60th Wedding Anniversary

MR. & MRS. S. J. COLTER HAVE SIXTY YEARS OF HAPPINESS

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Colter quietly observed their 60th wedding anniversary at their home at 210 Second St., Monday, March 6. Friends called during the day to congratulate them. They received many cards, letters and gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Colter were married on March 6, 1890, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Kate Johnson, near Central Lake. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dreulick, pastor of the East Jordan Methodist church. They moved at once to their farm home near East Jordan. They followed farming until sixteen years ago, when fire destroyed their home and they moved to their home on Second St., and are living there at the present time.

Mr. Colter is 84 and Mrs. Colter is 83 years of age. Both are life long members of Mark Chapter, O. E. S., 275. Mr. Colter is a life member of East Jordan Masonic Lodge F. & A. M., 379. Both are members of the East Jordan Methodist church.

Following is a letter received by them from a former East Jordanite.

Oshkosh, Wis.
March 1, 1950

Mr. and Mrs. Colter, or better, Brother Sam and Sister Mary:

I had a letter in February from Sadie McNeal in which she said that you will celebrate your 60th wedding anniversary March 6th.

I have no words in which I can satisfactorily express myself on this wonderful occasion. I can only imagine how happy you now are and how you have enjoyed each other during these sixty years. March 6th, 1890, is a long way from today. We were young and anticipating many things in the future. To you it was given to journey on together through the years and now sit together and watch the embers turn from red to gray.

If I could express in words my joy and happiness for knowing you in the long ago, the help you gave me in so many ways, now the knowledge that as you approach the land beyond, you go hand in hand and the one who lingers on will not have too long to wait for the one to come later can not delay the meeting. Whatever the future may hold in store for us you have been happy here and enjoyed long life together in happiness, joy, contentment and peace. You have had the best that life could give and together travel on toward the sunset, loved and respected by all you knew you best.

And, dear friends of earlier days and pleasant times, accept my sincere appreciations of and thanks for your splendid life and friendship and earnest hope that you may be together to the last and enjoy health and peace and happy companionship until the end shall come and feel upon the lips "loves last and holiest kiss".

While life was not as kind to me, I have ever tried to do my best, but often sighed with Whittier when he wrote of Maud Muller and the Judge "Of all the sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these "It might have been".

And now dear friends with many pleasant memories of you and all the friends of those earlier days, and with every kind thought of you both, and all good wishes to you and yours while life shall

Legion Auxiliary Initiates New Members

The District Initiation team under the direction of District President Hilda Bathke, initiated 12 new members at the meeting of Rebec-Sweet Unit 227, Feb. 28, in the Legion Home. A fine talk was given by Hilda Bathke regarding the advantages of membership in the Auxiliary, both to the community organization and the member.

A nice lunch was served of sandwiches, cup cakes and coffee. A fine time was had by all and much credit is due to the initiation team for the impressive way the initiation ceremony was conducted.

Mrs. Cora B. Williams, Aged 80 Years, Died Last Friday

Mrs. Cora B. Williams, aged 80 years, passed away at Grandview Hospital, Friday, March 3rd, 1950, following an illness of four years. Prior to going to the hospital, a week before her death, she made her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cook, East Jordan, R. 1.

Cora B. Forbes was born August 10, 1869 at Hastings, Mich. On March 10, 1897, she was united in marriage at Carlton Center, to Austin Williams who preceded her in death August 2, 1903, at the age of 41.

Mrs. Williams was a housewife and a practical nurse. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Edna Cook, East Jordan; a son, Otto Gingrich, Briggs Road, Lansing; four grandchildren and one great grandchild. A sister, Dora Barnum, Hastings, Mich.

Funeral services were held Monday, March 6th, at the Watson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Howard G. Moore. Bearers were Tom Kiser, Carlton Bowen, Ronald Scott and Emanuel Bartholomew. Interment at Sunset Hill, East Jordan.

Relatives and friends from a distance here to attend the funeral were: Mrs. Eugent C. Oakes, Peoria, Ill.; Otto Gingrich, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Hillman, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook and Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, Charlevoix; Mrs. Clara Bonner, Vanderbilt.

Plants In The Home (By Vaun Ogden)

Raising plants is fun, especially if you have a small greenhouse about eight by fourteen. However, if you can supply the right amount of light for each plant, and keep the air in the room relatively humid, beautiful plants can be grown in the home. All of us have visited homes with large ferns in the living room, or geraniums blooming in the kitchen. Some of these would make a greenhouse man green with envy.

Of course, he, in turn, can produce a stately Easter Lily, or force roses with eighteen-inch stems. However, I sometimes think we get more satisfaction from growing an African Violet to blooming stage, than John D. does in his whole conservatory.

I don't have a green thumb (it's more of a black and blue, I'd say) but perhaps I can pass on to you some information from books, magazines, and my own experience, of things not to do with plants. Next week I'd like to start with the African Violet.

last, I trust for some years to come, we three unite in extending loving thoughts and wishes.

Will J. Palmer.

Cancer Society Draft Plans for Drive

A Chairmen's Meeting of the Charlevoix Unit of the American Cancer Society was held Sunday, March 5, in Boyne City, with Mrs. Gilbert Lindsay acting as hostess. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ernest Garrison, County Commander. Mrs. Joe Clark, City Chairman, and Mrs. Henry Brown, Sr., County Publicity Chairman, also attended the meeting.

Plans for the coming Cancer Drive in April were discussed. Several posters have been submitted by 4th, 5th and 6th grade pupils from schools in the county as entries in the County Cancer Poster Contest, and judges will be named. After the judging and awards are made posters will be displayed throughout the county.

The Society's Educational Program is well underway. A movie has already been shown in Charlevoix and Boyne City and any organization that would like to take advantage of these Educational Services may contact Mrs. Garrison and she will provide material for such a program.

It is hoped that Charlevoix County will more than fill its quota of $1,065.00 this year and that all residents in the county be contacted and literature will be at everyone's disposal. Through education we can help conquer cancer.

Announcement

Please be informed that I will not be a candidate for the office of 3rd Ward Councilman this year.

In passing may I thank the people who have shown their confidence in me by giving me the opportunity of serving as Alderman. I give thanks also to those civic minded citizens who donated land, money and time that we in East Jordan could enjoy almost uninterrupted fire protection and an adequate water supply.

Serving as your 3rd Ward Councilman has been for me an interesting experience. It has been a pleasure to work with your Mayor and Councilmen. Especially noticeable to me was the competent manner Councilman Clark handled the legal red tape of our Water Bond issue, a job requiring much patience and clerical effort. Regarding the street department, under the able supervision of Harry Simmons, in my opinion Kenneth Isaman, George Kaake and Ray Russell are doing an exceptionally fine job of plowing, cleaning and sanding our streets at a very low cost to us. Although purchased at low cost, they have fine equipment and are taking good care of it.

Although our present tax rate of 44 mills is exceptionally high and our city problems (sewage treatment) are difficult to fit in our budget, I believe, with but two exceptions, the city share of your tax dollar has been carefully

Bowling News

In the feature match of the evening Sommerville's Grocery continued their winning ways and after dropping the first game to the first place Thorsen's by only 4 pins, they came back with games of 898 and 860 to win 3 points. Spin Cihak again led the way for the Grocers as he added another 600 series to his collection on games of 226-214-195-635. Spin now has an average for the season of 191. Bill Bennett who has just recently returned to the line up of the Lumber Jacks had high series for the losers on 529.

Hillman's Insurance dropped the first game to Recreation but managed to get enough points to outscore them in the final two games, permitting them to win 3 points and move within striking distance of first place as they follow Thorsen's by only 3 points. "Ole Burn 'em up Clark" was tops with 512.

The American Legion stayed in the race and continued to hold third place in the standings with a 3 point win over Cal's Tavern. Abe Cole topped the Legionnaires with 540, while Gene Tiechman had 590 for Cal's.

St. Joseph's coasted to a 4 point win over last place Monarch with Jim Lilak getting top series for the Saints on 546 as Bob Smalley's 472 was the best effort for the Monarch's.

The Bankers had an easy time winning 3 from the E. J. Cannars as they all had a rough time hitting their average. Bill Taylor topped the Cannars with 477 and Greg Boswell scored tops for the Bankers on 520, while Norm Bartlett claimed the honors for the most consistent bowler of the night. Norm's average for the season is 164 and he bowled games of 165-166-167 in order, a tough trick to do.

In the other match of the evening Brock's Turkey Farm won the first two games from Ellsworth Electric, then the Electric's blew a fuse and came back with an 883 game, sufficient to give them total pins and a split for the evening. Pat Bartsch had 516 for the Electric's, while Brock Peacock led the Turkey Growers with 492.

Merchant's League Standings:

	W	L
Thorsen's Lumber Co.	60	36
Hillman's Insurance	57	39
American Legion	52	44
Sommerville's Grocery	51	45
St. Joseph	48	48
E. J. Cannars	47	49

Cal's Tavern	45	51
Recreation	45	51
State Bank	44	52
Ellsworth Electric	42	54
Monarch Finer Foods	39	57

Only 8 of the 12 teams have bowled their last week's matches in the Ladies League, but they may have a decided bearing on the standings in the league when all the scores from the games still postponed have been rolled. The Dress & Gift Shop continued their winning ways and trounced the State Bank 3-1 as Judy Desjardins shot a consistent 544 series, the season's record, on games of 180-183-181.

Norm's Tavern upset Bachmann's by winning 4 points, while Quality Food and Rainbow Bar won 3 points each from Central Lake Torch and Art Cleaners.

Norm's Tavern dropped 7 of 8 points to Evert Merchants in the Traveling League, putting them 5 points out of 1st place, in the traveling league games. The Recreation travelers dropped 4 points to Cadillac Merchants, but came back to win 4 points from Spike's of Grayling in the evening.

In the Inter-City League the Recreation moved back into a tie for 1st place with Chris's Men's Wear as they won 3 points from Howard's Service as Chris's were able to take only 2 points from Wolf's. Barney Adair led the league with a 615 on games of 225-208-182, while Don Clark was close behind with 591. In the other match, Ray's Barbers took 3 points from Faas Foods.

Bowling will resume in the Annual Rainbow City Mixed Doubles Tournament this Sunday at 1:00 p. m., with couples coming from Cadillac at 3:00 p. m., and Boyne City at 9:00 p. m.

Church Leadership

Lesson for March 12, 1950.

"WHAT'S in a name?" Different churches have many different names for the persons who hold office in them. But whatever quarrels the churches have had, few of them are about these names. The thing is more important than the name. All of us agree that churches do need organization.

Some people would have us go back to the New Testament for our pattern of organization. We cannot quite do this, for one important reason. Where in the New Testament would you dig in? Would you take the letters to Timothy and Titus as your guide? There you find bishops (overseers, superintendents) mentioned, also elders and deacons, but you do not find their duties laid down.

Go back into the story of Acts and you will find a place where elders are first mentioned in the Christian church (11:30); go still farther back and you come to the first election of deacons (Acts 6).

In your first Utopian Church, will you model it after the three-officer plan, or two, or one, or (going back before Acts 6) none at all? (Apostles, of course, are not now available.)

Scholars in most churches today are pretty well agreed that what we have in the New Testament is not a rigid pattern of organization, but rather certain principles on which any successful church must be built. Let us see what some of these are.

The Job and the Man

ALL CHURCHES are agreed on one point: A church must have leadership. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. Some one must draw up plans, think ahead. No organization in the world is self-starting and self-operating, not even the church of Christ. The early church knew this. But they elected officers only as the need for them arose. In Jerusalem there was not a deacon in the place until that emergency came up in the matter of relief.

In St. Paul's first missionary church (Acts 13, 14) he did not get the elders first, and then find churches for them. On the contrary, he founded the churches first and then appointed elders for them.

It would be a good idea for a church today to take stock of its officers once in a while. Are they necessary? For example, do you elect a deacon to "take the place" of one who has moved away, or do you elect a deacon to do a job that can't otherwise be done?

Sweetness No Substitute For Skill

NOT ALL CHRISTIANS are qualified to hold office in the church, and very few, if any, would be equally good in any office. A Sunday school superintendent, for example, might make a poor showing at a prayer-meeting talk. A man who can conduct a successful financial campaign and keep the church up to a high level of generosity the year round, may not be just the man to plan the educational program. A lovely sweet lady might turn out to be a stupid Madam Chairman.

Paul knew all this and in fact insisted on it. Each separate kind of job in the church calls for distinct qualifications. Just being a good Christian was never enough to insure a man's (or a woman's) being a good officer.

Personality

AFTER ALL, however, personal character means more than technical skill. A man may have such flaws in his character that his influence does more harm than good, so that even if he is an accomplished musician you still would not want him as "Minister of Music," or even as choir-leader.

A man whose own home is always at sixes and sevens (as Paul pointed out) is a poor candidate for any executive post in the church. A man who can't keep from quarreling in everyday life is no man to entrust with responsibility in the church.

A man of good character can, and will want to, learn the skills his job calls for; but a man of sleazy character just does not care. Be careful of the sort of man you elect to office, in church or out; for the rank and file are not going to rise above their leaders.

Certified Seed Offers Farmers Many Advantages

Each year more farmers are using certified seed of field crops according to R. E. Decker, head of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Reasons he cites for this increase certified seed has proven that given equal conditions of moisture and plant food, it will produce thrifter plants, more disease free plants, and better quality in the harvested crop. The difference in cost per acre of certified seed as compared with ordinary seed is small considering the benefits.

Decker advises that certified seed comes from field inspected crops and the seed must meet high standards of purity and germination. The certified tag that has been issued by the certifying agent insures varietal purity.

Much attention is being given to various methods of weed control. However, the farm crops authority points out that the start of any sound weed control program is with the seed to be sown. Certified seed is clean seed.

A report recently came to the MSC farm crops department from a wheat grower in Hillsdale county who used certified seed but lacked enough to plant the entire field. He finished the field with his own seed and stated that a difference was visible to the dividing line between the two kinds of seed and that the certified seed County Agricultural Agents was more thrifty.

can supply sources of certified seed and can help farmers choose the right variety for their location.

Dairy Producers Oppose A&P Suit

The Midwest Producers Creameries, Inc., opposed government restrictions on distributors of dairy products "such as the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company" during its recent annual meeting at South Bend.

The action was taken in the form of a resolution adopted by the group which includes 21 creamery associations representing more than 8,000 farmers in Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

The resolution called for opposition, on the part of the dairy producers, to unjust government attacks on distributors handling their products. It cited the A&P case and emphasized that this company had done much to increase the consumption of dairy products and other foods.

The government anti-trust division currently is seeking through the courts to break up the A&P and to divorce the present owners from all of the company's operations.

The resolution further stated that "anything done to hinder such dealers will result in loss of dairy products consumed."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Miners Cited on Contempt Charge; Compromise Reached on Oleo Bill; U.S. - Bulgarian Relations Severed

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PIT MEN: A New Angle

Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech wrote a new angle into the continuing fight between the United Mine Workers and the coal operators. The judge cited the miners themselves for criminal contempt on grounds that the 370,000 UMW members had "willfully and wrongfully" ignored his back-to-work order.

THE NEW ANGLE was that this time the UMW's boss, John L. Lewis was not even mentioned in the citation. Observers pointed out that the citation could lead to heavy fines against the union. On two previous occasions, Lewis was named defendant when strike issue came into federal court.

There was some speculation that omission of Lewis' name from the contempt citation might mean that the government felt that Lewis had been really sincere when he ordered his miners back to work—but no government official would comment on the subject.

Judge Keech's action came as the east was gripped with bitter cold, with many housewives' coal bins nearly empty.

In the meantime, violence flared in the eastern Kentucky coal field as roving mobs wrecked equipment at several mines and beat up at least 11 miners. Ten men were beaten in Knox county and one was attacked in Harlan county.

SIXTEEN AUTOMOBILES loaded with six men each visited a number of mines, Kentucky state police reported. Twenty-eight bullets were fired into a mine mancar hauling miners up an incline, and two automobiles belonging to miners were overturned.

As for the hope of the contempt citation to end the mine walkout, no one would say how effective it would be. It was recalled that there is no limit on the penalty a federal court may impose for contempt, but the Constitution forbids "unusual and excessive" punishment, and the supreme court in 1947 reduced the UMW's contempt fine from three million dollars to $710,000.

BULGARIA: U.S. Cuts Off

Uncle Sam finally "got his dander up" and began to get tough with the Communist-dominated Balkan countries. In one of the toughest U.S. foreign policy actions since World War II, this nation broke off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria and ordered home American Minister Donald R. Heath and his entire staff.

At the same time, the state department demanded the recall of Dr. Peter Voutov and his smaller Bulgarian staff in Washington.

DEVELOPMENTS in the same vein included a ban on American travel in Hungary and the ordering from Communist China of all American consuls.

The U.S. action was seen as a climax to what the state department called a "long series of intolerances and indignities" against the U.S. legation in Sofia.

In that, the state department was on solid ground because since the legation was established in 1947, Bulgarian officials and the controlled Bulgarian press, the department said, had been "constantly denouncing and insulting the United States." The department charged the Sofia government had carried on an "unprincipled campaign of prosecution" against Bulgarian employees of the legation.

THE DIRECT CAUSE of the break was said to be Bulgaria's demand of January 19 that Heath be recalled for "interference" in Bulgarian internal affairs. Charges of spying also had been made against Americans in the legation. The break was significant because it indicated a stronger attitude by President Truman and state secretary Acheson toward Moscow satellites with which the U.S. has been waging postwar disputes.

However, there was no cause for alarm as to military repercussions. For, as Winston Churchill put it, diplomatic recognition of one nation by another does not mean espousal of that nation's policies or attitudes—it is an act to secure certain conveniences. Conversely, when diplomatic relations are broken off, it means chiefly that those conveniences are at an end, but not necessarily military action.

MEN'S CLOTHES: Going Up

Early in 1950, there was much newspaper space devoted to feature articles in which a happy era of low-cost men's clothing was about to descend upon the American male.

Indeed, the old standby—the $35 suit—was pictured as coming into its own again and a man could cheerfully anticipate clothes buying. But apparently it was all a dream, for clothing costs are up.

Out and In

William Dudley Pelley (left), former Silver Shirt leader, was released on parole from the U.S. prison in Terre Haute, Ind., where he had been serving a 15-year sentence on a criminal sedition charge. But as he left the prison gates he was promptly arrested again, because North Carolina has requested his extradition in order to try him for violation of the state's securities law.

OLEO BILL: A Compromise

Congress had reached a compromise on what should be done about the bill to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine. One factor helping the compromise along was the striking out of a senate requirement that colored margarine sold at retail be put up in triangular packages.

But the conference committees which effected the compromise put in strict labeling requirements.

IF THE SENATE and house accept the compromise, it would become effective July 1. The bill had been in the hands of the conference committees since February 2. The House passed the measure last year, with one senate version being approved in January of this year.

It had been agreed by both houses to knock out federal taxes on oleo, but dairy interests had held out for the triangular-package requirement, arguing that this was necessary to make sure nobody got margarine thinking it was butter. HERE are the taxes the bill would wipe out: One-fourth of a cent a pound on uncolored margarine, 10 cents a pound on the colored form; $600 a year on manufacturers whether their output was colored or not; $480 a year on wholesalers of colored margarine, $200 on wholesalers of the uncolored, $48 on retailers of colored margarine, and $6 a year on retailers of the uncolored variety.

Unaffected by the bill are laws in 21 states banning manufacture or sale of colored margarine.

SEARCH: No Sharp Guide

The inviolability of a man's home against search without due course of law—meaning a properly executed warrant—is now in question as the result of a recent supreme court decision.

The court, in a 5 to 3 ruling, held that when police legally arrest a man, they also may search a limited area under his immediate control for evidence of a crime. But the court didn't say exactly how far the police may go.

Justice Felix Frankfurter protested vigorously. Dissenting from the opinion, he declared that the "decision makes mockery of the fourth amendment to the constitution which bans unreasonable search and seizure."

He added that the court by its action had overturned a long series of decisions and argued that the tribunal should "show respect for continuity in the law."

The majority opinion was written by one of the new justices, Sherman Minton, who said, "What is reasonable search is not to be determined by any fixed formula. The recurring questions of the reasonableness of searches must find resolution in the facts and circumstances of each case."

The decision came in the case of Albert J. Rabinowitz, who was charged with the sale of four altered postage stamps. When he was arrested, officers searched his office and found 573 more stamps. These were made the basis of a new charge that he possessed and concealed altered stamps.

Defense Move

Ever since World War II there has been considerable discussion of a proposal to scatter U.S. agencies and industrial manufacturing centers so that in the event of another war the nation would not face the threat of complete paralysis from bombing attacks.

Now, the proposal had the support of the head of the office of civilian defense, Dr. Paul J. Larsen.

SHARING: 'One Great Hour'

This Sunday March 12, there will occur one of the most unique events in the history of spiritual elevation and man's efforts to help his fellow man. For, on that day some 100,000 churches with approximately 25 million members will join in a coordinated appeal for the support of overseas relief and reconstruction projects.

THE APPEAL will be conducted under the slogan: "One Great Hour of Sharing," and will be made simultaneously in all cooperating churches as part of the regular worship of the day.

Church World Service, which is conducting the campaign, is the overseas relief agency of 23 cooperating Protestant and Eastern Orthodox church bodies in addition to the denominations affiliated with it, it is supported by the following interdenominational agencies:

Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, Foreign Missions Conference of North America, American Committee of the World Council of Churches, and the United Council of Church Women. These affiliated organizations understand better than perhaps any other organization can the vast need of relief and reconstruction overseas. That so many millions of helpless people may be helped, that they can be given new hope for the future, is one of the chief goals of these many organizations.

Last year, Church World Service shipped materials amounting to more than eight million dollars to 50 foreign countries. These relief shipments included about 24 million pounds of farm products, clothing, bedding, medicines, hospital equipment and miscellaneous items.

But Church World Service knows that more, much more is needed. It is for that reason that the unified campaign of "One Great Hour of Sharing" is to be conducted so that all who wish to may have a hand in the organization's humanitarian work.

PADUCAH: War Capital?

The city of Paducah, Ky., more famous as the birthplace of Irvin Cobb and the home of Vice-President Barkley than for most anything else, wasn't any too happy about a new honor which might come to it. The city had been proposed by Rep. John Rankin (D. Tenn.) as the United States' secondary capital in the event of war.

The representative's proposal met with definitely mixed feelings. The most frequently heard plaint was, "Why do they want to pick on Paducah? We've always lived quietly and peacefully, and would like to continue living that way."

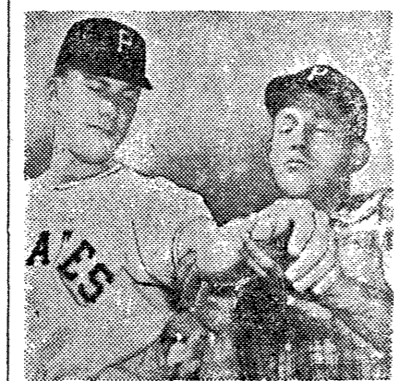

SEVERAL PADUCAHANS got a lot of humor out of Rankin's saying that one reason Paducah should be the war capital is that "it is close to Mammoth cave." Paducah natives knew that Mammoth cave is 150 miles from Paducah, and as several put it, that would be quite a dash to make in the event of an atomic bombing.

Giving a serious answer to Rankin's proposal, John Oehlschlaeger, president of the Paducah chamber of commerce, said:

"REPRESENTATIVE RANKIN'S plans poses such a gigantic problem it would be silly for me to comment on it at this time. But I might ask this question. Can you conceive of the sudden shifting of the capital of 150 million people from a metropolitan center to a town of 45,000 population? Think of the problems of housing, providing adequate building space, and traffic, to mention only a few, that the town would face."

It would be a big problem, indeed, and one likely to be so immense that Representative Rankin's proposal will probably never get out of its original stage.

Musling In

Bing Crosby, part owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, gives rookie pitcher Paul Pettit the once over as Pittsburgh opened a rookie school. Pettit is the high school southpaw who was given a $100,000 bonus when he signed with the Pirates.

TRUMAN AIDE: Red Link Chyered

In all the hysteria over Soviet spying in connection with the A-bomb and the H-bomb, there was a general tendency to hurl charges and let the result attempt to justify the action.

Latest, but highest circles to be linked with Communist front organizations, was a White House speech writer whom Senator McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin charged was a fellow-traveler.

"Better Living for a Better World" - - 4-H Club Week - Mar. 4 - 12

Charlevoix 4-H Big Business — 1949 Reveals

Charlevoix county 4-H members made products valued at $6761.01 during the past year and showed a profit of $2894.26 according to figures released by 4-H club agent K. C. Festerling.

Enrollment was up to 369, an increase of 41 members over last year. Project enrollments jumped from 503 in 1948 to 684 in 1949.

Clothing work is the glamor project in winter. In this project 108 girls and 1 boy made 265 garments. These were valued at $718.65 and were made at cost of $284.87.

A total of 695 articles were made last year in handicraft and had an average value of over $1.00 each.

There were 71 different project clubs in the county led by 52 different 4-H leaders. Since one community club may have as many as 12 different leaders and may be carrying 12 different projects, there were not actually 71 different clubs on a school or community basis.

Festerling believes that the keen interest in club work this year as well as last is due to the organization of community clubs.

A further breakdown showed 4721 dishes cooked at home by food preparation members, 24 dairy animals raised, 1356 quarts of produce canned, 461 birds raised in poultry projects, 64,412 square feet of garden area grown, 353 garments knitted, 715 meals prepared in hot lunch clubs, 14 articles made in electrical work, 12 members did tractor maintenance, 64 members studied conservation and 10 members studied grooming.

Mike: "The girl I married has a twin sister."
Ike: "Gosh! How do you tell them apart?"
Mike: "I don't try to; it's up to the other one to look out for herself."

Karr Knitters In Action Again This Year

Could you teach school and show 68 boys and girls how to knit too? That's what Mrs. L. B. Karr of East Jordan did last year. She had 27 boys and 41 girls in her club. Most of their articles were simple, but many made two needle mittens and some even made sweaters.

The boys called their club the Rainbow City Ganders and the girls were the Rainbow City Sigmets.

This year Mrs. Karr has 45 knitters. She has 17 beginners who call themselves the Knittin' Kittens and 27 advanced members known as the Knit Wits.

37 Active In South Arm Club

At present the members of the South Arm 4-H Club are carrying a total of 11 different projects. Some individual members are carrying as high as 8 projects.

Officers of the club are: President — Barbara Lehrbass. Vice-Pres. — Margaret Zoulek. Sec'y — Arvita Liskum. Treas. — Jack Zoulek.

The community leader is Mrs. Mary Lord. She, with the help of an advisory board, will direct the activities of the club. The board is appointed by the 4-H Club Agent and their terms are as follows: Sadie Liskum, 1 yr.; Glenn Compau, 2 yrs.; Archie Murphy, 3 yrs. Also on this board ex-officio are K. C. Festerling, 4-H Club Agent and Mrs. Mary Lord, leader.

This rather new club made a fine showing at the County Fair last fall. They operated a concession to provide funds for their club and plan to do the same this coming fall.

The South Arm Community Club is sponsored by the local Grange who permits the use of the use of the Grange Hall for their meetings.

Lady: "Well, doctor, was my operation a success?"
Man: "I'm not your doctor, I'm St. Peter!"

South Arm Clubbers Attend Recreation School

A delegation composed of Mrs. Seth Whitmore, Barbara Lehrbass, Arvita Liskum, Audrey Elsworth and Jack Zoulek attended a recreation school at Atlanta Feb. 22nd.

Under the expert direction of Jane Farwell of the Sears, Roebuck Foundation the group learned 25 games and dances. Games were taught that could well be used in either home or large halls.

Dances the group liked best were the Patty Cake Polka and Herr Schmidt. Under the leadership of Mrs. Witmore the group will teach these games on March 11th at the regular club meeting.

FARMERS, CONTROL INSECT PESTS!

Farmers, control insect pests! An illustrated meeting with the use of colored slides will be presented by Ray Janes, entomologist from Michigan State College, and the county extension service next Monday afternoon, March 13th, at 2:00 p. m., in the basement of the Boyne City Library. Mr. Janes has had valuable experience in the commercial field with the use of insecticides before coming to Michigan State College. His colored slides are very educational and will be very educational to all who attend this meeting.

Last year we saw some severe insect epidemics in several parts of the county. In some areas cut worms completely ruined some fields of beets. The Mexican Bean Beetle did considerable damage to various bean fields. Corn borer and corn ear worm are a menace to the corn crop. Grasshoppers in some localities completely destroyed new seedlings and other crops. Good practices and recommendations to control these and other insects will be discussed at this meeting.

WHY COWS LEAVES HOME:

Most dairymen whose herds are not on test know why they take some cows out of their dairy herd. Dairymen who do have their herds tested also know why their cows leave home. However, most cows are removed from herds that are on test because of low production while more cows are removed from herds that are not on test because of disease.

Almost 1/2 of the cows that left herds during 1949 as reported by Dairy Herd Improvement reports covering 44501 cows was for the reason of low production. A total of 1006 cows were removed and of this number 4372 were low producers as their owners did not feel they were paying their way. About 17 percent of the cows removed were sold for dairy purposes. Udder trouble accounts for 11 percent and sterility 9 percent. The balance was for various other reasons.

The Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association represents one of the associations included in the above report for 1949. This association now has 33 members and more would like to join. The cost is very nominal when compared to the benefits derived. One cow that you have to keep will take care of the profits of several cows that keep you. For further information in regards to Dairy Herd Improvement Association, contact Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, or Don Graham, tester.

Jordan Teacher On Michigan 4-H Council

Mrs. Sadie Liskum has recently been appointed to serve on the newly formed Northern Michigan 4-H Planning Council. The group will meet at Gaylord on March 15. The main subject of the discussion will be "A Northern Michigan 4-H Show."

Bill Parsons of Norwood also is serving on this council from Charlevoix County.

Star Community 4-H Club

Frank and Emma Hayden, leaders of the Star Community Club are giving their all to make a fine program for the youth of their area.

They hold their meetings in the Star Schoolhouse. Their main project this winter is food preparation. Boys are in this project as well as girls. Steve Hayden says, "Boys can cook better than girls."

Mrs. Hayden attended our Gaylord Recreation School last year, as did Sadie Liskum, Betty Roberson and Georgia Murphy.

Club Progress In Jordan School

Mrs. Alma Larsen reports 36 in handicraft work, 36 in conservation and 10 in knitting. The knitters are beginners and are making head bands and pot holders.

Miss Elizabeth Dhaseleer reports 21 handicrafters, some with 3 and 4 articles already completed, and 36 in conservation.

Mrs. Leatha Larsen has 38 in handicraft and 15 second year knitters. Her knitters are making 4-needle mittens and 4-needle socks.

Mrs. Sadie Liskum reports 35 doing handicraft and 30 carrying the clothing project. In this project she has the able assistance of Marguerite Farmer. The members of the above group are made up of students from Mr. Malone's and Mrs. Liskum's rooms.

Harry Jankoviak is working with the boys who want to make articles of wood. They are working on ping-pong paddles and bread boards.

Girls Make Own Garments

Twenty girls are meeting once each week at the High School to learn the 4-H way to better clothing and good grooming. These girls meet every Tuesday in the Hot Lunch Room. Five advanced girls are lead by Mrs. Mary Kenney. Mrs. Mary Cihak is working with seven girls in 2nd year clothing and Mrs. Lulu Clark has eight beginners.

According to Mrs. Clark her group has completed their towel and darning and this week will cut out their skirts and aprons. Hardest for the beginners to master, she says, is the use of the thimble. Cooperation from the mothers has been wonderful.

The officers of the above club were installed by the 4-H members of Mrs. Arthur Kaley's club last fall.

When the girls have finished this winter's sewing they plan to have a dress revue and tea for their mothers.

Kaley Group Plan Style Revue

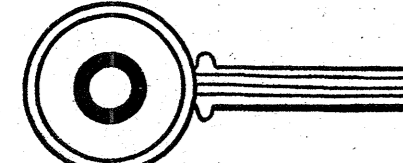

We plan to style our dresses for the folks of Peninsula Grange, say the nine girls sewing under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur Kaley.

Ambitious girls who have already completed two years of club work in one are Kay and Carol Klooster. Nearly finished and carrying two projects is Pat Von-Soosten. Others who are carrying one project and who have finished are: Marilyn Looze, Ruth Ann Crowell, Patricia Looze, Jean Kaley and Marilyn Klooster. Rachael Webster will be complete when she puts the hem in her dress. In addition to the dress revue at the Grange, the group plans to do a model business meeting.

Dept. of Revenue Representative To Be at Charlevoix, March 24

On Friday, March 24th, Mr. Jay C. Harbaugh, representing the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at Charlevoix State Bank, in Charlevoix, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax returns due not later than March 31.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States bonds, including War Bonds, are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks or building and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100 percent taxable including Michigan Corporations.

The Department has issued a warning to all owners of property, such as is outlined above, to file the necessary return forms prior to March 31. The Revenue Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangibles Tax Act. Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Mr. Harbaugh will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any under the Intangibles Tax Act. Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year, and copy of the previous year's return filed with the Department.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 1, at the home of Mrs. Velma Sweet. A pot luck dinner was served at 12:30 to 22 members. The secret plans were then revealed and names drawn for the next year. The president, Mrs. Howard Darbee, presided over the business session. Worship service was led by Mrs. Mary Hitchcock. Mrs. H. Darbee was leader of the program on Religious Home and School Life in Japan. Janet Malone, Kay Klooster, Martha Lord, Cal Darbee, Ralph Shepard and James Bennett, dressed in Japanese costumes, presented a playette "First Days of School in Japan". The April meeting will be held April 5th, with Mrs. Fred Vogel.

Michigan's "free TB treatment law" is highlighted by the current Michigan Tuberculosis Association health education program. As one phase of the seven month P-A-T, People Against TB service, the state Christmas Seal agency says: "A measure of the hesitancy about entering the sanatorium for TB treatment may be due in part to the natural fear of an unbearable financial burden, a fear which is groundless when one is aware of this excellent law. If you should get TB, go at once to the sanatorium nearest your home."

He: "And didn't you tell me that several men proposed to you?"
She: "Yes, dearie."
He: "I wish you had married the first fool who proposed."
She: "I did."

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes? Your Wasted Taxes

No reasonable man questions the need for taxes to pay the cost of governmental services. Everyone should be willing to pay a fair share of his income for that purpose. But nobody wants to underwrite extravagance—in the home, in business or in government.

The bi-partisan Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, created by Congress with the approval of President Truman and headed by former President Hoover, has provided a chart for the elimination of governmental extravagance and waste.

This past year, because of duplication and overlapping in the Armed Services we wasted about one billion dollars out of the fifteen billion spent for National Security.

In 1948 two agencies planned to build the same dam in nearly the same place at Hell's Canyon, Idaho. Each set of plans cost about $250,000. The plans differed by approximately 75 million dollars in estimated cost of erection.

It now costs the Post Office Department two and a half cents to print and deliver a penny post card. The Veterans Administration, at the time of the Commission's survey, had 6,500 empty beds in its hospitals, yet VA and other government agencies have planned or are building additional hospitals at a cost of over a billion dollars, when 54% of the available beds are not now occupied. This is Alice in Wonderland.

It takes more than $10 worth of paper work to complete a governmental purchase order. For example, by the time the necessary paper work is completed, a 50¢ typewriter ribbon costs the taxpayer about $10. Turnover of labor is recognized by all industry as expensive. Yet in the Federal Government labor turnover runs about 25 per cent, a rate much higher than any private business could stand. This means that every year approximately 500,000 either leave or enter a government job. The personnel system is clogged with red tape. The best men leave because of the low pay scale, and the inefficient cannot easily be discharged.

If enacted into law, the Commission recommendation to remedy these and other defects in conducting our Federal business would save the taxpayer three to four billion dollars a year.

To play your part in putting a stop to this wasteful extravagance, join the non-partisan Citizens Committee, which is working for the enactment of the Commission's suggestions. Write to the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania. Write your Congressman. Eavesdropping Habit
By Will Bernard, LL.B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

May You Tell a Lie— Without Saying a Word?

A farmer's horse developed a disease that showed no external symptoms but was always fatal. Promptly the farmer decided to sell the animal for "whatever it would bring." Soon he found a likely buyer and gave him a rousing sales talk about the horse. He praised its appetite, its disposition, and its appearance—everything, in fact, except its health! About that, he didn't say a word. The other man was duly impressed, and made the purchase. But a few weeks later the horse died. The buyer realized he had been "taken in," and sued the farmer for fraud. At the trial, the farmer argued that he couldn't be blamed for something he did not say. However, the court disagreed and held him liable. The judge said that, in a situation like this, the farmer's silence was really the same thing as an outright lie.

May a Man Complain About His Wife's Drinking— If He Too Drinks?

An actress wedded a stock broker, but their marriage soon ran into difficulties. It seems that the actress was fond of liquor, and on several occasions she publicly embarrassed her husband by imbibing too much. He never rebuked her, but inwardly became more and more disgusted. One day, he suddenly announced that he was through. He went to a lawyer and filed suit for separation. However, at the trial the broker admitted that he generally drank right along with his wife—and never tried to discourage her. Under the circumstances, the court refused to grant him a decree. The judge pointed out that the husband had no kick coming, since his own conduct actually encouraged his wife in her bad habits.

Is Eavesdropping a Crime?

A man came home late one night and parked his car in the garage. Returning to his apartment, he happened to walk right under his neighbors' bedroom window. Hearing them quarrelling, he stopped and "got an earful." Unfortunately, a passing policeman noticed what the man was doing and promptly placed him under arrest on a charge of eavesdropping. However, the court ruled that the man was not guilty. The judge said that eavesdropping may indeed be a crime—but only when it is done habitually, and when the eavesdropper repeats what he overhears!

May a Clever Advertisement Be Copyrighted?

A circus owner hired a commercial artist to draw posters advertising some of the acts in his show. He liked the posters so well that he applied for a copyright on the drawings. A few months later, he was dismayed to see the very same pictures displayed by a rival circus! When he sued for infringement, the other company argued that mere poster drawings are "not artistic enough" to be copyrighted. But the court disagreed and ruled that this was indeed an infringement. The judge said that art which appeals to the common people is just as deserving of protection as art of the "highbrow" variety.

A woman rented a tavern, and spent a lot of money redecorating the place. When her lease expired, she determined to take out whatever improvements she had put in. But the landlord put up a fight—especially as to a six-foot mirror which the woman had nailed over the bar. However, when the dispute was taken to court, the judge ruled that the tenant was indeed entitled to take the mirror along with her. The judge said that a mirror, when easily removable, is like an article of furniture.

Inducing new industries to locate in Michigan is not a push-button affair.

Decentralization of industry whereby workers may work part-time in a small factory and then part-time on a small plot of ground is more of an illusion than a reality.

These points were among a number of interesting facts brought out at a panel program sponsored by the Michigan Press Association as a service for member newspapers which serve small rural communities.

The program was stimulated by interest shown in the series of the "Michigan Mirror" news-letters last August and September on the subject of community development and new industries for Michigan small towns.

To bring the matter to a sharp focus for consideration of newspaper editors, the state press association invited three experts to participate on a panel program.

C. Dwight Wood, Michigan Department of Economic Development, emphasized the need for self-help in the community whereby the town took inventory of its resources and potentials. Mr. Wood declared that "one of the best ways in which a community can get in touch with industrial prospects" was for the community to make a survey of the services which were available in the community for various industries.

If suitable sites are available and other factors are favorable, the community can then list these available resources with the Michigan Department of Economic Development. The state department compiles a monthly bulletin which is distributed to officials of industries which have indicated a desire to migrate to smaller towns or to open branches elsewhere.

Professor H. O. Whittemore, head of the Department of Landscape Architecture, University of Michigan, emphasized the need for available land, preferably adjacent to railroad facilities, which could be readily utilized for industrial use and also for future expansion.

Because of the need for parking of worker automobiles as well as truck shipping, storage, and the trend to a one-story factory building, the average number of square feet of space per industrial worker has jumped from about 150 feet in building floor space to around 1500 or 1600 square feet per worker.

Professor Whittemore believes the ideal factory area should be within the city limits and hence that availability of such land for industry becomes an essential function of the community in planning for future industrial development.

He pointed out that a recent decision of the Supreme Court held it was unconstitutional for a municipality to condemn land which was to be turned over to a private industrial concern for private use. In that connection Mr. Wood, Michigan Department of Economic Development, pointed out that a number of Michigan rural communities have formed corporations to purchase industrial land which is re-sold to industry at a fair price.

"We have put out a guide for helping communities to form such corporations, and many Michigan communities are in the process of doing that now," said Mr. Wood.

Dean Ernest L. Anthony, School of Agriculture, Michigan State College, referred to a college survey of approximately 25,000 industrial workers who lived on small farm plots and who presumably worked in city industries.

In the past the idea of decentralization of industry whereby workers could perform part-time farming on home plots while working part-time in city industries has had a popular vogue. The MSC survey, however, revealed that a majority of these workers were making "very poor use of the fact that they lived in the country."

"Today we must realize that agriculture is a business," said Dean Anthony. "It is a scientific and mechanical business. The man who pays much attention to farming has to farm as if he really meant to farm. It is not something, just a little on the side, that he can putter around with."

It is the observation of Dean Anthony that the present industrial pattern of labor used on swing-shifts does not encourage part-time farmers in rural communities. Dean Anthony favored the encouragement of agricultural processing plants, such as co-operative creameries, milk plants, and other food concerns, which might develop in smaller communities.

"Too many of our communities have forgotten their farmers and the farm possibilities that are right around that community in which they live," observed Dean Anthony. "I would like to see town and country get a lot closer together than they are now."

The writer of this column has traveled considerably about Michigan. An inevitable observation is the growth of some small communities, while neighboring towns languish and steadily decline. Community development is not a matter of overnight success. It calls for an awakened civic spirit and a consistent cooperation of citizens in movements to better the community, making the town a better place in which to live and work.

It is significant to note that Michigan already has services available in the Michigan Department of Economic Development, the University of Michigan and Michigan State College whereby communities can obtain assistance in helping themselves to progressive development. The towns which are making an effort to improve themselves are thus the communities which are more apt to attract new industries.

The School Bell...

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Brooks
March is our birthday month. Monday we celebrated four birthdays. Harold Murray was 7 on Saturday and Barbara Kortan and Gerald Muma each had a birthday on Sunday. Helen Addis will be 7 Wednesday.

Harold brought beautiful napkins, cakes and apples to pass. We ended our party by playing "Baa Baa, Black Sheep".

Group I has finished "Fun With Dick and Jane" and is reading stories from "Day In and Day Out" before beginning "Our New Friends".

We enjoyed reading "The Three Bears" from the film strip and we had a science lesson that way. Mrs. Seiler's room joined with us for the films.

SECOND AND THIRD Grades — Adeline Bowerman

On Friday morning we had a very nice visit with Dr. Pray concerning the importance and proper way of caring for our teeth. He stressed the importance of brushing our teeth after meals to remove food particles and demonstrate the proper method of brushing our gums and teeth. He told of the importance of drinking milk and eating vegetables and meat and to avoid candy and soft drinks, especially between meals, for germs thrive on sweets and form an acid which decays teeth. It is usually hard for children to "take the time" to brush their teeth so it is largely the parents responsibility to see that this important habit is established in early childhood.

On Friday we had a review of the spelling words we had had this semester. In second grade Earl Gee and Roger Sweet did not miss any of the 48 words. Herman Prevo missed one and Sandra Gibbard, Larry Hayden and Bruce Ogden missed two words. The third graders had 87 words and Mary Ann Lehrbass did not miss any. Duffy Chak, Lauren Donaldson, Mary Carol Hastie and Donna Neumann each missed only one word. All of these children were privileged to visit our school library and check out a book.

Richard Kraemer had his birthday on Sunday, March 5, and Sanford Sweet will be nine on March 9th.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Galmore
Our study of Australia and wool has been interesting, but we are through with it now and will be studying China. During our study of wool processes our teacher brought a teasel to school which many of us had never seen before. When we felt the prickly surface we could understand how it could be used to comb out the nap.

We are watching for signs of spring. Several people have reported seeing robins and crows. We were very happy on Monday when David Smith reported having found our lost book "Timberloes".

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Snyder
Last week we received another packet of letters from our fourth grade pen pals in Walled Lake so we are busy answering them. We like to hear about the things they are doing and tell them about ourselves.

We are traveling to Spain, Italy and Greece in Social Studies and Mrs. Galmore loaned us a nice set of pictures depicting the "Story of Oranges" for our bulletin board.

This morning we learned to multiply by two-place numbers in Arithmetic. Most of us think it is fun because we know our times tables.

Our library shelf has different books on it this week. We exchanged the other for some we haven't read.

Our weather chart shows four sunny days in a row. We are glad when we can draw the yellow sun instead of a snowflake.

Wanda Gilkerson tells us that her sister, who is in Jamaica, gets the Charlevoix County Herald and eagerly reads the school notes from our room. We think it would be nice to receive a letter from her telling us about schools in Jamaica.

FIFTH Grade — Elizabeth Dhaseleer

We are very busy working on a play from one of our reading books. We are trying to have it ready for assembly Friday.

David Moore, Melva Pardee and Alma Moore have March birthdays.

Mr. Festerling was in Monday during our health class. He told us about the fourth H in 4-H, which stands for health.

We have just completed our study of West North Central States in geography. We are starting on the West South Central States. They include Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

The boys who are working at 4-H handicraft have made some fine looking corner shelves. Ralph Wycoff is making a cutting board his mother will be very glad to receive. The cut-out puzzles are nearly finished. We expect the material for the baskets to arrive soon.

Mrs. Farmer meets with the 5th and 6th grade girls who are taking 4-H sewing. Right now they are struggling with darning. The second year girls' dresses look fine.

Every pupil in our room is going to do a 4-H project in Conservation. We are going to study the spring birds in school and each pupil is to make a bird house at home.

We are carrying in addition and borrowing in subtraction of fractions. All last week we worked on story problems. Mrs. Liskum is trying to teach us not to be afraid of story problems.

We have had five to seven people absent every day because of illness.
