How About The Weather

Although the weather during the past week has been rather disagreeable at times, East Jordan and vicinity scores again by having enjoyed better weather than other areas about us. While we had only about an inch of snow, other near by areas had 3" or more. Our coldest this month was a 23 on the 10th, other points in Nor. Mich. had 10 and 12. A recent map published by the Weather Bureau shows a narrow strip along the lake shore, from Ludington to Mackinaw, down the east shore to Saginaw, wherein the first killing frost in the fall in 10 days to 2 week later than points inland.

Weather for the past 10 days looks like this:

Oct. 10 — Max, 51; Min, 23; Type of day, Clear-Heavy Frost.

Oct. 11 — Max, 62; Min, 35; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 12 — Max, 60; Min, 38; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 13 — Max, 59; Min, 34; Type of day, Partly Cloudy.

Oct. 14 — Max 58; Min, 37; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 15 — Max, 49; Min, 40; Rain, Trace; Type of day, Partly Cloudy.

Oct. 16 — Max, 39; Min, 27; Type of day, Cloudy.

Oct. 17 — Max, 41; Min, 31; Type of day, Cloudy.

Oct. 18 — Max, 48; Min, 26; Type of day, Clear.

Mrs. Frances Boss Passes Away

Mrs. Frances Boss was born Frances Lanway, Sept. 7, 1875 in N.Y. State and passed away Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1952 at Grandvue Hospital after an illness of several months.

When a child of 5 years she came to East Jordan with her mother and has been a resident here since then.

In 1894 she married Joe Detlaff who passed away Nov. 20, 1908 and on Jan. 29, 1912, she was united in marriage to Peter Boss who survives her.

She was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Surviving besides the husband are an adopted daughter, Frances Vogel and two sons, Floyd and Harry Detlaff of Flint, two grandsons Floyd Jr. and Bobby Detlaff of Flint a sister, Mrs. Martha Rines of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Joseph's Catholic Church, conducted by the Very Rev. J. J. Malinowski.

Bearers were Mose Hart, Oscar Weisler, James Lilak Jr., and Jerome Sulak. Interment was in St. Joseph Calvary Cemetery.

Relatives from away attending the funeral were: Floyd Detlaff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Detlaff and family, Mrs. Martha Rines, Nora Richardson and Mrs. Nellie Wells of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lanway, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Simpson, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Raino, Flint.

John Martin Jr., Auditor General of the State of Michigan, and candidate for re-election to that office, visited in East Jordan this Thursday noon, and was guest at a luncheon get-together at the Anchorage Restaurant at 12:30.

Auditor General Martin was accompanied to East Jordan by Atty. Guy C. Conkle, Jr., of Boyne City. Arrangements for the luncheon were made by Howard P. Porter.

Following the luncheon Auditor General Martin was taken on a tour of East Jordan industries. Among the places scheduled were the East Jordan Canning Co., the East Jordan Iron Works, and the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery.

On Sunday, October 26th the East Jordan Rifle Club will hold their annual Turkey Shoot at their range north of East Jordan on the Boyne City Road.

They will run the bouncing bunny for the .22 caliber rifles and the running deer for the big guns. Coffee and donuts will be served. Scope sights are permitted. Shooting starts at 10:00 a.m. Come on out and win a turkey or chicken at the East Jordan Rifle Club Turkey Shoot.

East Jordan Rifle Club members who have successfully fired Army Course C for Record of Caliber .30 Rifle Qualification will be issued badges of Marksman and Sharpshooter by the Director of Civilian Marksmanship. The following is a list of these men: Thomas Breakey, Cliff Bailey, T. E. Malpass, Bruce Malpass, Harold Nyland (Central Lake) Dick McKinnon, Ralph Shepard, T. D. Malpass, Glenn Malpass, Charles Strehl, Harry Flora, Jason Snyder, and Howard Nyland.

Tom Breakey was top man with a score of 170 out of a possible 195. Positions fired were standing, kneeling, and sitting.

If you are interested in target shooting or guns you are invited to join our Club. Contact Harry Flora for details.

Auditor General John Martin, Jr.

On the basis of his record for rigid control over the expenditure of state funds during his current term in office, Michigan Republicans selected John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, to run for re-election as Auditor General.

Taxpayers have been saved thousands of dollars through Martin's recommendations for proper auditing procedures and his thorough scrutiny of the accounts of various state agencies.

Martin entered state government as a legislator, winning election in 1946 to the State Senate, where he earned a reputation as a conscientious worker for harmony and efficiency.

During World War II he helped organize and served as head of the National Office of Civilian Defense. Later he was commissioned in the Navy and assigned to secret service work in Europe. After the war, Martin served on the staff of the prosecutor at the Axis was criminal trials in Nuremberg. Upon his discharge as a Lieutenant Commander in 1946, he opened a law practice in Grand Rapids.

Martin was born in Grand Rapids in 1909. He was graduated from Dartmouth College and the University of Michigan Law School. He also attended Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar.

Martin is active in a number of civic and veterans' organizations. He and Mrs. Martin have four school-age children.

Barnett - Smith

Shirley Jane Barnett, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barnett became the bride of James R. Smith at a three o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon October 18th in the Methodist Church with members of the immediate families and close friends as guests.

The groom is the son of Frank G. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith of Lake Linden, Michigan.

The Rev. Robert Moore officiated at the double ring service before an altar of fall flowers of white and deep autumn shades.

Mr. Fred Stucker played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Alta Drapeau who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted suit dress, the beige jacket with brown trim matching the brown velvet skirt. Her corsage was of green orchids and she carried a bouquet of white fall daisies and ivy.

Claudia Kamradt assisted the bride as maid of honor, wearing a beige fitted suit dress. Her corsage was bronze mums.

James Swar attended the groom as best man.

Mrs. Barnett wore a brown crepe dress. Her corsage was white roses, chrysanthemums and ivy.

Mrs. McClerry, the groom's sister was attired in Navy blue crepe. Her corsage was also of white roses, chrysanthemums and ivy.

Seating the guests were Kenneth Aenis and Richard Barnett cousins of the bride and Morgan Smith brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewellyn Karr were master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception held in the social rooms, following the wedding. The three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. L. C. Swafford. Mrs. Keith Weeks, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Gerald Barnett poured the tea and coffee. Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ed Welby, Mr. Wm. Montroy and Mrs. Elsie Gothro. The bride is a graduate of the local High School and for the past two years has been employed at the Rev. Motor Co. at Lansing.

The groom graduated from the Lake Linden High School and attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. He is employed at the Packard Motor Co. at Utica.

The couple left on a Northern Wedding trip after which they will make their home at Mt. Clemens.

Out of town guests: Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Rutter, Mrs. Keith Weeks and daughter Joan, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heller and family, Dexter; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Mt. Clemens; Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter, Hartford, Conn.; Dr. and Mrs. L. S. McClury, Miss Frances Wigham, Ann Arbor; Frank G. Smith, Lake Linden; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Billington, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cary and daughter Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barnett and Geraldine, Mrs. Clayton Good, Detroit; Mrs. S. L. Cary and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aenis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aenis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Samlin, Marlene and Garry Samlin, Ward Cary, C. S. Ploughman, Muskegon Heights; Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, Sparta; Mrs. Joseph Abraham, Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Grand Rapids.

Before her marriage the bride was the guest of honor at a shower given by Lansing friends and a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis in East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gresbeck of Lansing were week end guests of his aunt, Mrs. Claud Hart.

The 1952-53 East Jordan Community Chest drive begins November 6. The house to house canvass will start following a kick-off breakfast in the school lunch room at nine o'clock in the morning. Nine captains have been chosen to have charge of this part of the drive. They are Mrs. Roy Jenkins, district No. 1; Mrs. W. E. Malpass district No. 2; Mrs. Wirt Bates, No. 3; Mrs. Greg Boswell, No. 4; Mrs. Frank Stucker, No. 5; Mrs. Willard Howe, No. 6; Mrs. Alice Somerville, No. 7; Mrs. Betty Robertson will have charge of the townships. Mrs. Jean Strehl will solicit the teachers. The captains met Wednesday at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Porter to organize their districts. A list of the solicitors will be in this paper at a later date.

Our community chest is an organization similar to the Torch Fund drive in Detroit and the south eastern part of the state; and to the United Red Feather drive in Grand Rapids and elsewhere, with two exceptions. The March of Dimes, Red Cross and the American Cancer society do not wish to be a part of an East Jordan or Charlevoix Co. Red Feather drive. Our organization has no paid workers, no expense account to carry on the business of collecting pledges or disbursing same, except the payment of postage.

Our Budget for this year is $5000 apportioned as follows. The amount to be given to each organization not directly managed in East Jordan is with the understanding they solicit no further funds here:

Explaining Technique of Soils Testing

East Jordan Beats Boyne City 12-7 Last Friday

Coach Tom Weede's Ramblers played their outstanding game of the year only to have the powerful East Jordan Red Devils come from behind in the fourth quarter and snatch away a 12 to 7 victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, big Don Arner, Boyne City fullback, intercepted an East Jordan pass on their 35 yard line and raced to a touchdown. Shorty Smith made the extra point good and the half ended with Boyne out in front 7 to 0.

Gordon Danforth, the East Jordan lad who was hurt in practice before the season opened, returned to the game last night for the first time and scored the Red Devil's first TD late in the third. The extra point was blocked and Boyne still held a one point lead going into the last period.

Late in the fourth quarter Sam Milstein intercepted a Boyne pass in midfield and then went on to what ended in the winning TD for the Blue Devils. Working the ball down to the four yard line, Keith Evans broke away to the end zone to put East Jordan out in front 12 to 7. The extra point was blocked and the game ended. This was East Jordan's 17th victory in a row.

No fall planting of fruit trees is recommended by horticulturists at Michigan State College. Trees planted in the spring grow bigger and stronger.

Dist. Health Dept. Mobile X-Ray Unit at East Jordan Tues. and Wed., Oct. 28-29

At the annual meeting of the Michigan Department of Health No. 3 which includes Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego Counties, tentative plans were made for the free chest x-ray survey being conducted in all but Antrim county Oct. 28 through Nov. 22.

Miss Elaine Abbott, case finding representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, met with Dr. A. F. Litzenger, director of the district health department and his entire staff recently, to make arrangements for the mobile x-ray unit which will enter the area at East Jordan Oct. 28 and visit all major communities in the three-county area during the following month. The unit visited Antrim county earlier this year.

The schedule set up by the group and which is subject to change has the mobile unit at East Jordan Oct. 28-29; Charlevoix Oct. 30-31 and Nov. 1; Boyne City Nov. 4-6; Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake Nov. 7; Gaylord Nov. 10-12; Harbor Springs Nov. 13-14; Pellston Nov. 17; Alanson Nov. 18; and Petoskey Nov. 19-22.

It is the aim of the department to have the entire adult population of the three-county area starting with the 15-year-old group, x-rayed while the unit is here. Special hours will be arranged for those who cannot visit the unit during the day-time hours. The hours and the location of the unit will be announced at a later date.

threat to the community but most people would be surprised to know that 17 new cases in the four county area were admitted to sanatoria for treatment last year.

Free x-rays taken at the Charlevoix and Emmet county fairs plus patch tests given the younger school children by the community and county nurses were instrumental in finding the 17 cases which were later hospitalized.

At the same meeting at which the mass chest x-ray project was planned, several other special clinics were discussed. Among them were a special hearing program for adults sponsored by the Michigan Association of Better Hearing scheduled for next month; Diabetes Detection week Nov. 16-22; a hearing program for school children, to be held early next year and an orthopedic clinic to be held in Gaylord next June.

These services, offered during the entire year, calls for a full-time staff which serves under Dr. Litzenger and includes Dr. Scott; Marian Rife of Charlevoix county; Katherine Warner of Emmet county; Irene Jackson of Otsego county and Helen Gervers of Antrim county, all registered nurses and county nurses; Margaret Davenport of Charlevoix, Elizabeth Robertson of East Jordan and Alma Cessar of Petoskey, community nurses in their respective cities; Helen Louise Goodwin, Boyne City school nurse who works with the department; Dr. Whitten; Miss Dun; Pauline Whitten, dental assistant. Clerks in the office located at the city hall in Charlevoix are Arbutus J. Rasant and Helen Light.

The district health unit was financed in 1951 by a state grant of $17,371.40; a federal grant of $2,308.87; plus appropriations of 40 cents per capita in Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego counties and 50 cents per capita in Emmet county which also pays part of the school nurses salary and contributions from the Community Chests in Charlevoix and East Jordan. Expenditures in 1951 $42,656.96.

SCIENCE OF SHOTGUNNING

Lots of books have been written on shotguns and their effectiveness against upland birds and game. Before you bought your gun you probably pondered the matter at great length—wondered if you were choosing the right gauge, the best stock, the right length barrel, the most effective choke for the type of hunting you planned to do.

Chances are your choice worked out pretty well, because most hunters can become good shots with any gun, providing they use it often enough to get thoroughly used to it.

In my book the choice of shot is a more important factor, plus the knowledge that tells you when to pull that trigger. Too many hunters buy shells loaded with No. 4 pellets when they should be using No. 6 or even 7 1/2's. Your shells with No. 4 shot have 135 pellets to the ounce while a No. 7 1/2 load carries 350 pellets for the same weight. You may argue that the killing power of heavier shot is greater, but you can't deny that in numbers there is strength, too! And if you're inclined to reach out for your birds or game beyond the 40 yard mark, your pattern begins to break up, and you desperately need those extra pellets to fill the holes.

of loads is the choke of your gun. Most duck hunters use a full choke, with which they know they can reach out as much as 60 yards and still have about 50% of their shot inside a 30-inch circle. Wide open or "improved cylinder" chokes give you the same number of shot in a 30-inch circle at only 30 yards. Beyond this range an open choke just wastes ammunition most of the time. So it all depends on the game you're after, and how close you're going to get to it. My choice for all bird hunting, except ducks, is an improved cylinder. I firmly believe that too many hunters miss their game because a full or modified choke has kept the target completely out of the cone of fire!

The Matter of Lead

Of course, failure to lead may cause the same amount of misses. It takes an average .065 seconds from the time you see your game, raise your gun and pull the trigger until the shotgun pellets reach a point 20 yards from you. In that time a canvasback will fly as much as 65 feet! How much should you lead? That depends on your distances from the target—and the best answer is found from experience. Plan to spend more hunting hours in the field. Miss a few and hit a lot more! The only difference between you and a crack shot is a little more time at the sport. Take it this year—in Michigan Outdoors! It's later than you think!

COMPETITION

Competition is a wonderful thing. If it wasn't for competition life would become a virtual hum-drum existence. Most of us regard competition in terms of football, baseball, and other sports. However, competition is the sole thing that makes a business man get out and wash and dress up in his window, or arrange his stock attractively.

Contrary to what most folks are apt to think, making money at a business is of secondary importance. Here again it is competition that makes a fellow want to earn more money than his fellow man, that he may buy a better car, live in a better house, or smoke a better cigar.

We have seen competition spur a businessman to success, where, before competition became apparent, he was running only a second-rate business.

Where there's only one business of a kind in an area, the owner will say "Why try to get more business? People know where I am, and if they want anything in my line they are sure to come to me."

However, in the days of the modern automobile, this is no longer true. A businessman with the above attitude will wake up one night and find competition in a neighboring town has suddenly started to take away his customers even though "They know where I am".

Why is this possible? Because the man in the neighboring town has, through consistent advertising, no matter what medium, been making a bid for this distant business. How easily a man can make himself feel good by saying "My customers are loyal, they won't trade elsewhere," and found himself disillusioned overnight.

Yes, competition is the "spice of life". Take it away, and all desire to "get ahead" in the world will vanish. There would then be no necessity for more than one kind of business in any given area, and the very backbone of our business world today would break.

Every qualified elector present and in line at the polls at the hour prescribed for the closing thereof shall be allowed to vote.

Thelma M. Hegerberg, City Clerk

Look for cottons this winter—they are big fashion news. Cotton tweeds and cotton figures that look like wool or rayon designs are available in fall and winter colors. Make sure you get washing instructions before buying, though.

Less expensive cuts of meat must be cooked for a long time at a slow temperature, remind Michigan State College home economists. Or, grind the less-expensive cuts and treat them as you would tender meats, they suggest.

The health department through its staff has several outstanding programs which are discussed briefly in the following paragraphs.

One of its major programs is active immunization which is the ideal control measure in acute communicable childhood disease control program. At immunization clinics children are vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Despite the advances made in the control of these diseases, 291 cases were admitted to service during 1951 and reporting was far from complete.

There are also about six typhoid carriers in the district who are under the supervision of the department.

The maternal and child health program showed a decrease as more expectant mothers visited their own physicians which is always encouraged by the department. However, postpartum visits remained about the same. The latter includes visits to young mothers to discuss their child care programs and also to see that the children are given proper immunization protection and prompt treatment of crippling conditions or ailments.

Through the cooperation of school administrators and teachers a fine school health program is possible in the entire area and needs little mention here.

Special case finding programs are conducted periodically such as vision, hearing and speech. Children, through the Children's Fund of Michigan and local organizations, are given glasses and special treatment for their defects.

The Children's Fund of Michigan, cooperating with the department, also makes it possible for the area to have a full-time department, also makes it possible for the area to have a full-time dentist, Dr. C. O. Whitten and a dental hygienist, Miss Cora Dunn.

In two new programs, 296 calls were made on 185 adults in the adult health service and 147 children taken to the Child Guidance Clinic in Petoskey.

The sanitation and engineering division, headed by James Scott, endeavors to make the health of the people more safe by controlling various factors in its environment that influence the health of the people. The sanitation program includes a consideration of the various parts of water supply, sewage disposal systems and methods of sewage and rubbish disposal. Of primary importance also is the program relating to milk and milk products used for food. Other activities the concerned with sanitation where food is prepared and/or served. Special emphasis is placed on environmental facilities in the schools. Other public places and institutions among them trailer parks, cabin camps, parks, bathing beaches, convalescent homes and boarding houses for children and the aged are also given special attention.

Rebman Says Pole Barn OK

The loose housing type of dairy barn — known as a pen barn or pole barn — will serve the farmer well and save his labor time, advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

The pen barn generally refers to a barn having overhead storage where standard construction is used. The pole gets its name from the use of poles for supporting the roof and side walls.

Chore time per dairy animal has been reduced as much as 50 hours per animal per year by an operator changing from the stanchion to the loose housing type of barn, reports Rebman.

The loose housing barn requires a better farm manager than the stanchion type of barn if satisfactory conditions are to prevail, he cautions. The key factors to good pen barn management are correct barn arrangement, enough room for the cows that are to be housed, sufficient bedding and a farm operator who is interested in his dairy herd.

The biggest disadvantage in a loose housing barn is probably the farm operator's habit of working in a warm barn. To operate correctly the pen barn should be cold with at least one door open all the time. Generally the milking parlor is "on the chilly side". If the farm operator can overcome the desire to close the barn doors in cold weather, he will find his animals are frequently outside even when it is snowing hard, according to Rebman.

Age forms no block to popularity of hunting. Conservation department records show 37,228 youngsters under 16 years of age and 12,438 oldsters 70 and over purchased small game licenses in 1951.

Lifting Right Is Important

"Correct lifting should be practiced until it becomes a habit," says Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. Each year thousands of persons are victims of sprains, strains, hernias and other injuries caused by improper lifting.

According to records of Michigan State College safety specialists the most common cause of lifting injuries are: lifting and lowering with back muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads or inadequate control; and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

One common practice is to bend at the waist when reaching down to grasp an object. Lifting in this position places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. Always bend your knees and keep your back straight when it becomes necessary to lift, Rebman suggests.

The county agent advises rearranging work eliminate or reduce the amount of lifting required. He also suggested exploring the feasibility of using simple and safe mechanical aids, such as rope hoists, wooden skids, hand trucks or inexpensive conveyors.

Woods Comic

The rascals are cute but attempting to pick up a cub bear is an easy way to invite trouble. Mother bear usually is not far away, the conservation department notes, probably tearing apart old logs and stumps in her search for grubs and other insects. This time of year the pickings are somewhat thin with berries, nuts and other bear foods not yet available. Observe the claws on this "baby," typical of climbing mammals.

Skilled laborers made up more than 36 percent of the resident deer hunting army in 1951. Next largest group was businessmen and women, 15 percent. Farmers accounted for 14 percent and unskilled laborers for 11 percent. In all, 382, 672 persons purchased resident deer licenses last year. Conservation department expects this figure to increase somewhat this year.

Swine Producers Urged to Raise Feeder Pigs

Most swine producers in Charlevoix county should focus their interests on the production of feeder pigs, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. A few feeder pigs for home use, a few for sale to the neighbors and other for export to southern Michigan should provide a desirable swine enterprise, Rebman suggests. The production of feeder pigs provides a market, through swine, for larger quantities of hay and pasture crops than is provided when hogs are fattened for market, he points out. The early spring pigs, sold as feeders, nearly always sell at higher prices than do the later farrowed pigs, Rebman reminds.

Farmers should examine their litter of pigs now. Mark the gilts that have grown best up to the present time but be sure they are from large litters. Be sure the gilt has at last ten well developed udder sections. Select the gilt with enough age and maturity so that she may be bred in November for March litter. The pigs are then ready for sale by late April or early May.

Most farmers now have electricity so that early litters are not a great problem where heat lamps or a farrowing crate is used. After weaning the first litter the gilt may be re-bred for an early fall litter or she may be fattened and marketed by early June when pork prices are usually good.

Farmers farrowed fewer litters of pigs this spring and expect smaller numbers farrowed this fall. Couple this with an above average small grain crop plus one of the record corn crops nearly ready for harvest and we have indications of a good year for swine producers in 1953. Good pasture, parasite control, sanitation and balanced rations also contribute to a profitable swine program.

AGEING WOMEN SHOULD WATCH DIET CAREFULLY

The aging women has a problem when it comes to proper diet, Dr. Willma Brewer of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department concludes.

Because the older person exercises less, her need for calories decreases. But her need for vital food elements such as protein, calcium and phosphorus is as great as in younger women.

This means that the diets planned for older people should be high in protective foods. Refined foods which are rich in calories but supply little in the way of protein, calcium, phosphorus, iron and the different vitamins should be gradually omitted from the diet, Dr. Brewer says.

Rich pastries, frosted cakes, sweet rolls—all are examples of foods that provide many calories in relation to the essential nutrients they contain. Since there is a tendency for women to gain weight as they grow older, Dr. Brewer recommends cutting down on the sweets and pastries.

But at the same time she urges a well-balanced diet that includes at least a pint of milk a day for the necessary calcium, protein, riboflavin and phosphorus.

Meat, too, is vital in the diet of aging persons. There should be a serving of milk, fish, poultry, cheese or two eggs in each day's meals.

When you cut down the food intake to increase calorie intake, be sure to maintain a well-balanced diet to get the essential nutrients every day, Dr. Brewer stresses.

The total forest land area of Michigan is about 19 million acres. Of this total, more than 17 million acres of timber are slated for commercial uses. Stands of aspen-birch total six million acres, northern hardwoods cover five million acres, and swamp stands, spruce-fir and pine make up most of the remainder.

Grapefruit selection should depend on firm, smoothly-textured surface and well-rounded shape, say Michigan State College food and nutrition specialists. Coarse, tough, puffy grapefruit skins usually indicate lack of taste as well as little juice.

—so are we!

RECENT PRISON RIOTS cost you and your fellow Michigan citizens about $2,000,000! The supervisor of Michigan State Prisons—appointed by the Governor—and the Governor himself, failed to act in time to prevent these costly riots. Later, a "truce" was made with the surly prisoners and YOU bought them steak, ice cream and other favors for their promise to be "good boys" in the future!

WHO CONTROLS OUR GOVERNOR? Find out who ordered him to open the prison gates for a goon-squad leader convicted of destroying property. Find out who ordered him to veto the "Good Roads Program" to take Michigan out of the mud. Find out who ordered him to veto the loyalty board charter amendment to Detroit's city charter and told him not to let the legislature consider anti-communist laws in a special session.

THESE SPECIAL GROUPS can get favors and privileges from the Governor's office because they "control" the Governor. He owes allegiance to them because they are the back-bone of his support. They are not interested in what is good for the State of Michigan but only in what will further their own ambitions and lust for power. These groups are controlled by a few men who dictate policy and act as political advisors to the Governor. They are responsible to nobody but themselves. This secret political bossism in Michigan must end!

SURE, YOU'RE BURNED UP! Well, do something about it, this time! Get Michigan State Government back in working, do something order! Show them you mean it, by voting straight Republican . . . on November 4th!

After taking a trip to Washington, D. C. and other points last week, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meredith came back to work Monday. The barber is improving on his technique with the camera too. Out of 33 pictures he took with his new Speed Graphic, only one came out fuzzy. Milt says his nerves were a bit frayed when he took that one.

Dear Parents: November 19th is the date for the Book Fair at our November Parent-Teachers Club at which both new and bargain books will be presented.

Miss Harriet Kilborne of Petoskey will be here to acquaint us with her display of newbooks. Christmas is just around the corner and you might find exactly what you want for that special friend.

The success of our Bargain Book Booth depends on you. Will you please look through your books and send to us, by your children at school, any that you would like to contribute for this project? We believe, you see, that "a book in the hand of a friend is worth more than two on the shelf."

Please do this as soon as possible so that the book can be examined and reconditioned where necessary by the committee.

Our aim is to sell these books reasonably to give all a chance to find fun, excitement, adventure, entertainment and to make new book friends.

Thank you, Ann Wagbo, Frances Benson, Mary Glenna Malpass

South Arm 4-H Club News
The regular meeting of the South Arm community 4-H Club was called to order by the president, Jack Zoulek, on October 7th at 8:00 p.m.

It was the election of officers, and the following will act for this year: President, Margaret Zoulek; Vice, President, David Graham; Secretary, Deanna Lehrbass; Treasurer, Barbara Fisher; Recreation Leader, Jack Zoulek; Song Leader, Art Thompson.

After a meeting with much discussion, recreation and a light lunch were enjoyed by everyone. The Advisory Board also met that week and their election was as follows: Community Leader, Mrs. Archie Graham; Vice Community Leader, Mrs. Mary Lord.

Our next meeting will be held November 4th in the South Arm Grange Hall at 8:00 p.m.

Nan Drapeau, Reporter

Music
The A Cappella choir, under the direction of Mrs. Alta Drapeau, met for their first practice on Thursday, October 16, 1952. The 35 members practice during lunch period due to class conflicts.

The group plans on working on a variety of music, concentrating on district festival material and light musical comedy. We have high hopes for the future!

F.H.A.
Two girls from the local chapter of Future Homemakers of America were elected officers of Region Five at their meeting held in Petoskey, October 18th.

Bethany Whiteford, a Junior will serve as Historian the coming year and Nan Drapeau, a Sophomore, will act as song leader.

Margaret Zoulek, local Senior, who was regional Parliamentarian, had charge of the election. The meeting for 1953 will be held in Alpena where a new chapter of F.H.A. has been organized.

At our first Adult Education Meeting Wednesday, October 15th, we had requests for the following classes:

- Driver Training
- Sewing
- Typing
- Shorthand
- Beginning Spanish
- Ceramics

Enough signed up for Driver Training and Ceramics to assure classes in these courses. However, we can take care of more people in Driver Training. This class meets on Mondays at 4:00 p.m. Report at that time if interested.

The class in Ceramics will not start until after the holidays.

In the other fields — Typing, shorthand, sewing, and Beginning Spanish we need additional people to justify our operating the courses.

If there are other people in the community interested please

Sweet and Louise Walton.

Third Grade — Mrs. Hughes
We have several gifts for our room this week. Larry Eichler brought us a crab to watch. It died and Larry has been wondering why. Carol Shedina brought a lovely plant to brighten our room. Billy brought us a black and white hawk's feather and made the children guess what bird had lost it. Donald Metcalf brought his big gray rabbit for us to see.

We read "Heidi" everyday. The children are very interested.

Last Friday 30 children out of 39 got "A" in spelling, writing their test in the new spelling book.

Third Grade — Mrs. Bowerman
Nancy Lehrbass entertained several friend at her home on Friday in honor of her eighth birthday.

We are happy to have new shelves for our room. We find that we can take better care of our library books and keep our library table more inviting. Several kinds of house plants have been brought for our top shelf. We hope we have "green fingers."

In our number class we measured our library table then our student teacher and two helpers took money and went downtown to select and buy a new oilcloth for us. We think they made a nice choice.

With the coming of cold weather come the extra coats, hats, boots and mittens and with these comes the importance of putting names on each piece. This not only helps the children in picking out his own things, but it aids greatly in getting a found article to the right owner.

In a spelling test of the 50 words we had in the first six weeks, seventeen of the 36 children had perfect papers. It is not too hard to get the 10 words each week but the important test is in making the word "forever mine."

Fourth Grade — Mrs. Galmore
Wednesday, Oct. 15th, Gary Graig's mother sent cup cakes in honor of Gary's birthday. We sang for him and give him many privileges for the day. We wish to thank his mother for her kindness.

Eighteen pupils had perfect attendance this last six weeks. It gives them a good start for the year as much of the time was spent in necessary review.

Some pupils have forgotten how to borrow in Arithmetic. To remedy this, we have a chart with pockets by means of which we can actually show the process by using toothpicks.

Many of our boys and girls have given reports on the books that they have read. These are represented by a miniature book cover on a chart. We hope to have a report from everyone soon.

Fourth Grade — Mrs. Strohl
Donalda Scott gave an interesting talk to the boys and girls about her trip to Lansing. She told about her visits to the State Capitol and Michigan State College. Everyone enjoyed her talk.

Last Thursday our room helped Dick Hayes celebrate his 8th birthday. Mrs. Hayes sent some cupcakes and suckers to us. We had lots of fun and enjoyed the treats. The children made birthday cards for Dick in the afternoon.

We have several pretty plants the children have brought to school to share with us. Judy Jankoviak, Connie Bennett, Ronald Klooster, Sharon Pinney and Frances Hayes brought them.

In Geography class we have enjoyed the book Mrs. Galmore is sharing with us. The boys and girls wish to thank her. The book is very colorful and interesting. The name of it is "The Golden Geography Book."

We are learning some Halloween poems this week. They are "Smiling", "Jack O'Lantern" and "Halloween." We are also beginning to make plans for Halloween week.

This week is P.T.C. week at school. We are hoping to have our mother and dads visit our room.

Fifth Grade — Mrs. Mosher
Our chart of Arithmetic combinations is now complete. Several of us need much practice in the subtraction and multiplication combinations. We will try to improve our scores on the next tests.

We are drawing a frieze on the blackboard to illustrate the Oregon Trail. We hope to have it finished for Open House.

The movie we saw last week on early American history helped us a lot in our social studies. In it we saw many of the people and events we have been reading about.

At our club meeting last Friday, we elected new officers. They are: President, Bruce Brintall; Vice President, Bruce Ogden; Secretary, Carol Jean Moore; and Treasurer, Rudolph Bulman. Mike Boss has joined our class for two weeks.

We thank Mr. Carey for putting the book rack on our cupboard. It is very useful and pretty.

In science we have been studying about rocks. We have been making much use of magnifying glasses to look at them.

Our Weekly Reader tests show that many of us need to work on word meanings.

THE FAUCET KEEPS A DRIPPIN' AND I CAN'T SLEEP.

Drip....Drip....Drip

Seems like Andy Anderson has been having trouble 'sleepin' nights, and, after several weeks of this, the cause of it all came to him in the middle of a sleepless night... It was that darn leakin' faucet on his ancient coffee maker that was causing him all the trouble.

The next day Andy brought up the subject to Bill Porter, and after exhaustive scientific investigation, decided the coffee maker dripped the tune of 40 cups a day despite the fact that several years ago its innards were replaced with a brand new 4-gal pickle crock from the East Jordan Co-op Co. (That was the winter of the big blue frost).

Further analysis brought out the fact that Andy was losing coffee at the rate of $150.00 per year, plus the cost of fuel to heat up coffee that was runnin' down the drain.

Bill, being a venturesome soul at heart, offered to fix the leakin' faucet free, with the understanding that, as long as the faucet did not drip, he would receive from Andy two free cups of coffee every day. Bill figures this should save him $48.00 per year on his daily two cups, and Andy would save $102.00 per year on his leakin' faucet.

To date the faucet hasn't dripped a single drop and has already been in operation for over two weeks.

Needless to say, both Andy and Bill have their eyes glued to that faucet. Bill is pretty confident it won't drip, but Andy is counting those cups of coffee day after day, figuring what a new faucet would cost installed, and coming out quite a bit less than $48.00 per year. This gives rise to the speculation of how long Andy can keep the cost of coffee from rising from 8c to 10c to keep Bill supplied with his daily two cups!

Children Have Own Growing Pattern, Says U-M Educator

Your child, and every child, has a unique design for growing. Willard C. Olson, dean of the University of Michigan School of Education, asserts.

Each youngster has his own requirements for water, food, sleep, exercise and parental attention, he says, advising parents not to worry if their child's needs are not the same as published averages for his age.

The growth pattern is determined largely by heredity, Dean Olson explains, adding that there is a "wisdom of the body" which each child tends to eat according to his own wants. If your offspring's needs aren't met, he will suffer, warns the dean.

No one knows how much each child should sleep, the educator points out. "Problems will arise if you insist on an early bedtime and a late rising hour, when the child actually does not need so much rest," he states.

"Sleep can become the focus of a great many behavior problems, since there is so often a difference between the amount of sleep you want your child to have and what the child really needs," he continues.

"A word to wise parents: don't try to speed up your child's growth by giving him special practice and training in such things as walking, reading and toilet training. This forcing sometimes may show a temporary effect, but when the attempt to force growth is discontinued, the normal development pattern is restored, and the small gains are lost."

Editors Note:—This is the first in a series of six articles on the development of children, with Willard C. Olson, dean of the University of Michigan School of Education, as the quoted authority.)

Visitors to many of Michigan's Great Lakes' shore areas this year probably noticed a black, oily-appearing substance lining some beaches. Conservation department geologists say the substance is a type of iron ore that occurs in deposits too small to be of commercial value.

Michigan Mirror

By 2000 A.D. the whole southern part of Michigan will undoubtedly be one vast suburban area."

That's the opinion of Dr. Paul Miller, rural sociologist for Michigan State College. Being a serious student, Miller won't make that as a flat prediction. But there are plenty of clues pointing to that trend.

That points up the need, he believes, for township zoning in what are now rural areas and a new examination of the best use Michigan can put its land to.

Miller is no highbrow dweller of the ivory tower of scholarship. He admits — with probably a hillbilly "who draws vowels all faint touch of pride — that he's around the town and drops consonants all over the street."

He gets out in the dirt roads and plowed fields to talk to people and it's always a toss up whether he's engaging in research or just enjoying a friendly visit.

The results of such door-to-door palavering brings out a picture of a southern Michigan community that few people in the state realize.

He found that the community of rural dwellers living close to a city of 2,500 are classified in these four groups:

1. About half describe themselves as "natives who are good people".

2. "Natives who are chiselers" — the term is the one used by the "good people" — make up 10%.

3. "Hardworking Detroiters" — again the term is the "good natives" — make up another 10%.

4. "Shiftless Detroiters" — so-called by the first group — are the remaining 30%.

The term "Detroiters" is applied by the natives to everyone who hasn't been born and raised on the land.

These divisions in what used to be a closely knit rural community naturally make for something less than an ideal climate for civic progress. "Detroiters" complain that their neighbors show none of the friendliness for which rural America was so long noted. The "good natives" retort that they'll be willing to be sociable "but the Detroiters won't even ask us for advice".

The customary activities that trend to weld a community are almost concentrated among the "good natives". Building bees, Grange and Farm Bureau activities, church affiliations, card parties — all the things that make neighbors — generally are found only in the top 50%.

So normal association between the old and new groups is slim.

But the barriers break down in the younger generation.

School kids whose parents have nothing in common soon grow buddy-buddy. They don't care if their fathers are working in a nearby factory or operating a successful farm. Their friendship is probably the biggest single factor that points to the ultimate creation of a good neighborhood spirit.

Of the "good natives", two fifths are 65 years of age or over. That means that the younger generations are predominant in the other three groups and that the friendship of youngsters will soon become even more important as the elders die off.

"The new rural community is just like a new frontier," explains Miller, "it's growing and it doesn't know what it's growing into. It will take time for its character to crystallize."

"When a man moves out into the country and buys three or five or 10 acres, that and goes out of farm production. Will that eventually mean we'll have too little and grow the crops we need?"

That question was put to Miller.

"I think that the natural balance between man's needs and the land that supplies them will prevent this from happening," he opined.

"But I do think that rural townships would do well to begin at once with zoning plans. I'm not a zoning expert; but I feel that too many township zoning plans are the work of an attorney and an engineer instead of a reflection of what the people themselves want."

"The citizens of every community ought to get together and thresh out this problem."

Michigan has fewer farms and less cultivated land now than in the past 30 years.

The U. S. Census of Agriculture for Michigan has just been released. It shows that there are now 155,589 farms in the state. In 1920 there were 196,447.

The number of farms under 10 acres increased by a third in that period. Farms under three acres increased 500%.

Right now 47.3% of all of Michigan's land area is farmland; in 1920 it was 51.7%.

The average age of Michigan farmers is 49.9 years. Over 20% of all farmers in the state worked at least 100 days in a factory last year.

As Miller points out, "There is no typical American farmer any more. The farmer isn't the straw-hatted hayseed cartoons depict him as. He's to be a good business-man, a mechanic, a market expert, a chemist and a biologist.

And he has to be a vital member of the new rural committee forming in Michigan. For everyone has a stake in the soil, no one can live off dead land."

If your attic is a typical one, you periodically vow, "We've got to get rid of some of this worthless stuff we're keeping."

That's just what the State of Michigan is doing.

Millions of records clog State offices and 40% are kept for no reason at all.

So, following legislation passed on recommendation of the Little Hoover Commission, conservation and civil service agencies threw out 29 useless and obsolete forms and save $15,850 annually. Simplifying birth records in the department of health eliminated five typists and 49,275 annual expenses.

Thirty per cent of all records in the departments of administration and conservation were found valueless and their destruction approved. Savings: $7,000 yearly.

When paperwork controls have been put in effect on the 14,000 different forms used by all 114 state agencies, the Little Hoover group estimates savings will reach $800,000 annually and that when a centralized records center is established the yearly economy will reach the million dollar mark.

(Edited by Mrs. Wm. Gaunt)

Sunday was a very unpleasant day, which it hailed and snowed most all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt Sr. took dinner Sunday with their son, Bill and family.

Mr. Bud Chanda with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neilson of Ironton drove to Lansing to see the big football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Valden and family of East Jordan spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chanda.

The Peninsula 4-H Club held a Demonstration Dinner last Thursday evening at the Alfred Crowell home with 21 members present.

Miss Margie Chanda spent Thursday night with Miss Ruth Ann Crowell. Miss Genieve Palmer spent Monday night at the Alfred Crowell home.

Henry Howard accompanied by with nephew Bill Chew drove to Mio, Monday morning to do some bird hunting for a couple of days. We hope they both get their day, hailing and snowing most all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCann of Lansing were visiting over the week end with Mrs. McCann's sister, Mrs. Lena Weaver at East Jordan. On Saturday afternoon they were callers at the Wm. Gaunt Sr. home, also calling on other relation and friends.

Several Farmers from this district attended the big Farm Bureau meeting at the East Jordan gym last Friday evening. The meeting was very interesting also the movies were very good. At the close of the meeting ice cream and coffee and baked goods were served which made a very happy ending for the evening.

Mr. E. H. Phillips came home Friday from his work to spend over the week end with his family. As his son-in-law, Ena. Dale Harman came home on a few days furlough from the East Coast. He and his wife will leave for the East again Thursday. While here they purchased a car to drive back to his camp again.

The Servicemen's LETTER

Hi Fellas:
There was snow on the ground when I got up this morning. The street in front of the house was really slick with wet ice. It makes me wonder where all my summer wages went to. It also makes me glad that I'm not over in Korea with those men on the front lines. It must get awfully cold up there in those hills.

Speaking of Korea I got a letter from Jim Russell this past week. He writes, "I thought that I had better write to you now that I am here in Korea. It took me a month to get here but now that I am here everything is OK. I don't do much in the day time but at night we sure do more. We have to fire just about every night. However it is all put down on paper for us so all we have to do is read it off the paper. I will have to go to bed pretty soon for I have to get up at 1:30 to fire the 105 howitzer. That is called gun guard. They are firing now. The Koreans are making a push tonight. They said that they were getting ready the last week or so."

"How is everything in East Jordan nowadays? I don't suppose there is much doing there now. Have you heard anything from Jim Pollitt? You see we were separated in Japan. I don't know where he is and he doesn't know where I am. Well, it is 9:00 now and I will go to bed and write more tomorrow night."

Jim Russell's address is: Pvt. James N. Russell, RA 16 405 001, Btry "C", 158 FA Bn, APO 86, C/O PM, San Francisco, Calif. For Jim's information — Jim Pollitt's address is: Pvt. Ralph Pollitt, RA 16 405 003, 75th FA Bn, APO 804, C/O PM, San Francisco, Calif. Thanks for the letter, Russell. I hope you can get in touch with Pollitt. He is in Korea near the front lines as you are. Owing to the same first name I have to call you two by your last names.

Francis Nachazel is back in E. J. again. He was discharged from the Coast Guard on October 7th and beat it for home as soon as he could. He is going to stay here in East Jordan and his present plans include working in dad's tavern.

Another man who got out of the Service some time ago and I slipped up on the notice to that effect is Ellery Inman. He received his discharge the middle of September and is now working for the Holland Furnace Company in Alma, Michigan.

The October 3rd issue of this paper for Cpl. Claude Crandall addressed to Fort Riley, Kansas was returned marked unclaimed. If you're still there at Riley, Claude, will you drop me a card this next week and let me know.

I've seen a couple flashes of Bud Cummins in town. Guess he didn't get waylaid after all.

James E. Raymond, age 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Raymond of Route 1, East Jordan, Michigan is completing his Air Force basic airman course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force," basic training for men and women and is the world's largest air force base. It is the headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center and home of the AF's Officer Candidate School. His basic training is preparing him for entrance into AF technical training and for assignment in specialized work.

Maurice Murphy is working with us in the Post Office now. He is on as a temporary substitute in the absence of Cy Dolezel who suddenly decided that he wanted to be a newspaper man. We've been giving Maurice quite a hard time — but he can take it.

Dean McPherson dropped in this week to give me his new address. He is home on a 12 day leave enroute to Norton AFB, California. Dean has finished his training at Shepard AFB in Texas and is supposed to take up a permanent duty station at Norton. As yet he does not know just what his duties there will be. His address is: A23C Dean McPherson, AF 16 402 929, 2950 Dep. Tng Wg. AMC, Norton AFB, Calif.

Mrs. Al Nelson dropped in and told me to stop the paper for Al. He will be on his way home sometime the first part of November. She sure was happy about the news. Said that it was one of the longest years she has ever spent.

Here's a letter from PeeWee Peck. "Well I finally got around to write a few lines before I go to bed. I just got through reading the paper and that poem from Don Dixon — boy that sure is a good one. I would like to say "Hello" to all the guys.

"You asked me what I was doing. I am finished with Infantry basic that I took in the Field Artillery and am taking Engineer basic in the Medium Tank. I sure have been around down here. (Doesn't that sound like Lyle?) I hope to go to school when this

4 weeks is done. I hope Dip comes down here as I sure would like to see him.

"How is Cy? Tell him I don't mind the Army so much it is just the darn work I have to do. I sure would like to be home for hunting season. I surely miss it. Well, Jake, I have to shine some shoes so will say "So Long" for now."

Thanks for the letter, PeeWee. Keep'em shining!

The latest word from John Vallance is that he was in Bremerhaven on Oct. 7th waiting for shipment. He is expected home sometime the last of this week.

I've got quite a long letter here from Don Braman. I'm going to put part of it in this week and keep the rest for the next weeks paper. "Hi Jake — The USS Recovery was the top ship of her class in the Atlantic Squadron on the 27th September Rear Adm. Bledsoe for the past fiscal year. On the 27th September Rear Adm. Bledsoe of the 16th Naval District (acting for the Commandant of the Atlantic Salvage Fleet) came aboard to present to the officers and crew a Battle Efficiency Award. Points were accumulated from drills, training, exercises and the Administrative inspections. This is the highest peacetime award given by the US Navy. Not one of the 80 man crew had ever seen or served aboard a ship which had won this award. Due to this fact alone I feel very honored to have helped make this award ours on my first (and last I hope) cruise. We are out to retain it, or better it, for the next year by being the top ship of the Atlantic Salvage Fleet regardless of size. So Beware Atlantic Fleet!"

"At the present time we are in the yards undergoing repair and overhaul. Since there is a shipyard here at Mt. Hope, CZ, we don't return to the US for this period.

"I sure miss my football games since being down here. They don't even play a good game of playing at football around here — if you know what I mean. They don't play a rough and tumble game — it's like they were afraid of hurting each other. I intend to spend my first fall seeing every football game I can get in to when I get my discharge. Re-broadcasts of games have been very slow in arriving so far this year.

"At this time all the "Whitehats" have moved off the ship and are living on a big barge while the compartments are being repainted. Today I have served one year aboard the "Recovery". (No comment)

"This is supposed to be the dry season down here — Ha! You should see it pour down this afternoon. It rains harder on this side (Atlantic) than it does on our side. (Pacific) Speaking of rain — it rained so hard at Balboa two weeks ago that water was standing at seat level in some of the cars the following morning. The sea was at high tide and the drains couldn't take care of the surplus water.

"There seems to be quite a discussion about 17 year olds fresh out of High School joining the Armed Forces. I don't think the service, as it is today, is exactly the place to be. The morals and discipline of the services have gone slack — very slack — since the end of World War II. It wasn't anything like I had thought it would be when I enlisted. Only those with a strong will-power will come out as well off as they went in. I have seen too many kids take the wrong path and wake up to the fact too late. I would say — Stay Out. I want to say before closing that I have only seen and come into contact with a very small part of the Armed Forces and base my decisions accordingly. To those who are planning on attending a college and would be drafted before completing one or two years — here I think they might be better off in the service after graduation from high school. I know in my case that it hurt me in several ways to have to leave my educational training for that of the military. True we receive the GI bill now but we still have to pay for it in the long run. I will be back on campus in the fall of '55 if all goes well. I still say — remain out of it, so long as you can. So much for my opinion on the subject."

Don — those are swell letters you write. I'll finish this one in the letter next week.

Whoose — it's midnight — guess I'd better knock off too.

So Long,
"Jake" Snyder

"Four years ago, the State had a surplus of 24 million dollars. But, during the next four years under a Democrat Governor, the 24 million has been spent and a deficit of 65 million dollars has been loaded on the over-burdened backs of Michigan's taxpayers," Fred Alger points out.

"In other words, they have spent 89 million dollars more than Michigan collected in taxes."

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:
Arithmetic.....B
Geography.....C
Spelling.....B
Grammar.....B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall — before all the students — and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat... what we should wear... whether we should enjoy beer or butter-milk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

How About The Weather

Although the weather during the past week has been rather disagreeable at times, East Jordan and vicinity are again by having enjoyed better weather than other areas about us. While we had only about an inch of snow, other near by areas had 3" or more. Our coldest this month was a 23 on the 10th. other points in Nor. Mich. had 10 and 12. A recent map published by the Weather Bureau shows a narrow strip along the lake shore, from Ludington to Mackinaw, down the east shore to Saginaw, wherein the first killing frost in the fall in 10 days to 2 week later than points inland.

Weather for the past 10 days looks like this:

Oct. 10 — Max, 51; Min., 23; Type of day, Clear-Heavy Frost.

Oct. 11 — Max, 62; Min., 35; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 12 — Max, 60; Min., 38; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 13 — Max, 59; Min., 34; Type of day, Partly Cloudy.

Oct. 14 — Max 56; Min., 37; Type of day, Clear.

Oct. 15 — Max, 49; Min., 40; Rain, Trace; Type of day, Partly Cloudy.

Mrs. Frances Boss Passes Away

Mrs. Frances Boss was born Frances Lanway, Sept. 7, 1875 in N.Y. State and passed away Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1952 at Grandvue Hospital after an illness of several months.

When a child of 5 years she came to East Jordan with her mother and has been a resident here since then.

In 1894 she married Joe Detlaff who passed away Nov. 20, 1908 and on Jan. 29, 1912, she was united in marriage to Peter Boss who survives her.

She was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Surviving besides the husband are an adopted daughter, Frances Vogel and two sons, Floyd and Harry Detlaff of Flint, two grandsons Floyd Jr. and Bobby Detlaff of Flint a sister, Mrs. Martha Rines of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Joseph's Catholic Church conducted by the Very Rev. J. J. Malinowski.

Bearers were Mose Hart, Oscar Weisler, James Lilak Jr., and Jerome Sulak. Interment was in St. Joseph Calvary Cemetery.

Relatives from away attending the funeral were: Floyd Detlaff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Detlaff and family, Mrs. Martha Rines, Nora Richardson and Mrs. Nellie Wells of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lanway, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Simpson, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Raino, Flint.

John Martin Jr., Auditor General of the State of Michigan, and candidate for re-election to that office, visited in East Jordan this Thursday noon, and was guest at a luncheon get-together at the Anchorage Restaurant at 12:30.

Auditor General Martin was accompanied to East Jordan by Atty. Guy C. Conkle, Jr., of Boyne City. Arrangements for the luncheon were made by Howard P. Porter.

Following the luncheon Auditor General Martin was taken on a tour of East Jordan industries. Among the places scheduled were the East Jordan Canning Co., the East Jordan Iron Works, and the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery.

Auditor General John Martin, Jr.

On the basis of his record for rigid control over the expenditure of state funds during his current term in office, Michigan Republicans selected John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, to run for re-election as Auditor General.

Taxpayers have been saved thousands of dollars through Martin's recommendations for proper auditing procedures and his thorough scrutiny of the accounts of various state agencies.

Martin entered state government as a legislator, winning election in 1946 to the State Senate, where he earned a reputation as a conscientious worker for harmony and efficiency.

During World War II he helped organize and served as head of the National Office of Civilian Defense. Later he was commissioned in the Navy and assigned to secret service work in Europe. After the war, Martin served on the staff of the prosecutor at the Axis was criminal trials in Nuremberg. Upon his discharge as a Lieutenant Commander in 1946, he opened a law practice in Grand Rapids.

Martin was born in Grand Rapids in 1909. He was graduated from Dartmouth College and the University of Michigan Law School. He also attended Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar.

Martin is active in a number of civic and veterans' organizations. He and Mrs. Martin have four school-age children.

Barnett - Smith

Shirley Jane Barnett, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barnett became the bride of James R. Smith at a three o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon October 18th in the Methodist Church with members of the immediate families and close friends as guests.

The groom is the son of Frank G. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith of Lake Linden, Michigan.

The Rev. Robert Moore officiated at the double ring service before an altar of fall flowers of white and deep autumn shades.

Mr. Fred Stecker played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Alta Drapeau who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted suit dress, the beige jacket with brown trim matching the brown velvet skirt. Her corsage was of green orchids and she carried a bouquet of white fall daisies and ivy.

Claudia Kamradt assisted the bride as maid of honor, wearing a beige fitted suit dress. Her corsage was bronze mums.

James Swan attended the groom as best man.

Mrs. Barnett wore a brown crepe dress. Her corsage was white roses, chrysanthemums and ivy.

$5000 Budget Proposed Apportioned The Following

Mrs. McClerry, the groom's sister was attired in Navy blue crepe. Her corsage was also of white roses, chrysanthemums and ivy.

Seating the guests were Kenneth Aenis and Richard Barnett cousins of the bride and Morgan Smith brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewellyn Karr were master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception held in the social rooms, following the wedding. The three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. L. C. Swafford. Mrs. Keith Weeks, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Gerald Barnett poured the tea and coffee. Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ed Welby, Mr. Wm. Montroy and Mrs. Elsie Gothro. The bride is a graduate of the local High School and for the past two years has been employed at the Rev. Motor Co. at Lansing.

The groom graduated from the Lake Linden High School and attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. He is employed at the Packard Motor Co. at Utica.

The couple left on a Northern Wedding trip after which they will make their home at Mt. Clemens.

Out of town guests: Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Rutter, Mrs. Keith Weeks and daughter Joan, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heller and family, Dexter; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Mt. Clemens; Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter, Hartford, Conn.; Dr. and Mrs. L. S. McClury, Miss Frances Wigham, Ann Arbor; Frank G. Smith, Lake Linden; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Billington, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cary and daughter Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barnett and Geraldine, Mrs. Clayton Good, Detroit; Mrs. S. L. Cary and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aenis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aenis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Samlin, Marlene and Garry Samlin, Ward Cary, C. S. Cary, Central Lake; James Swan Eaton Rapids; Shirley Bruce, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barnett, Mackinaw City; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Ploughman, Muskegon Heights; Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, Sparta; Mrs. Joseph Abraham, Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Grand Rapids.

Before her marriage the bride was the guest of honor at a shower given by Lansing friends and a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis in East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gresbeck of Lansing were week end guests of his aunt, Mrs. Claud Hart.

The 1952-53 East Jordan Community Chest drive begins November 6. The house to house canvass will start following a breakfast in the school lunch room at nine o'clock in the morning. Nine captains have been chosen to have charge of this part of the drive. They are Mrs. Roy Jenkins, district No. 1; Mrs. W. E. Malpass district No. 2; Mrs. Wirf Bates, No. 3; Mrs. Greg Boswell, No. 4; Mrs. Frank Stucker, No. 5; Mrs. Willard Howe, No. 6; Mrs. Alice Somerville, No. 7; Mrs. Betty Robertson will have charge of the townships. Mrs. Jean Strehl will solicit the teachers. The captains met Wednesday at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Porter to organize their districts. A list of the solicitors will be in this paper at a later date.

Our community chest is an organization similar to the Torch Fund drive in Detroit and the south eastern part of the state; and to the United Red Feather drive in Grand Rapids and elsewhere, with two exceptions. The March of Dimes, Red Cross and the American Cancer society do not wish to be a part of an East Jordan or Charlevoix Co. Red Feather drive. Our organization has no paid workers, no expense account to carry on the business of collecting pledges or disbursing same, except the payment of postage.

Our Budget for this year is $5000 apportioned as follows. The amount to be given to each organization not directly managed in East Jordan is with the understanding they solicit no further funds here:

Proposed Budget for 1952-53

Health Program
Milk — kindergarten and first grade	$400.00
Community	875.00
Recreation Program
Summer program, including director	600.00
Playground supervisor	450.00
Winter recreation	100.00
Equipment at playground	150.00

Carpenter Family Hold Reunion In Central Lake

On Sunday, Oct. 12, a Carpenter family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Naomi Erickson in Central Lake. It was the first time in nearly 30 years the children of Mrs. D. E. Carpenter had been together.

Those present were: Mrs. Hazel C. Bartley of Kirkland, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Vance, East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Gaddis of Oak Lawn, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Moses King, Central Lake; Naomi Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Carpenter of Ellsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith, of Wenatchee, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Carpenter, Jr., Central Lake; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Boss of Charlevoix and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn F. Carpenter of Ellsworth. Mrs. Carpenter celebrated her 83rd birthday anniversary last March.

Mr. Kincaid is technician of the new Antrim County Soils Laboratory which has just recently been established in the Agricultural Agent's office in the Court House, Bellaire. This new Soils Laboratory was a joint project of the various townships of the county and the County Co-operating. It is one of the best organized laboratories in the state with the most modern equipment that can be obtained. Mr. Kincaid was vice-president of the Central Scientific Co. of Chicago, manufacturer and distributor of surgical instrument and laboratory supplies prior to retiring to Antrim County where he is now farming.

East Jordan Beats Boyne City 12-7 Last Friday

Coach Tom Weede's Ramblers played their outstanding game of the year only to have the powerful East Jordan Red Devils come from behind in the fourth quarter and snatch away a 12 to 7 victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, big Don Arner, Boyne City fullback, intercepted an East Jordan pass on their 35 yard line and raced to a touchdown. Shorty Smith made the extra point good and the half ended with Boyne out in front 7 to 0.

Gordon Danforth, the East Jordan lad who was hurt in practice before the season opened, returned to the game last night for the first time and scored the Red Devil's first TD late in the third. The extra point was blocked and Boyne still held a one point lead going into the last period.

Late in the fourth quarter Sam Milstein intercepted a Boyne pass in midfield and then went on to what ended in the winning TD for the Blue Devils. Working the ball down to the four yard line, Keith Evans broke away to the end zone to put East Jordan out in front 12 to 7. The extra point was blocked and the game ended. This was East Jordan's 17th victory in a row.

COMPETITION

Competition is a wonderful thing. If it wasn't for competition life would become a virtual humdrum existence. Most of us regard competition in terms of football, baseball, and other sports. However, competition is the sole thing that makes a business man get out and wash and dress up in his window, and arrange his stock attractively.

Contrary to what most folks are apt to think, making money at a business is of secondary importance. Here again it is competition that makes a fellow want to earn more money than his fellow man, that he may buy a better car, live in a better house, or smoke a better cigar.

We have seen competition spur a businessman to success, where, before competition became apparent, he was running only a second-rate business.

Where there's only one business of a kind in an area, the owner will say "Why try to get more business? People know where I am, and if they want anything in my line they are sure to come to me."

However, in the days of the modern automobile, this is no longer true. A businessman with the above attitude will wake up overnight and find competition in a neighboring town has suddenly started to take away his customers even though "They know where I am."

Why is this possible? Because the man in the neighboring town has, through consistent advertising, no matter what medium, been making a bid for this distant business. How easily a man can make himself feel good by saying "My customers are loyal, they won't trade elsewhere," and found himself disillusioned overnight.

Yes, competition is the "spice of life". Take it away, and all desire to "get ahead" in the world will vanish. There would then be no necessity for more than one kind of business in any given area, and the very backbone of our business world today would break.

Dist. Health Dept. Mobile X-Ray Unit at East Jordan Tues. and Wed., Oct. 28-29

At the annual meeting of the Michigan Department of Health No. 3 which includes Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego Counties, tentative plans were made for the free chest x-ray survey being conducted in all but Antrim county Oct. 28 through Nov. 22.

Miss Elaine Abbott, case finding representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, met with Dr. A. F. Litzenger, director of the district health department and his entire staff recently, to make arrangements for the mobile x-ray unit which will enter the area at East Jordan Oct. 28 and visit all major communities in the three-county area during the following month. The unit visited Antrim county earlier this year.

The schedule set up by the group and which is subject to change has the mobile unit at East Jordan Oct. 28-29; Charlevoix Oct. 30-31 and Nov. 1; Boyne City Nov. 4-6; Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake Nov. 7; Gaylord Nov. 10-12; Harbor Springs Nov. 13-14; Pellston Nov. 17; Alanson Nov. 18; and Potoskey Nov. 19-22.

It is the aim of the department to have the entire adult population of the three-county area starting with the 15-year-old group, x-rayed while the unit is here. Special hours will be arranged for those who cannot visit the unit during the day-time hours. The hours and the location of the unit will be announced at a later date.

"Tuberculosis is a threat to all age groups," Dr. Litzenger stresses, "but is most dangerous to women in their child-bearing years and to older men. In these times few people consider it a threat to the community but most people would be surprised to know that 17 new cases in the four county-area were admitted to sanatoria for treatment last year.

Free x-rays taken at the Charlevoix and Emmet county fairs plus patch tests given the younger school children by the community and county nurses were instrumental in finding the 17 cases which were later hospitalized.

At the same meeting at which the mass chest x-ray project was planned, several other special clinics were discussed. Among them were a special hearing program for adults sponsored by the Michigan Association of Better Hearing scheduled for next month; Diabetes Detection week Nov. 16-22; a hearing program for school children to be held early next year and an orthopedic clinic to be held in Gaylord next June.

The Michigan Department of Health No. 3, like all health groups, does its job with one idea in mind, Dr. Litzenger said in giving a report on the various phases of the department. It is our job to make the communities which we serve a better and healthier place in which to live.

Through our cooperation with private physicians, school and local authorities we hope to accomplish this goal.

The health department through its staff has several outstanding programs which are discussed briefly in the following paragraphs.

One of its major programs is active immunization which is the ideal control measure in acute communicable childhood disease control program. At immunization clinics children are vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Despite the advances made in the control of these diseases, 291 cases were admitted to service during 1951 and reporting was far from complete.

There are also about six typhoid carriers in the district who are under the supervision of the department.

The maternal and child health program showed a decrease as more expectant mothers visited their own physicians which is always encouraged by the department. However, postpartum visits remained about the same. The latter includes visits to young mothers to discuss their child care programs and also to see that the children are given proper immunization protection and prompt treatment of crippling conditions or ailments.

Through the cooperation of school administrators and teachers a fine school health program is possible in the entire area and needs little mention here.

Special case finding programs are conducted periodically such as vision, hearing and speech. Children, through the Children's Fund of Michigan and local organizations, are given glasses and special treatment for their defects.

The Children's Fund of Michigan, cooperating with the department, also makes it possible for the area to have a full-time department, also makes it possible for the area to have a full-time dentist, Dr. C. O. Whitten and a dental hygienist, Miss Cora Dunn.

In two new programs, 296 calls were made on 185 adults in the adult health service and 147 children taken to the Child Guidance Clinic in Potoskey.

The sanitation and engineering division, headed by James Scott, endeavors to make the health of the people more safe by controlling various factors in its environment that influence the health of the people. The sanitation program includes a consideration of the various parts of water supply, sewage disposal systems and methods of sewage and rubbish disposal. Of primary importance also is the program relating to milk and milk products used for food. Other activities the concerned with sanitation where food is prepared and/or served. Special emphasis is placed on environmental facilities in the schools. Other public places and institutions among them trailer parks, cabin camps, parks, bathing beaches, convalescent homes and boarding houses for children and the aged are also given special attention.

These services, offered during the entire year, calls for a full-time staff which serves under Dr. Litzenger and includes Dr. Scott; Marian Rice of Charlevoix county; Katherine Warner of Emmet county; Irene Jackson of Otsego county and Helen Gervers of Antrim county, all registered nurses and county nurses; Margaret Davenport of Charlevoix, Elizabeth Robertson of East Jordan and Alma Cessar of Potoskey, community nurses in their respective cities; Helen Louise Goodwin, Boyne City school nurse who works with the department; Dr. Whitten; Miss Dun; Pauline Whitten, dental assistant. Clerks in the office located at the city hall in Charlevoix are Arbutus J. Rassat and Helen Light.

The district health unit was financed in 1951 by a state grant of $17,371.40; a federal grant of $2,308.87; plus appropriations of 40 cents per capita in Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego counties and 50 cents per capita in Emmet county which also pays part of the school nurses salary and contributions from the Community Chests in Charlevoix and East Jordan. Expenditures in 1951 $42,656.96.

SCIENCE OF SHOTGUNNING

Lots of books have been written on shotguns and their effectiveness against upland birds and game. Before you bought your gun you probably pondered the matter at great length—wondered if you were choosing the right gauge, the best stock, the right length barrel, the most effective choke for the type of hunting you planned to do.

Chances are your choice worked out pretty well, because most hunters can become good shots with any gun, providing they use it often enough to get thoroughly used to it.

In my book the choice of shot is a more important factor, plus the knowledge that tells you when to pull that trigger. Too many hunters buy shells loaded with No. 4 pellets when they should be using No. 6 or even 7 1/2's. Your shells with No. 4 shot have 135 pellets to the ounce while a No. 7 1/2 load carries 350 pellets for the same weight. You may argue that the killing power of heavier shot is greater, but you can't deny that in numbers there is strength, too! And if you're inclined to reach out for your birds or game beyond the 40 yard mark, your pattern begins to break up, and you desperately need those extra pellets to fill the holes.

Choice of Choke
 Closely related to your choice of loads is the choke of your gun. Most duck hunters use a full choke, with which they know they can reach out as much as 60 yards and still have about 50% of their shot inside a 30-inch circle. Wide open, or "improved" cylinder" chokes give you the same number of shot in a 30-inch circle at only 30 yards. Beyond this range an open choke just wastes ammunition most of the time. So it all depends on the game you're after, and how close you're going to get to it. My choice for all bird hunting, except ducks, is an improved cylinder. I firmly believe that too many hunters miss their game because a full or modified choke has kept the target completely out of the cone of fire!

The Matter of Lead
 Of course, failure to lead may cause the same amount of misses. It takes an average .065 seconds from the time you see your game, raise your gun and pull the trigger until the shotgun pellets reach a point 20 yards from you. In that time a canvasback will fly as much as 65 feet! How much should you lead? That depends on your distances from the target—and the best answer is found from experience. Plan to spend more hunting hours in the field. Miss a few and hit a lot more! The only difference between you and a crack shot is a little more time at the sport. Take it this year—in Michigan Outdoors! It's later than you think!

Rebman Says Pole Barn OK

The loose housing type of dairy barn — known as a pen barn or pole barn — will serve the farmer well and save his labor time, advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

The pen barn generally refers to a barn having overhead storage where standard construction is used. The pole gets its name from the use of poles for supporting the roof and side walls.

Chore time per dairy animal has been reduced as much as 50 hours per animal per year by an operator changing from the stanchion to the loose housing type of barn, reports Rebman.

The loose housing barn requires a better farm manager than the stanchion type of barn if satisfactory conditions are to prevail, he cautions. The key factors to good pen barn management are correct barn arrangement, enough room for the cows that are to be housed, sufficient bedding and a farm operator who is interested in his dairy herd.

The biggest disadvantage in a loose housing barn is probably the farm operator's habit of working in a warm barn. To operate correctly the pen barn should be cold with at least one door open all the time. Generally the milking parlor is "on the chilly side". If the farm operator can overcome the desire to close the barn doors in cold weather, he will find his animals are frequently outside even when it is snowing hard, according to Rebman.

The rascals are cute but attempting to pick up a cub bear is an easy way to invite trouble. Mother bear usually is not far away, the conservation department notes, probably tearing apart old logs and stumps in her search for grubs and other insects. This time of year the pickings are somewhat thin with berries, nuts and other bear foods not yet available. Observe the claws on this "baby," typical of climbing mammals.

YOUR MORALS ARE SHOWING

Betty Betz, aroused by criticism of teen-agers' behavior, challenges American youth to mend its way. Miss Betz, authority on young peoples, points the way to moral sanity. Read, "Your Morals Are Showing". Series starts in this Sunday's (Oct. 26) issue of the great Color Gravure American Weekly, exclusively with The Detroit Sunday Times.

Skilled laborers made up more than 35 percent of the resident deer hunting army in 1951. Next largest group was businessmen and women, 15 percent. Farmers accounted for 14 percent and unskilled laborers for 11 percent. In all, 382, 672 persons purchased resident deer licenses last year. conservation department expects this figure to increase somewhat this year.

Lifting Right Is Important

"Correct lifting should be practiced until it becomes a habit," says Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. Each year thousands of persons are victims of sprains, strains, hernias and other injuries caused by improper lifting.

According to records of Michigan State College safety specialists the most common cause of lifting injuries are: lifting and lowering with back muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads or inadequate control; and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

One common practice is to bend at the waist when reaching down to grasp an object. Lifting in this position places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. Always bend your knees and keep your back straight when it becomes necessary to lift, Rebman suggests.

The county agent advises rearranging work eliminate or reduce the amount of lifting required. He also suggested exploring the feasibility of using simple and safe mechanical aids, such as rope hoists, wooden skids, hand trucks or inexpensive conveyors.

Swine Producers Urged to Raise Feeder Pigs

Most swine producers in Charlevoix county should focus their interests on the production of feeder pigs, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. A few feeder pigs for home use, a few for sale to the neighbors and other for export to southern Michigan should provide a desirable swine enterprise, Rebman suggests. The production of feeder pigs provides a market, through swine, for larger quantities of hay and pasture crops than is provided when hogs are fattened for market, he points out. The early spring pigs, sold as feeders, nearly always sell at higher prices than do the later farrowed pigs, Rebman reminds.

Farmers should examine their litter of pigs now. Mark the gilts that have grown best up to the present time but be sure they are from large litters. Be sure the gilt has at last ten well developed udder sections. Select the gilt with enough age and maturity so that she may be bred in November for March litter. The pigs are then ready for sale by late April or early May.

Most farmers now have electricity so that early litters are not a great problem where heat lamps or a farrowing crate is used. After weaning the first litter the gilt may be re-bred for an early fall litter or she may be fattened and marketed by early June when pork prices are usually good.

Farmers farrowed fewer litters of pigs this spring and expect smaller numbers farrowed this fall. Couple this with an above average small grain crop plus one of the record corn crops nearly ready for harvest and we have indications of a good year for swine producers in 1953. Good pasture, parasite control, sanitation and balanced rations also contribute to a profitable swine program.

Is America's youth "going to the dogs?" In The American Weekly, distributed with Sunday's Herald-American, Betty Betz, nationally-known authority on young people and their problems, frankly discusses the shocking conduct of today's youth. AGEING WOMEN SHOULD WATCH DIET CAREFULLY

The aging women has a problem when it comes to proper diet, Dr. Willma Brewer of the Michigan State College foods and nutrition department concludes.

Because the older person exercises less, her need for calories decreases. But her need for vital food elements such as protein, calcium and phosphorus is as great as in younger women.

This means that the diets planned for older people should be high in protective foods. Refined foods which are rich in calories but supply little in the way of protein, calcium, phosphorus, iron and the different vitamins should be gradually omitted from the diet, Dr. Brewer says.

Rich pastries, frosted cakes, sweet rolls—all are examples of foods that provide many calories in relation to the essential nutrients they contain. Since there is a tendency for women to gain weight as they grow older, Dr. Brewer recommends cutting down on the sweets and pastries.

But at the same time she urges a well-balanced diet that includes at least a pint of milk a day for the necessary calcium, protein, riboflavin and phosphorus.

Meat, too, is vital in the diet of aging persons. There should be a serving of milk, fish, poultry, cheese or two eggs in each day's meals.

When you cut down the food intake to increase calorie intake, be sure to maintain a well-balanced diet to get the essential nutrients every day, Dr. Brewer stresses.

The total forest land area of Michigan is about 19 million acres. Of this total, more than 17 million acres of timber are slated for commercial uses. Stands of aspen-birch total six million acres, northern hardwoods cover five million acres, and swamp stands, spruce-fir and pine make up most of the remainder.

Grapefruit selection should depend on firm, smoothly-textured surface and well-rounded shape, say Michigan State College food and nutrition specialists. Coarse, tough, puffy grapefruit skins usually indicate lack of taste as well as little juice.

Burned up

-about $2,000,000 prison riots
-about special favors to special groups?
-about Governor's "Commie-coddling"

-so are we!

RECENT PRISON RIOTS cost you and your fellow Michigan citizens about $2,000,000! The supervisor of Michigan State Prisons—appointed by the Governor—and the Governor himself, failed to act in time to prevent these costly riots. Later, a "truce" was made with the surly prisoners and YOU bought them steak, ice cream and other favors for their promise to be "good boys" in the future!

WHO CONTROLS OUR GOVERNOR? Find out who ordered him to open the prison gates for a goon-squad leader convicted of destroying property. Find out who ordered him to veto the "Good Roads Program" to take Michigan out of the mud. Find out who ordered him to veto the loyalty board charter amendment to Detroit's city charter and told him not to let the legislature consider anti-communist laws in a special session.

THESE SPECIAL GROUPS can get favors and privileges from the Governor's office because they "control" the Governor. He owes allegiance to them because they are the back-bone of his support. They are not interested in what is good for the State of Michigan but only in what will further their own ambitions and lust for power. These groups are controlled by a few men who dictate policy and act as political advisors to the Governor. They are responsible to nobody but themselves. This secret political bossism in Michigan must end!

SURE, YOU'RE BURNED UP! Well, do something about it, this time! Get Michigan State Government back in working, do-something order! Show them you mean it, by voting straight Republican . . . on November 4th!

Dear Parents:

November 19th is the date for the Book Fair at our November Parent Teachers Club at which both new and bargain books will be presented.

Miss Harriet Kilborne of Petoskey will be here to acquaint us with her display of newbooks. Christmas is just around the corner and you might find exactly what you want for that special friend.

The success of our Bargain Book Booth depends on you. Will you please look through your books and send to us, by your children at school, any that you would like to contribute for this project? We believe, you see, that "a book in the hand of a friend is worth more than two on the shelf."

Please do this as soon as possible so that the book can be examined and reconditioned where necessary by the committee.

Our aim is to sell these books reasonably to give all a chance to find fun, excitement, adventure, entertainment and to make new book friends.

Thank you,
Ann Wagbo

Nan Drapeau, Reporter

Music
The A Cappella choir, under the direction of Mrs. Alta Drapeau, met for their first practice on Thursday, October 16, 1952. The 35 members practice during lunch period due to class conflicts.

The group plans on working on a variety of music, concentrating on district festival material and light musical comedy. We have high hopes for the future!

F.H.A.

Two girls from the local chapter of Future Homemakers of America were elected officers of Region Five at their meeting held in Petoskey, October 18th.

Bethany Whiteford, a Junior will serve as Historian the coming year and Nan Drapeau, a Sophomore, will act as song leader.

Margaret Zoulek, local Senior, who was regional Parliamentarian, had charge of the election. The meeting for 1953 will be held in Alpena where a new chapter of F.H.A. has been organized.

At our first Adult Education Meeting Wednesday, October 15th, we had requests for the following classes:

Driver Training
Sewing
Typing
Shorthand
Beginning Spanish
Ceramics

Enough signed up for Driver Training and Ceramics to assure classes in these courses. However, we can take care of more people in Driver Training. This class meets on Mondays at 4:00 p.m. Report at that time if interested.

The class in Ceramics will not start until after the holidays. In the other fields — Typing, shorthand, sewing, and beginning Spanish we need additional people to justify our operating the courses.

If there are other people in the community interested please

Sweet and Louise Walton.

Third Grade — Mrs. Hughes
We have several gifts for our room this week. Larry Eichler brought us a crab to watch. It died and Larry has been wondering why. Carol Shedina brought a lovely plant to brighten our room. Billy brought us a black and white hawk's feather and made the children guess what bird had lost it. Donald Metcalf brought his big gray rabbit for us to see.

We read "Heidi" everyday. The children are very interested. Last Friday 30 children out of 39 got "A" in spelling, writing their test in the new spelling book.

Third Grade — Mrs. Bowerman
Nancy Lehrbass entertained several friend at her home on Friday in honor of her eighth birthday.

We are happy to have new shelves for our room. We find that we can take better care of our library books and keep our library table more inviting. Several kinds of house plants have been brought for our top shelf. We hope we have "green fingers."

In our number class we measured our library table then our student teacher and two helpers took money and went downtown to select and buy a new clock for us. We think they made a nice choice.

With the coming of cold weather come the extra coats, hats, boots and mittens and with these comes the importance of putting names on each piece. This not only helps the children in picking out his own things, but it aids greatly in getting a found article to the right owner.

In a spelling test of the 50 words we had in the first six weeks, seventeen of the 36 children had perfect papers. It is not too hard to get the 10 words each week but the important test is in making the word "forever mine."

Fourth Grade — Mrs. Galmore

Wednesday, Oct. 15th, Gary Graig's mother sent cup cakes in honor of Gary's birthday. We sang for him and give him many privileges for the day. We wish to thank his mother for her kindness.

Eighteen pupils had perfect attendance this last six weeks. It gives them a good start for the year as much of the time was spent in necessary review. Some pupils have forgotten how to borrow in Arithmetic. To remedy this, we have a chart with pockets by means of which we can actually show the process by using toothpicks.

Many of our boys and girls have given reports on the books that they have read. These are represented by a miniature book cover on a chart. We hope to have a report from everyone soon.

Fourth Grade — Mrs. Strehl
Donelda Scott gave an interesting talk to the boys and girls about her trip to Lansing. She told about her visits to the State Capitol and Michigan State College. Everyone enjoyed her talk. Last Thursday our room helped Dick Hayes celebrate his 9th birthday. Mrs. Hayes sent some cupcakes and suckers to us. We had lots of fun and enjoyed the treats. The children made birthday cards for Dick in the afternoon.

We have several pretty plants the children have brought to school to share with us. Judy Jankoviak, Connie Bennett, Ronald Klooster, Sharon Pinney and Frances Hayes brought them.

In Geography class we have enjoyed the book Mrs. Galmore is sharing with us. The boys and girls wish to thank her. The book is very colorful and interesting. The name of it is "The Golden Geography Book."

We are learning some Halloween poems this week. They are "Smiling", "Jack O'Lantern" and "Hallowe'en." We are also beginning to make plans for Halloween week.

This week is P.T.C. week at school. We are hoping to have our mother and dads visit our room.

Fifth Grade — Mrs. Mosher

Our chart of Arithmetic combinations is now complete. Several of us need much practice in the subtraction and multiplication combinations. We will try to improve our scores on the next tests.

We are drawing a frieze on the blackboard to illustrate the Oregon Trail. We hope to have it finished for Open House.

The movie we saw last week on early American history helped us a lot in our social studies. In it we saw many of the people and events we have been reading about.

At our club meeting last Friday, we elected new officers. They are: President, Bruce Brinall; Vice President, Bruce Ogden; Secretary, Carol Jean Moore; and Treasurer, Rudolph Bulman. Mike Boss has joined our class for two weeks.

We thank Mr. Carey for putting the book rack on our cupboard. It is very useful and pretty.

In science we have been studying about rocks. We have been making much use of magnifying glasses to look at them.

Our Weekly Reader tests show that many of us need to work on word meanings.

THE FAUCET KEEPS A DRIPPIN' AND I CAN'T SLEEP.

Drip....Drip....Drip

Seems like Andy Anderson has been having trouble sleepin' nights, and, after several weeks of this, the cause of it all came to him in the middle of a sleepless night. . . . It was that darn leakin' faucet on his ancient coffee maker that was causing him all the trouble.

The next day Andy brought up the subject to Bill Porter, and after exhaustive scientific investigation, decided the coffee maker dripped the tune of 40 cups a day despite the fact that several years ago its innards were replaced with a brand new 4-gal pickle crock from the East Jordan Co-op Co. (That was the winter of the big blue frost).

Further analysis brought out the fact that Andy was losing coffee at the rate of $160.00 per year, plus the cost of fuel to heat up coffee that was runnin' down the drain.

Bill, being a venturesome soul at heart, offered to fix the leakin' faucet free, with the understanding that, as long as the faucet did not drip, he would receive from Andy two free cups of coffee every day. Bill figures this should save him $48.00 per year on his daily two cups, and Andy would save $102.00 per year on his leakin' faucet.

To date the faucet hasn't dripped a single drop and has already been in operation for over two weeks. Needless to say, both Andy and Bill have their eyes glued to that faucet. Bill is pretty confident it won't drip, but Andy is counting those cups of coffee day after day, figuring what a new faucet would cost installed, and coming out quite a bit less than $48.00 per year. This gives rise to the speculation of how long Andy can keep the cost of coffee from rising from 8c to 10c to keep Bill supplied with his daily two cups!

Children Have Own Growing Pattern, Says U-M Educator

Your child, and every child, has a unique design for growing. Willard C. Olson, dean of the University of Michigan School of Education, asserts.

Each youngster has his own requirements for water, food, sleep, exercise and parental attention, he says, advising parents not to worry if their child's needs are not the same as published averages for his age.

The growth pattern is determined largely by heredity, Dean Olson explains, adding that there is a "wisdom of the body" which each child tends to eat according to his own wants. If your offspring's needs aren't met, he will suffer, warns the dean.

No one knows how much each child should sleep, the educator points out. "Problems will arise if you insist on an early bedtime and a late rising hour, when the child actually does not need so much rest," he states.

"Sleep can become the focus of a great many behavior problems, since there is so often a difference between the amount of sleep you want your child to have and what the child really needs," he continues.

"A word to wise parents: don't try to speed up your child's growth by giving him special practice and training in such things as walking, reading and toilet training. This forcing sometimes may show a temporary effect, but when the attempt to force growth is discontinued, the normal development pattern is restored, and the small gains are lost."

Visitors to many of Michigan's Great Lakes' shore areas this year probably noticed a black, oily-appearing substance lining some beaches. Conservation department geologists say the substance is a type of iron ore that occurs in deposits too small to be of commercial value.

Michigan Mirror

By 2000 A.D. the whole southern part of Michigan will undoubtedly be one vast suburban area.

That's the opinion of Dr. Paul Miller, rural sociologist for Michigan State College. Being a serious student, Miller won't make that as a flat prediction. But there are plenty of clues pointing to that trend.

That points up the need, he believes, for township zoning in what are now rural areas and a new examination of the best use Michigan can put its land to.

Miller is no highbrowed dweller of the ivory tower of scholarship. He admits — with probably a hillbilly "who draws vowels all faint touch of pride — that he's around the town and drops consonants all over the street".

He gets out in the dirt roads and plowed fields to talk to people and it's always a toss up whether he's engaging in research or just enjoying a friendly visit. The results of such door-to-door palaverings brings out a picture of a southern Michigan community that few people in the state realize.

He found that the community of rural dwellers living close to a city of 2,500 are classified in these four groups:

1. About half describe themselves as "natives who are good people".
 2. "Natives who are chisellers" — the term is the one used by the "good people" — make up 10%.
 3. "Hardworking Detroiters" — again the term is the "good natives" — make up another 10%.
 4. "Shiftless Detroiters" — so-called by the first group — are the remaining 30%.
- The term "Detroiters" is applied by the natives to everyone who hasn't been born and raised on the land.

These divisions in what used to be a closely knit rural community naturally make for something less than an ideal climate for civic progress. "Detroiters" complain that their neighbors show none of the friendliness for which rural America was so long noted. The "good natives" retort that they'll be willing to be sociable "but the Detroiters won't even ask us for advice".

The customary activities that trend to weld a community are almost concentrated among the "good natives". Building bees, Grange and Farm Bureau activities, church affiliations, card parties — all the things that make neighbors — generally are found only in the top 50%.

So normal association between the old and new groups is slim.

But the barriers break down in the younger generation.

School kids whose parents have nothing in common soon grow buddy-buddy. They don't care if their fathers are working in a nearby factory or operating a successful farm. Their friendship is probably the biggest single factor that points to the ultimate creation of a good neighborhood spirit.

Of the "good natives", two fifths are 65 years of age or over. That means that the younger generations are predominant in the other three groups and that the friendship of youngsters will soon become even more important as the elders die off.

"The new rural community is just like a new frontier," explains Miller. "It's growing and it doesn't know what it's growing into. It will take time for its character to crystallize."

"When a man moves out into the country and buys three or five or 10 acres, that and goes out of farm production. Will that eventually mean we'll have too little and grow the crops we need?"

That question was put to Miller.

"I think that the natural balance between man's needs and the land that supplies them will prevent this from happening," he opined.

"But I do think that rural townships would do well to begin at once with zoning plans. I'm not a zoning expert; but I feel that too many township zoning plans are the work of an attorney and an engineer instead of a reflection of what the people themselves want.

"The citizens of every community ought to get together and thresh out this problem."

Michigan has fewer farms and less cultivated land now than in the past 30 years.

The U. S. Census of Agriculture for Michigan has just been released. It shows that there are now 155,589 farms in the state. In 1920 there were 198,447.

The number of farms under 10 acres increased by a third in that period. Farms under three acres increased 500%.

Right now 47.3% of all of Michigan's land area is farmland; in 1920 it was 51.7%.

The average age of Michigan farmers is 49.9 years.

Over 20% of all farmers in the state worked at least 100 days in a factory last year.

As Miller points out, "There is no typical American farmer any more. The farmer isn't the straw-hatted hayseed cartoons depict him as. He's to be a good businessman, a mechanic, a market expert, a chemist and a biologist. And he has to be a vital member of the new rural committee forming in Michigan. For everyone has a stake in the soil, no one can live off dead land."

If your attic is a typical one, you periodically vow, "We've got to get rid of some of this worthless stuff we're keeping."

That's just what the State of Michigan is doing. Millions of records clog State offices and 40% are kept for no reason at all.

So, following legislation passed on recommendation of the Little Hoover Commission, conservation and civil service agencies threw out 29 useless and obsolete forms and save $15,850 annually. Simplifying birth records in the department of health eliminated five typists and 49,275 annual expenses.

Thirty per cent of all records in the departments of administration and conservation were found valueless and their destruction approved. Savings: $7,000 yearly.

When paperwork controls have been put in effect on the 14,000 different forms used by all 114 state agencies, the Little Hoover group estimates savings will reach $800,000 annually and that when a centralized records center is established the yearly economy will reach the million dollar mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith.

Lyle Smith purchased a new 52 Dodge truck Saturday and plans to do a little trucking now to break it in.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Korthase Jr. and children were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goebel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearsall are home from Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky to spend a week visiting friends and relatives.

Nancy Lehrbass celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday afternoon with the help of eight little girl friends, after an afternoon of games, refreshments and birthday cake were served.

Supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lehrbass and family Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pearsall, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pearsall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearsall and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Pearsall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearsall and Lonnie Adkins made a trip to Jackson Wednesday. Called there because John Adkins was very ill, following a goitre operation. They returned home Thursday.

South Arm Extension Club met with Beatrice Graham Thursday with thirteen members present after a lovely pot luck dinner and short business meeting. Then the afternoon was turned over to the recreation leader, Mr. Georgia Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith and son Joe were Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McPherson and family. Dean McPherson has spent the past week with his family returned to Calif. where he will be at a new base in the Air Corps.

Sandwiches wrapped in aluminum foil will stay fresh until noon for lunch carriers.

West Peninsula

(Edited by Mrs. Wm. Gaunt)

Sunday was a very unpleasant day, which it hailed and snowed most all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt Sr. took dinner Sunday with their son, Bill and family.

Mr. Bud Chanda with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neilson of Ironton drove to Lansing to see the big football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Valencourt and family of East Jordan spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chanda.

The Peninsula 4-H Club held a Demonstration Dinner last Thursday evening at the Alfred Crowell home with 21 members present.

Miss Margie Chanda spent Thursday night with Miss Ruth Ann Crowell. Miss Genieve Palminter spent Monday night at the Alfred Crowell home.

Henry Howard accompanied by with nephew Bill Chew drove to Mio, Monday morning to do some bird hunting for a couple of days. We hope they both get their day, hailing and snowing most all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCann of Lansing were visiting over the week end with Mrs. McCann's sister, Mrs. Lena Weaver at East Jordan. On Saturday afternoon they were callers at the Wm. Gaunt Sr. home, also calling on other relation and friends.

Several Farmers from this district attended the big Farm Bureau meeting at the East Jordan gym last Friday evening. The meeting was very interesting also the movies were very good. At the close of the meeting ice cream and coffee and baked goods were served, which made a very happy ending for the evening.

Mr. E. H. Phillips came home Friday from his work to spend over the week end with his family. As his son-in-law, Ens. Dale Harman came home on a few days furlough from the East Coast. He and his wife will leave for the East again Thursday. While here they purchased a car to drive back to his camp again.

Alger Urges Lower Costs, Not More Tax

Fred Alger insists that lower costs of government — not higher taxes — are the answer to Michigan's present financial crisis. "The State of Michigan, like you and me, can go broke too. And the State will go broke if it keeps on spending more than it takes in," Alger insists.

KEEP MICHIGAN FROM GOING BROKE.

The Servicemen's LETTER

Hi Fellas:
There was snow on the ground when I got up this morning. The street in front of the house was really slick with wet ice. It makes me wonder where all my summers wages went to. It also makes me glad that I'm not over in Korea with those men on the front lines. It must get awfully cold up there in those hills.

Speaking of Korea I got a letter from Jim Russell this past week. He writes, "I thought that I had better write to you now that I am here in Korea. It took me a month to get here but now that I am here everything is OK. I don't do much in the day time but at night we sure do more. We have to fire just about every night. However it is all put down on paper for us so all we have to do is read it off the paper. I will have to go to bed pretty soon for I have to get up at 1:30 to fire the 105 howitzer. That is called gun guard. They are firing now. The Koreans are making a push tonight. They said that they were getting ready the last week or so.

"How is everything in East Jordan nowadays?" I don't suppose there is much doing there now. Have you heard anything from Jim Pollitt? You see we were separated in Japan. I don't know where he is and he doesn't know where I am. Well, it is 9:00 now and I will go to bed and write more tomorrow night."

Jim Russell's address is: Pvt. James N. Russell, RA 16 405 001, Btry "C", 158 FA Bn, APO 86, C/O PM, San Francisco, Calif. For Jim's information — Jim Pollitt's address is: Pvt. Ralph Pollitt, RA 16 405 003, 75th FA Bn, APO 801, C/O PM, San Francisco, Calif. Thanks for the letter, Russell. I hope you can get in touch with Pollitt. He is in Korea near the front lines as you are. Owing to the same first name I have to call you two by your last names.

Francis Nachazel is back in E. J. again. He was discharged from the Coast Guard on October 7th and beat it for home as soon as he could. He is going to stay here in East Jordan and his present plans include working in dad's tavern.

Another man who got out of the Service some time ago and I slipped up on the notice to that effect is Ellery Inman. He received his discharge the middle of September and is now working for the Holland Furnace Company in Alma, Michigan.

The October 3rd issue of this paper for Cpl Claude Crandall addressed to Fort Riley, Kansas was returned marked unclaimed. If you're still there at Riley, Claude, will you drop me a card this next week and let me know.

I've seen a couple flashes of Bud Cupmins in town. Guess he didn't get waylaid after all.

James E. Raymond, age 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Raymond of Route 1, East Jordan, Michigan is completing his Air Force basic airmen course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force," basic training for men and women and is the world's largest air force base. It is the headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center and home of the AF's Officer Candidate School. His basic training is preparing him for entrance into AF technical training and for assignment in specialized work.

Maurice Murphy is working with us in the Post Office now. He is on as a temporary substitute in the absence of Cy Dolezel who suddenly decided that he wanted to be a newspaper man. We've been giving Maurice quite a hard time — but he can take it.

Dean McPherson dropped in this week to give me his new address. He is home on a 12 day leave enroute to Norton AFB, California. Dean has finished his training at Shepard AFB in Texas and is supposed to take up a permanent duty station at Norton. As yet he does not know just what his duties there will be. His address is: A/3C Dean McPherson, AF 16 402 929, 2950 Dep Tng Wg, AMC, Norton AFB, Calif.

Mrs. Al Nelson dropped in and told me to stop the paper for Al. He will be on his way home sometime the first part of November. She sure was happy about the news. Said that it was one of the longest years she has ever spent.

Here's a letter from PeeWee Peck. "Well I finally got around to write a few lines before I go to bed. I just got through reading the paper and that poem from Don Dixon — boy that sure is a good one. I would like to say "Hello" to all the guys.

"You asked me what I was doing. I am finished with Infantry basic that I took in the Field Artillery and am taking Engineer basic in the Medium Tank. I sure have been around down here. (Doesn't that sound like Lyle?) I hope to go to school when this

4 weeks is done. I hope Dip comes down here as I sure would like to see him.

"How is Cy? Tell him I don't mind the Army so much it is just the darn work I have to do. I sure would like to be home for hunting season. I surely miss it. Well, Jake, I have to shine some shoes so will say "So Long" for now."

Thanks for the letter, PeeWee. Keep'em shining.

The latest word from John Vallance is that he was in Bremerhaven on Oct. 7th waiting for shipment. He is expected home sometime the last of this week.

I've got quite a long letter here from Don Braman. I'm going to put part of in this week and keep the rest for the next weeks paper. "Hi Jake — The USS Recovery was the top ship of her class in the Atlantic. On the 27th September Rear Admiral Fleet for the past fiscal year. On the 27th September Rear Admiral Bledsoe of the 16th Naval District (acting for the Commandant of the Atlantic Salvage Fleet) came aboard to present to the officers and crew a Battle Efficiency Award. Points were accumulated from drills, training, exercises and the Administrative inspections. This is the highest peacetime award given by the US Navy. Not one of the 80 man crew had ever seen or served aboard a ship which had won this award. Due to this fact alone I feel very honored to have helped make this award ours on my first (and last I hope) cruise. We are out to retain it, or better it, for the next year by being the top ship of the Atlantic Salvage Fleet regardless of size. So Beware Atlantic Fleet!!

"At the present time we are in the yards undergoing repair and overhaul. Since there is a shipyard here at Mt. Hope, CZ, we don't return to the US for this period. I sure miss my football games since being down here. They don't even play a good game of playing at football around here — if you know what I mean. They don't play a rough and tumble game — it's like they were afraid of hurting each other. I intend to spend my first fall seeing every football game I can get in to when I get my discharge. Re-broadcasts of games have been very slow in arriving so far this year.

"At this time all the "Whitehats" have moved off the ship and are living on a big barge while the compartments are being repainted. Today I have served one year aboard the "Recovery". (No comment)

"This is supposed to be the dry season down here — Ha! You should see it pour down this afternoon. It rains harder on this side (Atlantic) than it does on our side. (Pacific) Speaking of rain — it rained so hard at Balboa two weeks ago that water was standing at seat level in some of the cars the following morning. The sea was at high tide and the drains couldn't take care of the surplus water.

"There seems to be quite a discussion about 17 year olds, fresh out of High School joining the Armed Forces. I don't think the service, as it is today, is exactly the place to be. The morals and discipline of the services have gone slack — very slack — since the end of World War II. It wasn't anything like I had thought it would be when I enlisted. Only those with a strong will-power will come out as well off as they went in. I have seen too many kids take the wrong path and wake up to the fact too late. I would say — Stay Out. I want to say before closing that I have only seen and came into contact with a very small part of the Armed Forces and base my decisions accordingly. To those who are planning on attending a college and would be drafted before completing one or two years — here I think they might be better off in the service after graduation from high school. I know in my case that it hurt me in several ways to have to leave my educational training for that of the military. True we receive the GI bill now but we still have to pay for it in the long run. I will be back on campus in the fall of '55 if all goes well. I still say — remain out of it, so long as you can. So much for my opinion on the subject."

Don — those are swell letters you write. I'll finish this one in the Letter next week.
Whoosee — it's midnight — guess I'd better knock off too.
So Long,
"Jake" Snyder

"Four years ago, the State had a surplus of 24 million dollars. But, during the next four years under a Democrat Governor, the 24 million has been spent and a deficit of 65 million dollars has been loaded on the over-burdened backs of Michigan's taxpayers," Fred Alger points out.

"In other words, they have spent 89 million dollars more than Michigan collected in taxes."

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:
Arithmetic B
Geography B-
Spelling C
Grammar B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall—before all the students—and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

Copyright, 1952, United States Brewers Foundation

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat . . . what we should wear . . . whether we should enjoy beer or butter-milk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

Don — those are swell letters you write. I'll finish this one in the Letter next week.

Whoosee — it's midnight — guess I'd better knock off too.

So Long,
"Jake" Snyder
