Spring Is On Its Way

SPRING IS COMING. MARCH ALSO BRINGS AN ECLIPSE OF SUN

A partial eclipse of the sun on March 7 and the arrival of Spring on March 21 will provide the third month of the year with more than the usual astronomical highlights.

The eclipse will take place near sunset and will cover up only about nine per cent of the sun's surface, according to Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

"The necessary requirements for a solar eclipse are to have the moon in a new phase, which means that the moon passes between the earth and the sun, and also for the three bodies to be lined up in a row so that the moon will blot out a part or all of the sun as viewed from the earth," Dr. Losh says.

In this region, the eclipse will begin at 5:15 p. m., EST, on Wednesday, March 7, and will be over at 6:09 p. m., just before the sun disappears over the horizon. Dr. Losh says the eclipse will be easily visible if the weather is clear despite the fact it will place so close to the horizon. Even though the sun's light will be considerable dimmed, she suggests using heavily smoked glass or dense film negatives as protection for the eyes.

"Spring is due at 5:26 a. m., EST on Wednesday, March 21," Dr. Losh reports. "At this time, the sun will cross the equator and continue its journey northward bringing with it longer days and more warmth."

Spring is arriving nearly six hours later than it did in 1950, she says, because it takes the sun 365.24219 days to make its yearly journey around the earth. The fact that the sun can't make its trip in exactly 365 days is the reason why we add an extra day to the calendar every four years to keep us in tune with sun's travels.

Because of this the bending, or refraction, of light, the time between sunrise on the day Spring arrives, Dr. Losh reports. Actually, day and night will be exactly equal on March 18, three days before the date of the equinox.

The Friendly Circle Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Louise Hart March 2nd. Twelve members and one guest were present. A dessert lunch was served by the hostess, followed by the business meeting.

Mrs. Laura Malpass gave an interesting and instructive talk on suggested readings. It is hoped that each member will read at least two good books a year.

Roll call was answered by each member telling a nice thing a neighbor had done for them. There are many good neighbors according to reports.

Mrs. Erdine Rogers told of part of her recent trip to Georgia and Florida. Due to the lack of time her account will be continued at the April meeting. It was too interesting to miss.

Keep Lumber Coming

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT OF FARM WOOD LOTS IMPORTANT

Much of Michigan's forest resources depends on farmers. Careful management of farm wood lots, which make up a large part of the state's timber land, is important to "keep lumber coming" in future years, according to Leigh J. Young, professor of silviculture in the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources.

Wood lot cultivation has become forgotten farming in many cases, the professor says. Soil has deteriorated because many lots are grazed by cattle. Others have been cut up in a haphazard manner with no regard for the trees. These practices have resulted in more and more stands of low grade trees with very little propagation of the more desirable species, the forester reports.

Rehabilitation of woods is a long job, but excellent assistance and suggestions can be secured by the interested farmer from the U. S. Forest Service, county foresters and the Soil Conservation Service representatives in Michigan.

The farmer must be willing to wait for results from his wood lot management, Professor Young says.

"Get the cattle out of the woods, first. They graze on the seedling trees and kill them. To allow the trees to reproduce grazing must be stopped."

"Like any garden, a wood lot needs weeding out too. Badly formed trees, poor species and trees that have started to rot should all be removed."

Hardwood trees like white ash and basswood need plenty of light for survival and good growth, the Michigan professor states. He suggests that 100 foot openings be cleared near stands of hardwood so there will be sufficient light and space for seedling to start. If there are numbers of oak trees in the lot he recommends that the ground be disced before they start seeding. These measures will aid reproduction of the better species, he says.

Wood lots can also become money makers if much of the acreage is put into Christmas trees, Professor Young points out. In Southern Michigan climate white pine, Austrian pine and Douglas fir seem to succeed best. These can be planted around the margins or in large open section of wood lots.

The farmer who takes time to properly manage his wood lot may not immediately appreciate the value of the work but his children and grandchildren will call him a farsighted man when they enjoy the stands of good timber he cultivated. Professor Young believes.

Intangible Taxes Due March 31st

The Michigan Department of Revenue has issued a warning to all owners of property which is subject to Intangible Tax, that returns for the year of 1950 are due not later than March 31.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land notes payable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States Bonds, including War Bonds, are exempt from the tax, and the tax on bank deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100% taxable including Michigan Corporations.

The Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangible Tax Act. Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

Assistance in preparing Intangible Tax returns may be had by calling for an appointment either N. M. Risk, phone Petoskey 2370 or Jay C. Harbaugh, phone Petoskey 3645. In addition to assisting taxpayers in preparation of returns, advise will be gladly given any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangible Tax Act.

Those desiring this advise or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including face or par value, income received therefrom during the year and a copy of the previous year's return filed with the Department.

The annual Style Show will be sponsored this year by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 227 at the Legion Home March 12, at 8 o'clock.

We have been fortunate to secure Miss Blanche Graham, as guest for the show. Miss Graham is considered one of the Country's leading costumiers, her picture recently appeared in Life Magazine as one of the outstanding women in her field. Miss Graham comes here direct from Chicago, and will be able to give us a lot of fine pointers on the current fashions. We feel it is an honor and privilege to have such outstanding personage in our community.

A fine program is planned. Cards will be provided for those who wish to play, so why not make up a party of friends and plan to spend a social evening with the Auxiliary?

Thora Kotowich will have charge of the refreshments committee and Marietta Walden will plan the decorations. There will be no set charge. Everyone welcome.

Make Close Check
At Farrowing Time

Watchful care at farrowing time can help out new-born pig losses, say swine specialists at Michigan State College.

They suggest that farmers provide comfortable, clean, warm quarters for the sow and pigs. Sows should be eating regularly if they don't find out why, the swine specialists advise.

When the litter is born, help the pigs to suckle, especially the weaker ones. If the pigs are not suckling, or if the sow isn't providing any milk, find out the reason.

Watch the sow for any signs of fever, mastitis, or discharge and watch the pigs for any sign of unthriftiness, scouring or evidence of disease.

Poultry Face
Triple Threat
During Winter

There are "triple threats" in football and Howard Zindel, Michigan State College extension poultry specialist and former Spartan football notable, says winter carries a triple threat for poultry too.

He listed them as (1) wet litter, (2) poor ventilation and (3) colds. Where you find one, you may find the others, Zindel has discovered.

Growers have a tendency to close houses too tightly in cold weather. Then the moisture given off by the birds condenses on the walls and ceilings, runs off onto the floor and causes wet litter. Along with this, the droppings tend to stay wet when humidity and water the birds spill on the floor does not evaporate.

Correcting ventilation is the first step to stopping wet litter. Exhaust fans do much to let fresh air in and damp air out. Proper regulation of the windows will do the job in many instances. Zindel says applying hydrated lime at a rate of 15 pounds for each 100 square feet of litter surface is a good management practice and tends to dry the litter. Anchoring waterers will stop the spilling of water. If you're using a built-up litter system, stir the litter.

Some of these steps will help stop colds among the birds. One additional step is to remove birds with colds and keep them away from the healthy birds and prevent continued spread. Colds are contagious. Avoid overcrowding, disinfect the house and put in clean litter if possible. The use of sulfa-thiazole as a medication is also recommended by the poultry authority.

Chop Pooey

The recent arrival from China was trying desperately to catch a train and his patient oriental nature was being put to a test because the porter couldn't locate his baggage. Wung Sung became very upset and finally, just as the train was about to depart and his bags were still unlocated, he hammered on the counter and exploded in these words:

"Pretty darn seldom where my bag go. She no fly. You no more fit to run station than Pete's sake. That's all, I hope!"

Poor Soul

A mountainer, on his first visit to a city of any size, was fascinated by the asphalt streets. Scraping his feet on the hard surface, he remarked to his boy: "Well, I can't blame 'em for building a town here. The ground's too darned hard to plow anyhow."

SOME ENDURANCE!

A gentle old Quaker, driving along a lane between Newton and Hornsey, encountered a young man driving from the opposite direction. There was not room enough for them to pass each other unless one of them would back his car.

"I think," called out the Quaker in a fatherly tone, "thou should make way for me, for I am older than thou art."

"I'll not budge an inch," the young man angrily replied. Then he pulled out a newspaper and began to read as he sat in his car.

The Quaker leaned back comfortably in his seat and let his eyes wander contentedly over the peaceful rural scene. "Friend," he called out at length, "when thou has read that paper I should be glad if thou wouldst lend it to me."

The young man gave up the contest.

GETTING THE BIRD

A New Yorker was driving through a barren wilderness in West Texas when a fancy bird skittled past the car. "What kind of fowl do you call that?" he asked. The driver answered proudly, "That's a bird of paradise." "Hm-m-m," mused the New Yorker, "Kind of far from home, isn't he?"

Tragic Song

An Arkansas sheep ranchman was sold on the fact that music would cause his sheep to grow longer and better wool. He purchased an automatic changer phonograph and allowed it to play all the afternoon in the pasture where his sheep were grazing. One night he found his favorite buck sheep lying dead. He investigated and found that the last record played was one that Sinatra sang, "There'll Never Be Another You."

SHE SPILLED THEM
Visiting a parishioner's home for Sunday dinner, the minister placed some green beans on his plate. Intently watching, the little girl of the home exclaimed, "See, Daddy, he took some beans." "You said he didn't know beans."

Council Proceedings

On motion of Obert Burull, and supported by George Rebec, the following resolution was introduced:

Whereas—the dumping of raw sewage into the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix by the City of East Jordan, created a hazard to the health of residents of that area; and

Whereas, the above contamination of the waters of the lake creates a hazard to the health of our summer visitors, and therefore greatly detracts from the desirability of the area as a vacation region; and

Whereas, the State Stream Control Commission has ordered that the City of East Jordan discontinue dumping raw sewage into the South Arm by June 1952, and

Whereas, the City of East Jordan is obligated to construct and maintain an adequate Sewage Disposal System; and that such a system is estimated to cost $120,000; that such an amount be provided for the construction of the same,

Be it therefore resolved that there be a Special Election on April 16, 1951, to vote on the following proposition:

Shall the City Assessor be authorized to spread a 5 mill tax on all real and personal property subject to taxation in the City of East Jordan, beginning in 1951, and each year thereafter, not to exceed 25 years?

Thelma M. Hegerberg, City Clerk.

Barn Ventilation

"How can I prevent condensation of moisture in my dairy barn?" That's a question that's come to Ed Rebman, County agricultural agent, from many farmers in recent weeks.

The farm adviser thinks farmers should consider the cause before they look for a quick cure. He points out that every cow gives off more than 7 quarts of water in her breath alone every 24 hours. A 20-cow herd will give off a total of more than 37 gallons of water in a day. "If someone sneaked in your barn every night and poured that much water on the floor you would start doing something about it quick, the agent asserted.

He explained that cold air entering the building is heavy and drops to the floor. As it picks up heat and moisture it rises until it reaches the ceiling. Then it moves to the outside toward the walls, which are cold, and this squeezes out the moisture and it simply clings to the walls and sometimes to the ceilings.

Rebman says the first cure is to insulate the walls, especially the upper four feet. The second is to put in a ventilator, an exhaust fan, and several intakes. The agent has plans for barn ventilation that have been prepared by agricultural engineers at Michigan State College in his offices located at Boyne City.

ASBESTOS SHINGLES EASY TO CLEAN:

Asbestos shingles are popular in both city and country, says Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, who receives many requests for ways to remove stains from this type of material.

Most of these stains are under windows of any place where wires are fastened to the house with metal clips.

The agent has received word from A. J. Bell, agricultural engineer at Michigan State College, advising that there are several methods of stain removal.

Iron rust stains can be removed by brushing with a solution made of one cup of muriatic acid to four gallons of water. Rinse thoroughly after brushing. A five percent solution of phosphoric acid or two percent solution of oxalic acid may be used. Rinse afterwards.

Another remedy for iron rust stains is seven parts of glycerine to one part sodium citrate in six parts of lukewarm water, mixed with enough whitening to form a soft paste. Trowel on over stain and allow to dry. Scrape off and rinse. Repeat if necessary.

For copper and bronze stains, the agent recommends brushing on a five percent solution of acetic acid or ordinary household white vinegar. Rinse thoroughly.

POTATO GROWERS TO MEET:

Both certified and tablestock potato growers will meet Wednesday evening, March 14 in the basement of the Boyne City Library starting promptly at 8:30 p.m. according to announcement by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. D. L. Clanshan, farm crops specialist from Michigan State College will be present to discuss some of the problems that potato growers faced during last year and to offer recommendations and suggestions for raising potatoes during 1951.

Mild Weather Improving Conditions For Deer

Mild weather is improving conditions for Michigan deer but conservation department field men report further evidence that winter losses in the lower peninsula may be severe.

Largest losses discovered so far are in the six-county Mio district. Only in Isosco county of this district are there no confirmed reports of dead deer as yet.

Seventeen starved fawns were found in Oscoda county and eight more were examined in other over-utilized range areas in the Gaylord and Baldwin districts.

Unseasonably mild weather has permitted deer to range out from the yards in all lower peninsula districts. Deer are widely scattered in the Mio district.

In the upper peninsula, deer conditions are poorest in the Newberry district. There is limited ranging from upper peninsula yards with the least snow.

Dairy calves should be born in a pen or stall that is free of soiling material and has plenty of clean bedding, say Michigan State College extension dairymen.

One of the big changes in farming in recent years is that it's easier to go broke in the business than it used to be. The reason, according to agricultural economists, is the big investment required by the modern farmer.

Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery

Soon Will Be Processing Whole
Milk In Addition To Farm
Separated Cream . . .

Yes — the big, fine modern plant of Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery at East Jordan soon will be accepting whole milk from dairy farmers in Michigan's northern counties of the lower peninsula . . . a new and added operation to our processing of farm separated cream into fine Valley Lea Butter.

New equipment is being installed and we expect to be in operation with our new milk processing plant the latter part of April, when we will start accepting whole milk from producers . . . dairy farmers should make plans — now — to market either whole milk or farm-separated cream through their own organization, receiving in return the highest price possible to pay, consistent with market selling levels of finished products. Besides — the entire savings of the business come back to every member-producer in direct proportion to the amount of milk or cream shipped.

After our new milk plant starts, the choice will be up to you, the dairy producer — either whole milk for manufacturing purposes, or farm-separated cream for butter-making.

By What Authority?
Lesson for March 11, 1951

IS IT right or wrong? This is a fair question always. But there is another question to go with it. Who is it right or wrong? Who is the authority? "Authority" means more than "orders." It means the final judge, the court of last appeal.

Dr. Foreman

Neither You nor the Crowd
SOME SAY: Nobody can tell me what to do; I do as I please. There is no authority I am bound to recognize. Such a person has an authority, all the same: himself. For him, "what I want" and "what I like" are the only reasons for anything and all the reasons he wants.

Now aside from the fact that such people are a nuisance to all concerned, and the fact that they can't even pretend to be Christians, this point of view won't work. The person who acts as his own authority runs into others who take themselves as their authority, and the result is the awful mess called anarchy. So all sensible people do recognize some authority outside themselves. They want approval from outside, from above.

But whose approval do they want? Under whose jurisdiction, as lawyers would say, do they live? Some recognize only that vast and vague authority known as "Everybody." If everybody does it, it must be right, if nobody does it, it's bound to be wrong.

Well, this is not necessarily so. Fifty million Frenchmen can be wrong, or 150 million Americans for that matter. You can't take a vote and decide what's right and what's wrong by a simple count of Ayes and Noses. Neither you alone, nor a crowd no matter how big, can be the final Authority on Life.

Calendar, Code, Conscience
ANOTHER proposed authority, believe it or not, is the calendar. Some people will not read a book or see a show or wear a dress or listen to music that isn't up to the minute. If it's "dated" it's dead, unless the date is today.

That is silly, on the face of it. But there are other more respectable authorities which are still not THE Authority. One of these is the Law. If it's legal it's right, say some people, and it can't be right unless it's legal.

There is something true in this, of course. We should by all means obey the laws, and also see that good laws are made and bad ones repealed. But law is not the final authority on right and wrong. Lawmakers can make mistakes. What is a good law at one time may be a bad law under other circumstances.

The best laws can never catch up with the morals of the best people. Still other people take as their authority conscience, meaning their own conscience. This is not quite the same as taking your own wishes or pleasure for your guide. Your conscience may lay unwelcome burdens on you. But while every one should of course follow his conscience, still anybody's conscience can be asleep or mistaken.

Some of the worst crimes in history have been committed by some of the most conscientious people.

God's Last Word
WHAT, THEN, is the highest authority for the Christian? Nothing and no one less than Jesus Christ himself. As we were thinking a few weeks ago, the very word "Christ" is a symbol of authority at the highest level.

In Jesus' day there were two supreme symbols of God: the Law and the Temple. Jesus not only assumed superiority to the Law, but (as our Lesson reminds us) of the Temple itself, though he was no priest and had no ecclesiastical position whatsoever. If there is a difference between Christian and non-Christian today, it is not that Jesus is the authority for one and not for the other; rather it is that the non-Christian refuses to recognize what is the fact: that for us and for all men, Jesus Christ is God's "last word" to mankind.

And if some say that the law of love is the supreme authority, is there any real difference between the spirit of Jesus and the law of love? For he is God's love incarnate.

4-H Club Work Attracts Many Non-Farm Youths

Although you normally think of 4-H Club work for rural boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 years, Michigan's 1950 membership included 12,000 non-farm youths. A. G. Kettunen, state leader at Michigan State College, East Lansing, cites the fact that nearly 20 percent of the membership was in youth not living on farms.

The program, which reaches more youth than any other organization, celebrates National 4-H Club Week, March 3 to 11. The week is being used by the members, leaders and friends of the organization to acquaint others with the program.

Kettunen points out that local clubs, aided by 7,000 local volunteer leaders, reached nearly 60,000 boys and girls in Michigan last year. Clubs are organized for young people who are interested in agriculture, homemaking and community activities and who want to "learn by doing."

County extension offices coordinate the program in each of the counties through county agricultural agents, 4-H Clubs agents and home demonstration agents. The program is financed jointly by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Michigan State College and local county governments as a part of the Cooperative Extension Program.

Clothing projects were the most popular among the more than twenty available to girl members. More than 19,000 girls took part in clothing work and entered their resulting accomplishments in local, county or state competition.

Handicraft with 12,000 participants, was the leading project for boys. Some girls, too, entered project work in this field.

Many county organizations are using this week to interest more youth in the 4-H Club program.

Single Position Hand Signal
Seventh Story

Drivers owing cars of a vintage before the mechanical turn and stop signal devices were built-in should be keeping their left arms in shape by extending them straight out the window when planning to stop or turn.

"What 'ya think I'll do next?" a highway game of letting the other fellow guess the next turn, maneuver, is pointed out as a vicious habit by 305 instructors teaching 32,550 high school students under the AAA driver-education and training plan.

State law requires the driver to use the Michigan "single position" arm signal for turns and stops if his car is not equipped with the mechanical device. The approved position of the arm is extended straight out.

Most out-of-state drivers and U. S. military personnel, however, have been taught the three-position signal system, which every driver should know.

Right Turn — arm extended upward
Stop Or Slow Down — arm extended downward.

Flicking ashes from a cigarette with the arm extended way out is discourteous driving, the teacher add, for such activity is usually interpreted as a turn warning by drivers behind.

Hundreds of school children are killed and injured on streets and highways during March each year. Rainy weather contributes greatly to these accidents. In an effort to reduce March child fatalities, Automobile Club of Michigan has put up 10,000 of the "Be Extra Alert on Rainy Days" posters in the schools of Michigan. Classroom sessions on safety during March will be conducted with the help of 29,000 safety lesson sheets distributed to teachers along with the posters.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Premier Joe Stalin Attacks Britain, United States for Korean Conflict; 100,000 European Force Is Planned

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

The Chinese Communist offensive aimed at Wouju in an effort to split the United Nations line came to an abrupt halt with the destruction of two Red divisions. U.N. troops then pushed forward in a limited offensive that carried up to six miles along the 70-mile sector from Seoul to Wouju. The Reds were reported to have lost approximately 31,000 troops in their one week offensive.

STALIN:

The Role of Prophet

Prime Minister Stalin, in one of his rare public statements, predicted the destruction of two Red divisions. U.N. troops then pushed forward in a limited offensive that carried up to six miles along the 70-mile sector from Seoul to Wouju. The Reds were reported to have lost approximately 31,000 troops in their one week offensive.

Assuming the role of a prophet thundering from his mountain, the Soviet leader attempted to intimidate the free nations of the world, to stir up discord between the North Atlantic pact nations, and brand Russia the only true champion of world peace. He succeeded only in tangling himself in a web of contradictions and lies.

There was even a minor threat of war when he said war "cannot be considered inevitable," but that it might come if the "warmongers succeed in entangling the masses of the people in lies, in deceiving them."

Stalin went so far as to blisteringly denounce British Prime Minister Attlee for "lying" in saying that Russia had not demobilized after World War II. For his efforts in this direction, Stalin received a sharp slap by the British government with the charge that Russian armed forces now total 175 divisions, 25,000 tanks and 20,000 planes. With tongue in cheek, the British pointed out that figures don't lie.

Some western observers, noting Stalin's assertion that the U.N. was "burying its moral prestige and dooming itself to disintegration," believed Russia may be preparing to quit the organization.

No one in his right mind could believe any of Stalin's statements and the left-handed assertion that Russia really wants peace. To the contrary, Stalin's statements and the American and British replies only point up the seriousness of the present world situation.

The statement should do much to bring about a concentrated effort on the part of the west for what now seems inevitable.

KOREA:

Reds Pull Back

United Nations troops in Korea regained the offensive after breaking the back of the Communist attack which saw the Chinese suffering an estimated 31,000 casualties.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's troops pushed forward in limited advances, but there were indications that Ridgway would not cross the 38th parallel in the immediate future.

There remain large unlocated Chinese elements north of the old political boundary line and the Chinese could bring down masses of men from further north.

Ground gains have assumed a secondary role in the Korean fighting. General Ridgway seems to be operating on the theory of hitting the Communists where the maximum number of casualties can be inflicted and retiring to established positions to plan the next move.

No one can foresee the end of the Korean war which has raged up and down the peninsula for eight months. And although the Chinese have suffered defeats in recent weeks there is no indication that they are seriously hurt.

TROOPS:

Marshall Tells Plans

Gen. George Marshall, secretary of defense, took much of the steam out of the "great debate" over the question of American military aid to Europe when he told congress that the U.S. planned to send 100,000 more men abroad. The number was much smaller than had been expected.

It seems fortunate that opponents of the administration's foreign policy finally forced General Marshall to reveal the exact number of men. It certainly provided the Soviet Union with a valuable bit of military information.

Official Washington circles reported that sharp debate preceded the decision to tell the size of the army planned for Europe. Both the defense and state departments were against the disclosure.

However, continued attacks on foreign military aid by influential senators, including Taft of Ohio and Wherry of Nebraska, forced the decision. These attacks were continued even after Taft and members of the senate armed service committee were informed in secret of the plans.

General Marshall told the senators that for security reasons he spoke "reluctantly." His reluctance was understandable in that he knew and disapproved of giving aid and comfort to a possible enemy of the United States. It is too bad other prominent figures on the national scene did not feel the same way as General Marshall, Washington observers reported.

LABOR:

An Open Revolt

Angry labor leaders were in open revolt against the nation's mobilization program. It began when the wage stabilization board voted 6 to 3 to stabilize wages at a level generally 10 per cent above that of January 15, 1950. Three labor members quit the board.

But labor's complaint against the board's new formula for equalizing wages proved to be only a pretext. What they really had on their chests was a whole series of gripes against Charles E. Wilson, director of mobilization.

They contended that labor was not given a prominent place in policy-making, and that attempts were made to freeze wages while food prices and rents were still unsettled.

Many observers believed that the blowup was inevitable, that sooner or later someone would challenge the vast power bestowed upon Wilson and the "bull-it-through" manner in which he wielded that power.

It was the old story of big business and labor in open conflict. But in this instance it was the nation's mobilization program that suffered.

Also on the labor front, the brotherhood of railway trainmen unexpectedly pleaded guilty to contempt charges arising from "sick" strikes in the Washington yards and were fined $75,000.

Labor circles wondered to what extent the guilty plea—a union assuming responsibility for "wildcat" strikes—would effect other pending cases, and whether it would help control wildcat tactics in the future.

CONTROLS:

New Curbs Likely

The protests of the nation's housewives, labor and the average homeowner may bring about new legislations soon to stabilize food prices. Eric Johnston, economic-stabilization director, hinted that legislation will be requested to "equalize and stabilize" farm prices and industrial wages.

Critics of recent enacted wage-price controls contend that the law protecting farmers' standard of living—by the parity device—is making a mockery of the government's anti-inflation program.

On the other hand, farm spokesmen have countered with a charge that an attempt is being made to smear farmers and make them the goat in any federal move to roll back prices.

Johnston is on something of a spot, with the housewives and labor lined up on one side and the farm bloc on the other. He has expressed himself as believing the farmer is entitled to his parity. But by the same token, the laboring man is entitled to his parity, too, for as the cost of food goes up, the cost of living goes up.

Meanwhile, the government slapped on stiff new credit terms for nonresidential construction, amounting to 50 per cent down payments, in its battle against inflation.

The new order called for one-half down on construction of new stores, offices, hotels, banks, warehouses, garages, auto-service stations, restaurants, theaters, clubs and "other new structures."

The same requirement applies to repair, enlargement, alteration, and reconstruction of existing commercial buildings if the cost of the improvement exceeds 15 per cent of the building's appraised value.

SPORTS:

Game-Fix Scandal

The sensational disclosure of basketball game-fixing involving three New York colleges and a number of prominent players had repercussions as far down as the home towns of America.

Basketball is the most popular high school and college sport in the nation. Year after year a greater number of people see basketball games—from cracker-box gymnasiums to Madison Square Garden—than witness any other sport.

It is apparent that game-fixing has not been confined to New York alone. A number of investigations which are just being launched will undoubtedly reveal bribery in many sections of the country.

High school basketball in the home towns of the nation does not draw national headlines, but there can be little doubt that there must have been numerous cases of attempted game-fixing on the high school level.

The scandal among the big schools, if nothing else, will bring about closer inspection of the game on the home town level. It may cause a clean-up that will again stress fair play and sportsmanship among the nation's youth.

CHINA:

An Inside Report

The first reliable information from within Communist China since that country's intervention in Korea was made public by Arthur Moore, a British newspaperman who visited Peiping with the backing of the Indian ambassador.

Moore reported the large number of casualties in Korea was causing concern to Red China's leaders and that Manchurian hospital facilities had been unable to care for the wounded.

The war in Korea, although waged on a limited scale, is still somewhat of a surprise to the Chinese. Casualties are greater than expected and a major gasoline problem has developed.

Off to Europe

In a supposedly secret departure, witnessed by some 25 reporters and 75 cameramen, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and his wife, Mamie, board the Queen Elizabeth. The general returned to Europe to resume his command of western defense forces.

POST OFFICE:

Plans Major Shift

What was undoubtedly the most important change in basic postal transportation policy since air mail was announced by the post office department, the plan is to transfer short-haul mail from the railroad to highway trucks.

The postal department first planned the shift when the railroads filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 95 per cent increase in mail-pay rates.

NEW BIBLE—
Modern English Edition Is Planned

The division of Christian education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., announced a revised edition of the Bible will be ready for distribution by September 30, 1952.

The new Bible will be in clear, modern English, with words of more modern usage substituted for words which long ago lost their meaning. Although there is some minor opposition to another revision the council is expected to proceed with its plan.

The new revised standard version will go to press after scholars complete the translation of the Old Testament. Translation of the New Testament was completed in 1946. The revised standard version was first authorized in 1937 by the council's predecessor.

March 3 to 11 is National 4-H Club week. During this week, 4-H clubs are pointing out what has been accomplished in their program. K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent says the program in Charlevoix County is big business. During 1950, clubs in the county carried projects whose total valuation was $11,293.75. Figures show that 4-H club members made a profit of $4,450.26. A great many 4-H projects have an educational value and they can not be measured in dollars and cents. Such projects are conservation, food preparation, grooming and tractor maintenance. Other vital statistics concerning the 1950 4-H program showed an enrollment of 451 different boys and girls. They carried on an average, two projects. The handicraft members made 948 articles, food preparation cooked 6210 meals, girls made 311 garments in sewing, 235 articles were made by knitters, 1388 quarts of fruit were canned and 56 dairy animals were raised. There were 24 summer project clubs and 47 project clubs in the winter.

Just to give some idea of the scope of the program in Michigan, here are some State figures. Michigan has 60,000 members in all. The most popular project is clothing with 19,000 enrolled. Second in popularity is handicraft with 12,000 enrolled, next is gardening with 7,000 enrolled and then dairy with 6,000.

Several clubs have made plans to display articles they have made in their projects in local store windows.

NATIONAL 4-H YOUTH CENTER PURCHASED: Charlevoix County 4-H clubs have pledged themselves to contribute funds to help purchase a National 4-H Center says K. C. Festerling, district 4-H Club agent.

The business transaction for the center has been completed. The property is the former Chevy Chase Junior College at Washington, D. C. The property consists of a 12 acre campus with five beautiful buildings. It is a 20 minute drive from the White House. A twenty minute drive north brings you to the open country side of the beautiful state of Maryland. It is a valuable piece of property. In area, location, adaptability for use as a 4-H center it far surpasses the fondest dreams of those who have worked on this project since 1927.

The center will provide lodging, dining and conference facilities for groups up to 300 persons. It will be operated year around on a non-profit basis, for visiting groups of 4-H members of adult extension groups, and extension agents.

Contributions will be solicited from the entire nation. Each club members share is 10 cents. Char'x County's quota is $45.70. Each club will plan some special way to raise their quota.

EIGHT STORY

A telescope isn't needed to recognize a road sign many yards before you can read it with the naked eye.

Because Michigan uses standard road signs, the shape of the warning sign alone will reveal which of six categories it falls into, say teachers in 305 state high school AAA Driver-Training courses sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan.

The six types of signs and their shapes are: Octagonal — Stop. (Not to be confused with the big "X" stop, look, listen sign at the rails).

Diamond — A warning of any kind, such as "Men Working," and Pavement Ends.

Verticle Rectangle — A regulation of any kind, such as "Hill, No Passing."

Horizontal Rectangle — A direction, such as "One Way."

Square — A caution for special road hazards, such as "Pedestrian Crossing," or "Soft Shoulder."

As for traffic lights, the behind-the-wheel pupils are learning that at an ordinary traffic light blinking red (not a railroad blinker), the driver is required to stop, look and start again only when it is safe to proceed. A blinking yellow light means "continue to move with caution."

As some beauty is seen only in the time of darkness, so some of God's blessings can shine forth only from our trials. As Jesus faced toward Jerusalem and Calvary, he said to James and John who wanted to be important in the Kingdom of God, "Are We Able to Drink of the Cup That I Shall Drink Of?" — Matt. 20:21.

Those who have met the problems and disappointments of life with confidence in their Heavenly Father have found a new strength. And a new vision of God's love toward them. Their eyes have beheld a new majesty in his ways. They can say with the Psalmist of old, "Oh! Lord Our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! Who has set thy glory above the heavens." — Ps. 8:1

Keep your tractor engine clean as an aid to easier cold weather starting, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

Double alternately blinking red lights indicate a crossing train.

Road markers are designed so that motorists can tell by their shape what part of government maintains them. A shield indicates a U. S. highway; a diamond, a Michigan highway; and a square, a county road.

Even the shape of a standard traffic sign has a definite meaning, say teachers in 305 Michigan AAA Driving-Training courses sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan.

The School Bell...

KINDERGARTEN — Helen Severance

We are all looking for robins. We are anxious to see some, for then we think spring is on its way. We are learning a robin song.

Our books are lots of fun. We have pictures for some of the stories we all know.

Chuckie Strehl went to Detroit last week. He told us about the circus he went to. He liked the lions, the tigers and the clowns.

Some of our mothers and fathers have bought baby chicks. We are learning all about them.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Stokes

DIARY OF A FLOWER

Feb. 28 — My buds are fat. One bud is starting to pop open.

March 1 — I am lonesome. The children did not come today. It is too stormy.

March 2 — I have a flower. It is a yellow daffodil.

March 3 — The sun is not shining but my second bud is opening.

March 4 — Now I have two flowers but there is no one here to see.

March 5 — The children saw my two pretty flowers today. The children named me Daffy-down-Dilly. I went to Mrs. Seiler's room to see the children. Today is Betty Healey's birthday. Her father brought cupcakes and candy.

March 6 — My stems are long. I am growing bigger. I am all blossomed out. The children put me in the shade so I will last longer.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Bowerman

Eddie Thompson is a new member in our first grade. We are glad to welcome him to our room.

Paula Burull had her tonsils removed last Saturday so she is absent this week. We wrote a letter to her for language on Tuesday. We are trying hard to keep our letters on the line and our words well spaced.

Susan Jeffery brought the first pussy willows to our room. We drew pictures of them in art class. We are saving these pictures to put in our "Spring booklets."

Our "clowns" reading group finished "Day In and Day Out" and this week we started "Our New Friends." Several children in this group have prepared and read stories to us in story time.

SECOND Grade — Cora Seiler

Two weeks ago Mr. Sanderson gave us some plants. We have watered them and now they are in blossom. They are daffodils. They brighten our room.

We are studying the map of Michigan. We can find East Jordan and some other towns. Now we can tell the names of all the big lakes that surround Michigan.

The puzzle map of United States is very popular. There are some who can put it together in a very few minutes.

Our new poem for this month is "The Wind" by Robert Louis Stevenson. We are talking about the many things the wind can do. Some day we hope to fly some kites at recess and see whose kite can stay up the longest.

Mrs. Seiler is reading "Coccolia Comes to America." It tells about a little donkey who left his island in Italy and came with Lucio, his master, to the bright new world where everything was so strange and exciting. The book was written by Bettina Ehlich.

We are making free hand cut-outs of flowers and mounting them on colored paper to make our room look pretty.

SECOND Grade — Mrs. Johnston

Our "News Time" last Wednesday was devoted to our motto for the week, "Kindness to One Another." Each one told one way in which he could be kind to someone. We learned there were many places at school, on the playground and at home where we could practice being kind.

We learned the poem "Spring" last week. The poem was taken from our Weekly Reader. We listed many signs of spring. Some of the signs were: snow melting, temperature outdoors going up, buds coming out on the trees, crows and robins coming back, mud, pussywillows, roller skating and playing marbles. We will keep adding to this list. After our long winter we are looking forward to spring.

We are beginning our Easter preparations. We have started to make our Easter baskets.

We were weighed last Monday by Betty, our school nurse. We believe our morning milk periods are helping us to grow as we are all gaining in weight.

Donelda Scott and David Bartholomew brought some pussywillows to school. These are the first we have seen this year.

Ronald Klooster and Barbara Kortan celebrated their birthdays this week. We each drew an Easter picture for them and sang the birthday song. Barbara served her class delicious cupcakes in honor of her birthday.

The children having March birthdays are: Helen Addis, Judith Gokee, Ronald Klooster, Mary Porter, Barbara Kortan, Harold Murray and Larry Schumacher. Each birthday was marked on our new March calendar.

Our room motto this week is, "Are We Being Neat?"

FIFTH Grade — E. Dhasleer

The room is beginning to look a little like spring with Easter and spring pictures up.

The fifth grade felt especially lucky the other day when the girls beat the sixth grade girls 6-0, and the boys won from the seventh grade boys 19-6 in basketball at noon.

We are beginning a unit on birds. We have one bulletin board full of bird pictures and are making a frieze showing birds which prefer each of four different locations.

Albert Hayes suggested we write to a boy in a Petoskey hospital who is very ill and who would like some mail. We are making cards and pictures for him.

We have been really enjoying using the dictionary lately. We borrowed some from other rooms so there is one for nearly every one of us. We have been doing the exercises in the front, one of which was to look up words to see if we would be pleased or not if we were called them.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

Gov. Williams who has been waiting since Jan. 5 for administrative bills in the legislature perhaps has made his move. Aides reported nothing has been done on the financial problem or the mental hospital situation. "Soon we (Democrats) will start dumping in our own bills," they said.

Suddenly the long-awaited four percent corporations bill came out of the brush. It was introduced by Rep. Walter N. Hill of Muskegon; yes he is a Democrat.

However some bi-partisan legislation has been introduced. A fair employment practices bill has come in and the proposed amendment for annual sessions will be on the ballot April 2. The administration favors both of these moves.

But the governor now is wrapped up in long range civil defense. He is sharply interested in the St. Lawrence river seaway. The U.S. might be forced in case of all-out war to use Labrador and South American iron ore. Without a seaway this supply would be unavailable to Michigan except at great expense.

Destruction of the Sault locks would cut the state's vital industries off from their raw materials. The Mesabi range still is producing—but complete war might exhaust this reservoir. Any of these things could cause industry to move east.

A civil defense production council has met and agreed on a survey of existing facilities in Michigan for war and defense contract. Also it recommends a Michigan office in Washington to keep state manufactures informed of defense needs. The sum of $58,000 will be needed to complete this fiscal year program.

The governor told the council he would work on the plan on his next Washington trip.

He promised also to investigate possible federal funds for the proposed Mackinac bridge. A plan has been submitted by the Mackinac Bridge Authority which is considered feasible financially and structurally. Another report will be made in May.

Abolition of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission has been recommended. Tom Downs says the agency should be its own commissioner chairman; be put under one head; that "the four-man commission occupies itself with too much administrative details and ignores policy-making." The change would put the agency under more direct control of the governor.

In addition to the question of annual sessions (instead of one regular session with the governor calling special sessions) Michigan voters will decide on two other amendments at election time. These would provide: A $500 death benefit to heirs of servicemen killed in the Korean war and $3,000 pay raises for the six state supreme court judges.

Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids) has sponsored a bill making it a misdemeanor to hire a migrant worker who has not a health certificate stating the laborer is free from tuberculosis.

Barring total war, there will be gasoline plenty next summer, according to oil company heads. They predict ration-free fuel of the same octane as now being marketed.

Meanwhile the state highway department—now spread all over Lansing—looks to an increased gasoline tax to boost dwindling road repair funds.

Purchase of 2,471 acres suitable for blocking in two wildlife project areas and expanding 10 established state game areas has state conservation approval. Total cost will be $71,874.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg's announcement that he will resume his duties in Washington soon again brings up the question of his 1952 retirement. Gov. Williams remains silent on his possible candidacy, stating only that he thinks he has "the finest job in Michigan right now" and plans to concentrate on it. If Vandenberg resigns in 1951, former Governor Murray D. Wagoner may get the Williams appointment.

The fire which drove 18 bureaus and agencies out of the rabbit warren of the state office building is all but forgotten—except the legislature and the uppldled ploies who now are located in 60 sites in Lansing—some even in quonset huts at Michigan State College. State offices in private buildings at Lansing now cost taxpayers $300,000 a year rentals.

With the startling disclosure that Detroit school children are being exposed to dope, Gov. G. Mennen Williams has begun probing all state agencies having to do with narcotics to see what type of legislation is needed to combat the menace. A bill already has been introduced raising the penalty for selling narcotics to minors to 15 years in prison and/or $4,000 fine.

The governor opposes the used car tax and the two cents gasoline levy. But he is not committed to a veto. Aides state that his "position will have to be clarified." The fact remains, he just doesn't like either tax.

If adversaries of a gasoline tax wished to overcome the antagonism of the governor on the bill, they would couple a one-cent gas tax with corporations tax which would leave him no alternative but to sign it into law.

Taxes? Michigan taxpayers (citizens and employers) paid $73.59 each to the state government last year, putting the state 10th high in the nation for per-capita levies. National state tax average is $61 per head. Total amount collected in Michigan in 1950 was $460,000,000. (Note: More than 78 per cent of each sales tax dollar is returned by the state to cities, counties, townships and schools. A major part of the state's $2,728.5 millions in federal taxes was corporation income taxes.)

In addition, taxpayers of the state contributed $2,728,500,685 of the 39 billion dollars in federal taxes last year. That is 7.05 per cent of the total paid in Michigan has 4.23 percent of the nation's population; state's share of the national income was 4.56 percent, a losing proposition. Federal taxes soared from $137.1 millions in 1930 to $2,728.5 millions in 1950.

But Michigan is among the 17 states without a state income tax and also one of the 15 states with no state corporation tax—thus far. (Voters repeatedly rejected an income tax. Michigan employers in 1949 paid $1,645 millions in federal taxes. This business tax load was transferred to consumers in higher prices.)

According to the governor, Michigan money draining out of the state because there is no state corporation tax. State taxes are deductible from federal taxes. Such is the Williams' viewpoint.

A St. Lawrence Seaway project apparently has been blocked. G.O.P. controlled senate business committee—and to all appearances will keep it there. Attention has been drawn to the seaway recently by speculation on a possible all-out war and draining of Michigan ore supplies, bombing of the Sault locks and the foreseeable necessities of utilizing Labrador or South American ore in midwest smelters.

At least $450,000 will be required to give minimum fireproofing of the state capitol building. Recommended is $225,000 for new wiring alone. In 1949 the same job was estimated at $186,000. State Controller Robert F. Steadman says that at that time the "legislature severely criticized the recommendation, and instead of supporting it, recaptured $33,000 previously for the work."

The federal government has authorized 60 hours of additional training for the Michigan National Guard during the first six months of 1951. This is in addition to the regular two-week stay at summer camp and the 48-weekly two-hour training periods.

The state defense council has asked the legislature for $7,126,000 to protect Michigan against attack. The figure is based on the belief that the federal government will contribute $3,149,000. Biggest item is $3,500,000 to continue and expand the blood typing program.

The legislature has $65,000,000 for mental and tuberculosis hospitals—and as yet not even the site of a T. B. hospital has been settled on. The sanatorium commission selected Kalamazoo; Berrien county drummed for the honor; Van Buren county has its bid in—the bed shortage continues.

Little Hoover commission says the department of agriculture needs an overhauling. Pictured as a "conglomeration of loosely administered and badly agricultural industry; institutional farms and state fair grounds, and the division of drains and food inspections.

The cost of living is taking a breather. For the first time in months it has halted its advance and prices of some food—chiefly meats—have slipped back. Probably no more than a breather. Prices advanced 6.5 per cent in 12 months as of Dec. 15, 1950. (Source: U.S. Department of Labor.)

Bowling News

Bowling in the Rainbow City Mixed Doubles Classic got under way Sunday, March 4th, with 47 couples taking part in the activities. Several couples came up from Cadillac and spent the entire day changing partners and joining with the local bowlers, as well as bowlers from Boyne City, for a real bowler's holiday. Nettie Hoover, 50-year-old bowlerette from Cadillac, rolled on every squad as did Minnie DesJardins and Eva Stark. Nettie carries a 161 average in Cadillac and bowls in three leagues and after rolling 15 games Sunday she had scored enough pins to give her exactly a 161 average for the day. Nettie says she'll be back again before the tournament ends, to try and better her scores. Minnie DesJardins and Eva Stark had better luck in their efforts. Minnie paired up with Wes Cooke from Cadillac to take over first place on the 1:00 p. m. squad, with 1243 which included her series of 482 and Wes Cooke's 602 and a handicap of 159. Minnie also holds 2nd and 3rd places in the tournament with different partners. She and Ted Ager from Charlevoix scored 1238 for runner up spot, while her last partner for the day, Bob Anderson from Cadillac, paired up for 3rd place with 1215. Minnie also added to the excitement of the day when she alternated strikes and spares for a dutch 200 game, the first to be bowled by any lady in East Jordan. ## Correct Stacking Important For Fresh Cut Lumber

Stacking lumber for air seasoning requires some special care, reports W. C. Randel, of the Michigan State College department of wood utilization.

He cautions farmers that the job must be done right. Green lumber, fresh from the saw, is a highly plastic material. The grade or quality of each individual board has already been determined both by the quality of the log and the method of sawing.

Randel says that if this quality is to be maintained, care must be taken during the drying process. Even the very best lumber can be ruined by improper stacking for drying.

Defects encouraged by poor lumber stacking are: checking (both surface and end), splits, warp, crook, stain, and decay. All can result in reduced usability and lower price.

In building a lumber pile, Randel calls attention to the following factors:

1. Location where it is level and well drained.

2. A foundation that will accommodate the load to be carried.

3. Careful and correct placing of boards on the pile.

4. Stickers of dry hardwood. Sticker lines viewed from the side of the pile should be vertical lines, and flush with or extending slightly over the ends of the lumber being piled.

5. A good roof should be provided to prevent damage to the pile from sun and rain.

AMERICA'S BEVERAGE OF MODERATION

The American Way

In Michigan, ice skating is a traditional part of winter out-of-doors. And after a brisk time at the rink... "The American Way" is to relax with friends over a pleasant glass of Michigan brewed beer.

For beer belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs... Enjoy It!
