Our Community Chest Recreation Activities

SQUARE DANCES, SOFTBALL, BASEBALL AND SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES

SQUARE DANCES ARE BIG SUCCESS

The square dances at the Tourist Park every Wednesday sponsored by the community chest recreation fund are making a hit with young and old alike. To date the dance hall has been crowded with dancers and onlookers. As long as the turnout is so good the dances will continue throughout the month of August. Admission is free and everyone is invited.

ADULT SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The second round of adult softball league has already produced some very good games. Norms broke into the winning column last week by defeating the Merchants for their first victory of the year. The Canning Co. edged out the Co-op's last week 2-0 in another very well played game. Howard Sommerville did the pitching for the Canning Co. The East Jordan Iron Works, winners of the first round in East Jordan, will also play in the Charlevoix League where they are certain to give a good account of themselves.

MIDGET AND JUNIOR BASEBALL

Last week the East Jordan Midgets and Juniors traveled to Manacelona and Petoskey. At Manacelona the Midgets won in a close game and the Juniors dropped their first game to the Manacelona Juniors. At Petoskey the Midgets lost their first game by a 5-3 score and the Junior won 5-1 on the five hit pitching of Keith Evans. On Tuesday of next week both teams go to Boyne City for return games. Saturday, Aug. 5th, the Juniors meet the Rock Elm Grange team.

FARM FACTS
from your County
Agricultural Agent
Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

WATERWAY PROTECTION:

A good thick grass cover in the natural waterways is an inexpensive yet effective practice to prevent gully formation. Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, says grass waterways can be established with effort and maintained with will power. The agent admits it takes some will power to keep from plowing and tearing them up when fitting operations are carried on in the field.

According to soil scientists at Michigan State College one of the biggest faults in establishing sod waterways is the failure to build them wide enough. They should be constructed so they will carry the maximum amount of water at the peak run-off. Otherwise the water will "eat" into the tilled area and defeat the purpose of the waterway.

Waterways may be established in the spring and late summer. In the spring waterways are left when the sod land is plowed for row crops.

August is the time to seed a small gullied area which has no sod cover. The agent suggests the waterway be shaped with tillage equipment and be well fertilized.

CALF SCRAMBLE PLANS DRAWN

The Charlevoix County fair board, at a meeting held last week, drew up final plans for the calf scramble which will be held on September 15 at the 1950 fair, according to Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent. There will be 9 head of hereford calves sponsored by the merchants of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan that will be turned loose in the pen for the boys to catch and tie to a fence.

Boys who are interested in knowing more about this calf scramble and who would like to raise one of these animals, should contact one of the members of

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETINGS

The American Legion Rebec-Sweet Post Auxiliary Unit 277 holds their meetings the second and fourth Tuesdays at 8 o'clock; at the Legion Home every month. The first meeting of the month is a business meeting and the last a short business meeting followed by a social. Be sure and attend your Auxiliary meetings whenever possible.

DIRECTORS MAKE MARSH PLOW AVAILABLE

The directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District, according to announcement by Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, had made available to the farmers in this area the use of the Marsh plow. This plow is owned by the Antrim Soil Conservation District and has been leased from them for the month of August. Anyone who has swamp land or new ground that they would like broken up could well afford to use this Marsh plow.

If you are interested in the use of this plow, contact one of the directors of the soil district or the county agr'l agent. Farmers south of Charlevoix should contact Carlton Smith. Farmers north of Charlevoix have as their director, Peter Winnick. Those around East Jordan should call on George Klooster and the folks near Boyne City should contact Clayton Healey or Norval Korthase.

SPRAY FOR APPLE MAGGOT

Apple growers are warned by Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, that the adult of the apple maggot has emerged. All growers should spray at once with:

1. Zinc sulphate, 1 lb.; lime, 4 lbs.; lead arsenate, 3 lbs., or
2. 50% wettable DDT, 2 lbs. (repeat in 7 days when DDT is used) or
3. In case of a serious infestation of aphids, then 1 lb. of 15% wettable parathion in 100 gallons may be used. Apply on hot, still day for best results.

Auxiliary Gifts Being Prepared

Edna Wikins, president of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 227, would like to remind all members of the Unit who are making gifts for the District Presidents display table to be shown at the Department Convention Aug. 24, 25, 26, 27, at Grand Rapids to turn the gifts in now. This program is called The Gift Shop and all articles are made and donated by Auxiliary members. Then, at Christmas, the veterans in the hospitals may choose what they need to send to their loved ones for Christmas presents free of charge to the veteran. So be sure and get all gifts in at once so they may be displayed during the Dept. Convention.

First Presbyterian Church Edward O. DeHaven, Pastor

Sunday Church School begins at 9:45 each Sunday morning with classes for all ages. We had a very good attendance this last Sunday, but there were still several missing. We should like to see all of our pupils in class each Sunday morning. It is becoming more vital each day that we know as much as we can about the Christian Religion and this is one way we can discover many new and fine things that will help us in our daily living.

Last Sunday morning we had a capacity crowd to listen to the first of our summer guest ministers, Dr. Frederick Oert. We had many guests last Sunday and we trust they will return to us and others too will want to worship with us while visiting our community. This coming Sunday we will have the pleasure of hearing again the Dr. William B. Lampe, pastor of the West Presbyterian Church of St. Louis, Missouri. Dr. Lampe is a long time friend and welcomed guest of this congregation, having preached in this pulpit at least once each year for thirty years or more. His ability as a preacher is well-known to this congregation. His kindly interest and friendliness makes him well-loved by all who know him. He will preach at the 11:00 a. m. service. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend.

The Session will meet Tuesday, August 8th, in the Manse at 8:00 p. m. for its regular monthly meeting.

The Choir rehearses on Wednesday evening of each week at 7:00 p. m.

"Conversation In Korea"

Two G. Is. are talking: "I wonder," says the boy from Brooklyn, "if the folks back home are starting to hoard things?" "They couldn't be such fools," says the kid from Kansas. "They'd just start another inflation. Take my folks. They've got nothing but Pa's pension and my allotment. They just can't afford inflation." "Nobody can afford inflation," says the boy from Brooklyn. "Where would you expect to find the imagined conversation above printed? Not in an ad of a big department store, probably. But that's exactly where this little editorial on inflation appeared: In full-page ads costing thousands of dollars in New York newspapers last week. The advertiser was Macy's, world's largest storekeeper, and the larger portion of the ad was devoted to a declaration that American production capacity makes hoarding, in the ad's words, "stupid."

"How much money can you afford to waste through fear?" the ad asks. "Don't buy what you don't need! It's smart to be thrifty. As the world's largest store, we are in a position to know the truth about consumer goods," the ad states, "and the plain truth, so far as we can see, is that there is no important shortage of anything, right now. Our own counters are bulging with merchandise. In some lines there is a surplus—if you're one of those people who simply has more cash than you can normally spend—why not buy U. S. Saving Bonds?"

So much for Macy's. Across the square is Gimbel's. They also used a full-page ad to combat hoarding fears, captioned: "It's good to know America is the Land of Plenty—More so today than ever before in its history."

"There is plenty of everything," the Gimbel ad declares, "and even a surplus in hundreds of commodities."

"In the Gimbel stores and other good stores all over America, counters, shelves and warehouses are filled and, by the tons, more goods are pouring in—buy what you need as you need it. Otherwise it may mean artificial scarcity and artificial high prices."

Registration Notice

For General Primary Election, Tuesday, September 12th, 1950.

To the qualified electors of the city of East Jordan, County of Charlevoix, Michigan. Legion Plans Family Night Supper In Honor of V-J Day

A special meeting of the combined committees of the American Legion Rebec-Sweet Post and Auxiliary Unit 277 met Monday evening, July 31, at the Legion Home to discuss plans for a Veteran's Family Night Supper to be held Sunday, August 13, at 6:00 p. m. commemorating V-J Day. This is to be a pot luck supper. All veterans and their families are invited to attend whether they are Legionnaires or not. Everyone is to bring a dish to pass and sandwiches. There will be entertainment following the supper. Plan to spend the evening at the Legion Home Aug. 13. A good time for all.

Methodist Church Rev. R. H. Moore, Pastor Telephone 20

10:00 — Worship Service

11:10 — Church School

There will be a special meeting in the church parlor Thursday evening at 7:30 to discuss the fall program. All trustees and officials of all organizations of the congregation are urged to attend.

South Arm Farm Bureau

The July meeting of the South Arm Community Farm Bureau group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Klooster, with nine members present.

Blue Cross Secretary, Helen Klooster, announced that members may add surgical benefits to their Blue Cross policies this fall, if desired, as the membership is to be put on a county-wide basis. Township Treasurer, Del Carson, is being invited to attend our next meeting and to present a talk on township road expenditures.

Chairman George Klooster, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Soil Conservation District, announced that a bulldozer and a marsh plow will be available for rent by members of the Soil Conservation District this fall, and application for their use should be made to the county agent, Ed Rebman, or to a member of the Board of Directors.

A letter from State Farm Bureau Legislative Group was read by Delbert Ingalls. It stressed the importance of looking up records of our congressional candidates before the fall election.

During the discussion of "Consumers Ideas About Producers", the group formed a resolution, asking the aid of State Farm Bureau in presenting actual farm statistics to the consumer.

Mrs. Klooster, our hostess, served the pot luck lunch and coffee after the business meeting was adjourned.

The August meeting will be held on the fifteenth of the month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frank. Two door prizes will be given. Will all of you members please attend?

On European Trip

Frances Lenosky, R. N., of Pontiac, after spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lenosky, returned Monday to Pontiac, where she was accompanied by Miss Ruth Flynn also of Pontiac, on a tour to Europe, which will include The Holy Year Pilgrimage to Rome.

They will sail from New York on the S. S. Stratheden, August 4 and arrive in LaHavre, France, August 12.

Included in their tour of France will be Lourdes and Paris. Then they will visit Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, England and Ireland.

While in Germany they plan on attending the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

Fr. Francis Flynn of Muskegon, brother of Miss Flynn, will meet the Misses Flynn and Lenosky in Rome and accompany them on the Holy Year Pilgrimage.

They will sail from Cobh, Ireland Sept. 23, arriving in New York, Oct. 1.

Special Services at Finkton, Aug. 3, 4, & 6th

Thursday and Friday nights at 8:00 p. m. at the Community Building there will be special services this week. Rev. and Mrs. Gene Yorton of Peoria, Ill., will with us for three days. Rev. Yorton is the 1st Vice Chairman of the Rural Home Missionary Board. He is a man with a wonderful testimony of what the Lord has done for him. Until 15 years ago he never had never attended Sunday School or Church. Someone gave him and his wife a Gospel tract. The Lord spoke to their hearts through the tract and led them to go to a church where they could hear more about their need of the Lord Jesus Christ as their Saviour. Now they are busy telling out the Gospel themselves.

Mrs. Yorton will furnish the special music for each service. She sings and plays the guitar.

Sunday will be a full day. Sunday School at 10:30, followed by morning message by Rev. Yorton. At noon there will be a pot luck dinner. Then at 2:30 in the afternoon we will have another service. Then closing the Lord's Day there will be the regular Sunday night service at 8:00 p. m. The Yorton's are in charge of this service. Plan to come and attend all or part of these services.

Shorten Tests For Renewal of Driver Permits

Licensed drivers in Michigan will hereafter be required to submit to written and oral examinations when renewing their operator or chauffeur permits, under a change in procedure authorized by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard.

The change will enable driver license examiners to devote more time to beginner drivers as well as eliminate the provision under which licensed drivers repeated tests which they have once passed successfully. Drivers renewing licenses, however, will still have to pass vision, color and hearing tests.

Persons seeking their first license will, of course, have to pass all of the tests as in the past. When initiated the purpose of the present system was to make certain that no driver was licensed who did not have the necessary knowledge and skill to drive properly.

"We feel now that the benefits from that procedure have been accomplished to the point where we can simplify renewals," Leonard said. "This will also permit giving more time to beginners to see that they get off to a good start as safe drivers."

Of the 847,886 persons who took driver license examinations in Michigan last year more than 90 percent were renewing their applications. The total also represents an average of more than 4,000 examinations for each driver license examiner. There is an equivalent of 187 full time examiners in the state.

Only six of 43 states reporting to the National Safety Council in a special poll have any form of examination for renewing driver licenses. In addition, with the exception of Michigan, the six states have required only partial examinations.

The abbreviation of renewal tests in Michigan will not affect the suspension, revocation or restriction of licenses of drivers who accumulate bad driving records. This will follow the same procedure as in the past.

Plans Set For State 4-H Show, East Lansing Aug. 29 - Sept. 1

Youthful exhibitors from nearly every county in Michigan are preparing more than 4,000 exhibits to bring to East Lansing, August 29 to September 1 for the thirty-fifth annual State 4-H Club Show.

A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State College, says his staff is preparing to handle more entries, more boys and girls, and a greater number and variety of contests and demonstrations than last year.

Last year rural youth from 79 of the 83 counties brought or sent 4,033 different entries for the event which is held on the campus of Michigan State College. That included 1,343 head of livestock—543 of them dairy animals. More than 1,700 of the 10 to 21 year old boys and girls were housed in MSC dormitory facilities during the four-day stay.

Several new events have been added to the show this year. They include: tractor operators contest; public speaking contests and a model business meeting demonstration.

Because of the great number of contestants, elimination contests will be held in four days in mid-August at East Lansing to thin down the number of judging and demonstration entries from the 41 southern counties. Similar eliminations have been held for upper Michigan and the upper peninsula.

Kettunen invites parents and others interested in the achievements of youth to attend the show and see the exhibits and contests. "It is open to the public and is free and we invite all the friends of youth to see the results of this youth training program," Kettunen remarked.

Plant Rye For Later Pasture

If you want a couple months less barn feeding of your dairy cows or late fall and early spring pasture for your swine, sheep, or beef cows, better plant some Balbo rye.

Michigan state college agricultural specialists find farmers who have tried Balbo rye like it. W. W. Snyder of the MSC dairy department, says it is excellent pasture for dairy cows because it doesn't seem to taint the milk like some varieties do.

Seeding Balbo rye in mid August in corn or on land from which grain is being harvested this summer will not only give you pasture this November and next March or April, but will give you a cover crop to keep soil from washing.

Since Balbo rye is a little more tender than some varieties, farmers in northern Michigan may find that it winter kills to some extent. Locally-grown seed is likely to be more hardy, agricultural specialists say.

"Stay Alive; Obey Stop Signs"

IS THE AUGUST SLOGAN OF STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

"Stay Alive — Obey Stop Signs." These words will sound their warnings to motorists from sign boards, from radios in cars and in living rooms, and from pages of newspapers for the next 30 days, according to State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, whose entire department is cooperating with the Michigan State Safety Commission in a campaign to save lives and prevent injuries, and property damage which result from accidents caused by motorists ignoring Stop Signs on our highways.

"You cannot measure the value of lives and broken limbs in dollars and cents," Ziegler said, but, according to figures released by the National Safety Council, Michigan motorists have spent so far this year over $70 million as a result of accidents on our highways. These costs referred to by Commissioner Ziegler include property damage, hospital bills and other attendant expenses.

"The Stop Sign is the most important of all regulatory signs. It warns a motorist of a potential hazard. Over 7,000 highway accidents last year involved failure of motorists to heed Stop Signs. Of course, Michigan, the automotive capital of the world and the arsenal of democracy, needs more and better highways. However, the most modern highways still require Stop Signs and other traffic control devices to provide safe use of them, especially at intersections," Ziegler said.

Stop Signs are octagon in shape, with black letters on a yellow background. They are placed only under such conditions as the intersection of two main highways; intersection of a secondary with a main highway; where restricted view requires; at through streets, etc.

"Stay Alive — Obey Stop Signs" is the August slogan of the State Highway Department and the Michigan State Safety Commission.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

AVOID NEW GROUPS DON'T GET OVERTIRED
DON'T GET CHILLED KEEP CLEAN

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

SOUTH ARM....

(Edited by Mrs. Arnold Smith)

Two girls, Margaret Zoulek and Rose Marie Lehrbass, from the South Arm Community 4-H Club won a trip to Lansing by doing such a fine job at the demonstration they gave at Gaylord 4-H Camp on different seams in cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith and sons, Joe and David, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith.

Harold Goebel harvested his cherry crop the past week.

South Arm Extension gave a bingo party at the Tourist Park last Thursday evening which was a great success. Over 70 cards were sold. Light refreshments of homemade cookies, tea and kool-ade were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Smith and daughter, Sharron, were Wednesday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith.

Joe and David Smith and Floyd Cutler are picking cherries at the Whitlow orchards.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearsall attended the Venetian Night program at Charlevoix Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goebel and children and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hott went on a picnic at Whittings Park Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold DeLa Rosa of Detroit spent their honeymoon at one of Healey's cottages and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Wally Goebel.

Mr. and Mrs. August Behling and son of German Settlement and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Murray of Pleasant Valley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dougherty.

Harry Pearsall was called back to work at the Ellsworth Canning factory last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Overshaine and family of Detroit spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lehrbass and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Earls and Jim Shepard of Brown City were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Graham and family.

Dave Peterson and two friends from Six Lakes, Mich., visited Don Graham Saturday afternoon. The boys became acquainted at MSC while taking a cow testing course last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Goodman visited relatives in Lansing Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hart from Ohio visited his brother, Delmer and family, Friday evening.

Mrs. Harry Pearsall and Mrs. Archie Murphy were in Petoskey Friday morning on business. They also worked in the Grange booth at the Charlevoix Carnival Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murphy attended a Birthday family reunion at Gale Brintnall's at Williamsburg, it being Galene's 5th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Art Cronin of Roscommon were also there to help celebrate the occasion.

Walter Murphy returned from the 4-H Camp at Gaylord Friday morning.

Miss Arvilla Moore, who has been employed in Flint, returned home last week end.

Several folks from this community attended the Venetian celebration held at Charlevoix Sunday evening. They reported a very lovely program. Henry Dougherty was one of the lucky ones to win one of the bicycles raffled off by the Farmers Union. Lucky Hank.

Doctor

Asks Aid of Patients

FORSYTH—Dr. R. H. Bramlett, Sr., country physician, who has spent his professional life taking care of his friends and neighbors in and around his small Georgia community, asked for help recently.

The doctor ran a notice in the weekly Forsyth County News: "I am now up against a serious problem. Have been in the hospital for three weeks and must undergo a serious operation, from which I may not survive. I am now asking your aid, like you asked mine thousands of times.

"Do you remember how good you felt when maybe snow covered the ground or in all other kinds of bad weather, when you heard my voice say, 'I will come'?"

"Now, my friends, I am asking you to come and pay me the small fees charged you for my services.

"You might do better to settle with me than with my administrator. Please don't disappoint me, my friends, for I love every one of you."

King Writes Songs For Michael Todd's Broadway Musical

NEW YORK—A king has written a song for a Broadway musical.

For some years now the kings of the world have been having a difficult time and many have moved into occupations far from kingly. This king, however, has a throne and from all indications is in no danger of losing it.

He is Phumiphon Aduldet, 22-year-old King of Thailand, who is American born and interested in musical composition.

He will be represented on Broadway in Michael Todd's forthcoming review entitled "Todd's Peep Show."

The youthful March's song "Blue Night" will be featured in the show, along with five other songs he composed. Royalties from his songs will go to the royal Thailand charities.

Todd learned while in Europe last year that the king wrote popular songs. But he soon found out that getting the monarch to agree to have his songs in a Broadway show was a different matter.

Just how Todd bridged the gap between Broadway and Thailand has not been disclosed, but evidently negotiations were carried out between the producer and Prince Chakraband, the king's chamberlain, who is also his business manager.

"Blue Night" is described by a song writing expert as a "sensuous beguine" and the other songs were said to be character pieces or ballads.

The music was written by the king and he was assisted with the lyrics by Prince Chakraband. The songs are in both English and Siamese.

In persuading the king to allow the use of his songs, Todd is reported to have reminded the monarch that President Truman played the piano and that his daughter Margaret appeared on the concert stage.

Man Throws Himself Under Car to Save Wife's Life

SEVIERVILLE, N. C.—A 75-year-old man used his body as a brake beneath the wheels of his automobile to save his wife from a plunge over a mountain cliff and certain death.

Mrs. Alonzo A. Fassett said she and her husband had stopped their automobile at an observation point in the Great Smoky mountains near the Tennessee-North Carolina line.

While her husband stood outside the automobile watching the sunrise the car began to roll toward a plunging mountain slope.

She had not gotten out of the automobile with her husband, she said, because "I couldn't stand to look off from the dizzy height."

She screamed when the car first began to move, but her husband did not hear her. Then, when the vehicle was almost upon him at the edge of the cliff, he noticed the movement and tried to stop the car by shoving on it with his hands.

When that failed to check its progress, he threw himself prone. One of the car wheels crossed his body and the machine stopped as the front wheels struck him.

She was able to scramble from the automobile and get aid from a passing motorist.

Apartment House Dances When Huge Organ Is played

RACINE—A Racine apartment house dances to the tune of a $31,000 organ.

Fred Hermes, real-estate salesman, bought the organ for $300 and installed it in the basement of his apartment house.

Tenants report dishes rattle and chairs move when Hermes begins to play. When he gets down to the bass notes, the tenants can feel them in their very bones.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

American Troops Taking Beating In Korea; Mobilization of U. S. Manpower and Industry Forecast

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

KOREA:

GI's Take Beating

As the Korean battle went into the fourth week it became apparent to every American that U.S. troops were taking a beating.

They were outnumbered; tanks were inferior and too few; guns and bazookas could not pierce the 12-inch armor of the Russian made tanks. They were pinned to fox-holes by tanks, artillery and mortars; overwhelmed by massed infantry, sniped at from the sides and rear by infiltrating columns.

Taejon, provisional capital of South Korea, was abandoned after the Kum river line was broken by thousands of fanatical Communists who charged American positions without regard to casualties. They overran first aid stations, killing patients and chaplains, and for every one the Americans killed, ten took his place.

American forces began a slow withdrawal which appeared would halt some 35 miles southeast of Taejon where a range of hills offered a natural defense position. Whether or not they held this position would depend upon reinforcements and the continued flow of guns, tanks, and ammunition.

No matter how optimistic a view an observer was inclined to take, the situation appeared serious. As has often been the case in the past, Americans greatly underrated North Korea's military strength and fighting determination.

Facts of the situation indicated: North Korea had 10 to 15 divisions—100,000 to 250,000 men, with replacements handy from the armies of Communist China when needed. At least 200 tanks, with replacements also available from Russia, and almost unlimited supplies behind the lines in Siberia and in Manchuria.

United States would need eight full divisions, perhaps 250,000 men. The inadequate supply of tanks and heavy artillery in the Pacific would have to be remedied.

The one bright spot in the picture was the work of the U.S. air force which had knocked out tanks, bombed and strafed troop concentrations and supply lines, and driven the North Korean planes from the air.

But military observers pointed out that air power will greatly increase the chances of victory, but the Korean war, as has been the case in all wars, will be won by the soldier who fights through mud and rain and cold and heat. The foot soldier has not been replaced with push-button warfare, as yet.

McCARTHY:

Called a Liar

Senator Joseph McCarthy, who has had more front-page publicity in the American press than any one man in a number of years, has made the front pages again, but not to his liking.

The senator, still screaming charges of communism in the state department, was called a liar by three Democratic members of a senate investigating subcommittee.

Reporting their conclusions from a four-month inquiry, they attacked the Wisconsin Republican in terms of harshness rarely used in the senate's history. They accused him of conscious falsehood and of serving the interests of the Communists by raising baseless suspicion among the people of the country.

They cleared every person McCarthy accused of being a Communist.

The Republican members of the subcommittee, Senators Hickenlooper and Lodge, declined to sign the report.

The Democrat members termed McCarthy's charges "a fraud and a hoax perpetrated on the senate of the United States and the American people."

Their report said, in part: "They (McCarthy's charges) represent perhaps the most nefarious campaign of half truths and untruth in the history of this republic. For the first time in our history we have seen the totalitarian technique of the big lie employed on a sustained basis."

"The result has been to confuse and divide the American people, at a time when they should be strong in their unity, to a degree far beyond the hopes of the Communists themselves, whose stock in trade is confusion and division."

SOVIET UNION:

An Olive Branch

Although no official announcement has been made, it is believed in many quarters the Soviet Union has offered terms for settling the Korean war. It is a bloody and willed branch the Russians are holding out to the United Nations.

After the sugar coating of diplomatic language is penetrated, it seems Russia would be willing to call off the affair after China is seated in the United Nations.

Korea Commander

Lt. General Walton H. Walker, a tank expert from Texas and commander of the Eighth Army, has been named to the top command post in Korea. Walker gained fame as commander of the 20th corps in Patton's Third Army.

MOBILIZATION:

Is It Near?

Many observers are wondering if complete mobilization of this country's manpower and industrial strength is in prospect for the near future. Some believe it is, unless the world situation takes a sudden and unexpected turn for the better.

Within a matter of hours after this writing, President Truman was expected to go before congress and outline for the American people steps deemed urgent to cope with the Korean war. He was also scheduled to speak over a nation-wide radio hookup and tell Americans just where we stand.

One official predicted the President would:

1. Request new military funds or contract authorizations totaling $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000.
2. Propose legislation authorizing 160,000 more men for the army above the present legal limit of 337,000 and 60,000 more for the Navy, which now cannot exceed 666,882. An increase may also be ordered for the 502,000-man air force.

HOME FRONT:

Controls Likely

Observers on the home front are predicting limited controls to back up an intensified military campaign in Korea.

At this writing the controls had not been asked for, but observers pointed out that anti-inflationary action was becoming more urgent with each day. They predicted President Truman would ask for them within a very short time.

A request for higher taxes, to cover an expected jump in military spending, was held to be inevitable.

Government officials were predicting privately that President Truman would ask congress:

1. Power to allocate—by voluntary means, or more drastic measures if necessary—steel and a few other basic metals.
2. Authority to put quantity ceilings on the production of automobiles, television and radio sets and other civilian products consuming large quantities of metal, so that the demands of these industries will not interfere with arms production or create a "gray market" in prices.
3. Restoration of consumer credit controls. By tightening up on easy-payment credit for automobiles and other consumer goods, it is hoped that some of boom-level buying demand may be removed from the market.

At least one labor leader, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has demanded all-out preparedness for any eventuality, including mobilization of labor.

"We find ourselves facing a situation with the implication of a third world war . . . If war is localized now, we know it is only a question of time until the inevitable happens. Only adequate preparedness can safeguard us," Green said.

He added: "We cannot send our soldier to the fighting front without training equipment and regular supplies . . . We must provide quick transportation which will increase mobility . . . There will be no side lines secure from bombing . . . There must be mobilization of labor."

Observers are wondering what will be the next utterance of this muddled thinker who was once the Vice-President of the United States and greatly liked?

Electoral College

In what observers believe to be one of the strangest line-ups in modern political history, the house killed, 210 to 134, the proposal that would have made a presidential election more nearly reflect the popular vote.

The senate approved the constitutional amendment last spring. The measure needed a two thirds vote. Had it passed, it would have needed approval by states.

ECONOMY:

Profits and Prices

As the Korean war roared into its fourth week much of the news was being made on the home front in the form of profits and prices.

Government agencies announced after-tax profits of American manufacturing firms as a whole were nearly five percent higher in the first quarter of 1950 than in the fourth quarter of 1949.

At the same time the prices of foods, especially meat and coffee, took an upward swing that made many consumers catch their breaths.

At least one congressman, Representative Klein of New York, demanded an investigation of high living costs and profiteering. He went so far as to charge bakers and dairies with "soaking the consumer without conscience."

"Meat prices are threatening to turn this country into a nation of vegetarians and ruin the cattle raising states," he said.

Also on the economic front, the Federal Reserve Board said preliminary figures show that industrial production reached a new postwar peak in June.

Production was estimated at about one percent higher than the previous postwar peak of October-November, 1948, and 17 percent above the level of June, 1949.

Some highlights on the net profit report:

1. After-tax profits were $100,000,000 higher in first-quarter 1950 than the preceding quarter, but unchanged from the 1949 first-quarter mark of $2,400,000,000.
2. The rate of return on stockholders' equity was 12 percent in first-quarter 1950 against 11.6 in last year's fourth quarter and 12.8 in its first-quarter.
3. Dividend payments to stockholders totaled $1,000,000,000 against $1,700,000,000 in last year's fourth quarter and $900,000,000 in first-quarter 1949.
4. Profits per dollar of sales rose to 6.2 cents from 6 in last year's fourth quarter and 6.1 in its first quarter.
5. Set-asides for federal - income taxes amounted to $1,500,000,000 in both the 1950 and 1949 first in fourth-quarter 1949.

EDUCATION:

No One Flunks

A new trend in education—100 percent promotion of pupils in the lower grades—is reported by educators.

Educators won't come right out and say no one flunks any more in the lower grades on the ground that some elementary pupils still need the threat of failing to spur them on, but it's true that fewer are flunking.

The new trend seems to be based on four points:

1. Little is learned by repeating.
2. Failure merely discourages and does not aid pupils.
3. There is no reliable way of determining failures.
4. Real failures cannot do the work, no matter how often they repeat.

This is a long jump from the days of reading, writing and arithmetic and the rule of the hickory stick. The educators sum up their report:

"Nonpromotion is an admission of an inadequate school program and has no place in a school where children are motivated properly and work to the level of their capacities."

"What is looked on as a pupil failure may be a teacher, supervisor, or administrator failure."

Into Battle

The realities of the Korean war were impressed on Americans in every walk of life as this country's soldier went into action in Korea. Scenes like the one above were grim reminders to Americans that the foot soldier is still the work-horse of war. A group of U.S. soldiers above are nearing the front.

HENRY WALLACE:

What Now, Little Man?

Henry Wallace, who calls himself a progressive but who has been the darling of the Communist press since his visit to Russia, now finds himself consigned to the ranks of Wall Street buccaneers by the Daily Worker.

"An Anti-Governor Williams move is afoot in the state", reports the Grand Rapids Press.

Basis for the conclusion was an attack made by Charles E. Edgewood of Detroit, president of the Michigan Trueman clubs and Wayne county auditor, against the Americans for Democratic Action unit in the state. Speaking at a Grand Rapids Democratic rally, Edgewood assailed the Michigan ADA segment of the Democratic party as being "Marxist missionaries".

We quote the Press: "Edgewood asserted the ADA has taken over the Democratic machinery in Michigan, Minnesota and Connecticut and that it has 'unduly influenced the executive branch of our state government.'"

"The speaker, former housing director of Detroit, declared the ADA, in Michigan led by Hicks Griffiths, former state chairman of the Democratic party, had tried to defeat President Truman in his bid for the Democratic nomination in 1948 and in the state has left nothing undone to weaken, supersede, circumvent and in effect destroy the position of authority of our national committee-man, George Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald was elected national committee-man at the 1948 convention.

"Praising President Truman as an 'average American selling an American program', Edgewood likened Lt. Gov. John W. Connolly to the president.

"One breath of political fresh air you get as you pass through Lansing enroute to Grand Rapids is the honesty and integrity of Connolly and Roth (Attorney General Stephen J. Roth) and a few others who have studiously avoided entanglements with intellectual phonies," declared Edgewood.

"The Wayne County auditor declared, 'We as Democrats must be re-elected. But we as democrats must also unload our fifth column. The only way we can do this constructively is to demand that any candidate running under the Democratic banner run as a Democrat, that he denounce or renounce any affiliation, indorsement or association with the ADA. Failing to do this, we must consider these candidates regardless of how high the office, as tools using the Democratic party for ulterior purposes—There is no room in this party for those who wear political cloaks that are labeled Democrat but which covet a Marxist philosophy.'"

The reporter for the Grand Rapids newspaper related how William H. Carpenter, state central committeeman, took the floor to "defend the name of our governor." Carpenter was quoted as follows:

"I'll defend the ADA if I have to give Gov. Williams full credit. When the speaker omitted the governor's name in mentioning of political fresh air, he meant the governor creates a bad smell and a stench, didn't he?"

The above news story from Grand Rapids is quoted as proof that Michigan Democrats, like Michigan Republicans, have their own internal family rows. It is interesting to observe, however, that the charges by Edgewood—as president of Michigan Trueman clubs—were also made by Republicans in the 1949 state campaign for state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction.

tensify the Republican assault against Williams on the grounds that he is "unduly" influenced by "fifth column" socialists who pose as Democrats. The Detroit Democrat has furnished new ammunition.

WEST PENINSULA . . .

(Edited by Mrs. Wm. Gaunt)

Cherry picking is in full swing this week. The small orchards will finish in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gray, the Hebering agents, were in the neighborhood last Tuesday.

Bob Howard started working at the East Jordan Iron Works last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rowe and four children of Lansing are spending a week at the Gill cottage at the creek.

Mr. and Mrs. James McInerney and two sons, Jim and Reg Brooks, also Carl Weaver, all of Saginaw, are spending a week at their home at East Jordan. While here they called on the Myer's and Gaunt's, also doing some fishing.

Miss Sally Warden and girl friend of Jackson drove up Thursday to Sally's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell. They also visited with their aunt and uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crowell. They left for home Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross of Norwood spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harder and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wileman of Kyonoga Falls, Ohio, are spending a week at the Rustan Resort visiting with their old neighbors, the Phillips and Williams. Before coming here they spent a week in Canada sight seeing.

Joe and William Montroy of East Jordan are doing some carpenter work at the Rustan Resort.

God Give Us Men!

Lesson for August 6, 1950

THERE ARE WAYS of saying "No" without using that short and ugly word. A writer in the Christian Century has pointed out three of these. One is to say, "This is not the time..." Another is to say, "I agree with you in principle, but..." and the third is to say, "I am with you—but don't quote me!" What we need nowadays is men who are willing to stand up and be quoted, quoted for good and against evil. All men are "against sin" in general; it takes a braver man to be against it in particular.

In a large town in Kentucky recently the grand jury indicted the whole police force. In the course of the jury's report they said they had heard a good deal of testimony about rotten places and practices in and around town, but most of those who had come before the grand jury had said, in effect, "Don't quote me." It is hard to make any indictment stick if people who know damaging facts are not willing to come out in broad daylight and testify. So abuses go on and on, all because every one is too shy to point an accusing finger.

Man of Courage

WE NEED more men like the prophet Elijah. God providentially removed from him all the usual temptations to keep his mouth shut. He had no investments to protect—all he had he wore on his back, and that was not much. No family depended on him. He did not represent any institution. He could speak his mind—without worrying about the effect it might have on investors, or his family, or some institution. Of course Elijah had Elijah to look after; but for himself he was not afraid in the least. Lone figure though he was, he stood out against lies and exploitation in varied forms. He stood out against popular opinion, and that is not easy for any normal man.

So many thousand votes or voices must be right we think. But Elijah did not think so. He knew that "one man with God is a majority." He stood out against official opposition; this was more dangerous still. The crowd's favor or dislike comes and goes, the crowd soon forgets; but a tyrant like Ahab (and still more like Jezebel) neither forgives nor forgets a man who has stood up to contradict and condemn him.

Then Elijah stood out against the most difficult enemy of all; organized religious leadership, that is, the false prophets. Even in the Christian era that organized church has sometimes taken the wrong side of some important questions and persecuted men who were on the side of right. But church tyranny is at least as bad as any other kind, and it takes a brave man to face it.

In Our Time

THANK GOD for all the Elijahs! Every generation has seen a few, and we have them in our time. They have not all had the spectacular success of the original prophet of Carmel, but they are here all the same.

In public life one thinks of those senators—and your state is fortunate if it has even one who stands up for persons against profits, for the advantage of all against benefits for a few, true representatives of the people as against invested privilege.

In church life we need more men like that pastor down in Alabama who was recently "fired" because he would not take his stewards' advice and use more "fact" in his sermons against sin in general and drinking in particular. It takes courage to do such things. And Elijahs are needed in the business and professional worlds, not only in the pulpit.

Is Liquor a Sacred Cow?

THE LIQUOR traffic alone, to name but one public evil, is doing our fellow-citizens a vast amount of damage. What other business makes necessary wards in hospitals to cure its customers? But how few men will stand up and be quoted for the facts! Newspapers will editorialize against gambling when they won't against liquor; gambling doesn't advertise but liquor does. Count the big newspapers or magazines which for the benefit of their readers are willing to go without the income which liquor advertising produces.

If a Roller-Skater Trips In the Street, May He Hold the City Liable?

One spring day, a boy decided to skate to school instead of walking. Finding the sidewalk too rough, he went into the street and began skating along the curb. Soon he came to a little patch of sand, which had been left there by a city construction crew. The sand clogged his skates, and down the boy went. Injured, he sued the city for "leaving the street in such a dangerous condition." But the court turned down his claim. The judge said that the city must keep the streets safe for ordinary use, by pedestrians and motorists, but not for roller-skating.

If a Woman Supports Her Husband, Is She the "Head of Family?"

In the course of a criminal trial, the defense lawyer rose to make an objection. "Your Honor," said he, "There is a technical mistake in the documents in this case. The scene of the crime is described as 'the home of John Jones'—and that's wrong. It should say 'the home of Mrs. John Jones,' because she is really the head of the family. She not only pays the bills but also is the undisputed boss of the household." To prove his point, the lawyer put Mrs. Jones on the witness stand—and she frankly admitted her domestic supremacy. But the court overruled the lawyer's objection. The judge said that, when husband and wife live together, the man is legally considered the head of the family—even though he actually isn't!

If You Get Hurt Answering a Call of Distress, May You Collect Damages?

The landlord of an apartment building lifted a trap door in the basement to repair some pipes—and then forgot to replace it. That evening, the laundress fell into the shallow pit. Though not injured at all, she let out a piercing shriek of terror. One of the tenants rushed down to help her—and he fell in too! The tenant fractured his leg, and later sued the landlord for damages. At the trial, the landlord argued: "The basement was dark at the time. Therefore, when this man went down there, he should have waited a moment until his eyes got used to the darkness. If he had, he wouldn't have gotten hurt." However, the court ruled in the tenant's favor. The judge said a person can't be expected to move with normal caution, when answering a call of distress.

Is it Your Own Fault If You Fall off a Cliff?

A high-school boy decided to explore a state park near his home. Following the arrows toward a "scenic view," he clambered down a steep and rocky ledge that led to a narrow path on the side of a 20-foot cliff. But when he got to the path, he couldn't stop—and went right over the cliff. Injured, the boy filed suit against the state for damages—under a law authorizing such claims in cases of negligence. State officials argued that the boy had only himself to blame for losing his footing, but the court ordered the claim paid. The judge said that such a dangerous spot should have had warning signs or guard rails to protect the unwary public.

A house in a congested neighborhood caught fire, and the flames spread swiftly to several other buildings. To prevent a general conflagration, the mayor of the town ordered the dynamiting of the next house in the path of the flames—and the firemen carried out his order. This helped stop the blaze, but it made the owner of the house very angry. In fact, he later sued the mayor for the value of the building. However, the court turned down the citizen's claim.

WHERE DID THIS STORY BEGIN?

We call it "Juvenile Delinquency" and we discuss it as a social problem. But we can't ignore the fact that it's a true story of the wrecked lives of boys and girls. Its tragedy is written in the headlines of every newspaper. And behind those headlines are shattered hopes, broken hearts, prison bars, and doomed lives.

Where did this story begin? In the streets and loitering places? No! It began in American homes—homes like our own. It began when millions of American parents overlooked the need of their children for religious training.

In the home must be made the decision to provide children the spiritual and moral education that is required. The Church stands ready with a careful guidance program of religious training for adults. But parents themselves must decide to take advantage of that program.

Safeguard the future of your children. Enroll them in Sunday School and encourage their attendance. Foster their spiritual growth by worshiping with them in the Church of your choice.

If a Boxing Fan Fails To Use His Ticket, Is He Entitled to a Refund?

A Montana farmer arrived in New York one day with a ticket to a championship boxing match. It was his first visit to the Big City, and he had come just to see the fight. But when he got to the stadium, he was utterly baffled by the many gates, ramps, and signs. After several unsuccessful attempts to get inside, the poor fellow gave up in despair and started back to Montana! Later he filed a lawsuit seeking to hold the boxing promoter liable for his frustrating experience. He demanded not only the price of the ticket but also his train fare to and from New York! However, the court rejected the claim in its entirety. The judge said that, if the man couldn't find his way into the stadium, it was just his own tough luck!

May the Owner of a Boathouse Rent a Boat to a Person Who Smells of Whiskey?

A salesman went to a beach club one afternoon and had a couple of drinks. Then he decided it would be nice to take a rowboat ride on the lake. He rented a boat at the nearby livery, and set forth alone. About 500 yards out, he stood up, tipped over, and drowned. Later the widow sued the owner of the boathouse for damages, saying that he had been negligent in renting a boat to a man smelling of whiskey. However, the court held the proprietor not liable. The judge said that the man didn't have to turn away everybody who had something to drink—so long as the person wasn't so drunk as to be helpless.

A woman sued a used car dealer for fraud, accusing him of selling her a "lemon." At the trial, the woman's attorney kept emphasizing how poor his client was—and how rich the dealer was. When the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the woman, the dealer appealed the case. And the upper court threw out the verdict, ordering a new trial because of the "improper" comments of the woman's lawyer. The court said: "The law knows no such thing as rich man or poor man, but seeks to treat all alike."

ILLUSIONS Invents Five Tricks Yearly

HOLLYWOOD — Howard Thurston, believed by many one of the greatest magicians that ever lived, has been dead for 12 years.

Now, Harry A. Jansen, known professionally as Dante, has stepped into the role as the country's leading magician. If not the leading magician, certainly the most inventive.

Dante, who is white-haired and wears a goatee, was Thurston's constructionist (carpenter) for the magicians' sawing stunt. When Thurston died, Dante acquired all his tricks and was named his successor.

His greatest trick, illusion—as it is called in the trade, is sawing a woman in half. Invented in 1920, he has improved it to such perfection that it seems uncanny.

"Now I can move the two halves around the stage. The head, in one half of the box, sings. The toes, on the other side of the stage, wiggle," he said.

Invents Illusion

He explained he has been making magic for 50 years and has originated 25 major illusions and 40 lesser ones. This, he claims, surpasses the invention of all other leading magicians put together.

Every March Dante turns out four or five new illusions. That's the extent of his inventing for a year. The remaining time is spent on tour with "Dante's Cockeyed Inferno," consisting of a boxcar load of paraphernalia and a troop of 30 performers.

Among Dante's illusions is the barbershop travesty, where he winds up shaving himself. He is also inventor of the getaway, in which a pretty girl steps on a scale, drops in her penny, and vanishes.

"It takes more than just carpentering to create a first-class illusion," he says. "It takes imagination, then the skill to carry the whole plan out. The apparatus has to be correctly made, light, portable, easily set up and knocked down. Too many magicians find themselves lugging around boxcar loads of equipment."

The magician knew Houdini, along with other famous tricksters. He says Houdini knew very little. His specialty was escaping from a locked trunk.

Makes Tricks Complicated
Dante reports it may take years to perfect an illusion. His "million-dollar illusion" of sawing a woman in half was comparatively simple when first invented. Now, with years of work and thought, it has become a complicated trick. Audiences are fascinated and often horrified as the two halves of the woman are moved about the stage, one half singing and the other wiggling its toes.

Copyright of illusions is difficult, Dante says.
"About all we can do is make them so complicated they can't be duplicated. But imposters are always trying."

Thurston, even after death, wanted to carry on in the trade. He made a pact with a friend, Claude Noble, that on the anniversary of his death Noble would try to contact his spirit.

Every year for 12 years, Noble has visited Thurston's tomb and called to his spirit. There has been no manifestation.

Electricity in Brain Cause Of Many Headaches, Report
DETROIT — The American psychiatric association has a new explanation for headaches and dizzy spells.

The association reports it may be caused by buzzing of electricity in your brain. The association also believes it may be a cause of restlessness.

The buzzing is rapid pulses of electrical energy, 30 to 40 a second. This is half to more than half as fast as the pulsations of alternating current in your house electric lights. It occurs in both the central and forward parts of your brain.

The veterans' administration hospital at Hines, Ill., and the University of Illinois college of medicine gave an exhibition of the discovery to the association.

Eighty-five per cent of persons with these fast waves suffered from headaches, 70 per cent were restless and 55 per cent complained of dizziness. Also, 75 per cent said they had spells of some sort and many of them had suffered personality upsets.

The discovery was made possible by pasting little electrodes on the skin or scalp, with fine wires attached to carry away the current. The experiment was made during drowsiness.

The report said that sleep takes the blanket off the brain and lets the waves out better than during wakefulness.

The sleep studies showed that sometimes one side of the brain beats faster electrically than the other. This happens in hemiplegia, a common trouble among wounded G.I's. In hemiplegia part of the body is paralyzed, but only one side. This paralysis comes from the brain.

Roy Gregory entered Lockwood hospital, Saturday, for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Stallard and her mother, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, of Detroit, were week end guests at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stallard.

Tom Hayden of Elk Rapids visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayden over the week end. His wife and daughter returned with him after visiting relatives here for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Darbee and family were in Chicago Wednesday to Friday. Mr. Darbee had a check up on his hand. They took in the Chicago Fair and other places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graham of Hazel Park are the parents of a son, born July 21st. Mrs. Graham, before her marriage, was Miss Annalee Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Win Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Hignite of Detroit were week end guests, and Irvin Turnipseed of Detroit was a Sunday guest of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Swafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Robinson and daughter, Ann, of San Francisco, Calif., were guests last week of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Adair, and mother, Mrs. Wm. Robinson.

S. A. Robert A. Cummins of Great Lakes Training School spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Cummins at Ellsworth, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cummins.

Allen Howell sold his barber shop on State St. to Christopher Bulow. The transaction took place Saturday. Mr. Bulow took possession at once. Mr. and Mrs. Bulow and children are living at the Walter Davis home during the absence of the Davis'.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas St. Charles were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mason and son, Irwin, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. A. Waydak and daughters and Mrs. Waydak, Sr., of Flint.

Mrs. Winegardener and children of Grand Rapids were callers on Mrs. Rebecca Smith, Tuesday. They are vacationing at Donald Porter's cottage on Lake Charlevoix. Mrs. Winegardener was formerly Miss Edna Cook of Holland, commercial teacher in East Jordan High School, and lived at Mrs. Smith's.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark and sons were at Interlochen, Sunday. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Long and family and Mrs. Roy Webster of Big Rapids for a picnic dinner. The former's grandson, Roy Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark of Arlington, Va., is a summer music student at Interlochen.

2 cups Graham crackers, broken in 1/2-in. pieces	1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 cup canned crushed pineapple, well drained

Mix powdered sugar and butter in a 1 1/2-qt. bowl. Stir in 1/2 cup milk, a tablespoon at a time. Be sure all milk is mixed in before adding more. Fold in half of Graham crackers at a time, being careful not to crush the pieces of crackers. Drop in 4 portions on a flat pan. Top with the pineapple. Chill until firm, or about 2 hours. When ready to serve, put ice cold milk and granulated sugar into small, cold bowl. Whip with chilled rotary beater, or electric beater at high speed, until fluffy. Add lemon juice and rind; whip until stiff. Serve on the dessert. Makes 4 servings.

*Fruit cocktail, peaches, or apricot halves also can be used.

You Will Need:
Crushed Pineapple, Graham Crackers, Pet Milk, Powdered Sugar and Lemons.

DOMESDAY BOOK

First Census Taken 1086

LONDON—The 1950 edition of Domesday Book, the English version of a census, is now being planned, it was announced recently. The first census was ordered by William the Conqueror in 1086. Americans, who have been asked by the number of questions upset by tabulators this year, were no more upset than the Englishman of William's day when he announced his decision to have the survey made.

"So very straitly did he cause the survey to be made that there was not a rod of ground, nor—it is shameful to say what he thought no shame to do—was there an ox or a cow or a pig that passed by that was not set down in the accounts," an anonymous report said.

Census for Tax Purpose

William was not primarily interested in the population. He was more interested in taxes. The levy of two shillings per "hide" of land had not yielded the expected revenue. Besides that, he had no way of checking up on defaulters. He had no adequate records even of his own holdings. The time had come, he decided, for a reckoning. Besides counting noses, the local "census takers" were called upon to make three estimates of the value of the land in yearly revenue—at the time of the census, at the time it was acquired by the current owner, and at the death of Saxon King Edward in 1066.

All this information was duly assembled, classified and copied by clerks in two great volumes which were given the name of Domesday Book. As the inventory covered all but four counties, those still held by Saxons, the book was a lush guide to the King in refilling the royal treasury.

Besides the tax problem, the book also provided a list of all landowners and tenants and the Christian names of subtenants, peasants and slaves.

In fact, the book was a tax roll, land register, military register, census of population and topographical dictionary.

The American census this year is designed along many of the same lines. Government officials report that the complete United States census will take the guess out of many phases of life in this country.

Unlike the original Domesday Book, tax levies will not be made from the census. Nor the amount of personal income, one of the questions asked by census takers this year, be revealed to anyone.

Information Small

These figures when accumulated, will provide accurate data on the standard of American life today. The centers of population, industry and potential wealth will also be clearly outlined after the census is tabulated and analyzed, census takers report.

William the Conqueror planned to use his census as sort of a fifth column within the country. For instance, the Norman lords with whom he shared his loot after conquering England, had built up feudal centers of considerable strength. William had no definite knowledge of their resources either in property or men. He suspected some of them of trying to create little independent kingdoms within the realm to challenge his power. His census provided this valuable information.

Like the Domesday Book, the American census will be a valuable source of information for future historians.

Capitalism Most Undersold System, Stassen Reports

WASHINGTON — Capitalism is the most undersold economic system in all history and socialism and communism are the most oversold, Harold E. Stassen recently told a group of business men.

Correcting the situation is a job for industry, he added. It could mean the end of the cold war and possibly prevent the much talked about third hot war.

"It is my view that the most important single informational job that needs to be done in America is to develop a better understanding by American workmen of the modern capitalist economic system of which they are a part.

"If they get to thoroughly understand it, they will never change it. They will force both major political parties to stop the drift toward socialism in America . . . This country will retain such freedom and economic power that it will definitely win the cold war, and roll back the tide of communism and oppression," the president of the University of Pennsylvania said.

He said it was not surprising that the American workman is misinformed about the operation of his own economic system.

"He has been subjected to a steady bombardment of misinformation by left wingers, by many labor leaders, and by many politicians."

He added that the task of informing American workers is "a job to be done in your town, in your plant, in your own office and among your neighbors—by you."

Malaria

No Longer Health Hazard

WASHINGTON—If the pioneer of a century ago could return to the United States for a day, probably not even our automobiles and airplanes would amaze him more than a simple announcement recently made by Dr. Justin M. Andrews, United States public health service. The announcement was: "Malaria will probably be eliminated as a major public health hazard in the United States by 1952."

To the frontiersman, even in northern states, his life was often built around the "shakes." Preachers scheduled their services and judges set hours for court sessions with an eye to avoiding the time of their recurrent attacks of "ager."

More than one ghost town dotted the Mississippi, the Missouri, the Ohio and other rivers, its surviving inhabitants having fled after as high as 80 per cent of the population fell to malaria.

The disease gradually receded as the effectiveness of quinine as a specific became widely known in the 1840's. However, recent reports place the number of cases in the United States at between 1,000,000 and 6,000,000 yearly with 1500 deaths.

Malaria has been making a stubborn retreat as land has been drained, farmers have moved to the city, and the level of education has climbed so that use of quinine has become more widespread. With these conditions offering hope for success, the U. S. public health service organized a five-year campaign against the disease in 1947—the campaign which led Dr. Andrews to make his hopeful prediction.

New York Beggar Leaves Over $11,000 In Bank Accounts

NEW YORK—Beggars are not always poor, but often wealthy men who conduct begging like a business with complete books and expense accounts, it was revealed recently with the death of Robert T. Ingles.

When Ingles died he left $11,000 in one check and two savings accounts. And he left a complete set of books that told what expenses he incurred in his planned route that included 100 cities in the country. He also entered the amounts he made in each city.

Ingles, also known as Joseph E. Addison, lost one leg in a West coast accident. It was after the accident that he became a professional beggar.

He was a strange man. At his rooming house in New York, where he lived between trips, he was known as a stingy man. But in the Bowery where he ate every night in the same restaurant and at the same table, he spent freely.

Always dignified, even when in his working clothes, he dressed for dinner in a blue suit, white shirt and tie.

He insisted that neatness and politeness was the secret of his success. That he was successful is indicated by his bank account and a report that he did not feel he had had a good week unless he could bank at least $50.

Ingles was not the kind of beggar that asked for handouts. Although none of his friends ever saw him in action, they report that he probably stood silently at a street corner, subway platform or race track, holding his pencils in a cigar box, looking neat, polite, sober and appealingly helpless.

When he was working he would plan his trip like any business man. He would select the towns he wanted to visit and keep strict account of his "profits." He frequently sent $100 deposits to his New York banks, sometimes only a few days apart when he was traveling.

Man Who Found Watch Held On Grand Larceny Charge

LOUISVILLE—Ruben Noel, 47-year-old painter, was held to the grand jury on a grand larceny charge—and all because he found a watch.

He found it, but did not report it to police or advertise in newspapers. Under Kentucky law that constitutes grand larceny.

According to Noel his troubles began when he found a woman's watch on the floor of a bus. He put it in his pocket and kept it about four days, watching the newspapers to see if anyone had lost a watch of that description.

Meanwhile, the owner, Lucille Greer, reported the loss to police. At the end of four days Noel pawned the watch for $15. Police, in routine checks of pawn shops, recognized it as one reported lost. Noel was arrested for grand larceny.

The law provides that anyone finding an article must make an effort to locate the owner. It was all very confusing to Noel who kept repeating, "I didn't steal anything."

Noel's attorney was indignant. "He didn't have it broadcast on the radio, either," he said sarcastically.

At Our Tourist Park

Last Wednesday a group of people from Lansing stopped at the park to eat their picnic dinner. They found it so enjoyable they stayed all afternoon too. They were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walker and son, Bud, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ray and granddaughter, Beverly Peguer.

On Wednesday evening the second dance of the summer was held in the recreation building. Although the crowd was slightly smaller than last weeks, the spirit of the group was just as high. We heard there were several different things going on was why the crowd was a little smaller. The same orchestra furnished the same fine music, and Carl Bergman was on hand again to do the square dance calling. Seems we have talent among the crowd again as Lyle (Pee-Wee) Peck favored us with two fine numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Blossie. For a little fellow Pee-Wee has a mighty big singing voice. We wonder who will be on the program next Wednesday night?

The dining room porch furnished a pleasant place for a co-operative dinner on Thursday evening when the following people met: Mrs. Mary E. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. John Cornell and granddaughter and friend, all of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Bohemial Cihak, Mrs. Minnie Gould and son, Raymond, Charlotte Craig, Mr. and Mrs. E. Raymond, Mrs. August Knop and son, Bud, and James Raymond, all of East Jordan.

The South Arm Extension Club held a public social night in the Recreation building on Thursday evening. Bingo was played after which a lunch of delicious homemade assorted cookies, tea and kool-ade was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buescher of Detroit stopped off in the park for a couple of days enroute on their vacation trip north.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Putman, who are spending the summer in the park, spent a few days in Sparta last week. Their granddaughter, Margaret Blaauw, returned home after spending the past three weeks with her grandparents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Egidio DeMaio, son, John, and daughter, Christine, of Farmington are camping for two weeks in the park and visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco DeMaio of East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kellar of Houston, Texas, spent a couple of days in our park in their trailer home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Koontz and four children of Detroit are back again in our Tourist Park with their trailer. Mr. Koontz has invented and patented a new type of trailer hitch which is causing quite a lot of publicity. It is a weight distributing hitch for house trailers.

Sunday afternoon the recreation building was the scene of a birthday dinner in honor of Meritt Shaw. Those present were the honored guest and his family, Mr. and Mrs. John Laisure, Mr. and Mrs. Darus Shaw, Mrs. Viola Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meredith.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pintler of Sparta spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shangle at their trailer home. In the evening they attended the Venetian Night at Charlevoix.

The Drenth family of Ellsworth held a family dinner in the dining room on Saturday evening. Ellsworth folks call here real often.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Smit and family of Grand Rapids spent the week end tenting in the park.

In another tent were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sieveveld and four daughters and son. On Sunday one of the daughter's fiance arrived and also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Funk of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Funk is another one of the Sieveveld's daughters. They all attended the Venetian Parade.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierson and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shangle returned to their homes at Sparta Monday. They are leaving their trailer homes in the park as they expect to return a little later in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Robinson and son, Ronnie, left for their home at Mt. Morris Sunday evening after spending the past week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Robinson, and other relatives.

People in the park witnessed an amphibious plane landing on the lake Sunday. This was the first time many of us had ever seen one land.

Some good catches of fish have been reported by many of the park tenants, mostly pan heads, but occasionally a nice large steelhead.

Saturday evening three trailer families decided to pack their picnic dinner and find someplace different to eat. After driving many miles they returned to eat on the dining room porch. Guess East Jordan Park must be the best place after all.

Mrs. Harold Whiteford and son, Gary, of Flint called on several in the park Sunday. Mrs. Whiteford is staying with her mother-in-law while Mr. Tom Whiteford is in the hospital having a couple of operations. We wish him the best of luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kadrovich have decided to dispose of their trailer home for awhile and are staying temporarily in one of Shedina's cabins. They expect to be back in the park before the summer is over.

Another cabin of senior boys with their counselors of Hayo-Went-Ha Camp, Torch Lake, spent Monday night in the park. Although Mr. Meredith invited them to use the big building for sleeping quarters they preferred to use the porch instead, it was a cold, rainy night, but they all seemed full of pep the next morning and ready to continue their canoe trip to Ironton, after their breakfast of pancakes.

Next Saturday evening, Aug. 5th, the Rev and Mrs. Shaver of California, who the resorting in the Penfold cottage, are planning to show some colored pictures they took while on a visit to Jerusalem and other countries. The pictures are mostly of the Holy Land, Switzerland and some of the Vatican in Italy. We are sure these pictures will be well worth seeing and the public is invited. It is to be in the recreation building starting at dark. Mrs. Shaver aids her husband as commentator. Do not forget the date.

LISTS ADVANTAGES $OF EVAPORATED MILK

Have you discovered the advantages of keeping evaporated milk handy in your kitchen? And did you know that evaporated milk contains the important milk nutrients—but in double the original amounts?

Evaporated milk is cow's milk with some of the water removed, explained Lois Jackson, Michigan State College home economist. Nothing is added to it, and in order to make it just like cow's milk again, just add an equal amount of water.

Evaporated milk is sometimes used in infant feeding according to a doctor's formula. It also lends itself well for cooking. Creamed mixtures may be made from evaporated milk. Cream of tomato soup and cheese sauces can be stirred up with the undiluted product. For ordinary cream sauce, use the evaporated milk diluted with an equal amount of water.

You can include more milk in the diet by cooking cereal in milk. Use two cups of water and two cups of evaporated milk plus one teaspoon of salt for two cups of flaked cereal such as rolled oats, or for one cup of granular cereals. Prepare the same way as for any cooked cereal.

Many people like evaporated milk in coffee. Also, evaporated milk can be whipped if it is first thoroughly chilled. A good idea is to chill the beater and bowl, too. This whipped milk can be used in frozen foods and fruit whips, or for topping for desserts.

Cans of evaporated milk are convenient for anyone who has to travel and carry a supply of milk for children. It is also a handy item for an emergency shelf.

MILES DISTRICT
(Edited by Mrs. Claud Gilkerson)

Donna and Kay Gilkerson called on Mrs. Fred Bancroft Saturday.

Frank Addis called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bancroft Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Thompson called at the Gilkerson home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Kamradt and two daughters of Muskegon called on Mr. and Mrs. August Bulman Friday.

Mrs. Matilda Gust of Barhead, Canada and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bulman and family of River Grove, Ill. are visiting their mother at the home of their brother, August Bulman. This is the first time in 25 years they have been together.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gilkerson and family attended a family picnic Sunday at Whiting Park. Others attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown and sons, Jr. and Bruce of Roseville; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slough, daughters, Jean, Jane and Joan of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sloop and son, Stevie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sloop, Ruth and Butch and Betty Sloop

Let's write to Stalin!

This suggestion is made by Carl M. Saunders, editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot who won the Pulitzer prize for the most outstanding editorial in 1949. We quote:

All over America Communists and gullible stooges are circulating "peace petitions."

The petitions are phony because they assume to ask for outlawing the atomic bomb, although it is Russia which has blocked efforts of the United Nations to set up an honest program for control of atomic weapons.

They are phony also because of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloop and Bobby and Dorothy of Boyne City and Judy Gilkerson. All had an enjoyable time.

(Delayed from last week)

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ingells called on Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gilkerson Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bancroft called on Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jones at Ironton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCullen left Saturday for Breckenridge to attend a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Vander Ark visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Boss Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamradt and son, Charles, called on Mr. and Mrs. August Bulman Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Meulman called at the Claud Gilkersons and Delbert Ingells homes Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boss and family were supper guests at his mothers, Mrs. John Boss of Charlevoix, last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Donaldson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Donaldson and family made an enjoyable trip to Cross Village, Sunday.

Mrs. Hott called on Mrs. Fred Bancroft Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates of Alba spent a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Warren Franks.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Veverka, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Satlfa and children of Brookfield, also Carl Knop of Wilson Twp. spent Sunday afternoon and evening visiting at the August Bulman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown and two sons of Roseville came Saturday to spend a two week's vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown also to do some fishing.

They pretend to have the backing of the United Nations and Trygve Lie, secretary, although both the UN and Mr. Lie have condemned the North Korean invasion of South Korea.

A few people actuated only by a dread of war and an honest desire for peace have signed these petitions.

That's where Red propaganda scores.

Why not offset that score? We Americans believe in peace. We didn't want to go to Korea. In fact, we got out once.

We are fighting today under direction of the United Nations and under the flag of that world-wide organization.

Why not say so? Why not tell the chief of all the Russians that we're for peace and ask him to cooperate?

Let's write to Joseph Stalin, premier of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, telling him that we're for peace and asking him to cut out the dirty work and join up.

Isn't that a good idea?

Each of us write a postcard to: Premier Joseph Stalin, care of the Russian Embassy, Washington, D. C.

On that postcard we could say something like this: "Dear Mr. Premier:

"Communists in this country say you want peace.

"So do we—really. Fake petitions don't fool us. The way to peace is to call your Red friends out of South Korea and quit bullying small non-Communist nations. "We'll get out of South Korea as soon as your gang does.

"And we'll outlaw the atom bomb if you'll permit constant surveillance of all laboratories and factories which might produce the bomb.

"Don't let your agents mislead you. We lambaste President Truman on home affairs; but so far as Korea or any other threat from outside the US, we're back of the President all the way.

Probably you can write a better postcard than that. You can say that you don't want your boy or your neighbor's boy to have to fight; but you want Stalin to know that they will fight if needed and if they do it's really peace they're fighting for.

But anyway, let's write to Joe. Let's get it off our chests.

Buy your postcard and send it along, and urge others in your family to do the same. A postcard costs only one cent.

This may sound silly; but it isn't. We know that Russia gets a great lot of misleading information from its agents in this country just as Hitler did, who thought we wouldn't fight. We know also that the Russian embassy reports to Moscow even little things which show trends.

It's just possible that, if the postcard shower spreads, Russia might decide reports of disunity in America aren't true.

Let's do it! Write a postcard to Joe Stalin!

"I may be a dummy, but I do know that the telephone directory Yellow Pages speak for themselves."
