Preparing For the Fourth of July Celebration

QUEEN TO BE CROWNED, PARADE, SOAP BOX DERBY, FIREWORKS

Some lucky E. Jordan girl will be crowned "Miss Rainbow City" the evening of June 21 on the stage of the Temple theater, and some lucky northern Michigan boy will be awarded a new bicycle when he wins the first Northern Michigan Soap Box Derby on July 4th. This was revealed at a meeting Monday evening of committee members planning for the huge all day celebration honoring our Nation's 175th Birthday on Independence Day, to be held in East Jordan.

The young lady who wins the title of "Miss Rainbow City" may also be sent to Traverse City for competition in the National Cherry Festival if committee plans materialize. In any event, an especial float in the July 4th parade will be prepared for the Queen and her court. She will be selected by out of town judges the evening of June 21st. The contest will take place at 9 p.m. Any girl between the age of 17 through 23 years, or a high school senior, having an E. Jordan address is eligible to enter the Queen contest according to Betty Robertson chairman. Mrs. Robertson asks that entries be made to committee member Minnie Desjardins at her shop on Main St.

Any boy in Northern Michigan under 14 years of age, who has his parents approval, may enter the Soapbox Derby and compete for the first prize of a new bicycle, according to Gayle Saxton. Other prizes will be awarded to boys placed in the event he said. An entry blank and rules will be found in this paper and should be forwarded to Max Damoth, committee member not later than July 1. The winner of the Derby will also ride in the afternoon parade.

PARADE ACTIVITIES

4th of July Celebration are attempting to reach every merchant and organization in this as well as outlying towns and communities, stressing the fact that they are invited to place a float in the parade, scheduled for 1 p.m., July 4.

One float from Ellsworth has been promised with prospects of several from Boyne City. Sherman Thomas, chairman of the committee, is being assisted by Chic DeForest and Julius O'Brien.

Tentative plans now call for the parade to form at the Fairgrounds, with marching units falling in near the downtown area. The State Police will lead the parade which offers $100 in prizes for the including prizes for children who enter best entries.

FIREWORKS ON THE WAY
At the Monday evening meeting of the 4th of July Celebration committees, Tom St. Charles reported that he and Oscar Weisler have placed the order for the display of fireworks to be presented on the waterfront the evening of the 4th.

Included in the order, he said are numerous set pieces which will be fired from a 200 foot frontage on the east side of Lake Charlevoix. In addition visitors at the celebration will see a mock navel battle on the waterfront, according to present plans. The grand finale of the fireworks program will see the band playing our National Anthem while a huge American flag bursts forth in the sky.

SOAP BOX DERBY

Three grand prizes will insure stiff competition in Charlevoix County and Northern Michigan Soap Box Derby championship to be held here during the gala Fourth of July Celebration next month.

Boys 14 yrs. of age and younger will put their Derby entrants into action in competition for: 1st Prize — A Boy's Bicycle, 2nd Prize — A Trapper First Baseman's Mitt, and 3rd Prize — An Air Rifle.

Once again here are the qualifications that your derby entrant must meet; 1. be a hand made construction, 2. have four wheels not over 12" in diameter, 3. have some sort of brake, and 4. be driven by a boy 14 yrs. of age or younger.

The derby committee of Bruce Malpass, Max Damoth, and Gayle Saxton will make a decision some time this week as to what the race route will be.

Remember there is still plenty of time for you to get your racer in shape for the big event come the 4th.

TENNIS

Tennis enthusiasm ran high last week as thirty boys and girls turned out for initial instruction under Coach Gayle Saxton at the high school tennis courts. Fundamentals have been stressed to date and instruction will continue under the direction of Mrs. Strehl on Tuesday and Thursday mornings of net week. Anyone interested in tennis is cordially invited to attend these instructional classes. A tournament for boys and girls is being planned for later in the summer.

Dairy Expert To Speak At Antrim County Pastures Day:

"Forage Utilization by the Dairy Cow" will be discussed by Dr. Ralph E. Hodgson, renowned Dairy expert from the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. and Beltsville, Maryland, at the Antrim Pastures Day, Thursday, June 21, according to Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent. This event will be centered at the Robert White farm, four miles north of Kewadin on US 31. The program is scheduled to begin at 10:00 a.m. with the viewing of pasture plots on the White farm. These plots are one-half acre in size and consist of three legumes; alfalfa, birdsfoot trefoil and ladino clover in combination with different grasses; bromegrass, orchard grass and alta fescue.

The plots were established in May, 1949 and were pastured extensively in 1950 and are being pastured at present. In addition, a sizeable field of ladino clover adjoining these plots was established in 1950 and is now being pastured by the twenty-five head of dairy cows.

Grass silage making will be demonstrated, using all farmer owned and operated equipment. The dairy barn will be open for inspection which features a mechanical gutter-cleaner. The milk house will also be open for inspection.

Dr. Hodgson's talk is scheduled for 1:00 p.m. and following this, several tours have been scheduled to visit farms within the area that will have various pastures. Those will include the farms of Marvyn Barnes, Beverly Vellquette, John Stevens, Frank Hooper and Lenzie Haller. They will include various types of pasture; red canary, ladino clover, alfalfa bromegrass, white dutch clover and birdsfoot trefoil.

At the John Stevens' farm, the Martin Hay Drier will be demonstrated. This is a relatively new method of drying hay using a field chopper, storage dryer and self-feeding for the beef herd of this particular farm.

Lunches and refreshments will be available at the farm through various cooperating organizations. The pastures day is the first such day to be held in Michigan and is being sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, Antrim Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service.

HAY MAKING

Purity, a high percentage of leaves, pliable stems, a bright green color, and a pleasing aroma are characteristics of high quality hay, advises Dr. R. Clana-han, Farm Crop Specialist at Michigan State College. Leaves constitute half the tonnage and contain 2/3 to 3/4 of the protein. Both yield and quality are sacrificed when they are lost.

In making hay, the Crops authority makes these suggestions:

Time to Cut - Early cutting (for Maximum yields and to maintain stands alfalfa should be cut when one half the bloom is out) Timothy, bromegrass, clover, etc., should be cut in early bloom stage.

The weather factor - 50 years weather data indicates that changes are that 2 to 3 consecutive days without rainfall may be expected the first two weeks in June; whereas, the last two weeks will have only two days without rain.

Mow-drier comes to the rescue - For earlier cutting and to take some of the weather hazard out of hay-making.

Hay, when first cut, carries 70-75 percent moisture. For safety this may be put in the mow when down to 25 percent. With a mow drier it can be put in at 35 percent. This shortens the period of exposure. For putting chopped hay in a mow, the drier is necessary. Heating the air used in the mow drying process helps. Generally, a mow drier will get the job done before crop is over mature, it will save when cut at an earlier date, get a better second cutting by getting the first cutting off in time. Information on mow drier can be obtained from Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent.

The field baler - Saves storage space. High investment cost necessitates large usage - 100 tons per year should be the minimum. Custom baling simplifies operation with only hauling and shoring left to the farmer. The crew with the custom baler provides extra man power to get the job done (if you can get the machine when you want it.)

Toast Michigan's Dairy Queen

Miss Jane Seelye, 17, (left) Lapeer, queen for Michigan's dairy industry for "June Dairy Month", is given an appropriate toast by the retiring dairy queen and the state's lieutenant governor at her toast crowning ceremonies. Lieut. Gov. William C. Vandenberg, Holland, crowned the Lapeer high school girl who was selected from eight regional princesses. The brown-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Seelye, Jane lives on a 160-acre dairy farm in Lapeer county and has been active in dairy and food preparation projects in 4-H Club work. The dairy industry's "June Dairy Month Committee" sponsored the statewide contest to pick a successor to Miss Ola Belle Steckley, 19, (center) also of Lapeer county. Miss Seelye will represent the state's largest agricultural enterprise at many official functions during the next year.

uits or coats that are worn for one day and then hung away in the closet for a day or two will prove more serviceable over a longer period of time than garments that are worn day after day without a rest period, advise clothing specialists at Michigan State College.

A linen tablecloth will iron much easier if it is wrung out by hand instead of put through a wringer. Wringer pressure makes fixed creases which are difficult to remove.

MacArthur Fights Orders

THE senate's ruling that star witness in the MacArthur hearings will not have to testify regarding confidential conversations presumably will hold for confidential conversations between Gen. Omar Bradley and the other members of the joint chiefs of staff.

However, some of their private reactions during the MacArthur discussions are significant. Inside fact is that the joint chiefs were extremely nervous about the idea of ousting MacArthur and took care to avoid the word "recommend" in reporting to the White House that MacArthur be fired.

Instead, and after considerable private debate, they decided to use the words "militarily advisable." Therefore, a report that it was "militarily advisable" to relieve MacArthur was signed by all four of the joint chiefs.

Despite this compromise wording there was no question among the joint chiefs that MacArthur should go. There were three general reasons for this view, and it is interesting that none of them really agreed with Truman's reasons—namely, MacArthur's flouting of orders by discussing foreign policy.

Reason No. 1 was the fact that the joint chiefs considered MacArthur too rash as a military commander and likely to let American forces in for more trouble.

Tying MacArthur's Hands
That was why they actually tied his hands with the military directive regarding the bombing of Chinese bases. They decided that he could bomb Chinese bases if—and there were two very big ifs—1. The Communists threw in enough air power to jeopardize our ground troops; or 2. If the Chinese attacked any U.N. ships or installations outside Korea.

But MacArthur was given a further directive that before he could do any bombing in either of the above categories he must first consult the joint chiefs. In other words, what might provoke MacArthur into bombing Manchuria might not be enough to provoke the joint chiefs. They didn't trust his judgment, were afraid he would interpret these conditions far more liberally than they.

Reason No. 2 was the fact that MacArthur was not one to take suggestions or guidance from the joint chiefs. While it is J.C.S. policy not to dictate to the commander in the field, they do reserve the right to give general guidance and make suggestions.

And they were quite provoked during MacArthur's November advance into North Korea that he ignored their warning that there was no battle communication between General Walker's 8th army and General Almond's 10th corps. When the joint chiefs warned MacArthur about this, he replied, rather coldly, that there was sufficient liaison.

However, the joint chiefs, still not satisfied, asked MacArthur a second time why General Almond and his 10th corps were operating independently of the 8th army, leaving a big gap between the two forces. MacArthur replied, unconvincedly, that General Almond and his 10th corps were drawing Chinese pressure away from the 8th army.

Later, when the Chinese struck, they picked the hole that had worried the joint chiefs, and smashed right into the vacuum between the 10th corps and the 8th army.

Reason No. 3 however, what finally got the joint chiefs really sore at MacArthur was the way his statement about using Chiang Kai-Shek's troops in Korea killed the universal military training bill.

For months the joint chiefs had set their hearts on passing universal military training for the first time in the history of the nation. But two days after MacArthur's statement urging that we use Chiang's Formosan troops, the U.M.T. bill was dead. MacArthur had killed it.

For congress was under immediate fire from the voters to use Chinese troops instead of expanding the draft.

U. N. Troops
A lot has been published about the failure of our United Nations friends to support us in Korea, but not much about certain unexpected support.

Italy, for instance, is not a member of the U.N., but has asked for permission to send units to Korea so far, nothing definite has been worked out.

Preserve Our Jordan River State Forest

By Joseph F. Bugal

Saving our state forests from ruin by profit-bent groups is becoming a real problem to outdoors sportsmen and lovers of our Great Outdoors. This has been most recently evidenced in connection with the Jordan Forest, using first a certain "Dead Man's Hill" as the entering wedge.

The value of this particular bill exists in that from its height one can view the soul-satisfying display of natural wilderness, with the serene Jordan river meandering its course along the peaceful Jordan valley. The scenic hill, with reasonable automobile access to it, has been in existence for a good many years, and has been enjoyed by many people who came there individually and in small family groups not only to admire the lovely scenery but to spend a few moments there in peaceful quietude away from the crowds and carnival surroundings. There are many spots in the Jordan forest of considerable scenic interest and, just like this hill, each must depend upon adjoining wonders to make it wonderful.

It was the hope to save this and the rest of the Jordan valley unpolluted, just like it was, that led to the establishment in 1934 of the Jordan River State Forest, now embracing around twenty thousand acres, administration of it being vested in the Forestry Division of our Department of Conservation.

The area abounds with considerable wild life; deer, rabbits, partridge, many song birds. It contains many pure water small streams, the origin of which can be easily found in boiling springs against the hillsides. It also contains approximately eighteen miles of spring-fed Jordan river from a point where it starts from springs and then rapidly grows in size, with perhaps the best natural trout reproduction cover in the state. It is all pollution free, and excepting a few threatening spots the area is free of soil erosion.

The established Forest is neither round nor square, but follows a pattern somewhat like skirting the river, which originates near Elmira, winding its course southwesterly about ten miles, then gradually turning northerly toward Lake Charlevoix at East Jordan, forming a horseshoe pattern in Antrim county, the lower eight miles of the river being outside of the Forest area.

The Forest area is mostly rolling with hills of more than average height flanking the river valley particularly in the upper stretches. It is all wooded, mostly young timber such as maple, beech, elm, basswood and other hardwoods in the upland, and spruce, balsam, cedar and other softwoods in some of the lowlands and the river valley, being highly representative of all species native to Michigan. Flowers too can be found here in abundance, and occasionally a wild orchid along the river bank.

In recent months there appeared new discoverers of this lovely area, and plans were formulated and highly publicized to have constructed high grade roads, picnic tables, kitchennettes, out-houses etc., and the promotion is visibly attested to by numerous commercial signs directing sight-seeing public to the hills and through the forest, the signs being placed outside of the Forestry Division jurisdiction. Even the offices of our political representatives and our governor were used in support of the ill-advised projected exploitation. Outdoors sportsmen have fought for years to preserve our natural resources and to have a politics-free Conservation Department.

One cannot now help wondering whether this beautiful valley could not have been more easily preserved in private hands, possibly as a private club.

The urging of sight-seeing traffic to "Dead Man's Hill" does not in itself appear wrong, but in this particular case it invites irreparable damage, not only in the loss of its wilderness atmosphere, but we have a soil erosion problem confronting us at this particular spot, which will be aggravated by increased public use of the hillside. Natural sequence to going on the hill is driving down to the river, with some folks walking or sliding downhill in the sand. This process is already started, and there is practically no control over it. Unless a definite and long-term program is adopted promptly much of the sand in the hillside will be at the bottom and in the river. When that happens, the "Hill" and the valley below it will not mean much to anyone, and the river for several miles will have been ruined for all time.

It is simply impossible to have a tourist park and a natural wilderness forest in the same place at the same time. The first is man-made, while the second is nature's creation. Not only were valuable fishing and hunting rights preserved to the public for all time, but the real value of the Jordan Forest lies in the preservation of its natural surroundings and wilderness atmosphere.

In this part of lower Michigan one can travel hundreds of miles on paved roads in almost any direction and be going through forests and woods of some kind more than half of the time, with some very beautiful scenery. Must we have a road to every acre and along every foot of the river in this particular forest? It is not enough to be able to get to it, or must we have a highway through it? The Jordan Forest is so located that since the general lumbering operations every part of it and the river has been reasonably accessible with twp. and other roads jutting into it from all sides, and lumbering trails within. There never was need for additional roads. There is no need for them now. We not only deceive ourselves but we cheat our children and their children when we insist that the few God-given spots of nature still remaining in our state must be viewed from a pavement at sixty miles an hour. As time passes, our people become more and more hungry for a secluded spot, away from the rumble of motors, where one can sit down all by himself in peaceful contentment, and possibly commune with his God in silence, and be inspired by nature's wonders, and be refreshed by the pure air found only in the wilderness. To the fulfillment of those thoughts the creation of the Jordan Forest was dedicated. This is the soul of the Jordan Valley.

Please, may we have it preserved that way for ourselves and our children? And wherever the flowers and trees sprout, even between the wagon wheel tracks on the trails, may they be permitted to grow unmolested? And upon maturity, may they be permitted to end their existence in the manner that nature prescribed—just natural-like?

There must be folks among us who value these gifts of nature apart and above money considerations, and to such the trees and the flowers, the hills and the valleys, the deer, the birds, and even the sparkling ripples of the Jordan, beckon for friendship.

SQUEALIN' EEL PEELIN'
An old lady, watching a fisherman skin eels, was worried about the eel's peace of mind. "Don't you realize the pain they must suffer?" she asked.
"I suppose I did, 20 years ago when I started skinning eels," replied the fisherman, "but I reckon they're used to it by now."

Word Study
The origin of the word "incompatibility" is perfectly clear. "When a husband loses his income, you'll notice how promptly his wife loses her patibility."

GOING DOWN!
A passenger in a plane sat relaxed at a window drinking in the spectacle of the heavens sliding by. Suddenly a parachutist appeared and drifted by. "Going to join me?" cried the parachutist.
"Thank you very much," replied the passenger. "I'm very happy just where I am."
"Just as you like," called back the parachutist. "I'm the pilot."

Cost-of-Living Index Stabilized For First Time Since June, 1950

THAT RISING SPIRAL—The government's predictions that prices would level off as a result of its numerous and sometimes confusing price regulations, seemed to be borne out with the announcement that the cost-of-living index has come to a dead stop.

The bureau of labor statistics put out two sets of figures that indicated the upward spiral had stopped for the first time since the outbreak of the Korean War last June.

Price Chief DiSalle
He told trade farm bloc his beef rollback order was justified.

As for food prices, the average home town housewife couldn't notice any decline, but according to government figures it was there—all 2 of a per cent of it. At the present time food prices are approximately 11.1 per cent above last June.

The confusing beef picture remained about the same with word from the White House that President Truman was "going to stand firm" behind Price Director Michael V. DiSalle on his order for the rollback.

THE PRICE WE PAY—For the first time since the Korean conflict began on June 25 of last year, the price we are paying for victory was made startlingly clear to the home town mothers and fathers of the nation.

Testifying before house and senate committees, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, reported there have been 72,679 non-battle casualties in Korea, boosting the total of all U.S. casualties in the war to 141,955.

Bradley told the senators there have been 69,276 battle casualties, including 10,680 dead. Of the nonbattle casualties, 612 died of such causes as pneumonia, automobile accidents, etc. Eighty-five per cent of the rest have returned to duty.

Release of these figures confirms rumors long circulated in the nation that casualties have been more than double those officially announced.

TRUMAN AND THE HOME TOWN—It was evident that President Truman had the home towns of the nation on his mind during his recent news conference. At two points he indicated he had been giving them considerable thought.

For one thing, he told newsmen that a third world war would turn American soil into a battle front. He said he believes that the people have enough intelligence and energy to meet any situation. But he indicated he was unwilling to take a chance on seeing how they would react under the destruction another world struggle would bring to the home towns of the nation.

The President would not say whether he will be a candidate again in 1952, but he did indicate another of his famous cross-country tours to tell the home towners his policies was a possibility.

In the 1948 election campaign the President carried his message to the home towners and made hundreds of speeches to small but enthusiastic audiences. His appeal on the local level is credited with his success in that campaign. It seems likely, therefore, that another cross-country swing is but a matter of time.

APPEAL TO MAIN STREET—Governments may argue and pass regulations, but they are ineffective if Main Street doesn't support them. This outstanding trait of democracy was demonstrated again when the house agriculture committee appealed to housewives and consumer representatives to come forward and defend the beef rollback aimed at cutting the price of beef 3 to 10 cents at butcher stores by October 1.

Under continued assault from cattlemen, packers and distributors, the committee decided the best counterattack would be from Main Street customers. They wanted to hear from any consumers or consumer groups who think the beef order will benefit them.

Meanwhile the government ordered a cut in the number of cattle that may be slaughtered this month. The quota will be 87 per cent of the weight slaughtered in June, 1950. The purpose is to assure fair distribution of livestock among registered slaughterers and to prevent the rise of black markets.

WHAT CHANCES FOR PEACE?—Ever since the MacArthur incident impressed upon the man on Main Street the awful possibility of years of struggle in Korea, one question has been uppermost in the mind of every American—what are the chances for peace?

At present there are being circulated rumors of peace proposals. These rumors have grown since United Nations troops broke the back of the second Chinese offensive and then plunged northward to kill and capture thousands of Red troops.

But it would be well for the home towners to remember that talk of peace as circulated now are but rumors—nothing more. It would be futile to pin the hope of peace on a rumor and then have it deflated by another Communist attack. Military leaders in Korea report the killing and capture of thousands of Red soldiers, but still warn they are capable of another offensive. It is well to remember that peace can not be made by one party—there must be two.

RED CROSS IN KOREA—The American Red Cross, to which millions of people in the home towns of the nation have contributed their dollars, this month is launching the operations of 28 clubmobiles for the troops in Korea. The clubmobiles, to be staffed by 80 Red Cross girls, were requested by the military because of their adaptability to the quick-shifting Korean war front.

A popular feature of the Red Cross services to the armed forces in World War II, the clubmobiles will provide-irmen and ground troops with free coffee and doughnuts, recorded music and stationery.

They will supplement the one large Red Cross club operating at the port of Pusan. At present approximately 360 Red Cross workers and more than 3,000 volunteers are now serving American troops in Asia.

The Senator and the General
Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, told house and senate committees investigating the MacArthur affair that U.S. casualties in Korea were 141,955. (See story above.)

FARM MANPOWER PROBLEM

Better Living Standard May Ease Problem

Reports from many sections of the country continue to show no improvement in the farm manpower problem. Draft boards are still handing out few deferments for agriculture.

Industry is also draining off a great part of the remaining farm manpower, reports indicate.

As a result, the nation is entering a period of mobilization—almost a state of war—with the fewest farm workers in its history.

The labor problem is further complicated by the fact that many workers now available are capable of handling nothing more complicated than a hoe. They are a poor substitute for a hired hand or son who has a life-time of training in agronomy, animal husbandry, and power machinery.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Hope "Cappy" Told Him Where To Get Off!

"Cappy" Fisher—who just retired after thirty-five years as a railroad conductor—was telling about a salesman who was often one of his passengers.

"That man was so busy," says Cappy, "he used to bring a dictaphone on the train to catch up on his letters. On one trip he'd been rushing around so much he clean forgot to bring his ticket. Left it on his desk."

When Cappy started to tell him not to worry about the ticket, the salesman busts out with "Who's worried about the ticket? It's just that now I don't know what city I was going to get off at!"

Cappy might have been pulling our leg, but from where I sit, lots of us get so wrapped up in ourselves we often forget "where we're going." Some folks get so narrow they even begrudge their neighbors the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. Let's not forget that just as trains run on steam and oil, democracies run on freedom and tolerance!

THE AMERICAN WAY

A Reasonable Question

Gasoline prices went up—advertised—after the legislature passed the 1 1/2 cent boost over the governor's veto. Here the G.O.P. logic in approving the law broke down.

Republicans said the oil companies would absorb most of the price rise to keep intra-state prices on a par. The companies categorically refused, despite pleas from the governor.

The C.I.O. in opening its campaign to put the issue on a referendum says the law is "Picking the workman's pocket". They, of course, favor Williams' corporation tax.

A state police racket squad has been created to suppress gambling and narcotics peddling in the state. As predicted in this column two months ago, Williams and Donald S. Leonard, state police supt., announced the formation of a special squad to work with local law enforcement officials.

Prior to this time, all of Michigan outside of Detroit had to depend on federal officers.

After surviving two years of worker's strikes, the Bell Telephone company seeks $22,000,000 increase in rates to restore its 15 percent standby margin for expansions and increased services. Says a company spokesman: "We still have 18,000 unfilled orders and 132,000 customers who want better services."

Term of Schuyler L. Marshall of St. Johns, former newspaper publisher, on the Michigan Public Service Commission will expire early in July. Democrats now hold two out of three offices on the commission. The state conservation is bipartisan. If Williams appoints a third Democrat to the utility body, the commission would be 100 per cent under his control. Re-appointment of Marshall would still leave Democrats in a majority.

While Williams was signing four minor measures to help restrict welfare chiseling, investigators uncovered another case where school administrators were peddling school enrollment record to get additional state aid which is given on a per-student basis. Just who can we trust?

With Washington still tossing universal military training around like the hot potato it is, Michigan got its smallest draft call in 18 months. In July 1938 Michigan men will get the nod from Uncle Sam. Although there is no understanding the moods of draft officials, the number demanded seems to run in direct proportion with our successes in Korea.

Labor has been accused of impairing chances of an effective inflation curb. Says Lambert H. Miller, general council of the National Association of Manufacturers: "The walkout of labor members of the wage stabilization board after adoption of the 10 percent wage formula 'catchup' program in February put an end to effective wage stabilization."

The new $5,000,000 state office building has been officially approved by Washington. Occupants now living on the site—immediately west of the capitol

Children from the East Jordan School District, are taken to the Mental Health Clinic in Traverse City. Ten children have received help this year. Petoskey Michigan, will soon have a Mental Health Clinic, which will include Charlevoix County also; we are very happy about this because of the nearness, it will be easier to the clinic. It will mean that more children will receive the help they need.

8. Dr. Litzenger examines all boys who play in the athletic program, also all boys who attend the summer camp sponsored by the Community Chest.

9. The Childrens Fund of Michigan, has placed in our Health District this past year a Dentist and Dental Hygienist, who does Sodium Fluoride treatments. They came to the East Jordan School May 11th and will leave June 14th. When they leave the dentist will have seen about 300 children, the Dental Hygienist will have treated about 180 children.

Toothbrushes and fingernail files have been furnished children who do not have them at home and are unable to purchase.

Shoes, clothes, medical care and medications have been purchased for needy children.

Fifteen pair of glasses have been purchased for children who needed them and the family were unable to purchase them.

The Milk Program was advanced this year to take in the second grade as well as the first and kinderg. The amount asked from the parents also was increased from two to four dollars for the year. The school reimbursed us two cents on a bottle for Sept., Oct., Nov, and Dec., in Jan. the state cut the amount paid the school to one cent, just for Jan. In Feb. the amount was increased to two cents again for the remainder of the year. The children have received much benefit from this program, as their health record will show. It is the Health Comm. wish that next year it will be able to continue the program as it is set up now.

At the Charlevoix County fair, the Health District had a T. B. X-ray Mobile Unit, place there by the State Dept. 734 chest X-rays were taken at the Fair last Sept.

Each year a patch test is given children in the school and all patch test which react positive, that child is taken to Gaylord to the T. B. Sanatorium for a chest x-ray. This past year 19 children have had chest x-rays at Gaylord. We have on boy receiving treatment in the Sanatorium now.

Tell the Story!

Lesson for June 17, 1951

"TELL me the old, old story" is a favorite hymn in many places. But the first Christians would have been considerably puzzled by that hymn if you had tried it on them. It was no old, old story for them, it was hot news.

Whatever objections people may have had to Christianity in those days, they never said it was "old stuff." More than that, Christians did not go around telling one another the story of Jesus.

"Gospel" in Greek means simply good news. It is the story of Jesus, the kind of person he was, the kind of truths he taught, the kind of work he did, the death he died, but the story of Jesus is more than the story of a man, uniquely great though he was.

It is, after all, the story of God, God who became man so that in the life of Christ Jesus we can read the unreadable God, see the Invisible, know the Great Unknown. The early Christians were not theologians, and they did not use the language, or the formulas that centuries of thought were to hammer out. They never used the word "Incarnation" and seldom used the word "Atonement." But that was what they were driving at.

The Story Is a Challenge LOOK through the book of Acts for the story of Jesus as the early Christians told it, and you will see that the Incarnation and the Atonement are there. The Incarnation—that God has lived among us as a man among men, that the glory of God is in the face of Christ. The Atonement—that for Christ's sake God offers forgiveness to all men, that the door to God's love is a wide-open portal.

The early church taught and told this; but not just as a story to entertain or inform, not as a puzzle to be solved, not as something to be believed or not, as we please; but as THE story, not only the "greatest story ever told" but beyond any comparison the most important.

If you cannot see God in Christ, where can you see him? If you will not take God's forgiveness for Christ's sake, then what right have you to look for forgiveness at all?

Christianity Is a Life THE readers of the book of Acts will discover that the early Christians were not simply preachers. They lived a new sort of life. The essential thing was that they lived as a family—the family of God. They so lived that few have fully imitated them since.

The way in which Christians treated one another was so different from what the world was used to, that an almost new word had to be used for it.

When Paul went about preaching, a good deal of what he said was about himself. Was this because he had taken the place of Jesus? No, it was the other way around—Jesus had taken his place. That is, what Paul had to tell was not simply the story of Jesus "from Bethlehem to Calvary," it was not even the story of the Resurrection.

What always aroused Paul's finest eloquence was his story of what Christ had done to him, for him, through him, in him. The Gospel is the power of God, he said to the Romans. And if this were not true, do you suppose the Christian religion could have lasted as long as it has?

But the telling of this story, and the living of it, is not something the church can leave to the women, or to the preachers, or to "missionary societies." Letting the world know the news, the good news, is the business of the whole family of God.

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellows: The dope came through on Glen E. Persons, SA 420-88-33, US Batecourt, APA 186, c/o FPO, New York, N.Y. His ship, a troop transport, will leave around the middle of June for a three months cruise of the Mediterranean. The points that were listed for his boat to stop at are the same as those of Ralph Hott whom I mentioned in last week's letter. Could it be they are in the same fleet?

Another new address this week is that of Pvt Norman Howard, US 55-073-948, US Army Hosp, Ward-C7, Fort Benning, Georgia. Norman has been in training with the paratroopers at Fort Benning. A short time ago he injured his back on a training jump. He is now in the hospital taking treatment for his injury. Pvt. Robert Kitson, RA 16-364-221 Co. A, Arbn Bn., S.T.R., Box 3 and Sgt. Alfred G. Rogers are in the same camp I'll bet Norman would be glad to see you two men who are out and on two good legs. If you don't know each other already just say you're from East Jordan—that's introduction enough.

Pvt Clifford Cutler, US 55-024-581, 171st Evac Hosp SmbL, APO 15 c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif. is located in Japan. As his address indicates he is with an Evacuation Hospital unit. His wife Phyllis says he is helping to care for and to transfer the Korean casualties who are being flown back back for hospitalization.

Donald Dixon has been home this past week. He cuts quite a swath around town with that white cap cocked over one eye. Wonder if he's been seasick yet?

I heard Charlie Strehl saying he was going to knock off work soon and drive Mary and the kids out to see Bud in El Toro, Calif. Buds address is M/Sgt Charles Strehl, Jr., USMC - MTCAS - 3, USMACAS, El Toro, Santa Ana, California. Bud is a marine reserve who after serving a good long hitch in the last war, was called up again in this emergency. We know how glad you'll be to see the family, Bud.

Lt. Frances J. Lenosky, N 7901 406, Fitzsimmons General Hosp, Denver, Colorado is one of the two servicewomen from East Jordan and vicinity. Frances has had plenty of experience as a nurse and I can just imagine she is getting more all the time. There are plenty of casualties to be taken care of and we can all be thankful for the girls like Frances who are there on the job taking care of our wounded men. Frances, if anyone from here comes through your hospital be sure to let me know.

Herb Griffin, after being here on leave two weeks ago, has reported back from Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Upon checking addresses I find that his is the same as Herman Beyers, Co I, 511th AIR.

My list shows Donald Neumann's address to be US Coast Guard, Tilghman, Maryland. Almost straight north of him, about 50 miles as the crow flies is the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. And in the 515 Ord AAA Maint Det at the Grounds is Pvt. Gale Murphy. You fellows are a long way from East Jordan but not too far from each other. There should be some darn good beaches on that long point that Tilghman is situated on. Take a dip for me boys. So Long until next week, "Jake" Snyder.

Hubert S. Bears Gets Probation For Mutilating School Record

Two Educators were placed on two years probation in Hillsdale County Circuit Court Tuesday after pleading guilty to charges of mutilating and destroying public records. Hubert S. Bears, former superintendent of the Litchfield school district and superintendent Edward Phelps of North Adams District had admitted earlier they padded school enrollment records to bring more state money into their districts.

Bears was fired by the Litchfield school board in March after he admitted including in the enrollment lists of his district the names of migrant workers' children who did not attend classes. Hubert Bears was a resident of Ellsworth some years ago.

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

A. T. Shorey, Albany, N.Y. writes: "Why is it nobody can seem to catch walleyes in some of the lakes in this region?"

Up in Michigan, and other states, anglers can catch walleyes on live baits readily, but here in the Sacandaga Reservoir and nearby waters these fish won't take hold. Fishermen claim they can't get any by still fishing, trolling, or casting at this season. What's the reason for this?

This is a tough problem to solve, for there are many factors that influence the situation. Although walleyes are greedy eaters of minnows, there are days when they remain quiet and don't feed.

One reason for the poor results, however, is that these fish are mainly night feeders, and for the most part they stay in the deepest areas of lake bottoms—particularly among the rocks—and so escape the attacks of the majority of fishermen.

In fact, during the summer months the walleyes of most deep lakes stay in a rather dormant state in the daytime, and move about after dark in search of minnows in the shallow sections. Night fishing, then, brings the best results.

Still fishing in the deep areas during the day won't produce much action, but trolling will score. The lure must not only be brought close to the resting fish, but also create enough commotion and natural action to attract the walleyes and incite them into striking. These fish won't pass up a lure that resembles a minnow, if they are at all hungry.

Without a knowledge of the habits of walleyes, and of how and where to fish for them, you're not going to be able to catch many. This is one indication of the difficulty in Shorey's riddle. Another answer is that in many of the waters there is an abundant supply of minnows and the walleyes gorge themselves with this easily obtained food and ignore artificial lures.

Trolling with an archer-spinner and live chub or sucker is often successful, but the June Bug spinner is even better. When the fish are inshore during the night, it's well to cast a June Bug spinner or plug, let it sink close to the bottom, then retrieve it in a hithy manner.

By reading over the chapter on walleyes in Old Hi's booklet "Fishing For The Millions", you'll find out ways of coaxing indolent pike to grab your spinners and plugs. These tips will help you get more action, and you can have a copy of this booklet, free of charge, by sending a penny postage request to me, in care of this newspaper.

With thousands of anglers lined up along the beaches of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, many excellent catches of striped bass, weakfish, channel bass, bluefish, croakers, and others are being made at the time. Surf casting is the favorite method of taking the plucky fighters of the inshore areas, on a sturdy 6 1/2-foot tip rod such as the "Surf King", or the "North Point", equipped with the new model "Silver King" surf casting reel and 100 yards of Skirr braided nylon surf line.

Ask for your free copies of Old Hi's illustrated booklets on "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing" for details on surf casting.

The greatest stumbling block in the path of most men usually is not laziness or fear but a tight-skirted, low-necked, sultry-voiced, diamond-decked, perfumery-scented vamp called "tomorrow."

"The battle for democracy is on. Now is the time for all employers to cease firing."

If you have an open mind chances are something worthwhile will drop into it.

"I WANT A MOTHER"

Would you like to brighten some unfortunate child's life? To learn how, read "I Want a Mother" in this Sunday's (June 17) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.
