EAST JORDAN COMMUNITY CHEST HELD ANNUAL MEETING

AT CITY BUILDING MAY 22, PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The annual meeting of the East Jordan Community Chest was held May 22 at the City Building. It is regrettable that there was a very small attendance. Mrs. Howard Darbee, Mr. Alex Sinclair and Mr. Jason Snyder were elected directors for a term of three years. The president's and treasurer's annual reports were read and approved. An interesting and detailed report of the recreation committee was read by the chairman of that committee, Alex Sinclair.

Immediately following the annual meeting the new board met and elected their officers for the new year.

President, Mrs. John Porter; Vice-President, Jason Snyder; Secretary, Mrs. Ted Malpass; Treasurer, Bill Grauel.

The meeting adjourned after a discussion of the school milk program.

The president's report for the year 1951-52 follows and the treasurer's report will be in this paper next week.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The fifth year of the Community Chest was by far the best one we have had both in the number of activities sponsored and the size of the budget raised.

Last November the citizens of this area contributed $5510.00 to the Community Chest. $1125.00 of this was for various agencies outside of East Jordan, including the Michigan United Health and Welfare Fund. The American Association which has a national drive in February receives our share from that fund and therefore does not conduct a drive here. The heart is the cause of the greatest number of deaths in the United States of both adults and children and is also the greatest crippler. Much research is being done by this foundation and they are conducting clinics for people suffering from heart difficulties. Our nearest one is in Petoskey. Our continued support of this program is very important. The Rheumatism and Arthritis Foundation is another agency we support that is helping control a disease that is also a great crippler and killer. Our dollars are helping a great number of other health and welfare organizations of great importance but little publicized.

After doing our share for others we still had four thousand three hundred ninety five dollars to spend in this community. With this money we contributed to a fine community and school health program, paying our half of a nurse's salary and furnishing milk for children in kindergarten and first grade. We hired two recreation directors for summer, we have paid $400 for the Boy Scout, $100 for Christmas baskets and have helped out in other community projects such as our Service Club to the amount of $100, and the same amount to the Ski Tow.

During the summer we promoted a two weeks camp for boys and started a day camp program for girls. We also initiated the Soap Box Derby and assisted with the Fourth of July celebration. The outstanding events for the children were the trips to Mackinaw, to Traverse City and the railroad trip to Ellsworth via the E. J. & S. and the streamliner on the C. & O. Each of these trips had to be repeated to take care of the kids wanting to go.

The square dances were very successful and provided recreation for the entire community. We underwrote the evening softball and baseball games, the men paying part of the expense.

We are usually fortunate in having exceptionally capable and experienced workers to carry on the program. Gail Saxton as organizer, assisted by Max Damph and Jean Streib directing the girls were our summer playground directors. Betty Robertson was on the job the whole year.

We also have a fine group of people in this town serving on committees and on our Board of Directors thus helping to make East Jordan a better place in which to live. As president of this organization I wish to thank all of these people as well as those who gave their money to make this dream possible.

Roommate: "A de-emphasis on passing."

Remains Of A Native Wild Elk

Remains of a native wild elk, an animal missing from the more southern Michigan scene for at least 100 years, have been discovered on a St. Johns area farm.

Two antler pieces, one about two feet long, were turned in to the conservation department by Mrs. Thomas Horwath, rural route five, St. Johns. Pieces were reported found in 15-20 feet of muck, while a farm drainage ditch was being excavated.

Department game men, in identifying the remains, point out that the last of the native wild elk disappeared from the northern lower peninsula a little later, about 1870. Victim of the inroads of civilization, the elk species was introduced in the Gladwin area in the 1920's, with stock from Wyoming. An estimated herd of 250 elk survive mainly in the Otsego county area.

Retires After Forty Years

MRS. JESSIE HAGER RETIRES AS SCHOOL TEACHER

Mrs. Jessie Hager, East Jordan Elementary school teacher, will retire in June after completing over 40 years of service.

Mrs. Hager has taught for 35 years in the East Jordan Public School. She has taught in High School and all grades in elementary school. She has also served as principal of the west side school for several years.

Mrs. Hager is a graduate from East Jordan High School and has a life certificate from the Central Michigan College of Education at Mt. Pleasant and has also taken work from the University of Michigan. Some of her teaching was done in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Hager is now teaching grandchildren of those she had in previous years. She recalls the days of the horse drawn bus and times when snow storms made it almost impossible to get to school.

After retiring Mrs. Hager plans to rest and then do some traveling.

She has enjoyed her teaching and is liked by everyone. We are sorry to see her leave, but, hope the future holds much happiness for her.

Traffic Toll Starts Upward Memorial Day

An average of between 20 and 25 fatalities will occur on Michigan highways every week end between Memorial Day and Labor Day unless more care is exercised by motorists. State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs predicts.

Last year, during June, July and August, an average of 21 persons were killed in traffic accidents throughout the state each week end. In 1950 the average was 18.

"Traffic hazards will be potentially worse this summer," Childs said. "It is anticipated there will be more than two-billion miles of travel each month, or an all-time high of about seven billion miles for the summer period as compared with six and a half billion in the same period last year."

"Memorial Day came in mid-week last year, eliminating extended week-end trips for many persons. Nevertheless, 16 persons were killed in Michigan during the holiday period. This year Memorial Day comes on a Friday and undoubtedly traffic will be very heavy from Thursday afternoon until the following Monday morning."

"An all-time high of 58 persons were killed in Michigan traffic during the Memorial Day period in 1941. The low was five in 1944."

"Actions of motorists will largely determine whether or not the traffic toll will be big or small. From now on, throughout the summer, extra care and caution are a necessity. A special effort should be made to control driving speeds. Nearly half of all violations reported in fatal accidents last summer were for speeding."

Girls Softball Game To Benefit Servicemen

EAST SIDE VS WEST SIDE IN MEMORIAL DAY GAME

Two girls softball teams from East Jordan High School will meet on the West Side Ball Park in a benefit softball game at 3:00 p.m. this Memorial Day. The entire proceeds of the game will go to the Community Service Club, whose purpose is to provide East Jordan's servicemen with the home town paper and other remembrances from the community. The recently erected honor roll near the entrance to the Post Office is also one of their projects.

In Friday's game, the East Side White Sox, captained by Bonnie O'Brien, will try to tame Mae Evans' Canadian Wildcats. If you like ball games, you are assured of a good contest, while also helping our own servicemen. Admission will be 50c for adults and 25c for students.

LET'S FINISH THE COMMUNITY BUILDING

BE A BOOSTER FOR EAST JORDAN

There have been many suggestions made in recent years as to how we can make East Jordan a better place in which to live. One of the suggestions that has arisen more often than any other is to finish the Community Building, because it is poor advertising to have an unfinished building in the center of town. Now is the time to finish it.

1. Without a doubt, the cost of material will be less this year than next. Prices will continue to rise for some time to come. We realize prices are high now, but why wait until they go higher?

2. A threat of an all-out war may bring restrictions that may make it impossible, or at least, very difficult to get materials.

3. Because East Jordan needs a supervised Recreation Center.

When the East Jordan Community Building program was abandoned, some years ago, it was the hope that the project could be completed at the earliest possible date. Not only is it a matter of civic pride that such should be accomplished, it is a very great need of the community. Now is the time to work on this!

It is the plan that through supervised, donated labor, this building can be finished for the benefit of the people in this community. Many people question why such a good building should go unfinished, and it is difficult to answer when it can be finished with a little effort on the part of each individual and make an improvement of which we can all be proud.

Be a booster for East Jordan.

License clerk (giving driver's test): "And what is the white line on the road for, madam?"
Lady: "Bicycles."

A senator is half horse and half man.

Be it ever so ugly, there's no face like my own.

Summer Recreation Program Starts Next Week

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AND TOURIST PARK

East Jordan's summer recreation program is scheduled to get underway Wednesday, June 4th, with the opening of the playgrounds at the High School and Tourist Park. Playground supervision this year will be under the direction of Mrs. Glen Malpass. The High School playground will be supervised daily except Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Playground activities in the afternoon will be held at the Tourist Park on the West Side from 2:00 o'clock to 4:30 p.m. Last year's playground activities proved highly successful with large numbers in attendance daily.

This year's summer program again sponsored by our Community Chest will incorporate the activities that have proven popular the past two summers as well as introducing some new phases of recreation.

Highlights of this year's program will be the ever-popular excursions, square dancing, soap box derby, tennis tournaments for both boys and girls, Camp Ocqueoc Summer Camp for boys, and a Pet Parade. Many other activities including softball, midge and intermediate boys' baseball, hiking, swimming, arts and crafts, and the Girl's Day Camp.

A recreation calendar will appear in your local newspaper each week to keep you acquainted with the recreational activities of your community.

CAMP OCQUEOC
Application forms for Camp Ocqueoc have been distributed for some time but as yet East Jordan's quota of 25 boys per session has not been filled.

Two weekly sessions will be held again this year with the first starting Monday June 9th and continuing through Saturday, June 14th. The second group of boys will leave East Jordan Monday, June 16th and return Saturday, June 21st.

Parents of boys 14 yrs. old and under are asked to get their Camp Ocqueoc application forms in as soon as possible so that the boys can have their physicals taken prior to the closing of school Tuesday, June 3rd. These forms can be turned over to either William Cravel at the State Bank or Coach Gayle Saxton at the high school.

Conserve or Destroy Wildlife

Do we want to conserve or destroy the Jordan River Forest. Just wondering how many people have read Jack VanCovering's article in last Sunday's Detroit Free Press. Very close to our community we have the Jordan River State Forest where hundreds of sportsmen who enjoy the natural wilderness and wildlife, fishing and hunting in the area, also those who just like to drive through the forest for the scenery the nature provides. There are two groups, one who would like to leave it as it is and the other who want to develop it, such as picnic grounds tables and toilets, building new roads leading to the Top of Dead man's Hill, William Voight Jr. executive Director of the Izaak Walton League of America asked the top Presidential Candidate to state their views on conservation of our natural resources. Voight wrote eight persons in the public eye as possible candidates for President.

Democrats — Kefauver, Kerr, Russell, Stassen.

Republican — Eisenhower, Stassen, Taft, and Warren. Only five out of the eight replied. Only one Republican replied directly that is Martha B. Taft, answered for her husband. "Bob is quite a fisherman. We have a cabin on the Saquayun River in Canada where he loves to fish, when he can get time."

General Eisenhower through his aide, "You can find no stronger supporter than Gen. Eisenhower for the general measures and programs required to preserve our soil, wood, water, and wildlife they support."

Gov. Earl Warren of California "Either we are conservationists or we are not." Either consider ourselves temporary trustees of our natural resources for our proper uses and for the benefit of those who are to follow us. Harold E. Stassen: I heartily endorse in principle the policy statement of Natural Resources Council of America. The conservation and proper use of our renewable natural resources constitute action programs that lie at the very basis of our national life and prosperity.

So again I say lets leave the Jordan River Forest as it is, in its natural wilderness, for the future generations to come.

Homemakers' Corner

Home Economics Specialist Michigan State College

Your nylon pretties are no shrinking violets, so don't be afraid to treat them with a firm hand, says Carolyn B. Middleton of Michigan State College textiles and clothing department.

To begin with, nylon is such a strong fiber that unless nylon thread is used in making repairs the material will cut through cotton thread. So have no fears about tossing nylon garments into the washing machine or automatic washer — it is the best way to keep white nylon clean. Miss Middleton cautions, however, not to combine white nylon and colored items in the same washer load — nylon tends to pick up dyes from other fabrics.

Another tip offered by the MSC specialist is that yellowed nylon garments can be bleached successfully in a weak solution of any household bleach.

Sewing with nylon may require some adjustment. Sharp fine needles penetrate nylon easier and make smoother seams. The fewer stitches per inch, the better — as few as seven stitches per inch may be used, particularly for inside seams. Lower the tension on your machine until a well-former, but loose stitch is made. Miss Middleton advised.

Nylon thread is best for sewing on nylon — or the new dacron thread on the market in white now is satisfactory. Using tissue or ordinary shelf paper sheer fabrics while sewing often gives smoother seams.

Best way to sew with nylon is to experiment with your machine, Miss Middleton urged. Finishing and pressing nylon garments should be the same as with ordinary cotton; that is, be sure to press each seam after sewing and finish all the raw edges.

SCHOOL NEWS

Third Grade — Mrs. Hughes We are finishing the problems in our arithmetic book this week. We have only one more lesson in spelling to complete. Many of our children have made wonderful gains in reading as shown by the results of the weekly Reader tests.

In our study of birds we had a chance to see besides the ordinary warbler, a wood thrush and a few other birds. We had a close up view of an oven bird.

The next big interest is the coming picnic Monday, June 2. We plan to go by bus to the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Malpass for our picnic dinner.

Each child has told what he expects to bring. Each wanted to bring 10c so we could buy ice cream. Every child is asked to bring his own fork and spoon. Paper plates and paper cups will be furnished by the two of the children. If it rains we will have to stay at the school.

Parents please warn your children they are not to go swimming or bathing. The teacher cannot take such a responsibility with so many children. Mothers are invited if they care to come.

FARM FACTS

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

Charlevoix county farmers have been given a special invitation to attend the Grass Day at the Kenneth Bare farm, located at Petoskey in Emmet county on June 23. Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, has been assisting the Emmet county agricultural agent in planning the Grass Day to give all the latest information on growing and using grass and legumes.

The Grass Day programs planned and conducted by county agents in this area, working with specialists from Michigan State College's Cooperative Extension Service. "The day's program is aimed at bringing to farmers of this area the most recent information concerning establishment, management, harvesting and utilization of high-yielding, high-quality forage crops," Rebman said.

Machinery companies have again been invited to exhibit equipment used in forage crop production and utilization. In addition, they have been invited to take part in a field demonstration at the Grass Day of forage harvesters, field balers, crop blowers, forage wagons, bale loaders, hay crushers and tractors.

Rebman added the opinion that in the county could increase the profits from their farm business if they would use more grass. "This Grass Day program is planned to furnish ideas for profitable use of grass," he added.

Spraying with 2,4-D can help kill weeds in your corn field and usually reduce the number of cultivations, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today. He said that care must be taken in using the chemical but if you have the right equipment and have weeds that are killed by 2,4-D, spraying can be both economical and effective. Three generally-recognized methods maybe used with corn.

A post-emergence spray may be put on instead of the first cultivation. Rate of application varies from one-fourth to one-half pound acid equivalent per acre. One-fourth pound is recommended for ester formulations. Spraying at this time has the advantage of hitting the weeds when they are most easily killed. Also you can spray fields that are too wet to cultivate. However, there is a possibility of causing some damage to the corn.

Some farmers prefer to apply 2,4-D after the last cultivation. This method has the advantage of checking weed growth later in the season and hitting the corn when it isn't hurt so much by the spray. Therefore, you can use a heavier rate of application of 2,4-D. Special equipment will be needed and material will cost more if heavier application is made.

Pre-emergence spraying is another method. If corn is sprayed before it comes up, it can stand up to two pounds of 2,4-D per acre. However dry soil may make the treatment ineffective while wet weather may cause more injury to the corn. Soils high in organic matter will require more 2,4-D than soils low in organic matter. Pre-emergence treatments are not recommended for sandy soils.

A modified pre-emergence spray on corn can be made by applying the chemical just as the corn seedlings are shown above ground, but before the leaves unroll. At this time, a one pound rate will reduce the number of annual grasses as well as broad-leaved annual weeds.

The Porcupine

Some people have the idea that a Porcupine can shoot its quills, but that isn't true. While the animal uses its bristles to drive away enemies, it doesn't send the weapons winging through the air.

Instead a Porcupine under attack arches its back, raises its quills, and awaits the foe. At the moment its body is touched, the Porcupine swings its broad tail and swats its opponent. The sting-ploof leaves a patch of quills stuck in the enemy's flesh.

The stiff, slender spines are hard to remove, too. Covered with sharp barbs, like the ends of fish-hooks, they sink in and cling to the flesh which they stab. An animal wounded in a fight with a

© 1951 National Wildlife Federation Porcupine

Porcupine may try for days, without success, to get rid of the quills.

The Porcupine is lucky to have this unusual way of defending itself, says the National Wildlife Federation, for it is a slow stupid animal. It cannot move rapidly, either on the ground or in trees. If it did not have barbed quills, it would be an easy victim of mountain lions, bobcats, and other preying animals.

While it does not run from a fight, the Porcupine tries to keep to itself. It likes the life of a hermit, and does not even seek the company of other Porcupines.

It may prowl by day or by night, but usually it spends most of the daylight hours in its shelter. Its den may be in a cave, beneath a large rock or a pile of bush, or in a hollow log.

When it comes out of its hiding place, the Porcupine roams the woodland in search of food. It eats some fruit and vegetables, but it is most fond of bark, twigs, buds, leaves. The worst thing it does is to feast too long in one place. Many a tree has died because a Porcupine has chewed away the bark in a circle around the trunk.

When cold weather comes, Porcupines make preparations to raise their families. In each den, one baby Porcupine is born in the late winter. It is about eleven inches long and weighs slightly more than a pound, but it is strong enough to waddle in six hours and to climb when it is two days old. Right from the start it has a set of sharp quills.

Though they are soon taking care of themselves, the young do not reach full size until they are about three years old. By that age they are three feet long, with six-inch tails, and they weigh between fifteen and twenty pounds. Their quills are yellowish white, mixed with black hairs, and their front teeth are bright orange.

Most North American Porcupines live in the deep forests of Canada and the northeastern United States. They are also found in scattered parts of the north and far west.

Helicopter rotor helps control orchard frost damage

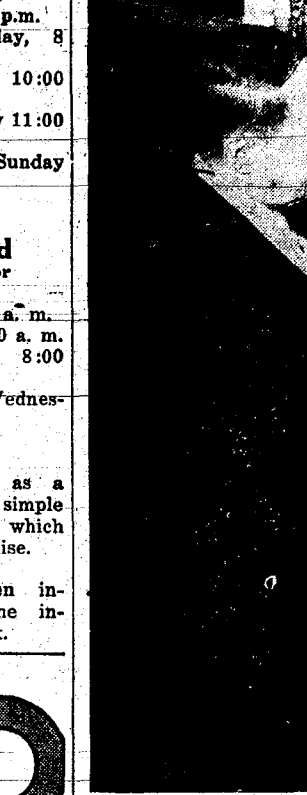

This 22-foot helicopter rotor, spinning atop a 20-foot tower at a Michigan State College test installation at Beulah, Michigan, was found to reduce danger of frost damage under certain conditions. Night temperatures at 300 feet are sometimes 20 degrees warmer than those nearer the ground, and the helicopter rotor pulls down the warmer air and mixes it with the cooler ground air. In one test, the ground temperature 40 feet out from the machine rose from 26 to 35 degrees within a half hour after the rotor started. When orchard heaters were used with the wind machine in the same test, the temperature went from 26 to 38 degrees. For more information on this new weapon against frost damage in fruit orchards, write or telephone your County Agricultural Agent.

Efficiency speeds rural telephone service

In telephone work as in farm work, experience generally adds up to newer, better, faster ways of doing things. The linemen you see adding more telephone wire and cable in rural Michigan have plenty of telephone experience behind them. Last year alone they used that experience to increase by 9,000 the number of telephones in Michigan Bell rural areas. Today, 3 out of 4 establishments in Michigan Bell rural territory have telephones. And we're adding more just as fast as we can.

The Servicemen's Letter

Hi Fellas:
Last week Eemie Richards walked into the office after his mail and you should have seen the beard, moustache, and goatee that man was sporting. I asked him if he thought it was that cold over in England. He said, with a laugh, that he imagined they would make him take that off in a hurry when he got down to Camp Kilmer. Ken left here on Friday, May 23rd for Camp Kilmer, New Jersey to connect with the outfit he is going overseas with. I don't have his new address as yet. You'll get it when I get it.

Those two men who went to Fort Riley with Don Danforth have come through with addresses. They are Wilbur Snyder and Leo Danforth. They are in the same company as Don and in the same regiment as the Morris twins. Their addresses are: Pvt. Leo G. Danforth, RA 16, 405 487 and Pvt. Wilbur E. Snyder, 16 405 480, Co C, 86th Infantry Division, Fort Riley, Kansas.

Leo Danforth has been assigned to the ASA (Signal Corps). He is now taking his 8 weeks basic training and when that is finished he is to go to signal school for 6 months. He says that the main thing he doesn't like just now is KP. He has seen the Morris twins so far but none of the other men from EJ in that camp.

After having to get his paper second-handed through Bob Farmer we can this week start sending one direct to Larry Streeter. He now has an address of his own fairly permanent. That is: A/3c Lawrence E. Streeter, AFN 16 403 413, 3332 Stn Sqdn, Box 265, Scott AFB, Illinois. Larry finally started his school about May 6th.

Cliff Schultz is home on a 30 day furlough from his station at San Diego. He left California on May 16th — was grounded by bad weather but finally got here on the 19th. Cliff has been working on an L.C.U., which means Landing Craft Utility to us landlubbers. I suppose all the Navy men learn that in boot. Anyway, this craft is 109 feet long, the crew have quarters on board, and it can get mighty rugged on her when it gets rough. They have 9 man crew and a Chief. Cliff's job has been engineer. Cliff says the duty there lately has been pretty much of a snap. Their schooling is finished — they only have occasional maneuvers when the weather is right. They have evening liberty two nights out of three to visit San Diego. He says that would be swell except that inasmuch as there are 100,000 sailors and marines around San Diego things in town are pretty well crowded. He gets tired of pushing his way through places.

I had a long talk with Bob Anderson this past week. Bob has been home on furlough but his time is running out this week end. He leaves for San Diego on May 30th — right after the Decoration Day ceremonies. Bob will be going back to the same ship and expects to be in San Diego for some time. His ship is the USS Bexar and Bob is bunked in "A" Division.

When the Bexar was over off Japan they were doing troopship duty. They transport the 45th Division over to Korea. Who knows, perhaps Flora, McKenny and Bricker were somewhere around at that time. You fellows don't happen to remember that name do you?

Soon after helping on the 45th Division move the Bexar, and Bob, headed for Hong Kong. There they had two weeks of liberty and recreation. They were on leave from 1 p.m. to 7 a.m. every day. Bob said that Hong Kong is a real modern city. They have many new automobiles of which quite a few are American made. The traffic all proceeds on the left side of the street the same as it does in England. The city of Hong Kong has a population of 2 1/2 million people. That's some crowd.

Just across the bay on the mainland is the city of Kowloon, in Red China. The sailors were not supposed to go over there but when on shore leave in civvies they went at times. Bob said that it was far less crowded over there. There was no immigration control between Hong Kong and the mainland — just a small ferry to take you over the bay. The money is the same in both Hong Kong and Kowloon — 6 1/2 Chinese dollars to 1 U.S. Good bargains were available. One sailor who was getting out of the navy upon his return to the states bought 3 suits of clothes and 1 topcoat — all of good material and well made for $100 U.S. money. I wish we could do that here. The prices of goods were high except for sea foods. Being right on the Ocean — that was the cheapest item on the menu.

They left Hong Kong on April 14th and were 21 days at sea. They would have made it home 4 days sooner but they had to put in at Gaum put off a sick seaman. Guess they thought he had diptheria and didn't want to quarantine the ship.

Here's a letter from Howard Stanek. He has ended up in a rather unusual place for an air minded man. He writes, "Well I guess it's about time I was writing you a few lines. As you see by my return address on this letter I was shipped out of Lackland. I left there the 13th of May and went to Bergstrom AFB. I was there for three days and then they sent me down here. I'm working on the boats that run from Madagorda Island to Port O'Connor. It's 12 miles across and I'm the seaman on the boat. That sounds kind of funny being in the Air Force and being out on the water."

"We make from two to three trips a day, so we don't get too much sleep. The first trip we make is the mail trip. Then we just carry supplies for the island and some of the servicemen that want to go across on the other two trips."

Sunday night we had a pretty hard windstorm so it was rather rough going across on Monday morning. I'm supposed to be here at the island for about four months or longer and then I'll go back up to Bergstrom AFB at Austin, Texas. On the way down here from Bergstrom I took the airplane. That was my first plane ride and I sure enjoyed it.

"Well Jake, I made my Pfc stripe a week or so ago. They don't call it Pfc now put it in Airman third class. A/3c. Here is my address: A/3c Howard G. Stanek, AF 16 404 155, 4004th AB Sq, Boat Section, Madagorda Island, C/o Army Docks, Port O'Connor, Texas." Thanks for the letter, Howard, and congratulations on that extra stripe.

Niles Hill and Shirley are home this week. They arrived here on May 22nd and Niles will be here on a 20 day furlough. His outfit is all over he will be going back to Washington State again. Niles has certainly had some interesting and unique experiences while down there in Nevada. He was an observer of the largest Atom blast that they have set off as yet. It was much larger than the ones dropped on Japan. He, with the other soldiers, was down on his knees in a foxhole at the time of the blast. They had their eyes covered with their hands and their face close to the ground but even then the flash from the explosive was just like setting off a flash bulb right in your eyes with the eyes open. About 23 seconds after the flash the shock struck. He said the whole ground rocked and shook under them. It made him wonder what kept it from splitting open. They were 4 miles distant from the target and the bomb was dropped exactly on the target from over 30,000 feet. The plane that dropped the bomb was just a speck in the sky. If the bombardier had been one second off in his timing they would have all been killed.

Niles has eight months of service left in this hitch. They haven't sent him overseas as yet and he doesn't believe they will. They have a ruling that no men are to be shipped overseas who have 9 months or less of time left. Well, men, I guess that is all the dope for tonight. See ya all next week.

So Long,
"Jake" Snyder

They left Hong Kong on April 14th and were 21 days at sea. They would have made it home 4 days sooner but they had to put suits soon his corrections career may come to an abrupt end. He is the new whipping boy. Like Hercules who was instructed to clean the Augean stables. Gilmore has been told to perform the almost impossible.

He received specific instructions to iron out the long-standing conflict between the counseling and custodial staffs of the prison. Could it be that the prison's difficulty may not be an open wound but the inner sickness of dissension and politics among its high echelon employees?

In any event Jackson's 5,000 prisoners are upset and the cauldron of unrest still bubbling behind those high walls will bear watching.

Another phase of the situation to consider brings us to that old bagaboo—capital punishment. A bill asking for the death penalty on first degree murder convictions is as sure as winter in every session of the legislature. For at least 20 years such a bill has been introduced. Every year it is tossed out like an old grapefruit, rind.

But this year we have a new twist. Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing) has a bill (House Bill 482) which provides for the death penalty for first degree murder by a person in custody after he has been convicted of a felony.

The bill as written would protect officers and civilians alike in jails, prison and in transit by plane, court room and prison—just as soon as the person is adjudged guilty.

Execution would be by electrocution in Jackson.

"If we don't do something to protect the guards we will have no guards," Rep. Montgomery says.

The issue: Would such a law help the situation? Ernest C. Brooks corrections commissioner, says no. He illustrates his point by cutting the case of the pickpockets of old England when that profession was punishable by death. "While hanging a pickpocket, the hangman's pocket was picked," he says.

"I do not believe in capital punishment in any form. It would not be a deterrent to uprisings such as we had at Jackson." He pointed out that New Jersey which has capital punishment had riots, as did Georgia, where seven convicts were killed.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie of Jackson State prison says: "The threat of the electric chair would not have affected the Jackson mutiny because we are not dealing with rational persons."

Rep. Montgomery agrees that capital punishment generally doesn't deter criminals, but feels guards and prison workers should have additional protection.

However his bill could be the entering wedge for general capital punishment. Once his bill is on the books it needs only be amended to include all first degree murders. Montgomery admits it could be used by some to attempt such a move, but he at the same time feels the sentiment against it in Michigan precludes its success.
