Red Devils Finish Third In Conference

DEFEAT MANCELONA 61-52 LAST FRIDAY

East Jordan handed the Mancelona Ironmen a defeat for the second time this season, as they wound up their conference play at Mancelona last Friday. Although the game had little effect on the Red Devils standing in the league, it gave them their eighth win in twelve games this season.

The Red Devils had little trouble with the Ironmen as they led the game 19-13 at the quarter and 31-26 at the half. Scoring 20 points in the third quarter, the Red Devils had a 51-40 margin going into the final period.

In their attempt to avenge their earlier defeat by the Red Devils, the Ironmen collected 33 fouls. Five of their players, Lucas, Wilks, Derrer, Lund and LeDere left the game on a foul count.

Don Whiteford again led the scoring for the Red Devils, as he made 15 free throws in 24 attempts, and five field goals to total 25 points. Johnny Holstad was high for the Ironmen with 17 points.

The tough luck which has dogged the Red Devils this season cropped up again when Roman Klimkiewicz left the game at the half with a sprained ankle. The injury will keep him out of the tournament games this week.

Final standings in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference are:

Team	W	L
Charlevoix	11	1
East Jordan	8	4
Gaylord	5	7
Boyer City	4	8
Mancelona	3	9
Harbor Springs	1	11

The East Jordan Reserves won the preliminary game 53-35. Twenty Red Devil players were given a chance to play in that game. Frank led the scoring for the Red Devils with 19 points, and Patrick was high for the Ironmen with 8 points.

The Red Devils start their tournament play tonight (Thursday) at Gaylord when they meet the Gaylord Blue Devils.

Local Men's Group To Sponsor Laymen Meeting For Presbytery of Petoskey March 20, 1952

In the initial meeting of what is hoped will be many such meetings in the years to come, The Presbyterian Men's Club of the East Jordan Presbyterian Church is sponsoring a Presbytery-wide meeting for Presbyterians, to be held in the East Jordan Church, March 20, beginning at 7:00 p.m. Men are being invited from Harbor Springs, Petoskey, Boyne City, Elk Rapids, Omena, Cadillac, Tustin, McBain, and Lake City.

The program for the evening will headline Ted Nanz, of Grand Rapids. Ted is V-Pres. of the Synod's Council of Presbyterian Men in the state of Michigan. He is fine Christian layman; an outstanding speaker with a lot of enthusiasm for his church and the work the Presbyterians are embarking upon. Also on the program will be the Men's Chorus which furnished the music in the Men's Church Service, Jan. 27th in the East Jordan Church. This chorus under the direction of Mr. Emil Acitelli will render Fred Waring's arrangements of two well-known hymns. This together with other numbers will make an outstanding program.

All Presbyterians are urged to be at this meeting for the inspiration we can receive from it. We hope that this will be the beginning of many fine inspiring meetings for men throughout our Presbytery.

Rehab. chairman, Florence Stucker reminded all members that the Mother Day Hankies for hospitalized Vets should be in and ready to be mailed by the next meeting March 11. It was decided that the Auxiliary would join the Legion in celebrating the Legion Birthday some time in March by having a Pot Luck Family Night Supper, the exact date will be published later.

February being Americanism Month, Eva Peterson, Americanism Chairman, had charge of entertainment following the meeting. "The American Creed," a very appropriate poem on Americanism and "The Principles of Americanism," from the Auxiliary Handbook were read. All were inspiring messages and brought to each member anew the wonderful ideals of our American Democracy and how wonderful it is to be citizens of a country that, even in these trying times of world crisis, still believes wholeheartedly in the grand principles on which the United States of America were founded, and brought to us the realization that we are the luckiest people on earth to be privileged to live in the good old U.S.A.

A game was played amid tales of laughter in which each one was called on to tell their most embarrassing moment. A nice lunch was served to complete the evening. A lovely cake decorated with two miniature American Flags, and red, white and blue candies, was baked by Thora Kotowich in honor of the occasion. A fine time was had by all.

Gay Miss Fits All Male Revue At Central Lake

The Gay Miss Fits of 1952, a hilarious all-male revue, that had the standing-room-only sign out for the past two seasons, will be presented at Friday, Saturday, Mar. 21-22, at Central Lake.

The high-stepping antics of the ludicrous blondes, brunettes and red-heads in the chorus line (all male) will make it hard for wives to keep their husbands in their seats. Their polka number will make your sides split with laughter.

Among the sea-going beauties in the chorus line we find James Aenis as the lovely red-head, Kenneth Aenis the brunette, blondes Pete Eckhardt and Clifton Lovgesson. ## Mata and Hari, Comedy Dances At Petoskey, March 17th.

Mata and Hari, the comedy dancers, long-time concert favorites and now the top dance attraction on television, come to Northern Michigan on Monday, March 17th with their company in a program of danced theatre.

Their performance at the Petoskey High School Auditorium will be under the auspices of the Northern Michigan Community Concerts Association.

Mata and Hari are one of the outstanding novelties of the entertainment world. Their recent success on television has greatly augmented their public and this season they are making a tour of more than 70 cities. They opened their tour in early January at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and will end their tour in Philadelphia in Mid April.

As artists and mimes, Mata and Hari lead the dance field. They spoof the ballet, the sports newsreel, the raffish precincts of Carnegie Hall, the circus, modern art, and Latin-American nightclubs.

In programs designed for the eye, the ear and the imagination, Mata and Hari have been delighting audiences ever since their American debut in the "Straw Hat Revue", a Broadway musical. They won more followers with a year's run in Billy Rose's "Diamond Horseshoe" and frequent reappearances on the stage at Radio City Music Hall.

The Swiss born dancers turned to the concert stage in 1947 and have made nationwide tours every year since.

Admission to the Mata Hari concert will be by membership in the Northern Michigan Community Concert Association only. The last program in the 1951-52 series of concerts will be on May 1st, when Maria and David Lloyd will come to Petoskey.

Just about the time you can make both ends meet, somebody moves the ends.

100 Citizens Of Charlevoix Hosp. Area Not Satisfied With Site

One hundred citizens of Charlevoix Hospital area are not satisfied with the Hospital Board's choice of a hospital site. Ask the State Officers of Hospital Survey and Construction which allocates the federal funds to appraise the five to ten acre site offered as a donation to the hospital.

It is now established that either a fill of three to fourteen feet will be necessary at the Trailer Park to gain grade for the sewer connection or an expensive sewage pumping system will have to be installed.

Present plans call for a cross-shaped building instead of the original semi-circle which was to face Lake Michigan. Latest idea is to move a township road into a hillside to gain necessary room.

The request asked that the State Office re-appraise the Trailer Park site in the light of all latest factors affecting the site and to appraise the offered site. The Board has rejected the donated site which has all the utilities and is inside the city without asking the State Office to look it over.

The State Office has said that they would be up the last of the week.

Copy of Request Signed by Over 100 Citizens

Whereas: An alternative site has been offered free to the Charlevoix Hospital Board for construction of the proposed hospital, and

Whereas: The Charlevoix Hospital Board has not requested the staff of the State Board of Hospital Survey and Construction to appraise this site,

Therefore: We respectfully request the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction to appraise the Garfield Site for our proposed hospital and to re-appraise the Trailer Park Site in the light of latest knowledge of practical factors affecting its use, so that the final knowledge of the best site for the hospital can be made solely on its merit.

Spring Scheduled For Early Arrival Due to Leap Year

Spring is due for an official arrival earlier than last year regardless of what the weather man may dish up in the way of snow, rain or sunshine.

The officials date and time will be 11:14 a.m. on Thursday, Mar. 20, according to Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

This is nearly three-fourths of a day earlier than in 1951 when Spring arrived at 5:26 a.m. on Mar. 21. The earlier date is due to the insertion of the extra leap year day in February, Professor Losh explains.

"Days and nights will be equal on Mar. 20 since the sun crosses the equator on that date and will rise and set at the exact east and west points," she declares.

Four important practices pioneered by State Farm Mutual save members millions of dollars over ordinary insurance costs!

- With State Farm's original-different-insurance plan you pay the cost of a local agent's sales commission only once. After that you pay only for insurance, a real saving every time.
- Careful drivers are the ones State Farm aims to insure... fewer accidents keep costs down.
- State Farm's unique semi-annual method of preparing premium notices enables State Farm to get rates to members' recent driving records. In the last four years, rates have been reduced more than $18,000,000.
- All these company advantages are shared mutually, and the savings which result benefit State Farm members.

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellas:
The news this week is all State-side. You overseas men sort of let me down for this time.

As you men have been noting from other parts of this paper a lot of new men are entering the service. Some are enlisting (mostly in the Air Force) and a few are being drafted. I don't have the address of all of them as yet but here is one new man that has joined forces with Ed Drapeau in Lackland. In fact, Ed's dad informs me that he bunks with Ed. He is Pvt Dean McPherson, 3716 Trng Sqd, Flt 270, Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas.

Ed Drapeau was quite prompt in checking in from Lackland. He writes, "Dear Jake, I started basic training Monday and want to let the people of the world know something about it, through the Charlevoix County Herald. We get up at 4:00 a.m. and start the day with a bang and a groan. Ah! the patter of little feet around the barracks. Every morning we wash, shave, clean the barracks, make our beds (different each morning), straighten our things and fall out for breakfast.

After breakfast we march to classes, lectures, clothing supply or something. After that drill till lunch. After we drill some more. In the afternoon we usually have a class in "Standart Procedure" or how to hang your clothing, wear your uniform and so on. At 4:00 p.m. we eat supper. After supper we are usually off to go to the PX, a movie or what we care to do on the base. We have to be in bed at 9 p.m.

Well, Jake, that covers one day in the Air Force very lightly. I could never list all the things we do. When we went to the chow hall — oops I mean dining hall — we were told the food the AF bought was all A-1. What the cooks do to it I'll never know, I hope! We have time off unless we foul up and then we do extra duty. Well, tomorrow's Sunday and we can sleep in — till 6:00 a.m.

Thanks for writing so promptly Ed. I know what you mean by that Sgts' remark. That basic is likely to be tough on the legs and some other things too. Gale Murphy is well on his way to be a three stripper. He's wearing Sgts stripes now but does not have the benefit of the pay as yet. That will be coming through in due time. Gale is teaching Ack-Ack to the officers there in Fort Sheridan. Wait a minute — I mean new officers. He and Francis live in a trailer camp right close to his duty station.

Here's a new man we've been neglecting — not through any fault of our own. Pfc. Russell Fyan went into the Air Force before Christmas, has completed his basic and is now in gunnery school at Lowry AFB. His full address is: Pfc. Russell Fyan, 3415 Stu Sqd, Lowry AFB, Denver, Colo. It's too bad I didn't know of that before this as Marvin Frank has been at Lowry for some time but is now in Randolph Field. Just this last week I received a letter from Marvin which reads as follows: "Today brought me a great surprise. I received five different copies of the 'Herald'. This was due to a change in address. The paper is a big help in keeping me up on the time in regard to matters of East Jordan. Also would like to take this time to express my sincere appreciation for the wonderful Christmas package which was sent to me. Randolph AFB in nice and the weather is warm and sunny almost every day. Lots different from the ice and snow of East Jordan. My new address is as follows: Cpl Marvin B. Frank, AF 16-265-663, Student Airmen, Box 322, Randolph AFB, Randolph Field, Texas."

Chuck Gothro has reached his destination and dropped me a card showing a crying baby under a hot sun with cactus all around with the caption "It's so dry out here children cry all day long without shedding a tear." Chuck wrote, "Hi Jake, just a couple of lines to let you people know we are alive down here. What a place to be in. Not like good old East Jordan at all. My new address is: Pfc Charles P. Gothro, AF 15 419 105, 4908 Mtr Veh Sq, Kirtland AFB, Albuquerque, New Mexico." You better soak up plenty of that heat, Church, they'll probably send you to Alaska next.

Last week I heard a rumor that Herman Beyer was home for good. And sure enough this last Friday he walked. He was looking good, big, and healthy. Of course Herman never was very little. He said that his back was still bothering him a little but that it was almost as good as new again. He has been discharged temporarily but expects to go back into the hospital at a later date for more treatments. Don Dixon wrote from Norfolk this last week and I notice that Don handles a typewriter pretty well. He writes, "I think it is about time that I dropped you a line to tell you that I am still alive and getting along pretty good, for me. It is snowing hard here right now but it will not last for over a day. It makes me homesick to see it come down like it is.

I saw in your last weeks paper that you were talking about the new ratings. Well I have one too. I am now EPPN from FPFA so that gives me a little more money to spend on stuff down here. But there isn't much to spend on. I got my rate the first of the year and hope to go up for third in July.

I sure wish that I could be home to try out the new ski tow but have to take the bitter with the sweet. Well, I only have three more years to go because today was the end of the first year and it sure has gone fast. I hope that you can read this typing because I have not been on a typewriter for about three years. Listen, Don, you stick to that typewriter. It's got your handwriting beat all to pieces.

Lawrence Wright walked in last Thursday. He had just arrived from England that morning. He and his wife made the trip in 10 days. Eight on board ship (the General Barby) and two on train to hers. He was surely looking happy and healthy. But why not. A new wife and home for the first time in three years. That's enough to make any man smile and beam. Lawrence said that they had a pretty rough crossing. It always seems to be that way this time of the year. For two days before their ship entered the Gulf Stream the weather acted up something terrific. Lawrence for about 30 days and then they once and his wife will be here are going out to Steward AFB in New York State. That is quite near Michell AFB where Dick Misner is located (according to my file). Dick if you are still with Hq Sqdn Canac at Mitchell, will you let Lawrence know before the end of March. If so, he will look you up when he gets out there. Vern Bowen, I said Hello to Lawrence for you and gave him your message.

I still have a feeling that there are other men outside of the country who I do not know about and who are getting their paper by Air Mail. Following is a list of men to whom we are sending the paper by Air at present. If there are others who are on the high seas or in foreign ports at present I would appreciate knowing of them. Thank you.

So Long 'til next week, "Jake" Snyder.

40,000 Farm Families In Farm Bureau

County Farm Bureaus have sent to the Michigan Farm Bureau memberships for 40,000 families as of Feb. 15. That is about 9000 ahead of the same date a year ago. Michigan is in the 4th place for the numbers of members reported to the A F B F. A year ago we were in 7th place.

Community Farm Bureau Discussion Topic for February was Farm Accidents. Highways Accidents, and Insurance Rates to the Farmer.

The National Safety Council estimated that the one millionth traffic death since 1900 occurred on December 22nd, 1951. Michigan had 45,000 of these deaths. The Michigan Rural Safety Council and Michigan State College need and want to develop a Report system. The Community Farm Bureau are ready to help in reporting farm accidents.

Blue Cross re-enrollment under the Comprehensive group plan comes but once a year. Anybody wishing to enroll or make changes in policy, remember the time, March 1, through March 20, 1952. Protection begins May 1, 1952. One of the valuable services County Bureau makes available to you and your family, is the opportunity to enroll in the Blue Cross, Blue Shield Plan. More than 19,500 Farm Bureau families in Michigan and 255 families in Antrim County, have availed themselves to this valuable protection. For further details and information please contact your Community Group Blue Cross Secretaries. They have literature explaining Blue Cross, Blue Shield benefits plus an enrollment card.

Balance Sheet

Lesson for March 9, 1953

It is not every man who at the close of his life can look back and say that life has brought him more than it took away. Death, or the approach of death, is a reminder that it is time to balance our books.

There was a man named Paul sitting in a Roman prison. He was to be tried on a capital charge, and there was no certainty that he would be acquitted.

Yet if the Romans had only known it, that solitary prisoner, whose very food was provided by the charity of friends, was the happiest man in Rome. He looked back over his eventual life and in a letter to his friends, while admitting that he had lost much, counted everything well lost in comparison to what he had gained.

The balance sheet of Paul's life showed no deficit, but an enormous balance on the credit side.

Losses Written Off
PAUL gave several humdrum autobiographies, some of which are included in the Scripture readings for this week. So we know pretty well what he had to give up.

What would strike most of us today is his loss of comfort and security. Modern Americans want above all to be comfortable and secure.

Probably Paul missed comfort and security as much as any man, for he was born to both. But as an "ambassador of Christ" he had had to give all this up.

He had long since exhausted whatever money he may have had; he had to work at hard manual labor to support himself; he was a constant traveler, which in those days did not mean Cadillac cars, Pullmans or even foam-rubber bus seats; it meant dirt and seas and bad food and seasickness and wrecks (we know of four he had); it meant sometimes being half starved, sometimes robbed and always in danger of armed robbery.

His Worst Losses?
BUT there was worse. A wise man does not count hardships his heaviest losses. To lose freedom is more serious. And Paul (when he wrote to the Philippians) had been under arrest for more than four years. He had been jailed at Jerusalem first, then for two years at Caesarea, then a journey in chains to Rome, and then in Rome for we don't know just how long.

Paul was just the temperament that feels imprisonment most keenly. Active, vigorous, always on the go, the four walls of a cell or even the four walls of a house must have galled him terribly. But perhaps worst of all was loss of standing in his home community.

He was born both a Jew and a Roman (as a Jew today may be a good American or a good Frenchman too); but the Jews looked on him as a traitor to his race, a man not fit to live; while the Romans regarded him as a crack-pot at best, a subversive agitator at worst.

Whatever advantages Paul had had at birth or by education, he had definitely lost long before the end.

Credit Balance
YET Paul, in writing up the balance sheet of his life, called everything he had lost so much trash in comparison with what he had gained. To his mind it was like losing a truck-load of ashes and finding one diamond.

We ourselves, not being, alas! saints, if we had fixed up his balance sheet, would have put some items on the credit side that he does not mention. After all, he was then and still is Christendom's first citizen.

For many of us, and all of us call him Saint, which means he belongs to God's aristocracy. You can afford to lose a good deal for that; he was also, and still is, close to the top, if not at the top, of the list of the most influential men in the world's history, aside from Christ himself. He is this, because almost half the books in the New Testament were written by him. Yet he does not say, speaking of his life's hardships, "I count these things as nothing in comparison with my position as leader . . . the fact of my sainthood . . . my contribution to the Bible."

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

To this legislative observer it is the under-statement of the year to say that Governor G. Mennen Williams is making political hay out of state's financial mess.

By posing as the champion of the people against "consumer taxes", these being the kind you pay openly and knowingly, Williams is trying to put his Republican opponents on the defensive. And, it can be truthfully added, he is succeeding to a marked degree.

Here's the situation, as we see it.

Your 1951 dollar bought only 54-cents-worth of merchandise and services as compared with 1939 pre-war. This dollar affects everyone alike.

During this inflation decade Michigan schools and cities combined to woo voters approval of an amendment to the state constitution, diverting a fixed ratio of state sales tax revenue back to schools, cities and townships.

Whereas 42.18 per cent of the state revenue dollar in 1940 was derived from the sales tax, all being available for state needs, this had grown to 52.01 per cent by 1950. But the constitutional amendment arbitrarily decreed that 78 per cent must be returned to local governments, leaving only 22 percent for state needs.

Result of these two forces, more needs and less money: A state deficit. In the 1949-50 fiscal year (ending June 30, 1950), the operating deficit was $45.7 millions. The net deficit, due to previous treasury balance, was around $21 millions. The deficit by June 30, 1951 had grown to $40.8 millions. Now the bottom of the barrel is in sight and an accumulative deficit of $50 to $60 millions is seen by June 30, 1952.

Obviously a source of more money must be found at once by the State Legislature. The question is: Where?

Governor Williams offers a painless remedy of a tax on corporation profits. He insists, with a straight face of innocence, that "big business" would foot the bill for public benefits. It smacks of Huey Long's spread-the-wealth cracker crusade: "Every Man a King!"

Auditor General John B. Martin comments: "It is imperative that the legislature should act in 1952 to solve this financial problem. The state lack authority to borrow money. We must get back on a pay-as-you-go basis."

This year G.O.P. legislators are trying to solve the problem in one or more of the following ways:

- (1) Immediate economy by "holding the line", saying "no" to requests for more money.
- (2) Long-range economy by such as recommended by the Little Hoover Commission which was created by the legislature.
- (3) Revision of the state constitution by convention to modernize our present crazy-quilt system.
- (4) Raise $50 to $60 millions revenue by recapturing some state aid now returned to local governments and levying a number of small taxes on both business and consumers.
- (5) Reducing the inventory of the state liquor control commissions from $17.5 to $15 millions.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake is of the opinion that the state must get some "quick money" this spring. "Our cash balance has been running down to around $15 millions," he said. "We're in a danger zone at that point."

What kind of "quick money" does Brake suggest?
"The liquor inventory could be reduced, for example," he explained. "The state's markup of profit could be temporarily boosted."

"Some of the intangible tax revenue could be recaptured. These are quick ways to get more money as contrasted to new taxes which might not be productive until next year."

Governor Williams' answer is emphatic: Republicans are controlled by "big business"; they wish to put tax burdens on the consumer. The governor defends the needs of local governments; he champions the colleges and public schools and so on. It is all window dressing for the November election. Williams knows he must swing over the independent Republican vote if he is to be re-elected for a third term. The CIO labor vote is already in the bag. Hence the strategy: Divide the Republicans. It's an old military tactic. Williams believes it will work.

A very dim outlook is held by legislators on any new building programs for colleges or other state institutions. Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City) says capital outlay will be drastically cut except for buildings already under construction.

Dr. John Hannah of M.S.C. was hit hard by the announcement by Rep. Engstrom that the program would be slashed. He pointed out that a new library for the college is "imperative", the old one being constructed for an enrollment of 2,500 students. M.S.C. now has 13,000 students. The college has requested $1,600,000 to start construction on a $4,875,000 library building. Williams says he will put the full amount in the next budget.

The St. Lawrence Seaway project is gaining momentum in Washington despite Upper Peninsula complaints that it would hurt the UP mining industry. Latest development is a move by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) to set up a government controlled operation with authority to issue $485 million in revenue bonds to finance the project.

College students apparently share apathy honors with their parents when it comes to voting. At Michigan State college the 2,000 seniors were given ballots to decide definitely if a Saturday commencement program should be set up. Students had been complaining bitterly of the Saturday plan of last year. In one week the students returned only 340 ballots.

However Michigan's new election director predicts the state will cast a record 2,500,000 votes this fall. Reason: mounting party interest, high potential strength of candidates, increased public attention to political and governmental issues such as possible vote on gasoline tax or reapportionment.

The U. S. Coast Guard has predicted the Great Lakes will be open for navigation March 23. On that date the coast guard icebreaker will begin clearing a channel through the St. Mary's river.

Michigan, still uncommitted on its choice for Republican presidential nominee, may hold the hammer in the Chicago convention next July. The state has a sizeable chunk of delegates to the convention—and it has not yet had a standing count of delegates should be well treated in Chicago—at least until they declare themselves.

Sparkling windows and clean blinds can give you a new lease on life. Since windows come in for special attention during these spring housecleaning days, Marjorie Knoll of the Michigan State College home management department has some tips.

Miss Knoll suggests washing the windows with an effective solution such as two tablespoons of vinegar or ammonia in two quarts of warm water. For the polishing be sure the cloth is lint free; or, try using paper toweling or tissue paper.

The home economists suggests a soft-bristled hand brush for dusting window shades as part of routine cleaning. In the spring, however, a more thorough job can be done if you spread the shade out on a flat surface and dust it carefully. Stains can be removed with art gum if they are not too large. Wallpaper cleaner will work on non-washable shades while thick, mild suds are excellent for washable shades. After applying the suds be sure to rinse with warm water, but do not soak the shade. Best way to dry the shade is to rehang it and pull it down, Miss Knoll says.

Venetian blind care can be simplified if the homemaker will coat each slat with wax to prevent dust collection, she advised. But be sure to let the wax harden for half an hour before moving the slats. The tapes on venetian blinds can be cleaned with cleaning fluid or a thick lather if you use a minimum of water and allow the tapes to dry completely. For day-to-day care, the tapes can be dusted with a stiff brush. Vacuum cleaner attachments are excellent for cleaning the slats, Miss Knoll pointed out.

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

Electric welders are becoming handy tools on more and more farms. However, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, says that they can also be among the most dangerous unless care is taken in selecting, installing and using them.

Since welders draw a considerable amount of current, farm wiring must be adequate, Rebman warned. He recommends having circuits checked to see if they are heavy enough, properly installed and safeguarded. Have all new wiring inspected immediately after installation.

He says that welders come in many different types and sizes. Some work on the ordinary rural power line, some are unsatisfactory. The county agricultural agent recommends that farmers ask local power suppliers if the model of welder they select is acceptable for the farm concerned.

There are several precautions to be remembered in using the farm electric welder safely. Never use the welder when you're standing on wet or damp ground of floors, or while wearing wet shoes. Ground the frame of the welder to the system ground. This is done by using a three wire cable to deliver the power to the welder. The third wire is used to ground the frame.

Always use a welding shield with the proper dark filter glass. Wear protective leather clothing that covers your arms and the front of your body. Wear high top lace shoes and cuffless trousers. Never let other people watch the welding operations. If you have a helper give him the same protection. And always wear leat-type gloves to protect your hands.

Proper milking methods can increase milk production ten to twelve percent and lengthen the period of highest production, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Good methods also result in cleaner milk, lower bacteria counts, and are effective in preventing mastitis. Rebman said that fast milking is proper milking. Start off the milking process by washing and massaging the udder with warm disinfectant solution. He recommends doing it about a minute before hooking up the milker. It will help milk flow and clean the udder at the same time. Immediately after massaging, strip two or three streams of milk into a cup to check for possible signs of mastitis. This also helps to get rid of the high bacteria count milk that is present in the tests.

Preventing under injuries through careful operation of milking machines cannot be overemphasized, Rebman said. Fast milking doesn't mean speeding up the milker, it means speeding up the operator.

Don't leave the milking machine on too long. Some dairymen use a timer to guard against this. After milking the cows day after day the time can usually be estimated for each cow. Experiments show that hand stripping is unnecessary on most cows and should be avoided. Machine stripping can be done by pulling down on the teat cups with one hand while massaging the udder with the other.

Ed Rebman reminds farmers that time is important to cows. They should be milked in order, taking easy milkers first and cows with udder infections last. Milk at the same time each day.

Back in the hill country two neighboring hillbillies were arguing over the death of a cow. It seems the cow had strayed into the still belonging to one of them and had subsequently died after drinking a considerable amount of moonshine.

"It waarn't my likker what killed your cow — she come home to you giving egg nog and you milked her to death."

The senator was covering a rural area seeking reelection. His long winded address had been going on and on, punctuated only by occasional gulps of water. During one of these very brief pauses an old farmer turned to his neighbor and in a loud whisper observed, "First time I ever saw a windmill run by water."
