Recreation Calendar Gets Better Each Week

Street Races for the Kids, The Fourth

The first event of the big Fourth Celebration was the street races for the boys and girls. A dismal misty rain greeted the participants and spectators as the races started. But rain or not the kids did their part and the spectators became so enthused that they couldn't be kept off the course.

Events and winners: 30 yard dash for boys 5 and under—first, Billy Darbee; second, Fritz Biermeister, Detroit; third, Mike Damoth.

30 yard dash for girls 5 and under—first, Linda Healey; second, Susan Thacker; third, Becky Thacker.

30 yard dash boys 6, 7, and 8—first, Butch Morgan, Highland Park; second, Gary Moore; third, Mike Kowalski.

30 yard dash girls 6, 7, and 8—first, Jane Campau; second, Mary Porter; third, Sherry Chak.

40 yard dash boys 9, 10, and 11—first, Bruce Healey; second, Dick Riley; third, Bob Shaw.

40 yard dash girls 9, 10, and 11—first, Judy Taylor; second, Gloria Richards; third, Donna Neumann.

40 yard dash boys 12, 13, and 14—first, Richard Streeter; second, Kit Carson, Charlevoix; third, Jerry Dedoes, Detroit.

40 yard dash girls 12, 13, and 14—first, Shawnee Sommerville; second, Shirley Fredericks, Chicago; third, Judy Snyder, Detroit.

Bike race for boys 6 and under—first, Mike Damoth; second, Fritz Biermeister, Detroit.

Three-legged race for boys 14 and under—first, Phil Raymond and Fred Clark; second, Denny Wilson and Larry Woodcock; third, Susy Richards and Richard Streeter.

Three-legged race for girls 14 and under—first, Judy Likak and Judy Dressell; second, Judy Taylor and Dian Taylor; third, Janet DeHaven and Mary Porter.

Rope skipping race for girls 8 and under—first, Jane Campau; second, Linda Healey; third, Trudy Sommerville.

Rope skipping race for girls 9 and up—first, Judy Snyder, Detroit; second, Beverly Coveyou, Petoskey; third, Diane Taylor.

Pie-eating contest (open to all)—first, Freddy Clark; second, Phil Raymond; third, Billy Taylor.

Soap Box Derby

One of the feature attractions of the July 4th Celebration was the first Northern Michigan Soap Box Derby. Owner of the winning car was Jerry O'Brien, age 13 of East Jordan.

Entries for this Northern Michigan Soap Box Derby were received from Petoskey, Boyne City and East Jordan. Seventeen boys entered their car but three defaulted leaving fourteen drivers who actually raced.

Second place in the Derby went to Armand Drapeau, age 10, of East Jordan. Steven Williams, age 11, of Boyne City was third.

Prizes received by the winners were a new bicycle for first place, a trappers first baseman's mitt for second place, and a rifle for third place.

Fortunately it can be said that no accidents occurred although many close calls were had.

Boys who entered the race were: Gary Bartlett, age 13; Bob Shaw, age 10; Jerry O'Brien, age 13; Armand Drapeau, age 10; Alen Sommerville, age 14; Steve Brennan, age 12; Ralph Shepard, age 11; Bob Darbee, age 14; Bob Healey, age 10; Leo Thomas, age 12; Dennis Wilson, age 13; and Jimmy Galmora, age 10, all of East Jordan; Jim Smith, age 12, Petoskey; and Steven Williams, age 11, Boyne City.

Two boys from Boyne City and one from East Jordan did not show up for the race.

Archery

Twenty some youngsters took in the second session in archery last Thursday afternoon. Most of them were spectators for lack of equipment but they certainly did not lack interest.

Archery is a sport for young and old alike. Try it some time. You will be surprised at the fun you have. However, it is not a sport for unsupervised shooting by the beginner, especially if that beginner is a youngster.

Tennis

The tennis court at both the High School and the Tourist Park are being kept busy during most of the time this summer because of the number of local boys and girls and visitors, too, who desire to play.

This is a fine thing as tennis can be played at most any age and is therefore a good game to learn.

Square Dance

Do not forget the Square Dance held Thursday nights (tonight) at the East Jordan Tourist Park beginning at 8:30. An orchestra has been hired and everyone is welcome, regardless of age. These dances are planned for every Thursday night for a while, so plan to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flora announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Joseph Skop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Skop of Boyne Falls. No date for the wedding has been set.

Marriages

Moon - Kaley

A nuptial High Mass was sung at 9:00 o'clock, June 30, in Sacred Heart Church, Muskegon, for the marriage of Miss Margaret Helen Moon and Donald O. Kaley.

The Altar was decked with arrangements of white gladioli for the double-ring rites read by Rev. Fr. Marcel Van Bergen.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Celia Moon, 1132 Howden St. and her husband is the son of Mrs. Florence Kaley, 937 Reynolds St., Muskegon Heights.

The Sacred Heart Senior Choir sang the Mass.

For her marriage the bride chose a white lace and not gown over taffeta styled with long sleeves tapering to wrist points, a fitted bodice and lace penguins. Her full skirt ended with a long train. Her finger-tip veil trimmed with the lace was held by a tiara of seed pearls. Her double strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses. Mrs. Donald Walton, sister of the bridegroom was Matron of Honor and wore a gown of blue taffeta. Miss Charlotte Nelson, bridesmaid wore a yellow net gown and both girls carried a cascade arrangement of white and pink peonies and carnations. Their head pieces matched their gowns, as did their mitts. Patty Ann Walton niece of the bridegroom was flower girl and wore a pink gown and mitts to match and carried a basket of rose petals.

Francis Kaley was best man for his brother and Tony Moon brother of the bride was groomsmen. Ushers were Lloyd Moon and Ivan Flaska Jr.

Mothers of the couple both wore navy dresses with white carnation corsage.

A wedding breakfast and dinner was served to immediate relatives following the ceremony.

The Ukrainian Hall was the scene of the wedding reception for 200 guests at which Mr. and Mrs. Edward St. Charles were master and mistress of ceremonies. Music was provided by the Skocelas brothers, Mrs. Melvin Pophola and Mrs. Francis Kaley had charge of the gifts. Miss Teresa Ostradick the guest book. Mrs. Roy McCrea cut the five-tier wedding cake. For their northern wedding trip, the bride wore a brown and gold checked suit, with brown accessories. The bride that attended Muskegon Heights High School and is employed as a switch board operator at Centennial Motors Corporation, Getty Street plant. Her husband graduated from East Jordan High School and is employed at the Michigan Spring Company.

The couple are living at 2122 Bourdon Street.

Guests attended the wedding from Chicago, Fremont, White Cloud and Grand Haven.

Michigan 4-H Club Program Ranks High

Records show Michigan's 4-H Club program is at or near the top when compared with other states.

With 5,244 clubs, Michigan leads the nation. With 88.96 per cent of the nearly 60,000 members completing all the projects undertaken, Michigan leads the north-central region of 12 states.

Ranking third in the percentage of completions in the United States and territories, Michigan is led only by Maine, Rhode Island and Puerto Rico, all with very small total memberships.

A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State College, credits the local volunteer leaders for much of the success of the program in Michigan.

Clayton Healey Appointed Committeeman For Farmer's Home Adm.

Mr. Clayton Healey, of Eveline Township, has been appointed Committeeman for the Farmers Home Administration in Charlevoix County, according to J. C. Young, County Superior.

The Farmers Home Administration has a county committee of three farmers, who must approve the eligibility of all applicants before any loan is made. The committee meets on an average of once each month. They must also approve loans made on farms and set the amount of such loans.

Mr. Healey has long been prominent in Charlevoix County and neighborhood affairs. He operates one of the better known dairy places in the county, combining that with an increasing fruit business. He succeeds Harry Behling of Wilson Township. Mr. Behling has been a committeeman for three years, a regular term, and under the law is not eligible to succeed himself.

The other member of the committee are Melvin Somerville, Jr., of Evangeline Township and Jasper Warner of Norwood.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving memory of dear father, son and brother, who gave his life for our country at Gela, Sicily, July 13, 1943. The rolling stream of life flows on

But still, the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice, the smile

Of one who once sat there.

Traffic Deaths Again Drop, But Injured Increase

May was the second consecutive month this year to show a decrease in traffic deaths in Michigan. There were 117 persons killed, four less than during the same month in 1950.

According to a State Police monthly statistical report, however, the upward trend in injuries and accidents continued. May accounted for more persons injured than any other month this year and accidents totaled only slightly below the January high of 15,645.

There were 4,284 persons injured, an increase of 953, or 29 per cent, over 3,331 in May last year. Accidents climbed to 15,335, an increase of 4,499, or 42 per cent, over 10,836.

The entire reduction in traffic fatalities occurred in rural areas. There was an increase in urban areas. Pedestrians deaths were up sharply, 39 as compared to 27 for the same month the previous year.

The traffic toll for the first five months includes 675 persons killed, 17,495 injured and 70,980 accidents. Compared with the same period a year ago deaths are up 40, or seven per cent, over 536, injuries increased 2,596, or 17 per cent, over 15,099, and accidents gained 12,203, or 21 per cent, over 58,777.

Travel during April, the latest month available, was 1.9 billion miles, an increase of ten per cent over 1.7 billion in April last year. Travel during the first four months was up 12 per cent, 7 billion miles as compared to 6.3 billion.

The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was 6.3, five per cent below the rate of 6.6 last year. This was the first time in 1951 that the death rate was lower than during the same period of the previous year.

Antrim County Farm Bureau News

Thursday, July 19, is the date, and Barnes Park, Eastport is the place for the annual picnic sponsored this year by both the Grange and Farm Bureau.

Everyone, farmers, townpeople, our city friends vacationing here, are all invited to come and bring their picnic baskets and enjoy the day with us. # Malik's Korean Peace Proposal Causing World-Wide Speculation

THE TIMING WAS PERFECT—Whether or not Russia's Jacob A. Malik was sincere in his proposed cease-fire in Korea is a question that only time will answer, but of one thing the people in the home towns of America were sure—the timing was perfect.

The average man in the small towns of the country has a sincere desire for peace. He is sure of a number of things: (1) U.S. casualties now number 73,000 and he wants his sons and brothers home; (2) The war has strained the nation's bipartisan foreign policy and threatens to cause an even more serious internal split; (3) and the war has increased the dangers of inflation throughout the western world.

Perhaps the Russians realized these facts and picked the first anniversary of the start of the Korean war for their peace move. But the move was unusual in that Malik made no reference to any of the Korean peace conditions previously set by the Soviet bloc: a deal on Formosa, admission of Communist China to the United Nations, and withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea. It could be that the Soviet is sincere. But it could also be that the Soviet recognized the great propaganda potentialities of a peace move at this time.

The home towners of the nation would do well to remember, however, that Russia is not officially in the war. The next step is up to the Chinese Communists. If the Chinese, who have made no comment on Malik's proposition, indicate what he said actually reflects a change in their Korean policy and a desire to end the fighting, then the man on Main Street can allow himself to hope for peace.

However, if the Chinese ignore the whole business, or restate their earlier demands for U.N. membership and control of Formosa, as the price for a Korean settlement, then the suspicion that Malik was more interested in making propaganda than in making peace will be confirmed.

The U.S. state department has indicated a willingness to play its part in bringing an end to the hostilities in Korea if Malik's offer "is more than propaganda." But until there is some concrete evidence of sincerity in the proposal the U.S. will act with caution.

At the moment that seems the only sensible attitude to adopt. It is one the home towners may find best to follow.

THE BALANCE SHEET—As the first year of conflict ended in Korea, the fighting was as bloody and dirty as the day it began. But the balance sheet would indicate the Communists have lost the first round in their planned aggression.

On the credit side of the ledger: (1) The first U.N. battle force was raised and integrated in the initial bloody weeks; (2) the U.S. and her allies were dynamited into world-wide alertness and rearmament; (3) American military forces have learned valuable military lessons, developed new techniques, and tested much of the enemy's strategy; (4) the west has proved it will not abandon the small nations of Asia and Europe; and (5) the North Korean army has been mangled and the Chinese have had startling losses, estimated in all at 1,162,500 casualties.

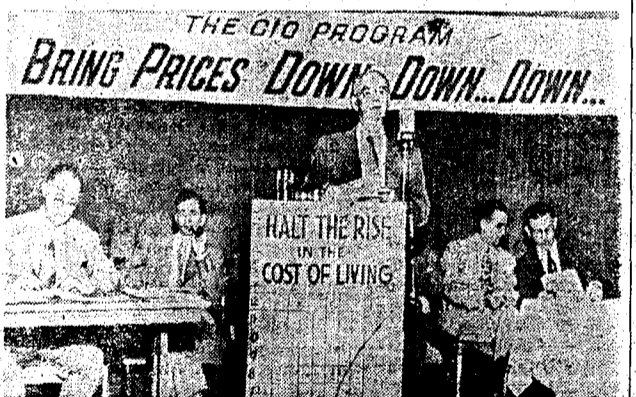

On the other side of the ledger: (1) Allied casualties have been heavy for peaceful nations (approximately 352,500); (2) most of the west's military strength has been hobbled to a peninsula of secondary world-wide importance; (3) the Russians have lost only one known combat man in battle; (4) conflict has hastened the financial drain and made inflation more dangerous in the west; (5) Communists still retain the initiative, in Korea and throughout the world.

THE YEAR OF INFLATION—Since the Korean war began on June 25, 1950, livestock prices in this country have increased $3 to $10 a hundred pounds. At the same time, livestock production was much greater during the past 12 months than the preceding twelve.

A year ago hogs were no higher than $20.50. Today they are selling at $23.50, and last summer went to $25.50 a hundred pounds.

The cattle trade is about $8 a hundred pounds higher than a year ago although production ran 20 per cent above the 12 months preceding the start of the war. When the war broke out, steers were selling downward from $31.50. Currently they are topping at $38.50.

Sheep and lamb production has changed slightly, but prices have developed much higher. Best lambs are about $34.50 now, down from $42.50 in March, but compared with $28.50 a year ago. Ewes are topping at $17.50 now, down from 25 in February, compared with $10.50 a year ago.

The Home Front Battle
On the home front the battle to keep down prices was the issue of special groups. The CIO entered the fray by launching a drive for tighter anti-inflation controls.

RECORD-BREAKING TAX—By a vote of 233 to 160, the house approved a record-breaking $7,200,000,000 tax increase, including a 12 1/2 per cent boost in individual income taxes.

The measure is now before the senate where the finance committee is holding hearings. The senate is expected to approve the bill, possibly with a few minor changes.

Here is where the government would collect the additional money: Individuals, $2,847,000,000; corporate income and excess profits taxes, $2,855,000,000; excise taxes, $1,232,000,000; and miscellaneous changes in the revenue laws, $245,000,000.

PARIS TALKS END—After 16 weeks of futile talks, the deputy foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia broke off their efforts to write a program of a big four conference to ease world tension.

But they left the door open for their governments to make one last attempt to arrange a meeting of the big four foreign ministers, which has been suggested for July 23 in Washington.

No one in the diplomatic world believed that the Russians would accept the invitation.

STARTLING EXPERIMENT

Spray Keeps Vegetables Fresh a Year

Results of experiments with a new spray—moleic hydrazide—which keeps potatoes, onions and several other vegetables fresh for a year or more, was reported by The Country Gentleman.

The spray arrests growth. Growth is so slow after spraying that the vegetables fall even to die at the rapid rate normal during storage. Every living process seems slowed down. Flavor and firmness are retained for a long time, apparently for about a year. Scientists reported experiments were so successful they "could hardly believe them possible." Crops are sprayed before gathering. The spray does not affect the yield. It has been used successfully on potatoes, onions, carrots, beets, parsnips and turnips.

Wrong Kind of Box

A young man called the Marvelle Theatre where the current hit was playing. "I should like to reserve a box," he said. "What is the cost?" "Our prices range from one to five hundred dollars," was the reply, "and it will be necessary for you to make your selection in person." "At that price I shan't need to make a selection," said the young man, indignantly. "Why I wouldn't pay one hundred dollars to see the best show in the country." "I'm afraid, sir, that you have the wrong number," the amused voice replied. "You see, our boxes are not for the show, but for after it's over. This is the Marvelle Casket Company."

On Ham?

A well known columnist tells of someone watching some kids who were playing Wild West. One had made a bar of a packing box and scrawled a sign on it: "This is the Wild West and this box is the Last Chance Saloon."

Another kid swaggered up, pounded the bar and cried: "I'll have a rye!"

A third, much younger, and apparently less sophisticated swaggered up alongside him and squeaked: "I'll have a whole wheat!"

GOOD REASON

"Were there any powder marks on the body of the deceased man?" asked the coroner.

"Certainly there were powder marks," replied the wife, "that's why I shot him."

No Middle Ground

A visitor was complaining to President Truman about all of the war talk emanating from Washington, especially from the armed forces.

The President shrugged his shoulders. "It's about like Jim Forrestal used to say," he observed. "If you tell congress everything about the world situation, they get hysterical. If you tell them nothing they go fishing."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

"Hello."

"That you, Jake?"

"Yep, this is Jake."

"It doesn't sound like Jake."

"Well, this is Jake speaking all right."

"Are you sure this is Jake?"

"Sure, this is Jake!"

"Well, listen, Jake. This is Henry. Lend me fifty dollars."

"All right. I'll tell him when he comes in."

Old Maid

Small girl, showing her older sister's bedroom to playmate: "My sister's 19. I thought I'd have her room someday, but she never married."

Twisted Tongue

"Spring has come," gushed a radio style authority, "and the chirds are birping."

Too True

"Girls who have lots of pepper are not to be sneezed at."

BE MORE SPECIFIC

Dickie, aged four, answered the telephone. Trying to be grown-up, he asked the caller, "Would you like to leave a message?" "Yes," said the caller. "Tell him Mr. Brown called." "Tell him Mr. Brown called," Dickie got a pencil and paper and said, "Mr. Brown? How do you spell it?" "B-R-O-W-N." A moment of silence, then a very small voice asked plaintively, "How do you make a 'B'?"

90,000 People Killed in U.S. During Past Year

CHICAGO, Ill.—The National Safety Council reported 90,000 people were killed in accidents during 1950. 8,900,000 were injured, with a total cost to the public amounting to $7,700,000,000.

Huge as the toll was, it represented a saving of 1,000 lives from the 1949 total—a reduction of one per cent.

Motor vehicle accidents led the list as the nation's number one killer, with home accidents second. The darkest part of the accident picture for 1950 was the failure to hold the line against motor vehicle deaths, the council reported. Booming auto production and soaring travel sent traffic deaths up 11 per cent to the highest toll since 1941.

Americans Safer

But away from the wheels of their cars, Americans generally were safer in 1950. Although occupational deaths went up slightly as a result of greater employment, home accident deaths and those occurring in public places not involving a motor vehicle decreased more than enough to offset the rise in traffic deaths.

The 1950 all-accident death rate was 59.9 per hundred thousand population. This is the lowest rate on record, bettering the previous record low rate of 61.2 in 1949.

Nevertheless, one out of every 17 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury in 1950.

The estimated economic loss of $7,700,000,000 from accidents in 1950 covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents and includes wage losses, medical expense and overhead costs of insurance for all accidents, production delays, damage to equipment in occupational accidents and property damage from traffic accidents and fires.

Aged persons 65 years and older made up the only age group to show a decrease—31 per cent. Deaths of children under 15 were about the same in 1950 as in 1949. There were 8 per cent more deaths in the 15-24 year group and 5 per cent more among persons 25-44 years of age. The 45-64 year group has a 1 per cent increase.

Falls a Heavy Killer

Falls, always a heavy killer, brought death to 18,600 persons in 1950—13 per cent fewer than in 1949. Deaths from burns numbered 7,000—an 8 per cent increase from 1949.

Drowning totaled 6,100 in 1950—a decrease of 9 per cent. Firearm deaths dropped 11 per cent to 2,100.

Catastrophes in which the toll was at least five lives occurred about as often in 1950 as in 1949, but resulted in more deaths. Up to the closing days of 1950, the number of deaths in such catastrophes totaled nearly 1,500—an increase of about 250 from 1949.

Three catastrophes in 1950 caused more than 50 deaths each—the November wind and snow storm in the northeastern states, the collision of two suburban trains in New York, and the crash of a scheduled air transport plane into Lake Michigan. Eight other catastrophes caused between 25 and 50 deaths.

As in past years, the bulk of the accident total was made up of one or two-death accidents.

Finder Returns Pocketbook
And Gets Watch in Return

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Strange things happen to many people. Mrs. Fred Huff, Sr., for instance, was parking her car recently when she found a pocketbook containing $45 lying beside a parking meter.

She watched the lost-and-found columns and noticed an advertisement by Mrs. Eunice Baugh, saying she had lost her pocketbook.

The two women met and Mrs. Baugh identified her pocketbook.

As she thanked Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Baugh remarked:

"You don't happen to know of anybody who has lost a wrist watch, do you?"

After she missed her billfold, Mrs. Baugh related, she retraced her steps and, nearing the parking meter, discovered a wrist watch.

The surprised Mrs. Huff said she had lost hers, explaining that a link in the watch band was faulty.

"I guess it dropped off when I reached down for the billfold," she added.

The women thanked one another and parted.

Two Friendly, Unhurried
Robbers Wind Up in Jail

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—Raymond Asselin is so persuasive he can talk a robber out of his money—that's exactly what he did.

A couple of holdup men—one of them carrying a gun—robbed Asselin's cafe of $192.

The deed done, Asselin invited them to a drink. While drinking they were talked into returning the money.

"But," cautioned one of them, "don't call the police for 20 minutes after we go."

An hour later the pair was stopped for speeding in Hartford, Conn.

Asselin identified the two as the men who robbed him.

"Maybe we should have tied you up," one of them told him.

Better Dairy
Methods Result
In More Milk

A two-quart bucket was large enough to hold the dairy production of the average dairy cow in the United States back in George Washington's day.

But in Michigan in June, 1951, it was a far different story.

A twelve-quart water bucket would be running over before "Bossie" gave out the last two quarts of her daily average production. Gerald Quackenbush, Michigan State College agricultural economist, finds the average Michigan cow on June 1 produced 27.4 pounds of milk. That's about 14 quarts.

Michigan herd production, reported by the federal-state crop reporting service, showed the average dairy cow in the state was second in production only to New York's cows. Michigan's average cow could stand right along side of those from Wisconsin, recognized as "America's Dairyland," and produce pound for pound in milk. The average production in both states was 27.4 pounds per cow.

Michigan State College agricultural authorities credit better breeding, management, feeding and more "know-how" on the part of dairymen for the great strides dairy production has made since George Washington's day.

New findings through agricultural research annually bring forth new ideas that allow fewer cows to produce more milk for more people each decade, MSC officials contend.

Mr. Hudson was born at Lamont, Michigan, January 23, 1868 and came to East Jordan in 1897 with his sister, Mrs. D. F. Clement and family from Tomahawk, Wis. Mr. Hudson and Mr. Clement engaged in the shoe business, when making shoes by hand was an art. The firm of Clement and Hudson was dissolved some 27 years ago. Mr. Hudson carried on the shoe business up until the time of his death. On March 23, 1904 he married Nellie Bush who survives him.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS FOR EASY CANNING

Don't let the many types of home canning jars and lids on the market "jar" you, says Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods nutrition at Michigan State College.

Follow the directions of the manufacturer carefully and you should have no trouble in making sure of good seals.

Usually canning rules recommend a "partial" seal before the jars are placed in the canner and "complete" seal after they are removed. However, these terms mean different things with different types of jars.

If you are using the vacuum seal lid (flat metal lid with sealing compound held down with metal ring), be very sure the top edge of the jar is smooth, level, and not chipped. Keep the lid in hot water until it is placed on the jar, then screw the metal band down tight by hand. (Do not use a wrench.)

After canning, this type of lid needs no further tightening. Do not turn the jar upside down. The ring may be removed 18 to 24 hours later. If the ring sticks, apply a cloth wrung out of hot water.

If you are using the older-type screw top, fit the wet rubber on the jar shoulder, without stretching more than necessary. Before processing, screw the top down firmly and then turn back one-quarter inch. After processing, screw the lid down firmly.

Might Say
The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the settling net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

Space Travel Expert Maps Two-Way Trip To-Moon by Rockets

POINT MUGU, Calif.—Arthur V. St. Germain, an authority on rockets, missiles and jet engines, and senior test engineer for the Fairchild guided missile division at the navy's secret missile test center, says space travel is much closer than most people realize.

As proof of his statement, St. Germain offered detailed plans for a five stage rocket which he said could carry two men to the moon, land there and return. He said that his design, while not in production, was practical with "the application of techniques already at our disposal. This is probably the first time in history that people have known so much about an invention yet to be made."

The space ship would tower 325 feet into the air above the launching site, weigh 300,000 pounds and attain a speed of 25,000 miles an hour. Power would be provided by four rockets, one telescoped inside the other, which would drop off one by one as the ship roared upward through the earth's gravitational sphere.

The fifth rocket, carrying the crew, would coast to the moon once it reached outer space. The return journey would require far less fuel because the moon, being smaller than the earth, has little gravitational pull.

St. Germain said liquid hydrogen and oxygen would be the best fuels, pending development of an atomic engine. He added that the landing on the moon would be made tail first, with jets and rockets acting as brakes.

The engineer's space ship is one of the latest concepts for travel to the moon and back. But the fact that he could talk about it for publication indicates that the craft is not an immediate project.

Point Mugu is the site from which the navy launches top secret weapons which travel hundreds of miles out to sea.

Cahow, Believed Extinct Since 1625, Is Caught

NEW YORK—The cahow bird, believed extinct for 325 years, has been rediscovered. He has just been in hiding from people and rats these past three hundred years.

Dr. Robert Cushman Murphy, chairman of the department of birds of the American Museum of Natural History, discovered the bird after a perilous 15-day trek over small islands off Bermuda. He caught five and took their pictures as proof of their existence.

The bird has been widely believed to be extinct since 1625, when a famine struck the islands and settlers killed them by the wagon-load for food.

Tells of Capture

Mr. Murphy told reporters how he rediscovered the cahow, accompanied by his wife and two ornithologists.

"I had a little bit of work in petrels, the family to which the cahow belongs. I had long suspected the existence of the cahow. I got in touch with Louis L. Mowbray, curator of the Bermuda aquarium, who said he suspected the same thing and would be glad to help us look for one."

Murphy and his wife, Grace, flew to Bermuda. Using a diesel-powered launch, they probed the wave-washed coasts of many islands looking for the cahow.

It was dangerous work. The waters around the islands are full of reefs. The coasts rise steeply out of the water. High waves churn dangerously all around the sheer coral ledges.

Finally, five days after the expedition began, Murphy wrote a note of victory in his diary: "Jan. 28. Cahow! Bermuda..."

Three hundred years hadn't changed the habits of the cahow. It still nested in deep burrows of limestone rock—some as deep as 11 feet.

Cahow Is Ugly

"Using a bamboo pole equipped with a noose, Mowbray succeeded in fishing out the first cahow," Murphy said. "At this point, the cahow was photographed for the first time in history."

If the cahow was once inhibited by zealous hunters, it has lost all fear of man during its long absence. One was picked up and passed from hand to hand. The bird stood the inspection well. "Apparently he was quite unafraid of the presence of human beings," Murphy said.

The bird, it appeared, could well have hidden away all these years because of self-consciousness. It isn't very pretty, or else it just doesn't photograph well. Its photograph looks like a bad combination of penguin, owl, parrot, and jaybird.

Dr. Murphy described the rediscovery of the cahow as "most exciting" to the scientific world.

Cable Car Stalls Over 600 Foot Chasm; Twenty Saved

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil—Augusto Goncalves, an electrician, risked his life to save 20 fellow passengers from a stalled cable car that dangled 650 feet above a mountain chasm for more than seven hours.

Goncalves slid down a rope from the car after it stalled when one of its two cable tracks broke.

He then rigged up an emergency hand powered car which he propelled out 900 feet along the unbroken cable and rescued those remaining in the car four at a time. He made a total of five trips while thousands watched from the ground fearing the remaining cable might snap.

The passengers said panic rolled through the car as it suddenly swayed dangerously and halted when the car was halfway across the chasm between Urica and Sugar Loaf mountains.

The railway runs on two cables from the ground to Urica mountain and then to the top of Sugar Loaf, a 1,000 foot peak at the entrance to Guanabara bay. The line gives passengers a spectacular view of Rio de Janeiro and its harbor.

Candy Store's Booby Trap Wounds Boy Customer, 13

GARY, Ind.—A booby trap rigged up by a candy store operator seriously wounded a 13-year-old Gary boy and a policeman recently.

The boy, Burl Wade, was shot in the chest. The policeman, William Sneed, in the hand.

Willie White, operator of the store, told police he rigged up the trap after his store was burglarized. A .38 caliber revolver was mounted on a metal bracket fixed to the inside of the door and set to fire the moment the screen door was opened a few inches.

The boy had gone to the confectionery to buy some candy. When he opened the screen door he was shot.

Officers feared for a while that a gunman had gone berserk in the store. It wasn't until they fired shots at it, threw tear gas bombs, and accidentally set the store on fire that they discovered it was empty.

Indiana law forbids booby traps.

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellas: Whew! What a 4th of July, in spite of the weather (it rained some during the day) we had a good crowd in town. The most of the program was a howling success. The soap box derby went off without a hitch and drew a large crowd. We'll have to have another one next year. The fireworks were postponed to Sunday night because of the damp weather but on Sunday you should have seen the crowd that turned out. Honestly fellas, I've never seen so many cars in this old town at one time. After the fireworks were over there were cars going in every direction. That man Joe Wilkins. (He's the new night cop) He did a swell job of directing traffic on his corner with a liberal amount of joking thrown in. He kept everyone in a good humor.

Well, back to business. Ralph Well, back to business. Ralph E. Holt, seaman apprentice, USN, has visited ports in England, Ireland, Wales, Germany, and Belgium during May and June aboard the destroyer USS Samuel B. Roberts, in duty with the Northern European Task Force.

The crew has visited many of the sights of Plymouth, Liverpool and Portland, England; Cardiff, Wales; Londonerry, Northern Ireland; Antwerp, Belgium; and Bremerhaven, Germany.

I have a letter here from Pvt. Brock Peacock of Fort Devens, Massachusetts, he writes, "I was sure glad to receive a home town newspaper and that article you write is all right. I was at Westover AFB about a month ago looking for a flight to Detroit and if I had known that Ivan Nemecek was there I could have looked him up. Right now I'm going to an Army School. One might say we're civilians going to school and about the only things we have to do is stand Reveille and pull KP about once every two months. The school itself is quite hard, put in 8 1/2 hours a day. But the brighter side is we have passes every night and over the week ends." You've really got it made for now, Brock, but watch out for the next move. Brock has been all over the country in his training course; Fort Riley, Kansas; Virginia; Washington, D. C.; New York City. He looked up the Center Stage people while in New York and they really showed him a good time. Thanks for writing, Brock, and I'll be looking for another letter from you soon.

I have a note here concerning Robert Nemecek. Either we had his address wrong last week or he's moved again. He's still at Camp Gordon but they've changed his address to: Student Co. 8 STR-TRESS. Your mother reports that you are going to go to school there for 22 weeks. That's a lot of school but if you have your car that will lighten the monotony. Take it easy on those Southern belles. Your mother also says you ran into Ed Lord down here. If you see Ed again have him send me his address as I don't have it on file.

Though not having Ed Lord's address, I do have an interesting article concerning what he is doing in Camp Gordon. A news release from the Camp Gordon ROTC Summer Camp reports that he has arrived there to undergo the six weeks ROTC summer camp training. While at Camp Gordon, he will receive instruction in the operations, administration and organization of the Military Police Corps. Among the activities he will participate in are a week bivouac in the field and a week of firing on the ranges. Ed is a Junior at the Michigan State College at East Lansing and is enrolled there in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. His course of instruction will lead to a commission as 2nd Lt. in the US Army MP Corps Reserves.

Here's change of address for Donald Neumann. He is now on the CGO Apolache, Pier 4, Pratt Street, Baltimore 2, Md. Perhaps with this bit of additional information Gale Murphy can catch up with you, Don.

Maurice Murphy has a promotion. He's now Cpl Maurice Murphy, RA16 297 153, Btry A, 231 AFA, 6th Arm Div, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Good going Maurice.

Hey, I did get a letter from Mrs. Alfred Nelson. Addressed to me too. She writes, "Al asked me to give you his correct Fort Knox address. The one you're using is five months out of date. The correct one is: 1st Lt. Alfred C. Nelson, O-2056120, Hq Div Artillery, Tactics Committee, 8rd Arm Div, Fort Knox, Ky. We enjoy the paper a lot, especially your columns. Most of the kids are strangers to us, though we do recognize a few names."

I do realize that a lot of you fellows probably do not recognize part of the names that appear in this column. But that is bound to be the case as we are sending the paper to men who have been in the service since the last war and also to men who are just entering the service. There is quite a time lapse involved. Also it seems at times that I am writing about the same fellows for several weeks in a row. This is because those particular men happen to be moving and changing outfits at that time. Also, if you will write to me, then I'll write about you.

Radio and newspaper accounts have it that when our UN representatives went to Kaesong to start cease fire talks, they were met by a strongly armed band of the reds. They're sure a suspicious bunch aren't they. It makes one keep fingers crossed and tongue in cheek while listening to their propositions.

Howard Evans was in the office last week talking things over a little. He says the reports of the savagery of the fighting in Korea were not exaggerated a bit. He's sure glad to be home and hopes that he will not have to return. I also had quite a talk with him about the front line GI's attitude toward this MacArthur controversy. You would have been very interested to hear what he had to say in regard to that subject. However, I am not going to attempt to discuss political issues in this letter. Let's just hope that it will be settled soon. The sooner the better for all of us.

Well, I scraped the bottom of the barrel this week. You fellows and gals better do some writing this next week if you want a letter back.

So Long, "Jake" Snyder

First Presbyterian Church

Edward O. DeHaven, Pastor.

The Churches of this community are completing a very fine project that was begun a week ago. This has been a Vacation Church School. This is the second one the churches have conducted and the fine co-operation in this school has made of it a real success. The attendance has been considerably above last year.

One of the projects we have sought to foster has been the bringing of a missionary offering which will be sent to Church World Service in its work among the underprivileged and destitute in foreign countries. This year we have chosen as our project the contribution of powdered milk to be sent to Korea for the war orphans and homeless. It is estimated that there are some 3,000,000 of these in Korea. The children have been very co-operative in this and a good offering will be sent.

However, we are also dividing this daily offering this year for the use of our own school. Half of the daily offerings will be used for the operation of our own school. The remainder will be supplied by the free will offering taken at the closing program of the school this coming Friday evening in the Methodist Church 8:00 p.m. We are urging the parents to come and bring their children to this program and see some of the work that has been done in this school.

This coming Sunday morning during the Church Worship Service in our church we will celebrate the Communion of the Lord's Supper. We urge all who are within our community to come and worship with us in this and other services through the summer.

On Tuesday, July 17th. the Church and Church School will enjoy a picnic at the Tourist Park. There will be games for all the children starting at 4:00 p.m. You know everything that goes to making a good picnic with prizes given to the winners. At 7:00 p.m. a picnic supper will be served in the lodge. We have all enjoyed our Family nights in the church during the winter. Let's make this a Family Night for all the families in the church. Committees are hard at work and we can assure you fine time, rain or shine. So come and let us enjoy ourselves together.

The Ladies of the church are giving their Annual Summer Tea in the home of Mrs. B. J. Beuker on Thursday, July 19th at 2:00 p.m. They have secured as their speaker Mrs. Matthew Cavell of Evansville Ind. To most of us here in the Church, she is not a stranger, having worshipped with us for some 15 years. Mrs. Cavell is a member of the Board of National Missions of our Church and as such is quite well-acquainted with the work of the church through its National Missions Program. All the ladies of the church are urged to come and bring a friend to this very fine occasion which our ladies sponsor each year.

"Ragweed in Michigan" Map and Chart Issued By Mich. Dept. of Health

Hay fever sufferers can find haven in nearly half of Michigan's lake-studded vacationland, the Michigan Department of Health announced today.

To provide those who seek to escape hay fever with information on areas in Michigan with least ragweed pollen concentration, the Mich. Department of Health has prepared a map and chart which is available for the asking.

Most of Michigan's Upper Peninsula and the northern third of the Lower Peninsula have been comparatively free of ragweed pollen for the past ten years, the Department reports.

Ragweed in southern Michigan usually begins to pollinate about mid-July but the great northern trek of victims of the allergy does not start until the pollen concentration becomes heavy—about mid-August.

While the state-wide ragweed pollen survey begun in 1940 was discontinued in 1950 the Department has compiled a hay fever map, from facts recorded in the final five year of the survey. The ten years experience has shown that there is little or no charge in the relative distribution of ragweed pollen in the various areas of the state from year to year.

Copies of "Ragweed in Michigan," a reprint from Michigan Public Health, official magazine of the Department, can be obtained without cost by sending a post card to the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Mich.

He: "No, I'm broke!"
He: "Why don't you stop hanging around with such jerks?"
Him: "I'd miss you!"

The Blue Jay

How many times on these early summer mornings have we been awakened in our beds by the shrill piercing shriek of the blue jay? Of all the birds that come to our homes each year the blue jay is perhaps the most difficult for us to understand.

While it is true that such insect pests as the wood-boring beetle, grasshoppers, eggs of the various caterpillars, make up about one-fifth of his daily meals, the blue jay is also accountable for the loss of many of the more useful birds whose beauty and value make our world a much happier place to live in.

How can one kind of bird be all these things? The answer may easily be found in the records of the National Wildlife Federation, which has carefully charted the history, growth and habit of America's birds and wild animals, so that we may have a better understanding of both the two and four footed friends whom we see from time to time each day.

A resident of the Eastern United States and Southern Canada, and who is quite often seen far west as the Dakotas, Colorado and even Texas, the blue jay actually has two personalities. He is cautious and silent in his own home, or nest, but once away from his own home and family, he is noisy and bold.

He will cry "Robber!" for the slightest cause. That cause is generally himself, as the broken eggs of the nests of other birds will grimly testify. During his mating season, he steals unmercifully from other birds, thus depriving of other members of the feathered legion who could and would do us a lot more good than the blue jay himself.

About three-fourths of his daily meal is composed of vegetables. This does not mean spinach, string beans and other table greens, but more likely acorns, chestnuts, beechnuts and the like. But if you do have ears of corn growing in your garden beware of the blue jay!

From the tip of his bill to the end of his tail the blue jay is about 11 1/2 inches long. He is a pretty brilliant blue of wing and tail, and these colors are combined with the black crescent of the upper breast and the crested head. He is a fast flyer and has actually been known to swoop down and attack his greatest enemy, the cat.

Regular Meeting of So. Arm Farmers Union Held Monday, July 9th.

The South Arm Farmers Union No. 380 met at the Grange Hall last Monday evening, with 18 members present. The sec. read a letter from the State Sec. in regards to the camps that are held during the summer. The camp our boys and girls go to will be held at Hess Lake near Grant beginning Aug. 19th. Our Co. Chairmans wife, Mrs. John Spoilman is going to spend a week at that camp and is willing to take any one along. So this is an opportunity for the youngsters to go and come back, so please give this camp a serious thought and see if you can't manage to go. You must have your name into the local sec. by the 28th of this month, so he can send the names in to the State by the 30th.

The Local voted to buy 55 gal. barrel of Na-Shurs plant food, for an experiment program. Some farmers are going to try it, on various different crops such as Meadows, potatoes, beets, carrots, string beans, etc. Mr. Grim, our soil planner for Charlevoix County has been contacted to help with this program.

The Ace Co-op received a shipment of Binder twine this last month; to get it see Archie Murphy.

The meeting closed with pot luck lunch. The next county meeting will be held at South Arm next Tuesday evening, July 17th, at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Albert Marble of Detroit, managing director of the Credit Union National Assn. for Mich. will be the featured speaker.

Love Story Ends When Romeo Is Sent to Prison

CANEA, Crete—The final chapter in Crete's modern "Romeo and Juliet" story, which made the headlines of newspapers throughout the world, was written recently when "Romeo" was sentenced to two years in prison.

A five-judge court convicted Costar Kefaloughlanis, 32, of having carried arms illegally when he whisked away the daughter of a rival clan leader. In addition, he was fined 2,000,000 drachmas ($167).

Costa and Tassoula Petracogeorgi, the girl he wooed and carried away, were embittered by the verdict. Costa, who took to the hills as a guerrilla fighter in World War II, protested that "the verdict was unfair and he would, therefore, be compelled to do what he had done during the occupation. He did not elaborate, but it was regarded as a hint that he might try to escape."

Bride Is Upset
In Athens, his 19-year-old bride, who is expecting a baby, wept. "I'm all upset. If he has to serve his time in Crete, of course I'll return to be with him."

She vowed she never would give up her husband despite the old family feud and the objections of her father, a member of parliament, who is a power in the Liberal party of Premier Sophocles Venizelos.

Politics was a factor in the "Romeo and Juliet" case. Costa's brother, Manuel, head of the Kefaloughlanis clan, is a Populist (Royalist) member of parliament. Costa insists that his arrest violated a pledge by Premier Venizelos that Costa would go free if his marriage in a monastery chapel on Mount Ida received the blessing of Archbishop Spyridon of Athens. The archbishop gave his blessing when the honeymooners flew to Athens in September.

Violence threatened for several days after Costa had seized Tassoula from the main square in Candia, Crete's capital, as she came out of a movie and whisked her to a mountain cave. Troops and police joined irate Petracogeorgi clansmen in the hunt, but they never found the couple.

Love From Afar
After about a week in seclusion, the two made their way to the monastery and were married. Then they flew to Athens.

Costa said he had loved Tassoula from afar for years, but that bad blood between the families had made it impossible to ask her father for her hand. She said she had not loved Costa at first, but that his daring and boldness impressed her and "my love developed as I was with him in the mountains."

"Above all," she said, "his behavior and respect were beyond reproach."

In his final argument, the chief defense attorney stressed that kidnapping a prospective bride was not a new practice.

"Here in Crete, Sparta and the ancient Greek land," he said, "it is a common practice and tradition for strong men to steal their brides."

There is no appeal from the court's verdict, given under an emergency Greek law.

Phosphate Rocks Yield Vital Uranium, Commission Reports

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A new process of extracting bomb-making uranium from phosphate rocks as a by-product of fertilizer production was announced recently by the atomic energy commission.

With the new development, uranium in phosphate deposits "can be extracted economically in the production of highly refined fertilizer known as triple superphosphate," the commission said.

It has been known for some time that uranium occurs "as a very minor component" in the phosphate deposits in the northwest and in Florida.

"Considerable research work has been done to develop a process whereby uranium can be extracted economically from these very low-grade sources," the A.E.C. said.

"It is hoped that the new process will open up this new source of uranium. The process is classified secret and cannot be described."

Laborer's Wish Comes True, But Loses His Job for Ride

CHICAGO, Ill.—All his life Robert Leachman, 23-year-old railroad laborer, wanted to drive a freight train. He realized his dream recently—a ride in the cab of a big diesel locomotive. The trouble was, he took the ride alone.

Leachman saw a shiny new passenger diesel standing unattended on a siding in the railroad yard. He climbed aboard and ran his hands over the controls. The locomotive took off. Leachman, terrified, yanked every lever he could see. "I couldn't stop," he said. "Then I prayed."

A block away from the take-off, the diesel, going 30 miles an hour, rammed a boxcar and a gondola and came to a stop. The round-house foreman accepted Leachman's resignation on the spot.

An Announcement

WE ARE HAPPY TO ANNOUNCE THAT THE INTEREST RATE ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS WITH US HAS BEEN INCREASED TO 2% EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 1951. Several years ago when the rate was reduced to 1%, we promised to increase it as soon as conditions warranted. In our opinion, that time has now come.

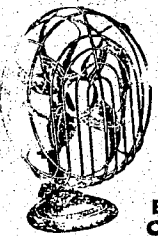

We have always believed that our depositors were primarily interested in the safety and availability of their savings rather than the rate of interest. Since the banking difficulties of the thirties a substantial part of our earnings has been retained to provide that protection. During this period our capital and surplus accounts have been increased to $300,000.00, which should be more than ample to protect depositors in any emergency. Consequently, we are now pleased to pass on to our savings depositors a larger share of our earnings in the form of this increase in interest rate.

ON JULY 10, 1951 OUR BANK WAS FIFTY YEARS OLD. We want to express our appreciation to our depositors, whose continued support has made it possible for us to give uninterrupted service to the people of this vicinity during that time. It is our hope that this pleasant relationship may last for another half century.

Attack on Marshall

SENATE Democratic leaders called an emergency off-the-record huddle the other day to decide how to meet Senator McCarthy's 60,000-word attack on Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Minnesota's fiery Sen. Hubert Humphrey suggested a mass walk-out when McCarthy got up to speak. Pointing out how Hitler started his rise to power by tearing down the heroes of the German republic, Humphrey snorted his disgust at McCarthy's tactics.

"There are many ways to destroy people—sometimes by outright murder, sometimes through the process of attrition," declared Humphrey. "I mean character assassination, misrepresentation and quoting out of context. This is the most inhumane way."

The senator from Minnesota suggested that the Democrats had only two alternatives—either stand up and fight back which is almost impossible to do when McCarthy controls the floor, or remove ourselves from the scene of the unsavory conduct.

However, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas favored sending in a conservative southern Democrat to hit back at McCarthy. Anyone else who tried it would be branded as a Communist by McCarthy, Johnson observed. He suggested George of Georgia or Byrd of Virginia, since Marshall lives in Virginia and Byrd made the original motion in favor of Marshall's nomination.

However, McMahon of Connecticut warned that it was an "impossibility" trying to debate with McCarthy, because you never can pin him to the facts of the issue.

He added that Marshall had stature enough to withstand the McCarthy blast and suggested that the McCarthyites had lost the MacArthur fight, and McCarthy's attack on Marshall was "a deliberate attempt to gain the offensive again."

Serving Two Masters

The next government agency to get in hot water with congress may be the securities and exchange commission, which polices Wall Street and the big corporations.

The SEC is the only agency which has failed to answer a questionnaire, sent out by alert Pennsylvania Congressman Francis Walter, asking for the names of employees who had given up their government jobs to work for the same companies which they once regulated when they were government officials.

The manner in which some officials have used their government positions to do favors for private companies, then have gone to work for the same companies at higher salaries, is a national scandal.

Probable reason why the SEC is keeping silent is that the answers would be embarrassing. For example, SEC would have to tell how it reversed a recommendation to dissolve the United Corporation, after several former SEC employees were hired by United.

Organized by J. P. Morgan, United Corporation is a giant holding company which gives Wall Street bankers control over several power and electric companies. In 1942 the SEC staff recommended dissolving this parent corporation under the holding company act and on the grounds that it served no useful purpose except to perpetuate banker control.

However, the bankers turned round and hired several SEC officials, including some who had worked on the very recommendation to dissolve the United Corporation. First to move over to United was William M. Hickey, who had been assistant director of SEC's public utilities division. Suddenly in April, 1943, he became president of United Corporation.

In addition, John J. Burns, SEC counsel in the early days, became United's senior counsel; E. Carey Kennedy, ex-SEC analyst, became vice president of the company; and Edward Roll, formerly a minor SEC official became assistant to United's president.

Following this, the SEC strangely had a change of heart and did not dissolve the United Corporation. Last year, a new proceeding was initiated, but again the bankers resorted to the same tactics, and SEC's counsel in charge of the public utilities division legal staff, Harry Slater, overnight became assistant counsel of United's chief subsidiary.

The White House has received a report from Maury Maverick, ex-mayor of San Antonio, on the difficulty San Antonio's present mayor, Jack White, had in getting a reception committee to welcome General MacArthur. Gen. Walter Krueger, the top general serving under MacArthur in the Pacific, was too busy to serve. The time to watch for John L. Lewis's rumored coal strike is after the miners go off on the midsummer vacation.

The dead season in Michigan politics is on. The State Capitol virtually is deserted as vacations take precedent over most of the pending business of state. State officials still in Lansing are having a field day cleaning up old correspondence.

The state legislature, in an effort to halt the usual log jam of bills which are crammed into the last few days of each session, plan to put their operation on a timetable and cut six weeks off the usual session time in 1952.

Under a plan adopted by the lawmakers during the wind-up of the 1951 session, next year's meeting will be a 93-day session, beginning Jan. 9 and ending April 11. Introduction of bills will be limited to the first five weeks of the session.

anti-pollution laws, many of them modeled after Michigan's 1949 statute. Soon the old bromide voiced by hide-bound industrialists, "What do you want—jobs or fish," will die a natural death—not the death dealt out indiscriminately by factories dumping waste in waters.

The 1952 state election is sure to be a lively one. The C.I.O. and A.F.L. are seeing to it by whipping up interest in the gasoline tax referendum for which the C.I.O. is circulating petitions while the A.F.L. is preparing a constitutional amendment on apportionment.

Every year apportionment—which is a complex plan to give community representation on a new population basis—hits the able, is banded about violently for several weeks and then allowed to die of malnutrition in a well covered pigeon hole.

With the prediction of a fine apple crop again this year, orchard operators are wondering if they'll face last year's problem. In 1950 growers couldn't afford to have the fruit picked—until a government subsidy over night raised the price. In some circles this is known as a false economy.

Michigan residents this year contributed $903,360 to help polio victims. Last year they gave only $891,453.

Construction contracts in Michigan totaled $63,460,000, or nine per cent more than April—but 30 percent below a year ago. Total for the first five months of 1951 was $313,790,000, a nine per cent drop over 1950.

Inventors Claim Gadget Turns Water Into Excellent Fuel

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A process for using ordinary water as a burner fuel is the latest invention of two Utah men.

George Jackson and William Daugherty, both of Salt Lake, said the device could be utilized as a room heater "or for commercial or industrial purposes, as in a boiler or other power plant."

In their patent application they stated: "We have found that the operation of this unit as disclosed produces an extremely intense heat with complete combustion of the constituent products, resulting in no carbon deposits, oily film, smoke, or other objectionable features generally encountered in fuel burners as used heretofore."

One of the inventors said a pint of water could be "burned" to produce enough heat to warm a four-room house for four hours. He said this was based on experimental estimates, not on actual heating of a house.

A homemade burner unit can be made for about $15, the inventors reported, but could offer no estimate as to what a commercial device would cost.

They said water was forced into the device, "preheated" by an alcohol burner, and the water then emerged in the form of jets of gas which burned and then apparently took over the running of the burner. The inventors said the alcohol burner was needed only to get the process going.

They said in their patent application they believe that the gases produced at the jets of the device are hydrogen and oxygen, and that these are generated as the water passes through a special system of coils in the apparatus.

If the device has commercial possibilities it could revolutionize home heating and industry.

Love Is More Than a Match For Startled London Judge

LONDON, Eng. — Love was too much for a London judge. Police caught John W. Bryant, 25, on the roof of a seven-story apartment building at midnight.

The charge: Being in a dwelling house for an unlawful purpose.

His explanation: "I had a spat with my girl friend. I wanted to be alone."

Comment by girl friend Joyce Kingsland: "We've made up now."

Decision of the judge: "Love is unfathomable. Case dismissed."

Hormone Rubbed in Scalp Grows Hair in Five Weeks

NEW YORK — Albert Roberts, president of the United Research Laboratories of Philadelphia reported recently a new hormone has grown hair on two men who had been bald for five years.

Each man, after five weeks of treatment, has hair about an inch long on the bald area—not fuzz, but apparently normal hair—with a total of about 20,000 hairs on each head and signs that more may come. This count is about a sixth of the normal amount for an average young man.

The two men experimented on were not identified, but Roberts said they were about 40 and 45 years old. Both had brown hair; the new hair was brown.

Roberts said that in experiments on animals it was necessary to continue small maintenance doses of the hormone to retain new hair grown on bald spots. He predicted this probably would be necessary for humans, too.

The hormone cream is white, odorless, and of the vanishing variety. Roberts reported experiments on women were planned. To date he reported no bad reactions had been detected in either human beings or animals.

He announced the hormone would be made available from now on to research institutions, but would not be sold to the public. When it will be made available for medical or public use, depends on the results of research on larger numbers of bald persons.

Shrine Circus Lion Kills Tiger as Children Look On

DETROIT — While 3,000 horror-stricken children looked on at the opening performance of the Shrine circus, a lion and tiger tangled in a savage to the death fight.

The jungle beasts began to fight as Clyde Beatty, veteran animal trainer, was completing the final number of his act.

A lion, new to the show, suddenly jumped from his perch and pounced on a performing female tiger. He sank his teeth in her back.

Beatty fired blank cartridges at close range in a futile effort to drive the animals apart. The wounded tiger finally pulled loose and crept back to its cage. There it dropped dead.

Beatty said the tiger, Sheba, was one of the nation's top performing cats. He said the lion would remain in the act.

Later a troupe of bears, excited by the smell of blood in the center ring, had difficulty in performing their stunts. Otherwise the circus completed its program.

Dollar Fever

The patient had developed an alarming temperature and was perspiring profusely. The doctors who had been having a discussion on the question of fees at one corner of the room, came forward and remarked about the rapid change that had taken place in the patient's condition. The patient, raising himself with an effort, addressed himself to the gathering and said, "If you would kindly conduct your debating on the matter of fees out of earshot, I am sure I would take an immediate turn for the better."

"Twas Too Good Poking about in a public library last week, a young lady ran across a book that aroused her immediate and intense interest when, on the title page, she encountered this encouraging assurance: HOW: To Reach Men To Hold Men To Teach Men To Win Men It Has Been Done

Unfortunately she was considerably let down by a clump of type at the bottom of the page: "Tells How to Run Your Bible Class. Published by the Sunday School Times."

WON'T TELL

"I want to know," said the woman, "how much money my husband drew out of this bank last week?"

"Sorry, madam," answered the man in the cage, "I can't give you that information."

"Well, aren't you the paying teller?" she persisted.

"Yes, madam," he replied, "but I'm not the telling payer."

Double or Nothing An efficiency expert walked into an office and asked the first clerk he met, "What do you do here?"

"Nothing," answered the clerk. The efficiency expert nodded, made a note, then asked a second clerk, "And you; what's your job here?"

"I don't do a thing either."

"H-m-m-m," said the efficiency expert, "duplication."

GOOD QUESTION

A father was teaching his small daughter to tell time.

"These are the hours, these are the minutes, and these are the seconds," he said, pointing them out.

The small girl looked puzzled.

"Where are the 'jiffies'?" she inquired.

Foiled Him "So you and Charlie are married. I thought all the time it was just going to be a flirtation."

"So did Charlie!"

Not Up to Par A still-scared caddy reports that he was standing peacefully on the golf course when suddenly the tycoon for whom he was laboring blazed away at him out of the sand trap. "What am I doing this for anyway? I don't have to do this sort of thing. I'm a wealthy man."

Opportunity New York's Chambord restaurant placed this want ad: "Authentic French hat-check girl for top French restaurant. Excellent chance for advances."

LUCK IS RELATIVE A traveler strolled up to a fisherman. "Having any luck?"

"Pretty good," replied the angler, "I haven't had a bite in three hours."

"What's so good about that?" asked the amazed traveler.

"You see that guy over there? Well, he hasn't had a bite in six hours."

Wrong Corn Betty Hutton was sent to represent her studio at a religious convention while she was making personal appearances in the South to ballyhoo a new musical.

"I think I made one slight error," she reported in mortification, when she came back to the hotel. "One of the ministers asked if I'd like some more corn—and without thinking, I handed him an empty glass."

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

LET'S REDUCE FARM ACCIDENTS!

Accidents to farm people reach their peak during the harvest season, warns Ed Rebmman, county agricultural agent. Harvest haste, long hours, revolving shafts, belts, gears, and cutting mechanisms seem to make it easier to have an accident.

For an accident-free harvest, see that equipment is repaired, adjusted and operating efficiently. Improper adjustments and repairs frequently lead to accidents, the agent says. Operators must also be constantly on the alert and observe a few simple safety rules while equipment is operating.

These precautions, recommended by the National Safety Council and agent Rebmman will help to reduce the accident toll:

1. All shields and safety guards must be in place.
2. Always stop all machinery before oiling, adjusting or unclogging.
3. Avoid wearing loose or ragged clothing.
4. Always operate tractors at a safe speed and use extra precautions on highways.
5. Avoid jumping off equipment before it has come to a full stop.
7. Remember to look both ways as you approach a highway and cross with care.
8. On a highway obey the signs and rules of the road and don't forget to use proper headlights and tail lights at night.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY FAIR HOLDS CROCHET CONTEST!

Somewhere among the crocheters of the county are the 1951 champions of crochet. They will be chosen by their entries in the Nationwide Crochet Contest, an exciting competition for all crochet enthusiasts, held throughout the United States at state, county and local fairs. Entries in the contest are submitted to the Fairs who do the preliminary judging. In his vicinity, anyone—man, woman or teen-ager—who wants to get in on the fun, can enter one or more pieces in the contest at the Charlevoix County Fair, September 4 - 8.

What are the prizes in the $2500 in cash awards, including $500 to the Grand National Champion, the contestant whose pieces is judged superior to all others and all-expense paid trips to Chicago for the Grand National Champion and the Male Champion. Cups, ribbons, needlework honors and the excitement of taking part in the contest are additional incentives for entering the competition. Pieces of original design may compete for extra awards amounting to $500 offered by Women's Day Magazine.

All pieces must be crocheted of mercerized cotton and must have been completed since January 1, 1951, though not necessarily started after the first of the year. To be eligible for the national judging in November, entries must win a special Nationwide Crochet Contest ribbon at a participating Fair. The Needlework Department of the Fair will judge the entries in all sixteen classifications and to award the special ribbons to the best piece in each category. A Gold Sunray Loving Cup will also be awarded to the crocheter whose work is chosen "Best of Fair."

Anyone who likes to crochet will enjoy taking part in this biggest of all needlework contests. For further information about how to enter the Contest and for an official Rules Leaflet, contact the Fair Secretary, Ed Rebmman.

Plans Available

With the fresh fruit and vegetable season arriving, many Michigan growers are beginning to sell their products at the roadside. Success of this retailing method depends greatly upon appearance and arrangement of the market. Michigan State College receives many requests for roadside market plans. A new set of three sheets of working drawings has been prepared by the departments of horticulture and agricultural engineering. One drawing shows construction of markets suitable for operators with small volume. The other two sheets show construction of a larger unit.

Plans for the roadside markets are available at a cost of 20 cents each sheet to cover processing costs. Address the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

New Books: English-French and French-English dictionary. Indexed. Miss Doctor — Seifer: Mollie Brooks was a children's surgeon and took her career very seriously but found there was also time for romance. Hospital background.

Farm Wanted — Hilles: The author gives an interesting account of how she and her husband, who bought a farm for summer week-ends, became farmers and liked it.

For the western fans we have two books: Hair Trigger Kid by Brand and Clattering Hoofs by Raine.

Case of the Fiery Fingers — Gardner, and Which Mrs. Torr — Parker are two of the new mysteries.

Lincoln Collector — Sandburg: The author has written the story of the Oliver R. Barrett Lincoln collection. A few of the newer documents included are: A newly discovered speech on the Declaration of Independence; Old Desk Letters found in Lincoln's desk; Hot Stove Letters which he intended to destroy; Bonfire Letters his husband and wife, which Mary Lincoln nearly burned. Many papers giving new details on Lee, Grant, Sherman and other important figures of that time. Many illustrations add to the fascination of the book.

How to play Big League Baseball — Child: This is written so that younger players and observers may better understand the game but the information is interesting for readers of all ages.

Time for Tapioca — Striker: A true, humorous story of the experiences of a family who went to Java so Mr. Stryker could raise tapioca for his glue factory. It was not easy to adjust to the slow life of the natives but they did, and had a happy, interesting time while there.

Pagan, a patrol horse — Col. Meek: Plenty of excitement and adventure.

Phil Sterling, salesman — Gross: Fiction with much good advice, told humorously, of special interest to older boys and girls.

Nancy Gets a Job — Laird: Exciting story of Nancy's adventures in the business world. A good story which is also instructive.

Trish — Crag: A story for older girls and readers of light romance.

Detroit Tigers — Lieb: History of the Detroit ball club from the time of their first club in 1887.

Circus Doctor Henderson: Author is chief veterinarian of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus. Well told and especially interesting for those who like animals and circuses.

The Foundling — Spellman: A baby was left by its mother in a cathedral in New York. A soldier, returned from World War I found the baby there and their lives were closely interwoven. Cardinal Spellman in telling his story writes of love and tolerance compassion and sympathy.

For the younger readers we have:

Texas Pete, a little cowboy. The Base-stealer — A baseball story.

The Pink Maple House — Govan: Polly was worried when she found that moving to their new house would mean that she and her best friend could not continue to attend the same school, but they found ways to have even happier times together, after Polly and her family moved to the new house.

Terry and Bunky learn to swim: A good story of itself and also authentic information for beginner swimmers and the more advanced ones.

Hobbyist Grows Pearls; Clams Used in Tests

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Andrew C. Heckenkamp wouldn't believe that salt water oysters had a monopoly in the pearl growing industry, so he went to work. Now he and some Missouri clams are busy making pearls in big fresh water tanks in his basement.

He started the project back in 1944. He had a little knowledge of pearls and heard that some fresh water mussels had yielded gems of value. After consulting scientists he began his experiment with Missouri clams.

The pearls he has grown have real commercial value, he says, but he won't give details. The first experiments were on the Black River in the Missouri Ozarks. Heckenkamp and associates began the tedious task of agitating the clams—inserting sand-like particles under their shells.

First Tests Fail This is done with an instrument similar to a hypodermic needle, the rough particle irritates the clam and causes it to emit a milky substance which cloaks the irritant and hardens into mother-of-pearl. He put in long hours on his Black River experiments, but they produced no results.

If the clam is forced open for an inspection it often dies. The problem was how to keep a watch on the pearl growth and keep the clam healthy.

At the first Heckenkamp and his helpers coated the irritating particle with a lead type metal which would show up in rays. This proved ineffective. The clams quickly covered the metal or disposed of it. At this point, Heckenkamp decided to move the clams into tanks in his basement so that he could keep closer watch. New techniques were developed. Heckenkamp finally learned just how and where to insert the irritant so that it wouldn't be expelled.

He says he has produced a number of pearls. Only recently he opened a clam that had lived undisturbed for more than four years in his aquarium. In it were four small pearls.

100 Clams at Work "Now we know we can produce here," he observed. "The hobbyist of tomorrow will probably concentrate on shell fish. Think of producing a $1,000 or even $10,000 pearl in your parlor goldfish bowl."

Heckenkamp says it isn't the size, but the quality of the pearls which determines its value. He sends his pearls to a New York jeweler.

Today Heckenkamp has about 100 clams in his basement and in outdoor tanks. The clams' diet is supplemented with occasional feedings of honey and brewers' yeast.

Heckenkamp likes the idea of clam pearls because they can be grown in shallow water where the harvest can be reaped without diving. Yes, perhaps even in goldfish bowls.

Pay for Shepherding is Highest in History, Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There are plenty of jobs available these days for men who can live alone and like it while chaperoning thousands of strong-minded but misguided females.

For such a job applicants must have plenty of common sense, more than a little knowledge of psychology, and a capacity for endless walking. Their prospective charges are among the most unpredictable of their sex, belonging as they do to the sheep family.

Today the wages offered for sheepherding are the highest in the occupation's long and colorful history—about $250 monthly and found (food and sleeping equipment). Yet a shortage of competent herders in the United States is so acute that late reports blame it for an "alarming" decrease in the nation's wool production.

In an attempt to remedy this deficiency, efforts are being made to bring to this country groups of the finest shepherders in the world, the Basques of northern Spain. They are reputed to have not only the necessary experience but—even more important—the indispensable temperament for the job.

Vast School Outlay Needed, Citizens' Committee Says

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Citizens Federal Committee on Education, an advisory group of the Federal Office of Education, estimated recently the nation will need more than $14,000,000,000 in new school construction in the next decade.

The committee said there will be needed in the next 10 years: 270,000 more classrooms—with 30 pupils to the room—"Just to take care of the population increase." Estimated cost: $7,200,000,000.

150,000 more classrooms to replace "all those firetraps and other school structures which should be abandoned." Cost: $4,000,000,000.

60,000 more classrooms in the reorganization of school districts. 40,000 more for anticipated 1,200,000 new enrollments in kindergarten and junior-collect programs.

"In other words, over the next 10 years we will need at least 60 per cent more classrooms than we have now," the committee said.

THE BETTE DAVIS NOBODY KNOWS

What was so mysterious about the death of Bette Davis' second husband? Why did she succeed and Luise Rainer, an equally great actress, fail? Start to read in this Sunday's issue of The American Weekly, exclusively with The Detroit Sunday Times, Adela Rogers St. Johns' dramatic four-part story about the Real Bette Davis.

The straight and narrow path would be much wider if more people traveled it. Seems as if some people grow with responsibility—others just swell.

Lots of folks have a good aim in life—but most of them don't know when to pull the trigger.

Aux. Meeting July 5th.

The American Legion Aux. Rebec-Sweet Unit 227 held a business meeting Thursday July 5th, at the Legion Home. Several Chairman reported, Hilda Bathke who had charge of the 4th. of July committee said all activities of that committee went over fine in spite of the bad weather and thanked all who helped her especially the members who responded so generously with donations for the Bake Goods Stand. The lovely afghan the Aux. was raffling off was won by Winn Clark, Williamsburg, Michigan, driver of the Bay Shore Meat Truck the lucky ticket was sold by Glenda Maxwell.

A fine report on the Lower 11th. District meeting held recently at Walloon Lake and attended by several members from East Jordan Unit was given by Martha Kamradt.

It was decided that a bake goods bingo would be held Friday July 13 in the Fire Hall for the purpose of raising funds to send delegates to the Dept. Convention, Peg Thomas was appointed Chairman with Marie Woodcock, Mary Hayes, Florence Stucker and LaVern Ingalls to assist her, everyone is invited.

Next Aux. meeting will be Thursday, July 19, this is a semi-social meeting and July Birthday party. The entertainment committee will be under the direction of Lillian Bennett, Girls' State Chairman, and the highlights of the evening will be reported from Mae Evans, East Jordan candidate to Girls' State this year, so be sure and attend.

Charlevoix Hospital Fund Passes Half-Year Mark

The East Jordan Hospital Board is pleased to report that our goal of $20,000 toward our new Charlevoix Hospital is progressing nicely. This has been due to the fine reception and generous giving of those so far contacted by members of the board. These members will continue their work this week in an effort to finish the drive.

Remember, your gift may be given in the form of a pledge over a three-year period. This plan is used so that you may give more generously and thereby you will have a part in building this beautiful new hospital for our community. Have you thought that by giving a share of a year's income you are helping directly to erect a building dedicated to service that will live after you?

Let's all help to reach our goal. If you aren't contacted, please leave your pledge at the State Bank this week.
