Cedar Rest Resort

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pool of Zeeland, Mich., are still at Cedar Rest in their fourth week. This week their two sons, John and Bob, are with them. The Tenhaves have left for home so there is just the Pool family for the remainder of their vacation. The Sawyers are leaving Cedar Rest for a motor trip to the Upper Peninsula, then home to Saginaw.
 Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCormick are at Cedar Rest with their three sons, Gary, Bill and Chris. They will do some fishing and swimming. Gary will be sawing and chopping wood to get in condition for fall football. The McCormicks are from Dearborn, Mich., where Mr. McCormick is employed with the Ford Motor Co.
 Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hoye of Glen Ellyn, Ill., were visitors at Cedar Rest for the week end. They are motoring through Michigan.

Sunshine Extension Club

The Sunshine Extension Club held our monthly meeting at Mrs. Irene Kiser's and our sister club member gave us a very complete review of the State meeting in East Lansing. The paper given us by Mrs. Harry Sloop was so well given that the members of Sunshine Club agreed that we must go to East Lansing next year as we were losing too many programs that were of interest to us all. After a bountiful lunch we bid our hostess farewell and made our homeward trip, voting this a most pleasant evening. Our next meeting is to be at Sister Wm. Zoulek's.

Industry is not moving to Michigan Main Street—rural communities under 10,000 population—for sentimental reasons.
 When a branch of a city manufacturing concern or a new locally-financed industry decides to locate in a country town, the reasons are invariably based on sound economics. A stable labor supply, preferably tied to the community by worker-owned homes, is a key factor. Transportation is another. Availability of water, electricity and plant facilities are other essentials.
 Such are the conclusions of C. M.

Labor Day Picnic Coming

TO BE HELD AT WHITING PARK AS USUAL

The Annual Labor Day County Picnic will be staged at Whiting Park next Monday.
 The Park has been greatly improved with the addition of a large log building, and other improvements. Although this is an off year for politicians, there is sure to be the usual number of old friends and neighbors.
 During the afternoon there will be a ball game, and other sports, especially for the youngsters, with prizes.
 Free coffee and cream will be served at 1:00 p. m. by the various Chambers or Commerce.
 Games of various sorts are being planned by the Extension service. Prizes will be awarded to the Largest Family present, also to the Oldest Lady and Gentleman in attendance.
 Food always tastes better at a picnic. There will be several days between Thanksgiving and Decoration Day when a picnic out of doors won't be so good.
 So Let's Go To Whiting Park, Monday.

WITH THE ANTRIM COUNTY AGR'L AGENT

W. Kirkpatrick, Extension Agent

MANY ATTEND PASTURE TOUR

Approximately seventy-eight Directors and County Agricultural Agents from ten northern Michigan Soil Conservation Districts attended the Pasture Tour in Antrim County, on Wednesday, August 24th. The Antrim Soil Conservation District was host to the Tour.
 The Tour began at the Ray Lyon farm east of Alba where the group viewed the pasture grass trials established there in May. These trials use these: Legume, Alfalfa, Birdsfoot, Trefoil, and Ladine clover in combination with Brome grass, Orchard grass, and Alta Fescue.
 A strip was made at the Art Biehl farm, at Mancelona, where a soil fertility program is being tried. The field being used will be seeded to crops of Buckwheat and Rye with each crop turned under as green manure. This will be carried on for two years then seedlings will be introduced. At present the field has a very low state of fertility.
 The cultipacker seeder in operation was viewed at the Meadowbrook farm. Here six acres of low ground was being seeded. Half with Ladine clover and half with white Dutch. Here also the group saw the contour layout so prominent on the farm. The Meadowbrook farm had the first contour layout of any farm in the County. Robert Holms, Director of Social Welfare, told the group how crop yields had increased annually and how productive white Dutch pasture had been.

The District Line-out bed on the Glade Berg farm, west of Bellaire, was next viewed by the group. Here approximately 175,000 Pine seedlings are lined out. As they reach sufficient size they will be made available to Antrim County farmers for planting.

A very bountiful chicken dinner was enjoyed by the group at the Maple Grange Hall, Eastport. The dinner was served family style as only Granges do.

In the afternoon the Ladine pasture of Willard Sleethaak, of Ellsworth, was viewed, pasture trials on the Robert White farm, Kewadin, Ladine seed at the John Stevens farm, Elk Rapids; and the Reed's Canary grass pasture on the Vern White farm, Elk Rapids.

Dry weather had cut in on the Ladine clover pasture on the Sleethaak farm, but the group was impressed with it's productivity.

The pasture trials on the Robert White farm were interesting to the group. Here Birdsfoot Trefoil has made a tremendous growth. These trials will be of considerable interest in succeeding years as they are pastured.

To many Ladine clover in seed was something new. This was seen on the John Stevens farm at Elk Rapids.

The tour was concluded at the Vern White farm, south of Elk Rapids. Mr. White has one of the earliest seedings of Reed's Canary grass pasture in Northern Michigan. Twenty-three head of cattle were pasturing in the seven acres and they were not keeping it down. It is estimated this pasture for best results, should have forty to fifty head.

All agreed that this was one of the most interesting trips ever spent and they expressed their appreciation to the Antrim Soil Conservation Directors and Antrim County Agricultural Agent, Walter G. Kirkpatrick, for such an interesting tour.

Labor Day Hazards More Than Polio

LABOR DAY WEEK END WILL TAKE MORE LIVES THAN POLIO

Accidents during the three-day Labor Day weekend alone will take almost as many Michigan lives as polio has taken so far this year, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.
 This would not be true, the Department said, if people had the same fear of the family automobile that they have of polio. Last year 75 times as many Michigan people died in accidents as died of polio.
 Hazards during the Labor Day weekend will be the same as those of any summer weekend, except that excessively heavy traffic will greatly increase the danger of automobile accidents.
 Traffic, swimming and boating, over-exertion in the hot sun and falls are the hazards to be considered. Start early and drive with care. Don't mix alcohol with driving, swimming, boating or any exertion in the hot sun. Observe swimming, diving, and boating precautions. Don't show off. Give a little consideration to the middle-aged heart. Remember that you can fracture your skull or break your neck in a fall from a porch rail, off a window ledge or down the cottage steps as well as from a fall from a haywagon or horse.
 Have the same respect for Labor Day hazards that you have for polio and you'll be here to vacation another year, the Department concluded.

United Health & Welfare Meeting at Boyne City Wednesday, Sept. 7th.

The United Health and Welfare will have a meeting to further explain its aims to the county, on Wednesday, the 7th of Sept., in the small dining room of the Dilworth Hotel, Boyne City, at 8:00 p. m.
 We are fortunate in having Mr. Jack Maynard, Vice-president of the Penny Co., who last year was chairman of the campaign drive for Michigan as a speaker at this time. He will explain more about the organization to the workers and interested citizens. This is an open meeting.
 The aims of the United Fund in the county are to carry out the wishes of everyone in the county in attempting to make one drive a year to solicit funds for all the agencies which the people wish to be included.
 The chests in each of the three cities in the county will independently carry on their own drive and the United Fund will carry out the drives in the townships. It is hoped that the three chests will cooperate and recommend to the United Health and Welfare Fund.

Homemakers' Corner

GOOD EXAMPLES IMPORTANT TO CHILDREN'S DIETS

When your child is learning to eat solid foods probably the hardest thing you have to do is keep from over anxiety and urging. Think how you would feel if someone were to set tense and anxious throughout your meals urging you to try this or that or to eat all of this or that.

Winston Osborn, home economist at Mich. State College, emphasizes the importance of a good example in getting your children to eat well-balanced meals.

Food dislikes have many sources but the earliest and most difficult to overcome are those acquired at the family table. A recent study showed that 35 percent of food dislikes could be traced to similar dislikes of members of the family. Children are the world's best imitators although at the same time they are going all out for individuality.

Young children tend to follow the example of older ones both at home and at school. So another influence that you have to watch that of your child's friends and schoolmates, the home economist contends.

The old saying that forbidden fruit is always sweetest certainly applies to food habits. Much as we would like to remove the temptation of too many sweets from our children, it is unwise to make a definite issue of it since it often has the opposite effect, she reports.

The wisest solution to this problem is to build up good food habits from pre-school days—the right foods, regular meals, pleasant surroundings and sociability and good example. Miss Osborn believes the well-fed child has less inclination to go on sweet sprees and a craving of sweets is often found in children whose total diets are poor.

Dog Missing From Home

King, a Scotch Collie, belonging to Mrs. Fred Dye, on R. 2, disappeared from the shore late Friday night, not far from home. His constant dog companion, Kara, has grieved so since he has been missing, she has refused to eat. They have never before been separated.

South Arm Grange

The roller skating at South Arm Grange will be discontinued until after the Fair due to Polio. The Grange will have a special meeting Saturday evening to decide whether they will have an exhibit at the Fair.

Bumper Apple Crop

PREDICTIONS OF INSPECTORS BUREAU OF MARKETING AND ENFORCEMENT

According to the Agricultural Statistician of the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, Michigan is going to harvest an apple crop considerably above the last ten year average, and the nation as a whole is going to have a very large crop this year.
 The marketing of Michigan apples has been under way in an increasing volume for several weeks. Inspectors from the Bureau of Marketing and Enforcement of the Michigan Department of Agriculture have already found it necessary to remind a number of apple growers and dealers of the provisions of the State Law governing the grading, packing, transporting and sale of apples, according to Miles A. Nelson, Chief of the Bureau. Observation of the law's requirements in the marketing of apples on the part of the apple growers and dealers will not only expedite the marketing of Michigan's large apple crop with more satisfactory results for both growers and consumers, but it will also prevent the necessity of Marketing and Enforcement Inspectors stopping the sale of apples in violation of the law or taking court action to penalize apple law violators.
 It is unlawful for any person, firm, association or organization to expose for sale, transport, deliver or consign or have in possession for sale, or move from a premises where prepared for market unless each and every container has been legibly and conspicuously tagged, branded, labeled, or stencilled with the following information: The name and address of the packer or dealer; the name of the grade; the name of the variety, if known; if not known, then mark unknown; the minimum size or numerical count; and the true net contents.
 Apple growers and dealers should also remember that the Baldwin Act is still in effect levying an assessment of one cent per bushel or two cents per 100-pounds on all apples produced in Michigan. The only exception to this is apples going direct to cider and/or vinegar plants for use in making cider and/or vinegar. No Michigan apples should be shipped, transported, stored, or sold to any dealer unless the apple advertising stamps have been affixed by the grower or grower's agent to the containers or to invoices or other shipping documents. Any such stamps must be cancelled immediately upon being attached and the date of cancellation must be placed on such stamps.

Advise Killing Grass Hoppers Yet This Fall

It's still the time to kill grasshoppers, although the 1949 crop season is nearing an end. Dr. Ray Jones, Michigan State College extension entomologist, warns that there's another year ahead and the more 'hoppers killed this fall the fewer there will be to lay eggs for the 1950 hatch.
 Following a survey of the state, Jones reports infestations very spotted. Where crops are cultivated, damage was not extensive. But near marginal and cut-over areas there has been greater damage.
 Farmers in areas where second cutting of alfalfa has been allowed to seed report heavy infestation. He advises spraying with chloradane or toxaphene to keep the grasshoppers from damaging the seed crop.
 In pasture areas where vegetation is not heavy, Jones believes the use of poison bait has been most effective and it is definitely less expensive than spraying if the area to be controlled is large. Where vegetation is heavy, spraying is more practical. Whether you spray or bait he advises killing the hoppers yet this summer and fall to prevent a heavy crop in 1950.

HOUSING THE PULLETS

When should pullets be put in the laying house? That's a question that Charlevoix County poultrymen are asking at this time of the year. The best advice is that when the birds are in 10 to 25 percent production it's time they go into the laying house, regardless of their age or the month.
 So the age your pullets are ready to house will depend a great deal on when they were hatched. Light breeds usually start laying after they are five months old. Heavier breeds are two to three weeks later but usually start laying around six months of age.
 But before the birds go into the laying house, there's a big job to be done to keep those pullets healthy. The house must be thoroughly cleaned and washed out with a hose. Then with hot water, soap, and a pound of lye to eight gallons of water, scrub thoroughly to kill any disease germs. And be sure the house is completely dry before putting the equipment in place. A good absorbent deep litter on the floor and clean nesting material are important.

Watch Out For Kids

THERE WILL BE A MILLION OF THEM ON WAY TO SCHOOL, SHORTLY

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Lee M. Thurston, today announced the launching of a Child Safety Program for the month of September.

"Nearly 4,500 school children were killed or injured in pedestrian and bicycle accidents in Michigan last year", he said.

Dr. Thurston emphasized the fact that with the reopening of schools over 1 million children once more will be crossing the street on the way to and from school for the first time.

The September Child Safety Program is sponsored by the Michigan State Safety Commission, of which the State Department of Public Instruction is a member and its 69 Member Advisory Committee. The Commission has conducted a series of 9 zone meetings throughout the state at which the program was presented to law enforcement, school and safety officials. Over 200 communities and over 300 law enforcement agencies will participate in the program.

"I hope that every school in Michigan will invite a law enforcement officer to participate in its safety program," Dr. Thurston said.

The schools of Michigan, with the cooperation of the safety agencies, are doing one of the best jobs in the country of teaching children to walk safely. But even the best trained child is apt to forget, especially in September when they have been away from their teachers for three months. Thus, all drivers should adopt the slogan "Watch Out for Kids".

Nearly 9,000 parents had their homes saddened by traffic accidents to their children last year. I appeal particularly to the parents in Michigan to support this program. "Remember, the next saddened home may be your own."

Dr. Thurston expressed appreciation for the assistance being given to the public educational part of the program by the Michigan Oil Industry Public Information Committee. The oil industry in contributing 127 outdoor advertising billboards, 3,700 posters in filling stations, 50,000 leaflets, 400 street car and bus posters and over 100,000 safety buttons for children, all carrying the message "Watch Out for Kids".

Guest Speaker at Methodist Church

Rev. Thomas G. R. Brownlow, retired Methodist Minister, now living at Lakeland, Fla. and Bayview, is to speak in the East Jordan Methodist church this Sunday, Sept. 4th. at the 10:00 morning worship hour.
 Rev. Brownlow has preached here once each summer for the past two years and has made friends who will be happy to know he is coming again. Although retired, he is still active, filling pulpits here and there where he can be of help. There will also be special music.

What Is Justice?
Lesson for September 4, 1949

EVERYBODY is in favor of justice but not everybody knows what justice is. Justice is more fundamental than democracy. If we believe that democracy is the best form of government, it is only because we believe that justice can be better secured in this way than in any other.

Justice is as old as God
Since for at least 3,000 years historians, politicians, philosophers and theologians have been wrangling over the meaning of justice, you won't learn the last word about it merely by studying one Sunday school lesson. But this is the place to remind ourselves that justice as an ideal, and democracy as a means of reaching that ideal, were not born yesterday.

Labor Day will recall the great services rendered to democracy by the organized workers of the world, for example, in the push they have given to free and universal education. But democracy is older than the labor movement, is older than July 4, 1776, is older than the Magna Charta, is older than the Roman empire, in which one of many mottoes was "Let justice be done even if the sky caves in!"

Justice and democracy go back to the ancient Hebrews, the people who wrote the Old Testament. It was written in their laws, preached by their prophets, sung in their Psalms. But of course they did not invent it. They proclaimed it; but justice is older than the human race. The whole Bible and not only the Old Testament teaches that justice is rooted in the nature of God himself. No unjust person can be called godly.

Songs of Justice
OUR Psalms for this week give us some valuable light on what justice is. Some people think that if everybody were rich, that would be justice. Psalm 49 shows how foolish that notion is. It says in almost so many words, "You can't take it with you."

Riches do not spell happiness. Making everybody rich might mean making many people miserable. Money by itself does not cure the ills of life, it may make them worse or even create new ones. Many a family in the "upper brackets" has troubles that would vanish if they had less money.

Psalms 72 and 82 give us more positive suggestions. Psalm 72 sees it as the king's main duty to judge the people with righteousness and justice. The king was the government, in those days; he was the executive and the legislative and the judicial branch of government all rolled into one. In modern terms, the business of government is something more than furnishing police to lock up and punish wrongs after they have been done.

The welfare of the people is the concern of government. When public officials take any other view of their job, they are off the beam. In a democracy, the government is the people, that is to say, ourselves.

If things are bad we are to blame for it; if they are going to be any better, we shall have to work for it. Every appeal to a king, in the Old Testament, when translated into terms of a democratic country, means an appeal to the people.

The Little People
JUSTICE always has to be concerned with the little people. It was true in the simple little world of the ancient Hebrews, it is just as true in our global complex world, that the strong will always exploit the weak if there is not a hand to stop them.

God is always for the "poor," the "children of the needy," and he is always against the "oppressor." In ancient Israel the oppressor was usually the big land-owner who treated his slaves with cruelty or underpaid his workers. Nowadays the oppressor is any exploiter, any man or group of men who will use power to squeeze out or crush down the little man.

But justice is positive, not negative, prevention and not cure only. Concern for social justice includes taking care of people laid low by an epidemic or made homeless by fires; but it goes far beyond this. It will mean working for conditions such that no one will be forced to live in unsanitary firetraps.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago
Compiled by Mrs. Ida Kinsey

AUGUST 28, 1909
The quarter-Centennial Exhibition of the Charlevoix County Agr'l Society, which will be held Sept. 28-29-30, promises to be the banner one of the series of banner fairs. Officers are: President, Robert Price; Vice-president, H. L. Olney; Secretary, A. B. Nicholas, Jr.; Treasurer, Martin Ruhling; Marshal, H. L. Olney.

The steam barge Falcon entered port Monday and delivered the first cargo of iron ore to the East Jordan Iron Works.

Miss Carrie Ingersoll of Galesburg, Ill., aged 17 years, was drowned while in bathing at Sequanota, Monday afternoon.

Miss Mary Porter left on Tuesday for Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she has accepted a position as secretary to the Y. W. C. A.

The lawn party on the grounds of the Presbyterian parsonage last Friday evening was attended by upwards of 100 and though the evening was chilly was an immense success. A pavilion was erected just inside gate, where liquid refreshment was dispensed and the broad porch was beautifully decorated. A program of piano music by Misses Nicholas, singing by Mrs. Suleeba, recitations by Mrs. Smith and Miss Loveday made the hours pass pleasantly. Only unmarried young people were invited and without any regard to church relations.

H. L. Olney saw the item in the Herald relative to the threshing of wheat out at the County Farm and the fine results, and it made him mad. He got busy last Tuesday and garnered 4 9/16 acres and when threshed showed a tally of 155 bushels.

Messrs. E. A. Ashley, LeRoy Sherman, James Cummins, and Jas. Gidley left early Sunday morning in Mr. Ashley's launch for a week's trip to Sault Ste. Marie and other points.

AUGUST 29, 1919
School opens next Monday, Sept. 1st. A large enrollment is expected in all grades, especially in the High School. Children entering the High School from rural school districts should have County eighth grade diplomas.—M. R. Keyworth, Supt.

Charlevoix County Fair, Sept. 16-17-18-19, offers many attractions of extraordinary merit. New buildings being erected and old structures remodeled. This is to be the thirty-fifth Annual Charlevoix County Fair. The Association realizing that the entrance was entirely inadequate, a new entrance is under construction. There will be separate entrances and exits for autos and passengers, a place for jitneys to unload their passengers. The ticket office will be larger and there will be at least two other ticket offices placed downtown and along the road to the Fair Grounds. In 1918 there was a line of cars extending from the Fair Grounds clear to Main Street waiting for their turn to get into the grounds. It was decided to remedy this condition at once.

Mrs. Thomas Barber passed away, Saturday, Aug. 23 at the hospital in Traverse City. She is survived by her husband and three children: J. A. Gibbs of Shepard, Mrs. George DeLaBar of Battle Creek, and Harry Saxton of East Jordan.

Boyer City will celebrate Labor Day Monday with a big Welcome Home and Home-Coming Demonstration. East Jordan citizens will close shop and store on that day and join Boyer City in making the day a gala one.

Having decided to discontinue our business in East Jordan we will close out our entire stock of high grade furniture. Sale commencing Saturday.—French and Redmon, operated by J. E. Redmon. Empey block next door to Postoffice.

Mrs. T. S. Laderach of Memphis, Ind., is guest at the home of her brothers, Perry and Curtis Coonan.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Walstad have received word that their son, Harry, arrived in New York Saturday from overseas.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Valleau of Flint, a daughter, Aug. 28th. Mrs. Valleau was formerly Miss Mary DeWitt of this city.

AUGUST 30, 1929
County Fair Ass'n was again fortunate in getting ideal weather and a big attendance. Fine exhibits, good band music furnished by the three High School bands in the county. Boyer City played Wednesday, East Jordan Thursday and Charlevoix Friday. Mrs. C. H. Pray won the major prize at the Charlevoix County Fair, a Plymouth coach given away to the lucky ticket holder Friday afternoon.

Over 300 citizens of the newly elected East Jordan Rural Agricultural School District No. 2 assembled at the High School Auditorium Monday evening for the purpose of electing five Trustees. Comm'r of Schools, Wm. C. Palmer, called the assembly to order and the meeting proceeded to elect Richard Lewis, Chairman, and Alice Maude Smatts, Secretary. Following are the Trustees elected: Dr. C. H. Pray, Howard P. Coming September 10

A LARGER local telephone calling area for East Jordan

SEPTEMBER 10 will mark an important improvement in telephone service for East Jordan... the introduction of extended area service.

On that day, East Jordan's local, toll-free calling area will be enlarged. East Jordan telephone subscribers will be able to reach 2,800 telephones without toll charges—five times as many as they can today.

EAST JORDAN telephone subscribers will be able to call and be called by BOYNE CITY and CHARLEVOIX subscribers without toll charge.

Through the years, a natural community of interest has been built up between East Jordan and these communities. Friendships have developed. People buy and sell back and forth. The life of East Jordan has become closely linked with that of the others.

In communities where extended area service already has been introduced, the number of calls between the communities involved has increased 2 to 5 times. With East Jordan's enlarged local calling area, telephone service will be geared to modern telephone needs and will become more valuable and useful than ever.

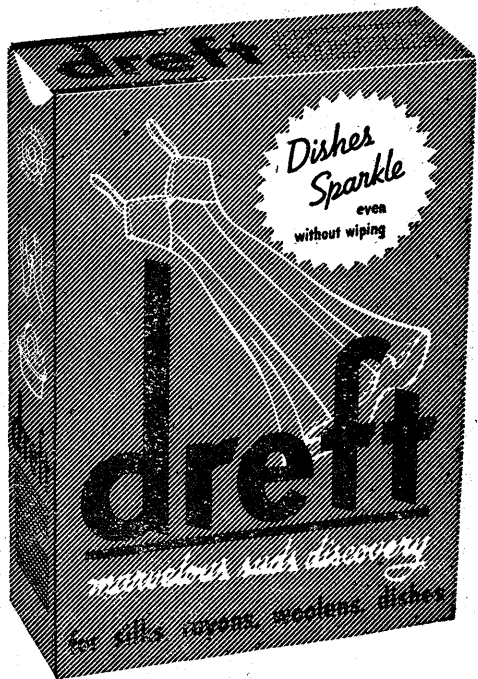

New rates, based on the increased number of telephones you can reach toll-free, will become effective September 10 when telephones in Charlevoix and Boyne City are included in the local calling area.

Prior to September 10, East Jordan telephone subscribers will receive complete information on extended area service, including the new rates. Please watch for this material!

New Powder Ends Salt Ban for Heart Patients

CHICAGO.—A new plastic powder promises many heart disease patients the boon of again eating foods with salt, two scientists reported.

The powder is swallowed with water, like medicine. It then removes salt from food passing through the intestine, Dr. I. J. Greenblatt of Beth-el hospital, Brooklyn, and M. E. Gilwood of the Permutit company, New York, told the American Chemical society's national meeting.

It has been used successfully, they said, by some persons who otherwise could not eat salted foods. These patients had heart troubles marked by dropsy, excessive water in body tissues, and swelling of the joints. Salt aggravates this condition, so they had been put on diets almost entirely free of salt. The diet is tasteless, and boring.

Patients Take Powder
Patients taking three tablespoons of the powder before and after each meal have been able to eliminate some of the excessive water without restricted diets or medicine, they said. The treatment still is being studied, Dr. Greenblatt stressed.

The plastic has been named Permutit Z. Dr. Greenblatt got the idea for the method during the war when the same kind of principle was used in airplane and ship emergency kits to take salt out of sea water.

A substance in human blood which may be important in fighting human cancer was described in another report by Dr. William H. Fishman of the University of Chicago's department of surgery.

Chemical Halts Action
In test-tube experiments, this chemical halts the action of an enzyme called glucuronidase. Enzymes are potent chemicals which help govern cell activities and growth. The glucuronidase enzyme has been found to be plentiful in most human cancer tissue, Dr. Fishman said. But little or none of the anti-enzyme detected in the blood has been found in cancers from human stomachs or intestines, he reported.

Earlier studies by Dr. Fishman and Dr. Lester Odell, also of Chicago, indicated a connection between this enzyme and female sex hormones, which also work as special growth regulators. Cancer is a growth process which has gone wild. There is a possibility, Dr. Fishman said, that the increased enzyme activity in human cancers may result from increased activity of female sex hormones, or chemicals much like them.

Window Washer's Grip on Rope Saves Him From Fall

CHICAGO.—Dimitry Parhomenko, 59, is a man with an iron grip.

He was washing windows on the fifth floor of a Michigan avenue building when his safety rope broke. As he tumbled backward from the sill, his left hand caught the rope end.

For 10 minutes he dangled while firemen rushed to the scene, spread a safety net, and then raised a ladder where he grasped.

Parhomenko, who weighs 160 pounds and is five feet, five inches tall, said that in falling his body turned so that it came to rest with his back against the building and his left arm twisted as it held the rope.

"I couldn't raise my right hand to anywhere near where the rope was," he said. "I had a good grip and didn't want to struggle."

Asked by a reporter if he was going back to work, he replied, "I guess I'd better wait a day or two."

Wife's Character Affects Husband's Chances for Job

CLEVELAND.—A man who gets paid for deciding on other men's job qualifications says that the character of a job-seeker's wife is as important as his own ability.

Regardless of how bright a candidate for a swivel-chair may be, George Trundle turns thumbs down if the man's wife nags, drinks, talks too much or is overly critical.

"We wouldn't think of placing a man in an important job without first finding out what his wife is like," added Trundle, president of Trundle Engineering company.

The theory is that a wife who doesn't measure up to "her own job" will keep a husband too disturbed to be successful in his.

"We used to spend six or seven years training men and then often lose them when they became really valuable—because of their wives. We just aren't doing that any more—it's too expensive," Trundle said.

Drouth Delays Planting of Wheat, Department Announces

WASHINGTON.—The agricultural department said in a grim report on wheat and corn prospects that the long drouth in most of the Great Plains states has "seriously delayed" planting of the 1948 winter wheat crop.

It is said that more than half of the winter wheat belt, which normally produces three-fourths of the nation's entire crop, has been hit by drouth. It added that conditions are most critical in the one-time Dust Bowl of the Southwest.

U. S. Army Sergeant Befriends Crippled Orphan Boy in China

NANKING.—A soldier of the United States army advisory group in Nanking has befriended a one-legged Chinese boy and is paying for his schooling, according to a recent report in the Chinese press.

He is Sergeant L. Beckwith, of the medical department, and the boy is Che'en Li-chang, whose father was killed while fighting the Japanese in 1937.

Li-chang's mother is believed to have perished when Japanese bombing planes destroyed a refugee train in 1944. Li-chang lost his leg in the raid.

A passing American truck driver saw the boy lying by the roadside and brought him to the hospital.

From then on the unit became his guardian. Wearing a cut-down uniform and traveling with his American protectors, Li-chang passed from city to city in China. And as his various "fathers" left the unit, each in turn handed him over to another.

He finally ended up as the charge of Sergeant Beckwith, a devout Christian and a former captain in the Salvation Army.

The sergeant, speaking of the boy's upkeep, said:

"The biggest expense, oddly, enough, is buying him shoes. Although Li-chang has only one leg I have to buy him shoes in pairs and as he is lively and his weight is all borne by one shoe it wears out twice as fast as a normal boy's."

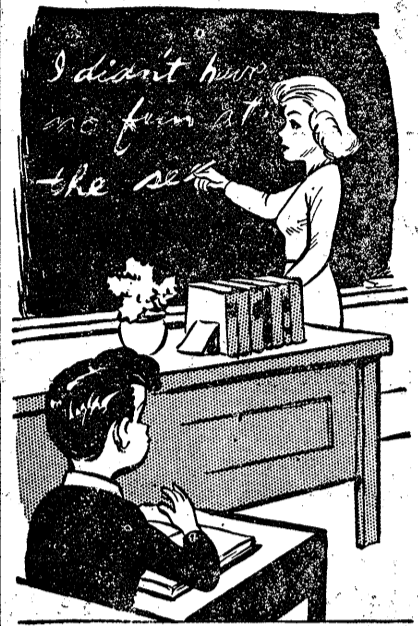

The sergeant recently asked Li-chang if he would like to go to America. To his surprise the boy said he could not. He was a Chinese he added, and wanted to live in China all his life.

Li-chang said he wants to train as a doctor so that he can help his fellow countrymen as he has been helped.

It Still Runs

A NOTED European lecturer, having delivered his speech, retired to a nearby bar with a couple of reporters. In the course of his conversation, he began boasting about his intricate and expensive Swiss watch, which never lost a minute and chimed all the hours. "That's nothing compared to American watches," a reporter interrupted. "I dropped my dollar watch into the East river last year, and it's been running ever since." "What!" said the startled lecturer. "The same watch?" "No," said the reporter, "the East river."

PRACTICAL ADVICE

In grammar class the teacher wrote on the blackboard: "I didn't have no fun at the seaside." Then she asked a pupil: "Ronald, how should I correct that?" "Get a boy friend," he replied.

"An Apple a Day . . ."

A young doctor had set up practice in a small community and business was not flourishing as he had hoped. He was sitting in his office reading one afternoon when his hired girl came to the door and said:

"Them boys is a-swipin' the green apples off that tree in the back yard again, Doctor. Should I drive 'em away?"

The young doctor walked over to the window, considered a moment, and leveling his eyes at the servant, replied:

"No."

COURTROOM STATIC

The quarrel was trivial and the judge asked impatiently, "Couldn't you men have settled this argument out of court?" The defendant spoke up quickly, "Yes, Your Honor. That's just what we were doing when the police interfered."

Request for More

A small boy was taking part in a local concert. He was only six years old and recited so well that he was encored.

"Well, Harry, and how did you get on?" asked the proud father, when he returned home.

"Why, I thought I had done it all right," replied Harry, "but they made me do it over."

Travel Note

"My wife flew over to Europe to visit some relatives," said the soap salesman.

"Saved a lot of time, going by air," nodded the buyer.

"I don't know about that," replied the husband. "She had to sit in her hotel three days waiting for some one to come and take her six miles out in the country."

HE CAME FIRST

The nurse beckoned to one of a group of expectant fathers, and announced, "You have a fine son." Immediately another man rushed up and complained, "What's the idea? I was here before he was."

"Don't Mention It"

The tiny boy had been taken for an automobile ride by a friend of the family. On his return his mother said to him, "Did you thank Mr. Banks for taking you for a ride?"

There was no reply. The mother repeated her question, but still there was no answer.

"Jimmie," she said, "did you hear me? Did you thank Mr. Banks for taking you for a ride?"

"Yes," whispered Jimmie, "but he told me not to mention it."

Thief Steals Inventor's Photographic Booby Trap

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Ross E. Piper rigged up a complicated burglar booby trap in his room with a system of photographic flash bulbs wired to a radio and an electric clock. They flashed when anybody opened his dresser drawer. He also smeared the drawer handles with a mixture of indelible pencil lead and sirup.

He told police that he found somebody had entered his room and used one of his clean towels to wipe the sirup mixture off his fingers.

Piper, a railroad switchman, ruefully added that his contraption, but nothing else, had been stolen.

Investigators Uncover Canadian Baby Selling

ST. JOHNS, N. B.—A baby buying and selling racket, so vast that its operations extended into the United States, has been uncovered—and at least temporarily put out of business—in the quiet Canadian province of New Brunswick.

It bought babies from unwed mothers at prices ranging from $25 to $100, and peddled them to anyone who could pay from $500 to $1,500 and not ask too many questions.

Even married women are said to have sold their infants to these merchants of infant flesh. One woman, according to police evidence, gave up a set of twins for a handful of cash.

So well organized was the ring that it literally had "buyers" on the road. These "buyers" were women, too, and it was their job to contact potential baby sellers in the final stages of pregnancy. They would guarantee payment of maternity expenses, and a specific sum for the new-born baby.

Not too much is known about the identities of the St. Johns bay traffickers, but the famed mounties of the Royal Canadian police force and the internationally celebrated American FBI are taking care of this angle.

Mexican Peons Bitter at U. S. Over Killing of Sick Cattle

MEXICO CITY.—The cause of medicine in Mexico has suffered a staggering setback as a result of the cattle-killing program.

"The gringos have slaughtered our animals," the natives cry. "Now they seek to destroy us."

Nowhere is the depressing effect of this suspicion felt more keenly than at LaDireccion de Cooperacion Interamericana de Salubridad Publica. This international cooperative service, founded in 1943 by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs and the Mexico health department, is concerned that the public health of the country may suffer because of hostility aroused by the campaign to eradicate the foot and mouth disease.

"The people have become very bitter," said Dr. Alonzo E. Hardison. And the hostility of the Mexican farmer, staring hopelessly at the carcasses of his cattle lying in lime pits, is directed toward everything North American and medical. The compensatory pesos are meaningless to a people who still barter goods and to whom a cow is prosperity.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Deep Freeze Gifts 'Chill' Demos; Senate Kills Welfare Setup Plan; Taft Is Target of AFL Vote Drive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

DEEP FREEZE: Capitol 'Chilled'

To paraphrase an old tune, it was "January in June" in Washington as the story of the gifts of the home freezer units unfolded and expanded. Finally, the sordid angles of the "5 per centers" operations reached to the White House.

WITNESSES before a group probing the extent and results of "influence" obtainable by the "5 per centers" testified that of several deep freeze units given away by the manufacturers, one went to Mrs. Harry Truman, wife of the President of the United States. Others who apparently received a similar gift were Chief Justice Vinson of the U.S. supreme court, James K. Vardaman, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, Mr. Truman's military aide. In fact, General Vaughan got two, so the witness said.

In connection with that development, there was a question which it seemed should have been answered long ago by the man most concerned. The man was President Truman. The question was: Why hasn't the President declared that White House influence and prestige are not for sale, cannot be wheedled by favorite hangers-on, and cannot be swayed by anything except the best interests of the people of the United States?

ANY FAIR-MINDED citizen will concede that there is no reason to think the acceptance of the gifts mentioned involved any law violation. Even though the company which paid the bills for the home freezers is linked with the ubiquitous John Maragon and the inquiry into the activities of "5 per centers" the mere fact of receiving personal gifts does not constitute legal offense.

In any sense of the word, it seems to be an offense against propriety. It is further evidence of a downward trend in political morals, a not too new development in these changing times. On the evidence at hand thus far, the deep freeze affair is not important—it is merely symptomatic.

ELECTIONS:

Taft Is Target

The American Federation of Labor, looking to the 1950 congressional elections, set plans for raising a million dollar war chest with which to knock off candidates obnoxious to the organization.

THE MILLION DOLLAR figure was the "minimum" officials said, with a voluntary contribution of $2 a head to be asked of the federation's members for work in the 1950 campaign.

It was no secret that Ohio's Senator Taft was the main target of AFL efforts, with the second target being Senator Donnell (R., Mo.) who was described by AFL's William Green as "more like Taft than anyone in the senate."

The per capita contribution, double that of the organization for the 1948 elections, will be split evenly with the state federations whose share is to be used in working at the precinct level.

AFL's election activity will have an important bearing on the future of the Republican party in the nation. For instance, if Taft should be knocked off in his race for reelection to the senate, it would mean that Dewey would remain as a top figure in the GOP hierarchy. On the other hand, if Taft should win and Dewey were defeated in a bid for his third term as New York's governor, the party would be all Taft's.

SYRIA:

New Cabinet

The fighting, the blood-letting were over. Peace of a sort reigned in Syria after a lightning like army coup that overthrew and executed President Hossni Zayim. The army committee which took things into its own hands was replaced by a new coalition cabinet which was organized by Col. Sami Hennaui who headed the revolution.

IT APPEARED that civilian rule would predominate, inasmuch as the new cabinet was composed mostly of civilians. The new government represented three political parties and various independent groups that opposed both Zayim and the constitutional regime which fell last March.

The premier is Hashim El Atasy, head of the national bloc and a former president of Syria.

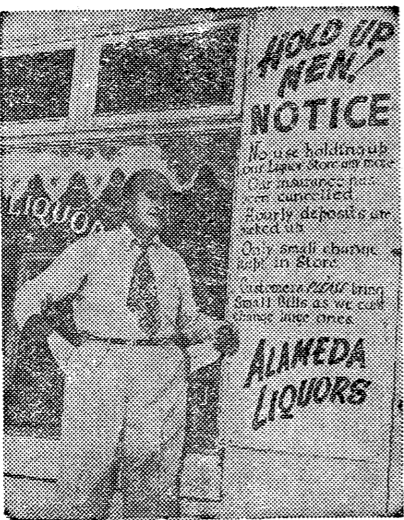

TOO MUCH WHEAT?

Problem of Farm Price Support Mounting

It might be an unpleasant task, but an inescapable one—the demand for wheat was falling off. That was the conclusion of the National Industrial Conference Board.

This organization reported that total domestic consumption for the year beginning July was expected to be lower than at any time since 1941.

Slim Pickings

It will be slim pickings for holdup men who go after Frank B. Tippins' store in Miami. Twice within one month holdup men came and got a total of $513. Smartened up now, Tippins will no longer be a lure for robbers.

WELFARE:

No Cabinet Status

The senate was having none of President Truman's proposal for creation of a federal department of welfare with cabinet status. A coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats dealt the project a pulverizing blow by a vote of 60 to 32.

WITH a constitutional majority in either house able to veto any such plan, the senate action meant complete and final defeat of the plan to transform the federal security agency, which handles the nation's education, health, and social security functions, into a department of welfare.

This proposal stemmed from the recommendations of the Hoover commission which spent two years seeking ways and means to make government more efficient and economical.

OHIO'S Republican Senator Taft, denying the Republicans were repudiating Hoover in opposing a plan they believed ran counter to the Hoover commission recommendations, declared:

"I believe very strongly that Mr. Hoover was misled."

This led Senator Lucas, Illinois, Democratic floor leader, to state that he was both "shocked and surprised that the good Republican from Ohio would deal with Mr. Hoover in this manner."

'THOUGHT' LAW:

Held too Broad

The fallacy of attempting to deal with ideologies through laws has been highlighted by a Maryland circuit judge. The judge, Joseph Sherbow of Baltimore, ruled that the state cannot punish a person for what that person thinks.

The opinion was given in a case involving a state law against people who join or work with subversive organizations. It was the first courts test of the new law that required loyalty oaths by public employees and candidates for office.

"The supreme court," Judge Sherbow said in his opinion, "has made it clear that laws may punish acts and conduct which clearly, seriously and imminently threaten substantive evils."

"They (the laws) may not intrude into the realm of ideas, religious and political beliefs, and opinions. The law deals with overt acts, not thoughts. It may punish for acting, but not for thinking."

The law which Judge Sherbow tossed out did not specifically ban the Communist party. Its preamble said communism is a dangerous, world-wide conspiracy that fits the definition of subversive activity. Anything that aims at the overthrow of this government by force was deemed subversive.

Justice Sherbow said the law was too general. Declaring it violated the first, fifth and 14th amendments to the constitution, and Maryland's declaration of rights, he added:

"As stated by Justice Jackson (in a West Virginia case before the supreme court):

"If there is any fixed star in our constitutional constellation, it is that no official, high or petty, can prescribe what shall be orthodox in politics, nationalism, religion or other matters of opinion, or force citizens to confess by word or act their faith therein."

BARKLEY:

"Much Ado . . ."

Although he had declared it was "much ado about nothing," the nation wasn't dismissing Vice President Barkley's seeming romance with a pretty 37-year old widow so lightly.

RECEIVING almost as much publicity as the Rita Hayworth-Aly Khan love story, Barkley's attentions to Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley St. Louis, was second only to the "5 per center" probe as a topic of national speculation.

The "Veep"—as Barkley likes to be called—didn't seem too distressed by all the furore. He was smilingly posing with the widow for pictures; he had taken her to "meet the folks" in his home town of Paducah, Ky., and he had squired her to some baseball games and social affairs.

WOULD HE and the widow get married? Most folks seemed to think so. And, if that were current opinion, it was touched off by the "Veep" himself. Newspaper readers would remember that, crowning a beauty queen at Culpepper, Virginia, Barkley had declared that one day he would crown a "queen" of his own. The fact that later, at Paducah, he referred to his granddaughter as being the "queen" to whom he referred, few people believed him.

MacARTHUR:

Problem for Truman

No matter how the Truman administration plays it, Gen. Douglas MacArthur is a tremendous public relations problem.

THE GENERAL has twice declined the invitation to appear before senate committees, the second refusal being in connection with a bid to come home and tell a probe group what he thinks about the Chinese situation. The general replied that he thought he could do better staying in Japan.

Of course, President Truman could order the general home, but if he did so, and MacArthur accepted the order, both the White House and the state department would be in a constant case of jitters over what the 69-year-old prima donna might say in speeches throughout the country.

If the President chooses not to order the general home, then his critics will have fuel for added clamor that MacArthur is being isolated and persecuted.

APPARENTLY, no one seems to know the procedure in the event MacArthur refused to come home if ordered. There seems to be a prevalent conviction that MacArthur can stay in Japan forever, if he so chooses.

There are those who say for the general to make that decision would be a typical MacArthur gesture and that it would fit in superbly with his fine sense of the dramatic.

STALIN:

Very "Courteous"

The delayed report on how U. S. Ambassador Alan Kirk made out with Russia's Joe Stalin in a talk in Moscow held nothing more important than Kirk's report that the Soviet ruler was very "courteous and pleasant." However, anyone who might have expected anything else was indulging in wishful thinking.

SOME EXCITEMENT was stimulated by Kirk's refusal to comment immediately upon his interview with Stalin. He told reporters following the conference that he'd have something to say later.

The ambassador, a retired admiral and former envoy to Belgium, held the first meeting with Stalin that any American official has had in nearly a year. He described his visit to Stalin as a "courtesy call."

In for Year

Seeking to win a bet of $1,000 against $25,000, Don Haynes, Ashland, Ore., is to spend a year in this deluxe car. He made the bet with rancher D. M. Mauldin, a neighbor. The year will be up next February. Haynes holds a girl's picture he found in the road and she was to be given a new car if she identifies herself.

SAILORS:

Pockets, Mac!

The navy has relented at last. Harkening to a complaint stemming from 1797, the seagoing branch of Uncle Sam's forces has promised sailors they'll have pockets in their pants—but not until June, 1952. But, having waited this long, sailors could wait two more years. And that wasn't all. Promised, too, was elimination of the 13-button front on sailors' trousers to be replaced with a zipper.

Father Searches Borneo Bay for Body of Soldier

WALDOBORO, ME. — A gray-haired dad came home after traveling around the world and told his motherly little wife he thought he'd found the body of their long-lost soldier son—buried in a plane's wreckage beneath a Borneo bay.

Many months and many dollars ago John Foster set out from his Down East cottage to seek his boy, Donald, 21, missing and presumed dead by the army after vanishing aboard a Liberator bomber October 22, 1944.

Ironically, it was a Japanese war prisoner—a member of the race his son was hunting—who led Foster to the wreckage under the sea near Balikpapan, Borneo, which Foster believes hides his boy's remains.

Sure of Location.

"I'm sure that's where my boy lies," said Foster with a trace of huskiness in his throat. "Harry Belcher, who used to be a flight lieutenant and now is a civilian government employee at Manila, is working to have the plane raised. When it is I'll know."

"I met several other people whose sons are missing around Borneo. We might organize three or four families to go there to find their sons."

This has been a quest of hazardous headaches for the 55-year-old former Massachusetts businessman who had hoped to find peace in this village when he retired.

"I'm going to find our boy," he said as he set out. He said it with a quiet sureness that silenced friends and government officials who tried to dissuade him.

In his pocket was only meager information, based on army records concerning the lost plane's scheduled flight and personnel. But with this he flew to Australia and on to Asia.

Travels Through Mountains.

He journeyed south through jungles and over mountain peaks, meticulously following scores of false threads, painstakingly checking each faulty tale.

He slept in huts and under the stars on a dozen steaming jungle islands, risking the perilous wilds of the South seas.

Then on Borneo came the first real clue from the unnamed Japanese who told of seeing a B-24 plunge into the ocean bay over Macassar straits. The tale jibed with sketchy government records so Foster went to the spot and there with the help of new-found friends he found the splintered wreck.

So Foster came home through India, Egypt, Italy and the British Isles, his heart a little more at ease.

What will he do if the wreckage yields the body of his son? Not sure yet, the father said, but perhaps they'd bring the lost lad home to rest beneath the Waldoboro pines.

Hospital Holds No Terror For Dogs; Comfort Assured

ARDMORE, PA.—Dog days should hold no terror for the pampered pet that is lucky enough to be sent to the veterinary profession's newest gift to the animal kingdom, a hospital here that is completely air conditioned.

Designed by Dr. Otto Stader, chairman of the building committee of the American Animal Hospital association, the hospital contains newest scientific equipment for treatment of all ailments that beset small animals.

Conditions of comfort best suited to rapid recuperation are provided by complete atmospheric control. A system designed by engineers of Minneapolis - Honeywell Regulator company keeps temperatures 10 degrees cooler than that outside and maintains relative humidity at 45 to 50 per cent—a level that should arouse envy of city dwellers in the summer.

Dr. Stader said that the optimum of comfort was important, especially for his animal patients that undergo major surgery, such as caesarian, appendix and brain operations. He built the Ardmore hospital as a model laboratory for the modern veterinarian.

Biologist Identifies Queer 'Sea Serpent' as Rare Shark

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF. — A strange-looking relative of a sea serpent fished out of the ocean near Point Arguello has been identified as a Chlamydoselachus Anguineus by Dr. Elmer R. Nobel, chairman of biological sciences of the University of California here.

It is called a frilled shark because of frilled edges on its gill slits. It is said to be the first of its kind ever caught off North American coasts.

The fish was caught by Pete Metson in one of the nets from his fishing boat. It was put on ice and placed on exhibition at the Museum of Natural History where hundreds of people have seen it.

Dr. Nobel said there are about 17 specimens of the frilled shark in American museums but all have been shipped to this country from European coasts.

He said the frilled sharks normally dwell on the bottom of the sea and

School Daze

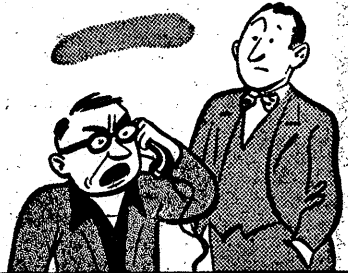

IT WAS a one-room schoolhouse and all the grades were together. Some of the pupils were very young and were sheltered by their older brothers and sisters. Young David was in charge of his nine-year-old sister Mary.

When they arrived at school that morning, Mary said to the teacher, "Please, ma'am, my mother wants David to sit by himself today."

The teacher was busy at the moment and paid little attention, but later on recalled the remark. "Why," she asked Mary, "does your mother want David to sit by himself?"

"Well, ma'am," Mary replied, "today he's got a touch of the measles."

ULCER ADVICE

A Hollywood writer, present for a conference, patiently listened while a producer ranted into the telephone. As he slammed down the receiver, the writer remarked, "If you're not careful, you'll get ulcers. The producer snapped back, "I don't get them, I give them."

Professional Difference

One day in court, Atty. Clarence Darrow was defending a criminal, who was on trial for his life. A well known surgeon, who was watching the trial, approached Darrow at the end of the first day, and said: "I never realized how much we doctors and lawyers have in common. If I make a slip of the knife, a patient's life may be lost, and if you make a slip of the tongue, a man may go to the gallows."

"That's true," agreed Darrow, "but I have one advantage. If I make a mistake, I can appeal."

How to Gauge Success

At a medical convention in Atlantic City, two doctors who had not met since their student days were exchanging information on their present status in the profession.

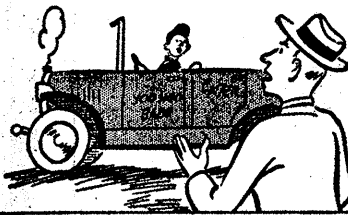

One of the medicos stated that he was now a nerve specialist. His friend was interested. "Have you been successful?" he asked. "I guess I have," the other answered. "When I discharged my last patient he asked me to lend him 50 dollars."

Full Speed Ahead!

The candidate for the police force was being verbally examined.

"If you were by yourself in a police car and were being pursued by a desperate gang of criminals in another car going 60 miles an hour on a lonely road, what would you do?" asked the police chief. "Seventy," the candidate replied emphatically.

CONTRADICTION

John—Why is your flivver painted blue on one side and red on the other?

Tom—It's a swell trick. You should hear the witnesses contradicting each other.

Vacation Time

Young Ben's parents had carefully planned his summer. He went camping for two weeks; then for a week's visit with his grandparents at a resort. Upon his return, he found preparations under way for him to join his family at a summer cottage for a month. Desperately, Ben took a stand—the summer was slipping away.

"Mamma," he pleaded, "the first thing you know there won't be any time left for my vacation."

No Homework Please

A teacher received a letter from the mother of one of her pupils:

"Dear Miss. Please don't give Tommy any more homework. That sum about how long would it take a man to walk 50 times round the town square caused his father to lose a day's work. And after he'd walked it you marked the answer wrong."

WASHINGTON, D. C. — HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY of the building of the Soo Locks will be held in 1955 under special legislation approved by President Truman. Rep. Charles E. Potter (right seated) Michigan's 11th District congressman, who introduced and fought for passage of the bill, watches while the President affixes his signature to the measure. Also present at the historic moment in Michigan's history are (left to right) George B. Grutis, of Detroit; Carl G. Sedan, secretary of the Soo Locks Centennial Celebration Commission, also of Detroit, and U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

(Continued from page 1) have been already attracted. The principal of "self-help" is emphasized by the state department which serves only as a clearing house for efforts of Michigan communities to get new industries. An illustrated brochure was prepared recently by Yale (Michigan) Chamber of Commerce. The caption evoked much discussion. "Move Here and Escape Atomic Bomb" featured the invitation.

A "Michigan Mirror" survey has produced a variety of interesting evidence showing how many Michigan small towns have prospered through local leadership in attracting new industries. Here is another installment of examples, and a third column appears to be needed for our complete report.

Big Rapids — Wolverine Shoe & Tanning Corporation, underwritten by local persons.

Caro — Tuscola Manufacturing Company and Bendall Tool & Die Company.

West Branch — Precision Manufacturing Company.

Sandusky — Yale Rubber Manufacturing Company, employing 100.

Quincy — Cantrell Body Company, manufacturing station wagon parts, from New York City.

Dexter — Gallagher Textiles, first cotton mill in Michigan.

Harbor Springs — Indianapolis firm bought out bankrupt Harbor Springs Electronics Laboratory, Inc.

Concord — Branch of Litchfield Butter — Cheese Company.

South Lyon — $20,000 expansion by Michigan Seamless Tube Company.

Vicksburg — Division of KaMak Corporation, Kalamazoo.

Rochester — Crucible Brass Company from Detroit.

Homer — $300,000 expansion of Calhoun Foundry.

Trenton — McLough announces expansion for "largest steel operations outside Pittsburgh."

High Spirited

YOU simply couldn't depress Smythe. He'd come home from a rotten game of golf or a barren day's fishing full of beans. He'd back the whole program without getting one placed horse, and exude good humor. When business got so bad that he had to move into a smaller and cheaper place, much to his wife's disgust, he tried to console her with the fact that she hadn't such a big place to look after. The first wet night she met him at the door with the news that the roof leaked and water was dripping into the dining room. "That's all right, dear," he said; "put your aspidistras under the drip; it'll save you watering them."
