FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

CUTTING DAIRY COSTS:

On of the best ways to cut costs in dairy operations is on feed expenses and Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agr'l agent says that it is possible through a planned pasture program.

Labor and equipment costs in dairy operation are fixed and rather hard to cut, the agent pointed out. He reported, however, that farmers with good feed records show that pastures can furnish nearly one-third of the food nutrients a good cow needs. And the cost of good pasture is far less than for other feeds.

Rebman suggests that farmers plan a program where they will have some type of pasture from early spring until the "snow flies" in the late fall. The use of rye, brome-alalfa, native June Grass and Reed Canary grass will make a better balanced all-around pasture program.

Feed costs can be cut not only by good pasture but by making good use of high quality silage and legume hay cut at the right time of the year. Spring is the time for farmers to plan their pasture program for the next year to 18 months and those who do so will find that meeting the situation of continued high costs and lower returns will be less difficult.

KENT OATS:

Seed of Kent oats, a variety released by the Michigan Agr'l Experiment Station in 1948 and increased under certification in 1949, is available to Michigan farmers for planting this season.

Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, says the variety has been tested at various points in Michigan for several years and has given good results when compared with other new disease-resistant varieties. According to S. C. Hildebrand, farm crops specialist at Michigan State College, Kent is white grained, has a heavy test weight, and a moderately stiff straw. It is medium height, medium maturity, and matures evenly.

Kent is adapted to most sections of Michigan except on the flat, heavy, very fertile soils where lodging is severe. It has performed well on light soils. Seed may be available at local elevators or may be obtained from certified seed growers. For further information, contact agent Rebman, at the county extension office located at Boyne City.

Plants In The Home (By Vaun Ogden)

If you have trouble growing the usual sort of house plants, why not try some that are almost sure to bloom? I mean daffodils, hyacinths and even tulips. The flower bud is right inside the bulb when you buy it, and if you buy good bulbs, success is assured. Don't waste a dime on the so-called bargain assortments.

Buy bulbs early in the fall. If you're ordering, plan to have the shipment arrive at least by October 1st. Three or four hyacinth bulbs would probably do. Get the mammoth size. Early double tulips are generally best. Plan six or eight to a pot. The King Alfred daffodil is hard to beat for forcing. Other varieties are Emperor, Ben Hur, Spring Glory. Place bulbs close together in a six inch pot, with just the tips showing above the dirt. Label the pots, and sometime in October dig a trench in the garden and bury them under a foot or so of earth and allow the bulbs to root. During a February thaw it is easy to shovel off the snow, carefully dig up a few pots, bring them in to a cool, light place, and gradually force them into bloom. Move a few pots in each week and enjoy a longer blooming season.

In order to bring the hyacinth blossom out of the bulb it is sometimes necessary to invert a paper cone over the plant. Shape a paper to look like an ice cream cone with the end bitten off. The flower will stretch up to get light. The slower blubs are forced, the longer the blossom will last. Greenhouses use pre-cooled bulbs for early forcing. Some people like to root bulbs in their own cellars. If you use this method, be sure there are lots of roots before bringing them up to light and heat. Whether you bury the bulbs or root them in the cellar, you can have lots of color and a smell of spring from February on, and for only the cost of the bulbs.

Cancer Can Be Cured If You See Your Physician Early

"Cancer is a personal affair: You are the only person who can protect you against cancer."

"Some cancer is preventable and most cancer is curable if you get to your physician in time."

"Go to your physician for periodic physical examinations, and go to him immediately in between times if any of the seven signs of cancer appear."

That is what State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis says in the March issue of "Michigan Public Health" which heralds April as Cancer Control Month in Michigan.

The seven signs which may mean cancer and which call for an immediate examination by a doctor are:

1. Any sore that does not heal—particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
3. Irregular bleeding from the nipple or any natural body opening.
4. Progressive change in color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
5. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Any persistent change in normal bowel habits.
7. "It is better to have 20 examinations for cancer and find none than to miss one examination when early cancer or pre-cancerous condition is present," Dr. Heustis states.

These facts and others about cancer, about Michigan's plan for cancer control and how to organize for cancer control in the local community are contained in the March issue of "Michigan Public Health," official bulletin of the Michigan Department of Health. Single copies of the issue or a subscription can be obtained free of charge by sending a postcard to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

You never get a level head by butting it into other people's business.
What a world! By the time you are important enough to take two hours for lunch, the doctor limits you to a glass of milk.

In olden days girls used to attend gym classes and use dumbbells to get color in their cheeks. Now, they use color on their cheeks to get dumbbells.

We are told the Greer Garson gets giggles displaying a newspaper clipping that reported an accident she suffered. It read: "The area in which Miss Garson was injured is spectacularly scenic."

Tree Talk
Flagpole Problem
Got Too Tough
By Will Bernard, LL.B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

Must You Holler When You Fell a Tree?

One morning, a farmer went to work digging up a dead tree. At last the roots broke loose. The tree came crashing down across the back fence—just as a neighbor was passing by with a team of horses! Several big branches landed on the horses, killing them instantly. Afterward the neighbor sued for the value of the two animals, blaming the farmer for not hollering a warning. The farmer insisted that the neighbor could see what was going on, and therefore should have kept out of harm's way. But the court disagreed. Holding the farmer liable, the judge said he should have shouted a warning — as he was the only one who could tell the exact moment of danger.

If You Buy a House With a Flagpole, Do You Get the Flagpole Too?

A man decided it would be nice to have a flagpole in front of his house. He set several concrete blocks in the lawn, and hoisted the pole into position. Some years later, he sold his house. However, nothing was said in the negotiations as to who should get the flagpole, and the parties finally had to go to court to settle the question. The seller argued that the pole was "removable"—and therefore was not included with the house. However, the judge decided otherwise when he found out that the pole was 60 feet high and weighed 300 pounds! Anything that big and that solid, he said, was an integral part of the premises.

May Telephone Men "Get Tough" With a Citizen Who Won't Let Them Put up a Pole?

A telephone company decided to erect a pole in front of a certain house—despite the objections of the woman who lived there. When the crew arrived at the scene, the woman was ready for them. As soon as they started digging, she jumped into the hole. They started digging in another spot—so she jumped into that hole too. To emphasize her protest, she also squirted the men with the garden hose! Enraged, they seized the pole and charged at her. The woman ducked—but not quite fast enough to avoid a glancing blow. Later she sued the telephone company for damages. After weighing the evidence pro and con, the court ruled in the woman's favor. The judge said the company should have gotten a court order against her—instead of "taking the law into their own hands."

Must You Step More Carefully in the Dark Than in the Light?

An engineer was hired to check the heating system of an office building. While poking around in the basement, he came upon a large metal door. Curious, he opened it. Alas, it led to an elevator shaft! Down he fell to the bottom, one floor below. Later he sued the building owner for damages, arguing that the shaft was not properly safeguarded. But the court rejected his claim, saying that the engineer himself was negligent for stepping into an unknown darkness. Said the judge: "Darkness is nature's own warning to arouse the natural instinct of self-protection . . . and should be even more convincing than a 'Danger' sign on the door!"

A girl's father, who had a suspicious nature, decided that one youth was taking advantage of his daughter. One day he confronted the pair and told them in plain language that they "must" get married. The youth was perfectly willing—but the girl agreed only because of her father's insistence. Soon after the wedding she filed suit for an annulment, pleading that she had gotten married under "coercion." But the court rejected her request. The judge said the girl still had a mind of her own.

ANGEL FISH Helen Lures New Yorkers

NEW YORK — "Where's your baggage?" asked the clerk behind the ticket counter at LaGuardia Field's overseas terminal recently. He was speaking to four New York businessmen checking in for Pan American airway's morning flight to Bermuda.

"Here it is," they chorused, each waving a pair of bathing trunks in the chap's face. "We're just going down to see Helen. We'll be back on tonight's Clipper."

"Helen must be an extraordinary woman," thought the clerk. But he was wrong. Helen is a fish, not an ordinary fish but a lovely angel fish of iridescent blue with extended fins that trail behind her like gay yellow streamers. Her outstanding attribute is her liking for people. With her friend, Ruth, and a host of yellow grunts, breems and gray snappers, she receives callers nearly every day at her home on a coral reef 15 feet below the ocean level.

Fascinating Diversion

Visiting these residents of the briny deep in their submarine homes is Bermuda's newest and most fascinating diversion. A young American, Bronson Hartley, introduced the fascinating sport of deep sea diving to the tourists a year ago after doing it himself for the past 18 years. Now the vacationist who is bored with the ordinary pleasures of swimming and bicycling can make like a fish at the bottom of the ocean for a mere $5 and the trouble of donning a diving helmet and sneakers—furnished by Hartley—and a bathing suit.

In the past 12 months, more than 1,000 persons — including a five-year-old boy and an 85-year-old lady—have taken Hartley's underwater sight-seeing tour. It's the rage with college students, honeymooners and jokers who like to write post cards underwater with ball point pens. More than one party of high living New Yorkers have Clipped the 773 miles down to the Coral islands for the sole purpose of viewing them 15 feet underwater; and last Christmas, 24 persons begged Hartley in vain to take them down.

So popular has this unique sport become that tourists have taken to phoning Hartley at 6:00 a. m. in the morning to make reservations for the day's trips. With good humor, he added the longest extension cord he could find to his telephone and carries it with him from bedroom to bath to breakfast making appointments all the way.

Two Trips Daily

Twice a day—morning and afternoon—he sets out in his small cabin cruiser with his faithful assistant, Roy Darrell, and no more than eight guests. While the boat moves out through the brilliant green water of Flatts, Hartley briefs his passengers on what to do and look for while strolling around the ocean floor and how to walk ski-crook fashion, knees bent and body erect. One must tread lightly, too, to keep from plowing up the sand and clouding the water.

In calm weather, Hartley steers out to the ocean where the passengers descend to one of the coral reefs that surround Bermuda. But in rough weather—when the churning waves of the ocean might make his passengers seasick—he heads for a quiet bay in Harrington Sound. High bluffs fringed with hibiscus and oleander bushes edge this cove and so protect it from the wind that Hartley was able to take a party down there during the last hurricane.

Robin Hood Statue Planned in England

NOTTINGHAM, ENGLAND. — Robin Hood may return to Sherwood forest if a Nottingham industrialist, Philip E. F. Clay, has his way.

In Robin Hood's own town, where the outlaw and his merry men in Lincoln green once shattered the nerves of the high sheriff, Clay has offered the city council 5,000 pounds (about $20,000), and more, if necessary, to erect a statue of the man who "stole from the rich and gave to the poor." City council has accepted the gift, and now the town is split over the location of the statue. The raging question is: should Robin stand in Nottingham itself or out in one of the few remaining glades of Sherwood forest? A solution is expected soon.

Clay's gesture was timed to coincide with Nottingham's quinquenary week.

Watchdog Takes It Easy As Burglar Loots Room

HOLLYWOOD.—A burglar who took her watchdog into the apartment with him, stole more than $30,000 in jewels from actress Lois Andrews, she told police.

Miss Andrews told investigators 230 dresses, 193 pairs of shoes, $20,000 worth of fur coats, and $10,000 worth of rare perfumes were not disturbed.

The ex-wife of George Jessel said she discovered the loss when she returned home from the theater early today. Curled up comfortably in a chair was her pet boxer, Pub. She had left him tethered in his doghouse in the backyard.

"No increase in taxes!"
"No increase in government spending for public services!"
Such will be the answer of the Michigan state legislature to Governor G. Mennen Williams in the current special session at Lansing, if the recommendations of the Senate and House finance committees are upheld by Republican legislators.

Governor Williams has proposed a record-breaking budget for state spending for $340 millions for the next fiscal year starting July 1, 1950.

This would mean an increase of $110 millions, most of which would be covered by new taxes.

The source of new tax revenues has been limited by Governor Williams to a state corporations profits tax. The state constitution permits the Governor to limit subject matter to be considered during a special session. In the past special sessions have been called to deal with emergency situations. Since the close of World War II the special session has become one for arriving at an annual budget in view of the post-war inflation with rising prices and a steady decline in purchasing power.

In deciding that the Republican policy in the special session would be to balance the state budget without calling for new taxes, legislative leaders have given a firm "no" to the proposals of the Governor for more spending and new taxes.

Unless legislators give in to pressure group demands from their own areas, legislative leaders believe that they can hold the lines firmly to accomplish the desired results of a balanced budget. Members of the two finance committees are agreed that compulsory appropriations, such as the $87 millions required for public schools by the sales tax diversion amendment, could not be reduced by the legislature. This fact indicates that a budget cutting squeeze will be forthcoming whereby many state agencies, and perhaps some non-mandatory state aid to local governments, will have less funds to spend during the coming year than heretofore.

Whether this economy in certain fields of government spending will meet with approval of the taxpayers is another matter. Governor Williams no doubt will take advantage of the situation, pressing for further benefits in public services, local as well as state, and deploring the "reactionary" and "do-nothing" attitude of the Republican party in 1950.

There is a strong feeling among Republican legislators, as repeatedly reported in the areas, to treat the spending program of the Governor as largely political issues for his campaign of re-election. The large list of proposals, of which there are 15, appear to be very ambitious to many legislators in view of the tradition that a special session should be limited to financial appropriations and matters held to be of an emergency nature.

William Palmer, chairman of the State Civil Service Commission, has proposed that the legislature apply a flat 10 percent cut in state payrolls as one way to effect a balanced budget. Records show that the payrolls of state agencies during the past year were approximately double of those in 1943-44. Senator Elmer R. Porter, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, points out that if the legislature could reduce state employment to the level of 1945-46, a savings of $24 millions could be effected. In 1943-44 the state had 16,038 employees for a total payroll of $33,181,567. For the past fiscal year (1948-49) a 23,751 employees received a payroll totaling $66,283,311.

Yet the budget cannot be balanced alone by cutting salaries of state employees, a relatively small item in the light of all appropriations. Public services must be trimmed, and this means that the taxpayer will not pay more for present services, but due to diversion of state revenue to public schools and local governments, he will receive fewer state services than heretofore.

Such is the prospect if recommendations of the legislative finance committees are accepted by the House and Senate in the final showdown of roll calls. Already the pressure is coming from pressure groups to make an "exception" to local interests.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Coal Operators Hint at Price Hike; Britain Faces New Economic Crisis; Federal Tax Reduction Poses Puzzle

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

COAL:

The "Payoff"
The "payoff" in the recent coal strike settlement was coming more quickly than was usually the case in the settling of these disputes. The cost to the consumer of John L. Lewis' power over the operators and his union was to be felt very soon.

ANNOUNCEMENT came in the form of a statement by spokesman for the soft coal industry that there is now in preparation a 10 to 40 cents a ton increase on the price of coal.

When the United Mine Workers long strike against the industry was settled recently, operators forecast a rise in prices.

However, discussion of the price hike indicated there would be no blanket increase. Rather, the boost would vary according to the financial situation and contract commitments of individual firms.

One official was quoted as saying:

"If it (the increase) only amounts to 10 cents a ton, the retailer should be able to absorb it. But if it goes any higher, it will affect the price of coal to the consumer."

It seems logical that the retailer could assume an added cost of 10 cents a ton—but the question was: Would he? Except for competition, which would hardly be forthcoming in the way of a price fight, the retailer could pass on any coal price hike to the consumer.

BRITAIN:

Another Crisis

Great Britain truly had fallen on evil times. Barely escaping one financial crisis after another, the word was that the nation was facing another financial-economic crisis in 1950—just as she did in 1949 and 1948.

THE DAY had passed when Americans could say to such news: "So what—what has that got to do with us?" For the fact was that because of U.S.-British economic-financial ties stemming from the early Franklin D. Roosevelt era, whatever happened to Britain economically or financially could be expected to happen to the U.S.

The reason was that in any such crisis there was no one but the U.S. to whom the British could turn for help.

The problem, as British leaders viewed it, was that although Britain's production is about as high as it can go in the near future, it does not yield enough exportable goods to meet pressing British problems.

ONE OF THESE is the need to increase sales to the United States to earn more dollars and solve Britain's current inability to pay for the goods she must get from the United States.

Another is conflicting pressure on Britain to ship goods to other creditors as a means of paying on huge debts acquired in wartime and since.

Possible solutions included negotiations with creditors to ease pressure on old debts and—as was inevitable and expected—provisions of further loans from the United States.

TAX CUTS:

A Problem

Cynical observers of congressional tax-cut maneuvering might be forgiven a "so what?" reaction to announcement that while Democrats had thrown out President Truman's limitations on excise-tax slashes, they promised to dig up other revenue to balance the losses.

TO THE AVERAGE taxpayer that must seem to be a senseless business. What was the point in abolishing one type of taxes and levying another? Excise taxes affected almost every one in the nation, and the substitute for a slash there—tightening up of tax loopholes and "such other taxes as may be deemed feasible"—would most likely affect a majority of taxpayers.

That "other such taxes as may be deemed feasible," was the clincher that cut off any relief taxpayers might obtain through a slash in the excise levies.

President Truman has threatened to veto the excise tax cut if the loss of this revenue is not balanced by other sources. With developments as they were, it appeared certain that there would be no excise tax reductions before July 1.

QUICK COFFEE

Glass Stove Perks Water in 50 Seconds

Among many other important things connected with coffee-making is speed of operation, with most users always casting about for methods to hasten the process.

Now, a new glass is a transparent stove that heats air or boils water for coffee—and it will start water perking inside 50 seconds. The glass has a transparent skin that conducts electricity, but re-

Accused

Dorothy Kenyon, named by U.S. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) as first on his list of alleged "fellow-travelers," or Communists, in the state department, was listed as a $12,000-a-year member of the economic and special council of the U.S. commission to the United Nations.

ACHESON:

Rapped Again

Tall, debonaire Dean Acheson, U.S. secretary of state, was under fire again. He was charged, among other accusations, with trying to "shift the blame" in defending the alleged loyalty-suspect cases Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.) has been airing on capitol hill.

SINCE ACHESON made his now-famous remark that "I will not turn my back on Alger Hiss," following the latter's conviction of perjury in question with treason charges, Acheson has been more or less on the pan as accusers of the state department deliver their verbal blasts.

This time, McCarthy charged three key state department aides as having shown Communist sympathies and demanded investigation of a navy civilian scientist whom he described as working on "top-most defense secrets."

The charge that the state department harbors men and women of Communist leanings or sympathies is not a new one. It has been cropping up for the past several years, and on each occasion the department indignantly rushes forth with a denial.

THAT'S NOT SURPRISING for certainly neither Senator McCarthy nor anyone else expected the state department would admit such a condition existed, even if it did exist. To do so would admit either a lack of proper security efforts on the part of the department, or a willingness to wink at any employee's loyalty if that employee happened to "stand in right" with the proper officials.

ATTLEE:

Doing Okay

To the surprise of most observers, England's so-called "shaky" Labor government had survived two major tests of strength in parliament.

FOLLOWING the election, in which Prime Minister Attlee's Labor party won a bare majority of parliament seats, it was predicted that the victory margin was so slight that the government might crumble—that a new election was practically inevitable.

In the recent test—action on a Conservative motion to beat down the cabinet's housing program—Attlee made a considerably stronger showing than on a previous issue.

THE LABOR VICTORY was made possible by support from the Liberal faction, a development at odds with popular speculation as to where the Liberals would go in parliamentary tests. Many top political observers had predicted that the Liberals would stand with the Conservatives against Attlee's broad program of nationalization-of-industry-and-resources, but closer observers of the British political scene had pooh-poohed the idea that the Liberals would ever be found standing with the Conservatives. And, apparently, these prognosticators were correct.

While it had appeared that the Labor forces were to trim down their nationalization program because of the close election result, these new victories might reshape the pattern of intent. For example, following triumph on the housing issue, Health Minister Bevan, whose ministry administers the housing program, declared "the government's program will be persisted in."

TRUMAN:

Republicans, sniping at President Truman, declared that he, as a private citizen, "is one of the best, if not the best paid man in the world today."

Figures lending themselves to many artifices, the gentleman issuing that statement, Rep. Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan figured it out this way:

A PRIVATE CITIZEN to match the standard of living now enjoyed by the President would need an income of three to three and a half million dollars a year.

Mr. Truman has take-home pay of $110,000 a year out of his salary, $50,000 of which is tax-free.

He has 42 facilities for travel, including 35 automobiles, airplanes, his own yacht, the Williamsburg, a private Pullman car and "vacation retreats" in Key West, Fla., and Maryland.

He has an estimated staff of 665 persons at an annual cost of $1,491,540. He has a travel allowance of $33,000 to $40,000.

Then Representative Woodruff listed the costs of the yacht, the President's personal plane, his private railroad car, a destroyer escort for the yacht, secret service and White House guards, White House salary costs for a staff of 225.

THEN said Representative Woodruff: "By comparison, President Roosevelt in 1945 had a staff of 53 costing only $256,431 and President Hoover's staff totaled 37 at a salary bill of $127,200. Present White House salary costs, he said, amount to $998,254 annually."

That was an impressive list of conveniences and privileges and special help, certainly; rivaling in many instances the best that an Indian Potentate could boast. Yet, democracy comes high, and there was little likelihood that a resume of what the presidency costs the people would raise the blood pressure of many American taxpayers.

ELECTIONS:

Certainty & Doubt

A graphic contrast between choices by electorates in Communist and other countries was provided in the Russian and Belgian elections. In Russia, there was no choice.

Premier Stalin was the Number 1 candidate of the Soviets, and he had no opposition. As head of the Communist ticket, he was shooting for as nearly 100 per cent of the vote as possible—with no "No" votes to come.

Stalin and associates campaigned on a pledge of following a policy of peace. The Russians elected a new parliament of 1,302 members.

IN BELGIUM the situation was quite different. The issue was: Should King Leopold III be returned to the throne? Fifty-seven per cent of the voters said he should, a fact which must have been comforting to Leopold, inasmuch as he had vowed to abdicate unless he received 55 per cent of the vote.

However, the victory at the polls didn't mean Leopold was back on the throne. Parliament would have the last word, as the election was only advisory—being designed to show parliament how the people felt about Leopold. The election was tumultuous, with rioting and fighting marking the balloting.

LEOPOLD had drawn the ill will of millions of Belgians because of his capitulation to the Germans in World War II, although his supporters pointed out there was little else he could have done.

The crux of the election was some 151,000 invalidated ballots. If these were counted, the result would give Leopold only 54 per cent of the votes and he would have to act on his pledge of abdication if he failed to receive the 55 per cent he had mentioned.

Fights Tax

Fred N. Acker, Cleveland, Ohio, attorney, is testing the validity of present federal income tax schedules which he declares are "confiscatory." Acker admitted he has not filed any return or paid any direct taxes for several years, and "invited the government charge."

CURVES:

In or Out?

The matter of whether milady's curves were to be played down or accentuated in this spring's fashions was a subject of no little controversy among designers.

One school of thought wanted curves concealed—The other would have them displayed to the best advantage. The subject was important to the American male who, in the end, would be most concerned because he would pay for most of it

The father of a little boy gave him a dollar for his birthday. The boy spent the afternoon going the rounds of the tradesman and having them change the dollar first into silver, then back to a bill, and so on. When the father heard of it, he inquired the reason.

"Well," said little Sandy, "sooner or later, somebody is going to make a mistake, and it ain't going to be me."

Farmer: "And how is the lawyer coming along?"
Doctor: "Poor fellow, he's lying at death's door."

Trial and Triumph
Lesson for April 2, 1950

IF YOU HAD BEEN on the top of the city wall on that first Palm Sunday, watching the crowds roaring into Jerusalem, and some one had told you that all the shouting was for Jesus of Nazareth, you would certainly have thought that his success was a sure thing. Here, surely, was a King who had arrived! But before the week was out you would have seen this same Jesus on trial for his life, and not a voice raised in his defense. The same dusty-throated mob on that Sunday shouted "Hosanna! Blessed is He!" was shrieking on Friday morning, "Crucify him!"

Flowers Beds or Bloody Seas?

There is a popular notion floating around to the effect that God gives good people an easy time. It is not always put just that way. But when a man who has been good (or thinks he has, or has tried to be), runs into trouble, he asks right away, "Why must this happen to me?" The truth of the matter is better expressed in the lines of an old hymn:

"Must I be carried to the skies On flowery beds of ease, While others fought to win the prize, Or sailed through bloody seas?"

Jesus was incomparably the best who ever lived; yet his moments of popularity were short, and he was finally tortured and killed by the leaders of church and state, amid the jeering approval of masses of the people.

He himself said that any follower of his must be willing to take up his own cross. "In the world you will have tribulation," he said to his disciples.

All Tyrants Hate the Church

THE MORE GENUINELY Christian the church is, the more it is likely to run into opposition. There are several reasons for this. For one thing, the church stands for love, and the generosity and unselfishness, the sympathy and even the sacrifice that go with love and are produced by it. But "what makes the world go 'round,"—the world of the politician, the money-maker, the social climber, the war-maker, the world of the power-thirsty in every sphere—what makes that world go 'round is pride, selfishness, showing-ahead, Me-firstness. The selfish and the proud do not take kindly to love of the Christian sort, indeed they despise it as a weakness.

But the church, when it is a true church, stands up for humanity even when it has to stand against profits; and the man for whom profit is the first law of life never understands the attitude of the church. Then the church (when it is a real one) always stands for the people against the Tyrant, whoever and wherever he may be, even when he is in some church himself.

And consequently all tyrants hate the church. The Roman emperors hated it and persecuted it till they found they could use it (which, by the way, was a bad day for the church). Mohammed, a tyrant of sorts, hated the Christian church and would have totally destroyed it if he could.

Victory—When?

"WE SUFFER with him we shall also reign with him," said St. Paul. But when and how? The end of the church's struggles could come in either of two ways. One way would be for the church to give up struggling against the world. Let the church become a club for the sociable, let the church raise no voice of protest against injustice in society, against untruth, violence and greed; let the church give in to the world, in short, and she will have no further trouble from the world.

But in that case she would be dead. Another way is for the church finally to overcome the world. The triumph of the true church is the same as the triumph of divine Love.

That is the future to which the Bible bids us look. When? We do not know. But the Kingdom comes "one heart at a time," and with every soul the church wins from the world-way to the Christ-way, the victory of Love draws nearer.

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Efficiency is necessary to reduce the cost of government. It is also imperative for our national prosperity. The Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government in its minute survey of the 1812 Federal agencies, boards, and departments, found a sad lack of effective house-keeping. This Commission, created by Congress with the approval of President Truman, was headed by former President Hoover. It has provided a vivid picture of the weaknesses in our present set-up, and suggested ways of increasing efficiency so that your taxes may be reduced.

Today thousands of tons of obsolete, useless records are stored in steel cabinets in expensive offices at maintenance charges of $29 per year each, when they could be kept in warehouses at a cost of only $2.15 per year each.

In 1928 the Department of Agriculture had about 22,000 employees and spent less than $26 million. In 1948 it had 82,000 employees and spent $834 millions of your hard-earned tax dollars. In a single Georgia cotton county, 47 employees of 7 separate USDA field services were handling out advice. A Washington State county had 184 Department agents and a Maryland county had 88 agents advising the heavily taxed farmers. A Missouri dairyman was "confused and irritated" when he recently received contradictory advice from five government agencies on how to fertilize his fields.

These are a few instances of the thousands discovered by the Commission where elimination of duplication would give increased efficiency and better service at less cost. If all of the recommendations of the Commission are adopted, the workers of this country would save between three and four billion dollars in taxes annually.

If you are interested in seeing these changes made in your government, tell your Congressman. Write the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania, for more information. Talk to your friends about it. These much-needed reforms cannot be made into law without your support!

Reader's Courtroom

Sympathy Barred
Rabble Rousing
Warning Enough
By Will Bernard, LL.B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

Should a Judge Let Sympathy Affect His Decisions?

A man walked into a bank one day with a suitcase full of dynamite, and demanded $100,000 in cash. When the money wasn't forthcoming, he dropped the bag—and blew up the bank! A customer was painfully injured in the blast, and later sued the bank for damages. However, the court denied the man's claim on the ground that there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the bank. Said the judge: "It is impossible to consider this man's injury without profound sympathy. But sympathy, although one of the noblest sentiments of our nature, has no place in the administration of law."

May a Rabble-Rouser Urge His Followers to Defy the Police?

A rabble-rousing speaker began holding meetings in a park—right next door to a hospital! After a few days, the chief of police decided, the meetings were getting too noisy, and ordered them stopped. That night, several hundred people gathered near the park and the speaker urged them to "go on in." They did—surging unchecked past the few outnumbered policemen. When the speaker was arrested for obstructing justice, he protested that neither he nor his followers had actually used physical force on the officers. However, the court found him guilty anyhow. The judge said: "It wasn't necessary that they should kick and fight and bite their way into the park. Their conduct, under the circumstances, was just as effective!"

Must a Motorist Be Careful At a Railroad Crossing That is Seldom Used?

A salesman's trips often took him along a certain country road. At one point on this road was a railroad crossing, but since the salesman never saw a train there he decided it must be an abandoned track. However, one day a train did start across the road—just before the man got there. He was going too fast to stop, and crashed into one of the cars. Later he sued the railroad for damages, saying there was no warning at the crossing. But the court turned down the salesman's claim on the ground that he was equally to blame for the accident. The judge said that he had no right to take it for granted that the track was abandoned, just because it wasn't used very often. "A railroad track in itself," said the judge, "is a notice of danger."

If You Find Something And Know Whose it is, Must You Return it?

The first customer of the day in a certain butcher shop was a woman named Mrs. Johnson. Just after she left the store, the butcher spied a wallet on the floor. His helper exclaimed: "That must be Mrs. Johnson's!" — but the butcher just put the wallet in his pocket and said nothing about it. Later Mrs. Johnson found out what had happened, and had the butcher arrested for theft. He protested that he couldn't be held for theft since he hadn't actually taken the wallet but had merely found it. However, the court decided that his conduct amounted to just about the same thing and found him guilty as charged.

A college student went to a drug store one morning and asked the druggist to inject a strong cathartic into a chocolate bon-bon. The druggist cheerfully complied. Then the student gave the candy to a friend—"just for fun." Unfortunately, the friend didn't appreciate the joke. He got mad at the student—but he got twice as mad at the druggist. In fact, he had the druggist arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The druggist said he had followed instructions, but the court held him guilty.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dennis and daughter, Evelyn, of Flint, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth LaValley, and other relatives.

Mrs. Wm. French returned to her home at Allegan this Thursday after spending the winter at the home of her uncle and niece, Mayor, and Mrs. Marvin Benson and family.

I will have an assortment of plants at my home next week after Tuesday for Easter. Also some handmade articles.—Mrs. Ida Kinsey, 520 Main St. adv.

The Misses Eva and Agnes Lewis of Grand Rapids are visiting at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Malpass, and helping to care for Mrs. Malpass.

The East Jordan Study Club will meet Tuesday, April 4th, at 8:00 p. m., with Mrs. R. G. Watson, Program, Mrs. Eva Pray; Hostesses, Mrs. Helen Severance and Mrs. Wilbur Robertson. Election of officers. Please remember to bring your contribution for Easter basket. Tickets will be available for the Club annual dinner at the Methodist Church, April 18th.

The Peninsula Jr. Farm Bureau met with Jim Sheppard at his home Thursday evening, March 23rd, with twelve present. Fred Looze, president, conducted the meeting. Among other things they discussed plans for summer work, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent. The next meeting will be held April 20th with Erwin and Larry LaCroix.

Edward O. DeHaven, Pastor
Sunday Church School begins at 9:45 with classes for all ages. We were glad to see several back who had been confined to their homes with illness. We begin our new quarter's work this coming

The Church Worship Service begins at 11:00 a. m. This coming Sunday morning new members will be received into the church.

The W. Y. F. meets at 6:30 p. m. The meeting will be led by the Faith and Life commission. This coming week is Holy week which is the last week of the Lenten season, culminating Easter. This is the most important week in the Christian Calendar. In it we call to mind once more the giving of Jesus Christ our Lord for all of us. In solemn remembrance let us prepare ourselves for the day of triumph which we call Easter. There are special services arranged so that we may be prepared. Holy Communion will be celebrated Thursday evening in the church at 7:30 p. m. This is known as Maundy Thursday and is the traditional date of the celebration of the Last Supper.

Friday afternoon, at 2:00 p. m. there will be a Union Good Friday Service held in the Presbyterian Church. This is a service of solemn remembrance of the crucifixion of our Lord. The service will last from 2:00 to 3:30 p. m. All are urged to attend this Service.

This is a Scriptural presentation with the disciples and the women being the characters in the story. Let us come and begin this day with our devotion early in the morning. We are not serving the Easter breakfast this year.

The Sunday School will meet as usual at 9:45 a. m. The Easter Worship Services will begin at 11:00 a. m. During this service infants will receive the sacrament of baptism.

KINDERGARTEN — Helen Severance
We are having a lot of fun with the large building blocks. We have made many play houses this week. We have learned how to know and write 1-2-3-4-5. Some of the Kindergarten children have been to the dentist. We have talked about brushing our teeth and what foods help to build good teeth.

KINDERGARTEN — I. Sidebotham
We like our book "Before We Read". We work in it almost every day. We like to tell about the pictures too. We have learned two Easter songs. One we have made a picture of and have the words on the chart.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Brooks
We are glad that Bobby Omland is home from the hospital and hope he will soon be back in school. Wesley Spink returned to school Monday after being absent for two weeks. Some of us have made calls on the dentist who has moved in next door to us.

SECOND & THIRD Grades — Adeline Bowerman
We think the pussy willows which we loaned for the teacher's party were much prettier when they were returned. They had been colored and sprigs of forced lilacs were among them. We hope the lilacs will bloom for us. Janet DeHaven has brought some cut flowers to brighten our room and we are very proud of the lovely moss garden which Mr. Cunningham placed in our room last Fall. The flu epidemic hit our room pretty hard but on Tuesday we had perfect attendance. Attendance for the balance of the year is very important for every day we are working hard to perfect the basic skills and knowledge essential for advanced study. Janet DeHaven will celebrate her ninth birthday on April Fool's Day. She is planning to entertain some of her friends on that day.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Galmore
We were glad to see so many mothers out for the assembly program Friday. We also wish to thank the mothers, aunts and grandparents who helped with the costumes and stage properties for our play "Cinderella". We were very sorry that Grover Bundy, Neil Misner and Mary Martinek were sick and unable to attend. Mary's mother made a beautiful clock for us and Mary was to have held it. We had a film of French farm children. They wear shoes like the Dutch children on the farm and change to leather shoes when they go to school.—Suzann Seaman.

I learned that the French children wear aprons to school and on Thursday there is no school as it is market day.—Glendara Chihak. I learned that the French children have wooden benches for seats and tables for desks in school.—Karen Touchstone. The French mother cooked their supper over a fireplace.—Diane Taylor. Their table looked like one of our picnic tables.—David Smith. They made their butter in a barrill churn.—Donald Clark. I learned that the French children have to work very hard.—Jean Kaley. The teacher wore an apron to school.—Terry Healey. Many signs of spring have been reported. Stanley saw two frogs and Betty saw a snake so we know the winter sleepers are waking up. Besides robins, the boys and girls have seen a kingfisher, chicken hawk, meadowlarks, blackbirds and crows. A starling was seen pulling an angleworm out of the ground. Someone else mentioned that the days are getting longer. We believe Spring must be here.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Snyder
Last week we began the study of Switzerland. We have found it a very interesting little country. Besides its beautiful scenery, it is noted for its fine watches, cheese making, wood carving and the utilization of waterfalls to generate electric power since they have no coal. We have discovered that the Swiss are skilled engineers in the building of roads, bridges, tunnels, railroads, etc. This week Wendy Knudsen is going to give us a book review of the well known Swiss story of "Heidi".

We enjoyed the assembly last Tuesday in which we saw the ancient art of glass blowing demonstrated. The talk which the performer gave on the history of glass blowing was very interesting and we were surprised at how soft the glass became when heated.

With all the patches of bare ground there is now room for everyone to play marbles. Mrs. Snyder has quite a collection of marbles that have fallen on the floor during school. On one of the outstanding signs of Spring are the reports of new animal babies arriving on the farms. Arthur Cosier told us about three baby calves born over the weekend. Versil Sweet has a baby goat, Elta Prevo has three baby puppies, and Donna Warner has a baby kitten.

FIFTH Grade — Elizabeth Dhaseler
We enjoyed seeing the glass blowing experiment last Tuesday. We had studied about glass making so the demonstration was especially interesting. We plan to finish our study of the United States this week. Then we will study about other countries in the western hemisphere.

We enjoyed the assembly program last Friday as well as giving our own play "The Proud Princess". Bobby Dougherty and Betty Detlaff brought bouquets of pussy willows for our room. It seems good to see these signs of spring. In our spare time we are working on our 4-H projects. We don't want to leave them until the last minute.

Fifteen people report having seen robins this spring. A couple say they saw and heard killdeer.

Bowling News

While all the top scores for the week were not rolled in the Merchants league, the bowling on Monday was far above par as over one-half of the league had 500 or better with the following members of the league getting 200 scores: Rev. J. J. Malinowski, 245, high for the night; Monk Cihak, 200; Leo Sommerville, 203; Earl Gee, 227; Herb Peebles, 203; Earl Denny, 203; Pat Bartsch, 207 and 203; Len Hilman, 209; Jay Hite, 203; Cy Dolezel, 241; Greg Boswell, 224-224-179 for 627, top series for the night; Bob Campbell, 201 and Barney Adair, 244.

All but one of the six matches were decided 3-1, with Thorsen's Lumber Co. and Hillman's Insurance holding 1-2 in the standings as they took Cal's Tavern and the Legion respectively. Ellsworth Electric went on a scoring spree to stop Sommerville's Grocery in their climb, but in spite of the defeat they hold third place. The Recreation moved into a 4th place tie with the Legion as they won 3 points from Brock's Turkey Farm. St. Joseph got back in the win column after losing 8 points in a row by beating E. J. Canning Co., while the State Bank split points with last place Monarch Finer Foods, the Cannors from Ellsworth winning the 2nd game by a single pin and the last game by pins.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight"

Our ten o'clock curfew lasted for 50 years, but the town council voted it out. I dropped in at the meeting in Town Hall last week just in time to hear Smiley Roberts.

"The curfew is old-fashioned," says Smiley. "We ought to be grown-up enough by now to behave like grownups. Seeing to it that our kids get to bed is the responsibility of each family." Then Judge Cunningham adds, "Most of us are in bed when the curfew horn blows anyway. It wakes me up just when I'm getting to sleep!"

What the Judge said was good for a laugh, but Smiley just about summed up how folks think in this town. We believe that the democratic tradition of "live and let live" is the only way to live.

From where I sit, it's not the American way to regulate your life by a horn—any more than it's right to criticize my caring for a temperate glass of beer now and then. Think what you wish, say what you wish, but don't ask your neighbor to do exactly as you do!
