Should "John" read this, forestry divisions would like to advise him that native wild trees do not lend themselves to transplanting. Purchasing domestic stock from a private nursery would have given him proper transplants for his purposes as well as eliminating the chance of getting caught and fined.

Fishermen Urged to Catch Perch and Smelt For Next Week's Fish Fry

The Sportsman's Club is calling for fresh perch and smelt to serve at the big Fish Fry being staged at the High School Gym next Friday and have made arrangements to have them stored and collected at the E. J. Locker Plant. The entire proceeds of this special event are going into local sports and recreational improvements and it is everybody's opportunity to give the community a real boost while having fun at the same time.

So take all your surplus catch down to the Locker Plant and tell the boys to save'em for the big event. If you can manage an extra session in the shanty... that would sure be swell!

Clothing Needed Urgently For Community Service Project

In the interest and welfare of the community, the Community Service project with Edna Wilkins as chairman for the Auxiliary, is urgently in need of clothing of any kind and especially for children of all ages. In just the past week nine children were clothed besides two men and others. Warm clothing is especially needed for the children.

The clothes have been going out and none received, so now the supply is very low with demands coming in.

The demand is still great right now and we would appreciate it if the clothes are clean when brought to us. We will do the mending and pressing.

The headquarters is in the basement of the City building and is open every Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoon, from 1 to 4 p. m.

A committee of the American Legion, Sportsman's Club and the C. of C. undertook to put on a Home Coming without money. A carnival was engaged, which should have produced about $300.00. The carnival didn't show up. The entire cost of the event was $153.34, of which $126.00 went for prizes. You just don't pay for bands, ball games, prizes for floats, fire works, etc. with $153.00.

The Dawn Patrol could and should be made an annual affair, and with earlier and more advertising would be a much larger affair. There were planes here from all over the State, and our visitors expressed appreciation for the entertainment and courtesy shown them.

There is no scarcity of worthwhile projects and promotional ideas. Many or all might be profitable. They do however require time and effort on the part of various people, and usually some money. The other two towns in the County spend from five to eight thousand dollars for advertising and promotional work — and get results. Does East Jordan hope to keep in the race with an expenditure of $440.00?

The local Information Office was open every business day of the year except four, and gave the traveling public a lot of answers. A record was kept for the three summer months, and there were 1,253 inquiries answered, which included cottages and cabins, fishing—lakes and streams, time tables, directional, and misc./not listed above.

There is a meeting next Wednesday evening at which time 5 directors for this year will be elected. These five elect a president and secretary, not necessarily of their own number.

Time is 7:00 p. m. Place — Andy's Duck Inn, a dinner meeting. The seating capacity is limited, so get your ticket soon.

Carload of Honey Leaves County for CROP Donation Overseas

The carload of honey that is being sponsored by CROP was loaded at Charlevoix last Monday for shipment to Lansing and later for overseas shipment. This carload of honey was donated by local people to those people who are in dire need in foreign countries.

Antrim, Charlevoix and Leelanau counties all contributed to the carload of honey. Charlevoix Co. could not make their carload by themselves, nor could Antrim or Leelanau send out a carload of wheat by themselves. Therefore all three counties went together to buy this carload of honey. Ed Rebman, County Agr'l Agent wishes to thank all the CROP officials and everyone else who helped in this program for the time and effort they spent in making it a success.

The Letter Box

IS THE FARMER GETTING RICH?

By Leroy Hardy, chairman Charlevoix county AAA committee

The farmer has been receiving record breaking prices for many of his products, but also record breaking prices are being received for labor, for services, automobiles and many industrial products.

Each person living on the farm this year is receiving about $850 net including the value of food and rent furnished on the farm. Each person living in urban areas is receiving about $1400. Each farm person is receiving less than $150 in 1932 and 1933 while each urban person was receiving $450.

When people compare the incomes of farm and urban people they forget how low the farmer's income was during the '30's.

An unbiased research man, using all the records available, recently completed a study of the relative gains between wages and prices received by farmers since 1910. The trend revealed, even at today's farm prices, should be enlightening to many.

Here are some of the things he found: In the 1910-14 period the average pay for one hour's work in all manufacturing industries would buy at farm prices this many pounds of these products: 18.2 of potatoes 0.8 of butter, 2.9 of hogs, 3.9 of beef cattle, 13.2 of milk, 1.9 of chicken and 14.4 of wheat. Now, he finds, the average pay for one hour's labor in all manufacturing industries will buy at farm prices this many pounds: 49 of potatoes, 2.1 of butter, 5.2 of hogs, 5.9 of beef cattle, 28.3 of milk, 4.8 of chicken and 44.4 of wheat.

How then does he account for the complaint that farm prices are so out of line with consumers incomes?

"One reason," he explained, "is that for twenty years, between 1921 and 1941, farm prices were disproportionately low and consumers got to thinking of cheap food as normal. Another is that a lot of new wants have become part of the standard of living in the generation's time between those two sets of figures. People feel they ought to have all these things and food, too, and when present high prices for everything make it difficult to stretch income all the way around, food gets the blame. Another cause is the growing disparity in earnings between different groups of consumers, making the pinch felt unequally. Those who have gained the most are the ones whose earnings enter into and contribute the most of the cost of living. A final reason is that costs in between the farmer and consumer have widened. Those mostly reflect increased wages and taxes, higher transportation costs and demands of consumers for new types of services and forms in which food is marketed. Much of the problem is the responsibility of the consuming public with the farmer having little share of it."

Here are some government figures which are of great interest: If the farmer gave away the wool for a $50 suit, it would still cost you $44.30! If he gave away the hide for a $10 pair of shoes, they would still cost $8.63. If he gave away the livestock for $10 worth of meat, it would still cost $4.90 in the butcher shop. If he gave away the beans for a 10c can of beans, they would still cost 8-7/10c. If he gave away the wheat for a 16c loaf of bread, it would still cost 14-7/10c. If he gave away his milk, it would cost consumers 12c delivered to the door.

There's no such thing as idle rumour—they're always too busy.

Instead of learning just the tricks of the trade, why not actually learn the trade?

GREYHOUND

Lansing — Tax chickens may come home to roost in Michigan big cities.

Such is the prospect of the outcome of the sales tax diversion amendment, sponsored by big-town mayors and school teachers, if the legislature approves Governor Williams' new tax program. Here is the picture:

The sales tax amendment raided the state treasury to the tune of 78 cents out of each tax dollar.

It created the inevitability of a $61,000,000 treasury deficit for the state's fiscal year ending June 30, 1950.

Governor Kim Sigler's solution was to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment. He offered no immediate substitute for needed revenue, pointing out that the state's tax system badly needed overhauling and that such could be accomplished through a constitutional convention. Last Nov. 2 the voters re-affirmed support of the sales tax amendment and at the same time voted to call a constitutional convention.

Sigler's opponent, G. Mennen Williams, favored the sales tax amendment which he said was vital for inflation financing of public schools. And when Williams became the beneficiary of several hundred thousand "protest" votes, cast by Republican-ticket supporters, the top question at Lansing became this:

What would Governor Williams do about the looming deficit?

His first message to the legislature indicated sympathy with social objectives and a willing to impose new taxes to finance spending. Later the governor made it clear that curtailment of services could not be done without inflicting hardship on the mentally ill, and aged and other citizens already pressed financially to make ends meet.

The final question was narrowed down to what kind of new taxes would the governor advocate — an income tax, consumer nuisance taxes, real estate tax or one or more other money-raising levies?

Governor Williams' remedy, as submitted to the legislature last week, would be to tax corporation profits. A 4 percent levy on net income, prior to federal taxes, would yield about $67,000,000. And since the estimated deficit was $61,000,000 the profit tax on corporations would leave a possible $6,000,000 in new revenues to offset a proposed $9,000,000 hike in social benefits. Industry and business, as represented by corporations, would thus foot the bill to avert a deficit and to help finance a better life for low-income workers.

Governor Williams insists that the tax on profits "would actually amount to a reduction" for many gigantic corporations of $20,000,000 or more net worth, a corporation would have to make 6 1/4 per cent income on net worth, to pay as much under this proposal as it now pays under the present franchise tax." In other words, "big city corporations would be the "fall guy".

What would be the effect of the Williams' tax on corporation profits?

According to Harvey Campbell, executive vice-president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, it would encourage flight of capital to other states.

Quoting Campbell: "You cannot estimate the damage that has been done to Michigan by the income tax threat that came out of Lansing before the Governor's oath got cold. Already we have heard from local industrialists who plan plant expansion but figure that they're not wanted here so they're looking to less extravagant states in which to extend their payrolls.

"It has happened before — and it will happen again, because politicians can't seem to learn that payrolls are sensitive and aren't compelled to stay in one place.

"Many years ago, before C. W. Nash got together with the Kelvinator folks, we submitted an engineering analysis of his business and sent it to him in Kenosha. The chief factor to urge him to establish his automobile plant in the Detroit area among his competitors was the tax situation in Wisconsin.

"We met Mr. Nash himself here a few days later and we'll never forget our conversation. The kindly old gentleman said, 'Look at your headlines from Lansing! Why should I seek refuge from Wisconsin taxation when your own state officials threaten me with far worse treatment if I transfer my plants to Detroit?'

Governor Williams has a ready answer: Rising corporation profits can well afford to pay a "reasonable" tax increase; consumers now pay 75.4% of the bill.

The tax chickens are looking for a place to roost. Will it be in the big cities?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

SCRIPTURE: Mark 2:1-3:8
DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 11:37-48

Inevitable Critics
Lesson for February 13, 1949

ONCE UPON a time, so the old story goes, there was a chameleon, a lizard that can change its color to match whatever it stands on. They put him on a black cloth and he turned black; on a red tablecloth and he turned red; on a green billiard table and he turned green. Then some man person set him down on a Christmas necktie—and the poor little thing exploded.

Dr. Foreman

This is a parable of the person who tries to please everybody. It can't be done—and it ought not to be tried. "Woe unto you," said Jesus, "when all men speak well of you."

Jesus Christ himself did not please every one. Not even a perfect personality can be 100 per cent popular. Not that Jesus enjoyed rubbing people the wrong way. There was nothing perverse about him. He was deeply sincerely, friendly, and to lose any friendships must have been even more painful for him than for us who are so selfish. Nevertheless he did make enemies, he had his critics; and his followers may expect no better.

Misunderstanding Motives
ONE POINT on which Jesus met terrific opposition was his attitude toward the Sabbath. Repeatedly he or his disciples would do things on the Sabbath which (as Jews then understood the law) were quite wrong. There are Jewish communities in Palestine today where a man walking on the street on the Sabbath smoking a cigarette would be warned to put it out; for it is against the Mosaic law to light a fire on the sacred day, even a tiny fire at the end of a cigarette.

It was just that sort of thing that Jesus ran into, more than once. His enemies misunderstood, or at least misrepresented, his motives.

They claimed that he was "blasphemous," that is, that he was deliberately making light of God's law. The truth was that he was acting by God's highest law—the law of love. Helping people in need was more important than keeping the letter of the Sabbath law. Jesus' example may help us here.

Stepping Out of Bounds
WHEN Jesus healed the man with the palsy, it was not the cure his critics found fault with, it was his first saying "Your sins are forgiven." "Who can forgive sins but God alone?" they said. In short, the Pharisees thought—some of them perhaps sincerely—that Jesus was stepping out of bounds, pretending to do something that he had no right to attempt and no power to accomplish.

Now Jesus did have both the right and the power to say what he said to that sick and sinful man. And he made no apologies for going beyond the limits his critics set for him.

So we too may sometimes be accused of "biting off too much," of going beyond our powers or capacities. Our critics may be right, you know, though Jesus' critics never were. But how often they are wrong! If Lincoln had listened to his critics he never would have left his backwoods law office; they did not think him fit to be president. If the Wright boys had listened to their neighbors, they never would have flown an airplane, for who would have thought a couple of bicycle mechanics could do what so many scientists said was impossible?

The Company You Keep
JESUS' friends got him into trouble, as Mark shows us. For one thing, some were the "wrong sort" like Matthew the tax-collector. Then his friends had an unconventional kind of religion, they actually seemed happy about it instead of gloomy like some of John's disciples. And to make matters worse, his friends "broke" the Sabbath laws much as Jesus did. All in all, Jesus' critics complained that Jesus' friends were a bad lot, and they judged him by the company he kept. But Jesus knew his friends better than his enemies did.

He never gave up or loosened a single friendship on his critics' account. Some of his friends gave him up, but he never gave them up.

So the Christian, if he has anything like Jesus' gift for making friends, may find himself criticized for their sakes.

Chamber of Com. to Meet Wed.

WHY DO MEMBERS LOSE INTEREST IN ACTIVITIES OF THIS ORGANIZATION?

East Jordan's Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to meet next Wednesday, Feb. 16, at Andy's Duck Inn, at 7:00 p. m. Charge is $1.25 per plate, with a limited number of tickets available. Be sure and get yours before it's too late, from Earl Clark.

In another article in this week's Herald is the annual report by the Sec'y, Earl Clark, together with a few timely notations — be sure and read this.

For a Chamber of Commerce to be a success it has to have the active support of almost all of the business men of a community, all working together towards a worthy common cause. To encourage a member to take an active part in the work of this organization, he should be given an active part in the furtherance of any project that is underway and not allowed to become stagnant and take a "Let the other fellow do it" attitude. After a fellow has been actively engaged in a few of these projects, he will begin to learn his way around, and some real undeveloped talent will often begin to show itself. This is something that our C. of C. is starving for at present.

The older members of the C. of C. have sort of settled back and waited for the younger members to take over. This is as it should be. They have done several bang-up jobs in the past, in spite of heavy opposition at times, and made a go of it. Now they are entitled to a well-deserved rest. Of course they are willing to more than help at times with any project, and can offer valuable advice on how to avoid the pitfalls they have learned by bitter experience to avoid. Now they are waiting for younger members to start the ball rolling.

Where are these younger members? Most of them are content to sit in the back of their customerless business places and grouse to the high heavens about bad business. They do not realize that if they will get out and take an active hand in the activities of the C. of C. they can do something to promote business.

But these are only a couple of viewpoints on the situation.

There is another.

Supposing these younger members do come to a Chamber of Commerce meeting. What happens? Are they given a part in the activities of the organization, and made to feel that they are an important part of it? No. They gather the idea that they are in the audience and not up on the stage, and leave with the impression that they are not wanted — only their money!

To develop the best that lies hidden among the membership of this organization requires an outstanding type of leadership. This type of leadership does not seem to be available at present in the East Jordan C. of C.

A Chamber of Commerce is more or less like a school. Younger members should be guided toward a goal by an intelligent, experienced hand, and they should all have a task to perform, otherwise they lose interest fast.

The solution for the success of our C. of C. sums up to this: Get one outstanding leader that can conduct a meeting as it should be done, and can, when worthy causes are to be furthered, find something for every member to do — then guide them to their goal, and it won't be long until all roads lead to East Jordan, as the outstanding city of the north!

This is your Chamber of Commerce. Come to the next meeting.

Most people do what they are requested to do; successful people do a little more.

Rural Tele-news

THESE NUMBERS PLEASE — In 1948, Michigan Bell made great strides in bringing more and better telephone service to the rural areas it serves. Last year, 23,000 more telephones were installed, 10,800 miles of wire were strung, in addition to many miles of buried wire and cable, and 23,000 new telephone poles were set.

INSIDE STORY — Installation of new central office equipment inside a number of telephone buildings during 1948 made possible the replacement of nearly 3,000 "turn the crank" telephones with dial or "lift the receiver" instruments. This also enabled Michigan Bell to reduce the number of other rings heard by subscribers on those rural lines.

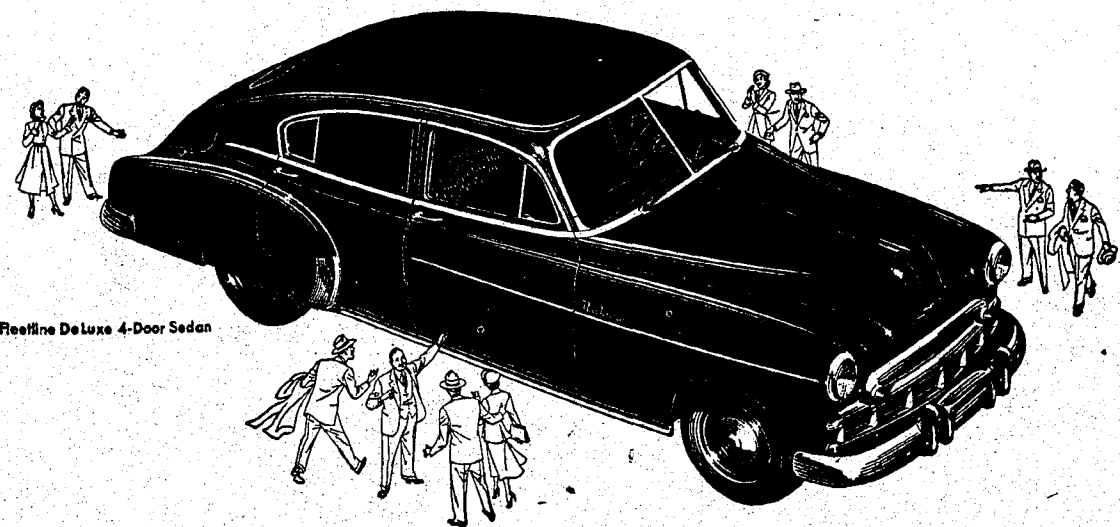

MORE AND BETTER SERVICE — At the end of 1948, seven out of every ten families in rural areas served by Michigan Bell had telephone service. Seven out of eight rural telephone customers were on lines having eight parties or less.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Landlords Rebel Over Rent Curbs;
Russians Set up Anti-ERP Program;
Israel, Egypt Sign End to Fighting

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

REBELLION:
Among Landlords

Chest out, muscles flexed, truculent of attitude, members of the American Property Owners association in 20 cities threatened wholesale eviction of tenants in protest against rental control bills now in congress.

AN OFFICIAL of the organization, composed chiefly of owners of small property, said in Tulsa, Okla., 600 to 1,000 eviction notices would be mailed to Tulsa tenants advising them to vacate within 60 days. Similar action, he said, was expected in Chicago, Houston, Kansas City, Detroit, St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Grand Rapids, Danville, Ill., and other cities.

The eviction notices affected rent-controlled housing and included houses and apartments. Business units are not under rent control.

SPEAR-HEADING the Tulsa movement was a retired Baptist minister, the Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, executive-secretary of the 200-member Tulsa property owners organization, and an honorary president of the national association.

The Rev. Murphy termed two rent control bills now before congress "intolerable," and said, "we refuse to operate so long as rental controls are on." Owner of considerable property in Tulsa, the retired clergyman asserted, "we don't intend to serve under slavery which would take away the right to control our property. It is not enough that we must rent our property at a loss—now they want to fine us and put us in jail."

Landlords appeared mainly incensed because pending rent curb measures would be giving the federal housing expediter right to control evictions, extend rent control periods, provide triple damages for overcharges on rent, and permit fines up to $5,000 and a year in jail for convicted violators.

OBSERVERS WONDERED IF landlords weren't letting their wrath becloud their judgment. For, under existing law, which doesn't expire until late March, landlords are prohibited from doing exactly what the Rev. Murphy and his associates plan to do.

The Tulsa incident was merely fuel to the flame of belief that if rent curbs are not maintained, the question of housing for those who cannot afford to buy homes would become even more difficult than it is at present.

RUSSIANS:
Coming to Tax?

Messers Joe Stalin and the politburo, so long and so vocally derisive of everything the western world has or offers, were subconsciously paying that the world the sincerest form of flattery—imitation.

The Russians had come forth with their own version of ERP, alphabetical symbol of the Marshall plan for aid to Europe.

AS THE EAST'S answer to the European recovery plan, Russia had organized the economic council of mutual assistance for cooperation with five of her neighbors, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

The purpose, as outlined from Moscow, was "the exchange of experience in the economic field, the rendering of technical assistance to each other, and the rendering of mutual assistance in regard to raw materials, foodstuffs, equipment, etc." Russia, with her vast resources, obviously was to be the key nation in the council.

The Kremlin held the door open to other nations. The announcement said, "other countries of Europe that share the principles of the council and wish to participate in broad economic cooperation with the aforementioned countries," may join.

THAT MOSCOW was considering the Marshall plan when its six-nation council was formed was evident in a Russian charge that the ERP interfered with the sovereignty of nations, and that the U. S., Britain, and "certain other countries of western Europe" were boycotting the six nations in trade.

The Russian action may prove to be the vital error in the Soviets' program of expansion. If the system fails to function, it will serve only to spotlight the efficacy of the Marshall plan and the superiority of the western nations in equipment and ability to keep European commitments.

HURRY-UP MEASURE

Priority Ordered for Rent Curb Bill

Speed was of the essence. Rent controls had to be safeguarded swiftly. So, into the senate hopper fell an administration bill calling for broader and tougher rent controls for another two years.

The bill, authorized by Senator Maybank, (D., S. C.) and, in the house by Representative Spence (D., Ky.) would continue controls through March 31, 1951, and would

New Leader

Li Tsing-Jen, China's nationalist vice-president was holding the reins of organized government following Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's departure from Nanking to clear the way for a Communist-directed peace.

PEACE DOVE:
Hovers in East

Hovering wings of the dove of peace were becoming faintly audible in the Holy Land dispute.

Israel and Egypt signed a permanent cease-fire order and armistice talks were still going on after recent difficulties.

THERE WERE even more significant developments looking toward final peace in the long controversy stemming from the partition of the Holy Land to make the area available as a place of settlement and nationalization of Jews.

Great Britain had capitulated, and with the British lion on its side, the new nation of Israel had the two most powerful nations in the world committed to its support.

Other nations were falling in line to recognize the Jewish state. Indications were that with the trend apparently fully in motion, Arab opponents to the Israeli state would soon be standing completely alone in their opposition.

SHOULD THAT condition eventuate, Israel seemingly would have nothing to fear, inasmuch as its armies already have proven a match for Arab forces.

Bible students and others religiously inclined would be quick to see in the developments the beginning of fulfillment of the old prophecy that the Holy Land would one day be returned to the Jews, that they would one day become a nation again, with their own flag, their own land, their own government.

SURPLUSES:
Curbs Are Sought

Fearful of large surpluses of wheat and cotton, the government was studying moves to prevent this contingency.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan outlined to a senate agriculture committee plans to hold down this year's cotton and wheat crops.

Brannan's plan called for serying notice on wheat and cotton farmers that the 1949 crops they plant will not be considered part of their average production in figuring any future acreage allotments. This means growers could plant fewer acres without being penalized later by proportionate acreage curbs on their crops.

Under present law, if acreage controls are renewed, the average acreage planted by a farmer in the five previous years is the amount he is entitled to plant.

Many officials felt that might induce many farmers to plant as much as they can in order to have the maximum possible acreage when and if controls are clamped on.

Brannan's plan, assuring the farmer of no restrictive penalties through curtailment of acreage, was seen as a possible curb on any excessive planting.

About as large a winter wheat crop as possible already has been planted and a committee member declared cotton farmers are preparing to plant an "extra large crop" to get benefit of present high support prices.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.) of the committee which heard Brannan, said legislation to back up Brannan's proposal would be offered in congress.

JACKSON DAY:
Million Or More

"Happy Harry" Truman had pulled himself up by his own bootstraps, grasped the dark cloud of Democratic gloom and flipped it aside to disclose a satisfying silver lining.

And now, party big-wigs and adherents are smiling expansively in anticipation of hacking the million-dollar mark when the traditional $100-a-plate Jackson Day dinners are held in February.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS like success, Truman might have reminded his followers—and because of his personal success, money, which was woefully lacking in Democratic party coffers before the election, is now expected to come rolling in.

Normally, anywhere from $600,000 to $700,000 is raised for the party at the dinners, but this year the national committee thinks it can surpass that figure and come nearer the million-dollar mark.

And they well may do it, for many people who wanted no part of Harry Truman during the campaign, and who kept their hands in their pockets, now are willing to give and give generously.

However, careful planning is going into this year's Jackson Day dinner project. One such dinner will be held in every congressional district of the larger states, and at least one dinner in each of the smaller ones.

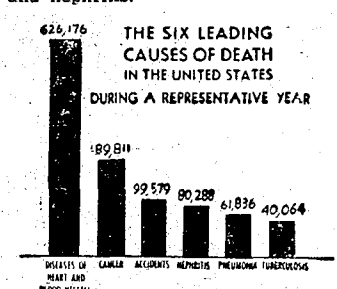

Plans already have been mapped to seat an all-time high record of 3,000 at the Washington dinner.

"Of course there are still some lukewarm 'Wednesday Democrats,'" a committee said, "but the financial return this year should be terrific."

Chief Killer

Once again the nation's attention would be called to the fact that diseases of the heart and blood vessels are the leading cause of death in the United States.

The occasion: The American Heart association's 1949 national campaign. Hard to dramatize, because its victims seldom die spectacularly, heart disease is a major concern of those who deal with a people's health. The malady is responsible for one of every three deaths in the nation each year. Rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease take a heavier toll from youngsters five to 19 than any other disease. Even in the years from 35 to 54, heart disease causes far greater mortality than the other leading killers, including cancer, accidents, tuberculosis, pneumonia and nephritis.

The chart tells its own story about the fatalities resulting from heart diseases in the nation.

The dates of the national campaign of the American Heart association are February 7 to 28. The dates of National Heart Week are February 14 to 21.

THE FUND-RAISING goal of the campaign is five million dollars. Of this, three and one-half million dollars will be used by local heart associations to maintain and expand their community cardiac programs. The remainder will be used by the American Heart association for expansion of its national programs.

The 1949 campaign slogan is apt and compelling. It is: "Open your heart—fight heart disease."

COAL SUPPLY:
Everyone Relax

The American male who must wrestle with the furnace, worry about keeping a fireplace full of fuel, concern himself with the possibility of a heatless future could sit back and relax.

There is enough coal under the surface of the United States to last a thousand years.

After that, somebody else could worry.

AUTHORITY for the extent of the nation's coal resources was Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, director of the Mellon institute of industrial research. Pointing out that half the world's known coal reserve is possessed by the United States, he asserted many industrial leaders and technical experts believe "that a large industrial development based on coal is in the making and that a considerable expansion in coal production is imminent."

PSYCHIATRISTS:
Who's Next?

Americans had something else to worry about besides prices and possible war. It seemed the nation's chief need, despite any suppositions to the contrary, was more psychiatrists.

According to a subcommittee of the Hoover commission, nothing could be done about the nation's deplorable mental health condition until the present 4,500 psychiatrists were increased to 10,000.

The School Bell

HOT LUNCH PROGRAM

Probably the busiest and most interesting place in the school at 11:30 each morning is the dining room where, during the month of Jan., an average of 280 students per day were served by the Hot Lunch Dept. Two very capable cooks, Mrs. Effie Weldy and Mrs. Irene Kiser, do all of the cooking and are assisted in the dining room by 9 high school girls, who help serve and clear the tables, and 3 boys, who transport the dishes and food from the kitchen to the lunch room. The grade children are served at 11:30 so the dining room may be cleared by 12:00 for the high school. The plates are prepared for the kindergarten, first, and second graders. Starting with the third grade the children take a tray and silverware and are served cafeteria style. Then they go to their assigned section. Along with their lunch, 1/2 pint of milk is served each student.

It is a hard job to plan menus to please the taste of so many children, but the very small amount of garbage is evidence of the efficiency of our cooks. They are deserving of much credit for their efforts to prepare a balanced, varied and tasty lunch.

FIRST and SECOND Grades — Adeline Bowerman

With a few alterations, our "Food Store" has been changed into a Post Office. On Tuesday morning we made a visit to our City Post Office. We noticed first the post box in front then the name on the front of the building. Several children from the city knew their post box numbers and showed us where they were. Mr. Snyder very kindly explained the procedure of mail from where it is stamped at the window, goes through the cancelling machine, then is sorted and put into mailing bags. We traced a letter to Mrs. Downing from where it was stamped to where it was put into her box. We saw where the mail for the rural routes is sorted and watched Mr. Davis get his mail ready to deliver. We gained some very helpful information and an appreciation for these community helpers. We are learning a little about the history of mail carrying and some about stamps. We are making a stamp collection to see how many different kinds of stamps we can find.

We made red, white and blue hats to wear in the rhythm band. Our band will play for the flag bearing ceremony and "The Star Spangled Banner" while the audience sings, then we will play two selections for the assembly on Friday.

SECOND Grade — Agnes Johnston

Last week our report cards were given out. We are having a race to see if all the girls or all the boys will return theirs first.

Our new Feb. calendar in our room is the shape of a valentine. We found that two of our presidents had birthdays in Feb. They were, Geo. Washington and Abe Lincoln.

During our "News Time" last Wednesday afternoon, each child gave an idea how our valentine box could be made. The children gave many nice suggestions.

Most of the children in our room contributed to the March of Dimes last Tuesday.

We enjoyed the movie, "Bunny Rabbit" and "Number Four," Wednesday afternoon.

Patty Porter, Robert Johnson and David Damoth tried to school a few records. We listened to them Monday. We liked "Bozo at the Circus," because it included a full color picture book timed with the records.

We enjoyed the book Jerome Chanda brought to school. It was "The Story of Abraham Lincoln."

THIRD Grade — Jessie Hager
Kieth Ogden was nine years old on Feb. 4th.
Mrs. Kaley, Jean's mother, visited us last Monday afternoon.
We are busy making a Post Office for Valentine's Day.

THIRD and FOURTH Grades — Marie Hughes

The third grade is deep in the mysteries of "borrowing" in arithmetic. They soon learned the need of knowing the subtraction facts well.

The fourth grade is studying long division with four-place quotients. Knowing the multiplication tables and the subtraction facts will make this work much easier for them.

Ivan Pettifor has been absent more than a week with tonsillitis. We miss you Ivan, and hope you will be well soon.

The children are planning a valentine party after assembly Friday. They plan to have cookies, jello and ice cream paddle pops for refreshments.

FOURTH Grade — Elizabeth Elson

Friday the 4th, we had perfect attendance for the first time in weeks. We celebrated the occasion by having a nice story read us. That day, too, we saw an excellent picture of Alaska.

We had just finished studying about glaciers and it seemed only fitting to see the wonderful colored pictures of the real thing. Fr. Hubbard, the Jesuit priest of the North, was shown with his companions.

David Nemecek celebrated his 11th birthday Monday. Mrs. Ingalls surprised the class by making cookies for each one in honor of David's birthday.

The class is preparing for the assembly on Friday. We will also have a valentine party. On the actual day we will have a special treat given by Miss Elsen and friends.

Our lowest group is struggling to master the tables. Thus far, their progress has been quite satisfying.

Our spelling graph shows progress also.

FOURTH Grade — Grace Galmore

Patsy Allen and Sharon Lundy were absent last week because of illness. — Joanne Bader

We are working on two valentine songs. — Sonja Olson

Mrs. Galmore's room tied Mrs. Hughe's room 7-7 this Thursday. Last Friday they beat us 3-0. Cal Darbee and Jack Ingalls dropped in two free shots apiece and David Nachazel, Dwayne Evans and Raymond Walker each made one point. In Mrs. Hughe's room, Gene Richards made 2 baskets and 2 free shots. Gerald Kent made one. — Cal Darbee

Lincoln and Washington aren't the only ones who have birthdays this month. Sandra Boswell will be 10 on Feb. 7th, Evelyn Crawford will be 9 Feb. 27 and Cal Darbee will be 10 on Feb. 28th.

"The Flower Vendor" was painted by a Mexican artist who is still living. The artist is Diego Rivera. He was born in Guanajuato, Mexico in 1886. He studied many years in Europe. He began to paint when he was very young. He painted several murals on the walls of the Art Museum in Detroit. "The Flower Vendor" hangs in the San Francisco Museum of Art. The lady is helping put the basket of flowers on the man's back so he can take them to market. — Nancy Kidder

FIFTH Grade — Elizabeth Dhasleer

We completed our booklets on Michigan this week. They contained many interesting facts about our state. We included table of contents, state flower, bird, seal, and flag, natural resources, farm products, and products of many of the cities. The more we know about our state, the more able we are to appreciate it.

We saw two interesting movies this week. One was on Alaska. It showed products of the Matanuska Valley, salmon fishing and canning, and exploring amid the glacier. The other was on the making of soil by a boy and by nature, also how canyons are made.

We plan to have our Valentine Party this Friday after assembly. Our Valentine box is all ready.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

Our bulletin board is bright with a border of shields in red, white and blue.

We are learning the Virginia Reel, a dance of Geo. Washington's time.

We are combining Health and English classes to work on a play "Patricia's Cold."

One group is reading from the science book "Discovering Our World." The unit we are starting is about the most wonderful machine in the world — the human body. The other reading group is using "Friends Around the World" and is reading about animal friends now.

We are beginning to borrow in subtraction of fractions.

Billy Pardee, Harry Misner, Philip Raymond and Fred Clark were appointed by the president, Dickie Johnson, to decorate the Valentine box for the room.

SIXTH Grade — Alma Larsen

Mrs. Larsen is sick with the flu. Mrs. Whiteford is our teacher this week. — David Graham

Irving Bulmann is going to call Mrs. Larsen and see if we can have our Valentine party on Monday. — Carl R. Kolker

Several members in our room are very interested in 4H. We are making beads now. We are going to have 5 different articles for 4-H in March.

Mable Morford
In geography we are studying about Spain and Portugal. It is very interesting. — Ruth Ann Crowell

Ratliss — Sheppard

Beatrice Ratliss of Boyne City became the bride of Ed Shepard of Wilson Twp. in a ceremony performed at Bellaire, Jan. 12th. A miscellaneous shower was given them by the Wilson Grange members at the Wilson Grange Hall Jan. 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard received many lovely gifts. The evening was passed in dancing and refreshments were served.

Funeral of Mrs. Harnden Held January 24th

Mrs. Harnden was born April 27, 1878 in Clifford, Mich.

She is survived by her husband, Luther H.; a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Boyd; two sons, Max Graham and Fred Harnden, all of Hazel Park.

Mrs. Harnden was a former resident of Eveline Twp. where she leaves many friends and relatives, including two nieces, Mrs. Frank Kiser and Mrs. Kenneth Isaman.

Monthly Traffic Toll In December Worst Since 1947

Michigan's traffic accident toll during the month of Dec. was one of the most bleak in recent years, according to a report released by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, of the State Police.

Each day an average of six persons met death, the total for one month being 184. This is the worst record of any month since Nov. of 1941, when 219 lost their lives, and it exceeded Dec. of 1947 by 49, or 36 per cent.

The injury total climbed to 3,961, an average of 128 each day and the greatest number for any month of the year. The total exceeded Dec. 1947 experience by 562 or 17 per cent.

But conversely, while there was an alarming increase in deaths and injuries, there was a decrease in accidents. During Dec. of 1948, 13,857 accidents were reported, which was 1,659 fewer, or 11 per cent, than the 15,516 in Dec. of 1947. The reduction was attributed to better than normal driving conditions, with less ice and snow. These same conditions, however, contributed to the distribution and severity of the accidents which did occur.

Most of the fatality increase was recorded on the rural county road system, 47 persons being killed as compared to 19 in Dec. of 1947.

On the basis of present figures, the death toll for all of 1948 stands at 1,477 persons. This exceeds previous estimates and the total is expected to be higher when delayed deaths, chargeable to 1948, are reported. The present figure represents an increase of 30, or two per cent more than the 1,447 killed in 1947.

The records also show a total of 40,413 persons injured in 1948, an increase of 2,761, or seven per cent, over 1947. Accidents totalled 138,864, an increase of 2,400 or two per cent.

Despite recent fatality figures it still appears that the death rate for 1948 will be less than eight persons per 100 million miles of travel, which would be the lowest on record for Michigan.

on housewives to buy complete sets of kitchen utensils there is no "best" kind.

Aluminum, stainless steel, iron, tin, enamelware, glass or earthenware all differ in the way they take in, carry, throw off, and hold heat. You'll be wise to have some utensils of each kind believes Lucile Ketchum, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State college.

Before buying new utensils look over what you have and class them according to uses. Then decide what types you need. In checking your supply for usefulness or deciding about new ones to buy there are certain points to watch.

Check the size to see whether it will fit the burner or oven for convenience and good use of heat. Handles should stay cool, be well-balanced, securely fastened and fit your hand. Lids shouldn't warp or rust. Look for durable material and good construction.

Consider which metals are best for your use. Aluminum comes in light, medium and heavy weights. Stainless steel is available both with and without copper bottoms.

Porcelain enamel may be made with one coat of enamel or several coats. Cast iron is very durable. And then there are still tin, glass and earthenware to choose from.

Know Background of Your Baby Chicks

Don't let cold weather keep you from planning about your spring poultry operations, says Howard Zindel, Michigan State college extension poultry specialist.

To avoid losses from disease, it's a good idea to know the background of chicks that you buy. They should come from flocks that have a history of producing lots of large eggs.

Shop around now and place your order so you won't have to be disappointed when the time comes to get the poultry enterprise going.

The Letter Box

The Herald is glad to publish letters from its readers. These letters must be signed, but the writer's name will be withheld from publication if desired. The views expressed are of the writer and the Herald will not be held responsible for same.

Dear Editor:

In last week's letter box was a letter berating the local Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club for things they had failed to do for East Jordan. The Letter Box is a good idea. More people probably read the letter box than the front page and it brings matters before the public's eye in a more intimate way than any front page article can do. The writer of last week's letter brought up a lot of good points which can well be answered without "rising up in righteous indignation" or an "artful dodge." In fact, I'll even sign my name at the bottom.

He starts off by telling us how we are spending much time publicizing our summer resort activities and putting little effort on the winter resort trade. That statement is perfectly true. When he says that we sat by and watched the three men come up into Northern Michigan and scout around, he is wrong. And had he been to the dedication banquet at the Dilworth and heard Everett Kircher, president of the Boyne Mt. setup, tell how they picked the Boyne Falls site, he would have realized this. Kircher, Norton and Christianson did not come up here and announce that they were looking for a site for a ski park. Here is what they did do. They secured, from the State Conservation Dept., contour maps of the entire state. Going over these maps carefully, they checked the ten most suitable sites for what they had in mind. They then set out and visited the ten areas (the area through here was the sixth one visited). They camped several days in each area, running levels on various slopes, checking altitudes, atmospheric exposures, and other items which vitally affect skiing conditions. Finally convinced that the Boyne Mt. was the most likely site in the state, they contacted the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce and, thru them and a Boyne real estate man, secured a lease to the property. The point is that the East Jordan C. of C., or any other C. of C. up here, did not sit idly by and watch them select the site, for no one knew about it until the site had been selected.

In regards to a winter sports program at East Jordan, I would like to see one and I believe a lot of other East Jordan people would like to see it... but it would have to be paid for... by the townspeople. As long as the main arm of Lake Charlevoix is deeper than the South Arm, the smelt, for the most part, are going to congregate there until spawning time. And as long as Lake Charlevoix is connected with Lake Michigan, we can't hatch and plant fish in it... and keep them penned up, as can be done with an inland lake.

In regards to a winter sports park, should the townspeople wish to vote several thousand dollars to build one, we will be glad to go along on it and help where we can.

In his next paragraph our friend belates us for spending too much time trying to bring in summer people and forgetting the farmers. When he states that we need the farmers, he is right. When he states that we have forgotten the farmers he is wrong again. Has he ever stopped to think just what the resort trade means to the farmers of this area? Michigan State College extension dept. has made an extensive survey as to what the Mich. resort business means to the farmers of this state. Here are some of their figures. Their records show that tourists alone consumed the following from the farms of Mich. in 1947 (this year's figures aren't compiled as yet, but '48 was almost as big a resort year as '47).

593,436 bushels of potatoes, 9,000,792 lbs. beef, 1,322,000 lbs. veal, 13,598,000 lbs. bacon, ham and pork; 1,305,000 lbs. of mutton and lamb, 23,000 bushels of tomatoes, 25,900 crates of celery, 745 tons of cabbage, 4,717,000 lbs. poultry, 3,500,000 lbs. butter, 442 tons grapes, 233,000 bu. apples, 21,746 bu. pears, 451,480 lbs. cherries, 20,000 crates strawberries, 7,333,000 dozen eggs.

Add to the above amounts of produce the fresh milk, cream, beans, beets, carrots, raspberries, lettuce and other vegetables and small fruits consumed by our tourists and I believe you will realize that we have our local farmer's interests pretty much at heart in promoting East Jordan's summer trade.

In regard to the livestock sales barn proposition, that was while I was in service, but I do know the history of the case and the writer of last week's letter has only stated half the facts. What the man wanted for his livestock sales was the Lumber Co.'s barn next to the creamery. It is a foregone fact, that with a livestock barn there is, naturally, a compost pile. Directly across the alley from the barn was a restaurant (now there are two restaurants). I have a strong hunch had that restaurant man found that situation, he would have made a fast trip to the City Council. And I believe that last week's writer, had he owned the restaurant, would have done the same thing. And certainly, East Jordan would have gained no special award from the Michigan State Dept. of Health. However, the writer does not go on and say that the Chamber of Commerce was willing to secure the use of the local Fair Grounds for the man, which would have given him ample show and parking space, which was sorely lacking in town. However, the man wanted the Lumber Co. barn or nothing... so he took the barn at Boyne City. St. Johns has one of the largest livestock sales in Mich. but the barn is not in the center of the city, but rather, on the outskirts along the Grand Trunk Western tracks. The business people there say that the location has not hurt their business any...the people come in and shop before they go out to the sale or after it is over.

When the writer calls the "new industry" a thorn-in-the-flesh, he is right again. I don't know just when it became a thorn, but I think it was about 1920 when the Velvet Mint Gum Company came to East Jordan. That thorn went in pretty deep. In fact, I don't believe it has entirely been removed yet. There is no doubt that East Jordan needs more industry and the writer asks "But how is this going to be brought about?" and "What is the East Jordan C. of C. doing about it?"

In his final paragraph I believe he hit the key to the entire situation and I was waiting, as I read, to see if he would mention it. In his final paragraph he says "Ask any non-member..."

I wonder if the pass key to the entire problem doesn't lie in that sentence? I wonder if there were more members in the East Jordan C. of C. and fewer "non-members" along the streets and through the city? Any organization is only as strong as its membership. An organized, large Chamber could make an organized effort FOR industry and other things which would benefit East Jordan and the entire surrounding territory.

And now, before I close, here is one last thought. The writer told us how the other live-wire cities around were on their toes and grabbing things from East Jordan. Helen Bradley has taken over the Sec'y-Managership of the Petoskey C. of C. and is doing a grand job, as is Harry Jennings, as sec'y of the Boyne City Chamber. However, both of these people are on salary and devote full time to their job. The secretaryship of any C. of C., if full justice is done to the town, must be a full time job. The time is not far off when East Jordan, if it intends to keep pace with the other cities up here, will have to have a full time sec'y.

To whoever wrote that letter last week, I'll say it was a good letter. I don't feel the least bit indignant and I hope I didn't do any artful dodging. I don't know who the president of the C. of C. will be after next Wednesday's election. He had better watch out though, 'cause the week after election I think I'll write him a letter in The Letter Box and give him 'em all over somethin'.

JOINT FARM BUILDING-POULTRY MEETING SCHEDULED FOR FEBRUARY 17

Almost every farm in Charlevoix Co. has some problems regarding buildings. To bring help in this subject Geo. Amundson, Extension Agr'l Engineer will be on hand to take part in the meeting.

The problem of farm buildings take many forms. Very often it is the dairy barn where the insulation isn't quite right or where feeding and cleaning is not handy. One of the features of the meeting will be a display of several models of illustrated buildings constructed and arrangement. There will be models of the laminated rafter construction, milking parlors, and insulation for poultry houses and barns. A model septic tank will also be shown.

J. M. Moore, Michigan State college

Extension Poultry, will discuss a poultry program for Charlevoix Co. Among the questions he will consider will be whether farmers should depend on poultry flocks as part of their farm income. Market for meat and eggs, raising broilers and cutting down labor needs will be other topics. Moore will also tell about keeping the laying house dry in the winter time.

There will be adequate time arranged after each discussion, for any questions that farmers may have. If you have a particular problem on the building program or if you are interested in increasing the efficiency of the poultry enterprise you should plan on attending this meeting.

Remember the date is next Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17, at 1:30 p. m. sharp. In the basement of the Boyne City Library. Because of a rather long program, this meeting will start promptly at 1:30 p. m. in order that farmers may get home in time to do chores.

VEGETABLE GROWERS TO MEET AT MICH. STATE COLLEGE

Vegetable growers of Michigan want to talk about cutting costs. A two day session, Feb. 22 and 23 at Michigan State College in East Lansing will be devoted to increasing production efficiency and improving marketing records.

The two day institution is to be held in the Agr'l Engineering Building Auditorium. Registration is from 9 to 10, Feb. 22nd. Both days programs will include panel discussion by growers, and their problems and methods of meeting these problems.

Representatives from the Calif. Fruit Exchange, from Michigan Vegetable Council, from Machinery Firms, and Specialists from Michigan State College will appear on the program. If you, as a vegetable grower would like to attend this session and would like to ride with someone else, call your Co. Extension Office at Boyne City and if possible, arrangements will be made.

PLANNING A CROP ROTATION

Here's a way to measure the value of your crop rotation — use ten questions suggested by Lynn Robertson, Michigan State College Soil Scientist. If the answer to each question is "yes", then it's a good rotation. Here are the questions:

1. Do you grow adapted, high-yielding varieties?
2. Are the crops grown in an order that will produce the highest yield of the important crops?
3. Are leguminous, green manure crops plowed under at frequent and regular intervals?

4. Do you use cover crops to protect the soil during winter?
5. Does the rotation control weeds, insects, and crop diseases?
6. Is the rotation adapted to the total acreage of the farm?
7. Is it not easily disturbed by legume failures, winter killing, drought, etc.?
8. Does it provide enough good cheap feed for livestock?
9. Does it enable you to distribute labor evenly throughout the year instead of having all the work pile up at one season?
10. Is the rotation profitable for you and for those who may follow you on the same land?
