Lee Killers Are Sentenced

BY CIRCUIT JUDGE BROWN AT BELLAIRE LAST FRIDAY

Three men — including a father and a son — were ordered to serve prison terms today for the rifle slaying of Gerald Lee, 26-year-old East Jordan farmer, in an auto chase near Mancelona Nov. 24.

Circuit Judge Charles Brown of Traverse City ordered Theodore McNeil, 19-year-old "trigger man," in the slaying, who had been convicted of second degree murder, to serve a 7 1/2 to 17-year term.

His father, Charles McNeil, 41, was given a 7 1/2 to 15-year term and Rex Loveless, 19, was sentenced to a 5 to 15-year term. The father and Loveless were found guilty of manslaughter in the case by an Antrim county jury Feb. 9.

"Pre-sentence reports and investigations of your past records show you have some good 'salvage material' in you, Judge Brown told the three men. "I probably will be criticized for the length of the term but if any of you emerge from prison to become a useful citizen, it will compensate for the criticism." Judge Brown declared before imposing sentence.

The shooting followed a minor collision between Lee's light panel truck and the McNeil car after which the auto chase followed.

McNeil testified he fired several shots but "didn't intend to kill him" — just scrove the car and Loveless was loading the rifles used in the shooting.

Prosecutor Harry T. Cook had contended in the trial that the trio killed "the wrong man by mistake."

Cook held they were "gunning" for Dennis Sizemore, a friend of McNeil's estranged wife, and that they thought Sizemore and Mrs. McNeil were in the truck." Lee's companion, Mrs. Goldie Long, escaped injury in the shooting.

McNeil was a resident of Bellaire. His son and Loveless were Grand Rapids residents.

Judge Brown spoke to the men 20 minutes before passing the sentence. He pointed out that the father had never been arrested, never been on welfare, had always taken care of his family and that he has five children which "must be considered."

The judge declared that Sheriff Howard Tanner reported that "every-one considered the elder McNeil a fine person before this happened."

The judge also pointed out that both of the boys had been honorably discharged from the army. He said that although the sentences might be criticized as being light, he felt that his decision was in the best interests of the public and of the individuals concerned.

Red Cross Quotas For Charlevoix County

The Red Cross quota for Charlevoix county in the annual funds drive which opens March 1 has been set at $6,000, Loton Willson, funds chairman, has announced.

The amount has been broken down to the following quotas for the communities in the county: Boyne City, $1,900; Charlevoix, $1,700; East Jordan, $1,500; Walloon Lake, $200; Boyne Falls, $100; Beaver Island, $50; Ironton, $50; townships, $500.

Plans for the drive were formulated at a meeting of county Red Cross officials and fund workers held at the City Hall in Charlevoix on Friday night. At that time the quota was announced and plans for the drive worked out.

Local chairmen and workers will be announced next week.

Council to Enforce Ordinance Prohibiting Radio Interference

The Council of the City of East Jordan, voted Monday night to enforce its ordinance that prohibits electrical radio interference.

First step in this program to clear up the airwaves and light wires of these objectional noises was taken when Alderman Clark brought up the subject and asked that two Official Electrical Radio Interference Locators be appointed. Mayor Benson appointed Bob Sloop and Mason Clark, Jr., East Jordan's radio repairmen, to act, without cost to the City of East Jordan.

These two competent radio and electrical repairmen will attempt to ferret out these troublesome noises, and when found will advise the law violator of his offense, and if he desires, they will correct same at a nominal charge. If the owner refuses, they will inform the City Council who will take needed steps to have the noise corrected.

To make things easier all around, owners of troublesome devices are urged to take them to one of these repairmen and have it fixed. Most people know when they are creating electrical interference, and which of their appliances are causing them. Contrary to popular belief, it is the small-appliance owner that is the big troublemaker. The larger industries of East Jordan and the Michigan Public Service Co. keep constant check on the performance of their electrical equipment, and when troublesome noises appear, they are corrected immediately.

If you have electrical interference on your radio, contact your councilman, and he will see that one of these Official Electrical Radio Interference Locators check on the same as soon as possible.

Are you creating interference?

Missionary Services at the Methodist Church Thursday, March 3rd

Members and friends of the East Jordan Methodist Church are to gather to hear Rev. Herbert J. Riley, who with his family has spent 18 years as a missionary in the Philippines. A large part of this time was spent as a worker among the students of the Island, especially at the University of the Philippines which had a pre-war enrollment of 7,000. The subject of his Missionary message is, "Building for Peace," and is based on his war experience (he and his family spent 3 years in the Santo Tomas Prison Camp in Manila, being rescued and liberated by the rescue unit of the American Army in Feb. 1945) as well as on the goodwill built up by

REV. HERBERT J. RILEY the American Government and other Americans since the beginning of the American Regime there, following the Spanish American War. He states that he and his family, along with others who were prisoners, owe their lives to the love and loyalty of our Philippine friends. Mr. Riley is not coming to make an appeal for funds for any missionary project, only to do missionary cultivation work in the truest sense.

This meeting will start out with a pot luck supper at about 6:30 for members and friends of the church and then followed by the message by Rev. Riley in the Church Sanctuary at 8:00 p. m. to which the public is all invited. This means everyone who will come. Remember the date, Thursday, March 3rd. Pot luck at 6:30 p. m. Bring your table service. General meeting at 8:00 p. m.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. F. I. Rouse and the United Missionary Sunday School for the nice box of fruit and the book they sent us and their many act of kindness.

Fifty-five Mile Smelt Derby

WILL GET UNDER WAY SOON AS SPRING SPAWNING STARTS

Sportsmen of Charlevoix county are planning an experiment in smelt dipping which, if successful, will streamline the sport so that the army of smelt fishermen who annually take in the spawning runs around the Lake Charlevoix area will be able to dip smelt all night long.

They have dubbed the project "The 55 Mile Smelt Derby" and it is scheduled to get underway as soon as the spring spawning runs start which can be anytime between March 5 and Apr. 25, if the record for the past 20 years can be relied upon.

The gist of the idea is briefly that there are ten creeks emptying into Lake Charlevoix in which smelt will run if they are not molested and if dipping hours are regulated. By setting up a schedule of 15 minute dips at two hour intervals for each of the streams, the three clubs sponsoring the event hope to correlate the dipping hours in such a manner that fishermen can dip at one site, get into their car and arrive at another site in time to take in the next scheduled dip and so on until they have driven the complete 55-mile distance around Lake Charlevoix. One creek on Walloon Lake and the McGee creek which flows into Lake Michigan near Charlevoix may be included in the itinerary in which case the boys will add another 20 miles to the title.

The Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club and the Boyne Sportsman's Club have already approved the project and are busily at work laying plans for handling the crowds that will dip in the streams under their supervision. The Jordan River Sportsman's Club will join in on the plan, but special dipping regulations await the club's formal approval. This is assured according to president Keith Dressel, who explained that the size of the Jordan river would necessitate some exceptions to the regulation pattern of dipping to be followed on the rest of the streams in the county.

The idea for the round-robin smelt dipping spree that is expected to keep a parade of cars moving around Lake Charlevoix for a solid week or ten days originated with Archie Karlskin, Johnny Looze, Jim Beals, and Lance Russ of Advance village on the south side of Lake Charlevoix. These men, by carefully guarding Porter creek last spring, nurtured one of the regions most successful smelt runs into full bloom after veteran fishermen had given up all hope that there would be any run.

Karlskin steadily maintained that smelt would run if the river mouths were not molested by over anxious dippers flashing lights in the stream. His theory was proven when Porter creek produced the only good run in the region even though the lake was literally plugged with smelt at spawning time.

On the basis of the successful experiment at Advance, the idea of regulating every stream in the county was developed and presented to the sportsmen. They liked it so well they dropped the natural rivalry which had existed between them for years in order to make the Lake Charlevoix area a smelt-dipping "hot-spot."

The idea grew throughout the summer months; sportsmen presented it before the county board of supervisors and were assured the cooperation of the sheriff's department in patrolling the streams. The county highway department and the Charlevoix County Chamber of Commerce will also have a hand in the undertaking.

When the runs in most of the streams flowing into Lake Charlevoix appear to be at their heights, the sportsmen's groups plan a three night derby with prizes for entries who dip smelt in every stream around the lake. Each night the derby will start in a different community and contestants will draw certificates from a patrolman at each site they dip at. The fisherman drawing certificates at all sites on the 55-mile route and having the biggest bag of fish will be given a valuable prize by the community which hosts the derby for that particular night.

Sportsmen of all three clubs know they have a big job ahead of them. The matter of adequate regulation will be the biggest problem. Larry Towe, Charlevoix publisher, summed up the intent of the entire project with this remark: "We'll be happy if we're only 20 per cent successful this year. At least we'll be giving sportsmen the usual dipping conditions in such streams as the Boyne and the Jordan in addition to providing more places so people won't have to set around in their cars and shiver all night."

Officials of the three clubs will be busily engaged during the next two weeks in getting time tables printed, signs staked out, and attending to other details. Special maps of the county will be distributed to visitors; the assistance of the conservation department, deputies, hot dog stands,

City To Establish A Dog Pound

THREE CHILDREN BITTEN BY DOGS RECENTLY. COUNCIL TAKES ACTION

The City of East Jordan, after years of much talk and little action, finally has established a dog pound. This was brought about by several worried citizens telling their aldermen that "something ought to be done about those dogs." Within the past three weeks three children have been bitten, although not seriously. One irate citizen, finding a dog mauling his young daughter on his front porch, and feeling that city officials would take no action, settled the question and there with his deer rifle.

The new City Dog Pound will be established in the building by the river in Sportsman's Park. Henry Johnson, who lives nearby, will be the pound manager. The present ordinance calls for keeping a dog in custody for not more than 24 hours and then destroying same. Any dog running loose in the City of East Jordan is liable to be picked up and placed in the pound.

Chief of Police Harry Simmons has been erroneously blamed for letting dogs run wild, but the City Council had refused to back him up by establishing a pound, although an ordinance setting up provisions for same has been in effect for years.

Plans are now underway for a big cleanup to eliminate all stray dogs in East Jordan. The law provides that all dogs shall be under the control of the owner at all times, with no exemptions.

You may say, "My dog is different," but if your dog is caught running loose, placed in the pound, and disposed of after 24 hours, he will be just as dead as any other dog that went through the same experience. Think it over.

Red Cross Fund Drive Starts Soon

ANNUAL FUND RAISING FOR CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

The annual Red Cross funds drive will open in Charlevoix Co. on Mar. 1, Loton Willson, funds chairman, has announced. Plans are now being made for the drive. Local chairmen and the 1949 quota will be announced next week.

Mr. Willson has warned county residents to not confuse the Red Cross drive with any other drive. The American Red Cross annually conducts its drive in March and is not associated with any other drive.

Of the amount raised in the county in 1948, $4,917.07 was spent in the county. Among the major funds spent throughout the year were $840.32 went to aid those who had suffered losses in fire disasters; $1,965.20 went to assist veterans and their families; $815.38 was needed to aid servicemen and their families and $182.14 for the water and safety program. The latter helped pay the entrance fees for the Red Cross Aquatic school which was attended by several young men and women in the county, who then returned to their respective communities to aid in life saving and first aid programs.

This year 74.8 per cent of the funds will remain in the county to be used for the residents of the county. The remainder will go to national headquarters to be used for such things as aiding in national disasters, serving the armed forces, serving veterans and promoting health and safety.

In the last year there have been many national disasters in which the American Red Cross have played a major role. The most recent has been the Great Plains blizzards. From Jan. 2 until Feb. 3 more than 24,000 persons in eight states were fed, sheltered, brought medical aid or otherwise aided by the American Red Cross. The work is still going on and will continue until the storms are over and the help of the agency is no longer needed.

Auxiliary Quilts Are Ready to Tie Now

The Auxiliary sewing circle met at Mary Dolezels the 18th to work on their quilts for the Community Service project, with a large crowd present. In fact, we now have two quilts to tie and will tie them at our next meeting place which will be at Reva Waiton's home Wednesday evening, March 2nd, instead of at Lillian Bennett's as was first decided.

Hilda Bathke has donated a Dresden plate quilt top for us to quilt to be raffled off.

and the improvement of the dipping areas are just a few of the details the boys must wrestle with.

The three Charlevoix county clubs are afraid of only one thing: In the event of an unexpected early run — all bets are off.

There Was Plenty of Smelt

The Smelt and Chips supper which was sponsored by the Jordan River Sportsmen's Club, at the High School Gym, last Friday evening, met with much success.

While the crowd wasn't as large as had been expected, it was large enough to warrant consideration of holding one again next year.

The Sportsmen's Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped with the supper. It was a large job, but good cooperation turned the trick.

World Day of Prayer at Presbyterian Church Friday, March 4th

A committee, with Mrs. Vernon Vance as chairman, is making plans for the 1949 World's Day of Prayer service, which will be held at the Presbyterian church on Friday, March 4th, at 2:00 p. m. This worship program is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women. However, it is not a service for women only. All Protestant churches in East Jordan are uniting for this occasion. In fact, 74 other countries around the world are conducting similar services, making it truly a world day of prayer. The program will be conducted largely by the youth of the various churches. A joint Junior choir will be an outstanding feature. During the day of March 4th, preceding the church service, church bells will be sounded at regular intervals as a reminder to be prayerful. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Open Meeting of the South Arm Grange

The Open meeting at the South Arm Grange was a very enjoyable event. Mr. Redman, the Charlevoix Co. Agr'l. Agent, was present and showed slides of strip and contour farming, also pictures of interest taken throughout the county and of his trip he took last year as they drove through the mountain area and of Washington, D. C. The Soil Conservation committees had their application forms along and filled them out. There were 10 farmers signed up.

Pot luck supper was served at the close of the meeting after which the men enjoyed playing cards while the women all joined in on a good visit. Next meeting will be, Saturday, Mar. 5, at 9:00 p. m.

The lecture is planning a program. One of the number is a contest. Name the countries in either Africa or South America. The continent will be announced at the program. There is also to be a play.

The newly organized South Arm Community 4-H club is getting well under way. Their next monthly meeting will be with Liskums, Wednesday evening at 8:00 p. m., March 9. They are planning a box social and full evening entertainment at the Grange Hall March 12. Everyone is welcome.

Benj. A. Reid Seriously Injured In Muskegon Accident

Benjamin A. Reid of 5350 Airline Road, Muskegon, was in Hackley hospital last week with injuries received Feb. 11th in an accident at the Reid-Gruff Plumbing Shop, 1417 Peck St. Muskegon Hts. He suffered chest and neck injuries when his clothing got caught in a threading machine he was operating. As the garments tightened around his body he was being strangled. Workers summoned by his shouts turned off the machine in time to prevent more serious injury. He was taken by the Lee Ambulance to the hospital, where his condition is fair. Mr. Reid is a well-known former resident of East Jordan.

"World Day of Prayer"

A PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

Whereas, from the foundation of the American Republic, our forefathers, what ever their creed, or condition, or nation of origin, have been wont to turn to the God of the Universe for guidance and blessings and

Whereas, men of all faiths today realize that only divine wisdom and the following of God's commandments can help our people and the world in the bewilderment of these post-war years and

Whereas, the women of the several protestant churches of East Jordan, uniting with similar groups across America and throughout the world, have designated, Friday, March 4, 1949, as a "World Day of Prayer," urging people to gather to ask for divine guidance for themselves and all mankind.

Therefore, I do proclaim, Friday, March 4, 1949 a Day of Prayer in East Jordan, and do call upon all our citizens to give reverent attention to the purposes of this observance, and if possible to attend corporate worship at some religious service of the day.

Signed,
Marvin R. Benson, Mayor

East Jordan Barbershoppers Organize Chapter

Twenty-six East Jordan men who like their close harmony in the Barber Shop style, met at the American Legion Hall Feb. 10, to organize a chapter to S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A. To the laymen this means The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Sixteen members of the Boyne City Chapter with their director, Loton Willson, and president Chuck Williams, came over and got the meeting under way with a few songs by their group and also by two or three of their quartets.

The Boyne Chapter also offered to present the East Jordan group with a National charter, and Loton Willson will be over to direct the new group until it gets under way.

The next meeting will be held in the City Building on Thursday, March 3, at which time the Boyne City Chapter will present East Jordan with a charter and officers will be elected.

All those who are interested are still invited to join. You don't have to be a Caruso or a Sinatra. The only requirement is that you like to sing. Just come to the City Building next Thursday and join in the singing — Barber Shop Style. The time is 8:00 p. m.

Community Concert Date Changed

Wednesday, March 2, is the date of the final program.

The St. Louis Sinfonietta, a little symphony orchestra of twenty-one outstanding artist musicians, is the final number of the Community Concert Series in Petoskey for this season.

This orchestra under their conductor, Paul Schriber, has made extensive transcontinental tours, and are widely acclaimed in the musical world.

Their program in Petoskey will include interesting works of the old masters as well as unusual modern compositions.

Because of the limited number of tickets available in East Jordan, those who cannot use their tickets for the concert are asked to notify either Jason Snyder or Cy Dolezel at the Postoffice. Many inquiries for tickets are received at the Postoffice before each concert so with the ticketholder's cooperation more persons will have an opportunity to enjoy these fine musical programs.

Remember the new date, Wednesday, March 2.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Charlevoix County Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct its annual membership campaign in March to finance the Red Cross program, including blood for civilians and disaster relief services, and is not seeking funds for these or any other purposes through any other organization, according to Mr. Ralph Hamilton, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter. Hamilton made his statement in connection with the avowed intention of United Health and Welfare, Inc., to solicit funds here beginning February 14 to finance, among other welfare services, blood and disaster aid to the sick and to victims of catastrophes. Hamilton added that acceptance of United Health and Welfare funds would destroy the direct association of the Red Cross with its membership among the American people, one million of whom in Michigan and 1175 in Charlevoix Co. answered the Red Cross membership appeal last March. For that reason, among others, he said that the Red Cross cannot accept from the United Health and Welfare, Inc., any funds raised for blood disaster, or any other service given by the Red Cross.

"Because the United Health and Welfare Fund is publicizing that part of its gifts are being sought for blood and disaster services, two activities most commonly associated with the American Red Cross, the local chapter felt that the resulting confusion could be dispelled by a public statement in regard to the Red Cross position in the matter," Hamilton said.

"Numerous agencies are included in the United Fund's campaign, not one of them performing either a blood service or giving disaster relief or rehabilitation aid to disaster sufferers," Hamilton's statement continued.

"The 21,000 pints of blood given through the Red Cross in Michigan last year, the nation-wide Red Cross blood program launched in 1947, the Red Cross record of 67 years of relief and rebuilding work in at least 65 major Michigan disasters have, we believe, thoroughly identified these services with the Red Cross in the public mind."

"We believe the people have a right to know that contributing funds for a blood or disaster service to the United Health and Welfare Fund, Inc., will not aid the Red Cross in performing these services."

Hamilton cited correspondence from the Red Cross showing that the United Health and Welfare officials had been informed as to the Red Cross inability to permit funds for its services to be raised by any other than authorized Red Cross representatives.

"The Board of Governors of the Red Cross fixed this present policy for all Red Cross chapters only after careful study of this matter and a thorough review of past experience," Hamilton said. "It is believed participation in any joint fund raising effort will weaken the Red Cross to the degree that it could not effectively perform the duties for which it was created. Our experience supports the conclusion."

How's Your Listening Time?

Buck Howell and I were in Baleville last week. Dropped in at Bob's diner where some friends were sitting around talking about whether to sell hogs now or wait.

Buck plunges right into the discussion. He's lecturing away when suddenly they all stand up and start stomping their feet like it was an Indian war dance.

I'm flabbergasted. But Buck only looked sheepish and explains, "Guess I was talking again, when I should-of been listening. When a person's talking time gets out of line with his listening time around here, the gang reminds him by standing up and stomping."

From where I sit, that's a good system. Everyone has a right to his opinions—but others have a right to theirs, too—whether it's deciding between to sell or not to sell, apple pie or cherry pie, or a glass of mellow beer or cider. Life's more interesting that way, and hang it if you don't sometimes learn something!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Church Raps Mindszenty Verdict; Dewey Dons Attire of Liberalism; People Checked Inflation Threat

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

MINDSZENTY: Gets Life Term

The trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, was over and the verdict came as no surprise. The Cardinal was sentenced to life imprisonment on charges of treason and black marketing. If there were an unexpected element in the outcome it was that he was spared. But at trial's end even that hung in the balance. Cardinal Mindszenty still could lose his life. Under Hungarian law, while his sentence of life could be appealed, the supreme peoples tribunal, last court of appeal, could increase the severity of the sentence which, in this case, could mean only death.

THE CARDINAL was doomed from the outset. His plight had so stirred the Christian world that denunciations of the Hungarian government's actions were almost universal. Powerful western nations, through their leading churchmen, had attacked the trial procedure and this, in turn, had incensed the Communist-dominated Hungarian court to a point where the issue was never in doubt.

It was generally believed that it was only reluctance to make a martyr out of the Cardinal that averted the death penalty.

Hungary lost no time in assailing American representatives who actually, or purportedly, sided with the cardinal. Among targets of these attacks were Cardinal Spellman, of New York, who delivered a scathing sermon against prosecution of Mindszenty, and Selden Chapin, U. S. envoy to Hungary.

AMONG OTHER THINGS, Cardinal Mindszenty was accused of gathering information for Chapin in a scheme to overthrow the Hungarian government. Chapin immediately branded this charge as "pure fantasy."

General opinion was that in the prosecution of the Cardinal Russian communism had made its first great blunder. For in the move was discerned the fact that religion and religious concepts—whether Catholic or Protestant—would not be permitted to stand in the way of Soviet aims.

The Russians had resurrected a policy which once before had so alarmed them that they had forsworn it. But now they were publicly and dramatically recommitted to it—a policy of the Kremlin versus Christ, and this time the Soviet Union was up against an adversary for whom there can be no defeat.

INFLATION: People Curbed It

The people, themselves, can claim major credit for the recent check to national inflation.

That is the conclusion of the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company which conducted a study of the subject.

THE STUDY developed that a slowdown, halt, or reverse of six main factors in the 76 per cent rise from pre-war price levels had been brought about.

It found that as late as last September, the public still was bidding frantically against each other for more goods than were being produced in many lines. But in the final two months of 1948, consumers suddenly quit trying to outbid each other.

With industrial production in high gear and comparatively free from interruptions, output and available supplies of most consumer goods were gaining steadily.

Government bidding for grain in Europe, which ran grain prices up to record heights last year, slowed down as world grain production recovered.

THE LONG RISE in wage-costs-per-unit of goods was slowing down, the study said.

Continuing its listing of the six factors, the study reported that rapid expansion in money supply, both cash and credit, due to vast government borrowing, had also slowed down.

Borrowing by business for expansion was listed as the sixth factor which was slowed down because of tightened restrictions.

But the first and foremost cause of the current price deflation, the study concludes, has been the halt in the public's scramble for goods. By trimming their demands to fit within available supplies, the people have recaptured some of their normal control over prices.

GOP'S DEWEY: New Liberalism

For a man who was strangely reticent about plans while seeking the presidency of the United States, New York's Thomas E. Dewey turned vocal and voluble in his Lincoln Day address in Washington.

In the diminutive governor's remarks there was no apology for defeat and no supine bid for favor. Instead, he lashed out vigorously against party policy and advocated a purge of "anti-liberals" from GOP ranks.

That there was a noticeable paradox in his position apparently disturbed him not at all. While crying for those who oppose "liberal progressive" policies to get out of the party, he struck out also at New Dealish elements inside the organization.

Urging his party to stop bemoaning the past, he recommended that it dedicate itself anew to forward-looking programs of social progress but without "trying to outbid the Democrats with the public money."

It was Dewey's first public address since his defeat last November, and in it he reminded his listeners that the last GOP platform expressed wholehearted belief in unemployment insurance, increased old-age assistance, broader social security generally, slum clearance and public housing, public development of water power, and farm price supports.

These words must have left some of his hearers stunned. Surely, they must have asked themselves, why weren't some of these things mentioned during the multiple appearances of their presidential candidate last year?

But, Dewey, ever the realist in facing a situation, however he may react to it, conceded that the party was split wide open in a fight between two extremes of thought. And then he uttered a remark which must have brought some sly smiles. He said: "What we ought to do . . . is to make it everlastingly clear to the country where we stand and why."

INCOME: Average $3,000

The average annual income of the American family was climbing. In 1947 the average was $3,000, highest ever recorded up to that time.

The federal census bureau, which issued the report, found that income was distributed among the country's 37 million families in this manner:

FOUR MILLION had under $1,000; six million had $1,000 to $2,000; eight million, $2,000 to $3,000; eight million, $3,000 to $4,000; four million, $4,000 to $5,000; three million, $5,000 to $6,000; three million, $6,000 to $10,000; and one million, $10,000 or more.

Thus only four million families—or slightly fewer than one out of each nine families in the country—had in that year the $6,000 which President Truman has suggested as the starting point for the income tax increase he asked Congress to consider.

An interesting factor is that in one fourth of the families, women earned 25 per cent or more of the family income, and more than two million families were supported entirely by female breadwinners.

Who fared best in the average? Farm wage-workers came out best. The income of this class had jumped from an average of $300 in 1939 to $900 in 1947.

GREEN LIGHT: Waits Faithfully

Harry S. Truman, of Independence, Mo., is getting into a habit of popping up as a poll topper in this or that department.

"Man of the year . . . most popular, etc., etc." are some of the poll winning titles he already possesses.

Now, he has come up with another. Mr. Truman is the nation's No. 1 pedestrian.

No less an authority than that National Safety Council has so designated Mr. Truman.

THE ASSOCIATION'S magazine Public Safety, pictured Mr. Truman on its cover and commended him for his interest in safety.

The traffic advisory board of the District of Columbia hailed the President's "firm decision to wait faithfully for the green light before crossing Pennsylvania avenue."

Mr. Truman turned down a suggestion that a special traffic control be established for his daily walks between his temporary residence at Blair House and the White House.

Mr. Truman said he preferred to obey the traffic signals "like any other citizen."

A-BOMB DATA: Reds Demand It

The Russians just couldn't stay out of the news.

But in an utterance which commanded American headlines, they revealed themselves as almost childishly naive.

With the cold war as hot as it could be, short of the bullet stage, the Soviets had the gall to demand that the United States tell them how many A-bombs this country has and provide full data on armed forces and armaments.

Never modest in demands the Soviets set a deadline for receipt of this information. It was March 31, 1949.

HOWEVER they wouldn't be completely selfish about the matter. They demanded that the report on these matters be made to the United Nations, of which Russia is a member.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the U. N. dubbed the Soviet resolution a "succotash of all the beans and different constituents." Russia has put to the U. N. on the arms and atomic questions since the world peace organization was formed.

Even a non-betting citizen might be excused for risking a sawbuck that the Russians would have nothing but their pains in proposing that the U. S. bare its atomic war potentials to the Kremlin.

B-29'S: Direct Hits

The army air force was making a point for its contention of its importance as an effective arm in itself. Four air force B-29's scored direct hits on nine fighting ships attacking Kodiak island in the navy's north Pacific war games.

An airman aboard one of the bombers said the formation spotted the nine ships 250 miles southeast of Kodiak and registered bombing hits in three runs at 20,000 feet.

THE SHIPS were part of a navy task force attempting to retake the island from a theoretical enemy.

The report was significant from two standpoints. First, because the air force termed it important enough to report. Since that was done, it was motivated, probably, by the fact that the air force wanted to show that it had demonstrated the efficacy of the power of land-based planes in an off-shore attack.

ALLIGATOR: Nothing Fatal

In Alencon, France, Santos Dumot, circus performer, stuck his head into the mouth of a 300-pound alligator—his regular act. As usual, the audience oohed and aahed.

But this time, the alligator snapped his big jaws shut.

The actor's father rushed to the rescue with an iron bar and forced the jaws open.

Ideal World
Lesson for February 27, 1949

ANY MAN with a revolutionary new idea has to try to explain it. Jesus was no exception. As a young teacher of religion, he had to answer the question which older teachers were bound to put to him: If your teaching is new, how can it be true? And if it is true, what can be new about it? This was a fair question. The Sermon on the Mount is Jesus' answer to it. The Dr. Foreman main theme of that sermon is the kingdom of God, an ancient phrase but with new meanings as Jesus used it. We can say "The Ideal World" and mean just the same thing.

The Right People
JESUS EMPHASIZES, above all, the kind of people who belong to God's Ideal World. This would be surprising to some modern planners. Communists think that if you can once get a world in which every one has enough to eat and drink and wear, a world where nobody is poor (or everybody is as poor as everybody else, which is all the same thing), you will have the perfect world. Jesus would know this is nonsense. You do not get the perfect world by improving the soil, or the system of government, or the economic system; you do not get it by passing laws of any kind. This does not mean that such things are unimportant—far from it.

But the fact is that even after you got your perfect social system, with perfect politics and perfect distribution of wealth, even a perfect climate and soil, you would still be nowhere near the Ideal World unless you have improved your people.

Is This You
WHAT WE call the "beatitudes" (Matt. 5:7-12) is Jesus' eight-point program for the citizen of the Ideal World. The right people are happy people, to begin with. (The word translated "Blessed" is a regular Greek word for "happy.") But the main difference between different kinds of people is not that some want to be happy while others do not.

Jesus' ideal people are humble, not proud; they see their sins and are sorry for them; they are "meek"—that is, they are not in a hurry to demand their own rights; they do not merely admire goodness, they are positively hungry for it; they are merciful, not careless or cruel; they are pure in heart and not only in speech and act; they are not mere peace-wishers or peace-lovers (who isn't?) but peace-makers; they are people who are brave enough to do what is right.

Salt
DO YOU really want an ideal world? The best way to begin is to learn how to be a citizen of such a world. Jesus uses two interesting simple words to describe the kind of people he means. You are salt, he said,—you are light. Salt and light are old-fashioned things but they have never gone out of date.

So there is no substitute for a really good Christian. Living, here and now, like citizens of the ideal world to come, Christians are both salt and light.

Salt because they give a taste to otherwise flat or bitter life. Salt because they keep human society from going rotten.

Light
AND LIGHT! Like salt, light ought not to be too noticeable. A glaring light is bad on the eyes, as too much salt is bad on the tongue. So a Christian is not supposed to rub his goodness in on other people, so to speak. He is as indispensable as salt in bread—and should be as inconspicuous. But light, like salt, if it is any good has to be applied directly. A strong light concealed in a steel tube does no good. Swishing the glass end of the salt-cellar around in the soup gives it no flavor. The salt must get into the soup, the light must touch what we see.

So the Christian, God's ideal citizen-in-training, can do the world no good by running away from the world.

If a Christian is going to leave this world better than he found it,—even a little bit farther on toward the Ideal World,—he must come into touch with the world, not to irritate it but to change it.

Poultry - Agricultural Engineering Meeting Huge Success

The combination poultry and agricultural engineering meeting held at Boyne City last week was a huge success, according to Ed Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent. The basement of the Boyne City Library was packed and a number of folks had to stand up during the program.

Geo. Amundson, Extension Agr'l Engineer from Michigan State College led a discussion in regard to barn arrangements and insulation and ventilation of farm buildings. Mr. Amundson more or less favored the pen-type barn with the milking parlors from the standpoint of saving labor. He also indicated that you cannot have insulation nor ventilation alone without the other. In other words ventilation and insulation go together. Mr. Amundson suggested that if farmers wish to see how much labor they require on dairy cows to follow the following plan: Make a scale model of your barn and have someone with some pins and string and as you walk back and forth this person should follow you with the string and place it on the scale model. At the end of chores stretch out this string and figure out how many steps you have taken. Then you can decide whether or not you can eliminate some of the wasteful steps.

J. M. Moore, Extension Poultryman from Michigan State College discussed the poultry enterprise for Charlevoix County. He stated that from June to December the county has one of the finest poultry markets at her front door — which is the tourist trade. Tourists want fresh eggs and three to four lbs. spring chickens and these should be produced here locally to supply the demand. Moore stated that there are two kinds of poultry flocks: One kind of flock is kept only to produce eggs for the family table and a chicken dinner now and then. The second kind of flock and by far the most important is 150 to 400 bird flocks on which the farmer depends for part of his income.

In regard to poultry houses Mr. Moore stated that the laying house should be dry, it should be wide, and it should be economical to build. To keep the house dry he suggested insulation on the walls and using a straw loft. The ventilation is to open the window — and the air will come in and go up through the straw on out through the gable ends of the house. A wide house with a straw loft is one that is most economical to build. Approximately 3 1/2 to 4 sq. feet is required per bird. Another help in reducing labor in poultry flocks is the use of a deep litter system. With the proper insulation and ventilation this litter will stay dry and needs only be cleaned once a year. Moore suggested that more farmers should look into poultry as an added means of income.

Ed Rebman, County Agr'l Agent.

Mrs. Threasa Wilcox was over to Central Lake to attend the birthday party of her son, Wayne Wilcox, at the home of Mrs. Martha Smith, Feb. 22. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison, Mrs. Edith Wilcox and friends. We were served a very nice chicken dinner. Wayne received many nice gifts.

Town Meeting Tonight!

MUSINGS FROM A LISTENER'S NOTEBOOK

Did you ever attend a Council Meeting in the City of East Jordan? This writer did. One of our Councilmen said, in a chance remark, that a Council meeting was at times a very tiresome affair because people were very rarely interested enough to attend. Being curious, we attended.

This councilman said that he felt that if the public didn't care enough about what their city was doing to attend once in awhile, that he could see no reason why, for a miserably $50.00 a year, he should attend over 25 meetings a year, and fight their battles for them. This, in addition to spending days on end attending to this and that time-consuming detail. And to what avail?

Being on the council is a nerve-racking job. Most of them at present are doing good work. More than one councilman has laid awake half the night wondering how to solve certain problems.

Why do taxpayers stay away from a council meeting in droves? Perhaps here are a few reasons, however minor they are, that could be a contributing factor:

The council sits at a table. Six aldermen, the mayor and city clerk take up all available space at this table. Only one other chair is available in the room, this a product of the WPA rustic furniture project. On two other sides of the room are two long uncomfortable benches, both out of hearing range.

The council chamber was never noted for its acoustics. There is nothing in this room which absorbs sound such as draperies, rugs, etc. Consequently voices reverberate around and are lost in a million little echoes. With half the councilmen sitting with their back to any interested visitor, fully three-quarters of the conversation is undistinguishable. These possible sound like foolish little notions to one of the council, but it makes any visitor feel like a fish out of water.

Another contributing factor is the extra-curricular conversation taking place between other visitors. This, in view of the poor acoustical qualities of the room, makes it impossible to hear anything a councilman has to say.

A council that is experienced in the matter of public relations could, with a little furniture rearranging, a bit of sound-absorbing material, and a few dozen comfortable folding chairs, rapidly transform a stale council assembly into the lively "town meeting" type. This type of meeting would produce far-reaching results. It has elsewhere. It is worth a try here.

This writer also had another reason to attend. It was rumored that several angry citizens were about to descend on the Council's neck because of dogs — hundreds of 'em running loose everywhere! What happened? Not one of them showed up. This was very disappointing — no fireworks! The council members were expecting them too. Things like this are rapidly settled if brought out in the open. Councilmen should encourage the people to attend meetings and air their views. A councilman that is gifted in public relations will never suffer from lack of votes around election time.

Possibly some of the members of the City Council disagree with this writer — after all it's just one man's observation, and everyone has a right to his own opinion, no matter how wrong he may be. Maybe some member of the council has a far different idea in the matter of how to make people with constructive ideas welcome to a council meeting — along with those who come to enter complaints. We would be glad to read his opinion, as would perhaps the public at large.

VISUAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Our school is very fortunate in having good equipment and facilities for a visual-audical program. What we see usually makes a more lasting impression upon our minds than what we hear. Not many of us are privileged to travel very extensively to see and learn what the people of our neighboring cities, states and countries do for a living or to learn more of the geography, history, art, music, nature, study, etc. of our country, but by seeing it in carefully selected pictures, we can gain a great deal of information.

Our program is made up of films selected from our teacher's lists who select films which will fit in with their course of study. Nearly every film is teacher-previewed before it is presented to the children. In so doing, it is approved for grade level and can be taught before the students see it. Much more can be gained if they have some idea of what it is about and know what to look for. Follow-up quizzes are sometimes given, a language discussion follows, an art lesson or project is motivated and in many cases purposeful reading is inspired.

KINDERGARTEN — Helen Severance

Judith Jankoviak was six years old this week. Her mother sent a birthday treat for all the children. The girls voted in preference out with flu and chickenpox.

Stanley Bennett's mother visited us one morning this week.

We have been learning about the flag. We tried to make some flags with the right number of red and white stripes. We heard stories about Geo. Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Harold Murray brought his sister to visit school one day. She will be in Kindergarten next year. Mrs. Murray sent frosted graham cracker sandwiches for everyone.

Mrs. Robertson came to our room and talked to us about keeping our hands, face and hair clean.

FIRST GRADE — Marion Brooks

Mrs. Brooks made a big chocolate cake on the blackboard for Larry Gee's birthday. Each one made him a pretty card and sang "Happy Birthday."

Jimmy Lilak brought us a beautiful Valentine box. Larry Drenth's mother and little sister came to help us with the party on Monday. We thank them very much for coming. Everyone "treated" us so well that we could not finish the eats at the party so we had dainty cakes and cookies every afternoon for the rest of the week.

We are learning how to make flags. We enjoyed the story "Abe Lincoln, A Frontier Boy" which Mrs. Brooks read to us.

FIRST and SECOND Grades — Adeline Bowerman

Several in our group wanted to turn our postoffice back into a grocery store but we finally agreed that we would need the room for other projects so the building wreckers got busy. This week our orange crates are being made into a stage coach to be used in a pantomime of "Carrying the Mail" which we are preparing for this week's assembly. We will try to show a history of mail carrying from the runners of Bible time to the modern air mail.

The boys in our room were entertained at Ed's Boats on Thursday afternoon with a sledding party, supper, and marshmallow roast. We are grateful to Mrs. Geo. Sherman and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, one of our room mothers, for the transportation and to Jim Sherman for his help with the toboggan. The girls voted in preference of a boating party so they are waiting for the ice to go out.

Our room had the honor of selling the most Christmas seals and received two books from the Michigan Tuberculosis Ass'n last week.

SECOND GRADE — Cora Seiler

Gary Cihak and Mary Balliet had birthdays last Friday.

Judy Ecker has been absent for several days because of illness.

The children who received stars for good spelling last week are: John Cutler, Delbert Sulak, Gary St. Charles, Robert Healey, Joseph Pienta, Perry Bennett, Kay Robinson, Jimmy Galmore, Bobby Murray, Paul Hibbard, Carol Johnson, Thelma Zoulek, and Gary Cihak.

In our gym period the boys played basketball. Dick Johnson and Fred Clark from Mrs. Liskum's room helped teach us the game. With these two boys as captains, the teams played a short game which ended in a tie. The girls played catch with the other basketball.

We have been reading library books about our presidents, Lincoln and Washington. Mrs. Seiler read "Abe Lincoln, A Frontier Boy" to us.

THIRD GRADE — Jessie Hager

We are glad to have Mary Martinick and Albert Hayse back in school. Albert has new glasses.

Mrs. Robertson, our school nurse, visited our room on Friday.

Geo. Kotolik is back after his visit with relatives in Benton Harbor.

FOURTH GRADE — Grace Galmore

Mrs. Galmore's room had a basketball game with Mrs. Hughes' room.

Gene Richards made 1 basket and Alva Noiro made a free shot. For our room, Cal Darbee made 3 free shots and David Nachazel made one, so the score was 3 to 4 in our favor. — Janet Malone

In the big school building we have a citizenship contest from the first grade through the sixth grade. If we run in the halls or in the room, we put a mark on our chart. The room that does not break a rule gets a citizenship card in their window. — Milton Bulmann

We've been having fun skating on the pond this winter. We thank Mr. Porter for cleaning off the pond. There were a lot of people skating today. — Robert Freeman

Last week we saw three movies. One was about Denmark. In this movie we saw the process of cheese making. One was about the Netherlands and in this we saw some fish drying in the sun. The last was about Hawaii. This one showed the process of pineapple canning. It also showed the story of sugar from the planting of the cane to 100 lb. sacks of sugar being loaded onto trucks. — Joanne Bader

FIFTH GRADE — Elizabeth Dhaeleer

We received a letter from Bracketville, Texas last Friday. It was from Mary Gomez. She told about life along the Mexican Border. We enjoyed the letter very much.

We saw three movies in the gym last week. They were about Denmark, Hawaii and the Netherlands. They were very interesting.

The nurse was in our room the other day. We think she can help us a lot.

Sharon Moore won't be back until weather is better. We miss you Sharon. — Ruth Ann Kratochvil, reporter

FIFTH GRADE — Sadie Liskum

We had a diagnostic test in fractions. The 14 children who received 'A' were excused to read a new book about Brazil. The others thoroughly drilled on arithmetic.

Mrs. Liskum finished reading "The Long Winter." The people nearly starved but no one became ill; no one died.

SIXTH GRADE — Alma Larsen

The first team beat the second team in the game last Wednesday. The score was 5-0. — George Nelson

Mrs. Larsen is back in school after being ill.

We put on a Valentine play for our last assembly and had our Valentine party on Monday. — Helen Haney

We are studying about cubic measure in arithmetic. We will elect new officers in our club meeting. — Charlotte Craig

Bob Darbee — editor

The Letter Box

Dear Editor:

I, too, would like to see something done for the teen-age people of this town. I'd like to see their parents make their homes a pleasant place for kids. Then I'd like to see the parents stay home evenings and require their children to do the same until they have a chance to get acquainted with their off-spring.

The cause of juvenile delinquency is not in the way the children behave, but in the way their parents behave.

The primary reason for marrying is to establish a home and rear a family. To rear a family doesn't mean to give birth to children and push them out into the streets for training. Rearing a family means being on the job 24 hours a day, 7 days a week for about 18 years. Hard work? Sure. Anything worth doing takes hard work. The school takes over part of this training, but the parents are still responsible for their children's social, moral, and physical welfare.

A youth center would be a fine thing for East Jordan, providing the youth want it badly enough to build or otherwise acquire it. It has been done in other communities and could be done here. It isn't something for a group of well-meaning but near-sighted adults to flounder around with. If the kids want it, let them spend some of these spare hours that hang so heavily on their hands doing a little planning, from four to six in the afternoon would make a fine time for planning and still let the kids spend the evening at home with their chores, dishes, homework, radio, and a good library book.

South Arm Farm Bureau

South Arm Farm Bureau met Tuesday, Feb. 15, at Warren Frank's.

While Chairman Geo. Klooster was calling the meeting to order Mrs. Frank handed each one present a sack of candy. If you said "No" anytime in the evening you were to give up one piece of candy. Wonder who had the least candy at the close of the evening?

Blue Cross Sec'y Helen Klooster says anyone interested in Blue Cross Insurance now is the time to join by March 15 to come effective May 1.

Director August Bulmann gave a short talk of his trip to Gaylord and the county meeting at Geo. Blacks. Delbert Ingalls reports our summer 4-H Club is coming along fine — all children 10 years old and over are to sign up at Douglas Gilkerson's, our club leader, by May 1.

Geo. Klooster, one of the Soil Conservation Directors, says they are now ready for the four Spring meetings to begin around March 7th.

Doris Bulmann was made the new Secretary.

Next meeting at Harold Goebel's March 15th. Time did not permit for our discussion which would have been a good topic "Are our Schools doing a good job?"

Pot luck lunch was served by our hostess, ending a very pleasant evening.

Kemp — Rubingh

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp of East Jordan was the scene of a simple but impressive wedding, Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at 7:00 p. m. when their daughter, Carrie Emily, became the bride of Marvin Rubingh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Rubingh of Ellsworth. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. S. Hastings, pastor of the Presbyterian church of East Jordan, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a street length dress of navy blue crepe with which she wore a shoulder corsage of red rose buds and white carnations.

Miss Rena Knudsen, a close friend of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a blue-grey crepe dress and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Burr Abrahamson of Mt. Pleasant, brother-in-law of the groom, assisted as best man. The men in the bridal party wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother's of the bride and groom wore white and pink carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding supper was served in the Kemp home to the bridal party and guests.

Ice cream and the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride, groom and wedding bell, was served as a traditional part of the wedding supper.

The young couple are on a short wedding trip through southern Michigan cities and will be at home after Feb. 21 in Ellsworth in the house recently occupied by the Kenneth Osterbaan family and owned by Albert Fielstra.

The best wishes of the community are extended to the couple.

AN APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the cards, flowers, etc., sent me by my many friends while confined at the Lockwood hospital the past two weeks.

This play has certainly been well screened. Yes, but they didn't get all the dirt out.
