Michigan Cherries Devise "Oscar"

COMMISSION SPONSORS SCULPTURE COMPETITION TO FIND REPRESENTATIVE TROPHY

The rugged figure of a youthful cherry picker has been selected as emblematic of the red cherry industry of Michigan, one of the state's most important agricultural commodities.

Winner in a competition sponsored by the Michigan Cherry Commission, a board formed last year to further the interests of a product vital to the state's economy, the 15-inch model will be cast in bronze preparatory to presentation at the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City to a Michigan restaurateur for "distinguished service to the cherry industry". It is planned to make this a yearly event, similar to the award of the famous "Oscar" of the motion picture industry.

The recipient, chosen by a board of food editors of Michigan newspapers, was adjudged to serve the most outstanding menu incorporating Michigan cherries during National Cherry Week, February 15-22. The winning restaurant each year will be awarded the trophy at the following National Cherry Festival.

An art editor, a university art professor and a curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts served as judges in the sculpture competition together with a representative of the Cherry Commission, Lawrence O'Neill, secretary. They selected "Cherry Picker", by Eric Johannesen, a student in the Wayne University Art Department, as the entry which best combined artistic expression and suitability for the purpose. Mr. Johannesen received the first prize of $100 in cash.

Second prize of $50 went to Enio Marcaccio for his serene figure of a young girl clasping cherries to her breast, and the third prize to Shirley M. Bennett for a plaque entitled "Cherry Harvest", a scene in a cherry orchard during the picking season.

East Jordan Visitor From Norway Returned May 25

Maria Mo, a native of Norway, who visited at the home of her uncle, Pat Ulvund here, last year, left for Norway by air, May 25. On her arrival there she wrote her uncle, Pat, in Norwegian. Pat translated same and following is his translation:—

As Maria Mo could not get an extension of her stay in the United States for over one year, and all the passenger liners were booked full, she had to take the air for it.

Maria arrived on United States soil May 25, 1948, and came here to East Jordan in June for about a month. After staying most of last summer in Grand Rapids, and last winter in Texas, Oklahoma and California, she found out she had to leave the land of the free by May 25. From Oslo she writes on the 27th: "We had the grandest tour of all times. Took off from New York at 2 p. m., stopped for gas at Newfoundland at 6 p. m., on our way by 7, and got to Prestwick, Scotland at 1:30 American time, 1 hour ahead of schedule. There I spiked the clock ahead 5 hours and had breakfast. At 7:30 started on the North Sea, cold sea, nothing, just a bank of white clouds, under us. Arrived at Kabenhaven, Denmark, at 10:30, had lunch and started for Goteborg, Sweden, at 2:10. It took nearly 2 1/2 hours from Denmark for Farnebu Field, Oslo, Norway. Could not telephone that day as the telephone was closed in that little community 300 to 400 miles further north (On account of Ascension Day).

Heartfelt thanks to everyone for my very interesting trip to America.

Mrs. Josephine Stewart, Long Time Resident, Passed Away, June 8th

In the death of Mrs. Josephine Stewart on June 8, at Alden, Mich., East Jordan has lost one of its few remaining pioneers. Born in Bohemia, March 19, 1865, the daughter of Frank Joseph Stanek and Rosa Mary Vlk, she came to this country with her family in 1871, her father purchasing a farm near Bowers Harbor in Grand Traverse County. It was there that she attended the district school and worked in the fields to help hold the family together, and without relief, to save the farm after her father's early and untimely death, within six years after his arrival in Michigan. Thus she learned habits of hard work and economy as she grew up with her brothers and sisters to faithful, dependable United States citizenship.

It is with this heritage that she was married April 25, 1886, to Wm. Riley Stewart from a neighboring farm nearer to Odensburg on the Peninsula. To this union ten children (continued on back page)

Lenosky — Trojanek

The wedding of Mary Ann Lenosky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lenosky, and Glenn A. Trojanek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trojanek, was solemnized, Saturday, June 11, 1949, in St. Joseph's church, East Jordan with Fr. Joseph Malinowski officiating. The double ring ceremony was used. Francis Lenosky, brother of the bride, served at the Mass.

Orchid and yellow mums decorated the altar and baskets of white peonies were at each end of the communion rail. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. J. B. Brennan who presided at the organ, played "Traumerei." During communion the choir sang "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in an ivory slipper satin gown. The dress was styled with long tapering sleeves and self covered buttons and two over skirts of net, the outer one, which was appliqued with satin ribbon, fell into a cathedral train. Her sweetheart neckline was completed with a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom; her figure tip veil, of silk illusion, which was worn by her mother at her wedding, was held in place by a tiara made of shadow lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white mums tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Francis Lenosky, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a full length pink taffeta gown. The misses Helen and Jean Trojanek, sisters of the groom, were the bridesmaids and wore full length taffeta gowns, identically designed with the maid of honor's, of yellow and aqua respectively.

The attendant's dresses were made with fitted bodice, full skirts and an apron with a large bow in the back with matching long mitts. Their shoulder length veils of matching colors were held in place by horse hair tiaras. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and white mums on a background of pink net, tied with white ribbon.

The bride's mother wore a sheer navy blue crepe dress and a white hat with navy trimming. Her corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress and a navy hat. Her corsage was red roses. The bridegroom was assisted by his brother, Robert, and the bride's brother, John. The groom and his attendants wore business suits of blue sharkskin. Robert Strehl and Carl Kamradt seated the guests.

Immediately following the ceremony a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families.

A reception was held from three to five at the Jordan Inn with about a hundred guests attending. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Svoboda, Sr., acted as master and mistress of ceremonies. The decorations were bouquets of orchid and yellow mums and baskets of white peonies. The refreshment table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and long white lighted tapers. The guests were served wedding cake, ice cream and coffee. Miss Betty Scott, class mate of the bride, poured.

For going away the bride chose a printed silk dress with white accessories. The couple left on a trip through Northern Michigan.

The bride, a graduate of 1948 from MSC, Degree B. of Arts and Social Service, and the past year has been a Social worker at the Traverse City State Hospital. The groom graduated with the class of 1949 from MSC with B. of Science Degree, and majored in Landscape Architecture.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Detroit, Pontiac, Traverse City, Dagget, Bay City and Midland.

Farewell Party Held For Rev. & Mrs. Hastings Last Thursday

The congregation of the East Jordan Presbyterian church gathered at the church parlors Thursday evening, for a farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. C. Sheldon Hastings. About 125 sat down to a cooperative supper at 7:00 p. m., which was well planned by the committee, Mrs. Harry Simons, Mrs. Wm. Shepard, Mrs. W. G. Boswell and Mrs. Albert Sinclair. Group singing followed and at the close of the evening John Seiler, with appropriate words, expressed the regrets of the church members in losing Rev. and Mrs. Hastings and in behalf of the congregation presented them with an electric roaster and table, two lovely pictures of the swans of East Jordan and a case of canned goods from the East Jordan Canning Co.

Rev. Hastings preached his farewell sermon, Sunday, May 12, and left Monday for his new pastorate at Perrysburg, Ohio.

East Jordan Presbyterian church has prospered during his two years as pastor and he carries with him to his new field the well wishes of the congregation.

The proposition to increase the fifteen mill tax limitation also carried by a 112 to 77 vote.

Two trustees were re-elected, viz: — William A. Porter 145, Howard Darbee 138.

Rainbow Bakery Defeats Foundry in Community Softball League

It rained Monday night but that didn't stop the Foundry and Rainbow Bakery from opening the East Jordan softball season. Because of the wet weather both managers got together and decided with Coach Devine that this game would be a practice one and would not count in the league's standings. The same two teams meet Friday night at 6:30 in the official first game.

Thrills and spills were supplied in abundance as Chuck Gowan worked on the mound for the Bakery and "Monk" Cihak for the Foundry. Wild Richard Hamerski and "PeeWee" Gee provided the backbone of the defense for the Iron Works while Ken Richards made a number of spectacular catches for the Bakery.

The score was tied 6-6 at the end of the regulation game. The Foundry boys got off to a bad start but made a nice comeback to tie up the game. In the first extra inning Chuck must have passed out free doughnuts to his boys as they came through with two runs.

Both unpires escaped unharmed and when last seen were well on their way to Chestonia.

This league is financed by the Community Chest and from the evidence shown Monday night, should create a good deal of interest throughout the summer.

The biggest drawing card for this league will be the appearance of the team composed of East Jordan merchants. We understand several famous stars have been signed to play and will make their appearance next week. This team will boast the highest average (waistline) in Northern Michigan.

"The Anchorage", New East Jordan Restaurant Opens This Friday

"The Anchorage", East Jordan's newest restaurant, makes its debut this Friday, June 17, on the site of the former Lakeside Restaurant, next to the bridge.

This all new brick and cinder block structure, built under the supervision of Don Clark, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Teichman, the owners of the former Lakeside which was destroyed by fire early this year.

Capitalizing on the wonderful view of the lake and Sportsmans Park, this new restaurant features four large windows affording an unobstructed view of the same. The floors of this 38 ft. square newcomer are of asphalt tile, walls of tileboard, and the seating capacity estimated at 75. Heavy cooking at the Anchorage will be done in the rear, but from there all food will be dished up and served in the dining room, including short orders. Patrons are welcome to inspect the kitchen at any time, is their policy.

Gene and LaVergne Teichman are to be congratulated on their new structure, and, if the quality of their meals hold up to their part performance, they will be assured of a successful venture.

A story told by a woman usually leaves a man wondering what's funny.

Independents Win From Kalkaska

IN SUNDAY'S TILT BY A 9-4 SCORE

by Louis (Monk) Cihak

The East Jordan Independents came through Sunday with a 9-4 win over Kalkaska with Denny Gibbard pitching all the way for the Independents, with Hayes behind the plate. On the mound for Kalkaska was Munger, with Braun behind the plate. Gibbard was one of the big guns at bat, batting in four of the nine runs with two timely singles. "Spin" Cihak and Bill Saxton also came through with two hits each. The best fielding play of the day was made by Spencer in right field when he made a running back handed catch which was labeled for extra bases off the bat of "Spin." The fielding of both teams was good, with East Jordan making one error and Kalkaska none. This coming Sunday East Jordan goes to Alden.

Motor Boat Racers To Compete at Regatta at Bellaire, July 23-24

Bellaire, Mich., June 14. — The nation's leading motor boat racers will compete in the Second National Chain O'Lakes marathon and regatta here July 23 and 24, has been announced by Scotty Bedell, commodore for the event.

Outboard motor craft will race through the Intermeriate chain of lakes, starting from here, over an 80-mile course, one of the longest contests of its type in the county, Bedell said.

Awards for the two-day program will total $3,595, one of the richest outboard motor contests in the country.

The regatta will open with a 38-mile event from The Maples Resort to Ellsworth and return to Bellaire. A lightning class sailboat race also is scheduled for the afternoon of the first day.

The 80-mile race will start at Miley's Lodge here at 9 a. m. on July 24. The course will take the fleet of 100 or more boats to Elk Rapids and return, including a run to Eastport on Torch Lake. This event is open to class A, B and C stock utility outboard craft.

A series of motorboat races are scheduled as closing contests of the two-day program. These races are in the open class and for 135 class and 225 class power boats.

The cup to be awarded the winner in the 80-mile marathon must be captured three times to remain in permanent possession of a contestant.

Mrs. G. W. Bechtold was first to jack us up about this. Then Mrs. Secord calls the office and states positively it was in Feb., 1902.

John Boss Drowns at Ferry Channel

CHARLEVOIX LUMBERMAN LOST HIS LIFE IN TRIP TO ELMIRA

John Boss, Charlevoix lumberman, was drowned last Thursday in the Ironton Ferry Channel.

About 12:30 a. m. Thursday Boss drove his new convertible off the east ferry ramp at a high speed. It was recovered by coast guardsmen from the Charlevoix station in 40 feet of water about 65 feet straight out from the ramp.

Mr. Boss' death was the first automobile fatality at the ferry and the first time in two decades that a car had gone into the water from one of the ramps. He was returning to Charlevoix from a business trip to Elmira and it is believed he hit the landing at a high speed, knocked down the guard ramp, and sailed into the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beedle, nearby residents, heard a crash at 12:30 a. m. Thursday and Walter Jarvis, ferry operator, discovered the ramp was down when he made his first trip at 6 a. m. The ferry was tied up for the night on the west side of the lake at midnight. There were bumper marks on the ramp and the bolts of one of the hinges had been snapped off.

Sheriff Floyd Ikens and the coast guard were notified. Boatswain Joseph Etienne, commanding the Charlevoix station, brought nine men, a boat and a truck to the scene and started grappling.

During the morning the dragging operations, led by J. W. Johns, chief boatswain's mate, and Robert Sommerville, boatswain's mate first class, stirred up an oil slick but the car could not be located.

At 1:40 p. m. Johns reported to Etienne that he was certain the hooks had located the car. Heavier hooks were heaved and after several attempts the car was raised to near the surface by a winch on the front of the coast guard truck.

In the meantime a wrecker had been brought from Boyne City to the east ramp of the ferry. The cable from the wrecker was carried out to the ferry and made fast to the car. Slowly the wrecker eased in the cable, dragging the car and the ferry to the ramp.

By 4 p. m. the car was practically out of the water and it was determined Mr. Boss' body was still inside. Suddenly the cable and safety chains gave away and the car slipped to the bottom near the ramp. Within an hour it had been raised again and Mr. Boss' body recovered.

Surviving are: his wife, the former Jennie Drenth; six sons, William, of East Jordan, and Franklin, Edward, Gerald, Jay Junior and Donald; three daughters, Mrs. Hans Burns and Rheta Boss, of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Abel VanStadem, of Grand Rapids; nine grandchildren; four brothers, Fred and Frank, of Central Lake, and Lawrence and Edward of Charlevoix; and two sisters, Miss Alice Boss and Mrs. Flora DeGroat, both of Grand Rapids.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Administration Asks Vast Powers
In New Agriculture Support Plan;
Labor Legislation Gets Priority

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

NICE TRY! . . . Like a round peg in a square hole, Officer George McPherson of the San Francisco humane society became stuck in a narrow light well into which he crawled to rescue a cat. It took fellow officers several minutes to dislodge him. The cat was removed through a window opening onto the bottom of the light well and is being held by Officer George Warren, at right.

FARM PLAN:

More Curbs Asked

Critics and supporters alike of Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan's 1949 farm support program were surprised when Brannan asked sweeping new powers to control the nation's agricultural production.

The latest Brannan proposals were contained in the full draft of the administration's farm program which was laid before congress. In that program, the powers requested would mark the first time in the history of the nation—not excepting wartime—when farmers and their activities would be so completely under federal control.

For example, Brannan asked that rigid marketing quotas, now usable on only six major crops, be applied on the great bulk of farm products, including meat animals, milk, poultry, eggs, fruits and vegetables.

It was a bold stroke on the part of the administration and one that was gambling with farmer good will over the nation.

For it was quickly discernible that, if enacted, this program would put the American farmer under federal control from the moment he arose to feed the chickens and other stock in the morning, until he tended his vegetables and worked his crops, milked the cows and fed the stock again in the evening. The big question was: Would the farmers stand for that, even if congress did enact the law? Farmers would be given a choice because under the Brannan proposal, they would have to vote adoption of the program by a two-thirds vote of all producers.

Brannan envisions a condition where prices would be allowed to move freely in the market with farmers getting a payment covering the difference if and when market prices fell below a predetermined "fair" return.

LABOR LAW:

Gets Priority

With domestic issues having been given the green light over foreign affairs, the U. S. senate was committed to wrestle out a new labor law—or repeal Taft-Hartley—before adjournment.

The importance of the labor question to the administration was indicated in the senate's shelving discussion of the North Atlantic security pact until the troublesome labor issue has been disposed of.

THE reason was rather obvious. Organized labor, worried by an apparent disinclination of congress to go along with the President in repealing Taft-Hartley and fearing further delay, was pushing the administration to get going. There was constant reminder behind the scenes of the President's campaign pledges to scrap the present over-all labor law and labor wanted action. The 1950 congressional races weren't too far off and the administration evidently felt it had better deliver or face labor's antagonism at the polls next year.

It was estimated some three weeks of debate would be necessary before the administration's bill came to a showdown vote.

MAJORITY LEADER Scott Lucas declared that if all major legislation were not disposed of by July 31, "we shall extend the length of the session until we have dealt with the most urgent proposals."

'IF YOU CAN'T BEAT 'EM . . .'

Shanghai Populace Swings to Communists

It was mostly beer and skittles for the Communists in Shanghai. The city and its millions had swung into the Communist camp, not by degrees, but with what appeared to be an enthusiastic rush. Along long lines of avenues, Red flags flew from every shop. Newspapers reversed their policy overnight and began to sell the populace on communism.

Baldness "Cure"

Buried on inside pages of most newspapers was a story which, if true, would have rated banner headlines in the eyes of those it concerned.

FOR, from Een, Holland, there came a claim that Meinheer J. Van Rooyen, a bewildered little barber, could cure baldness—no fooling.

The news leaked out, and the little barber shop was thronged with visitors. Letters poured in by the thousands.

The meinheer started it all himself by trying to stop his own thinning hair from growing thinner, experimenting with various lotions and use of infra-red rays.

ACCORDING to reports, he finally hit upon a combination that made his hair grow. Tried on others, it succeeded. Now he is treating 160 people, working 13 hours a day.

U. S. JOBS:

Could Be Cut

A contention that the government cut its civilian employe rolls by 10 per cent and "accomplish exactly the same purposes" was made in Washington by former President Herbert Hoover. Declaring that this could be done if the government were organized properly, Mr. Hoover said the savings to the taxpayers might reach four to five billion dollars a year.

MR. HOOVER'S statement must have carried some weight, but there were only an optimistic few who believed anything might be done along the lines he pointed out.

The former President was speaking with authority because a commission of which he had been named the head—a fact-finding body to uncover just such things as he had uncovered—had exhaustively studied government functions and processes and had reported its findings.

A 200,000 cut in federal personnel would require no wholesale firings, he said. He added it could be accomplished through normal turnover, which now runs about 500,000 a year.

BERLIN:

New Issues

The meeting of the big four council of foreign ministers had developed one fact—discussion of German unity under current conditions was futile. So, it appeared attention would be turned to Berlin where some major problems yet remained unsolved.

Berlin presented concrete issues which many hoped could be resolved or, at least, discussed more profitably. The western powers were understood as ready to insist upon written agreements concerning rights in Berlin to replace oral understandings that alone have given them any rights in the immediate past.

It was also believed they would urge a single elected city council and retention of occupation status for their zone. It was believed inevitable that the question of four-power authority—which led to a deadlock over the veto right when the whole of Germany was discussed—will arise again in relation to a Berlin regime.

LIDICE:

Nothing at All

It was hard to tell where possible Communist machinations began and truth left off, but if the charges of a Czech official that not one dollar of five million raised in the U. S. to rebuild Lidice was used, then the American people and humanitarianism generally had taken the worst rocking in years.

JAN VODICKA, secretary-general of the union of fighters for freedom in Czechoslovakia, said the collection to rebuild the city razed by the Nazis had been made "among our compatriots in the United States and the rest of the American public, and the union has information that of the five million dollars collected, 30 per cent was taken by the collectors and nearly 70 per cent by the administration."

There was a quick denial. In New York, Dr. Jan Papanek, resigned Czech U. N. delegate, said the Lidice memorial committee collected "$5,000 at the maximum" from Americans and never got a chance to apply any money to Lidice.

LIDICE, as too few probably will remember, was the village near Prague which was completely destroyed by the Nazis in retribution for the assassination of the German "hangman" Reinhardt Haydreich. All the men of the village were killed and its women and children dispersed.

CHILD LABOR:

Law Is Strict

Summer vacations were coming up and there would be hordes of youngsters seeking work during the long holiday. But if the wage and hour and public contracts division of the U. S. department of labor had its way, all child labor would be done strictly according to law.

FROM Cleveland, the director, William S. Singley, issued a reminder to all employees of school boys and girls under 18 that age and employment certificates for such workers must be on file.

He pointed out that these certificates "are considered as proof of age and serve to protect employers from unwitting violations of federal laws regulating the employment of children."

Under the fair labor standards act, the minimum age for most jobs is 16, but in occupations declared to be especially hazardous for young workers, the minimum age is 18.

MINE SAFETY:

Lewis Wants Law

Attacking state regulation of mine safety codes, John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers, demanded a federal safety law to "prevent coal miners from being maimed, mangled and killed."

CHARGING that the "nation's coal is stained with blood," Lewis produced figures to show 1.25 million miners have been injured or killed in the past 19 years.

Lewis' charges were hurled before a senate labor subcommittee in support of a bill which would give federal mine inspectors right to close mines they think dangerous. Under present conditions, while the federal bureau of mines makes safety inspections and recommends safety measures, all control is exercised by the states and there is no way to implement federal suggestions and recommendations. Lewis contended that states are falling down badly.

LEWIS' testimony chiefly carried the theme that the states have failed to enforce safety regulations and that the mine operators are not going to pay any heed to safety unless forced to do so.

TOBACCO:

Less for Farmer

For farmers who grow tobacco, the take was just about half as much as Uncle Sam collects in taxes from the product. This admission came from the U. S. department of agriculture itself.

IN a review of the tobacco situation, the department estimated that combined U. S. and state tax receipts from tobacco would approximate 1.75 billion dollars during the fiscal year, which would be a record.

Crowned Michigan's Dairy Queen

Gov. G. Mennen Williams crowns Michigan's queen for June Dairy Month at a recent ceremony held at Lansing. She's Jane McKimmy, 16-year-old Beaverton high school girl who won over six other regional winners. Active in school, church and youth work, Jane maintains nearly an A average in school and helps her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKimmy with their 15-cow herd of Jerseys. She has served as president of her Future Homemakers club and was active in 4-H Club work. The blonde young lady will be the "good will ambassador" for Michigan's $250,000,000 dairy industry during the annual June Dairy Month. The statewide contest was conducted by the Michigan Allied Dairy Association and the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service.

Like the old nursery song, "Who killed Cock Robin?", Michigan has a new political dispute to fuss over: "Who's to blame for the coming state deficit?"

Governor G. Mennen Williams criticizes the Republican legislature. In an address before the state CIO convention in Grand Rapids, he urged labor to "pump some guts into the legislature to face the terrific financial situation in Michigan."

Rather than operate the state in the "red", Governor Williams intends to call the legislature back into special session. He is whooping it up for a tax on corporation profits as a "painless" way to get more money.

By continually hammering away at the legislature's refusal to enact new taxes, Williams seeks to put the Republicans on the defensive — a good strategy if it works.

In his plea for new taxes, the governor has some newspaper editorial support. Here are a few examples: Battle Creek Enquirer and News — "The major fault in the legislative session was the refusal of members to halt a financial crisis before it occurs." Jackson Citizen-Patriot — "It is inexcusable that a legislature should call its job finished while a deficit — threatens the state."

Robert F. Steadman, state controller, forecast on May 27 an operating deficit between $70 and $72 millions "in the light of a continuing decline in general business conditions."

John P. Espie, chairman of the house ways and means committee, is a veteran in the legislature. He is now serving his 25th year.

It has been Espie's conviction that the constitutional earmarking of state funds for return to local treasury deficit. He has often suggested "it might be a good thing to run a deficit and let the people see what they did when they adopted sales tax diversion". (This amendment returns 78 percent of sales tax revenue to schools, cities, villages and townships, leaving the other 22 percent for state services.)

Espie's recommendations, which the legislature apparently approved: Levy no new taxes, come back in January (1950) when we can see where we stand.

To those individuals who cry vaguely for economy in state government, believing that the deficit might be averted by such legislative action, Espie is a realist from his long experience. He vigorously opposed the sales tax diversion amendment which he says is the root of Michigan's present financial troubles.

Michigan's present taxation system has produced some paradoxical situations. Only 34 counties paid as much in state taxes as they received from the state treasury.

Take Clinton county, for example. Representative Espie is from Clinton county. Clinton received $1,319,228 in state revenues during 1948; Clinton county taxpayers paid $1,117,358 to the State. The "bonus" from Lansing was $201,870. Since local taxes in Clinton county totaled $511,179, the effect was to get $1 state bonus for every $2.53 of county taxes.

Getting "something for nothing" thus is the financial blessing conferred by Michigan's present hocus-pocus tax setup upon 49 counties.

The situation becomes more involved, politically at least, when the populous counties which pay the bulk of state taxes demand reapportionment in the legislature. Then you get a city vs. country argument. It was the so-called neglect of the big cities which prompted Mayor George Welsh, Grand Rapids, to join forces with the Michigan Education Ass'n for diversion amendment victory.

Will the legislature receive credit or condemnation for its refusal to enact new taxes at the 1949 session? The lengthening shadow of the coming state deficit presents a challenge.

It has already provided Governor Williams with a new issue: A "do-nothing" legislature which lacks "guts" to avert a deficit.

The popular debate is on: Was the 1949 legislature a "do-nothing" group?

Since the legislative is dominated by Republicans, while the executive branch of the state government is Democratic, possibilities for argument are unlimited. You'll probably hear about it for months to come.

Here is the legislative record in brief:

Legislative appropriations were the highest in state history, exceeding last year's by $36 millions — about $40 millions more than anticipated revenues.

Maximum benefits for old age recipients were increased 20 percent from $50 to $60 a month. Also higher benefits were granted under the workman's compensation act whereby dependancy in industrial accidents is recognized for the first time in history. The ceiling on unemployment insurance benefits was also raised; penalty provisions were softened.

The Bonine-Tripp labor law was revised to encourage voluntary arbitration; to provide cooling-off periods and other methods of preventing strikes against public utilities including hospitals.

The sales and use tax acts were tightened to get better collections; comprises on penalties and interest charges, where evasion is obvious, were prohibited; the statute of limitation was removed where fraud is proved.

Limit on bonus applications of war veterans was extended two years to March 19, 1951. Veterans were given preference in public jobs; $170,000 income of the veterans' trust fund set aside for veterans' hospitalization; local government may grant special parking permits to disabled veterans.

The one-man grand jury law was replaced by a three-judge system with no immunity for state witnesses. Indictments must be unanimous.

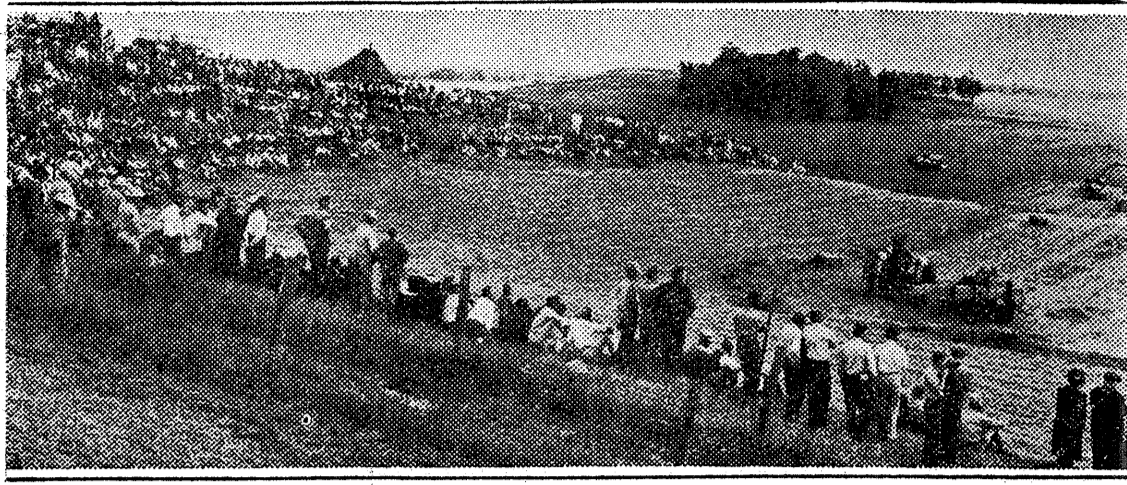

A water resources commission was created to control pollution and to cooperate with local governments on flood control problems. Earmarking of license fees was terminated. Size limit on panfish was removed. Conservation commission was given additional discretionary power to control the deer herd.

Parimutuel betting and all horse racing at the state fairgrounds, Detroit, will be terminated Jan. 1, 1950. A bill to outlaw betting at all race tracks was killed in House committee, after getting through the Senate — the same procedure as two years ago.

Liquor cannot be sold on state property, including state parks, bottle clubs are outlawed; a $1-per-gallon tax was placed on out-of-state fortified wines, as a protection for Michigan-made wines; liquor legislation referendums limited to state elections.

Governor G. Mennen Williams, following his strategy of keeping the Republican legislature on the defensive, has served notice that a special session would be called (perhaps in the fall) to consider new tax revenues in order to avert a state treasury deficit. (Approximately two-thirds of the state revenues are returned to lo-

Grass Days Scheduled for June in Michigan

Typical of the demonstration scenes to be shown at the ten Grass Day demonstrations in Michigan this June is the one above taken during the 1949 program to stress the need for good grass and legumes. Sponsored by the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service with other agencies assisting, the regional Grass Day programs will be held between June 15 and June 27. County agricultural agents are informing Michigan farmers of the locations of Grass Day programs in each area.

In an appeal to the C. I. O. State Convention, Governor Williams urged labor to "pump some guts" into legislators. He criticized them for "failure" to enact measures for public housing, agr'l "seal of quality", non-discrimination in employment, and more labor benefits.

Guy Jenkins, veteran correspondent of the Booth Newspapers, commented caustically: "Williams' fiscal program is almost identical with what has been coming out of Washington since the early days of the New Deal with the late Harry Hopkins adopting the philosophy of 'tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect.'"

Owen C. Deatrick, Detroit Free Press writer: "No new taxes — nobody hurt by anything the legislature did."

Kim Sigler: "They've (the legislature) scuttled the only system that uncovered any corruption in government in Michigan." Rep. Louis C. Cramton, former Lapeer circuit judge, called the new grand jury plan an "unworkable monstrosity."

Saginaw News: "If it carried the label of a do-nothing legislature, that isn't all to the bad. Much of its do-nothingness centered about Governor Williams' legislative program — loaded with increase costs of services and extended social legislation."

And so it goes. The voters will pronounce the verdict in November, 1950.

A monologue is a conversation between a man and his wife.

Some people have no respect for age unless it is bottled.

Cough Drop No Help For These Deer

The Smith Brothers' famous product will be of no help to a number of deer in the Traverse City area — not if the farmers, orchard owners, can help it.

Deer in the area will soon be sampling the first shipment of a new deer repellent donated to the department by a chemical firm. Sprayed on trees and crops, the repellent is reputed to cause a tickling sensation in the throat.

Field tests to determine the effectiveness of the compound in deterring the animals from damaging thousands of dollars worth of fruit trees and crops will be conducted by Carl Hemstreet, district horticulturist for the Michigan State College extension service, and Ford Kellum, district game manager for the conservation department at Traverse City. Several farmers and orchard owners will cooperate in making the tests.

Another new repellent, recently discovered in the state of Washington, will be tested later.

Mrs. Chas. Reidel and daughter, Mrs. Bob Shelver, spent Friday afternoon visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Eggersdorf.

The frost last week did considerable damage to corn and early potatoes as well as to cherry orchards and apple trees.

Our attendance at church here in Wilson has been very good and we are in hopes with vacation days here it will be still better.

Frank Martin, who sold his home to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Warn of Chicago, left a week ago for Detroit where he plans on staying for the summer.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Ott of Bridgeman, Michigan, who spent a week with her parents, the Harry Behling's, left for their home Sunday afternoon.

Our sympathy goes to the Arthur Brintnall family in their bereavement of the passing of Mrs. Brintnall's mother, Mrs. J. Stewart, who was well known to many of our Wilson residents.

Mrs. Albert Behling had a wedding reception for her sister, Miss Alma McCallum, first grade teacher in the Boyne City school, who became the bride of Norval Korhase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Korhase, at a private wedding Saturday evening. They will make their home on the farm formerly owned by Henry Korhase, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Byrnes of Jersey City, N. J., spent Saturday forenoon visiting her old home, formerly known as the old Richardson farm, but now owned by the Henry Eggersdorfs. She said when she left all around was virgin timber and the old house had only four rooms, where it now has nine besides a large woodshed. She was much pleased with the improvements. Mrs. Byrnes is 82 yrs. old and is still making long trips.

Our Wilson Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Doris Bulman last Thursday afternoon. A nice attendance was had. Weed Sprays Not Suited to Garden

No substitute has yet been found for the hoe in controlling weeds in the backyard garden, says Jack Rose, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College. Though chemicals have been developed to control weeds in commercial planting of beets, carrots, onions, peas, asparagus, strawberries, and raspberries they cannot be used in the small home garden where many varieties of crops grow close together.

Oils which kill most weeds in carrots without injury to the carrots kill beets and other crops. Salt solutions which may safely be used on beets will destroy most other vegetables which may be growing in the next row. The excellent lawn herbicide, 2,4-D, will destroy almost all vegetable crops except corn and will damage most ornamentals.

A sharp hoe is still the most effective means of weed control in small plots. Keeping a sharp edge on the tool reduces the effort needed to do a good job, Rose advises. In large gardens, wheel hoes on which are mounted sweeps will do an excellent job and save much time and labor.

Eradication of Poison Ivy Urged by State Health Dept.

The eradication of poison ivy from Michigan urban and resort areas was urged today by the Michigan Department of Health.

Exposure to poison often results in serious month-long illness and sometimes requires hospitalization. No one is immune to ivy poisoning. The plant is especially prolific this spring, the department counseled.

The State Health Department especially urged municipalities and individual landowners to cooperate in eradicating the plant from parks, playgrounds, golf courses, bathing areas and along pathways and walks.

All it takes to destroy the plant is to spray the foliage with an "ammate" or 2,4-D solution.

About three quarters of a pound of "ammate" or ammonium sulphate in a gallon of water will treat a square rod of dense foliage. Use 2,4-D ac-ording to directions on the package. Any power or hand spraying equipment can be used for applying the spray solutions.

The killing action of the sprays does not take place at once; "Am-mate" takes five to ten days and 2,4-D, about three weeks. If rain occurs within four hours after treatment repeat spraying. If the plants are still green at the end of three weeks, the spray should be repeated at that time.

The use of either spray should be repeated each spring until plants no longer appear.

The sprays will kill all broad-leaved plants so care should be used to keep the spray, even its mist, from reaching valuable cultivated plants. The sprays are non-poisonous to man or animals.

Any person who thinks he has been exposed to poison ivy should wash thoroughly with strong laundry soap as soon as possible. If blisters appear, he should see his doctor. The doctor can give shots which will modify the poisoning.

The poison of the plant, a non-volatile oil, can be carried in dust, on soil, in ashes, in fire smoke, on the fur of pets or domestic animals, on clothing, on garden tools, or on wood for the fireplace.

Empty Fuel Oil Tanks May Cut Winter Supply

Because consumers of fuel oil are holding back on filling furnace tanks in the expectation there will be further price cuts, production is being curtailed due to lack of storage capacity at refineries, and the end result may be a shortage in supplies next winter, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state fuel coordinator, reported today.

In an effort to stimulate the movement of oil from refinery to distributor and consumer tanks many companies are now beginning to enter into contracts under which purchasers will be given protection against any price declines that may occur up to September 1.

"In the past," Leonard said, "about 75 percent of domestic consumers have filled their furnace tanks during the summer. This has been equivalent to adding that much storage capacity to the storage facilities of distributors and refineries. Because of price declines home consumers and distributors, too, are not making normal purchases in the hope there will be further reductions. This has meant that production has gone into refinery storage tanks and these are now brimming over. Refineries are therefore slowing down operations.

"If there is no change in the situation all of the accumulated demand will hit producers at one time next fall. Although refinery tanks will be full there may be some delay in immediately meeting this impact because rail and truck equipment may not be sufficient. Lacking the margin of supply safety represented by production for summer sales, refineries also will thereafter be hard put to keep up with winter demands. And just to complicate it a little bit more, there will again be an increase in demand because of new oil furnace installations.

"Since the severe shortage of the winter of 1947-48, both crude oil and refinery production capacities have been increased and with normal sales during the summer there need be no apprehension over a shortage. But the suspension of buying may spell trouble.

"Of course, I am unable to say and would not predict whether there will be price increases or more reductions. I am presenting only the supply picture as it appears today so that consumers will have this information."

The funeral services of William F. Palmiter, who died in Detroit, were held here Sunday at the home of his brother J. B. Palmiter. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Lamport was assisted by Rev. L. S. Matthews and the young men's quartette. A daughter, Mrs. Alice Kenyon of Hawley survives.

Mr. Palmiter was for many years a resident of East Jordan.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed by our citizens last Monday. The feature of the day was the presentation of the cannon furnished by the village in the cemetery. Com'r J. H. Milford gave a spirited address, and on behalf of the Village formally presented the cannon to the Grand Army Post and Women's Relief Corps at the cemetery in the afternoon. The procession was formed and, headed by the Martial band, marched to the cemetery where the services were held.

Graduation next week. East Jordan has a class of twelve. They are: Teressa Phillips, Mae Phillips, Bertha Shier, Fay Nicholas, Marion Malpass, Isabell Lamport, Irma Hurlbert, Winnifred Madaugh, Leto Stewart, Jessie McKinnon, Clark Haire and Claude Bowen. Clark Haire was Salutatorian and Leto Stewart, Valedictorian.

POULTRY MEETING

All poultry growers should plan to attend the meeting at Charlevoix, Friday evening, June 10th, at the City Hall, starting promptly at 8:30 p. m. One of the features of this meeting will be the showing of the colored film on Newcastle disease. This should be a very worth while film to see as several cases of Newcastle disease have been discovered in Charlevoix County the past few weeks.

Mr. Wilson from the Land-O-Lakes Cooperative and Board of Directors of the Charlevoix Poultry Processing Plant will be on hand to discuss the possibility of dressing chickens and broilers this summer. If there is an adequate supply of birds they will be more than glad to operate the plant. Any growers who have birds that they might want to sell through the plant should plan on coming to Charlevoix, Friday evening.

SEPTIC TANKS

This is the time of year when many folks begin thinking about putting in a bathroom and a septic tank. Many questions have been coming to this office relative to construction of the tank. One thing to remember is to have the tank large enough so that it will work properly. You should also have an adequate tile field of approximately 150 feet long, laid so that you will have 2 inches drop in 100 feet. Also be sure and put both bathroom and kitchen waste in the same tank. For more information on construction of septic tanks write to your County Extension Office, for bulletin No. 118, entitled, "Septic Tanks."

GRASS DAY

More grasses and legumes are needed in the rotations on most farms. Sod forming legumes such as alfalfa and red clover provide a sound basis for a good crop and soil management basis. Too often grain and row crops in their rotation are not balanced by soil building legumes.

Specialists from various departments of the college will be on hand to discuss the above program at the Grass Day to be held at the Arnold Ostrander farm, one mile north and one-half mile east of Afton. The date for this Grass Day is the last Wednesday of this month, June 29, 1949.

Conquest of Death

Lesson for June 19, 1949

DOCTORS TALK about conquering death, but they never do. All they can manage is to put it off a little. In all the long sad story of mankind there is only one absolute conquest of death. It happened on the first Easter morning, and it was a turning point in the history of the world. The few lines about the Resurrection, in our New Testament, would not cover the front page of this newspaper. We do not know all we want to know. But those few lines Dr. Foreman tell us enough to set us singing, they are a solid foundation for a soaring faith.

The Mighty Act of God

WE shall be disappointed if we expect the Gospels to "explain" the Resurrection. If there is anything the stories show clearly, it is that the first persons who knew of the Resurrection were confused and shaken by it. The disciples had not expected anything like this, and they may not fully have understood what was going on.

What they were sure of, what they could not deny, was first of all that Christ rose from the dead, and also that it was God who raised him from the dead, God had beaten the one unbeatable power — death. Death, the universal conqueror, turned out for once to be the conquered.

It is only those who can believe in an all-powerful God who can fully believe in the Resurrection.

It Is The Lord

WHAT MANNER of person was Jesus, after that first Easter morning? There were some differences hard to describe, and in fact not described, only hinted at. You notice that at times it was not easy to recognize him at first. Paul refers to Christ's "glorious body" and surely there must be a glory in a person who has actually proved too strong for death to hold—a glory such as even Christ, before Calvary, had not shown. And yet—and yet, it was the same Jesus they had always known.

No Ghost

BY NIGHT, in many a "seance," mediums profess to get in touch with the spirits of the dead. If you could believe the spiritists, Shakespeare and Queen Victoria and innumerable other famous people, have come back and talked from beyond the grave. But the thing that makes the Christian church more than doubtful about such performances, is that somehow the dead-and-come-back genius is never a genius any more. Neither Shakespeare nor any other famous person has said anything worth saying through a "medium." And even these feeble ghosts cannot endure the daylight. They have to come at night.

How different were the comings of Jesus! There was nothing weird or uncanny about him. Around the supper table, or on an afternoon walk, or out on the lake shore under the morning sun . . . never the poor mumbling ghost of a seance, never any stupid trifles from his lips, but words of truths and comfort which the church cherishes as among the best from our Lord's mind. Jesus' resurrection is not the story of the survival of a ghost, still less the mere return of a revived and walking corpse.

It is the story of a Divine Person who conquered death, and who came back from that conquest in power and majesty, yet with all the tenderness, love and brilliance he had ever shown.

Our Hope in Him

PAUL (in I Cor. 15) makes it clear that our hope of life-beyond-death grows right out of Christ's resurrection. The enemies of Christ would have given their right eyes to stop the mouths of the men who told that story, and to prove it a lie.

But they could never do it. You cannot well stop people from believing what they have seen with their own eyes. So our hope of eternal life is not just a hope.

As Paul says, if that were all, we should be miserable men.

Stewart Obituary

ren were born, the first three on the Peninsula, the remaining seven in East Jordan, which in 1890 became their new home. Here they brought up and educated their family, living deep in their hearts and for neighbors and friends. It was from this home that she sent Harrison to the first World War; and where her summers were made lonelier with three of her grandsons in World War II.

Shortly after she was left alone by the death of her husband in 1924, she began spending her winters in Alden where she could be "useful" as she put it, in keeping house for her daughter, Mrs. Earl Pillman, who was teaching in the Alden High School. She found time, however, to be active in the Ladies' Aid and in the Friendly Bible Class of the Methodist church. After 12 years in Alden, when Mrs. Pillman quit teaching, Mrs. Stewart decided she wasn't needed in Alden anymore, so she went to Oshkosh to keep house for her daughter, May, at whose home she has spent the last nine winters. Among the clubs which she attended with her daughter in Oshkosh, her favorite was the Horticulture Society, to which she has belonged for the past five years.

In all of this time "away from home" she has returned summers to East Jordan to put in her vegetable garden, to raise flowers, and to establish a center for homecoming for her steadily increasing family. In the old home with a backdrop of pine trees, mountain ash, Lombardy popples, maples, locusts, and butternut trees planted by her husband two generations ago she has fostered a carpet of rose poppies gone wild, encouraged a mat of pink and blue larkspur, and a blanket of deep blue violets. These were the pride of her heart on those happy occasions when some of the family could join her for their vacation.

Aged and ailing over an extended period of time, she first had her illness diagnosed and pronounced as "hopeless" early last Dec. Realizing fully the serious nature of her malady, she decided to remain for the winter in Wisconsin; always with the understanding that she wanted to spend her last days back in Michigan. It was to help her carry out this wish that the family arranged this Easter to move her to Kalamazoo, Mich., where she rested for a week at the home of her son, Riley, enjoying his three little ones and the visits of relatives from that part of the state. From there they took her to Alden, where, among old friends and relatives, she was cared for until she passed away.

She was preceded in death by her husband and by three of her ten children: Babe Stewart at birth, Iris Aurella at the age of three, and Mina, Mrs. Duncan Crawford, in July 1938. Surviving her are two sons, Harrison Ripley, of Bend, Oregon, and Wm. Riley of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and five daughters:— Mrs. Ruzena Pillman of Alden, Mich., Miss May L. Stewart of Oshkosh, Mrs. Leto Henderson of Mason, Mrs. Leden Brintnall of East Jordan, and Miss Aurora Stewart of Detroit. From a family of eight brothers and sisters she leaves behind a younger sister, Mrs. Rose Ostlund of Old Mission, and a twin brother, Chas. Stanek of Traverse City. Surviving also are fifteen grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Widely known as "Grandma Stewart" she has kept in touch with all of them, as the center and head of a large family.

Funeral services were held at the Watson Funeral Home, Saturday, June 11th, followed by interment at Sunset Hill. Rev. L. S. Reed of the Alden Methodist church officiated. Bearers were grandsons and grandsons-in-law:— Gale Brintnall, Elgy Brintnall, Arthur Cronin, Sidney Hungerford, Wm. Roberts and Axel Ostlund.

Those here to attend the funeral from out of town were:— Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Pillman, Alden; Miss May L. Stewart, Oshkosh; Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Henderson, Mason; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stewart, Kalamazoo; Miss Aurora Stewart, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Art Cronin and children, Roscommon; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Brintnall and children, Williamsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hungerford and children, Sault Ste. Marie;

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roberts, Central Lake; Mr. Duncan Crawford, Ellsworth; Mrs. Rose Ostlund, Old Mission; M. Charles Stanek, Traverse City; Mr. Roy Ostlund, Old Mission; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manigold, Old Mission; Miss Olive Ostlund, Old Mission; Mr. Axel Ostlund, Old Mission; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ostlund, Old Mission; Mrs. Eugene Deyo, Grand Rapids; Miss Jennie Stanek, Miss Florence Stanek, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reynolds, Mrs. Archie DeGraw, Mrs. Elmer Brown, all of Traverse City. E. J. Am. Legion Defeats Cheboygan In Opening Tilt

The East Jordan American Legion Junior baseball team opened up its season Saturday at the local ball park with a 10-0 victory over Cheboygan. The age limit in this nationwide program is 16 and today there are over 200 major league stars who got their start in this program. The East Jordan team is composed largely of the boys who played on the High School team this spring, but there are also about 20 other young ball players carried on the squad who are coming up under the guiding eyes of coaches Dan Devine and Vale Gee.

The local boys wasted little time in building up a lead against Cheboygan as the Jordanites led 8-0 at the end of two innings. In the first inning Sommerville led off with a single, Whiteford beat out a bunt, and Boring drove them both home with a triple off the fence in left field. Chanda singled to score Boring for a lead that was never relinquished. "Red" Evans and Glen Persons worked on the mound for East Jordan giving up but four hits between them.

Don Karr missed this game with an injured back, but his place was filled by young Keith Evans quite capably. Clint Clark, another young seventh grader got his first taste of competition as he drew a walk while batting for Addis in the fifth inning. Next week the team plays Indian River at Indian River Saturday. On Sunday there is an All-Star game at Mackinaw City with the Western Division of the League playing the eastern. East Jordan selections will play for the western division which will be coached by Earl Brotherton of Boyne City and Dan Devine of East Jordan.

Our Gardens Get A Lease on Life

The recent rains, coupled with cloudy weather and high humidity, were enormously beneficial to all types of agriculture.

The three days rain, with some showers each day, amounted to .16, .55 and .74 inches, total 1.45 inches.

Someone reported two inches of rain Tuesday night. Two inches is a lot of rain. The above figures are obtained with a regular U. S. Weather Bureau rain gauge, the same as used all over the United States.

Northern Michigan is much more fortunate than Western, Central and Eastern States, where very serious drought conditions prevail and forest fire hazard is very high.

CHERRY GROWERS' PLAN ANOTHER MEETING

At the last meeting of the cherry growers at East Jordan the group asked to have another meeting sometime in the latter part of June. GET THE HOPPERS NOW
Young grasshoppers have been showing up in Charlevoix County during the past week. This is the time to survey your own particular farm. If you find a hatching bed or small hoppers you can save yourself plenty of time and money by taking action now. Bait can be mixed with any of the three insecticides — sodium fluoacetate, chlordane or toxaphene.

Every farmer in the county has recently received complete instruction for spreading bait, spraying, or dusting or control of grasshoppers. If you need further information stop at your County Extension Office at Boyne City. Remember that there is no free bait furnished by the Federal Government for Charlevoix County this year. Every farmer must obtain his own bait.

EASY TEST FOR GRASS SILAGE
It is risky to ensile the hay crop without making some sort of moisture determination. If the crop goes in too dry, under 60 percent moisture — the whole mass is apt to be affected with molds. If it is too wet, above 68 percent — evil smelling acid develops. The quality of milk is affected from cows that eat such silage and breath in it's bad odor. One easy way to test the grass to be ensiled is to squeeze a hand full of fresh chopped hay crop such as alfalfa-brome. From what happens the decision can be made whether the crop is right in moisture content to go into the silo.

1. If it won't ball up it is too dry. Add water at filler.
2. If it does ball up and slowly falls apart it is just right.

June is Dairy Month

June is Dairy Month from coast to coast. It highlights dairy foods for which housewives spend more than 15 per cent of their food budgets. In turn they get nearly 30 per cent of the food consumed annually in this country.

The physical well-being of every person, old and young, leans heavily on milk and its many products. Take fresh milk and cream, for example, about 60 million quarts are distributed through stores and doorsteps daily across the nation. Today milk consumption alone is 14 per cent higher than before World War II.

Dairy foods used in each home represent an industry that employs full time at least 1,500,000 persons and gives a livelihood to about 10 million people. In addition the industry contributes $10 billion to national commerce.

3. If the ball does not fall apart the crop is too wet. Let it wilt awhile. Farmers who tried the above system last year say they liked it very well. Testing by squeezing is better than trusting to luck.

HERBS BECOME POPULAR, USEFUL GARDEN CROP

If you're looking for something to fill that empty space in your garden, or if you're strictly a window box gardener, how about growing herbs?

Here's something to tickle your palate, please the eye and add fragrance to your garden, believes Winston Osborn of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department.

The so-called fine herbs will make a good beginning. They are sweet basil, chervil, sweet marjoram, thyme and rosemary and tarragon. Also easy to grow are chives, parsley and summer savory. Details of cultivation are obtainable from your county extension office or the United States Department in Washington, D. C.

Herbs for cooking are of three different kinds — pungent, herbs for accent, and herbs for blends. Here are some suggestions for using herbs with meat. With beef use sweet marjoram, dill, thyme, chervil or parsley.

For pork you may try marjoram, caraway or sage. Lamb calls for the same herbs as beef, plus garlic, and veal the same, plus basil. Poultry seasoning may be a combination of basil, lovage, marjoram, parsley, rosemary, summer savory, sage and thyme.

Dill, basil, tarragon and thyme are tasty with fish while with eggs you may try basil, marjoram, rosemary, thyme, tarragon, chervil, chives, parsley or savory.

Don't hesitate to use more than one herb for seasoning. Just be sure you have one leading flavor with several others which will complement it. If you experiment be cautious. Too little is better than too much.

Grange "Mystery Ride" Began at Charlevoix Winds Up at Alba

Last Thursday evening the Grange Mystery Ride began at Charlevoix with the Grange colors of green, rose and gold crepe paper lined up in front of the cemetery. At 7:40 the procession started for East Jordan led by Pomona Lecturer, Anna Warner, the only one in the party who knew where the program was to be held. Twelve more cars joined the parade at East Jordan which continued on M66 until it reached the Alba corner. Near Alba the cars from Antrim County swung in ahead and led the way to the community hall. At last the Grangers realized that this was the end of the Mystery Ride.

As soon as enough chairs and benches could be found, the program began. This too was a "Mystery" with no Grangers knowing what the others were contributing. Songs, plays, skits, and instrumental music was enjoyed.

Climaxing the program was the drawing of the name of a Grange lady under thirty years of age to be the County Cinderella. The choice for Antrim County was Joyce Telgenhoff with Jean Buzye as alternate. Lucille Himebaugh of Marion Center Grange was the lucky one for Charlevoix County with Betty Warner drawn for alternate. The Cinderellas were presented with corsages and will be given silver slippers to wear at the formal dance at Michigan State Grange at Jackson in Oct.

Dancing to an orchestra of Grange talent with a cooperative lunch completed the program. The Grange count showed 276 farm folks participated in this most popular activity.

Take Your Choice 1,800 Lakes to Fish

Fishermen looking for different lakes in which to drop their lines are advised that the conservation department has mapped 50 more lakes, bringing to some 1,800 the total now reduced to map paper. The maps show lake outline, bottom contour, depths and some shoreline features.

Since 1930, beginning of the lake mapping program, some lakes have been mapped by the conservation department's institute for fisheries research and the U. S. Forest Service in all counties except Arenac, Bay, Eaton, Gratiot, Huron, Lapeer, Macomb, Midland, Monroe, Muskegon, St. Clair and Tuscola. Saginaw and Sanilac counties have no lakes. Newly mapped lakes added to the 1949 list are in Jackson, Leelanau, Lenawee, Mecosta, Newaygo, Osceola, and Washtenaw counties.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Don't Fence Yourself In

Every spring, Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts patch up the stone wall that separates their farms. They walk along talking—Easy on one side, Handy on the other—picking up the fallen stones and putting them back.

Afterwards, over a friendly glass of beer, Easy says, "You know, wall-mending is a nice neighborly custom, but we really don't need that wall. We keep it up just because it happens to be there."

"Yes," says Handy, "a lot of walls and fences and boundaries keep on separating people for no good reason. Maybe we'd all be better off if some of them were torn down, instead of kept standing."

From where I sit, Handy said a mouthful. Take the "walls of intolerance" that people build up against each other. I like a temperate glass of beer now and then, you may prefer buttermilk—but that's no reason for me to criticize you, or you, me. Let's live and let-live together—making more friends and fewer "walls."
