enjoyable."

Dean Anthony jokingly theorized that maybe the farmers were having it easier today than several years ago. He remarked: "I see the latest federal survey shows the average Mich. farm operator is working only 11.8 hours a day compared with 12.1 hours a day in 1946. Perhaps they're enjoying that 20 minutes a day trying to figure out how they can buy the lumber at present day inflated prices to make needed repairs on their barns."

Homemakers' Corner

Home Economics Specialists Michigan State College

Is it necessary for you to be as tired as you are at the end of a day filled with homemaking tasks? It probably isn't necessary according to the conclusion of Irma H.

Gross, head of the department of home management and child development at Michigan State college.

She and her staff members have studied a great many housewives doing their daily duties and have tried to help them streamline their activities to use the least amount of energy.

Trying to avoid tiredness is not the only way to be less tired. One of the simplest ways is to use your body more effectively. This isn't always easy but at least it doesn't involve new tools or equipment. It does require forming new habits.

For example, bending your back in a full arch to work close to the floor or pick up an object from the floor is a common mistake. To avoid fatigue, the better way is to stoop, holding the back straight. If picking up something, grasp the object and then rise. Lifting a baby is an example.

Moving heavy objects such as furniture is another way to tire yourself more than necessary. If you can't wait for your husband to come to your rescue and feel that you must move that chest of drawers—push at the center. Extend your arms and push in the middle rather than at the top or bottom of the piece of furniture.

Remember, too, that you'll save a lot of energy by sitting at some of those jobs instead of standing at all of them.

Chevrolet... Leader in Value

Your choice for QUALITY on all these counts

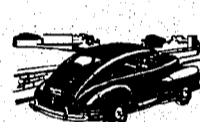

... at prices that are lower than those of any other car in its field!

Your No. 1 Choice for RIDING SMOOTHNESS

Men and women agree that Chevrolet gives a much smoother, steadier ride than other cars in its field. The reason is that Chevrolet alone has the original Unitized Knee-Action Ride, backed by more than 14 years' experience in building Knee-Action units. This feature is found elsewhere only in higher-priced cars.

Your No. 1 Choice for PERFORMANCE with ECONOMY

You'll enjoy much finer performance with economy in Chevrolet. Its world's champion Valve-in-Head engine holds all records for miles served, owners satisfied, and years tested and proved. And Valve-in-Head engine design, like so many other Big-Car features, is found only in Chevrolet and more costly cars.

Your No. 1 Choice for ALL-ROUND SAFETY

You and your family will ride in safety, thanks to Fisher-Unitized Body-Construction—safety plate glass in all windows—the road-steadiness of the Unitized Knee-Action Ride—and the stopping-power of Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes—fourfold safety-protection exclusive to Chevrolet and costlier cars!

Your No. 1 Choice for TASTEFUL BEAUTY

You know—and your friends know—that the emblem, Body by Fisher, is the hallmark of bodies that are better by far. Chevrolet's Bodies by Fisher reveal this finer quality in every detail, including the hardware, upholstery and all appointments. Naturally, these bodies are exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

Rural Tele-news

"BLIFFY SNIFFER"—That's the nickname for a sort of "electrical bloodhound" used by telephone men. When work needs to be done on a certain pair of wires in a cable, an electric tone is placed on those wires at the central office. Out on the cable, the "Bliffy Sniffer," a pencil-like instrument, quickly picks out the wires by detecting the tone they carry.

SPARE THAT TREE! — Graduate foresters at Michigan Bell are in charge of trained crews that trim trees and control brush which might menace telephone lines. They work with utmost care to preserve the beauty of trees and landscape. Thus far this year, tree trimming and brush control have involved 450,000 man-hours.

GOOD NEIGHBORS — Everyone has good rural-line service when everyone helps make it so. This means spacing out calls, not interrupting when others are talking, giving up the line when a rural-line neighbor has an emergency call to make, and always making sure the receiver is in place when not being used.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Our $13,500,000 postwar rural construction program means more and better rural telephone service.
