Red Cross Fund Drive Now On For County

CHARLEVOIX CO. GOAL IS $3,550. VERN WHITEFORD IS LOCAL CHAIRMAN

The Charlevoix county Red Cross fund drive started this week in an effort to raise the county's goal of $3,550. Vern Whiteford is local chairman of the drive here and has named workers to canvass the various areas of the county.

FIRST WARD
Lida Howe, Jeanette Drenth, Sue Penfold, Eunice Bradshaw, Permelia Kamradt, Dessie Montrol, Ellen Shaw.

SECOND WARD
Mabel Winstone, Pauline Barnett, Maxine Griffin, Jean Pinney, Flora Church, Iva Archer.

THIRD WARD
Lillian Bates, Maud Porter, Vesta Cihak, Ruby Cihak.
Bill Porter will collect the business district.

World events have placed upon the American Red Cross the greatest responsibilities it has ever assumed except in time of all-out war.

Among the urgent missions which the Red Cross must accomplish without delay are: disaster preparedness committees which must survey local resources for mass shelter, feeding and emergency medical care.

First aid instruction: at present plans are underway for first aid classes in Charlevoix county.

Home nursing: some time in the coming year classes will be organized for this project.

The expansion of the blood program: Charlevoix county completed a successful clinic recently at which 99 pints of blood were procured. A portion of it was sent to Korea as whole blood and the remainder will be processed into plasma and fractions for use of county residents. Before the year is out the county chapter expects to be called to arrange another clinic.

In addition to these projects the tempo of the home service program which cares for the serviceman and his family and the veteran and his family has been increased with the enlargement of the armed services. Since June 25, 1950, with the start of the war in Korea, the Charlevoix county's home service demands have been more than doubled. The Red Cross serves as the only liaison organization between the civilian and the military. At the rate the demands have increased in the past eight months, the county chapter will soon be handling the same volume of calls as were accepted during World War II.

It is for this reason that the county must raise its quota. Although this country is not at war, the shadow of war hangs over the country and it is being mobilized. To do its part the Red Cross is also mobilizing—it is doing so to aid anyone or everyone—as the need might be.

Conservation Publications

Most requests for fish, game and other conservation publications now can be filled, the conservation department announces.

However, due to stock damage in the recent state office building fire, copies of three of the most popular publications cannot be offered. Unavailable are "Michigan Trees Worth Knowing," "Michigan Wildlife Sketches," and "Life History of the Walleye."

After the lesson a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her daughter-in-law. Next meeting will be March 26 at the home of Mary Jane Addis.

County Red Cross Now In Its Third Week of Campaign for Funds

The Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross is in its third week of the annual fund raising campaign to raise $3,550. To date only a small percentage of the county's goal has been raised. Walter C. Bergeon, county fund chairman reports.

The American Red Cross has been a national institution of humanitarianism and mercy for so many years that it would seem wholly unnecessary to exhort the citizenry to support its activities. Yet it is a fact that the Red Cross could not attain the funds that are necessary for its program without an annual repetition of the Red Cross achievements.

The Charlevoix county goal of $3,550 is a modest one, even though it is $350 above the 1950 goal. The increase is understandable in view of the expanding military program and in recognition of the inflationary trend of recent months.

The Red Cross slogan this year is "Mobilize for Defense", pointing up as it does the important part the Red Cross plays in serving members of the armed forces and their families.

For many humanitarian needs, the Red Cross is the only agency with the experience, the training and the mobilization capable of rendering the services required.

Plan to be as generous in your contribution to the Red Cross as you possibly can, remembering particularly that the contribution you made to the Red Cross last year should be increased in view of today's expanded needs.

At Michigan State his duties not only include direction of the Glee Club but that of assistant professor of Voice Instruction in the school of music. Recruiting Program of Petoskey District Nurses' Association

During the past two months, the committee for Student Nurse Recruitment has visited six high schools within Emmet and Charlevoix Counties to present their recruitment program to girls from the freshman to the senior grades, in the effort to encourage these students to enter professional nursing.

An excellent movie, entitled "Girls in White", portraying the Life of a Student Nurse, was shown, followed by a talk on requirements, various nursing fields, and scholarship aids, by Miss Avis Sadler, and Mrs. Ann Schumacher. A question and answer period followed, during which various nursing schools, tuition fees, how to meet lack of requirements, etc. were discussed.

The committee discovered that many of the senior girls lacked the subjects necessary for nursing school entrance, and therefore urged the freshman to seek the help of their school counselors to enable them to meet these requirements.

We found many girls interested in our program, and so felt that each high school visit was well worth our efforts. The committee wishes to express its gratitude for the interest of the students, and for the co-operation of the principals and school nurses.

We wish to explain that the Recruitment Program does not necessarily end with interviewing the high school students—we urge all girls and women between the ages of 18 to 35, high school graduates, in the upper 1/2 or 1/3 of their class, with college credits to enter professional nursing. Those of you who are interested and would like additional information may write to the committee for Student Nurse Recruitment, P.O. Box 131, Petoskey, Michigan.

Forecast Good Prices For Most Field Crops

When spring planting time looms up, now's the time to shape up those final field crop plans.

If you're still pondering over expected demands and prices, here are some up-to-the minute pointers on the farm crops outlook that may help.

C. E. Prentice, Michigan State College agricultural economist, says that with good management, maximum production of all crops except potatoes will be the goal this season. Prices will bump the parity ceiling for all storable commodities grown in Michigan. The seasonal price decrease at harvest time is expected to be less than normal.

Even with large carryovers of feed grains, grain prices will rise as corn advances to the parity level. Increased livestock numbers and higher livestock prices are adding to the demand for grain and concentrates, Prentice points out.

The price of soybean oil, boosted by military demands, has already reached the current legal maximum even though the 1950 crop was the largest in history.

Large government holding of dry edible beans have tended to hold prices down. But excessive stocks of Michigan beans of marketable quality are expected to disappear by 1951 crop harvest time. The crop support price will be 75 percent of parity, but a price nearer 90 percent of parity is expected in Michigan.

No support for potatoes is indicated, and acreage should be reduced. A 15 percent cut has been requested in the U.S., 13 percent for Michigan. Higher prices can be expected for the 1951 crop if these recommendations are followed, Prentice said.

Eggs Hatched For State Chick Derby

East Lansing, Mich., March 22—A flock of baby chicks, which will produce Michigan's king of poultrymen in 12 weeks, was hatched today somewhere in the Wolverine State.

Logical favorite in the field of 19 entries was Lial Gifford, St. Johns hatcheryman who won the 1950 renewal of the Michigan Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest.

Gifford's contest entry of 100 White Rocks faced determined opposition from owners of 1800 other chicks including some from his own backyard. For Gifford's wife also is competing with a White Rock entry. Another threat to the defending titalist is the team of Brummer & Frederickson of Holland. They plan double trouble with entries of both New Hampshires and White Rocks.

State contest chairman William A. Aho, who is extension poultryman at Michigan State College, attributed a decline in entries from last year's record level to industry-wide interest in the June national finals of the Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest, which also is sponsored by A & P Food Stores.

"Many of our leading poultrymen will be at the University of Arkansas for the national program which ends June 15 with A & P's award of $5,000 to the country's top producer," he said.

In Michigan C-of-T contest, competitors will select the 15 best birds from each entry of 100 straight-run chicks and forward them to a central poultry plant for judging and dressing June 14.

Other leading entrants include Dewitt's Zeeland Hatchery, Inc., of Zeeland, Fasnough Poultry Farm & Hatchery of Bangor, Andrus Hatchery & Breeding Farm of Reese, Leonard J. Hill of Berrien Springs, Mrs. Pearl Miller of Sandusky and Dudley Tice of Barryton.

A number of Mich. farmers currently carry liability insurance for protection of hired help on the farm and also for protection in other accidents.

Let Children Have War Toys, Advises Guidance Authority

NEW YORK—Parents have long been worried about the problem of letting junior have guns and war toys, afraid such items will make him warlike.

Dr. Grace Langdon, a child guidance authority, now comes up with the theory that if junior wants a toy flame-thrower, let him have it. It won't make him any less war-minded by depriving him of toy war weapons, she says.

Dr. Langdon debunked an idea which came up at the recent inter-parliamentary union meeting in Dublin. A resolution was offered to outlaw all toys dealing with war to prevent children from being war-minded. The resolution was killed, however.

"You don't take children's minds off war by depriving them of war toys," she said. "The desire is still there."

"The quickest way to stop children from wanting war toys is to stop war."

Author of several books and articles on child behavior, Dr. Langdon contends children naturally are imitators. So long as the father is a soldier, both son and daughter are going to play at being the same thing.

Much of the appeal of war toys is their noise-making ability, she said.

"The same appeal is found in cowboy toys. Children don't care whether the toy gun is for soldier or cowboy. He will play with it so long as it makes a bang."

Her only rule for buying toys is this: "Provide the child with plenty of toys and a variety of them. If he demands war toys, give them to him. But also take care of his other interests, whether it be in cowboys or construction sets."

Americans Spent Over 50 Million on Christmas Trees

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The agriculture department reported that Americans spent more than $50,000,000 for Christmas trees during the past season.

This represented the sale of 28,500,000 trees. The department said about 21,500,000 trees were cut in this country and about 7,000,000 imported from Canada. Montana is the leading tree producing state, providing about a seventh of the country's cut.

The department said the 1950 supply about equaled the 1949 total and that prices were about the same throughout the country.

Doctors in Distant Cities Analyze X-Rays Over TV

BALTIMORE, Md. — Television viewers in five network cities—Chicago, New York, Washington, Columbus and Baltimore—recently watched X-ray analysis of patients by doctors in cities miles apart participating.

Four persons were examined under a special X-ray machine which fed the image directly to television transmitting tube.

The technique may in time eliminate the need for a patient or a group of specialists to travel if diagnosis depends on the analysis of X-rays.

Dr. David M. Gould, assistant professor of radiology at Johns Hopkins medical school, conducted an examination of a man described as a patient whose back had been pierced by pieces of iron in an industrial accident.

After a five minute consultation with doctors in other cities over a three way telephone hookup, the radiologists declared that the iron had not affected the man's lung and that minor surgery was all that was needed.

Mate Forced Her to Wear Jeans, Woman Complains

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Americans secure divorces on many grounds, but the latest is the woman who said her husband forced her to wear jeans to parties.

Mrs. Frances Valle Reyburn Nelson, 32, charged her wealthy husband insisted she wear blue jeans at social functions and made her use old newspapers instead of towels in the kitchen.

She also said her husband of less than a year made her save the breakfast dishwasher so the lunch and dinner dishes could be washed in it.

The husband, James Martin Nelson III, was formerly secretary-treasurer of the Exchange Investment Co. In 1946 he received a one-third share of his father's $700,000 estate.

Polio Cases Reach a New Seasonal High, Report

NEW YORK—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported recently the increase in the number of polio cases throughout the nation probably is the greatest in history for the winter months.

It announced that 569 new polio cases were reported during the last week of November and called it "the highest incidence recorded for that time of year in the past five years and probably the highest in history." It has reported 31,360 polio cases since January 1.

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

Ed. Rehman, Co. Agr'l Agent

ARTIFICIAL BEEF BREEDERS TO MEET:

All farmers in this area who are interested in securing beef semen to be used on their cows are urged to come and hear the program discussed at a meeting Thursday evening, March 22 starting promptly at 8:30 p.m. according to Ed Rehman, county agr'l agent. This meeting will be held in the agricultural room of the East Jordan High School.

Several reasons are given why people are interested in securing beef bulls on their dairy cattle. One is to breed a heifer to a beefy bull. Another reason is to breed those cows that you don't want to keep calves from and also have a better market animal for beef for sale. The beef breed available at the present time is Angus, other may be added later.

Both the Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association and the Antrim-Charx Artificial Breeders Association will be represented at this meeting at East Jordan. Both the associations now have a very good inseminator. Joe Schantz is the inseminator of Boyne City and he has a very good record as far as quality of work is concerned. Dick Wieland of Ellsworth is the inseminator for the Charlevoix association and Dick has also been doing a very good job. Farmers in this area who would like to join one of these associations should contact one of the inseminators or call at the county agents office.

EXPECT INCREASE IN TURKEYS IN 1951.

Growers in Charlevoix County expect to increase their turkey flocks for 1951 according to Ed Rehman, county agriculture agent. Bill Aho, turkey specialist of Michigan State College, discussed some suggestions for 1951. Among these he said to get disease free poults and go get them yourself. Feed early and don't over crowd was another suggestion. Bill Aho also stated that plenty of equipment, early rooting and sanitation are essential in the success of turkey growing. Feed makes up about 73 percent of the cost of raising turkeys and poults make up about 15 percent of the cost of raising turkeys. The balance of the cost is divided between labor, range, building and equipment and diseases. Howard Dunne from the pathology department of Michigan State College discussed turkey disease and mainly erysipelas. Several cases have been found during 1950 and it is possible that more may be discovered during 1951. One reason why this disease is so important is that humans can contact it very readily. Fortunately there is one easy cure and that is the use of Penicillin. Prevention will not work on this disease but this drug will. There are two kinds of erysipelas disease the turkey erysipelas and a swine erysipelas.

Got a Three-Seater?

Michigan "natives" may or may not get a chuckle out of this one.

A lady in Jamestown, New York, says she is looking for a three-seater sleigh. According to her letter received by the conservation department: "As a newcomer to Jamestown, where we have much snow, I find that a three-seated sleigh would be very useful. Any illustrated material or address at which you Michigan natives buy such means of transportation will be greatly appreciated."

In attempting to answer her query, the department noted that it has been some 25 years since a good selection of three-seaters was available from one of the country's top mail order houses.

The Great Northern railroad has a three-seater sleigh preserved in its museum in Two Harbors, Minnesota.

Labor's Recent Revolt Called Open Warfare on Truman Administration

LABOR IN REVOLT—The Truman administration has had many and varied difficulties in its history, but few of them ever approached the seriousness of labor's recent revolt against the government's mobilization effort. The decision of labor to withdraw from the wage stabilization board and other government agencies amounted to a declaration of war on the Truman administration.

The united labor policy committee, composed of 14 top officials of the C.I.O. and A.F.L., ordered the withdrawal. As a result, labor men resigned from 24 advisory posts and other positions in defense agencies, including the military.

Labor made it clear that it felt "big business" dominated the mobilization effort, and that the several labor men in top federal jobs were used merely as "window dressing." The charge of "big business" was directed at Charles E. Wilson, director of the office of defense mobilization, who ignored labor when he first took office.

Labor was especially bitter about the 10 per cent wage formula as recommended by economic stabilizer Eric Johnston. The union leaders were not pacified when Johnston exempted from the wage ceiling all cost-of-living escalator clauses in union contracts written before January 25.

These grievances were serious enough in themselves, but there seemed to be other motivating factors behind labor's revolt. Hidden behind the curtains of petty disagreements was the fear of a labor draft during the present crisis, the same fear that labor struggled against during World War II.

In the interest of mobilization and the well-being of the nation, peace between the administration and labor has become a pressing, desperate need.

HOUSEWIVES' DISTASTE—It has been said by critics of this country that the United States is ruled by women, that our economy and way of life centers around the wives, sweethearts, daughters, sisters and mothers of the nation.

An example of the woman's influence on the nation's economy was reflected in the meat markets of the nation when housewives' distaste of costly cuts of beef caused some real price roll-backs.

A nation-wide canvass revealed that prices were cut from 10 to 25 per cent on the more expensive cuts of meat. And in every case, the price-cutters declared housewives' lack of relish for high red meat prices was the main reason for their action.

Meanwhile, the agriculture department had other interesting statistics for the general public, namely, farm-product prices climbed to a record level in February. The figures revealed that prices paid farmers for all their commodities was 2.25 per cent higher than the old record set in January, 1948, and about 25 per cent above the level prevailing before the Korean war.

However, despite the high level of the farm commodity market, only nine major products were selling at or above parity—the price standard declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products. The products above parity were beef cattle, veal calves, lambs, sheep, cotton, cotton seed, wool, rice and soybeans. Such products as wheat, corn, peanuts, potatoes, butterfat, milk, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, grain sorghums, dry beans, citrus fruits, apples, sweet potatoes, chickens, and eggs were bringing less than parity prices.

CASUALTIES TOTAL 50,675—The people of the cities, home towns and crossroads of the nation were beginning to feel the full force of the Korean conflict. Every day families in communities across the nation were being notified of casualties of war. The latest summary listed 50,675 wounded, missing or killed in action. Of the total, 7,639 were reported killed, 33,041 wounded and 9,635 missing.

And while American troops had suffered the greatest number of casualties, the 10 other nations fighting beside U.S. and South Korean troops reported casualties totaling 2,813. The breakdown showed Australia with 48 killed, 200 wounded, 6 missing, 20 prisoners; France with 44 killed, 201 wounded, 3 missing; Greece, 20 killed, 45 wounded, 1 missing; Netherlands, 24 killed, 76 wounded, 2 missing; Philippines, 150 casualties (not broken down into categories); United Kingdom, 145 killed, 442 wounded, 244 missing, 61 prisoners.

WATCHFUL WORLD—As deputy foreign ministers of France, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States met in Paris in an attempt to work out an agenda for a big-four conference—a watchful, but pessimistic world waited for announcement of first results.

Considerable doubt existed as to whether or not even an agreement on an agenda could be reached among the four nations. The Soviet Union indicated it would stress the German problem and charge the western powers with rearming western Germany. On the other hand, the United States announced it would direct the discussion to the vast build-up of arms in the Soviet Union and its eastern European satellites, and argue that those arms are the basic cause of the world's ills.

It was believed doubtful, therefore, that the big four could even agree on a list of subjects about which the big-four could talk with any hope of success.

It was also reported the United States would try to put the settlement of an Austrian peace treaty on the agenda, an achievement long sought by this government, but continually blocked by the Soviet Union.

Even if the deputy foreign ministers could reach agreement on an agenda, there exists little hope that the big-four can reach any settlement of the world's ills that will materially decrease the possibility of open conflict in the immediate future.

SPRING OFFENSIVE—The threat of a big spring counteroffensive by the Chinese Communists still hung over the Korean front as United Nations troops continued their push northward. Heavy movements of troops were reported at several points behind the Red lines.

Increasing numbers of Communist trucks were reported moving south into Seoul and the Reds stepped up night mortar and artillery fire from the old South Korean capital. There were also indications that a new Chinese division may have been moved into Korea in preparation for the expected offensive.

Frontline observers pointed out that the Chinese have switched from night to day operations, usually a sign of desperation. There was no indication, however, that either side could chop out a clear-cut victory that might terminate hostilities. It remains a battle of Chinese manpower vs. American firepower.

REDS DECLINE IN EUROPE—An indication that the Communists are losing the battle to take over western Europe by boring from within was revealed in a state department report that said the party had lost a third—1,285,000—of its members in the west since World War II.

The report said there were 1,673,000 Communist party members in western Europe (except Italy) in 1946, and 2,960,000 in Italy in 1948—a total of 3,973,000. The number dropped to 2,678,000 in 1950.

Death to Life

Lesson for March 25, 1951

THE FLOWERS in the church on Easter morning will not have been there long. Less than 24 hours before, the church was dark and empty. At no time in the year does the church look gloomier than on Easter Eve. In many churches the altar is draped in black. Good Friday commemorates the saddest day in earth's history, Easter the most joyous. Yet they come only 48 hours apart. This reminds all Christians that neither Good Friday nor Easter stands by itself, but each gives meaning to the other.

Cross and Crucifix

THE Protestant churches usually have a cross. That is because Protestants wish to remember that the Cross is empty, that it is not a dead Jesus whom we worship, but a living, risen, reigning Christ.

Even in the churches where crucifixes are numerous, there may be pictures or statues representing the risen Christ. Suppose there had been only Good Friday, suppose that had been the end of Jesus? Then there would have been no particular point in the cross. It would have been the mere instrument of one more violent death, another case of justice gone wrong, another tragic failure.

The Resurrection showed what it was that hung upon the Cross; the Resurrection showed that the Cross was not a scene of failure but of victory. "Death could not keep its prey; He tore the bars away!" But on the other hand, what would the Resurrection have been without the Cross? Just another miracle, something to make our eyes pop, but not to make us grateful. The New Testament tells of hints at many resurrections during the time of Christ; but it is not enthusiastic about any of them, with this one exception.

Victim and Victor

THE New Testament represents the Resurrection in many lights. One of the most striking is that it was a reward, a reward for the Cross. That is, God "highly exalted" Jesus because of his willingness to die on behalf of others (Isaiah 53:12; Phil. 2:8). The Cross was the battle with the dark powers, and the victory; the Resurrection was the march of triumph.

On the Cross Jesus was both victim and victor; on Easter morning he was all the victor. The Cross was a perfectly natural event; by it Jesus underwent the worst that nature, and human sin, can do. On the Cross Jesus was murdered, for murder it was, how "legal" it was made to seem; and he called down on himself to save himself.

But at the Resurrection Christ rose above nature, as nature's Lord. The early church preached both Cross and Resurrection; and it has never forgotten either one.

"As He is, so are we..."

THERE is another important truth about the Cross and Resurrection. From the very beginning, the church has refused to think of these events as concerned with Jesus alone. The Christian who has begun to work deeply into the meanings of his faith will see farther than the child does. He will see both Cross and Resurrection from the inside.

The church has long taught that on the Cross God was doing something for us, and that through the Resurrection God is doing something in us. Paul expresses the life of a Christian as of one who is "dead with Christ" and "risen with Christ." The Christian life is thought of as one which has undergone both death and resurrection. Death to sin; rising to a new kind of life; death to a kind of existence in which we are slaves to what is worst in us; rising to a kind of life in which we are "more than conquerors."

Not all Christians have understood this, to be sure. Perhaps the greater number of Christians think of their life as one of simply trying (not very hard) to do the best they can, and usually failing. But the really high-level Christians have discovered something more profound: that the Christian actually has access, by faith, to an inner power which is the very same that raised Jesus from the dead. Every Christian can share, now, in the resurrection-life of Christ. And this is the secret of Easter.

Michigan is getting closer to a fair employment practices law. Although Democratic efforts failed in the last regular session, Rep. Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer) now has submitted an F.E.P.C. bill which apparently transcends partisan politics.

The state-national civil defense program has not bogged down but there is dissension between Lansing and Washington. Millard Caldwell, federal CD administrator, urges the state legislature to create a "basic civil defense structure".

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, head of the state's program, says federal efforts are wallowing in bureaucracy. Caldwell hopes to get $250,000,000 in federal funds to match state appropriations.

The American Meat Institute of Food Distribution says "aggressive retailers are advertising more effective in keeping food prices down than the legal controls ordered by Washington."

In the larger cities resistance to meat prices has packing houses in a tizzy. Officials have been meeting to decide what to do about their bulging cold rooms. They could drop prices.

Michigan's automobile industry is making no predictions. Word around Detroit is "we should be able to do very well until June or July. Nobody knows after that."

Politics already! Will Fred M. Alger Jr., run for governor in 1952. He hints as much. He probably would have opposed Williams in the last election but he waited too long to get into the primary waiting for higher G.O.P. word.

And concerning the presidency? Only thing seems to be certain. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is popular today with the voters. He is liked in Michigan as in the remainder of the Midwest.

Leap year is more than a joke to the government. Due in 1952 again, the 366-day year will cost taxpayers an extra $187,000 for the additional day's pay to federal employees, according to Michigan's Senator Ferguson.

Tin stockpiling has stopped officially for the time being, while the government tries to beat down the price. But the federal government now is the sole importer of the metal unless special permission is granted private firms.

The state paid $27,190 in bounties during January. Payments were made on 5,240 foxes, 52 coyotes, 17 bobcats and one wolf. Except for six coyotes, all animals bountied were taken in the upper peninsula.

Following the escape of 11 more inmates at the Boys Vocational school in Lansing, city officials waxed wrathful. Says one Lansing councilman: "The legislature should take action to confine the youngsters at the institution or get the darned thing out of here."

The "little Hoover commission" still is kicking up dust in Michigan. Latest recommendations ask creation of a stronger and more centralized state treasury department. This department would absorb the secretary of state's office, municipal finance commission and part of the auditor general's office.

But state officials aren't too alarmed. Say one worker: "It sounds good in theory—but could they set up the legislature has they set up the new department and would it work?"

Another bugaboo of the legislature has breathed its last for another year or two. The possibility of a four year term for Michigan governors has been wiped by a bi-partisan vote in the house of representatives. Long sought by the governors—and others—the question will rise again, be assured.

Homemakers' Corner

Home Economics Specialist Michigan State College

HOUSEHOLD WASTE IS BIG ITEM IN EXPENSE

Household waste can add up to dollars and cents in these days of high prices, Dr. Calla Van Sycle of the Michigan State College school of home economics advised this week.

She says the whole family can be enlisted in the job of checking wasteful practices in the home. Some of the points she recommends are:

1. Check on the amount of food prepared against plate waste or waste from left-overs that are thrown out.
2. Look over the food you store. Are you losing food through careless storage or too long storage?
3. What about your household equipment? Is it kept in good running condition through proper cleaning, oiling or other recommended measures?
4. Give good care to your pots, pans, and pressure cooker.
5. Check on whether furniture is wearing out because of bad treatment or lack of mending. Together with other family members, make a plan for renovating good treatment of furniture without restricting their use of it.
6. Look over clothing with an eye to what can be salvaged for another year's use by a reasonable amount of repairing or making over.
7. Check family practices in use of electricity. Are lights turned out when not in use? Is the radio turned off when not in use?

When you follow these and other money-saving practices, you'll be aiding your family finances and the nation. Remember, says Dr. Van Sycle, that a force of 40 million homemakers will help turn the scales either for or against inflation.

You're Not Safe at Home Until You Make Your Home Safe

Home accidents kill just as many Michigan people as traffic accidents do. You and your family are not "safe at home" until you make your home safe.

Use April, Michigan Clean Up Month, to check up, clean up and fix up your own home and grounds, the Michigan Department of Health urged today.

The time and money you spend removing hazards may save you or a member of your family from being crippled, maimed or killed, the Department said.

Falls are responsible for nearly three out of four fatal accidents in the home—falls from one level to another or falls due to tripping or stumbling over something. Fires are the next largest cause of accidental death in the home.

Almost all home accidents are preventable. Most of the hazards can be seen and easily removed.

To help Michigan people find some member of the household, the Department has prepared a detailed check list, including "Sunny Day Jobs", "Rainy Day Jobs" and some suggestions for family planning. This check list is published in the March issue of Michigan Public Health, which can be obtained free from the Department.

TENTH STORY

"When two drivers tie at an uncontrolled intersection," say teachers in 305 Michigan high schools, "there is only one safe way to proceed."

Both drivers should slow down, surveying the situation with extreme caution, and stop if there is the slightest doubt about which car has the right-of-way.

State law decrees that under favorable conditions, one of the two cars has a technical right-of-way. Court decisions tend to make even that right-of-way doubtful. The law says that the driver on the right (as seen from the driver's seat) has the technical right-of-way at intersections not controlled by stop signs or traffic signals.

There are a number of "ifs" attached to this law, however.

If either driver, as determined by the court, fails to have his car under complete control or exceeds the legal speed limit as he enters the intersection, he automatically forfeits his right-of-way.

If the view of the driver on the left is blocked at the intersection, the driver on the right may find in court that a resulting collision is partly his fault; he did not have his car under control. Scores of other "ifs" could be enumerated.

Since courts declare both drivers responsible in nine out of 10 collisions at uncontrolled intersections, instructors in AAA Driver-Training courses in Michigan teach "Stop" in any case of a near-tie.

This well-known state law is good as far as it goes, say Michigan high school teachers of AAA Driving-Training courses. Best thing to do, however, is stop for any near-tie to be sure you are in the right.

National Wildlife Restoration Week March 25-31

School children, farmers, sportsman's clubs, garden and other conservation-minded groups will join in statewide observance of National Wildlife Restoration Week, March 25-31.

Special emphasis this year will be given to the nation's most basic conservation problem, soil conservation.

Governor Williams urges participation of all Michigan citizens "that they may become more aware of the need for conserving and restoring important phase of good citizenship."

The 14th annual observance of the week, originally established by Presidential proclamation in 1938, is sponsored by National Wildlife Federation.

Michigan United Conservation Clubs are arranging special meetings and programs throughout the state.

Shrubs Need Mulch Until Warm Weather

You'd better not get your shrubs and other landscape plants "out of bed" too soon this spring, cautions Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State College.

Spring may be just around the corner but there is still a chance for a lot of freezing and thawing. Heaving of roots in the soil will prove detrimental if no mulches are used or are removed too soon.

Let mulches such as leaves, straw, or peat moss remain until you are sure the spring weather is here to stay, he advises. Then work this material into the soil about your plants instead of raking and burning. Your soil will improve in humus content, water holding capacity, and plant food elements.

Your landscape plants will not only thrive with these methods but you will be simplifying summer cultivation and weed control. Community nests are proving popular with farmers in Michigan, say Michigan State College extension poultrymen.

"Say, Pat— what's this I'm hearing about ye joining up with them communists? Be ye daft, man?"

"It's the God's truth, Mike—I signed up last week! Ye see the doctor told me I had but 10 days to live and 'tis better one o' them communists die than a good Irishman."

A boy, attending Sunday school for the first time, was being catechized by his teacher. "Now, where does God live?" asked the teacher.

"I think he lives in our bathroom," chirped the youngster. "Why do you think that?" breathlessly asked the teacher. "Well, every morning Daddy goes to the bathroom door and yells: 'God! Are you still in there!'"

A lady was returning to her seat along a dark movie aisle. "Pardon me," she said to a man sitting on an aisle seat, "but did I step on your toes when I went out?"

"Yes," said the man. "Goody, then I've found the right row!"

THAT AIN'T HAY
The village fair was all agog over the annual spelling bee. One by one the contestants dropped out until two remained; the town lawyer and stableman.

Everyone waited breathlessly for the word which would decide the match. Finally it came: "How do you spell 'auspices'?" The stableman lost.

Cannot Afford Not To Give In Cancer Crusade

In announcing plans for the 1951 Cancer Crusade, Mrs. Ronald Scott, Commander of the County here, said, "A new approach to the cancer control problem is necessary if success is to be achieved."

Mrs. Scott explained that an all-out effort would be made this year to narrow the gap between actual needs and available funds.

"This means," Mrs. Scott said, "that we must secure for cancer control the full potential of financial support in this community. We know this to be considerably, probably as high as twice what is usually given to the Cancer Crusade. I know this is a startling statement but a careful study of people's giving habits supports this contention."

Mrs. Scott said people in this community would be asked to give to the 1951 Crusade with an entirely new point of view. "We are going to ask those who support cancer control to budget their contributions in proportion to the importance of cancer in their daily lives.

"The fact that cancer strikes eventually in one of every two homes creates a tremendous potential of personal interest in the cancer problem.

"We hope that contributors will consider this fact in apportioning their gift. It might well be that cancer someday would be the number one problem of any individual or his family. A gift to combat this problem should be of equal concern.

The Crusade Commander explained that giving in this dimension would not only affect the contributor who supports every worthy cause but go beyond to "the person who seldom gives".

"People who give something to most every worthy appeal, we believe, will increase their share toward cancer control while the person who normally gives little or nothing to charity will find he cannot afford to give to combat the terrible challenge of cancer."

"What is home without a mother?" said the boy to his girl on the phone.

"I am, tonight", she sighed.

Dream House Is Moved 1,200 Miles by Pair

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—Houses are difficult to find these days, especially dream houses. A Vermont man and his wife knew this and as a result moved their house some 1,200 miles.

Bryon White and his wife built their Vermont home themselves, lovingly adding each new gadget and labor saving device. When the time came for them to move to Virginia they decided they wouldn't leave it.

Through half a dozen states, up hills, across ferries, down slippery wet pavement they drove, pulling their house behind them.

Sorely tired by fire, breakdowns, blowouts and vigilant policemen, they never gave up. After all, how could they abandon 14,200 pounds of house.

Altogether, with detours, they towed the house 1,200 miles. Six Weeks Journey

But six weeks after the hazardous journey started, the house is set among a grove of evergreens. Its picture windows look out on rolling grass and gardens. Its winding driveway leads to the garage they have built at the rear of the much traveled, modernistic home.

White, an electronics engineer and former assistant professor at the University of Vermont, was just finishing up his house on university property when he took a job in Newport News with an electronics manufacturing concern.

The Whites had not overlooked the possibility that they might have to move their house when they planned it. The structure was built in the form of a T with the living room the T's crossbar. They built the living room so that by using hinges it could be folded up no wider than the T's perpendicular.

They had also used hardwood plywood—not yet on the home-builders market—and aluminum screws instead of nails. This made for lightness.

Trip a Nightmare
When they hit the road for Virginia, the home, set on a specially made trailer, was 35 feet long, eight feet wide and 11 1/2 feet high. But if the house was a dream, the trip was a nightmare. They had to get permits from the states they planned to drive through. They had to avoid underpasses and some bridges. They had to write ahead to arrange for tows in some places.

They spent $250 on tires on the trip. Each time one blew out it ripped itself to pieces under the weight of the house.

Bear mountain in New York never will be forgotten by the Whites. Almost to the crest of the long, high hill their overheated motor burst into flame. When they got the fire out the crankcase oil was a chocolate brown from the heat.

Now that the house is set up again and liveable, some of the terrors of the trip seem humorous to the Whites. But they're certain of one thing, never again!

Long-Lost Century Clock Being Sought in Colorado

DENVER, Col.—Colorado officials have been presented with the mystery of the missing clock.

The timepiece was built by J. W. Hile, a Kansas clockmaker, and displayed in the Kansas-Colorado building at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876.

It was among the new-fangled gadgets, supposed to run for 100 years. Its power was supplied by a heavy weight attached to cords and set to drop 76 inches at a rate of three quarters of an inch a year.

Doane Eaton, Doraville, Me., wrote Governor Walter Johnson of Colorado that he found a reference to the clock in an old family record. Did the governor know what became of the clock? Was it still on time?

The governor didn't know. He passed the timepiece inquiry to Mrs. Agnes Wright Spring, acting state historian. She sent it along to Orville R. Hagens, Denver horologist, whose extensive treatises on time-keeping gave the price of the 100-year-old clock at $1,000, but no references as to where it might be.

The search goes on. Hagens passed the problem to fellow horologists in the country.

Bomb Threat Increases Sale of Land in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Land prices throughout the country have boomed since the current world crisis. The latest boom is in Utah.

Real estate men from all parts of Utah agree that talk of this-or-that large city being a good target for atom bombs seems to be driving a lot of city folks into the rural real estate market.

Land prices in Utah have not boomed as high as in other parts of the nation but salemen report an increasing reluctance of farmers to part with their land at present prices.

A real estate dealer in Richfield reported that one out of every two buyers of farms in Sevier Valley is a Californian. He said many move in while others put tenants on the land "just to have a little land in 'the mountains.'"

WHITEFORD'S

Tree Trunk Girdling Produces Earlier Northern Spy Apple Crop

Northern Spy apple trees don't usually bear fruit until they are 12 to 15 years old. However, in tests conducted by the Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station, trees were made to produce sizable crops when only 9 years old. The tree trunks were girdled by removing a strip of bark one-eighth-inch wide, 12 inches above ground level. The cut was made to the depth of the wood, completely encircling the trunk. The girdling wounds were then coated with grafting compound. Trees girdled in late May of their eighth year produced fruit the ninth year. While subsequent girdling did not produce as great yields, girdled trees were far ahead of ungridded trees by the time the latter began to produce fruit. Full information about girdling to produce apple crops more efficiently can be obtained by calling or writing your County Agricultural Agent.

Power augers increase efficiency . . .

Digging a hole for a telephone pole used to take a long time. Today Michigan Bell does this job more quickly and more efficiently with power-driven augers which can dig a pole hole in a couple of minutes. This is another example of the way Michigan Bell provides more and better telephone service to farmers at a reasonable cost.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The School Bell...

JUNIOR PLAY

She'll be "Comin' Around the Mountain", March 28, when the Junior class presents their play, leased from the T. S. Denison Company. The cast is as follows, with Mr. Downing directing:

"Maw", Arvita Liskum — A well-fed woman of 45, and the boss of the Skitter clan.

"Paw", Burley Maxwell — A thin, lazy, no-account, good-for-nothing critter.

"Doris Dean", Marge Keller — Her ancestors were hillbillies, and Doris has the call of the mountains in her soul.

"Curley", Bob Thomas — The Little Abner type, quite a musician in the harmonica.

"Corney Bell", Mae Evans — An extremely pretty girl, Maw and Paw's daughter.

"Daisy Mae", Barb Boring — A little 'teched' in the head, she has an invisible companion, a bear named Timothy.

"Zeke", Doonie Bowers — The youngest Skitter, and quite a brat.

"Ellie Lou", Connie Swafford — She is out to get Curley for a husband, but is doomed to disappointment.

"Sammy", Earl Morrison — A great big, rather stupid, hunk of a fellow, with an amazing amount of strength.

"Robert Bruce, Alex Klooster" — A snappy, good-looking young publicity man.

"Ed Small", Eugene Pierce — Robert's buddy, and a clever young radio producer.

"Carol Hughes", Barb Lehrhass — A professional model with a devastating smile.

The stage crew and make-up committee have not been decided upon as yet.

To hear "Maw" talk, one would think "Paw" never did anything but "rest his lazy bones." Sammy is in love with Corney Bell and wants to marry her. He offers her parents a prize hog, Pansy Sue, for the dowry, but Corney Bell says she wouldn't have him if he was the last man on earth. She is in love with an outsider, Robert Bruce. Curley is also in love with an outsider, a model for the Rears-Sawbuk Company. He calls her "Miss Dollar-Ninety-Eight," and is saving her pictures.

There is also the stove that 'blow-up' every time someone lights it, the chair with no seat, the rocker that throws you on the floor and, of course, Paw's spittoon. And there's also Pansy Sue and Timothy, the invisible bear. But come to the play and see all these and many more for yourself.

Be sure to reserve March 28 for the Junior play, "Comin' Around the Mountain."

First Presbyterian Church
Edward O. DeHaven, Pastor

This is Holy Week and is the week of consecration and witnessing for our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. As such each of the churches in this community will be celebrating this week in Services that are relevant and significant to the cause of the Christian Church. All of the churches are calling to all of the people to participate in this time of deeper consecration and devotion.

The following services have been arranged through co-operation with the other churches in this community and for our own congregation. Your interest and attendance and concern about them is urged.

Thursday evening we will celebrate the sacrament of Holy Communion in our church at 8:00 P.M. This is the traditional date when our Lord instituted this Supper as a pledge of His undying love for all mankind. Even as He said to His disciples of old, "I must eat this Passover Feast with you" so also He calls to us today in like manner. Even as the Passover is celebrated in the Jewish Faith as God's deliverance of His people from Bondage so also we celebrate this sacrament as Christ's deliverance from the bondage of sin. Let us so come and know God's eternal felicity for us all.

On Friday of this week, the churches of this community are uniting in the service of Commemoration of His crucifixion. The Service will begin at 12:00 noon and continue until 3:00 in this manner:

There will be three periods of meditation each lasting for 30 minutes. These will be periods when our thoughts will be directed towards Jesus Christ in His earthly ministry. The people are invited to come to any one of these meditation periods as they desire.

Beginning at 1:30 P.M. these will continue without interruption until 3:00 P.M. This Service will follow the Theme: Behold, the Son of God. There will be special music and periods of commemorations by each of the five pastors participating.

Let us come and bear our witness to the Giving of Himself for us all. These services will be held in the United Missionary Church on Garfield Street.

On Easter Sunday in our own

The Morning Service will begin at 11:00 A.M. During this service the sacrament of Baptism will be administered to children. There is a nursery conducted for small children during the morning service each Sunday morning for those parents who desire to use it.
