WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Senate Debate-Curb Row Renewed; Rent Curb Bill Favors 'Home Rule'; Pit Walkout Slims Coal Stockpile

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FILIBUSTER:

Truce Called
The long, weary talkathon in the U. S. senate was over—but the battle over the proposed curb on senate debate was by no means at an end.

A compromise had been effected with the aid of GOP support, but the administration was committed to oppose the peace formula which had been adopted.

THE FILIBUSTER had continued 15 days over a proposed change in senate rules. There was no doubt that southern senators, who led the talkathon, had emerged victorious. The talkfest was staged to delay President Truman's civil rights bill, and it had done just that.

The provisions of the peace formula were:

- 1. Unlimited debate in the senate would be permitted only upon a motion to take up a rules change.
 - 2. Debate on all other matters could be curbed by the "yes" vote of 64 of the chamber's 86 members.
- Majority leader Scott Lucas (D., Ill.) attacked the compromise proposal as a "move to perpetuate the filibuster."
- "Of course I'll oppose it," he told newsmen. "It's an effort to take the senate back 40 years."
- MEANWHILE Truman Democrats were reported launching a new parliamentary move to clamp down on debate. The senate already had overturned a ruling by Vice-President Barkley that discussion to take up the proposed rule change could be ended if two-thirds of those voting desired. The vote over-ruling Barkley was 46 to 41. Administration leaders hoped to find some way to another ruling and, if they could change as many as three votes, a Barkley ruling could be sustained.
- Mr. Truman had proved he could win the presidency without support of the South, but it appeared it would be difficult to put through a legislative program without support of southern senators.

JOHN L. LEWIS:

Herald of Spring

To coal miners and coal-using industrialists of the nation the infallible sign of spring is neither the robin nor crocus—it is John L. Lewis' annual call for the miners to leave the pits.

LEWIS CALLED, and the miners heard and obeyed. More than 400,000 miners began a two-week lay-off, ordered, Lewis said, as a memorial to miners killed and injured last year.

Skeptics were caustic. They saw another, more understandable reason for the work stoppage. The nation's huge stockpile of coal, some 70 million tons, was looming too large in the Lewis eye. Unless this stockpile were materially decreased soon, the president of the United Mine Workers would be in a less tenable bargaining position later on.

Another reason advanced for the layoff was miners' opposition to the appointment by President Truman of Dr. James Boyd as head of the U.S. bureau of mines. Advocates of this idea suggested Lewis' move was intended to intimidate a senate committee considering Boyd's appointment.

IF THAT WERE TRUE, the attempt was a dismal failure. On the second day of the walkout, the senate committee approved Boyd's appointment by a vote of 10 to 1—admittedly to show Lewis that its members would not be intimidated.

But the U.S. couldn't shrug off the Lewis move. Already 11 railroads had ordered 57,425 workers furloughed. Coal is a vital freight item for these roads. The payroll loss to the railroads alone would be at least five million dollars for the two weeks of idleness.

THE MINERS themselves stood to lose at least 68 million dollars in wages. In two states steps were taken to file unemployment compensation claims to take up the slack. But there was a big question whether the states would approve the claims, because so many states do not approve claims where loss of employment is caused by action of the claimant, himself—such as might be ruled to be the case in the voluntary walkout of the miners.

Meanwhile most miners' families prepared for a slim Easter. There would be little money to buy new bonnets or dresses.

"BIOLOGICAL WARFARE" BUGABOO

Germs as Weapons Potent but Exaggerated

James Forrestal, retiring secretary of defense, has broken an official three-year military silence on the use or discussion of the term "biological warfare" and in a formal statement characterized much that has been written about the potency of germ weapons as "exaggerated, fantastic or unduly spectacular."

Bottoms Up!

Attorney Carl J. Stephens of the Iowa farm bureau takes a swig of hog cholera virus in house of representatives in attempt to show virus was not dangerous to humans. A veterinarian declared Stephens, after drinking the virus, might be a cholera carrier for at least 19 days.

RENT CONTROL:

Home Rule Favored

The administration's legislative program was bogging down at every turn in congress.

Rent controls, vital to millions of Americans, were being prolonged, but not along lines desired by President Truman and his advisers.

THE HOUSE had passed a rent control measure, but fixed extension at 15 months, instead of the 24 the administration wanted, and provided for home-rule application, a factor opposed by the administration.

If the senate accepted this version of a rent control act, it would be well for all concerned in the nation to begin ascertaining views of their local rent control boards, for that's where authority to relax or continue rent controls would rest.

The bill, passed by a vote of 261 to 153 is now in the hands of the senate for action and administration forces are reported ready to renew their fight for more adequate rent curbs there. Action on a senate version of rent controls had been blocked by the filibuster.

CONCERNING local-option authority to do away with rent controls, Tighe Wood, federal rent administrator, expressed the opinion it might not work out too badly. He went as far as to say that "I would be willing to bet that 90 per cent of the 1,100 counties where we have rent control will not lift rent control under this amendment."

Many Americans would wonder about that, and hope the housing chief was correct in his views. If he were wrong, and the senate enacted the house bill as drawn, a grave housing emergency might be created overnight.

Wood, however, saw two essentials lacking in the house bill. He termed these as criminal penalties for landlords overcharging on rent, and authority to reconvert apartments in residential hotels.

STAFF OF LIFE:

Cost Probe Due

The housewife who had read that the price of wheat and flour had gone down, but who found bread prices remaining up, had company if she had begun to puzzle about the paradox.

The senate of the United States was becoming interested, too, in this situation. And, a broad senate investigation into prices of bread—along with other things—was "ready to go," according to Senator Maybank (D., S.C.).

AS CHAIRMAN of the senate banking committee, he called on government agencies for latest data on prices—especially the spread between prices consumers pay and those farmers get for their products.

The chairman said the price investigation wants to know:

Why are bread prices at their level in view of the wheat and flour price drops?

Why hasn't lard, soap and shortening prices fallen off more?

American housewives also would like to have answers to those questions.

TARGETS:

Strike First?

If Russia decided to launch a war of aggression, where would the Soviets strike first?

The Kiplinger magazine has published a thought-provoking article on the subject.

Entitled "Where Would Russia Strike?" the article draws these conclusions:

THE UNITED STATES would be the first target of the attacker, for an enemy could not afford to let the United States build up its tremendous war power after shooting starts, as was done in the last war.

The initial attack would come by air, probably at night, on a wholesale scale, on many cities and centers within the single night.

This attack most surely would be by atomic bomb. Russia would not attack the continental United States without it. At present, the bomb is believed to be a U.S. monopoly, but probably won't stay that way.

Two kinds of targets in this country would be attacked simultaneously by the Russians. First, the air bases from which we might launch retaliatory attacks against the Russians. Second, the places crucial to U. S. production and mobilization.

ANY FUTURE WAR probably can be won by the nation that strikes a heavy blow first. The United States, being a democracy, is traditionally averse to striking first. This conflict between tradition and the hard facts of future war might have to be resolved in due course by our national leaders.

The article lists the following target areas which would be given high priority by the Russians:

- Augusta, Me.—site of a B-36 base; Rapid City, S.D.—another B-36 base; New York City—seven A-bombs could wreck whole port area; Washington, D.C.—one bomb could demolish Pentagon, nation's military nerve center; Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—demolition of canal would impose tremendous extra burden on nation's railroads; Detroit—because of war conversion potential great automobile plants would be targets; Chicago; Hartford, Wash.; Los Alamos, N.M.—atomic weapons centers; Oak Ridge, Tenn.—sprawling atomic energy plants here would be certain target; eastern seaport cities—for obvious reasons.

Safety First

Martia Larson, 41, truck driver of St. Paul, Minn., has been named the trucking industry's "driver of the year." Larson was chosen because of an 18-year record of driving without an accident, combined with rescue of a motorist pinned in an overturned car in below-zero weather.

BEST DRESSED:

Among The Gentry

Had you the intangible faculty of "ability to wear gaily-hued clothes, plus knowledge of how to get the 'most out of' money spent on clothing," you might have wound up among the "ten best dressed men in America" as announced by the Custom Tailors Guild of America, Inc.

HOWEVER, the field was somewhat narrowed so there was really no cause for widespread anguish or concern. After all, the tailors couldn't include everyone.

At any rate, here are the "10 best dressed men in America" in 10 special fields of endeavor:

Government—Dean Acheson, secretary of state; sports—Lou Boudreau, shortstop-manager, Cleveland Indians; comedy—Morey Amsterdam; society—Charles A. Munn, Sr.; screen—Clark Gable; music—Elliot Lawrence, orchestra leader; education—Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania; radio—Richard Kollmar, actor; theatre—Ray Bolger, and business—Lawrence C. Gambinner, advertising agency head.

IT WAS NOTED in passing that another front-runner, Mr. Harry S. Truman, was barely nosed out by Dean Acheson. It seems Secretary Acheson's nomination was based on his "perfect choice of clothes to reflect his aggressiveness and poise."

However, there was a crumb for Mr. Truman. He was second best

Crime Record Up

J. Edgar Hoover, federal bureau of investigation chief, reported there were about three times as many major crimes last year as there were minutes.

In a report on the nation's 1948 crime record, he estimated there were one million, 868,670 major law violations—"a serious crime for every 18.7 seconds."

The total was 1.3 per cent greater than that of 1947.

Dear Editor:

Some criticism is being leveled at the Board of Supervisors for saving many thousand of dollars of the county income and still staying within the 15 mill tax limitation. Of course, there are always a few who think that it is a crime to save money. In hard times you will find them at the end of the bread line yelling like robbers in a nest.

The Board of Supervisors, by means of the Sinking Fund proposal on April 4th ballot, propose that you set this money aside toward a new court house, and at no extra tax burden. The Board may be crazy, but nevertheless they want you to vote to set aside this money, at interest, against the day a new court house will be built.

A new building will have to be built someday, and the money on hand should be set aside for that purpose. Even a moron should know that.

The place to build the court house can be determined when there is money with which to build it. And the Co. seat can then be changed provided there are enough people who want to place it 15 or 20 miles from the county jail. There are a few of that kind everywhere, but fortunately there aren't many.

The Board of Supervisors have been good managers, they have saved money and ask your approval of their action.

If you approve of saving money, and would like to have more saved without additional taxes, you will vote "Yes" on the County Sinking Fund Proposal, but if you think it foolish to save the tax payers money for a specific purpose, you will vote "No" on the proposal. Lets use good judgment and vote yes on this to save ourselves money.

Wm. A. Shepard.

To The People of Wilson Township

The laws of the State of Michigan provide that an audit of Twp. books be made once a year. As long as your present Twp. Officers have been in office they have complied with the law. An audit of Wilson Twp. books was commenced on Mar. 22, 1949 and completed the following day. The following is a true copy of the certificate which your Twp. Officers signed at the completion of the audit. It should be noted that Mr. Lick's signature was affixed to the affidavit so that by signing he hereby certified that the Twp. books were in good order. The statement follows:

We, the undersigned members of the Township Board of the Township of Wilson, do hereby certify that we have this day examined the accounts of Albert Behling, Treasurer of the Township of Wilson, and also examined the vouchers in his hands and have compared them with the Township books and found them to be correct and do further certify that all the monies which came into his hands by virtue of his office have been duly accounted for and that he reports the sum of $3,092.08 cash on hand.

Dated this 23rd day of March A. D. 1949.

AUGUST KNOP, Clerk

Stories have been circulated in the Township that Wilson Twp. books are not in proper order. It is suspected that some supporters of the candidate who is opposing Mr. Pearsall are attempting to discredit your present supervisor's conduct of his office and thereby influence voters to cast their ballots for his opponent. Since Mr. Lick himself participated in the annual audit and has himself certified that the Twp. books are in good order we feel that it is proper to publicly advise all voters in Wilson Twp. of that fact.

Township books are open for inspection by any voter and Twp. officers will be more than pleased to answer all proper questions. We do not publish this article as a political support of any candidate — but we do believe in fair play and are most anxious to have all false rumors proved untrue and all deserving citizens given their just dues.

This Building, Mr. Citizen

can cost you a lot of money.

It is the present Court House

- ◆ It is 75 years old.
- ◆ It has been condemned as unsafe by the State.
- ◆ It would cost more to fix up than it is worth.
- ◆ It presents a positive danger to your investment in Charlevoix County.

Stored in its rickety vaults are:

- The records establishing your title to your property.
- The records and will of any estate you may be connected with.
- The birth, marriage and death records of your family.
- The records showing you have paid your taxes.

There is no other place to keep these records. A fire could destroy every one easily. The resulting trouble over title to your home or farm, or your share of an estate could easily mean hundreds of dollars loss to you.

For your protection, a new and safe County Building is needed. As a first step towards getting it, there will appear on the April 4 ballot a

County Sinking Fund Proposal

This will set aside $22,000 annually for three years and $11,000 after that as a fund for a new County Building at some time in the future.

- It means NO new or added taxes.
- It means real savings in interest charges.
- It means lower costs when the time comes to build.

For all these reasons . . .

Vote YES
