Fiesta Time Approaching

You may not have heard, but the plans for the third annual Fiesta Day at East Jordan are nearly completed.

What a store of fun and amusement for everyone—young and old alike!

A new Fiesta Day is planned—just listen! This year most of our activities are going to be held out-of-doors, weather permitting, of course. The Fiesta will get under full swing with the exciting parade of floats in which we hope every business establishment will enter. Ed Maxwell should be contacted for details. Carroll Clark will be in charge of horsemen and carriages. Mr. Collins will have charge of the East Jordan High School Band which will parade and lead the entire Fiesta train through the town and back to the school.

On the school playground there will be a wide assortment of group games, such as a father-son softball game.

For the kids there will be an arena of shetland ponies. Also a fully decorated Merry-Go-Round.

Concession booths will be set up all around the tennis court. It is requested that all parties who want to set up booths contact Charles Michaels before April 18. If our Fiesta Day is to be an annual success we would like to have representation from all church, grange and fraternal organizations, the school, American Legion, etc.

The tennis courts will be turned into an out-door dance pavilion for those who wish to dance. Lights will be strung for evening dancing. Mr. Collins and the orchestra will do the honors.

Two thousand real Mexican Jumping Beans will be sold to those who can hold on to them.

Mrs. Sadie Liskum is to prepare the Fiesta Dinner which will be served in the H. S. Gym. Tables will be set up and flashing Mexican señoritas will serve your choice.

For those who wish indoor entertainment, an amateur show and a 1890 "Mello dramatic" will be presented on the stage under the direction of Mrs. Drapeau and Mr. Downing.

Contest window displays will try again to best those of previous years.

The court of the Mexican Fiesta King and Queen will be as colorful and gay as ever. Mrs. Doris Huckle will serve the needs of the court in her capable fashion.

Everyone be sure to keep your eyes and ears open for further announcements of this gala occasion. It is hoped that this Fiesta Day will continue to be one of the annual highlights of the year's events in East Jordan.

Remember to reserve the date of May 20th for this P.-T. A. sponsored Fiesta Day.

4-H Achievement Day at Charlevoix, April 26th

Approximately 400 4-H club members will have their winter 4-H projects on display at the Charlevoix High School Gymnasium, Wednesday, April 26. K. C. Festerling, district club agent, estimates the members have made nearly 1,300 articles.

Forty volunteer leaders have been working since last September with their clubs. Clubs are bustling with activity these last few weeks getting everything in readiness. Clothing garments must be washed and pressed and of course must be modeled. A lot of practice goes into modeling since every girl would like to be a winner in the dress revue.

Handicraft members have been appying their finishes to such articles as book ends, milk stools, hog feeders, bird houses and end tables. Conservation clubs have note books, scrap books and posters ready.

The knitters all make at least two articles and some are really pretty. Lots of the knitted articles need to be laundered giving the members experience in washing woolen garments.

Food preparation girls will do their baking just before exhibiting.

All exhibits will be put up on the afternoon of Thursday, April 25, and will be judged that evening by state club leaders.

When a young man tells a girl he can't do enough for her—maybe he's right!

Service of a Sanitarian Again Available

Charlevoix County Herald East Jordan, Michigan

I am glad to report the District Department of Health No. 3 again has the services of a sanitarian available.

Mr. Howard Houghton has been hired to replace Mr. Coleman, who resigned Feb. 1, 1950. Mr. Houghton received his B. S. degree from Tufts College, Medford, Massachusetts, and his M. S. degree from the University of Massachusetts. He has worked in Michigan with the Kellogg Foundation and comes to us directly from the Massachusetts Department of Health.

Yours truly,
A. F. Litzemberger, M. D., Director.

Plants In The Home

(By Vaun Oden)

By now, most people are wondering how to keep their Easter Lilies blooming and what to do with the bulb later. To keep it in flower for a few weeks, keep the plant cool, give it lots of water, and examine it for plant lice. Spraying with clear water will keep the plant fresh, but keep the water off the flowers. Some people clip the yellow stamens from the flower so it doesn't scatter on the table.

After the blossoms have faded, keep the plant growing in a sunny window. When it warms up outside—if it ever does—take the plant out of the pot and carefully plant it in the garden. It should bloom again in late summer.

You can also buy the bulbs in the fall. Pot one bulb in a 6-inch pot, place it in a cool cellar until 3 months before Easter, and then force it slowly in moderate heat and light. With a little luck you should have a beautiful lily ready for another Easter.

Wide Variety of Calls Received By State Police

The Michigan State Police last year received a total of 67,350 complaints including everything from homicides to empty coal bins.

However, not all involved arrests or prosecutions; more than 18,000 were closed by "service rendered." These were cases of a non-criminal nature such as searches for lost persons, emergency rescues, delivering emergency messages, administering first aid and other services.

So far this year about 4,000 complaints have been closed without the use of handcuffs, warrants, sirens, microscopes or other tools of the law enforcement officer's trade.

On one occasion officers located relatives of a woman living in Canada by tracing them through a letter written over 75 years ago.

One trooper turned furnace repairman when a family with several small children reported that their oil furnace went out and they were unable to locate anyone to fix it. On another occasion two officers rescued a dog that had fallen through the thin ice on a river.

There is no set time during the day or night when the troopers respond to calls for assistance. Recently a woman called one of the posts in the southern part of the state at three in the morning. There was a rat in the house and she wanted the officers to dispose of it.

One of the most unusual complaints thus far in 1950 was received at the Flat Rock post. A man called to ask if someone would take his wife to the hospital. He was unable to get his car started and could not afford to hire an ambulance. The wife was expecting a baby.

Troopers Harold A. Ernest and Jack G. Murdock rushed to the home only to find it was too late to attempt a race with the stork. Trooper Ernest delivered the baby with the aid of the grandmother while Trooper Murdock located a doctor.

Both the mother and new baby girl were doing nicely when the officers left to answer another call, perhaps a breaking and entering or even a murder that would require hours upon hours of questioning, searches, identifications and, subsequently, arrests.

But then, maybe it was just one of those complaints that are closed with the simple, laconic phrase on the officer's report, "service rendered."

American Dairy Group Votes Award To A & P

The American Dairy Association, representing five million dairy farmers, presented its annual Distinguished Service Award to the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, at Chicago, recently.

The award, voted at the eleventh annual ADA banquet, cited the 31-year-old food chain for "advancing the nation toward an even better standard of living."

George W. Diehl, director of A&P's national butter and cheese department, received the plaque in behalf of the company.

The citation was presented by Owen M. Richards, manager of the dairy association, who said the award was a means of recognizing the friends of the dairy industry who are joined with the dairy farmers in providing an ever-improving diet and nutrition for the American people.

The award read as follows: "A&P Food Stores long since has improved its worthiness to the American people in making available good food and good service at low prices, with its operating efficiency a hallmark of the American way of initiative and enterprise."

"A&P Food Stores, in advancing the nation toward an even better standard of living, has always stressed the wider use of the good things of life, including the foods produced on the nation's million dairy farms—the milk, butter, cheese, evaporated and dry milk—all the dairy products that are such good foods for a better life for all mankind."

"For these contributions to the welfare of the nation and its dairy farmers, the American Dairy Association, with its membership in 41 states producing more than 90 per cent of the nation's milk supply, is happy and proud to present this Distinguished Service Award for 1950 to A&P Food Stores," the citation concluded.

They say the exclamation point is being discarded because people aren't surprised at anything these days.

Daisy: "My husband is one man in a hundred."
Mazie: "How do you keep him from finding out?"
Sales Manager: "What's this big item on your expense account?"
Salesman: "My hotel bill."
Sales Manager: "Well, don't buy anymore hotels."

Northern Field Day Features Forestry And Conservation

To encourage forestry, game recreation and related uses on land not suitable for general farming, a Conservation Field Day is planned for April 19 in Grand Traverse county. The statewide event will be sponsored jointly by the Michigan State College Extension Service, Michigan Department of Conservation, U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Grand Traverse Soil Conservation district.

Arthur W. Gidden, county agrt. agent in Grand Traverse county, says many demonstrations will be held at the Kingsley school forest. This is one of the oldest school forests in the state and continued plantings and selected cuttings during the past 18 years have established an ideal set-up for the meeting. An adjacent sugar bush owned by Howard Dunn of Kingsley will provide a site for a farm woodland management demonstration and maple syrup production methods.

Attention will also be given to planting of pines for reforestation, pulp, lumber products, game cover and Christmas trees. Forest fire control systems and other demonstrations will be shown.

The forest is located a mile and a half north of Kingsley and Glidden hopes from 2,000 to 5,000 people will attend. It will be the only such program held in Michigan this year and with many Michigan farms having woodlots and reforestation, the interest is running high.

Machinery manufacturers and distributors will show the use of equipment needed in forestry and sugar bush management.

April Is Time For Farm Clean-Up

Giving the farm a spring clean-up is like the farmer and his wife getting a new suit and dress. David Steinicke, rural safety and fire prevention specialist at Michigan State College says it's just like a spring tonic.

A check-up on debris accumulation will expose many of the unsightly places that are both accident and fire hazards on farms.

April is Spring Clean-Up Month in Michigan. The Michigan Cooperative Extension Service is cooperating with the Michigan Rural Safety Council in urging statewide observance.

TELLS WAYS TO AVOID PROBLEMS OF NYLON FABRICS

Troubles with puckered seams, raveling and other problems of sewing on the new nylon fabrics can be expected but may be avoided, advises Hazel Strahan, head of the textiles, clothing and related arts department at Michigan State College.

Several practices with the tension, thread and cutting out of the garment are recommended to prevent puckered seams. When the design of the garment and drape of the fabric permit, place the pattern on the crosswise rather than the lengthwise grain of the fabric.

Low thread tension is a necessity of sewing on nylon. High tension while sewing will stretch the thread and when it later recovers its original length it will make a wrinkled seam. This is especially true of nylon thread which should be used to sew nylon fabric. It provides added seam strength and fast drying seams which are not likely to shrink when laundered.

To adjust your sewing machine for low tension, Miss Strahan suggests you loosen the bobbin tension until the thread unwinds easily and slack the needle tension all the way off. Gradually increase the needle tension until a well-formed but not tight stitch is made with no loops on either side of the fabric. Sew a few seams to be certain there are no skip stitches or thread breaks. Keep a constant check on tension adjustments while sewing.

Use the smallest needle and thread you can for proper seam strength. Use scissors to cut threads to prevent distorting seams and to make threading the needle easier. The scissors should be very sharp when you cut out the garment to prevent fabric fraying.

Pinking seams is not enough to prevent raveling during washing the garment. Sew with some type of folded, bound or overedge seam.

WOMEN TAP SOURCE OF LEGAL INFORMATION

Thousands of Michigan homemakers have found their local lawyers to be helpful friends who have saved them legal tangles and losses of property through their generous contributions of information.

These homemakers are members of home demonstration groups who have studied a lesson on the descent and distribution of property and will as part of their extension program with Michigan State College.

Home demonstration agents and Olevia Meyer, extension specialist at Michigan State College who prepared the lesson, used gratis lawyer talent in helping train more than 2,000 local leaders who in turn instructed their local home demonstration groups.

Most local groups were so impressed with what they learned about their own deeds, wills and legal papers that they wanted all their neighbors to be informed. They sponsored meetings open to the public and repeated the lesson, often with the help of the local lawyer or probate judge.

Miss Meyer reports the legal lesson has been very popular with the more than 16,000 homemakers who attended the meetings and commented that they liked its broadening features. Many women made wills and corrected business contracts and property deeds as a result of the lesson.

Norm's Tavern Out To Win

LAKE CHARLEVOIX SHUFFLEBOARD LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Norm's Tavern of East Jordan and Darcy's Bar of Vanderbilt will play Friday night at 8 o'clock at Vanderbilt, in a match that may determine the championship of the Lake Charlevoix Table Top Shuffleboard League.

Darcy's defeated Cal's Tavern of East Jordan, 11-1, last week to move in a first place tie with Norm's, after the latter won over Rainbow Gardens of Boyne Falls, 10-2. Norm's won the first half title and if they win Friday night's match it will give them undisputed claim to the crown. However, if Darcy's win Friday there will be a series for the best two out of three matches between the two teams. These would be played before the league banquet to be held at Cal's Tavern on Thursday, April 27.

The Town House of Charlevoix lost a 7-5 decision to Rainbow Bar of East Jordan but managed to hold a one point edge over 3 rivals for 3rd place. In other games last week The Argonne of Charlevoix whipped the Spot of Boyne City, 8-4, and Don's of Boyne City defeated the Boyne City Eagles, 9-3.

It was announced this week that the deadline for entries in the northern Michigan shuffleboard championships has been extended to midnight, April 20th.

League Standings:
Norm's Tavern, East Jordan 71
Darcy's Bar, Vanderbilt 71
Town House, Char'x 50
Rainbow Gardens, B. Falls 49
Don's Tavern, Boyne City 49
The Argonne, Char'x 49
Rainbow Bar, E. Jordan 40 1/2
The Spot, B. City 39
Cal's Tavern, E. Jordan 33 1/2
Eagles, Boyne City 28

Entries for the Northern Michigan shuffleboard championships to be held from April 30 through May 28th are now coming in from 21 counties in the area north of the Bay City-Muskegon line, it was revealed at the regional office of the Michigan Table Top Licensees' Congress here.

The tournament is for both men's and women's teams and for doubles competition between both men and women. The deadline for entries has been extended until midnight on April 20th so that all teams and players will have an opportunity to participate.

District tournament playoffs will be held in various parts of the region to reduce traveling to a minimum and the championship finals will be held in some centrally located city. Winners will receive team trophies and individual awards. District winners will receive their expenses to the finals.

This is the first tournament of its kind to be held in northern Michigan and is being held due to widespread interest in the game. Independent teams as well as league teams are eligible to enter under the sponsorship of Table Top members.

American shuffleboard rules will govern all games and all tournament playoffs will be on neutral boards in the establishments of competing Table Top members, according to Seth Whitmore, Table Top regional director and tournament secretary.

Cull Potatoes Equal Silage As Dairy Feed

Michigan farmers in many localities are finding cull and surplus potatoes economical feed for dairy cattle at this time of the year according to J. G. Hayes, Michigan State College extension dairyman.

Dairy cows can consume from a half to a bushel of potatoes, depending upon the size of the animal. The maximum recommended by Hayes is about four pounds of potatoes for each hundred pounds of animal weight.

The dairy specialist recommends feeding after milking to prevent any possibility of potatoes giving the milk a bad flavor. On the whole, he says, potatoes are about equal to corn silage in nutritional value and about one-fourth the value of an equal weight of grain.

Although many dairymen prefer chopping or slicing the potatoes, Hayes said others feed them whole. If fed whole, however, he thinks it is safest to provide divisions in the manger so cows do not have to compete for the feed, causing them to eat fast and perhaps choke.

Hayes says feeding of decayed, sunburned, sprouted or frozen potatoes may cause digestive problems and that a good roughage should always be fed with potatoes to make up a bulk of the ration.

Potatoes contain 79 percent water and are rich in starch but low in protein and vitamins A and D which must be provided with other feeds when potatoes are used extensively in the dairy feeding program.

Work hard and save your money and when you are old you can have the things only young people can enjoy.

Wonder what will drop first? Prices or customers?

The Lady of the house was entertaining her bridge club when the pattering of tiny feet was heard on the stairs. She raised her hand for silence. "Hush," she said softly, "the children are going to deliver their good-night message. It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them."

There was a moment of silence —then shyly "Mama, Willie found a bedbug."

Warm Weather Traffic Danger Time For Children

With the advent of warmer weather and longer days, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard is seeking the cooperation of all motorists to hold the line against the usual increase in child pedestrian and bicycle accidents at this time of the year.

"April and May are dangerous months for children," Leonard said. "Because of the many outdoor activities that spring affords, the child's mind is far from traffic safety."

"Last year more than 6,500 children under 15 years of age were killed or injured in Michigan traffic accidents. Over two-thirds of these deaths and injuries resulted from child pedestrian and bicycle accidents. There was a sharp increase during the spring months."

"Like most traffic accidents, tragedies of this kind can be avoided. True, the child is more often at fault than the motorist, but children are unpredictable and drivers should assume responsibility for them."

"Many young lives can be saved if everyone will remember that all streets, driveways, corners, vacant lots and other areas where children might be are danger zones."

"I want an explanation and I want the truth," stated the wife irately. "Well, make up your mind," he snapped. "You can't have both!"

Did you hear about the farmer who crossed a dog with a chicken trying to get poached eggs?

Talking Crow Enrolled At Illinois University

CHAMPAIGN, ILL.—George M. Crowham, a talking crow, is going to school at the University of Illinois.

Dr. O. H. Mowrer, director of the psychological clinic, hopes to establish from George M. Crowham just how babies learn to talk.

David Maxwell, 17, Edwardsville, Ill., who taught the bird to talk gave it to Mowrer. Mowrer believes the process by which the crow was taught to speak is the same as that by which a mother coaxes the first words from a child.

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Something For Nothing

You know that you can't keep drawing money out of your bank account without ever putting any in. The bank doesn't play that way. This is also true of Federal financing. Every dollar spent must sooner or later be collected in the form of taxes.

Many of these taxes are hidden, such as the $2.44 you pay on a $30 radio, or the 62 cents on the average alarm clock. These are in addition to the direct taxes of which the average citizen is painfully aware.

Tax money is necessary to run our government. But all too much of it is wasted by inefficiency, duplication of effort, overlapping of Federal agencies or appropriations for services to pressure groups.

Heretofore, no one has known how much these government services cost us through waste and inefficiency. But some surprising facts have been revealed by the Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. This twelve-man, bipartisan Commission was created by Congress with the approval of the President. At the suggestion of Mr. Truman, former President Hoover was made its Chairman.

The Army, Navy, and Air Force asked for $30 billions of appropriations after being told that $15 billions was all the Nation could afford. The Army applied for $29,000 tropical uniforms at $129 apiece and homes for military personnel in Alaska at $68,000 apiece. Yet every dollar spent in such activities comes out of your pocket in the form of taxes.

Fifty Federal agencies jostle each other collecting statistics at an annual cost to you, the taxpayer, of $43,000,000. Many of the statistics are of use only to small groups, or collect dust in government files.

The Corps of Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation are expert at selling the "something for nothing" idea to the American public. Underestimation of costs appears to be their specialty. The original price tag put on the Colorado-Big Thompson project was $44 millions. Its final cost was $131,800,000. Such discrepancies, the Commission wryly notes, "hardly can be explained by increases in labor and material costs."

You may obtain information about how you can fight waste and inefficiency in our government by writing to the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Penna. Also write your Congressman! Tell him you want laws enacted which will put into effect the suggestions of the Commission!

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Road To The Poorhouse

America's most popular toy this year is called the "crasher truck." It is a mechanical gadget which falls apart when it hits anything. Faced with expenses that may hit $52 billion dollars during 1950, our government could fall apart like the crasher truck unless you, as a citizen, apply the brake.

Three years ago, Congress created a bi-partisan, twelve-man Commission to study the waste and duplication of effort in the agencies and bureaus in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government. This Commission, approved by President Truman and headed by former President Hoover, has turned in a report which would cut our tax bill three to four billion dollars annually—if the recommendations are enacted into law. This means that it would save you one dollar out of every ten you pay in taxes. Whether you realize it or not, every family in the United States pays yearly, on the average, in direct and hidden taxes, more than $1,000.00 each to support the Federal Government alone.

Congress has already authorized $15,000,000,000 for construction of major projects, and another $30,000,000,000 authorization is planned.

The Commission has recommended, (1) Creation of an impartial Board of Analysis for engineering and architectural projects, (2) Long-range planning of projects to meet the ebb and flow of economic cycles, and (3) Coordination of all public works. Such prudence might well save the nation from collapse.

If you think this march down the road to the poorhouse should be halted, wire your Congressman. Write to the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania, for further information. Tell your friends and neighbors! You must act before it is too late!

Many a man's train of thought carries no freight.

Nothing Doing

George was running out of ideas for getting money out of his father. Anyway, none that he had thought up lately had seemed to work. He reasoned that a tricky or coy letter might appeal to the old man's sense of humor and make him soften up.

So he sat down at the college's typewriter and wrote: "Dear Dad—Gue$$ what I need most of all? That's right. Please send it along soon. Best wishes and lots of love. Your ever hopeful son, George."

And this was dad's prompt reply: "Now that was quite a tricky letter you sent. I've seen NOTHING exactly like it since I went to college. NO one of us here would have thought to use the $ sign instead of an 's'. Write us aNother letter soon. NOW I must close. Dad."

A contractor went out to look over one of his postwar homes. Walking up to a house in which a carpenter was working, he whispered: "Can you hear me through this wall?"

"Yep!" "Can you see me?" "Not very well." "That," said the contractor jubilantly, "is what I call a darned good wall!"

Dulling Effect

As a down payment on his reward for chopping part of a cord of wood, the hobo was given a piece of home-made pie. He took it along with him to the woodshed to ease the pangs of hunger. A few minutes later he was knocking on the door again.

"Do you have another axe?" he asked.

"Why, what do you want another axe for?" the lady of the house demanded.

"Well, I accidentally dropped the other one on the piece of pie and really dulled it," he explained.

Accidental

After all the testimony had been received the judge focused his good right eye on the defendant.

"Why did you break your cane over the plaintiff's head?" he demanded.

"It was an accident. Your Honor," the defendant answered, "I didn't mean to break the cane."

Must You Have a Completely Open Mind In Order To Sit On A Jury?

A woman was summoned for jury duty in a murder trial. Asked whether she had an open mind on the case, she admitted that she had read about it in the newspapers and had formed a tentative opinion as to the guilt of the accused man. However, she added that she felt no personal prejudice.

—and would make her final decision on the basis of what was brought out in court. Under the circumstances, the judge decided that the woman could qualify as a juror. He commented: "Most intelligent people and all educated people read newspapers, and they would have to be more than human if they did not form some opinion. Therefore, to reject them as jurors for this reason is to put a premium upon ignorance!"

If a Railroad Passenger Is Left Behind At a Stopover May He Collect Damages?

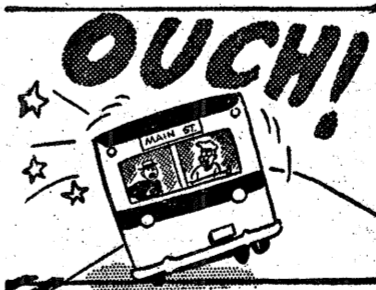

A man took a train trip with his three-year-old son. In the course of the journey, the train halted at a station and the conductor announced a 20-minute stopover. Leaving his son aboard, the man stepped outside to have a sandwich. To his dismay, the train pulled out in 10 minutes, leaving him still seated at the depot counter! The man jumped into a taxi-cab and hastened to the next town, 30 miles away, where he got back on the train. The youngster enjoyed the excitement, but the father was just plain mad. He sued the railroad for damages, and the court granted his claim. The judge said "ditching" a passenger, in such careless fashion, was a matter of pure and simple negligence on the part of the company's employees.

May You Prevent Your Neighbors From Cooking Onions?

An elderly couple lived in an apartment over a shoe store. As it happened, both husband and wife dearly loved onions and cabbage—and they ate these succulent foods every day in the week. In fact, they even kept their windows closed, so as to preserve the beloved odor, as long as possible! As a result of this habit, the smell seeped down into the store below. When the storekeeper's complaints were unavailing, he went to court for an injunction. The judge decided that it was perfectly legal to cook onions and cabbage in an apartment, but it wasn't legal to impose the aroma on the neighbors. He therefore ordered the couple to provide ventilation so that the odors could go outside, instead of downstairs!

If a Bus Window Drops On Your Elbow, May You Collect Damages?

A man was riding downtown on a bus, resting his arm on the sill of an open window. As the bus joggled over a street car track, the window dropped down on the man's elbow. He was painfully injured, and later sued the company for damages. The company insisted that this was just an unfortunate accident, but the court nevertheless granted the rider's claim. The judge said that, there being no evidence of anybody tampering with the latch, something must have been wrong with the mechanism—and that was the fault of the bus company.

A childless couple took in a 22-year-old orphan as a boarder. Soon they became so fond of him that they went through a formal proceeding to adopt him as their son. After the couple died, several of their relatives went to court to contest the validity of the adoption. They said that the law authorized adoption of "children" only—and that a person who is over 21 is no longer a child. However, the court disagreed and held the adoption perfectly valid. The judge said the parent-child status still existed.

Gabby Enjoys Going to The Dentist

One of my molars was giving me a bad time Tuesday afternoon, so I slipped over to Doc Jones, hoping to catch him free. When I arrived, Gabby Jackson was sitting there reading a magazine. I said hello to Gabby and he nodded.

Doc comes out and says I'm next. "Wait a minute," I says. (My tooth seemed to have stopped aching.) "How about Gabby?—doesn't he have an appointment?" Doc smiles and says, "Gabby? Why, he's got the finest teeth in the county. He just comes up here and reads the magazines whenever he's in town!"

As Doc went to work he told me that he's glad to have Gabby come up and read magazines... they might not all be fresh off the newsstand, but if Gabby—or anyone wants to while away some time who is he to stand in their way?

From where I sit, this "live and let live" spirit helps make America what it is. If I prefer a friendly glass of beer with my supper and you prefer milk—who's to say one's right and the other wrong?

Michigan townships, blessed by $26,798,834 in sales tax diversion money to date, are going to rescue the mud-mired rural roads.

During 1949, in 68 of the 83 Michigan counties, township boards transferred to county road commissions a total of $3,150,000 under provisions of Public Act No. 34, 1948 special legislative session.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, townships received a total of $9,170,760 in state tax revenues, diverted to townships under the sales tax diversion amendment.

Thus it is clear that approximately 34 percent of the state sales tax distributed to townships in 1949 was transferred to county road commissions to improve rural highways.

It is equally clear also that millions of dollars are accumulating in the treasuries of township boards, waiting approval of township boards to be expended for public services.

The records of Auditor General Murl Aten show that sales tax collections from December, 1946, to June 30, 1947, brought a total of $4,384,723 to Michigan townships.

This amount was doubled in the following fiscal year to $8,635,676.

For the past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1949, the rising tide of sales tax revenues to townships rose to an all-time high of $9,170,760.

As of December 31, 1949, Michigan townships had received a total of $26,798,834 from the sales tax revenue at Lansing to be used for township needs.

Act Number 34 of the Public Acts of 1948, approved by the Governor on May 10, 1948, provides that "a township may appropriate any unexpended balances in the contingent or general fund of the township for the maintenance and/or improvement of township roads, streets and alleys taken over as county roads pursuant to the provisions of this act."

The law goes on to state that such action can be taken "without submitting the question to the electors of said township."

If the rural township roads are in need of immediate improvement, officials of your township board would be interested in your recommendations. There may be money in the bank to make it possible for the county road commission to send out a crew at once.

The tug-of-war over road financing has reached a stalemate at Lansing. Governor G. Mennen Williams declines to submit a proposal to increase the state gasoline tax, as recommended by the state highway department and county road commissions.

Since the stand of the Governor would make such legislative action, if taken in 1950, clearly unconstitutional, Republican legislative leaders have decided to press the Governor further for permission to consider such legislation.

Republican legislative leaders are criticizing the Governor for attempting a legislative program of such broad scope, while limiting the legislators to restricted methods of financing. Thus, Governor Williams proposes that $18,500,000 be taken from the general fund of the state treasury to finance highway construction, but to raise this money only by a state corporation profits tax.

The legislators' frustration prompted Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) and Senator James T. Milliken (R-Traverse City) to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for annual sessions of the legislature.

A similar resolution has been introduced in the House by Rep. Louis C. Cramton (R-Lapeer).

Republican legislative leaders maintain that the Governor never had any idea that the legislature would enact his many recommendations. They retort that the Williams program was merely for political campaign purposes.

It is most likely that around May 1, when the legislature adjourns its special session, the Governor can then point with alarm to the failure of the legislature to enact his program.

There isn't a Chinaman's chance that the legislature will tax corporations $100,000,000 for bigger and better public benefits. Governor Williams knows this. He already has his issue for re-election.

Dot-Counting Contest
By Will Bernard, LL.B.

Is It Your Fault If Your Parked Car Rolls Down a Hill?

A woman drove to a beauty parlor and parked her car in front of the shop. As it happened, the street had a sharp slope. The woman had no sooner stepped inside the shop than her car began to roll. It careened over the curb and finally came to rest halfway through a cafe window! When the cafe owner sued for damages, the woman solemnly swore that she had set the brakes tightly and left the car in gear. But the court held her responsible anyhow. The judge commented drily that the car's actions spoke louder than the woman's words!

Should You Make an "Illegal" Left Turn, If a Policeman Tells You To?

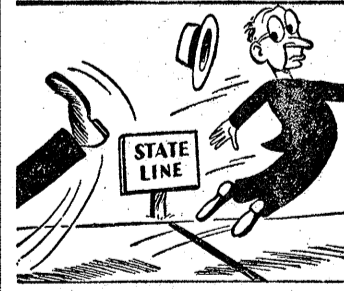

The traffic laws in a certain town allowed right turns at a main downtown corner, but forbade left turns. One day a woman drove up to the corner, wishing to make a right turn. As it happened, the street to the right was jammed solidly with other cars. The policeman on the corner therefore waved to the woman to make a left turn—but she stubbornly refused. She stayed right where she was, blocking the traffic behind her, until the officer finally walked over and gave her a ticket. The woman fought the case all the way to the state supreme court, insisting that the policeman had no right to change the traffic rules. But the court disagreed, on the ground that the law gave officers the right to change the rules in case of "emergencies." Ordering the woman to pay her fine, the court said that an officer has to have a certain amount of leeway in unsnarling traffic jams.

In a Contest, Is the Decision Of the Judges Always Final?

A furniture store sponsored a dot-counting contest, in which the winner was to get a dining room suite. In case of ties, duplicate prizes would be awarded. The only thing the contestants had to do was to count the number of dots in a picture, and the rules contained no "ifs, ands, or buts." When the contest ended, the judges found that two people—a man and a woman—had turned in exactly the right answer. Thereupon the judges declared the woman the winner, on the ground that her entry was more "legible" than the man's! The latter promptly sued, and the court ruled that he too was entitled to a dining room suite. The court said that the judges cannot make a decision that isn't even based on the rules of the contest.

May One State "Dump" Its Criminals into Other States?

A man was tried and convicted on a charge of violating the state liquor laws. The judge imposed a $500 fine—and "exiled" him from the state for five years. Promptly the man appealed the case to the supreme court, claiming that the banishment order was unconstitutional. And the Supreme Court agreed. The judges said it would be poor policy "to let one state dump its criminals into other states." Such a practice, added the court, "might well provoke retaliation by states that are on the receiving end!"

A woman paid a high price for an Oriental rug, after the dealer assured her that it was a valuable antique. It wasn't long before the woman realized that the rug was neither antique nor valuable—in other words, that she had been "stung." Nevertheless, she continued to use the rug for two years. At last she decided to take legal action against the dealer, and she filed suit to get her money back. But the court ruled that she was too late. The judge said that, by waiting she couldn't complain.

CONSERVATION FIELD DAY

Everyone is invited to attend the conservation field day to be held at the school forest at Kingsley near Traverse City next Wednesday, April 19. The program is sponsored by all the agencies interested in conservation. Such demonstrations as planting trees, making seed beds, thinning, pruning, will be presented at this meeting. The program will start in the morning and will run through the afternoon.

FRUIT GROWERS TO MEET

The fruit growers of Charlevoix and Antrim county will hold a meeting next Friday evening, April 14, at 8:00 p. m. in the East Jordan High School. Carl Hemstreet, extension horticulturist from Traverse City will be present to present an illustrated lecture. A panel of growers will discuss their experiences during the last growing season. In the morning there will be a pruning demonstration at the Francis Nemecek orchard, eight miles east of East Jordan on M32.

GOOD CROPS RESULT FROM SINGLE TRIP TO PLOW AND PLANT

"Once over" soil preparation that eliminates extra tillage steps, can help cut down seedbed preparation costs and still maintain crop yields. R. L. Cook, soil scientist at MSC says that plowing, light fitting, and planting in a single operation, produced as high yields of small grains on soil of good tilth as did conventional seedbed preparation that included double disking and spiketooth harrowing.

The once-over method also permitted quicker planting and a saving in motor fuel. Two disking and two harrowing operations were eliminated. Another advantage was that the soil had greater water storage capacity, for tilth was not broken down by excessive tillage. Keeping soil in good tilth is needed for crop production. Loose, grainy soils give a good contact between the soil and the seed, making it easier for roots to reach plant nutrients, water and air.

Good tilth is a product of good rotation, not repeated working with machinery. Every time you go over a field with a tractor or heavy equipment, the weight and action of the machinery grinds up soil particles and damages soil structure. It cuts down the soil's water-absorbing capacity. Roots have a harder time getting nutrients and moisture.

Tilth and structure can be built up and maintained if the soil is steadily supplied with organic matter. The best source of organic matter is well-fertilized grass mixtures grown regularly in the rotation. Crop residues and manure help, but they alone cannot do the whole job of maintaining tilth. Legume-grass crops need plenty of fertilizer carrying phosphate and potash.

Rugged Prophet
 Lesson for April 16, 1950

DON'T MAKE the mistake of thinking that the "minor" prophets of the Old Testament were less important than the "majors." The 12 men whose writings end our Old Testament are in no way less important than Isaiah, Jeremiah or Ezekiel. They are called "minor" only because their writings cover fewer pages. First in point of time came Amos.

Ranch-Hand Preacher

AMOS WAS NO city preacher, in fact not a preacher at all. He would not even call himself a prophet. He was a ranch-hand from the back country, more like what we would call a hired hand than a farmer on his own. He had no prestige, no backing, no social or official position, no money, no high education, no national reputation, in fact none of the things that make us "take notice" of a strange speaker. Dr. Foreman

He had no lecture bureau, had no luncheon-club, he could not even hire a hall. But the Lord had spoken to him and he knew it. He was determined that the wealthy people who crowded the temple yard in Bethel should hear him. No doubt the mere sight of the man would attract attention. In his rough working clothes he would look as out-of-place in that well-polished crowd as a huckleberry in a pan of milk. As his voice, trained in the wide open spaces, rang out over the crowd, a few people may have laughed at first. But a circle of respectful silence would grow around him. Indeed they liked what he said, at first.

Roll-Call of Doomsday

FOR three transgressions of Damascus, yea for four I will not turn away the punishment thereof," he began. Damascus was capital of Syria, for generations their country's bitter and all too successful enemy. So when Amos predicted a crash for Syria, you may imagine the applause would be loud. Then, one after another, as Amos points his finger east, north, south, the lightning of God's curse is called down on enemy after enemy of the nation of Israel. Fire, hurricane, defeat and disaster are foretold for every one.

Too Close Home

EVERYTHING Amos had said was true, and came true; every nation whose downfall he predicted collapsed just as he said it would. But that was not the main reason he had tramped all the way to Bethel. He had some things to say to the very people before him, something about themselves and their own country. So when he had his audience in the palm of his hand, just as they were gloating over the terrible fate of the nations they hated, Amos dropped his bomb on their complacent heads. "Thus saith the Lord: For three transgressions of ISRAEL, yea for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof." The roll-call of doomsday includes every sinful nation. God has no pets, he plays no favorites. His laws are the same for all men. Naturally, Israelites could well believe that God hated the sins of their enemies. But their own? That was a different story. Amos plunged from being the most popular sidewalk preacher of his day to being the best-hated man in Israel. In fact, because he dared to name the king as sinner number one, he was accused of treason, a capital crime in any country.

"One Man With God Is a Majority"

AMOS WROTE OUT his prophesies at some later time and they have been handed down to us, with all their fire and force, in the book that bears his name. We shall see in later lessons some of his great messages. What stands out here is this: Truth is sometimes popular, sometimes not, but the living power of truth has nothing to do with the number of people who believe it, or whether it is pleasant, or with the prestige of the man who proclaims it. If it is God's truth, it will live even if the only man who believes it is banished, as Amos was, to the silent wilderness.

Pupils who were in the central building have been placed in various parts of the city. Contractor Alfred Rogers, who has charge of the construction of the new school house, is carrying the work on in a most energetic and economical manner. It is planned to have the building ready for the opening of school on the first day of September.

Learn all the facts, in The American Weekly, the great color magazine with Sunday's Chicago-Herald American, about Mrs. Dickinson, a dealer in rare dolls, how she filled her letters with secret expressions and created a code for the enemy. May You Sue Somebody— Just to be Nasty?

A man had two evergreen trees in his yard, near the neighbor's fence. One day the neighbor filed suit against the owner of the trees, demanding that he cut off all branches extending over the fence. The neighbor claimed that the needles littered his yard, clogged his gutter, and blew into his house.

At the hearing, the owner of the trees said: "Your Honor, this man never objected to the branches before. The only reason he is objecting now is that his wife had a quarrel with my wife. He's just trying to be nasty!" But the judge nevertheless felt obliged to grant the neighbor's demand. The judge said that the neighbor was entitled to sue for his rights, no matter how petty his reason was.

May Residential Property Be Used as a Free Parking Lot?

A woman owned a night club on the edge of town. Right next door was a vacant lot, which was restricted to residential purposes only. One day the woman bought this property and began using it as a free parking lot for her patrons. When the neighbors went to court for an injunction, she argued that the lot wasn't being used for a "business purpose" because she didn't charge people for parking there. However, the court ordered her to discontinue the practice at once. The judge said that in reality the lot was being used as part of her night club business—and therefore violated the restriction.

May a Convicted Criminal Go Free—If Nobody Remembers To Take Him to Jail?

A man was sentenced to six months in jail, but was allowed to remain at liberty pending an appeal to the state supreme court. The court upheld the sentence, but strangely enough, nobody remembered to notify the man or to place him under arrest. He heard no more about the matter—for 10 years! Finally a court attaché discovered the oversight and the sheriff took the man into custody. He protested that it was "too late" for him to be arrested, but the court ruled that he still had to serve his six-months' term. The judge said that the man should have realized there was some mistake—and should have given himself up long before!

Should the Police Interfere If Practical Jokers Go too Far?

A small-town girl became so movie-crazy that she began imagining strange things. She thought she was being pursued by several talented scouts, each one trying to sign her to a film contract! One evening, a group of young people decided to have some fun. They took the girl to a public park and began racing through the bushes with her in a mock search for the imaginary pursuers. Gradually the crowd became rougher and rougher, and when the "fun" finally ended the girl had two broken teeth and several bad bruises. Later she sued the city for not restraining the actions of the mob. The city protested that the group had just been "fooling around," but the court nevertheless granted the girl's claim. The judge said that, even though the affair started out as a joke, the police should have stepped in when the crowd became ugly.

A housewife had a very low opinion of her next door neighbor. In fact, she told several friends that the neighbor was "the commonest woman in the block." The neighbor found out about these remarks, and filed an action for slander. She alleged that the word "common" implied that she was a person of loose morals. But the court decided she was being too sensitive about the matter and turned down her claim. The judge said that the word "common," at worst, might mean coarse or vulgar—nothing more.

A Will and a Way

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

If an Acrobat Sprains an Ankle, Is The Theater Owner Responsible?

A feature of a travelling vaudeville show was a girl acrobat. One evening, at the end of her act, she started walking off the stage. Unfortunately, in some inexplicable manner, a rubber ball had rolled onto the platform. The girl, busy smiling at the audience, stepped on the ball, fell, and sprained her ankle. Later she sued the theater owner for damages, claiming that he was responsible for keeping the stage clear of all obstacles. But the court turned down her claim. The judge said that the girl couldn't blame the management unless she could have proved that the ball had been lying there for some time—long enough to attract the attention of the stage hands.

May a Bride Collect Damages If Her Trousseau Isn't Ready On Time?

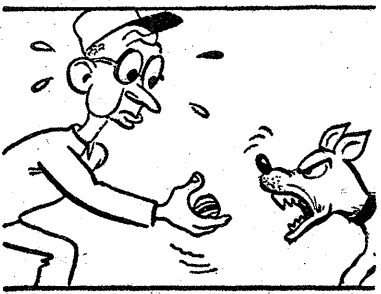

A suburban debutante ordered an elaborate trousseau, in preparation for her forthcoming wedding and honeymoon. As luck would have it, the shop made a mistake on her order. The wedding gown arrived on time, but the trousseau didn't—and the bride had to leave on her honeymoon without any of her new clothes. As a result she had to cut short her bridal tour and forego a number of swanky parties that had been planned in her honor. Later she sued the shop for damages, demanding reimbursement for the mortification she had suffered, and the court granted her claim. The judge said the bride should be compensated not only for missing the parties but also for "the humiliation of going to her husband without a suitable trousseau." Some courts, however, require a more specific, dollars-and-cents injury before any damages can be awarded.

May a Person Carry a Grudge "Beyond the Grave"—By Means of His Will?

A man got into legal difficulties with his partner. In the midst of the bitter court battle that followed, the man died. In his will, he left a substantial bequest to his son—but only on the condition that the son would carry on the fight against the partner to the bitter end. As it happened, the son had no stomach for the controversy. So he went to court to test the validity of this "grudge clause," arguing that it was against the public interest to perpetuate a quarrel in this way. But the judge disagreed and held that the unusual proviso was quite legal. The judge pointed out that the son wasn't required to do anything unlawful, but only to work for a cause which his father sincerely believed to be just.

May a Dog Bite The Hand That Feeds Him?

A woman had a collie which had the nasty habit of nipping people. One day a delivery man, noticing the dog on the sidewalk, held out a piece of candy. The animal's response was to bite his hand! When the man later sued the dog's owner for damages, she insisted that his gesture had "provoked" the dog into biting. However, the court made her pay for the delivery man's injury. The judge felt that any dog mean enough to "bite the hand that feeds him" should not be allowed to run loose at all.

One rainy morning, a housewife went to a neighborhood store to buy a blouse. As she entered, she stepped on a wet spot tracked in by a previous customer. The woman slipped, fell, and broke her ankle. Later she sued the merchant for leaving his floor in such dangerous condition, but the court rejected her claim. The judge said it was impossible for the merchant to keep the floor from getting wet on a rainy day, when customers kept tracking in water from outdoors.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Stokes

We had a happy Easter. While we were at assembly the Easter Bunny came and put some candy eggs in our baskets and hid the baskets around the room. Then he wrote a note on the blackboard. He said, "Look for your Easter baskets. You will find some candy eggs in them. The Easter Bunny." Rose Donaldson found the note first and read it all without help. Louis Kraemer is back after being ill a week with a cold.

SECOND & THIRD Grades — Adeline Bowerman

We had such a nice Easter party furnished by the country boys and girls and their mothers to whom we would like to send a special thank you. We returned Monday with plenty of pep for the last eight weeks of our year.

We had a "chewing" good time Monday afternoon when Mary Carol Hastie treated each one with a wax keewee doll in honor of her eighth birthday. By time for dismissal, several were complaining of aching jaws.

We are glad to welcome Gary Redmer back to our room. Jane Campau's mother visited our room Wednesday morning. We are always glad to have our parents visit us.

THIRD Grade — Marie Hughes

Patty Porter and Richard Muma won the prizes in our room for the kite flying contest. Patty's kite went up highest and Richard's kite stayed up longest. Each received a book. The other participants got candy bars.

Each group is making fine progress with its reading workbooks. We are happy because we may get a chance to read another book together.

We enjoyed Easter and many stories were told of the antics of the Easter Bunny. Looks as though he was very much in evidence this Easter.

THIRD Grade — Jessie Hager

Lois Elsworth brought in our first pussy willows this morning. They are so soft and cozy.

Alice Sumner and Anita Petrie are our housekeepers this week.

We are working hard on our multiplication tables. We can work easy problems now.

FOURTH Grade — Grace Galmore

Joe Leu is having the pink eye and has missed several days of school.

Monday Luella Pinney became sick in school and rested under the nurse's care all day. Tuesday Mrs. Robertson took her home as she was still sick.

The bouquet in our room this week is made up of lilac branches with forced green leaves, and cherry blossoms which the girls added. We had an assembly program Thursday. Mrs. Larsen's room gave five plays which they wrote up themselves. They were very good. Some other rooms sang songs.—Rhea Jean Zitka.

We saw a film called Majestic Norway. We learned that they have a lot of electric power because of all the water falls in the mountain streams. Many of the people in Norway make their living by catching cod fish. — Glendara Cihak.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

For English we wrote letters to Laura Ingalls Wilder. Mrs. Wilder wrote the Little House books which Mrs. Liskum reads aloud every year. We have skipped around in our English books all year. Now we are going through studying the parts that are grammar.

We are nearly finished with our unit on birds in science. Each child is to make a birdhouse to complete his 4-H Conservation project.

We are studying South America in Geography. We are using a set of books called "They Live in South America" by Alice Dalgleish. These books are both history and geography and contain many pictures. We have another book called, "Brazil—Land of Surprises", which we like very much. The stories are very interesting and the pictures are bright and pretty.

We shall be very busy every noon and recess for the next two weeks getting our 4-H Achievement work finished for Achievement Day.

Rural Tele-news

TIMBER—It takes a sizable logging industry to keep Michigan Bell and other Bell System companies supplied with telephone poles. Altogether they use some 100 different sizes of poles, ranging from 16-foot "toothpicks" to 90-foot giants. Trees are but one of many products of the soil that are bought to provide you with telephone service.

SAVINGS AT WORK—Every time you use the telephone, the accumulated small investments of hundreds of thousands of telephone stockholders go to work for you. One in every 50 families in the United States shares directly in the ownership of the Bell Telephone System. They have invested their savings in the business, confident of a fair return on their investment. To attract the money needed to improve and expand telephone service requires the continued confidence of investors. That takes a financially healthy telephone company.

FARM CITY—If you took the 73,000 telephones that Michigan Bell has added since V-J Day in the rural areas it serves, you'd have as many telephones as there are in Flint, the third largest city in Michigan. To add all these telephones in our rural areas, we have set 75,000 poles and strung 37,000 miles of wire. This rural improvement and expansion program has cost more than $15,000,000 since the war.
