Mother & Son Lose Lives In Auto Crash Near Ironton

MRS. J. C. McCaughey AND 2-YEAR-OLD SON, DAVID, ARE VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT

A Chicago woman and her 2½-year-old son were killed when their car rolled over and hit a utility pole after a collision west of Ironton on old M-66, near what is known as Bird's Corners, at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph C. McCaughey, 34, was going north when her car was struck by one driven by Orin Sutton, 31, going west on M66, Deputy Ted Coblenz said.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Simmons of East Jordan said the car was hit in the rear right fender, the impact causing the right door to fly open and forcing Mrs. McCaughey and son, David, out of the car and against the pole.

William McCaughey, 5, who suffered a concussion and bruises, and Irma Thompson, 15, of Ironton, who suffered head injuries and bruises, were reported in serious condition late Wednesday at Charlevoix hospital.

Sutton, World War II veteran of the New Guinea campaign, was held for observation. His son, Orin, Jr., 3, was sent home later in the day.

Besides William, Mrs. McCaughey is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. W. J. Hayward of Souix City, Iowa, and David's twin sister.

Mrs. McCaughey was attending a family reunion at the Sequato Club. She was a former WAC.

The bodies are at See funeral home, Charlevoix.

First Presbyterian Church Edward O. DeHaven, Pastor

It has been the practice of this church to bring to this community each summer a number of nationally known ministers. We are happy to announce that this will be so this year. Beginning this coming Sunday, July 30, we will bring four of America's outstanding ministers to our pulpit.

Dr. Frederick H. Olert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Detroit will be the guest minister, July 30th, at the 11:00 o'clock service. This church which he now serves, is the oldest Protestant Church in Michigan. It has had a long and distinguished ministry and remains one of the most influential churches in the city of Detroit.

Dr. Olert is a native of Holland, Michigan. He received his A. B. degree from Hope College in 1926; his B. D. degree from Western Seminary in 1929; a Th. M. degree from Louisville Seminary in 1930. He has done special study in the University of Chicago and the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

In 1929 he was married to Sarah Klooster of Atwood, Michigan. There are five children in the family.

Dr. Olert holds many positions of influence in his church and community. He is a Director of Louisville Seminary; a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.; Serves on the National Commission on Evangelism for both the Federal Council of Churches and the Presbyterian Church. He is a past president and director of the Detroit Council of Churches; a member of the Rotary International Detroit Athletic Club and Wayne County Board of Institutions.

Dr. Olert came to his present pastorate in 1940. Previously he served the First Presbyterian Church, Paducah, Kentucky, from 1930-37; and the Knox Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, from 1937-40.

Early in 1949, Dr. and Mrs. Olert took a three months trip by plane around the world on a special assignment for the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions to Japan and Korea.

We are glad to welcome Dr. Olert to our pulpit and community. He will preach on the subject, "Studies in Regeneration" based on the scripture reading of John 3:16. The public is cordially invited to this service at 11:00 a. m.

Of special interest to the women of our church and community is the Tea being given on Friday afternoon, July 28, at 2:30 p. m., in the summer home of Mrs. John Porter. Mrs. Frederick Olert will be the guest speaker at this occasion. Mrs. George Buttrick of New York and Mrs. William Lampe of St. Louis will serve.

Michigan's Home Demonstration Program Has New Leader

Michigan's home demonstration program, with its membership of more than 40,000 homemakers, will be headed by a new state home demonstration leader, effective Sept. 1. Mrs. Leona MacLeod has been appointed to the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service post by the State Board of Agriculture.

Mrs. MacLeod will transfer from her present position as assistant professor of textiles, clothing and related arts in the School of Home Economics to fill the vacancy created by the previous resignation of Rachel Markwell.

Since her first appointment at MSC in 1934, Mrs. MacLeod has worked with the home demonstration program for 11 years. She was Oakland county home demonstration agent for four years and extension clothing specialist for seven years. In 1945 she transferred to her present position. Previous to her MSC career she had taught in the Monroe high school for two years, had been a buyer in large department stores in Grand Rapids and Detroit for two years, and had been assistant personnel manager at the J. L. Hudson company, Detroit.

Mrs. MacLeod holds a B. S. degree from MSC, a master's degree from Simmons College, Boston, and membership in several professional organizations.

The State Board also has appointed Beatrice Frangquist as an assistant state home demonstration leader, effective July 1, to fill a previous vacancy. Miss Frangquist who served as Lenawee county home demonstration agent for six years, has been on leave from MSC for the past year to complete study for her master's degree at Columbia University, New York. She obtained her B. S. degree from MSC and has had 10 years teaching experience in the Iron River schools.

Also working with Mrs. MacLeod in supervising the home demonstration program in the lower peninsula are two other assistant state leaders. Margaret Harris, who has been acting state leader, will resume her former position as an assistant state leader. Ruth Peck will continue as an assistant leader.

The State Board also has accepted the resignation of Opal Roberson, effective July 15, leaving the assistant state leader post in the upper peninsula temporarily vacant. Miss Roberson has accepted a position at Iowa State College, Ames.

Vacation Church School was held in the Presbyterian Church. The program consisted of work that had been done during the two weeks the school was in session and it was much appreciated by the large group of parents who were in attendance.

This school was one of the finest attempts of community co-operation thus far attempted by the churches in this community. There were children from every Protestant church in this community enrolled in this school. The fine response for the leadership in this school was very gratifying. We feel very proud of the women and men who gave their time and talents in making this school a real success. The children themselves enjoyed it very much as evidenced by the fact that we had a larger attendance the second week than the first. For the first week we had an average daily attendance of 92. For the total ten day attendance we had an average of 98.7. The children were also eager to share their gifts with other

South Arm Grange

South Arm Grange met last Thursday evening with a small group out. It was voted to hold a "bee" Sunday afternoon, July 30, to finish putting the steel roofing on the porch. All grangers please put forth an effort to come. Bring your ladders, hammers and tin snips.

The Lecturer read a letter from the Charlevoix County Pomona Lecturer about the Mystery ride. The date has been changed to August 9th. The cars are to be decorated with green and white streamers. South Arm and Rock Elm grangers are to meet in front of the Tannery at 7:05 p. m. There Peninsula, Wilson and Deer Lake grangers will join in the line. We will journey on to Whimpy's and meet the rest of Charlevoix grangers. We then go on to the Mystery Place. We hope to have a nice turn out, and all of our young girls will be able to enter the Cinderella Contest. We are all to take along a pot luck lunch and our own table service.

Misses Rose Marie Lehrbass and Margaret Zoulek presented a demonstration on six different types of seams for cottons. The girls are to give this demonstration at Camp Gaylord, Thursday, July 27th. If they are successful there they will get to do to State Camp and give this demonstration. Here's wishing them lots of luck. Next Grange meeting August 3 at the usual time.

Farm Safety Week Set For July 23-29

The theme of the 1950 National Farm Safety Week, running from July 23 through 29, will be "Learn and Obey".

Each year, according to estimates made by the National Safety Council and the National Fire Protection association, farm people sustain approximately 17,500 fatalities from accidents. Some 1,500,000 persons are disabled on the farm every year. An estimated 35,000 buildings are destroyed by fire.

The annual loss represented by the above accidents and fires total about one billion dollars every year. Breaking the cost down, David Steinicke, Michigan State College Farm Safety Specialist, finds that the total cost of farm accidents and fires would be equivalent to an annual tax of $35 assessed on every farm resident in the country.

The most startling thing about these figures is that most of the accidents could have been prevented. The National Farm Safety Week goal for 1950 is to bring the farm accident rate down. If farm accidents in the nation can be reduced by 10 per cent during the coming year some 1,750 lives will be saved, approximately 150,000 disabling accidents will be prevented, and $100,000,000 will be saved.

The National Safety Council conceived the idea of National Farm Safety Week in 1944. The organization is sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture and practically all leading farm organizations throughout the nation.

children who are underprivileged. An offering brought each day by the children totaled an even $50.00 which has been sent to the inter-church agency of Church Work Service for work over-seas.

The adult interest was very good too, particularly their willingness to financially support the school with their offerings. The School has been completely covered and all expenses are paid with a few dollars remaining for next year. Much gratitude should be felt by this community for this constructive endeavor which has been accomplished in our midst.

VEGETABLE CROPS FIELD DAY

The doors will be wide open on August 16th. Of course, the doors at Michigan State College are always open to visitors but on August 16 the men doing research work on vegetable crops plan to do more than just open the doors to visitors. In cooperation with the Michigan Vegetable Council, they are getting all set for a regular openhouse for everyone interested in what's new in growing vegetables.

Last year hundreds of vegetable growers came to East Lansing for the Vegetable Crops Field Day. They want to learn—to keep up to date with new developments in their industry. And the research men want to show the projects they're working on what can mean dollars to Michigan growers. They have new treatments that just won't let onions sprout in storage, new ways of applying fertilizer through the leaves, new ways of preventing celery from bolting seed stalks. Entomologists have new control measures of thrip, root maggot and other pests. There are dozens of new vegetable varieties on trial, breeding programs on hybrid onions, cantaloupe, cucumbers, celery and asparagus. With new irrigation equipment, there are extensive plots to learn the effect of supplying extra rainfall. And there are those big new research greenhouses that everyone wants to see.

The vegetable growers in your area won't want to miss this field day. We hope you will tell everyone about the big event, and by all means we want you to come.

Picnic tables will be set up on the college farm, and the Vegetable Council will supply free pop. Pack a lunch and bring the family. Of course the Union Cafeteria and other restaurants are near by for folks who just don't like a picnic. Set aside August 16 for a trip to East Lansing for the Vegetable Crops Field Day.

FAIR PREMIUM BOOKS OUT

The 1950 fair premium books have just been received from their printer and are now available to anyone who wishes a copy according to Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent. People may obtain a fair book by writing to the county agent or by calling at one of the farm co-ops.

The dates for the 1950 fair are September 12 through 16. Program, in addition to carnivals and exhibits, include Joe Chitwood's world champion auto dardevilis, WLS National Barn Dance, Earl Peterson and his musical show, calf scramble, horse pulling and horse races. All local people are urged by the board of directors to attend this fair and help make it successful.

PAINT SAVES BARN ROOFS

Estimates say that 40 percent of the roofs of farm buildings in Michigan are galvanized sheets. According to Ed Rebman, county agent, the same surveys disclosed that about 50 percent of these roofs are rusty and should be cared for to stop further loss of metal.

A. J. Bell, agr'l engineer at Michigan State College, has supplied the agent with a few tips on paint selection for metal roofs.

He advises that metal roofs be coated as soon as rust is observed. This conserves paint and extends the service life of sheets. Badly rusted areas should be steel brushed to remove rust. The roof should then be swept with a broom. Two coats of paint should be used over bad rust—and a second coat is always a good investment. "Spot paint" rust areas first; then give entire surface a

Bathing Suit To The Winds

State park managers like W. F. Richter of Bay City seldom have difficulty in telling when the temperature has hit a new high for an occasional patron literally throws modesty and bathing suit to the winds.

First, rangers at the state park here gave one nude gentleman the bum's rush and a quick briefing on correct beach attire. Short while later rangers made another dash to the beach to prevent a young lady from taking the plunge in the only bathing suit mother nature ever provided.

GIVES MODERN TIPS FOR SANDWICH SEASON

Most homemakers have had plenty of experience in making that favorite American food, sandwiches, but a few modern tips about them are timely now that we are in the midst of "sandwich season."

Ruth Ingalls, Michigan State College home economist, believes that a few suggestions may help your efficiency in sandwich-making. Did you know that day-old bread is easier to cut and to spread, but that bread chilled in the refrigerator gives the same results?

Butter will spread easier if it is first softened. You can do this, of course, by leaving it at room temperature for awhile. Or you can cut it in large chunks, put it in a bowl, and cover it with warm water. Then you can work it with a fork until the butter is soft and drain off the water. You can also use the trick of putting the butter in a hot bowl and then mashing it with a fork.

You can keep sandwiches moist even if you have to make them ahead of time. Wrap each sandwich in waxed paper. Then wrap all of them in a dampened tea towel and keep in the refrigerator. Sandwiches can be made the night before and frozen if the filling is one which can stand freezing. When they thaw out, they taste exactly as if they had been freshly made.

Variety in bread and in fillings make sandwich eating more enjoyable. Search for different breads or rolls at your grocery store and for new fillings in your cookbook.

If the sandwich is to be the main part of the meal think of its nutritive value and include eggs, peanut butter, meat, but also remember the many fruit and vegetable fillings.

A time-honored rule for choice of dressings is to use French dressings for dinner salads which accompany a meal and mayonnaise or cooked dressings for some of the more substantial salads, advise Michigan State College home economists.

Two-piece bathing suits are usually more becoming for a tall person and one-piece suits for a short person. If you are plump, white or light colors, or a large splashy print will make you look plumper. Dark colors or a small print will have a slenderizing effect, say Michigan State College home economists.

On choice of paint, the engineer states that asphalt, red or blue lead; Aluminum; iron oxide; and metallic zinc are used for different effects. Asphalt is of value in closing very small holes and is cheap; but has the disadvantage of absorbing heat and is low in coverage. Red and blue lead are used as prime coats and must be covered with another paint to withstand the weather. Aluminum is used as a finish coat only. Iron oxide of at least 40 percent red oxide content makes a good prime or finish coat, is reasonably low in cost, and is fairly serviceable. Metal zinc paint is the most durable for galvanized roofing, weathers well and gives high coverage.

Promoting Greater Use of Michigan's Recreational Facilities

Ten departments of state government are to join in promoting greater use of Michigan's recreational facilities, particularly the ones out-of-doors.

Named as administrative officer of the Inter-Agency Council on Recreation is Edwin G. Rice, former Michigan resident who for the last two years has been director of physical education and health in the Greenwich, Conn., public school system.

Announcement of Rice's appointment is made by the council's chairman, P. J. Hoffmaster, conservation department director. Representatives of state departments of public instruction, health, conservation, police, highway, welfare, and others have been laying the groundwork for the council's future activities over a four-year period. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, former state superintendent of public instruction, is credited with having given the council idea its original impetus.

Announcing Rice's appointment, Hoffmaster said: "Primary purpose of the council is to better define the duties and responsibilities of these governmental agencies in promoting greater use of recreational facilities and to pool their efforts and activities. During meetings over a period of several years it has become conspicuous that a need exists for furthering of recreation, especially in the out-of-doors. The state has many facilities and there are many people who are in need of them.

"The problem, then, is to promote the greater use of these facilities. The W. K. Kellogg Foundation has seen the merits of such inter-departmental integration and as a result has appropriated $15,400 to cover expenses of an administrative officer and some incidentals during a two-year period."

Born in Mohawk, in Michigan's Copper Country, Rice is 43, and holds graduate degrees from Columbia and New York universities. He was a lieutenant commander in the Navy in the last war and saw service in the Pacific. He has had broad experience as a camp director and in public schools in the east.

Couple Lost Near Boyne City Found Safe

Dr. Robert Leacock of Grosse Pointe and his 12-year-old daughter, Shelia, were found at 4 a. m. Tuesday morning in the Horton Creek swamp nine miles northwest of Boyne City.

The two lost their way Monday night while trout fishing in the maze of trails in the dense swamp. They were waiting for daylight to try to find their way back when a search party located them unharmed.

Mrs. Leacock became alarmed when the couple failed to return after dark and called state and local police and cottagers from a nearby resort to aid in the search of the swamp. Arthur Speltz, Pontiac, Ill., school official and a summer resident of Boyne City, was called in to aid in the search. His familiarity with the brushy swamp area helped locate the lost couple.

Biggest Headache of Bait Dealers—Too Much Business

Biggest headache to bait dealers, according to their reports to the conservation department, is not a lack of business but too much of it—for scarce large-size minnows.

The department points out anglers might ease the situation by not taking a larger supply of bait than needed for the fishing trip. A considerable amount of bait is wasted. Another conservation measure suggested is that the fishing party not insist on giant minnows when smaller ones or other bait might actually be more desirable for certain types of fishing. Perch and calico bass, for example, would be equally apt to strike a smaller minnow.

When large minnows are in tight supply, walleye and black bass fishermen might not go wrong in choosing night crawlers or other live bait. Frogs are considered ideal bass bait.

The department's fish division again cautions fishermen against dumping unused minnows and other live fish in the water.

GOOD COMICS CAN BE FOUND FOR YOUNG READERS

Now that it seems "comics" are here to stay, efforts are being made to sort the good from the bad and even use materials presented in "comics" style for teaching.

Since most of us would find difficulty in sorting out good comics, Mrs. Lennah Backus, Michigan State College extension specialist, offers suggestions to help make wise selections for young readers.

Lettering should be big enough to read easily with plenty of space between the lines. Paper should be white or light colored so that lettering and pictures stand out well for easy reading. Drawings should be clear cut and not crowded on a page. They should be interesting but not disturbing. Cover pictures should represent truthfully the stories contained in the publication.

Select comics which contain correct and authentic facts, authority portrayed with respect, and relationships between people set forth as human and understanding.

Those who have made a systematic study of comics say that some have made noticeable improvements in their publications and many new ones have been added. For example, amusing animal characters come to life in many of the stories, usually to the delight of young readers. There has been an increase in Western stories and some of them are rated very good.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

UN Flag Ordered Flown In Korea; Gen. MacArthur Named Commander Of International Forces in Area

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

UNITED NATIONS: Fights Aggression

There are moments in the march of current events that make history. In the eyes of many political observers such a moment occurred recently when Secretary General of the United Nations, Trygve Lie, picked up the three by five-foot blue and white UN flag and handed it to Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the UN, and asked him to send it to General Douglas MacArthur.

The Security Council had just authorized the UN flag be flown alongside national standards in operations against the Red Korean invaders.

And as he handed the flag to Austin, he said:

"Bring it back when the job is done."

On these words hinge the hopes of the free world. Observers saw in them a belief that the United Nations effort in Korea will be successful and at last a world organization has been formed that will endure and protect the minorities for generations to come.

Observers were particularly impressed because it climaxed firm and positive action by the community of nations to secure world peace.

Up to this point the United Nations had:

(1) Demanded the withdrawal of Communist invaders from South Korea.

(2) Quickly endorsed the United States action of sending aid to South Korea and called upon all members of the United Nations to render assistance to carry out the police action against the Communists.

(3) Appointed General MacArthur commander of international forces in Korea.

The historic flag which Lie handed to Ambassador Austin was the one that flew over the headquarters of Dr. Ralph Bunche during his successful mediation of the Arab-Israeli war. It is the visible symbol of the first military sanctions ever levied against an aggressor by a world organization.

THAT SMELL:

Not The Russians

Four towns in Illinois and three in Iowa provided the nation with a chuckle, but it was not funny at the time at least to residents of those towns.

A foul smell crept through Moline, East Moline, Selvis and Rock Island, Ill., and then spread across the border into Muscatine, Bettendorf and Davenport, Iowa.

Some residents went into hysterics, one man insisted to Selvis police that "the Russians are flying over and gassing us," citizens were forced from their beds and from taverns, police switchboards were jammed with calls and firemen kept on a near-emergency basis. Scores of Moline residents jumped into their cars and drove in their night clothes to high ground and fresher air.

When the excitement died down investigation disclosed the odor resulted from a leak in a tank of entalarm being hauled through the area on a truck headed west. Entalarm is an odorant used to inject a smell into natural gas, normally odorless, to permit detection of leaks. It is not injurious but can cause nausea.

REORGANIZATION:

New Plan Killed

President Truman's plan to create a new department of health, education and security has been killed by the house. It was, incidentally, the first time this session the house has rejected a reorganization plan. The senate has killed six.

The house adopted, 249 to 71, a resolution of disapproval of the measure. It was killed apparently by opponents who argued it would be a step toward "socialized medicine."

Democrats who supported the plan, however, denied it had any bearing on socialized medicine. They said only congress could bring this about by passing necessary legislation.

RETAIL PRICES:

Up Another Notch

The Korean situation was not the only worry of Americans during the past week or so. Living costs went up another notch with the prices of meat and bread being increased in retail stores.

Cocoa, coffee, sugar, hides and tin continued upward, cotton soared to $15 a bale, and cattle went to the highest price level in a year. It is all blamed on the Korean war, but other factors entered in.

UN Flag

The blue and white flag of the United Nations has been sent to Korea to be flown by troops battling the Communist invaders from North Korea. Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been named commander in chief of the United Nations forces.

KOREA:

The Tide Flows

Military observers, still watching the Soviet Union for any signs of open participation in the Korean war, were of the opinion the tide has begun to flow—against the aggressors.

During the first two weeks of the conflict South Korean and American troops, acting under orders of the United Nations, took a beating. But as the battle went into the third week, American arms—guns, tanks and planes—and U.S. soldiers stemmed the rush of the Communist armies.

At a point some 50 to 60 miles south of Seoul, capital of South Korea which fell into the hands of the invaders a few days after the sneak attack, American and Communist troops met.

At first American troops were forced to withdraw before Red tanks. And at the moment when it seemed the invaders might break through again, U.S. big guns and tanks, plus fresh foot soldiers poured into the area. The attack was stopped and many observers believe the counter attack will come as the stream of supplies increase.

A big factor in the blunted Communist attack was the U. S., British and Australian air forces. Fighters and bombers carried out continuous attacks upon tanks, roads, and bridges. They ripped open Communist positions with low flying rocket and machine gun attack. The big bombers blasted away at supply lines and communication centers. Their blows were felt by the invaders and will spearhead the inevitable counter attack.

Meanwhile, American divisions within the United States were being readied to move to the Far East. General MacArthur had, at the beginning of the conflict, four divisions in Japan. He has already drawn upon them and troops within the country will replace those from Japan plus reinforcements for the battle area.

TRUTH CAMPAIGN:

Counteract Propaganda

For years Communist propaganda has been spread around the world, but no one seems to know just how much of the story of democracy has reached the enslaved peoples of the world. Now the state department has announced plans for "a great campaign of truth" to counter Moscow's broadsides of propaganda against the United States and other democratic nations.

Secretary of State Acheson told about the plan in testimony before a senate foreign-relations subcommittee. General Eisenhower also testified before the committee, declaring, "Truth could almost be classified as our T-bomb (truth-bomb) in this warfare."

General Marshall, who also testified, said he is firmly convinced that "we must confine ourselves to the truth" and that we must meet the Soviet procedure in what is called their conquest of the minds of people.

Acheson told the senators the Communist campaign of vilification "jeopardizes the security of the United States and is a threat to the security of the free world."

"The cynical aggression of communism in Korea, and the falsehoods that have preceded and accompanied it, make inescapably clear the importance of the campaign of truth," he said.

Economy

Economically the nation seemed in much better condition as the labor department reported signs pointing to record-breaking employment this year, exceeding the 1948 peak of 61,600,000.

Secretary Tobin said much of the nonagricultural employment gain stemmed from seasonal activities, intensified especially in the construction industry which is enjoying record-breaking activity,

MANPOWER:

Draft in Effect

The recently enacted draft law has been put into effect. President Truman ordered an expansion of the fighting forces in view of the Korea situation through enlistment or the draft.

Immediately after the President's order, spokesmen for the army, navy and air force said they would be happy to get all their required manpower through enlistments alone if possible. Whether or not enlistments will fill the armed forces needs will be determined within the next two weeks.

Just how much the armed forces will be expanded has been kept secret. Presumably it could run as high as 547,482 men, bringing the services to 2,065,882.

There is also the possibility that reserves will be called up, although spokesmen for the services said none will be ordered to duty at present without their consent.

A spokesman for the Pentagon said the enactment of the draft law was necessary to meet "the situation in Korea," and "constitutes a first step to build up to full operating strength the units of the army, navy and air force to be used in the Korean operation, to provide further maintenance and support therefor, and to replace units to be moved to Korea."

Just how far the United States will go in building up its forces depends entirely upon developments in the Far East and other danger points, military observers reported.

RAILROADS:

Strike and Crash

Two items of railroad news were in the public mind, one bad and one good.

The AFL switchmen's union agreed to end its strike against four midwest and western railroads. The fifth continued its walkout, but returned to work after President Truman ordered the army to take over.

The switchmen made no bones about why they were calling off the strike. As they put it, we are calling it off "because of the threat of direct government action."

Truman had scored again. The day before he had told his weekly press conference at Washington that the union had better halt the strike or else. Evidently the union didn't like that "or else."

On the bad side, two high speed Santa Fe railway streamliners, streaking eastward side by side, one traveling at 90 miles an hour and the other seventy, bumped midsections in a freakish accident. Nine dead and 75 injured were carried from the twisted metal cars in the Illinois collision.

JUMPING JACK:

Sets Chute Record

Sgt. John (Jumping Jack) Swit set out to break the world's record parachute leaps in a single day, which he did with 107 drops. If he proved anything else it was the fact the human body will take a lot of punishment and that some people seem to get pleasure out of risking their necks.

The sergeant, with the aid of his buddies of the 82nd Airborne Division, made 107 drops in 10 hours, an average of one every six minutes.

He twisted his ankle and sprained his knee on the 51st jump and slowed down long enough to have his leg taped. After each jump, a jeep and a pickup truck met him. The jeep rushed him back to the Piper Cub plane which took him aloft again, while the truck took his chutes to the hangar where his six buddies were kept busy repacking them.

The sergeant's only complaint during the endurance test was he would be all right "if he could survive the jeep rides."

At Our Tourist Park

Last Wednesday evening the tenants of the Tourist Park held our first pot luck get acquainted party. We met in the dining room around a heavily laden table. There were 26 present and we represented a wide range of cities and states.

The recreation building fairly groaned with the large crowd who gathered there for the first dance of the summer. It was a huge success we all feel and hope for more of them. A three piece orchestra consisting of piano, violin and drums furnished fine music and Carl Bergman did himself proud as callers for the old fashioned square dances. During the evening Bill Walker sang two solos by popular request, accompanied by Miss Margaret Blossie. "Slow Boat to China" was the first number, and when the crowd applauded and called for more, he favored us with "I'll Get By". No one seemed to be too old or too young to join in the fun. We are looking forward to the next one.

Thursday morning three trail-erios pulled out. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Adams returned to their home at Davison after a two weeks vacation, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simpson to Tawas Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kadrovich of Williamsburg spent one day last week with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kadrovich, who are vacationing in the park.

Friday noon Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Payne and daughter, Doris of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gerrin of Petoskey had a picnic in the park. After an afternoon of fishing they returned in the evening for another picnic. They praised the park and thought it was one of the best for the size of our city.

Some of the children who come to the beach have complained of having an itch and it was thought it might be sand fleas or something around the water so the health inspector was called in and examined the beach and park thoroughly and found no trace of anything that could give an itch. He said we have an excellent bathing beach and the water is pure. If there is any sewage dumped into the lake the current coming in where the Jordan river empties into the lake is swift enough to carry anything through and does not come near the beach. So our bathing beach has been OK'd by a state inspector.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans, former East Jordan residents, but now of Detroit, and C. K. Brace called at the Meredith home. Mrs. Evans was the former Annie Colden of East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kadrovich were called to Midland Saturday on an unexpected business trip. They went on to Flint and spent a couple of days with their daughter and husband.

More Trailers have arriver so we are back up to nine again. The latest arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Culver of Sparta and Mr.

and Mrs. Dan Edwards of Newaygo, Mich. *

Harold Whiteford of Flint came Saturday. Mrs. Whiteford and son, Gary, returned home with him after spending the past month here. They expect to return again a little later in the summer. Mr. Whiteford also visited his mother in East Jordan and his father, Tom Whiteford, who is still ill in Lockwood hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Robinson and son, Ronnie, arrived Saturday to spend a week's vacation with their parents the Ralph Walkers and Jess Robinsons.

Russell Meredith of Detroit visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Meredith. His son, Jim, returned with him after spending a week with him in Detroit.

A Sunday picnic was enjoyed in the park when the following gathered around the outdoor tables: Walden Larson, Alha; and son, Glen, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Larson and daughter, Nancy Louise, Detroit; Mrs. Millie Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Phillips, Alha.

Another family gathered for a picnic dinner consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Keller and three children of Mancelona, Vale Keller of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Keller and family and Glenn and Michael Kowalske of East Jordan.

In one of the smaller kitchens were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ruis and family of Ellsworth and Mr. and Mrs. John DeYoung and family of Atwood who enjoyed their picnic dinner Sunday afternoon. The dining room porch accommodated Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thompson, Jenny Evans, Mrs. Vivian Woods and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neumann and children, all of East Jordan; Mrs. Edward Reaume, Mrs. Russell Reed and family, and Mr. Orlando Nedeau, all of Newport, Mich.

Monday evening another group of boys came down the Jordan River from Graves Crossing and arrived in the park in time for evening chow. Part of the park looked like a pup tent village. There were fourteen boys and three counselors. During the evening they visited the bowling alley and theater. This group was from Camp Fairwood, near Torch Lake, but differs from the other groups as these boys spend all summer at the camp and the Hyah-Went-ah Camp accommodates boys for two week periods. This group left Tuesday morning and say the canoe trip down the Jordan is a warm up trip for next week they take a much longer trip down the Manistee River. The Sunshine Extension Club met in the park dining room Monday evening for a co-operative dinner. Mrs. Hazel Bennett and Mrs. Mary Lenosky gave reports on their trip to Lansing to the Farm Bureau meeting last week.

Selection of the Upper Peninsula as the location of the 1950 National Convention of the Outdoor Writers Association of America is a timely reminder that this region of approximately 16,000 square miles, larger in area than any New England state except Maine, is perhaps better appreciated by out-state travelers than by many native sons and daughters of Michigan.

This observation is prompted by an enthusiastic letter written by Clay Perry, author of Cheshire, Massachusetts, Perry, a native of Wisconsin and a long-time resident of Massachusetts, has made five trips to the "Fabulous Upper Peninsula". He wrote an article for the Saturday Evening

Port in 1941 entitled, "As Easy As Falling Off A Log," dealing with the log-birling event at Gladstone held annually around the Fourth of July.

Perry writes: "I doubt that there is a similar sportsman's paradise in the middle of the United States that can compare with the Fabulous Upper Peninsula. Nowhere I have ever visited in this country and Canada is there so much to offer as Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

"There is fishing unequalled anywhere else in its variety for inland waters. Trout, bass, lake trout, wall-eyed pike, pickerel, perch and etc.

"You can find more deer in the Upper Peninsula than almost anywhere else in the United States. As for scenery there are the seven wonders of the Upper Peninsula to see. Among them is the famous Big Spring, Kitchitikiippi, near Manistique, the Pictured Rocks at Munising, all of the beautiful shores of Lake Superior and Michigan, Mackinac Island—historic, scenic, luxurious as to its Grand Hotel, no automobiles allowed, only horse-drawn carriages and bicycles."

Evidently the Outdoor Writers Association agreed with the enthusiasm of Clay Perry as they accepted an invitation of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to hold the 1951 National Convention at Escanaba, central headquarters for the Upper Peninsula.

The writer of "Michigan Mirror" is also not a native son of Michigan. We have traveled extensively throughout Michigan, particularly in the Upper Peninsula, and we frankly share Mr. Perry's spirit of friendliness to this vast North Country region of Michigan. If you have not visited this region in many years, or possibly not at all, we would like to suggest that you begin your travel through this "Fabulous Upper Peninsula" by a visit to historic Mackinac Island, thence north to Sault Ste. Marie to take a glance or two at the Canal and Locks whose Centennial will be observed in 1955.

Your trip west should include a day to visit the Tahquamenon River falls near Newberry, accessible either by boat from Soo Junction or by highway. At Munising be sure to take a boat ride to the Pictured Rocks. Thence west to Marquette for a view of the high ore loading docks. Iron deposits were discovered in 1844 near Negaunee by William R. Burt. North of Marquette are the Huron Mountains, undeveloped as a future center, similar to the Porcupine Mountains.

Continuing west you arrive at L'Anse and Houghton, entrance to the picturesque Copper Country. This is the land of the beautiful Keweenaw Peninsula and the one-time center (1889) of the greatest copper producing region in the United States. The Calumet and Kecla Company financed with $10 million capital, produced over $160 millions in dividends from the most productive and richest mine in America.

Drive out the Keckenaw Peninsula to Eagle Harbor, take the Brockway Mountain Scenic Drive to Copper Harbor, visit Fort Wilkins State Park, and return by the Central route back to Houghton. Thence to Ontonagon and Silver City where you can drive to the Porcupine Mountain State Park and climb by easy trail to an escarpment giving a breathtaking view of the Lake Of The Clouds. If time permits, continue west to Ironwood and visit the falls along Lake Superior. Otherwise, you can go southward to U. S. 2 and go back eastward to the iron ranges at Iron River, Crystal Falls, and Iron Mountain.

On your way back be sure to visit the Big Spring, Kitchitikiippi near Manistique at Indian Lake. Thence eastward over the U. S. 2 Shore Drive to St. Ignace. This stretch of pavement is new and it affords one of the most beautiful views of Lake Michigan in the entire Upper Peninsula.

We would not suggest that you attempt such a circle tour in only one week's time, two weeks would be ideal. We will guarantee that having made the circle, from the Sault to the Copper Country and thence southward by way of Escanaba to St. Ignace, that you will join Clay Perry in an acclaim for Michigan's vast North Country, beyond the Straits of Mackinac.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We will resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might.

We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers, because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices.

We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire retail industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales.

We will continue to strive for more efficient distribution.

We will fight waste of food, or time, or money all along the line so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

We will devote all our energies to giving you the most good food for your money every day of the week.

We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of our country and our customers.

As most of you know, this company and the low cost, low profit policies that built it are under attack.

We are defending ourselves against a suit brought by the anti-trust lawyers to put A&P out of business.

But the greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes precedence over all else.

Today, with our boys fighting in Korea, we believe that all citizens and all businesses, big and little, should devote themselves wholeheartedly to the public interest.

We promise the American people that we will cooperate unhesitatingly with our national government in the present crisis.

We promise you that we will continue to do everything in our power to put more buying power in your food dollar and more good food on your dinner table.

THEIR FUTURE DEPENDS UPON YOU

Juvenile Delinquency — Caught in the act in a back alley shooting craps. Suppose this was one of your boys, what would you do about it? These boys live in the present without a thought of what may lie ahead.

But with their parents—with you, with me—it is different: since our children are too young to plan for themselves, we must plan for them, and for their generation.

All depends upon whether we learn as individuals and as a world to build foundations that abide. It depends upon whether we put God uppermost in our lives, and make righteousness and truth the goal for every day living.

But these achievements do not come by accident. Nor can they be developed overnight. They are the products of patient effort. Of trust in God. Of active participation in the work of the church.

Church choirs need leaders, clubs need sponsors, scouts need scout-masters and troop committies, classes new teachers. The Church of your choice has a place for you to serve in its program for the young folk. This kind of young folk leaders, sponsors, etc. will eliminate juvenile delinquency.

Great Man's Faith

Lesson for July 30, 1933

NO MAN is too busy to serve God. He may think he is, but the excuse will not stand. There are too many busy men who do serve God. One of the most famous men in history is a shining example.

If ever a King was "too busy" to attend to religion, David would have been the man. His kingdom was a new one, cemented together from tribes that had been at one another's throats not so long before. He was surrounded by enemies who kept him at war most of the time. He was commander-in-chief of the army, chief justice of such courts as there were, chief executive in civic affairs; and furthermore, the times were not "normal" but turbulent in the extreme. Still he had time for religion. He led in that as in everything else.

Public Religion

THE first thing he did as king was to conquer the "unconquerable" city of Jerusalem, which had been in enemy hands for hundreds of years. And the next thing he did was to bring the Ark to Jerusalem and settle it there, making Jerusalem not only the civil but the religious capital of the nation.

In an almost spectacular way the king made himself sponsor for the organized religion of his people. For centuries before David, the Ark and all the formal worship that went with it had been stuck off in minor towns, inaccessible and unpopular, in fact disregarded by most of the people, as the book of Judges shows.

Now David, by bringing the Ark to Jerusalem and selecting for it a site on the city's highest hill, made sure that in his realm religion would never be an obscure thing. Sometimes we hear people say, "I believe in Christianity but not in the church." That is like saying "I believe in justice but not in the courts." "I believe in love but not in marriage." "I believe in education but not in schools."

David knew that if organized, public religion has to hide in holes and corners, it will not only lose respect, but people will soon forget all about it. The Ark was not an idol; neither is the Church. But if the Ark then, and the Church now, do anything else for religion, at least they keep it out where people can't help knowing about it.

Private Religion

DAVID knew, as some of his successors did not, that public worship is not the whole of religion. His personal relationships were controlled by his religious faith.

Take the case of Mephibosheth (chap. 9) for instance. If David had followed the usual pattern, he would have had poor Mephibosheth beheaded before breakfast. For the young man was the one remaining grandson (so far as we knew then) of David's bitter enemy, King Saul.

In those days you always went on the principle that if a man was your enemy, so were all his relatives. It was generally true, too; and under the customs of those days Mephibosheth might have been expected to plan revenge, sooner or later, for his grandfather's and father's deaths.

David did not let him sink into obscurity but gave him what we would call a pension, a princely one too, treating him as if he were one of his own family.

The Inner Life

WELL, religion has its outside but it also has its inside. Public worship and loving your neighbors are not the root of religion but its fruit. The roots of it are deep within the soul. And David had that true faith which comes from within.

He was humble, not proud, as Psalm 24 shows. Great King though he was, he knew there is only one King of Glory. He was confident, as every leader must be; but his confidence was based not on himself but on his God. (II Sam. 22, which is re-written as Psalm 18.)

And when David sinned, as he shamefully did, he did not make excuses for himself or sink with easy satisfaction into his worst self. If to be a saint is to be without sin, then David was no saint (and you are one?). But if being a saint means that in spite of sin one comes to have the cleansing kind of experience that Psalm 51 records, then David was a man after God's own heart.

Floods, tornadoes, storms, fires, and other disasters this year have struck an estimated 40,000 families in 15 of the 16 states comprising the American Red Cross Midwest Area, shown by the above map. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice

Sitting around last Friday evening, the talk turned to the best way of getting to sleep when it seems you just can't. "The way I always do," says Sandy Johnson, "is to breathe deep and make believe I weigh a ton."

"Just throw away the pillow—it works every time," says Buzz Ellis. When counting sheep came up, right away was the question: What kind of sheep?

From where I sit, you could argue 'til Doomsday and never get complete agreement on a lot of things. Now, take me. I'm all for having a glass of beer or ale on occasion. Your "sociable beverage" may be a "Coke"—or buttermilk or maybe a cup of hot coffee.

But enjoying our preferences is a right in this country and each of us is entitled to his own. The important thing is to respect that right in the true democratic spirit of understanding! As a matter of fact, what a tiresome old world this would be if we all did have the same likes and dislikes!
