SEVEN CENTS

NUMBER 46

'52 Football Season Ended Friday With 26-0 Score Over Harbor

East Jordan High School brought the curtain down on its 1952 football season here last Friday afternoon as they scored an impressive 26 to 0 triumph over the Harbor Springs High School "Rams" in a Dad's Day game played at the West Side Athletic Field.

The victory, the seventh of the season for the Jordanites as against a single tie, assured the local eleven its second straight Northern Michigan Class C Conference crown and marked the second year in a row that the local forces have gone through the season undefeated.

Harbor Springs battled the locals to a scoreless deadlock during the first period Friday only to fall behind 13 to 0 by halftime. East Jordan's first tally came early in the second frame as Keith Evans plunged over from the 1-foot line after a sustained drive that began with a blocked punt on the Harbor Springs 45 yd. line. Sam Milstein added the extra point on a dive play. "Bobby" Danforth scored standing up from eight yards out midway in the second stanza; but Warren Frank's attempt to run the extra point was inches-short.

East Jordan struck with lightning swiftness early in the third period as Ray Gee took the second play from scrimmage 53 yds. off tackle to pay dirt. Again Milstein lugged the leather over for the extra point and East Jordan led 20 to 0. In the final frame it was Gee again who tallied; this time from 20 yds. out on a wide sweep to the left. Robert Russell failed to add the extra point via the same play and that ended the scoring with East Jordan out in front 26 to 0.

Ten seniors saw service with the "Red Devils" for the last time. They were: Capt. James Shepard, Richard Freeman, Lawrence Chanda, Floyd Deloff, Sam Milstein, Gordon Danforth, Leon Bartlett, Jerry Evans, Mike Davis and Bill Rogers.

Harbor Springs did not threaten to score throughout the entire contest, and it marked the first game this season that the Jordanites held the opposition scoreless. Thus the "Red Devil" finished its 1952 season with a record of 7 wins, no losses and a tie. Coach Saxton's charges racked up a total of 168 points offensively while holding the opposition to 47.

The Rev. Robert H. Moore heard the couple speak their vows before an altar of white paper and white wedding bells forming an arch, with the immediate families present.

The bride wore a gray suit with black velvet accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

United Thanksgiving Worship Service in E. J. Churches

Elder Harry Doty To Speak at L.D.S. Church

District Elder Harry Doty of Traverse City will speak at the 11:00 service at the R. L. D. S. Church, Sunday, Nov. 16th. All are cordially invited.

Lester Walcutt of Daggett was calling on former acquaintances in the city Wednesday.

All Americans who love God and Our Country will stop on this great day and thank God for our unearned gifts from the Eternal Father, who has created all men as our brothers, that we may be thankful for the opportunity of sharing in these and all times of blessing and needs of mankind.

The public is invited to hear the Rev. Edward O. DeHaven in the Methodist Church Thanksgiving Morning at 9:30 a. m. Come and worship with those who love God and Fellowmen enough to thank the Eternal Father.

Presbyterian Church

The Friday Afternoon Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. John Porter, Friday, Nov. 14, at 2:30 p. m.

The Church will observe Family Night Nov. 20th with pot luck supper served at 6:45 p. m. This will be in keeping with National Missions and the film, "And Now Tomorrow" will be shown. This film is the portrayal of the 150 years of National Missions work done by our church through Continental United States. This is the celebration of the Sesquicentennial of National Missions and this film is worthwhile to see.

The Union Thanksgiving Service will be held in the Methodist Church this year on Thursday morning, Nov. 27 at 9:30 a. m. This is a day of Thanksgiving and we should each plan to offer our thanks to God. This day is one of distinction in our American heritage but like many of our inheritances we have often passed them in default for the sake of some pleasure. This year we were again awakened to our duty and heritage of voting and the American people turned out in record numbers. Can we and will we do this the same with this heritage of Thanksgiving? It is time we begin to appreciate anew the things that have been given to us by our forefathers in this great land of ours.

The ladies of our church have been collecting clothing for Korea. This is a worthwhile project and one that is needed so badly. Our church and Sunday school is making up a box of Christmas gifts for our National Missions Station located near Maryville, Tenn. Each year we have shared our gifts with some of these children of the out-of-way places and the blessing has been ours as much as theirs. We are doing this again. Children are asked to bring their gifts to the Church on Sunday morning or if you have no children in the school and want to contribute bring them to the Family Night on Nov. 20th.

Legion & Auxiliary Dates to Remember

Nov. 18th: This is the regular Legion meeting night but they have canceled their meeting so the Auxiliary may have a meeting in Nov.

Nov. 25: The Auxiliary has given up this date which should be their semi-social meeting so that the Legion may put on a Benefit Party for the Community Christmas fund.

Dec. 17: Auxiliary Annual Community Christmas Chicken Supper.

Register Your Kill at the Herald Office

The postponed October meeting of Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Claude Hart on S. Lake St.

St. Ann's Altar Society will meet in the Parish Hall, Thursday, Nov. 20, at 2:30. Hostesses: Mrs. Esther Kidder and Mrs. Genevieve Davis.

A meeting of the Auxiliary and Legion Community Christmas committee was called by chairman Peggy Thomas, Sunday, Nov. 9.

Mr. Keith Annear, Principal of the East Jordan High School, and Mrs. Betty Robertson, School Nurse, also representing the Community Chest, attended the meeting. All those present agreed that an itemized account of money spent on this program should be made public so that everyone might know how the funds were spent last year which was about the same as previous years.

Mrs. Howard Porter	25.00
Rotary Club	15.00
Aux. Chicken Dinner	74.50
Mary Martha Class	5.00
School Children	2.10
Harry Bos	2.00
Bal. from 1950	11.71
Total Receipts	$235.31

Total expense	$249.51
This made deficit of $14.20 which was paid by the Legion.

Other years a lot of food has been purchased in addition to the canned goods collected by the school, and fruits and vegetables which were donated by merchants and farmers in the community, but this year the committee has decided to concentrate more on toys and clothing for the children of the needy. Many more parents are employed now and able to provide their families with sufficient food. Of course in extreme cases some food will be needed.

The planning committee will contact every organization in this community and ask for assistance in some definite phase of this program, making it a complete community project. Unit 227 will have to have everyone's cooperation if this program is to be a success. But even with all this it will be necessary to raise additional funds. The Auxiliary has had to change the date previously announced for their annual Chicken Supper for this fund, from Dec. 10 to Wednesday, Dec. 17.

Any donations of mittens, girl's dresses, toys or anything that can be used in the boxes are welcome.

Checking Station Locations

The conservation department will ask deer hunters this fall to give hunting information — good or bad — to department biologists at any of eight checking stations in the northern lower peninsula. Age and health of deer and hunter success information is needed for continuation of a sound deer herd management program. Station locations are indicated by stars on the map above. Also, information will be gathered at district headquarters buildings and equipment stations throughout the region as located on the map above.

Michigan Mirror

One thing about Michigan elections, with these nip-and-tuck gubernatorial races that hold the final decision way past the normal vote-counting period, folks in this state can get full conversational mileage out of election. While other states relax and recuperate, Michigan is still waiting to find out who's going to sit in the governor's chair.

The power of the press, so long sneered at by political opponents, demonstrated itself in an almost-overlooked facet of the election. The resounding support of Amendment No. 1, the anti-narcotics measure.

With very little campaigning or advertising and a bare minimum of radio mentions the amendment was brought to the public's attention almost entirely through newspaper stories. That the public read—and remembered—is evidenced in the vote.

MICHIGAN FARM EARNINGS will net about the same in '53 as they have the last two years. So says the Michigan State College department of agricultural economics. Farm prices will be slightly higher; so will agricultural production; so will farm expenses.

On the other hand, the United States Department of Agriculture says: Farm output will be the same as '52; Prices will be slightly down; Net farm income will be down 5 percent from this year.

The Washington prediction was made before the election. So maybe it ought to be taken with a political grain of salt.

LOOK FOR PROPOSED LEGISLATION to make Michigan election officials (a) have adequate voting supplies for all possible voters and (b) report results as soon as possible after polls close. There are laws now—but no penalties!

Michigan dairymen are keeping a wary eye on the northward spread of "frozen deserts". Already doing land-office business in Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Missouri, where it may legally be sold, the new product is made of vegetable oil substitutes for expensive butterfat and tastes much like ice cream.

AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES — and Michigan's, too, naturally, are expecting that their enrollment will more than double between now and 1965. Birth rates are doubling; Michigan college heads got a head start by conferring with both gubernatorial candidates long before the election.

LAKE MICHIGAN dropped 7.5 inches in October say the U. S. Engineering Department. It was only the second time in the past 13 months that the lake has gone down but it's still two inches higher than a year ago. August was the worst month for high water and Autumn winds can wreak a lot of damage to shore properties.

Life is getting easier all the time for the lazy man. Now he no longer need go through the laborious process of turning the calendar 12 times a year. A Tecumseh, Mich., firm has just placed an all-electric calendar on the market.

THE STATE LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION is working to get "dogs" off its inventory. That canine appellation refers to liquor brands that don't move and keep State funds tied up—or is bottled up—the "correct term"?

From here on, brands will be put on an introductory basis. If Michigan palettes don't like the stuff—as demonstrated by sales quotas—out it goes.

PANCAKE SYRUP has appeared on many Michigan markets during the past two weeks. The pancake drowsin' is selling at 85c a pint in Lansing.

THERE STILL WILL BE CHICKEN for your Sunday dinner although the egg hatch in Michigan dropped in September. August was 600,000; September 460,000. Michigan Department of Agriculture spokesmen say its just seasonal, though, and the hatch is still a September record and 7 percent above September of '52.

"I'm a stranger in town myself," If a Detroitite should say that to you, he probably isn't fooling. Sixty percent of Detroit's inhabitants came to the city as adults.

The largest group (14 percent) came from the South; 11 percent came from outstate Michigan. 30 percent lived on farms before coming to the Motor City.

Ninety-eight percent have religious preferences, 56 percent Protestant and 37 percent Roman Catholic. But only half belong to a church. A team of 30 graduate students and professors of the University of Michigan made a survey of which this information was only a small part of the total statistics obtained.

IN INDIANA, one fourth of all 1,247 fatal accidents in the state last year involved commercial trucks.

Michigan is paying special attention to the commercial truck driver. For the second year Michigan State College is offering a course for drivers. Surveys show that if a driver is delayed in leaving a terminal, his desire to make up lost time is often a factor in accident. So MSC goes right down to that root and offers a course for warehouse foremen, too.

FRONT-AND-BACK license plates have the endorsement of State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. The Michigan Municipal League has asked the Legislature to restore the front plate, eliminated as an economy measure but decry by most law enforcement officers.

Pigs need bone meal or other frame-building mineral if they are going to carry the weight they put on with B vitamins and antibiotics, advise swine specialists at Michigan State College.

SHORT STORY

Rain On The Roof
By Harley Davis

3-Minute Fiction

THE INSTANT Jerry saw the girl he was glad it was raining. Because while it rained no one would want to go swimming and he wouldn't have to exhibit his spindling legs. The interest she had exhibited in him from the moment they were introduced would, he felt sure vanish at her first glimpse of him in a bathing suit. Thus arrayed he was almost a monstrosity. When the Burdons asked him up to their camp on Merrytime Island for a week-end he was tremendously pleased. He liked the outdoors; liked camp life, liked the Burdons and their friends. When they told him the Hodgsons were coming and they were bringing Edna Hodgson's younger sister it didn't spoil his anticipation of a good time much, either. But that was before he had met Doris Hodgson, the younger sister.

Despite the rain they had a jolly time that evening. Dinner was served before the great stone fireplace. It was warm and cozy. Afterward they played games and danced to radio music. A feeling of good fellowship and camaraderie prevailed. Jerry had never been so happy in his life. He forgot all about his spindling legs. Even the fact that Tom Moore was there didn't spoil his happiness. Tom was tall and handsome and shaped like an Adonis. He was something to look at in a bathing suit. He was a marvel at all sports. But tonight he didn't. Doris Hodgson didn't give him any time. She had eyes only for Jerry. They danced together six times. They went out on the porch and watched the rain. They kissed. Jerry was deliciously happy. He'd never felt this way before, never knew what love was like. Later, in bed, he lay awake listening to the beat of rain on the roof, and every drop brought joy to his soul.

Bright sunlight streaming in at his bedroom window roused Jerry to wakefulness. He sat up, blinking, staring through the window at the glories of a sparklingly brilliant morning. He couldn't believe it. Last night, late last night, it had been pouring. All indications pointed to at least a three-day rain. And here it was bright and clear! One of those miserable breaks of New England climate.

Gloomily he dressed. Every one was in the gayest of spirits, and, as he feared, immediately after breakfast someone suggested a swim. Tom Moore suggested it, saying Jerry smilingly, triumphantly.

There wasn't much Jerry could do. He had to be a good sport. A poor sport was worse than well, and resenting being laughed at.

Jerry sat on the edge of the pier and dangled his legs. He felt like a nickel. Nobody had laughed yet, because all but Doris were used to him. But pretty soon, he knew, Tom Moore would attract attention to his legs by some remark, and then Doris would look—and that would be the end.

Tom was swimming back to the float with clean, swift strokes. He came half way up the ladder, clung to a rung, leaned out and looked at Jerry's legs, grinning evilly. "It's a wonder," he said, "that those shanks of yours can hold you up, Jerry."

Tom mounted to the top platform and posed again. Jerry burned with envy. He was so absorbed in watching Tom and envying him that he didn't realize that Doris came and sat down beside him.

"Is this an exhibition?" she asked, "or can we all take part?" She was looking at his spindling legs. Jerry flushed and a wave of anger and indignation stole over him.

"It isn't my fault," he said defensively. "If there were anything I could do about it I most certainly would."

She looked at him queerly. She laughed. "Why, I don't expect you to do anything. You're not the host. But I don't think they'd mind if we didn't stay here and watch him. After all, they're not paying him to perform."

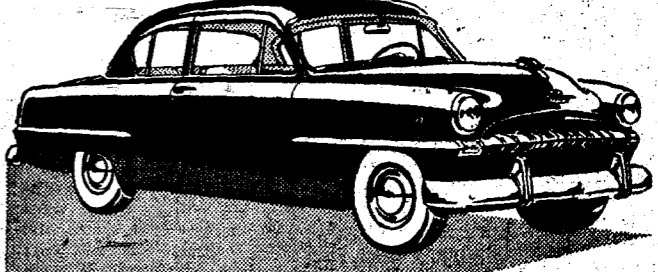

Jerry's mouth fell open. He stared. He looked up at Tom. He looked back at the girl. He bounded to his feet. "Glory be!" he exclaimed in joyful relief, "let's take a walk."

"I'd love to," said Doris.

FARM FACTS
 from your County
Agricultural Agent
 Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

Charlevoix area dairy farmers can save thousands of dollars each year by feeding cows more high-quality roughage and less grain and concentrates. They can do this and maintain milk production reports Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Michigan's dairy herd could produce more milk on several million dollars a year less feed, according to Michigan State College studies. The Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station sets up tests, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, on six south central Michigan farms for a 300-day lactation period.

A group of cows that averaged 2,191 pounds of grain-concentrate and 7,838 pounds of roughage per cow produced the most milk, an average of 12,500 lbs. per cow. A second group ate 3,109 pounds of grain-concentrate and 6,828 pounds of roughage per cow and produced an average 11,592 pounds of milk per cow. The high-concentrate group, which ate 4,426 pounds per cow, with only 6,650 pounds of roughage, produced an average per cow of 11,727—slightly higher than the medium group.

Pasture was about the same for all these test groups, reports the county agricultural agent. The concentrate was about 90 percent farm grain and 10 percent purchased supplements. Four farms fed mainly grass-legume mixtures put up early as grass silage and two farms fed mainly corn silage. Feed costs for the medium concentrate group were 17 percent higher, reports Rebman, and 39 percent higher for the heavy-concentrate group.

Farmers have a choice between going after brush and other woody growth during the summer growing season or hitting the worthless growth now with dormant spraying, advises Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent.

In summer, the farmers are busy with other chores—but the spray-job on foliage is cheaper. In fall and winter, farmers have some spare time, but spraying costs are higher. Spraying foliage now would be wasting the spray.

Herbicides should be sprayed on surfaces that have been cut or on the lower foot of trunks and stems, according to B. H. Grigsby, Michigan State College botanist and brush control specialist. Spray should be heavy enough to cover the trunks and stems and run down onto the upper roots if kill is to be satisfactory. Kerosene or fuel oils should be used in solutions in place of water for fall and winter spraying. A combination of 2, 4-D and 2,4,5-T esters at rate of two quarts to ten gallons of oil is effective.

Various commercial herbicides on the market are effective, according to the county agr'l agent. Foliage spraying is cheaper but must be done when leaves are out in full development, advises Grigsby. Two to three quarts of acid is sufficient in 100 gallons of water. In fields, hazel, alder and willow brush have been killed completely with 2, 4-D on foliage and 2, 4-D plus 2,4,5-T was even a better killer. Ammonium sulfamate may be used as effective spray at rate of one pound to a gallon of water.

The fluid milk market of southern Michigan cities is expanding into the northern Michigan counties. Charlevoix county dairymen who can meet the market sanitation requirements for product, equipment, animals and barns can gain a greater income from sale of whole milk, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today.

Some tips on laws and requirements to sell milk for bottling are offered by D. L. Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He advises dairymen to check the particular market in which they plan to sell as local ordinances may require additional quality standards. General laws are:

(1) A milk house is required for cooling, handling and storing milk. It must have a two-compartment wash tank for washing the equipment, a metal rack for storing utensils, a water heater and a self-closing door between a connected milk house and stable.

(2) Barns must have impervious floors such as cement, reasonable amount of light and ventilation and reasonably tight walls and ceilings, kept clean and sanitary. Hogs or chickens are not permitted in the dairy stable.

(3) Milk will not contain less than three percent butterfat and not over 100,000 bacteria as determined by plate or microscopic count. It must retain blue color for not less than four hours when subjected to methylene blue test. Quality tests must be run each month by a dairy plant or some other qualified agency.

21st Cherry Pie Baking Contest Started Nov. 10

The way to college and the way to a man's heart are the same throughout the year.

For the prize offered in the annual Michigan Cherry Pie Baking Contest is a college scholarship and ever since the song was written about "Can She Bake a Cherry Pie, Billy Boy?" that delicacy has been the way to a man's heart.

With the increase of first prize to a $175.00 scholarship in the college of the winner's choice sponsors expect that they will have many more than the 50 county contestants who competed last year.

The State Finals will be held at Grand Rapids, February 9th and 10th, 1953, at the kitchens of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Earlier, county-wide contests will select the finalists.

The contest is open to young women between the ages of 15 and 20. Michigan's winner will go to Chicago to vie for national honors a week after the State finals. All her expenses will be paid in the Windy City just as all county winners will be guests at the State Contest.

Six other prizes besides the scholarship will be awarded in Michigan. The annual contest is sponsored by the Michigan Canners Association, Michigan Cherry Producers Association and Michigan Cherry Commission.

Young ladies desiring to enter local or county contests should contact their local 4-H Club leader, Home Economics teacher, Home demonstration agent or Co. Agr'l Agent.

Arborvitae Shedding, OK

Don't plan on replacing your arborvitae because it turned brown and dropped foliage this past season. The "tree of life" is not dead but just going through a periodic change, advises Paul R. Krone, extension horticulturist at Michigan State College. Those with green foliage this past season will go through the same change in two or three years.

For entertainment a little play was enacted by three of the members. Mrs. Louise Hart sang a beautiful solo, followed by group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Bechtold at the piano. Dessert was served at the beginning of the meeting. The table was appropriately decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Florence Swoboda, Dec. 5th.

Postmaster Thomas St. Charles of East Jordan has recently received the following letter advising him of his appointment to the Rehabilitation Advisory Board of the American Legion.

The American Legion National Headquarters Office of the Nat'l Commander Indianapolis 6, Ind.

November 3, 1952
Mr. Thomas St. Charles
East Jordan, Mich.
Dear Thomas:

Upon the recommendation of your Department and with the approval of the National Executive Committee, I tender to you an appointment as a member of the Rehabilitation Advisory Board of The American Legion, your term on the Board to run until the close of the 1953 Fall Meeting of the National Executive Committee.

With kindest regards, I am
Lewis K. Gough,
Nat'l Commander

This appointment is quite an honor for Mr. St. Charles, as there are only 16 members on this board, serving the National American Legion. When it is considered the Am. Legion is composed of from 4-5 million members, it can readily be seen that this is indeed a great privilege.

Members to this board are elected on the basis of their experience and special interest in rehabilitation matters. It is the duty of this committee to aid in the Legion's efforts for the disabled.

As far as Mr. St. Charles knows at present, he will be required to attend at least four meetings annually at Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. St. Charles' appointment to this board is quite possibly due to the intense interest he has taken in Legion matters for the past 27 years, 4 years and 9 months of which were spent in the hospital.

Never one to be satisfied with idle talk about something that needed doing, Mr. St. Charles has a high record of accomplishments in the American Legion over his many years of membership.

Kindergarten - I. Sidebotham

Some of the boys in our Kindergarten are building fine barns with the blocks. We think these boys are going to grow up to be good carpenters.

We look forward to having our milk to drink every morning and in the afternoon. It tastes good. Many of us can print our own names now. We are trying to recognize some of the other children's names when we see them.

We are making Health trains. We are cutting box cars out of colored paper. The red car is for meat, the yellow one for butter and cheese, the green one for leafy vegetables, and so on.

First Grade - Marion Brooks

Franky Benson left our room Friday and has gone to Bay Port where his mother is going to teach school.

We were all sorry that Jack's house and contents burned, and that it will be necessary for the Barnes family to move to another school district.

Our vocabulary tests show that many of us have learned all the new words and we are really reading now.

The regular order of business was taken care of after which was the program. Included were two readings given by Mrs. Robt. Moore. Mrs. Ethel Clark read an article on Communism in the United States before the first Thanksgiving which was not a success. Mrs. Mabel Seord read several letters from TM3 Floyd T. Warrington, Jr., on the USS Leyte C. V. A. 32 Air Craft Carrier cruising in the Mediterranean Sea. His home is in Ypsilanti. They were interesting letters. found that Ella Mae Tousley and Harry Howard have birthdays in November.

We are trying to help the janitors by taking off our rubbers and galoshes at the outside door and carrying them to our lockers. We appreciate the work our janitors do to help us keep our room clean.

"Reading Is Fun" is the slogan for the thirty-fourth annual Book Week to be celebrated throughout the nation Nov. 16-22. During Book Week we are going to learn something about the care of our books. We are also going to try and read one book at home, and then tell the story to the class.

Eighteen girls and boys from our room entered the poster contest for the Book Fair, Nov. 19th. We collected twenty-seven books for the bargain table.

Tuesday morning we enjoyed the movie, "Animals of the Zoo." Most of us have filled out and have returned our Interest Inventories.

Fourth Grade - Jean Strehl

Last Tuesday we voted in our room at school. Gov. Stevenson won with 14 votes and General Eisenhower 12. Helen Addis brought us a ballot to see how our mothers and dads vote.

Connie Bennett brought three goldfish to school to share with us. We are enjoying the fish and are taking turns feeding them.

Our room is beginning to look like Thanksgiving time again. We have started studying "The First Thanksgiving". We are writing stories and making pictures about the Pilgrims who came many years ago. Some of the children are writing poems.

We have a story in our room about Foolish Freddie and Wise Willie. Foolish Freddie forgot to wear his rubbers, coat and hat. He had to miss school because he forgot. Wise Willie always remembers, so never misses any fun. We are hoping we will have lots of Wise Willies.

In Language class we are learning to give reports. Some of the children gave some interesting reports in geography class.

Mrs. Alice Sheppard returned home Saturday after a 5-week visit with relatives in Flint and Birch Run. She also went to Ft. Breckenridge, Morgansville, Ky., to visit a grandson stationed there.

Beaver Controversy in Michigan Subject Of Study by Wayne U. Biology Students

Inspecting a mounted beaver and a typical beaver-cut tree trunk and chips are Wayne University coeds Marilyn Hilborn of Grand Rapids (left) and Alice Mori of Lansing.

Much has been said and written—mostly untrue—about the remarkable feats of engineering performed by the Castor canadensis michiganensis—Michigan beaver. This rodent played an important part in the early exploration and settlement of North America including the State of Michigan.

Biology students at Wayne University in Detroit have been "busy as beavers" studying some curious facts about this animal. Although beaver spend much of their time in the water, they are strict vegetarians. Their diet consists of everything available in the way of twigs and bark. In Michigan, beaver are partial almost completely to the twigs, leaves and bark of the aspen.

Beaver skins were at one time exchanged as stable currency over half the continent. The long exploitation by fur trappers and traders, however, brought about the necessity for an extended closed season for Michigan beaver trappers in 1920.

There has been some controversy as to the desirability of this animal in Michigan's wildlife conservation program. Many pro-beaver advocates maintain that beaver do not destroy anything of value and that protecting them improves fishing, conserves water and generally aids in the wildlife and conservation program.

However, those with less sentiment for the "hard-working beaver" and a more factual point of view claim that this animal should not be protected because it causes the blockage of streams, hinders the migration of fish, floods out forests and shade trees in recreational areas, and destroys ornamental trees.

According to Dr. Charles W. Creaser, chairman of the Wayne University biology department, if the water is too cold for fish growth, a beaver pond will help in trout production. If the water is warm, a beaver dam may "make it unfit for trout."

Fishing in the beaver dam regions is usually improved for about a year. Then when the otter and mink settle on the beaver pond, the fish are almost completely wiped out since they cannot migrate to other waters.

Under Michigan conditions, a beaver cuts an average of from 200 to 300 trees per year. Not being the keen foresters many people think they are, beaver waste a considerable proportion of their work by falling one tree into another or, what is more common, by failing to utilize the trees they cut. They destroy a lot of small growth as well as large timber. White birch, small Norway pine, small maple and tamarack are cut by beaver when in need of material for a dam.

Second growth of cedar spruce, balsam and tamarack is prevented in the areas flooded by beaver.

Beaver dams located at the outlets of large lakes and streams conserve these waters only temporarily. When rainfall is low in the area of the small streams and lakes, the dammed-up water becomes dirty, discolored, and stagnant. Beaver then look elsewhere for more water.

The extent of the beaver's influence, good or bad, upon an area depends on the local conditions—the nature of the stream and surrounding environs, Dr. Creaser says.

Aid In Aging Deer

Deer hunters, planning on stopping at conservation department voluntary highway checking stations, should prop deer jaws open soon after kill is made. This may prevent possible freezing of jaw in closed position. Ralph MacMillan, Houghton Lake experiment station head, shows how jaws can be held open by straddling short, forked stick over the lower jaw with butt wedged against mouth roof. Accurate age is determined mainly by wear and number of teeth. Regular deer season runs November 15-30.

The Servicemen's LETTER

Hi Fellas: This letter will be short tonight. There are no letters to send on and the address changes are few. One bit of news should be forwarded first of all. We had a meeting of the Community Service Club the other night to discuss ways and means for the coming year and among other things to decide what to do for you men for Christmas this year. You ARE going to get a Christmas present from the community this year. I won't tell you yet what it is to be but I hope that it reaches all of you in good condition.

We have two new men on the overseas Air Mail list this week. They are Earl Hart and Walter Moblo. Earl has arrived in Germany. I don't have the name of the town as yet but expect to have it for you men over there soon. His address is: Pvt. Earl F. Hart, RA 16 400 767, 7th Field Artillery, 1st Infantry Division, APO 1, c/o PM, New York, N. Y. He writes his mother that his transfer from the regular infantry to the field artillery was pretty much to his liking. He thinks he will get along pretty well with them. When he was transferred he went all alone and has no old buddies in his new outfit—but he says they appear to be good enough fellows.

Walt Moblo went over in the other direction. I don't have any information as to where he is located but his address is: A/3C Walter J. Moblo, 16 383 365, 523 F. T. R. E. S. C. Sqd., APO 919, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Jim McLaughlin's address has been changed slightly by the addition of an APO and the elimination of a number in front of the Hq. Co. Perhaps I had better give you the whole thing again. Pvt. James McLaughlin, RA 16 404 087, Hq. Co. 2nd T. Major Post, APO 503, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif. Don't forget Jim's offer of plenty of good things if you come to see him. He's a cook you know.

John Kershner sure surprised me this past week. He walked in to the PO and announced that he was home for a 30-day delay on route and then would be bound for Alaska. He sure has been around this last few weeks. First he was transferred from Washington to Scott AFB, Ill. Then he went back out to Washington—then to California—where he was married. Now he's back here. On Nov. 20th he goes back to California to take his new bride home to her parents while he goes on to Alaska. (She is to follow later.) On Dec. 2nd he is to report at Great Falls, Montana, and on Dec. 13th he is to be at Elmendorf Air Base just outside of Anchorage, Alaska, headquarters of the Alaskan Air Command. All of this distance he has driven by auto and plans to continue to do so. Quit a trip, eh. It even includes a trip up the Alcan highway.

Don Danforth has a change of address. He is on his way to Korea—perhaps by now he is there. His latest address is: Pvt. Donald W. Danforth, RA 16 405 481, Hq. 931 Eng Av Gp, APO 970, c/o PM, San Francisco, California. Drop me a note when you get this paper and let us know where you are, will you, Don?

Here's the address of a man who lived in EJ some years ago, went to High School here, married a girl from EJ but was drafted into the service from another city. Do any of you men remember Don Gifford whose dad used to run the cleaners. He is now down in Chaffee and his address goes: Pvt. Donald Gifford, US 55 290 833, Co. C, 46 A. I. B., 5th Armored Division, Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. In case your heart craves company and a little talk with some men from your old home town you'll find five of them there in Chaffee. They are: John Bussing, Co. D, 81st Med Tk Bn; Richard Dipzinski, Co C 8th Hvy Tk Bn; Robert Graham, Co A, 47th Arm Inf Bn; Gerald Olson, Co C, 8 Hvy Tk Bn; and Richard Sommerville, Co D, 8th Hvy Tk Bn. I think these men are a year or two younger than you, Don, but I know they will be glad to see you when you say you hail from E. J.

Gale Murphy is in town for a 25-day furlough. He's having a great time hunting and watching football games. Gale will be out for good the middle of January. He says the time can't come too soon for him.

Lawrence Wright changes his address from a civilian street address back to an airforce unit. His address now is: S/Sgt Lawrence A. Wright, 16 254 296, 763 E. A. C. & W. Sqdn, Lockport, New York. He is on the same base but is living on the base now.

Bruce Bolser, after being home on leave, returned to duty at Norfolk and while on pass with some buddies was unlucky enough to be in an automobile accident which resulted in an injury that has had him in the hospital for a couple of weeks. We hope by the time you get this you will be up and around again, Bruce.

To put the caper on this letter I will include the following news release from McChord AFB, in Washington: Quote—S/Sgt Dale A. Gee, son of Mrs. Emma Gee of East Jordan, Mich., has recently been promoted to the rank of Tech Sergeant in the United States Air Force.

"Sgt Gee graduated from the East Jordan High School in 1941 and entered the Armed Forces in December of that year. Airman Gee has had a varied career since that time. Gee attended the Telephone Maintenance School at Chantute AF Base in 1943 and has remained in that career field since. Airman Gee spent three years overseas at Burtonwood AF Base, England and returned to the United States Dec. of 1951. Gee is presently assigned to the 1905th Airways and Air Communications Service located at McChord AF Base, Washington.

"Married to the former Maxine E. Butz, the Gees including two children, Barbara and Robert, are residing in Tacoma, Washington."

Did you know they knew that much about you, Dale? So Long Men, "Jake" Snyder.

'52 Football Season Ended Friday With 26-0 Score Over Harbor

East Jordan High School brought the curtain down on its 1952 football season here last Friday afternoon as they scored an impressive 26 to 0 triumph over the Harbor Springs High School "Rams" in a Dad's Day game played at the West Side Athletic Field.

The victory, the seventh of the season for the Jordanites as against a single tie, assured the local eleven its second straight Northern Michigan Class C Conference crown and marked the second year in a row that the local forces have gone through the season undefeated.

Harbor Springs battled the locals to a scoreless deadlock during the first period Friday only to fall behind 13 to 0 by halftime. East Jordan's first tally came early in the second frame as Keith Evans plunged over from the 1-foot line after a sustained drive that began with a blocked punt on the Harbor Springs 45 yard line. Sam Milstein added the extra point on a dive play. "Bobby" Danforth scored standing up from eight yards out midway in the second stanza; but Warren Frank's attempt to run the extra point was inches short. East Jordan struck with lightning swiftness early in the third period as Ray Gee took the second play from scrimmage 53 yds. off tackle to pay dirt. Again Milstein lugged the leather over for the extra point and East Jordan led 20 to 0. In the final frame it was Gee again who tallied; this time from 20 yds. out on a wide sweep to the left. Robert Russell failed to add the extra point via the same play and that ended the scoring with East Jordan out in front 26 to 0.

Ten seniors saw service with the "Red Devils" for the last time. They were: Capt. James Shepard, Richard Freeman, Lawrence Chanda, Floyd Detloff, Sam Milstein, Gordon Danforth, Leon Bartlett, Jerry Evans, Mike Davis and Bill Rogers.

Harbor Springs did not threaten to score throughout the entire contest, and it marked the first game this season that the Jordanites held the opposition scoreless. Thus the "Red Devil" finished its 1952 season with a record of 7 wins, no losses and a tie. Coach Saxton's charges racked up a total of 168 points offensively while holding the opposition to 47.

Legion & Auxiliary Dates to Remember

Nov. 18th: This is the regular Legion meeting night but they have canceled their meeting so the Auxiliary may have a meeting in Nov.

Nov. 25: The Auxiliary has given up this date which should be their semi-social meeting so that the Legion may put on a Benefit Party for the Community Christmas fund.

Dec. 17: Auxiliary Annual Community Christmas Chicken Supper.

A meeting of the Auxiliary and Legion Community Christmas committee was called by chairman Peggy Thomas, Sunday, Nov. 9. Mr. Keith Anner, Principal of the East Jordan High School, and Mrs. Betty Robertson, School Nurse, also representing the Community Chest, attended the meeting. All those present agreed that an itemized account of money spent on this program should be made public so that everyone might know how the funds were spent last year which was about the same as previous years.

Donations
Community Chest	$100.00
Mrs. Howard Porter	25.00
Rotary Club	15.00
Aux. Chicken Dinner	74.50
Mary Martha Class	5.00
School Children	2.10
Harry Bos	2.00
Bal. from 1950	11.71
Total Receipts	$285.31
Expenses
Groceries for boxes	$167.36
Toys	67.41
Misc., ribbon, paper, phone calls, etc.	10.69
Advertisement	4.05
Total expense	$249.51

This made deficit of $14.20 which was paid by the Legion. Other years a lot of food has been purchased in addition to the canned goods collected by the school, and fruits and vegetables which were donated by merchants and farmers in the community, but this year the committee has decided to concentrate more on toys and clothing for the children of the needy. Many more parents are employed now and able to provide their families with sufficient food. Of course in extreme cases some food will be needed.

The planning committee will contact every organization in this community and ask for assistance in some definite phase of this program, making it a complete community project. Unit 227 will have to have everyone's co-operation if this program is to be a success. But even with all this it will be necessary to raise additional funds. The Auxiliary has had to change the date previously announced for their annual Chicken Supper for this fund, from Dec. 10 to Wednesday, Dec. 17. Any donations of mittens, girl's dresses, toys or anything that can be used in the boxes are welcome.

Lenosky - Felix

Frances Johannah Lenosky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lenosky of East Jordan, was united in marriage to F. Robert Felix, son of Fred Felix and the late Mrs. Felix of Pontiac, Saturday, Nov. 8, 1952, at nine o'clock in the morning at St. Joseph Catholic Church, East Jordan.

The Very Rev. Joseph J. Malinowski performed the double ring ceremony at a Nuptial High Mass before an altar decorated with bouquets of white and gold chrysanthemums. The pews were adorned with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in white nylon tulle and lace over satin fashioned with a ballerina length skirt. The lace bodice had a V-neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over her wrists. Her elbow length veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a lace hat. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Glenn Trojanek of Charlevoix, West Virginia, was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She was attired in a cotton blue ballerina length gown of satin and net. She wore a satin jacket over her sleeveless gown. Completing her outfit was a matching headband adorned with net and seed pearls and a shoulder length veil of net. Her bouquet was made up of red roses.

Mr. Duane Johnson of Detroit, attended Mr. Felix as best man, and the ushers were John Lenosky of East Lansing, brother of the bride, and Glenn Trojanek of Charlevoix, W. Va., brother-in-law of the bride.

Completing the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremony at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Watson.

Also, information will be gathered at district headquarters buildings and equipment stations throughout the region as located on the map above.

Michigan Mirror

One thing about Michigan elections, with these nip-and-tuck gubernatorial races that hold the final decision way past the normal vote-counting period, folks in this state can get full conversational mileage out of election. While other states relax and recuperate, Michigan is still waiting to find out who's going to sit in the governor's chair.

The power of the press, so long sneered at by political opponents, demonstrated itself in an almost-overlooked facet of the election. The resounding support of Amendment No. 1, the anti-narcotics measure.

With very little campaigning or advertising and a bare minimum of radio mentions the amendment was brought to the public's attention almost entirely through newspaper stories. That the public read—and remembered—is evidenced in the vote.

MICHIGAN FARM EARNINGS will net about the same in '53 as they have the last two years. So says the Michigan State College department of agricultural economics. Farm prices will be slightly higher; so will agricultural production; so will farm expenses.

On the other hand, the United States Department of Agriculture says: Farm output will be the same as '52; Prices will be slightly down; Net farm income will be down 5 percent from this year.

The Washington prediction was made before the election. So maybe it ought to be taken with a political grain of salt.

LOOK FOR PROPOSED LEGISLATION to make Michigan election officials (a) have adequate voting supplies for all possible voters and (b) report results as soon as possible after polls close. There are laws now—but no penalties!

Michigan dairymen are keeping a wary eye on the northward spread of "frozen desserts". Already doing land-office business in Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Missouri, where it may legally be sold, the new product is made of vegetable oil substitutes for expensive butterfat and tastes much like ice cream.

AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES — and Michigan's, too, naturally, are expecting that their enrollment will more than double between now and 1965. Birth rates are doubling. Michigan college heads got a head start by conferring with both gubernatorial candidates long before the election.

LAKE MICHIGAN dropped 7.5 inches in October say the U. S. Engineering Department. It was only the second time in the past 13 months that the lake has gone down but it's still two inches higher than a year ago. August was the worst month for high water and Autumn winds can wreak a lot of damage to shore properties.

borious process of turning the calendar 12 times a year. A Tecumseh, Mich., firm has just placed an all-electric calendar on the market.

THE STATE LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION is working to get "dogs" off its inventory. That canine appellation refers to liquor brands that don't move and keep State funds tied up—or is bottled up the correct term?

From here on in, brands will be put on an introductory basis. If Michigan palettes don't like the stuff—as demonstrated by sales quotas—out it goes.

MAPLE SYRUP has appeared on many Michigan markets during the past two weeks. The pancake drowsin' is selling at 85c a pint in Lansing.

THERE STILL WILL BE CHICKEN for your Sunday dinner although the egg hatch in Michigan dropped in September. August was 600,000; September 460,000. Michigan Department of Agriculture spokesmen say its just seasonal, though, and the hatch is still a September record and 7 percent above September of '52.

"I'm a stranger in town myself," If a Detroit should say that to you, he probably isn't fooling. Sixty percent of Detroit's inhabitants came to the city as adults.

The largest group (14 percent) came from the South; 11 percent came from outstate Michigan. 30 percent lived on farms before coming to the Motor City.

Ninety-eight percent have religious preferences, 56 percent Protestant and 37 percent Roman Catholic. But only half belong to a church. A team of 30 graduate students and professors of the University of Michigan made a survey of which this information was only a small part of the total statistics obtained.

IN INDIANA, one fourth of all 1,247 fatal accidents in the state last year involved commercial trucks.

Michigan is paying special attention to the commercial truck driver. For the second year Michigan State College is offering a course for drivers. Surveys show that if a driver is delayed in leaving a terminal, his desire to make up lost time is often a factor in accident. So MSC goes right down to that root and offers a course for warehouse foremen, too.

Rain On The Roof
By Harley Davis

THE INSTANT Jerry saw the girl he was glad it was raining. Because while it rained no one would want to go swimming and he wouldn't have to exhibit his spindling legs. The interest she had exhibited in him from the moment they were introduced would, he felt sure vanish at her first glimpse of him in a bathing suit. Thus arrayed he was almost a monstrosity. When the Burdons asked him up to their camp on Merrytime Island for a week-end he was tremendously pleased. He liked the outdoors, liked camp life, liked the Burdons and their friends. When they told him the Hodgsons were coming and they were bringing Edna Hodgson's younger sister it didn't spoil his anticipation of a good time much, either. But that was before he had met Doris Hodgson, the younger sister.

Despite the rain they had a jolly time that evening. Dinner was served before the great stone fireplace. It was warm and cozy. Afterward they played games and danced to radio music. A feeling of good fellowship and camaraderie prevailed. Jerry had never been so happy in his life. He forgot all about his spindling legs. Even the fact that Tom Moore was there didn't spoil his happiness. Tom was tall and handsome and shaped like an Adonis. He was something to look at in a bathing suit. He was a marvel at all sports. But tonight he didn't. Doris Hodgson didn't give him any time. She had eyes only for Jerry. They danced together six times. They went out on the porch and watched the rain. They kissed. Jerry was deliciously happy. He'd never felt this way before, never knew what love was like. Later, in bed, he lay awake listening to the beat of rain on the roof. And every drop brought joy to his soul.

Bright sunlight streaming in at his bedroom window roused Jerry to wakefulness. He sat up, blinking, staring through the window at the glories of a sparklingly brilliant morning. He couldn't believe it. Last night, late last night, it had been pouring. All indications pointed to at least a three-day rain. And here it was bright and clear! One of those miserable breaks of New England climate.

Gloomily he dressed. Every one was in the gayest of spirits, and, as he feared, immediately after breakfast someone suggested a swim. Tom Moore suggested it, being Jerry smilingly, triumphantly.

There wasn't much Jerry could do. He had to be a good sport. A poor sport was worse than—well, than resenting being laughed at. Jerry sat on the edge of the pier and dangled his legs. He felt like a nickel. Nobody had laughed yet, because all but Doris were used to him. But pretty soon, he knew, Tom Moore would attract attention to his legs by some remark, and then Doris would look—and that would be the end.

Tom was swimming back to the float with clean, swift strokes. He came half way up the ladder, clung to a rung, leaned out and looked at Jerry's legs, grinning evilly. "It's a wonder," he said, "that those shanks of yours can hold you up, Jerry."

Tom mounted to the top platform and posed again. Jerry burned with envy. He was so absorbed in watching Tom and envying him that he didn't realize that Doris came and sat down beside him.

"Is this an exhibition?" she asked, "or can we all take part?" She was looking at his spindling legs. Jerry flushed and a wave of anger and indignation stole over him.

"It isn't my fault," he said defensively. "If there were anything I could do about it I most certainly would."

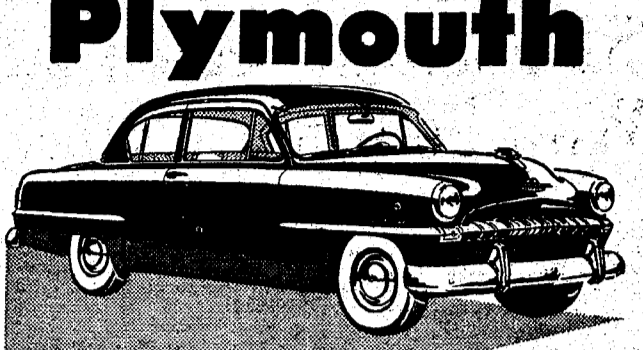

She looked at him queerly. She laughed. "Why, I don't expect you to do anything. You're not the host. But I don't think they'd mind if we didn't stay here and watch him. After all, they're not paying him to perform."

Jerry's mouth fell open. He stared. He looked up at Tom. He looked back at the girl. He bounded to his feet. "Glory be!" he exclaimed in joyful relief, "let's take a walk."

"I'd love to," said Doris.

Postmaster Thomas St. Charles of East Jordan has recently received the following letter advising him of his appointment to the Rehabilitation Advisory Board of the American Legion.

The American Legion National Headquarters Office of the Nat'l Commander Indianapolis 6, Ind.

November 3, 1952
Mr. Thomas St. Charles
East Jordan, Mich.
Dear Thomas:

Upon the recommendation of your Department and with the approval of the National Executive Committee, I tender to you an appointment as a member of the Rehabilitation Advisory Board of The American Legion, your term on the Board to run until the close of the 1953 Fall Meeting of the National Executive Committee.

With kindest regards, I am
Lewis K. Gough,
Nat'l Commander

This appointment is quite an honor for Mr. St. Charles, as there are only 16 members on this board, serving the National American Legion. When it is considered the Am. Legion is composed of from 4-5 million members, it can readily be seen that this is indeed a great privilege.

Members to this board are elected on the basis of their experience and special interest in rehabilitation matters. It is the duty of this committee to aid in the Legion's efforts for the disabled.

As far as Mr. St. Charles knows at present, he will be required to attend at least four meetings annually at Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. St. Charles' appointment to this board is quite possibly due to the intense interest he has taken in Legion matters for the past 27 years, 4 years and 9 months of which were spent in the hospital. Never one to be satisfied with idle talk about something that needed doing, Mr. St. Charles has a high record of accomplishments in the American Legion over his many years of membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brooks Franky Benson left our room Friday and has gone to Bay Port where his mother is going to teach school.

We were all sorry that Jack's house and contents burned, and that it will be necessary for the Barnes family to move to another school district.

Our vocabulary tests show that many of us have learned all the new words and we are really reading now.

Second Grade — Cora Seiler
Lulabelle Cornell has moved to

Montana. We miss her.

We are enjoying the stories Mrs. Seiler reads and tells to us about the Pilgrims. She is reading "How the Pilgrims came to Plymouth" by Odga W. Hall Quest. Mrs. Hall opens her story in England then tells about the Pilgrims going to Holland. Then the long voyage to America.

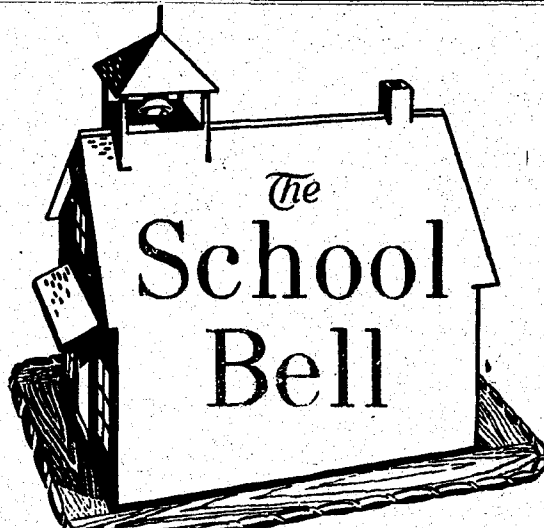

"That the Pilgrims actually came to Plymouth at all is a miracle. But how they came by what devious ways they traveled before reaching the land of their dreams is a completely absorbing story."

The stories of the Pilgrims and their encounters with the Indians are just as interesting.

We made paper log cabins and paper tepees, some of the boys made drums from oatmeal boxes and painted designs on them.

Gourds were painted with Indian figures on them. These look pretty, too.

Jimmy Barnes is moving to Boyne City. His father's house burned down last week. Many neighbors, friends and Mrs. Robertson got clothing and bedding and furniture for them. We hope the Barnes children will like their new home on a farm.

Kindergarten — I. Sidebotham

Some of the boys in our Kindergarten are building fine barns with the blocks. We think these boys are going to grow up to be good carpenters.

We look forward to having our milk to drink every morning and in the afternoon. It tastes good.

Many of us can print our own names now. We are trying to recognize some of the other children's names when we see them.

We are making Health trains. We are cutting box cars out of colored paper. The red car is for meat, the yellow one for butter and cheese, the green one for leafy vegetables, and so on.

First Grade — Marion Brooks

Franky Benson left our room Friday and has gone to Bay Port where his mother is going to teach school.

We were all sorry that Jack's house and contents burned, and that it will be necessary for the Barnes family to move to another school district.

Our vocabulary tests show that many of us have learned all the new words and we are really reading now.

Second Grade — Cora Seiler
Lulabelle Cornell has moved to

Montana. We miss her.

We are enjoying the stories Mrs. Seiler reads and tells to us about the Pilgrims. She is reading "How the Pilgrims came to Plymouth" by Odga W. Hall Quest.

Mrs. Hall opens her story in England then tells about the Pilgrims going to Holland. Then the long voyage to America.

"That the Pilgrims actually came to Plymouth at all is a miracle. But how they came by what devious ways they traveled before reaching the land of their dreams is a completely absorbing story."

The stories of the Pilgrims and their encounters with the Indians are just as interesting.

We made paper log cabins and paper tepees, some of the boys made drums from oatmeal boxes and painted designs on them.

Gourds were painted with Indian figures on them. These look pretty, too.

Jimmy Barnes is moving to Boyne City. His father's house burned down last week. Many neighbors, friends and Mrs. Robertson got clothing and bedding and furniture for them. We hope the Barnes children will like their new home on a farm.

Our vocabulary tests show that many of us have learned all the new words and we are really reading now.

Second Grade — Agnes Johnston
We have a new November calendar in our room. The background is a huge turkey. Sharon Sinclair supplied the feathers to make the turkey look real. We marked off important dates to remember during the month. We found that Ella Mae Tousley and Harry Howard have birthdays in November.

We are trying to help the janitors by taking off our rubbers and galoshes at the outside door and carrying them to our lockers. We appreciate the work our janitors do to help us keep our room clean.

"Reading Is Fun" is the slogan for the thirty-fourth annual Book Week to be celebrated throughout the nation Nov. 16-22. During Book Week we are going to learn something about the care of our books. We are also going to try and read one book at home, and then tell the story to the class.

Eighteen girls and boys from our room entered the poster contest for the Book Fair, Nov. 19th. We collected twenty-seven books for the bargain table.

Tuesday morning we enjoyed the movie, "Animals of the Zoo." Most of us have filled out and have returned our Interest Inventories.

Fourth Grade — Jean Strehl
Last Tuesday we voted in our room at school. Gov. Stevenson won with 14 votes and General Eisenhower 12. Helen Addis brought us a ballot to see how our mothers and dads vote.

Connie Bennett brought three goldfish to school to share with us. We are enjoying the fish and are taking turns feeding them.

Our room is beginning to look like Thanksgiving time again. We have started studying "The First Thanksgiving." We are writing stories and making pictures about the Pilgrims who came many years ago. Some of the children are writing poems.

We have a story in our room about Foolish Freddie and Wise Willie. Foolish Freddie forgot to wear his rubbers, coat and hat. He had to miss school because he forgot. Wise Willie always remembers, so never misses any fur. We are hoping we will have lots of Wise Willies.

In Language class we are learning to give reports. Some of the children gave some interesting reports in geography class.

Mrs. Alice Sheppard returned home Saturday after a 5-week visit with relatives in Flint and Birch Run. She also went to Ft. Breckenridge, Morgansville, Ky., to visit a grandson stationed there.

The regular order of business was taken care of after which was the program. Included were two readings given by Mrs. Robt. Moore. tion requirements for product, equipment, animals and barns can gain a greater income from sale of whole milk, Ed Rebmman, county agricultural agent, said today.

Some tips on laws and requirements to sell milk for bottling are offered by D. L. Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He advises dairymen to check the particular market in which they plan to sell as local ordinances may require additional quality standards. General laws are:

(1) A milk house is required for cooling, handling and storing milk. It must have a two-compartment wash tank for washing the equipment, a metal rack for storing utensils, a water heater and a self-closing door between a connected milk house and stable.

(2) Barns must have impervious floors such as cement, reasonable amount of light and ventilation and reasonably tight walls and ceilings, kept clean and sanitary. Hogs or chickens are not permitted in the dairy stable.

(3) Milk will not contain less than three percent butterfat and not over 100,000 bacteria as determined by plate or microscopic count. It must retain blue color for not less than four hours when subjected to methylene blue test. Quality tests must be run each month by a dairy plant or some other qualified agency.

21st Cherry Pie Baking Contest Started Nov. 10

The way to college and the way to a man's heart are the same throughout this year. For the prize offered in the annual Michigan Cherry Pie Baking Contest is a college scholarship and ever since the song was written about "Can She Bake a Cherry Pie, Billy Boy?" that delicacy has been the way to a man's heart.

With the increase of first prize to a $175.00 scholarship in the college of the winner's choice sponsors expect that they will have many more than the 50 county contestants who competed last year.

The State Finals will be held at Grand Rapids, February 9th and 10th, 1953, at the kitchens of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Earlier, county-wide contests will select the finalists.

The contest is open to young women between the ages of 15 and 20. Michigan's winner will go to Chicago to vie for national honors a week after the State finals. All her expenses will be paid in the Windy City just as all county winners will be guests at the State Contest.

Six other prizes besides the scholarship will be awarded in Michigan. The annual contest is sponsored by the Michigan Canners Association, Michigan Cherry Producers Association and Michigan Cherry Commission.

Young ladies desiring to enter local or county contests should contact their local 4-H Club leader, Home Economics teacher, Home demonstration agent or Co. Agr'l Agent.

Arborvitae Shedding, OK

Don't plan on replacing your arborvitae because it turned brown and dropped foliage this past season. The "tree of life" is not dead but just going through a periodic change, advises Paul R. Krone, extension horticulturist at Michigan State College. Those with green foliage this past season will go through the same change in two or three years.

Beaver Controversy in Michigan Subject Of Study by Wayne U. Biology Students

Inspecting a mounted beaver and a typical beaver-cut tree trunk and
and Alice Mort of Lansing.

Much has been said and written—mostly untrue—about the remarkable feats of engineering performed by the Castor canadensis michiganensis—Michigan beaver. This rodent played an important part in the early exploration and settlement of North America including the State of Michigan.

Biology students at Wayne University in Detroit have been "busy as beavers" studying some curious facts about this animal. Although beaver spend much of their time in the water, they are strict vegetarians.
Their diet consists of everything available in the way of twigs and bark. In Michigan, beaver are partially almost completely to the twigs, leaves and bark of the aspen.

Beaver skins were at one time exchanged as stable currency over half the continent. The long exploitation by fur trappers and traders, however, brought about the necessity for an extended closed season for Michigan beaver trappers in 1920.

There has been some controversy
as to the desirability of this animal in Michigan's wildlife conservation program. Many pro-beaver advocates maintain that beaver do not destroy anything of value and that protecting them improves fishing, conserves water and generally aids in the wildlife and conservation program.

However, those with less sentiment for the "hard-working beaver" and a more factual point of view claim that this animal should not be protected because it causes the blockage of streams, hinders the migration of fish, floods out forests and shade trees in recreational areas, and destroys ornamental trees.

According to Dr. Charles W.
Creaser, chairman of the Wayne University biology department, if the water is too cold for fish growth, a beaver pond will help in trout production. If the water is warm, a beaver dam may make it unfit for trout.

Fishing in the beaver dam regions is usually improved for about a year. Then when the otter and mink settle on the beaver pond, the fish are almost completely wiped out since they cannot migrate to other waters.

Under Michigan conditions, a beaver cuts an average of from 200 to 300 trees per year. Not being the keen foresters many people think they are, beaver waste a considerable proportion of their work by falling one tree into another or, what is more common, by failing to utilize the trees they cut. They destroy a lot of small growth as well as large timber. White birch, small Norway pine, small maple and tamarack are cut by beaver when in need of material for a dam.
Second growth of cedar spruce, balsam and tamarack is prevented in the areas flooded by beaver.

Beaver dams located at the outlets of large lakes and streams conserve these waters only temporarily. When rainfall is low in the area of the small streams and lakes, the dammedup water becomes dirty, discolored, and stagnant. Beaver then look elsewhere for more water.
The extent of the beaver's influence, good or bad, upon an area depends on the local conditions—the nature of the stream and surrounding environs, Dr. Creaser says.

Aid In Aging Deer

Deer hunters, planning on stopping at conservation department voluntary highway checking stations, should prop deer jaws open soon after kill is made. This may prevent possible freezing of jaw in closed position. Ralph MacMullan, Houghton Lake experiment station head, shows how jaws can be held open by straddling short, forked stick over the lower jaw with butt wedged against mouth roof.
Accurate age is determined mainly by wear and number of teeth.
Regular deer season runs November 15-30.

The Servicemens' LETTER

Hi Fellas:
This letter will be short tonight. There are no letters to send on and the address changes are few. One bit of news should be forwarded first of all. We had a meeting of the Community Service Club the other night to discuss ways and means for the coming year and among other things to decide what to do for you men for Christmas this year. You ARE going to get a Christmas present from the community this year. I won't tell you yet what it is to be but I hope that it reaches all of you in good condition.

We have two new men on the overseas Air Mail list this week. They are Earl Hart and Walter Moblo. Earl has arrived in Germany. I don't have the name of the town as yet but expect to have it for you men over there soon. His address is: Pvt. Earl F. Hart, RA 16 400 767, 7th Field Artillery, 1st Infantry Division, APO 1, c/o PM, New York, N. Y. He writes his mother that his transfer from the regular infantry to the field artillery was pretty much to his liking. He thinks he will get along pretty well with them. When he was transferred he went all alone and has no old buddies in his new outfit—but he says they appear to be good enough fellows.

Walt Moblo went over in the other direction. I don't have any information as to where he is located but his address is: A/3C Walter J. Moblo, 16 383 365, 523 F. T. R. E. S. C. Sqd., APO 919, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Jim McLaughlin's address has been changed slightly by the addition of an APO and the elimination of a number in front of the Hq. Co. Perhaps I had better give you the whole thing again. Pvt. James McLaughlin, RA 16 404 087, Hq Co, 2nd T Major Port, APO 503, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif. Don't forget Jim's offer of plenty of good things if you come to see him. He's a cook you know. John Kershner sure surprised me this past week. He walked in to the PO and announced that he was home for a 30-day delay on route and then would be bound for Alaska. He sure has been around this last few weeks. First he was transferred from Washington to Scott AFB, Ill. Then he went back out to Washington—then to California—where he was married. Now he's back here. On Nov. 20th he goes back to California to take his new bride home to her parents while he goes on to Alaska. (She is to follow later.) On Dec. 2nd he is to report at Great Falls, Montana, and on Dec. 13th he is to be at Elmendorf Air Base just outside of Anchorage, Alaska, headquarters of the Alaskan Air Command. All of this distance he has driven by auto and plans to continue to do so. Quit a trip, eh. It even includes a trip up the Alcan highway.

Don Danforth has a change of address. He is on his way to Korea—perhaps by now he is there. His latest address is: Pvt. Donald W. Danforth, RA 16 405 481, Hq 931 Eng Av Gp, APO 970, c/o PM, San Francisco, California. Drop me a note when you get this paper and let us know where you are, will you, Don?

Here's the address of a man who lived in EJ some years ago, went to High School here, married a girl from EJ but was drafted into the service from another city. Do any of you men remember Don Gifford whose dad used to run the cleaners. He is now down in Chaffee and his address goes: Pvt. Donald Gifford, US 55 290 833, Co C, 46 A. I. B., 5th Armored Division, Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. In case your heart craves company and a little talk with some men from your old home town you'll find five of them there in Chaffee. They are: John Bussing, Co D, 81st Med Tk Bn; Richard Dipinski, Co C 8th Hvy Tk Bn; Robert Graham, Co A, 47th Armd Inf Bn; Gerald Olson, Co C, 8 Hvy Tk Bn; and Richard Somerville, Co D, 8th Hvy Tk Bn. I think these men are a year or two younger than you, Don, but I know they will be glad to see you when you say you hail from E. J.

Gale Murphy is in town for a 25-day furlough. He's having a great time hunting and watching

football games. Gale will be out for good the middle of January. He says the time can't come too soon for him.

Lawrence Wright changes his address from a civilian street address back to an airforce unit. His address now is: S/Sgt Lawrence A. Wright, 16 254 296, 763 A. C. & W. Sqdn, Lockport, New York. He is on the same base but is living on the base now.

Bruce Bolser, after being home on leave, returned to duty at Norfolk and while on pass with some buddies was unlucky enough to be in an automobile accident which resulted in an injury that has had him in the hospital for a couple of weeks. We hope by the time you get this you will be up and around again, Bruce.

To put the caper on this letter I will include the following news release from McChord AFB, in Washington: Quote—S/Sgt Dale A. Gee, son of Mrs. Emma Gee of East Jordan, Mich., has recently been promoted to the rank of Tech Sergeant in the United States Air Force.

"S/Sgt Gee graduated from the East Jordan High School in 1941 and entered the Armed Forces in December of that year. Airman Gee has had a varied career since that time. Gee attended the Teletype Maintenance School at Chant AF Base in 1943 and has remained in that career field since. Airman Gee spent three years overseas at Burtonwood AF Base, England and returned to the United States Dec. of 1951. Gee is presently assigned to the 1905th Airways and Air Communications Service located at McChord AF Base, Washington.

"Married to the former Maxine E. Butz, the Gees including two children, Barbara and Robert, are residing in Tacoma, Washington."

Did you know they knew that much about you, Dale?
So Long Men,
"Jake" Snyder.
