EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1952

NUMBER 12

Red Devils Bow to Charlevoix in Thriller

In what was termed by fans as the most exciting game of the season in Northern Michigan Coach Gayle Saxtons Red Devils lost the final game of the Class C Regional tournament to the Charlevoix Red Raiders last Friday at Petoskey.

It was a nip and tuck, saw ball game in which neither team was able to take a safe lead through the entire game. Charlevoix held a 7-6 edge at the first quarter, which switched to a 15-16 tally in the Red Devils favor half time. Charlevoix scored 12 points in the third quarter to East Jordan's eight to take a one point lead starting the final period.

It was virtually a tie through most of the last quarter, with closing minutes. Dick Freeman was the only one of the Red Devils to get a basket in the fourth quarter, and when Charlevoix dropped in a couple of quick ones with a couple of minutes to go, they had the game.

With the closing of the basketball season, the team and Coach Saxton should be commended for the very fine showing they have made this year, and for bringing to the fans some clean and exciting basketball games.

The final:

The American Legion Rebec-Sweet Post and Auxiliary Unit 227 celebrated the 33rd birthday of the Legion Sunday, March 16, at the Legion Home with a pot luck family night supper there were 105 present. Frank Stucker was Master of Ceremonies, after the colors were presented and a special birthday prayer invoked everyone sat down to a bountiful meal. All World War I Veterans were called on to stand and be recognized. The rest of the evening was spent in playing group games for old and young, the high light of the entertainment being a shadow ankle show, after much deliberation on the part of the judges they discovered to their amazement the owner of the most shapely ankle was none other than a very prominent Legionnaire which brought forth gales of laughter from the spectators, the only fault to be found with the show was that there was not enough ankles shown. Frank and Florence Stucker co-chairmen of entertainment did a fine job and everyone had a very good time.

The speakers table was centered with a huge birthday cake attractively decorated in the Legion blue and gold, the cake was a special donation from Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bathke and family. Shamrocks in honor of St. Patrick's Day completed the table decorations.

Brush Fires Are Hazardous

Michigan had 17 forest fires by this time last year, but conservation department firemen have yet to go into action so far this season.

With the spring high hazard period due to start any time, the department cites the burning permit law to those who insist on starting brush and grass fires which frequently turn into something bigger. Soil experts have repeatedly pointed out that spring burning destroys not improves soil fertility.

Starting a brush, grass or other open fire for other than domestic purposes when the ground is not covered with snow, without a permit, can result in a maximum fine of $100 and/or 90 days in jail. Besides the burner is liable for extra department suppression expenses, and he could be sued for damages should the fire spread to another person's property.

Burning permits are issued at the discretion of the local conservation officer who considers the prevailing area conditions. Some local township and county fire departments also have permits.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Administration's Foreign Aid Program Faces Fight in Congress

AID TO ALLIES—Although President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson took to the radio and television in an attempt to gain public support for the administration's $7,900,000,000 program for military and economic aid to our allies, the program faces a bitter test before a money-conscious congress.

The administration feels that the $7,900,000,000 represents a figure that has already been cut to the extreme and has decided to fight any further cuts. Congress, on the other hand, which is considering the largest "peacetime" budget in the nation's history, must find some way to cut the budget and thus reduce deficit spending.

In view of the fact that the United States is attempting to build-up a European army, it is unlikely that military aid will be reduced. That leaves the $2,000,000,000 for economic aid. There is strong sentiment in congress for eliminating this item entirely.

An important fact in the coming congressional battle over foreign aid is the fact it is not drawn along strict party lines. A number of Democrats, as well as Republicans, have announced themselves in favor of a great slash in foreign aid funds, some as much as 50 per cent.

POLITICAL NEWS—Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia has announced he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination. But the senator did not plunge deeply enough into the political pool to suit the bitter anti-Truman wing of southern Democrats.

Sen. Russell (right) with Sen. Walter F. George, also of Georgia.

He refused to let himself be regarded as the center of an anti-Truman Democratic rebellion—should the President be nominated again. He insists that Truman will not be a candidate for reelection, but admitted he had no facts or information upon which to base his belief.

Russell was firm about one thing. "So far as I can see, I will support the Democratic nominee," he said, "but I would not commit myself to support a candidate or a platform injurious to the United States."

U.M.T. BILL—By sending the administration-backed universal military training bill back to committee, the house virtually wiped out any chance of the measure getting through congress this year.

The subject of bitter debate in the house, and just as warmly debated in the home towns of the country, the measure would have made able-bodied youths liable to six months' military training as soon as they reached 18. In addition, it would have kept them in the reserves, and subject to recall, for 7 1/2 years after their training was finished.

The bill's defeat can be attributed to strong opposition, by a number of church, farm, educational, and other organizations. President Truman and most military leaders, including Gen. Eisenhower, had endorsed the measure.

The house vote to return the measure to committee will probably sidetrack any action on such a measure in the senate. The measure, however, will come up again. How soon it will be enacted depends a great deal upon how soon the American public becomes educated to the idea.

KOREA—Russia appears so determined to be one of the "neutral" nations to police a Korean truce that it may wreck the peace talks. This, and the insistence of the Communists that all prisoners of war be returned regardless of their wishes in the matter, have brought the talks to a standstill and what appears a final deadlock.

As for the first demand, an Allied officer recently told the Reds, "now tell you formally," unequivocally and with the fullest authorization that the U.N. command's decision to reject the Soviet Union as a member of the neutral nation supervisory commission is final and irrevocable. Further debate on this subject is completely futile.

On the prisoner issue, Allied negotiators have been equally firm. They told the Communists there was "no possibility" they would ever agree to deliver prisoners who had to be forced to return to Communist territory.

These exchanges have increased the atmosphere of distrust and bitterness which has surrounded the talks for months. As for the peace, it seems as far from becoming a fact as the day the talks began. There have been hints that a new offensive will be launched if the peace talks collapse.

UNEMPLOYMENT—Although unemployment in the United States as a whole is near a record low, the nation is faced with a serious unemployment problem. The problem is caused by the fact the unemployment is centered in a number of definite areas while the country is in the midst of general prosperity.

As an example, Detroit has had a high rate of unemployment for a considerable period of time, due chiefly to curbs on materials for consumer goods, in this case automobiles.

According to a government agency, total unemployment in the country is about 2,100,000. Spread evenly across the country the figure would cause no concern. However, they are in pools that dot the map, most of them in the east, a few in the midwest.

How to remedy the situation is a problem now under study by the Department of Labor. The department will attempt to find long-term answers for these high unemployment areas, many of which are small towns whose economy is based on coal and textile industries.

The Marine Corps demonstrates its new nylon bullet-resistant body armor which is worn by Leathernecks on patrol in Korea. Primary purpose of the 8-pound jacket, which will stop a .45 caliber bullet, is to guard against fragmentation ammunition, the cause of 70 per cent of all combat casualties.

RURAL HEALTH

Rural Health Progress Is Too Slow

closing session of the National Conference on Rural Health, sponsored by the American Medical Association in co-operation with farm organizations, was told by farm leaders that the medical profession isn't moving fast enough in promoting rural health. In addition, farm leaders charged the medical profession as a whole doesn't yet understand the problem of serving rural people.

One speaker, Ferdie Deering, last president of the Agricultural Editors' association, warned the medical men that farmers might turn to the government for aid in better meeting their needs for health services. If they didn't get help they needed from the medical associations and individual doctors in their localities.

At the last meeting of the officers and directors of East Jordan Public Schools, Supt. A. J. Duncanson was unanimously re-elected to head our Public School for a second year. Mr. Duncanson has accepted the reelection. There is utmost harmony among the Superintendent and faculty, the school board, the pupils and the public.

For some time past there has been persistent rumors that Dr. W. H. Parks, East Jordan physician was planning to remove to Petoskey. It has been suggested by a number of our citizens to name the park, purchased by the city council last summer, The G.A.R. Park. The name is worthy of consideration as one and all wish to commemorate the memories of the achievements of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

Soil nitrogen available for wheat growth this spring may be "too little and too late" unless manure or commercial fertilizer is applied. Ed. Rebman, county agricultural agent, says soil nitrogen becomes available very slowly at soil temperatures of 34 degrees. Even though warmer weather is now in prospect, it probably will be some time before soil temperatures reach levels high enough to make soil nitrogen readily available.

Rebman urges application of five loads of manure an acre as a top-dressing now, this month, to supply the needed early-growth nitrogen. If clover was plowed down last fall, extra nitrogen may not be needed, yet with water soaked soil the nitrogen from plowed-down clover might not be quickly enough available.

If a row crop or small grain crop was grown last year and manure is not available for top dressing, then chemical nitrogen fertilizers should be applied. If sulfate of ammonia is used as the source of nitrogen, Rebman recommends about 100 pounds per acre. If ammonium nitrate, which is about 50 percent stronger in nitrogen is used, then 60 pounds per acre should be used.

More experiments on top-dressings or fertilizing wheat in the spring show yield increases of about six and one-half bushels per acre. Rebman sums up the situation by saying that spending about three dollars per acre for fertilizer should result in about fifteen dollars worth of extra wheat at harvest time.

The wise farmer will have his seed oats tested for germination before he goes into the field spring. Ed. Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today that germination rates vary a great deal this year with percentages being either good or bad, with very few rating medium. Poor germinating oats may be planted in case of emergency, but the rate of seeding should be increased to make up for the grains that won't grow.

Poor germination may be the result of quick heating in the bins from frequent rains during the harvest season or too-early harvesting. Also, a little dew-moistened grain from harvesting a small section of the field too early in the morning may have spoiled the whole granary of oats for seed purposes.

BE BUDGET-WISE WITH MACARONI. Homemakers, add variety to your menus with thrifty macaroni dishes. Amy Alden, in this Sunday's (March 23) issue of the American Weekly, exclusively with Detroit Sunday Times, tells how to make: Jiffy Macaroni and Cheese, Spaghetti Beef Casserole, Spaghetti-Tortini, Egg Noodles with Swedish Meat Balls, Macaroni Bacon Casserole, and Salmon Spaghetti.

Joe: "Did you get that check I sent you?" Tom: "I got it twice—once from you and once from the bank."

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellas! We've hit the 100 mark and gone over it this week. We're 101 of us now. (Not counting myself)

Three new men on the mailing list this week. Earl Morrison, Jesse Ranney, and Don Trojanek. Earl Morrison has joined the trek to Lackland and his address is: Pvt Earl Morrison, Sqd 3711, Ft 387, Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas. With the addition of Earl we have five from East Jordan at Lackland. You boys should have a reunion.

Jesse Ranney hasn't gone so far from home, as yet. His address is: Jesse Ranney SR, 462 B 662 Company 123, 12th Reg, 123rd Batt, Camp Dewey, USNTC, Great Lakes, Illinois. Jesse, do you know Delbert Folsom. He is in Co 943, Barracks 1105 there at Great Lakes USNTC. Maybe you can get time to look him up.

Don Trojanek has arrived at Fort Knox in the middle of the Armored. At least for the present he's Arm'd FA Bn, CCR, 3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox, Kentucky. The word is that Don has a hard basic ahead of him. Someone was weeping that he was on the way to the infantry and Don said, "Oh, no. If they try to put me in the infantry, I'll volunteer for the paratroopers first."

Just remember, Don. There're a lot of sore backs in that game. How about dropping me a note when you get time out from scrubbing dishes.

Gale Murphy got that promotion that I commented on a week or two ago. He is Sgt Gale now. Good going, Gale.

My apologies to Larry Streeter and Vale Keller. I mistook a 7 for a 9 and sent their papers wrong last week. Their squadron is No. 3728 instead of 3928 as I reported it. The flight number 345 is correct. How're things at Lackland boys?

Bud Strehl hung his elbows over the counter this last week and had a little gab-fast with Cy and Jerry and Tom and me. Bud is home enroute to his new station at Grosse Isle. He managed to wangle 17 days travel time and has to report there on the 17th. I don't know just what his new address is but will probably have it for you next week. Bud says things are getting rougher in the Air Force. They're sending an awful lot of men overseas.

Say Don Olson. Your dad is getting a little mad and quite a bit worried over you. If you are still at Chanate Field and get this paper in a reasonable time you'd better drop him a line. Not getting even a card from you since New Years has him plenty fussed.

You men are going to think that this letter got chopper off with an axe this week. But I didn't get a single letter from any of you. Those letters that you write are what make this letter and when I don't get them its bound to be short. I'm working up a cross index showing all the camps you men are in and just who is in each. Perhaps that will enable me to give you a little more help in locating each other out there.

I do not know the present location of the following men who have Navy FPO addresses. Will you men drop me a card and give me your location? Perhaps I can steer someone your way. Bruce Bolser, Fred Burbank, Joe Hammond, Ralph Hott, Glen Person. Guess that's all. Thanks a lot, men. Also if any of these men are overseas at present will some one tip me off.

MSC Course Gains National Approval

The graduate program of the Michigan State College department of social work has been accredited by the American Association of Schools of Social Work, according to Dr. Ernest B. Harper, head of the department.

M.S.C.'s graduate program in social work now becomes the 58th member school in the association and the third in Michigan. Wayne University and the University of Michigan have accredited social work graduate programs.

The college has sought admission to the association since March, 1951. Following a visit by the association's accreditation committee, final approval of the Michigan State curriculum was made at the association's annual meeting in New York city, Jan. 20, 1952.

The graduate program was begun in 1940, suspended during World War 11 and revived again in 1946. Undergraduate training in social work has been given at M.S.C. since early 1930's, the B.A. degree in the field being offered in 1944.

The two-year program leading to degree of master of social work is staffed by five full-time faculty members and six part-time lecturers.

During the past three years students have taken field training in many state, municipal and private social welfare agencies in central and southern Michigan.
