Public Beach Now Under Supervision

SWIMMING BEACH AT EAST JORDAN TOURIST PARK NOW HAS LIFEGUARD

The swimming beach at the tourist park is now under supervision for swimming from 8 a. m. until 6:00 p. m. Don Whiteford is employed as lifeguard and will work six days a week. On his day off Coach Devine will watch the beach so there will be someone on the beach every day.

Parents are requested to tell their children that the rules and regulations regarding safety, both on the beach and on the raft, are made for their protection and will be enforced. With the large number of swimmers in the water these days it is not only proper, but necessary to have safety rules. Two of the most important rules of water safety everyone can easily abide by are to wait at least one hour after eating before entering the water, and to guard against fatigue by not staying in the water too long at one stretch.

City Tax Notice

City Taxes for the City of East Jordan for the year 1950 are due and payable at my office in the Municipal Building during the month of July without penalty.

Easy credit and installment buying are proving to be pitfalls into welfare relief. It is one of the principle causes of financial trouble which bring people onto Michigan relief rolls.

Howard DeSpelder, welfare director for Montcalm County, gave this interesting bit of information recently to newspaper editors of Montcalm County at Lakeview. It illustrates the many complications of modern living whereby sales promotion of retailers prompt some families to go into debt greater than their income. Since installment payments on these heavy debts leave nothing for living expenses, the families then apply for relief at the expense of the taxpayers.

The Montcalm welfare director blamed merchants for the unusual situation, and he appealed to retailers not to sell people things they could not pay for. Tightening of credit and installment buying privileges would result in less welfare cost, according to the Montcalm welfare director.

The cost of relief in this county in 1941 was $12,371. Eight years later (1949) welfare costs rose to $58,322. Since the year 1941 was one of general prosperity, city and farm residence alike had good times, the question naturally arises as to why welfare costs have amounted so substantially, more than 400 percent in the eight-year interim.

The rising cost of welfare in Michigan prompted an investigation by a committee of the Michigan state legislature in 1949. Colin L. Smith, Republican of Big Rapids, was chairman of the special senate committee.

The committee recommended that the entire welfare system should be drastically revised and that restrictions should be placed on county welfare departments in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In his call for the 1950 Special Session Governor G. Mennen Williams recommended that the Legislature impose penalties on wel-

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

"Industry Can Be Attracted"

SAYS BEN CLARK. "BUT AN ACTIVE GROUP MUST WORK YEARS ON PROJECT."

About forty interested members and friends of the local Chamber of Commerce were addressed Friday evening by Ben Clark.

Mr. Clark is from the Michigan State Department of Economic Development and gave a very informative talk on the attracting of new industries to small cities and towns.

He warned that this could not be done with a primary motive of "seeing the town grow." It meant an active group of people working day in and day out over a long period to persuade industrialists to locate with them. They also must make a careful survey of their resources to determine what they have to offer as an industrial site—natural resources, transportation, etc.

Following the meeting the various committees gathered in groups with their chairmen to make plans for future work.

Dr. Pray, president, urged everyone not listed on a committee to join the group with which they would prefer to work.

These groups set dates for the coming week for individual committee meetings. The prospect looks bright for some much needed really constructive work for East Jordan as an industrial center.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stephen arrived Monday from Toledo to spend a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson. Carl just completed a course at the National School of Meat Cutting and self service meats.

State Lands Not Available

FOR PUBLIC AUCTION. HAS REACHED AN ALL TIME LOW

State-owned land available for public auction has reached an all-time low of approximately 100,000 acres as compared to nearly one million acres as recently as the early 1940's, the conservation department discloses.

Asserting that purchasers now are scraping the bottom of the state land barrel, Assistant State Lands Chief C. E. Millar contrasts the current supply with that of only eight to ten years ago when over eight times as much land was available and at most reasonable prices.

Several factors have meant slimmer pickings at state land auctions and from "over-the-counter" listings, he explains, with prosperity shading every explanation. The flow of land back to the state through tax-reversion has been reduced to a trickle with more Michigan citizens holding on even to least desirable types of acreage.

Still others, now finding themselves in a position to purchase land, discover stiff competition at public auctions for meager state offerings.

With the department eye on present as well as future demands of a growing population, expansion of state forests, parks, water access sites and other conservation areas has been responsible for dedication of other acreage. Transfer of some state land to local municipalities for similar uses further has reduced the land stockpile.

A sizeable portion of the remaining 100,000 undedicated acres in the state consists of land never offered at public auction since it was deemed unfit for private use. Should a demand be created, with the scarcity of more desirable types, even some of this acreage may be offered to the public in the near future.

Nearly A Thousand Killed Or Hurt In State Each Week

Nearly one thousand persons are being killed or injured on Michigan highways each week, and speed is one of the principal causes, Sgt. Harold Moore, of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police asserted today in urging motorists to cooperate in the present campaign to reduce the frequency of this most serious traffic offense.

"The slogan of the campaign, 'Speeders Lose', has been well selected, for the records prove that speeder's do lose," Sgt. Moore said. "Even when speed is not the direct cause of an accident it often contributes to its seriousness and means the difference between life and death."

"Not only was speed a factor in 500 Michigan traffic deaths last year, but it also was responsible for the serious injury of many of the 41,000 persons who were hurt in the 143,000 accidents that occurred in the state."

"Motorists should take heed of the fact that accidents are on the increase in Michigan. So are injuries and deaths. Many pleasure drives and vacation trips are ending in tragedy. The answer is that every driver, for his own sake as well as for the welfare of others, should drive carefully and alertly, and remember particularly that speeders lose."

Sgt. Moore also explained where there is no specific speed limit, which is the case on most of the highway system, the state law provides that it is a violation to drive

Bear Story All Wrong

Conservation authorities moved today to quash a story about a bear killing in Lapeer county that has caused embarrassment.

The story, printed in some newspapers, was that a Fostoria district resident might be arrested for killing a bear that had invaded his front porch.

Many persons wrote the department protesting such "high-handed" action against a man who was defending life and property.

The department patiently explains that it is legal to shoot bears in Lapeer county at any time, and that any person, anywhere in Michigan, can protect himself against bears at any time, by any means.

And, the department adds aggrievedly, investigation has shown the story was wrong, anyway; nothing of the sort occurred.

from your County
Agricultural Agent
(Ed Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent)

GERTRUDE PRODUCES 87 POUNDS OF FAT

A Holstein cow named Gertrude owned by Art Nicloy and sons of East Jordan was tops in the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association by producing 86.6 pounds of butterfat during the month of June, according to the report of Don Graham, tester, which was turned over to Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent. The second highest cow in the association was a milking short horn owned by Jim Rubingh and this cow produced 77.3 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Frank Cellner of Charlevoix owned the Guernsey herd that was highest for the association by averaging 50.2 pounds of butterfat. The average is the highest ever reported in the Charlevoix-Antrim association since it was organized about three years ago. A Holstein herd owned by Marion Best and sons of Ellsworth was second highest by averaging 45.6 pounds of butterfat per cow.

A total of 36 herds was tested by Don Graham which included a total of 415 cows. The average milk production was 880 pounds of milk per cow and 33.2 pounds of butterfat per cow.

FRUIT GROWERS TO ORGANIZE

A group of fruit growers, largely from Charlevoix County, with some from Antrim met last week at Ellsworth to hear Don Hootman, extension specialist in horticulture of Michigan State College discuss the advantages of a county horticultural organization. The fruit growers present were all in an agreement that such an association would be beneficial to them.

Five growers were elected to work with Walter Kirkpatrick, Antrim county agent, and Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agr'l agent, to draw up tentative by-laws and articles of incorporation for the association. These five growers are Melvin Sommerville of Boyne City, Fred Sherman of East Jordan, A. L. Darbee of East Jordan, Claude Fairman of Charlevoix and Don McLaughlin of Kewadin. This group will meet sometime after harvesting to draw up tentative plans.

Another meeting for cherry growers will be planned for next week just before harvesting. All cherry growers will be invited to this meeting by a letter from the county agent's office. If you do not get an invitation from him, it is because your name is not on his list. Please contact him so that you will receive these notices of meetings.

faster than conditions such as traffic, weather and time of day permit.

Boys Baseball

The East Jordan Peanut and Junior baseball teams met Mancelona last Thursday and Friday and came out on top both games. The Peanuts winning 8-7, and the Juniors 9-3.

For the Peanuts, Bob Danforth pitched and Dick Johnson caught. Jon Jankoviak batted in the winning run in the last inning. On Friday Keith Evans was the winning pitcher in a very good ball game for the Juniors, allowing but four hits. Martin Rebec did the catching. This game was played with but one error on each team. Evans also led the hitting, getting three hits in as many times at bat.

Next week the two teams travel to Mancelona for return games. Boyne City was here today to complete the schedule for this week.

Adult Softball League

The East Jordan Iron Works is still leading the softball league as the first round is nearing the close. The Co-ops are currently holding down second place. In regular league play the Iron Works team has not been defeated in two years and have a record to be proud of. The second round will get under way next week with most of the games to be played on the new softball diamond. All of the teams have shown a great deal of improvement so the second round should be of great interest, not only to the players, but to the many spectators who are following the games.

The program for next week will follow as closely as possible the program published in this paper last week.

Summer Camp

Coach Devine will go to Petoskey Friday night to meet with representatives of other neighboring communities to help make plans for the continuation of the summer camp made possible by the community chest. Plans are being made now to offer a longer camping period and a more extensive program in the future.

Immunization Clinic at E. J. Grade School Bldg. Tuesday, July 20th.

There will be an Immunization Clinic Tuesday, July 20th, at the East Jordan Grade School Building, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; and at the Latter Day Saint Church, 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Dr. Litzzenburger, Director of Charlevoix County Health Department, will be in attendance.

East Jordan is now entertaining several cases of Pertussis (whooping cough to most people). If your child has not had his or her shots for this disease or if they have not had a booster shot in the past year, we urge you to have it done. Pertussis is not just a nuisance disease of childhood, but can be very serious and children have died from it because their parents neglected to protect them.

If your child has had his immunization against Pertussis this does not mean it is safe for him to come in contact with someone who has it, because he may contract the disease. Should he have the misfortune to get it, he will have a much lighter case than if he had not had the immunization against it.

If your child has whooping cough, please keep him home. Do not let other children play with him. If other children in the household have not had the disease or have not had the immunization against it they should be treated the same as the child with the disease. Keep them away from other children. If the children in the neighborhood come to play send them home. Your neighbor will thank you for helping her protect her child.

If your child has not had her or his immunization shots or a booster shot in the past year you are invited to attend the Immunization Clinic Tuesday, July 20th, at the East Jordan Grade School Building in the morning and the Latter Day Saint Church in the afternoon. If you do not care to attend the clinic, we urge you to go to your family physician.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Cold War Flames Into Hot War
On Korea Front; U.N. Condemns
Invasion by Communist Forces

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

KOREA: A Hot War

The cold war, which has caused one crisis after another in recent months, had flamed into a hot war on one front. Soviet sponsored armies of North Korea invaded South Korea, established by the United Nations with the blessing and aid of the United States.

First reports of the attack were confused. It was known, however, that the invaders advanced as much as 12 miles into South Korea by using ground forces totaling as many as 40,000 men, plus 90 tanks. An additional 10,000 men were believed ready to reinforce the invaders.

Some reports indicated the invaders had penetrated within 12 miles of Seoul, capital of South Korea, while others said the northerners had been checked almost immediately. There were reports also of amphibious landing on the east coast of South Korea.

The main attack was directed along the Uijongbu valley, for centuries the path of invaders. Maj. Gen. Choi Byung Kud, chief of staff of the South Korea army, reported. Sihm Sung Mo, acting Premier and defense minister, said he had evidence that of northern tanks captured in the first attack, half of the crews were Russian. Minister Kim Yong Ju was in Tokyo when the attack was launched.

Meanwhile, the United States began the evacuation of 600 Americans from the Seoul area. They were leaving Korea by sea with U.S. air protection. The evacuation plan was completed only a week before the sneak attack.

According to American military men who have been directing the training of the South Korea army, the defenders have 95,000 men to battle the invaders. They will be handicapped, however, by the lack of an air force and tanks. North Korea is reported to have 106 military planes, including 70 Russian Yaks and 25 Stormoviks.

FARM SUPPORTS:
Senate Approves

After a hot floor debate, the senate completed congressional action and sent to President Truman a bill to give the Commodity Credit Corporation an additional $2,000,000,000 to finance its federal farm-price-support programs. The President was expected to sign the measure.

The debate developed over a provision in the bill which would shut the door on imported foreign farm crops if they threatened to upset the domestic farm-support program.

The provision was included in the bill and requires Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to demand an investigation of the tariff commission whenever he believes foreign imports are interfering with domestic farm programs.

The additional $2,000,000,000 would increase the C.C.C. total borrowing authority to $6,750,000,000. Most of the money now available to the agency is tied up in price-support loans and purchase agreements.

The measure barely got through the senate, 36 to 35 after Vice-President Barkley exercised his constitutional vote to break a 35-35 tie.

Critics of the measure said it would wreck the reciprocal-trade program, sometimes called the keystone of the nation's foreign policy.

Retires

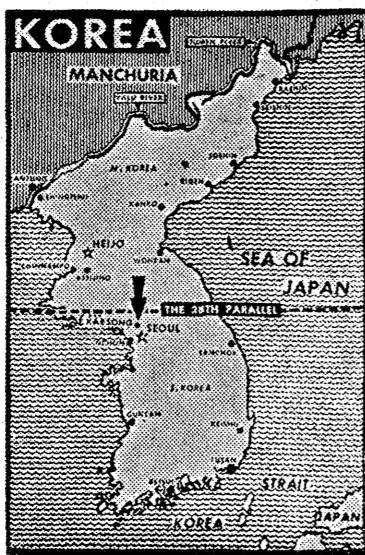

Joe McCarthy, 63, has resigned as manager of the Boston Red Sox and retired from baseball because of his health. He led the New York Yankees to seven world championships before retiring in 1946. He came out of retirement to take over the Sox. Above he gets a friendly kiss from the family pet as he arrives home.

ERICKSON: Goes to Jail

Frank Erickson, called America's greatest bookmaker and king of a nationwide gambling business, has been sentenced to two years in jail and fined $30,000.

Erickson, could have been sentenced to one year on each of 59 counts of bookmaking. He was sentenced to one year on the bookmaking counts and one year for conspiracy.

War Scene

Troops from Communist-dominated North Korea are reported pushing their way southward following the sneak attack on U.S. backed South Korea. Four thousand troops were reported killed in the initial phase of the shooting. This map shows the 38th parallel which separates North Korea from the south.

UNITED NATIONS:
North Korea Guilty

The United Nations, in an emergency session shortly after the sneak attack by Communist dominated North Korea on South Korea, branded the north the aggressor and ordered an immediate cease-fire throughout Korea.

The Soviet Union was conspicuous by the absence of its delegates from the emergency session.

Acting swiftly and bluntly, the U.N. termed the assault an "unprovoked attack" and a "clear threat to international peace and security."

The resolution called for immediate cease-fire and implicated that the U.N. would move to take stronger measures if North Korea flouted the council.

Meanwhile, reaction in the United States was immediate and to the point. President Truman cut short a visit to Missouri and returned to Washington. A conference was called between top diplomatic and defense chiefs.

The problem they faced was a critical one. The situation demanded a clear and strong reaction since too much was at stake in terms of American prestige in the Far East.

As a result, a "critical amount" of arms aid was said to have been started to Korea immediately. It was also reported General MacArthur had been authorized to draw on stocks of equipment available in Japan rather than let Korea wait for shipments to be put together in the United States.

Many American observers saw the attack on South Korea as a Soviet test of U.S. reaction toward aggression. They did not believe, however, that the Communists are ready for any military aggression on a broad international scale.

It was recalled by many that World War II started with acts of aggression against minor powers and not from declarations of war. With this view in mind, the question arose whether the North Korea attack is an early test of physical and moral strength of the democratic nations.

The present situation calls for firmness, political observers agree.

PLANE CRASH: Worst in History

The worst commercial airline tragedy in the nation's history took place in Lake Michigan at St. Joseph, Mich., when a Northwest Airlines plane plunged into the lake during a severe thunderstorm with 55 passengers and three crew members aboard.

Two days after the giant craft disappeared, parts of the plane, a section of an airplane log book, and parts of two bodies were dragged from the lake.

The plane, filled to capacity, vanished on a flight from New York to Seattle by way of Minneapolis.

St. Joseph is about 110 miles southeast of Milwaukee on the east shore of Lake Michigan.

Teachers

The nationwide shortage of teachers and classrooms is going to get worse unless something "drastic" is done. Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education association reports.

In his annual report, Givens estimated school population in the next decade will increase almost 7,500,000, from 26,635,000 to 34,091,000. He said 750,000 more teachers will be needed.

THE PRESS:
A New Note

It has been a number of years since the press of this country has raised a united howl on any one subject. A new note was evident, however, shortly after the invasion of South Korea by Communist sponsored North Korea.

The day following the attack every leading newspaper in the United States carried editorials on the subject. It seemed a spontaneous and combined effort of the editors to focus public attention on the seriousness of the Korean situation and its possible repercussions.

In general the editors seem to agree that the United States and the United Nations must act on Korea. A few of the opinions:

New York Times: War in Korea will, in the immediate future, force upon the United States the necessity for a decisive and unequivocal policy in respect to Asia.

Portland, Ore. Journal: America has no other choice than to move necessary force to save South Korea from the rape of the Communists.

Denver Post: If this aggression is not stopped, the U.N. has but one choice. It must authorize its member nations to supply a strong force of men and arms, and must step in to stop the Korean war. If it does not do this, if it fails to respond to this desperate situation, then the U.N. is doomed to go the way of the League of Nations. If the Russians are not made to back down in this instance, we must arm to the teeth.

RELIGION:
Once in 2,000 Years

In a ceremony without precedent in the nearly 2,000 years of Catholic history, a mother witnessed the canonization of her child.

Marla Goretti, who died at 11 defending her virtue, was raised to sainthood before half a million Roman Catholic faithful.

The ceremony was unusual in many respects. Never before had there been an open-air sanctification ceremony in Rome. In a place of special honor near the Pope's throne sat the saint's 86-year-old mother. With her were two sons and two daughters. One of the sons, Angelo, lives in New Village, N. J.

The country youth who stabbed the child to death in 1902 when she would not submit to him, now 68 years old, lives in a monastery, haunted by visions of his victim. He was not at the ceremony, but was reported "in prayer more intense than ever."

The ceremony was one of the highlights of holy year. Thousands have flocked to Rome in recent months in observance of the religious celebration.

STOCK MARKET: War Jitters

Evidently suffering a case of war jitters, the New York stock exchange experienced one of its worst slumps in a number of years shortly after the opening of the present Korean conflict.

Trading involved 3,910,000 shares, the largest volume in 10 years. Some $4,000,000,000 was cut from the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange.

The trading was a clear indication of Wall street thinking. Tin and rubber, the principle Far East commodities, advanced in the spot market. The buyers also flocked to the commodity pits, sending most grains, foodstuffs and raw materials soaring.

Bonds followed stock in the plunge, rails taking the sharpest fall in more than 2 1/2 years in one of the largest volumes traded this year.

The last big break in the market was the day after Labor Day, 1946, when approximately $4,700,000,000 was whittled from the listed market value of stocks on the exchange.

LIVING COSTS: Take Big Jump

The cost of living is still below a year ago, but led by meat prices, the consumer's price index took an increase of eight-tenths of 1 per cent between April 15 and May 15. It was the highest jump of any month in almost two years.

Food prices went up 1.9 per cent between April and May, and were responsible for the sudden rise in the cost of living index throughout the nation.

SCRIPTURE: The Book of Ruth.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Proverbs 31:10-31.

Why Families?

Lesson for July 16, 1950

THE ENGLISH language has a word not found in the original languages of the Bible; it is not in Latin, German or French for that matter. It is the word "home." But homes were not invented in England or America; the ancient peoples of the world had homes even if they had no special word for them. The story of Ruth is a home-story, a family tale. It comes from the times of the Judges, which were very rugged times indeed.

Dr. Foreman

To read the Book of Judges you would think that everything was plots and wars and murder. There isn't a peaceful story in the book. And then comes the story of Ruth, to remind us that even in those terrible times there were happy people, people who minded their business and worked hard and stayed home and loved one another. The bright spots in today's vast seas of misery are just what they were in Ruth's time.

Working Together

"A HOME is a place to go when everything else has shut up" is not a true proverb. For if that is all it is, it is not a home. It is only a boarding house and not a very attractive one at that.

It is the people who live in it who make it. But just throwing people together within four walls, even if the people are closely related, will not make a home. When you read the story of Ruth you see one thing standing out: they were all working people.

To this day, there are fewer divorcees in the country than in the cities, and one big reason for that is that country families have to work together, while city families often have little in common. In the country everybody turns to and does something about the house, everybody helps everybody else; while in the cities where so much is done by machines and houses are very small, there isn't much a family can do together. Still, it is worth while for any family to try to work out something that they can all do together.

Unity in Variety

IT is striking that in the Bible the warmest expression of devotion shown by one person to another, is expressed by one woman to her mother-in-law, by Ruth to Naomi. Ruth was of a different race and generation and nation. Yet she takes Naomi's family for her own. That illustrates another beautiful feature of living in a family. You learn to live with all kinds of people. Even in so small a group, no two are alike. And the thing that holds a family together almost better than anything else is not similar tastes in breakfast foods, or identical educations, or equality of age or temperament; it is common ideals, it is agreement about the important things in life.

What do you, for example, think is the greatest thing in the world? Do your family agree with you? If they do (or you with them) then you have a basis for a happy family life.

Unity in Worship

HIGH ideals, held by all in common, are almost the best family cement; but better and best is religion. When you read the story of Ruth you are struck not only by their high ideals but by their natural, heart-felt, everyday religious faith. It comes out in the remarks of Boaz. It was one of the things that no doubt had attracted Ruth to the family in the first place. The climax of her famous promise to her mother-in-law is "thy God shall be my God."

It is at best confusing, and at worst tragic, when families are divided in their religious faith. Some one has said that when the father belongs to one denomination and the wife to another, the children are likely to become Nothingarians.

The old family pew, happily not out of style in many places, is more than a quaint custom. It is a fine symbol of family life at its best. Where are the most of the broken homes? Among the families where father and mother send the children to Sunday school while they themselves lie around at home reading the paper, or among the families where all go to the house of God together? A home without real religion is a home without its surest foundation.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There it Was— Right in The Middle!

Easy Roberts mowed his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass. The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other— with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he walks over and asks why. "That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!" Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Still Guilty
City Not Liable
How About Chimes?
By Will Bernard, LL.B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

Is a Poisoner Guilty if the Wrong Person Swallows the Poison?

A married man, in love with his secretary, determined to do away with his wife. One Sunday afternoon he handed her an apple dosed with arsenic, and then went out for a walk. By a tragic quirk of fate, the wife decided that their three-year-old child would enjoy the apple—and gave it to her. The child ate the fruit, and soon afterward she died. Arrested for murder, the man pleaded: "I loved my daughter dearly, and I certainly never dreamed of hurting her. This was completely unintentional on my part." But the court ruled that the defendant was guilty of murder. The judge said that the man had intended to kill a human being—and it made no difference at all that the wrong person became the victim.

If a Child Falls From a Park Swing, Is the City Liable?

A boy was sitting on a swing in a public park, when two of his schoolmates walked up. Seizing the swing on each end, they began playfully twisting it from side to side. Suddenly the boy, becoming dizzy from this rocking motion, fell to the ground. He suffered a knee injury, and later sued the city for damages. His lawyer contended: "The city invites children to come and play in this park, so it's up to the city to provide enough supervision to prevent accidents." But the court rejected the boy's claim, because the mishap had occurred so suddenly and so unexpectedly. The judge said it was impossible to have a special supervisor at every swing—and nothing less would have prevented this kind of accident.

May the City Silence Ambulance Sirens — To Keep the Streets Quieter?

As part of an anti-noise campaign, a certain city forbade the use of sirens by private ambulance companies. Soon afterward, an ambulance driver was arrested after completing an emergency call—because he had used the siren. The man contended that the new law was unconstitutional, because ambulances had to have sirens for use in case of emergency. But the court held the law valid and found the driver guilty. The judge said that the city had a right to ban "the loud, piercing, shrill, screaming, unearthly shriek of the siren." To the ambulance companies, His Honor suggested "some other signal with a modified, less objectionable tone."

Would Robin Hood Be Considered a Criminal Today?

A housewife noticed that various articles of food and clothing were disappearing from her home. She became suspicious of the maid, and one day caught her with a bagful of loot. Arrested for stealing, the girl explained: "Yes, I did take some things—but never for myself. I have a friend who is very poor, and everything I took went for her." However, the court ruled out this "Robin Hood defense," and decided that the girl was technically a thief. The judge said that the main element of the crime of theft isn't to enrich oneself, but to deprive the owner of what is rightfully his.

A certain church decided to conduct morning and afternoon worship services, with an hour's intermission for lunch. During the intermission period, a young man stood up and voiced some vulgar and profane expressions. Arrested later for "disturbing a public meeting," the youth protested: "I didn't disturb the meeting, for the simple reason that there was no meeting going on at the time." But the court disagreed and found him guilty as charged. The judge said the meeting was day-long.
